The smoke was first noticed by Eddie James and George Carnes as they were driving by Landis hall. They said they saw whiffs of white smoke from the fifth floor and called the fire department.

Vice-president A B. Martin and Business Manager Rod K. Sikes, attending the Talent Bowl performance, were told Landis hall is burning down." They ran the distance from Campbell stadium to the new dorm.

F.S.U. Fun and Functions

A CALENDAR OF EVENTS COMPILED AND DISTRIBUTED BY YOUR U.G.A.

Tuesday—April 22

3:00—Student Recital—Music Hall
4:15—Zoology Journal Club in 306 History
4:30—Botany Departmental Seminar—310 History
7:00—Wrestling Club Meeting—405 Longmire Bldg
8:00—Address by Former Senator Claude Pepper —Introduction by Secretary of State R. A. Gray—Music Hall.

Wednesday—April 23

4:30—Freshman Women's Faculty Tea—Bryan Reynolds and Jennie Murphree
7:00—Federal Correction Institute Symposium Discussion on "Ethical Standards in the Federal Government"
Thursday—April 24
7:00—Tryouts for Coulton and Cavallara at the "O" Club

Friday—April 25

3:00—Tennis—FSU vs. Valdosta—East Campus courts
8:15—Spring Concert of the Women's Glee Club —Music Hall
8:15—"Mistress of the Inn"—Conradi Theatre

Saturday—April 26

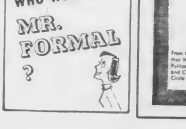
10:00—Golf—FSU vs. Jacksonville Navy—Talla-
NOTICE If you want it in Fun and Functions, notify Ruth Hoernig or Carolyn Gola.

Junior Country Club
2:00—Gymnastics Intrasquad Meet—East Campus Gym
1:30—Tennis—FSU vs. Miami — East Campus courts
2:30—Baseball—FSU vs. Florida Southern—Centennial Field
8:15—Recital—Pre-College Piano Students—Music Hall.
8:15—"Mistress of the Inn"—Conradi Theatre

Monday—April 28

7:30—Relaxation Class—East Campus gym
SPECIAL—Wednesday—April 23
Ratification by the student body of constitutional amendments—Get your ballot.
FSU Regulars
Free Campus Movie—"Moon and Sixpence"—7:30 Tuesday (Senior Hall) Wednesday (Magnolia Thursday Landis) 8:00 Friday Music Amphitheater. Monday 7:30 "O" Club "Go West, Young Lady."
Monday through Friday—Plunge Period in East Campus pool 4:30-5:45.
Every night—Pingpong in East Campus gym 6:00-10:00

Beetle Bailey



SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

. . .

. . . T. TROUBLE—It looked for awhile as if the ...ers A. A. U. Eligibility Committee had thrown a ...ench wrench into gymnastics Coach Hartley Price's ...ns for another national A. A. U. title.

...week, the committee in-...ed Price that Bill Roetzheim ...ter Rabbit, both graduate ...ents, would be unable to com-...e in championships up in ...ster, Pa. because of a ...ule prohibiting students ...represent a university ...ore of the school's team. ...hasty part about it was ...ession in the Chicago area ...ent meeting at which ...ed to AAU competition and ...he had said anything to the ...ard. A couple of weeks ago ...les of the Florida State ...went up to Chicago for ...AAU meet, they were ...ed to compete.

...It turned out that coaches of ...eral of the college teams ...looked to the National ...minster when they found out ...ad Roetzheim would be back ...ir year.

...Coach Price, however, plans to ...ck the confusion by enter-...ain charges. Roetzheim and ...ibbit included, as "The FSU ...mnastics Club" and told your ...he incredible that everything ...ound squared away at the ...ment.

. . .

...While the Seminole track team ...ow new track at school ...n Saturday in their meet with ...ver they probably would have ...ttained a couple of other ...ks had they been pushed.

...Freshman middle distance run-...Bill Wagoner was trying for ...ks in the mile run and ...ond in notable 4:40.7 time ...d closed the school record of ...e set in 1950 by Bill Duncan ...ree tenths of a second.

...But it was Wagoner finished a ...ad 50 yards ahead of his near-...e competitor and you're not ...to set many records with competition like that.

. . .

...Coverage of events later Wago-...came back and put on a great ...ce to win his specialty — the ...ile.

...he runs the four lap grind ...e Atlanta boy seemed sure ...e should have plenty of ...petition when Georgia Tech ...ticipates in there ...ter-quarter-miler Woody Park-...although he ran a tender of ...wound off his old track rec-...of :51.8, is another of the ...formers who might have ...ken his own school record of ...:48.4 had he been pushed a little ...ter at the wire.

. . .

...Progressive Democrat Sports ...Fred Pettijohn reports that ...Bruins one-time FSU out-...as latched on with the ...ida G-Men of the Florida ...n League and is currently bat-

Indians Boost Record With Tampa Wins

Meet Southern This Weekend

Seminoles Head Into Homestretch of Card

By TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

The Florida State University baseball team leaves the homestretch of their 1952 schedule down in Lakeland this Friday when they meet Florida Southern in the first of a four game series.

The Mocsmen then trek knocked off Tampa twice here last weekend 16-11 and 12-9 for their 11th and 12th wins of the season, will meet Southern again Saturday night and on Monday the two clubs move back into the friendly confines of Centennial field for a double header doubleheader.

ACE ROBITHANGER Ed Lockard pitched two fine relief decisions of the campaign without a loss in Saturday night's contest as he set the Spartans down on four hits, but 11 walks a bit batsman, and some good support from the stick helped him to trouble most of the way.

The Seminoles picked up a single run in the first frame and added two more runs but could not actually tucked the decision away in the big fifth inning when they pushed across nine tallies on five hits, three free passes and two errors. Florida scored four runs in the seventh.

Captain Bob Trowbridge Les Mullen and Johnny Mills led the 12-hit assault on Tampa hurler Ed Peck with two safeties apiece. Mullen alone with Freshman receiver Johnn Sheppard, who's subbing for Seminole Ronald Mellon, drew in three runs apiece while Trowbridge accounted for two more.

IT TOOK the Seminoles three bonrs and 20 minutes to finally put the squeeze on the Spartans Saturday night in a wild and woolly affair.

The long, drawn out affair, a seven inning thriller that lasted to finish, saw the Spartans pick up single runs in the first two innings and fall in the brief 4-2 lead until the bottom of the fourth when the Seminoles tied it up with two of their own.

THE INDIANS added two more in the next frame but Tampa got back on the seesaw to tally four times in the seventh and three times in the eighth. In the meantime FSU had picked up three runs in the fifth but had to rely on a six-run eighth inning before they could lay claim to the win.

Wayne Benner was the only Seminole to get a hit, one of which went for a double and in addition drove in three of the runs.

Freshman lefthander Chuck Hamilton went the route for Marvin Haynes in the fourth frame was the winner.

pace the Florida State six but had to take a back seat to Atlanta's Captain Don Crawley who captured individual honors with 26 kills.

Besides Hambrock, other FSU players were Richard Gould, Jim Couch, Harry Bibee, James Mc-Pattie, Stan Humphries and Duane Gordon.

LES MULLEN
... Tops Seminoles

BOX SCORES

SATURDAY'S GAME

TAMPA	AB	R	H
Kilgore, 2b	4	0	0
Kilgore, 2b	4	0	0
Mathis, lf	4	0	1
Pinkston, 3b	3	1	1
Fleming, rf	3	1	1
Hathaway, cf	3	0	0
Bryant, c	3	1	1
Peck, p	2	0	0
Allen, ss	3	0	0
Totals	29	3	4

Errors—Peck, Kilgore. Runs batted in—Pinkston 2, Bryant 2, Fleming. Two base hit—Pinkston. Sacrifices—Hathaway, Allen. Double plays—Allen, Kilgore, Bryant. Left on bases—Tampa 3, Florida State 6. Bases on balls—off Peck 3, Lockard 2, Hamilton 2. Struck out—by Peck 2, Lockard 1, Hamilton 2. Hits—off Peck 5 in 3 innings, Lockard 1 in 2, Hamilton 4 in 2. Winning pitcher—Lockard. Losing pitcher—Peck. Umpires—Bell and Bell. Time—2:40.

Florida State	AB	R	H
Mills, rf	3	1	1
Trowbridge, 3b	3	1	1
Mullen, lb	3	1	1
Sheppard, c	3	0	1
Mellon, lf	3	0	0
Benner, ss	3	0	1
Bennett, 2b	3	0	0
Hamilton, p	3	0	0
Totals	27	3	5

Errors—Mullen, Trowbridge. Runs batted in—Mills, Trowbridge, Mullen, Sheppard, Benner. Two base hit—Mullen. Three base hit—Trowbridge. Sacrifices—Benner, Bennett. Double plays—Benner to Bennett to Mullen, Benner to Bennett to Mullen. Left on bases—Florida State 5. Bases on balls—off Hamilton 2. Struck out—by Hamilton 2. Hits—off Hamilton 5 in 7 innings. Winning pitcher—Hamilton. Losing pitcher—Haynes. Umpires—Bell and Bell. Time—2:40.

TAMPA	AB	R	H	FSU	AB	R	H
Fernandez, ss	4	0	1	Mills, rf	5	2	3
Kilgore, 2b	4	0	0	Trowbridge, 3b	4	2	2
Mathis, lf	4	0	0	Mullen, lb	4	2	2
Pinkston, 3b	4	1	1	Sheppard, c	4	0	1
Fleming, rf	4	1	2	Benner, ss	3	1	1
Powell, cf	4	2	2	Smith, lf	3	0	1
Bryant, c	4	1	1	Bibee, cf	4	0	1
Blanford, p	4	0	0	Haynes, p	3	0	0
Carey, p	0	0	0	Chandler, p	1	0	0
Reynak, rf	1	0	0
Totals	41	11	14	Totals	31	9	11

Errors—Powell (Mills). Runs batted in—Mills 2, Trowbridge, Benner 3, Mullen, Sheppard, Bibee 2, Haynes, Carey, Powell 2, Pinkston 2, Fleming 2, Bryant. Two base hits—Mills, Trowbridge, Benner, Bibee, Haynes 2, Mathis, Carey. Three base hits—Mullen, Fleming. Home runs—Powell, Bryant. Sacrifices—Trowbridge, Benner, Bibee. Double plays—Fernandez, Kilgore and Reynak; Left—Tampa 10; Florida State 11. Bases on balls—off Haynes 3, Chandler 1, Blanford 3, Carey 1. Struck out—by Haynes 2, Chandler 1, Blanford 1, Carey 1. Hits—off Blanford 7 in 3 1/3 innings, Carey 4 in 3 2/3, Haynes 11 in 7. Winning pitcher—Haynes. Losing pitcher—Blanford. Umpires—Bell and Bell. Time—2:40.

Final Sports Card Starts For Girls

The fourth and final Odd-Even season has gotten underway with softball, swimming, and tennis on the agenda.

The leaders for these sports will be Lucinda Pat Gerdeman and Carolyn Henry, softball, Betty Holland and Rose Alverez, swimming. Tennis Carol and Jo Wade. The Odds will continue to practice on Monday, Wednesday and Friday while the evens will practice on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

The intramurals between sororities and dorms are now busy with badminton, bowling and bridge. Tha. CHI OMEGA's recently took the intramural swimming championship with ALPHA XI DELTA placing second.

Slugging Marks Opening Tilts In Fraternity Loop

By JIM EADY

Six games were played Thursday as the Fraternity League began softball play. Five of the contests were decided by scores in the double figures, the exception being ATO's whitewash of PDT, 5 to 0 behind the two-hit pitching of Walt Baldwin.

Sharia of the losers also threw a two-hitter. ATO, last year's softball champ, is currently on top in the race for the Fraternity league championship.

In another two bat performance, fashioned by Sigma Nu's John Newland, SN, squeaked past SAE 16 to 13. The Sigma Nus were aided by a home run off the bat of Chester Lee.

A no-hitter was turned in by Phil Glaub, LCA, as his team shellacked Kappa Sigma, 18 to 1, in a three inning affair. In this contest, Bill McClellan smacked a homer for the winners.

Four-baggers were hit by Matt Sullivan and Pres Bradley both of DTD in during the Deltas to a 15 to 12 win over Theta Chi.

Thursday's scores

PKT	905 183—18	6
SC	530 353—19	9

Batteries: SC—Moore, Hoover. PKT—Sealy, Scofield.

DTD	331 811—15	14
TC	343 290—12	10

Batteries: TC—Mabry, Pinkston. DTD—Kinsaw, Bradley. Home runs: Sullivan, Bradley, DTD.

PDT	000 000—0	2
ATO	401 000—5	2

Batteries: ATO—Baldwin, Faulkson. PDT—Shavis, Allewood.

PKP	852 1x—16	9
SPE	012 11— 5	4

Batteries: PKP—R. Sundberg, J. Sundberg. SPE — Crunchfield, Bowen.

KS	100—1	0
LCA	7——18	11

Batteries: KS—McMullen, Stokes. LCA—Glaub, Harley. Home run: McCellan (LCA).

SN	000 9—14	6
SAE	102 0—13	7

Batteries: SAE: Stewart, Whitehead. SN: Newland, Parkhurst. Home run: Lee (SN).

Today's softball schedule:

LCA-SN; PKA-TC; KA-SC; DTD-SPE, PDT-KS; PKP-SAE.

The dormitories will start softball play next Monday.

* * *

The fraternities took the courts last night at 7:30 to start the Intramural tennis season. The dorms are still in the midst of tennis play.

Correction: Pi Kappa Phi won the first volley ball championship. not PKT as erroneously reported in this column last week

FSU Gymnasts Prepare For National AAU

The FSU gymnastics team warmed up for the coming National A. A. U. meet this weekend by dominating every event in the Georgia A. A. U. meet in Atlanta last Saturday.

Coach Hartley Price divided his powerful squad into two teams for the event and his performers put on quite a show before the Golds finally won out over the Garnets 62½ to 58½. It was the third straight time that the Gold team had won over the Garnets and each time it has been by a close score.

The University of Georgia finished third behind the two Florida State entries, Druid Hills of Atlanta was fourth, Gadsden, Ala. was fifth and the University of Florida was sixth.

The versatile Bill Roetzheim was again at his peak Saturday as he took the All-Around title, side horse, and high bar championships. Roetzheim, representing the Golds, also had a second in the parallel bars.

Carmine Regna of the Golds was second in the All-Around while Don Holder also of the Golds was third in that event.

Side Horse: 1—Roetzheim (Garnet), 2—Regna (Gold), 3—Holder (Gold).
Parallel Bars: 1—Roetzheim (Gold), 2—Carmine Regna (Gold), 3—Tie: Holder (Gold) and Chiles (Gold).
Flying Rings: 1—Carmine Regna (Gold), 2—Roetzheim (Garnet), 3—Robertson (Garnet).
Tumbling: 1—Druid Hills (Gold), 2—Florida State (Garnet), 3—Florida State (Gold).
Free Exercise: 1—Regna (Gold), 2—Holder (Gold), 3—Miles (Garnet).
Horizontal Bar: 1—Roetzheim (Gold), 2—Holder (Gold), 3—Regna (Gold).
Combined Exercises: 1—Florida State (Gold), 2—Florida State (Garnet), 3—Druid Hills (Gold).
All-Around: 1—Roetzheim (Gold), 2—Regna (Gold), 3—Holder (Gold).

McCarty Will Speak

The third "Dan McCarty for Governor" Club meeting will be held tonight at 6:45 in the small lounge, Alumni Building. Press. Will Pennell has announced.

Gubernatorial Candidate McCarty will speak at the Amphitheater tonight.

Pennell said everybody is invited to attend both the meeting and hear McCarty speak

Trackmen Face Roughest Test

In Triangular Affair With Tech, Georgia

The Florida State University trackmen face probably their stiffest test of the year this coming weekend when they go against the University of Georgia and Georgia Techin a triangular meet in Atlanta this Saturday.

Last Saturday Coach Ken Miller's squad set five new school and track records in beating a surprisingly touch Mercer team 73½ to 52½.

Freshman weightman Carlos Saundorfer was responsible for two of the new school records, Saundorfer who has now broken the record for the shot three times in a row heaved the ashere 44 feet and ¼ inches and then walked over to the discus runs and responded there with a toss of 128 feet 4 inches.

CAPTAIN John Poston won both of his specialties—the 100 and 220 dashes—and covered the latter distance in 21.5 to shave a tenth of a second off his old mark of 21.6.

Poston also ran anchor on the winning mile relay team, turning in a hot 46.4 clocking.

Woody Parker reeled off a :51 second lap in the 440 to break his old track mark of 51.8 and the mile relay team of Jack Koonce, Jack Sandiff, Jim Wise and Poston set a new track and school record in that event with a 3:27 performance.

Mile run: 1—Bill Wagoner, FSU; 2—Jack Koonce, FSU; 3—Jack Sandiff, FSU. Time: 4:40.7.
440-yard dash: 1—Woody Parker, FSU; 2—Bill Wise, FSU; 3—Bill Burkett, M. 50.9
Two-mile run: 1—Bill Poston, FSU; 2—Bill Jones, M.; 3—Marvin Middlebrooks, M. 10:39.9
220-yard high hurdles: 1—Julie Horst, FSU; 2—Phil Jones, M.; 3—Marvin Middlebrooks, M. 26.4
Pole vault: 1—Bill Wagoner, FSU; 2—Jules Levoy, M.; 3—Jack Koonce, FSU. 11 ft.
220-yard dash: 1—John Poston, FSU; 2—Woody Parker, FSU; 3—Jack Sandiff, FSU. Time: :23.5
Two-mile run: 1—Kevin Bonner, M.; 2—Bill Poston, FSU; 3—Jim Kilcullen, M. 10:14
120-yard high hurdles: 1—Julie Horst, FSU; 2—Phil Jones, M.; 3—Marvin Middlebrooks, M. 16.2
Mile relay: 1—Florida State (Jack Koonce, Jim Nimkoff, Dick Wise, Jack Sandiff). Time: 3:27 (new school record).
High Jump: 1—a tied: Baker Kirby and Bill Burkett, M.; 3—Bill Wise, FSU and Bill Bryant, M. 5 ft.
Pole vault: 1—Bill Wagner, M.; 2—Jack Koonce, FSU and Dick Bell, M. 11 ft. 6 in.
Broad jump: 1—Sterling Sedgwick, M.; 2—Bill Bryant, FSU; 3—Woody Parker, FSU. 19 ft. 8 in.
Discus throw: 1—Bill Bell, M. 127 ft. 3 in.; 2—Carlos Saundorfer, FSU. 125 ft. 4 in.; 3—Bill Wagoner, FSU. 120 ft. 6 in.
Shot put: 1—Carlos Saundorfer, FSU; 2—Bill Wagoner, FSU; 3—Bill Bell, M. 44 ft. 5 in. (new school record).

Golfers Topped 13-5 by Stetson Last Saturday

Florida State University's golfers dropped a 13-5 links decision to the Hats-'s of Stetson Saturday on the Country Club course that left the Indians' season record at five wins and five losses.

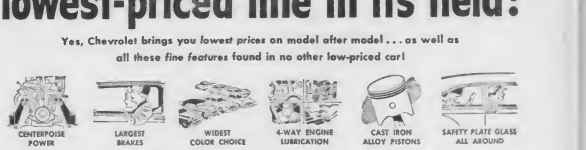
This Saturday morning the Seminole clubbers will try to avenge their initial game loss at the hands of Jax Navy earlier in the season when they meet the sailors here on the local greens.

Paced by stocky Dick Johnson, who was one of the leading contenders in the 1951 George Washington Birthday tourney there, the Hatters swept three of the individual matches and both of the team scorcine events to avenge an early-season defeat inflicted by Coach Bob Hanbleton's team on the DeLand links.

Johnson was the only player able to better par figures on the rolling Country Club course, checking in with a two-under-par 70 that enabled him to beat Jimmy James 2½-½.

Dick Hamilton carded a 2-1 triumph over former national women's amateur champion, Grace Leuzuk, who had been footballer Tommy Brown in the first FSU-Stetson match. Cumbie had low medal for the Seminoles with a 73.

Chuck Rea of Stetson won over FSU's Jude 3-1, and Hatter Johnny Wrhole kheaded by Frank Hurt of the Seminoles 3-0.



In team scoring, Leuzuk and Johnson tripped James and Cumbie 2½-½, and a duo of Rea-Nichols covered Indians Dunfee and Hirt 2-1.

Again in 1952...

lowest-priced line in its field!

Yes, Chevrolet brings you lowest prices on model after model . . . as well as all these fine features found in no other low-priced car!

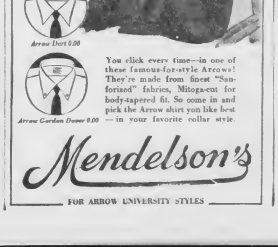
*Optional at Extra Cost

Lowest priced in its field! This beautiful new Chevrolet Styleline De Luxe Sport Coupe is the lowest-priced model—trim for less than any comparable make in the field. Chevrolet's thrift-leadership is documented by the delivery of more of it than any other line of cars that is low-priced!



MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

CHEVROLET The Only Fine Cars PRICED SO LOW!

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!

Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

Tennis Squad Blanks Valdosta

Friday afternoon the Florida State University tennis team outscored the Valdosta State College netters 9-0 in Valdosta, Georgia. The victory was Florida State's fifth of the season against four losses. Valdosta State has yet to gain a decision in four tries.

This Friday the FSU racquet men are slated to have a return match with the Valdosta team here and Saturday they go against a powerful Miami squad.

The strong Seminole squad swept through the nine matches on the program without a loss of a set. Dropping only nine games in the six singles matches, Coach Tommy Bolack's State player-managers first came to the fore.

Jim Berry defeated Bo Foss 6-2, 6-2. Tom Cundy defeated Hank Sapp 6-0, 6-0. Dave Kendrick defeated Gene Barker 6-0, 6-0. Dan Bodin defeated Paul McArthur 6-0, 6-1. Joe Harris defeated Harmon Joiner 6-1, 6-4. Jack Elias defeated Sonnie Welch 6-0, 6-1.

Berry and Evan defeated Sapp and Middleton 6-1, 6-3. Kennedy and Hicks defeated Foss and Hankes 6-1, 6-2. Bodin and Tom Bishop defeated Joiner and Charles Cox 7-5, 6-1.

Graduate Students Present Papers At Psychological Meet

Five graduate students will present papers at the annual Florida Psychological Association meeting this week-end at the Princess Issena Hotel, Daytona Beach.

James B. Morris, Robert Thompson, Peter Lapovick, Herbert Quay and Del Lebo will represent Florida State at the Friday and Saturday meet where 300 leading Florida psychologists are expected. Their subjects will be varied.

MORRIS will present a solution to the problem of the validity of the best way to group boy scouts into the Florida Industrial school. Quay, who will report on findings on an experiment undertaken to learn the relationship among the walking, talking and drawing of normal children. Children and staff of several schools in Tallahassee cooperated in this study.

CONCLUSIONS of a study based on dreams of hypnotized F. S. U. students will be presented by Quay.

Thompson, now assistant at the Yerkes laboratories with Viki, the chimp recently bought to national attention of Life magazine, will report on learning in the white rat.

Peter Sapanovich will speak on the effects that a sad sound have on the striped mullet.

Program Planned For Thursday at 7

"What Religion Means To Me" is the title of the Student Christian Association program scheduled for Thursday night from 7 until 8.

Peggy Moore will be in charge of the panel discussion to be held in room 603 of the Longmire building.

May 1 Yvonne McCarthy will present a program on "Marriage." May 8 the topic "Can Churches Work Together" will be presented by Milton Campione.

Unsatisfactories

Continued from Page One

grades though directions from Dr. Harder's office which contained a guide sheet for conducting an interview, the Benauer's report for the counselor, a sheet for each student on which would be recorded the action taken to bring up the grade.

Educational counselors found a variety of problems in talking with their students. The office of coordinator invites all students, when they need advice, to get their counselor to help iron out their difficulties with them.

Reports from counselors last semester showed that after Dr. Harder's program for helping the freshmen the faculty counselors observed a more profound interest in the student and who showed marked determination to work for better marks.

FACU To Meet Here April 25-26

The Florida Association of Colleges and Universities will return to the Florida State University campus for their 19th annual meeting April 25-26 after an absence of about 10 years.

The year the representatives of the 14 Florida colleges and universities comprising the association will deal with the general theme of "Some Problems of Higher Education in Florida," according to Dr. William Huch Bevis, FSU coordinator of graduate research.

MEMBERS OF the association's executive committee which selected Florida State as the annual meeting place this year includes Dr. Sheckler, Eberly E. Bishop, Palm Beach Junior College president; Morris Hale, Jr., Orlando Junior College president; Father W. Burke, Barry College; Dean H. W. Chandler, University of Florida and Dean C. H. Hopkins, John B. Stetson University.

President Paul J. Johnson, Jacksonville Junior College; President Vernon Kimbrough, Rollins School of Art Dr. C. Herbert Laub, University of Tampa; President Hugh F. McKean, Rollins College, Dean C. Dorsett Tharp, University of Miami; Vice President Charles Thrift of Florida Southern College and Vice President Helen L. Watson of Webber College.

SEVERAL MAJOR addresses have been scheduled for the annual meeting. The first will be made by Dr. James L. McCaskill, Washington, director of the legislation and federal relations division of the National Education Association at the morning general assembly session Friday, April 25.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president, will speak at the association's annual dinner at 6:30 p. m. Friday on "Moral and Spiritual Values In Higher Education."

AT THE SATURDAY general session, April 26, Jon Stapleton, Marianna, speaking for the Secondary School Principals of the Florida Education Association will discuss "As High Schools See It." Dean J. Andrew Holley of the School of Education of Oklahoma A. & M. College, will speak on "Improving High School and College Education." A discussion will be led by Ed Henderson, executive secretary of the Florida Education Association.

Group meetings of administrative officers in the state and universities public relations officers, student personnel deans and classroom teachers have been scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday.

DR. SICKLER said that associate membership would be conferred upon administrative officers of Rollins College, Tampa, and the association during the meeting. Because the group has also been making a study of charter schools, procedures of institutions of higher education in Florida and would likely have some recommendations to make at the meeting with reference to possible state legislation.

Honorary Members Become Scullions

The Scullions, students who are majoring in Restaurant and Hotel Management have given honorary membership to several prominent Florida hotel executives.

Sterling Bottoms president, and Bill Riddle, executive vice-president of the Florida Hotel association; Howard Daviso, president of the Howard Dayton chain of hotels, and Francis J. Hamilton, manager of the Miramar Hotel in Miami, are the men honored by the "Scullions."

They were inducted into membership in an initiation ceremony at the recent annual meeting of the Florida Hotel association in St. Petersburg. This ceremony included a ritual of flanking the new members by two members of the Scullions, then beating on pan with large cooking spoons just as such ceremonies for Scullions were carried out many years ago.

Each of the hotel men initiated were presented with an insignia of the Order of Scullions consisting of a silver spoon with the words "Scullion, FSU" inscribed on it. The presentations were made by Jim Bishop, Ft. Lauderdale, Scullion, president, and Miss Maxine Hall, Palm Beach, FSU coed.

Campus Sing

Continued from Page One

division, and second and third places will be announced.

Judges for the 1952 Campus Sing will be Dean Karl Kuerstiner, professor Rita Robertson, Assistant Professor Lois Benson, Assistant Professor Herman Gunter and Dr. Wiley Housewright, all of the School of Music. Last year's winners were Gamma Phi Beta for the women's division and Sigma Chi for the men's division.

Alpha Lambda Taps 14 New Members

Fourteen girls will be initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta freshmen scholastic honority sometime next month. A pledging service was recently held for them.

Those to be initiated are Helen Hamrick, Charlotte Covington, Madalyn Cox, Betty Lou Dilmore, Joan Doner, Lynwood Evans, Joyce Hicks, Phoebe Jackson, Sylvia Ann Lee, and Marla Ann Schunck. Also to be initiated are Lou Rene Vores, Hildereal Wagner and Dorothy Ann Womble.

Helen Hambrick received a plaque presented by Mortar Board president, Myra Knight, for having the highest average of the freshmen women, a 3.0 for 18 hours work.

DSO Meets Thursday

Delta Sigma Omega day student organization will meet Thursday afternoon at 5:30 in the women's lounge of the Longmire building, Inez Arnold, president, asked all members to attend since the main topic of discussion will be the election of officers for next year.

Mrs. Campbell Is Committee Head

Mrs. Doak S. Campbell, wife of President Campbell, has been appointed state education committee chairman of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs.

Her appointment was made at the closing session of the Federation's annual meeting late Thursday by Mrs. Walter B. Jones, Jacksonville, newly-elected Federation president.

A former Mississipi school teacher and associated with education for many years, Mrs. Campbell has been active in Tallahassee working with various women's education groups and clubs for the cause of public education.

In her new post of state education committee chairman for the Federation, comprising thousands of club women throughout Florida, Mrs. Campbell will supervise and coordinate the Federation's educational activities.

Visiting Hours Told For Senior Hall

Gene Kuchoffer, Senior hall president has announced new visiting hours for ladies, in addition to future Senior hall plans.

Visiting hours are 2 until 10:30 p. m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday and 2 until 11:30 p. m. on Friday and Saturday. The hall will be closed to visitors on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Plans for a joke dance and another coast trip are in progress. Movies for Senior hall have been changed from Tuesday night to Thursday night at 7:30.

Brand new billiard and ping pong equipments are now had for the enjoyment of all visitors, Kuchoffer said.

Dutch AAUW Guest Talks Tomorrow

Dr. Johanna Sabelis, an American Association University Women Fellow from Holland is guest of the Florida State branch of A. A. U. W tomorrow Thursday.

Dr. Sobles will attend a dinner tendered in her honor tomorrow night at 7 and will be guest at a meeting of the A. A. U. W. Book club tonight at the home of Mrs. Mrs. Francis Alexander. Dr. Sabelis is associate professor of sociology.

The visiting A. A. U. W. member who is studying at Columbia University this year will speak at F. S. U. at 2 p.m. tomorrow and will stay in Dr. and Mrs. Allen's home while here.

Unsatisfactories

Continued from Page One

grades though directions from Dr. Harder's office which contained a guide sheet for conducting an interview, the Benauer's report for the counselor, a sheet for each student on which would be recorded the action taken to bring up the grade.

Educational counselors found a variety of problems in talking with their students. The office of coordinator invites all students, when they need advice, to get their counselor to help iron out their difficulties with them.

Reports from counselors last semester showed that after Dr. Harder's program for helping the freshmen the faculty counselors observed a more profound interest in the student and who showed marked determination to work for better marks.

King and Queen

Continued from Page One

Chairmen of committees for May Day are: Connie Dock Bradley, Carolyn Cooper, Marie Hall; Helen Cobb, and Doris Reed.

The list of candidates for May Day are: Connie Dock Bradley, Harry Pennington, Joel Smith, Mike Shirley, Bob Leigh, Buddy Payne, John Newland, John Morlan, Gregory Walker, Jimmie Bob Gibson, Will Penney, David Deal, Joe Mattox and Boyce Cruse.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
the MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
LAST TIME TODAY
"5 Fingers"
With James Mason and Michael Rennie
WEDS. thru SATURDAY
"A Streetcar Named Desire"
With Vivien Leigh and Marlon Brando
STATE
LAST TIME TODAY
Gene Kelly, Debbie Reynolds in "Singing In The Rain"
WEDS. thru SATURDAY
"Return of the Texan"
With Dale Robertson and Joanne Dru
RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
"Bannerline"
With Sally Forrest
THURS. thru SATURDAY
Edmond O'Brien in "D.O.A."
Also
"Home In Oklahoma"
with Roy Rogers
DRIVE-IN TODAY and WEDSNDAY
"Tea For Two"
With Doris Day
THURS. thru SATURDAY
"Red Badge of Courage" with Audie Murphy
also
"Stage to Blue River"
With Whip Wilson
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL ?

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SOMEBODY scent Sheedy this note: "You're a smell guy, Paul—but your hair's against you! That's why you've been getting shunked on the nice people lately! Incredible's even much too much a 10-foot pole can! Better get Wildroot Cream-Oil. Everybody nose it's Your Hair's Best Friend." Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's what a new gal every night! So put on your pin stripe suit, head for an drug or toilet goods counter, and buy a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. America's biggest-selling hair tonic. Ask for it on your hair at the barber shop, too. Then all the girls'll fall for you!

* of 1314 Va Harris-Hall Rd Williamsville, N Y

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

Copyright 1952, Wildroot Co., Inc.

RED HOT SPECIAL
Filet Mignon Special At The
Seven Seas
Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

ARRANGE YOUR PARTIES AT THE BEAUTIFUL
SILVER TEA POT
Room Reservations from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. and in evenings after 7:30
GOOD FOOD FEATURING
Real Virginia Ham — Oven-cooked meats
Special Breeds and desserts
Regular Lunch and Suppers .50 to .75
Complete Dinners $1.00 to $1.25

Dine with us in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

CHESTERFIELD—LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES AT MICHIGAN
Witham Drug Co.
We certify that Chesterfield is our largest selling cigarette by 2 to 1
SIGNED Shirley Reiter
PROPRIETRESS
2 to 1 because CHESTERFIELDS are much MILDER and give you the ADDED PROTECTION of NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*
* FROM THE REPORT OF A WELL-KNOWN RESEARCH ORGANIZATION

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 48 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, April 25, 19..

Smith Blames Printers For Magazine Delay

Joe Smith, editor of Smoke Signals, said most of the blame in the delay in getting out the publication magazine upon the printers when he spoke in the student senate Tuesday upon the request for the Senate finance committee. Smith stated that due to an inherent contract with the printing firm set no deadlines and the workmen "seem to get to it when they want to."

IT'S OUT of our hands now," he said, pointing that all the copy for the next issue was in the hands of the printers. "I expect Smoke Signals to be out within the week," he remarked, "but I hate to promise that it will be, in view of what has happened before."

Contacted by a Flambeau staff member Wednesday, Mr. W. H. Bulkley of Bulkley-Newman company printing Smoke Signals stated that the printers were responsible for the delay in publishing the magazine.

BULKLEY SAID he didn't believe Smith had made the statement that the printers were responsible. He further commented that the publication "is when it comes out," but that his firm was getting it in as fast as they could put it out.

To the query of how much he received for the Smoke Signals printing job, Bulkley replied, "None of your business." He later questioned that the sum was "not very much."

ASKED WHY he had not followed the printing of the publication said what he really had promised was to get the copy there, and that it was up to the staff to decide how many issues would be published.

"The students will get their copies," he promises. He said he expected a better issue about a week after curfew and a small graduation issue.

THE SMOKE SIGNALS editor was invited to speak to the Senate last week, but Senator Bill Spooner noted that the magazine was long overdue and proposed an investigation. The original deadline of sometime late in Feb. had been set for the third issue.

"This investigation has really helped things," quipped Spooner. He went on to explain that since the Flambeau had run the story on the investigation, the printers had put on another man. He did not say whether he considered this a direct cause-effect relationship.

SMITH DID NOT lay all the blame for the almost two months' delay on the printers, however. He mentioned that the magazine had had a hard time getting enough advertising copy.

"The Flambeau hasn't helped things," he said, citing the lack of cooperation between the student publications. "Bob Griffin did the most unethical thing I ever heard of" when he used the picture of "tried to steal away from the old Talaria" style, but that he was willing to run some intellectual material if it were presented.

Faculty Play Is Scheduled For May 1st

Oscar Wilde Comedy Has Matinee, Night Shows at 4:30, 8:15

Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented May 1 with two performances. The play, the sixth annual faculty play, will have a showing at 4:30 and one at 8:15.

The story of two men who have names which their girl friends dislike and therefore take aliases of Earnest, will be performed for 35c for the afternoon show and 50c for the evening presentation.

English instructor, Lester Moore, is director and production, and will take the part of the smart aleck Algernon, while Jack will be played by James M. Gunn, music instructor; Cecily by Nancy Reid Gunn, wife of James Gunn, Lady Bracknel by Janet K. Smith, professor of home and family life. Dabney Otis Collins, English instructor, will appear as Gwendolyn; Miriam Wilson, publications editor of the Presbyterian student house, has the part of Miss Prism; Reverand Chasuble will be characterized by Robert Arends and Lane will be played by William C. Kirk of the classics department.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" has thirteen curtain scenes and numerous literary awards throughout the country and will be presented on the evenings of May 1. Last year's highly successful production was "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

"Mistress of Inn" Opens; Four Night Run Scheduled

First Performance Given in Sarasota, Rough Rehearsals Polished, Says Director

The curtain goes up at 8:15 tonight on the speech department's final major production of the school year, "Mistress of the Inn." It will run until April 29, except Sunday. Students will be admitted for 44c.

The play's rough edges were smoothed out during recent rehearsals and seems will be seen a production which has already had a showing.

FRANK BANSON, director of the show commented recently, "The cast certainly benefited by having that first performance in the Ringling Museum. The stage and crew went down to Sarasota to perform for the annual Art Festival and will be a valuable story thanks have been received by the director.

"Mistress of the Inn," an Italian 18th century play, was written by Ugo Betti and is also known as "The School for Husbands," performed in the Italian amphitheater two seasons ago.

THE PLANS of "Mistress" had the opportunity to perform in the Asolo theater, an original Italian theater in Sarasota which was brought over from Italy and given to the United States. It was reconstructed piece by piece in the Ringling Art Museum. This same theater was used for Shakespeare's plays on its stage during the 18th century and also for Shakespeare's plays. Duse played "Mistress of the Inn" in this same theater.

The cast for "Mistress" is experienced on the FSU stages and includes Charles Smith as the mistress; Charles Bordahn as the Marquis Di Poriipooli; Reuben Cox as Cavalier Phil Bergamin; George Cary as the Cavalier Di Rasposti; Lila Davis as Paola Piccini; Richard Hesler as the Count's servant; and Don Remington as the Count's brother.

ON THE CREW list are: Frankie Adams, Billie Dickson, Pat Hampton, Francis Rumbley, Elmer Warn, Barbara Zurer, Bert Hollon, Patricia Ann Carpenter; Eleanor Luecke, Marily Nelson, Betty Ann Ray, Nancy Fleming, Francis Ann Wise, costumes; Sara Mararet Davis, Mary Ann Nevins, Dorothy Womble, makeup; Jean Flynn, Bob Hicks, Ken Hall, Wayne Mundell, Betty Ann Ray, Jean Meader, Clair Franks, properties; Hazel Hollon Marsh, Judith, David Dreis, Sharon Lane, Vivian Law, publicity; Jean Flynn and Betty Middleman, house management.

Director of Publicity Bill Hanson; Assistant Director is Richard Hesler; Leah LaPlante is Stage Manager, and Jean Flynn and John Howard. Settings are by Wm Park and costumes by Douglas Russell.

Gym Team Battles In AAU, Olympics

By TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

The Florida State University "Gymkana Club" left here Wednesday morning for State College, Pa., where they will compete in the national A.A.U. championships and Olympic State gymnasium today and tomorrow.

Due to an A. A. U. ruling which prohibits graduate students from competing in collegiate meets, Coach Hardie Price is entering the Florida State group in the Gymkana Club to allow two graduate students, Bill Roetzheim and Gene Rabbit to compete.

ROETZHEIM, defending AAU All-Around champion, All-American and a member of the 1936 United States Olympic team, is one of the leading candidates for the 1937 team.

Roetzheim will also defend his AAU All-Around crown which he won with Rabbitt for the side horizontle. An interesting duel shaped up in the latter event since Roetzheim and Rabbit tied for first place in the 1936 meet.

Other outstanding performers from the Florida State Gymkana Club include Jack Cuttino, Carmine and Joe Regna, Don Hodel, Jack Bell, Jack Hollingsworth, Joe Gusic and Al Ruds.

GUTTING is the N. C. A. A. champion on the horizontle. The Regnas were point winners in the 1936 meet and Bell finished fourth in the NCAA All-Around, and Miles won the 1931 AAU title. Hodel and Ruds were not be listed as a defending champion, but have been excluded from this year's competition.

Coach Price, who's Florida State squad won their second straight N. C. A. A. championship last year, plans to enter Roetzheim, Holder, the Regna brothers, Hodel and Ruds in the All-Around to give as many men as possible a chance to make the Olympic team. The other eight men in the All-Around will be "borne" by the team.

ASKED as to his groups chances in the touch AAU grind, Price said "If the arrangement of the Florida State Gymkana is not upset we have a very good chance."

Federal Relations, Higher Education Start FACU Talks

The 19th annual meeting of the Florida Association of College and Universities will be held at Florida State today and tomorrow.

Dr. W. Hugh Stickler, co-ordinator of general education and publication president, has announced that about 100 educators will attend the meeting which centers around the theme of "Some Problems of Higher Education in Florida."

The first general session will be at 10 a.m. Friday with addresses by students during which Dr. James L. McCaskill, NEA director of the Legislative Commission on Education, and former FSU public relations head will speak on "Federal Relations and Higher Education." A discussion period will follow by Dr. Leonard E. Cox, Dean of the University of Tampa.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president will speak on "Moral and Spiritual Values in Higher Education" at the convocation dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Elbert F. Bishop, vice-president of Palm Beach Junior College, will be toastmaster, and musical selections will be rendered by Jane Parkman, Claude Rhea and Wendell Carpenter.

Kefauver to Speak Wednesday Morning

Senator Estes Kefauver, candidate for the democratic nomination for President, will speak in the amphitheater Wednesday, April 30 at 9:30 a. m. as a guest of the campus "Kefauver for President" club.

He will be introduced by State Attorney General Richard Ervin.

Kefauver is flying to Tallahassee from the Tallahassee airport at 9:00 Wednesday morning and will be escorted to the campus by the Tallahassee backers.

A tour of the FSU campus has already been planned, stated Garland Stokes, chairman of the campus "Kefauver for President" club.

Stokes said that Kefauver has been specially requested to speak on FSU because of the Tennessee senator's present emphasis upon getting young men in the democratic party.

Dance Try-Outs Held

Second tryouts for Cotillion and Cavalier membership will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 28 as the Student Union on West Campus. Cotillions and Cavaliers are women and men's dateful honoraries on campus. First tryouts were held last Thursday night.

May Dance Is Tonight at 9

Dance Site Is Patio Of West Campus O Club

The annual May Day dance begins tonight at 9 on the patio of the West campus Student union building and runs till 12 midnight.

Nominations for a king and queen of the dance were made over a week ago, and the top five girls and boys were voted on Wednesday in Westcott.

THE KING is finalist for queen included Mary Falls, Bobbie Petit, Marianne Gillen, Jett Munroe and Betty Rose.

The king will be selected from among Buck Bradley, Joel Smith, Bob Tuck, Walter Johnson and Alice Davidson and Rocke Roehling.

THE REMAINING candidates also nominated were Betty Ann Pierce, Mac Gautier, Jane Waters, Cyril Burke, dean of Barry college have had before, Helen Abrams, Hazel Morrison, Sylvia Strange, Charles Dillon, Virginia Lee Cain, Lyn Curry, Millie Hall, Helen Crith and Doris Reed.

The list of candidates for May Day king included Harry Pennybacker, Bill Foster, Bladon Hamilton, John Newland, John Morgan, Claude Johns, Bob Griffin, Will Spooner, David Dreis and Joe Martt.

Newman Club Meet Opens Today at 9; 25 Groups Attend

A three-day 20th Annual Southeastern Province Convention of the National Newman Club Federation opened at 9 this morning with delegates from 25 clubs present.

The 25 clubs represented are from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Cuba and Puerto Rico.

THE REV F. H. SUGGS, professor in English in Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, will lead the services this morning. Other events of the day will be a luncheon at 1 p.m., a tour of the campus and at 6:30 p.m., a welcome dinner in the Union hall, with the Rev. Cyril Burke, dean of Barry college have had before.

A PONTIFICAL low mass will be held Saturday morning at 8 in the Newman house. A movie, "Holy Year, 1935," will be shown, followed by an installation and an address by the Rev. William McKeever, assistant pastor of the Parochial Schools for the Diocese of St. Augustine. A formal banquet will be held at the Duval Hotel at 9 p.m.

Sunday morning at 9, mass and communion will be held for delegates at the Newman house. A communion breakfast will take place at 10:15 a.m. in the dining hall with the Rev. Desmond O'Connor, Dunbar, New Hampshire national chaplain, as guest speaker.

Editor's Troubles Aired Over Radio

The inside scoop on "What's Wrong with Student Publications" and the Florida State University" was aired over WFSU Wednesday night with Garland Stokes moderating the discussion with the statement that the Florida Flambeau is a continuation of Dobert's policy, sensationalism.

Alvin Kantzler, of Inter-fraternity council, was the only member who was not representing a publication. Other speakers were Claudia Thomas, Tally-Ha editor; Bob Griffin, Flambeau editor; Alice Davidson, Pow Wow editor, Joe Smith, Smoke Signals editor.

STOKES SAID that the Flambeau stories were not always too close to the truth and that it did not cover all the campus activities, but only activities that the Flambeau staff wanted it to. "They are biased and fail to include the facts," he said.

The Tally-Ho editor's most newsworthy comments was that if the publication were up to their promises the Tally Ho will be out on time, that students will have their annual before they leave for home.

EDITOR SMITH was questioned as to why Smoke Signals had not come out before the Christmas holidays. "You have every right to ask that question." Smith related the same information presented to Senate in his love for the University of Florida, that he began having much of his campaign literature printed in the University's colors of Orange and Blue. Even his sound truck carries stickers and campaign buttons bare his Alma Mater's colors.

On April 20, Tampa Tribune, reporter Bill Blalock wrote "McCarty is the University of Florida, constantly held in the forefront of his campaign is the color of school spirit, orange and blue, added a sentimental touch to his campaign.

"TO BEGIN WITH all McCarty's literature that is printed in anything but black and white, is printed in the orange and blue of the University. His sound trucks are painted orange and blue. The pre-speech music comes from the University records. The Orange and Blue Diair, Swanee River and Dixie Medley.

His theme song is the University's "We Are The Boys From Old Florida," and is always played just before he speaks. At Gainesville the entire audience sang the song after it was played by the soundman, Angus Metts and the chorus rush through it.

BLALOCK GOES on to say that until recently, McCarty even had his personal stationery printed in the colors.

Naturally McCarty did not play the same songs when he recently spoke before a group of FSU students. Nor did he choose to mention his love for Gatesland.

Many of the McCarty student backers were unaware that the campaign buttons they displayed bore the colors of the University of Florida, for which they had been assigned appropriations for scholarships and athletics from FSU.

Cabinet System In; Gets Wide Margin

By GENE LAWLER

Executive Council is no more.

According to unofficial returns, Florida State University's students voted that body out of existence in the special election Wednesday, 179 to 17, and also reaffirmed their approval of the Executive Department Amendment, 184 to 14.

IN A STATEFENT to the Flambeau, Mary Ruth Bummers, president of the Executive Council who is to appoint the first Cabinet, said, "In passing the Cabinet System, the student body, have made a forward step in improving the campus government. It will take much work and cooperation from each of you next year to get the kin of efficient manner."

In regard to whom she will appoint to the first UGA Cabinet she revealed, "I have several people in mind for these jobs and will announce them very soon."

THE CABINET SYSTEM ratified is the product of many a year's work by the University Senate. Work began last fall when student leaders objected to what they considered legislation by the University Executive Council. They wanted to organize the executive in such a way that powers were clearly defined and responsibilities clearly delegated.

The Impeachment Amendment was originally ratified by the student body in the UGA election, March 1, but the Constitutional Revision Committee recommended that certain election procedure had been violated and the ratification was void, so a revote was necessary.

THE AMENDMENT resubmitted to the students Wednesday was identical to the one submitted in March, except that an elected official may be given the power to preached and removed from office for "nonfeasance and misfeasance" as well as "malfeasance." The insertion was proposed by Student Senator Phil Bergamin, in an attempt to make the bill more "airtight," and was approved by the University Senate Tuesday.

Senator Springer, one of the outstanding orators for Student System said, "It was most gratifying and encouraging that the amendment to the student constitution to provide for a cabinet system was passed by the student body.

"THIS FURTHER STEP toward self rule by the students I count as a triumph of student government during the past year."

He expressed hope and pray that the students of FSU will join in support of this better, stronger, more virile, and more representative student government than they have had before.

Senator Pancho Sived, also member of the Constitutional Revisions Committee, said a leader in fight for the executive revision measure, "I am very glad of this event, and hope that all the hopes placed on this amendment are realized."

Tally Girls Get 5 Nights At Home

Women's Senate passed the motion that freshmen Tallahassee girls have five nights, including week nights, to spend with their parents at home in town without these nights being counted as weekends.

The motion made by Senior Senator Jean Flynn was passed unanimously. The motion was brought about when Freshman Senator Charis Collier brought up the fact that freshmen girls were allowed to spend the night with their parents if they were visiting and not have it count as one of their weekends.

TALLAHASSEE girls could only spend the night in their homes unless it counted as a weekend.

The motion was unanimously Wednesday that entrance hours to the girls' dormitories be extended from 10:30 to 1 a.m. on Sunday nights. This decision was reached after finding that there are five buses and trains that come into Tallahassee between midnight and 1 a.m.

CHAIRMAN PRO-TEM, Mary Helen Speed, announced that the date for the compulsory house meeting for dormitory officers for next year is May 15 at 9:45 p.m.

Speech Intramurals Underway; First Section Finals Monday

Invitations to participate in the 1938 intramural speech contests have been issued by the FSU department of speech. The contests include public speaking, oratorial oratory and after dinner speaking.

Students who have previously won in intramural competition are placed in groups and the contests are ineligible.

AFTER DENBA speaking preliminaries are completed and students will enter finals before the Honor Chamber of Commerce at their noon meeting Monday. Students may still register for the public speaking and original oratory contests.

Preliminaries for original oratory will take place Tuesday, April 26, at 4 in the Union building. Finalists will appear before the Tallahassee Optimist club at their luncheon meeting Monday May 6. The speech must not be more than 10 minutes in length on any subject.

"CAMPUS PROBLEMS at FSU" will be discussed by contestants entering the public speaking contest. Specific topics can be chosen by each student from a list prepared by the department of speech.

Preliminary deadline will be held Tuesday, May 13, at 7 in the History building, with Final May 20.

New Staff Tries Out

The Tuesday session of Florida Flambeau will be a staff meeting for prospective staff members for next year's publication, announced Editor Bob Griffin has announced.

Students who wish to participate must register at least two days before preliminary rounds, according to Publication Board Office building.

All contests are on individual basis and incidental certificates will be awarded to the winners.

Judges of the FSU intramural speech contests are Dr. Greg Pfifer, Dr. Wayne Minnick, and Dr. Lester Bosworth, speech faculty members.

Seniors To Nominate From Royalty Monday

Nominations for King, Queen, and court of the annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held in Lower Westcott Monday from 9 to 5. Barbara Brewton, chairman of the Miss-Kinsella Committee announced.

Primary voting will take place next Wednesday and the final's Friday. Winners will be announced at the April 30, Assisting Brewton are Judy Ellis and Bonnie Kinsella, Jean Spooner and Nancy Dunn-Askin are publicity chairmen. Evelyn Green is social chairman of the Junior class.

Psychologists Report

Florida psychologists will be represented at the annual meeting of the Southern Psychological Association in Virginia Beach by a weekend trip planned by Phi Psi Delta psychology fraternity. Members planning to go are reporting on papers they have prepared for the meeting. Among those attending will be Dr. Lester Bosworth, head of the psychology department.

McCarty Speaks To FSU Audience

"There is room for two state universities in the state of Florida," Dan McCarty, candidate for governor said Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium.

He said he intends to see fair appropriations are granted each one.

McCARTY SAID that after this year, the people will support what they will have their self-respect and Dan McCarty will have his self-respect also.

Will Pennell, FSU student chairman of McCarty for governor club" said that Senator Leroy Collins, who is backing McCarty, has done a lot for Florida State. "He enginereed the bill that made FSU eligible for PWA appropriations."

IN ADDITION, Pennell said that McCarty was the man that would challenge Brailey Odham to a debate and that he would stick by the truth. The student chairman said that Collins said that he had been with Odham and that he had never had anything constructive to add to the business.

McCarty said that Odham is using the governor's office only after a week, wears off and the people have started looking at the merits of the individual candidates.

ODHAM IS RUNNING on the shortcomins of other individuals and not on his own records, the gubernatorial candidate commented.

Odham has challenged McCarty to debate him before, but McCarty says it was inconvenient for him at this time.

McCarty says he is going to see to it that teachers are granted a living wage, so that no further taxes, and that he is for the Minimum Foundation program.

McCARTY: THE GAINESVILLE STORY

Graduate Student Thomas Charges Candidate McCarty With U of F Bias

By JERRY THOMAS
Florida State University

Florida State University is justly and earnestly trying to improve and grow through a well formulated 10 year plan.

Like other State institutions, FSU must look to the Governor and State Legislature for appropriations. The Governor has a definite hand in determining the amount of appropriations that FSU will receive and the legislature has the necessarily carry out.

IF THE GOVERNOR is prejudiced toward the University of Florida, FSU will suffer, as will Florida. A aid to M. College

FSU would like to see at least one of her alumni appointed to the State Board of Control and help that board make the many decisions that either foster or retard a healthy condition.

If the Governor is biased toward the University of Florida, he is going to make sure that those members of the State Board of Control, whom he appoints, are also graduates of the University of Florida and harbor the same prejudices as he.

Like other State institutions, FSU must look to the Governor and State Legislature for appropriations. The Governor has a definite hand in determining the amount of appropriations that FSU will receive and the legislature has the necessarily carry out.

IF THE GOVERNOR is prejudiced toward the University of Florida, FSU will suffer, as will Florida. A aid to M. College

FSU would like to see at least one of her alumni appointed to the State Board of Control and help that board make the many decisions that either foster or retard a healthy condition.

If the Governor is biased toward the University of Florida, he is going to make sure that those members of the State Board of Control, whom he appoints, are also graduates of the University of Florida and harbor the same prejudices as he.

IF DAN McCARTY is elected to the office of Governor, Gainesville will benefit greatly and indeed have their finest hour.

As for FSU, she will have to insist upon the feasibility of a 100-year plan.

When Dan McCarty said that he was opposed to consolidating those institutions of engineering and agriculture (meaning the University of Florida), a slight, but hushed rumble was noted on the campus of FSU.

THE BIG HOWL started when many of the students faculty, and members of the administration woke-up to the fact that Dan McCarty had become so extensive

Flambeau Business Manager Corrects "Red" Radio Boner

I would like to thank my misled Editor Bob Griffin and my "pal" Garland Stokes for the low-blow dealt me over radio station WFSU last Wednesday night. It was sooo nice of you to inform me by radio that I was to be the topic of discussion on Flambeau policies. The best you could have done was inform me beforehand so that I could have defended the statements concerning my "inefficiency" and work done on the Flambeau.

Therefore, boys, I would like to eat a few things straight!!!

In the first place I am not an "outlaw business manager" leaving behind a debt because there will be no debt to leave. Furthermore if you will check the latest elections returns you will find that I am the Business Manager for next year. Surprise.

As for my inefficiency as business manager is concerned you will find by checking the books that the goal this year is $8000 and we have sold 7800 in 7 months with still 2 months to go.

Furthermore I would like to know why the sudden interest in the business side of the Flambeau. Have not all issues been put out on time with many having more than the expected 4 pages? Do you think that I do not have enough advertising (please note today's paper)?

Before making rash comments over the radio about the business staff of the Flambeau, why not first make inquiries from the Business Manager so that you will have some basis for your statements.

Any questions, fellows?

Your Present and Future Business Manager,
Joan Etheridge

Editor's Note: In my face "red" . . . the make flustered ill ole editor. In trying to correct Stokes' misinformation, stated that the books audited each month by the FSU auditor, were in perfect balance and had been "in the red" each time. . . . I mean (the world's worst boner) the books were "in the black." P.S.—I'm color blind!

Spending Will Rise Says Claude Pepper To Business Group

Former United States Senator Claude Pepper spoke Tuesday night to the Alpha Kappa Psi, business fraternity on "Business and Government." Pepper was introduced by Secretary of State R. A. Gray.

Pepper told the group, which is mostly composed of majors in the field of business administration, that taxes and spending at the federal level has increased greatly since World War I, and that the budget has almost doubled itself since 1950. By far the largest bunk of the money goes for defense, Pepper stated. The lawyer predicted that spending would continue to rise until 1954, when it would level off and slowly drop.

After the speech, an informal reception was held in honor of Pepper in the Lonsmire lounge, during which music was furnished by the University Singers and Herman Gunter, Jr., School of Music faculty member. Members of the Future Business Leaders of America acted as hostesses for the reception.

Alpha Kappa Psi plans to have a prominent authority to speak each year and keep a scroll with the names of the speakers on it. Bill McDonald was program chairman for the event.

FSU Music Prof Opens Grad School

Dr. Irvin Cooper, professor of music education, has been chosen to open the Graduate Department of the University of Louisville. The Kentucky University will offer the graduate degrees of Master of Music and Master of Music Education for the first time in the Summer of 1952.

Dr. Cooper will teach a concentrated course June 9-14 as the first course offering in the new department. Course content will include senior and junior high school choral methods, projects and problems in music education, and musical arranging for school performing groups.

Dr. Cooper has also received additional recognition recently in the publication of two new arrangements of his choral number, "God Gave Us Song," by McLaughlin and Reilly Company of Boston, Massachusetts.

Hockenbury Speaks At 'Hotel For Day'

Hotel executive Stuart Hockenbury, who is also vice-president of the American Hotel Corporation, will be the speaker for the second annual "Hotel-For-A-Day," May 2, at the Wakulla Springs lodge. The program is a project of the Scullions, a club composed of majors in restaurant and hotel management.

Mr. Hockenbury will discuss "Hotels In the World," with particular emphasis on hotel operations in the Carribean area.

A number of other prominent hotel officials have been invited to be guests at this year's event, which is centered around the theme of "Down Plantation Way."

Ralph Olsson is student manager for "Hotel-For-A-Day", and Miss Gladys Hall is faculty advisor for the group.

Concert Postponed

The Spring concert of the Women's Glee club of Florida State University, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed, Joseph M. Running, director of the group, has announced. The concert will be presented in May; the date will be released as soon as definite arrangements have been completed, Mr Running said.

Karl Will Head The Art Club Next Year

Acolph Karl associate professor in the Department of Art will head the Tallahasee Art League for the coming year.

He was elected president; Dr. Janet Smith, professor of Home and Family Life, vice-president, and Mrs. Clyde Lupton, Tallahassee, secretary-treasurer.

The league members had a "sketch party" meeting at Millstone Plantation recently where Dr. and Mrs. F. O. Conrad were hosts to the art group.

League members voted their thanks to the outgoing officers who served as hosts for the annual Florida Federation of Art convention last November. These officers are Mrs James Gunn, president, and Mrs. A. G. Matthews, secretary-treasurer.

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Religious Groups Are Hosts to Region Meeting

LUTHERAN

Gamma Delta, Lutheran student organization, will be host this weekend to the annual convention of the Gulf State Conference. Registration begins this afternoon at 4 in the Longmire building followed by a reception.

Activities tomorrow will be climaxed with Rev. Vernon Boriack of Auburn, Ala., speaking in the evening.

BAPTIST

The annual spring Baptist Student Union Retreat held at Camp O'Leno this weekend will be attended by old and new executive council members of this campus.

Students participating in the conference program are Gene Nabi, newly elected Baptist Student Unio npresident, Joann Leroy, and Harrell Cushing.

Dr. Harold Sanders, minister of the First Baptist Church, will lead a Methods course at the Baptist Student house following supper at 6 Tuesday evening.

EPISCOPAL

Sunday is the annual election day of officers for the Canterbury Club, Episcopal student organization. The meeting will be combined with a supper at Rupe hall at 6.

A special Communion service will be held for the retiring vestry Sunday morning at 8.

PRESBYTERIAN

Tommy Bowen will lead a Bible study Sunday night at Westminster Fellowship. The slate for new officers for the coming year will also be given.

Dr. William Martin, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, will lead the discussion at the Waffle Supper Theology Hour to be held at the Westminster House Thursday at 5.

Lorna Cwele will lead the midweek worship service Tuesday night at 9:30.

578 women from 224 colleges taking secretarial training at Gibbs

Special Course For College Women. Five-months' secretarial training at the Gibbs School for graduates.

KATHARINE GIBBS
BOSTON, 90 Marlborough St. • NEW YORK, 230 Park Ave.
BROOKLYN, 75 Livingston St. • PROVIDENCE, 155 Angell St.
PROVIDENCE R. I., Upon Request

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Formerly Meads Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

WEEK-END SPECIAL

Fresh Strawberry Shortcake With Whipped Cream 14c

Thick Milk Shake 14c

MECCA

GAY SANDALS TO WEAR ALL SUMMER LONG!

FOR DAYTIME WEAR FOR DANCING FOR REAL ENJOYMENT

- White
- Multi Pastel
- Multi Mexican

9.95
AAA to B
4 to 10

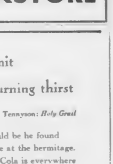
Turner's

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

WILL YOU SUCCEED IN COLLEGE?



WHILE YOU'RE HERE

LET MALONE'S SUPPLY YOUR COLLEGE NEEDS

- CLASSROOM SUPPLIES
- ART SUPPLIES
- STATIONERY SUPPLIES
- CAMERA SUPPLIES
- COSMETIC SUPPLIES
- LADIES TEE SHIRTS
- MOCCASINS
- 1-DAY FILM SERVICE
- PLUSH ANIMALS
- MAGAZINES
- PIPES
- BOX CANDIES
- GIFT GOODS

(WITHOUT SUPPLIES)

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark.
© 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL AT F. S. U.

The answer is worth a lot of valuable prizes . . . including

1. A COMPLETE SUMMER FORMAL OUTFIT—your choice of a comfort-easing single or double breasted "AFTER SIX" dinner jacket, with the new miracle "Stain-Shy" finish and summer formal trousers.
2. HANDSOME BEER MUGS FOR EACH OF THE WINNER'S TEAM MATES—emblazoned with the school seal.
3. A CRACK AT THE NATIONAL CONTEST FOR "MR. FORMAL U. S. A."—the winner gets a trip to New York, all expenses paid—a round of dates with glamorous beauty queens—a $500.00 savings bond—and a tryout for a Hollywood movie contract.

That solid line-up of prizes is waiting for the collegian who does the most for our eye-pleasing, "AFTER SIX" Summer Formal. You or someone from your fraternity, athletic group, society or independent group can easily cop the title and all the female worship that goes with it. Just register with the dealer or College Rep. listed below, and then drop around for your "Tryout".

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER
YOU HAVE EVERYTHING TO WIN

EXCLUSIVE NEW STAIN-SHY FINISH
— won't let you see how Cokes and sponge drops too, just "roll off" without leaving a stain. Shady water, results wrinkle—hardly ever needs cleaning or pressing!

After Six BY RUDOFKER

Cavaliers try out 5 p.m. today at Turner's Contact Lou Calderoni % the Flambeau or
Phone 2-1709

SPONSORED BY
Turner's
Mendelson's
P. W. Wilson
Alford's

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

...HERS HONORED—When the 1952 "Who's Who In ...ers" came out the other day, it listed Bill Dawkins, Curt ...ghell and Mike Sellers in the football section and brother ...p you crack that charmed circle of 300, whether from ...yers' Rock or Notre Dame you've done something ...

...Who's Who is a syndicated ...azine and employs some of the ...e known sports men in the ...ion to select and screen the ...sportsmen alike. The task of ...ing is unusually hard in the ...at it means that nearly all ...ges in the country, no mat...where their from, have to be ...ighly considered.

...Dawkins is a fitting ...ibute to a brilliant year of ...ports and honors. The husky ...oman was named to a first ...ity berth on the Associated ...he Little All-American foot...all squad. was an All-State ...ard and played in two post ...son all-star contests in addi...n to his latest honor.

...Campbell too, has had his share ...rards. He was named to a ...ird team end post on William...y Mizzle Group All-American ...ms and also was accorded hon...le mention on the AP Little ...nerican outfit.

...Sellers who's headed for a try-

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER

JEWELER

102 S. Monroe

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA

TODAY & SATURDAY

"A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE"

With Vivien Leigh and Marlon Brando

SUNDAY thru TUESDAY

PRIDE OF ST. LOUIS

with Dan Dailly and Joanne Dru

STATE

TODAY & SATURDAY

RETURN OF THE TEXAN"

With Dale Robertson and Joanne Dru

SUNDAY thru TUESDAY

MAGIC CARPET"

With Lucille Ball and John Agar

RITZ

TODAY & SATURDAY

"D. O. A."

With Edmond O'Brien and Pamela Britton

ALSO

"HOME IN OKLAHOMA"

with Roy Rogers

DRIVE-IN

TODAY & SATURDAY

Audie Murphy and Bill Mauldin in

"BED BADGE OF COURAGE"

Also Whip Wilson in

"STAGE TO BLUE RIVER"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT. SEE A MOVIE NOW!

FSU Trackmen To Vie With Tech, Georgia

In Triangular Affair At Atlanta Saturday

The Seminole trackmen are scheduled to get their first taste of Southeastern Conference competition in Atlanta tomorrow afternoon when they vie with Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia in a triangular meet.

Coach Ken Miller left here this morning with a squad of 17 entrdermen and pronounced his squad in the finest physical shape of the season.

Included in the Indian traveling squad were quarter-miler Dick Milne, hurdler Harvey Haverty and weightman Walter Grage, all of who have been out with injuries.

With Mike Sack in the field, the Seminoles will be trying for another new record in the mile relay when they go against Tech and Georgia tomorrow. Coach Miller plans to enter Mize, Woody Parker, Jack Koonce and Captain John Pennington in the Relay and the quartet is conceded a good chance to lower the school mark in tomorrow's outing.

Poston who turned in a spectacular 48-4 leg in anchoring the relay team to victory last week against Mercer will try for another double win in the 100 yard dash and 220, as will Freshman Bill Wagoner in the mile and 880. Wagoner won both events in the meet with Mercer.

Sophomore Leighman Carlos Fraundorfer has been another of Florida State's double winners in recent meets and will try for victories in the shot and discus events. Fraundorfer will also enter the broad jump, and if needed, will be available to run a leg on the 880 relay.

Parker who lowered his own track mark in the 440 last week-end is expected to do even better this time if he is pressed enough.

Glenn Ford Stars In Free Western

"Go West Young Lady," starring Ann Miller, Glenn Ford, Penny Singleton and Charla Ruggles, will be the next free movie to be shown by the University Recreation association.

The musical western, which is the story of some townswomen who organize a posse of gals armed with pan, brooms and rolling pins to capture the villian, will have its first showing Monday, at 7:30 p. m. in the Student union on West campus.

Tuesday the movie will be shown at the same time in Landis Recreation room; Wednesday, Mayo Hall; Thursday, Men's Senior hall, and Friday at 8 p. m. in the amphitheater. In case of rain Friday, the movie will be held in South Cawthon.

Golf Match Cancelled

The Florida State University golfers match with Jacksonville Navy that was scheduled for tomorrow morning has been cancelled. Their next match will be at Mercer on next Monday.

The navy team had defeated the Seminoles earlier this year at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

Reporters Meet At 5

A meeting of news and feature writers will be held at 5 p.m. this afternoon in the Flambeau office, News Editor Hazel Morrison announced.

Patronize Our Advertisers

More than just a liquid, more than just a cream ... new Wildroot Liquid Cream Shampoo is a combination of the best of both.

Even in the hardest water Wildroot Shampoo washes hair gleaming clean, manageable, curl-serving without robbing hair of its natural oils.

Soapless Sudsy ... Lanolin Lovely!

P.S. To help hair neat between shampoos use Lady Wildroot Cream Hair Dressing.

SEEKS RECORD—Woody Parker, versatile FSU trackman, will attempt to lower his own school record in the 440-yard dash when the Seminoles tangle with Georgia and Georgia Tech in Atlanta tomorrow.

INTRAMURALS

By JIM EADY

Tuesday's fraternity softball play was enlivened by a rash of heavy hitting with a total of ten home runs counted in the seven games.

Six of the four-base blows were scattered in one game . . . the DTD-SPE contest won by the Delts, 17 to 11 . . . by Naser, Sullivan and Godbold of the Delts and Argo, LaRoche and Crutchfield of SPE.

In the 18 to 8 triumph of ATO over PKT, hodges of the losers and ATO's Henley belted homeruns. The PKT team was limited to three hits.

Sigma Xi edged Kappa Alpha 10 to 8 in the first extra inning game of the season in spite of homer by Bill Manley of the "rebels." SC won in the ninth frame.

Pat Morgan of Sigma Nu collected a HR in helping his frat brothers defeat LCA 11 to 4.

In a make-up game played Wednesday, KA pounded PKA 20 to 7 in three innings. Bill Wimer of PKA and Henderson, for the winners, each wasted a four-bagger.

Line scores:

LCA	400 00—4	6	4
SN	200 92—11	12	4

Batteries: Sc—Newland, Bernard; LCA—Gleah, Hanley. Home run, Morgan, SN.

PKA	110 10—3
TC	600 65—20

Batteries: TC—Bukay, Pinkston. PKA—Scott, Phillips.

KA	301 154 600—9	8	2
SC	300 420 001—10	8	1

Batteries: KA—Whaley, Toler; SC—Moore, Bonner. Home run, Whaley, KA.

PKT	201 110 3—8	3
ATO	512 304 1—18	12	1

Batteries: PKT—Vincent, Scofield; ATO—Rubin, Kaufman. Home runs, Hodges, PKT; Henley, ATO.

DTD	500 500 0—11	9	3
SPE	341 013 0—17	13	3

Batteries: SPE—Crutchfield, Bowers; DTD—Kriesch, Bradley. Home runs, Naser, Sullivan, Godbold, DTD; Argo, LaRoche, Crutchfield, SPE.

PDT	000 0—0	3	4
KS	020 4—16	8

Batteries: KS—Bowers, Hodges; PDT—Scissm, Colella.

PKP	340 100 8—16	8
KAP	600 103 5—15	8

Batteries: KAP—Stewart, Crowther; PKP—E. Sundberg, A. Sundberg.

KA	4 10 6—20	9
PKA	1 2 3—7	3

Batteries: KA—Whaley, Toler; PKA—Scott, Phillips. Home runs, Henderson, KA; Wimer, PKA (Ground Rule Homer).

Lt. Discusses Jobs In The Air Force

Lt. William Williams will be in the Longmire clubroom Tuesday, April 29, at 5 p. m. to discuss career opportunities in the Army and Air Force. All senior men and women who will graduate in June are invited to attend.

The lieutenant will discuss applications for service cadet programs and medical administrations. Arrangements for the meeting have been made through the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

BLOCK THAT ALLITERATION . . .

Headline in the State Press, Arizona State College: "Orsiles Gets Gang Going Great Guns." And in the same paper, same page: "Infirm Lads, Lassies Look to Legislature."

Seminoles Meet Southern Tonight in Lakeland Tilt

The high flying Florida State baseball team will seek its 13th win of the season tonight in Lakeland when they go against Florida Southern in the first of four straight

Volleyball Six To Enter Open

The FSU volleyball team will leave Sunday morning for Columbus, Ohio, where they will enter the National Collegiate and Open tournaments on May 1, 2 and 3.

This year's effort will mark the Seminoles' third try for the championship, having finished seventh in 1950 and fourth in 1951.

Thus far, the Seminoles have failed to win a single tournament, placing second in the State AAU, fourth in the Mid-South, and third in the Smoky Mountain.

Their season record to date, boosted by last Saturday's win over Atlanta YMCA, stands at 47 games won and 30 lost. Match play leaves the FSU six with a record of 19 won, 10 lost and six tied.

The Seminoles have landed two men on two separate all-star teams with Howard Gould being named as set-up and Ronald Hambrock being named as spiker on both the All-Mid-South and All-State.

In addition to the above two, Coach Bill Odeneal will call upon veterans Jim Clark, Jim Coach and James McPatter along with first year men Harry Bibee and Duane Gordon.

Coach Odeneal said that if the attending the USVBA board of directors meeting, expects this year's collegiate competition to be the toughest yet, adding that the and blanked the Capa the remaining two games.

The Seminoles who have won twelve of their fifteen starts against the top college competition in this area, will meet the Mocs again tomorrow night, and on Tuesday the two teams move into Tallahassee's Centennial Field for a day-night doubleheader.

COACH Ralph Matherly said before leaving yesterday that he would start Junior cuvveballer Ed Semiona in tonight's contest and come back with one of two Freshmen—either leftiander Chuck Sanders or Jimmy Morrison in the Saturday affair.

Sanders has been a regular starter for the Indians this Spring while Morrison hasn't been tested under fire in a Varsity game although he has worked in several Freshman tilts.

Outfielder Ralph Blinn is scheduled to rejoin the squad in Lakeland today after an absence of nearly two weeks due to his father's death.

AFTER the four games with Florida Southern, the Seminoles have only four more scheduled contests on the 1952 slate and all of them are at home. Two of the tilts are with Rollins here on May 9th and 10th, while the other two are with Stetson on the 16th and 17th.

The Seminole "B" team won it's second game in three starts here Tuesday night by defeating the Tallahassee Capitals, a semi-pro team, 7-4.

MORRISON started on the mound for the Baby Seminoles and gave up four hits and one run in the two innings he pitched, Marvin Haynes took over in the third and was clipped for five runs in his five inning stint. But Sanders came on in the eighth and blanked the Capa the remainder of the way—receiving credit for the win.

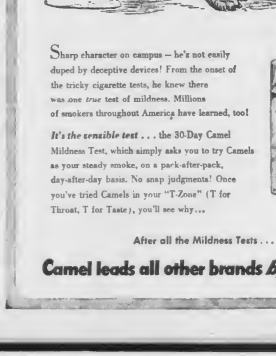
Indian Netters To Meet Miami

This afternoon and tomorrow afternoon the Florida State University tennis team will face probably its weakest and strongest opponents of the season.

Having trimmed Valdosta State College 9-0 in Valdosta, Georgia, last Friday, the Seminole net stars, favored over the Georgia racquet team in a return match at 3 this afternoon.

On the other hand some observers do not credit the Indian court men with even an outside chance of upsetting the powerhouse University of Miami team here Saturday.

Miami, not counting an "unfinished" meet with Rollins College this year, has won 54 consecutive matches over a four-year period. Last year the Hurricanes were the nation's number one team.



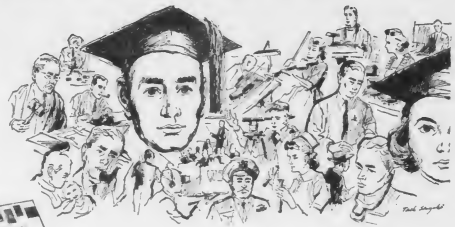
During the first three days of May, the Seminole netters will climax the tennis season with three road trips. The first of May will find the FSU team at Florida Southern, followed the next day by a meet against Orlando Air Force Base. The FSU racquet men face the Tars of Rollins on May 3.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 38...THE WOLF

"MOST OF THEM AREN'T WORTH HOWLING ABOUT!"

Sharp character on campus — he's not easily duped by deceptive devices! From the onset of the tricky cigarette tests, he knew there was one true test of mildness. Millions of smokers throughout America have learned, too!



It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests . . .

Camel leads all other brands by billions

This book is a guide to your future

Its subject: How have college graduates made out?

Published by Harcourt, Brace. Now on sale at your local book store.

How this book came about

They Went to College is based on a survey sponsored by TIME, whose interest in this group stems naturally from the fact that most of TIME's readers are college trained.

TIME is written for you and people like you, people like the thousands of graduates of the more than a thousand American colleges who answered TIME's questionnaire and revealed many facets of their lives—from the courses they took, to their religious beliefs.

This mountain of data was tabulated and analyzed by Patricia Salter West at the Columbia University Bureau of Applied Social Research, then turned over to Ernest Havemann, a former editor of TIME and a specialist at making interesting reading out of statistical material.

The result is a book of major importance to everyone.

Is it true that our colleges are turning out atheists and radicals?

How do graduates stack up against the self made men who battled their way without the help of four years in college—but got a four-year head start in the business world?

Are they better husbands and wives? Is a therapist really worth all the effort?

You'll find answers to your future in the answers to these questions, questions that are explored in They Went to College. TIME's new book about one of America's most influential groups of people, the U. S. college graduates.

In its pages you'll peer into the post graduation careers of the ex-Greasy Grind, the ex-BMOC, the ex-All Around Student and the One Who Just Sat There.

How many of them married, how many children did they have, who got divorced, who got the best jobs, what do they think of courses they took?

These are just a few of the former dark areas of conjecture and folklore lighted up by this unprecedented study.

Low-Down on Higher Learning

They Went to College is required reading for everybody who wants the real low-down on higher learning.

If you're an undergraduate, you'll learn much about your probable future.

If you're a college graduate, you'll find out how you stack up against your peers.

If you're a teacher, you'll discover what has become of your students.

And, no matter what your interest, you'll find fuel for plenty of debate in this book.

Because its audience represents one of the largest concentrations of college graduates reading any major magazine in the world today, TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine, undertook the comprehensive study, which is the basis of this milestone book.

TIME

TIME—to get it Straight

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

I wonder if my answer's right
Each time I take a test.
No guesswork, though, for cigarettes—
For Luckies taste the best!

Barbara Mencher
Brooklyn College

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

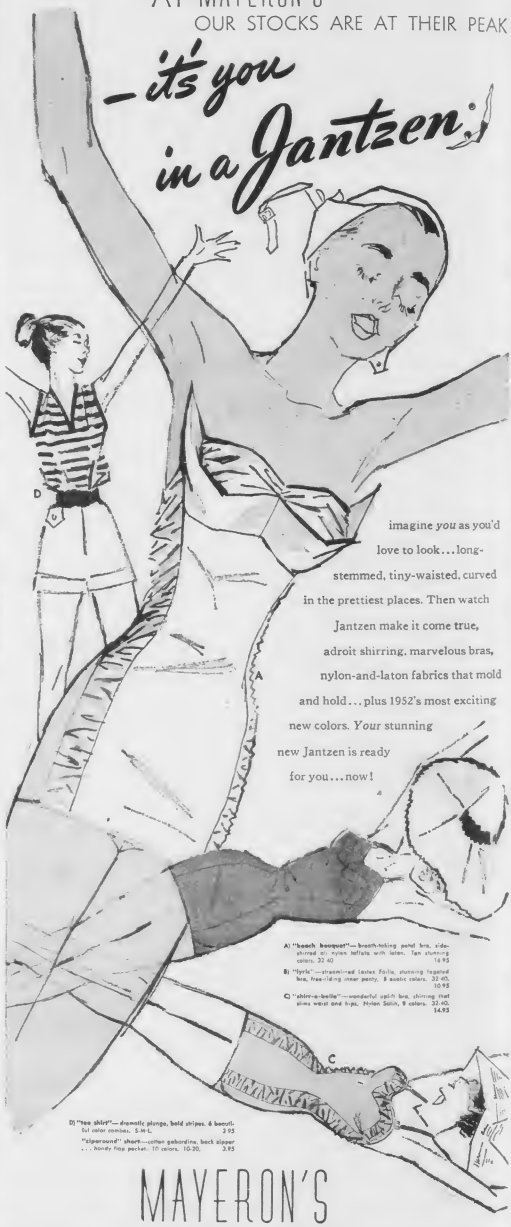
When I light up a Lucky,
I know just what's in store—
A cigarette of mildest blend
And taste that calls for more!

Donald K. Hess
Franklin and Marshall College

L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

The Rebels and the Yanks were foes,
But now they all agree
That nothing else can match the taste
Of L.S./M.F.T.



Richard J. DeSimone
University of Denver

©A.T.Co.

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
"AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES"

IT'S JANTZEN TIME
AT MAYERON'S
OUR STOCKS ARE AT THEIR PEAK

—it's you in a Jantzen!

imagine you as you'd love to look . . . long-stemmed, tiny-waisted, curved in the prettiest places. Then watch Jantzen make it come true, adroit shirring, marvelous bras, nylon-and-laton fabrics that mold and hold . . . plus 1952's most exciting new colors. Your stunning new Jantzen is ready for you . . . now!

A) "beach bouquet"— breath-taking petal bra, side-shirred all nylon taffeta with laton. Tan stunning colors. 32-40 16.95

B) "lyric"—streamlined Lastex Faille, stunning fagoted bra, free-riding inner panty. 8 exotic colors. 32-40, 10.95

C) "shirt-a-belle"—wonderful uplift bra, shirring that slims waist and hips. Nylon Satin. 8 colors. 32-40, 14.95

D) "tee shirt"— dramatic plunge, bold stripes. 6 beautiful color combos. S-M-L 3.95

"slipcround" short—cotton gabardine, back zipper . . . handy flap pocket. 10 colors. 10-20. 3.95

MAYERON'S

"Flying High"
Opens Thursday at 8
In Campbell Stadium

Florida Flambeau

Smoke Signals Editor
Answers Questions
See Editorial Page

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 49 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, April 29, 1952

Jr. Class Elects President Tonight

Meeting To Take Place at 7 P. M. In Longmire Aud. If Enough Attend

Election of next year's senior class president will take place tonight at 7 p.m. in Longmire auditorium, providing enough juniors are present.

Junior class president Jimmy Sasser has called for all juniors to attend, saying, "The election is a four if only 50 or 100 attend. If more don't come, it will be cancelled for the meeting."

THE JUNIOR class meeting, at which plans for the Junior-Senior Prom will also be discussed, was called two weeks ago by Executive Council to solve the presidential election, in which no candidate had been able to get a majority, as required by SGA constitution.

Constitution introduced by Dick Bradley, included certain provisions.

That all candidates nominated from the floor be required to file a statement from the registrar on his eligibility, plus a list of all the subjects he is carrying at the end of the semester, be drawn up to the possibility of all those candidates who can be elected.

ACCORDING TO BARNES, sponsor of the motion, this will be done at the election of Carl Epperson, elected chairman. A candidate must receive a majority of votes in order to be declared the winner.

If three candidates prominent in the run-off, Barnes, Sasser and Jere Salvers, are required to be seeking the position tonight.

LATTNER HAS been in the race for the presidency behind the scenes, but Sasser had to announce himself in the class election campaign. After Sasser had to announce himself as a candidate, Executive Council decided he is ineligible as an office.

This stopped a majority in the majority in the second ballot which gave 90 votes to Wilk, 68 votes for Sasser and 53 for Salyers.

Faculty Members Attend Conference

Florida State University members from various departments attended the annual Conference on Marriage and the Family in Miami, Fla. recently, the FSU faculty members, Dr. Meyer P. Nimkoff, Department of Sociology; Divorce Reform Movement; Their Outcome in the States."

Whoops! Wrong Man

Florida F. Seaman of Bulletin was the printer quoted in the Smoke Signals story and pulled by H. Buckley Hazel Morrison's editor corrected today, Seaman said that the printers were not responsible for the magazine delay.

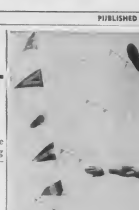
Posts Unfilled For Next Year Says Summers

President-elect Mary Ruth Summers announced just before press time yesterday that she has not yet made an official decision on next year's cabinet.

"I have a good idea whom I want to appoint to some positions," Summers told a Flambeau reporter yesterday, but she explained that she hadn't decided on all posts, and that several other factors must be considered first.

ONE NEWLY APPROVED cabinet system amendment, for instance, states that the president must submit her cabinet officers "after consultation with the vice-president." The president-elect has talked to next year's various vice-presidents at different times, but has not yet met with all of them together.

Summers revealed that she had contacted some people whom she had in mind to see if they were available, but that most of those students had requested time to think it over.



NEXT YEAR'S president said she did not know whether present President Will Pennell would sponsor an interim cabinet. The amendment approved by student voters last Wednesday apparently does away with the executive council, and it has been mentioned that such a temporary body now would be illegal and subject to court action.

Pennell could either appoint an interim cabinet to function for the two weeks before the student government takes over or could simply function as the sole executive officer without the advise of a cabinet. In view of the shortness of time, the latter course will probably follow the latter course.

NEXT YEAR'S student government officers will be installed May 13.

The cabinet system amendment provides that the president's cabinet consist of an attorney general, a secretary of elections, a secretary of finance, a secretary of organizations, a secretary of recreational affairs, a forums chairman and a chairman of the Student Union.

PRESIDENT-ELECT Summers remembered that all students who were willing to serve in cabinet and assistant's positions or had suggestions for filling positions call the UOA office or drop her a note in the campus mail.

FLYING HIGH—Two Florida State students, Betty Ann Roberts and John Mahoe practice their aerial act for the 1952 Circus, "Flying High" which opens Thursday night at 8 in the Doak S. Campbell stadium.

Profs Swap Books For Lure of Stage

Instructors will turn in lecture stands and textbooks for footlights and greasepaint when they assume the roles of "The Importance of Being Earnest," in the annual faculty play Saturday in the Music Hall.

Tickets for the production went on sale yesterday in Lower Westcott where they may be obtained for the remainder of the week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sales will be resricted to 534 for each production because of the capacity of the Music Hall, according to George Heilman, publisher director and local facsimile counselor.

NONE OF THE seats are reserved for either production. Admission will be 75 cents for the 4:30 matinee performance and 50 cents for the evening performance.

In contrast to the heavy satire of last year's production, "Madwoman of Chaillot," "The Importance of Being Earnest" is a refreshing farce. It involves two cousins named Earnest who assume aliases because girl friends dislike their names. Soon each of the men are telling their sweethearts the fictitious and dastardly deeds of the other. It makes for interesting conversation, but complications set in when the girls get together and compare notes.

CO-DIRECTORS of the play are Mrs. Robert N. Sedore, wife of an assistant professor in the music department, and Lenzy Moore, English instructor.

Miss Janet R. Smith of the home and family department recreates the role of Lady Bracknell in this year's production. It was Miss Smith who won acclaim

Continued on Page Four

ODK Taps Seven For Leadership, Superior Grades

Seven student leaders, three juniors and four seniors, will be initiated tonight into the Florida State University circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership-scholastic honorary fraternity.

Tapped Friday at noon on Westcott steps for ODK were Dennis Book, Wallace Dynes, Stanley Gould, James Kirk, Ted Stettinius, Robert Tully, and Willis Tyrrell.

To be eligible for the ODK a student must be an outstanding leader in at least one of the fields of scholarship, athletics, music and dramatic arts, religious and social activities and publications.

(Continued on Page Four)

"Flying High", FSU Circus Swings Into Fifth Season

State University this year will present its annual circus production, "Flying High," fifth in a series of annual circus productions.

Years ago, without much ado, Jack Haskin and his band of forty students acted in costumes worked out on clothes-up ruinous to alter both in fact is now probably the most [illegible] of FSU institutions.

SINCE THAT short time ago, "Flying High" has grown to a circular show with six rings, stages, four high acts and, most important, national and international fame.

Features on the FSU innovation have been done recently in Life magazine, Buick magazine and Look Week, plus innumerable newspaper articles. Many movies have been done of the performance also. RKO plans to make a movie this year. "Coach" and his [illegible] have also gained international fame through movies sent abroad and newspaper articles. Reviews of circus performers were printed in a Sydney, Australia newspaper not too long ago.

PERHAPS THE MOST amazing thing about "Flying High," besides the fact that education business, and other matters have learned to act like they did their writing on aerial bars, is the great amount of safety that has been observed. Florida State's circus can point to the best record for accident avoidance than can Barnum and his collection. About the only mishaps that have occurred have been a sprained wrist and a few sore muscles. There is due to the long hours of practice which students put in on the apparatus they are allowed to risk their necks in "big top" shows.

"Coach" has always been a circus fan, and has helped to produce circus type programs many times, both in civilian life and while he was in service. When he came to FSU he organized a circus of his own, where young men and women could get some healthy exercise along with their penchant for pushing. Coach is assisted with circus productions by Jim DeCosmo.

EACH YEAR new acts are added to the program, and the program changes for each performance. Still "one, call all" atmosphere of the real Big Top. New costumes are made for each performance. Themselves, thus giving the performances extra variety and the way.

A circus band now helps to liven up things in the old tradition, as well as usually painted clowns which have fascinated the adults as much as the children. Wild animals have been added, too, just to give the affair that thrills and chills feeling real circuses have. Of course the "wild animals" are FSU students in cleverly made exercise aleos with their penchi-

Continued on Page Four)

Flambeau Takes No Sides In Election

The Flambeau, as a student newspaper, is not taking part in the current state political campaign in any way, nor does it endorse any candidate.

The story, appearing on the front page of Friday's Flambeau charging one candidate for Governor with bias for the University of Florida, was written by a Graduate Student, Jerry Thomas, and expresses his individual opinion, not necessarily the opinion of the newspaper.

The newspaper will continue to give students this medium to express their opinions on the candidates to whom they have pledged support.

ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

Flying High Opens Thur. For 3 Day Stadium Run

Met Baritone Sings Monday In Open Air

Artist Series Program To Present Concert By Leonard Warren

Leonard Warren, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera will appear in an Artist Series sponsored concert in the Music amphitheater at 8:15 p.m. on Monday, May 5 at 8.15 p.m.

Warren made his debut at the Metropolitan in "Simon Boccanegra" in 1939, and since his rise in opera has been phenominal. He is a member of five other opera companies in this country and South America in addition to the Metropolitan Opera. They are the Chicago Opera, the San Francisco Opera, the Teatro Municipal in Rio de Janeiro and the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires.

BETWEEN OPERATIC appearances, Warren makes an annual concert tour of the United States and Canada. After six successive seasons in South America during which he appeared in leading opera houses, he has become South America's opera idol. His repertoire now includes more than 22 operas.

Until he was 27 years old, the baritone had never studied an opera role, a graduate of Connecticut University he had planned a business career, but when fired from his first job as an accountant, for singing at his work, he decided to make music more than a hobby.

Names Accepted For Court Royalty Of Jr.-Sr. Prom

Nominations for Kitna, Queen, and Court of the annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held Wednesday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in Lower Wes-cott.

Nominations were scheduled for Monday, but due to complications, they had to be postponed, Barbara Brewton chairman of the King-Queen Committee, reported today.

NOMINATIONS from anyone in the student body will be accepted by committee. The committee will be composed of various members of the Prom Committee.

Primary voting will take place Friday and finals Monday. The court will consist of two senior girls, two senior boys, two junior girls and two junior boys. The King and Queen will be from the senior class.

THE PROM will be held at the East Dinning hall from 9 p.m. to 1 a. m. on May 10. It will be formal and will be restricted to juniors, seniors and their dates. Barbara Brewton stated that invitations will be distributed to the juniors and seniors on Monday at the polls. Music will be presented by "The Reeents."

Juniors wanting to assist in preparations for the Prom are urged to contact Barbara Brewton at the Chi Omega house immediately. "Assistance will be greatly appreciated," she stated.

FSU Student Admission Is Free For All Circus Performances

The 1952 "Flying High" student circus performance will open Thursday for a three night run in the Doak S. Campbell stadium. Florida State University students will be admitted free to any performance.

Additional performances of the show will be staged Friday and Saturday evenings. In case of rain in any one of the three performances, the show will be held May 6.

HIGH SCHOOL students will pay 25 cents admission and adults 75 cents. Any reserved seat will cost an extra 25 cents.

Tickets will be on sale from 2:30 until 5 p.m. today through Friday and 9 a.m. until 12 noon Saturday in the University book store. They will also be sold down town at the Chamber of Commerce.

INTRODUCING the line-up of 40 acts, including eight new acts, will be the theme song, "Flying High," written especially for the circus by Thomas Wright of the FSU School of Music.

This year's setting will include six rings with three stages and four high acts with some 200 members starring in the two-hour extravaganza.

NEW ACTS will be "The Flying Decosmos" in a flying return casino aerial number; "Fantasy in Wire," featuring Betty Ann Roberts; "Fiesta," with its addition of Cuban atmosphere; and the dependably funny face clowns.

Coach Jack Haskins and his assistant, Jim DeCosmo promise the 1952 acts to be "finer and more elaborate" than any of the six other productions.

GUESTS AT this year's production will be high school students from all over the state invited by

(Continued on Page Four)

May 1 Deadline Set for Entries In Campus Sing

Deadline entry date for groups wishing to participate in the Campus Sing, to be held Sunday, May 11, is Thursday, May 1, Nancy Hill and Steve Edwards, co-chairmen of the event have announced.

So far five sororities and two fraternities have entered. Other groups wishing to participate should contact Nancy Hill at the Alpha Omicron Pi house, or Steve Edwards at the Kappa Sigma House.

THE ANNUAL sing is sponsored jointly by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternities. Each group must have at least 15 participants and two songs, one of which may be a fraternity song.

Sororities now entered are Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Zeta and Gamma Phi Beta. Fraternities are Sigma Chi and Alpha Tau Omega.

ELIMINATIONS will be held Saturday, May 10, at 1 p.m. The top three groups in the men's and women's sections will be given a sing on Sunday.

Before the Saturday performances, a representative of each fraternity, sorority and dormitory entering is asked to be at the amphitheater at 12:45 p.m. to draw for the order of performance. The entertainers urge that the groups line up on the terrace of the Music building as quickly and quietly as possible.

FINALS WILL be held at 10 a.m. Sunday, May 11, which is also Mother's Day. The chairmen have requested that it be impossible to schedule the Sing at any other time without conflicting with church services. The Sing was originally scheduled for this week-end, but was moved to May 10, 17 and 18 in the Leadership Conference.

Kefauver Talks Wed. Morning In Music Bowl

Russell In Tallahassee In Presidential Race; May Appear At FSU

Senator Estes Kefauver, candidate for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States, will speak at Florida State University tomorrow morning in the music amphitheatre at 9:30.

Senator Richard Russell will also speak in Tallahassee Thursday and it is rumored he will visit the campus for a short time. Russell will make his address on the Capitol steps at 10 a. m. Thursday.

Kefauver will arrive at the Tallahassee Airport about 8 a. m. tomorrow and will be escorted directly to the university by a motorcade.

The Tennessee Senator's speech on campus will mark the first time in Florida State University's history a candidate for president has appeared here during his political campaign, according to H. Stokes Hall, chairman of the campus Kefauver Club.

Stokes said that Attorney General Richard Gerstein is backing Kefauver.

Mallory Horne, local chairman of the Russell for President forces said the Georgia Senator will not be on campus but is considering because of consestion of traffic in the downtown area. He said motorcades in many areas of Florida and Georgia towns would come to Tallahassee.

Kefauver, who has visited the area once before but did not make a major political speech, will tour the campus and continue downtown where he will also address a local gathering.

Classes are not being dismissed completely to hear the presidential candidates, however, many instructors are using their students in order for them to hear the speeches.

Next Year's Staff Puts Out Flambeau

Today's issue of the Flambeau is the annual "trial issue" put out by reporters and staff members who are trying out for staff positions for next year.

Bill Dunn, editor-elect, acted as editor-in-chief of this edition. Reporters Meet

Reporters Meeting

Reporters meeting will be held at 3 p. m. today in the Flambeau office. All students are welcome to attend. Discussion will include plans for a combination of staff try-outs for the next three issues.

Baba Henry performed the duties of managing editor; and Frances Cawthon those of news editor.

Jim Eady filled the position of sports editor. While Jane Sikes acted as feature editor. Associate editor assistants were Bruce Galphin and Marcia Morris. John Haracopas acted as rewrite editor.

Holder, Roetzheim Named To 1952 U. S. Olympic Team

By TOMMY SANDS

The Florida State Gymkana, although nosed out of the national AAU gymnastics title by the Philadelphia Turners, placed two men—Don Holder and Bill Roetzheim on the 1952 Olympic team.

Holder and Roetzheim, who placed fourth and fifth respectively in the All-Around, were named to the team along with six other performers representing some of the finest gymnastics talent in the world.

FOR ROETZHEIM it will be his second crack at the Olympics having been named to the 1948 team.

Roetzheim, obviously not at top form for the two-day meet, had previously won the All-Around event three times in a row.

The three-time All-American, however, took a third place in the high bar in addition to his fifth in the All-Around.

Holder, who rates as one of the most improved men among the Gymkana group, previously finished fourth in the NCAA All-Around.

Lanky Gene Rabbitt, who won the side horse title, was the only Florida State performer to cop a first place. It was the fourth straight side horse championship for Rabbitt.

JACK MILES came close to taking a first in the long horse event, however, as he was knocked out of top spot by a tenth of a point. Alvin Ruda finished in a two-way tie for sixth place in the same event for the FSU group, only other place of the day.

Due to an AAU ruling which prohibits graduate students from competing with university teams, Coach Hartley Price had to enter the Florida State performers as the Gymkana Club before Roetzheim and Rabbitt could compete.

STUDENT LEADERS—Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary for men, tapped [illegible] Florida State University students for membership last Friday. Here they are being welcomed by James Eal, ODK president, in black robe. The new members are left to right, Ted Stettinius, Bob ert Tully, Stan Gould, Wallace Dynes, James Kirk and Daniel Book. Not pictured but also tapped was Willis Tyrrell.

Springer Visits Dean About Late Smoke Signals

Senator Phil Springer, chairman of the Senate finance committee, revealed that he visited Dean of Student Welfare J. Brow-ard Graham in further investigation of the late appearance of Smoke Signals.

Cause of the investigation being last week, 300 copies, or 1/7 of the total, have come out.

AFTER JOEL Smith, editor of the publication left office, the Senate last week explained the side of the difficulties. A student legislature voted Phil Springer to carry on the investigation for consideration of the paper.

In particular, Springer was to talk to Culpepper about the contract with the printers of Smoke Signals. Smith had made the blame for the magazine's delay on the fact that the contract slipped to the printers.

SPRINGER SAID he didn't want to be making arrangements to take the printing from the [illegible] if there was any [illegible] in the finance committee's statement, on his own, however, "From all the information I have gathered I think the blame is with the printers and they may be grounds for impeachment."

Editor Answers Question: "Where Is Smoke Signals?"

By JOEL P. SMITH
Editor of Smoke Signals

In answer to the Flambeau's editorial entitled "Puffin' Away," which appeared in the April 18 edition of the Flambeau I shall attempt to answer the pertinent question, "Where is Smoke Signals?"

The editorial stated that I dislike discussing the magazine. The truth is that about half my daily conversation is spent discussing some phase of Smoke Signals with the students. It is true that I have not been too receptive to the Flambeau editor's questions and remarks as my attitude is one of my faults. I would like to say here, however, that the magazine staff has more or less unofficially established a policy of no news releases to the Flambeau. Why, you might ask? Let me cite one incident, which to my way of thinking was one of the most unprofessional things the Flambeau has done. The Flambeau, which appeared the day of the elections for student body president, ran a picture of Smoke Signals' "surprise" cover girl and made a cut line which mentioned that she was a candidate for president. This was unethical since I had told the editor the "scoop" and asked him not to run a story until after the elections.

The third paragraph of the before mentioned editorial read: "He believes that a small group are the only curious people on campus." This is a very broad facetious statement. I should like to add that I accepted an invitation to tell the University Senate what Smoke Signals is later, and I should like to relate to you, the students, what I told the Senate:

(1) The lack of a trained staff has been a major drawback. The three senior editors are the only experienced staff members who could take over major story assignments during the first semester. We had to take time out and train a staff of students who were interested but unexperienced at writing copy. This took time, however it is paying dividends this semester since we were able to use much of their copy in the forthcoming issue. Training this staff —which will be the major editors for next year—has been another factor. Several unfortunate mistakes were made. Pictures for the late issue were marked incorrectly and sent to the engravers . . . this indient alone caused a two week delay.

(2) Smoke Signals' contract with the printers failed to specify any deadlines which the printer must observe. This is had. It is up to the discretion of the printer as to when Smoke Signals comes off the press. At present our March issue is completely in the hands of the printed and should be out at any time, but we are unable to issue a statement saying when Smoke Signals will be distributed, since the printer cannot give us the word. This fault can be attributed to the fact that the contract let by the University failed to specify any deadlines on the printer's part, and the fact that the printer is a small concern and has to combine the magazine with other printing jobs.

(3) The difficulty of selling ads has caused us delay on each issue of Smoke Signals. Our rates, which amounts to $100 per page, may seem high, but they are necessary if Smoke Signals is to come out financially on top. Until this year the magazine was losing money on every ad sold due to the fact that it was costing more to print the ad than the money derived from sales.

(4) The lack of co-operation on the Flambeau's part has definitely worked to our disadvantage. Smoke Signals needs this means of communication to the rest of the students what is needed by their magazine in the form of news stories and constructive editorials.

Main Library with its reference works, complete magazine room, newspaper room, stacks, and art reference room. Currently, on display on the second floor i sa life-size picture layout of the history of drama. Further teachers there's the Curriculum Library at West Campus. Probably never agin wil they be in contact with such a wide variety of materials.

Every year the University appropriates several thousand dollars of student fees for Artist Series, yet only a scant number of students attend the planned programs. Concerts, recitals, lectures, films, movies, Camp Flastacowo, dormitory recreation facilities, and religious student house activities are more educational and social events planned for students but seldom participated in.

Any student who spends even a year at FSU and fails to look into all tha tis provided for him, is missing over half of his education.

● FULLER ENJOYMENT

Is the University of today a place to memorize facts and take away upon graduation an itemised list of skills to fit the graduate for his vocatoin, or is it a preparation for a fuller enjoyment of life through knowledge of living?

The trouble with colleges today is that students become nothing more than industrious automatons whose idea of learning is cramming for tests and whose entire existence depends o na quick trip to town for a 40-cent movie. The whole process of modern education forgets to develop in the individual self-directive study and worthy use of leisure time.

Florida State University provides for every student a myriad of resources to develop in the student those "worthy use of ricular" skills hut few take advantage of these opportunities. Just an expedition of campus and an exploration of the displays, concerts, books, plays and exhibits offered constitutes an ideally constructed course in liberal education.

Other than music majors rarely find out about the Music Library with its facilities for listening to records. Few people ever find out the many services offered by the

Dear Editor . . .

Meeting Unconstitutional

Dear Editor:

For the following reasons, the meeting called for Tuesday, April 29, by the Executive Council for the purpose of electing a student to fill the office of next year's senior class president, is of no particular consequence and is unconstitutional.

1. The constitutional power of this year's Executive Council to call a meeting of next year's senior class is questionable.

2. There are no definite accepted rules of order which govern a class meeting such as this, making it very difficult to carry on this type of business democratically.

3. There is no constitutional provision for the selection of a class officer in this manner.

4. There is no quorum requirement for such a class meeting. In this case this factor is very important.

5. Even with ample publicity, there are many activity conflicts that render many class members unable to attend.

6. Because of the lack of adequate time for this problem it should be handled by next year's U. O. A. president.

7. Any meeting of a class at this time would not be a true picture of the possible class structure next year.

8. Any action taken under these circumstances is a miscarriage of student government and hinges on the brink of unconstitutionality.

This election, mainly because of inadequate election laws, has become pathetic. It has become a marathon contest to determine how long the present three interested candidates can hold their support intact. The ones who tire first become the electors. This is definitely unconstitutional and most certainly undemocratic. Of all experiments, it is most unlike the basic principles of any form of government.

It is indeed regretable that these circumstances have arisen but it would be foolish to try to augment things by trying to solve so grave a problem in such slack fashion.

Therefore tha UOA president-elect should fill all major class vacancies next year, because of an absence of adequate election law.

"CRACKER JIM"

Flynn Again

Dear Editor,

Here goes again! The University Senate has a way of putting down again. For fear that the graduate students will prove too much competition for the undergraduates, they unanimously the motion to provide graduate senators. The only comments heard as the "hard-working" senators scrambled for the floor to make adjournment was "competition—too much competition." Poor, poor weak minds.

May I advocate more dexterose? In addition to the ice cream cones flourished by most of the worthy office-holders, let's peddle Brocks and Baby Ruths to bolster up their cents.

Their contention that six graduate senators against 24 undergrads would undermine and dominate the University administration is possible the finest piece of fallacy since the Communist Constitution.

Since when can 6 outvote 24? Why, as I was in mathematics? Let me tell you my sneaking suspicion. It occurs that the senate knows that at present mob psychology rules. Anybody who can make a "cute" remark or make a coherent statement «and you'd be surprised how are these are) is voted into office and sent to represent us. Such confusion, and there freedom. Why is, senate intelligent soul will always pipe up with "let's refer it back to the committee." Or words to that effect.

But—the grad students, with their greater vocabularies and superior energies, can theoretically outtalk, out-filibuster and out-wit the average undergrad senator. Ask us—I'll bet we'll admit it—albeit shamefacedly.

We need those grad senators. For one thing, we ain't got nobody who knows from nothing about parliamentary procedure. And brothers, that ain't good!

Exasperatedly yours,

Jean Flynn,
Senior Senator.

P. S. Getting monotonous, isn't it?

'Quixote' to Be Shown

"Don Quixote," Spanish movie of the Cervantes classic, will be brought to the Florida State University campus Friday, May 2 and Saturday, May 3, for four performances.

ADAMS' ELECTION MEANS GEORGIA'S TRIUMPH

BY GENE LAWLER

I wouldn't have thought it possible, but it seems that some of those rascals who supported Dan McCarty on this campus are still persisting in their treachery despite Jerry Thomas's Flambeau article last Friday.

Don't believe a word of what he said, since the Gator-hued button and his other cohorts gave prima facie evidence he didn't believe it, when he called one of these McCarty fanatics told me confidentially that Thomas's own Goddard, Abe Zarem, has been proven disloyal to the state of Florida.

His reasoning was this: Adams' principal campaign collateral was that he and Odum are the same colors used for Georgia auto licenses. Therefore Abe Adams is a Georgian at heart, but is biased in favor of Georgia.

This obnoxious McCartyite protested, "If Allo Adams is elected to the office of governor, Georgia will triumph. They will have their finest hour."

He then showed additional logic that McCarty was a true Floridian, and had only to face us to show his devotion to his native state by the misunderstood gesture of printing his materials in orange and blue, the Florida tag colors.

These facts must certainly cause Jerry Thomas as a complete surprise, since he would surely have resigned his post as Adams FSU campaign manager had he known them.

I finally decided that perhaps McCarty was completely dazzled by the above arguments and I decided to get word from official sources. The FSU McCarty leader, one Will Pennell, was conveniently out of town. Blatantly campaigning in Jacksonville (or was it Gainsville?), but one of his henchmen, Bob Ryan, was home to talk. He started by calling Thomas' charges "preposterous."

"If I remember correctly, he made the following statements:

1) The official rule in the Tampa Tribune, written by Clyde Shaffer and Bill Mitchell, showed McCarty's loyalty to his own alma mater, which in the South is a virtue. Loyalty does not prove favoritism.

2) The use of orange and blue doesn't necessarily prove anything, except that McCarty has a good sense of color. Orange happens to stand out well on a blue background.

3) If we look at the least open-mindedly, we ought not to see anything wrong with McCarty's having his audience sing a U of F song before one of his Gainesville speeches. If FSU had an alum running for governor, we'd have every ally if anybody objected to his having an FSU song sung preceding a Tallahassee address.

4) Furthermore, FSU has graduated very few men now old enough to run for governor, or to be appointed to the Board of Control for any governor, no matter what his prejudices.

5) McCarty has several times claimed FSU and given his word that he intends to have fair appropriations made for both state institutions.

6) McCarty is being actively supported by Leroy Collins, the Leon County State Senator who has backed so much legislation favorable to FSU.

I'm glad I wasn't so mistaken as to think I heard him say that Tampa University. The second but were made in an effort to lay a smokescreen enhancing his own candidate's chances.

SEMINOLE SCENES

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF AT F. S. U.

By FRANCES CAWTHON

The old adage that history repeats itself is certainly true, at least in the case of Florida State University.

Back in the spring months of the roaring '20's, which around the campus are now referred to as after all, all the students were infected by that disease called spring fever which is known to only by lazing around and skipping classes.

State oratorical contests were held back then, too, student government officers elected, and the Seminole carefully watched the Board of Control meetings.

A May basket dance spent a week here one April giving instructions on how to make attractive articles out of paper, tooth paper hats (which at a passing resemblance to the pastry-like taffets), flowers that annoyed out of a spring garden, and paper dress contraptions for girls that would make the wearer seem a rose with a human head!

Jazz had definitely landed U. V. smiths and hoped he will return the flapper-jazz-baby-line. Turner to come back "to the girls may keep abreast of the styles in the shopping page art." (Is it does take a little more to satisfy nawadays . . .)

Also in April the Board of Control made a big step as far as FSU athletics concerned. The publication's subscription was included in the student activity fee, and as students now paid for athletic duos had been done a short time previously. That raised the activity fee to the startling total of six bucks, out of which three and a half was used for artist series. We have a feeling you are living in the wrong century!

Then, as now, sports was high on the list. Field Day was to be held for the "dog-dog"—and everybody was worried that all activity be made to walk away with the honors. Revee was in the best of form. Whatever that meant, and Pauline was a pitzel ball on the baseball diamond.

The Flambeau was having financial difficulties back then too. An April editorial by the staff regretted that the tabloid size paper had to be cut from eight to six pages.

SITTIN' ON THE SIDELINES

BRIDGE—WORSE THAN SPRING FEVER

BY MARCIA MORRIS

It's here, and it's got us, all of us. It's worse than spring fever, worse than the mumps, worse than politics—the campus is buzzy and abuzz.

In every dorm room, in every sorority and fraternity house, the card tables are set up, the room surrounded by billows of smoke hunched over the tables with menacing looks—one spade, DOUBLE —two hearts, DOUBLE—three no trumps—DOUBLE—"I'm VULNERABLE! A fiendish laugh echoes through the room as a coed spills her soul croaks on his coke. "We made our bid, and—DOUBLED.

Bridge! Bridge is a disease, friendship—be—probably the greatest home influence. "I'm sorry I said is a card played and you took your i and off." "You peeked in my hand and are cheating. That's why your finesse worked. You PEEKED, I say!" "What-a-ya mean you play Culbertson? Idiot, imbecile, Gorin to the DOG'S authority." "Two points system can do no wrong!

Midnight to morn, bette cigarettes and cigars, between classes. DURING classes, it's "Bid me, partner!" "Make a bid!" "All we need is 40 for a seven hundred rubber. "You have a class? Cut it!" "Just one more hand—plenty of time to go up the hill.

"Ha, ha, ha, aaaaa—seven no trumps, but we DOUBLE to DEATH where is thy sting?" "Cut that, #*%@! defensive bidding out, or FRONT YARD!

Yep, it's got us. We can't eat, can't sleep, can't refuse to play. What's worse there is even a bridge tournament (?) for the gal and gentlemen of the campus. They practice, and worry, lose appetite, and then FINALLY they get the day of the BIG GAME! What a sport —you don't get any cards, so desperate you PRAY for cards, and worn out—cause points don't count. And the question would turn out in his grave—"I'm dead, dead!

Sun tans have been swapped for the pale pallor of geniuses, and sun backs are bent to fit the curve of the chairs. We talk about cards, we think about cards, dream about 'em, screw over 'em, bet on 'em, and tell the future with 'em. They have become a part of all our lives, we present ills, and creator of ten times more.

Some people cuss, ducuss, and of Business in general, don't like cards. Me? I refer them to a psychiatrist. I'm one of the fanatical clan. So 'scuse please, while I go pick up my hand!

IBM Cards Wanted By Registrar, Now

All students are urged to return to the Registrar's office the IBM cards which were recently sent out, indicating the next term for which they plan to register.

"The cards must be used to greatly facilitate registration," commented Willis Caldwell, assistant registrar. "Any student not planning to register again should make a memo to that effect on the card and return it to the Registrar.

Stiefel Will Speak

William S. Stiefel, Tallahassee business executive and head of the International Business Machines Corporation, will speak at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday to a class in the Florida State University School

F. S. U. Fun and Functions

A CALENDAR OF EVENTS COMPILED AND DISTRIBUTED BY YOUR U.G.A.

Tuesday—May 1

2:30—Baseball—FSU vs. Fla. Southern—Centennial Field.
3:00—Sixteenth Recital—Music Hall.
7:00—Warpath Club Meeting—Room 405, Longmire Bldg.
7:45—Baseball—FSU vs. Fla. Southern—Centennial Field.
8:15—"Mistress of the Inn"—Conradi Theatre.
8:15—Concert—University Singers—Music Hall.
8:30—College of Arts and Sciences Annual Dinner —Wakulla Springs.
8:15—Two Mental Health plays—Conradi Theatre.

Thursday—May 1

6:30 and 9:15—Faculty Staff Play, "The Importance of Being Earnest"—Music Hall (afternoon perf. 25c, evening perf. 50c).
7:30—Alpha Kappa Psi banquet—Hotel Duval.
8:00—FSU CIRCUS—Donk Campbell Stadium.

Friday—May 2

8:00—"Down Plantation Way"—Hotel for a Day —Wakulla Springs.
5:30 and 7:30—Los Picaros sponsors "Don Quixote"—124 Science Hall, 25c.
8:00—FSU CIRCUS—Donk Campbell Stadium.

NOTICE: If you want it in Fun and Functions, please notify Ruth Hoerning, UGA Office, Longmire, or Carolyn Gola.

Saturday—May 3

5:30 and 7:30—"Don Quixote"—124 Science Hall—Sponsored by Los Picaros.
8:00—FSU CIRCUS—Donk Campbell Stadium.
8:00—Alpha Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Pi dance —Ballroom.
9:00—Sigma Phi Epsilon Queen of Hearts Formal dance—America Legion Home. Juke Box Dance—Seminole Club.

Monday—May 5

7:30—Relaxation Class—Mad Campus gym—Dr. Florence Cole, Director.
8:15—Artists Series Concert — Leonard Warren, baritone—Music Auditorium.

FSU Regulars

Free Campus Movie—Every Thursday, Young Lady"—7:30 Tuesday, Lands; Wednesday, Magnolia; Thursday, Senior Hall; 8:00 Friday, Amphitheatre. "Panic in the Streets"—7:30 Monday, "O" Club.
May 5 through 23—"45 Drawings"—University Art Gallery.
Monday through Friday—7:30-8:30—Plunge period in East Campus gym.
Monday through Friday—8:30-9:45—Bowling Every night—6:00-10:00, Plunge.

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Campus Character

By STAN SCHMIDT

For me . . .

And 50,000 Indians gallup over the hill—poor girl who lives in sunken living rooms—convertibles, everybody drives convertibles—flamenco-glamour queens.

Rice puddles—bosomy wenches in shorts—vicious looking, ugly sensual men—sex—nasty lowdown sex, the means the end. Which is the photographer?

The technicolor sweetness—the singing when poor—the unhappy ends. Boy meets girl—boy loses girl—(don't worry only a misunderstanding)—boy regains girl—through impossibly incredible series of coincidences boy again loses girl (by then who gives a damn). But the celluloid rolls on.

Trapped between the boredom of the projectionist—seen the whole series of impossibilities till the nerves scream—physically mimicking on re. Bowl of hot buttered popcorn—boasting half a years output of mustard, mayonnaise oil (not everything but sandwich meat), Everyone must compromise.

Compromise—intelligence, wit, singularity to the performance of one complete turn in an interminable series of revolutions.

Revolutions—when emotional Spanish not dedicated to living with what the emotions have already rejected. Blindfold the heart—open the eyes. Give the supergeo a stranglehold.

Arise by the ring of the super-duper alarmclock radio which wakes the flowers, tiles the roof and speaks Russian. Get on the carousel at the corner. Eight and a half hours of uninterrupted stupidity. The scenery changes—the sameness—the familiar semblance of interest it had at first—before the cellophane wore off.

Cellophane—on the cover of Make Hammer's latest impossible adventure—on which the improbably beautiful woman seeks to entice the improbably casual cat in the trench coat and slouch chapeau.

Lose yourself in empathy, in a positive fault that somewhere, sometime you arrive at the sun.

Ah youth, ah faith, ah spring, ah me.

Dear Editor . . .

Feels Injustice

Dear Editor Griffin:

As a member of the student body of F. S. U. I have been done a great injustice by your shoes and the world-wide politician Jerry Thomas. As a rule I don't meddle in state politics and I don't care to have someone involve me. I refer to the article by Thomas on the front page of the April 25th Flambeau.

That choice bit of garbage, by Thomas, is nothing more than a smear in an attempt to get votes for the man Thomas supports, Adams. Adams is not to be elected and I support no candidate for governor. Thomas in an attempt to launch his political career has already slipped to the level of a sorry stard-parsite by the use of distasteful propaganda. The disgusting part of the whole affair is that Thomas's own soapbox bus had to drag all of it with him by using OUR newspaper for the purpose of slinging.

It is your job to protect us, as a group, from cheap, biased, pulp such as that article, and as might be expected you have failed. The somewhat rounded head would have rolled to Madame Guillotine's slashing blade.

How a man, who has shown such evidence of writing talent could have had such a turn of heart and shift in nature is beyond my high intelligence.

Here's hoping you can again return to realism and view the truth of our democratic and effective by run institution of higher learning.

Your truly
T. C. D.
(Typical College Dimwit)

Dear Editor . . .

How Now Schmidt?

Dear Stan Schmidt,

At last you have tipped your hand and revealed to us the acumen you outwardly insinuated your opinion that the school should be run for the students.

Such audacity, such imbecility, such utter insanity only be found in a column of such low import as yours.

In similar rules of authority, such as ours here at FSU, in the last few years a somewhat rounded head would have rolled to Madame Guillotine's slashing blast.

How a man, who has shown such evidence of writing talent could have had such a turn of heart and shift in nature is beyond my high intelligence.

Here's hoping you can again return to realism and view the truth of our democratic and effective by run institution of higher learning.

Your truly
T. C. D.
(Typical College Dimwit)

Bishop Is Elected FACU President

Elbert E. Bishop of Palm Beach Junior College was elected to succeed Dr. W. Hugh Stickler, coordinator of general education at Florida State University, as president of the Florida Association of College and University Business Officers.

Elections were held at the 1952 annual meeting of the FACU meeting. About 100 persons attended the meeting, according to Dr. Hugh Stickler.

THE GROUP had as their general theme "Some Problems of Business Education." The group's association voted to admit Florida Christian College at Tampa as the 31st FACU member institution.

Dr. Stickler reported that a committee of Florida public relations men, headed by Dr. H. W. Chandler to prepare legislative proposals to curb what he termed laxity in the state licensing and chartering of Florida institutions of higher learning. He said that these proposals would likely be offered to the state legislature in general, don't like cards. Me? I refer them to a psychiatrist. I'm one of the fanatical clan. So 'scuse please, while I go pick up my hand!

SEE: Senior Senator.

IBM Cards Wanted By Registrar, Now

All students are urged to return to the Registrar's office the IBM cards which were recently sent out, indicating the next term for which they plan to register.

"The cards must be used to greatly facilitate registration," commented Willis Caldwell, assistant registrar. "Any student not planning to register again should make a memo to that effect on the card and return it to the Registrar.

Stiefel Will Speak

William S. Stiefel, Tallahassee business executive and head of the International Business Machines Corporation, will speak at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday to a class in the Florida State University School

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Robert Griffin, Jr.—Ed tor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Bruce Galloway
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins

BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Harle
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Calderoni; Fa Pittman, Steve Zatylo

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Tallahassee, Florida, under the act of March 3, 1879. Published every Tuesday during the school year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Florida State University. Subscription price $2.50 per year.

FSU Top Georgia, Ga. Tech.

Trackmen Register Good Times In Beating SEC Foes

In a triangular meet at Atlanta, Georgia, last Saturday the Florida State University cindermen ran off with first place honors in every individual flat race to defeat Georgia and end the University of Georgia.

Tech and reach all the way to the afternoon for an FSU runner, however, was chalked up by Senior Eddie Kucera in the two mile run when he gained his first victory in four years in competition for the Seminole tracksters.

On May 2, the Indian field meet will journey to Mississippi College. The Seminoles will close the season against Miami on May 10.

Summaries:

440-yard relay: 1—Florida State (Woody Parker, Carlos Fernandez, Harvey Haggerty, John Poston); 3—Georgia; 4—Tech. :43.5.

Mile run: 1—Bob Wagoner (FSU); 2—Tannehill (GT); 3—Ken Jarrett (FSU); 4—Kell. 4:42.2.

High jump: 1—Barrow (GT); 2—Wright (GT); 3—Robert King and Pete Sagar (FSU) tied, 6 ft. 2 in.

Two-mile run: 1—Eddie Kucera, 48 m., 1 s.; 2—Ledger (GT), 48 m., 10 s.; 3—Fernandez (FSU), 48 m., 4 s.; 4—Griffith (GT), 48 m., 6 s.

Javelin throw: 1—Bazin (GT) 187 ft., 10 in.; 2—Ellis (GT), 187 ft., 1 in.; 3—Hall (FSU), 181 ft., 8 in.; 4—Patterson (G), 175 ft.

440-yard dash: 1—Parker (FSU); 2—Bellamy (G); 3—Dick Moss (FSU); 4—Dodd (G). 49.1

Shot put: 1—Jack Poston (FSU), 38 ft., 10½ in.; 2—Jack Hooper (G), 4—Haggerty (FSU). 69.6.

Broad jump: High number 1—Quarm, G—Barrow (GT), 3—Perry (St), 4—Hurst (G).

One mile relay: 1—Georgia (Hooper, Dodd, Darsh, Horsbuckle); 2—Florida State, 3—Georgia Tech.

100-yard dash: 1—Parker (FSU), 10 flat; 2—Sterling (FSU), 138 ft., 9 in.; 3—Freudenberger (FSU), 138 ft., 8¼ in.; 4—Morris (GT), 138 ft., 2¼ in.

Broad jump: 1—Freudenberger (FSU), 21 ft., 4 in.; 2—Barrow (GT), 21 ft., 3 in.; 3—Sterling (FSU), 21 ft., 2 in.; 4—Hurst (G), 20 ft., 9¾ in.

Numbers 13 and 14

State Clubs Moccasin Nine For Two Wins at Lakeland

The hard-hitting baseball team of Florida State University chalked up wins No. 13 and 14 over Florida Southern over the week-end.

Saturday the Indians shut out the Mocs 3-0 with freshman left-hander Chuck Sanders carving out the win while yielding only six hits through the nine-inning chore.

Easy Ed Sessions swamped the opposition previously on Friday night, limiting the Mocs to a mere seven hits to win 9-3.

The Saturday meet found the Indians banging out 11 hits after they had collected 13 in the opener on Friday.

The Seminoles were helped by five double plays executed by an alert infield.

The box scores:

FIRST GAME

	AB	R	H	Southern	AB	R	H
Miller,lb	4	1	2	Matthews,lf	3	0	0
Hall,ss	4	0	1	Hall,ss	3	0	0
Mullen,cf	3	1	1	Sanstell,ss	3	0	0
Hooper,c	4	0	1	Hall,c	3	0	0
Brunet,lf	4	1	2	O'Neal,lf	3	0	0
Hall,2b	4	0	0	Hall,1b	3	0	0
Smith,1b	3	0	0	Fillmore,cf	3	0	0
Suarez,c	4	1	0	Dedeaux,3b	4	0	0
Sessions,p	4	0	0	Fowler,2b	3	0	0
				Decker,p	2	0	0
Totals	30	3	7	Totals	27	0	0

Florida State	000	003	00x	—	3	7	0
Florida Southern	000	000	000	—	0	0	0

SECOND GAME

	AB	R	H	Southern	AB	R	H
Miller,lb	4	1	1	Matthews,lf	3	0	0
Hall,ss	4	1	1	Hall,ss	3	0	0
Mullen,cf	4	1	1	Sanstell,ss	3	0	0
Hooper,c	4	1	2	Hall,c	3	0	0
Brunet,lf	4	1	2	O'Neal,lf	3	0	0
Hall,2b	4	0	0	Hall,1b	3	0	0
Smith,1b	3	0	0	Fillmore,cf	3	0	0
Suarez,c	4	1	0	Dedeaux,3b	4	0	0
Sessions,p	4	0	0	Fowler,2b	3	0	0
				Decker,p	2	0	0
Totals	30	6	11	Totals	27	0	0

Florida State	000	003	301	—	7	11	1
Florida Southern	000	000	000	—	0	0	0

RBI—Miller, Sessions, Mullen, Sanstell, Dedeaux, Fowler, Brunet 2, Hooper 2. 2B—Parker, Hooper. SB—Parker, Miller, Mullen, Brunet. DP—Wynn, Mills & Smith; Sanstell,ss & Sanstell,1b; Fillmore,cf & Dedeaux,3b. Decker. SO—Sanders 6, Stevens 3, Decker 2. BB—Sanders 1, Sessions 1, Stevens 1, Decker 1. Hit by pitch—Hooper. LOB—Florida State 11, Southern 7. Runs RBI's—Stevens 2, Sanders 1, Decker 1. Passed ball—Hooper. Umpires—Bell and Wynn. Time—2:00.

Intramurals

The dormitory league opened its intramural softball competition yesterday, following in the tracks of the campus fraternities, who ushered in the season on April 15.

This afternoon the Greeks clash for the fourth time in two weeks, while the dormitories will follow up tomorrow with their second round of battles.

Scheduled for the frats: TC-SPE; TC-KS; KA-SAE; PKT-SN; KA-PMO; DTD-LCA; PDT-PEP.

Dorm schedule for tomorrow: Sen. Hall-AFROTC; Newman Club-Bar 394; Marnola-Bar 240; Bar 396-Bar 397; Magnol. B-Village.

Fraternity Delegates Attend Atlanta Meets

Four members of the Florida State chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, national business fraternity, attended the Southeastern District meeting in Atlanta recently.

The FSU team received quite a bit of acknowledgment in the International Volleyball Review for its May issue, only six of the Seminoles rated as second best in the collegiate ranks in the Sunshine Circle.

The total amount of space devoted to the Florida AAU, a team biography, and numerous statistics on the FSU team give it the widest coverage ever given to any team in the world by the Review.

Whether the FSU team will live up to the publicity will be seen this week as they must improve over their seventh and fourth places they received in 1950 and 1951.

Williams to Discuss Army Opportunities

Lieutenant William Williams will speak today at 5 p. m. in the clubroom of the Longmire building on opportunities in the Army and the Air Force. Both men and women are invited to attend.

Volleyballers Beat Whiting

Win Over AF Team; Warm Up For Nationals

The FSU volleyball team defeated the Whiting Field State AAU champions last Friday in a last-minute tussle between the two teams for the Nationals which start in Columbus, O., tomorrow.

The Seminoles started fast, but gave up the first two games with scores of 15-8 and 15-8 in the best three-out-of-five match. The Naval Cadets came right back with the form that won them the state title and downed the Tallahassee six by scores of 15-9 and 15-13 to even the series.

Then the Seminoles, with James McFatter leading the way in his best game of the evening, blasted the Whiting Field aggregation with high marks for the decisive 15-3 win to take the match.

The Seminoles had previously won over the nearby Naval Air Cadets, tying one other and dropping three. The Whiting Field match also plans to enter the Open tournament which follows the Intercollegiate meeting Friday.

Lowell Eastman of the losers was high point man for the evening, rolling up a total of 21 kills, one better than FSU's Ron Hambrock. Hambrock also netted 19 for the FSU with 15, while James McFatter counted 13 and Duane Gordon 11. The FSU team received quite a bit of acknowledgment in the International Volleyball Review for its May issue, only six of the Seminoles rated as second best in the collegiate ranks in the Sunshine Circle.

The total amount of space devoted to the Florida AAU, a team biography, and numerous statistics on the FSU team give it the widest coverage ever given to any team in the world by the Review.

Whether the FSU team will live up to the publicity will be seen this week as they must improve over their seventh and fourth places they received in 1950 and 1951.

The Sports Line

By EADY

Tomorrow will be the last day of duty for a man who has played a big role in increasing the prestige of the Florida State athletic teams. For tomorrow Ned Wrenn, sports publicity director will leave his post—a $5,300 per year job—here to take a similar position at Georgia Tech.

Mr. Wrenn in his four years of service at Florida State has been very successful in making FSU known through out the state and country. That he has done a good job here is certainly proven by the fact that Georgia Tech hired him for their big job. You can also be assured that the Athletic Association wanted his service bad enough to offer him a better deal than he had here.

Filling Wrenn's vacated position will be another capable newsman, Henry S. Wrenn, who is scheduled to begin work Thursday. Wrenn has plenty of experience in the newspaper and propaganda field . . . he formerly was publisher of th Tallahassee Democrat and acted as public affairs officer for the civil defense administration. Wrenn, a native of South Carolina, has a business in Tallahassee.

It's hoped that Wrenn will continue to serve FSU as well as his predecessor has done.

Basketball Coach Bud Kennedy has bee busy these last few weeks at the job of putting together next year's basketball team, which will, as it looks now, certainly complete a better record than the one made by last year's team.

Like football, spring practice in basketball has been put in twenty day limit b y the NCAA in their de-emphasis mania. But Kennedy has had plenty of time to find replacements for last year's departures . . . he also include Bob Whitmer, Ivy Quinn, Tom McLaughlin and Dale Lou Fisher.

One department where the Seminole five will be strung is height . . . for besides a six foot, six inch Rich Benson, there is Duane Gordon, Jerry Westhafer, and Jim ton Richardson, all reaching inches over the six foot mark. Gordon, by the way is also busy with the Seminole volley ball squad.

Others who will definitely be a help to Kennedy next year are Tom Hixon, Bob Pence, Phil Bishop and spreader Jerry Ellenwood. Bishop, who is from Brooklyn, has a deadly two-handed shot which helped him to be one of the leading scorers on last year's Frosh team.

Besides these ballplayers named above, there will probably be a few new names on the basketball roster since Kennedy, like football coach Don Veller, has been beating the bushes in the North and South, looking for high school talent to bolster his 1953 care team.

Tennis

Hurricanes Sweep Through FSU 9-0

A group of tennis aces from the University of Miami stopped over here Saturday just long enough to whitewash FSU 9 to 0. It was the 35th consecutive victory over a four year period for the Miamians who have one of the best teams in the country.

The Seminoles managed to win only one set during the day when Don Boda took one from Miami's Wes Cash before losing, 6-2, 7-9, 6-3, in a hard-fought, two hour battle.

The Hurricanes wasted little time in handing State its' fourth loss of the year as Don Kaiser swept through Jim Berry in the number one singles match. The Bradenton lad was kept on the defensive thru-out the match by Kaiser's net rushing and aggressive hitting.

Tom Gundy, in the number two spot, fell before the well placed shots of Frank Kaiser. Gundy a freshman and former high school star up in Kentucky; had difficulty in making good on his powerful first serve. Apparently having an off-day, Cundy, lined many into the net.

In the number three singles, Miami's smooth stroker, Orlando Darrido pounded out a 6-0, 6-2 win over freshman Dave Kennedy in a match which saw the two boys playing hard hitting tennis.

Miami's fourth victory came through the efforts of Jerry Slobin who beat southpaw Joe Harris.

The last singles match was the Boda-Cash duel which proved to be the closest, most exciting contest of the afternoon.

FSU fared no better in the doubles than they did in the singles as the Hurricanes won the three matches in straight sets.

The number one doubles went to Kaiser and Slobin as they displayed better teamwork than their victims, Berry and Egan.

FSU's Cundy and Harris put up a stiff fight in the first set of their struggle with Garrido and Kaister before weakening in the second and finally losing, 8-6, 6-3. The day's activities came to a close with Wright and Luke of Miami defeating Kennedy and Boda 6-1, 6-3, in the second set of this one the State duo held a 3-1 advantage.

The next match for Don Louck's boys will be a Thursday engagement with Florida Southern at Lakeland which will be followed by a match with the strong Rollins College Tars.

The summaries:

Singles—Don Kaiser, Miami, defeated Berry—Don, 6-2, 6-1; Frank Kaiser, Miami, defeated Tom Cundy, 6-1, 6-2; Orando Garrido, Miami, defeated Kennedy, 6-0, 6-2; Jerry Slobin, Miami, defeated Joe Harris, 6-4, 6-4; Don Wright, Miami, defeated Jack Boda, 6-3, 6-4; Wright and Luke, Miami, defeated Dan Boda, 6-2, 6-4.

Doubles—Kaiser and Slobin, Miami, defeated Berry and Egan, 8-6, 6-3; Garrido and Darrido-Wade, defeated Cundy and Harris, 6-4, 6-3; Wright and Luke, Miami, defeated Kennedy and Boda, 6-1, 6-3.

High School Studes Take Part In First Drama Workshop

Florida high school students will be on the campus of Florida State University Saturday, May 3, to take part in the first annual High School Dramatics Workshop being sponsored by the speech department.

Les Jongleurs, honorary dramatics organization, is acting as the hosts and guides for the visiting students.

"The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin," a 14th century French play, will be presented Saturday under the direction of Reuben Silver. Technical director is Wyn Park, of the speech department faculty, and costumes will be by Douglas Russell, also of the speech department.

FSU students in the cast are Joan Mendor, Dick Hesler, Franklin Adams, David Drew and Lee Hildman. Following the play will be a discussion of the acting and director problems of the costume play. Discussion leaders will be Frank Hannon, Dr. George McCalmon, Reuben Silver, Russell Graves and Carl Zerke.

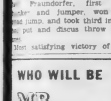
A picnic will be held at Camp Flastacowo followed by a 3 p.m. performance of the 1853 century play. "The Mistress of the Inn,"

Golfers Face Rough Week

This week is one of Coach Bob Machinos's busiest and toughest as his golf team ventures into Georgia for five matches.

Starting Monday the links men will have a match every afternoon through Saturday. Mercer was the foe for Monday, at Macon followed by a triangular match with The Universities of Georgia and Alabama at Athens. On Wednesday they face a yet un-named opponent. The big week will be climaxed Thursday when the golfers enter the Southern Intercollegiate golf tournament, which is scheduled to run Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Representing FSU on the weeklong trip are Sonny Tinney Jimmy James, Tom Cumbie, and Tommy Brown. Tinney, the Florida Intercollegiate champion, rates as one of the favorites for the Southern Intercollegiate title.



Ball Club Plays Two Today

The powerful FSU baseball team will go after its 15th and 16th wins today at 3:30 when the hapless Florida Southern Mocassins in a day-night doubleheader. The afternoon game will be played on the West Campus diamond at 3:30 and the night contest will go under the lights of Centennial Field at 7:30.

Probably the second chores will be carried out by unbeaten Ed. Sessions who is 4-0 this year.

After today's tilt, only four games will remain on the State schedule—two at Stetson and a pair at Rollins.

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL

The first telegraph line across the the United States from coast to coast was completed in 1861.

From Eliza Cook

Hunger is bitter . . .
but the most accursed of Want's fell scorpions is thirst.

Melvin

Yet, thirst asks nothing more than Coca-Cola. If you're sauntering along or racing your motor, start off refreshed . . . have a Coke.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Dine with us
in the
Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

EVENING MEAL
Chicken and Dumplin
Pork Chops
Fried Fish

We specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

Never enough college women with Gibbs secretarial training to meet the demand

Special Course for College Women. Executive, Secretarial, Secretarial-Medical, Writer-College Graduate courses.

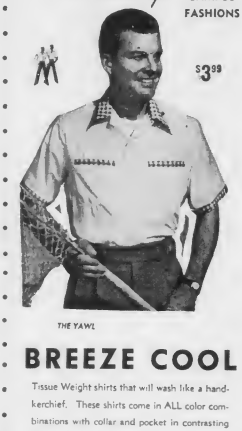
KATHARINE GIBBS
BOSTON 16, 90 Marlborough St. NEW YORK 17, 230 Park Ave.
CHICAGO 11, 720 N. Michigan Ave. PROVIDENCE 6, 155 Angell St.

When good fellows get together they wear Sportshirts by Manhattan

Indoors or out, when you see a crowd of campus bigwigs relaxing, you're sure to notice that the really smart boys are wearing Manhattan Sportshirts. The reason is as simple as a snap course. Manhattan Sportshirts are style-right, handsomely tailored, and so darned comfortable you just hate to take 'em off. Manhattan has them in long and short sleeves . . . in a wide variety of colors and patterns all in the finest fabrics. All are the sportiest you could put on your back when you want to take it easy!

Manhattan

Shirts, Sportshirts, Neckwear, Underwear, Pajamas, Handkerchiefs



TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
"The Pride of St. Louis"
With Dan Dailey and Jeanne Dru
WEDS. thru SATURDAY
"Detective Story"
with Kirk Douglas
STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
"The Magic Carpet"
with Lucille Ball and John Agar
WEDS. thru TUESDAY
"With A Song In My Heart"
with Susan Hayward
RITZ
TODAY and WEDNESDAY
"A Letter to Three Husbands" with Evelyn Williams and Eve Arden
THRUS. thru SATURDAY
Charles McGraw in "Roadblock"
Also
Lash LaRue in "Son of Billy the Kid"
DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDNESDAY
Clifton Webb in "Elopement"
THURS. thru SATURDAY
"Sudan"
With Marie Montez
Also
"The Last of the Musketeers"
With Rex Allen
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Glad to have you aboard with

Marlboro

America Cup

CAMPUS FASHIONS

$3.98

THE YAWL

BREEZE COOL

Tissue Weight shirts that will wash like a handkerchief. These shirts come in ALL color combinations with collar and pocket in contrasting trim for up to the minute Freshness.

Nic's Toggery

ODK Taps Seven

(Continued from Page One)

Daniel Boria was chosen for his outstanding achievements in music, as assistant concert master and president of the symphony orchestra; and as president of Phi Mu Alpha and member of Pi Kappa Lambda honorary; and for achievement in athletics as a member of the tennis team.

Wallace Dynes was tapped for his leadership in religious affairs as president of the Disciples Student Fellowship and Student Christian Association and for achievement in public speaking as a member of the debate team.

Stanley Gould was selected for his leadership in radio as program director and manager of WFSU and as regional director of the Inter-collegiate Broadcasting Association and for leadership as president of Gold Key.

Jim Kirk was tapped for his leadership in student affairs as Vice-president of the student body and as cadet Lieut Col. in ROTC, and as fraternity president.

Ted Steinmeyer was chosen for his leadership in a student government as representative-at-large, president and vice-president of men's affairs and as a member and officer in many organizations.

Robert Tully was selected for his achievement in athletics as a member of the football team and as a member and officer of many organizations and ROTC.

Willis Tyrrell was tapped for outstanding scholarship as a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Kappa Phi and for achievement in athletics as a manager and member of the swimming team for four years.

Final plans have been completed for the biennial Southeastern province convention of Omicron Delta Kappa which will be held at FSU this weekend.

Over 50 ODK members including Fred B. Wenn, national vice president, and representatives from 12 universities will attend the two-day convention. An entertainment feature will be the nationally famous WPT circus performance Friday night.

Boudreuilles Jones, Emory University, deputy of the Southeastern province, will open the meeting Friday afternoon at 2. Registration is at 12

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER

JEWELER

102 S. Monroe

FSU ROYALTY—May came early to Florida State University this year in the form of the annual May Day dance which was held last Friday at the Student Union. Royalty at the dance were left to right, Bob Schmaltz, Jerr Munroe, Walter Jandine, Pat Cole, Bob Tully, king, Marianne Gillen, queen, Bobbie Pattit, Joel Smith, Sylvia Strange, and Dick Bradley.

Flying High

(Continued from Page One)

fraternities and sororities on campus.

Interfraternity Council Pres. Carlton Gist Stokes said, "We feel that having some of Florida's outstanding high school seniors spend the weekend on the FSU campus as our guests they will have the opportunity to observe the activity of a large state university such as the all-student circus in true perspective."

ALSO GUESTS of the University Circus will be 12 universities et the Omicron Delta Kappa convention being held here this weekend.

Since its humble beginning five years ago with a 40-member troupe, the show has won national recognition. Life magazine recently ran a review with displays of the FSU aerial acts and a note of recognition to Coach Haskins.

Nearly 20,000 circus fans from all sections of Florida crowded the West stand at Doak Campbell Stadium last year to view the spectacular show.

Service Organization Plans Clothing Drive

All sororities, fraternities, dormiteries and student organizations are asked to send a representative to a meeting Thursday, May 1, at 5 p.m. in Room 30-J Westcott for the formation of a clothes drive sponsored by Circle K, service group.

The clothes collected will go to Missouri flood victims and citizens of Korea. A contest, with a possible award given to the winners, will be held between the different groups. Collection points, group collection leaders and the final contest dates will be decided at Thursday's meeting.

Profs Swap Books

(Continued from Page One)

last year for her role as the "Madwoman."

THE TWO COUSINS are played by James Gunn of the music department and Leste' Moore, co-director of the play.

Others in the cast are Nancy Gunn, Cecily; Dabney Adams, Blanche, instructor; Gwendolyn and Miriam Wilson, director of the Presbyterian student house, Mrs. Prism.

ALSO, ROBERT Arends Chaudoin and William Kirk of the classics department, Lane.

The play has won critics' acclaim and numerous literary awards when previously performed throughout the country.

Fifth Season

(Continued from Page One)

costumes, but the purpose is served.

This year, plus the new acts and sparkling costumes, the circus has an added attraction. The colorful spirit of the midway and the big tent has been captured in a theme song, "Flying High" written by Thomas Wright of the School of Music.

"FLYING HIGH" is sticking true to its name. It has come a long way from a total of 40 in its cast of over 200. With the greater publicity and improvement it is making, it is sure that FSU's circus will be "flying high" for years to come.

Group Sings Classic, Folk Tunes Tonight in Opperman Music Hall

The University Singers, directed by Dr. Wiley L. Housewright, will present a concert of choral classics and folk songs in Opperman Music Hall tonight, at 8:15 p.m.

The Singers is a group of 60 voices chosen from the student body of the University. This will be the first formal concert of the group on the campus since their Christmas program, although they have recently presented programs at Kate Sullivan, P. T. A. and a reception honoring ex-Senator Claude Pepper, held on the FSU campus.

The program will include a recently-published number by Hush McGarity, graduate student in the School of Music. The song "Stars of the Summer Night," has just been issued by Shawnee Press, of Stroudsburg, Penn. Robert E. Howey will be featured as student director of the Singers; Joanne Byrd is accompanist.

Among the selections in Part I are "Old Comes from His Haven Today," by Johann Hermann Schein; "Ave Maria," by Heitor Villa-Lobos; and "How Lovely is thy Dwelling Place," by Johannes Brahms. "Etoile de Les Deux Cites," by Darius Milhaud and "With the Dawn" by Anton Rubenstein are included in Part II. Part III consists of four Slovak songs: "Thus Sent the Mother," "Where the Alps Soar," "Food and Drink's Your Only Pleasure," and "Bagpipes Are A-playing." They are by Bela Bartok. "Kiss My Love, Will You Marry Me?" by Deale, "On Top of Old Smoky" by Churchill and "Shadrack" by Robert Mac Glimsey, will also be performed.

May 1 Deadline

(Continued from Page One)

ference. Rescheduling for the fall after that date would place it too close to examinations, the chairmen explained.

Campus station WFSU will broadcast the finals. A trophy will be awarded to each of the first place winners in the men's and women's division.

Insurance Agent To Interview Men

A representative for Liberty Mutual Insurance company will be on campus today to interview men between the ages of 21 and 29 who are interested in employment as investigators and claim adjusters.

All men wishing an interview with Mr. O. E. Fickling, Jr., who is from the company's Atlanta office, should make an appointment at the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott.

Liberty Mutual, according to its Vice-president P. H. Titus, is interested in men with a liberal education as well as men with a business education. Men selected will be hired on a three-months probationary basis.

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL?

RED HOT SPECIAL

Filet Mignon Special At The

Seven Seas

Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

WILL YOU SUCCEED IN COLLEGE?

WHILE YOU'RE HERE

LET MALONE'S SUPPLY YOUR COLLEGE NEEDS

- CLASSROOM SUPPLIES
- ART SUPPLIES
- STATIONERY SUPPLIES
- CAMERA SUPPLIES
- COSMETIC SUPPLIES
- LADIES' TEE SHIRTS
- MOCCASINS
- T-DAY FILM SERVICE
- PLUSH ANIMALS
- MAGAZINES
- PIPES
- FOX CANDIES
- GIFT GOODS

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

TYPICAL REVISED MENU
SUWANNEE ROOM
SEMINOLE CLUB

LUNCH TODAY

On Specials—Choice of Two Vegetables or Vegetable and Salad—and 5c beverage

SPECIALS

Hot Beef Sandwich 30c
Escalloped Sausage and Macaroni 50c

A LA CARTE ITEMS

Mixed Cold Cut—Cold Plate 40c
Breaded Pork Steak 40c

VEGETABLES

Oven Browned Potatoes
Cut Green Beans
Harvard Beets

SALADS

Cottage Cheese, Crabapple & Carrot Sticks
Banana Nut Kidney Beans
Cut Green

Apple Streusel Pie
White Cake With Choc. Icing
Cocoanut Macaroons
Fruit Jello

DINNER THIS EVENING

On Specials—Choice of Two Vegetables or Vegetable and Salad, 5c Beverage, Hot Bread, Dessert

SPECIALS

Chicken Giblets Over Rice 65c
Corned Beef Hash 70c
Grilled Ham Steak 75c
Chicken Fried Steak 70c

VEGETABLES

Steamed Rice
Green Leaf Spinach
Fresh Baby Lima Beans
Applesauce

SALADS

Pineapple Salad Fruit Jello Salad
Banana and Toasted Cocoanut Cut Green

DESSERTS

Orange Chiffon Pie Date Delight
Chocolate Pudding

Corn Meal Muffins

Meet Your Friends In FSU Dining Halls

Be Happy—GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S. M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

'Flying High' Circus Troupe to Stage Season's Second Performance Tonight

LAUGH, CLOWN, LAUGH—Jere Salyers and Jerry Fortune are shown donning their makeup before going out to entertain the public. These boys are not two of the several "Flying High" clowns who may be seen tonight at Campbell Stadium.

The all-student circus performance will open its second night of aerial and stare acts at 8:15 tonight in Doak Campbell stadium. Florida State students are being admitted free with ID cards to all the shows in the fifth year of circus history at F.S.U.

High school students will pay 25 cents admission and adults 50 cents with reserved seat costing an additional 25 cents. Tallahassee citizens may buy tickets from the Chamber of Commerce from 2:30 until 5 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. until 12 noon tomorrow.

They may be bought in the University Union also.

SET TO the music theme song, "Flying High," the 40 acts will get underway in a show of six rings with three stages and four high acts with some 200 members starring in the two-hour feats.

Eight new acts are on this year's program including "The Flying Decmmos," "Fantasy in White," and "Fiesta."

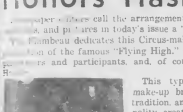
Couch Jack Haskin, through years of effort, directed the present nationally known "Flying High extravaganza to its present height of renown.

FIVE YEARS ago, Haskin and forty students began the show that was to make F S U. known give Florida State students an unusual opportunity to produce and display previously unforseen talents.

Features on the F S U. innovation have been published recently in Life magazine, Buick magazine and This Week in addition to approximately newspaper and magazines of circus performers were found in a Sidney, Australia paper not long ago.

Movies have been done on the performance also. Radio plans to make one this year.

COACH HASKIN and his assistant, Jim DeCosino, promise the 1952 acts to be "fine, and more elaborate" than any of the previous four productions.



Thomas Wright of the School of Music this year dedicated the theme song, "Flying High" to the troupe which will set the mood of the show.

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 50 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, May 2, 1952

Circus Make-Up Honors Haskin

...paper shows call the arrangement of news stories, ... and pictures in today's issue a "Circus" make-up. ... Flambeau dedicates this Circus-make-up to the 1952 ... of the famous "Flying High," the many students ... and participants, and, of course, Coach Jack ...

Coach Jack Haskin

This type of newspaper ... breaks away from tradition, and combines originality, creativeness and flamboyancy to produce a different and sometimes startling appearance.

Thus, too, the FSU student Circus has a flair for the different, the new and fresh entertainment, and excitement of eye-catching acts.

We dedicate this issue specially to Jack Haskin, who has turned an ideal into a reality and spread the name of Florida State University over the United States. ... ideal is 22 years old now; the reality is five. ... been featured in Life magazine and other national ... It has appeared in newsreels, movie features, ... television.

... students, the university, and Florida are indeed fortunate ... Haskin selected Tallahassee as his home. ... started four years ago, the troupe has toured ... several times, giving untold enjoyment to Flor...

... 2 extravaganza, "Flying High," can ... praise. So can all the Circus.

All Students Vote For Prom Court

... today's election for 12 candidates ... prom court, Elmer Green, Chairman, announced. The ballot box is on the first floor ... from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. ... and three boxes from the Union and Senior class ... hold the prom." Admittance will ... by identification number only.

JUNIORS and Seniors may pick up ... invitations at the ballot box Monday.

The Prom chairman made an appeal for all Prom tickets to be sold ... tonight. We will start decorating on the Prom Friday at 2 p. m. because we dance on Saturday. Green may be contacted at the Kappa Sig house for further information.

The chairman said that the Shantytown band and bandstand will cost the class approximately $100 and that the band costs $80. Then there are expenditures of flowers, decorations and refreshments amounted to about $46. The committee has $275 to operate on.

Russell Tours FSU After Capitol Talk

... Democratic Congressional Committee, ... Mr. Davis' statement came ... of an executive session ... would vote in top secret ... the disputed Florida delegates ... obtaining their seats ... resolution.

... Russell advocated a re-... Jeffersonian and Jack-... Democracy in his speech ... Capitol steps yesterday ... the dignitaries present ... Speaker Herman E. Tal-... Florida Senator. Speaker ... Holland who introduced ... Governor Fuller Warren ... the opening address.

F.C.A. Will Hold Retreat May 9 and 10

... Student Christian Association ... a two-day retreat ... 9 to 10 at Camp Flamingo ... Tallahassee. ... Dr. Sam Morris, ... Methodist Student ... the main speaker at the ... The purpose of the retreat ... to discuss the theme ... Christian Responsibility ... Christian Community." ... conference speakers ... Dr. Morris, Rabbi ... and Evelyn Frederick, ... Bro, treasurer.

Blood Drive Needs Support Says Huey

More response is needed if Florida State University is to reach its quota of 392 for the Men's "F" club spring blood drive, chairman Max Huey stated yesterday after the third blood captain meeting.

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority have pledged the largest amount to date, Huey said. The ATO's have pledged 26 pints and Pi Beta Phi have pledged 43 pints.

Only three fraternities and eight sororities have donated their pledge reports.

Huey said that all students that donated during the ODK spring drive are urged to pledge again through their captains. He also said that any blood captain that has not more donors be sure and contact him.

Trophies will be given to the two groups that donate the greatest percentage of blood. One trophy will be donated by Alford Bros. local men's store and the other by the men's "F" club.

The next blood appeal meeting will be Thursday at 5 in Longmire auditorium.

Ryals New Prexy; Deadlock Ended

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

Bob Ryals captured the 1952-53 senior class presidency from his opponent, Jo Nell Proctor, at a junior class meeting Tuesday night, during which 74 juniors cast their ballots. Ryals' gain of the office put an end to three election trys to fill the post.

Previously, in the regular UGA elections, Bill Skipper, who had won the office, withdrew. This was followed by a write-in ballot, on which no candidate got a clear majority.

SOMA DELAY occurred before the elections at the class meeting took place as Jimmie Barnett, junior class president, did not wish to hold an election with such a small percentage of the future senior class represented. Since there was no stipulation in the Constitution, however, as to how many people had to be present, the floor was opened for nominations.

Candidates nominated were Jo Nell Proctor, John Latiner, Bob Ryals, Jere Salyers and Bobby Drake. Some ballot slips had been torn apart and made into two votes. These were discounted by the vote counters.

RYALS EXPRESSED his appreciation to the class after the election. "I hope I'll live up to your expectations," he remarked.

"Thank you very much."

Margaret Kraemann, chairman of the 1952-53 Campus Chest drive, called for volunteer workers during the campaign, and a list was passed around for volunteers to work on the decorations committee of the Junior-Senior prom.

ELEANOR GREEN reminded the class to vote Monday for the Junior-Senior Prom court. She asked the class to turn out full force as "voting for the May Day Dance was abandoned." The invitations can be picked up at the polls she said. The students also voted to have the cup going to the Queen of the prom engraved out of class funds.

Movie Planned For Monday PM On FSU Senate

The University Government Association Senate will be filmed in action next Monday in the Music amphitheater at 4:30 p. m. for a public relations production.

The date, time and location were chanced to accommodate the public relations office. Students are urged to attend the meeting so as to fill up the amphitheater.

IF THE MOVIE is a success with sound, the viewers of the film will probably be treated with a rather long, drawn out second reading of Senator Phil Spritzer's bill to provide for further powers for the Executive Council and to finance committee's report on Senate funds for the school year.

Spritzer introduced his bill for a first reading last Tuesday. It merely is a restatement of a section of the cabinet system amendment deleted by the faculty review committee; it provides for investigating powers for the appropriations' portion.

AFTER A HOT internal debate the Senate presented the bill complete with the investigating powers to the faculty review board. The body "suggested" the Senate delete the power, but student members voted against the section. The provision was vetoed by the committee the second time, and the amendment was passed. The students last week does not include the investigating section.

Spritzer maintains that his proposal, comins in the form of a bill, is not within the jurisdiction of the faculty review board. The recently passed amendment states the president of the UGA has the power to delete additional powers to the cabinet officers and to create new cabinet posts.

Frosh To Be Tested In Education Study

All Freshmen will be required to take a series of tests in general education on Tuesday of next week according to the Florida Council of Florida State University.

These tests will be administered from 4 to 6 p.m. each afternoon. Freshmen students whose last names begin with A through L are to report to the Music hall (east side); D through H report to Music hall (west side); I through M report to Conradi theater (front); M through S report to Conradi theater (back); and T through Z report to Science Lecture hall.

FSU is one of the 19 colleges and universities which will participate in this Co-operative Study of Evaluation in General Education. These new type tests are being used as an experiment for the purpose of getting better measurements in the knowledge student progress in general education.

Photos To Be Claimed

Tally-Ho Editor, Claudia Thomas, has asked all organizations which submitted pictures for the "Mis-FSU" contest, sponsored by Tally Ho, to pick up their pictures at the yearbook office on the fourth Floor of the Lonmire building.

Press, Gov't Meet in Miami For Convention

Seven Delegates Named To Represent FSU At Joint Spring Meet

Seven official delegates are representing Florida State University at the joint spring convention of the Florida Inter-Collegiate Student Government Association and the Florida Intercollegiate Student Government association this week-end at the University of Miami.

Delegates from the U. G A are Barbara Thomas, June Tate and Milton Carothers. Representing the Florida Flambeau is Joan Etheridge, business manager while Bill Dunn represents Smoke Signals and Bill Skipper, Tally-Ho, editor of the annual business manager.

ALLEN HEAD will be present as president of the FISGA.

Constitutive meetings and discussion groups will meet throughout today with the convention winding up tomorrow.

FRIDAY is the final day. FIPA will judge Florida High School newspapers. Delegates at the Florida Southern convention on Monday voted for the prospect for experience and to push FIPA forward.

HEAD COMMENTED that FISGA may vote for a delegate to represent them at the National Student Association. Bill Denizer, president of NSA, has been invited to the convention with NSA the main vice-president from Emory.

The delegates leisure moments will be provided by the Mi-Day celebration at the University of Miami, Wayne Whissler, convention chairman said.

'Met' Baritone To Give Concert

Metropolitan Opera star Leonard Warren will give an Artist Series sponsored concert in the Music building amphitheater Monday, May 5, at 8:15 p. m. The baritone is a member of four other companies in this country and South America in addition to the "met."

Leonard Warren

Warren had never studied an opera role until he was 27. After graduating from Columbia University, he planned a business career, but then he was fired from his first job as an accountant for singing while at work, he decided to go into singing for his profession.

His debut was made at the Metropolitan in "Simon Boccanegra" in 1939. He now has a repertoire which includes more than 22 operas. Warren makes an annual concert tour of the United States and Canada between operatic appearances and has had six successive seasons in South America.

Other opera companies to which the baritone belongs are the Chicago Opera, the San Francisco Opera, the Teatro Municipal in Rio de Janeiro and the Tastro Colon in Buenos Aires.

Springer To Report On Smoke Signals

A final report on the investigation of the late appearance of Smoke Signals will be presented Monday by Freshman Senator Phil Springer. Springer was in charge of the investigation as chairman of the finance committee.

"I think he was lying a little bit when he came here last week," said Spritzer, referring to the Smoke Signals editor's report to Senate last week. Smith also wrote an editorial in the Flambeau recently explaining his difficulties.

Key Party Enjoyed; Service Continues

Members of Garnet and Gold Key honoraries held a joint picnic and party at Alligator Point Sunday. In charge of the entertainments was Peggy Moore, Garnet Key social chairman.

Garnet Key members are now working on a service project for the infirmary. Each week current magazines are being collected from the various sorority and fraternity houses, student houses and dormitories. These magazines are then taken to the infirmary for the use of students there. Marianne Gillen is chairman of this project with Myra Kiehl and Jo Nell Proctor members of the committee.

Parham to Head WFSU Next Year

Margaret J. Parham has been elected new station manager of WFSU, along with six other new staff members. M. J. replaces Stan Gould.

M. J. Parham

Program director is Bob Ducker, production manager, Dolores Bates, chief announcer, Pleasie Mann, director of continuity, Ann Chandley, director of special events, Rick Rullan, director of public relations, Jean Carr.

M. J. SAID her future plans are to have less music on the program and more campus news and student participation on the air. She said that she would like to have U. G. A. news play an important part in next year's programs.

The new director began to work on WFSU in Oct. of 1950. As a freshman she was president of the Seminole Theater Guild and as a Sophomore, director of continuity.

M. J. said that she and former manager Gould both agreed that they favored WFSU coming under the jurisdiction of the University Government association rather than its present position.

A SOPHOMORE, M. J. said that she had had some radio experience in high school in Orlando. She said that so far as she knows now that she will not go into radio as a profession. Her plans are for professional girl scouting in social work.

The new manager said that Mr Roy Flynn, director of radio, will appoint someone to take Gould's place as head of the fifth district in IBS. Flynn is a board member of IBS

Staff members who will be lost this year are Gould, Len Mellon, Bill Bass, Neil Beasley, Mac McCall, Paul Koepper Terry Porter.

Kefauver Talk Packs 'Theater'

Presidential Candidate Slaps at McCarthyism

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

Senator Estes Kefauver drew the biggest crowd ever seen in the Music amphitheater when he spoke on the Florida State University campus Wednesday morning.

Kefauver's stop on the FSU campus was considered more or less a "personality appearance." He stayed on rather general topics speaking of his hopes for a prosperous United States.

HE DID TAKE a definite slap at McCarthyism however. He said that democracy is being leveled throughout the world largely on the basis of how the United States acts. Smear, innuendo and rescription of speech hurt our nation, the Tennessee senator claimed.

"We should extend democracy not restrict it," said Kefauver. He felt that education was the best attack on communism and noted that he had supported federal aid to education.

KEFAUVER was scheduled to

(Continued on Page 4)

Deadlines Given For Diploma Fee

Senior Class President Dick Bradley has re-announced deadlines for announcements and diplomas.

Announcements may be ordered at the University Bookstore until May 5. The prices on the announcements are 15, 20 and 25 cents. All announcements will be ready for pick-up on May 28

The deadline for the order of diplomas will be May 7. They may be purchased for $5 at the Student Accounts Office on the first floor of Westcott.

Senate Committee Seeks Low Rental For Dining Hall

The University Senate's Student Services committee is investigating the level at which the dining can be reduced in the case of the junior-senior prom.

Senator Myra Keith suggested that the Senate look into the matter at the last meeting of the body on Tuesday.

Kiehl and Senator Bob Drake explained that the dining hall did not serve any meals during the summer, the dance was held and would thus lose no business.

Myra Kiehl

Senator Marty Rush ... formally moved that the Senate investigate, and after motion was adopted Mr. Drake, as chairman of the Budget Services committee, is handling the matter.

CONTACTED by a Flambeau staff member Mr. Benjamin Adams, manager of the East campus dining halls, said the Sunday place no head of the fifth district in IBS. Flynn is a board member of IBS

Staff members who will be lost this year are Gould, Len Mellon, Bill Bass, Neil Beasley, Mac McCall, Paul Koepper Terry Porter.

He said that the hall had lost more than rental on each dance.

The point is debatable. That students do not pay for use of the Longmire building, so Adams said, asked why students should suffer if a school-owned building now that no meals are served on Saturday. He replied that the dining halls are being paid for on a self-liquidating basis, and that they make payments to the university accordingly.

DEAN OF STUDENT WELFARE

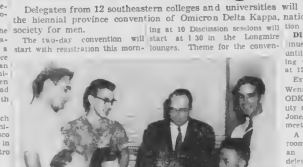
J. Broward Culpepper said he was not prepared to refine the price of $75. He mentioned however, that between 50 and 60 hostesses, other expenses involved in using the hall were such things as the piano, lights, and the soft wiring.

Rod K Shaw, business manager of the university, said the

(Continued on Page 4)

Province ODK Meet Begins With 12 Colleges Present

Delegates from 12 southeastern colleges and universities will arrive this morning for the biennial province convention of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership-scholastic fraternity.



The two-day convention will start at 1:30 in the Longmire lounges. Theme for the convention is "Leadership in a Crisis."

DISCUSSION sessions will continue Saturday morning from 9 until 11:15 and a business meeting will conclude the convention at 12 noon.

Expected to attend are Fred B. Wenn, national vice president of ODK, and Bradley Morison, deputy of the Southeastern province. Jones will officially open the meeting at 1 today.

A banquet in the Lafayette room is planned at 6:30 P.M. As an entertainment feature this delegates will see the Intercollegiate Circus, famous Florida University circus in tonight's performance.

GRADUATE STUDENT and faculty member of ODK may would like to attend the ... banquet should contact ... Chairman ... Tallahassee, Fla. ... Florida College Circus ... Tallahassee on Circus ... Circus, Universities ... Florida Intercollegiate College Circus ... of Tallahassee, and Wakulla Forest College.

PLANS COMPLETED—Members of the Florida State University circus of Omicron Delta Kappa study a map of the Southeast given to the province convention today and tomorrow. Seated, left to right, are, J. M. Plant, secretary, Dr. Charles Davis, Jim Ball, president; standing, Dick Bradley, Allen Head, Dr. Paul Reynolds and Jerry Thomas.

Delay Reasons Are Denied By Smoke Signals Printer

Smoke Signals is out!

Smith's humor magazine, called a March issue although it hit the campus April 28, has finally become a reality.

Editor Joel Smith in trying to present his reasons for the two month delay, blamed the local printing concern, Buckley-Newman, for the majority of the trouble.

A check with the printer revealed that the statements made by Smith before the student senate are false for the printers have measured up, in every regard, to the terms of the contract. The contract states the magazine will be delivered 30 days after copy and make-up is received.

The make-up was not completed by Smith until late Sunday, April 20, and the first copies reached the campus only 6 days later, on April 26. The remainder was delivered the following Monday.

Editor Smith, in trying to shift his responsibility has cast an unfavorable and untrue opinion concerning the printers.

These facts should be presented on the other side of the late Smoke Signals case.

The printing has served the printing needs of the University for many years and the work has been found satisfactory.

As it now stands, by the terms of the contract, the printer will provide 5,000 copies including the cover. Mr. Newman said that the printing company is able to run two issues simultaneously. He said that the Smoke Signals could either run two 28 page issues or a 32 page and 24 page issue.

Only one story has been received by the printers for the two issues of the Smoke Signals. The contract calls for 10 point type, but editor Joel has been using a smaller type resulting in more work for the printer. In the last copy Joel failed to get copy for two ads and the printers had to go down town to get the ad copy. This was done free of charge. The Smoke Signals also "borrowed" two engravings for the last issue from the printing company free of charge.

It was also learned that type was set and proofs read several weeks later. Mr. Newman said the proofs weren't read immediately.

Mr. Newman did say that there was some delay on the first issue only because one of the typesetters had an operation, but even then he had fulfilled the terms of the contract.

It is the responsibility of the editor to set deadlines, not the printer. Mr. Newman said that he would date all copy hereafter for proof when the copy is actually brought down.

Editor Smith, in criticising the Flambeau for lack of cooperation, failed to mention that 85 percent of all Smoke Signals pictures were taken with the Flambeau camera being used by the Flambeau photographer, Bill Frank. Several members of the Flambeau staff offered help last fall. The assistance was rejected.

It has been suggested that Editor Smith be impeached. This will not solve the problem. The senate finance committee which has investigated the facts involved and found them true may have a solution to the problem. They will present their information and recommendations to the Senate Monday.

Until then, the students have a debt of 56 pages in Smoke Signals and are waiting type.

BEHIND THE IVY

PLIGHT OF AIRMEN IS BRAZENLY UNTRUE

By BOB TIPPINS

Quite a bit has recently been said, thought and printed about the plight of America's soldiers of the air, much of which has been misleading and brazenly untrue.

Most present criticism centers around the controversial "hazard pay" received by pilots, servicemen, submarine personnel and paratroopers; with main objections voiced against the fly-boys.

First, let's correct a few of the statements used by adversaries of the hazard pay. For instance, one eager misled editorial writer for the Democrat stated that "... the nation of men lost in air combat duty is far less than on the ground." Actually however, casualty figures from the last war show that the Air Force lost a GREATLY higher percentage of men in the combat and non-combat areas than did the infantry. During one month(only) of infantry action period, the infantry losses were 6,000, while the Air Force casualties totaled 5,000 with 500 more missing in action. Another factor which is quite obviously shows that these casualties occurred from air action is the percentage of officer losses. In the infantry, 7 per cent of all casualties were officers, in the Air Force, 50 percent.

These figures, further, do not include the vast number of potential airmen lost in training, before they ever reach the field. A number, incidentally, considerably higher than that of Army trainee casualties . . . and the cadets aren't even eligible for hazard pay.

Let's face facts! We are paying these men to protect America from any enemy invasion or attack. Since the spoils system went out of style some few years ago we must compensate these professional soldiers through other means. To the career airmen, fighting's a lifetime profession, a job, not an adventure, just as hunting is to pugilists. His is a highly technical job. Our lives and the fate of our nation depend upon their having a higher degree of skill and proficiency than the belligerents. The fact that the incentive (pay, in this case) to develop his skill, be their occupation or survival.

Certainly the pilot receives training as technical and demanding as that of the veterinarian, dentist or lawyer, whose extra pay compensation remains unchallenged. The physical requirements demanded by the strenuous, taxing, exacting job of piloting 400 mph jets are so selectively rigorous that only a fraction of a fraction per number of America's most fit can be accepted. Coupled with this is a necessarily top IQ quotient prerequisite. As a result, even with present financial lures (most of which is used in paying the exorbitant insurance premiums to the one company issuing policies to "high risk" airmen), supply of Air Force applicants to flight status is failing dangerously short of the demand.

A man can be put in the field with a rifle in his hand and told he must fight or die. But as yet, no method has been devised, or will be, to make a man both physically and mentally competent, to operate with know-how the jets he thus learned, all the complexities involved in flying to such a degree that he can be relied on to blast a proficient enemy out of the skies.

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

POP HECKER IS "TOPS" IN STUDENT'S EYE

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Ewin Hecker, a professor at Florida State University, has the distinction of having a family of one wife, one dog and over 5,000 children.

This Number One Family Man also has quite a number of grandchildren, too, but I don't know how many and I am not positive he knows the census figures himself. After all, 5,000 kids is a large number with which to keep up! His dog, a Boston terrier, is called Cricket.

The people at FSU do not know Mr. Hecker as such, but just as someone mentions "Pop" and the light turns on. "Pop" has a rolling household pained garnet and gold—that is everybody's home at night and also on day runs. His has been hauling us students to FSU campus and back for a little over three years now.

Many years ago Pop and his wife had a little boy of their own, but he was killed in an accident. "Pop's family" didn't stop there.

Mr. Hecker has had his nickname for about forty years, and it has held steadfast since he has been as the University, too. Incoming Freshmen are quick to learn what is already know, as the girls put it, "he's so sweet," and as the boys say, "he's a great guy." Those qualities are what make the word "Pop" mesh something much more than just a nickname.

If you are a regular customer of the Pop-in-the-West traffic, chances are you know "Pop" pretty well. Seldom does a student board the bus without some greeting to him, even if he only knows that "he's Pop and everybody likes him."

To "Pop" we are not just a bunch of noisy, impatient students who are always complaining about crowded conditions and wanting to know "WHEN is the bus going to leave?" He is a sympathetic listener to all our gripes and can crack a joke along with everybody, and even feels sorry for us in the bus in route "to study in that darn library."

"Pop" says he has "hauled a good many students before" but we are "the finest bunch of boys and girls here you have find." He says the girls aren't even catty about the other girls on the bus. What a statement to live up to!

Since "Pop" came here, he has given a dollar to every FSU campus couple having a baby. "Pop" estimates he has given away—not lost, mind you—about forty-six dollars. The last time I talked to him, he had given away two. "Some of the kids have been away and I've missed them," says "Pop," "but I usually get them when they come back. If they do."

Mr. Hecker is not only an erudite professor here ar an administration leader. But that does not mean he does not have the respect and affection of the students. In fact I think he is 'way ahead of some of the wheels.' Although he has got yak-yak-ed many and cuck a joke along with everybody, and even feels sorry for us in the bus in route "to study in that darn library."

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

New Officers, Banquets, And Rushing Spark Greek Activities This Week

By MARCIA MORRIS

The Alpha Omega's began their annual weekend last Friday night with a banquet party, at which prizes were given for the most original costumes. Saturday evening a luncheon and party at the Coronation Ball Saturday night. The weekend came to a close with a coast party on Sunday.

New officers of Alpha Delta Pi are Ann Moore, president; Mary Audry Whitehurst, vice president; Martha Ann Goode, recording secretary; Janie Mildrette, corresponding secretary; Nancy Wilson, treasurer; Marsha Williamson, rush chairman; Sally Schuchart, social chairman; and Mary Ann Dorsey, Pan Hel representative. The A D Pi's entertained the Lambda Chi Alpha's Tuesday night, Tonight. A D Pi's and their high school guests from all over the state will attend the circus performance. Saturday morning a party is planned at Wakulla followed by an open house and a banquet that night. The chapter is entering an electric pin for the front of the house which was presented this years pledge class.

Alpha Zi Delta's also celebrated their annual weekend last week. Beginning with a Hawaiian party at the house Friday night. Saturday the "Rose Formal was held at the Country Club, while Sunday the members entertained their guests with a picnic at the coast. Last Sunday evening a supper party was given for members and rushees. Monday night Mrs. Camp, alumna advisor, spoke to the chapter during their annual education program.

Delta Gamma members have been busy lately with several informal parties. Saturday they will hold an open house after the circus.

A culture meetna at which Miss Daisy Parker was guest speaker, was a highlight of last Monday night at the Kappa Delta house. After the program a coffee was held in honor of Miss Parker. K. D.'s were guests of the Delta Tau Delta's at a loud shirt party last Thursday night.

Members of Pi Beta Phi celebrated their founders day Monday, April 28, with a banquet and ceremony, with the Tallahassee alumnae. At this time Lucille Rogers was presented the Amy Burham Onken award for the most outstanding Pi Phi active in Zeta Province. Jo Nell Proctor received the certificate of achievement for the highest average in scholarship, while Helen Cobb was awarded the scholarship bracelet for greatest improvement. Tuesday night the Pi Phi's were guests of the A T O's at an informal party. Wednesday night, Pi Phi's entertained the Theta Chi's.

Alpha Omicron Pi's will open rushing at 11 high school seniors with a buffet supper at the A O Pi house tonight to be followed by an informal party at the Lambda Chi house. Saturday, the A O Pi's, rushees, and dates will go to camp for the afternoon before attending the Circus performance that night. No formal pans have been made for Sunday, which will be the last day of rushing.

Zeta Tau Alpha's entertained the Pi Kappa Alpha's Wednesday with a variety show. Dr. Canning, from Wewahitchka, was honor guest at the Zeta house Monday night, when he spoke about his experiences in Africa as a physician and missionary. Lambda Chi Alpha's are making plans for joint rushing with the A O Pi's this weekend. Bob Ryals recently returned from Indianapolis, Indiana, where he served on the nominating committee Alpha General Assembly. He was initiate for the 1952 Alumni Council chosen with four other actives on the basis of fraternity and college activities.

A softball game was held last weekend between the Delta Tau Delta's and the Zeta Tau Alpha's. The Delts beat the girls 10-8 even handed. The Delts were guest of thoush they were playing left by Phi Mu's at a bobo party given by the Phi Mu's recently.

The Phi Delta Theta's have appointed Ralph Eagleton, Ralph McCans, George Story, and Dave Lana as delegates to visit the Phi Delt colony at the University of Miami this weekend, to check on possibilities for their affiliation with National this August. Tom Cumbie has again been appointed as pledge trainer for the National Phi Delta Theta Convention this August. Phi Delta were honored at a party given by the Alpha Gamma Delta's last week.

Recently elected officers of Sigma Chi are Ted Steinmeyer, master; Merrill Moore, vice president, Bob Ducker, pledge dents; and Clinton Thomas, treasurer; Ken Kichler corresponsurer; Milton Carothers, recordresponding secretary, and Jerry Jones, rush chairman The new senior I.F.C. representative is Bob Perry. Installation of these officers is set for May 5.

Vacancies Open in Canal Zone For Grade and High Teachers

Vacancies now exist in the Panama Canal Zone for qualified teachers, writes Lawrence Johnson, superintendent of Canal Zone schools. Opportunities are available in the elementary, junior and senior high school levels.

Teaching positions are open in the fields of Spanish, English, biological, physical and general science, art, music, social studies, mathematics, commercial subjects, household arts, shop, physical education and recreation.

The entrance salary for elementary and junior high school teachers is $4,037.40, and for high school teachers the beginning salary is $4,303.71. No teacher will be employed who is under 24 years of age or over 40. All applicants must have had at least three full years of teaching experience before the appointment is made.

Elementary and junior high school teachers must hold BA degrees and senior high teachers with the exception of those teaching commercial subjects, household arts, shop, recreation and physical education, are required to have MA degrees.

Further information may be obtained at the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott.

You're Here for Education
We're Here to Serve You

- CLASSROOM SUPPLIES
- ART SUPPLIES
- STATIONERY
- PLUSH ANIMALS
- COSMETICS

"We Buy Used Books"

Malone's Co-op Bookstore

BOTH PAUL AND ANN ATTENDED F.S.U.

Religious Groups Hold Election For Next Year

By LOUETTA RILEY

BAPTIST

Twenty Baptist Student Union council officers for next year will be installed at the First Baptist church Sunday night with Gene Nash, new president, leading the group.

New officers include Virginia Norris, Mary Browder, Jim Joiner, Dot Stephens, Barbara Ann Wendall Carpenter, Ann Baggett, Jean Medlin, Jane Parkman, Jo Ann Bowden, Dewey Smith, Barbara Kate Thomas, Mary Frances Tucker, Sara Barker Jerry Parrish, Ken Kichler, and Myrtice Taylor. Faculty advisors are Mrs. Ida Simmons, secretary to the pastor, and registrar Charles Walker.

EPISCOPAL

Newly elected officers of the Canterbury club, Episcopal student organization are Ellen Lee, president; Bill Bk i p p e r, vice-president; Mildred Crickenberger, secretary; and David Hamlin, treasurer.

The old and new Vestry will hold a Corporate Communion at 11 Sunday morning at Ruge hall.

METHODIST

Daisy Parker, professor of political science, will speak on political campaigns at Sunday School Sunday morning at Trinity Methodist Church.

Dr. Fred H. Leach, professor of philosophy, will discuss lead Fellowship Sunday night at Westminster Foundation at 6:15. His topic will be "The Resurrection."

PRESBYTERIAN

Election of officers of Westminster Fellowship, Presbyterian organization, will take place at the Sunday School meeting at 10 a.m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian church.

Nancy Fagen will lead the Mid-Week Worship service at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday night at 9:30.

CATHOLIC

The weekly business meeting of the Newman club, Catholic student organization, will be held Sunday night at the Newman House at 7:30.

LUTHERAN

"Problems of Parenthood" will be the topic for discussion at the meeting of Gamma Delta, Lutheran student organization Sunday night at 7 in the second floor lunse of the Longmire building.

Carol Tremmer was elected vice-president of Gulf State Region of Gamma Delta at the convention here last weekend.

Canfield Is Honored

GILCHRIST HALL is honoring Dr. and Mrs. Canfield and Dr. Canfield's associates with a tea May 7, from 4:30 to 5:30.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Ed tor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Culpepper
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Hanley
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Loula Caldroni; Fa Pittman, Steve Zaffke

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-000, Ext. 6821 second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

Meat Duties, Flynn

Dear Editor:

In reply to Jean Flynn's letter of April 18, 1952:

We the people of the United States believe in electing someone with ability to represent us and our form of government. Thus in place of 151 million people voting on each bill, we have our representatives do it.

Jean, you stated when you were running for election that you were capable of being a member of the UGA senate. Therefore accept your obligations and duties without trying to lay your shortcomings on those who elected you to office.

Just as if it would be foolish and impractical for 151 million people to attend all the open meetings of our U.S. senate so would the same apply to our Florida State University senate.

WARREN KNAPE.

Meaningless Babble

Dear Editor:

As a graduate student and aspiring searcher of the word, its way, and the light, I fail to catch one glimmer of understanding all of Mr. Schmidt's latest.

Why must you run a string of babble, meaningless words, totally nothing?

I've enjoyed many of the columns but the latest . . . well, er, if you must, Mr. Schmidt, provide the interrupter pause. However, of you are having troubles, the university has a paid psychiatrist.

Sincerely yours,
A SCHMIDT FAN.

For Distinguished Service

Re-Elect Justice

B. K. ROBERTS

TO THE FLORIDA SUPREME COURT

"He brings to Florida's highest court the simple dignity of a friendly man." (Editorial)

B. K. ROBERTS for SUPREME COURT
Campaign Manager Campaign Treasurer Paid Political Adv.)

Yea Man !

For the Finest, Fastest Service In Town Take Your Car to

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

VOTE FOR

PAUL HARTSFIELD

FOR SHERIFF

Alumnus of F.S.U.

PAUL HARTSFIELD

WANTS COMPETENT, DECENT LAW ENFORCEMENT FOR HIS FAMILY AND YOU.

VOTE FOR

PAUL HARTSFIELD

FOR SHERIFF, MAY 6

(Paid Political Adv.)

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
'Detective Story'
With Kirk Douglas and Eleanor Parker

NEXT ATTRACTION
'Deadline U.S.A.'

STATE
Today Thru Tuesday
'With a Song in My Heart'
With Susan Hayward and Rory Calhoun

RITZ
Today and Saturday
Charles McGraw and Joan Dixon
'Roadblock'
ALSO
'Son of Billy the Kid'
With Lash LaRue

DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
'Eagle'
With Maria Montez and Jon Hall
ALSO
Rex Allen in
'The Last of the Musketeers'

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Carroll Is Veep Of Music Group

Charles M. Carroll, instructor in music at Florida State University, was elected vice-president of the Florida Composers League at the state convention held in the league in Jacksonville last week-end. Mr. Carroll was also appointed chairman of the committee on records and archives, to record and publish a list of all Florida composers and their compositions.

Loren Reichert, junior student in the FSU School of Music, was also honored at the convention. His composition, "Elegia for Violin and Piano" was awarded second prize in a state-wide contest for student composers, sponsored by the Florida Composers League.

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

HERE WE GO AGAIN—Scandal-ridden basketball came in for another—and probably not last—blast the other day when the New York Grand Jury indicted former Kentucky ce Bill Spivey for perjury—that is, lying under oath.

Spivey, you remember, is the fellow that voluntarily dropped out of Baron Adolph Rupp's cage plans for the past season back in December, when he said that he was going to clear his name before participating in the sport again.

The Kentucky Athletic Council apparently taking a dim view of the All-American's activities promptly dropped Spivey from his eligibility roll, while the cager went to New York to (self) before the grand jury in connection with the scandals.

Finally, after three other former Wildcat hoopsters—Ralph Beard, Dale Barnstable and Alex Groza were fired on probation, the other day. New York sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, fired a blast at Beard, Kronfurst and College athletics in general when he said that they should adopt the recommendation for corrupting and demoralizing the three former Kentucky performers.

Streit charged the University and Rupp as well, as "failing completely in their duty to build the morals and character of the players, neglecting their physical welfare, and openly exploiting the men.

Then the judge further burned Rupp when he said, "in view of his conduct, Mr. Rupp's unconscious attitude before me becomes both ludicrous and comic."

As a parting shot, Streit accused the school as well as Rupp of "topping" the players after games, or in other words rewarding them on the basis of their performances.

Beard testified that he received from $5 to $10 after some games if the Baron thought that he had performed well. Barnstable, on the other hand, testified that if they played exceedingly well, they received from $10 to $20.

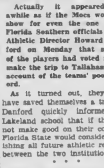
At any rate, it seems that unless something unforseen happens Baron Rupp and his Kentucky pals are in for a peck of trouble from the good judge.

When the Seminoles knocked off Florida Southern in the second game of their three-game series down in Lakeland last weekend they quietly broke the school record for most wins in a season.

The old mark was 13 set by both the 1950 and 1951 clubs, and if the Semoniles continue at their present clip they will set a new record with each win.

Their chances of hitting 20 wins, which was not at all impossible went down the drain when the other half of the twin bill with Southern was cancelled.

Actually it appeared for awhile as if the Mean weather show for even the one game. Florida Southern officials wired Athletic Director Howard Danford on Monday that several of the players had voted not to make the trip to Tallahassee on account of the teams' poor record.



As it turned out, they could have saved themselves a trip, but Danford quickly informed the Lakeland school that if they did not make good on their contract Florida State would consider abolishing all future athletic relations between the two institutions.

* * *

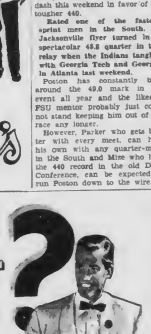
Much of the interest in the FSU-Mississippi College tomorrow will center on the 440 yard dash when Coach Ken Miller will run Captain John Poston against Woody Parker and Dick Mise for the first time.

Poston who's specialty is the

SUMMER FORMALS NOW WITH STAIN-SHY

It's the new miracle fabric finish that resists stains, discourages wrinkles and is water repellent.

ONLY AFTER SIX Has It!



Single and double breasted models Whites, pastels, Midnight Blue Dress Trousers.

MEN [—is your fraternity, or other social or scholastic group participating in our Mr. Formal Contest? Contact Lou Calderons for particulars. (Call Flambeau).

Turner's

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL AT FLORIDA STATE

The title goes to the collegian who looks best in the new "After Six" white summer formal jacket with the new miracle "Stein-Shy" finish. With it goes a complete summer formal outfit, prizes galore, and plenty of female-hearts worship. Enter your team today, your dealer or campus rep. has all the poop—so contact him now, and make it formal!

Trackmen Face Miss. College

Next to Last Meet For FSU Thinclads

The FSU track squad left last night for Clinton, Mississippi where they will run against the Choctaws of Mississippi College. Tomorrow's meet will be the first action for the trackmen since they topped Georgia and Georgia Tech in a triangular affair a week ago.

Coach Ken Miller's charges are carrying a three win and one loss record into the meet. And, although little is known about the Choctaws, State expects little trouble in hanging up win number four.

Miller, with an 18-man squad, plans to make things interesting by entering sprinter John Poston in the 440 along with Woody Parker and Dick Mise. Although Parker holds the school record in this event, Miller is of the idea Poston turned in a fine quarter when he ran the last leg of the relay race at Atlanta the last week. Mize is not a certain starter because of a re-occurring leg injury.

Hegarty and Carlos Fraundorfer, both members of State's top point getter will be entered in the 100 yard dash. And another high-scorer this time Bill Wagoner, will be going after his fifth straight triumph in the 880.

Besides the century, Fraundorfer is also entered in the broad jump, the event at which he excels. He won the broad jump event last week with a 21 foot, 1 inch leap.

After tomorrow's meet, the Seminoles will face the University of Miami, May 10, in the last home appearance of the year.

Golfers Vie In Southern Meet

The Florida State University Seminole golf team is scheduled to go into the second round of the Southern Intercollegiate at Athens, Georgia, today. The weekend tourney began yesterday, bringing into competition some of the finest collegiate golfers in the South.

Florida State Coach Bob Harbison has taken a four-man team to the Athens tournament, each member of which could rule with the medalist on given day. Clubbers Sonny Tinney, Jimmy James, Tom Cumbie, and Tommy Brown are representing FSU.

The present Florida Intercollegiate champion and ever champion of teh Dixie Conference, Sonny Tinney is rated among the favorites.

Last Tuesday the golfmen bowed to strong Alabama and Georgia links teams in a triangled meeting at Athens.

100 and 220, has also anchored the Seminole-s ace mile relay this year and his times for the quarter have been so impressive. Miller will pull him out of the century dash this weekend in favor of the tougher 440.

Rated one of the fastest sprint men in the South, the Jacksonville flyer turned in a spectacular 48.8 quarter in the relay when the Indians tangled with Georgia Tech and Georgia in Atlanta last weekend.

Poston has constantly been around the 49.0 mark in the events all year and the likeable FSU mentor probably just could not stand keeping him out of the race any longer.

However, Parker who gets better with every meet, can hold his own with any quarter-miler in the South and Mize who held the 440 record in the old Dixie Conference, can be expected to run Poston down to the wire.

SMITH

LOCKARD

BENNER

Seminole Diamond Squad Traveling At Torrid Clip

By TOMMY SANDS

How can you lose with pitching and hitting? That's just what Coach Ralph Matherly has been receiving from his Seminole diamond squad and you don't need to take a second look at their record to bear out that statement.

Through last Tuesday's tile with Florida Southern, the Indians had rolled up 15 wins against only three losses and had already broken the school record of 13 victories with two to spare.

THE ENCOURAGING part about it all is the fact that Matherly has been getting doubled-barreled support from his squad in nearly every tilt. When the hurlers have failed to come through—which hasn't been very often—the batters have taken up whatever slack was needed—plus some.

Against Southern on Tuesday, the Seminoles relied on the bat stick to route the Moccasons 21-11 in a wild and wooly affair that saw the Indians crack out 23 safeties—nine of which went for extra bases.

BIG ED Lockard in recording his sixth pitching triumph of the season without a setback, got into a couple of tight spots due to wildness, but spaced five hits over the seven inning route and appeared to get stronger as he went along.

A Freshman and a veteran paced the 23-hit assault on Southern's Senger. The first year man was Shortstop Billy Campbell who cracked out four hits in four trips include a three-run homer.

SMITH, veteran first sacker, also collected a four base swat in addition to three singles and two RBI's Campbell who raised his batting average to a blistering .448 with the day's work compiled on 29 times at bat also drove in five tallies.

Three other Seminoles—second baseman Cooter Mills, Catcher Ronald Melton and centerfielder Wayne Benner banged out three hits apiece—two of Benner's go-

SINGLES STAR—Dan Bode, one of the outstanding singles players on the FSU tennis squad this year, will see action in the Seminoles' matches this weekend.

Tennis Squad On Road Trip

Recoiling from a defeat at the hands of Miami last Saturday, Florida State University's tennis team sprang back into the winning bracket Tuesday by defeating Florida Southern College 7-2 at the East Campus courts.

Yesterday the Seminoles made a return call to the Florida Southern campus and then journey to Orlando today to battle the Orlando Air Force Base team.

Tomorrow the Indian netters will wind up their season in Winter Park when they duel against Rollins.

In the match with Florida Southern chalked up the seventh victory for the FSU racket men against only four defeats.

Jim Berry, Tom Cundy, Dave Kennedy, Joe Harris, Jack Egan, and Dan Boda all registered singles victories for the Seminoles, with Boda and Egan also combining talents to trip the visitors in the No. 1 doubles match. Florida Southern saved themselves from complete disaster by taking the other two doubles.

JOHN A. RUDD
"Buddy"

Former F.S.U. student, is seeking a seat in your

State Legislature
Leon County Group 2

HELP HIM!!!

TALK FOR VOTE FOR

JOHN A. RUDD

MAY 6

(Paid Political Adv.)

ATO's, PKP, Pace Fraternity League

Four fraternities are still undefeated after two weeks of softball action. ATO and PKP lead the league with four wins followed by Sigma Nu and DTD with three victories a piece.

Although DTD has picked up a tie with LCA which will be played off Monday SN will also play a game with PDT that was rained out last Thursday.

The two leading frais picked up a pair of wins this week. ATO hung up a 13 to 4 win over Kappa Alpha, Tuesday and then the next day stomped Sigma Chi, 20 to 8.

PKP COUNTERED their two victories by edging PDT, 11 to 9 on Tuesday and on Wednesday by beating LCA, 6 to 3, with both games making exciting bits.

In the other battles Tuesday, Sigma Chi outscored Kappa Sigma, 19 to 14 with Witchard, Hamrick, Cornelius and Bauchman of the victors each unloading a home run.

SPE scored five runs in the last frame toonreat by Theta Chi, 13 to 11 with Gardner, chipping in a four-bagger for the winners.

PKA, with Phillips doing a two-hit pitching job, defeated SAE by a 7 to 1 count.

In a game played Wednesday, Bob Schmale's round tripper didn't prevent a 14 to 6 drubbing at the hands of KA. The winner's Ray Royster also banged a homer.

TUESDAY'S SCORES

Score by innings:

	R	H
DTD	111 200 06—10
LCA	012 210 30—9

Batteries: DTD—Sniseth, Reed and Wyatt; LCA—Gregg, Graham.

The ball game, played off at later date. Home Run: Cain, LCA, with none on.

Score by innings:

	R	H
PDT	302 14—11
PKP	022 04—11

Batteries: PDT—Cooper, Wells; PKP—Sundberg, R. Sundberg. Home run: Mar. PKP

Score by innings:

	R	H
SPE	401 300 3-11
TC	520 120 1—12

Batteries: TC—Baker, Pinkston and Crutchfield, Bowers. Home run Gardner, SPE.

Score by innings:

	R	H
KS	103 13—18
	203 75—14

Batteries SC—Elmwood, Canada; KS—Gaskins, Stubbs; Home run: McKinnie and Hamrick, Cornelius SC—Hamrick.

Score by innings:

	R	H
PKP	111 113 1	7
SAE	000 000 1	1

Batteries: PKA Phillips, Scott; SAE-Bond, Kirkpatrick.

Score by innings:

	R	H
ATO	400 410— 9	5
SC	200 000— 2	11

Batteries: ATO—Pinkston, Pierce and Boyster, SC—Bowers, Hall.

Score by innings:

	R	H
KA	004 43— 4	9
ATO	130 10—13	7

Batteries: KA—Whaley, Toler and Schmale; Pinkston, Pierce runs: Royster, Schmale.

Score by innings:

	R	H
PKP	110 000 2—4	6
LCA	200 000 1—3	5

Batteries: LCA—Wyatt (Losh); PKP—R. Sundberg A. Sundberg.

FRAT STANDINGS
(Through Wednesday's Games)

	W	L		W	L
ATO	4	0	KA	2	3
PKP	4	0	SC	2	3
SN	3	0	SAE	1	3
DTD	3	0	PKT	1	3
LCA	3	1	SPE	1	3
KS	3	2	PDT	0	3
TC	2	2	SX	0	4

DORMITORY LEAGUE

The dormitory league continued action Wednesday, although two of the five scheduled games were forfeited. One was a double forfeit involving 396 and 397. In the other, Magnolia 31 won a 7 to 0 forfeit decision from the Village.

The remaining three games were marked by heavy hitting. 397 plastered the Newman Club, 23 to 9 as James of the winners and Deegan of the NC each garnered a homer.

In another slugfest, Helms and Hagler hit round trippers in placing Magnolia to a 12 to 5 win over 390.

Tallahassee Souvenir Plates
$1.75
Fraternity and Sorority Plaques
$3.50

WW PUTNAM registered jewelers
AMERICAN GEM SOCIETY
All Our Diamonds Are Diamondscope Tested
308 SOUTH MONROE STREET

ATTENTION SENIORS!

DOES A SALES CAREER WITH THE LARGEST RUBBER COMPANY INTEREST YOU?

GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER CO., has several openings in Florida for men receiving diplomas in June who wish to learn the retail tire and accessory business.

Permanent positions with excellent opportunity for advancement with good starting salary.

Sound 8 weeks training program at full salary given on the job working under competent supervision.

All trainees must be willing to relocate in Florida with the company paying moving expenses.

Reply by letter only, giving educational background, campus activities and any business experience. Also include inexpensive photo.

Interviews will be arranged in Gainesville for those who qualify and all letters will be answered

R. H. Donaldson, Division Personnel Mgr.
Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Inc.
2755 Piedmont Rd., N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Dine with us in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
DINNER MENU
Southern Fried Steak
Broiled Fish
Fried Ham
Pineapple Sauce
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 39...THE FLYCATCHER

He's fast—he's smart—he covers ground—he's a real varsity outfielder! The 'quick-trick' cigarette mildness tests were almost too hot to handle, but he didn't make an error. He realized that cigarette mildness can't be judged in slam-bang fashion. Millions of smokers throughout America know, too, there's a thorough way to judge cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions

'Scullions' Hold 'Hotel-for-a-Day' At Wakulla Today

Florida State's club of future hotel and restaurant managers, the Scullions, are holding their second annual "Hotel-For-A-Day" program today at Wakulla Springs lodge.

Last year the group went Latin and produced a "Hotel Tropicana." This year they are sticking to the old South and carrying out the theme of "Down Plantation Way." The group has done research on famous southern dishes and customs of the Anti-Bellum South in order to produce the program.

Stuart Hockenbury, vice-president of the American Hotel corporation, will be the principal speaker at the event for which more than 100 persons have made reservations to attend. Mr. Hockenbury will speak on "Hotels in the World."

Other hotel executives to attend are James Landon, state hotel commissioner; Sterline Bottome, St. Petersburg; Bill Riddle, past president and executive vice-president of the Florida Hotel Association Francis Hamilton, Miami Hotel executive, and James Pearson, editor of the Southern Hotel Journal. State Senator Leroy Collins and Howard Dayton, head of the Dayton hotel chain, will also be guests.

Dr. A. B. Martin, FSU vice-president, will be a representative of the university. Ralph Oleson acts as student manager of the Scullions, while Miss Gladys Hall serves as faculty advisor.

Music will be provided by the School of Music.

Kefauver Speaks

(Continued From Page 1)

speak at 9:30 a. m., and a large crowd gathered then, but Garland Stokes, president of the Kefauver-for-President club on campus, announced the Senator's plane from Tampa was an hour late.

An hour later an even larger, over-capacity crowd jammed the outdoor theater to hear the Tennessean.

DOWNTOWN at noon, Kefauver's address took on a definitely more political tone. He repeated some of the things he had said at the college but went more into his voting record and that of his opponent, Senator Richard B. Russell.

Kefauver stressed his often repeated theme that he is a southerner but that he better represents the national point of view. His campaign literature states that he is the one "Democrat who can beat any Republican."

THE TENNESSEE senator took up Governor Fuller Warren's challenge to answer a number of touchy questions. He said he would take 30 minutes next Friday in Jacksonville to answer the questions if the Governor would appear and answer some of Kefauver's questions for 30 minutes. He suggested the Governor name the place and bring along some one like Justice B. K. Roberts as mediator.

It is not yet known whether Warren will accept the challenge.

Kappa Sigs Are Host to Conclave Of Districts 8, 9

The Epsilon Sigma Chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity at Florida State University will be host at a joint district conclave of Districts VIII and IX of the fraternity this week-end.

Chapters of the national fraternity's two districts at the conclave include those fo FSU, University of Florida, University of Alabama, University of Georgia, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Georgia Tech, Mercer University and alumni chapters in Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Registration is scheduled from noon to 6 p.m. today at the Kappa Sigma house, 112 South Woodward street with the opening business session from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Longmire building. The delegates will attend the circus performance tonight.

Business sessions will be held most of the day Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Longmire building. A conclave dance has been arranged from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday at the Duval Hotel. On Sunday from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. the delegates will stage a model initiation in the Longmire building.

Senate Investigates

(Continued From Page 1)

problem of how much to charge when no business was being conducted in the halls had not come up before, since the five-day schedule had begun so recently.

Shaw echoed Culpepper's observation that there were other costs involved besides loss of business. He said he had been in conference with Miss Anna Tracy Mead dietician about reducing the charge.

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER

JEWELER

102 S. Monroe

FOREIGN EMPLOYMENT. Work, play abroad! Big pay! Adventure! Round trip free transportation includes dependents. Housing provided. Make your "stake". Fast! Thousands all kinds actual job openings South Pacific Islands, Alaska, South America, summer cruises to Orient, etc. No strings attached. Your choice date departure, return. We provide latest world-wide list of best job openings, detailed information, application forms—all for $1.00 ($1.25 airmail). Adventure, Lt., Box 448, Marshall, Michigan

MOTHER'S DAY, MAY 11

May We Suggest Great Names For A Great Person Mother

Jewelry By....

Coro

D. Lisner

Trifari

- Lingeries and Sleep Wear by

Van Raalte

Tommies

- Blouses by Ship n' Shore, Dorothy Korby, Judy Bond, Sir James
- Handbags by Alumesh, "the Bag that's ever white"
- Sportswear by Jantzen, Queen

Mayeron's Will Free Gift Wrap and Wrap for Mailing

MAKE MAYERON'S YOUR MOTHER'S DAY GIFT HEADQUARTERS

MAYERON'S

College Avenue at Adams

ENJOY EATING

in FSU SUWANNEE ROOM and SEMINOLE CLUB

This Evening---FRIDAY DINNER---In Seminole Club

ON SPECIALS—Choice of Two Vegetables or Vegetable and Salad, 5c Beverage, Hot Bread and Dessert

SPECIALS

Deviled Crab in Shell ... 65c
Swiss Steak ... 75c
FriedShrimp (6) ... 75c

VEGETABLES

Steamed Rice
French Fried Egg Plant
Buttered Carrot Sticks
Oven Browned Potatoes

DESSERTS

Strawberry Cotton Pie
2-Layer Chocolate Cake
Fruit Cup

SALADS

Sliced Tomatoes
Fresh Orange and Grapefruit Section
Cut Green Salad

French Rolls From Our Bakery

Full Course Dinner 75c

SUNDAY, MAY 4th SUWANNEE ROOM 11:50 A.M.--1:45 P.M.

ENTREES

Fried Chicken
Veal Roll and Dressing
Fried Deep Sea Bass

VEGETABLES

Paprika Potatoes
Canned Green Beans
Buttered Carrot Rings

SALADS

Cottage Cheese, Carrot and Celery Stix, Ripe Olive Relish, Cut Green

DESSERTS

2-Layer Cake
Fresh Fruit Cup

MEET YOUR FRIENDS IN YOUR DINING HALLS

as shown above and in April Mademoiselle, Page 79

WASHABLE WONDERS!

COOL CUTE COTTONS

mac Shore classics

2.98

combed cotton broadcloth with a pleated front, convertible collar and pearl shoe buttons . . . completely sleeveless - - Extra long shirt tail

★ PINK ★ WHITE
★ BLUE ★ LILAC
★ AQUA ★ YELLOW
★ NAVY

Sizes 32 to 38

Other Mac Shore Blouses in Nylon at 3.98

MILLER'S Cootery

See Our Outstanding Selection of Sportswear— Shirts, Shorts, Jeans, Peddlepushers and Bermuda Shorts

Florida Flambeau

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

XXXVIII, No. 51 — Tuesday, May 6, 1952

Senators Play Monkey At Weekly Farce— See Editorial

Blood Pledges Due Says Drive Chairmen Sign Up Now—

King, Queen Picked For Jr.–Sr. Prom

Court Will Be Announced At Affair; Doak Campbell To Crown Dance Royalty

The king and queen of the Junior-Senior Prom were chosen in voting yesterday but will not be announced until Saturday night at the dance.

President Don E. Smith will crown the king and queen Saturday, and the couple will receive a cup donated by Elmer Doyle last year.

FINALISTS for queen were Marianne Gillen, Jeti Monroe, Bobbie Petit and Sylvia Strange. The king will come from among Stan Gould, John Newland, Will Pennell, Bob Schmels and Joel Smith.

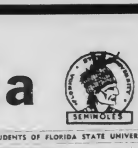
Pennell, Bob Schmels and Joe queen were selected from the nine top vote-getting seniors nominated last Wednesday, when names of juniors and seniors were accepted for court positions.

Three junior girls and three junior boys were selected in balloting on Friday to fill court positions, but their names are being kept secret until the prom.

THE THREE senior men and three senior girls will serve on the court will come from the runners-up in the king and queen contest.

Barbara Brewton, chairman of the junior-senior dance, announced yesterday that all those who have not yet picked up their invitations in the prom room may do so at the information desk on the first floor of the Longmire building.

The annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held in the Jasmine Room in the Suwannee room of the Florida State University dining hall. Dancing to Jimmie Lunceford will be allowed at the prom, and the dance will last from



ELEANOR GREEN, chairman of the prom, has urged all students to buy their invitations. Work on dressing up the hall will begin on Friday at 2 p.m. Green can be contacted at the Kappa Delta house for further information.

The chairman said that the Suwannee room and bandstand will cost the class about $250 and that the class should get its money back from the junior class dance.

ELEANOR GREEN, chairman of the prom, has urged all students to buy their invitations. Work on dressing up the hall will begin on Friday at 2 p.m. Green can be contacted at the Kappa Delta house for further information.

The chairman said that the Suwannee room and bandstand will cost the class about $250 and that the class should get its money back from the junior class dance.

She said that the band cost $900, and that expenditures for flowers, decorations, and refreshments are estimated at $46. Invitations cost $23.98. The committee has $278 to operate on.

A PARTY KIDS! Dishing out ice cream during the annual Pi Kappa Alpha party for undergraduated kids are, left to right, Adrian Page, Bob Adams, the Phi Sigma sweetheart, Tam Scott, president, and Jack Watkins. The children were then take nto the FSU circus performance.

Senate Defeats Plan To Rebuke 'Signals' Editor

Committee's Suggestion Was to Hold Up Salary Until 56 Pages Finished

A resolution for the withholding of Editor Joel Smith's salary was defeated in Senate yesterday afternoon. The resolution asked that the Smoke Signals editor's salary be withheld until the remaining 56 pages are produced.

Chairman of Senate, Jere Salyers, informed the Senate that the editor had not been paid all year.

THE FINANCE committee in charge of the investigation contends that the students pay for the hundred and twenty pages of the magazine through the student activity fee. They have observed reasonable diligence as to the ability of the editor to fulfill his promises.

Section 1 of the resolution reads, "That the University Government Association Senate strongly urges the proper authorities in the Administration of the University to withhold further salary of the editor of Smoke Signals until the remaining fifty-six pages due the students are produced and published."

SECTION 2 says, "That this resolution shall take effect immediately upon passage by the University Government association Senate."

Chairman of the Senate Finance committee Phil Springer reports that after the manuscript is in the printer, Thomas Newman, of Bukley-Newman, that the editor had not mentioned and some things on which he had been mistaken he has made his report to Senate two weeks ago.

Springer contends that the printers do have a resemblance to a deadline to follow which Smith has committed that they do not. The printer said that he has one month after all the copy is in before he is required to put the magazine out. He stated that he has never used the full time allotted him.

THE PRINTERS have helped with the make-up.

Final make-ins for the third

(Continued on Page 4)

Senate Again Vetoes Attorney General Bill

Former Supporters Back Out; Fear Alienating Administration

The University Government association Senate voted yesterday to kill a bill which would have re-instituted the investigating powers of the attorney general which were deleted by the faculty review board.

THE BILL, introduced by freshman Senator Phil Springer, who worked hardest to put the powers into the original cabinet system amendment, failed on its second reading.

The investigating powers were introduced into the original amendment, and the faculty review board suggested it be dropped. The Senate reaffirmed its support of the section, however, and then the board vetoed it.

DEBATE BEGAN almost immediately after the second reading of the bill by the secretary, Senator Ronald Hadaway, who supported the power on the last test, was the first to speak against it. He felt that passage would only antagonize the faculty review board. He felt it would hurt next year's student government.

Senator Bob Drake said he thought that student government had been under the thumb of the administration long enough and that to kill the bill was just to acquiesce again.

PROBABLY the deciding factor in killing the bill was the opposition of president-elect Mary Ruth Summers. "I supported it as a Senator," she said, but as next year's president she was now opposed. She feared poor relations with next year's court system.

Chief justice-elect June Tate sat in the back of the Senate.

WITH AN EYE to the clock, the Senate refused to cite the bill full discussion. The question was

(Continued on Page 4)

Choral Union To Celebrate Music Week

National Music Week will be celebrated at Florida State University by the presentation of an oratorio, "Hora Novissima," by American composer Horatio Parker, sung by the Choral Union Friday at 8:15 p.m.

The chorus will be directed by Herman Gunner, Jr., of the School of Music faculty. Accompanists will be Ramona Cruikshank Beard, organist and assistant dean of the faculty member, and Nancy Hill, student pianist.

THE ORATORIO composer, Parker, was a native of Auburndale, Mass., where he was born in 1863. He wrote "Hora Novissima" at the age of 29. In 1888 it was performed as a choral festival in Worcester, England. Parker, who in his later years was head of the music department at Yale University, taught Walter Ruel Cowles, who recently retired after twenty years of teaching.

Cowles with Wesley Howe when he is judged for her materialism by the highest judge of all, so the story unfolds as the ensemble and chorus pull the poem to music.

SOLOISTS for the evening are Lynn Lonubottom, soprano; Grace Miller, alto; William Dalrymple, tenor, and Edgar Evans, bass.

Accompanists for the evening are Ramona C. Beard, associate professor of music, organist; and Nancy Hill, student of music, pianist.

Circus Climaxed By Suspense Act

"The Flying De Cosmos" captured the final suspenseful moments of the 1952 all student circus performance with clowning Johnny Fortune turning professional aerial performer in the final act.

Along with him there were stars, Leli Pinkston Fay Williams and Jon Mahee. Truman's "The Flying DeCosmos" was their trailer, Jim DeCosmo, assistant to Coach Jack Haskin.

ATTENDANCE at this year's showing pushed past the 2000 mark including the Wednesday night previews audience. A survey of license tags showed many out-of-county and some out-of-state visitors.

Reports were that this year's performance ran more smoothly than any of the past performances with an extra amount of breathless wonder at the daring of the student performers.

SHIRLEY KNIGHT and Fred Darkow in their iron jaw specialty had the audience wondering when Shirley fell into the safety net, one of the 100 on the safety measures accounted for by Jack Haskin.

Dick Slade, Dale Blair and Anne Yates held the "Swing and Sway" act on the cola-rola.

Jaime Belcher held the spotlight in Butterfly Fantasy, a web ballet.

THE BICYCLE trios called "Wheels A Rollin" were manned by Fred Darkow, Jeanne Ruhrer, Leonore Windham, Virginia Miller Billie Dickson and Verner Nelson.

Jeti Munroe and Helen Arnold displayed a daring spirit on the high balancing ladder in the act, "Stratosphere Queens." Jett also added a new note to the act when she stood on her head on one end of the balancing ladder while Helen held the other end.

ANN SPENCER and Jeti Munroe whistled through the air in a black-out when all in evidence before the audience eyes were the luminescent green and purple uniforms worn by the two students.

Jet also won the audience approval in her clowning act, as the sad faced clown with the lily who rode the unicycle.

Other acts included "Havana Moon" "Whirling Dervishes" "Poetry in Motion," "Black Magic" a double trapeze "Under the Big Top", a clown alley "Command Performance", "Ridin' High Wide and Handsome", "Bolero", "A Symphony in White", "The Star Dusters in a balancing perch pole", "Reflections", "Top Hat and Tails" "clown alley again in "Chalk faced Convusions', a waltz line of corset girls in "Dream Portrait" clowns on the tight wire and "An Indian Myth."

THE TROUPE in between acts assembled gifts to their trainers Coach Jack Haskin; his assistant DeCosmo, and Charlie Floyd.

The prediction by Haskin and DeCosmo proved true that this fifth year show would be "finer and more elaborate" than any of the previous four productions.

Installation Services

The University Government association will have their annual installation of officers May 14 at 8 p.m. in the Longmire auditorium.

Immediately following the installation a reception will be held. Will Pennell, president stated that notices will be sent to all participating students.

Plans for the installation will be announced in the Friday edition of the Flambeau

Leonard Warren Metropolitan Star Appears At FSU

Leonard Warren, Metropolitan Opera star, appeared last night in a concert held in the Music amphitheater. The "Met" star has a repertoire of more than 22 operas.

The program included Handel's O Ruddier Than the Cherry' from Acis and Galatea and "Ombra mai fu" from Xerxes. He also sang an aria, "Credo from Verdi's Otello, Bizet's 'Aria De' and Mandy's 'Madrigal,' as well as 'Seben Crudele' by Caldara, "Le Berceau" by Faure and 'Chanson a Boire by Ravel.

OTHER CLASSICS on the program were selections from Donizetti's Faust, Franz Schubert's Impromptu Op. 90, No. 3, and Brahms Rhapsody, Opus 79, No. 2.

Luther scores included 'Every time That I can Sin' by Bond and Fennom, "There Is a Lady Sweet and Kind" by Dow, When Love Is Kind by Ireland and Mister Jim" by Malotte.

WARREN a Columbus, Ohio native graduated from Columbus University and decided to follow a business career until he got fired from his first job for singing while at work. After that he sang for three years in the Radio City Music Hall before he went to the

(Continued on Page 4)

Leadership Meet Site Is Announced As Flastacowo

Lantana Flastacowo will be the site for the second annual Leadership Conference sponsored jointly by Phi Delta Kappa and Mortar Board, to be held the week of May 17 and 18.

The conference will begin Saturday morning with the keynote address by President Doak S. Campbell, to be followed by discussion groups in the areas of student government, public relations, facilities, ...

STUDENTS attending may stay at the camp. The final ... will be adjourned about noon Sunday.

Anyone is welcome to attend," said Marjorie Hendricksen, co-chairman of the conference with Dick Bradley. Invitations have been extended to former and future student officers including presidents, vice-presidents, and managers, secretaries, social chairmen, cabinet members and secretaries, senators, junior prom queen and sponsors and also

MEMBERS of the student committee are Mary Ruth Summers, Bill Dunn, Milton Carolyn Oula, Marcia Bob Canada, Bill Mulls, Joy Moore.

Faculty committee consists Mrs. Ida Mae McBride of Women, Katherine Warren F Carr, assistant dean Elizabeth Lynn, assistant women; J. Broward Culpepper, director of student welfare; Alexander, assistant professor of physical education; Herman, counselor of ...ities, William L. Leap, social professor, and Wesley ...ver, associate professor of ...

Mecklenatra

Cooper Elected Prexy

Dr. Irvin Cooper, professor of education has been elected dent of the International ...ul of School of Music, an ...ization designed to promote ...ter-national relations ... with school music festivals. ...roup is planning an international festival to be held within next two years.

Dr. Cooper has recently received ... of his latest publication, ... book of songs for school ... entitled "Music the Whole World Sings." Cooper is editor of Units I and VI of the volume, which is published by Silver-Burdett Co.

Kuder Test Offered

The Kuder Preference Test will be given tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in 214 Education building. Students wishing to take the test should sign on the bulletin board in 203 Westcott now. The preference test is to assist the student in his vocational choice.

FIPA, FSGA Discuss Goals at Miami Convo

The ideals and goals of a working press and a democratic government were discussed from the Florida Intercollegiate Press association and the Florida Student Government association at the opening address in Miami last week-end.

Fred Routh assistant profesor of human relations at the University of Miami, told the two groups, "The basis of democracy is the free press . . . there is not anything that can be taught in the classroom, it must be practiced. Every student should have an understanding of government with him from college . . . the most important part of a University is not the faculty, but the student body."

THE FLORIDA Intercollegiate Press association spent most of their time grading high school newspapers.

Joan Ehrenfeiger, Flambeau delegate assisted in the judging of make-up which she termed as difficult. Joan was also elected new editor of the FIPA bulletin formerly edited by Bill Dunn, Flambeau editor-elect for next year.

Dunn was elected vice-president for next year.

AFTER necessary revisions, a rating sheet, comment sheet and two pages of each newspaper submitted were attached and passed on from one person to another until all categories were judged.

Ratings were listed as first, second and third class. First class winners will be in the top of the list, the second in the second 10 per cent in the second division and the third class will compose the final 40 per cent.

FORMER SENATOR Claude Pepper was guest speaker at the closing banquet. Pepper challenged the students in government and publications in Florida to the same service to God and his country would like to see the day when political campaigns would be run on personal issues.

The FSGA passed a resolution about looking into the possibility of reducing the cost of text books by printing only those that are covers instead of the hard bound type which are presented by the FSU delegation.

During the government discussions, the problems of communism in student government and relationships with the administration and faculty, internal problems of the government and student body relations and student government and off-campus relations.

FALL CONVENTION site is Belhaven College, Belhaven-Cookman college, with Barry College, the alternate.

Elected president of FIPA was Bruce Lee, Rollins; treasurer, Dr. Harrison, Jacksonville Junior college; secretary, Bettianne Anderson, FSC; corresponding secretary appointed by the president, Marcia Mattox, Rollins.

Student government officers elected were Jon Dunn-Rankin, Rollins as president, Charles Teed of Belhaven Cookman vice-president; Fred Spencer, Tampa University, secretary-treasurer and Wayne Whitaker University of Miami, parliamentarian.

Meteorology Profs Attend Meeting

Dr. Wouter Baerker and Dr. Harry Wexler of the meteorology department will participate in national meetings of the American Meteorological Society and the American Geophysical Union in Washington, D. C., May 5 through 9.

Dr. Bierker will present a paper on "The Influence of Heating and Cooling the Microstructure of the Surface Pressure Field." Dr. Gleeson will present a paper, "Effects of Various Factors on Valley Winds."

Dr. Gleeson will also so to Boston to participate in a symposium on climatic changes, being held May 9 and 10 under the sponsorship of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Huey Sets Quota At 392 Pint Goal For Blood Drive

Florida State University's spring blood drive, with a quota of 392 pints, will start one week from this Tuesday and the quota is still short. Mac Huey, drive chairman, stated Monday.

Scheduled again in the PSU infirmary, the drive will run Tuesday and Wednesday, but if the quota is filled by Wednesday the drive will end a day early.

The fourth blood drive captain meetings will begin promptly at 5 Thursday in the Longmire auditorium. Huey informed, and all groups are expected to have their representatives present. He urged sororities, fraternities, men dormitories, and women dorms to send their captains.

As of last Friday, only three fraternities and eight sororities have turned in their pledge reports.

Trophies will be given to the two groups that donate the greatest percentage of blood. The trophy will be donated by Alford Brothers, local men's store to the men's "F" club, which is sponsoring the campus blood drive

BLOOD DRIVE CAPTAINS—Mac Huey, chairman at the "!" Club campus blood drive, is shown receiving pledges from captains at the last meeting. Left to right are: Barb-'s Jones, Sue Collier, Jim Bishop, Shirley Trexler, Nancy Sessoman, Mac Huey, chairman, J. W. Sikes, Margaret Barnett, Thomas Ard, Florida Cline, and David Collins.

Final Exam Set For Jr. English

The last Junior English examination of the semester will be given May 22 from 5 until 6:30 p.m. Room assignments have been posted on the History building bulletin board.

Students required to take the examination are all transfers who have not had it before, all juniors and seniors who for special reasons were deferred and all sophomores who will be juniors next semester. No one will be permitted to repeat the examination.

ELIGIBLE students who fail to take the examination will be assessed a five-dollar deferment fee to be paid prior to the next registration. Students who were passed contingent on failing to take the last examination will present their deficiency fee receipt at the door May 22.

Sophomores who have doubt about their standing in the literature's office are to check the room assignment to be posted in the Main building. Sophomores with a minimum of 42 hours now are expected to take the test.

STUDENTS whose examinations indicate a need for remedial work will be assigned to Junior English classes at the next registration.

Before the time of the examination students with contracts should clear their schedules in the Junior English office.

Ideals Make Nations Says Meyer to ODK

"It is not ideas, but ideals that make men and nations great," Dr. Samuel L. Meyer, Florida State professor of botany, stated Friday night in an address before the South-eastern province convention of Omicron Delta Kappa.

The Florida State University circle was host to the two-day convention of the national leadership-scholastic honorary society here.

DR. MEYER said that there is a great need for men of vision, men creative and courageous to act boldly to make the ideals of right, truth, honor, and faith come true today.

"However," he continued, "when ideals catch on, and men live the ideas, when they are satisfied with their work, they are lost."

For the 20 members of ODK, which recognized outstanding college students and faculty members, the crusaders of the ideals that will improve their communities, nations, and world.

"NEVER BEFORE in the history of this nation was there a greater demand for leadership than in the present day. You, young men, have been honored by election into ODK."

He then called for the men to learn the expression from Kipling's 'Explorer.' Something hidden, Something lost beyond the ranges, and 'wishing for you . . . over yonder. Go you there."

QUOTING another phrase, "Hitch your wagon to a star." Dr. Meyer said that the star was such is the summary of human achievement and an everlasting inspiration to the future races of men.

"Through the revolving centuries every advance by human beings toward the ultimate goal, has been led by some valiant dreamer who has fixed his hope upon his dare and goal."

IN REGARD the members of ODK as tomorrow's leader he reminded them as the star stands so does every man his greatest achievements.

The convention ended with a business meeting presided over by Bradshaw Jones, deputy of the Southeastern province.

The 18 universities represented by the Southeast Province are Davidson College, Duke University, Florida State, Florida University, Georgia Institute of Technology, University of Georgia, University of North Carolina, Rollins College, Stetson, and Wake Forest College.

Circle "K" Sponsors FSU Clothing Drive

A two week campus wide clothing drive, sponsored by Circle K, started yesterday in an effort to aid stricken of the Missouri flood, and tornado.

Especially wanted is used winter clothing which the students will replace before next year and do not want to go to the expense of shipping home.

There are collection centers in each dormitory, fraternity and sorority house.

The clothes will be picked up by members of Circle K at the end of each week. Circle K will then arrange for packing and shipping the clothes

Standard Scandal Picture Seen In Athletics By AEC

Throughout the series of athletic scandals which have broken in colleges and universities all over the country, there has usually been more criticism of "the system" than of individuals.

Recognizing a rather standardized pattern behind these scandals, the Executive Committee of the American Council on Education has issued recommendations from its Special Committee on Athletic Policy. Some of the recommendations are summarized below:

Above all the Committee stressed the other departments, between athletes and other departments, between athletes and other students.

Departments of athletics should be on the same level and subject to the same control as other departments; members should have the same status and salary scales of other faculty members of comparable rank.

The same admission standards should apply to all students the committee felt. Athletes should be enrolled in academic programs leading to a recognized degree and making normal progress.

All scholarships and grants-in-aid for athletes should be administered by the same authorities which handle financial aid for other students. "Athletes holding scholarships or grants-in-aids should be required to meet the same standards of academic performance and economic need as are required of all other recipients."

The institution, the Committee said should publish an accurate statement of the qualifications for each available type of financial aid and be strictly accountable for adherin gto the published qualifications, including their renewal.

The institution should publish the names of all freshmen and varsity members, with the type and amount of aid, if any granted to them. It should release the averages for male athletes receiving financial help or work opportunities as compared with other male students receiving similar aid.

Definite seasons of about three and one-half months for football basketball and baseball were recommended, and it was urged that post-season games not be permitted. To quote from the report:

"These recommendations have the following purposes: to eliminate bowl games, post-season tournaments, and in-season off-campus tournaments not under institutional auspices, all of which, in the opinion of the Committee, have exerted great pressure on many institutions to produce winning teams at any price; and to protect students from excessive demands on their time and energies, which should be devoted primarily to academic pursuits."

Finally the Committee felt it essential to eliminate abuses in recruiting athletes. It recommended that no athletic representatives be allowed to offer financial or equivalent inducements to any prospective student. No institution should conduct or permit in its name any program at which prospective students display their abilities in any branch of athletics. The institution should not allow entertainment or payment of traveling expenses for prospective athletes in excess of the allowance for other prospective students.

These recommendations, which sound reasonable and fair, are sorely needed. Their adoption would go far toward eliminating the bad results of bad athletic practices throughout the nation.

● SENATE IS FARSE

The Student senate, largest farce on campus, always wailing about administration oppression, performed their latest monkey antics for a few privileged witnesses yesterday afternoon.

Jere Salyers, the outgoing ring master, conducted the holdover from the clown section of the student circus, with amazing ability.

Cat calls, all in order, and wide and wondrous statements about the financial condition of publications, from the representatives that don't know an ad lay-out from a news-story, were main topics of debate.

One object of ridicule was the attorney general bill, aptly defeated by the girls by a not so close hand vote. Constant worker for the bill, Mary Ruth Summers, voted against her bill. Why? Rumored administration pressure!

The second object of much fun making was a report on Smoke Signals' printer statements on the actual facts of the much delayed issue. The senate completely debunked the printers' statements, and withheld their belief in Editor Smith's statement that he would give 56 pages before May 31, when classes end.

The full total is paid for by the students and Joel has faithfully promised that he will deliver the remaining issues on time. He has 25 days to produce.

Personalities, and not student business, was the theme for the Three ring senate circus. At times in complete chaos, the so-called legislative body had about as much order as drunk monkeys in a whirling barrel.

● ABOUT "QUALITY"

A sign?

Is it a warning when students (as witnessed in a letter to the editor today) value and esteem that as being of quality, old pictures and stale jokes and that as being pulp, a discussion of UMT, or an evaluation of academic standards, or an informative comment on student enrollment?

Agreed the student newspaper will offend some "students" when it comments on the issues affecting college life, but to receive the name Sandpaper, pleases the staff.

Perhaps it might scratch through the dense shell some student immediately construction over their minds to all intellectual thought on the college campus.

If the Flambeau has "irritated" some student thought on some of the major issues discussed, whether it be the Arkansas Plan or the student apathy on campus, or some phase of student government, then we are fulfilling one part of our objective.

Because any intellectual thought or discussion would irritate some students on this campus, we are not ashamed nor worried by his minority.

For they have their student publication also . . . full of jokes and pictures of their 'quality.'

● MUSEUM NOTES

Many of the textiles woven by the ancient Peruvians are so complex that modern machinery cannot even duplicate them. On display at the University Museum you can see some of these Puruvian textiles that have defied age and the elements for some 1,500 years.

• • •

Did you know that head shrinking is still being practiced by an Indian tribe in the upper Amazon valley. Visit the University Museum and see a Jivaro Indian warrior who did not quite make the team.

• • •

Football games at Doak S Campbell Stadium are not aken as seriously as those once played by the Creek Indians. Games were quite rough—limbs were broken and players killed. See a reconstructed model of a Creek ball-game at the University Museum.

For debate:

Is a diploma the symbol or object of four years of college education?

Thomas Answers Woodrich

By JERRY THOMAS

I enjoyed Mr. Gene Lawler's article in Tuesday's Flambeau, however, in all justice, I would like to correct the statements he quoted from Mr. Bob Ryals, who Lawler stated was a "henchman for FSU's McCarty campaign manager."

(1) The quote taken fom the Tampa Sunday Tribune was correctly quoted from Bill Baalock and not Clyde [illegible] Shaffer. The archives will bear out the authenticity of this statement.

(2) Mr Ryals [illegible]ld further have you believe that the University of Florida theme song was sung only at Gainesville. Their theme song has been sung aracading each of Dan McCarty's speeches throughout the State (With Tal[illegible]ssee, of course, being the exception.)

(3) Furthermore, Mr. Rya[illegible] states that "F.S.U. has graduated very few men now old enough to be appointed to the Board of Control by any Governor . . ." Mr Ryals is incorrect and will do well to check the considerably large number of FSU alumnus who are old enough to meet the age requirements. (Confidentially, the age limit is twenty-one.) And may I ask Rya[illegible] this: What is to keep women grad[illegible] of FSU from serving on the Board? There is no law preventing this—Governor Warren recently set a precedent by appointing Mrs. DuPont to serve on this Board.

Lawler and Ryals will also do well to note that NONE of the seven pr[illegible]t members of the Board of Control are graduates of FSU.

Although Mr. Bob Woodrich's vile and obscene letter failed to challenge any point in my article I shall nevertheless answer his letter in enumerated form, with the remaining space allowed me by the Flambeau. I shall not however, resort to name-calling as he did, for I feel that such tactics are wholly unethical.

(1) I can somewhat understand Woodrich's complete lack of interest in the election of our State's officials. I suppose that his having been too young to vote has somewhat benumbed his interest. I cannot however overlook that one of his Fraternity brothers is somewhat of a co-Chairman for Dan McCarty when the regular campus Chairman is out of town. Need I say more?

(2) Woodrich states that I am attempting to launch my own political career. If that were the case, I would have jumped on Dan McCarty's band wagon. He has been running for Governor for over five years and has been conceded by all f[illegible] the very start, as having the bigge[illegible] advantage in this race.

Contrary to the picture Woodrich has attempted to paint of me, I jump on no man's bandwagon. I study the qualifications of a candidate—not his possibility of winning.

I am voting for an honest, intelligent, God-fearing man who I feel is qualified to serve our State and Her people, and whether he w[illegible] or lose[illegible], I shall feel that my vote was righteously cast.

As for my immediate career, Mr. Woodrich, [illegible] I [illegible] Leader [illegible] the U. S. Marine Corps an[illegible] commence active duty this July. In lieu of Woodrich's emotional and unethical approach to a subject, I suppose he could brand this move as political).

(3) Woodrich next goes into a frenzy about this article "dragging everyone" [illegible] the political picture. He overlooks completely, if not purposely that the article appearing next to mine showed that the President of the Student Body was for McCarty, and that your President Woodrich, not a mere graduate student is an active Campaign Manager for a gubernatorial candidate. And yet, you have the audacity to assail me.

After two years of college, it appears that Woodrich should have learned the purpose of a by-line. Even without this knowledge he could have at least read the headlines placed over this article by the Flambeau, [illegible] read: GRADUATE STUDENT THOMAS CHARGES CANDIDATE McCARTHY WITH U OF F BIAS. The Flambeau headline did not say "FSU Students Charge Candidate McCarty"; the headline did not say "The Administration Charges Candidate McCarty"; the headline did not say "Florida Flambeau Charges Candidate McCarty", nor did the headline say or indicate as Woodrich claims, that "Bob Woodrich Charges Candidate McCarty." The headline read that Thomas charges McCarty. The byline also bore this out.

(5) And lastly Mr Woodrich "sincerely [illegible]pes" that the Administration take immediate action concerning this article. Can this be so? I can still remember his reverberating statements, when he was a student senator about the necessity of the Administration keeping their hands off the Flambeau. And now in emotional desperation, he turns to the administration. Need I say more?

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

A FAIRY TALE TOLD BY SNORTSEFBOOBLE . . .

By FRANCES CAWTHON

The fairy tale of the great institution of the soda counter . . .

Once upon a time not too long ago a student called Snortselfooble was up town doing research work for his term paper, which was entitled, "The Mathematics of Spherical Bodies." He had been studying the shapes and color variations of numerous cue-balls all day long, when finally, exhausted and faint with hunger, he decided to go feed his face.

Snortselfooble was feeling good when he walked into the long chrome room and sat himself down at the counter. He had done a lot toward the completion of his theme. Two dollars and sixty-five cents worth. Now he could at least buy the paper and pay someone to type it. That is, if he ever got it written.

He had been sitting there mulling over his great energy and accomplishments when a figure in white passed him. He smiled expectantly. It glared a minute and then came back to him. A greasy menu was slapped down in front of him and the mysterious white thing with the arge-like expression disappeared.

Snortselfooble read the menu. He read it again. In fact, he read it six times and even memorized the appetizers. All this time he was getting weaker and weaker from starvation, but no one came to his aid.

After he had drawn pictures all over the menu to keep his mind off his plight and was now in such a sad state that only his nose was above the counter, poor Snortselfooble saw the white one coming toward him.

He did not know if he was going to be killed or she would turn into his fairy godmother. Anyway, he had to chance it.

"Waitress . . ." he called weakly.

"I'm coming," she griped as she approached and towered above him. "Whatcha want." She poised a pencil with a dagger point over a pad.

Snortselfooble tried to get his nose up off the counter.

"Pimiento cheese sandwich," he read cross-eyedly.

"Ain't got it," she grinned fiendishly with a try-again-I-dare-you attitude.

"Tuna fish salad," mumbled Snortselfooble.

"Ain't got that either," she bellowed, rubbing her hands together.

"Hamburger . . ." moaned Snortselfooble, by this time with his nose back on the counter.

She took defeat graciously and 30 minutes later brought him back one burnt bun enclosing a dash of raw hamburged meat and a cup of coffee which he didn't order. She watched him gobble it down.

"What kind of pie have you?" asked Snortselfooble brightly, some of the color returning to his face.

"Apple, cherry," she turned to the pie display, "umm, mumble, snift, and peach!" she concluded triumphantly as she swung her head back to him.

"I'll take some snift with a scoop of ice cream," he said watching her closely under crooked eyebrows. He was feeling brave now.

"Whatsa matter. You a smart-aleck, or sumthin'?"

"Apple," he answered wearily.

After going to Washington state for the apples, she returned with the pie, which he found on investigation had only one slice anyway. Being a math major and curious about odd dimensions, Snortselfooble measured the pie with his eyes. "One inch at the thickest part," he complained. He ate it in silence and got up to leave.

"Some cheapskate," he heard the white figure mumble as she runaged around in the debris for a tip. He chuckled devilishly to himself as he paid the check and walked out into the free clear air.

He would have liked to work on his theme, but the experience had been too shaking. He couldn't even study cue-balls with accuracy now. Sadly he followed the beacon of a neon Schlitz sign down the street.

Moral? He Who Eats Last Has Eaten at Home.

THE ODHAM STORY

HOT QUESTION: WILL ODHAM PASS ADAMS?

By EMORY KING

In the past several weeks of red hot, rip-roaring campaigning throughout Florida by the three men running for governor one has offered to talk about the issue, name names, and give the voters a chance to ask him questions.

Brailey Odham, of Sanford, the businessman and ex-legislator has burned up the roads and the airways telling the people of Florida the truth and demanding that they ask him what he stands for and what he will do about them if they elect him.

Odham, not having the financial resources that characterize his two opponents, has frankly asked the average man on the street and the people in their homes to donate to his "Dollars for Decency" program. Everywhere he goes the people listen, believe and donate.

Most of the donations are for $1 and they come from the people who aren't looking for favors and contracts and deals when Odham becomes governor.

In his talkathons throughout the state he answers hundreds of questions concerning state government, his personal life and convictions, his platform, and what he intends to do for the state.

The remarkable and entirely unheard of practice of submitting himself to public questioning has met with tremendous success and approval from the people of Florida.

His enemies use the question period to try and make Odham look bad. However Odham answers all questions frankly and honestly whether he believes it will help him or not.

"The people," Odham contends, "are entitled to know just what the men they elect really intend to do while they run the biggest business in the state for four years."

Odham hasn't the money to spend for posters and a lot of pamphlets telling the people about him. Instead he uses the radio and the donations from listeners pay the cost.

The old professional politicians in Florida declared that Brailey Odham didn't have a chance to win when he entered the race. They reasoned that a man without any big money behind him could not stay in the race, but Odham showed them. As they predicted from week to week, that Odham would have to quit, he was collecting money from the common man. The people who believed in him from his own Seminole county collected $600 in $1 bills to pay his qualifying fee.

The dollars have been pouring in but still Odham has collected and spent less than half of that of his two opponents.

A young man on fire with his conviction that illegal gambling and graft in the state government must go, Odham is reaching into the grass roots of Florida and coming up with the little man's vote.

Political writers who tagged Odham as trailing number three candidate last week began to agree that he had now gathered enough support to seriously threaten McCarty—and enough to pass Adams and move into second place.

SMOKING POLL

Frosh Co-Eds Say Nix to Smoking

(ACP)—If you are a freshman coed, you ar the least likely among students to approve of smoking in the classroom, according to results of the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students in general disapprove of smoking in the classroom two to one, but freshmen and women are much stronger in their disapproval. Most frequently mentioned reason of thos who oppose classroom smoking is consideration for non-smokers.

"It's downright irritating to the people who don't smoke," declares a senior coed studying to be a teacher.

Students across the nation were asked: In general, do you approve or disapprove of students smoking during classroom sessions? The results:

1. Approve	29	per cent
2. Disapprove	58	per cent
3. No opinion	9	per cent
4. Other	4	per cent

For men the figures are: Approve, 32 per cent; disapprove, 54 per cent. For women: Approve, 24 per cent; disapprove, 65 per cent.

"It's alright if there's proper ventilation," says a student at La Crosse State College, Wisconsin.

And a coed majoring in physical education at Michigan Teachers College declares, "For safety purposes I don't think it would be wise. It might also make it uncomfortable for non-smokers although you can get used to it."

There is an unmistakable trend toward "approval" from freshmen to graduate students. Here's the way it stands:

	Approve	Disapprove
1. Freshmen	25 pct.	63 pct.
2. Sophomores	28 pct.	58 pct.
3. Juniors	31 pct.	56 pct.
4. Seniors	34 pct.	55 pct.
5. Graduates	42 pct.	46 pct.

"There's a time and place for everything," says a disapproving freshman at Belleville Junior College, "and the classroom is not one of those places."

But a senior at Florida State University approves of classroom smoking and sums up his reasons in two words: "I smoke."

Froman Story Applauded; 'Deadline USA' Rated 2nd

BY DAVID DREIS

(Comments and ratings are based on the comments and ratings of leading periodicals. The rating scale: 10-Superior; 9-Excellent; 8-Good; 7-Better than Fair; 6-Fair; 5-Average; 4-Less than Average; 3-Poor; 2-You can sit through it; 1-Skip it.)

With a Song In My Heart Rating: 10

The Life of Jane Froman and the tragedy of a plane crash in which her leg was injured is dramatically portrayed by Susan Hayward, Rory Calhoun, David Wayne and Thelma Ritter, in its last day today at the State theater. Jane Froman's voice is used for Susan Hayward's motions a-la-"Jolson Story" Don't miss this technicolor musical masterpiece as it is considered to be one of the best musicals of this or any year.

Young Man With Ideas Rating: 7

Glenn Ford tries to find out about women in this picture and with women like Denise Darcel in all her French manner, Nina Foch in her society ways, along with wife Ruth Roman and Donna Corcoran, you can sure find out a lot. The picture is definitely funny but in many places cliche situations exist. It's showing at the Florida for the last time today.

Deadline U. S. A. Rating: 8

Humphrey Bogart a threat to the underworld that "you can kill me, but you can't kill a newspaper" achieves dramatic success as he puts fear into the hearts of the racketeers. Kim Hunter, an actress in her own right is co-starred along with stage and screen veteran Ethel Barrymore. It opens tomorrow through Sat. at the Florida.

Belles On Their Toes Rating: 8

The same family of "Cheaper By the Dozen" is back with an all-star cast in this technicolor comedy of the early years of our century. Jeanne Crain and Jeffrey Hunter are back together again since "Take Care of My Little Girl" and Myrna Loy, Debra Paget, Edward Arnold, Barbara Bates and Robert Arthur are in it too. Songs are by Hoagy Carmichael who's there to sing them. It'll provide a lot of amusement as the mother starts taking over the father's past business now that he's passed away. Clifton Webb played the father in the last picture and this takes up where the last picture left off. Starts Wed. at the State.

Campus Character

By STAN SCHMIDT

Potpourri . . .

And I could have sworn Kubla Khan wouldn't draw flies if he and 9,000 followers pranced into the Amphitheatre. But they were all on hand to hang on the words of the guy Johnny McCary calls Tennessee's Dick Tracy.

The Senator immediately revealed himself to be on all sides of all issues.

He is unequivocally for (a) the idle rich, (b) the slaving rich, (c) the in-betweeners, (d) the man in the mine shaft (getting same), (e) those too damn lazy to work.

P.S. He's also "in favor of housing" . . . Well.

And downtown the Senator from Georgia surrounded by sycophants discussed plans for the burning of Washington and moving the capitol to Thomasville.

• • •

America is a Nation of joiners—two Americans can't meet on the street without one rapping a gavel and calling the other to order (stolen from Will Rogers).

Still time to check all that fabulous flesh that puts over this year's Circus . . .

Hear tell Trampoline champ Dick Gutting has talked diving ace Pat Farrell off the board and on the canvas . . .

Speaking of Farrell, his apartment is the end, a la Bohemia. Window seats, modern art and all that. . . .

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babs Henry ...... Managing Editor

Hazel Morrison ...... News Editor

Associate Editor ...... Francis Cawthon, Bruce G[illegible]

Sports Editor ...... Tom Sands

Society Editor ...... Marc [illegible]

Assistant News Editor ...... June Morgan

Assistant Society Editor ...... Judy S[illegible]

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ...... Pat Robinson

Exchange Editor ...... Ann Ha[illegible]

Assistants ...... Jo Hall, Louis Caldroni, Fe Pittman, Steve Za[illegible]

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-800 Ext. 4821 second Floor, Alumni Bu[illegible]

The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida.

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor . . .

Irritated

Dear Editor,

I have recently noted that spring is in the air. Not only by the traditional signs of birds, sunshine, and coast trips, but also by the acrimony that appears in The Flambeau showing that the poor editor no doubt needs a dose of sulphur and molasses.

In case you need a concrete illustration of what I'm talking about, I give you the Smoke Signals controversy. I don't know how the rest of the students feel about the new Smoke Signals, but I for one think it's a pretty fine issue. As for the amount of copies per year, it is true that the Smoke Signals is cutting down on these, but I believe it has made up in interest and quality what it lacks in quantity.

I would like to make a few personal observations that I have noted over the past four years. Whereas the Flambeau has been increasing its output to 2 nice issues per week the Smoke Signals (and its literary predecessors) have decreased to approximately two issues per semester. Also, whereas the Flambeau has decreased its quality, accuracy, and interest to that of pulp, the Smoke Signals has been increasing its articles of interest to the students. The students wanted a humorous magazine—editor Joe Smith gave them a darn good one. As for me, 2 issues of Smoke Signals are far more interesting than a full semester of Flambeaus.

Since you cast the first stone at disunity and un-cooperation of student publications, I will [illegible] and suggest you change the name of the Flambeau. It used to have a reputation way back when (When it was worth reading from cover to cover). I suggest a new name descriptive of its quality . . . the Weekly Sandpaper because it irritates so many people, and especially

Jack D. L. Holmes.

Scullions Conclude 'Hotel-For-A-Day' At Wakulla Lodge

A banquet and entertainment in the style of the Old South climaxed weeks of planning by the Scullions, club of restaurant and hotel management students, at Wakulla Springs Friday.

The "Hotel-For-A-Day" program, which was entitled "Down Plantation Way," featured guest speaker, Stuart Hockenbury, vice-president of the American Hotel Corporation and son of the originator of the famous Hockenbury plan for hotels. Other prominent hotel officials also attended the all-student produced event.

Hockenbury and hotel executive Edward Jones were also initiated into the Scullions by Jim Brady, club president, who presented the two with silver spoons as tokens of their membership.

Ralph Oleson was general manager for this year's "Hotel-For-A-Day" program. Miss Gladys Hall and Dr. Donald Lundberg, of the department of restaurant and hotel management, acted in an advisory capacity.

Confields Honored At Dormitory Tea

A farewell tea honoring Dr. and Mrs. D. Lincoln Canfield, who are leaving for Rochester, New York will be held this Wednesday in Gilchrist.

The staff of the Modern Language Department will also be among the honored guests. Miss Marjorie Judy and Dr Margaret Campbell are to serve at the tea table. Sarah Roton is general chairman forthe tea. Social chairman of Gilchrist is La Verne Jennings.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

It's MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA

LAST TIMES TODAY

'Young Man With Ideas'

With Glenn Ford and Ruth Roman

STARTING WEDNESDAY

Humphrey Bogart in

Deadline U. S. A.

STATE

'With A Song In My Heart'

With Susan Hayward and Rory Calhoun

Belles On Their Toes'

With Jeanne Crain, Myrna Loy and Debra Padget

RITZ

TODAY and WEDNESDAY

'Pandora and The Flying Dutchman'

With Ava Gardner and James Mason

DRIVE-IN

TODAY and WEDNESDAY

Marlon Brando and Teresa Wright in

'The Men'

THURS. thru SATURDAY

John Wayne in

'In Old California'

Also

'Yellow Fin'

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT.

SEE A MOVIE NOW!

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

TECH TOUGHER?— After catching the windup of Virginia Tech's spring football practice, the Atlanta writers are wanted no time in singing the praises for the Yellow Jackets for 1952—and with good reason.

Needless to say, this shouldn't sit well with one Don Veller and his Seminoles who have the honor of going against the pride of Master Bobby Dodd this first time come next Nov. 1 at Grant Field.

Dodd, who's 1951 edition rolled over everything in sight, will lose fellows like All-American Tackle Ray Beck, and Darrell Crawford via graduation, but there's enough left to be real good or better waiting to fill the shoes next Fall.

Of course, trying to replace an All-American in a tough task in any game, but if anyone can do it, Dodd, who's noted for his ability to develop young players, the Atlanta scribes are particularly high on a Freshman quarterback that entered school at the end of the second semester and from that he is capable right now of stepping up where Crawford left last season—a good sized order for an unheard of Frosh.

And West, who pulled up stakes as Director of Sports Publicity five last week and will take over the same position at Tech during June 1, was in Atlanta the same weekend and saw the Freshman game and although he didn't let on much, he didn't need to be a mind reader to see Ned was as high as a kite on the subject.

At any rate, several forecasters who already predicted that the Yellow Jackets will be atop the Southern Conference heap after the 10 games are completed and that if such bad predicting even at all is early date.

* * *

While the shifting of the FSU-Boston tilt from Deland to Orlando should help boost the attendance it won't begin to eliminate entirely the competition for the University of Florida's impending clash with Auburn in Gainesville, although it should help some.

Season Coach Joe Mennillen also announced the change Sunday maintains that the Orlando tilt now scheduled for June 1 should draw upwards of 7,000 fans.

Orlando officials have been over-zealous for some time now to schedule a game in their city and there's probably no team on the Gator card they would rather play than the Seminoles.

Draw or not, if the game does nothing else it will afford the Orlando fans an opportunity to see the Indians in action and likewise will give the Seminoles the chance to perform in another one of Florida's larger cities having already played in Miami, Jacksonville and Tampa.

* * *

Th American Council on Educa-

Trackmen Face Miami Saturday

Swamp Miss. College 86-45 Fof Fifth Win

The FSU trackmen close the season next Saturday when they meet the strong Miami Hurricanes on the west campus track.

On the basis of comparative times, State is the definite favorite in the 100, 220, 440, pole vault, broad jump and the half mile. While the Hurricanes rate high in the javelin, discus and 2 mile. The miler rents are a toss up. Miami's Welbaum has turned in a 3 minute half mile so a close duel is expected between him and State's Bill Wagner.

THE MIAMIANS have also posted distances of 150 feet in the discus and 171 feet in the javelin, both of which exceed any of the distances turned in by FSU.

After the Saturday struggle with U-M, the Seminoles will be entered in the Southeastern and Georgia AAUs later this month.

The Seminoles swept all the field events as they posted a 65 to 45 victory over Mississippi College at Clinton, Saturday. The win was the fifth over a college opponent for the once beaten Seminoles.

The victors were paced by freshman Carlos Faundorfer, who won the broad jump, shot put and discus; his student achievement being a new school record heave of 47 feet 2 inches in the shot put. His broad jump distance was 21 feet 3 inches and he propelled the discus 126 feet, 8 inches.

ANOTHER RECORD was posted by Bill Waggoner in the 440 as he ran it in 2:01.9. The Pennsylvania freshman hasn't been beat this season.

In one of the best times turned in during the day, John Smith did the 220 in 21.7. The State track captain wasn't entered in the 100 but did run instead run the 440, which was won by Woody Parker in 50.5. Both Parker and Poston have done the quarter under 50 seconds this year.

The pole vault was captured by Joe Frascino with a vault of 12 feet 6 inches and Bill Schaefer won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 8 inches.

Freshman Bill Whaley won the javelin for State by heaving the spear 168 feet 6 inches.

ONE OF the four victories posted by the Seminoles in the track events was accomplished by the foursome of Pete Nimkoff, Harvel Haeggertz, Jack Koonce and Bill Waggoner in the mile relay. Their time was 3:35.2

The Mississippi college took a first place in five races, the 100, mile and two mile and both hurdle races.

Indians bopped back into the limelight when they muscled their way over Ohio State in two straight games 15-0, 15-9. Later FSU lost two to the University of Mexico 15-8, 15-7 and closed with a final split against Earlham College 15-6, 9-15.

In the final playoff the University of Mexico successfully defended its championship with George Williams College of Chicago runner-up, and Earlham College third.

The Indian volleyballers placed fourth in the state AAU, third in the Smokey Mountain tourney, and fourth in the Mid-South meet earlier in the season.

Volleyball Six Fails To Place

Florida State University's volleyball team failed to place in the National Intercollegiate volleyball tournament ast week at Columbus Ohio.

Playing in the Ohio State University gym, the Seminoles dropped two games to Springfield College 1-17, 8-15 split with a surprisingly strong George Williams College 15-13, 15-7.

OLYMPIC BOUND—Bill Rootsheim, shown going through his routine on the parallel bars, was named to the 1952 United States Olympic team at the recent AAU-Olympic tryouts along with another FSU performer, Don Haldor. Rootsheim was also a member of the 1948 team.

ATO's Undefeated In Frat League

By JIM EADY

First place in the Fraternity league was taken over last Thursday by undefeated ATO, as they dumped Kappa Sig, 16 to 7 with a 17 hit assault including home runs by David and Raulison.

The ATOs were left alone in the number one spot by virtue of the 6 to 5 loss handed previously unbeaten PEP by Phi Kappa Tau.

Close behind the leader, is Sigma Nu who won their fourth straight over Sigma Chi by an 8 to 5 score. The Sigs had played one game less than the top running ATOs but they made that one up last night when they met last place PIVT.

Another undefeated frat, DTD, played off a tie game, last night with LCA. The two nines battled to a six-all deadlock last Tuesday. And DTD beat PIVT Thursday in spite of homers by the Phi Delt's Faulkner and Szczepanik. Leavitt hit a round-tripper for the winners.

In the other contests Thursday, KA won another extra inning game by scoring a run in the first of the eighth to edge SPE, 13 to 12. It was the second extra inning duel won by the rabels.

SAE, securely anchored in last place, went down to their fifth straight loss at the hands of Theta Chi by a 24 to 2 score.

Score by innings:

	R	H
ATO	020 00—13	15
KS	000 00—12	9

Batteries: ATO—Baldwin, Raulison (6) and Rauliison; KS—Neely, Hecht, Hecht and Neely.

Score by innings:

	R	H
PKP	004 010—5	7
PKT	010 300—6	8

Indians Idle Until Friday; Meet Rollins Here Twice

The Florida State University baseball team swings back into action this weekend after a layoff of nearly two weeks when they meet the Rollins College Tars in a two-game series here this Friday and Saturday.

Coach Ralph Matherly's squad currently enjoying its best season in history has rolled up 15 wins against only three defeats and needs only one win in one of the remaining four games to break the old seasonal won and lost percentage record.

THE WEEKEND tilts, both of which will be night time affairs, will mark the first meeting between the Seminoles and Rollins this year. In their only meeting last season, the FSU nine scored a 9-3 win over the Tars in Winter Park.

In their last outing, the Seminoles blasted out 23 hits in routing Florida Southern 22-11 in a wild slugfest.

After the tilts with Rollins, the Indians will have another week of rest before they meet Stetson in a two game series on May 16 and 17 that will wind up the season.

Seven Seminoles are over the .300 mark in batting. Freshman outfielder Billy Campbell leads the pack with a blistering .448 thanks to a grand day at the plate against Southern. Campbell banged out four hits in four trips to the plate smacked his second home run of the season and drove in five runs.

BEHIND CAMPBELL is the veteran catcher Ronald Melton and Outfielder Wayne Bertner both with .353. Melton who returned to action only last week against Southern, missed several games because of injuries.

Rightfielder Ralph Bilnn is next with a average of .321, followed by another veteran—centerfielder Les Mullen with .319 while first Backer Ken Smith rounds out the .300 club with a respectable .317.

Mullen leads the team in total hits with 23, and is tied with Captain Bob Trowbridge for the leadership in runs scored with 17.

Veteran rightshoulder Ed Lovko and leads the mound state in all departments. He has won six games without a defeat, worked the most games—eight, pitched the most innings—59, and has the most strikeouts—46.

FSU Netters Close Season

A win and a loss climaxed Florida State's tennis season last weekend when the Seminole netters overpowered the Orlando Air Base 9-0 on Friday, and dropped a Saturday contest against the accurate swinging of the Rollins Tars 7-2. This leaves the FSU racquetmen with a won mine, lost five record for '52.

In the match with Rollins on Saturday, Dick Kennedy salvaged the Seminoles' only win in the singles by whipping his Tar opponent 6-4, 6-2, 4-6. In doubles competition, Kennedy paired with Dan Bots to walk off with the only FSU doubles victory 6-2, 10-8.

The day before the Rollins run in the Indians defeated the Airmen of Orlando, blanking the military team 9-0 with the loss of only one set.

FSU-Rollins results with Rollins FSU players listed first:

Singles—Alfredo Mellet beat Jim Berry 6-3, 6-1; Calhoun Dilliard beat Tom Cutsinger, 7-5, 6-3; Jim Wesley lost to Gene Kennedy, 6-8, 6-2, 4-6; Albert Bassi defeated Joe Hartle, 6-2, 6-3; Eduardo Cuervo lost to Bob Bowers, 6-4, 6-4; Bill Scheer beat Dan Bots, 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles—Millet-Bassi defeated Berry-Bots, 6-4, 6-4; Dilliard-Scheer defeated Cuesty-Harris, 6-0, 6-3; Scheer-Bid Marrones lost to Kennedy-Bots, 6-8, 6-10. players listed first:

FSU-Orlando AFB results with

Singles—Jim Berry defeated Harry Griffith, 6-0, 6-4; Tom Cundy defeated Oliver Garrett, 6-0, 6-0; Dave Kennedy beat Jim Kelly, 6-0, 6-0; Harris Bowers beat Tom Kellings, 6-4, 6-1; Jack Bain over Bob Bowers, 6-3, 6-3; Dan Bots over Bob Sauers, 6-0, 6-0.

Doubles—Berry-Bain over Martin-Griffith, 6-4, 6-4; Cundy-Harris over Garrett-Kelly, 6-4, 6-1; Kennedy-Bots over Kellings-Sauers, 6-2, 6-1.

Women's Sports

By BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

Coops, your muscles are showing.

This is one of the favorite sayings that certain boys believe concerning women's sports on this campus.

The girls work very hard in practice on their ODD-EVEN, intramural programs. The boys should give them every bit of consideration and help instead of hindering them with their unnecessary joking about women in sports.

* * *

The ODD softball team went against the EVENS in the first practice game and whipped them by a 5-1 score. The girls are now working on batting, fielding, and base work.

The swimming team under Jo Wade and Betty Lippke, leaders, are working on strokes and coordination. When the time for the two teams to swim against each other comes a close meet should occur.

The tennis girls are working hard on serves, forehand and backhand strokes, and laster part of May.

* * *

The intramural program is again underway with bride, badminton and bowling on the agenda. The sorority girls and dorms are working hard on their ability to increase their teams' standing. The badminton results were not known at press time.

The physical Education majors had an alumnae college May 2, 3 at Camp Flastacowo, and the gymnasium. The college committee consisted of Martha Moore, chairman, Grace Fox, Mary Stapp, Frances Hall, Mildred Anderson, Katherine Montgomery, Rose Alvarez, Betty Lippke, Pat Folsom, Jane McGill, Joan Paris, Jo Powell.

Highlights were the presentation of the contemporary Dance group directed by Nellie-Bond Dickinson; and Tarpon Club directed by Mary Frances Hall!

FSU Batting

Player	G	AB	R	H	Pct.
Billy Campbell	12	36	13	14	.448
Ed Lovko	11	40	14	14	.350
Ronald Melton	13	34	8	12	.353
Wayne Bertner	11	40	14	11	.350
Ralph Bilnn	14	53	17	17	.321
Les Mullen	16	72	23	23	.319
Ken Smith	14	53	15	16	.302
Connor Mills	12	31	6	9	.290
Ed Lovko	6	21	7	7	.333
Bob Trowbridge	17	61	17	19	.311
Rudy Scarpa	9	31	5	9	.290
Harvel Haeggertz	10	31	6	8	.258
Frank Salerno	4	9	1	1	.111
Dicky Newton	4	6	1	1	.167
Johnny Harrison	3	6	1	2	.333
Bob Ruiz	3	3	0	0	.000
Jimmy Haynes	2	3	0	0	.000
Jack Koonce	2	2	1	1	.500
Benny Chesh	2	1	0	0	.000

PITCHING
Player	G	IP	GO	W	L	Pct.
Ed Lovko	6	59	46	6	0	1.000
Bob Trowbridge	17	57	36	4	1	.800
Senzonia	3	20	26	4	1	.800
Rudy Scarpa	9	31	17	2	1	.667
Haynes	2	6	6	0	1	.000

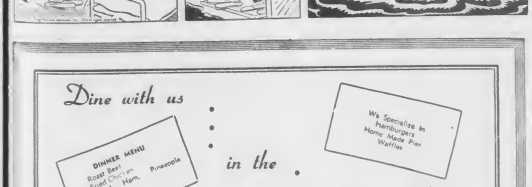
Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 40... THE WHALE

"Wait 'til I come up for air!"

Poor guy was submerged in a veritable sea of cigarette tests! He didn't know whether he should "blow"—or just jettison the whole job! But he fathomed the matter when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness can't be judged in one quick spout! Millions of smokers have found, too, there's a thorough cigarette test!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .



After all the Mildness Tests . . .

Camel leads all other brands by billions

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

Dine with us in the Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

DINNER MENU
Roast Beef
Fried Chicken
Fried Ham
Fried Oysters
Spaghetti
Steaks
Chops
Seafood
Sandwiches
Salads
Desserts
Beverages

We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL AT F. S. U.

ENTER YOUR TEAM TODAY!

WIN THE BIG PRIZES !

Modern Art Exhibit Continues Thru 18th

An exhibition of 45 drawings from the collection of the Museum of Modern Art in New York will be on view in the University Gallery through Sunday, May 18.

These works range in date from 1910 to 1949, and include European and American artists such as Matisse, Leger, de Chirico, Kandinsky, Miro, Dali, Klee, Matta, Modiglinai, Stuart Davis, Kuniyoski, Blume, Graves, and Sheeler, as well as Latin America's Orozco and Portinari.

The exhibition will include wash drawings as well as pencil sketches Cubism, Surrealism, Abstraction and Realism, plus various combinations, type the forms of art on show. The exhibit also will include several figure drawings.

Clubs Are Asked To Make Plans For Campus Chest

All organizations are urged to think about an individual project to raise funds for next year's Campus Chest Margaret Kraseman, chairman for the 1952-53 campaign, has stated.

Miss Kraseman said she is setting up a committee which will be formulating plans for the project. The committee hopes, she said, to get in contact with all organizations on campus by letter within the next two weeks. The faculty will also be contacted in this drive.

The Campus Chest committee will hold a meeting Thursday, May 8, at 8 p.m. in the Music building to further work on plans for the drive.

Since the drive will be soon after coming back to school in the fall term, October 20-24, all organizations should be planning their projects well in advance, Kraseman commented.

Tentative plans for distribution of the money collected include the World Service Fund, 60 percent; Cancer, 10 percent; Red Cross, 10 percent; March of Dimes, 10 percent and miscellaneous 10 percent.

Senate Vetoes Bill

(Continued From Page 1)

[illegible] and on the [illegible] which [illegible] the bill was killed.

In other business the Senate failed to impeach Senators Don Whitehead, Gene [illegible] and Dave Kennedy. Senator John Flynn of the absentee committee announced [illegible] senators had exceeded the three unexcused absences the Senate had [illegible] earlier [illegible].

FLYNN SAID [illegible] was one or more [illegible] of this year's Senate [illegible] examples should be made of these students.

Senators Springer and Summers led the opposition to impeachment. Summers said [illegible] understanding the Senate [illegible] to set up provisions for impeachment under the amendments [illegible] passed [illegible].

ON A ROLL CALL [illegible] Chairman Joe S[illegible] a [illegible].

Editor To Get Pay

Continued from Page 1

[illegible] was not completed [illegible] Sunday, April 20 last [illegible] the first [illegible] appeared. As of Wednesday, April [illegible] only one [illegible] had been [illegible]. The printer estimated at least three weeks [illegible] be necessary to produce the magazine after the [illegible] impossible [illegible] magazine out [illegible].

The finance [illegible] the printer.

THE AGREEMENT between Smoke Signals and Bickley-Newman calls for [illegible] of 20 pages each. The [illegible] completely willing to let Smoke Signals change to [illegible] same total number of pages.

The magazine [illegible] for ten-point type [illegible] printer has allowed [illegible] of eight-point. The eight point is more expensive [illegible] additional charge.

The staff [illegible] in mismarked [illegible] printer has [illegible] changed without additional charge.

Newman [illegible] ed the editor and [illegible] have been [illegible]. He said he believed [illegible] himself in a [illegible] spot [illegible] the printer [illegible] bad.

Tourist Court Operators Arrive For Short Management Course

Over 100 [illegible] operators of Florida [illegible] day Florida Tourist Court Management [illegible] University.

The [illegible] greeted by Dr. A. B. [illegible] FSU vice-president, [illegible] Dr. Frank J. Dame, [illegible] of the School of Business [illegible].

The [illegible] of the Tourist Court Journal of Temple, [illegible] and the FSU department of [illegible] hotel management. [illegible] Court Management [illegible] first of [illegible] Florida [illegible] Lumberman [illegible] partment [illegible] management.

[illegible]

Leonard Warren

(Continued From Page 1)

[illegible]

Majorettes Wanted

[illegible] 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Instrument room 2-4 Music building.

Classified Ads

[illegible] At [illegible] Amplifier [illegible] Joyce Whiddon, 434 N. [illegible]

WHO WILL BE MR. FORMAL AT Florida State University ?

ENTER YOUR TEAM TODAY! WIN THE BIG PRIZES!

RED HOT SPECIAL

Filet Mignon Special At The

Seven Seas

Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

Sans Souci®

Permanently Pleated nylon tricot

Supple permanent pleats create the youthful bodice . . . also the flounce, deep and wide for extra walking freedom. Lovely lace insertion at top and above flounce. Straight back.

Pink or White
Sizes 32-42 . . . $8.95
Also in Extra Sizes
44-48 . . . $10.95
Matching petticoat, too . . .
24-32 waist . . . $5.95
Also in Extra Sizes . . .
34-38 waist . . . $7.95

as advertised in GLAMOUR

P. W. WILSON

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER

JEWELER

102 S. Monroe

Grand Colonial

PATTERN IN

Come in Today and Register your Sterling Pattern Choice

Moon's

MILLER'S Bootery

AWAY FROM HOME ON MOTHER'S DAY?

Buy from Miller's bootery we will ★ Gift wrap

★ Wrap for mailing
★ And mail*

At NO EXTRA Charge to You

Wednesday Morning Special . . . Lady Baxton Billfolds

PLASTIC BILLFOLDS	PASTEL BILLFOLDS	MATCHING SET
$1.00	1.79	5.00

MILLER'S Bootery

College Ave.

He had no wish but—to be glad Nor want but—when he thirst!
The Jolly Beggar

Each frosty bottle of Coke is the answer to thirst . . . each frosty bottle is a bargain, too. Robert Burns would like that!

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

CHESTERFIELD — LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES

3 to 1 because CHESTERFIELD is MUCH MILDER with an extraordinarily good taste and NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*

*From the Report of a Well Known Research Organization

WEST POINT BOUND—Harry J. Raymond, 18, seated, left, is shown looking at his letter fro mthe Department of the Army appointing him to West Point, while being congratulated by Dr. Doak S. Campbell, Florida State University president. Raymond is an FSU freshman student and cadet now in Army Ordnance ROTC. He reports to West Point July 1. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Raymond, are shown looking on. Mr. Raymond is an FSU campus police officer.

Contributions to Spring Blood Drive Accepted Tuesday at FSU Infirmary

Florida State University's spring blood drive will open officially next Tuesday at 9 a.m., when students will begin donating on the fourth floor of the FSU infirmary. Thus far, the number of pints pledged is slightly behind the quota of 392 pints but independents have not turned in all pledges.

The last blood captain meeting was held last night and Chairman Mac Huey outlined the work procedures for the assistant chairmen.

BLOOD PLEDGES from fraternities and sororities have been assigned definite times for donation. Independents are being handled through dormitory organizations, junior counselors for women and monitors for men.

Drive Chairman Huey said that all captains should have their assigned schedule and all persons in their group notified.

THE SPRING DRIVE is being sponsored by the men's "F" club as a project of service to the country and university.

"Florida State University has a state college record both in number of donors and percentage donated in the last drive," Huey informed. "We are behind in our pledging, and I would hate to see us lose this fine record."

Huey stated that all students donating blood would be excused from [illegible] classes [illegible] infirmary excuse.

DONORS ARE [illegible] to eat lightly before [illegible] blood. They should eat no fatty foods and it is best not to eat at all four hours before donating. Students are again reminded that they must be between 18 and 60 and weigh at least 110 pounds. All those under 21 must have the written permission of their parents.

The drive will again operate under the cooperation of doctors, nurses and technicians from the Jacksonville and Leon County blood banks, the FSU infirmary and the school of nursing, the Leon County Medical society, the Leon County Health department, and the Tallahassee Memorial hospital.

THE PROCEDURE for donation is as follows: [illegible]

FACULTY MEMBERS are [illegible] 45 at [illegible] and all [illegible] of the quota is [illegible].

Trophies will be awarded fo[illegible] Greek group t[illegible] two trophies are being awarded by Alford Bro[illegible] men's store and the men's F [illegible].

THE UNIVERSITY of Florida [illegible] time. FSU was ahead by only 24 pints donated. The fall drive was sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary for men and collected 577 pints for the Armed Forces "Blood for Korea" campaign.

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 52 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, May 9, 1952

UGA Installation Set for Wednesday

Final plans for next Wednesday's University Government association installation are under way. The ceremony will take place in the Longmire auditorium at 8 p. m.

"The entire student body is invited to attend and we hope to have a large turn-out," Jo Nell Proctor UGA secretary said.

Guest speaker for the evening will be J Broward Culpepper Dean of Student Welfare, Jo Nell reported. Both Will Pennell and Mary Ruth Summers, out-going and incoming UGA presidents respectively will present brief talks also.

Those to be installed are the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer forums chairman, the senators, court members and the University Recreation Association president.

Editors of the three publications and the three class presidents will also be installed. Notice will be sent to all who are supposed to attend.

A reception will follow the installation in the large lounge on the first floor.

Publicity for the installation is being handled by Freshman Flukkic. Over-all chairmen are Jo Nell Proctor and Sue Saxon UGA secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Shaw Announces Fall Dormitory Rent Remains Unchanged

Dormitory rent will not be increased next fall R K Shaw, business manager for Florida State University announced yesterday. This quells the rumors circulating on campus that there will be a decided increase this year's rents.

According to the new catalog just out the only increase in student fees will be the $25 a semester student activity fee which is included in the registration fee.

The equipment for the bookstore and cafeteria are expected during June, said Shaw. As plans now stand it is hoped that the post office boxes will be moved to the new student building between commencement and the beginning of the summer session. Shaw said if the bookstore and cafeteria equipment does come in during June, plans will be formulated to open the building on July 1.

Choral Group Stages Oratorio Tonight at 8:15

"Hora Novissima," an oratorio by American composer Horatio Parker, will be presented by the Choral Union tonight at 8:15 p. m. in the Opperman Music Hall. The program will be in recognition of National Music Week.

The choral presentation, which means "Earth's Latest Hour," will be directed by Herman Gunter, Jr., of the School of Music faculty. The group will be accompanied by Organist Ramona Cruikshank Beard, also of the School of Music faculty and Nancy Love Hill, student pianist.

THE TRANSLATIONS of the poem, "Hora Novissima," were made by Isabella Parker. The story is a reflection on the last hours of the earth when it is judged by the Diety for its materialism.

Soloists will be Lynn Longbottom, soprano, Grace Miller, alto; William Dalrymple, tenor, and Adrian Ketcham, bass. The quartet will consist of Claire Kenyon, soprano, Virginia French, alto; Herman Bekemeyer, tenor, and Edgar Evans, bass.

THE ENSEMBLE with the chorus is Lynn Longbottom, Virginia French, William Dalrymple, John Cooper and John Buckley.

The oratorio composer, Parker, was a native of Auburndale, Mass., where he was born in 1863. The score of "Hora Novissima" was written when he was 29. It was performed at a choral festival in Worcester, England, in 1899.

PARKER, WHO in his later years was head of the music department at Yale University, taught Walter Ruel Cowles, who recently retired after twenty years of teaching at Florida State.

Applications Taken For Summer Work

All students planning to attend summer school who are interested in obtaining part-time work are asked to come to the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott, to fill out applications for work.

Those who plan to attend school this fall and work should also come in and file a new application, as they do not carry over from year to year. It is advisable for all students to file applications as soon as possible in order to take advantage of jobs reported before their arrival back at school.

All students who hold part-time jobs must file an application with the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement irregardless of whether they obtain a job through the office or by personal contact.

Summer Grads Apply

A slate of candidates for summer school offices is now being drawn up, Mary Helen Speed president pro-tem of women's senate, announced. Anyone interested in being a candidate or nominating someone should contact her at 47 Reynolds before Tuesday, May 13.

Offices open for nomination are Chairman of Judiciary, one house president, two vice-presidents for each undergraduate hall, one representative to Judiciary and one chief fire marshall.

Noted Editor Will Address June Graduates

Baccalaureate Sermon Will Be Presented By Jacksonville Minister

Commencement speaker for the June 7 graduation exercises will be Dr. Walter D. Cocking, editor of the School Executive magazine, President Doak S. Campbell has announced.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given by Dr. J A. Stewart pastor of the Riverside Baptist Church in Jacksonville.

THE COMMENCEMENT speaker, Cocking, is also a nationally-famous educator. He will address the 700 graduating seniors at 8 p. m in Doak Campbell stadium.

The author and educator has served on the science commission of natural resources, teached education in Alabama and South Carolina and public schools in Nashville, Tenn., and has also been on survey staffs for public education in Florida.

THE GRADUATE of Columbia University and the University of Iowa is a member of the American Association of Educational Research, American Association for School Administrators and the National Education Association. He is a member of the American Legion and fraternity groups of the Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Kappa Phi Kappa and Pi Kappa P[illegible].

The educator is author of "Administrative Procedures in Curriculum Making." He has been on the Board of Editors of the School Executive since 1943. Background education of the scheduled speaker includes being a consultant in program planning for the Federal Security Agency [illegible] of educational services in the Office of Price Administration.

COCKING was chairman of the Tennessee commission, and [illegible] specialist in school administration of the President's Advisory Committee on Education and educational consultant of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The scheduled speaker is a former professor of the School of Public Administration at George Peabody College and state commissioner of education in Tennessee.

Annual Jr.-Sr. Prom Royalty Selected

The annual Junior-Senior prom, which will be climaxed by the crowning of a king and queen, will begin tomorrow night at 9 p.m. in the Suwannee Room. The dance which is open only to Juniors and Seniors by invitation, will end at 1 a.m.

Music for the dance will be furnished by the Regents. Invitations for those students who have not [illegible] picked them up at the ballot boxes may be obtained at the information desk on the first floor of the Longmire building, according to Barbara Brewton, chairman of the court committee.

PRESIDENT DOAK S Campbell will crown the king and queen, who were chosen by vote last Monday. The royal couple whose identities are being kept secret will also receive a cup donated [illegible] by Elmo, Dewey, Tallahassee florist.

Finalists for the queen are Marianne Green, Jeta Monroe, Bobbie Pe[illegible] and Sylvia Strange. The king will be selected from Stan Gould, John Newland, Wil Penree, Bob Schmelz and Joel Smith.

THREE JUNIOR girls and three junior boys were also selected in the balloting last week to be on the court. Their names will remain unannounced until the prom [illegible].

The [illegible] men and three senior women who will serve on the [illegible] come from the runners-up of the king and queen contest.

THE DECORATIONS committee will start to work today at 2 p.m. decorating the dining hall. All students not on the committee, but willing to help are urged to do so, said Eleanor Green chairman of the prom. She can be contacted at the Kappa Delta house for further information.

Chairman Green estimated the use of the Suwannee room and the band stand will cost the class $100. The band will be $90, invitations $33.98 and the flowers, decorations and refreshments an estimated $46. The prom committee has been allotted $2[illegible] for operations.

WFSU Feature New Broadcast For the Campus

Three new programs, starring the students of Florida State University, have been added to the schedule of the campus radio station, WFSU.

Benny White the winner of the recent WFSU-Tommy Tucker, Sing for Your Supper Contest, is featured in the new program "Searching Souls." Benny displays the songs of the blues type which won her the title of top vocalist on the FSU campus. "Searching Souls" is heard every Tuesday night at 8:15 over the 660 spot on the dial.

A program made up entirely of music is presented every Wednesday night at 8:15 by the Regents, the campus orchestra. Featured on this "Wish O'er the Towering Pines" are the favorites of both today and of years gone by.

"Raindrop Reverie" is a new and different type of program written and narrated by Ned [illegible]. It features a poetic interpretation and bits of philosophy [illegible] Ned as he turns [illegible] of programs. "R[illegible] Reverie." The program [illegible] Tuesday at 9:30 p.m.

Tri Delts Offer Gift Scholarship Award

A [illegible] local school [illegible] annually by [illegible] Alpha [illegible] chapter of the Delta Delta Delta social sorority [illegible] in the office of the Dean of Women in Westcott.

"The $[illegible]0 [illegible] is a gift not a [illegible] Small service [illegible]. The scholarship [illegible] some worthy co-ed [illegible] a sorority."

All [illegible] according to [illegible] should be turned [illegible] Dean's office by Friday, May [illegible].

Summer Officers

All students planning to graduate at the 1952 Summer school or February or June of 1952-53 should file an application for a degree in the Office of the Registrar immediately if one has not already been filed.

660 ON YOUR DIAL—The newly elected executive board of WFSU, campus radio station, is shown discussing plans for the coming year. Left to right are Bob Oucker, program director; Dolores Bates, production manager, Margaret Jean Parham station manager Jean Carr, director of public relations; Asa Chandley, directer of continuity; Rick Hutto, director of special events, and Ronald Martin, chief announcer.

Sing Elimination Will Be Saturday

Three men and three women groups will be selected from the 20 contesting organizations in the Campus sing elimination at 1 p. m. tomorrow in the Music amphitheater. Finals will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m. and will be broadcast over WFSU.

Nancy Hill, co-chairman of the Sing with Steve Edwards, emphasized that the groups have been arranged alphabetically. Placement drawing will not take place this afternoon as originally announced. Nancy said "We could not wait for the drawing because the programs had to be ready before then", the co-chairman noted.

NANCY ASKED that all groups line up promptly tomorrow on the Music amphitheater terrace.

Emceeing at tomorrow's eliminations will be Charles Mosby. A surprise presentation will be given during the judging. During the final judging on Sunday the two music honoraries Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, will perform.

THE TWO honoraries sponsoring the Sing will present the cup awards. Judges for the Sing are Dean Karl Kuersteiner, Assistant Professor Lois Schooner, Assistant Professor Herman Gunter, Dr Wiley Housewright and J. Dayton Smith, all of the School of Music. Smith is replacing Professor Etta Robertson.

The groups will be judged on originality, phrasing, dynamics, interpretations, rhythm, audience appeal, technical difficulty of piece and intonation. Each group will have two songs. The minimum number of participants for each group is fifteen.

THE GROUPS in order are Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Delta Zeta, Gamma Phi Beta, Gradual [illegible], Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Kappa and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The fraternities in their order will be Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Kappa Tau, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Chi.

Amend Is First In Speech Final

Original Oratory Staged At Local Optimist Lunch

The finals of the intramural [illegible] in Original Oratory, sponsored by the Department of Speech were held before the Optimist Club of Tallahassee on Tuesday, May 6, at their weekly luncheon.

[illegible] contestants took part [illegible] last Tuesday. [illegible] chosen to speak before the Optimist Club.

A[illegible] Amend, speaking on "An [illegible]" placed first in the [illegible] with Katherine [illegible] talking about "Of Time [illegible]" and James Ball [illegible] placing [illegible] and third respectively. [illegible] third year the finals [illegible] Oratory were held before [illegible] by the Optimist [illegible].

[illegible] Pa[illegible] of the Department [illegible] accompanied the [illegible] and introduced them to the club members.

Dorm Vote Secret Following Approval In Women's Senate

[illegible] secret ballot will [illegible] dormitory elections from [illegible] replace the "show of hands" [illegible] previously. The proposal [illegible] passed by the Women's Senate [illegible] last meeting Wednesday, May 7.

[illegible] proposal for secret ballot [illegible] made by Pat Renick, and [illegible] Thomas. Mary Ruth [illegible] also made the motion [illegible] passed that freshmen be [illegible] to take over dormitory offices March 1 instead of April. [illegible] was also passed unanimously [illegible] consecutive breaking of [illegible] Standards are not to be [illegible] as a House Council of[illegible].

[illegible] codifying committee representative Pat Renick made the recommendation that the Duval hotel [illegible] listed in the Social Regulations as not off limits. This was [illegible] unanimously. Other recommendations she made were [illegible] students remaining at school [illegible] the vacations should come [illegible] 12 p.m. through the hall [illegible] named before vacation, and [illegible] the hour for coming in from [illegible] parties be put into the Social Regulations.

Mary Ruth Summers moved [illegible] the hour for returning from [illegible] parties be extended 30 minutes. The former time was 7:30, [illegible] the new time of 8 p.m. was [illegible] adopted by the Senate.

English Frat. Meets

[illegible]ma Tau Delta, English fraternity will meet in the small [illegible] of the Longmire building [illegible] p m. Monday, May 12.

After the business meeting, Dr [illegible] Davis, associate dean of [illegible] College of Arts and Sciences [illegible] speak on "The Pattern of [illegible] an Culture." The public is [illegible] to attend.

Leadership Conference Trains Future Officers

The [illegible] annual Leadership [illegible] Conference, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board, will get underway Saturday, May 17, at Camp Flastacowo at 12 to 3 p m when conference delegates will register and be given name tag and programs.

Invitations to the conference have been extended to all former and future student officers at Florida State University. Students attending the meeting may stay overnight at camp.

A "GET ACQUAINTED Mixer" will be held from 2:15 to 3 p.m. just preceding the welcoming of the students at 3 to 3:45 p m by UGA President Will Pennell and the introduction of guests. FSU President Doak S Campbell will give the keynote address, followed by general announcements.

The delegates will then split up into three groups according to special interests to review the year and bring out problems of organization and administration.

THE GROUPS will represent student government, the executive legislative and judicial sides; public relations, including the Flambeau, Tally-Ho, Smoke Signals and WFSU. The organizations group will consist of those of social service class, dormitory and [illegible] repo[illegible] from [illegible] groups who [illegible] information [illegible] problems and [illegible] needs.

The conference will [illegible] according to officers from 4:30 to 5:30 p m. They will [illegible] presidents and presiding officers, vice-presidents and managers, secretaries, treasurers, social chairmen, cabinet members and secretaries, senators, court members, house presidents and governors and faculty advisor.

SUPPER WILL be held from 6:15 to 7:15 p m immediately followed by general announcements and informal panel discussions following the topics of what students expect, what the faculty expects and what can be done.

A parliamentary procedure skit, followed by a question and answer period, will be given by ODK and Mortar Board from 8:30 to 9:30 p m. The day's events will end with an informal discussion of leadership by a faculty member and group singing by the campfire.

SUNDAY BREAKFAST will be held from 9 until 9:45 a m. A general meeting will follow [illegible] reports will be given as well as a discussion on the Uni[illegible]

(Continued on Page 4)

Best All Around Seniors Ballot

'Signals' Conducts Vote In Westcott Tomorrow

Nominations for the "Best All Around Senior Boy and Girl," sponsored by Smoke Signals, will be held in lower Westcott tomorrow. The winning couple will be featured on the cover of the first [illegible] editor of Smoke Signals, according to Joel Smith, editor.

Basis of [illegible] will be [illegible] contributions to the University [illegible], scholarship [illegible].

[illegible] nominations [illegible] in [illegible] Westcott [illegible] vote at [illegible] time. A R[illegible] check [illegible] to determine class status and whether a person has or has not voted previously.

Banquet Scheduled For Paper's Staff At Duval Tonight

Staff members [illegible] dinner [illegible] at the [illegible] Florida Flambeau banquet. [illegible] dinner will be held at the Duval hotel at 6:30.

The banquet [illegible] award [illegible] members [illegible] at the [illegible] each [illegible] year. [illegible]

The Flambeau pr[illegible] Harold Brown, Jack Ba[illegible] Kin[illegible] J Van [illegible] have [illegible].

A[illegible] [illegible] Virginia [illegible] Bara [illegible] Barbara [illegible]

B[illegible] Ge[illegible] editor, [illegible]

Recreation Conference Headed by H. Danford

[illegible] Howard Danford [illegible] on will [illegible] the conference.

Students Urged to Support Vital Spring Blood Drive

Last December Florida State University students made a wonderful response in the "Blood for Korea" drive. Fraternities and sororities pledged 100 per cent and the independents gave the campaign a big boost.

Students donated some 577 pints to better the record set by the larger University of Florida. What was more important, some 900 FSU students tried to give blood. The bloodmobile unit handled as many donors as possible.

The remarkable thing about last winter's drive was the enthusiasm and unity which marked it. Greeks and non-Greeks, Omicron Delta Kappa, the Jacksonville and Leon county blood banks, the FSU infirmary, the Leon county Medical society, the Leon county Health department and the Tallahassee Memorial hospital all combined efforts to make the drive a definite success.

Tuesday a new drive starts. It is the spring of the year, when students don't seem enthusiastic about anything. The blood campaign has received comparatively less publicity.

That this drive doesn't have all the advantages of the last one.

Next week's blood drive is just as important as the last, however. The blood is still vitally needed; the cause is no less great.

Chairman Mac Huey and the Men's F club are in charge of the drive this spring. They hope to be able to fill their quota of 392 pints next Tuesday and Wednesday over in the FSU infirmary.

A news story in this issue gives the details of the blood campaign, and students who have not yet given serious consideration to donating should read it and think.

The need for blood is great, and the drive provides students an opportunity to take a really important part in the present national effort.

FSU students should again display the fine spirit they showed in donating blood last winter.

Off The Cuff

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

Even before the results of Tuesday's close Democratic presidential preference primary were known, state and national politicians were sure of one amazing fact: ex-Senator Claude Pepper was making a determined and effective step toward re-establishing his strength in Florida.

In one of the cleverest bits of strategy seen in many years of politics the former senator jockeyed himself into the position of what will probably be the leader in the Florida delegation to the national Democratic convention.

One of the most surprising things about the whole affair is that Pepper was able to keep such momentous goings-on completely secret for so long a time. It was not until a week before the primary election that many people even began to have an inkling of what was going on, and even now most people do not understand the full impact of Mr. Pepper's strategy.

Friends and foes of the former senator were probably equally surprised at the announcement of his maneuvering began to unfold. This column undertakes neither to praise nor criticize Pepper's motives but merely to try to weave together the details of the tale and express admiration of the sharp political thinking behind it.

The story really began two years ago when the then-Senator Pepper suffered defeat in his campaign for re-election at the hands of George Smathers, congressman from Miami.

To what extent this defeat has influenced his present movements no one but the man himself can say. To conjecture would be to project.

In any case, more recently there was rumor that Pepper might enter Ben Hansard Holland in his race for re-election. Pepper himself ruled out this possibility when he declared himself out of the gubernatorial picture.

When he met face to face with Sen. Estes Kefauver who was making a handshaking tour in downtown Tallahassee during his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, Pepper again squelched political rumors by declaring he was supporting any presidential candidate as that time.

The political thunder really began to rumble on May 2 when a syndicated column by Drew Pearson claimed that Pepper had been offered help by Smathers in run against Holland. Just what relation that was to what Pepper did next is still a matter of conjecture, but two days later the whole story was out.

Pepper came ant in direct support of Kefauver, while revelations that Smathers and Holland are running pledged to Russell. He said he felt many Dixiecrats were supporting Russell and wanted to be sure that Florida's delegation would not help the party.

Russell supporters now face two choices. They may either leave their delegates in th May 27 race, and face splitting the Russell vote, or withdraw their delegates and leave Pepper's Russell delegates unopposed. Deadlines are only bound on the fifth ballot on the convention floor.

In either case Pepper stands a very good chance of being the delegate-at-large in the Florida delegation to the convention.

● ELECTION RETURNS

Politicians have a way of interpreting election results in almost any way favorable to themselves, so it is dangerous to swallow whole what is told about the effect of election returns. Nevertheless, a few important things seem to stand out about Tuesday's voting.

First of all, even though Florida may not yet have a real two-party system, at least it no longer has a one-faction one-party system. Senator Estes Kefauver's strong showing against Sen. Richard B. Russell, who was supported by the whole Florida delegation, is concrete evidence that there is more than one point of view in the state.

Kefauver supporters claim the Tennessean scored a definite moral victory, and battle and that their man will gain a majority of the delegates three weeks from now. The important thing, however, is that in a state often accused of its oneness of thinking, there have been strong voices on both sides of the Russell-Kefauver campaign.

It is also a good sign when so many people take advantage of their right to vote. Some 650,000 Floridians out of a million and a quarter qualified electors cast a ballot which talked about but all-too-little utilized privilege.

All in all, whether he be pleased or displeased about the political returns, the Floridian should be proud of the interest and diversity the voters displayed. When people are active in their government and hold different points of view, democracy is in no great danger.

Seminole Scenes

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

Let's face it, kids. This is a World of Trouble, deficits and red ink. We've got a problem here and it might as well be laid on the line: Light and nearing it is a good look. Our light bill is going up.

In the happy days of yore and up till now, the little household of Florida State University only paid a measley 66 thousand dollars a year to the city for electricity. Now the city is acting on its rates and we will probably be paying 90 thousand dollars a year based on the past year's consumption.

The increase will only be about $4 thousand dollars a year shuddering. You're rattling the paper, but when the household budget was done we just didn't allow for the few extra pennies.

Rod Shaw, business manager, who holds the purse strings for the family, says the need fifteen months will be the tightest in the past ten years.

In view of this situation it is thought that maybe we students might help out. I have devised a plan in order to economize on electricity. To wit, forthwith and according to, it reads:

(1) Since the library has so many lights, all electricity will be turned off there sharply at 5 p. m. Any professor giving students research work to do in the library will be considered unpatriotic, extravagant, wasteful and unnecessarily cruel. A board shall be set up for the impeachment and dismissal of any persons guilty of such violation.

(2) All night classes will be dismissed completely if another bitter winter comes along. Study the ratio of intelligence generated to electricity consumed in these classes being such that it does not warrant continuance.

(3) All lights post lights decorating the campus shall be completely dismantled. The huge spotlights will also be turned off indefinitely as they do absolutely no good because they're blasting up in the air and space, thus void of benefit to anybody.

(4) Heh, heh, heh .

(5) The light in all dormitories will be turned off on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Students will be responsible for buying their own candles to use during this time (the No-Drip Candle). They don't run down this side, they don't melt and they don't stink.

(6) Those who insist on using electricity for illegal purposes such as electric blankets, hot plates, etc., will be subject to the penalty of having the plastic policeman's whistle blown in their ear. Those having ukuleles are asked to conserve on fuels and use them instead. Suggested songs: "You'll Be The Last That We Must Say Goodbye" "Go Home, You Drip, My Mother's Calling Me."

(7) Of course the student fees could ALWAYS be raised to meet the bill. That's the solution, Jane Scott and Neil Stanfill are students attending the conference.

"WE BUY USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Bill Dunn—Editor-in-Chief

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Frances Cawthon ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Bruce Galphin, Marcia Morris
Sports Editor ..... Jim Eady
Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Reporter ..... John Heraclous
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Jo Hall
Assistants ..... Fe Pittman, Lou Calderon, Nancy Lowe

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-200, Ext. 661 second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

FSU Music Camp Planned For June

Five solid weeks combining the fun of vacation with intensive training in musical study and performance will be offered during the Florida State University Summer Music Camp on the Tallahassee campus June 16 to July 18.

In announcing the dates for this year's camp, Director Karl Kuersteiner said that interest in the camp is more widespread than ever before. Inquiries about the Camp have been received from all over the Southeast, and a capacity enrollment is expected for this summer.

ENROLLMENT in the FSU Music Camp is limited to 200 high school students, Kuersteiner explained, in order that the high quality of the camp curriculum and the personal touch for which the FSU Camp is noted may be maintained.

The Camp opens its 6th eleventh year, has received a steadily mounting interest in the past, with senior high school students in Florida and other states. Last year's Camp enrollment included students from states as far away as Ohio, New Mexico and California.

A STAFF OF 40 nationally-known instructors will offer private music and recreation programs of the 1952 Camp. The Camp schedule will include three professional divisions of band, orchestra, and chorus, plus private lessons and individual coaching in music and basic theory, and advanced classes in music theory and conducting.

Special features of the Camp activities will include weekly concerts by the musical organizations, student recitals and an operetta produced by the "Music-Camp." Picnics and excursions to places of scenic and historic interest in the around Tallahassee will be held during the Camp session.

THE SPIRIT of Stephen Foster, "America's troubador," is the spirit of the FSU Music Camp. Foster, the first truly American country made famous by Foster's immortal songs, down upon the Suwannee River," the Camp has adopted Foster's melody as the official Camp theme song. And the FSU "Musicampers" will be camping out only figuratively, for they'll live in the Tallahassee dormitories, with the advantages of a balanced diet provided by the University dining halls and the supervision of the University Health Service ensuring the usual regular FSU sanitation.

Deadline for enrollment in this year's Camp is May 15. Planning Director Karl Kuersteiner said the Camp is composed of Dr. Karl Kuersteiner, Director; Owen Sellers, associate director; Walter Smith, Business Manager; and C. M. Carroll, Publicity Director.

Church Groups Plan Retreat, Talks, Meets

BY LOUETTA RILEY

Christian

Disciple Student Fellowship, Christian student organization, will hold their Annual Spring Retreat this week-end. The group will leave for Cochran Beach tomorrow morning at 9:30 from the South Cawthon hall and return in the evening. Various programs will concentrate on the Christian life.

Baptist

The extension department of the Baptist Student Union will hold a conclave tomorrow from 10 to 1 in the Emanuel Baptist Church. Students on the teaching staff of the conclave are Mary Frances Thomas, Betty Harrison, Mary Frances Joiner, Wendell Carpenter, Jean Weden, Norma Crane and Mary Browder.

Fred Cudley, general field worker and secretary of the Home Mission Board, will be special guest at the Baptist Student house Sunday afternoon and evening. He will be available for student conferences beginning at 3.

Mr. Ed Henderson, Executive Secretary of the Florida Education association, will lead Vespers at 7 Tuesday night at the Student House.

Methodist

A planning conference of the Methodist Student Movement will be held this weekend at Florida Southern College in Lakeland. Florida State officers Bob Brawley, Betty Jo Jenkins, Jane Scott and Neil Stanfill are students attending the conference.

Dr. G Frederick Holeetuh, professor of art, will speak at Sunday Vespers at 7:30 this evening the Wesley Players will present a choral-reading on "Here I Am, Send Me." Leading the program will be Helen Hawes, Beverly Barry, Joan Flynn, and Dale Johnson.

Lutheran

Sunday School of the Lutheran group will be led by Rev. D. R. Boernke in a discussion on "I Have A Question." Weekly meetings are held by Gamma Delta at 7 on Sunday in the second floor lounge of the Lonamire building.

Plans are being completed for the Spring Charter Day which will be held May 24.

Episcopal

A special Mother's Day service at Rupe hall Sunday at 11 will mark the installation of the new vestry of the Canterbury Club, Episcopal student organization. Members are Ellen Ann Avis, William Skipper, Mildred Schlumpberger, David Hailing, Barbara Delasado, Ernie LaRoche, Roberta Peiler, Robert Dunker, Charles Carter, Jennifer Rentz, Lillian Avis, Anne Crownover, Ruth Ann Wagner, Margaret Wakefield, Michael Vredenburgh, John Cooper, Martha Bill and James Crowther.

Presbyterian

New officers of the Westminster Fellowship are Peggy Wade, president, Tom Simmons, and Secretary Prince vice-presidents, Milton Carothers secretary, Nancy Fagen, treasurer.

Jm. School Plans A June Meeting Of School Press

Invitations have been extended to high school journalists of the South to attend the first FSU Southern School Press Institute of Florida State University campus from June 15-29. Dean Laurence R. Campbell of the FSU Journalism school said today.

The FSU Southern School Press Institute is a two-week program of instruction and recreation for Florida High School editors. It will be held on the FSU campus in laboratory for school press advisors who register for graduate credit while producing newspapers and yearbooks.

The two-week program will provide daily instruction designed to improve student publications, Dean Campbell said. It will also deal with the role of the press, journalism careers, photojournalism, radio-television, and related topics.

Specific courses include reporting for school publications, editing for school publications, features in school publications, school publication management, newspaper workshop, and yearbook workshop.

The program at Florida State will include swimming, social activities, and trips to radio stations and historic points of interest. Dean Campbell said. Students will write to their parents and relatives about these outings.

Delta Sigs Present Bus. Machine Show

Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity, will present its third annual business machine show at 4-16 in the former location of the Florida Employment Service in the Lewis building on Monroe street.

The public is invited to attend the show, where the latest in business machines will be on display. A number of the business machines will be operated by demonstrators. The business show is being produced with the cooperation of the local machine distributors.

Officers of Delta Sigma Pi are James Smith, headmaster, Wes Leigh, vice-master, Stan Humphries, junior warden, Gerald Brown, treasurer; John Howard, secretary; and Dave Hailing, scribe and Tom Simmons, historian.

Stanwyck Stars In Next Free Movie

"Meet John Doe" a free movie starring Barbara Stanwyck and Gary Cooper, will be seth Monday night at 7:30 in the Student Union ou West campus.

A story of a cowboy who is "discovered" by Hollywood, the movie will be shown Tuesday in the Landis Recreation room, Wednesday, in Magnolia, and Thursday, in Men's Senior hall. Friday it will be held at 8 p. m. in the amphitheater, or South Cawthon in case of rain.

Greeks Spend Past Weekend Rushing And Giving Parties

BY JUDY SIMPKINS

Last Saturday Alpha Chi Omega had an informal party followed by supper in the house. Betty Sue Fryer has been chosen Carnation Girl, an honor given by the chapter to the most courteous girl of the month.

The Delta Zeta's entertained ten girls from Perry and Jacksonville during Chirs week-end. They had a breakfast, a tour of the campus, and an afternoon party followed by dinner and the Circus.

The Kappa Delta's are having a "Lemonade" party after the Campus Sing Last Saturday afternoon the K D's had a party for their rushees with a circus theme for the skit. This was followed by supper at the Silver Slipper.

This Saturday the Pi Beta Phi's are having an informal Open house in honor of their visiting mothers. Yesterday a "Leap Year Party," which was instigated and planned by the house servants, was held. The members drew names for their escorts and refreshments were served.

Sigma Kaps entertained high school rushees and dates last week-end with an informal afternoon party which carried out the Circus theme. Last Tuesday night they entertained the Phi Delt's.

Wednesday night the Theta Chi's were guests of the Zeta Tau Alpha's. After Circus last Saturday night, the Zeta's had an Open House for the Kappa Sig's and the delegates of the Kappa Sigma Convention.

Phi Delta Theta and K D entertained potential FSU students House last week-end at a party given at the Phi Delt house. Newly elected officers are Ralph Eagan, assistant treasurer and Owen Boone, pledge-master.

Recently elected officers of Sigma Nu are Floyd Foele, president; Ed Pipkin, vice-president, Jess Salyers, secretary; Richard Jackson, treasurer; John Ayres, chaplain and Kipse Nowlin, I F C representative. Marianne Gillias was chosen Sigma Nu White Star Queen at their formal dance held at Wakulla Lodge. Sigma Nu Week-end.

Nancy Rogers was chosen Queen of Hearts at the Sigma Phi Epsilon formal dance at the American Legion Home. At this time, Jim Kemp, the house-mother was presented with a sweetheart pin.

Nobel Prize Man Talks On New Cancer Studies

Dr. Wendell M Stanley, Nobel prize winner, who appeared recently on a Radio Society of America series, told his audience that the Rockefeller Institute of Florida State University campus from June 15-29. Dean Laurence R. Campbell of the FSU Journalism school said today.

The FSU Southern School Press Institute is a two-week program of instruction and recreation for Florida High School editors. It will be held on the FSU campus in laboratory for school press advisors who register for graduate credit while producing newspapers and yearbooks.

The two-week program will provide daily instruction designed to improve student publications, Dean Campbell said. It will also deal with the role of the press, journalism careers, photojournalism, radio-television, and related topics.

Specific courses include reporting for school publications, editing for school publications, features in school publications, school publication management, newspaper workshop, and yearbook workshop.

The program at Florida State will include swimming, social activities, and trips to radio stations and historic points of interest. Dean Campbell said. Students will write to their parents and relatives about these outings.

Armed Forces Day Scheduled May 19

The Tallahassee Rotary will sponsor the observance of Armed Forces Day in Tallahassee May 18

Paul J. Cannedy was appointed general committee chairman for the program by the Rotary Club president, Col Bernard Boots, professor of Air Science and Tactics, will serve as local project officer. Lt. Col. Cornell D Boots, commanding officer of the Ordnance DEPOT, will serve as parade marshall; John N. Baker, FSU Public Relations director, publicity chairman and Steva Yates, Democrat editor, assistant publicity chairman.

Plans are being made to have a new and entirely different type for the observance of Armed Forces Day.

Syracuse Chairman Named New Head

Dr. Royal H. Ray chairman of the department of advertising at Syracuse University has recently been appointed head of a department of advertising at Florida State University by Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president.

The new appointee will take up is affect next fall, is sponsored by the School of Journalism and Business in cooperation with the department of art in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Ray visited the FSU campus previously as an instructor and speaker in the annual Newspaper Short Course sponsored by the School of Journalism each year. He has been in newspaper business since he was a carrier at a boy, and has worked as a research associate for the Committee on Consumer Relations in Advertising Inc.

Campus Character

BY STAN SCHMIDT

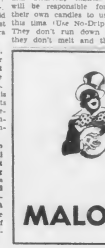
Great songs, a terrific voice and one of those hard-to-believe true stories that any Armenian emigrant could turn into a great picture. But Hollywood manages to overcome all these obstacles to produce a mediocre musical about it instead.

The story is fitted into the usual high-powered musical mold involving impossible coincidences and tearstained closeups instead of development and drama. They seem to have the idea that any idiot can write a script as long as a few $,000-per hama in fabulous threads sound off on fantastic sets . . . and the result is just that. Mediocre. Even Kirk Douglas makes them look sane by plunking down his 44 coppers every week.

Wheo is Golden Gulch going to wise up and start making even rough approximations of adult entertainment. In an era of mike-and-mammary close-ups Hollywood insists on effectively emasculating its fleshy stocking to Jean Harlowish hoke which they probably have a right to have faith in—after all it seated a bunch of humorless Armenian workers in leathered up offices overlooking the Pacific . . . .

Love dat Prof. who absentmindedly gave a certain Frosh a test—complete with answer sheet. . . .

Rumor is that ATO's are moving base of operations to a certain downtown apartment, where "Lover" Kalmich is showing the way. . . .



"Mainliner" Fish and "Needles" Vera, Regent stalwarts apparently laying aside the reeds and taking to cloud cumulus with their needles. . . .

Yeah Man!

What Ever Your Student Needs

Malone's Co-Op Has It !

- STATIONERY
- ART SUPPLIES
- SCHOOL SUPPLIES
- COSMETICS
- BOOKS, MAGAZINES
- TEE SHIRTS
- FILM DEVELOPING
- 1-DAY SERVICE

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

The Sports Line

By JIM EADY

The University of Florida has come under some scornful aspersions because the Gators accept money in the form of tax for the Florida race tracks . . . horse and dog. The same reproof for the fire a couple of sports writers who seem to think the issue is 'tainted.'

The heart of the controversy—If that's what it can be called—is the practice of the state of Florida taking a whole day's proceeds on the tracks and giving them to the three state schools. The stipulated purpose of the money is to provide scholarships and although the U. of F. and Florida A&M get a hunk of the cash only the Gainesville institution has incurred the sportswriters' wrath. The scholarships, by the way, aren't the sole property of the athletes but they happen to get the largess portion. I wonder why?

Anyway, it's difficult to fathom why such a dim view is taken of the above mentioned practice. And if you don't think it's a dim view just ask some of the attackers and: "Florida University officials scorn any connection with such a practice." Fundamental scorn over their heads is the race track scholarship."

Then somebody tell me what's wrong with cash taken from the athletes, who take it from the 'suckers' in the first place, and donated to the U. of F. The dough certainly isn't stolen from the folks who bet it across the boards at the race tracks. It's given up voluntarily in the hope that it might bring a little remuneration to the lucky few. Just like any other business why not? Isn't the state institutions of higher learning (?) aren't the only to benefit from the track's and Florida's educational and secondary schools are benefitted by the pari-mutuel tax and the aged and feeble, the speed and the sick are also aided by same.

Perhaps some coal was mined to use for the fire last Sunday when there were several in various papers in the state s corry that the U. of Florida was going to turn down any further race track dough. They are. Maybe the boys are doing this so that they can escape the "evil" stigma of the gambling money which is used to bolster their athletic program.

Then there's the little information was passed around that Miami wasn't higher who said he got it from a gent who was formerly associated with the U. of F.

The report had always been squawks from Miami about the big chunk of cash from their racing profits and passed on to the schools. They thought it just ain't right, because most of it is used to bolster athletics in general and football in particular instead of helping some poor non-athlete along the rocky road to an education.

Perhaps the Gators do burn down the 'evil' gambling money, which is highly improbable, you can bet whoopee! be assured that they'll be the only University in the state to do it . . . because that's the green stuff on which the Seminole football team is built on.

I hope I'm not stoned to death for extending sympathies to the University of Florida.

* * *

Tennis coach Don Loucks turned out a scholarly, academic endeavor which was printed in the May issue of the Research Quarterly, the official periodical for the American Association for Health.

The paper titled "An Analytical Frequency Study of the Content of the Research Quarterly," was his dissertation for a Doctor of Physical Education degree which he received from the University of Indiana.

Besides guiding the destiny of the tennis team, Loucks is also assistant professor of Physical Education.

* * *

It seems the Dorms are having their difficulties in the intramural field . . . seven of the ten games scheduled this week were forfeited . . . Dormie didn't even finish their football schedule and it looks like the same will happen in softball.

Florida Educators Meet Here To Discuss Elementary Schools

Florida educators representing 67 counties and schools from Pensacola to Key West are meeting at Florida State University this week-end to participate in the Conference on Elementary Evaluation.

The conference will end tomorrow.

During the last three years the 1,200 Florida elementary schools have gone through a process of self-evaluation in cooperation with the FSU Department of Elementary Education, directed by Dr. W. T. Edwards. The program was started as an effort to improve the instructional skills in the various schools and the learning opportunities for each child.

THE PURPOSE of the May Conference is to give these schools an opportunity to share their experiences in evaluation and to plan together the next best steps for improvement of elementary education in Florida.

FSU President Doak S. Campbell opened the three-day conference with a welcoming address this morning.

OTHER FSU professors participating will be Mrs Dora Skipper, Miss Edna Parker, Dr. Mildred Swearinger, Dr. W. T. Edwards, all of the School of Education. Dr. Milton Carothers, dean of the graduate school, will be toastmaster of a banquet to be held tonight, when Thomas D. Bailey, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the speaker.

MR. FORMAL CONTEST
CLOSES MAY 17

Here's your last chance to win. Completely Free and in time for the Dance . . . a new "AFTER SIX" Outfit . . . tux shirts, studs, links, tie, handkerchief and Boutonniere.

CONTACT LOU CALDERONI
CALL 2-1709

WHO WILL BE
MR. FORMAL
AT FLORIDA STATE

Someone from your fraternity or group can easily copy the title and all the valuable prizes! 'Cause everyone looks so swell in the comfort-seeking "After Six" while dinner jacket with the miracle "Stain-Shy" finish. Only a few days left before the final selection of "Mr. Formal," so if your team hasn't had a try-out yet contact your dealer or campus rep. today!

TURNER'S
P. W. WILSON
MENDELSON'S
ALFORD'S
Call 2-1709

Sportsquiz

Let's see how well you have been keeping up with sports on the campus of FSU. Give yourself a perfect score of 100 if you get them all.

1. What seniors were listed in Who's Who this year in football.

2. What gymnastic men were chosen to go to the Olympics in 1952?

3. What freshman track man copped 16 points in the FSU-Davidson meet with firsts in the high jump, broad jump, and discus throw?

4. Who is the captain and shortstop of the FSU Seminole nine baseball team.

5 Who just recently took the George Washington golf tournament at Tallahassee golf course?

6. Who is the leading FSU pitcher with 6 wins and no losses?

7. Who was the senior captain of the tennis team from Fremont, Ohio.

8. Who is the second baseman with a record of seven stolen bases?

9. Who is ranked as the number one Florida collegiate golfer?

10. Who is the undefeated freshman halfmiler on the track team.

11. Who was the senior co-captain of the swimming team who swims in the 400 yard free style relay?

12. Who was the senior captain of basketball from South Bend, Indina?

ANSWERS

1. Curt Campbell, Bill Dawkins, Mike Sellers.
2. Bill Roetzheim, Don Holder.
3. Lee Chamberfer.
4. Bob Trowbridge
5. Bud Marsee.
6. Ed Lidstad.
7. Tom Babione.
8. Cooter Mills.
9. Benny Tinney.
10. Bill Wagoner.
11. Peter Gatlin-Rankin.
12. Bob Whitmer.

They'll be tougher next week—

Magazine Advises Lighter Traveling

Light traveling for the college co-ed is advised by fashion designers of Mademoiselle.

With the approach of the MADEMOISELLE says it is the trick for the dress fabric that makes lighter baggage. Irons are also a "bas been" in Dame Fashion's book this month. Items easily keep you inside working when you should be outside playing."

A sophisticated cinnamon tone or black colored terry cloth dress may be washed and shaken out like a bath towel, so say the ones who know.

A PLEASE play suit, a seersucker ensemble or a cotton gorgette after-five dress are also on the market for easy wear. Creases are a part of their charm.

A nylon jersey and organdy evening dress is also guaranteed to wash like your stockings.

For traveling, the smart student now dons herself in a cotton suit, a wrinkle resistent cotton.

AND THEN, for shedding those April showers, Mademoiselle's raincoat of the month is a puckered nylon.

A conventional handbag which holds everything from a wet wash cloth to a nightgown, has been designed in tire sections. It is charcoal cloth.

Nylon lingerie and puckered cotton night things can always be neatly tucked away in the corners of the suitcase.

Mademoiselle's April issue guidebook to fashion is now on the stands.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

SN Upsets ATO's To Tie for Lead

In the fraternity portion of campus intramural softball competition, action reached the midway mark last Tuesday and Sigma Nu started to pick up the top contending Greeks began to eye the much coveted athletic trophy.

Undefeated Sigma Nu and undefeated Alpha Tau Omega ran head-on in a diamond match that found the ATO's being toppled 9 to 6 Nip and tuck all the way, the SN's had Newland and Robinson as the battery, and Baldwin and Saulnam conducted for the ATO's.

The only other undefeated Greek team, Delta Tau Delta ceased by Phi Kappa Tau 10 to 7 with Kinzal and Sullivan directing the battle.

With a 4-2 record on the line Phi Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha drawled their way over the Kappa Sigmas 14 to 10, while the Sigma Chis crunched Pi Kappa Phi 8 to 8. The Lion and the Elephants fought a wild scoring affair, with Sigma Phi Epsilon trumpeting out a 21 to 16 victory against Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Meanwhile Theta Chi chopped Lambda Chi Alpha 12 to 6, as Pi Kappa Alpha nosed out Sigma Nu Delta Theta 10 to 6.

Excluding yesterday's results, the softball standings are:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Team	W	L	Pct.
Sig Nu	6	0	1.000	Phi Kap	3	3	.500
DTD	5	0	1.000	PKP	3	4	.429
ATO	5	1	.833	LCA	2	4	.333
KA	4	2	.667	SP	2	4	.333
PKP	4	2	.667	Kappa Sig	1	5	.167
PiKA	4	2	.667	SPE	0	6	.000
Sigma Chi	3	2	.600

In the dormitory softball league things were popping. Wednesday Newman Club beat Magnolia 7 to 5. Magnolia A had better luck when they won 7 to 6 over Magnolia 396. The AAf boys skined barracks 390 to the tune of 10 to 1. Dormitory softball league standings through May 6:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Team	W	L	Pct.
AAF	3	0	1.000	390	1	2	.333
Mag A	3	0	1.000	Mag B	1	3	.250
396	2	1	.667	388	0	3	.000
Mag B	2	1	.667	386	0	3	.000
Vets Cl	2	1	.667	384	0	3	.000

The fraternity tennis singles tournament is slowly drawing to a close. Yesterday Sigma Nu swatted against Kappa Alpha the winner of this contest is scheduled to meet in a duel with S.A.E. next Monday, and the victor of that match will clash against the Phi Delts on Tuesday to determine the championship.

TUESDAY'S SCORES

Score by innings:	R	H
Sigma Chi	301 301 0—8	6
PKP	101 211 0—8	6
Batteries: Hamrick and Sundberg and Sundberg, Home run: Sundberg. PKP.	R	H
KA	000 10—1	7
SN	000 40—4	5
Batteries: KB—Kropper, Lattner and Miller, SN—O'Neal and Robinson. Home runs: Meek. KA.
PiKA	400 43—11	8
LCA	000 10—5	4
Batteries: TC—Bukay, Wilson and Krouse; LCA—Graham, Landry and Hardy. Home runs, Schmidt, TC. Gilbert Schmidt.
DTD	303 2—10	6
ATO	000 40—4	5
Batteries: Phillips and Scott; Baldwin and Cumbie	R	H
ATO	320 103—10	9
SN	000 000—0	4
Batteries: SN—Newland, Robinson; ATO

Women's Sports

Let's take another look at this women's sports situation. . . . I asked several of the ladies about this campus what they thought about women's sports and what were their comments: "Women need more sports to bring them closer together in friendly competition," said Will Fennell, outgoing president of DSA. Tom Sands, sports editor for Flambeau, said, "Women's sports should have a place on this campus." Betty Holland, president of URA, told me that women's sports will always be a must in the school.

Adding my own two cents worth on this matter I believe that the challenging spirit that was once alive on this campus has withdrawn out. Let's get the spark glowing again and have a fight for bigger and better sports for the women of FSU.

* * *

Have you seen the ODD-EVEN teams practicing softball? Sadie next year

Fine Portraits at Reasonabl e Prices

MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENT FOR GRADUATION PORTRAITS NOW

John Charles
106 West Jefferson

—Baldwin Reuben: Home run Foote

SPE	R	H
SAE	8—11	12
Batteries: SPE—Crumbfield, Bowers, Sad—Burnett, Kirkpatrick	17—3	12

MONDAY'S SCORES

AAF	000 007—7	R	H
396	100 100—2	8	6
Batteries, AAF—Varnado Alley, 396—Johnson, Curry Home runs: Amey, Varnado, AAF
NC	360 1x—10	R	H
Mag B	500 00—5	10	4
Batteries: NC—Deegan, Ryan; Mag B—Morrell, Oakes Home run: Waldon,
Mag A	103 000 1—6	R	H
Village	000 000 4—7	9	4
Batteries: Mag A—Pappas, Pfefferkorn, Village—Mcmoyer, Barker. Home runs: Bethea 2, Mag A.

FSU Co-eds Study Clothing Elements In Textile Course

"Coeds at Florida State University enrolled in the course 'Elements of Clothing Construction' are learning not only how to buy clothes intelligently, but how wardrobes through the fine art of sewing, but to appreciate quality and the principles of good clothing," stated Mrs. Joseph Fielding of the department of clothing and textiles.

As part of their study the girls learn to evaluate their own liabilities and assets and choose accessories and cosmetics to harmonize.

TIME IS spent discussing design and color as related to dress, as well as in actual clothing construction.

The practicability of such a course can be seen in the fact that the students are taught that better quality at cheaper prices can be achieved by making their own clothes. Better fit plus more individuality can be viewed in the new clothes worn by the girls dressing making this course. "You seldom see the same pattern, same fabric and same trim," Mrs. Fielding says.

INTELLIGENT shopping is a result of the clothing and textiles course. In class, they compare quality and price of fabrics. They also discuss differences in costs of ready-to-wear and hand-made outfits.

Increasing their skill is a primary objective of the girls. They first begin with a simple apron problem, a house dress, a pair of shorts, and then go into more complicated problems, all types of dresses, including evening dresses.

At the completion of the course, the girls have a practicable knowledge of clothing construction.

CAN'T TELL . . .

The President of Amherst College has pointed out that many students with medicore grades do outstanding jobs later on in business and professional positions. According to President Charles Cole, some people just don't reach their peak until after college.

'SEASON'S LAST
Trackmen Face Miami Team

Saturday afternoon on the West campus track, Coach Ken Miller's cinder squad will wind up their season when they scratch gravel against the University of Miami Hurricanes at 2:30. It will be the third meeting between FSU and Miami over a period of two years —miami winning both of the previous meets.

The Miamians are expected to bring a strong team into the contest, rating high in the javelin, discus, and two mile events. The FSU Indians are favored in the 100, 220, 440, pole vault, broad jump, and the half mile, while the other events are a toss up.

Following tomorrow's battle the Seminole tracksters will be entered in the Southeastern and Georgia AAU tourneys later on in the month.

Last Friday the Seminole trackmen hung up a 86 ot 45 victory over Presbyterian College as they swept all of the field events. This made the fifth win over a college opponent for the Garnet and Gold have defeated Davidson, Mercer, Georgia and Georgia Tech, while losing only to Loyola.

UNPLEASANT BIT OF HISTORY

On Feb. 25, 1946, the old and highly respected Loyola University was taken over by the Communists in Czechoslovakia. The purge came after students there held a mass demonstration in protest of Communist attempts to seize the country.

Several students were shot and killed, many more were expelled and "shaming" professors were fired. Czech refugee Emil Lehr, in a report to Harvard University, describe the incident:

All dismissed students were handed over to the Labor office for work in mines, foundries, building industry, agriculture and forestry." Students who refused the work were imprisoned.

Continued the report: "The Communist party considers the students, 80 per cent of whom were anti-Communist, . . . its most bitter enemies . . ."

Patronize
Our Advertisers

Get This Postgraduate Course
worth Thousands of Dollars!

FSU; Rollin College Meet Under Light

The powerful Florida State baseball team goes into action tonight against the Rollins College Tars at Centennial Field in the first of a two-game series. The Seminoles will carry a 15 win 3 loss record into the contest while it is the first meeting between the two schools this year.

Coach Ralph Matherly has nominated Big Ed Lockard to start on the mound in tonight's tilt. Lockard, the Seminole's leading hurler will be after his seventh win of the year without a loss.

Doing the pitchins in tomorrow's tilt will be either Ed Senoma of Tallahassee or freshman Chuck Sanders of Monongahela, Pa. Senoma boasts a 4-1 record and Sanders has a 3-2 mark

The Seminoles, with a team batting average of a very respectable .283 need only to win one more game of the four remaining to post the best mark in a season since baseball was taken up here. Fifteen victories is a record for a season in the Seminoles' five year baseball history.

In the hitting department, going into tonight's contest, the leading hitter is second baseman Billy Campbell of Panama City with a .448 average. Following Campbell are Ken Melton of Tallahassee and Wayne Benner of LaPorte, Ind., both hitting .350. The important pitcher-batter-fielder matchup here is headed by Captain Bob Trowbridge with 10 RBI.

Tonight's game will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Army Attache Plan Has Positions Open

Civilian stenographic positions in overseas offices are open for women between 21 and 35 in the Army Attache system.

Employees must be native-born citizens of the United States whose parents are either native-born or naturalized citizens. The applicant must be able to type at least 50 words a minute and take dictation at 90 to 100 words a minute.

Army Attache offices are in the capital cities of foreign countries where the United States Government has diplomatically accredited representatives

Further information may be secured in the Office of Educational Guidance and Placement, 203 Wescott

(West on Call Street Past the Student Union)

YANCY'S
GOLF RANGE

NOW OPEN FUN TIME
330 TO 10:00 P. M. EVERY DAY

Special Price for Students
35c a Bucket

New Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Advantages To College Men Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is valuable postgraduate training that money can't buy! As an Aviation Cadet you can complete instruction and training worth thousands of dollars—at the same time you are serving your country. You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Air-craft Observer in America's swiftly expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. Seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can receive unmatched training in flying and leadership for the years ahead.

WHO MAY APPLY
AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. The transcript of college credits and story of high school certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base or Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Test (Pilot candidate for two years only)

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Commencing July 19 August 16 September 2, and November 18, 1952

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for now—Pilot or Aircraft Observer (Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate, win your wings (Commissioned 2nd Lieutenant) begin earning $336 monthly (Reserve $270 monthly) and have 30-days leave with pay.

WHERE To Get More Details
Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

U.S. AIR FORCE

AAUSAF . . .

The letters stand for the American Association of University Students for Academic Freedom. It's a new national organization set up at the University of Utah.

Says the group, "Our ability to understand and improve the democracy we live in is inseparable from our right to explore unorthodox and divergent opinions."

GOOD NEWS . . .

The job situation looks good for mid-semester graduates. College placement bureaus report they could have found jobs for many more than applied, with engineers, teachers and journalists being the most badly needed.

Dogs and cats can help spread hog cholera.

Over 100 Attend 4-Day Conference On Tourist Courts

A Tourist Court Management Short Course, which was attended by more than 100 tourist court operators, ended here yesterday after a four-day program.

The short course, sponsored jointly by the Florida Motor Court association, the Tourist Court Journal of Temple, Texas, and Florida State University is the first of its kind to be offered in Florida, commented Dr. Donald Lundberg, head of the department of restaurant and hotel management.

The tourist court operators studied their profession by means of speeches, visual aids, quiz sessions, open discussions, movies and other instructional features. The course held at FSU was modeled after a similar one held at the University of Houston.

The sessions dealt with the selection of suitable sites for tourist courts, building problems, color schemes, effective lighting, parking areas and other landscaping situations.

Taxes, business promotion, business ethics and work simplification, along with maintenance problems were also considered.

Designing, Physiology Related by Professor

By MONTRELL SESSIONS

Almost everyone thinks of physiology and designing as two unrelated fields, but Dr. Viola Graham is proof that the two subjects can be combined.

Before Dr. Graham retired as physiology professor at Florida State University, students in her classroom studied charts and models that were designed by her.

DR. GRAHAM says that her interest in designing dates back to her college days at Cornell University. It was there that she designed the pin for Sigma Delta Epsilon, a graduate women's scientific honorary fraternity founded in 1921. This pin is still worn today by thousands of Sigma Delta Epsilon members.

The physiologist believes in symbolism as the keynote for her artistic pin. Sigma Delta Epsilon's national pin is representative of the biological, chemical, physical and mathematical sciences. Symbolism used in the pin are the crux ansata as representative of enduring life, a touch of carbon for the chemical sciences, a thunderbolt for the physical sciences and a triangle for the mathematical sciences.

NOT ONLY DID Dr. Graham design the pin for the honorary, but also the seal. "I chose the colors of the spectrum for the seal," she added.

When asked about the origin of her designing, Dr. Graham said that she first became interested when she designed the seal and pin for the Cornell Women's Dramatic club. And symbols were used in this design, also. The seal is a shield bearing the three colors, purple for drama, gold for comedy and black for tragedy. Dr. Graham says the Women's Dramatic club has since affiliated with the Cornell Dramatic Club.

DR. GRAHAM IS not at all sure of how many pins and seals she has designed since she began the hobby during her college days at Cornell in the early '20's. A local fraternity at Cornell benefited from her talents. This group of seniors was known as the Brotherhood fraternity. And typical of their ideals was the pin which Dr. Graham designed. In the center of a large circle, representative of the world was a staff, for the wanderer, engraved with a large "B" for Brotherhood.

At FSU Dr. Graham designed the installation properties for the University chapter of the national pre-medical society, Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Therapy Courses Offered In Texas

Courses in occupational and physical therapy are being instituted at the Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, this fall for women college graduates.

A 70 weeks course and a 52 weeks course are being offered in which the selected applicant will be commissioned at the beginning of her training as a second lieutenant in the Women's Medical Specialist Corps.

Requirements and further information may be found through the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
Cameron's Texaco Service Station
Formerly Maats Service Station
566 W TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

For The College Girl
WHITE LINEN ONE-STRAP SHOE or DYED TO MATCH ANY COLOR
$6.95
Comfortable
All Sizes
Turner's

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionable correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

A complement to your foresight...
The 17 jewel, steel, automatic winding Omega with a sweep second hand is ultra thin and water resistant. With manual wind movement the Omega Automatic stores up a 36 hour reserve of winding power, yet can never over-wind. It is indeed a compliment to your foresight.
Awarded the highest rating ever achieved by a watch at the British National Observatory test.
OMEGA
World Wide Symbol of Accuracy
Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
American Gem Society

IT'S LIKE A STREAMLINER
It's long and narrow and the newest thing in neckwear.
Wrinkle resistant, extra long for Windsor knot, patented "locked-in" construction.
priced at $1.50
TIES
by Arrolie
Nic's Toggery

Dine with us in the Amber House
DINNER MENU
Fried Ham, pineapple
Wiz Sausages
Home Made Pies
Waffles
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

gay-new DENIMS ...we've got 'em!
DENIM PLAY TOGS BY THE DOZEN TO MAKE THIS YOUR MOST FASHION-FUN SUMMER!!
Wonderful, Wonderful denim! It's so smart . . so rugged that it's starring as summer's Favorite Fabric for play clothes! Here it is . . . in a host of cleverly-styled fun fashions!
★ Black
★ Red ★ Blue
SIZES 10—20
MAYERON'S
College Avenue at Adams

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!
My roommate wears my last clean socks—But sweaters, too, she likes. My sweaters, I like the lump on her—I smoke her Lucky Strikes!
Mary Laidlaw Miami University
I like the blonde in English Lit; My taste is good, you see—In cigarettes, I like the taste Of L.S./M.F.T.
Elsie Schwartz Stanford University
In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!
The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!
L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Say L.S. if you're ever asked what cigarette to buy—And M.F.T. the answer when they ask the reason why!
James M. Kennedy Fordham University
LUCKY STRIKE
CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.T.
©A.T.Co.
PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Alumni Association Membership Offered Graduating Seniors

When the 671 graduating seniors receive their degrees June 7 from President Doak S. Campbell, they will become eligible for membership in the largest organization connected with the University—the Florida State University Alumni Association.

Seniors are being given a special membership rate, according to Miss Mildred Parrish, Alumni Association executive secretary. Life membership is being lowered to $10 for graduating seniors, instead of the regular $25 life membership costs. Annual dues for those who are not life members is $2.

Thirty-nine county and out-of-state alumni clubs are active, and are open for membership to the prospective graduate. The clubs and the president of each are as follows:

Alachua County Alumni Club Mrs. R. H. McCaskill, 1624 N. 16th St., Gainesville; Bay County Alumni Club George M. Cooley, Box 648, Lynn Haven; Bradenton Alumni Club Mrs. Frances Hammond, 717 12E 9th St., Fl. Lauderdale president Clubwoman Club Mrs. Mary Ruth Morris, 1205 S.W. 1st St., Miami, president; Duval County Club M. Margaret B. Lowe, 871 Box 709 Jacksonville president; Escambia County Club Miss Mary Ruth Morris, 1205 S.W. 1st St., Pensacola; Hillsborough Franklin Exchange Club Miss Rose Porter Apalachicola; Gadsden County Club, president; Charles H. Miller Chattahoochee president; Hernando County Club Mrs. Jewel Bishop, Box 1, Brooksville; Lake City Club, president; Highlands County Club, president; Jacksonville 422 N. Pine St. Sebring Fla.

Hillsborough County Club Miss Barbara Farrell, 1205 S.W. 1st St., Miami; Jackson County Club Mrs. J. P. Automatic Chamber, president; Jacksonville Alumni Club, president; Lake County Club Miss Patsy Cooper, 1205 S.W. 1st St., Miami; Lee County Club Mrs. Rose Porter, Apalachicola; Leon County Club Mrs. Rose Yonge, 208 County St. Quincy, president; Manatee County Club Miss Mary Ruth Morris, 1205 S.W. 1st St., Miami; Marion County Club Mrs. Rose Yonge, 208 County St. Quincy, president; Miami Beach Alumni Club, president; Miami Alumni Club, president; Orlando Alumni Club, president; Palm Beach County Club, president; Pensacola Alumni Club, president; Pinellas County Club, president; Polk County Club, president; Putnam County Club Mrs. Hoyt Tyson, Palatka, president; Miss Mary Ruth Morris, 1205 S.W. 1st St., Miami; Sarasota County Club, president; Seminole County Club Mrs. Hoyt Tyson, Palatka, president; Tampa Alumni Club, president; Volusia County Club, president; Walton County Club, president; Washington County Club, president; Miss Lucille Anderson, DeFuniak Springs, president; and Wakulla County Club Mrs. Carey Porter, Crawfordville.

Other alumni clubs are Atlanta Alumni Club, Atlanta, Ga.; Birmingham Alumni Club, Birmingham, Ala.; Augusta Alumni Club, Augusta, Ga.; Chicago Alumni Club, Chicago, Ill.; Cincinnati Alumni Club, Cincinnati, Ohio; Columbus Alumni Club, Columbus, Ohio; Jacksonville Alumni Club, Jacksonville, Fla.; Memphis Alumni Club, Memphis, Tenn.; New Orleans Alumni Club, New Orleans, La.; New York Alumni Club, New York City; Philadelphia Alumni Club, Philadelphia, Pa.; Washington Alumni Club, Washington, D. C.

Future Officers

(Continued from Page 1)

spring's social program and working with the question in mind of "How Do I or My Group Fit in'o the Overall Structure of the University."

Marjorie Meckstroth and Dick Bradley are co-chairmen for the Leadership Training Conference. Members of the student steering committee are Mary Ruth Summers, Bill Dunn, Milton Carothers, Carolyn Gola, Marcia Morris, Bob Cannon, Bill Mills and Pee Moore.

THE FACULTY committee consists of Dean of Men Otis McBride, Dean of Women Katherine Warren, Assistant Dean of Men James P. Carr, Assistant Dean of Women Elizabeth Lynn and Dean of Student Welfare J. Broward Culpepper. Also Mary V. Alexander, assistant professor of physical education; George Heilman, counselor of fraternities, William L. Leap, social work professor, and Dr. Wesley C. Harter, associate professor of business.

The better your secretarial training, the better your business opportunity
Special Course for College Women
KATHRYNE GIBBS

Spring Blood Drive Gets Under Way
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

UGA Installation Tomorrow Night
See Lead Story

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 52 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA 1952

Blood Drive Begins In Infirmary Today

Quota of 392 Pints Set; Slogan To Be 'FSU Holds the Record; Let's Keep It'

Thirteen students opened the spring blood drive for Florida State University at 8:00 this morning by donating a pint each at the fourth floor of the FSU infirmary.

This was the first shift toward a quota of 392 pints, Mac Huey, chairman of the "F" club sponsored social drive, said.

A SURPRISE element was injected into the drive by Huey last night when several cars, carrying the organizers and posters urging "Beat UF in This Drive" and "FSU Holds the Record, Let's Keep It," honked horns to create general interest in the two-day drive.

Quotas for fraternities, sororities, women's and men's dormitories have been assigned definite goals for donations Drive Chairman Huey urged all students to give their appointments.

HE TOLD a blood captain meeting last Thursday that all students would be excused from classes by a special infirmary slip to be given out by Dr. Thomas Brooks chief physician at the infirmary.

Florida State University has a blue college record both in number of donations and in high percentage donated." Huey insisted. "Every person pledged can a few minutes and turn up if he can to keep this fine record."

DONORS are advised not to eat at all four hours before donation. Students are again reminded that they must be 18 and 60 and weigh at least 110 pounds. All those under 21 must have written permission of their parents.

Students who have not given their pledges are asked to come to the infirmary between 8 and 9:30 a.m. and 1 and 4 p.m. tomorrow. It is requested to follow the above hours.

TROPHIES will be awarded to the social group which gives the most blood in actual number of pints. The two trophies are being awarded by Allen's, local men's store, and the Florida Flambeau. Certificates are asked to list their appointments when signing up.

Captains are urged to be there at 7:45 a.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. The drive will end at noon Wednesday if the quota is filled.

INSURANCE for blood donors as follows

FSU students will help students out questionnaires, then the donors blood will be typed. Students will have to take the time for this, which will be only seven minutes, after donating their blood. Alpha Phi Omega and other council members will help the nurses, milk, and cookies.

THE UNIVERSITY of Florida football court on their spring drive. The total there was 5,000 pints, which is about by only 24 pints donated. The UF was awarded the Coca-Cola Kappa, national blood-giving honorary for men, and offered a commission in the Armed Forces. "Blood for Korea" campaign of speech.

Gillen, J. Smith Reign at Prom As Queen, King

Marianne Gillen and Joel Smith reigned as Queen and King over the annual Junior-Senior Prom held Saturday night. Dr. Doak S. Campbell, Florida State University president, crowned the royal couple, who also received a cup from Elinor Doyle, florist.

The Senior court was composed of Marjorie Meckstroth, Jett Monroe, Sylvia Strange, Will Pennell, Bob Sommer, and Charles Howland.

Junior court members were Mary Ruth Summers, Ellen Avis, Barbara Newton, Bill Skipper, Bob Ryals, and Ed Pipkin.

The identities of the king, queen, and their court members were kept secret until the night of the prom. Couples' names were elected last week by balloting.

Music for the dance, which was arranged by Dr. Thomas Jones, seniors by invitation, was furnished by the Regents. Refreshments were served.

Eleanor Green was chairman of the annual event, while Barbara Newton was co-chairman of the court committee.

Free Puppet Show Planned Tomorrow In Conradi Theater

A free puppet show will be presented tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the Augusta Conradi theater. The shows presented will be "Jack and the Beanstalk" and "The Magic Clover," written for the show by Valeria Haynes, speech instructor.

The voices of the puppets of the play, "Jack and the Beanstalk," will be those of Leslie Plante, Dorothy Silver, Bert Holander, Ramona Silver and Valeria Haynes. Puppet manipulators will be Gladys Castle, Marty Staley, Wyn Davis and Reuben Silver.

The voices in "The Magic Clover" will be those of Valeria Haynes, who will be assisted in the handling by Gladys Castle.

Miss Haynes also designed and made the puppets to be used. Marylin Nelson designed and made the costumes for "Jack and the Beanstalk," while Russell Graves is responsible for musical background and Sharon Lane, for lighting.

The production is under the general supervision of Dr. George McCalmon, chairman of the Drama Area of the department of speech.

TO THE WINNERS go the spoils after the third annual campus sing. Joan Pavell is shown receiving the women's division trophy for Sigma Kappa from Miss Karl Harshbarger. Waiting to receive the cup for Sigma Chi, men's division winners, is Claude Johns while professors J. Dayton Smith and Lois Schnoor, judges, look on.

Sigma Chi's Retire Campus Sing Cup

By HAZEL MORRISON

The Sigma Chi's won the cup for their third successive year over other men groups in the "Campus Sing" Sunday while the Sigma Kappa's were judged highest of the women's groups. Third year winners are given the cup permanently.

In their faded dungarees and sailor caps the Sigma Chi's won full applause for their rendition of "There's Nothing Like A Dame" and "Then Here's To Our Fraternity." Directing the group was Claude Johns. In white street dresses, the Sigma Kappa's overwhelmed their two opposing sororities with "The Path Leading Down the River" and "Sailing Down the River" and thereby won the cup. Sigma Kappa's was Joan Powell.

Second place for Omegas and Theta Chi's were in the finals with the Sigma Chis. The ATO's, led by "Doctor" Jones, gave a commercial appeal to the audience with "You'll Never Walk Alone" and also presented their "Fraternity Medley." The Theta Chi's sang "Pardon Me" and "Dear Little Girl of Theta Chi." Directing the Theta Chi's were Ji mMcCrary.

The Delta Zeta's and Gamma Phi Beta's under the direction of Virginia French and Betty Ann Pierce respectively, were in the semi-finals with the Sigma Kappa's. The Delta Zeta's in a Delta formation and dressed in plaid presented "There Are Such Things" and "Sorority Song."

THE GAMMA PHI Beta's, who won the women's group cup last year, did an exceptional job on "Too-Too," a word puzzler. "An Old Flame" was their second performance.

Emceeing the Sing eliminations and finals was Charlie Mosby in solid everything from announcing the various groups to moving the piano and eventually into the telephone" while the Sigma Alpha Delta's presented "Roberta Medley."

FSU Cavaliers Dancing Honorary Elects Officers

Jim Jindra was recently elected to head Florida State University's Beta chapter of the international organization of the Cavaliers, dancing honorary. Jindra will replace Cosmo Cardone, who has served as this year's president.

Vice-president for next year will be Marty Sullivan replacing Jim Jindra; Ted Bazer, this year's secretary, will serve in the same position again. Pat Signorelli will take over Marty Sullivan's job as treasurer. Social chairman and corresponding secretary, held this school year by Nick Pappas and Rudy Spoto respectively, are positions which as yet are unfilled.

CAVALIERS CHOSES its members on the basis of dancing ability, personality and willingness to fulfill the purpose of the organization which is good dancing and friendliness on campus. The Cavaliers has been in Florida for 28 years, and on the FSU campus since the year 1948-49, when it was organized by Paul McClarey.

Each year the Cavaliers have cooperated with Cotillion, women's dancing honorary, in providing free dancing lessons and co-sponsoring tea dances. They also have one dance scene in the Sandspur performance, and put on their annual Cavalier Talent Nite. This year giving away $100 in prizes. The group will also co-sponsor with Cotillion the May Day dance for next year.

Soprano Presents Her Senior Recital

Soprano Helen Bell, of the studio of Rita Robertson, will present her senior recital Thursday, May 15 at 8:15 p. m. in the Seminole music hall. She will be assisted by Joanne Byrd at the piano.

Miss Bell will open the program with "Ah, Perfido" with "Quire Clad" from The Creation and Mozart's "Batz Batz" from Don Giovanni. She will also sing Airettes Oubliees by Debussy.

Other numbers on the Bell program will be Rachmaninoff's "The New Grave", suns in Russian; Ravel's "Ronsard a Son Ame"; "Raddisch" "Meyerke," and "L'Enfant Prodigue," and "Air Vif" by Poulenc.

Joyce Bryant will assist Miss Bell with a flute obligato in Leonovaldo's "Balatella." Nedda's aria from Pagliacci.

The final selection will be of the light type. She will sing Michael Head's "The Sleepy-Winter Waltz" "The Little Shepherd's Song" and Amy Worth's "Midsummer."

Dorm Meetings Held For Electing Officers

All upperclasswomen will meet in the respective dorms in which they will live next year at 9:45 Thursday night. All groups which will meet in the Longmire auditorium.

Nominating committees for each dor mhave been set up to make an officers candidates slate. however candidates may be nominated from the floor.

UGA Installation Service Set Tomorrow Night

Invitations Are Sent to Prexys For Conference

ODK, Mortar Board Co-Sponsoring Annual Bradford Camp Meet

Letters of invitation are now being sent out to elnb and organization presidents for the forthcoming Leadership Training Conference to be held at Camp Flastacowo Saturday and Sunday, May 17-18.

The annual conference was started a year ago, and is being sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, men's service honorary, and Mortar Board, women's counterpart to ODK.

Milton Carothers and Carolyn Gola are responsible for the registration and sending out of invitations. Dates for the meeting has Bill Dunn is in charge of program, and Jo Hess is also working on the publicity.

The letters being sent out include a plan to be used in back into the "headquarters," giving the number of old and new officers who will be able to attend and at what times.

The group will study various government and student problems at the conference and individual groups are working according to leadership interest. Three groups on student government, public relations and organizational.

The student government group will consist of executive, judicial and legislative branches. The public relations section will include top workers on the Flambeau, TALLY-HO, Smoke Signals and WFSU. The organizations will consist of those of social service, class, dormitory and honorary groups.

The conference will consist of reports on committee findings, skits, talks and panel discussions.

Annual Ceremonies Of Honor Society Scheduled May 21

Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society, will hold its annual initiation and formal banquet on Wednesday, May 21. Initiation ceremonies, which are open to guests and members, will be held in the Longmire lounge at 5 p.m., and the banquet will take place at 6:30 p.m. in the Union LaSalle.

Reservations for the banquet at $1.90 a plate may be made by phoning Mrs. Hortense Glenn at the FSU extension 2571 or dialing 4-4491. Only a limited number will be accommodated.

Members of the FSU chapter in charge of initiation are Dr. Kenneth Miller, president; Dr. Thomas Brooks, vice-president; Miss Betty Alford, secretary; Miss Glas Hall, treasurer; Miss Juanita deVette, historian, and Dr. Katherine Montgomery, journal.

The banquet committee is composed of Miss Betty Alford, Miss Mary Ann Summers and Mrs. Mrs. Hortense Glenn, Miss Daisy Parker, Miss Virginia Turrentine and Miss Glas Hall Buchan. Miss Dorothy Hoffman, and Miss Florence Tryon, chairman.

Principal Selected Boy's State Head

Clyde V. Hayman, principal of Winter Haven High school, will be the new director for the annual Boy's State, to be held on the Florida State University campus June 22-28.

Hayman will be assisted by Holland O. Mansum, national Legion field representative in Alabama, Florida and Georgia.

The new Boys State head, who is the Army Air Corps reserve, was chosen by the board of directors of Florida Boys State, Inc., at a meeting held in Tampa.

Director Hayman, E. A. Rowlon, department adjutant, and Mansum recently visited FSU to discuss plans for the forthcoming event in which approximately 320 boys are expected to participate. The group will also have 25 counselors.

Pennell, Summers, Culpepper To Speak; Jackson Presides

The theme of the UGA installation will be set by outgoing President Will Pennell when he delivers a speech on the duties and prospects of next year's president at the installation ceremony tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in Longmire auditorium.

Mary Ruth Summers, president-elect, will accept the challenge in a speech responding to Pennell.

THE GUEST SPEAKER of the evening will be J. Broward Culpepper, dean of student welfare Chief Justice Jackson will officiate in the installation.

Among the officers to be installed in tomorrow's ceremony are the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, forums chairman, senators, members of the honor and judicial courts, and the University Recreation Association president.

OTHERS TO be installed include the editors of the Flambeau, Smoke Signals, and Tally-Ho, and the presidents of sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

Notices have now been sent out to all officers informing them. Women will be dressed in white and men have been requested to wear dress shirts and ties.

JO NELL PROCTOR, present secretary of the UGA, has announced that all old and new officers of the UGA as well as graduating seniors, who attend the ceremony, are invited to a reception in the lower lounge of the Longmire building immediately following the program. Drinks and cookies are planned.

Proctor again urged students to attend the installation services. "Students often talk about improving student government," she remarked, "but their apathy shows a real interest in it. Wednesday night FSU students will have an opportunity to see the beginning of next year's student government."

PUBLICITY FOR the installation is being handled by Freshman Finalists. Over-all chairmen are Proctor and Sue Saxon, treasurer of UGA.

Dance Tonight Will Introduce Recent Taps

Students who have been tapped for Cotillion and Cavaliers, dancing honoraries, will be introduced tonight at an informal tea dance held in the Women's gymnasium from 7 until 9 p.m.

Tonight's tea dance will be the last one for the year since there is no room in the budget. tea dances will not be held next year either.

MUSIC WILL be supplied by the Regents and refreshments will be served.

New Cotillion members will be Jan Williams, Betty Ann Hollis, Jeanne Cronmiller, Natalie Reece, Joy Crouch, Jenny Carper, Lois Schnoor, Jean Parker, Ann Grubb, Nancy Friend, Lois Stroup, Joy Carus, and Glenda Futch.

CAVALIER TAPS are Enrique Basnuevo, Jerry Cominos, Ralph Aiwell, Jim Maule, Ed James, Ronald Skelton, Vic Holloway, Joe Bryan.

New members of these dancing honoraries were picked after a period of tryouts.

Final Examination On Junior English Planned Thursday

The last Junior English examination of the semester will be given Thursday, May 22, from 5 until 6:30 p. m. Room assignments have been posted on the History building bulletin board.

Students may take the final examination are all transfers who have not had a Florida Junior and seniors who for special reasons were deferred and all sophomores who will be juniors next semester. No one will be permitted to repeat the examination unless he has been ill or has failed to take the examination will be assessed a five dollar delinquent fee to be paid prior to the next registration. Students who have posted delinquent fees failing to take the last examination will present their delinquent fee receipts at the door May 22.

Sophomores who have doubts about their standing in the English office are asked to check the room assignments list posted in the History office. Sophomores with a minimum of 42 hours now are expected to take the test.

STUDENTS WHOSE examinations indicate a need for remedial work will be required for Junior classes at the next registration.

Before the time of the examination, students with conflicts should report their schedules in the Junior English office.

School of Education Plans Camp Picnic

The entire School of Education is sponsoring a picnic at Camp Flastacowo for all students, faculty and staff connected with the education dept. Thursday, May 15. from to 4 to 7 p.m.

Transportation will be furnished out to the camp by buses, which will leave in the cars behind the front of the woman's gym at 3, 3:30, and every half-hour until 6 p.m.

Recreation is being planned by the recreation department, while the physical education department is in charge of the food. The cost per person is 50c, which includes the dinner meal. Dinner will be served at the camp at 5:30 and will be followed and preceded by organized recreation.

This picnic will provide an opportunity for an informal get-together for those connected with the School of Education.

Collegians Hold Rehearsal For Spring Concert

Program Is Scheduled Friday Night at 8:15 In The Opperman Hall

The Collegians, Florida State University Men's Glee Club, will hold a special two-hour rehearsal tonight in preparation for the annual spring Concert which will be held this Friday night in the Opperman Music hall at 8:15 p.m.

The concert will include the first performance of a setting of the "Lamentations of Jeremiah" by John Fisher, graduate student in the School of Music. Prof. J. Dayton Smith, director of the Collegians, has selected a lively program of classics, light numbers, and novelties.

"GENERAL WILLIAM Booth enters Into Heaven," the poem by Vachel Lindsey, as set to music by Philip Jakobowski will be performed by the Collegians, assisted by an instrumental ensemble. The combination of the Glee Club chorus sponsored by Lindsay to an equally dramatic musical idiom, using the typical instrumentation of the Salvation Army street band. Assisting instrumentalists will be Bill Gagne Crabb, trumpet; William Cramer, trombone; Pat Johnson, drum; and Gene Howey, percussion; Nancy Hill and Charles Mosby, pianos; and Bill Head, organ.

Virginia French, memo-soprano, will be soloist with the Collegians in the Fisher composition and will also sing the "Ave Maria" of Franz Shubert, the spiritual, "Sometimes I Feel Like a Mother-less Child," and "The Man I Love" by George Gershwin. Geoff Bunn III, student conductor, will direct the men in the performance of "Madame Jeanette" by Alan Murray.

'Florida State Capers' Scheduled May 23-24

The Inter-Fraternity Council dance, entitled, "Florida State Capers," has been scheduled for two nights, Friday and Saturday, May 23-24, in order to avoid congested conditions in the Suwannee room.

Tickets for the dance will be limited to an equal number for Friday and Saturday nights.

They can now be purchased at the Kappa Alpha house, Weems and Sweet shop for three dollars a couple.

The dance will feature Art Mooney and his orchestra. IFC is working with Sandspur dances to bring to the students of FSU some top bands and name entertainment."

Mooney and his orchestra will also appear in a concert, along with a symphony orchestra in Opperman Music Hall, for which there will be no charge for admission.

The orchestra leader, who is known as the "genial Irish gentleman," makes records for MGM His specialty is novelty tunes Jerry Gray and Norm Leyden former Glenn Miller artists are now writing many of Art Mooney's arrangements.

Art Mooney

Campus Receives Returning Interns

Two hundred and forty-nine students returned to the Florida State University campus yesterday from internship in schools all over the state.

Of the interns coming back to FSU, the largest number, 118 studied the elementary field. Music fieldwork was with 18 students in that field. Fourteen students interned as men's physical education teachers, and 14 as science teachers, too.

Eleven interned in social studies, nine in mathematics, eight in modern languages and eight in women's physical education. Five students were in the recreation field, four in speech, one in Latin, three in home science, one in industrial arts and one in journalism.

Final Senior Voting To Be Held Today

Voting for the "Best All Around Senior Girl and Boy" will be held today in lower lounge, 9-4 period, announced by Smoke Signals, had its beginnings last week when nominations were held Seniors only can vote in today's elections. The couple who will be chosen on the basis of contributions to the University, extra-curricular activities and friendliness, will be featured on the cover of the final edition of Smoke Signals.

A registrar check list will be used to determine class status and whether or not a person has voted.

Graduating Women Invited to Reception

The women members of the Senior Class at Florida State University will be guests of the Tallahassee Chapter of the American Association of University Women at a reception at 8 p.m. tonight at the Longmire Lounge.

Mrs. Odella Williams, chairman of the local branch international relations committee, said the aims and purposes of the organization will be outlined to the FSU women seniors who are potential members of the AAUW when they become full AAUW state presidents and FSU graduates.

Refreshments will be served during the reception and music will be played by Betty Burns, music major and Richard Brooks, graduate student.

Members of the committee assisting Mrs. Williams with arrangements for the reception are Dorothy Dr. Anna Popper, Marjorie Burks, Mrs. Ruth Gilbert, Mrs. Dorothy Hoffman, Mrs. Eugene Davis, Mrs. Marion Riser, Maude Bell and Mrs. Harry Wood.

Social Workers Meet

The Social Work Club will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. in the Social Work building. Students who have returned from internships in Jacksonville will lead the program.

Haynie, Backus Head Signals and Sandspur

"Boots Haynie will be next years editor of Smoke Signals, campus magazine, and Bill Backus chairman of the annual Sandspur production, it was announced yesterday.

The announcement came from Alice Davidson, a member of the elections committee. Davidson explained that Billy "Cooter" Mills, elected editor, and Connie Sandidge, winner of the Sandspur chairman race, did not legally qualify because they did not have the required 1.3 grade average.

THE NEW appointments were made with the collaboration of Will Pennell, president of the University Government Association, and the election committee whose chairman is Carl Epperson.

Mills and Haynie were the sole candidates for editor of the campus magazine, and Mills won by a rather sizeable majority

Backus and Bob Beckett, members of this year's Sandspur production, were the only candidates in the Sandspur race. Cardone did not have the required average according to the elections committee, but he has also stated that he only ran so his friend Backus would enter the race.

It has been rumored that Backus will not accept the position because he plans to be interning the second semester of next year, but this could not be reached before press time.

Davidson said the committee had decided against the publication for two reasons. First they were qualified for their respective positions, and second, they had showed an interest by running.

DAVIDSON SAID the action was taken some weeks ago.

Series to Present Carmen Next Year

Artist Series has released for publication two of its performances for next year's series at Ruby Mitchell Theatre. The Warner Opera Company of New York will present Carmen on October 28, and the Boston Pops Orchestra will give a program of symphony and light symphony music on February 25

Both of these are scheduled to take place in Leon High School auditorium and both will present matinee and evening performances. The full schedule of programs will be released for the next year's series at a later time.

"A Dying Prayer"

The night was cold and black
When Roger got his scar;
He had not seen the flash
Nor felt the bullet's jar,
Yet there alone he lay
In muck and ice and grime
His gaping wound allow
Pouring out his life's last time.
Soon corpsmen came and took Him to the lines arear.
Medics couldn't save him
The end was very near,
And he, like many others,
Must die there in the mud
Far from the folks back home
There simply was no blood.
He prayed for them at home
Adying where he lay,
That they should be forgiven
For killing him that day.
— Johann Koch '51.

● SPRING ENERGY

The "boys" over at Gainesville release their energy by vandalism, stealing, and destruction of property. This can not be denied in the recent riot through the women's dormitory—humorous for as instant—but then dead serious to the many girls who had money stolen.

We need a sudden spurt of this Spring energy at FSU—and it can be released today and tomorrow morning. Florida State University is having its spring blood drive. FSU could show their "energy" in this worthwhile, constructive and important project.

This would indeed keep the record straight between the U of F and FSU. We know which way we are going!

● STUDENT INTEREST

Student apathy has been the bleeding-heart cry of professors, the Flambeau and student government leaders all year long. Now it is again time to see how interested students are in current affairs.

Soon there will be three of the year's most important events in the University Government association.

First of all, there is the installation of new officers of the university government association, open to anyone wishing to attend. Jo Nell Prescott, secretary, and other student government association officers, have made repeated pleas to students to appear. Will they be interested enough to the officers they elected to take over? Will they fill the usually empty seats?

The second event is the Leadership Training conference sponsored jointly by Mortar Board, women's service honorary, and Omicron Delta Kappa, men's service honorary. The conference is for the benefit of the new officers and leaders of the various campus organizations.

It opens Saturday afternoon at Camp Flastacowo and ends Sunday. Invitations and a program of events have been sent to all officers, old and new. They might receive valuable help from the sessions at the meet.

Finally the University Senate has scheduled a campus gripe day. All students are to be allowed to register their gripes and make suggestions for next year's legislature. This is the nearest student government comes to a "pure" democracy. It is a time important plans can be made for next year's activities.

The opportunities are before students to make a strong beginning for next year's student government and student leaders. Will there be a dent in the wall of apathy?

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

WHAT'S WRONG WITH DOG'S LIFE?

By FRANCES CAWTHON

If someone calls you a dog, brother, don't be insulted: thank him.

Nowadays the status quo of a dog seems to be in many cases a little elevated above that of Man.

Manufacturing companies have developed special dog food containing every vitamin imaginable, planetary system, as well as a few "secret factors" that no human food has gotten around to yet. And does the manufacturers of Wheatina cry to undue some nerve soothing ingredients into their product? No. But the dog equivalent is just jam-packed full of peppy good stuff to make Rover well adjusted not only physically but mentally.

Beau G. Pooch, of Cincinnati, Ohio, recently wrote one of the dog food manufacturers thus before he died their product he was so run-down that he could not even pant. Both of the children. He was extremely nervous and jumpy, he said, and would start every time the front door slid. Rover's cat came around. (He has never been afraid of him before, however. In fact his favorite sport before he got in this run-down condition was to hump up the slim tree.) Worse of all, Mr. Pooch reported that it had him in such an ill mood that he actually took a bite out of the insurance collector's left leg.

But Mr. Pooch's master bought him a can of the advertising dog food, and in no time at all he was feeling fit as any self-respecting canine should. Only after one can he was back chasing the neighbor's cat up the slim tree.

This ain't all. State chemists inspect dog foods just as they do the other products. Rover must not get any germs, and he must get all the vitamins that manufacturers claim he will.

But this family dawg is not compelled to eat any of this enriched, vitamine stuff they are selling. If Rover turns up his little nose at Kennel Ration, Mrs. John Q. Public runs to the store and buys him the latest, tastiest bone —again a vitamined conglomeration of soye beans, tuna, that and a pinch of the other cut out in shapes resembling no bons living or dead.

If that doesn't set well on the pallate, Rover elevates his sniffer and finds a table leaver. Next time, the household tries T-bone steaks, thinking "surely" so rich dinner while they munch on hamburger meat. Sometimes he is even rushed down to the Vet for a check-up, or boarded out there far a week or two, at the owner's prices, until he feels up to norm.

Little kids are not allowed to get up on the living room sofa with their two feet. Rover, however, who has twice as many feet usually finds his way up in the favorite chair, all curled up and looking too peaceful for most dozing masters to disturb.

His also gets about as many toys as the kid do, with squeaking mice and rubber balls in the lead. He has learned to wag his tail to "please" command, for what American can ignore the expressing sounds of tail beats on the floor and the soulful eyes of that little ole puppy-dog?

A dog doesn't have any classes to attend, no homework, can stay out as late as he wants to without signing out, gets scratched behind his ears, and hears about every dialect of baby-talk this world has invented.

About the only disturbing factor in his life is a bath once every blue moon. We humans have to take one at least once a week but Rover, with modern society the way it is, it has gotten to be just 16 years to be a daily task.

So brother, save your temper. That's what Beau Richard is calling you names of the taxes-free, unsubsidized canine and bless him for placing him among those Utopian characters.

Fuller Warren to Climax Retailing Clinic With Talk

An address by Governor Fuller Warren at 8 p.m. on "Selling Florida to the Nation" will climax a one-day retailing clinic to be held tomorrow in the Longmire auditorium. Conference is be under the sponsorship of the marketing department of the School of Business.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president, will make the opening remarks before Governor Warren's address.

DR. J. FRANK Dame, dean of the School of Business, will open the program at 9:30 a.m. with a welcoming address. This will be followed by a talk on "Scientific Testing for Consumer Selection" by Edward Dillon of the American Gem society. Richard M. Baker, of the department of clothing and textiles, will be discussion leader.

A student panel consisting of Harriet Paul, Joseph C. Lane, Jr. and Tom Newberry will also be one of the features of the early morning part of the program.

B. F. Shaw, of Winn-Lovett, will discuss "Protection in Consumer Through Packaging" at 10:30 a.m. Robert Schaefer, instructor in advertising, will be discussion leader. And the student panel will be composed of Alan Allchin, Dorothy Davis and Nancy Mueller.

THE AFTERNOON session will start with a discussion of "Independent Store Merchandising" at 1 p.m. by Don Mazeron, of Mazeron's Women's apparel. W. O. Shuver, professor of Marketing will be discussion leader. The student panel is Jackie Harrington, Eston L. Sherman, Jr. and Richard Lacuzzo.

At 2 p.m. "The Department Store as Work" will be discussed by the manager of Sears, Roebuck and Co., Ralph Williams. Virginia Pulliam, associate professor and Journalism William R. Slattery will head a discussion on Henry Chambliss, Sylvia Strange and Rufus Horne will compose the student panel.

MACK HUMPHREY, owner-manager of Alford Bros., Inc., will speak on "Psychology of Handling Men's Furnishings" at 3 p.m. W. Bruce Weigl, associate professor of marketing, will be discussion leader, and the student panel will consist of Annie Mauk, Nannie Reardon and Willie Jackson.

MOVIE REVIEW

'Teresa,' 'Invitation,' Top Series of Week

By DAVID DREIS

(Comments and ratings are based on the reviews and ratings of leading periodicals. The Rating Scale: 10—Superior; 9—Excellent; 8—Very Good; 7—Better Than Fair; 6—Fair; 5—Average; 4—Not quite average; 3—Poor; 2—You can sit through it; 1—Skip it.)

INVITATION Rating: 8

A dramatic melodrama of a woman who finds out that her husband has paid to get rid of is the plot of this film which stars Dorothy McGuire as the woman, Van Johnson as the man, Louis Calhern as his father who paid for happiness in his daughter, and Ruth Roman as Van Johnson's girl friend who refuses to give him up. It's at the Florida for the last showing today.

TERESA Rating: 8

M-G-M gives two unknowns, Pier Angeli and John Erickson, a good script to work with and they come up with a wonderful picture of a GI who brings his foreign wife home to the family. Their trials and tribulations score heavily. Rather tearjerker at the Ritz. Going in as "Belles on Their Toes" starting Friday out.

RETREAT HELL. Rating: 7

Frank Lovejoy is in another war picture and Warner Bros. seem is happy. This is a forceful epic of a Korean battle and also of a young soldier afraid of his first encounter. As his an answer of the "Old Sergeant" to the lad's reply "Retreat? Hell, we're just attacking in another direction," will also be remembered in this area. The film, which co-stars Richard Carlson, starts Wednesday through Saturday at the Florida.

CALCUTTA Rating: 5

DOG DRUMMOND Rating: 5

Scotland Yard is the setting and Bulldog Drummond is the hero. Walter Pidgeon appears in the role which made Ronald Coleman famous. It's the same cops and robbers technique, with clues popping up all over the place, but it's okay, to pass an uneventful evening at the Siarts at the State after Teresa leaves Friday and Saturday.

FTA Elects Nash As New President

Margaret Nash was elected the new president of the Future Teachers of America at a recent meeting. Vice-president will be John Rooney; June McMillan, secretary; Betty Williams, treasurer; Sara Whitehead, historian and Dr. William L. Sandel, associate professor of physical education, faculty advisor.

Outgoing head of the organization is Patricia Russell. The Florida State chapter received its national charter under the presidency.

Installation of new officers will take place, Thursday, May 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the small lounge on the second floor of the Landrum building. Graduating seniors of FTA will be honored at this time, which will be the last meeting of the school year. A social will follow the installation services.

All FTA members and other interested persons are invited to attend.

Odham Club Holds 2nd Primary Meet

The Bradley Odham for Governor club will hold its first second primary meeting tomorrow night at 7 p.m., It was announced today by Co-chairman Phil Springer and Emory King.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium on the second floor of the Longmire building.

Plans for the meeting are not yet complete, King said. However, he said that literature and signs would be available for students who wanted them.

F.S.U. Fun and Functions

A CALENDAR OF EVENTS COMPILED AND DISTRIBUTED BY YOUR U. G. A.

Tuesday—May 13

3:00—Student Recital—Opperman Music Hall.
4:00—Biological Sciences Seminar — Room 308 History.
7:00—Wampah Club Meeting—Room 405 Longmire.
7:00-9:00—Hillton Tea Dance — East Campus Gym

Wednesday—May 14

8:00—Mr. Lothar P. Wurlitzer, Curator, will speak on the "Art Forms of Antilles"—at the Museum.

Thursday—May 15

8:15—Senior Recital—Helen Bell, soprano—Opperman Music Hall.

Friday—May 18

2:30—Baseball — FSU vs. Stetson — Centennial Field.
8:15—Concert, Men's Glee Club—Opperman Music Hall.
9:00-12:00—Sigma Alpha Epsilon Formal Dance. Lambda Chi Alpha Formal Dance—American Legion Home.
Alpha Tau Omega Formal Dance — ATO House.
Magnolia Village Formal Dance—Lonsmire Bldg.

Notice: If you want it to appear in Fun and Functions, please notify Ruth Heerwig, U.G.A. office (4641), or Carolyn Gola.

Saturday—May 17

12:00—Leadership Training Conference — Camp Flastacowo.
7:45—Baseball — FSU vs. Stetson — Centennial Field.
8:15—Senior Recital—Mary Helen Ellis, pianist—Opperman Music Hall.
Tri Delta Formal Dance.
Phi Mu Formal Dance.
Magnolia Village Beach Party — Alligator Point.

Monday—May 19

7:30—Relaxation Class—Old Campus gym.
8:15—Certificate Recital—Mildred Atchison, cello—Opperman Hall.

Now through May 26—"Forty-five Drawings"—in University Art Gallery.

FSC Registers

Free Campus Movie—"Go West, Young Lady"—7:30 Tuesday, Landis — Wednesday, Magnolia — Thursday, Senior Hall and 8:00 Friday, Amphitheatre Also Monday 7:30—"O" Club —"Wilma."

Plunge period—Bowling—Pingone—Every evening in East Campus Gym.

SPRING SEMESTER EXAM SCHEDULE

The second semester 1951-52 examination schedule will run a. m. Saturday, May 31, and last through 1 p. m. Saturday, June 7.

All sections of the following courses have examinations at the time, and they will be held at the place mentioned in the schedule.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
Accounting 201, 202	Saturday, May 31, A. M.
Biological Science 101, 102	Wednesday, A. M. 8
Business Law 321, 322	Tuesday, A. M. 8
Chemistry 101, 102, 103	Monday A. M. 10
Economics 201, 202	Wednesday, A. M. 10
English 100, 101, 102	Tuesday A. M. 8
Food & Nutrition 105, 106	Friday P. M.
Geography 101, 102, 105, 301, 302	Thursday, A. M. 8
History 101, 102, 166	Thursday, A. M. 8
Humanities 101, 102, 103	Monday, A. M. 8
Library Service 315	Thursday A. M. 10
Mathematics 105, 117	Saturday, May 31, 8:00
Modern Language—1st & 2nd Year	Tuesday P. M.
Military Art 101, 102	Saturday, May 31, 3:30-5
Personal Development 105, 106	Friday, A. M. 8
Physical Education, Women 115, 116, 316Y, 116Z, 215, 216, 216Y	Saturday, May 31, 3:30-5:30 P. M.
Physical Science 101, 102	Wednesday P. M. 2
Social Science 101, 102	Wednesday P. M. 2
Social Work 105, 305	Friday A. M. 8:00
Speech 105	Wednesday, 3:30

*Classes will end Friday, May 30, 10:00 P. M.

Examinations for the course not appearing above are listed below, and will be held in the class room where the sections of the course meet.

EXAMPLE. If you have a 9:00 or 10:00 class on Monday, and Friday, and if that course is not listed on the first page, you will take the examination in your regular class room Friday A. M. at 10:00 or 11:00.

6-1952

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
8:00 or 8:30 M. W. F.	Friday A. M. 10
8:00 or 8:30—4 or 5 times per week
8:00 or 8:30 T. Th. S.
8:00 or 8:30—4 or 5 times per week	Sat. June 7, 8:00-10:00 A. M.
9:00 or 9:30 M. W. F.
9:00 or 9:30—4 or 5 times per week	Thursday P. M.
9:00 or 9:30 T. Th. S.
9:00 or 9:30—4 or 5 times per week	Sat., June 7, 10:30-12:30 A. M.
10:00 or 10:30 M. W. F.
10:00 or 10:30—4 or 5 times per week	Wednesday P. M. 1:00 3:00
10:00 or 10:30 T. Th. S.
10:00 or 10:30—4 or 5 times per week	Friday P. M. 7:00 9:00
11:00 or 11:30 M. W. F.
11:00 or 11:30—4 or 5 times per week	Tuesday P. M. 7:00 9:00
11:00 or 11:30 T. Th. S.
11:00 or 11:30—4 or 5 times per week	Friday P. M. 3:30 5:30
12:00 or 12:30 M. W. F.
12:00 or 12:30—4 or 5 times per week	Thursday A. M. 10:30 12:30
12:00 or 12:30 T. Th. S.
12:00 or 12:30—4 or 5 times per week	Thursday P. M. 7:00 9:00
1:00 or 1:30 M. W. F.
1:00 or 1:30—4 or 5 times per week	Monday P. M. 7:00 9:00
1:00 or 1:30 T. Th. S.	Monday A. M. 10:30 12:30
2:00 or 2:30 M. W. F.
2:00 or 2:30—4 or 5 times per week	Tuesday P. M. 3:30 5:30
2:00 or 2:30 T. Th. S.	Monday P. M. 7:00 9:00
3:00 or 3:30 M. W. F.
3:00 or 3:30—4 or 5 times per week	Monday P. M. 1:00 3:00
3:00 or 3:30 T. Th. S.	Wednesday P. M. 7:00 9:00
4:00 or 4:30 M. W. F.
4:00 or 4:30—4 or 5 times per week	Sat. May 31 10:30 12:30
4:00 or 4:30 T. Th. S.	Wednesday, A. M. 10:30 12:30

COURSES MEETING ONE HOUR PER WEEK will have their examination at the regular class hour.

COURSES MEETING TWO HOURS PER WEEK will take the same schedule as the three-hour courses unless otherwise shown on this schedule.

In case of conflicts in the examination which appear, the student will have preference over the other examinations. Please make arrangements with the instructor of the conflicting examination to take the examination Thursday, June 5 at 3:30-5:30 P. M.

Students are not permitted to change sections for examination. Night classes will have their examinations Saturday, May 31, 7:00-9:00 P. M.

Classes meeting on Saturday only will have their examination June 7, 10:30-12:30 A. M.

Students who have more than three examinations scheduled for one day, please contact Mr. Price, Assistant Registrar, 101A West.

An examination may be excused by the instructor if the student in the final examination in a course in which he has maintained a minimum "B" average at the time the examination is scheduled.

Students for degrees who are required to take examinations will have them by arrangement with their instructor not later than Tuesday, June 3.

The lecture period of a Laboratory course will determine the exact finish time for such courses.

Invitations Available

The University Bookstore has available a few extra graduation invitations, Gordon Wheeler, manager, has announced.

The deadline for ordering invitations has past. The extra amount on hand was ordered for the benefit of students who wish to purchase invitations and who not have a chance to place orders now.

ONE PERSON'S OPINION

END OF EPOCH: THE SPRINGER STORY

By GENE LAWLER

This week marks the end to an epoch of FSU student government—The Springer Epoch.

Senator Phil Springer, the curly-haired freshman firebrand, will take part in his last Senate meeting this afternoon and will be officially retired from office tomorrow night.

It seems certain that no other senator this year has talked so much or loud, introduced so much legislation so forcefully, battled administrative opposition so vigorously, thrown the Senate into spasms of tortured frets so often, or, in short, provided so much Flambeau copy as he.

Springer took office last fall, two weeks before the other freshman senators started appearing at meetings. A partial record of legislation he has advocated since that time follows:

1. Student Publications Libel Bill, not brought to vote.
2. NSA Study Committee. approved by Senate, blocked by executive Council.
3 Moving of Senate meetings to Longmire Auditorium. Senate returned to UOA room.
4. Compromise Parking Bill: approved by Senate, killed by administration.
5. Gag Rule on Senate Visitors. passed by Senate after admission-"Tribunes" on parking issue.
6. Smoke Signals Investigation: Action to withhold Editor Smith's salary rejected.
7. Faculty Evaluation Endorsement: approved by Senate, taken over by Executive Council
8. Faculty Review Board Revision: passed by Senate
9 Attorney General Bill: After furious debate, one special session and a "walk-out," passed by Senate Subsequently vetoed by faculty committee. Rejected by Senate in another effort.

The freshman senator introduced much more business, but probably his greatest achievement is one that he shares with several other students. As a member of the constitutional revision committee. It was Springer who first put the Cabinet System amendment an paper.

As an advocate of "Student Rights," he has repeatedly butted heads with the administration.

He thinks that UGA's power is "great and increasing," and holds high hopes that FSU's student government will someday become autonomous, complete with a Declaration of Independence.

As for his political philosophy, he professes to be completely democratic "I am always willing to abide by the wishes of the people."

For political reasons, he has tried to foster the idea that he is the son of a Georgia tenant farmer, having adopted States Rights and the Talmadge slogan of "I may surprise you, but I shall not deceive you."

In reality, however, Springer was born in New York City, went to a New York prep school, and is a Miami Yankee. "I may not be a Floridian by birth," he mumbles, "but I am by choice."

* * *

Bibliography note, for benefit of Jerry Thomas:

In the Tampa Sunday Tribune of April 20, 1952, there are a couple of innocuous but much abused paragraphs, precisely 27½ column-inches below the byline of Clyde (!) Shaffer.

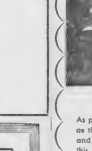
May be seen in the newspaper room of the FSU library.

"Need I say more?"

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Bill Dunn—Editor

Bebs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Frances Cawthon ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Bruce Galphin, Marcia Morris
Sports Editor ..... Jim Eady
Society Editor ..... Judy Smith
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Rewrite Editor ..... John Hankinson
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Perce



BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—Business Manager
National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Harley
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Fe Pittman, Lou Calderoni, Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-918, Ext. 4621 ..... second Floor, Animal Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dine with us in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
Tried after Classes? Drop in at the Amber House For a Fresh-up drink
Fried Ham, Pineapple and Specialties in Pancakes Plus Waffles Home Made Pie
Sauce

RED HOT SPECIAL
Filet Mignon Special At The Seven Seas
Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

3 rings to join 2 hearts
As perfectly matched as the happy bride and bridegroom . . . this diamond engagement ring and harmonizing man's and woman's wedding bands. In 14 kt. gold —smartly designed for the modern "tailored" effect. From our assortment of triple ensembles.
Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
American Gem Society

Seminoles Idle This Week; End Season Against Stetson

The curtain comes down on the 1952 Florida State baseball season Friday and Saturday when they meet the Stetson Hatters at Centennial Field. The Stetson nine is responsible for one of the four defeats on the State record, beating them at DeLand.

Pushing chances for the two remaining games haven't been decided as yet by Coach Ralph Mashburn. With no two aces, Ed Sesalons and Lockard will be ready to go, but also can call on Freshman Jack Sanders for mound duty. The Stetson games will be the last for six seniors. Outfielder Gene Bonners, catcher Ron Meissenzehler, Les Mullen, shortstop Bob Trowbridge and utility man Rudy Suarez are all leaving the Seminole wave via the graduation route. It is not sure if first-baseman Ken Smith will return next year or not.

Over the weekend the Seminoles split a two game series with the Florida College Tars. On Friday night Ed Sesalons turned in his best pitching performance of his career when he limited the Tars to four hits in winning a 2-1 game. It was a tight pitchers' duel with the FSU nine managing to get five hits off the Tar hurler, Don Tauscher. Sesalons, showing good control on his entire game, didn't walk a man and struck out eight.

On the Saturday night affair, the Tallahassee nine evened the series by banging a 9 to 3 defeat on the Seminoles. Lockard turned in the first loss of the year, as his mates kept the Seminole bats silent most of the nine frames. The Jacksonville junior, although giving up only six safeties, walked six and hit three men with batted balls. He struck out nine.

While Lockard was having his big game of the year, the State batters collected a mere four base hits from the left hand chucking Tar pitcher Bill Coy. Indian Bob Smith Matherly reported the Tars was the first southpaw team faced since the Amherst game in March. This fact was borne out when Coy struck out the first batters to face him and after that he only managed to get three on strike-outs.

Two of the Seminoles' four hits were pounded out by Les Mullen, who drove in one run with a triple to center in the fourth inning. The Seminoles were counted in the 1, 4, 7, 8, and 9 innings, the biggest cluster coming in the fourth when the Tars handed across four runs on only two hits. But the Seminoles were issued two errors and a passed ball which were part of the seven committed during the game by them.

In the two game series, the Tars have piled up only nine runs while the Tars countered ten.

Commenting on the Saturday game, Matherly said that the Seminoles' timely hitting sticks being occupied, kept the pitcher under pressure most of the time which helps explain the Tars' errors. Lockard's usually fine control was weakening as it has done in the past

A HURRICANE WINS—Horst (left) of FSU and Miami's Mason (right) are even at last hurdle but Mason was in 15.5. Mallinow (center) finished third.

The Sports Line

By JIM EADY

Talking to gymnastic coach Hartley Price the other day and it seems he has big plans for the gym sport at FSU. In fact, one of his schemes will go into effect tomorrow night when a gymnastic fraternity is launched here on the campus.

The frat is an honorary deal and its members will be called from the ranks of the rope climbers, trampolimers, tumblers and the rest of the athletes who perform for the Florida State Gymkana. It is going to be called "Gymnastics—a true Greek moniker—and at the first gathering a captain for next year will probably be elected.

The University of Illinois, where Price worked for 22 years is the birth place of the honorary. And Dr. Price hopes that Gymnastics, the local chapter, will go national next year.

Another of his plans—or hopes —is to place a few future FSU women on the next Olympics (1956) and toward this goal Pat Signorelli, a parallel champ, and Connie Holder, Dot's mate, have been working with the little gals who are interested in going to the next Olympics. Most of them are grade schoolers and Price hopes they will bear the garnet and gold colors someday. Of course it's never too late to start, so if there are any coeds who want to get ready for the 1956 Olympics just report to the front of the gym any day during the week.

In commenting on FSU's showing at th national gymnastic tournament at Philly Price said Olympian bound Bill Roetheum was "cold" the first day and he was consequently stuck in 11th place After the first day of performing, but he came back strong the next day and landed in third place . . . and a position on the '52 Olympics. But Roetheim didn't want the only fellow who had bad days during the meet . . . refund; therefore nobody would

Football Season Tickets on Sale

Orders Pour In Says Danford

Since the season tickets for Florida State's six home football games have gone on sale the orders for them have been pouring in. The season tickets selling for $15, represent a reserved seat in the west stands of Campbell Stadium.

Dr. Howard Danford, director of Physical Education, reported more than 150 orders for the ducats have been received in the first three days after they were put up for sell.

Persons who order tickets now will get receipts for the present and in August will receive the printed tickets. Choice of seats is on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Holders of 1,200 stadium donor tickets which were issued two years ago and are entitled to a five year period, may obtain additional season-ticket reseats near their present seats, if they are available. They may also transfer their stadium donor ticket rights to make a block of adjoining seats with additional season tickets.

The $15 season ticket represents a saving of $4.60 from the total price if tickets are bought singly for the six games.

Reserved seats for the Louisville, V.M.I. Furman and Stetson games are selling for $3.85 and seats for the Louisiana Tech and Mississippi Southern games are $2.50.

Gymkana to Perform At Chipley, Friday

The famed Florida State Gymkana troupe will travel to Chipley to present a show Friday night, May 17. The show will be held under the sponsorship of the Chipley Lions Club.

Featured in the gymnastic display that he could use upstate students in the nationals. He plans on keeping this name so he can represent them here to do their graduate work here and still be eligible to compete. One athlete who might come down here is Frank Lallow, who finishes at Jones State this year. LaDue is the national AAU trampoline champ and if he does decide to do graduate work here, FSU will be tough —impossible — to beat in the trampoline. Outing, at national collegiate champ, has beaten La-Due in the NCAA.

FSU John Poston, the Jacksonville gazelle, can, according to track coach Ken Miller, be in all the national meets (including the Olympic trials) if FSU can back him with the necessary money.

Of course it doesn't have to be — and probably won't — FSU to guarantee the cash . . . any civic organization can kick in. And it's to these latter organizations that Miller is looking for support.

If Poston is to compete in the big national meets which are the NAAU in Abilene, NCAA in Berkley and the NAAU in Long Beach three or four hundred dollars is needed for a guarantee. And if Poston finishes among the first six in the first meet, the NAUB, the jack is refunded.

Miller is sure that Poston is fast enough so that there will be a

AN FSU WIN—Freshman Phil Wagoner breaks the tape ahead of Miami's O'Neil to take the mile run in 4.42.6.

Unbeaten SN Take First in Frat Play

Sigma Nu jumped into undisputed first place in the fraternity softball league Friday by downing Kappa Sig 4 to 3, boosting their record to six wins and no defeats. SN picked up on the KE's to a measley two safeties.

SN took the first position alone on DTD was knocked out of the ranks of the undefeated and from a first place tie with SN. The Deltas took a 13 to 7 set back at the hands of Sigma Chi.

ATO stayed in a tie for second place with a 15-9 victory over third place PKP as Italiano of ATO contained a homer run.

In a high scoring affair, SPE outscored LCA by a 18-13 mark. The battle was enlivened by the total of 28 hits, including five homers, four batters were poked by SPE's Gardner, Bowen, and Stinson and LCA's Craig with two.

SAE absorbed its seventh straight defeat from KA by a 9-6 count. The KA's are now tied for third place with three other frats.

In a four inning game, PDT captured it's first victory of the year by knocking over the Theta Tau's 13-5. The PDT's finished out with a 15 hit attack. Bukay of the winners was four bagger.

PKT posted their third win by edging PKA 8-3 as both frats got three hits apiece. Sims pushed the Pi Kappa's out of a tie for third place.

Sportsquiz

Let's so again this week with the FSU sports quiz. Put on your thinking caps and let's see you make a perfect score again.

1. Who was the fleet halfback on Seminole football team selected by the Cleveland Browns in the recent professional draft?

2. Who was the national collegiate trampoline star?

3. Who was the outstanding catcher on the baseball team, a four-year letter winner?

4. Who was the pace valuable player this year in football, hailing from Tampa, Florida?

5. Who was the outstanding freshman free sniper from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida?

6. Who was the veteran guard on the Seminole cage team that paced the attack against Loyola with 16 points?

7. Who is the speedy center-fielder and one of the best batters on the baseball team?

8. Who was the senior forward with a four year's total of 903 points in basketball?

9. Who was the senior track captain who ran the 440, 220 and the 120 yard dashes?

10. Who was the freshman second baseman leading the team with a 448 batting average?

11. Who was one of the best defensive halfbacks to ever play at Florida State who passed and punted well?

12. Who was the outstanding sophomore side horse winner from Jersey City, N. J.?

13. Who was the outstanding sophomore volleyball spiker from Bonifay, Florida?

14. Who was the first sacker with a respectable .317 batting average?

15. Who was raised the best all round offensive back on the Florida State squad, one of the finest small-college backs in the nation?

Answers

1. Roy Thompson.
2. Dick Gutting.
3. Ronald Melton
4. Mack Huey.
5. Bob Carter.
6. Lou Fisher.
7. Lee Mullins.
8. Tom McLaughlin.
9. John Poston.
10. Billy Campbell.
11. Wayne Benner.
12. Pat Simonelli.
13. Jim McPatter.
14. Ken Smith
15. Nelson Italiano.

THURSDAY'S FRAT RESULTS

Game	by innings	R	H	E
DTD	100 301 000—5	9	0
SC	000 000 300—3	7	3
Batteries, DTD—Kimmell and Bradley. SC—Rantich and Hanson.
SN	000 020—2	8	1
KS	000 000—0	3	2
Batteries, SN—Wagner and Wilmot; KS—Bell and Scott.
PKT—Vincent, Scofield, Sims	201 01—4	9	1
PKA	002 00—3	3	3
Batteries, PKT—Vincent and Sims; PKA—Haynes and Richardson.
KA	000 5—5	8	2
SAE	102 3—6	13	3
Batteries, KA—Whaley and Bell; SAE—Haynes and Richardson.
PDT	321 305 1—15	20	2
LCA	203 240 3—13	12	3
Batteries, SPE—Gardner, Bowen and Stinson; LCA—Landry and Wyatt; Home runs, SPE—Gardner, Bowen, Stinson; LCA—Craig (3).
SPE	230 201 0—8	14	1
ATO	000 300 0—3	7	2
Batteries, ATO—Sanborn and Italiano; Bishop and Thompson, Italiano (ATO).
PDT	402 3—9	15	1
TT	022 1—5	13	2
Batteries, TC—Albertson and Bukay; PDT—Wells, Cumbie, Home run, Bukay.

The AAF team in the dormitory league won the volley ball tournament by a forfeit from BV. The Aggies are currently atop the softball dormitory league with a 4 and 0 record.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

By BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

Well, the Florida State coeds were not getting enough participation? In this last sport's season we have a total of 76 girls trying out for the three sports offered them—Tennis, softball and archery.

The girls out for GDD swimming are: Marion Meide, Jean Rohme, Joy Crouch, Roe Kovelik, Jackie DuPont, Pat Payne, Dot Jetz, Rosie Paris, Shirley Simpson, Barbara Moyer, and leader Betty Lippke.

The EVEN'S will be composed of Jean Nancy Tom, Laura Smith, Avery Lenbeck, Carolyn Oaia, Mary Ann Bassett, Jean Wilson and leader Jo Wade.

The EVEN softball team will consist of Rose Evans, Pat Polson, June McGill, Betia Weeks, Doris Parlin, Dot Shurgin, Pat Carson, Lorna Covle, Marianne Morgan, Carol Geets, "Boo" Larson, Mori Herndon, Margaret Erickson, Frances Cobb, Patty Martin, The GDD's are Joan Webb, Sadie Pressnell, Mac Mac-Williams Hinz Cobb, JoAnne Young, Pat Temple, Frances Chapman, Betty Ann Haynes, Frances Pulley, Betty Howland, Ann Swanson, K. J. Simpson, Cinnie Brown, Sally Maynard, and Barbara Collingsworth, Jan Jones.

This year in the self-organized intramural sports program GIL-CHRIST is out in front with a total score of 465. Next with a 340 score is KAPPA ALPHA THETA'S, BRYAN 390, and ALPHA XI DELTA 230.

Sports, Sorority, Dorm Overall Winners are listed below as follows:

Tennis (singles), Kappa Alpha Theta, Jennie, Kappa Alpha Theta. Tennis (doubles) Tri Delta, Gilchrist, Tri Delta, Volleyball, Alpha Xi Delta, Jennie, Alpha Xi Delta. Basketball, Alpha Omicron Pi, Gilchrist, ACE's, Horseshoes (singles), Kappa Alpha Theta, Gilchrist, Kappa Alpha Theta. Horseshoes (doubles), Sigma Kappa, Gilchrist, Gilchrist, Pine Point (singles) Delta Zeta, Gilchrist, Delta Zeta, Pine Pora (doubles), Kappa Alpha Theta, Bryan, Kappa Alpha Theta

The GDD'S and EVEN nine softball teams met yesterday and Margaret Erickson and Mori Herndon were the EVEN battery while Cobb and Collinsworth went the round for the GDD'S.

FSU Trackmen Close By Beating Miami

The Florida State track team closed its 1952 regular season dating on the West Campus track by supping Miami, 88 2/3 - 62 1/3 in a meet that was highlighted by $15. represent a reserved seat in the west stands of Campbell Stadium.

Dr. Howard Danford, director of Physical Education, reported more than 150 orders for the ducats have been received in the first three days after they were put up for sell.

Persons who order tickets now will get receipts for the present and in August will receive the printed tickets. Choice of seats is on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Holders of 1,200 stadium donor tickets which were issued two years ago and are entitled to a five year period, may obtain additional season-ticket reseats near their present seats, if they are available. They may also transfer their stadium donor ticket rights to make a block of adjoining seats with additional season tickets.

The $15 season ticket represents a saving of $4.60 from the total price if tickets are bought singly for the six games.

Reserved seats for the Louisville, V.M.I. Furman and Stetson games are selling for $3.85 and seats for the Louisiana Tech and Mississippi Southern games are $2.50.

The meet, nip and tuck all the way was decided until the last event, the mile relay. Going into the relay, the Seminoles held a 1 1-3 lead and increased that to the winning margin by whipping the Hurricane mile relay by 10 yards. Poston, running anchor, did his 440 in :50.2.

Freshman Phil Wagoner, State's halfmile ace, took the mile run in 4.42.1 as he was pushed all the way by Miami's O'Neil. Wagoner took the lead from O'Neil in the middle of the second lap and held it although, within 200 yards of the finish, O'Neil turned on the speed to come within five yards of Wagoner. Waxoner was also entered in his specialty, the half mile, but was unable to run.

In the 440, FSU's Parker and Mike Pimlico and one by request. Posion was Miami's Mason who took both hurdle events. In the highs, FSU's Horst led till the last hurdle when Mason passed him to win.

The Seminoles' leading scorer, Carlos Fraunderfer, won the shot put, placed second in the broad jump, and landed a third in the high jump and 100.

Nine of the Seminole trackmen will be entered in the Georgia A&U's this month.

100-yard dash—Poston (FSU), Russell (M), Hendrix (M).

220-yard dash—Poston (FSU), Russell (M), Parker (FSU).

440-yard dash—Parker (FSU), Mike (M), Bell (M).

880-yard run—Wagoner (M), Koonce (FSU), Pimlico (M).

Mile—Wagoner (FSU), O'Neil (M), Pimlico (FSU).

Two-mile run—Pimlico (M), Rivera (M), Bell (M).

120-yard high hurdles—Mason (M), Gurney (M), Horst (FSU).

220-yard low hurdles—Mason (M), Horst (FSU), Gurney (M).

Javelin—Barkdoll (M), Adams (M), Mitchell (M).

Shot put—Fraunderfer (FSU), Tuber (M), Mitchell (M).

Discus—Mitchell (M), Bolding (FSU), Fraunderfer (FSU).

Broad jump—Fraunderfer (FSU), Horst (FSU), Herbert (M).

High jump—Fraunderfer (FSU), Horst (FSU), Pimlico (M), Fraunderfer and Mason (M), tied for third 5 Pts. each.

Relay—Won—Warren (M), Fraunderfer (FSU), Alexander (M). 1:32 flat.

Pianist Gives Recital Saturday in Opperman

Mary Hester Phillips, pianist, will give her senior recital Saturday at 8.15 p. m. in the Opperman Music Hall.

Mary Helen will be at the first piano and Miss Phillips at the second. The program will consist of Rondo In A minor by Mozart; Prelude and Fugue in E minor, by Mandelssohn; Nocturne in Db major, by Chopin; Scherzo in B minor, by Chopin; Fune le Piano, by Debussy, and Concerto in A minor, Opus 16, by Grieg.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
THE MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA
FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
"Invitation"
With
Van Johnson, Dorothy McGuire, Ruth Roman

"Retreat Hell"
With Frank Lovejoy

STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
"Belles On Their Toes"
In Technicolor
With Jean Crain
Myrna Loy

"Tarzan"
With
Lex Angall and John Ericson

RITZ
Tuesday thru Wednesday
Shelley Winters and Farley Granger
"Phone Call From A Stranger"

Thurs. thru Saturday
Richard Basehart in "Chicago Circumstance"
Also Tim Holt in
"Hot Lead"

DRIVE-IN
Today and Weds.
Robert Taylor in "Westward Tha Women"

Thursday thru Saturday
Wayne Morris in
"The Bushwackers"
Also Gene Autry
"Night Stage to Galveston"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Comes a heat wave, the coolest heads on campus will be seen over

Arrow Lightweight Shirts

The heat won't get you, because the breezes get through these cool mesh-weave Arrow fabrics! Oh, yes, they're all "Sanforised" fabrics, of course.

ONE good way to beat the heat...

air-conditioned Arrow Lightweight Shirts!

Arrow Lightweight Shirts.....
Arrow Lightweight Sports Shirts.....

Tissue-thin, porous, mesh-weave "Sanforized" fabrics give you benefit of every cooling breeze. Arrow whites, solid colors, with your favorite Arrow collar styles. The sports shirts have the amazing Arrolcd collar that keeps you equally comfortable with or without a tie.

ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

Mendelson's
FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

Beau Brummell Windsorette

"THE WINDSORETTE"... aristocrat of neckwear fashion in bow ties—hand-tied—a dissetle — Equally smart either for town or country — The perfect bow for casual wear, and especially for sports-wear on all occasions. Dots, solid colors, neat effects. 1.50

Beau Brummell "COLONEL"

"THE COLONEL"—a style tie for the leisure wear of sportswear or business attire—a fashion piece in novel styling that is fast becoming a favorite. Solid colors, dots, neat patterns. 1.50

Alford Brothers
Better Clothes For Men
212 So. Monroe

Export Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Award Open to All

An error in the previous edition of the Flambeau stated that only independents, non-sorority girls, would be eligible for the Delta Delta Delta scholarship there by Friday, May 24.

award. This should read "All girls, sorority or non-sorority, are eligible to apply for the scholarship." Application blanks may now be obtained in the Dean of Women's office.

Simple Shop Becomes Laboratory In Modern Industrial Arts

In the past, the school of industrial arts has been summed up as a plane, a hammer, and some nails under the supervision of a glorified carpenter with a college degree.

However, today at Florida State University, the "shop" has been expanded into a full scale industrial laboratory with a new concept of industrial education.

DR. JOHN P. MASSENGILL, acting head of the department while Professor Clyde Burna is on leave of absence, believes that industrial arts is more than skill in coordination of minds and hands. He says the emphasis must be placed upon teaching the academic industrial intelligence rather than technical trade efficiency and that the entire personality and social well being of the student should be influenced.

"It's not enough to work with metals, wood, plastics, ceramics, and other materials," according to Dr. Massengill, "for the greatest accomplishment is the satisfaction of a job well done."

THE KEY to appreciation is participation. Students learn to create by understand the materials, tools and processes and the latent aptitude and intelligence by taking raw materials and making useful objects from them.

"Some students take naturally to industrial arts while others find it difficult to work with their hands," says Dr. Massengill. By overcoming their handicaps in working, he believes they enrich their lives.

Man is endowed with five senses and industrial arts education he is called upon to use all of them.

Cumbie Elected Golf Captain; State Win

Tom Cumbie of Quincy, was elected honorary captain of the Florida State golf team for the 1952 season as the State golfers ended the links campaign with a 7½-4½ victory over Jacksonville Navy.

Cumbie, a junior blanked Dave Moody 3-0 in a match which was in doubt until Moody who had low score for the day, a one over par 73, Tinney won his match from Jax's Ken Sutton, 3-0.

Tommy Brown of FSU dropped his match, 2½-½ to Lou Chaff. The Navy team brought only three men for the meet.

The triumph gives the FSU golfers an unofficial record for the season of seven victories and eight defeats.

Academic Freedom Urged By Redfield

Over 200 faculty members of the College of Arts and Sciences heard a defense of academic freedom and a plea for a rational rather than a strictly partisan attitude on political and intellectual issues in an address recently by Dr. Robert Redfield, of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Redfield was the main speaker at the second annual College of Arts and Sciences dinner in the FSU Lafayette dining room. He went on to tell the faculty members that there is no freedom of speech unless men speak frankly.

Discussing further the "Beauty of Speech," Dr. Redfield said, "To let it to abuse one's right to speak." He emphasized that college professors, who have the benefit of special training, have a special duty to speak. He concluded by saying that the greatest threat to all the civil rights is "the apathy that deters us from using them."

Parking Problem . . .

From the Bennington Weekly—

"If a University of Georgia coed is apprehended by the law for sitting in a cemetery in a parked car and is not able to start he can IMMEDIATELY, she can be jailed."

Ex-Philosophy Prof. Now Instructing At Pakistan College

Stanley Maron, former member of the philosophy department at Florida State University, is now teaching at the University of Dacca in East Pakistan.

In a recent letter to a friend Maron stated that there are numerous positions available since the partition was made in Pakistan. Professors are needed in political science, international relations, English, commerce, economics, physics, botany, ancient history, geology, soil science, and geography. He stated that if anyone from FSU was interested in these positions he should write to the Registrar.

Dr. Maron received his doctor's degree at the Sorbonne. He is teaching mainly the history of philosophy, although he also has courses in logic, Aristotle, and contemporary philosophy.

Comments . . .

Writing about "campus intellectuals," a Michigan State News columnist declared "The majority of them wear horn rimmed glasses, sport long, wavy hair, and delicately hold king-sized cigarettes in their long narrow fingers. Many of them feel that their philosophers they should smoke nothing but pipes, and are rare seen without one."

Ed note: With a cigarette in one hand and a pipe in the other, how the heck do they put on their horn rimmed glasses?

Revelation of the Week . . .

Headline from the Cougar, University of Houston, Texas:

"Campus Poll Shows Students Want Lower Prices"

Seniors Shop For Electives To Fill Last Minute Requirement

The ink's not dry on the 1952-3 Florida State University catalogue and next year's seniors in the field of elementary education are already window-shopping for electives.

General education, professional requirements, and internship out of the way there are still a few blank spaces remaining in the 124 credits needed for graduation.

By choosing electives carefully the future teacher may secure certification in other areas, learn skills to improve his teaching, or secure a better understanding of education.

If you're interested in teaching in several fields, the requirements are listed in the Florida certification requirements. A concentration on electives in the field of early childhood education will enable the teaching of nursery and kindergarten children.

A teacher can become more proficient by taking Education 613, teaching specific skills; Library Science 425, audio visual materials; Speech 256, Story telling; Speech 345, creative dramatics; or Journalism 413, public relations in education.

For a better understanding of education, the child and society the future teacher may elect Psychology 305 and 405. Sociology 307 or 209. Education 428, history of education in the United States, or Psychology 419, testing preschool children.

Courses in rhythm, dance, art education, industrial arts courses or membership in a singing group such as Choral Union will be worthwhile.

The final experiences in education will be the most valuable to the beginning teacher.

Omicron Nu Honorary Initiates New Member

An initiation of new members of the Omicron Nu, Home Economics Honorary Society, will be held next Thursday, May 15.

The initiation will be held at 8 p.m. in the club room located in the Lonnmire building. Following the initiation a reception will be held for all initiates and Home Economics students who made the Dean's List last semester.

Students being initiated are Nancy Bennett Bannerman, Mary Bishop, Barbara Lewis, Frances Nutchell, Betty Lou Nuttle, Barbara Perdi, Hazel Ready, Catherine Sele, Emily Smith, Mary Helen Speed, and Catherine Wales.

Kewrite Editor Chosen

John Harocopos has been appointed Kewrite Editor-in-Chief. Bill Dunn, was vacated earlier in the year by Carol Bess.

SUMMER FORMALS NOW WITH STAIN-SHY

It's the new miracle fabric finish that resists stains, discourages wrinkles and is water repellent

ONLY AFTER SIX Has It!

Single and double breasted models Whites, pastels, Midnight Blue Dress Trousers.

MEN!—Is your fraternity, or other social or scholastic group participating in our Mr. Formal Contest? Contact Lou Calderone for particulars. (Call Flambeau).

Turner's

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionable corsage clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Toggery

Dry Cleaning—Pressing and Repairing —Altering

WE CALL AND DELIVER

QUALITY DRY CLEANERS

DIAL 2-5097

Sooner or Later Your Favorite Cleaners

215 West College

According to Plautus

It is wretched business to be digging a well just as thirst is mastering you.

Mostellaria

Coca-Cola is the answer to thirst. If you're digging a well or boning up for exams—keep fresh for the job. Have a Coke.

5¢

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCO-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Only Chevrolet offers you . . .

All these Big-Car Extras with the Lowest-Priced Line in its Field!

CHEVROLET The Only Fine Cars PRICED SO LOW!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!

Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference— and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy-Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

BUSINESS MAJORS DISCUSS RETAILING—These students took part in panel discussions this week at the first annual Retailing Clinic sponsored by the marketing department of the School of Business. Dr. W. G. Shaver, left, standing, professor of marketing, is shown giving the students some pointers for their panel discussions. Seated, left to right, are Nannie Beerden, Jacquie Harrington, Harriet Paul, and Sylvia Stranga. Standing are Alan W. Alber, Dorothy K. Davis, Nancy Miller, and Joe Lane. Governor Fuller Warren was principal speaker at the evening program of the clinic Wednesday night.

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 54 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, May 16, 1952

Leadership Meet Begins At Flastacowo Tomorrow

Student Leaders Will Discuss UGA Problems, Progress

Problems, improvements and past actions will be studied tomorrow and Sunday at Camp Flastacowo when Florida State University student leaders convene for the second annual Leadership Training Conference.

All former and future student officers have been invited to the meetings to be held at the FSU camp, where they may stay overnight if they wish. The Conference is being sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board service honoraries.

STUDENT LEADERS will be given name tags and programs from 12 to 3 p m Saturday, followed by an informal get acquainted party from 2 15 to 3 p m. Will Pennell, outgoing UGA president, will welcome the student to the conference and guests will be introduced from 3 to 3 45 p m.

The keynote address will be given by FSU President Doak S Campbell, followed by a division of the group into three large "committees" which will study problems peculiar to their particular interests. These groups will represent government, public relations and organizations.

THE GOVERNMENTAL group will consist of the executive, legislative and judicial parts of the UGA. Public Relations will include the Flambeau, Tally-Ho, Smoke Signals and WFSU representatives. The organizations group will be social, service, class dormitory and honorary leaders. Reports from these groups will include information on mistakes, problems and future needs.

The conference will then split up according to officers from 4 30

(Continued on Page Four)

Service Group Holds Initiation For 75 Coeds

Freshmen Girls Tapped By Sophomore Council For Outstanding Traits

The white and blue clad members of sophomore council went through the Freshman dormitories Wednesday night, carolling and tapping 75 girls for membership into the service honorary.

Sophomore Council chooses approximately ten per cent of the current Freshman class as members. To be eligible Freshmen are required to have a one point average for the first semester and be outstanding in service, loyalty and high ideals. The group officiates at elections, faculty auction, and other special occasions.

THE NEW GROUP which was initiated last night will take over immediately. Initiation was held in the lounge of the Alumni Building at five o'clock Wednesday. Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, head of the Philosophy Department, was the speaker.

The taps and old members then went to the Suwannee Room for dinner and later to a get-acquainted party in Landis parlor. Old members sang to the new members in front of Landis and then presented their blue jackets to the new taps.

TAPPED WEDNESDAY night were Iola Arnold, Lillian Avis, Wylene Barmore, Nancy Bond, Carol Brown, Cynthia Brown, Beverly Browne, Dorothy Browning, Bettie Burns, Joyce Carns, Elizabeth Christ, Dorothy Cooke, Gwyneth Cooper, Patricia Cooper, Thalis Coulter, Patricia Cummins, Nedra Darnell, Connie Decker, Adrienne Delaney, Barbara Deldo, Mary Dinning, Joan Dozier, Jacqueline DuPont, Jo Fabian, Nancy Fagen, Martha Garrett, Joan Guard, Kay Haines, Helen Hamrick, Shirley Harper, Mary Mildred Harris, Ann Lee Hays, Katherine Hedges, Mary Evelyn Hall, Miriam Howard, Sue Humphreys, Jo Ann Hutto, Phoebe Jackson, Gail Jackson, Dorothy Johnson.

Also Elizabeth Johnson, Majorie

(Continued on Page Four)

Pennell Speaks At Installation Of New UGA

University Government Association officers were installed Wednesday night at a formal ceremony held in the Longmire auditorium. Approximately 50 students took the oath of office administered by the robed Chief Justice Alice Jackson.

Will Pennell, outgoing president of the UGA, gave the opening speech. Women officers wore white while men were dressed in shirts and ties.

ALICE JACKSON installed the major officers separately. First to be installed was Mary Ruth Summers who received the gavel from UGA President Will Pennell. Mary Ruth expressed her hope that she would be able to reform the duties of the chief office to expectations.

Other major offices filled were vice-president in charge of legislative affairs, Milton Carothers; vice-president in charge of women's affairs, June Conyers; vice-president in charge of men's affairs, Jim Dye; secretary, Marcia Morris; treasurer, Jean Wetherell; forums chairman, Jan Arbogast and chief justice of the University Court, June Tate.

ALSO JUDICIARY chairmen, Peggy Moore, University Recreation Association president, Betty Holland, Flambeau editor, B. Dunn, Tally Ho editor, Claudia Thomas, and Smoke Signals editor, Boots Haynie.

Installed as a group were senior class president, Bob Ryals, junior class president, Roy Staton, sophomore class president, Bob Canada, senior senators, Jimmie Evans, Bobby Drake, Barbara

(Continued on Page Four)

Collegians Sing 'General Booth'

Men Present Premiere Of Musical Impression

The Florida State premier of the impressive General William Booth Enters Into Heaven, will be given tonight by the Collegians, FSU Men's Glee Club, in the annual spring concert.

The program will be presented in the Opperman Music hall at 8 15.

DIRECTOR J. DAYTON Smith has prepared a program featuring both novelties and serious numbers. "William Booth" is Phillip James musical impression of Vachel Lindsay's poem. The dramatic Lindsay text is set to an impressive accompaniment of two pianos, organ, trumpet, trombone, and percussion.

Soprano Virginia French will sing several solos including Ave Maria, Sometimes I Feel Like A Motherless Child, The Man I Love, and the first performance of a setting of the Lamentations of Jeremiah, by John Fisher, graduate student in the school of music. The Collegians will provide the choral background.

Folk songs on the program will be Black-Eyed Susie, a North Carolina tune, He's Gone Away, an American folk-tune arranged by Floyd Slind, of the music school faculty and Ain'-a That Good News, a Negro spiritual.

A SECTION of light and novelty numbers will include After Dark, You'll Never Know the Good Fellow I've Been, Madame Jeanette, conducted by student director George Bunn, and Sophomoric Philosophy.

Accompanist for the Collegians is Nancy H[illegible].

DIRECTOR SMITH said that students and the public are invited to attend the concert.

UGA President Appoints Harris '52 Chairman

Jim Harris was appointed new chairman of the 1952 Sandspur by outgoing University Government Association President Will Pennell on Wednesday, his last day in office.

Harris was appointed by Pennell when Backus did not accept the position as the next qualified person for the job after the elected chairman, Cosmos Cardone was disqualified for grade average. Backus said he would be interning 10 out of the 12 weeks and that he would not have time to devote to the production next year.

ARTICLE VIII of the constitution says that the Sandspur chairman shall be elected in the general elections each year and [illegible] have worked in the Sandspur during the past two productions. However, the constitution also allows for exceptions.

"Exceptions to this experience requirement shall be approved by a majority vote of the University Council."

As there was no University Council since the installment of the Cabinet system and while Cabinet has not yet been set up, Pennell held the sole authority.

PENNELL SAID that the new president, Mary Ruth Summers, thoroughly approves of the action.

Harris, a few minutes after his appointment said that the Sandspur cast next year will work through a board of directors. The board of directors will be appointed he said. The new chairman did not know if the faculty would be included on the board or not.

Script plans will be announced in the near future, Harris [illegible]. The script contest will extend through the Summer and the award will go beyond the former $[illegible]. "So far, as we know graduates and undergraduates both may contribute."

"THROUGH the new board being set up we hope to try to [illegible] all of the campus," the chairman stated. The board will include a stage director, musical director, script director, dance director, scenery and property director, costume director, publicity and finance.

Warren Calls 'Near Miracle' Influx of Tourists to State

Florida Governor Speaks on Campus At Marketing Department's Clinic

Governor Fuller Warren, in a speech to the first annual [illegible] Clinic sponsored by the department of marketing on the Florida State campus Wednesday night, called the [illegible] of tourists to Florida a "near mircle."

[illegible] spoke on "Se[illegible] the Nation, was introduced by FSU President Doak [illegible] who in his opening [illegible] that Florida needs [illegible] men and women to [illegible] state and work [illegible]. The educator also [illegible] he knew of no [illegible] nation which [illegible] opportunities for [illegible] the Governor's efforts on behalf [illegible].

WARREN [illegible] spoke [illegible] the Opperman [illegible] that Florida [illegible] one of them [illegible] the state's largest [illegible].

THE ALSO [illegible]

THE FLORIDA [illegible] Warren said [illegible] Ad[illegible] committee [illegible].

(Continued on Page Four)

Mooney Leads Air Corp Band

Art Mooney and his orchestra will be featured at the annual Inter-Fraternity council dance, which this year has been dubbed the "Florida State Capers."

The dance will be a two night affair, scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, May 23-24. This is to avoid crowded dance floors which would result from a one night stand.

Mooney is a native of Lowell, Mass. but moved to Detroit when he was still a child. There he attended a vocational school, and due to his mother's wish that he not leave out the cultural took saxophone lessons after school hours. Soon, he organized a band of his own from the high school kids.

After graduation the young man was apprenticed to a linotype operator on the Detroit News. But as a sideline he still continued with his music working "dates" with some of the Detroit bands.

During the war Art Mooney served for three and a half years in the Air Corps where he was in the Special Services division as the leader of an Air Corps band.

When he returned to civilian life Mooney and his band had engagements at the Lincoln hotel in New York and then began recording and broadcasting.

Mooney is perhaps best known for his novelty tune "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover."

Pennell Gives Plan For Faculty Rating To PRS Committee

A proposal for faculty evaluation by students was made by former University Government President Will Pennell Tuesday before the Professional Relations and Standards committee.

Pennell thought the proposal was favorably received by the committee, which is composed of elected faculty members. Dr Lincoln Canfield, head of the Modern Language Department is chairman of the group.

THE FORMER U G A president said that the faculty evaluation he presented was similar to the one used at the University of Miami.

The committee made some valuable suggestions. They will make a final draft of the evaluation.

The evaluation is in no way designed to be a popularity contest. It is designed to raise the standards of our University, Pennell [illegible].

IF THE EVALUATION gets [illegible] approval from President Doak Campbell students may have [illegible] assurance they will do something about it.

Spring Blood Donors Drained of 236 Pints

The Florida State University [illegible] Blood for Korea" drive, sponsored by the Men's "F" Club, [illegible] 156 pints almost half of [illegible] of the pledged 392 pints. [illegible] Huey drive chairman announced 236 pints were collected. Sigma Chi fraternity won the [illegible] trophy donated by Alford Bros. local men's store, by donating a total of 29 pints. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Jennie Murphree won the sorority and dorm awards with 14 and 10 pints.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA ran a close second to Sigma Chi for the fraternity trophy. The ATO's donated 27 pints. The two fraternities donated over one-fifth of the total donated by the entire university, Huey noted.

In an attempt to keep the state record, Huey staged a surprise parade Monday night before the drive started the next morning. Donations were slow Tuesday, and many groups did not keep appointments or send the number pledged to donate.

HUEY STATED he would like to thank all the students who gave blood and all those who tried to give. "I would like to especially thank the Circle K, Alpha Phi Omega, Sophomore Council, Delta Zetas and the Chi Omega's for their assistance."

He also expressed thanks to Oscar Laurene, ATO blood captain, and Carol Slavers, KAT blood captain who worked so hard within their groups.

The Delta Delta Delta sorority and Sigma Nu fraternity were second and third respectively in [illegible] group donations.

OTHER GROUPS to donate were: Theta Chi 6, Sigma Phi Epsilon 5, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 7, Kappa Alpha 9, Lambda Chi Alpha 2, Alpha Omicron Pi 2, Kappa Delta 4, Pi Beta Phi 6, Zeta Tau Alpha 3, Phi Mu 1, Gamma Phi Beta 9, Sigma Kappa 1, Delta Zeta 6, Delta Tau Delta 1, Chi Omega 5, Delta Gamma 3, and Alpha Xi Delta 2.

The second highest dorm donation from women was Reynolds with 5 pints.

The remainder of the donations

(Continued on Page Four)

Plans Near Finish For Commencement

[illegible] plans are [illegible] to Dr Ve[illegible] chairman of the graduation exercises.

[illegible] exercises will be [illegible] Friday June 6 at 8 [illegible] scheduled for [illegible] afternoon D. Shores [illegible] the afternoon program [illegible] at 4 30.

A PICNIC will be held from 10 [illegible] 3 p m also on Friday. The [illegible] is scheduled at Lake [illegible].

[illegible] plans of Senior class [illegible] Dick Bradley are to [illegible] transport the students [illegible] after the graduation [illegible] at Doak Campbell [illegible]. The rehearsal begins at [illegible] and will be the first re-[illegible].

SATURDAY afternoon June 7 [illegible] and [illegible] commencement [illegible] invited to attend the [illegible] reception at his home [illegible] street.

[illegible] Dr Walter C. [illegible] editor of the School [illegible] magazine, will address [illegible] in their final commencement exercise. Speaking at [illegible] will be Dr. J. A [illegible] pastor of the Riverside [illegible] Church in Jacksonville.

McCarty, Odham Wax Bitter; Both in Tallahassee This Week

McCarty Speaks Today To Thank Leon Voters

Dan McCarty candidate for Governor, will make an unscheduled stop in front of the Tallahassee Courthouse at approximately 9 45 this morning. He is due to be in Bristol at 11 according to a release from his campaign headquarters yesterday.

The gubernatorial candidate wants to thank his voters in Tallahassee for their support in the first primary, according to the report from his campaign headquarters.

CAMPUS chairman of the McCarty for Governor club, Will Pennell commented yesterday that "McCarty is out meeting the people, not cooped up in a show case on the radio answering padded questions."

McCarty said yesterday that Odham now agrees that he did

(Continued on Page Four)

Odham Club Challenge McCarty Supporters

The Florida State University Brailey Odham for Governor club issued a challenge to McCarty supporters to hear Odham and ask him questions on the Odham Talkathon next Monday night.

Will Pennell, president of the FSU Dan McCarty for Governor club, announced yesterday that he would appear personally to ask Odham "several important questions."

THE FSU ODHAM for Governor club held its first meeting Wednesday night in the lower lounge of the Longmire building. Al Lowe, local campaign treasurer told those present, "If we can just get the people to hear Brailey he'll sell himself."

It was then that it was decided to issue the challenge to everyone, but particularly McCarty

(Continued on Page Four)

Summer Intern Plans

All students majoring in public administration who wish to intern this Summer should contact Miss Juanita Gibson, instructor, in 107 Parkside immediately.

Arrangements for interning next fall should also be made at this time.

Aitchison Presents Certificate Recital In Opperman Hall

Mildred Aitchison, violoncellist will present her certificate recital in the Opperman Music Hall on Monday May 19 at 8 15 p m. The program will be open to the public. Miss Aitchison will be accompanied at the piano by Joanne Byrd, graduate student in the School of Music.

Miss Aitchison, who is a student of Prof. Owen Sellers, will play the "Sonata in D Major, Opus 18" by Anton Rubinstein, the "Suite Francaise" of Paul Bazelaire, "Chanson Triste" by Tchaikovski and a "Rondo for Cello" by Thomas McMullen, junior composition major in the School of Music.

Elizabeth Vasiloff, graduate student in piano will assist in the recital by playing two works "The Engulfed Cathedral" by Debussy and the "Suite Opus 14" by Bela Bartok.

JC's, Officers Honored

Junior counselors and house officers were entertained Wednesday at an annual picnic supper given by the Dean of Women, Katherine Warren, and staff members.

Complaint Day Said Success As Many Gripes Registered

Campus Complaint Day, held last Tuesday, has been proclaimed a success by its sponsor, the University Government Association Senate.

The number of gripes received showed that many people were interested in getting a load off their shoulders.

SENATOR JEAN Flynn who tabulated the results of gripe day poll, reported that the following received the most complaints: the FSU dining hall, women's drinking, off-limit bans, Smoke Signals, the administration and house council rules.

Campus Complaint Day was sponsored by the Senate in an effort to get more directly at the problem of student needs. Various senators watched the gripe box throughout the day in the Seminole dining hall, and then the results were summed up by categories.

OTHER THINGS which received condemnation were taking credit off for cutting before a holiday, professors' teaching habits, West campus bus service, lack of freedom for women, UGA, the Flambeau and student apathy. Students suggested representations for graduate students in UGA, late entries for all women, a poll for artist series and that shorts be worn without raincoat.

Among the 24 gripes [illegible] the dining halls were such ones as "the prices are too high for what they serve. [illegible] and Same o[illegible] day Unclean Nor[illegible]."

ABOUT WOMEN'S [illegible]: Our parents don't ob[illegible] a whole. Why not get [illegible] sion on paper . . . W[illegible] at least so wh[illegible] when off campus [illegible] everything [illegible] have a tendency [illegible] find [illegible] an adver[illegible] honor [illegible].

Smoke Signals [illegible] low [illegible] a disgrace. W[illegible] it your friends from [illegible] versities?"

THE ADMINISTRATION: [illegible] does the administration [illegible] on treating the students [illegible] . . . monaste[illegible] as if [illegible] children.

Other comments [illegible] quests for [illegible] keeping half the post [illegible] dining hall [illegible] periods co-ed [illegible] infirmary [illegible] more pay for [illegible].

SAID ONE [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] FSC N[illegible].

One [illegible] more Campus Complaint days.

HELPLESS SENATE HEARS PLEA

Stokes Asks for Publications Board At Senate Meeting Without Quorum

BY GENE LAWLER

Despite the difficulty of not having a quorum, the 1951-52 University Senate met Tuesday for the last time, discussed student publications and appropriations, and distributed popcorn to participants.

H. Garland Stokes, outgoing president of IFC, delivered an oration on the need for a student board of publications, stating that in his four years at FSU there had never been a time when some publication was not in hot water.

"I THINK you know," he said, "that I've had considerable difficulty with the Flambeau this year and that there has been a running fight between the Flambeau and Smoke Signals. Also the Flambeau was recently threatened with a law suit by a downtown business concern."

Bob Griffin, editor of the 1951-52 Flambeau, when questioned about the alleged suit, said, "I don't know what he's talking about." Stokes retorted, "Have you been to Campbell's office lately?"

IN DISCUSSION preceeding Stokes oration, Senator Phil Springer stated that he wished to retract his statement that "it appears Joel Smith was lying a little." He said, "Let's say there was a misunderstanding, and that Smith wasn't lying. I'm not a psychiatrist; I don't know how his brain works."

Stokes offered as a suggestion that a student board be set up, "to advise, not censor," with membership consisting of one representative from each publication, one representative from the Senate, and one representative from the student body at large. He also stated that he thought the dean of the School of Journalism should be an ex-officio member.

THE SENATE had, before Christmas, set up a special committee under the chairmanship of Senator Bunnel to study the advisability of setting up a student board of publications. The committee never submitted a final report.

In his talk preceeding Stoke's talk, Dean Culpepper touched on matters concerning Smoke Signals, indicating that efforts were being made to see to it that the student's would get their money's worth, and saying that he thought the Senate "can relax."

THE MAIN PART of his talk was concerned with amplifying Dean Warren's remarks on a proposed UGA amendment and explaining what he thought was the function of the University Government association in determining the allocation of the student activity fee.

Dean Warren explained that the faculty committee had objected to the phrasing of the proposed amendment to Article 3 of the UGA constitution, stating that [illegible] item C "said more than [illegible] perhaps intended for [illegible]."

THE ITEM stated that the Senate had powers to "appropriate" funds from the student activity fee.

Dean Warren stated that "appropriate" meant more than was intended if the function of the article was merely to implement the previously approved section on the secretary of finance.

She said "but the faculty committee doesn't want to say, you must do [illegible]."

SENATOR PANCHO S[illegible] and drew a [illegible] from Dean Culpepper

(Continued on Page Four)

REVIEW OF SENATE SHOWS ACCOMPLISHMENT

If a visitor had attended recent meetings of the University Senate, he hardly would have been favorably impressed.

He probably would have commented that the group didn't conduct itself much like an ideal college body, that it argued, bickered, was disorderly and generally seemed to be in the dolldrums.

He might even have compared them at one session to "drunken monkeys in a whirling barrel."

But his unfavorable impression would hardly be fair to the Senate in view of what it has done over the year as a whole. Sometimes the body botted its head against a stone wall, sometimes it never even "got off the ground," but all in all the Senate can be proud that it has worked in the general direction of improving the status of student government.

The majority of the work accomplished, it is true, was done by a few people, but this is a usual situation not unusual. Ignacio Sved, Phil Spritzer and Mary Ruth Summers deserve a large amount of the credit (or blame) for what the Senate has done this year, but it would be unfair to the rest of the group to say the others hadn't put in a lot of time and effort into student government.

In the final meeting of Senate last Wednesday, outgoing chairman Jess Salyers paid the student legislators a tribute by saying this was the first Senate of the year that, on the proposal, members did their share. This is perhaps intentionally an overstatement of "he's a jolly good fellow" mood but there is no doubt that a large majority have put forth an effort to fulfill their duties as legislative representatives.

About the middle of the first semester, under the chairmanship of Mary Ruth Summers, the Senate met its first crisis. It almost without warning the administration set up reserved parking zones about the campus. Senate protested very little, but in general they merely felt that the administration had gone ahead in the wrong way by circumventing student government.

The Senate spent many weeks of proposals, counter-proposals, and arguments before the thing was ironed out. Some feel that the results were inconsiderable in the end but students did get more parking space and student government was showed it was a force to be considered.

The other major task of the Senate this year was constitutional revision which led to the adoption of a cabinet system. The cabinet was a true labor of love of the Senate; it spent the greater part of the year on the proposal, it remembered hours of work, compromising and dramatics, but eventually all of the provisions were passed. The executive council was abolished.

These cases are the best examples of how the Senate has worked for student interests. They are not all. The Senate has also codified its standing rules of procedure and it has assumed more responsibility in allocating student monies.

On the other side of the ledger the Senate has been unable many times to get action as wanted for students. It has dillydallied, quarrelled among itself and refused to be a unit in matters of minority bloc at times aided by the fence sitters, has consistently held up progress in the judicial system reorganization.

On the red sheet is totaled, however, this year's Senate will probably receive credit for having advanced the cause of student government.

Sororities Celebrate Everything From Tea to Heaven-Hell Plans

Yesterday, the Alpha Delta Pi's celebrated their hundredth and first anniversary with a garden tea. Since their founding at Wesleyan College on May 15, 1851, A D Pi's roll call has grown to 81 chapters in the United States.

Last night the Alpha Xi Delta's entertained the Kappa Sig's. They are giving a buffet supper this Sunday for their Alumnae Advisors. The Alpha Xi's have set the date for their annual week-end for May 23.

The Chi Omega's entertained their house mother Sunday night with a surprise party honoring her on Mother's Day. Monday night they are planning a farewell banquet for the Seniors at the Silver Slipper. The faculty will be honored by the Chi O's at a coffee to be held this Tuesday night.

This week-end the Delta Delta Delta's will observe their annual week-end with a "Heaven-Hell and Earth" theme. The "Hell" party will be held Friday night. Saturday afternoon the Tri Delt's will carry out the "Earth" theme with a picnic at Silver Lake. The "Heaven" theme will follow the formal banquet Saturday evening with a formal dance at the house.

The Kappa Delta's were entertained by their Alumnae with a picnic-supper at Mrs. L. W. Fain's home. The K D's entertained the Pi K A's with a bobo-pucic last evening.

Wednesday night the Pi Beta Phi's entertained the Lambda Chi's at an informal party. Their annual Senior Farewell banquet is being planned for this Monday evening.

Saturday was the scene of the Phi Mu's centennial celebration and the formal opening of their house. An old portrait of Mary Dupont Lines, one of Phi Mu's founders, was presented to the chapter by Mrs. Dill from Quincy, Fla. Mrs. Dill is the great-granddaughter of Mary Dupont Lines. Wednesday night the chapter entertained the Pi K A's. Zeta Tau Alpha entertained the ATO's with an informal party Wednesday night.

At the last meeting of Alpha Tau Omega new officers were elected. They are Miriam Rauersson- president; George Bunn, vice president; Bob Adams, secretary; Jim Dailey, treasurer; Doney Merritt, assistant treasurer; Bob Clifton, historian; Steve Kalenich, usher. Bill David, sentinel and Charlie Booth, house manager. The Orchid Dance at their new house tonight will start 'he annual ATO weekend. It will be climaxed with an overnight beach party at Panama City.

A number of Sigma Chi Alumni were present when the Epsilon Zeta chapter was awarded the Campus Ring trophy. Past-consul Claude Johns has held for second place for the province Balfour Award for outstanding Sigma Chi. Consul Ted Steinmeyer and Jerry Hall received outstanding cards awards in the AFROTC. Jackie Morris of Theta and last fall's Sweetheart of the Delta Chi's recently crowned Florida's "Jackie with the Light Brown Hair."

Dear Editor...

Pen Pals
KOREA

Dear Editor:

To come to the point right off the bat, we (G.I's) would like to correspond with some of your girl students. We figured through your paper we could reach the entire female body. We have written other schools for letters and the response was great! But your school has a great reputation for friendliness, so we are sure if you will give us a hand, that we will receive many letters. Photos of these young ladies would be happily received.

We would appreciate your effort very much.

Sincerely,

P.F.C. John T. Schutz—R. A. 14428863

P. F. C. Bobl. P. Jones—R. A. 13280433

P. F. C. "Deacon" Parsons—U. S. 52082115

P. F. C. West F. Chappell—R. A. 11634165

P. F. C. Alan P. De Voto—R. A. 17261117

P. F. C. Matthew J. Gillis—U. S. 51077999

Cpl. "Rocky" J. Renfro—N. G. 26128211

P. F. C. Louis Aver—R. A. 16442315

ADDRESS
Co. "L" 224th Regt. A. P. O 6
Care P. M. San Francisco, Cal.

Budgetor Follows Weatherman In Public Ad Federal Case Study

Willard McDonald, Uncle Sam's weather man, has just wound up a week of teaching students exactly how the Federal Case Study under the School of Public Administration will be conducted this week by Francis Bacon, R-covery Administration. He was named budgetor of the REA. The federal office is open for higher education in the U. S. Weather Bureau in Washington, D. C. Educated in Indiana schools, he first began his weather-man's work in Miami, Fla. in 1939.

Cawley, who came to this city yesterday, entered service in 1933 under the R-covery Administration. He was named budgetor of the REA. The federal office is open for higher education in the U. S. Department of Commerce.

McDonald is assistant chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Washington, D. C. Educated in Indiana

Cawley is a lecturer in finance at Syracuse University and Georgetown University. He received his B. S. degree from the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce. He was admitted to the District of Columbia and U. S. Supreme Court bars.

Fines to Be Levied On Test Delinquents

Juniors, seniors and sophomores! If you have not yet had your picture taken for the Junior English exam, you must do so between May 22 from 5 until 6.30 p. m. or pay a five dollar fine.

Room assignments are now posted on the History building bulletin board. There will be a final examination for Junior English this year.

Eligible students who fail to take the examination will have to pay the five dollar delinquency fee prior to their next registration. Students who were posted delinquent on Thursday, May 22, after examination will present the delinquent fee receipts at the door on May 23.

Sophomores who have not photographs on file in the Registrar's office are asked to check the room assignment list posted on the History building bulletin board. All students with a minimum of 42 hours are expected to take the test.

Any conflicts should be cleared through the Junior English office.

Experts Give Views On How We Survive

A symposium consisting of four educators in different fields presented a public program on "How We Survive" last night.

The four FSU authorities each made a contribution to the program by covering the problem of how mankind survives. The faculty members were Dr. Thorpe Alexander, psychology; Dr. M. F. Nimkoff, sociology; Dr. Paul Reynolds, economics; and Dr. Robert Anderson, anthropology. The symposium gave the thinkings on the question of four experts in the study of life and ways of living.

Phi Mu Sorority Holds Open House

Phi Mu social sorority held its formal house opening and centennial celebration last Wednesday night. Approximately 500 guests attended the function which was held from 8 until 11 o'clock in recognition of a portrait of one of the founders of the Florida Chapter.

Mrs. Norman Dill, of Mobile, Alabama, gave the Phi Mu chapter the portrait of her great-grandmother, Mary Dupont Lines, one of the three founders who founded the sorority at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia, on March 4, 1852 in honor of the former resident of Jacksonville, Florida, and some of her descendents now living in Florida. The Phi Mu now has 75 active chapters, and was established on the Florida campus in 1939 with some of the local chapter is Carol Gray.

School of Journalism Offers 52 Awards

Twenty-seven girls and 25 boys from Florida high schools will receive the Florida State University Student Journalism Award this afternoon, according to Dean Laurence R. Campbell.

Each Florida high school is invited to nominate the girl and the boy who has done outstanding work on the newspaper, the yearbook and the magazine.

Distribution of the awards will be as follows: Newspapers, 14 boys, 15 girls; yearbook 8 boys, 6 girls and magazine, 3 boys and 3 girls.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Florida Flambeau
EDITORIAL
Bill Dunn—Editor
Managing Editor
Babs Henry
Frances Cawthon
News Editor
Associate Editor
Sports Editor
Society Editor
Feature Editor
Assistant News Editor
Alice Galpin Marcia Morris
Judy Seay
Judy Smith
June Morgan
John Wilson
Al Pinto
BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—business Manager
National Ad Manager
Assistant
Pat Robinson
Ad Staff
Jo Hall Fe Pittman, Lou Calderoni, Nancy Lowe
MANAGER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association
Telephone 3-876, Ext. 481
The Florida Flambeau is published semi weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented by the National Advertising Service 420 Madison Avenue New York 17 New York
Second Floor Alumni Building

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

ORCHIDS AND SWEET PEAS TO ARTIST SERIES

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Reggie' Thinns ifer looking up all over, with sweet peas and petunias to the Artist Series committee which has snagged something new for next year's series.

Back in the days of Wescott auditorium, he used to have opera, plays, lecturers, and a wide variety of artists. Next year, with the signing up of the Boston Pops and the Wanner opera company, there is starting to look a little more like old times, even if we do have to hike down to Leon High school. Wouldst we wouldst get the Barber Theater back, too.

Ah, but is that Carmen again. The last performance I heard of Carmen was march. I remember it well the opening night. . . .

We were all sitting there in the audience in our diamonds, the 59 cents size, and tuxedos, rented especially for the weekend from Vice Toomey, when the dashing Don Jose strode onto the scene.

He went over to a table and sat down behind a bottle of wine. Of course all we could see was the wine bottle, because Don Jose actually was four feet low and the chair was kinda low. But what a voice.

Pretty soon there was a great big commotion and everybody was staring all at once—baritones, tenors, sopranos, and altos, contra and plain. The excitement was all over a gal called Carmen who had upset the smooth manserial methods in the local cigar factory. AP of 1, 313, by trying to do a little carving on some kid she did not particularly like.

It was not long before this Carmen babe started cutting out of the factory. She was six feet two, stretched 200 pounds, and was carrying a red rose between her teeth.

Taking the rose out of her mouth, she gave an ominous look at the men in the cast, and promptly at the count of three all opened their mouths at the same time. (The orchestra was the Maestro's expression.

Carmen was merrily lunged up and down the stage a few times polishing off several pazes of musical scales while Don Jose remained carefully concealed behind the wine bottle. But that did not stop the heroine. She walked up to the table placed the rose back in her mouth, glared behind the wine bottle and gave Don Jose a cor, sexy look.

That did it. It was love at first sight. Don Jose looked up a couple of feet into her big brown eyes he was a goner.

SITTIN' ON THE SIDELINES

GAINSVILLE FRACAS INSTILLS FEAR AT FSU

BY MARCIA MORRIS

The recent Gainsville Fracas has instilled fear in the hearts of all coeds of women. We have read, heard, and cringed at vivid tales of woe endured by the Gaville ladies when their proud gentlemen friends stormed the dorms and ripped asunder every object, or piece of wearing apparel they could get their hands on. And so, those past few days we've thanked our lucky stars that we attend school in "towering pine" territory and not everyonder — across the tracks!

Last night, however, girls in one of the freshman dorms were convinced they had counted their blessings too soon. Something was definitely in the air —and they were ready for it—whatever it should be!

The tramp, tramp of feet was heard approaching a rear entrance, and the click of a back door latch sounded. Inside, the freshmen were frantically running, and scrambling down the hall. Bang went the doors! Bang went the windows! And Bang went the freshmen into hiding.

But fortunately our university fracas ones were saved, for it turned out to be a brigade of young ladies in blue skirts and blue jackets, tapping for Sophomore Council.

To side track into tradition while the time is nigh—Sophomore Council tapping is always a thrilling time, and last night was no exception; in fact, we'd go on record saying that the extra added attraction of advance Gville publicity made it more exciting than ever.

No matter how perfectly planned, every large scale operation has its ups and downs, and last night was not peachy smooth either, each little bit of confusion being good for another laugh for ten of the girls were cramming, cramming away for those exams others—but the usual gossip, chatter, and giggles, while some were nestled all anug, and eye. Of course lights were dimmed moved into different rooms, or were spending the night down the hall, but Sophomore Council bravely tracked 'em down till each red ribbon had been pinned on, kissed, and added to our going members.

Yesterday there were more allergy heads around campus later on and new members met in the Seminole Club for breakfast at 9 in the M. S. Institution at 5 was followed by a banquet in the Sewanee room; and a reception ended leaping ceremonies until next year.

Congratulations are in order for the seventy-five girls tapped on the basis of leadership, and service—the largest number ever chosen for Sophomore Council on this campus!

It is with fond memories of yesterday's confusion and serious moments that we say—see you, eat up, and come back to school next September pert, chipper, and ready to lift those cute noses and cases up and down, and down and up, three flights of stairs—always remember, we love you, and you have any more fun!

And it is again with genuine joy, that we say—the raid on the dorm was a false alarm. Happy girls, thank goodness we be secure neath the "Gothic Spires." We hope!

Indian Scholar Talks At Methodist Coffee

By LOLETTA RILEY
METHODIST

Mr. Isaac Phillips, a crusade-scholar from India who is now doing graduate work in education at Emory University, Georgia, will be the guest of Wesley Foundation this evening at the coffee hour. The Social Customs of India" will be the subject of the talk and open house at the Methodist Student House. The Sunday School program and Fellowship Sunday evening will also be led by Mr. Phillips.

The World Christian Community Communism, which was responsible for the Communist Party activities here this weekend, is headed by Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison. The committee members are Don Cooke, Gloria Parrish, Mary Ann Gurney, and Ann Gilbert.

BAPTIST

Miss Mary Elizabeth Ainsworth Baptist student secretary, is attending the Southern Baptist Convention at Miami this weekend.

"My Christ Is Adequate" is the topic for worship services of Sunday Week at the Baptist Student House this week. Elizabeth Marty Browder, devotional vice-president, will be in charge. Assisting in the services are: Pam de Boer, La Rose Oliver, and Jim Lohmeyer.

CHRISTIAN

Discipline Student Fellowship, Christian students' community, will be led by Roger Sellers Sunday evening in a discussion on "The Value of Christian Ethics in a Modern Democracy."

LUTHERAN

Gamma Delta, Lutheran student organization, will continue a series of "I Have a Question" discussions Sunday evening at 7:00 in the second floor lounge of the Education Building. Rev. D. R. Boernke will lead the program.

CATHOLIC

Catholic students will elect officers for next year Sunday night at the business meeting held at the Newman House at 7:30.

EPISCOPAL

The Young People Service League of Tallahassee and surrounding towns will be hosts to the Canterbury Club, Episcopal student organization, Sunday evening at Rugg Hall. The meeting will give the high school students an opportunity to enlarge group activity on campus.

Plans are being completed for the Canterbury Club Recognition for the faculty and staff of Florida State University to be held at Rugg Hall, Sunday evening, May 25.

New FSU Counseling Program Planned for Pre-Med Students

By A PIERCE

A new program of counseling for students at Florida State interested in pre-medical studies is being planned by pursuing that course will soon be available through the efforts of the Office of the Coordinator of Counseling.

With an eye toward the future, Miss Jane Chick graduate student in the field of counseling now interning in the Office of the Coordinator, has begun a series of interviews and questionnaires to assist in this study.

WITH THE cooperation of Dr. Paul Reynolds, Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and advisor to all pre-Med students, Miss Chick has drawn up a questionnaire which will be used as a model for similar studies in the student bodies of other schools.

Questions in this test inquire into the influence on the student such as his decision to enter the course, the interest he has acquired while in college so far, and, in general, WHY. Further, the student is asked what he thinks his chances are of getting into medical school and if he has honestly considered the advantages and disadvantages of that career.

Following these interviews, sometime during the early spring will be a series of tests to show interests and aptitudes in the medical area will be given these students. The results of these tests will carry out the theme of the whole study—to show an overall picture and to determine the student's general adjustment to life in general.

THE MAIN feature of these tests will be in the value to the individual student. In many similar local and studies given at other schools the student is left holding the proverbial "bag" after having gone through them. Miss Chick, however, intends to see every one of the students she interviews after the results have been evaluated to interpret the results to them, and to explain what, in the face of the test results, they can expect from further efforts in their studies.

The Department of Counseling strongly urges students to cooperate fully inthis study. It will be to the benefit both to them and their future counterparts. The results will be determined largely on the cooperation of the students.

Mermaids Choose Indigo Leading Spring Shade

Fashion's finger for flirty-two points to blue, according to Vogue, Mademoiselle, and Harper's Bazaar, so every well-dressed Florida State University mermaid will be in the shade for the Shrine Tarpon Club show, Moods In Blue.

Every blue from powder to navy will have a part in the nine-act show which will run May 31 through June 4 in the Women's gymnasium. Even the famous "blues" melodies of Gerry Gershwin, "Rhapsody in Blue" and "American In Paris" play a leading part in the new production.

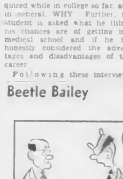
The "American in Paris" number features four couples in a synchronized routine Swimming with the Tarpon Club members are Buddy Bowering, Pat Ferrell, Bob Richardson and Charles Broome.

AN OUTSTANDING highlight of the Moods In Blue are the take Slaughter On Tenth Avenue starring Carolyn Moore and Pete Dunn-Rankin.

The comedy routine, "Blue Tango" features the boys in a burle of burlesque swim formations.

In keeping with the blue theme of the Spring production, the mermaids will appear in intricate formations of "St Louis Blues," "Blues In the Night March," "Memphis Blues," "Birth of the Blues, and "Harlem Nocturne."

"MOODS IN BLUE will be the second production of the Tarpon Club since the Follies of 1950, Golden West, and A Southern Belle Wishes. The latest show will also be presented in Moultrie Georgia, June 1.



Formal Starts Dormitory Weekend

The Magnolia House weekend will get underway tonight when a formal dance is held in the Louisiane auditorium from 9 till 12 p.m.

Saturday morning residents and date will leave by chartered bus at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. to spend the day at the coast at Alligator Point. Lunches will be served by the committees at the coast. The group will arrive back at Magnolia hall at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Heading the planning committee are Bill Farmer, Magnolia-Village governor; John Wrickel and Tom Vandal, social co-chairmen aided by the social committee of Cottrell Van Brunt, Jane and the Village

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
"RETREAT HELL"
with Frank Lovejoy
Sunday Thru Tuesday
"LOVE IS BETTER THAN EVER"
with Liz Taylor and Larry Parks
STATE
Today and Saturday
"TERESA"
with Pier Angeli
Sunday and Thru Tuesday
"LES MISERABLES"
with Cinca Cerv
RITZ
Today and Saturday
"CHAIN OF CIRCUMSTANCE" with Richard Grayson
also
"HOT LEAD"
with Tim Holt
Sunday and Monday
"BELLE OF NEW YORK"
with Fred Astaire
DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
"THE BUSHWHACKERS"
also Gene Autry
in
"NIGHT STAGE TO GALVESTON"
Sunday Thru Monday
Robert Mitchum
"HIS KIND OF WOMAN"
in
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Seminoles Face Stetson Today at Centennial Field

Sessions to Pitch First Game at 2:30

...a State baseball team ... four loss record will ...same series this afternoon ... 2:30 with the powerful ...rivers. The second game ...—and last game of ... will be played Saturday at 7:45. Both contests ...uled for Centennial ...

Ralph Matherly has appointed Sessions to do the ...day as the Seminoles ...e to avenge a 7-2 defeat ...on by Stetson earlier in ... Sessions has won 3 ... On the mound Saturday ...probably be Freshman ...nders.

...noles will probably be ...lout the services of Bob Trowbridge who is ...orary. The Miami ace ...me the FSU nine in the ...d-in department and ...atcher Billy Campbell or ...Ralph Rogers.

...the injured list is Ed ...State's leading hurler. ...was struck on the foot on ...one drive in last week's ...game and the bruise has ...to heal.

...fielders from DeLand will ...one of the hardest hitting ...ibs the Seminoles will ...beating Rollins College ...Monday Stetson banged ...ns including four by their ...

...ps Chuck Sanders with ...of three wins and two ...probably do the hurling ...ow night's season ending ...One of Sanders setbacks ...s at the hands of Stetson.

The Sports Line

By JIM EADY

With the Seminole baseball nine enjoying their finest season—16 wins and 4 losses—a little should be said about the man largely responsible for the success, one Ralph Matherly. In his first year at the head coaching job—taking over after Charlie Armstrong left—matherly welded FSU into a winning team.

Matherly, a native of Sarasota, Florida, played college baseball and football at Colgate where he was quarterback on the 1941 to 43 football squads. And before coming to FSU, he was head coach of all sports at Vincennes Nakomis High School. Before this he served as assistant coach at Sarasota High.

Last fall, Matherly was a member of the football staff coaching the B team.

By winning the two last games with Stetson this weekend, Matherly can compile a season record that will remain untouched for many a year by any future FSU baseball nine.

* * *

Received a letter the other day from one Joe Calvetti, a former gymnast at FSU and I thought I would pass it on to the reading public.

Sports Editor Flambeau

Dear Sir:

It's very sad indeed for the State of Florida that Dr. Hartley Price, Gymnastics director of FSU, was not chosen coach of the Olympic gymnastic team on April 27 at Penn State. He has brought much recognition and glory to Florida and FSU through his undying efforts to bring three national team titles and eleven national individual titles to FSU. His talent for developing national gymnastic champions is unsurpassed in the South.

In appreciation for his great achievements and for placing two FSU men on the U. S. Olympic Gymnastic team, I would like to suggest that your paper and the student body start a movement to raise funds or induce the state to appropriate funds to send Dr. Price to the Olympics as an observer and official representative of the state of Florida.

Yours truly,

Joe Calvetti

* * *

A good idea Joe . . . but, . . .

* * *

FROM OTHER CAMPUSES

ALABAMA UNIVERSITY—Last week the students staged a "Little 500" race . . . only it was a bicycle race for fifty miles. The purpose: To raise money for the scholarship fund of the course. Spectators and participants alike paid from 50 cents to 3 dollars for admission.

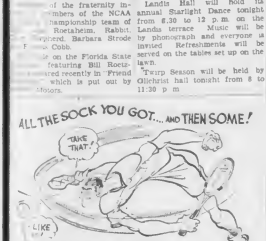
OKLAHOMA UNIVERSITY, always a football power, has announced they would remain in BIG SEVEN conference . . . was some doubt they would because they didn't want to comply with new reforms . . . The chief being strict control on talent recruiting.

TULANE'S president announced that the number of football scholarships would be cut from 100 to a "mere" equivalent number 75. Big de-emphasis?

GEORGIA University of Georgia's corvaled one of country's finest swimmers . . . Hal Stolz. He was nation's No. 1 in the breaststroke. He's now at Ga. Military Academy.

Landis Hall To Hold Annual Dance Tonight

Landis Hall will hold its annual Starlight Dance tonight from 8:30 to 12 p. m. in the Landis terrace. Music will be by phonograph and everyone is invited. Refreshments will be served on the tables set up on the lawn.



Terry Sasson will be held by Gilchrist hall tonight from 8 to 11:30 p. m.

Air Men Interview Reserve Prospects

Lieutenants C. J. Robey and Ed Wade of the Naval Air Reserve Training unit, Naval Air station at Jacksonville, interviewed students interested in becoming Naval Aviation Cadets this week.

The Naval Reserve officers said the Navy is offering the students between the ages of 18 and 20, with a minimum of 60 hours college credit an opportunity for 18 months training after which they are given Naval Reserve commissions. The two officers left the FSU campus yesterday.

Patronize Our Advertisers

THESE STAMINA-TESTED SPALDING-MADE TENNIS BALLS HAVE TOP RATING IN CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS.

Wright & Ditson APP. U.S.L.T.A. CHAMPIONSHIP

THE WRIGHT & DITSON IS THE ONLY OFFICIAL BALL OF THE DELTA MAY CHAMPIONSHIPS SINCE 1937... OFFICIAL IN EVERY U.S. DAVIS CUP MATCH TOO

WITH THE SWING... THE SPALDINGS.... THEY ARE PLAYED IN NINE MAJOR TOURNAMENTS THAN ALL OTHER TENNIS BALLS COMBINED

FOR A SHARPER GAME... PLAY THE TWINS OF CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS

APR. U.S.L.T.A. SPALDING CHAMPIONSHIP

SPALDING

SPALDING SPORTS SHOW

FREE

...sets the pace in sports

ALL NEW SPORTS SNOW BOOK

...ITE TODAY! A. G. SPALDING—DEPT. C-53

Chicopee, Mass.

Honorary Gym Fraternity Held First Meeting

...meeting of 'Gymnas...honorary gymnastic ...was held last night ...ming, Bill Roetheim ...and Terry Shep...appointed to a comm...dy the problem of a ...ers. Roetheim will ...honor ...committee, with Joe ...as chairman, will be ...naming nominees to ...v fraternity.

...of the fraternity in...mbers of the NCAA ...championship team of ...Roetheim, Rabbit ...injured, Barbara Strode ...Cobb.

...on the Florida State ...featuring Bill Rootz ...university in Pitzsi...which is put out by ...Moore.

INTRAMURALS

Campus Greeks continued to slug it out in their bid for the title of fraternity athletic champs, along with the big gold trophy that goes with it. In the bloodthirsty softball matches that are rapidly drawing to a close, Sigma Nu has become the team to beat. So far the "Snakes" have played under ten fraternity foes for a thus far undefeated diamond season.

Last Monday the iron arm of Sigma Nu John Newland dealt the Delta Tau Delta nine their third defeat to the tune of 9 to 6. Alpha Tau Omega ambushed Theta Chi 10 to 8, while Pi Kappa Alpha tromped Kappa Sigma 19 to 2. Phi Delta Theta won its second game when it outclawed Lambda Chi Alpha 23 to 21. Sigma Alpha Epsilon outhit Phi Kappa Tau 10 to 4 and Pi Kappa Phi slipped past the Kappa Alphas 14 to 10. Sigma Chi strangled Sigma Phi Epsilon 15 to 10.

In Tuesday's action, Newland KA tried Jeb Stuart tactics in the closing minutes of their game against Sigma Nu in an effort to topple the undefeated foe. but rifle armed Newland and fullerton challenge up with number nine to the echo of a 22 to 10 defeat over the boys in Quartz. Meanwhile the Lambda Chi's killed the SAE Lamb 13 to 7 and Alpha Tau beat DTD 8 to 3. Pi K A forfeited their meet with Sigma Chi 7 to 0. SPE started an elephantine offensive in the f a i n t i n g moments of their match with the Phi Delts, but the ran out of the fire 16 to 12, while Pi K Phi whipped Kappa Sig 7 to 5.

Wednesday found the Sigma Nus still on the victory trail. They beheaded Pi K A 13 to 3, while Alpha rebel yelled the Phi Delts to death, rallying to an 18 to 8 win, and ATO whipped the ghost of SPE 14 to 3. Sigma Chi clubbed SAE 10 to 8, as Theta Chi put the

Team	W	L	T
Sigma Nu	10	0	0
Alpha Rebel	8	1	0
Phi Delt	7	2	0
A. T. O.	7	3	0
K A	6	3	0
Pi K Phi	5	4	1
Theta Chi	5	4	0
Sigma Chi	4	5	0
Lambda Chi	3	5	1
Pi K T.	3	6	0
Phi K T.	3	6	0
S P E	2	6	1
S A E	1	8	0
D T D	0	9	0

track shiner to run down Kappa Sig 23 to 6. The Lambda Chis slipped a 13 to 10 win by Phi K T, while DTD trimmed Pi K Phi 10 to 7.

Yesterday's tilts were postponed because of the armed forces Day parade. These games will be made up on Wednesday, May 28.

Fraternity softball standings to date:

A. T. O.	546	Sigma Chi	399
Sigma Nu	511	Pi K T.	399
Alpha Rebel	451	Lambda Chi	357
Phi Delt	444	Phi K T.	324
Theta Chi	422	Pi K Phi	294
K A	411	Sigma Phi	252

WEDNESDAY SOFTBALL RESULTS

Sigma Nu	13	DTD	3
Alpha Rebel	18	SPE	8
Phi Delt	9	Kappa Sig	8
Lambda Chi	13	SAE	7
A. T. O.	14	Sigma Chi	3
Pi K Phi	10	Theta Chi	7

THURSDAY'S SOFTBALL GAMES

Sigma Nu	9	Alpha Rebel	6
Phi Delt	23	Lambda Chi	21
Pi K Phi	14	Sigma Alpha Epsilon	10
Kappa Sig	10	Phi K T.	4
Sigma Chi	15	Sigma Phi Epsilon	10
Alpha Tau	8	DTD	3

Here is a peek at the overall standings of the fraternities to date:

A. T. O.	546	Sigma Chi	399
Sigma Nu	511	Pi K T.	399
Alpha Rebel	451	Lambda Chi	357
Phi Delt	444	Phi K T.	324
Theta Chi	422	Pi K Phi	294
K A	411	Sigma Phi	252

WEDNESDAY SOFTBALL RESULTS

Sigma Nu	13	DTD	3
Alpha Rebel	18	SPE	8
Phi Delt	9	Kappa Sig	8
Lambda Chi	13	SAE	7
A. T. O.	14	Sigma Chi	3
Pi K Phi	10	Theta Chi	7

THURSDAY'S SOFTBALL GAMES

Sigma Nu	9	Alpha Rebel	6
Phi Delt	23	Lambda Chi	21
Pi K Phi	14	Sigma Alpha Epsilon	10
Kappa Sig	10	Phi K T.	4
Sigma Chi	15	Sigma Phi Epsilon	10
Alpha Tau	8	DTD	3

The tennis courts were infested with fraternity contenders in doubles matches Phi Delt slabbed SAE. Sigma Chi walloped Phi K T. Pi K A smashed Sigma Nu. Last night a half dozen racquetring teams locked heads. The championship is scheduled to be determined on May 27.

SN	220	194—13	16
Pi K A	220	90—8	10
	97	46—18	7
LCA	97	46—18	7
PKP	142	68—9	4
	190	90—14	8
PDT	223	1—8	5
	223	1—8	5
KA	219	94—9	6
	219	94—9	6
SPE	215	94—10	6
	215	94—10	6

Here's the dope on the fraternity softball tourney:

Sigma Nu	10	0	0
Alpha Rebel	8	1	0
Phi Delt	7	2	0
A. T. O.	7	3	0
K A	6	3	0
Pi K Phi	5	4	1
Theta Chi	5	4	0
Sigma Chi	4	5	0
Lambda Chi	3	5	1
Pi K T.	3	6	0
Phi K T.	3	6	0
S P E	2	6	1
S A E	1	8	0
D T D	0	9	0

Yesterday's games:

Sigma Nu	13	DTD	3
Alpha Rebel	18	SPE	8
Phi Delt	9	Kappa Sig	8
Lambda Chi	13	SAE	7
A. T. O.	14	Sigma Chi	3
Pi K Phi	10	Theta Chi	7

Today's games:

Sigma Nu	9	Alpha Rebel	6
Phi Delt	23	Lambda Chi	21
Pi K Phi	14	Sigma Alpha Epsilon	10
Kappa Sig	10	Phi K T.	4
Sigma Chi	15	Sigma Phi Epsilon	10
Alpha Tau	8	DTD	3

Interns Return to FSU From Florida, Georgia

By JUNE MORGAN

Florida State University intern teachers returned Monday from an intensive internship program that included schools in Florida and Georgia.

Everywhere they met the feeling that directing teachers consider the FSU internship program superior to any other Florida college program. Returns from other schools were allowed only a passive observation of student teachers in classrooms, while FSU interns many times had complete charge of the class as well as substitute work in unrelated classes.

All of them were enthusiastic about their experiences. Ruth Hill, who interned at Zephyr Hills high school in home economics said, "I enjoyed it so much I almost hated to come back. I was really pleased that she found practice is better than reading and she valuable experience for me which considered the program the most life. Miss Hill had fun entertaining the boys in her cooking class bake cakes for a charity cakewalk.

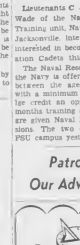
"Interning made me quite sure I want to teach. It's nothing to be afraid of," said Ruth Spaulman, Dade City Grammar School intern. She thought it was a lot of work, but all of it fun.

Yvonne Dixon, another intern at A. V. Clyde Junior High in Pensacola, brought back an unusual souvenir. The tattered scrap of paper she cherishes is a note from a twelve-year-old student: "Dear Miss Dionne, I am very sorry to see you leave us. We have learned very much from you. I like all your new songs. To my best friend in your class and good luck. Yours forever. Brad."

"It was wonderful! Those kids were just like putty in my hands," said Bei Peters, who interned at a Miami junior high school. "I'd tease them and they never knew when to believe me."

Keeta Carballo, intern at Coral Gables High, said, "I had charge of five classes of 30 to 40 students who were full of the devil, but I loved it." She emphasized that she learned most by her mistakes.

Her roommate, Rae Lathers, interned with Spanish at Lakeland High school. She was surprised at the little high school students know their aversion to homework and their "ability" to stay out of school.



Foreign Service Exam Application Available

Any students wishing information about application for the written, oral and physical examinations for appointment to the foreign service officers for the United States government should contact Glover E. Tully, director of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

Applications for exams for foreign service office class 8, Department of State, must be submitted prior to July 1, 1952.

The educational requirements for candidates for this position are general. The Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement is in Room 203 Westcott.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Owning this fine solid silver is as safe as holding money in the bank . . . and its beauty will enrich your life

Whether you spend a midget $2.50 for a single coffee spoon, or $29.75 for a six-piece place setting, you're spending wisely and well.

Moon's REGISTERED JEWELERS— American Gem Society TALLAHASSEE

Last Free Movie Stars Alex Knox

"Woodrow Wilson," the story of the political and personal life of the U. S. president, will be the last free movie to be presented by the University Recreation association.

The movie, with Alexander Knox in the leading role, will start Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union at West campus. It will be shown Tuesday in the Landis Recreation room Wednesday, Magnolia; Thursday, Senior hall, and Friday at 8 p. m. in the amphitheater.

Other stars are Charles Coburn and Geraldine Fitzgerald. The movie depicts President Wilson's fight for world peace through a League of Nations, and his frustrated attempts through that means brought about by a hostile Senate

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Formerly Mantz Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

WOMEN'S SPORTS

BY BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

LET'S GO WITH BATTER UP! The ODD's and EVEN's met in the final practice game on Monday afternoon and the ODD's scored an upset by beating the EVEN's 6-1. In the four inning game, Herndon and the ODD's down in 1, 2, 3, order while she pitched in the first two innings.

Temple started for the ODD's with Collinsworth calling signals behind the plate. The ODD team looked liked this for the first two innings: Pruenell, first base; Young, second; Haynes, shortstop; Pulley, third; Maynard, left field; Athanasion, center field; Guard, rightfield.

The EVEN line-up consisted of: Herndon-P.; Erickson-C; Morgan-1st; McGill-2nd; Crum-ss; Sturgess-3rd; Folsom-lf; Alvares-cf; Partin-rf.

Both teams played the first three innings without committing an error. The top of the fourth inning found Herndon on base only EVEN run on a single from the bat of Rose Alvarez.

Fay Guard's Hink Cobb drew a walk. Chapman singled and Jean Web slashed a single for two RBI's. The EVEN's committed several errors and the ODD's scored three more runs.

The teams will be chosen today and the first game will be played on Saturday, May 24, and the second game will follow on May 27.

Women were elected Wednesday night to serve on the Board of the Women's Division of the Athletic Recreation Association. They are: Sally Ellis—Chairman; Becky Branson — secretary; Anna Athanasion—intramural manager; JoAnne Thorpe—senior assistant manager; Mary Ann Zeigler—junior assistant intramural manager; senior ODD-EVEN manager—Jane Ann Sawyer and Shirley Browne; junior ODD-EVEN manager—June McGill.

Turning to the intramural side of sports, the basketball tournament is going into the finals. To start the tournament off Gamma Phi Beta defeated Alpha Delta Pi; Kappa Alpha Theta best Zeta Tau Alpha. The second round found Delta Zeta defeating Gilchrist Gamma Phi Beta losing to Kappa Alpha Theta; Alpha Xi Delta losing to Chi Omega; Alpha Gamma Delta beating Phi Beta Pi.

Going into the semi-finals Kappa Alpha Theta whipped Delta eZira; Chi Omega beat Alpha Gamma Delta. The finals were between Chi Omega and Kappa Alpha Theta. The Chi Omega's came out on top to win the badminton intramural tournament.

In the race between lower and lower Gilchrist beat Alpha Delta Phi; Alpha Xi Delta defeated Phi Beta Pi; Alpha Xi Delta beat Alpha Delta Pi for the lowers championship.

National Fraternity Elects Lewandowski

Professor Edmund D. Lewandowski of the Art department, has just been informed of his election to membership in Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity.

Lewandowski, who came to Florida State University in 1949, has recently completed four mural assignments, one for each of the lounges of the American Export Lines ships, the S.S. Independence and the S.S. Constitution, and two murals depicting the importance of transportation to a modern enterprise executed for the new administration building of a large Milwaukee, Wisconsin, concern.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Gymnast Cinderella Gets Olympic Bid

By JIM EADY

When the 1952 Olympics get under way on Helsinki, Finland, Florida State will be represented by two of the finest gymnasts in the USA.

One of them is Bill Roetheim, the 5'4" Cinderella nation won fame as the youngest member of the 1948 Olympic contingent. The other is not as well known, even to the students of FSU. Anyway, his name is Donald Holder, who jumped into the spotlight at the National AAU and Olympic tryouts in Philadelphia, by finishing third among the country's best and thereby earning a berth in the U.S.A. The lone stay in Europe will include a meet with Germany besides the regular Olympic competition. It lasts about three to four weeks.

All his expenses will be paid for by the Olympic committee, the big expense being for his own passport. He'll also receive clothes as a member of Uncle Sam's team.

Although he won't leave the states until July 7, Holder will start the actual training for competition around June 16 at West Point. The two week training period will consist of three workouts a day, morning, noon and evening. The Olympic coach, Tom Meinert, is a West Pointer.

STARTED IN HIGH SCHOOL

Holder's gymnastic career, climaxed by the Olympic trip, all started when he was a student at Dickenson High School, Jersey City, New Jersey. That's when he first made a try at the sport. He went to a state high school tournament his every year and though Holder's team never won the tourney they were frequent runner-ups.

After Don finished high school, he went to work with a window display company. But, even though he was working he continued his gymnastic activities and in 1948 he finished ninth in the AAU all-around events.

It was the next year, after high school that he decided to enter college and his decision to make Tallahassee the target was influenced by Pat Simmons and Joe and Carmine Ferrara, who also attended Dickenson High. Shonerill and the Reynes are all members of Gymkana.

Going back to school after five years was no easy task and Don says he had it 'rough' time the first semester but now he has become addicted to the college routine. As far as he's concerned, he's glad he came down here.

Holder, who is 23, is a member of the Swiss Gymnastic club along with his wife, Connie.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"YOUS HAIR looks as though it's been in the rain, deer," a campus Casinova told Sheedy. "If you want to born in on the women, it might be time you got a hair cut." Sure, Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-greasy. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moss, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test! Pass it, Wildroot Cream-Oil and now no girl wonders whether he's man or moose! If your moose is cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and make a sasi-demmie to the moose pen. Or write for free sample coupon for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your beat at the barber shop so your hair will look you've let herd down. (What she'll say will be moose-ic to your ears!)

*wdf1351a. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N.Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N.Y.

Gustatory note:

Appetite comes with eating . . . but thirst departs with drinking

Rabelais

You can lose thirst in a hurry with a bottle of ice-cold Coca-Cola . . . and find sparkling refreshment.

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

© 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Final Senate Meet

(Continued from Page One)

that the faculty committee was still opposed to what the Senate was trying to do, but if it was going to underscore what it said before it should use the same language. He also stated that the administration had no desire to make the Senate a "rubber stamp."

In the absence of a quorum, Sen. Ralph Jere Saivers ruled that the suggested change in the by-laws be amended was merely editorial and therefore did not have to be put to a vote.

IN CLOSING the meeting, Jere Saivers lauded the Senators for their effort this year, saying that this was the most conscientious Senate he had participated in, and that "everybody has done work." As a tribute to the returning Senators, and mentioning the Flambeau editorial of a week ago calling him the "outgoing chairmaster," he handed out pocket-sized chairmaster's combs to everybody present.

Parade Observes Armed Forces Day

A formal military retreat was held yesterday afternoon on the Leon High school grounds in observance of Armed Forces Day.

The event, which was sponsored by the local Rotary club, began with a parade through downtown Tallahassee. ROTC cadet units from Florida State University and Florida A & M College, a platoon from the National Guard and representatives of the Army Air Force, Navy and Marines paraded as eight Navy planes from the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville flew over the city.

The student cadet bands marched in the parade along with the color guards of the Army Ordnance and Air Force ROTC units of FSU and the A & M Artillery ROTC unit.

Odham Talks Mon.

(Continued from Page One)

supporters, to attend the Odham talkathon next Monday night from 6:30 to 10 p.m. at Dean Motors 216 S. Gadsden street.

MEANWHILE, statewide, Odham continued the talkathon procedure which most experts claim took him out of bolution and into the number two spot in the fust primary.

In Lake Worth yesterday he termed as "ridiculous" the accusation that he screened his talkathon questions.

ODHAM REPEATED his proposal to discuss this program throughout the state at town meetings before the legislature meets. "You can't beat the professional politicians and special interests in the halls at Tallahassee," Odham said. "I've been there and I know."

After a discussion of his program for economy in government, Odham said, "My opponent said I couldn't put it into effect because the politicians didn't like it. I don't want the politicians to like me. They can go fill a hole. They are the ones who've got this country in the shape we're in."

NO AMATEUR HIMSELF at Salesmanship, Governor Fuller Warren discusses the first annual FSU Retailing Clinic with its sponsors. Shown left to right are Dr. W. G. Shover, chairman at the Clinic; Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business; Governor Warren, and President Doak S. Campbell.

First Retailing Clinic Highlighted By Panels

The first annual Retailing Clinic, sponsored by the Market ing department in the School of Business, got underway Wednesday as several Tallahassee merchants and many members of the different panels discussed the problems of marketing.

Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business, welcomed the group [illegible] of student[illegible] joined in [illegible] all the [illegible] and others interested in the retail field of business.

Speakers on the program pointed out that retailing, [illegible] of the business forms operating in the United States are in the retail field and that when wholesale orders are added, the figure becomes even more impressive.

The morning sessions were occupied with discussions on scientific buying for consumption and protecting the consumer through packaging. The speakers [illegible]

Officers Installed

(Continued from Page One)

Anne Thomas, Anice Spencer, Terry Stein; junior class senators, John Ehrlich, Charles McClaney, Charlie Milford, Judy Simkins, Pat Renick and Jackie Keston.

Also sophomore senators, Gene Lawler, Wayne Mixon, Bruce Holley, Charis Coulter, Lois Stroup and Joan Dacon.

UNIVERSITY COURT members installed were senators Jim Smith, Tommy Bowen, Frankie Brooklier, Ellen Allen and Junior Judy Woodman, Richard Jackson, Nannette Holden and Pat Slater.

Senior judiciary members were senators DeWitt Jones, James H. Chatham, David Bashinski, Dot Douglas, Joan Webb, Sallie Grant. Junior members were Kinsman Jackson, James Crowther, Patty Stevens, Yvonne McCarthy and Jackie Wenger. Bill Blanck, Bob Foley, Ray Rogers, Carolyn Johnson, Dot Cooke and Lillian Ava were installed as sophomore judiciary members.

Sophomore Traffic Court representative was George Martin, while Steve Bailey will represent the junior class.

AFTER THE installation services, Dr. Broward Culpepper, dean of student welfare, made a talk in which he reviewed the difficulties that had been faced during the year and the progress which the UGA had made during the year. He has been here to see it in operation.

The Alma Mater was then sung after which everyone adjourned to the main lounge for a reception.

Kuder Test Scheduled

All students wishing to take a Kuder Preference Test to determine vocational interests are asked to sign up in the college board in 203 Westcott as soon as possible.

The test will be given Monday, May 19, at 7:00 p.m. in 214 Education building.

Blood Drive Ends

(Continued from Page One)

were from independent students and faculty members.

REGARDLESS of how you turn out, the drive was not considered a "flop" as the Spring drive at the University of Florida was termed in the newspaper, but it [illegible] ed 250 pint of a 375-pint quota [illegible] is compared to 208 pint of a 300-pint quota for Fall.

Hugh added thanks to his co-chairman Fred Hoover, and Bob Griffin for the [illegible] and to Dr. Brooks and his [illegible] staff for their assistance. He said he appreciated the donations of cold drinks from Pepsi-Cola, Coca-Cola, Seven-Up, Royal Crown and the milk donations from Bassett Dairies and dairies.

Totals for the Fall and Spring drive are [illegible] a total of 813 pints.

Danford Will Speak At Taylor Services

Dr. Howard G. Danford, [illegible] of religion at Florida State University, will be the guest speaker at the Taylor memorial service to be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in the Baptist Student Center auditorium.

Dr. Danford, who is [illegible] Professor G. W. [illegible] will speak on "Religion and Life."

As pastor of the Baptist church in Jacksonville Dr. Danford was also chairman of the [illegible] committee which [illegible] the Baptist Hour broadcast. He is [illegible] author of the book, "Religion and Life," which is [illegible] in the Florida State University [illegible] Harold [illegible] Religion.

He has also served as president of the Ohio Baptist convention and also as chairman of the [illegible] committee of the Southern Baptist convention.

Dr. Danford is [illegible] of the Rotary club [illegible] also [illegible] Jacksonville.

To FSU STUDENTS---This is your Invitation---Join the Move for Decency in Government

SEE DYNAMIC HEAR PROGRESSIVE BRAILEY ODHAM

TALKATHON 6:30-10 P.M. Mon.

PLACE: DEAN MOTORS
216 N. GADSDEN ST.

Broadcast Over WTAL – WTNT

Will Answer Your Questions on What He Proposes to Do When Elected Governor. Those Asked on the Scene Will Be Given First Priority

Paid for by Leon County Odham for Governor Deputy Campaign Treasurer

Nardis of Dallas

As seen in May Vogue—matched from head to heel separates, handsomely tailored of Sanforized color-fast denim. Charcoal gray, red or blue with matching stripes, 10 to 20.

Woven stripe jacket	8.95
Skirt	6.95
Slacks	4.95
Sleeveless white broadcloth blouse	3.00
MATCHING SLACKS	6.95
MATCHING CAPS	4.95

Bertha Cooke

McCarty to Speak

(Continued from Page One)

not vote against the sales tax bill when it was passed in 1949.

"When I said he didn't vote, he called Dad McCarty a liar. Now he comes back and says he took a walk," said McCarty.

Odham said Wednesday he fought the bill in committee. The bill was for levying the state's three per cent sales tax.

IN LAKE CITY, the Ft. Pierce politician said he would be able to rally Legislative support for his program if elected. He thought his opponent might not.

Odham, who said he refused to take a walk on the anti-boodle bill when asked by Representative Page of Key West in the 1947 Legislature, McCarty says no one ever approached him for a bribe.

PENNELL campus McCarty booster, says "McCarty's running on his own merits not the shirt tail coattails of others like Odham is doing."

McCarty, in Lake City, yesterday told his lieutenants he wants to "stabilize the economy of agricultural communities to increase the prosperity of all our citizens." He thought gas taxes on farm machinery unfair. A tax repeal on gas used to run equipment not operated on the highways has been before the Legislature before. It has been unsuccessful [illegible]

Leadership Meet

(Continued from Page One)

5:30 p.m. Tuesday in W[illegible] consist of president and [illegible] officers, deans and [illegible] sponsors, social [illegible] committee chairmen, [illegible] senators, [illegible] presidents and [illegible] Women's Council [illegible]

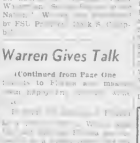
SUPPER WILL be [illegible] 6:30 p.m. [illegible] for [illegible] Dining [illegible]

[illegible] Council [illegible] Buffet [illegible] committees [illegible] a question [illegible] 8:30

[illegible] events will [illegible] of leadership as a [illegible] member of [illegible]

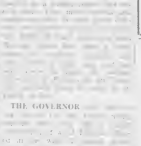
A GENERAL MEETING [illegible] night's [illegible] be held [illegible] at Broward [illegible] ated to breakfast [illegible] 9:45 p.m. A [illegible] be given on [illegible] program and [illegible] tion of How Do I [illegible] My Campus, the Organization [illegible] the University [illegible] ordered. Devotional [illegible] also be [illegible]

Co-chairmen for the Leadership [illegible] Tallahassee are Sara Mc[illegible]th and Dave Bonn[illegible]. Members of the [illegible] committee are Mary Ro[illegible]mes B. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Carolyn Gea, Marcia Mc[illegible] Canada, Bess Mims and Jessie Moore.



THE FACULTY committee [illegible] of Leon M. Ortel, [illegible] Brine, Dean of Women Ka[illegible] Warren, Assistant Dean [illegible] James P. Cass, Auditor, Dan [illegible] Women Elizabeth Lan[illegible] ter of Students Wesley A. Brown, Counselor.

Also Marie V. Arrowsmith, [illegible] professor of [illegible] ical Geography; Mrs. Hallam [illegible] of Government; William T. [illegible] ness; Mrs. Cyrus [illegible] Wesley C. Hetrick, [illegible] dean of [illegible]



Warren Gives Talk

(Continued from Page One)

[illegible] Tuesday [illegible] man [illegible] ing [illegible] ...

THE GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR WARREN

Senate Meeting

A [illegible]

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Dance Music with a ROMANTIC BEAT By That Sensational M.G.M. Recording Star

ART MOONEY and his NEW ORCHESTRA

COLLEGE WOMEN Step Forward... AS AN OFFICER IN THE WAC!

. . . and step up to a promising career . . . of stimulating work . . . excellent pay . . . great fun . . . travel! A career that will mean escape from humdrum, ordinary jobs!

To qualify for you who are about to graduate, or, who are planning to leave school (with two years of college credits) . . . think of what this opportunity means to you! Remember, too, that as an Officer in the Women's Army Corps, you enjoy equal pay, allowances, and benefits with men of identical rank in the U. S. Army . . . plus free medical and dental care!

And how wonderful and deeply satisfying to have the chance of earning a fine living while serving your country!

Don't Miss Your Opportunity!

Don't delay! Contact your nearest Recruiting Station or Army installation for further details . . . and for application

OFFICER PROGRAMS:

1. Women college graduates, [illegible] to Officer Candidate School [illegible] as 2nd Lieutenant in the Regular Army and women selected [illegible] of training may qualify for [illegible] transfer in the Regular Army.

2. Reserve commissions in grades [illegible] may be granted to Officer Candidate [illegible] with a college degree who fail within [illegible] of 21 to 35 with qualifying experience [illegible] ing, business, recreation, personnel [illegible] tration, advertising or other fields requiring leadership and supervision or [illegible]

3. With a minimum of two years of college, women may enlist as WAC Officer Candidate Applicants.

Should you wish to WRITE for details, just fill out and mail this coupon—

ADJUTANT GENERAL, Dept. of the Army
Washington 25, D. C.
Attention: AGAN
I would be [illegible] more information about the opportunities of being an officer in the WAC.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....
CITY ..... ZONE ..... STATE .....

WAC WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS

UNITED STATES ARMY

Yeah Man!

What Ever Your Student Needs Malone's Co-Op Has It!

- STATIONER
- ART SUPPLIES
- SCHOOL SUPPLIES
- COSMETICS
- BOOKS, MAGAZINES
- TEE SHIRTS
- FILM DEVELOPING
- 1-DAY SERVICE

"WE BUY USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House

Roast Turkey and Dressing
Fried Ham, Broiled Pork Chops and Apple Sauce
Fish with Pineapple Sauce
Fried Shrimp

Fried Ham, Broasted Pig, Specialties in Virginia Ham, Pure Pork Sausage, Home Made Pies, Delicious Waffles

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

$6.50

This Joggery

A Relaxation Class With "Madame Biceps"
See Seminole Scenes

Florida Flambeau

Griffin Says "Thanks" Gives Advice In Adieu
See Editorial Page

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 55 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, May 20, 1952

Publications Board Appraisal Is Made

(AN EDITORIAL)

The family skeleton was rattling in the Senate closet on last week. Garland Stokes, outgoing president of the Fraternity council, proposed the old, much-defeated plan of a student board of publications.

The final meeting of the out-going student Senate had no quorum, so no action was taken, but Stokes has announced that he plans to reintroduce his idea in the first regular meeting of the new Senate today.

Since the IPC president admitted he had had "considerable difficulty" with the Flambeau this year, perhaps his plan could be dismissed on the basis of his personal prejudice.

Stokes' plan is not entirely just criticisms of the university's publications, however, and these points should not be dismissed lightly, for they constitute real problems.

It is Stokes' method of solving these problems which deserves the criticism.

The failure of FSU's publications can be grouped into two basic categories: finances, methodology and general policy.

The Flambeau, for instance, has run so many large issues this year that it is having to print a large number of extra issues to continue publication. Smoke Signals has been criticized for injudicious use of student money — both by not coming out on schedule. Tally-Ho, too, on occasion have had financial difficulties, but these may be looked up by now.

Here the students help support the publications through activity fee, thus have a right to see that their money is spent wisely. It has been suggested that the newly created secretary of finance receive periodic statements from the publications.

The financial problems certainly present no justification for a board of publications.

As to methodology, the Flambeau has been accused many times of "blasting," personalities, inaccuracy and petty articles. Some of the criticism has received confirmation for its intellectual thought, for unoriginality and for a virtual absence of continuity.

These charges, even if only partially true, present a serious consideration in the improvement of campus publications.

A board of publications could, it is true, stop criticism by "blasting." College papers throughout the nation have been the shining target for such criticism. Editors and staffs have little trouble with "nasty" publications.

Even though it may be to say so, democracy is based largely on the ability to accept criticism. Students may have things ruffled at times but they should realize freedoms are in direct ratio to the freedom of the expression.

This would not imply license, of course. The newly passed amendment amendment protects the students from excesses.

Finally there is the problem of general quality. There seems to be general dissatisfaction and suffering from the quality of all three publications. Perhaps what FSU needs is a revitalized student interest, a return to the tradition of strong competition for staff positions.

The problems before the publications, then, are very real. The publications board hardly seems the solution.

The Senate has had the wisdom in the past to defeat the board. It is to be hoped the body will again reject it.

Women to Give Music Program In Music Hall

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Joseph M. Running, will present a spring concert tonight in the Doperman Music hall at 8:15 p.m.

Accompanying the group will be pianist Lee McSwain.

THE PROGRAM will open with "Let's Thine Eyes," from Felix Mendelssohn's Elijah. The vocal group will also sing "Thus, Then, the Law of the Spirit," from the same short, Jesus Princeton Treasure by Bach and Wistaria by Uggero Vene. Virginia Perrish contralto will be the soloist for Franz Schubert's Serenade, Op. 135.

Helen Bell, soprano will take the part of Senta, while Virginia French is Mary and Claude Mann, tenor, assumes the role of Eric for the "Spinning Chorus" from Richard Wagner's The Flying Dutchman.

AFTER INTERMISSION, Ball Moon Mountain by Edwin Gerschefski will be presented, during which Miss Bell and Running will be soloist. Selections from this will include "Ballad of Mountain from Broadway," "Land of Plenty," "Black-Haired Woman" and "Back to Those Hills."

Other pieces will be Two Spanish Folk Songs, by de Falla, "Sweet Nellie Gray," "Swanee River" by Joaquin Nin, "Mi Nicolasa" by Nin, "Men" by Mopper and "Swear and Spice" by Winstead.

Seniors to Vote For 'The Best'

Smoke Signals Conducts Contest For Last Cover

Seniors will vote today in lower Westcott for the "Best All Around Senior Boy and Girl," in the contest sponsored by Smoke Signals to select the Senior Couple for their cover of this year's final edition.

The voting today, announced Chairman Jackie Kessler, will be conducted by the Freshman Flunkies. Nominations and voting for today's run-off ballot ended last week.

Basis of selection will be friendliness, spirit, scholarship, extra-curricular activities and service to the school. The winners from some of their college activities are listed below:

Betty Rich—Freshman Flunkies, Sophomore Council, Junior Counselor, Junior Senior Prom; president in Charge of Women's Affairs, Garnet Key, Mortar Board, chronicler, honors.

Marjorie Meekstreit—Phi Mu president, Senior secretary, secretary of UGA, Garnet Key, Senior class marshall, co-chairman of leadership, Mortar Board, member of Jr.-Sr. Prom court, Pow-Wow staff, editor of Mortar Board.

Marianne Gillen — Villa Nova Vamps president, Panhellenic president, Garnet Key treasurer, associate editor of Smoke Signals, Flambeau feature writer, member of Jr.-Sr. Prom, Queen of May Day, Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Jeti Neuner—Circus, captain of cheerleaders, Village Vamps, sophomore council, Freshman Key, coming Queen, Editor of first Senior Black Book, Garnet Key, Mortar Board, founder of Westpath club, Freshman Flunkies, Sophomore Hop Queen, Mistaff.

Joel Smith—Associate editor of Flambeau, Smoke Signals, Journals, Sigma Nu president, Gold Key, Sandpeso, Tally Ho, chairman of Sophomore-Senior breakfast, King of J.-Sr. Prom.

Dirk Brinkerhoff — Was president vice-president of UGA, Junior senator, debate team, letterman in golf, Garnet Key secretary, ODK, co-chairman for Leadership Training Conference, master of ceremonies for Homecoming banquet and freshman orientation program.

Will Pennell—Freshman class president, Sophomore class president, Gold Key, Rat Court chairman, Social Work club, Junior Class president, Garnet Key, served two years Westminster Fellowship, State President of Westminster Fellowship, IPC representative, UGA president.

Pete Dunn—Austin — Varsity swimming team, co-captain of swimming team Flambeau writer, Tally-Ho, Smoke Signals, Journals, Signals contributor, Men's F club secretary, Sigma Nu, Sandpeso, Pow-Wow, Westminster Fellowship, Circus clown, Talaria staff editor.

Seniors Rehearse For Baccalaureate Shores Announces

Rehearsal for Baccalaureate will be held Friday June 6 at 8:15 a.m. at the Doak S. Campbell Stadium, according to Venilla Shores, chairman of the graduation committee.

Baccalaureate services will be conducted Friday, June 6 at 8 p.m. at the Doak S. Campbell for degrees will be on Saturday, June 7 at 6 p.m. at the stadium field.

WOMEN CANDIDATES for bachelor degrees will wear white dresses, formal collars, black shoes. Men will wear white dress shirts, white shirts, and black shoes. Women candidates for master's degrees will wear white dresses with long sleeves, no visible collars, black shoes. Men will wear dark trousers and coats, white shirts, and black shoes. Black caps will be worn by all. Baccalaureate services, and colors will be worn by graduates.

Each candidate must have all unpaid fees cleared with the Business office very early in June. Students who have not cleared their accounts will not be permitted to graduate on June 7, according to Venilla Shores. A five dollar diploma fee must be paid to the Business Office by each candidate as soon as possible. Students who interned away from Tallahassee will have credit on their regular fees and should check this with the Student Account's Office.

Mooney to Play At IFC Dance, Free Concert

Art Mooney and his orchestra, who will provide the annual Inter-Fraternity Council dance, Friday and Saturday nights, May 23-24, will also give a free concert at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Opperman Music hall.

This will be climaxed by a beauty contest between representatives of the various fraternities, according to Bob Wodrich, chairman of the concert-beauty contest event.

CONTESTANTS and their fraternities sponsors are DeDee Dimond, Sigma Chi; Betty Ann Gaskill, Delta Tau Delta; Marilyn Lingo, Kappa Alpha; Marion Bennett, Lambda Chi Alpha; Dore Ann Godwin, Pi Kappa Alpha; Nancy Munt, Pi Kappa Phi; Marilyn Walker, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Ernestine Hunt, Alpha Tau Omega; Margaret Thomason, Kappa Sigma; Jane Adkins, Phi Delta Theta; Shirley Harper, Phi Kappa Tau; Bobbi Nelson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Liz Cooke, Sigma Nu and Ann Yates, Theta Chi.

Tickets are now on sale for the IFC dance at the Amber House of Commons, Bob Wodrich said. Sweet Shop. Tickets will be three dollars a couple. The two-night stand has been set up in order to relieve the crowded conditions since the dance was cancelled last December.

IFC IS HOPING to bring its annual dances up to the standard of those of Homecoming and Military Ball, Wodrich said. Students of FSU more top bands and better entertainment."

Art Mooney's orchestra have made records for MGM and play at Roseland in New York, probably best known for his Glenn Miller style arrangements and his novelty tunes.

Tarpon Presents "Moods In Blue" Tomorrow Night

Tarpon Club's Spring synchronized swim show, "Moods in Blue," opens at 8 p.m. tomorrow for a four-night run in the East Campus gymnasium pool. The show will begin at 8 all four nights.

Directing the lead-off number, "Blues in the Night," is Sandra Chance, Minneola are Mary Lynn Brewer, Betty Ann Crowell, Charlotte Hartwell, Jan Eichenger, Viola Simpson, Beverly Bunker, Linda Helms, Mary Ann Council, Nancy Black, and Nancy Wehner.

FOLLOWING under water features are "The Memphis Blues," "Blues in the Night," "Rhapsody in Paris," "The St. Louis Blues," "Blue Tango," "Harlem Nocturne," "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue, and "Rhapsody in Blue."

ELIGIBLE students who passed the last quarter's exam are all Juniors, Seniors and transfer students of that level who have not taken it before and Sophomores with a minimum of 2.0 average.

Sophomores who have doubt about their eligibility may see the registrar's office are asked to check the room assignment list posted on the bulletin board in Dodd Building.

ANY CONFLICTS should be cleared through the Junior English office

Talents Are Pooled For Extravaganza By FSU Musicians

One hundred and eighty-eight persons will participate in the largest School of Music production ever presented on the 22nd anniversary concert of the University Symphony Orchestra.

Three groups will be a part of the program to be presented at 8:15 p.m. and Monday, May 26, at 8:15 p.m. in the Opperman Music hall auditorium, Dr. Ernest Williams, director of the University Singers, directed by Wiley L. Housewright, the Theater Chorus directed by Mrs. Nellie-Bond Dickinson; and the University Symphony Orchestra directed by Robert N. Sedore.

THE PRODUCTION will open with "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" and is performed by Carolyn Lowe and Pat Farrell, pianists, and Marion Mele.

Bob Richardson, Pat Farrell, Buddy Pinkerton and Chuck Beirsborn return to the watery stage in the Tarpon production.

"Harlem Nocturne" features Mary Hope Puller, Pat Vines, Sandra Chance, Mele, Ann Yates, Marinel Morrison, Pat Slater, Marianne Powers, and Pat Comer.

THE DUET of this Tarpon show is "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" and is performed by Carolyn Lowe and Pat Farrell, pianists.

"Rhapsody in Blue" winds up the "Moods in Blue" show. Tarpon Clubbers in the finale are Ardis Bourland, Pat Hubert, Marion Mele, Pat Slater, Marinel Morrison, Pat Slater, Marianne Powers, and Pat Comer.

Nominations Are Approved For UGA Cabinet Positions

President Summers Gives Nominations At First Meet of New Student Senate

The entire slate of seven selected cabinet members by new President of the University Government association, Mary Ruth Summers, was approved by the new Senate in its first meeting last Friday. The meeting was called by Vice-President in charge of Legislative Affairs, Milton Carothers.

The new cabinet members are Tom Simmons, Attorney-General; Bob Dozier, Secretary of Interpretations; JoNell Proctor, Secretary of organizations; Bill Skipper, Secretary of Publicity; Gordon Bavaar, Secretary of recreation, Jan Abrahamson, Secretary of finance, and Julia McMillan, Honor committee.

THE COMPOSITION, appointment and duties of the president's cabinet has been set up according to the new constitutional setup with the branch of this U. G. A. and as passed by the student body.

SECTION FOUR of the amendment authorized the President to appoint, with the consent of the Vice-Presidents, with the concurrence of a majority of the University Senate, all cabinet members, the rundersecretaries and standing committees. They must be chosen at least a 1.2 average, and no elected officials may hold a cabinet position simultaneously.

"An attorney-general who shall be the legal advisor to the President of the University Government association and shall hand down decisions on the legality of any member of the Student Body who requests them.

A SECRETARY OF ELECTIONS, who shall supervise the elections of the University Government association.

A Secretary of Finance, who shall co-ordinate the work of the activity fee committee, shall audit all books and recommendations concerning proposed new student organizations on the campus, shall evaluate and recommend changes necessary for the successful and proper functioning of student organizations.

A SECRETARY OF RECREATION Affairs, who shall promote social standards, assist in the calendaring of all activities bring semester a calendar of events for the following year and in general promote the social and recreational life of the Student Body and promote a functional intramural body support and participation in University athletics and recreational activities.

A Forum Chairman who shall arrange and preside over all forums conducted by the University Government association and shall serve as information officer to the University Government association.

A CHAIRMAN of Honor Committee, who shall serve as an understanding of the Honor Code and make recommendations for changes when such shall seem necessary and desirable."

Eligible Students Must Take Final Jr. English Exam

The final Junior English examination of the year will be held Thursday, May 22, from 8 until 6:30 p.m. All eligible students who fail to take the test must pay a fine of five dollars before their next registration.

Room assignments are now posted on the History building bulletin board. All students posted delinquent must present their fee receipts at the door Thursday.

ELIGIBLE STUDENTS who do not take the exam are all Juniors, Seniors and transfer students of that level who have not taken it before and Sophomores with a minimum of 2.0 average.

Sophomores who have doubt about their eligibility may see the registrar's office are asked to check the room assignment list posted on the bulletin board in Dodd Building.

ANY CONFLICTS should be cleared through the Junior English office

Seniors To Choose New Prexy, Scribe In Meeting Tonight

A permanent Senior class president and secretary will be elected at a Senior Class meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Westcott auditorium. "The meeting will be extremely important," says Jackie Kessler, Senior class president. "All graduating seniors should make a special effort to attend." Plans for graduation will also be discussed, and voting for the Best All Around Senior Boy and Girl, sponsored by Smoke Signals will be extended to the Senior class meeting. A discussion of projects on which to spend class money will also take place. Results will probably be a compilation of the funds for the class of '52-'53-'54-'55.

A vote will be held on ordering Class Rings and Graduation Announcements, which will be held Saturday night, June 7.

Mortar Board, ODK Leadership Meeting Scores Success

Despite a rainy week-end, the Second Annual Leadership Training Conference turned out to be the best yet held at FSU.

Some 60 to 100 old and new members, officers, alumni, faculty and staff members reinstated from the Leon Sinkey's afternoon swim at Camp Flastocowo and then settled down to the business and pleasure at hand.

The group was welcomed by Will Pennell, former president of UGA, who then introduced Dr. Doak S. Campbell, President of FSU. Dr. Campbell briefly recited past accomplishments of the conferences, praised the organizations for participation in the wide scope of the conference's functions and urged the groups to use its attempts to better the organizations on FSU's campus. Dr. Campbell then introduced Mary Ruth Summers, newly elected President of UGA, who also gave a short welcoming speech.

The conference split up at 3:45 into Division of Interest Groups with lesslative, judicial and executive, public relations on campus and organizational and campus heading the three categories. Three groups met for two hours sessions and events that came up last year and attempted to formulate improvements that could be made for next year's operation.

Dinner in the Union Ballroom at 6:30 Presidents and presiding officers, vice-presidents and managers, secretaries, treasurers, social chairmen, cabinet secretaries and members, rundersecretaries, house presidents and governors and faculty advisors met to discuss their problems that came up last year in their particular organization and what improvements could be made.

Baccalaureate services will be conducted Friday, June 6 at 8 p.m. at the Doak S. Campbell Stadium, according to Venilla Shores, chairman of the graduation committee.

Baccalaureate services will be conducted Friday, June 6 at 8 p.m. at the Doak S. Campbell for degrees will be on Saturday, June 7 at 6 p.m. at the stadium field.

WOMEN CANDIDATES for bachelor degrees will wear white dresses, formal collars, black shoes. Men will wear white dress shirts, white shirts, and black shoes. Women candidates for master's degrees will wear white dresses with long sleeves, no visible collars, black shoes. Men will wear dark trousers and coats, white shirts, and black shoes. Black caps will be worn by all. Baccalaureate services, and colors will be worn by graduates.

Each candidate must have all unpaid fees cleared with the Business office very early in June. Students who have not cleared their accounts will not be permitted to graduate on June 7, according to Venilla Shores. A five dollar diploma fee must be paid to the Business Office by each candidate as soon as possible. Students who interned away from Tallahassee will have credit on their regular fees and should check this with the Student Account's Office.

Commerce Frat Installation Held

Mr. McDonald and W. A. Bill Jones, will be installed as president and vice-president, respectively, to the Beta Psi chapter of Kappa Psi, commerce fraternity, tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the classroom of the Longmire building.

McDonald was elected to fill the vacancy left by President-elect Gene Newsome, who will graduate in FSU in September with the co-president's office, announced by McDonald.

OTHER OFFICERS of Alpha Beta Psi are Bill Skipper, treasurer, Theasurer; Bill Moore as Master of Rituals Frank Kerr, Also on schedule for tonight is the awarding of the Alpha Psi Pin Scholarship Key and Award, which will be presented to Dr. J. Frank Dame, Dean of the School of Business. Another senior student in the School f Business who has the highest scholastic average for all work at FSU Membership in Kappa Kappa Psi is required for winning the award.

CEREMONIES will also be held for the initiation of pledges, who will join the ranks of Alpha Kappa Psi alumni in June. Aspirants are Allen, Stanley Broome, Henry Chambless, Odd E. Ellison, Thomas E. Faircloth, Arthur Green, Darrell M. Holland, W. Earl Jackson Pa W. Kay, Enoch G. Kelly, Billy F. Ketchum, Robert Jones, Thomas E. Newberry, Ralph D. Norton, Robert J. Price, Bobby Snider and James B. Williams.

Museum Curator Gives Art Lecture

The art of the Antilles, between the dates 800 A.D and 1400 A.D. will be discussed tomorrow in the University Museum by Lothar Witteborn, Museum curator.

Witteborn, whose illustrated lecture will be entitled "Art of the Antilles," will discuss the art styles of the Caribbean Islands, aboriginal Florida and Northern Mexico and America, when back 1,000 years ago the Indians, natives of those areas, had a complex political structure and centralization, and who made pottery, stone carving, basketry and worked gold. These Indians, explains Witteborn, had expert artisans who served as overseers of the vast plantation systems where they raised a variety of vegetables.

Reprinted Editorial Wins 'Best' Award

The editorial which the Flambeau reprinted from the St. Petersburg Times concerning the Bradley University football game cancellation has been awarded the best editorial in Florida for the year 1951-1952.

The Flambeau received severe criticism from administration officials for reprinting the editorial. The announcement was made in the March 29 issue of the national magazine for Newspapers.

Lowdown Revealed By Frat Housemom

Editor's Note. The following story was written by an FSU fraternity house mother who prefers to remain anonymous.

Did you ever turn out your light, climb into bed, settle yourself for a good night's rest when suddenly in the stillness you hear a noise, wonder what is happing, very rhythmic?

All sorts of thoughts flit through your mind. Is it some one tunneling under your house a la Connie Mack Stadium? Is it a spy sending through the partitions? As a matter of fact, the thing is far more familiar. Let me investigate —so you pull the covers over your head and shudder in disgust. Then you discover that a tennis ball bouncing from floor to floor is the culprit, who has disturbed your tappins of the night before.

Were you ever awakened from your slumber at 2:30 in the morning by an avalanche of music (at least that's what I am told it is) and the stamping of feet, which sound as if a troop of performing elephants were approaching? That was a Charleston lesson, Jack Haskin and Paul Jones, Russell, with make-up by Dorothy Silver and Charles Burkhart, Lintnine will be by Charles Reimer, Rose Biancarosa, and Dee Pinkerton; properties by Dave Prohlinham, Mary Ann Batchelor, and Doris Parish.

Schmidt Is Editor

Stan Schmidt, writer of the column "Campus Characters," is serving in the position of Extra-in-Chief for today's issue of the Flambeau.

Schmidt who will take over the editorship during the summer months, is familiar this week's "stint" while Bill Dunn is away.

Have you ever entered a room and found the air heavy emanating which sounded as if the ceiling were about to fall, to have a sudden silence descend like a pall? You want to back out with most apologies and yet you had a legitimate reason for entering.

During a "social hour" party, a girl in her commotion to you and whisper, "The zipper on my blue jeans is broken. You are happy to oblige. There are buttons to sew on, safety pins to be produced, hooks and eyelets to loan and endless variety of services which are happy to provide and which make you feel needed.

There and may other minutes arise when you are a "housemother." Some are humorous, some confusing, some embarrassing and yet those of us who have chosen this field of work for reason or job?—are very much aware of the compensations, other than financial, which this type of position is. It's so rewarding?

In spite of the heart aching and the predictions of some elders, the college men today are a fine, understanding generation of past generations. They are faced with the complex and complicating theories of a disturbed world, the emotional disturbances of our present day and yet they work and study with the same earnestness and abandon as they did in their parents' days. In our fraternity dorms, drive hot rods at break neck speed, and all stuff but yet those same boys will sit on Student Senates, compete in athletics, and be called friend by people, serve their country in one of the armed services, come back and carry on democracy's processes.

Gold Key Meets

Gold Key Meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 p. m. in Room 403, Longmire building.

ONK Holds Meeting

Omicron Delta Kappa will hold its weekly meeting tomorrow night at 8 in the Fourth Floor Lounge in the Union.

Griffin Decries Mediocrity In Farewell to Flambeau

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.
Former Flambeau Editor

It is my pleasure and privilege to write this final editorial for the Flambeau and to express my sincere thanks to my many co-workers.

The Flambeau this year has indeed been lucky in having an efficient and hard working senior staff. Hazel Morrison, Joan Etheridge, Barbara Penny, Frances Cawthon, Bruce Galphin, and Tommy Sands, my small and ambitious crew, spent many valuable benefitted directly from her excellent news paper.

In retrospect, I want to especially thank Hazel Morrison, one of the most dependable persons I know. She has proven her ability as an able reporter and the Flambeau benefitted directly from her excellent news values and presentation.

The Flambeau was fortunate in having the talents of so many reliable junior staff members. Our advisor, Dr. Kellogg Hunt was always available for constructive advice and assistance to solve the many problems.

I also must state my personal thanks to the Democrat printers, who taught us the practical application of deadlines and who did a million small favors for the paper. I appreciate it.

To Bill Dunn, who has a heavy responsibility to the students, university, and himself. I appreciate the use of this space for a bit of reflection.

A remarkable change has taken place on this campus. Ideas different from your own, or just discussion of any phase of college life is condemned, criticized, and generally deplored.

This generation is called the "Silent Generation" by Time magazine. It seems college students, facing the stark realism of the dawn of a new World War, have chocked up and swallowed any expression of their beliefs.

The Flambeau met strong criticism and articles were termed "trash" that discussed any phase of college life, from the UMT question, to condemnation of "our" disease —student apathy.

The Flambeau aggravated the students when it continued these discussions. Little intellectual steam was generated because most students did not have the mental fuel. The blow-offs were mainly emotional.

The point, I believe, is not that the students do not display progress or any editorial requiring thought — it is just that they love inertia. principally intellectual inertia. To many students, a grain of thought is an irritation to their pattern of living.

An editor has to grit his teeth. He must not become cynical. Yet, he must be careful not to sink to the distasteful level of mediocrity because of criticism. One campus publication, under censure, tried to become an "average" magazine.

The Flambeau must never become "average." It must always strive for the highest goals, to be the "best" newspaper, to be "above-average" in its achievement.

One final warning: liberal thought and desire for expression on this campus is dangerous. However, limited right of expression has been the usual privilege. There are those groups and students of the Administration members alike, who would destroy this right. They are part, it seems, of a national trend to destroy and squelch opposite views.

The campus newspaper has two purposes. One, to report all news truthfully and sincerely. The second, is to express your thoughts and interpretations of any and all issues.

The first is the body of a newspaper—build it of the best material you find. The second is the mind—keep it active and sharp. Always keep both free and honest.

Shakespeare says that what is past is but prologue. I hope Bill Dunn will continue to "irritate" students into thinking, to champion zealously what he believes is right.

Best of luck to Bill and the new staff.

OFF THE CUFF

CAN ODHAM PULL STORY-BOOK FINISH?

By BRUCE GALPHIN

Most of Florida's political "big wheels" are agreed that Dan McCarty will be the next governor of Florida.

McCarty is dead set in the first primary indicates his immense popularity with the electorate. His well oiled political machinery has, in effect, been running for some five years. He knows the right people throughout the state to assure votes in crucial areas.

By far the most interesting aspect of the gubernatorial race, however, has been the campaign of young Bailey Odham.

Odham has invested into the picture such enthusiasm, confidence and such color as to make the other candidates look ghastly pale by comparison.

The greatest badinap in Odham's campaign has turned into his greatest asset. The radio talkathon, which was designed to scrounge Odham's back of money, has skyrocketed him from obscurity and at the same time set what is likely to be a new pattern in politicking.

Not just anyone could stage a talkathon. Bailey Odham's vitality admirably suits him for a gruelling 25-hour question and answer period many a politician would find the ordeal a trifle.

Activity seems to have been the keynote of Odham's life. He had been a 20-year-old freshman representative in the state legislature only to be born in announced that an attempt had been made to bribe him.

By the end of the legislative session the Florida press had named him as one of the three outstanding members of the state legislature.

When Odham became the first official gubernatorial candidate in the last year, his platform, consisted with his record as a foe of corruption, was good, but his publicity was almost non-existent.

Among the things he promised to do if elected were "to rid the commercialized gambling racketeers, lest and filthy religious, by state and local government;" to use his constitutional power to suspend from office any law enforcement official for "failing in his duty to faithfully execute the laws of our state," to prohibit the ownership of more than one race horse by any person, to limit a man, to allow the state legislature to call itself into session without a summons from the governor, to permit the recall of public officials and to affiliate gambling penalties.

As to publicity, the situation looked bad. No money, no advertising.

It was then that the idea of the talkathon was conceived. Not only did the idea bring publicity but it also campaign funds.

As Odham continued his verbal campaign, Bailey Odham's staff really began to pour in. Each broadcast helped finance the next.

For as long as 25 hours at a time Bailey explained his program, his religious beliefs, dubbed his rivals "the Gold Dust Twins," and gleefully revealed how little these politicians were ant to stop him.

Bailey's slogan is that he "cannot be bought, bossed or bluffed."

There have been cases in the past when runners-up in the first primary became governors, but never has a newcomer come from a lead

But if Odham to win would be a story-book finish to a story-book campaign.

Dear Editor...

Scanty Raids

Dear Editor;

I have not been much encouraged in the past few weeks by the rash of raids for the procurement and possession of the dainty drawers of curvaceous coeds.

Seems to me that this is indeed a complicated business and something which has been sadly lacking in a post-war generation characterized by some educators in the East as a "silent generation." They have been further described as young people with no great loves, no great hates, no great passions or ambitions; people desirous not of changing worlds but of getting a white-collar job (with a good pension plans) which offers security.

I suppose that this level-headedness is a sign of maturity, but to me it is heartbreaking to see young people so sadly sane and sensible.

When the cheating scandal broke at the University of Florida, I was ready to agree with the Yale professor who opined that there was a paucity of student spirit. It was not the cheating itself that brought me to this conclusion, for I suspect every generation has done its share of cribbing. It was the reaction of the some offshoot involved. They allowed that they were cheating so they in college and thus dodge the draft. This is crummy, it's tough, it stinks! It is not quite apathetic, it is a bright purple yellow.

But now I see signs of spirit and downright rebelliousness in these youngsters that I believed to be such docile creatures of society. They're acting American teenagers.

For all that the subcommunist sin-squelchers condemn such things as scanty raids, I love these hell-raisers. There's hope for the country yet. God bless you lads—well done!

Respectfully,
JOHN E. McCAREY

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

'RELAXATION' CLASSES OLD STUFF TO FRAN

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Not too long ago I saw a sign announcing relaxation classes in the women's gym on Monday nights. The poster urged everyone to come on over and "learn how to relax."

Ever since then I have longed to learn how to relax and forget tenseness and be carefree as ever and learn how to just fall apart at the seams and enjoy it. But so far this one hasn't been in the cards for me. Every time I start to head me in the direction of the gym on Monday nights, I get only two feet before three-fourths of my classmates are seen on the other fourth disappearing in great rapidity.

Perhaps this does not make sense. I have gotten down my biology Bla book, looked into my secret source, and come up with the answer.

Long, long ago one summer day, my pal and f. who did not have the originality to think of how to relax any other way attended a "relaxation class," which was part of a dance school in another state.

The class, composed of girls dressed like sacks of meal and one was led by a kindly lady, who I think had once been the Women-etc.'s Lightweight Champion of 1940.

My girl friend and I took our places in the rows and then Madame Bierges told us all to tighten every muscle we had. We stood there for thirty minutes, my friend and I alternately turning green and red as our leader yelled "STRAIN! . . . one, two, three . . . relax-s. STRAIN! . . . one, two, three re-lax-s . . ."

From there we went on to some kind of Judo which she must have picked up on her tourist Japan to defend her life. We rolled around on some lumpy mats for a few minutes, standing on our heads, doing backbends and a few other tricks that have not been copyrighted yet.

Next we were all ordered to lie down on the mats, face down, which was not hard because by them I was there anyway. We each had a partner and took turns seeing who could twist the other's leg off the quickest by bending it over the back and wrapping it around the neck

From there we made a line and started rolling over and over on the mats. While "leading" was the object of this way you relax and loosen the muscles in your neck." I was leading with noisy thuds on my neck and finishing with a headache. "But she was right. I was "loosening" the muscles in my neck, my eyeballs. In fact it took them two months to get back where they could support the weight of a head again.

I left the relaxation class in the most unrelaxed state I have ever been in my life. even though all this was supposed to work off tenseness and soothe the muscles. Being in a condition where you breathe all about 3 times a minute for three days, however, is bound to create some kind of mental block.

I am not saying the FSU relaxation classes would not be any good: don't even know how they'd be as I've never been one, but this kid is relaxing in an easy chair where the only exercise he has to perform is lifting a Coke bottle.

Chemistry Department Boasts Four Grad Co-ed Scientists

Ever since Marie Curie proved women's worth in the scientific world by her discovery of radium and more and more capable women have become scientists.

Four smart young graduate coeds in the chemistry department at Florida State University are doing their part toward continuing the traditional theory that the field of science is a "man's world."

PEGGY DOYLE Doyle Dunn will continue to "irritate" students into thinking, to champion zealously what he believes is right.

ONE OF THE "quartet" is a 1951 FSU graduate, Barbara Nash, who is looking forward to her master's degree in biochemistry. Miss Nash is a member of Phi Sigma Biology Barbara teaches lab classes in that subject. Barbara's research interest is in the scarlet fever toxin.

Coming to FSU for post doctorate work in the field of reaction kinetics is Dr. Marilyn Adler, who is the only woman to receive a PhD degree from the University of Illinois.

MARILYN, as everyone calls her, has a post doctorate fellowship as a research chemist. Her work involves a study of the physical chemical properties of certain chemical reactions. The young chemists worked with the Atomic Energy Commission at the

Collegians Show Versatility In Selection of Program

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Just a layman's view of some singins.

The curtain opened Friday night on the Collegians in concert, when the menu glee club, clad in attractive shirts shaded with the garnet of the Seminole panama what in this one's opinion is perhaps one of the outstanding college songs, "Hymn to the Garnet and the Gold."

Director of the group was J. Dayton Smith, the guy with the enthusiastic personality. Nancy Hill served as accompanist.

THE FSU SONG was followed by a trio of the sophisticated mezzo-soprano Virginia Jennings with an excellent voice to match her beauty, rendering the number, "Ave Maria" with the background of the Collegians humming "Ave Jeremiah." an original score by Florida State student John Fisher, who's given his composition a real French as soloist. The strange, mystical music was a perfect accross between the medieval church music and the modern discordant strains has been arranged by the School of Music Professor John Bode. The talented composer, who was in the audience, was introduced by Director Smith.

The second part of the program was Philip James' musical interpretation of Vachel Lindsay's poem, "General William Booth Enters into Heaven." This moving tribute to the Salvation Army air by accompaniment of tambourines by Pat Johnson and Jerry Cox and the trumpet played by Kurene Crabb on cornopone by Jerry Cox and Cramer. The piano accompaniment on this piece was exceptionally good. due to Nancy Hill and Jerry Cox, both who will probably really go places in the world of keyboards.

AFTER INTERMISSION, the Collegians beran on the lighter side of the music and it was here where the group spirit that has always characterized the Collegians came out. The second section of the program there seemed to be better blending of parts, as well as more feeling for the music.

The Collegians sang "Silent Strings," showing a good weaving of parts; "After Dark," into which Director Smith has arranged where some good bass was heard, and "You'll Never Know the Good Folks I've Been" dedicated by J. Dayton to himself.

THE GROUP was led in "Madness" by Jerry Cox and Bill Smith III, student conductor. In this number Jerry Cox showed off the sad story of a Frenchwoman and her lover killed in the war with a trumpet solo by Jerry.

The men's glee club's version of why study from "Sophomore Jubilee" was the great applause and laughter from the audience.

THE COLLEGIANS again rejoined with the group to sing "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child" which has been arranged by Parker LaBach. But the soprano solo by Jerry Cox was the outstanding "public relations" in the singing of "The Man I Love" from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" which I'm not thu. Miss French leaned against the piano, smiled at the audience and showed more interest toward them and what she was singing. If any performer knows her public like this in all of her songs, the audience's voice will take on an added value.

Other songs on the program, which was enjoyed by a large audience to enjoy singing were "Black-Eyed Susie," "He's Gone Away" and "Swanee River Rock."

AFTER THE program J. Dayton Smith made an "unscheduled" announcement in recognition of former Flambeau editor, Bob Griffin and old veteran of the Collegians with eight concerts to his credit

The encore of the evening was not the Collegians' trademark "Take Your Finger Out of Your Mouth." Instead a spiritual, "Animals A' Comin'" ended the program with the audience joining in the chorus and downright good entertainment.

Campbell to Serve As Visiting Prof. At Carolina School

Dr. Laurence F. Campbell, dean of the School of Journalism, will serve as consultant and visiting professor during a summer journalism workshop at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, July 21.

The course which Dr. Campbell will teach will cover the fundamentals of journalism with special attention given to supervisory problems of student publications

Dr. Campbell, a former high school journalism teacher and publications advisor, has served in leadership capacities in schools of journalism in Arizona, Oregon, Pennsylvania and Florida.

He is also co-author of textbooks entitled, "Exploring Journalism," "Newsmen at Work," "News Reporting" and "A Guide to Radio-TV Writing." Campbell is now on the editorial staffs of several national school press publications.

Accounting Exam Held Here Last Week

The semi-annual examination for the certified public accounting for those seeking to become certified public accountants was held at Florida State University last week

The examinations were conducted by George W Dandelake, Jacksonville board executive secretary. Some 21 persons from FSU took the test

The examination papers have been forwarded to the American Institute of Accounting in New York for grading from which they will be returned to the Florida board.

Campus Character

By STAN SCHMIDT

In answer to many letters of vilification I visited my friend Dr. Hunt, who is reputed to be the most malevolent professor on the campus. I asked him why all the students had so many complaints about the food in the cafeteria. He replied that he really straightened me out. He probably thought I was a member of the Communist party and found all my difficulties to be the result of an unfortunate childhood experience with an oversexed water buffalo. The cure-simple: a mixture of cod liver oil, Mazola oil, Mazola Juice and vanilla extract. . . .

Looks like somebody yelled "student apathy" once too often and the cords all over the Nation are paying with their Lucky Strikes. . . . Hear tell Dean Warren wasn't waiting to see one of the "chosen few" before he came to just leave all those vats of a delicious, delectable, delightful substance. . . .

Tip to scanty raiders . . . Concern yourself only with those which are occupied . . . , as any fool can plainly see. . . .

* * *

Have much confidence in the sincerity of one Mr. Gary Stokes and so keep wondering about his confidence in the "objectivity" of the proposed Board of Publications he has made his personal "Holy War." Editors can be meanineless at times—but they rarely have an administration axe to grind. . . .

Who is the gal who has the "hots" for young, freshman Senator Phil Springer???

Perhaps by the summer way to prove you don't deserve authority is to let it go to your head. . . .

Have you checked "Peerless" on his new motorscooter?

Visitor From India

"I like the lay-out of FSU," said Isaac Phillips, of Agra, India, "the students hereare very friendly, and the buildings so compact," Phillips is a Master of Arts degree in economics, studied this year at Emory University for a master's degree in sociology which he will receive in August. He is the leader of a student group from Florida State University met him at a Youth Conference at Lake Junaluska. He remisted that he come and visit FSU.

Phillips is a Methodist and takes in all the week-end programs at the Wesley Foundation. He told of his life as a young man in India, of his views on Democracy and the United States.

He comes from the old Indian family. "Singh." However his grandfather, Dr. Lenox Maker, converted to Christianity by a Presbyterian minister. adopted the name of the clergyman. His full name was Phillips. This has caused much embarrassment among Americans.

MOVIE REVIEW

Les Miserables Ends; The Wild North Begins

By JUNE MORGAN

Celebrating the 100th anniversary of Victor Hugo's birth and the 90th anniversary of his famous novel, Les Miserables, Florida State theatre presents the Italian film version of that great work.

The Italian version of the novel is interesting in itself because it differs so greatly from the American. The English has been dubbed into the film sequence but the overall effects are the same. Fredric March of Broadway with Gene Kelly in Fabiola, has the role of Jean Valjean the reformed convict who is hunted and persecuted for a life because of a minor crime.

After undergoing a metamorphosis and under the influence of Bishop Bean becomes a rich and important man and is loved by the entire town, but his past dogs his life until he dies.

The story and effects create an unusual film well worth seeing

Lis Taylor, young sophisticate and daughter of Elizabeth, makes her dancing debut in a film which is being made here. Love Is Better Than Ever, the picture in the Florida State theatre this week. Appearing as the naive little dancing teacher Anastacia Mackey. Liz, on a convention trip to New York meets but time again Jud Parker, played by Lacy Marks.

The folks back home mistake the stars friendship for love and in order to save the girl's reputation she asks Jud to pose as her fiance. This leads to complications and has a hard time convincing Jud that romance should not be a reality.

The picture was directed by Stanley Donen, a veteran of Broadway with Gene Kelly in Pal Joey and On the Town. He has Out to the Sea and On the Town, and Royal Wedding in his directorial credits.

* * *

Stewart Granger and Wendell Corey are starred in the new picture to use the new Cinemascope process, The Wild North, which comes to the State Theatre on Sunday, May 21.

A Canadian trapper friendly with a half-breed girl and tangles with a bully. In self-defense he kills the bully and flees with the trapper heads North where he is pursued by the police. Suspense and adventure, a prisoner and mountie's daughter and civilization.

Dorm Raids Silly

By DAVID DREIS

With the exception of a few the country spirits and raiding women's dormitories, the question of panty raids is of little interest to students. "What do you think of the recent college uprisings which have been going on over the country?" The answers are as follows:

JAKE WATKINS, junior, simply replied, "It's not a childish prank which shouldn't be done in college campus."

TIM DAVIS, sophomore, commented. "The stealing is wrong, but as far as the rest of it goes, I wouldn't say anything."

LUCINDA CARSON, senior, thought it was "childish and silly" for college men to be men—instead of "little boys with nothing to do."

GRACEN SMITH freshman said, "I don't see any sense in stealing panties and tearing up property. if you're talking about the Florida incident," Graceh has been didn't state his opinion of other colleges.

MAC McCALL thought it showed undue among students and was not to be encouraged. "If it continued, "breaking into the

BETTY BALDY, freshman, answered, "I don't think it's right to like women to raid your dormitory and steal, "I think it's funny, but damaging."

JUNE GRENEF, freshman, said, "I don't see any sense in stealing panties and tearing up property. if you're talking about the Florida incident." Graceh has been didn't state his opinion of other colleges.

Rumors of a raid on the campus have been going around since it was doubled, and with the coming of warm weather, it seems to remain anonymous, said, I wish they'd hurry up and get it over with so I can sleep without a blanket."

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Bill Dunn—Editor

Babs Henry — Managing Editor
Frances Cawthon — News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Bruce Galphin, Marcia Morris
Sports Editor ..... Jim Bell
Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor ..... June Mitchell
Rewrite Editor ..... John Haracopo
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce

BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Harris
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Fe Pittman, Lou Calderon, Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-291 ext. 481 second class matter at the Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University. Entered nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

The Sports Line

By JIM EADY

...administration has put the damper on any plans ...ing money for John Poston. A few ambitious ones ...imbued with school spirit, had plans to solicit ...ing the students to send Poston to the National ...ri California. For this venture, about $350 is needed ...of expenses for the trip and this is refunded if he ...among the first six.

...ation would not be so of course, was made possible by ...e administration could track coach Ken Miller who made ...to furnish the neces- sure that a portion of the small ...mmodities. But they track funds would be used for this ...would be a different purpose.

...ere was strong doubt ...as the ability. But, The intramural program, the ...Jacksonville speedster dorm section anyway, has its ills. ...a 9.6 time in the 100- In their softball and volleyball ...dash this can't be the competition the biggest majority ...just that the budget of the campus enjoys. And they didn't even play out the ...any allowances to and ...serving athlete. football season.

...se, the budget did make The only way these forties can ...grants for gymnasts and vol- be explained is to use the Flam- ...that cost much more beau's favorite expression . . . ...the few hundreds in quo- 'apathy'. There just is not enough ...that there is anything interest among the dorms and the ...with the above mentioned independents. If things are any ...but Poston would certainly worse the name will be changed ...to make as good or better from "intramural" to 'Fraternities' ...of himself as the volley- since they are the only organiza- ...gymnasts. tions displaying any concern.

...though the administration Maybe next year, when all the ...high hats to be involved in men will be residing on the East ...Poston win a little fame, campus in the new dorm, the in- ...a sporty safe wager that the dependents will come to life again. ...can be raised. There are And maybe then there will be ...ge people in Tallahassee—the something that would strengthen ...ckneck club for instance — the whole intramural program- ...are more concerned about competition between frats and in- ...Poston's success—FSU should dependents.

...ve it—ever-wise and pro- But, the way the situation is ...ve readers. now, the fraternities will go ...Lower Tallahasseeans will marching on while the dorms and ...have any concern by raising independents go marching . . . ...ident backward.

...s difficult to be particular ...s where the money comes ...s a shame that ...ously, not connected with ...ss to take care of a duty ...should be performed by ...ganization.

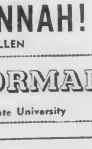
...ough the school won't back ...ey Poston could have ...ave provided for funds to ...Poston to the NAIB in Abi- ...Kansas, June 6 and 7. The ...ton will provide half the ex- ...ining while the NAIB will take ...re of the other half. This trip

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

CONGRATULATIONS TO BUDDY ALLEN
ON WINNING F.S.U. MR. FORMAL CONTEST

The Dinner Jacket he wore was from Turner's

For the Best Fit in the Finest Tux in America
—Stop by Today for Your Try-On
• Remember the IFC Dance Is This Weekend



Remember STAIN-SHY is Exclusive with AFTER-SIX Formals
Jacket $24.95—Trousers $12.95

Turner's

THE WINNAH!
BUDDY ALLEN
Florida State University
AT
MR. FORMAL

HERE'S THE JUDGES' CHOICE, and a right handsome one it is! But of the truth were to get out, every ladidie back who skipped into an "After Six" white formal coat during "Tryouts" had the smooth appearance, the natural confident look to be a winner at every dinner formal occasion.

Congratulations to the winner and a sincere "thank you" to all who entered the contest!

Team Ends Best Season In FSU History With Victory

Beat Stetson, 4-2 for Season Record of 17 Wins, 4 Defeats;

The Florida State baseball team finished the 1952 season with a record of 17 wins and 4 defeats Friday as they defeated the Stetson Hatters 4 to 2. Another contest between the same two teams was scheduled for Saturday night but it was postponed because of wet grounds.

The Seminoles now have established a new won-lost percentage mark—besides setting the record for number of wins in a season. This year's record eclipses the previous mark of 13-8, set last spring under Coach Charley Armstrong.

Winning Friday's tilt was Ed Sessions who gave the Hatters five hits. The win is Session's sixth of the season against one defeat and clears him in a tie with Ed Lockard for leading pitcher honors. Both have a 6-1 record.

FSU SCORE

The Seminoles scored their four runs in the seventh inning — the first coming when Jim Wernke walked with the bases loaded, forcing in Wayne Bennett. Run number two followed as Ralph Blinn, who accounted for four of the three State hits, scored with a hard slide on Session's short fly to center. The two other markers were chalked up on a two-base error by the Hatter's shortstop. Bill Johnson. Johnson fielded Cootie Mills' grounder but then threw wild to first, permitting the two runners to score. Although four runs in the fifth were considered, the State nine made only one hit.

Sloss

The pair of Stetson runs were collected in the eighth frame when catcher Lou Parr hit a home run over the left field fence Scoring ahead of him was the pitcher John Imgrun, who had singled past third. Up to the eighth, Sessions had only allowed two hits.

Although the Seminoles were outhit by the Hatters, five to three they were aided by the Stetson errors and had play afield in the eighth frame. Two of Stetson's five safeties were accounted for by Lou Parr who made Rollins last week set four hits.

By beating Stetson, Friday, State won two of the three contests with Stetson this year. Earlier this season, the two clubs split a two-game series in Deland, State winning the first 11 to 10, and Stetson taking the second, 7-4.

In the competition against five state schools, the Seminoles lost three while winning 11. The three defeats were by Stetson, Rollins and Tampa, Tampa being the only team this year to shutout FSU. The other loss was administered by Georgia, 8-3.

WINS final game for FSU on five hitter. He won six and lost one this year.

Only the University of Florida with 13 victories has a better record than the Seminoles in the state. Florida won the Southeastern Conference baseball title.

1952 BASEBALL RESULTS

FSU	21. Kenyon College	1
FSU	3. Kenyon College	2
FSU	3. Georgia	8
FSU	8. Georgia	7
FSU	4. Amherst College	2
FSU	1. Loyola	0
FSU	7. Florida	3
FSU	3. Miami	2
FSU	7. Miami	6
FSU	2. Stetson	1
FSU	11. Stetson	10
FSU	7. Tampa	4
FSU	0. Tampa	4
FSU	18. Tampa	11
FSU	13. Tampa	3
FSU	9. Florida Southern	3
FSU	5. Florida Southern	4
FSU	22. Florida Southern	11
FSU	2. Rollins	1
FSU	4. Stetson	2

Women's Sports

BY BARBARA COLLINS AS NORTH ALWAYS AND EAD INNING!

Those black-horse ODDS are finding the EVENS tough competition The ODDS in the past years just could never get to first base while playing softball opposite the EVENS In the four practice games between these two teams they have each won two games This is outstanding as an ODD team has usually never beaten the EVENS in any softball before.

This year I believe it's a different story Betty Holland, leader, has worked the girls very hard and has made a good looking ball team on the field. The final team were chosen and the ODDS will be: Cobb, McWilliams, p; Collinsworth, Holland, c; Presnell, Webb, 1b; Young, 2b; Pulley, 3b; Chapman, Haynes, ss; Ashmore, Guard, Mazingo, Bennett, cf.

Friday in the last practice game the EVENS whipped the ODDS 9 to 8 score. Highlights of the game were ODD pitcher Cobb hits from the bat of second baseman Young and pitcher Rina Cobb Time permitted only seven innings and the ODDS took to the field first Cobb, ODD pitcher, faced four men in the first inning, giving up one walk.

The ODDS took an early two-run lead as Pulley walked and Young homered for a free trip around the bases Two batters later Haynes grounded out to pitcher Herndon.

The ODDS blew a fuse as eight EVEN men were allowed to cross the plate. Cobb was having a hard time finding the corners and walked four men. Four errors were also committed to help the EVENS with their unearned runs.

The ODDS came back in the final inning to score four runs as Chapman walked. Pulley was safe on an error, Haynes singled to load the bases and Cobb homered for four RBI's. Collinsworth, sinister and the innin closed as Maynard grounded out, shortstop to first.

The first series game will be played on Saturday on the women's softball field at 2:30

New FTA Officers Installed Thursday

Newly elected officers of the Future Teachers of America association will be installed Thursday, May 22 at 6p m. in the Lonsmire lounge The officers were elected two weeks ago by mail ballot.

President will be Margaret Ann Nash; John Rooney, vice-president; Dane McMillan, secretary; Charles McDaniels, treasurer, and Sara Whitehead, historian.

ED SESSIONS

87 Letters To Be Given In Eight Sports

87 letters will be awarded for eight sports. It was announced Saturday by Athletic Director Howard Danford. The awards have been approved by the Florida State Department of Physical Education.

The eight sports are track, volley ball, basketball, baseball, golf, swimming, tennis and gymnastics. The sport receiving the most letters is gymnastics with 20 athletes getting awards followed by swimming and baseball with 18. This number includes 12 managers.

Besides the "F" is to be awarded for the varsity sports, 16 freshmen numerals will also be awarded. All are for spring sports except basketball.

The football letters were given in the fall.

Those receiving awards:

TRACK

Jerry Sherrard, Walter Grage, Baker Kelly, Richard Kinnett, Richard Allen, Elwood Parker, John Purdon, Harold Spivey, Eugene Brandford, Harvey Heath, Julian Hurst, Kennett Jarvis, Jack Lee, Jack Mitchell, Jerry Rowland, Hunt Scandrol, Wilbur Wagoner, William Whaley.

VOLLEY BALL

Jessie Clark, James Couch, James Hall, Jack Hamilton, Jack Hill, Bill Hollis.

BASKETBALL

Richard Bowen, Louis Fischer, Dixie Gordon, Richard Kurras (Manager), Jack Lee, Jack Mitchell, Jack Rowland, Hunt Scandrol, Wilbur Gerald Weathers, Robert Whitmer, Jerry Wilkinson, Jack Wood, Thomas Burst, Gerald Ellenwood, James Harrison.

BASEBALL

Jack Bonner, Ralph Blinn, Billy Bryant, Wayne Bennett (Manager), Ed with Lockard, Bonnell Melton, Billy Mills, Jerry Mills, Bruce Newlin, Charles Sanders, Edward Sessions, Jack Sloss, Bill Johnson, Jack Wernke, Ralph Wernke, Marvin Haynes, John Sheppard, James Wilson.

GOLF

Thomas Brown, Thomas Cumbie, Jack Hall, Jack Hirt, Jerry Jones, Wilbur Tinney.

TENNIS

Edward Evans, Edward Field (Manager), Jack Hamilton, Richard Haldeman, Richard Ireland, Jack Jones, Gerome Mansour, Abe Marcus, Robert Marx, Jack Rosenberg, Alvin Suda, Jack Wilson, Patrick Zigarelli.

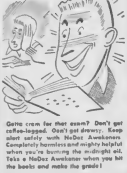
SWIMMING

Jack Church, Larry Beaty, Charles D Blackwell, Owen Bradford Boone, John Brandon, Jerry Brown, Jack Carter, Donald Cox, Jerry Hansard (Manager), Barry Hardaway, Perry Dunn-Rankin, Charles E. Holmes, Walter E. Jordan, Wilson Jordan, Robert Richardson, Charles Rogers, Alvin Suda, Robert Mendell, Donald Van Horn, Richard Wallace, Lawrence Weston, Gene Whitehead, Alexander Zeis, John Zerbe.

TENNIS

Thomas Babbitt, James Berry, Daniel Boda, Thomas Cundy, John Egan, Richard Hall, Kenneth Kennedy, Harold Schauss (Manager).

McCarty Club Meets



The Dan McCarty for Governor club will meet tonight at 7 p. m. in Room 403 Lonsmire building, announced Will Pennell, president.

Plans for a house to house survey for district 10, including the campus and surrounding neighborhood, will be discussed at this time.

Graduates Hold Dance

The Graduate Club will hold a dance Friday, May 23, from 9:30 to 12:00 p. m. in honor of the students who are candidates for MA degrees. The dance will take place in the Student Union at West campus.

Get an 'A-the NODOZ way!

Gotta cram for that exam? Don't get coffee-logged. Don't get drowsy. Keep alert safely with NoDoz Awakeners. Completely harmless and mighty helpful when you're burning the midnight oil. Take a NoDoz Awakener when you hit the books and make the grade!

NoDoz Awakeners give you a lift with-out a letdown. Quickly help you become your normal, alert self.

12 tablets 35¢ Large economy package (Plus Federal Excise Tax) 98¢

At your drugstore

NODOZ AWAKENERS

HARMLESS AS COFFEE

INTRAMURALS

Dorms Active All This Week Frats Are Idle

With scarcely two weeks remaining in fraternity league athletic competition, Greeks all over the campus are beginning to go into frenzied panics in their mad attempts to gallop away with as many ribbons, medals, trophies, etcetera as possible.

PHI DELT'S WIN TENNIS SINGLES

In tennis singles competition, Phi Delta Theta whipped KA 8-0, 8-0 to snatch the title, and 75 points, in that person of the racquet race. Tennis doubles duels are still in progress.

Action in the dormitory league will be resumed this week, while fraternity action will probably come to a momentary standstill as their weekend Casers unfolds. The AAP boys thus far are the conquering heroes of the dorms, leading with a wee bunch, but none record.

SWIMMING TO START

The intramural swimming meet for the fraternities will be held May 29 and 30. It will be the last intramural competition for the year.

The meet will include five events: the 50 yard free style, 50 yard back stroke, 200 yard free style relay, 150 yard medley relay and diving.

Qualifying rounds will be held on May 26 at 7:30 and the teams may practice beginning May 19 from 4 to 5 and fro m7:30 to 8:30.

Honorory Initiates Six

Six students will be initiated in the Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary, Thursday at 4 p. m. in the Lonsmire club room A reception will follow.

The students being initiated will be : Elizabeth Ann Barber, Kay Harden, Laura Mosley, Mary Audrey Whitehurst, Jerry Patterson, and Doris J. Smith.

FSU Trackmen To Run In Georgia AAU

Nine FSU trackmen will be entered in the Georgia AAU track meet in Atlanta, this Saturday, May 24. The event is scheduled for Grant Field.

The meet, which will include some of the South's finest track stars, is the qualifying event for the National AAU being held at Long Beach, Calif., on June 20 and 21. The National, in turn, is the qualifying meet for the Olympic tryouts scheduled for Los Angeles, June 27 and 28

Entered in the Atlanta track meet will be Auburn, University of Florida, Georgia, and Georgia Tech, and probably many more including Alabama who just won the SEC track title Saturday Florida finished second and Auburn landed in the third position of SEC.

Besides the colleges and universities entered in the Atlanta meet, there will also be many independents and outstanding high school athletes in the running.

Those going to Atlanta are Joe Fracassi, pole vault, Charles Fraundorfer, shot put, discus, and broad jump; Harvey Heaslip's, mile relay, Eddie Kucera, two mile; Dick Mize, 440 and mile relay; Marvin Mollroy, 440 yard hurdles; Woody Parker, 440 and mile relay, and John Poston in the 100, mile relay, and 220. Dave Stinson, who is ineligible to compete for FSU since he transferred from Michigan, will be running unattached. He is entered in the 100 and 220. Dave's hard hurdle is an event not usually included in college competition but it is included in the Olympics. Molnow will be running them for the first time Saturday.

One of the outstanding performers scheduled to run will be Auburn's freshman, Jackie Creel. He won the 220 in 21.7 and finished second in the 100-yard dash in the SEC meet. FSU's John Poston did the 100 in 9.8 against Creel's time on the dashes will be tight battles.

Jim Dillon of Auburn, NCAA discus champ, and Florida's J. (Pupa) Hall, national high jump champ, are some outstanding athletes who will be out to qualify for the national AAU.

UAG Prexy Wants Gripes Considered

Mary Ruth Summers, UOA president, promised that she "will do everything in my power to see that the worthwhile suggestions placed in the UOA Gripe Boxes are will be carried out."

The Gripe Boxes were placed in the Seminole lobby May 12, Campus Complaint Day, in order that the students might air their grievances.

Mary Ruth said she would make recommendations to the various committees to see that action be taken on the students' suggestions.

Suggestions and gripes ranged all the way from the advocation of stamp machines complaints about the dining hall food and off-limit bans to the administration and house council rules.

Editor Smith States Salyers Is Mistaken

Editor Joel Smith said that former chairman of the Senate, Jere Salyers was mistaken in the May 5 Senate meeting when he said that the Smoke Signals editor had not been paid all year.

Smith said he had been paid although irregularly, because of complications in the auditing department.

Salyers made the statement when Freshman Senator Phil Sprinner was advocating a resolution to withhold the salary of the editor until the remainins 56 promised pases for the year were produced.

Make Your Favorite Man Happy At Graduation or Father's Day With a Gift From Your Favorite Store

Alfords

Here's the neatest trick of the season

McGREGOR

DENIM DUFFLEBAG SLACKS

Now, it's a slack . . . now, it's a dufflebag. Just pull the hidden cords at cuffs and waist. Perfect for knockaround wear in sturdy, lightweight quality denim with action fit, boxer top.

★ Ask to see the Nylon Beach Bag Swim Trunks That Fold Into its own Pocket—by McGregor of Course.

Alford Brothers

KA Takes Golf Title by Beating SN

Last Tuesday and Thursday Kappa Alpha outswung Sigma Nu in the Greek golf finals to walk off with the fairway trophy Southern gentlemen Buddy Upchurch and Will Price defeated Sigma Nus John Ayres and Lou Cox 2-1 on the 17th hole on both days. No official scores were recorded during the matches

The KAs who won the golf trophy last year too, will receive 150 points for their victory. Although the Sigma Nus beat the KAs earlier in the season, the Rebels won in the losers bracket and so were entitled to meet the "Snakes" in the finals.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
LAST TIME TODAY
'Love Is Better Than Ever'
With Liz Taylor and Larry Parks

WEDS. thru SATURDAY
'Ma and Pa Kettle At The Fair'
With Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride

STATE
LAST TIME TODAY
'Les Miserables'
With Cinco Cervd

WEDS. thru THURSDAY
'The Wild North'
With Stewart Granger and Wendell Corey

RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
'The Tall Target'
With Dick Powell and Paula Raymond

THURS. thru SATURDAY
'Cavalry Scout'
With Rod Cameron
Also
'Valley of Fire'
With Gene Autry

DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
Cary Grant in 'Room For One More'

THURS. thru SATURDAY
'Callaway Went Thataway'
With Howard Keel
Also
'Thunder Trail'
With Charles Erickford

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Tri Chi Declared Unapproved Group

Tri Chi, an organization which several social fraternities on campus recently attempted to establish, was voted down at the last meeting of the UGA Organizations committee.

This action on the part of the committee means that Tri Chi is an unapproved organization and has no "legal" right to function on this campus.

Tri Chi was reportedly designed along the same lines as was the recently banned L'Apache. The move to form this new club was started while L'Apache was still in existence and was to have been for the benefit of those fraternities which were ineligible for the already established organization.

COLLEGE POLL

Students Comment On Dean Acheson

(ACP) About one in every three college students hasn't made up his mind about Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Of the other two-thirds, a slight majority disapproves of the job Acheson is doing.

Many of the comments run something like this. "I don't know a thing about it!" "Don't know all the facts!" "Haven't paid much attention lately."

A cross-section of American college students were asked: In general, do you approve or disapprove of the job Secretary of State Dean Acheson is doing? Here are the results

1. Approve ..... 20 per cent
2. Disapprove ..... 33 per cent
3. No opinion ..... 34 per cent
4. Other ..... 3 per cent

Graduate students tend to be more decided than other students. Only 18 per cent of them have "no opinion," as compared with 36 per cent of the freshmen. Forty-two per cent of the graduate students approve of Acheson.

"He's selling out our government to the Communists," says a Business junior from Kansas State Teachers college.

But another junior, from Huntingdon college, thinks Acheson is "doing a good job in the face of many problems. Any secretary of state will not receive the wholehearted support of the country."

A coed at Northern Oklahoma Junior college thinks Acheson "has catered too much to the 'mink coat crowd.'" And a future teacher at Middle Tennessee college disapproves and adds, "Where there is so much smoke, there is bound to be some fire."

A chemistry student criticizes him for "failure to set up a definite foreign policy." Still another, a coed at Wheaton college, Mass., calls him "sincere, but misguided."

A different comment comes from a lethology student at Eastern Nazarene college, who says, "Acheson is the one statesman in the country."

Genial Irish "Art" Soared To Fame On 4-Leaf Clover

Art Mooney was christened that genial Irish gentleman" when he and his band skyrocketed to fame on the waxing of 'I'm Looking Over A Four Leaf Clover.' Mooney's appearance here Friday will be the highlight of Interfraternity Council's "State Capers."

Strange as it seems the Irish lad from Lowell, Massachusetts never intended to become a professional musician. His father was sure he would be the best linotype operator who ever melted down an agate line. However, while Art was learning his trade at a technical high school, he spent more time mastering the saxophone after hours.

He went on with his original plans, but daydreamed of becoming the leader of a big name band. One day his dreaming cost him his job when a playful slip in the add he was setting went through, announcing that "Art Mooney" would appear instead of "Glenn Miller" as was originally scheduled.

That one mistake launched him on a career in the band business.

For three-and-one-half years he was in the Special Services division of the Air Corps where he did much to make the singing-marching Air Corps band a success.

As a civilian again, Art and his band signed a recording contract with MGM and broadcast coast to coast via the National Broadcasting Company, the Mutual Network and Columbus Broadcasting System.

It was not until his version of "Mahon," "Four-Leaf Clover" and "That's My Desire" were waxed that people began remembering the name of Art Mooney.

His latest musical hits are flavored with some of Glenn Miller's trademarks; the clarinet leading the sax section and the trumpets muted and thin.

Friday night he'll play old favorites, novelty tunes, and offer several choral and vocal presentations.

GUY W. JOHNSON, FSU Graduate student whose one-man Art show opens tonight at the University Art Gallery, is shown with some of his paintings.

Johnson Exhibit At Gallery Tonight

A one-man showing of paintings by Guy D. Johnson, Jr., graduate student and assistant in the department of art, will open tonight in the University Art Gallery from 8 to 10 p.m.

Johnson, who was born in Ft. Wayne, Ind., studied at the Ringling School of Art in Sarasota before transferring to Florida State University, where he received his BA in 1950.

THE GRADUATE assistant artist recently received Honorable Mention in the Florida International Exhibition, which included the works of artists from all parts of the Western Hemisphere.

Johnson says his paintings are a result of a series of experiments in which he searches for ideas, colors, and forms which "seem more stimulating than the rather prosaic forms of nature." Although many of his recent works are non-objective in style, he says he does not only paint for self-gratification, but to interest his audience, whether it be composed of other artists, art critics, or laymen.

THE FSU STUDENT has had paintings in the SAUW Creative Art exhibition of 1950, in which he won first prize for his "Wind in the Alley," the Hoosier Salon, the Experimental Show at Sarasota, where he again got first place for his "Painting," and the 1951 Florida Federation of Art, where he received honorable mention for the same work.

The informal reception opening the FSU exhibit will be open to the public. The showing will continue through Saturday, May 31.

Banquet Tomorrow For Music Society

PI KAPPA LAMDA

The Pi Kappa Lambda, music honorary society, will conduct its annual initiation and banquet tomorrow evening.

The initiation will be held in the Staff Room of the Music building at 6 p.m. A banquet at the ohtel Dural will follow the initiation. Professor George A. McCalmon of the speech department will be the guest speaker at the banquet. Professor McCalmon has chosen "The Cure of Music" for his subject.

Those who will be initiated this year are Daniel Boda, James M. Harris, Betty Ann Pierce, Jane Shepard, Marylhelen Ellis, Charles M. Carroll, William Cramer, Mae Jean Gilbert, William Mathis, James Neher, Vernon Raines. From the faculty of the School of Music, Dr. Warren D. Allen, Dr. Irvin Cooper and Joseph White will also be taken into membership.

Eight Lucky Brides Honored With Tea

North Cawthon held a "Bridal" tea last Wednesday afternoon for eight lucky girls who have definitely succeeded in college. The tea, in honor of the brides to be, had a large turnout of well wishers who dropped in their afternoon finery to bid the brides farewell.

The eight honored guests were presented with white gladioli corsages and pictures were taken of the occasion. The brides who are to be married this summer are Emily Koon, Betty Peters, Rae Latimer, Carrie Carnalio, Carol Rhodes, Marilyn Hart, and Jean Gould.

Profs Take Sides On How Mankind Survives

The question of how mankind survives was discussed at a symposium last week, during which a sociologist, psychologist, sociologist, and anthropologist took part.

The team of Florida State faculty members was composed of Dr. Paul Reynolds, sociology professor; Dr. Theron Alexander, assistant professor of psychology; Dr. M. F. Nimkoff, sociology professor, and Dr. Robert Anderson, assistant professor of anthropology. Moderator was Roy Flynn, director of radio.

EACH of the men gave an opening statement, followed by a discussion period in which they asked each other questions and answered audience questions.

Zoologist Reynolds said in part: "In recent years we have begun to realize more and more clearly that practically every fundamental problem of social, moral or philosophical importance should be considered in light of the biology of man.

"MAN IS a part of nature and he is kin to all life. He is related to all other organism that has existed, is, or will exist on earth," he said. "He is the only animal that can exert any significant degree of control over his environment.

The interrelated factors of intelligence, flexibility, individualism and socialism in the basic diagnosis of man are probably the most important features, he emphasized.

DR. NIMKOFF, the sociologist dwelt upon man as part of the group in which he conformed his behavior to the group pattern and received his rewards for conformity or failed to conform to group behavior and receive his punishment.

He explained that a person is likely to be well adjusted if he belongs to the groups of people and is in turn accepted by them. He told that experiments have shown that people live happier and longer through their association with others, and that the family group is the principle agency for survival of man.

HE ALSO POINTED out that it is possible for children to be too well protected by parents which creates difficulties in their adjustments to the group. He mentioned the family group, personality group and play group as the major associations of man and said that work adjustments of competence and interest go together.

Dr. Alexander, the psychologist, said the cycle is he believed necessary for adjustment of man was a concept by man of himself as being effective and able to achieve along with a feeling of security and man's belief in his ability to cope with the threats and conflicts of every day life. Also important he said, is belief in value to God, himself and others.

HE SAID he believed that the individual is one who can respond to his world effectively, more toward fulfillment of his needs purposefully and efficient use of his energy. The adjusted individual is also one who has positive emotions about himself and others in his environment.

Dr. Anderson said the anthropologist's name for the customs which make-up a kind of medium or environment in which the child is born is "culture." He said the human will grow in a sea of custom according to his nature and that of the particular customs of his time.

HE SAID only man has culture which stands between man and the world. Culture he added, is the unique tool of man, his weapon and his shield which has enabled him to prevail over all other animals and occupy the earth as no other single species has done. He said the purpose of this culture is to enable man to live longer, more safely, healthfully and securely.

BEHIND ON YOUR THESIS OR TERM PAPER?

Neat, accurate typing fast at reasonable cost. Intelligent editing if you need it. We take the headaches and you get the credit.

TYPING & MIMEOGRAPHING SERVICE
("ALERT ADVERTISERS")
209 East Call Street Telephone 3-2357

NEW Wildroot
LIQUID CREAM SHAMPOO
More than just a liquid, more than just a cream ... new Wildroot Liquid Cream Shampoo is a combination of the best of both.
Even in the hardest water Wildroot Shampoo washes hair gleaming clean, manageable, curl-inviting without robbing hair of its natural oils.
Soapless Sudsy ... Lanolin Lovely!
THREE SIZES 25¢ 53¢ 98¢
P.S. To keep hair neat between shampoos use Lady Wildroot Cream Hair Dressing

RED HOT SPECIAL
Filet Mignon Special At The
Seven Seas
Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

Nards of Dallas
Be cool and casual in these matched separates of tried and true denim that's Sanforized and color-fast. Charcoal gray, red, blue. In sizes 10 to 20.
Blouse $5.95
Slacks $6.95
Bertha Cooke

Beetle Bailey
SWEET SHOP
701 W. Jefferson

Dine with us ... in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
Country Fried Steak Smothered Liver with Onions
Toast Turkey and Dressing
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles
SAUCE

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests
No. 41...THE MAGPIE

He's a chatterbox himself—outclassed by no one! But the fancy double-talk of cigarette tests was too fast for him! He knew—before the garbled gobbledygook started—a true test of cigarette mildness is steady smoking. Millions of smokers agree—there's a thorough test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why ...

After all the Mildness Tests ...
Camel leads all other brands by billions

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 56 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, May 23, 1952

Art Mooney Dance Climaxes 'State Capers'. See Front Page.

Dorm Raid Rage Shows Immature Thinking See Editorial Page.

'Moods In Blue' Open Again at 8

Two More Tarpon Performances Scheduled Tonight, Tomorrow

"Moods in Blue," the spring swim show produced by the Tarpon club, will go into its final stages tonight and tomorrow in the East campus gymnasium pool. The show, which will complete its four night run, will begin at 8 p. m.

Built of the Blues," the lead-off number, will be directed by Jeanne Chance, with Minnows Mary Linn Brown, Betty Ann Lamond, Charlotte Hartwell, Jan Eastridge, Viola Simpson, Bev Bunch, Lucille Helms, Mary Ann Gordon, Nancy Black and Nancy Wynne, taking part. The Minnows are Tarpon stars.

THE NEXT number will be "Moonlight Blues," directed by Lois Ann Boutland. Participating are Mary Ann Zeigler, Barbara Shaffer, Charlotte Hartwell and Mary Ann Morgan will swim for this number.

"Blue" by Wharton, Tarpon queen, will direct "Blues in the Night" performed by Betty Lou Shaw Burton, Dottie Jentz, Pat Hood and Pat Vines.

THE MISS St. Augustine team will ride the Tarpon in "American in Paris" directed by Pat Wilson. Performers will be Betty Jo Wharton, Mary Hope Fuller, Judy Moore, Mary Ann Bryant from the Tarpon club, and Buddy Boasting, Bob Richardson, Pat Boyland and Gene Wharton from men's team.

"St. Louis Blues" will be the number of the show, with Hope Fuller directing Swimmers to be Betty Powers, Thompson, Pat Slater Pat Lorimer, Jean Meiser.

THE MEN WILL take over the number of the show with Bob Richardson, Pat Boyland, Buddy Boasting and Gene Bassbom, while the Tarpon team swim in Harlem Mary Hope Fuller, Jeanne Chance, Pat Vines and Gene Wharton will team up in number.

The special features of the production will be a ballet, to music on 10th Avenue.

Moore and Pete Dunn.

THE FINALE, entitled Rhapsody in Blue," will consist of numbers by Lois Ann Boutland, Pat Hubert Meade, Barbara Jones Bostwick, Mary Ann Gordon, Powers, Pat Comer, Dot Pat Jones, Mary Ann Morgan, Mary Ann Zeigler, Betty Thompson and Jeanne Thompson.

Demmins, Claire Jones, Judy Hayes will be the dancers in the finale program. Pullman is directed by Mary Hope Fuller, committees are Dot Lou Shirley, music; F. Lubin, Merle Morris and Jenny Carper, properties.

NEW OFFICERS of the La Gon club are Betty Lou Wharton, president; Mary Hope Fuller, vice-president; Pat Vines, secretary; Faculty sponsors are Miss Frances Hall of the Women's physical education department.

Late Ceremony Marks Tapping By Garnet Key

In a surprise ceremony Monday night, 22 new members were tapped for Garnet Key, women's honorary. They were chosen for membership in the organization on the basis of service, leadership and spirit. The group includes sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Those tapped were Pat Caro, Eleanor Cooper, Alice Davidson, Margaret Earnest, Nancy Hill, Del Peters, Louise Ware, seniors; and Ann Amend, Jean Arbogast, Frankie Brouwer, Sara Margaret Davis, Eleanor Green, Basia Kemp, Katherine Skogstad, Anice Spencer, Terry Stein, Barbara Thomas, Jo Webb, juniors.

Sophomores who were tapped were June Conyers, Jane Merlin and Nancy Morse, not pictured.

The tap group is planning a party for Garnet Key members to be held next Thursday night. Miss Sara Margaret Davis is in charge of all arrangements.

IFC's 'Greek Injun' Now Being Written

Greek Injun, a rush booklet about Florida State fraternities, sororities and the campus in general is being written by the Inter-Fraternity Council, Bill Stokes, IFC president, announced.

The booklet which was originated last year, includes features on each fraternity, plus a picture of the pins and fraternity houses. Material is being compiled now and outlines will also be included.

The committee drawing up the booklet includes Stokes, Jerry Seligman, representative of each of the 14 fraternities.

Stokes said that IPC hoped to get Greek Injun distributed to prospective male Freshmen along with the other University information usually sent out.

Sandspur Contest Deadline Is October

Deadline for the 1952 Sandspur contest will be October 15, 1952, Sandspur Chairman Jim Harris announced today. There will be an absolute deadline for entries.

The author of the chosen script for next year's Sandspur production will receive $75, said Harris. The previous awards have been $50.

Harris also outlined the rules for the script contest. The script will consist of three stage sets, six scene changes or three acts.

The Script Selection committee will consist of the Sandspur Board of Directors and Advisors, plus a faculty member from the School of Music and the department of speech. The board of directors will be appointed very early in the fall, said Harris.

The author of the script also will write the lyrics to the music.

Registrar's Office Kills Birthday Rumor

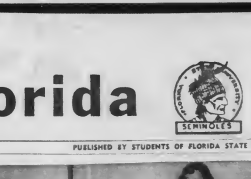
Relax, students; you are not going to get your half day holiday.

Considerable talk has been circulating the campus to the effect that students would be dismissed a half day on Friday, May 30, as examinations would start Saturday. The Registrar's Office immediately repeated the situation by repeating that classes will end Friday at 10 p. m.

New Senate Convenes In First Regular Meet

By BRUCE GALPHIN

The 1952-53 University Government Association Senate held its first regular meeting Tuesday night.



Still a bit dazed behind the ears, the Senate cautiously tried its wings on a few bits of legislation, debated little and recessed quickly.

CAMPUS CLUBS Senate Minister Carothers appointed a special committee to draw up election laws for next year. Earlier action on a proposal was made by Senator Ann Amend that Carothers was chairman, with Senators Pat Rentschler and Gene Lawler on his committee.

The question was raised as to whether the Secretary of State Bill Evans would draw up election laws, but Evans answered that election laws were a legislative function and should come from the Senate.

SENATOR LAWLER asked why election procedures could not be assigned to a regular committee, but chairman Carothers said he felt the Senate should have a lot of work to do next year. He suggested monthly committee reports and opening prayers be regular Senate procedure.

At the close of the meeting Carothers called on the Senators for "words of unity" and said he felt the Senate would have a lot of work to do next year. He suggested monthly committee reports and opening prayers be regular Senate procedure.

PRESIDENT AND ADVISORS—UGA President Mary Ruth Summers meets with her newly appointed cabinet to plan for the coming year. The cabinet selection was approved by the Senate at a special meeting last Friday. Left to right are Jan Arbogast, Forma chairman; Gordon Savage, secretary of recreation; DeNeil Proctor, secretary of organizations; Bob Ducker, secretary of elections; Mary Ruth Summers; Tam Simmons, attorney general; June McMillan, chairman of honor committee, and Bill Skipper, secretary of finance.

UGA Cabinet Has Meeting; Shows Perfect Attendance

The new University Government Association Cabinet, appointed by UGA President Mary Ruth Summers, held its first meeting Tuesday with a 100 percent attendance record.

Bob Ducker, secretary of elections, suggested that the grade average shown on the qualifying form of persons running for office in the future be initialed by the Registrar's office. Grade average cheating caused considerable trouble in the last election.

SECRETARY Ducker also asked that the Cabinet try to arrive at some course of action to resolve the issue of political parties on campus, as the "Constitution is unresolved" the recent UGA elections had resulted in bad publicity for FSU. The Cabinet decided to take some definite stand on the issue early next semester, and if political parties are approved, establish proper procedure for their formation.

The Honor System, which has been a topic of the recent Leadership Training Conference, is to be given "special emphasis" in next fall's Freshman Orientation program. The Cabinet also decided that a leadership round-up should be held at the beginning of next semester, conducted in the pursuits in which the School of Business who has the highest scholastic average for three years will be given a party.

In addition to presenting the Scholarship Award, the fraternity observed its Anniversary, installed new officers, and held special ceremonies for graduating seniors.

Ovid Ellison Wins Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Award

Ovid E. Ellison Jr., is the 1952 winner of the Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Key Award, which was presented Tuesday night in the Lonamire clubroom by Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business.

The award winner had an average of 2.8.

Ellison, who receives a BS degree in Accounting in June, has accepted a position with Price, Waterhouse and Company of New York, which is recognized as the largest CPA firm in the world. He is married and a veteran of World War II.

Although Ellison is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, membership in the fraternity is not a requirement for winning the Scholarship Award. Each year, the FSU chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi presents, at next semester, conducted in the pursuits in which the School of Business who has the highest scholastic average for three years will be given a party.

Student Speakers To Give Programs At Marianna Club

Three programs featuring Florida State University student speakers have been scheduled by the FSU Alumni Association for presentation at Marianna civic clubs meetings, according to Bob Andrews, head of the Omicron Delta Kappa speakers bureau.

The first of these programs was presented Thursday evening at the regular meetins of the Marianna Kiwanis Club. Arlene Amend, junior English major from Ocala, presented an oration entitled an "Untold Tale." It dealt with slander in the U. S. Senate. Miss Amend recently won the oration division of the intramural speech contests with this talk. Also on the program with Miss Amend was Jim Sirks. Sirks gave his current speech entitled, "The Hills of Home." This humorous talk, which was reminecent of his former home in Tennessee, won the first dinner division of the intramural speech contests.

KATHERINE Skoastad and Jim Sirks are scheduled to deliver talks this noon before the Marianna Kiwanis Club. Miss Skoastad's talk, an oration, is entitled, "Of Time and the River," and is a discussion of flood control and its need. The subject of Bob's talk is "The Policeman's Plight" in local law enforcement agencies. Both of these speeches were in the finals of the oratorical contests.

The fifth FSU student scheduled to speak before the Marianna Lions Club is Bob Ducker. Ducker majoring in speech Ducker will present a program of oral readings include humorous and serious prose and poetry.

THESE PROGRAMS were arranged through the co-operation of Mrs. Desiree McCord, director of the District 3 of the FSU Alumni Association. Additional programs are tentatively scheduled for May 28 and June 4

Pennell Elected All-Time Prexy Of '52 Class

Betty Rich Is Chosen Permanent Secretary At Meeting of Seniors

Will Pennell and Betty Rich were elected permanent president and secretary, respectively, of the class of 1952 in a senior meeting Tuesday night. Class day and graduation arrangements were also made.

Pennell and Rich who have both been active in student government during their college careers, will act as alumni correspondents for the graduating class. They will mail class reunions and keep in contact with the 1952 class members. Pennell is former University Government Association president and has also been president of the Junior class, Rich was vice-president in charge of Women's Affairs this year.

CLASS DAY instructions were given by Jim Lohmeyer, in charge of publicity for Class Day. Shirley Gregory is over-all chairman of class day. Mike Gaskin is in charge of the music while Eunice Thompson will write the class poem.

Seniors Tuesday voted to have their diplomas handed to them by each graduate, rejecting the proposed plan of having the head of each college hand them out.

LOHMEYER said that the seniors did not decide what to do with their caps and gowns as they know how much they have alloted together.

The Senior Class Day, the seniors with their junior brother or sister will walk in the Amphitheater four abreast at 4.30 p.m. They will line up in preparation on the walk that runs in front of the Social Work building.

LOHMEYER said the seniors will proceed down the walk one aisle and then turn left and right respectively with the juniors. They will meet in the middle aisle and form a circle to the stage and receive remainder of the class who will fill in the last rows of seats. The guests and honored faculty members will be invited within the senior circle facing the stage. Seniors will remain standing for the entire program, which will be short.

The program will culminate with the presentation of palms by Vice-President Maring. Lohmeyer said

BACCALAUREATE will follow the class day exercises to be held from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m

IFC Weekend Opens With Mooney Dance

Orchestra Plays in Suwannee And for Afternoon Concert

The Inter-Fraternity Council weekend gets underway tonight with a formal dance at 8 p. m. in the Suwannee room when Art Mooney and his orchestra will furnish the music Mooney will play again tomorrow night from 8 to 12 p. m. at the second dance.

A free concert will be presented by the noted orchestra leader at 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon in the Doreman ball, according to Garland Stokes, IPC president. At this time the IPC Beauty Queen will be announced.

THE QUEEN will be selected from contestants sponsored by the fourteen fraternities on the Florida State campus. Jack Kerrigan, queen selection chairman, says the girls will be dressed in shorts and tee-shirts and also in formals for the judging. IPC Committeeman Paul Kreppner has urged that all candidates report backstage at 2 p. m. Saturday dressed as they will appear on the stage.

Candidates will be judged on personality and appearance. Judges will be Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant dean of women, Dr. Quentin Nelson, physics professor of art, and Dr. A. B. Mackey, IPC president.

CONTESTANTS and their fraternity sponsors are Ernestine Bass, Alpha Chi Omega; Betty Ann Gaskin, Delta Tau Delta; Jeanne Hall, Kappa Alpha; Margaret Thomson, Kappa Sigma; Marion Bennett, Lambda Chi Alpha; Shirley Hamilton, Kappa Tau.

Also Jane Addicia, Phi Delta Theta; Dora Ann Godwin, Pi Kappa Alpha; Nancy Munt, Pi Kappa Phi; Bea Bowden, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Dee Dee Duvall, Sigma Chi; Liz Cooke, Sigma Nu; Marilyn Waispert, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Ann Yates, Theta Chi.

TICKETS for the dance, entitled, "Florida State Capers," are now on sale for $3.6 outside at the Amber House, the Mecca, lower Westcott and the Sweet Shop.

Art Mooney's male vocalist is Wayne Terwilliger. He leads the chorus the "Clover Leafs." Mooney is well known for his novelty tunes. He has recorded shorts and his famous recording of "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles."

THE BAND leader and his orchestra cut discs for MGM, and have been played on radio broadcasts throughout the nation. IPC in hiring Mooney has placed FSU for two nights, hopes to accomplish two objectives, that of top entertainment on the level of the Sandspur and Homecoming dances, and the attendance of crowded dance floors which usually result from one night stands.

Alumni Makes Picnic Plans For Seniors

The entire class of graduating seniors and their guests have been invited to a picnic being planned by the Florida State University Alumni association, Friday, June 6, at Capitola Beach on Lake Jackson, to Dick Bradley, class president.

Buses will be at Doak S. Campbell stadium at 10 o'clock Friday morning, June 6, to take the seniors and their guests out to the camp. At the camp they will be able to swim, relax on the beach, or take part in other activities. Early in the afternoon a picnic lunch is being planned for everyone. The buses will return the seniors to the East campus in time for them to dress for the Senior Day functions.

Bradley said that tickets for the picnic are available in the alumni office on the main floor of the Administration building. There will be no cost for the tickets, he said. The purpose of the ticket is to let the association know how many to expect so that sufficient food can be purchased.

Reservations through tickets will not be accepted after Wednesday, June 4.

The picnic is being planned to complete the day for the Seniors. Graduation functions planned for June 8 are: rehearsal in Doak S. Campbell Stadium, 8:30-10 a. m.; Alumni association picnic, 10 a. m.-3 p. m.; Class Day, 4.30-6 p. m. and Baccalaureate 8 p. m.

Kefauver, Russell Vie for Nomination

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who leads the Associated Press tabulations of delegate strength with 318 to 274 for Democratic convention, will vie with Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia Tuesday for the Democratic nomination for president.

Kefauver will meet Russell in the Florida State campus and made a talk in the amphitheater.

Two of Kefauver's colleagues in the U. S. Senate, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and James E. Murray of Montana, recently stated the more opposition the Tennessee gets in his race, the stronger he seems to run.

Kefauver also received the nod from Governor Steve, a member of the Atlantic Union Committee's Board of Governors, and third in the Nebraska and Florida primary votes were a rebuke to attacks on Kefauver's stand against the creation of free nations. In Florida and Harrison received the "moral victory" although he drew fewer first primary votes than Russell.

Russell Announces Approved Delegates

Senator Richard B Russell, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, has made up a list of approved" delegates to the state convention.

I am profoundly grateful for the effective support of so many fine people who have joined in Florida's Democratic Official Campaign Committee," Russell said in a statement released through the FSU Sandspur and various local

Officers Elected In Girls' Dorms

Fourteen house officers were elected recently at compulsory dormitory meetings. These officers will serve as women's dormitory officers for the year 1952-53.

President of Cawthon North is Jo Ann Nelson, with Virginia Greene and Imogene McNair as vice - presidents. Cawthon South elected Alice Thorpe president and Elizabeth Ardell and Margaret Potts, vice-presidents.

Wylene Barnacle will serve as president of Gilchrist next year, assisted by vice-presidents Mary Fry and Dottie Strang. The chairman of Senior hall in Landis will be Nancy Dee Secretary will be Jane Shepard.

West Landon elected Lavonne Mercer president and Jane Hall Gill also Mary Lee Clayton, vice-presidents.

Registration for Summer Quarter Begins Monday

Registration for the Summer Quarter will begin Monday, June 2, and continue through June 6, according to Dr. Dorothy Dickins, registrar.

Students will register in the Administration building.

Dr. Dickins said that students who have not received their schedules by mail should write to the Registrar's office.

Wrong Attitude Displayed; Dorm Raids Are Serious

The recent wave of college dormitory raids throughout the nation should not be accepted with a good bumored "boys will be boys" attitude. It is a serious matter and should be treated in a serious way.

Perhaps it is true that in some colleges the raids have been harmless and carried out in a spirit of fun. But it is certainly true that at other schools the raids bave been destructive and have been conducted in a malicious and almost animal-like manner Numerous cases of pbysical injury bave been reported. Granted, most of them were unintentional but nevertheless they occurred.

All college girls do not have millionaire fathers. The loss of a girl's wardrobe or even just part of it is a serious matter to her and to her parents. When 500 or 1,000 unthinking boys tear through a dormitory or sorority house there is bound to be some property damage The University of Florida raid resulted in $2.600 worth of damage, according to U of F president, J Hillis Miller. The loss of personal property by women students amounted to $1,800, $200 worth of whicb was cash from the Delta Gamma sorority house.

The students wbo are inciting such raids or participating in them should try to put themselves in the place of their victims. It is a safe bet that if these simple minded rioters were to lose some of their personal property bought with hard earned money, or were to have their living quarters damaged, they would not think the whole affair either funny or exciting.

It is regrettable that so many newspaper stories concerning tbese raids have appeared, written in such a blithe, lighthearted manner. These articles have no doubt done much to encourage the "spirited" young males at other schools to organize raids of their own.

These destructive raids should be discouraged and the boys behind them abould be condemned rather than condoned. The U of F student government has taken the initiative in recovering property, fixing responsibility and in identifying and apprehending students responsible for the disturbance there. The Gator Executive Council met in special session the night following the raid and passed a resolution strongly condemning the action. Tbey also requested that stern measures be taken against those found guilty.

This showa intelligent and mature thinking. If only a little bit of this could be applied before such raids occur, they would no doubt be much less frequent.

Perhaps for some types of boys—and they can certainly not be called men no matter how old they may be chronologically—this sort of bell-raising is fun. It takes little thought or intelligence: it takes no consideration for other people ;it takes no mature sense of values.

It is earnestly hoped that the boys at FSU will not feel that it is necessary to follow in the footsteps of their big brotbers at Gainesville. Some on this campus fear criticism if they do not stage such a raid. They are afraid they will be accused of not baving "the guts." Let us see if they have the guts to be different, to act like intelligent grown men even in the face of a little ridicule from those unqualified to ridicule.

The small group of silly adolescent girls who are encouraging the boys must be mentally deficient. They cannot possibly have thought carefully about what such a raid could mean to them.

There is too much needless destruction in this world to add that of such useless demonstrations.

● TWO SIDES

Dead week approaches, and with it come severe cases of "cram for those finals" jitters, backward glances at tbe year's educational fiascoa, and feeble hopes that next year won't seem so long, nor so hard.

As far as scholarship on this campus is concerned, for a large number, it's been a hard pull; and this includes the general ed courses. Freshmen, especially seem to have been waging a losing battle to the tune of many excuses including poor high school preparation, inability to realize that learning is the primary reason for entering college, failure to concentrate efforts on a set goal—preferably higher education, irresponsibility for preparation in their courses, and so on.

Granted, each year the groups seem to experience increasing difficulty in meeting the standards as set forth by this university and its staff, but is there not another side to this rather unfortunate situation? The above views are those shared by some faculty members as well as students, and naturally are well founded, but another slant has received considerable backing also.

Some courses, in the required category, are notorious for wbolesale flunking out, or just the general tight squeeze. As a result, there is widespread opinion that blame could be placed elsewhere other than on the shoulders of the students, however immune they may appear to be. Is it not an indication of something when the majority of a class cannot reach the proverbial C average on the tests given?

At a recent leadership conference one faculty member presented a valuable thought when she remarked that her exams served as an indication of how well she was able to put the particular subject across. If the class fell down on a test, she searched for the fault, whether in the teaching or in the difficulty of the quiz and attempted to correct and improve before the next go round.

A new year is around the corner. As we cross this year's finish line would it not be well to share responsibility for the flops made in scholarship this year, especially in some courses, and vow tbat students and faculty members achieve some understanding in the matter of grades, [illegible]ut systems, and the planning and purpose of individual courses. A little ray of hope on the part of the faculty might result in a little morale lift on the part of the students!

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

FLAMBEAU PRESENTS ANNUAL "STUDY TIPS"

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Every year about this unpleasant time when nightmare's of finals start disturbing the sleep, the Flambeau usually presents a series on 'Study Tips.

This year 'Study Tips' will be com[illegible] of realistic adaptations [illegible] suggestions.

[illegible]ne of the prime tips was the making out of a study schedule, very complete, to which you should religiously glue yourself. An accountant's record should be kept for each assignment, ad infinitum. This is very practical. The student should sit down immediately after coming in from class, rule off a half dozen sheets of paper and make a study outline, preferrably in india ink.

Allot yourself five hours in which to get everything done. Make a list also of all extra duties you must perform, like eating, sleeping, powdering your nose if you are a female, and various other daily necessities

(2) Keep all distraction off your desk All beer bottles, Esquires, I Confess's, lovers pictures, etc should be swept away They are not conducive to constructive thinking about the War of the Roses. (While on the topic of roses, that come in fours, the student is urged not to drink alcoholic whiskeys liquers and champagnes, as they cloud the mind.)

(3) Study at the same time and place. The library is a good place to study, for it is quiet with good lighting. Pick out a favorite table and chair and do your pencil-pushing there. Should you come in and find soma Joe occupying your place, don't ask him to move as it might disturb HIS study processes. Go home and go to bed, because you can t accomplish anything anyway if you can't sit in your usual chair identified by copper tag, "FSU 394678."

(4) Make an agreement with your roommate abo[illegible] when you are to study. This is important. You cannot study while he is rolling dice on the floor If you have some difficulty in reaching a decision, don't argue with him as that wastes time Compromise by joining him in a few throws until he is ready to study, to[illegible]

(5) If your mind wanders, analyse the difficulty and remove the distraction. This means, in other words, if you keep mooning over Sally when you should be mooning over Queen Elizabeth, put your relations on a more stable basis by buying her a diamond or giving her your pin, Sally, that is. Or, if you are distracted and worried about the exam for which you are studying, simply go out and shoot the professor.

(6) Your stud[illegible] schedule should give some consideration for the essential physical fitness Don't overlook this vital factor You must be healthy physically to be healthy mentally. Therefore take two hours out to play a few games of tennis.

(7) Sleep, eat regularly, sit straight Take one two-hour nap every afternoon before you open the books Also be sure you drink one malted 30c size, every day for a pickup, plus heading for your favorite hang-out when you feel the slightest pang of hunger. Wh[illegible] a stiff backbone, feet together shoulders back and head up in the air If however, you find yourself going [illegible] addled in the brain, calmly throw your [illegible] leg over the [illegible]

(8) If audio-visual is available make use of it. It has proven an excellent method of study You can always find some period picture with somebody like Lana Turner playing Madame Pompadour at the local theaters Good aid to the history cramming. If it is political science you have the campus movie on Woodrow Wilson: "The Wild North" at the State, and you can study public relations in ANY of them.

Well[illegible] These might not be [illegible] best interpretations to our age-old 'Study Tips' but I'll bet they are the one's with the most following[illegible]

Profs To Participate In Oak Ridge Project

Dr Geor[illegible] I [illegible] professor of [illegible] and D. Ros[illegible]land E [illegible] chemistry [illegible] participate in the research program at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuculear Studies this summer

Florida State is one of the 29 Southern universities which comprise the Institute as a non-profit educational corporation The two FSU faculty members will take part in the [illegible] program in accordance [illegible] plan worked out [illegible] Dr Ma[illegible] T [illegible] acting chairman of the Institute University Relations Division.

Campus Character

By STAN SCHMIDT

Aren't you tired of hearing about . . .

The boys from Gainesville—Such a wild, tempestuous crew of hairy-chested, two-fisted drinkers. Why they think nothing of sharing a case of beer among 70 or 80 men.

The boys from Gainesville—"Ooh, ahh—all the girls are going." Such parties, all they ever do there is party, party, party. The object of squealing and peeling and ecstatic, libidinous mating calls from Park Ave.

The boys from Gainesville—Those cute pranksters who spend a fortune on orange and blue paint (the better to paint Sorority walks with). Oh, those gay, dashing, devil-may-care darlings.

The boys from Gainesville . . . Who's bitter?

• • •

Saving paper—Aren't we helpful?

Dear Mom and Pop,

Hate to bother you people about money again but it's really very expensive to live in Tally.

I need $46 more—you guessed it—more boks Thanks for the book money you sent last week. I got them just in time to pass an important test.

If you people are short don't worry. I'll (sob, sob) get by

Your Loving (son-daughter)

Sign here and send hame.

• • •

Have you met any of that happy breed of men who spend their lives on bar stools? They're strong and confident in the knowledge that someday soon—maybe tomorrow—a rich strangar will stride through the swinging doors, walk up to them purposefully and say simply — "You have an honest face—here's three million rasbuckniks

(All this from my latest epic, Draftdodging Made Easy—in a new style of writing known as Stream of Unconsciousness.)

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Bishop Frank Juhan Will Visit Ruge Hall

By LOUETTA RILEY

EPISCOPAL

Bishop Frank A Juhan, Bishop of the Diocese of Florida, will be at Ruge Hall Sunday for the Order of Confirmation which will be held at 5:30 p. m. Following the service the new Vestry and Canterbury Club will honor the faculty and staff of Florida State University with a reception at Ruge Hall at 6 30

LUTHERAN

Gamma Tau Chapter of Gamma Delta will hold Charter Day Observance tomorrow night at 7:00 in the second floor lounge of the Longmire Building

Sunday afternoon the group will go to Alligator Point for an outing

METHODIST

Wesley Foundation, Methodist student organization, will honor seniors and newly elected officers with a banquet tonight at 6:00 at the Methodist Student House The formal banquet is the fifth annual affair given by the Methodist student and will be attended by both students and faculty

Entertainment will be provided by Ann Clayton Adrian Ketchem Ivin Kestner, Jim Hussong, Dale Hohnson and Bob Ba[illegible]

Dr Robert Amends, professor in the Department of Philosophy, will speak at the Sunday School program on "Two-Thousand Years of Music"

CATHOLIC

The Newman Club will honor their seniors with a party Sunday night at 7:30 at the Newman House announced Mary Rotherham today Seniors are requested to bring their caps and tassels for admission

PRESBYTERIAN

Dr and Mrs. William T Martin will lentertain Westminister Fellowship tonight with a picnic supper at their home at 5:00. Following the supper Dr Martin will lead the program for the Theology Hour

Sunday night the Westminister Fellowship will have installation of the newly elected council for 1952-53

CHRISTIAN

Disciple Student Fellowship will be led by Roger Sellers Sunday evening in a discussion on "The Value of Christian Ethics in a Modern Democracy."

BAPTIST

Tomorrow the Baptist students will hold Senior Day at the coast. Members of the Baptist Student Union will leave from the Student House at 1:00 in the afternoon Joner social vice - president urges all those planning to attend to call the Baptist Student House

McBride Cleanses Soul in Cooler With Aid of Guilty Dean Warren

BY DAVE DREIS

One of the most outstanding [illegible] on the Florida State campus is the close faculty-student relationships that are evidenced everywhere

Take for instance, the "twerp" night the men of Senior Hall and the girls of Gilchrist staged the other night There was a dance and a floor show which consisted of a mock trial. Time only permitted two cases to be brought before the judge

THE FIRST case was against Dr Otis McBride Dean of Men at Florida State University It seemed that the doctor was accuser of using profane language at the College Point Restaurant. Three witnesses took the stand and their startling evidence gave the jury the right to pronounce McBride guilty

With tears in his eyes the official heard the verdict The judge looked stern and said, "McBride, in order to cleanse his soul, will stand in the cooler." The administrator walked slowly over to a wash tub which had in its center a huge block of ice McBride was told to remove his shoes and stand in it which he did.

THE SECOND case to be tried concerned Dean Katherine Warren, who was asked to take the stand after hearing testimony that she was popping gum while wearing dungarees in the Ritz theater

She denied everything, but the evidence was too much against her She was sentenced to perform a good deed and clean McBride's soul (sole) Rag in her hand she began washing McBride's feet

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Bill Dunn—Editor

Babs Henry	Managing Editor
Frances Cawthon	News Editor
Associate Editor	Bruce Galphin, Marcia Morris
Sports Editor	Jim Eady
Society Editor	Judy Simkins
Feature Editor	June Morgan
Rewrite Editor	John Haracopus
Assistant News Editor	Al Pierca

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager	Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor	Ann Harley
Assistants	Jo Hall, Fe Pittman, Lou Calderoni, Nancy Lowe

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-800 Ext 4821 Second Floor Alumni Building

The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University Tallahassee Florida

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17 New York

ONE PERSON'S OPINION

FSU FAILS TO INSTALL MODERN ACTIVITY

By GENE LAWLER

FSU, the campus with subsidized football, skyscraper dorms, and approximately one convertible to every other student, lacks only one necessary adjunct to higher education.

Not following the lead of nearly 40 other major institutions, including several SEC and Big Ten schools, FSU has failed to install that modern extracurricular activity, panty raids.

Indeed, the administration appears to be discouraging this form of recreation. Girls are being regularly drilled in the tactics of dorm defense. Barbed wire entanglements are reportedly ready to be erected on split-second notice. And Stan Schmidt's acid vats are located on strategic roof tops.

It seems sad, but the AP will probably never carry the sensational dispatch. "Nearly 2,000 snorting, pawing, sex-crazed youths assaulted FSU's female residence halls last night in a lust for lace. The quest for sexy souvenirs came to an end only after four hours of wild rioting, after which the Dean of Women said . . ."

Instead, FSU students must enjoy the vicarious enjoyment of reading the reports of activities at other schools. Reports like the following:

Missouri: National Guard stood by for two days after 3,000 students went on a four hour rampage on the Missouri, Stephens, and Christian campuses. Police reported a group of girls had trapped a boy on a fire escape, stripped him of his clothes, and returned his pants only after he begged for mercy.

Georgia Southern: Coeds displayed "welcome" signs and tossed out panties to their besiegers.

South Carolina: Marauders were led by a bugler sounding a cavalry charge.

Pennsylvania: Traffic at a busy intersection was held up for hours when 2,000 U of Pennsylvania men battled with police and ripped down trolley wires.

Arizona: 500 University of Arizona men stormed the women's dorms for three hours, tied their loot to the radio aerials of police cars, deflated police tires and shot off rockets.

UCLA: Word got out to the administration that a raid was planned last night. Officials warned that raiders would face riot guns, tear gas, and expulsion.

Tufts College: Coeds dampen the boys' spirits by thoroughly dousing them with perfumed water as they scrambled up a fire escape.

One major innovation to the theme originally suggested by the boys at Ann Arbor was reported Wednesday night from Maryland. There, the girls, tired of waiting for the men to come, charged on the men's residences, indiscriminately stripped the helpless males, brained them with broom sticks, and shoved them into the showers.

This inspired one male on this campus to say, "Gosh, I'd hold the front door open to Senior Hall if the girls would promise not to be too rough."

SITTIN' ON THE SIDELINES

SPRING IS WHEN DATE TIME NEEDS PLASMA

By MARCIA MORRIS

Cheers to IFC for bringing Art Mooney and his orchestra to the campus this weekend, and for boosting our social calendar with a third big name band dance We be grateful, indeed! Though the powers that be have worked long and hard to give the students a varied slate of functions this year, this is naturally the season when date time needs plasma.

Many voices have informed us that Tallahassee is a lovely spot, plenty geen and grassy. Even the jukes, a few years back, plugged for the Chamber of Commerce but most charming as we definitely agree it is—the landscape does not squelch the walls and whines when Friday and Saturday roll around and College Joe with the slim wallet is trying to devise some ingenious method of entertainment. What to do, oh, what to do?

Fall is the fair haired season, for football and its corresponding open houses and other functions pretty well take care of the chilly months, and on off nights there is always — the show.

Then we [illegible] through seasons for basketball, and baseball If you're not a sports enthusiast well that's O. K. because you can always go to the—the show.

Right now summer is upon us, when the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love and the young man's feet turn to, you guessed it—the show. There is absolutely no doubt that any student on this campus could "Break the Bank" if presented with a series of queations on recent movies: in fact we could bankrupt ye old sponsor for the next forty years!

True there is a miniature golf course that's terrific, a bowling alley, tennis courts, swimming pool—all lots of fun—but after a year of this, the whole university could ship for the Olympics.

Yep, sad it is that in the course of events, ole boy Cupid does take a beating! The poor little fella tangles with dorm counselors sorority house mothers, Campus G Men, oft-times a too bright moon, and now he's got to go into training, keep in condition, for this rigorous routine Sad it is, when a naive couple decides a night of dancing to soft lights and sweet music might be fun. They jog out to the Student Union on West Campus only to find that the dance was last night, so they hightail it back to the frat house where a great boogie session is raging on the piano, and that cinches that, finis.

Never say die, however. If you're foolish enough you can cruise out to one of the highway's super joints which specialize in soft lights, sweet music, and liquid entertainment. If you get caught—so long, it's been good to know you.

Which all brings us to the point of this epistle—if there is one—we do need something somewhere and the Student Center now in the process of construction could be it, at any rate, here's hoping that it fits the bill. The free movies have been a blessing. If a little informal dancing could be enjoyed afterwards, twould be extra special.

In the meantime, we shall relax, give with a contented sigh, and patiently wait til we can dance a hole in the sock-Art Mooney style. Here's hoping that next year will be a jam packed social success and praying that Sammy and Sarah Seminole will support what we got! If it doesn't work out that way, please don't misunderstand—we're really crazy about movies.

Dear Editor . . . .

Speechless

Deear Editor

After reading the missive prepared and submitted for publication in Tuesday's Flambeau by one John E McCarey I am, for the first time in nearly 20 years, practically speechless Might I go so far as to inquire from which correctional institution Mr McCarey was graduated?

Frankly, I find it difficult to believe that an intelligent being could be so misguided—so completely blinded—as to mistake downright destructiveness and orneriness for "spirit" If dorm-raiding is spirit, then I say it's wasted! Why could it not be turned into something useful instead of being directed into absolutely unfruitful channels There are any number of organizations on this campus that could use some of the co-operation that goes into the planning of a raid on women's dormitories

I belong to just such an organization—the Warpath Club. The Warpath Club is for the purpose of fostering school spirit although from the co-operation we have received, both from the faculty and from the students, one would never know it? We are trying desperately to make this club one which the student-body can point to with pride, and right at present we are attempting to organize a card section to be used at football games etc during the coming year and for the years to come.

We have planned and schemed, ordered card samples and juggled figures this entire year to give the student-body the satisfaction of seeing their university rank right alongside other and bigger universities in the country But a project as large as the one we are planning to undertake must have the fullest cooperation from the students it is to serve if it is to be a success.

So far we have met one great—and unmovable—stumbling block—student apathy The word "apathy" to me, is a rather hideous one. The connotation I receive is one of an idiot who does nothing, either good or bad, but just sits with hands folded in his lap and stares—letting the world go on around him, not caring one way or another But that is just what we have met thus far

Oh, we did hit one jag of interest when we were planning our trip to the Southern Collegiate Pep Conference in Lexington Kentucky last month When we announced that the trip would be university-sponsored, all expenses paid, members we nad never seen before began pouring in, professing undying interest in the club, only to return from whence they came when they were told that only the officers of the club would be able to make the trip because of the limited funds provided for such an excursion

I ask you now, is that school spirit or just plain, unadulterated, gold-digging? If that is the kind of school spirit Mr McCarey has to offer, I'll not have any, thank you!

Sincerely

FLO HOLMES.

Still Girls' School

Dear Editor

Gone are the days when L'pache was young and gay, and the same goes for FSU The main objection to L'pache seems to be the drinking which was allowed in the organization If this objection were a legitimate one there would be good cause to censure the club but even then banning it from campus would still be a high-handed measure

However, the action taken is in concordance with the school's policy. This university may be coeducational oficially, but in actuality it is still a girl's school. Just for contrast I would like to say that if organizations allowing drinking were forbidden up north there would be no campus organization. I hope L'apache goes underground.

It's comforting to know we are sheltered and protected so well at FSU. We are even protected from that vulgar thing known as art. Heavens to Elizabeth, my gracious, oh fudge, graham crackers, and other such expressions of shock and astonishment. Do you know our tender young eyes were almost exposed to a drawing of a nude?

Our frail morals could be shattered by such a thing. We children of university age should never be allowed to view anything as bawdy as a nude, and, lucky for us, we won't have to, for Sir Taboo, Knight of the Puritanical, Protector of the Squeamish, Defender of Do Gooders, seated on a fiery charger, well clothed, (of course) with naked (if you will pardon the expression) sword raised on high, will see to it that no forbidden fruit falls into the hands of the mentally incompetent students of FSU. That's enough for sarcasm.

This is 1952 not 1852. The ban exhibiting nudes in the art gallery is not in the interest of decency and righteousness, but in the interest of prudery and puritanism. It is a throwback to the days when it was right and proper to say perspiration instead of sweat, limbs instead of legs, and only loose women smoked cigarettes. It is a displaced nightmare of victorianism, and a college campus is the last place anyone would expect such a nightmare to show its ugly face.

The authority behind the ban would doubtless be shocked to know that nude models, male and female, black as well as white, are used in freshman art classes in some universities.

Marcia Morris never needs to fear the precious sanctity of the women's dormitories. It isn't likely that a raid will occur here, at [illegible] not for a long time. There are not enough red blooded men on campus to pull a stunt like [illegible]

That is the way they want it on top of the hill, that is the way they have it, and that is the way they are going to keep it Anything suggestive of masculinity is suppressed. The mystic powers [illegible] a pusillanimous male student body, because it makes [illegible] much simpler and easier for [illegible] But it also makes things [illegible] pathetic.

DAN ALTHOFF

Dr. Dame Writes Magazine Article

Dr J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business, is the author of an article in the current issue of The Balance Sheet, a nationally circulated magazine on business and economic education.

In this article, "Administration and Supervision in Business Education," Dr. Dame says in order to reach the goal of more effective instruction, the supervisor must engage in three main groups of activities.

These are policy making, selection of equipment and improvement of instruction. He says the supervisor or curriculum in business education should take the lead in developing community surveys. Business, he adds, demands a practical vocation for the business world of the future as well as the present.

The Sports Line

By JIM EADY

...to the athletic budget and John Poston . . .
...wealthful this column presented a misrepresentation of ...h ...hinous crime—concerning John Poston's trip ... AAU in California and the present lack of ... for it. Also, because of this lack of funds, ... and those responsible for compilation were ... attacked. But now the truth will out and the ad... side of the story with it.

...the field forks at the ath... ...ports are: It is made out ... ...ndance, before any of ... ...ports, provided for by it. ... consequently, allowances ...ld be made for any unfor... ...happenings — the Poston ...ple for instance. In other ...ds, he has to arrive at the ... before it is crossed.

...rthermore, said budget has ... ...ded, thus because of ... there is no ... ...ding trip to the sunny ...fornia. But, not only ... to suffer all ... sports here ... a profit... ...The athletics have ... a monetary ...sation. No doubt ... all over.

...listic note can be ... dreary picture ... Dr. Danford, ...mics has promised ... possible will be ... sooner that it ... athletic committee. ... to see Poston go to ... anybody else in Tal... ...also make every at... ...to do so. Poston, ... remains now is for the ... to show his heels to the ... on the field on tomorrow's

AAU. If he can accomplish this feat, and pack a lute like he did in the Miami track meet—9.6—it's a pretty safe bet he'll be running in the National AAU in Berkley in June.

This and that . . . Football Coach Don Veller said with wrath, concerning the new popular-college sport, panty raiding . . . "I think they are just silly and I hope our boys are above that sort of thing." The football players at U of Georgia are above "that sort of thing" it seems there. the gridmen guarded the women's dorms and even tangled with some of the panty seekers. Bulldogs will have a left tackle, left guard and panty guard on next year's eleven. And instead of the old standby cheer rah rah rah! the stands will be rocking to the chant of 'bra bra bra'

Gym Members Meet

All members of Gymkana are asked to attend a meeting this afternoon at 5 p.m. in the Women's gymnasium, Dr. Hartley Price directed announced.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss organizational problems of Gymnastics, a proposed honorary.

Irish Granted Leave

Dr. Marion D Irish, of the department of political science, has been granted a leave of absence for the academic year 1952-53 by the State Board of Control.

Dr Irish has a Ford Founda-

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

...ion Fellowship and will be a visi... ...the scholar next year at Radcliffe ... and Littauer Center, Harvard Uni...

Favorite subject of coeds—
YOU in Manhattan Shirts
Nothing gets admiring glances on the campus faster than a handsome guy in a handsome shirt. To look your handsomest, try on a Manhattan Bunt or a Manhattan Range.
The Manhattan Bunt
The Bunt is a button-down oxford with a soft roll to the collar. Or, if you prefer broadcloth, then the Range is right for you with its smart widespread collar. Better still—buy both and be ready for anything—classroom or coke date!
The Manhattan Range
Manhattan
Shirts, Sportshirts, Neckwear, Underwear, Pajamas, Beachwear, Handkerchiefs

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
Ma and Pa Kettle at the Fair
with Marjorie Main
COMING SOON
That's My Boy
With Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis
STATE
NOW THRU TUESDAY
The Wild North
with Stewart Granger
COMING SOON
Skirts Ahoy
in Technicolor
with Esther Williams
RITZ
Today and Saturday
Gene Autry in Valley of Fire
also Rod Cameron in
Cavalry Scout
DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
Dorothy McGuire and Fred MacMurray in
'Callaway Went Thataway'
also
'Thunder Trail'
with Charles Eichford
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Girls' Sports Nearing Finish As Odds Lead

Swimming and Softball Only Sports Remaining

By BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

The final curtain for the Odd-Even sports season is just about to fall for the year of 1952. The Odd's lead so far this year with a 5-2 record. The Even's boast of victories in volleyball, basketball, archery, and badminton.

THE EVEN SOFTBALL team that will face the Odd's in the first series softball game on Saturday, May 24, will be Pat Folsom, Dot Parish, Betsie Weeks, Rose Alvarez—of; Margaret Erickson, Frances Cobb—c; Boo Loreen, Meri Herndon—p; Pete Morgan, Carol Goertz—1b; June McGill, Lorna Coyle—2b; Pat Cruzan—3b; Dot Sturgess—ph.

THE SWIMMING teams will go against each other today with Odds—Joy Crouch, Marion Meide, Joan Paris, Shirley Simpson, Jackie DuPont, Jean Moore, Rose KKovalik, Pat Payne, Dorothy Jurela and leader Betty Lupke, meeting the Even's—Nancy True, Avery Lembeck, Pete Smith, Mary Lou Turner, Mary Ann Batchelder, Jean Williams, Jean Flynn, Connie Gola, Jo Wade, leader.

"F" CLUB

The "F" Club will have its semi-banquet May 28 at 7:00 at the Hotel Floridan. The theme will be carried out in shipwreck fashion. Pirates and boats will also be featured in the decorations. All "F" Club members may attend. The Club will also usher for the wonderful Tarpon show that is being presented this week. Two girls were tagged to become members. They are Liz Von Weise and Hazel Ready. Also to become members will be Miss Williams, Miss Anderson, and Miss Fallom.

The last meeting for the members of the AAHPER will be held on May 29 in the women's gymnasium. The purpose of the meeting will be for the election of officers. Also on Tuesday, May 27, in the women's gymnasium will be a women's PEA meeting for the election of officers.

INTRAMURALS

394 Nears Dorm Softball Crown

By ART KENNERLY

Conflict and confusion have riddled dormitory league. The energy came in the form of a hot-shot baseball squad that has carved out a won seven, lost none record to lead the pack in the last minute rush for the dorm title. Three other teams, AAF, Newman Club, and 390, are close behind.

Unless this trio in second place can perform a miracle, 394 appears to be well on the way to an easy championship. Monday the 394 boys defeated Magnolia B 6 to 4, and on Tuesday they took a 7 to 0 forfeit from Magnolia A. Wednesday it was the same tale as they whipped AAF 8 to 4. Two more victories will clinch the title for the West campus gang.

While all this was going on, the Village and 396 split forfeits to 390 and AAF, and 397 and Senior Hall A died in a double forfeit. 396 bounced back from behind with 5-2 records each, its forfeit right into the arms of another forfeit to 390.

Newman Club whipped Magnolia A 18 to 7 on Monday, and on the next day knocked down AAF 3 to 2. Tragedy followed glory on Wednesday as 390 stomped the Newmanites 8 to 4.

Dormitory standings in softball:

Team	won	lost
394	7	0
AAF	5	3
N. C.	5	2
390	5	2
Mag. B.	3	2
Mag. A	2	5
Village	1	3
397	0	3
Sr. Hall A	0	5
396	0	6

FRATERNITIES IDLE THIS WEEK

Fraternity competition is at a momentary standstill for the week but the last days of this month are expected to produce much blood and gore as battles in tennis doubles, softball, and swimming climax the Greek social year.

Everybody wants the big gold trophy, and the Southern Gentlemen of Kappa Alpha made the largest gains in the bid with first place honors as they chalked up 150 points during the past week to jump from 7th to 4th place. The boys in Gray took the golf crown, the same to be true in tennis singles in making their advance.

The top three on the frat standings, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Nu, hung on to their positions, and except for the KA threat, seem to be safe for the time being.

Lambda Chi Alpha took two steps up from 11th to 9th, and Phi Kappa Tau edged to 11th from 12th. The rest of the Greeks, either hung on to their standings or dropped down the ladder.

Upsets appear to be right around the corner, however, since 375 points hang in the balance with the completion of swimming, softball, and tennis.

Overall fraternity standings to date:

Team	Pct.
ATO	621
Phi Delt	616
Sigma Nu	583
K. A.	556
SAE	544
Pi K Phi	538
SAE	495
Sigma Chi	485
Lambda Chi	436
DTD	426
Phi K Tau	424
ATO	420
Theta Chi	362
Kappa	349

THIS WEEK'S DORM RESULTS

Score by innings. R H E

NC	211 41—13	18	3
390	023 20—7	11	2

Batteries: NC—Dubose and Jeswaray; Magnolia—Hayes and Cox; Home runs: Dubose and Beeler (2) NC.

	R	H	E
Magnolia	000 201—3	7	1
394	020 310—6	10	0

Batteries, Magnolia—Mcintosh and Cox; 394—Sharr and Adams. Home run: Sweeney (394).

	R	H	E
NC	300 102—7	7	1
AAF	020 000—2	4	2

Batteries: NC — Deegan and Dubose; AAF—Varnado and Aaker.

	R	H	E
390	400 301 0—8	8	3
AAF	000 003 1—4	5	2

Batteries: 390—Johnson and Baker, NC Jackson, Deegan and Beeler.

	R	H	E
394	300 000 3—6	10	2
AAF	010 120 4—8	7	3

Batteries: 394—Sharr and Adams, AAF—Varnado and Aaker. Home run: Jones (394).

SWIMMING PRACTICE

Anyone who wants to practice swimming for the scheduled fraternity swimming meet can do so on week days in the East campus gym from 4:00 to 5:00 and from 7:30 to 8:30. The tourney is set for May 29 and 30.

EXAMS INTERFERE

Gymnasts Invited To Appear on TV

FSU almost had its first television start.

Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder, Olympic bound gymnasts, received an invitation to appear on a New York TV show Sunday May 25th. But because the date is so close to examination time it was decided that the invitation couldn't be accepted.

The show, the famed Super-Circus, is on television every Sunday and has 62 outlets.

FLORIDA STATE University Gymkana has received considerable national recognition through its national magazines. In the April issue of the Journal of Physical Education (published by YMCA periodical) Hartley Price has a four page article entitled "Gymkana Stimulates Interest in Gymnastics." The front cover of this magazine also features National Champion Trampolinist Dick Gutting doing a somersault over an automobile beautified with members of the Gymkana Court.

IN THE MAY ISSUE of Good Housekeeping magazine the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots are mentioned in the "World of Children" column. "Youngsters in Tallahassee Florida, have a new way of working off their excess energy; they join the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots. The boy and girl group, ages six to twelve, includes students from every school in Tallahassee The children meet daily on the Florida State University campus and learn to perform acrobatic feats that make onlookers gasp for breath. Despite bruises and sore muscles, the tots come up smiling.

"They master such stunts as cartwheels, back somersaults, handsprings and flip-flops. The young gymnasts develop poise, perseverance, and self-discipline as they master the new skills; parents find that tumbling helps children socially, mentally, and physically. At years end, the well-trained Tumbling Tots become real troupers. They join Coach Price's championship collegiate gymnastic team which puts on a Gymnireasania that tours the Southern states."

In the June issue of General Motors Friends magazine Bill Roetzheim is featured in a two page spread in color entitled "He's a Gym Dandy."

Plans are being made for Gymkana to put on a show at the Fiesta of Five Flags at Pensacola on June 11th.

'MURALS TO START BOWLING

Intramurals are finishing the bridge this week and will start bowling next week. Sigma Kappa was the winner of bowling last year and will be a strong contest for the championship this year according to Frankie Brown, outstanding Sigma Kappa bowler.

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
The Joggery

THE TRIO ABOVE, of Dick Muza, John Poston and Woody Parker (left to right) will be busy tomorrow when they run in the AAU at Atlanta. Muza and Parker are entered in the 440 and Poston is entered in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Nine Trackmen to Compete In Georgia A. A. U. Tomorrow

Florida State University will enter nine men in the Georgia AAU track and field meet which is scheduled to get underway in Atlanta's Grand Field tomorrow as Coach Ken Miller said that his entries for the Georgia meet would include Captain John Poston, Woody Parker, Carlos Fraunfelder Dick Mize, Joe Fracasol, Eddie Kucera, Marvin Mollnow, Harvey Heagerty and Dave Stinson.

However, Poston will have plenty of competition in the sprints as he tote to the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Against Miami, Fenton Creel and if both men run their best new school, track and meet to form, an interesting duel records in both events, winning should follow. Creel, who also is the century dash is a spectacular a track defense back on Ad- 9.6 and the 220 in an even more burn's grid squad, won the 100 impressive 20.6 Both marks are and placed second in the 100-yard among the best recorded in col- dash in the Southeastern Confer- lege circles this year. ence meet last weekend—T. S

Florida State University will notes most consistent point-getter this season and is a heavy favorite to cop the 100 and 220-yard in the form of Auburn's Bubbe

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

CASH For Your USED Books
UNLESS COMPLETELY OUT OF DATE
Take your used books to Malone's today and exchange them for CASH.
Books are accepted whether used here or not.
MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

WEEK END SPECIAL

SHORTS and TEE SHIRTS

2 for $3.00

$1.59 each

Wide Selections of Colors and Sizes

MAYERON'S

here it is...

the grand, exciting NEW tote-all...the purse'n'all by

Princess GOOREY PURSE

STAMPED [illegible]

Yes all in one [illegible] a wallet date purse and carry-a[illegible] with room for all of your essentials from eyeglasses to addresses Carry it solo day and night or slip it into your handbag This smart slim envelope is fitted compact-as-a-cigarette-pack with these seven day-and-date necessaries

- ZIPPER POCKET for bills (hides pocket behind it)
- large full-gusset CHANGE PURSE
- handy snap-in KEY CASE
- convenient snap-in LIPSTICK CONTAINER
- separate PASS CASE for 8 cards or photos
- even a PENCIL behind large passport pocket
- SNAP-TAB closure

It's the answer to all your gift problems — for graduates, bridesmaids, hostesses And by all means give yourself one, too!

In de luxe Ind a Calf Green Red Navy Black, Honey Saddle Brown $6.95

Also in expensive-look Pro Morocco Goat Black/red; Brown/tan, Navy/red, Red/red, Green/nile. $5.95

MILLER'S Bootery

Soprano to Give Her Senior Recital Tomorrow Night

Virginia French, mezzo-soprano of the studio of Walter James, will present her senior recital tomorrow night at 8.15 p m. in the Opperman Music hall.

She will be assisted by Violet Mandese at the piano

The first part of the program will include Jones' Now What Is Love, Dowland's Flow, My Tears, Vivaldi's Un certo non se che, and Bach's "Prepare Thyself, Zion" from The Christmas Oratorio.

Robert Schuman's Frauenliebe und Leben will compose the second part of the program, while the third part will include Tu Me Dirais by Chaminade, Que L'Heure Est Donc Breve by Massenet and 'Recit et Air de Lia' from L'Enfant Prodigue by Debussy.

The soprano will also sing "[illegible] dell abisso affrent at," from Giuseppe Verdi's Un Ballo in Maschera.

The program will conclude with four songs by Paul Nordoff "T[illegible] is the Shape of the Leaf" "F[illegible] Annette's Song" "Mas[illegible] I [illegible] With You" and "Tell Me Th[illegible]"

Nancy Hill Presents Piano Recital Tonight

Pianist Nancy [illegible] Hill of the studio of Mary Estate [illegible] will present her senior [illegible] tonight at 8 [illegible] p m. in the Opperman Music hall.

Miss Hill will open the program with Bach's Italian Concerto Other selections will be Piano Sonata No. 3 by Dell[illegible] The White Peacock by Griffes and Sonatine of Ravel

Used Book Exchange Opens May 26-27

The Alpha Phi [illegible] Used Book Exchange will [illegible] Monday and Tuesday May 26-27 [illegible] to 5 p m [illegible] room [illegible] of money for [illegible] book [illegible] the exchange [illegible]

The Exchange [illegible] books from 9 [illegible] 12 [illegible] to 5 p [illegible]

[illegible] Tommy B[illegible] will be [illegible]

BUDDY ALLEN was winner of the recent Mr Formal Contest here at Florida State

James Ball Quits Convention Race

[illegible]

THE FORMER [illegible]

OF THE THREE [illegible]

FSU Summer School Offers Army ROTC

[illegible]

Education Honorary Initiates Students Faculty Members

The Kappa Delta Pi education honorary had their spring initiation Tuesday evening.

A banquet was also given in honor of the new members at the Lafayette room. Guest speaker at the banquet was Dr. Marion Irish of the Political Science department. Dr. Irish chose as her theme "UNESCO in Our Lives Today."

The undergraduates who were initiated were, Ellen Av[illegible] Herman [illegible], Frances Brenneman, Dorothy Bridges, Betty D'Lugos, Roberta Fe[illegible], Carolina Elcaretta, Marilyn Har[illegible], Virginia Lee, B[illegible] Lewis, M[illegible] Lin[illegible] Ken[illegible] L[illegible]h, Eleanor M[illegible], Norma Ma[illegible] Ann Monroe, C[illegible]yn Moore Betty Lou N[illegible] Margaret Parks, Jo N[illegible] Pr[illegible] Katherine Ritch Pat R[illegible] S[illegible] Rosemary Sn[illegible] Mary Lou S[illegible] Dorothy W[illegible] Catherine We[illegible] M[illegible] W[illegible] Grace Williams [illegible] were initiated were [illegible] Bridges Roy Burke [illegible] Faculty members who were initiated were Dr K[illegible] Montgomery, of the [illegible] education department and Miss Sallie W[illegible] of the art education department.

[illegible]

Greeks Hold Varied Activities Including Lectures, Formals

BY JUDY SIMKINS

Alpha Omicron Pi entertained the Sigma Chi fraternity last week with a spaghetti supper in their back yard. Afterwards the A O PI's presented a skit and sang, "There Is Nothing Like a Sig," a take-off on one of the songs which gave the Sigma Chi's first place in the Campus Sing. They also gave a steak supper and watermelon party for their interns and graduating seniors. The seniors presented the chapter with a silver tray.

Delta Zeta has been presenting a series of lectures for the cultural development of the members. Last Monday, Mr. Adolph Carl spoke on Modern Art and its Relationship with the Past. This Tuesday members and patrons will be present at a dinner given by the chapter honoring Dr Lincoln Canfield, faculty adviser to Delta Zeta

Dot Dou[illegible] was installed Monday night to replace Evie Carter resigning president of Gamma Phi Beta. Janet Rawls is the new pledge trainer and Helen Lawler will fill the office of Crescent Correspondent. The activities are [illegible] the members a Saturday [illegible] picnic supper at Lake Jackson. After graduation Gamma P[illegible] will hold their annual house party at Daytona Beach.

The Pi Beta Phi's held their annual Senior Farewell Banquet [illegible] Monday. The seniors [illegible] and read their [illegible] A. P. [illegible] scheduled for this coming Monday night at which time the plan for the Pi Phi summer convention to be held at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston Texas will be discussed. Elizabeth Hill has been elected delegate to convention with Jo Nell Proctor as her alternate Phi Delta Theta entertained President and Mrs Doak S Campbell and Vice-President and Mrs A B. Martin last Friday night at a dinner in the Phi Delt house. Newly elected officers for next year are as follows: Charles Jo[illegible] president; Steve Bailey, vice-president; Don Cooper, recording secretary; Ralph Eagleton, treasurer; James Thompson, chaplain; Dave Lan[illegible], alumni secretary; Ralph Eagleton, [illegible] Joseph Park[illegible] Bob B[illegible] Lamar Powe[illegible] Bob O'Connel steward; Walter Stokesbery house manager and Steve Bailey and Bob Berto IFC representatives.

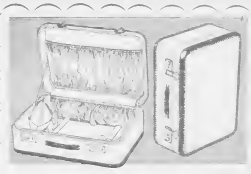
Sigma Alpha Epsilon [illegible] Friday [illegible] Wheat was elected [illegible] the coming year. P[illegible] and Mrs Rou[illegible] Dean MacBride [illegible] per Mrs R O [illegible] mother and Mr [illegible] Bishop were [illegible] house party [illegible] S[illegible] and [illegible]

Gardner Al[illegible]



Sigma Chi [illegible] godfather of [illegible] Sigma Chi [illegible] Training W[illegible] Oxford O[illegible] [illegible] Bob Drake [illegible] Carruthers and Q[illegible] Th[illegible]

WANTED

Couple to Operate Summer Resort on Gulf

From June 15 to September 15th

CONTACT JEFF LEWIS, 2-0020, or IVAN MUNROE 2-2600

Colorful Luggage

WARREN Luggage

EQUIPPED WITH SURFLEX* LIFETIME BINDINGS

"You'll want to go places" with these attractive cases covered with water repellent, double woven Wheat Canvas and bound with genuine SURFLEX* lifetime binding in sparkling Chinese Red or Hunter Green.

*SURFLEX lifetime binding resists scuffing, moisture, grease and stain— will not crack or peel— cleans easily with a damp cloth. An exclusive Warren creation.

Moon's

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Formerly Moats Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Dine with us in the Amber House

Country Fried Steak

We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

When classmates "bum" a cigarette,
They always come to me,
Because they know I smoke the best—
That's L.S./M.F.T.

Mildred Brown
Fresno Junior College

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference— and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just [illegible]" and really enjoying your smoke is the [illegible] cigarette. You can taste the difference [illegible] smoother, mellower [illegible] enjoyable [illegible] Lucky ... for two important reasons [illegible] L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco ... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. [illegible] Luckies are made to taste better [illegible] made of all five principal brands. So [illegible] Lucky [illegible] the cigarette that tastes [illegible] Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton [illegible]

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

In home ec. class the teacher says
That seasoning adds zest,
But I don't need a course to know
That Lucky tastes the best!

Jane Bates Beeston
University of Connecticut

Anatomy's my roughest lab,
But everything is ducky
When I can lay my scalpel down
And light a tasty Lucky!

Richard J. Dorger
University of Cincinnati

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES L.S./M.F.T.

©A.T.Co.

[illegible] The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Class of 1952
To Say Farewell
Saturday, June 7

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII No. 57

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

Tuesday, May 27, 1952

Suggestions Offered
To New Senate
See Editorial Page

Cocking Speaks At Graduation Exercises

Greek Week Ends With Annual Dance

Disabled Veterans' Home Repaired; Streets Cleaned by Fraternity Men

[illegible] up detail for the city of Tallahassee, frat men [illegible] a disabled veteran's home, two formal dances [illegible] selection of a queen were some of the highlights [illegible] Week, sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council [illegible] under the leadership of IFC President Garland [illegible]

[illegible] last Mon [illegible] advisors of [illegible] on F[illegible] came to [illegible] discussed with [illegible] imp[illegible]

[illegible] SPEAKERS came [illegible]

[illegible]

Coeds Scared But Unharmed In False Raid

By BRUCE GALPHIN

A milling, noisy crowd of some 300 college boys gave Florida State co-eds a scare [illegible] Thursday night but failed to follow the increasing national trend toward "panty raids."

The crowd began to assemble in [illegible] Reynolds hall shortly [illegible] p. m. [illegible] time [illegible] women's dorms and stayed for [illegible] and a half, yelling [illegible] themselves and [illegible] at passing city [illegible]

NEVER DID [illegible] seem [illegible] Several of [illegible] and they had [illegible] to see what would be[illegible] there [illegible]

[illegible] of Student Welfare [illegible] appeared [illegible] the group began to [illegible] and calmly stated that [illegible] would not afford [illegible] of a raid. The [illegible] made no menacing [illegible]

TWO FOOTBALL players ad[illegible]

Continued on Page 2

Prominent Educator Cocking to Speak At Commencement

[illegible]

HE GRADUATED [illegible] 1913 [illegible]

[illegible]

HE WAS [illegible] administration at [illegible] College in Nashville, Tenn. [illegible] 1933, after [illegible] State Commissioner [illegible] for Tennessee. [illegible] of the College of Education of the University of Georgia [illegible] 1941 and now [illegible] The School Executive and The American School and University.

Cocking served in the [illegible] World War as a lieutenant in the field artillery. He is author of Organization and Administration of Public Education, and co-author of Administrative Procedures in Curriculum Making and The American School.

HE ALSO SERVED as chief specialist in the school administration for the late President Roosevelt's Advisory Committee on Education, [illegible] former director of the [illegible] Educational [illegible] Other [illegible] YMCA [illegible] Committee of [illegible] Agency and [illegible] the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Stewart To Speak At Baccalaureate In Baptist Church

[illegible]

FBLA Elects Officers

[illegible] president is [illegible] for next year.

Degrees Conferred In Stadium June 7

President Doak S. Campbell [illegible] present [illegible] seniors June 7 [illegible] with the evening's address being [illegible] Cocking, editor of the School [illegible] final commencement exercises will [illegible]

[illegible]

ON THE NIGHT [illegible]

THE SENIORS [illegible]

STUDENTS WILL [illegible]

[illegible]

Students Raise Helping Funds In Legal 'Raid'

'Pennies For Panties' Is Theme of Drive To Aid Injured Man

By AL PIERCE

"Pennies for Panties" was the theme behind an organized dormitory and sorority raid last night on Florida State University campus.

Instead of a surging mob of male students trying to emulate other collegians all over the country in an attempt to [illegible] of their unmentionables, [illegible] Greeks and dormitory residents joined forces last night in a well-organized [illegible] round of parties [illegible] of doing a good deed in [illegible]

AT 11 P. M. all fraternity and dorm groups made their [illegible] way to [illegible] and dorms where they were [illegible] a full hour of [illegible] and [illegible] free to [illegible] with donation to help a [illegible] student.

Don Anderson, a Pi Kappa Tau who was seriously injured at a picnic at Panama City [illegible] remains in critical condition. Greeks of Alpha Tau [illegible] started the ball rolling by suggesting a campus-wide drive to help defray expenses for Anderson and [illegible]

ALL OTHER [illegible]

[illegible] to the FSU [illegible]

IN THE MIDST [illegible] serious move [illegible] Fraternity [illegible] representatives [illegible]

[illegible]

UPPER MAGNOLIA [illegible]

[illegible]

(Continued on Page 2)

Presidents' Parting Message Hails Graduating Classmates

[illegible]

Editor Says Annual Ready Next Tuesday

The [illegible] Florida State University Annual will start be[illegible] students next [illegible] to Claudia [illegible]

[illegible] work[illegible] annual be[illegible] home [illegible] Miss Thomas [illegible]

Picnic For Interns Scheduled May 30 At Silver Lake

[illegible]

Organization

[illegible] urged all members to attend [illegible]

Executive Council Has Done Much For More Representative Government

DICK BRADLEY

[illegible] week [illegible] students [illegible]

A QUESTIONNAIRE [illegible] made [illegible] and opinions [illegible]

THE STUDENTS [illegible]

THE STUDENT [illegible]

THE YEAR [illegible]

OF ALL THE [illegible]

[illegible] events, en[illegible] "Fun and Fr[illegible] being organized. Due [illegible] activities.

(Florida State University)

Culpepper To Speak At Jr.-Sr. Breakfast

Dr. Broward J. Culpepper dean of student welfare, will make an informal speech during the traditional Sophomore-Senior breakfast to be held Sunday, June 1, at 6 p.m. in the Lafayette room.

Tickets for the breakfast will be 55 cents. Last year the price was 90 cents.

Dick Bradley, president of the Senior class, and June Conyers president of the Sophomore class, will also talk to the group.

It is customary for the Sophomore sister or brother to take the Seniors to this annual event.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
Cameron's Texaco Service Station
Formerly Meats Service Station
566 W TENNESSEE DIAL 3-5619

Chest Drive Plans Dances, Speeches

Tentative plans for the Campus Chest drive of 1952-53 include a dance and speeches and forums led by the regional director of the World Student Service Fund, to which 80 percent of the collections go.

Margaret Krusemann, chairman of the drive, has appointed 11 committee heads for next fall's drive. They are Joan Dewey, secretary; Marty Staley, finance; Shirley Grazier dance, Phoebe Jackson, publicity, Kingman Brittain, fraternities, Frankie Brownlee, sororities, Helen Hamrick, dormitories Sally Reed, churches; Skip Schock faculty, Eleanor Smith, other organizations, and Helen Hamilton calendar.

Mr. Gleason, regional director of the WSSF, plans to come to Tallahassee from Atlanta to tell the students for what money given to the WSSF will be used.

Leadership Group Holds Post Mortem At Phi Mu House

The steering committee of the recent Leadership Training Conference will have a post-mortem Coke party tomorrow afternoon at 5 p.m. at the Phi Mu sorority house.

Marjorie Mecklroth, who was a co-chairman of the conference, is in charge of the party. Dick Bradley was the other co-chairman.

The purpose of the party is an informal discussion of criticisms and evaluations for next year's conference. Blueprint members of this steering group are Mary Ruth Summers, Bill Dunn, Milton Carruthers, Carolyn Olds, Marcia Morris, Bob Canada, Bill Mills, and Peg Moore.

The faculty members are Otis McBride, dean of men; Katherine Walker, dean of women; James F. Carr, assistant dean of men; Elizabeth Lynn, assistant dean of women; Broward Culpepper, dean of student welfare. Also Mary V. Alexander, assistant professor of physical education; George Hellman, counselor of fraternities, William L. Leap, social work professor and Dr. Wesley C. Harter, associate professor of business.

Alumni Office Has Tickets For Picnic

Tickets for the Senior Picnic, to be held Friday, June 6, at Camp Flastacowo may be obtained until Wednesday, June 4, at the Alumni office in the Longmire building. Dick Bradley, class president, announced. There will be no cost for the tickets.

The picnic is being arranged by the Florida State University Alumni Association for the seniors, their families, and guests. The tickets have been made solely for the purpose of letting the association know how many to expect so that sufficient food might be prepared.

Buses will be at the Doak S. Campbell Stadium at 10 a.m. Friday to take the seniors and their guests out to camp. Facilities for swimming and other sports will be available. The picnic lunch is planned for early in the afternoon. Buses will return the seniors to East Campus in time for them to take part in the Senior Day functions.

Waring To Include McGarity's Score

"Stars of the Summer Night" a musical score written by Hugh McGarity of Florida State University, will be included in the repertoire sessions of the Fred Waring choral workshops this summer, according to an announcement by Ernest R. Farmer, of the Waring organization.

McGarity's number, which is a setting of the familiar poem by Henri Wadsworth Longfellow, has recently been published by Shawnee Press, Inc. The first performance was given in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, at a vocal clinic sponsored by the In-and-About Pittsburg Music Educators club. It was also featured in a recent concert given by the University Singers, directed by Dr. Wiley L. Housewright.

McGarity is Director of Music at Clemson College, South Carolina presently on leave of absence to study for his doctor's degree at Florida State. He will be staff pianist for the Fred Waring Workshop this summer.

Students Raise

(Continued from Page 1)

Sigma Alpha Epsilon marched on Kappa Alpha Theta and Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Kappa Alpha at the Delta Gamma house, Lambda Chi Alpha at Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Tau Omega visited the Pi Beta Phi's and the Alpha Gamma Deltas.

SIGMA PHI Epsilon surprised the Alpha Xi Delta's. Sigma Nu spent the hour at the Zeta Tau Alpha house, Theta Chi was at the Chi Omega house, and the Phi Delta Thetas, at the Sigma Kappa house.

Much good publicity was gained for the student body in the campus-wide good deed when a Life photographer and several newspapermen appeared at various sorority houses and dorms to put the event on record as a credit to the students of FSU.

"ANDERSON'S RAID" serves to prove two major points to the world at large about the students of FSU. First, that independents and fraternities can cooperate in a joint venture with great success, and second, that a feeling of genuine friendship and loyalty exists between men and women alike at Florida State. This action proves that there are still college men and women who are capable of acting like sensible adults in an institution where they are trying to learn that the Old Days Recalled By Paper's 1915 Edition

Reminiscent of the "good old days" was the shoot of the modern Flambeau which was displayed on the Education bulletin board this past week. It had been published Nov. 6, 1915.

The yellowed pages told the story of a newspaper "heaven" when faculty-revues committees, publication heads, and Senate deadlocks would have been out of place among the announcements of "delightful teas," "jolly auto parties," fire drills, parents' visits, health, diet, society news, and "lady-like" behavior.

THE FOUR-PAGE tabloid accuser of the modern Flambeau sold for $1 per year and had an advertising rate of 15 cents per inch.

All the headlines looked alike and proclaimed "Conferring Literary Clubs" and "A Delightful Halloween Dance."

UNDOUBTEDLY the issue had been preserved because it contained news of one of the college's milestones, its admittance to the Southern Association of Colleges of which Gainesville was the only other Florida college enrolled at that time.

Knowledge of the outside world was recorded in the brief bulletins concerning World War I.

THE 1915 Flambeau must have appealed to the students because it contained jokes. An example of one was:

"Mizpah' 'Say Virginia, what are you doing out there? Studying Latin?'—Virginia: 'No, I'm building a tin roof over the Euphrates River'"

Current Flambeau Business Manager Joan Etheridge commented on the "exciting" ad copy included in the 1915 edition. J. O. Williams, Jewelers, advised "College Girls, thinking of the Christmastide should visit our store. Beautiful and pretty things in a profusion of variety. Every bit of worth is crowded in our price."

THE DENNIS Theater announced a special 3 o'clock p.m. matinee, to meet university regulation hours, and assured the public that they'd cleared the Dean's office and "college girls were permitted to attend."

But gone are those reckless days of the Florida State College for Women in 1915 when prices ran down and standards were up.

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF '52
Strickland's

Coeds Scared

(Continued from Page 1)

tion had given permission for students to take up a collection for Don Anderson, a Phi Kappa Tau who had recently broken his neck. Beliers intimated that the collection would be cancelled if there were a raid.

CURTIS CAMPBELL, co-captain of next year's football team said that "the fraternities" were down to stop the raid and that anyone who wanted to start trouble would have to "crawl over" the football team.

Neither speech caused any immediate break-up of the crowd, but eventually the students left the scene.

Women's dormitories proceeded according to previous instructions and kept lights out and rooms locked.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

WE NEED YOUR USED BOOKS
WE PAY CASH!
$ $ $
University Book Store
IN THE DINING HALL

The Students Delight
• Stuffed Egg With Chicken Salad 60c
• Imported Sardines Cold Plate with Potato Salad 60c
• Stuffed Tomato with Shrimp Salad 75c
• California Fruit Plate with Cream Cheese 75c
• Assorted Cold Cuts with Potato Salad and Garnishings $1.00
• Seven Seas Special Grecian Salad with olive oil and vinegar $1.00
Seven Seas

P. W. Wilson Suggest
"Gifts for the Graduate"
Men or Women

Gifts of Quality from Wilson's for your Favorite
GUY or GAL Graduate
For Him
• Billfolds
• Shaving Kits
• Ties
• Tie Clasp
• Shirts
• Belts
For Her
• Compacts
• Jewelry Boxes
• Billfolds
• Lingerie
• Blouses
• Sewing Kits
P. W. WILSON CO.
—Since 1837—

"Serving Tallahassee"
LEWIS STATE BANK
INDUSTRIAL BANK OF TALLAHASSEE
CAPITAL CITY NATIONAL BANK
TALLAHASSEE STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY
ALL BANKS ARE MEMBERS OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Political Parties Advocated By Former UGA Senators

Solve Two former UGA Senators suggestions for the improvement government at FSU.

BY PHIL SPRINGER AND PANCHO SYED

government at FSU is ever ough "big things" for the students, from a united effort on the executive, legislative, and judiciaries of our government. Cooperation and harmony within each branches of student government ng all of them. The student body, student government, must present front in order to emerge victorconflicts with external elements, the Administration, faculty, one way this united effort can about by through political par- certainly there will continue to be classes until we have legitimate political parties. In a political party, students be organized as to goals—platform and gram. Students that are elected will be responsible to a party to which they belong. If the student official does not keep promises to the student or does a bad the party will be hurt and the students more likely to vote for its candidates at ext election.

Under our present set-up without parties, example, your Senior Class officers are ected in the fall quarter. They graduate and can, therefore, do an inadequate since they don't have to worry about election. The functioning of political parties more than other things will give student government from without, while we are strengthening it from within.

The student government can get many ideas from other student governments e NSA on how to improve and operate our student government for the best interests of the student body. The student government ld have in a special section should have ion-line say in determining whether of not we should affiliate with NSA.

For a better student government the repreentatives of the students should strive to combine the qualities of politician, diplomat and statesman. He should acquire that ecessity of a politician of finding out what the students want and don't want, he should be responsive to the wishes of the students who elected him. He should be diplomat by using methods of skill in order to show the needs and wishes constituents realized. Political promises become realities through blunders, failings, and carelessness.

The student official should also emulate the statesman. He should be unbended and far-sighted in considering and acting for the students. He consider all the consequences, both positive and ultimate. By striving to ward all of these things, the student representative cannot help but give the students a more effective and beneficial government.

Many students have little or no respect for their student government because they see no concrete results from student government—no direct benefits. A student cannot be blamed for taking this attitude when all he hears about student government is that it rewrites the constitution, passes some rules of procedure. These things are important and are prerequisities for smooth-functioning student government but these accomplishments do not directly benefit the student body.

Student government should spend less time on the above and more time in working on worthwhile projects which will enhance the recreational, social, intellectual, and cultural life of the student body. For example, the University Government Association could initiate a faculty-evaluation program, or institute more informal dances on the campus, or sponsor speakers for discussion of current problems in the fields of education, government, science, etc. Also even the professors on the campus and the public officials downtown there is a wealth of untapped information.

The UGA can get more ideas of what to do for the students after they see the results of the Gold Key poll of student opinion. So to give the students more confidence in their government, the government should use what the students' concerns results.

Much of the blame for the inadequacy of our student can be placed with the Administration. The Administration is afraid that student government is not mature enough to accept more responsibility than it now has. This is a natural emotion but many responsible student leaders feel that the Administration should ask for and will receive the help of student government in solving problems which may arise.

For example, the Administration should have brought its proposal for L'Apache to the Executive Council of the UGA or to the Organizations Commitee instead of directly banning L'Apache from campus. Then this issue could be done it should have been done by the Executive Council since that body through its Organizations Committee grants charters to campus organizations and has the authority to revoke a charter if the organization does not abide by its constitution. Student government should have been presented with the facts of the case and it would have taken just and appropriate action.

The above episode is a specific example of the Administration's deliberately ignoring and thwarting the representatives of the students and the students themselves. All student government wants is a chance to show that it can accept responsibility and it will do the best of that chance.

Student government—the student body —has made some progress this year, but there must be a meeting of the minds and methods between the Administration and the students government if we are to go forward, and we must go forward.

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

ANOTHER CLASS OF GRADS TO FACE WORLD!

By FRANCES CAWTHON

The cold cruel world is getting its clutches into another 700 somenoid Florida State grads again.

There are three types of people graduating this June, the Liberals, the Conservatives and the Indifferents. The Liberals are the ones who are going to smatch their diplomas and run like mad for the nearest exit, the Conservatives are the ones who are going to shed the tears to thank Tallahassee's humidity above the saturation point; and the Indifferents will say, Well, I came; now I'm going, and so what.

It is not hard to picture this year's commencement. A commentator might examine it thusly:

"Ladies and gentlemen, a large crowd is gathered here at the stadium tonight to watch the class of 1952 graduate and go out as leaders of the cold world of tomorrow. The audience, waiting expectantly for the lively strains of Sousa's Band, is composed mostly of happy Mamas and Papas who are down to their very last nickel and mortgage in order to finance their kids through college. Aunt Matildas, Cousin Joes and Uncle Sams, both the civilian and khaki varieties are all eagerly watching for the appearance of the young scholars. Hey! There's "Ha-" I heard from a nearby professor:

"And now we hear the strains of the march, and HERE THEY COME!!! Ah, how dignified they look . . . and how humbling. You can see that it is evidently a hard day for some of them, who must leave their dear, beloved Alma Mater. There is so much crying going on that several students are being carried off the field in row boats. Others are staggering across with hand tired looks of their faces, having spents the previous night in vain . . . Ah, shall we say, tender celebration of the event where a variety of . . . uh, liquids were served.

"They all take their places and the commencement speaker is introduced by Dr. Campbell. The students listen with rapt attention as they hear the world to come—income taxes, draft boards, routines. In fact, the ones who did listen have now enrolled for M.A. degrees in order to avoid it all.

"And now they are handing out diplomas. The last student has just received his and the class is now filing out the aisle. Listen to that great college song. High o'er the towering pines' . . .

"Well, that's it, folks. Campbell and the commencement speaker are piloting themselves off the floor and with great dignity, as the class of '52 tears down the floor and heads toward the goal . . . er, the goal of sound citizenship. that is.

Well . . . all kidding aside There are going to be a lot of old bedraggled faces around here which are going to be missed.

We love you, kids, well most of you anyway. Here is so your future, may you come back for every Homecoming, send all your children and grandchildren to FSU and endow the University with a fifty-million dollar recreation fund.

Bye - - -

OFF THE CUFF . . .

UNITED WE STAND, DIVIDED WE FALL

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

There is an old Greek myth about Jason, who, in search of gold, has a interesting today as it ever was.

Jason was the Greek warrior who single-handedly defeated an entire army of enemies. But, since he was single-handed, he alone into their midst and setting them fighting themselves.

The old story of Jason has been repeated throughout history; it is well known to the American revolutionists who, in unity, said, "United we stand, divided we fall."

During the siege of Madrid in the Spanish revolution the partisans of the dying republic knew Jason's tactics when Franco spoke of "four columns without and a fifth column within."

The point is perhaps best demonstrated by an old European tale about a despotic but clever king who fully understood the principles of internal dissension.

This king was by no means all bad: he had about him wise men and artists, musicians and fry philosophers, and was very proud of these people, in fact.

That was because everyone he found it so difficult to understand why he also kept about him, in years and his subjects had just no own palace, a large number of ignorant, unpleasant, dirty ruffians who, although they were politically active, true, but the majority of them were just thoroughly unlikeable persons. Today they would be called thugs.

The king invested these boorish people better than all his scholars and artists. He lavished luxuries upon them, clothe them and take care of all their needs, while they in turn were to make a lot of sound and annoy the more decent people in the land. Their purpose in life was to create such a disturbance that the people would finally understood the tactics of the king and leave their own affairs to him.

The inhabitants of the small kingdom wondered whether these favorites of the ruler had any purpose in being, but they could continue such a lary life. The people should have known, as their king did, that security for most men is more important than anything else.

The dwellers of the little country finally understood the tactics of the king and gave their own up realism him. The ruler had succeeded in his experiment and his despotism for a number of years.

Onlookers at Thursday night's graduation exercises, no doubt, have been impressed with the pretiness both of the "raiders" and of the band.

The would-be dorm commanders consisted mostly of frustrated young men seeking a vicarious thrill, while the Gallahads proved their gallantry by stripping their shirts and delivering heartsand-flowers speeches which had nothing to do with the situation at hand.

The calm dignity of Evan J. Dreyfoos, Jr. never stood out like a sore thumb in the emotional crowd.

Tuesday, May 27, 1952

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Bill Dunn—Editor

Babs Henry — Managing Editor
Frances Cawthon — News Editor
Associate Editor — Bruce Galphin, Marsha Myers
Sports Editor — Lou
Society Editor — Judy Sullivan
Feature Editor — Sam Mann
Rewrite Editor — John Wilkes
Assistant News Editor — Al Perry

BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager — Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor — Ann
Assistants — Jo Hall, Fe Pittman, Lou Calderon, Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-000 Ext. 4621 — entered Post Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published each week by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

Platform Evaluation

Dear Editor:

When I ran for UGA president I submitted a platform, on which I ran again tried my political wings in the Senatorial race. Here is my report on my promises to the students.

1. Student activity fee: I tried to have the breakdown of the fee published in the Flambeau, but was persuaded of the dangers involved. I did not always have the courage. I succeeded, then, in getting the Senate budget published in the committee, but again we were discouraged in our attempts at implementation. So like two Tweedle Dees, at the end of the year, in the adoption of the cabinet system, the student activity fee was turned over to the legislative body of student government. Result: a study by the Senate now we may certainly exercise the right of information and of suggestion as to how the money shall be used. This I consider of greatest value in developing interest and training, and my best contribution to the students.

2. Water increase for student assistants: Here is a subject of more direct interest to a very deserving segment of our student body. I have had a very interes-ting conference with Mr. Wyly of the Dean Hall office of the Vocational Guidance Office, and the many facets of this question came to light. The result of the difficulty is the elementary economic premise that there isn't an unlimited supply of goods for an unlimited number of people. Though this is true it is a fact that funds for student assistants, I still think that there will continue to allow a larger basic wage than the present 50 cents per hour. The budget had been made however, and the legislature does not meet until next year. I felt, with my associates that this was a worthwhile matter and we tried to ease the situation by incorporating a Secretary of Labor in the Cabinet. This met with admirable disapproval. I held this ideal word in this matter. I want to say that I know that Mr. Wyly has the interests of the students in mind and that he is willing to cooperate in any way he can for students. So here's hoping for student action and better wages.

3. Sports relations with F. U.: Here I did not have much time to work you are capable, if not the most with. I had planned a series of relations in basketball and swimming against the U of F. I thought was worth it and act accordingly. Don't a beginning. I know that you and relations. Still an open question . . . self both are grateful to Anna

It has been a pleasure to be in student government. I want to thank the students for the opportunity to be recognized and feel of service. There's no more space for more philosophizing, so here's to stronger student government, Panche Syed.

Dirty, Isn't It?

Editor's Note: This is an excerpt from a letter written to an FSU co-ed by a University of Florida student who visits the recreation dormitory lake.

May 23, 1952

Dear Belle:

Everything you mentioned about what happened here in the past—but as a resident over 300 students are now under trial in the honor court, and they certainly are a disgusted student yesterday.

I think FSU girls are very fortunate. Many girls here lost every piece of clothing they had—and when they have heard that investigations were going on—they have been told that they took—dirty isn't it?

U. of F. Senior.

Wishes Luck

Dead Editor, Staff and Fellow Students.

Here is the scurry of my last deadline for the Florida Flambeau, and it's a hard one to write. I wish you fellow slave writers, you fellow staff members and dead.

To former Editor Bob Griffin, I say I enjoyed working with you and wish you luck.

To Editor Bill Dunn, I say you have an even harder job than I had. It is a skeleton staff I know that you, like Editor Griffin, will do wonders from your heart to help get out this paper. Editor Griffin was of great assistance to my staff on several issues.

To Joan Etheridge, business manager, I say that you are a model of this paper, because she points in the right direction. I say she will be superb a job next year as you have this year.

To Babs Henry, managing editor, you above all suffer from an insufficient staff, and I know you have the interest of the students in mind and that he is willing to cooperate in any way he can for students. So here's hoping for student action and better wages.

To Bruce Galphin, Marsha Myers, Lou Calderon, Judy Sullivan, Sam Mann, John Wilkes, Al Perry, Pat Robinson, Ann Hall, Fe Pittman, Nancy Lowe, Jo Hall, Jack Bailey, Bill Dunn, Joan Etheridge, Babs Henry, Frances Cawthon, Bill Upshaw, Jack Gould, Jim Kirk, Willis Tyrrell, Jim Beal and Walkere Dynes.

My thanks to Mr. Ramsey and Dr. Paul Reynolds, Dr. Otis McBride, Dr. Charles Davis, and Dr. Samuel Dwyer, J. B. Grant in the returns faculty member.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

The men of FSU are basically alike.

They were stripped of their last vestiges of self respect not by natural enemies but by some of their own number. By men whose athletic prowess has given them the right to rest of stewards and masculinity. They have come to lesson 4 the one that talks about idols and feet of clay.

They are the men who are trying to live up to the bad taste left by a fairly good natured demonstration being turned into a beep-beep breast-beating session unexcelled at any "Muscle Beach" in the U.S.A.

The "defenders" were patted on the back by praise by powers-that-be, in a monumental misunderstanding of the role of leadership and the fundamentals of mind of young men. They were whispering what more reckless characters were shouting from the rooftops of the Nation. "I'm a defender, you're a defender, when I'm going to drop my teacup—and start acting like one."

There was no danger of this crew doing anything even more dangerous than crowding around the informal mass meeting to the threats next morning. A University official with was on the scene from the start said he didn't consider outbreak of the fiasco at one time—when the muscular ones heard challenges as tha crowd.

Some of the defenders were sincere, they stood against what they thought was a real threat. Others were [illegible] of the oldest stimuli in the world—sex and self assurance of. Which a which? They got a feeling only they could [illegible]

Congrats to characters who will look at their [illegible] on sleepless—and promptly lose respect for [illegible]

IPC getting bouquets for the first dances in years [illegible] you actually got in some dancing. That burr-headed Mooney character is the greatest; fresh man ever. He has the most casual, ensuring poise presence to hit Tally in many a moon.

To Friends, Romans, wifflers — Thank for a stimulating year.

VOTE OF THANKS

A vote of thanks is extended Dr. Venila Shores today from the class of 1952. Dr. Shores has been the crutch of several graduating classes at commencement time.

The head of the history department has served as chairman of the commencement exercises since 1948 and was chief marshal previous to that. She was appointed the first chief marshal at this University in 1947.

Dr. Shores came to FSCW in 1922 when President Edward Conradi was administrative head. She has devoted her time and effort to FSCW and FSU since.

Recently thanked by the Alumni Association, Dr. Shores has been the crutch of several graduating classes at commencement time.

The head of the history department has served as chairman of the commencement exercises since 1948 and was chief marshal previous to that. She was appointed the first chief marshal at this University in 1947.

Dr. Shores came to FSCW in 1922 when President Edward Conradi was administrative head. She has devoted her time and effort to FSCW and FSU since.

Recently thanked by the Alumni Association, Dr. Shores has been the crutch of several graduating classes at commencement time.

DORM DOINGS

Parties Help Make Dorm Life A Thing of Joy for Occupants

BY JUDY SIMPKINS

The University Social Calendar for this past presents a picture of many various dormitory flash

Cawthon Smith began the ebullient dance opened the second semesters functions. The Cawthon Hall Formal and the Jennie Murphree, with all the women's dormitories in November was the scene of Landis and Cawthon receptions and Reynolds Hall's formal dances took place in January.

The Jennie Murphree formal was preceded by a series of teas and most of them put a bit of joy into Exam Week by serving tea and cookies to the girls at lighting.

The Glehrist reception house meetings appeared also this semester. Religious Emphasis week St Patrick's Day, Embarkment and a host of other teas enjoyed.

There were two house meetings, and sundry informal Wednesday teas and receptions during the course of the three months. Some of the dormitories served Sunday breakfast

In and may be picked up any time in the University Book Store, Book Manager Gordon Wheeler said yesterday.

Mr. Wheeler also said yesterday that all faculty and student graduation results will be turned in at Doak S. Campbell stadium immediately after graduating the conferring of degrees. The stands will be open to alphabetically.

The Book Store manager warned that any regalia not turned in immediately after graduation would cause students to lose their deposits on them.

Students who rented caps and gowns in October but find that they will graduate in June are also asked to turn their gowns in after graduation if not before. Wheeler mails the gowns back the Monday morning following the final commencement exercises.

If a student plans to graduate in August he will also have to turn in his regalia and reorder them or else he will lose his deposit.

Graduation announcement's are

ODK Year Features Rallies; Blood Bank Speech Bureau

A growing list of campus projects has been added to Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary, by the national leadership-scholastic society for men which recognizes outstanding student and faculty leaders each year.

The group's first major project was the Gold Key Student Service drive which collected a total of $1,000 from the student body state college record. The four day drive in December was completed through the efforts of the chairmanship of Bob Griffin, ex-President of ODK.

THE STUDENT-faculty blood bank ran concurrently during the campus-wide drive for boiod for the Armed Forces. The student blood bank was established by ODK two years ago. In cooperation with the university hospital and the Tallahassee Memorial Hospital members of ODK and students save a pint of blood each to start the bank. According to Dr. Thomas Brooks, FSU physician, one student's life was definitely saved by the establishment of the student-faculty blood bank. Any student or faculty member that needs a transfusion may receive it free of charge. A processing fee of $10 is charged.

During this past year students and faculty members donated 1,000 pints to the Memorial Hospital to keep credit high.

THE THIRD project of the year was the establishment of political preceding each. University Government and class elections to enable student interest in government and give each student the opportunity to present his or her platform before the students. Jerry Thomas was in charge of the rallies.

Groundwork was laid for the campus speech bureau in June ODK Secretary Charles Daniel. The leadership of Dick Bradley and Wallace Dynes the bureau furnished speakers to civic clubs, alumni groups and high schools throughout Florida. Three programs were presented by ODK in cooperation with the FSU speech department this past week. The programs were arranged by the ODK speakers bureau.

THE ODK members assisted during Freshman Week and distributed literature to help with the orientation of the freshmen. Bill Upshaw, ODK vice-president, was in charge of this section of ODK's activities.

Sponsored by ODK, in joint sponsorship with Mortar Board, organized the annual Leadership Banquet which was held two weeks ago. Dirk Bradley assisted Mortar Board in this project.

THE FSU CIRCLE was also host to the annual Southern Conference Convention of ODK which is held each two years. Jim Ball, outgoing president of ODK, was toastmaster and secretary, were in charge of the convention.

Other activities included the first ODK alumni breakfast and the assistance with FSU's many class days.

NEW PRESIDENT is Willis Tyrell. Bob Tully will be vice-president, treasurer, Dan Boone, and new secretary Mary Ann Hall. Bill Upshaw will handle the Speakers Bureau and Tully will handle the Blood Bank during the coming year.

Graduating members of ODK are Jerry Thomas, Bob Griffin, Asian Head, Bill Upshaw, Dick Bradley, Jack Bailey, Jack Gould, Jim Kirk, Willis Tyrrell, Jim Beal and Walkere Dynes.

ACTIVE members are Dr. Paul Reynolds, Dr. Otis McBride, Dr. Charles Davis, and Dr. Samuel Dwyer, J. B. Grant in the returns faculty member.

Campus Girl Could Be Nation's College Queen

A Florida State University co-ed might have a chance to be the "College Queen of America," if the university selects someone in the nation-wide contest sponsored by the National Advertising System's "Queen for a Day."

Any co-ed, 18 years of age or older, enrolled in a U. S. college or university in the year 1952, is eligible.

THE ENTRY submitted should be the authorized entry of the individual college or university and may be submitted by college or university through any one of the following persons:

1. A girl selected by the college yearbook, where such a campus publication exists.

2. Officially selected as the campus queen by the college newspaper.

3. Chosen by the student council of the college or university.

4. Selected by an authorized college or university poll of the student body.

IN CASE Tally-Ho, the UGA or some other authorized organization cares to enter a nomination, an application blank may be obtained in the Student Affairs office.

Closing date for entries will be June 9, 1952. The contest will be judged from photographs submitted, the girl's ability to act personality, and charm by a board of impartial beauty experts headed by Jack Bailey, master of ceremonies of "Queen for a Day," which is broadcast over a network of prior to June 1.

ON JUNE 6, five winners will be chosen, all of whom will receive prizes. These five nominees will be flown to Hollywood for three days, June 16-19, and will have an opportunity to appear on the "Queen for a Day" radio and television program, where the studio audience will choose one of them as "College Queen of America." All contestants under the direction of the local supervision of their parents or guardian while in Hollywood and will receive additional prizes. The five nominees will be announced on "Queen for a Day" on June 13. The final winner will be announced June 20.

Although the national winner will be most munificently treated, all five will receive gifts including a portable typewriter, a camera or some reserve a [illegible] Hollywood trip.

Continued on Page 4.

Educotion Prof Pens Article on Internship

Dr. John Permenter, associate professor in the School of Education, is author of an article titled, "A Statewide Teaching Internship Program" published in the May issue of Teachers College Record, a national periodical published at Columbia University.

The article is an informal evaluation of the internship program and the contribution of Interns to the program in Florida. It deals with the history and development of the internship program in the state.

Dr. Permenter received his Ph. D. degree from Columbia University.

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car
In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO
SERVICE STATION

131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

Sign Up Now
To Work On The

SUMMER FLAMBEAU

- Editorial
  - Reporter
  - Rewriter
  - Feature Writer
- Business
  - Office Assistants
  - Advertising
    - Solicitors
    - Layout Artist

Sign Up In FLAMBEAU OFFICE

MUSICAL BIRTHDAY PARTY—The University Symphony Orchestra, the Theater Dance Group and the University Singers combined talents last night and last Thursday night to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the symphony orchestra.

Opperman Hall Overflows For Anniversary Concert

By IRVIN COOPER

When the Opperman Music Hall of the Florida State University is not equipped to explain, it overflows into the corridors and backstage it is an occasion worthy of note and a maximum credit to the performing groups which attract such an audience.

The 25th anniversary concert of the University Symphony Orchestra attracted near capacity almost 30 minutes before the concert began.

ORGANIZATIONS participating in the concert were the University Singers directed by Wilma L. Heidenreich, the Theater Dance Group under the direction of Nenie-Bonn Dickinson and the Symphony Orchestra conducted by Robert N. Sedore.

The program was planned in three sections, the first of which was choral-orchestra, the second group orchestral, and modern dance interpretation, while the third contained choral orchestral and dancing groups together.

ALTHOUGH the first number, Bach's Cantata, Ban... Man Lauds, was [illegible] ...ction, it was the most ambitious [illegible] ...ing, requiring as it did the full resources of the orchestra, the choral group and the soloists. The Psalmus Hungaricus, by Kodaly based on Psalm 55, provided a stirring climax with [illegible] ...ation with a...

It was a unique moving, and [illegible] ...ntrasted to the [illegible] ...ance, a dramatic [illegible] ...ation, and [illegible] ...ed the [illegible] ...ensive interpretation of [illegible] ...ing.

DR. HOUSEWRIGHT'S [illegible] ...ion of [illegible] ...were beautiful [illegible] ...both [illegible] ...and [illegible] ...with a large [illegible] ...ensembles [illegible] ...and [illegible] ...and [illegible] ...ing [illegible] ...and [illegible] ...

The modern dance, on the program was divided into a symphonic [illegible] ...by Carpenter [illegible] ...to the [illegible] ...Sedore [illegible] ...and [illegible] ...Nenie-Bonn Dickinson [illegible] ...Theater Dance Group [illegible] ...Nenie-Bonn Dickinson [illegible] ...Symphony Orchestra [illegible] ...

NEED FORMAL WEAR?
RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionable correct clothes at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50

Vic's Toggery

Foreign Service Exams Slated September 8-11

The Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service has announced that the next written examination for appointment of Foreign Service officers—Class 6, will be held September 8-11. Deadline for the receipt of applications is July 1.

The age qualifications for designation for the examination have been changed from 21 through 30 to 20 through 30. Candidates successful in that examination will be called for the oral examination early in the following spring and those successful will be offered appointments in June or July. The examinations are graded on a relative rather than on an absolute basis and the juniors will help set the standard for passing.

Candidates receiving an average grade of 70 or higher in all parts of the written examination except the examination in modern languages, but who failed to receive a grade of 70 or higher in the modern languages, have not been permitted to proceed to the oral examinations. Under the new arrangements such candidates will be required to take the re-examination in modern languages in April following the September written examination.

Class of '52 Reunion Set for Homecoming

The Class of '52 will have a reunion at next year's Homecoming on Nov. 15, 1952. All graduating seniors, therefore, should leave their addresses in the Alumni office of the Longmire building before the end of school.

The Homecoming game will be against Furman at 2:30 p.m. in the Doak S. Campbell Stadium on Nov. 15.

FROM

Steyerman's

Gifts of Remembrance
For Florida State's Finest Graduates

Vanity Fair Lingerie	Hang Bags
	Costume Jewelry
Bendel	Archer
Christan Dior Perfume	Christan Dior Hose
Blouses	Gloves
Scarves	Bras

Steyerman's
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR QUALITY

Dine with us

in the

Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Linen
IMPORTED AND IMPORTANT

Imagine genuine imported linen at this price! But here it is . . . and in a beautifully made shell pump. Only $7.95. 4

Vanity Boot Shops
SOUTH'S SMARTEST SHOES
114 E. COLLEGE DIAL 2-1630

the nicest gift of all . . . . . .

four of Faberge's famous purse colognes in a bonnie gold-and-white gift box
Quartette Jr. 3.00 the set

The Vogue

The 1952 FSU Baseball Team

FSU Ball Team Passed Up As Rollins Gets NCAA Bid

Bill Campbell Takes Hitting With .394

Women's Sports

By BARBARA COLLINGWORTH

This seems to be the last Flambeau for the year but women's sports still haven't completed their program this ... Swimming finished Friday as the Odd's defeated ... Clubs by an overwhelming score of 64-17. In the women's pool.

... of the swimming ... were some 50 yard breast stroke ... Shirley Simon 2nd, Doris ... Jan Penn, Donald ... Rae Koralik 2nd, ... Barbara Smith, Jan ... Patricia Pat Pascoe 1st Shirley ... Simmons and 50-yard medley ... Jeanne DuPont, Betty Lopper, ... Mary Ann Bolsinger, Nancy True, ... Penn swimming. Mary Wade ... and Carolyn Gola, tied for ... Barbara DuPont, 2nd; ... Simon, 3rd. 50-yard free ... Betty Lopper, 1st; Jan ... Nancy True, 3rd.

... Odd-Even softball ... Campbell Steinhardt ... because of rain. The ... games will meet on Monday ... the tournament.

... look at what happened ... in the Odd-Even ... the line-up of ... with all the freshmen ... date about who Odd-Even ... active ... were the ... sports ...

... ds the final game ... 14-0 tie and the Odd's ... ded with a 4-3 ... Batting game Sadie ... Pressley and Joann Lowe ... Odd's while even Lori ... Hardraves made the 2 points for ... Even's. The final game ended ... in a Even victory and the score ended in a tie ...

... Even's swept the basket ... w scores of 3-1 and 1-0 ... Even's were made up of Dot Peters, ... Elaine Chapman, Betty Ann ... Theobald, Jeanette Cullum, Jane ... Sims, Mary Daugherty, Joyce ... Wright, Boots Paris, Shirley ... Simpson, Jackie DuPont. Ball ...

Scholarship Given For Piano Studies By Librarian Ward

... scholarship for the ... awarded since the ... was established 40 years ... granted in the future ... provost of the Florida State Uni... librarian ... Ward's aunt, was ... the Alice M Heniz ... Loan Scholarship. The ... a year is available to ... pass piano major in the ... Music. If no upperclass ... can may be given to ... piano major who has ... or her principal in...

APPLICATIONS for the scholarship should be made through ... of Stetson Aplia fora ... professional music fa... The committee of five ... the scholarship will be ... able to all music faculty. These are the Presser Foundation Scholarship and the Mary Scobie Openheim Loan Scholarship.

Dave Stummel, 17-year old freshman performer for the Duke tennis team, was Baltimore city champion last year.

The 14 stakes to be run at D ... ware Park will be opened ... 29 ... attracted a field of 976 nomina... ... exactly one more than was received last year.

Second baseman Bill Campbell, a freshman from Pensacola, led the 1952 FSU batting crown by hitting an outstanding .394 and also led in home runs with two. Campbell, not a six-ten on coach Ralph Manierfield's team, piled up 14 games, was at bat 33 times and collected 13 hoos.

Behind Campbell batting .319 is another freshman Ralph Blumenthal who was named to the All-Conference team. Blumenthal batted .319 in 69 times at bat and collected 22 hits.

Les Masters, the centerfielder, led the team in total base-hits with 25 on 4 triples, with 4 and was at bat the most number of times ... 80, more than one as manager Mac Campbell. Mullen hit .301 and scored 18 runs to lead the team in that department.

The runs-batted-in season was topped by senior captain, Bob Trowbridge with a total of 16.

Eight of the Seminoles batted .300 or more and only four batters were led by them in the 21 game schedule. Besides the two Campbell Trowbridge and first baseman Ken Smith each accounted for one point above .300. Skeeter Mills and Wernke played in all 21 games.

The pitching was spearheaded by Jud Sessions and Ed Frank Bowden who won 4 and lost 1.

Lo Hand led in games pitched and innings with 9 and ... Campbell Trowbridge and first ... Ken Smith each accounted for one point above .300. Skeeter Mills and Wernke played in all 21 games.

The pitching was spearheaded by Jud Sessions and Ed Frank Bowden who won 4 and lost 1.

Lo Hand led in games pitched and innings with 9 and ... Sessions was 3rd in the Jacksonville ... walked 31. John ... was the ... Bowden ... with 2 games without a ... and Swanson ... a record of .2...

FINAL BATTING AVERAGES

	AB	R	H	HR	RBI	Ave
[illegible]
Total

PITCHING

	G	IP	R	H	SO	BB	W	L	Ave
[illegible]
Total

	PO	A	E	DP	DP
[illegible]
Total

The baseball tournament for ... series of 36-24 and 44-37. Pat Odom and Charlotte West were high scorers.

The Odd's came back to win the ... of in a 8-7 game with Hink Odom ... Jones Mack Ann Wolfman, Jean ... Fisher Ready Dottie Jeris, ... Lee Van Dyke and Gwen Lee Young. ... Bolton, Pat Comer Varian Helms, ... Avery Lombeck made up both ... teams.

The final season is just about ... and except for tennis and ... schedule has been a making fine year for ... women's sports and I have certainly enjoyed reporting them to you. Thanks to Jim Crapo, Pat Chapman, Pat Gammon, Mac McWilliams, Shirley Sapp and Jim Kelly who helped with women's sports on the campus of the Florida State University.

FSU Places 4th in Georgia AAU; Mile Relayers Set New Record

Tuesday, May 27, 1952 FLORIDA FLAMBEAU 5

INTRAMURALS

By ART KENNERLY

Somewhat shattered, battered, and bewildered, Seminole Greeks are fumblingly groping their way to the finish line of the year's athletic activities.

With sad, sad memories of smashing bows and shattered arrows haunting the homestretch, FSU fraternities still have contests in swimming, softball and tennis doubles to go before the curtain comes down on fraternity competition comes to a ha...

But through the teats of bitter defeat a few of the Greeks can smile. Earlier in the year the Alpha Tau Omegas chewed their way to victory and 150 points when they murdered all and left everybody in taking the basketball title.

The same football, Pi Kappa Phi tiptoed in and out of the maze of the Greek story and zore to be called the "Animals" of this portion of the year.

Track meets found the Sigma Nus running, jumping, skipping and they were everywhere else to dominate the cinder scene.

The Pi Kappa Phi trainee cartwheeled back into the limelight momentarily as they were crowned kings of the softball realm.

Green with envy Sigma Nu was not to be outdone by anyone. The Sigma Nus slithered away with the bowling crown.

The Kappa Alpha Rebels showed their prowess and with equally powerful Southern charm and finesse outshone their competitors as they drawled their way to victory in golfing competition.

Next came tennis singles, and Delta Theta escaped to the finals in a Cinderella effort to beat in the fraternity bracket.

Nine more are only three races left. The treasurer rolls on . . .

Overall fraternity standings to date.

Team	Pct.
ATO	621
Phi Delt	621
Sigma Nu	583
K A	544
SAE	536
Pi K Phi	485
SPE	485
Sigma Chi	436
Lambda Chi	436
DTD	436
Phi K Tau	429
Pi KA	362
Theta Chi	349
Kappa Sig	340

The Flambeau erred in the last issue. Last issue's sports page listed the Phi Delts as being in second place with 616 points behind first place ATO. The gagging point is that Phi Delt and ATO are actually tied with 621 points apiece. Apologies, subs.

In the dormitory league things were even more grotesque.

With one foot in the grave, the Bum stumbled through the year to a PAP graduate group molded a little bit of stamina, strength, strategy, and maybe even stamina into what seemed to be an irresistible crew of athletes as they outdistanced everybody in basketball, football volleyball, and tennis singles.

In spite of this a bold little 394 team came through in softball, while Senior Hall outbowled the other dorm bowlers. The Lower ran away with track honors.

R.I.P. . . .

Poston Beaten by Creel in 100, 220 But Qualifies for Nat'ls

The Florida State track team finished fourth with 19½ points in the Georgia open and AAU track meet in Atlanta, Saturday. Auburn won the affair by rolling up 31½ points followed by Georgia Tech and Tennessee.

The trip to Atlanta was marred by a bus accident. The school bus was traveling about 50 miles an hour when the front axle broke, throwing the bus out of control. It skidded about 75 yards and stopped at the side of the road. Luckily no one was injured but the insurance had an effect on the performance of some of the trackmen.

The Seminoles took only one first place as the mile relay team of Mize, Poston, Parker and Hegerty set a new track and field record of 3 22 4. This was one of the 11 records set during the day's competition.

Ace sprinter Johnny Poston finished third in the 100-yard dash which was won by Auburn's Jackie Creel in 10 1-5 and he put a second in the 220, also won by Creel. Dave Stinson, running unattached, picked up a fourth. The winning time for the 220 was 21 8.

Both Creel and Poston have done better in the hundred and 220 but a slight head wind prevented top performances.

FSU's MARY MOLLOY took a third in the 440-yard handle race which was won by Joe Kaiser who was running for the Florida Fleeters. The Fleeters were composed mostly of University of Florida trackmen.

Other Seminoles who placed in the Atlanta meet included Calvin Fraimdorfer who landed in fourth place in the shot put. The winning distance was 51 feet. Fraundorfer also placed in the discus.

FSU Athletic Teams Win 96 And Lose 83 Games For Year

The won-lost record for the 1951-52 athletic year is 96 wins and 83 defeats.

	W	L	T
Football	6	3
Basketball	23	20	0
Swimming	6	2	1
Golf	6	2	0
Volleyball	38	45	0
Tennis	9	5	0
Track	4	4	0
Total	96	83	1

Here's a short review of the year's sports activities:

Football

Starting off in the football team under Don Veller compiled a record of six wins and three defeats. The season opened with the Miami Orange Bowl before 34,000 fans, the Seminoles were defeated by the Hurricanes, 24 to 13 in the first taste of defeat. Two weeks later the Florida Seminoles have scheduled another game with Miami for 1953.

The Seminoles finished in the final game of the year 14 to 6 in one-of-the-best games of the year. The game, played in the Citrus Bowl was marred by the Gators Lee Roy Caffey who was ejected from the game for throwing punches at the Seminoles after the Tompaks after three straight beatings by the Florida Gators. Gators Lon Stanford, Stetson, Delta State Southern Conference champs, Furman, Davis, Except for one Stetson and Wofford games, the others were decided by one touchdown. The Wofford contest was one of the best games of the season with the Seminoles as they won 14 to 0.

In the Homecoming battle for Stetson Hatters went down to defeat in a hard fought game by the score of 20 to 14. Fumbles by Stetson halfback Roy Thompson set a record for the longest run from scrimmage when he scampered 74 yards. Also the Homecoming game pulled the biggest crowd—13,700 fans—to a home game.

All in all the FSU gridders set the new records including the most passes attempted in one game, 25, the most completed in one game, 15, the most intercepted in season, 15. Tommy Brown set records in the longest run from scrimmage on a kick and the best average for returning punts. R. C. Nelson followed Brown with records for the most punts attempted and completed and the best average for punt returns. Jim Crapo, Pat Patterson and Jim Kelly for touchdowns also made the Seminole record books.

Individual records were set by Ronald Hambrock and Richard Floyd. Hambrock returned a new punting mark of 367 in place of last year's record. He kicked a record 20 for last year, and 136 points to 82 in 1951. Gould was credited with the most scoring in 1952 over the previous mark of 164.

The Tallahassee six foot three third at the St. Petersburg Open, third at the Smoky Mountain Open - Knoxville, Tenn., fourth in the Mid-South Open - Memphis, Tenn., second in the Florida Open - Lakeland, and fifth in the National Collegiate Tournament - Columbus, Ohio.

Lettermen for the Seminoles included Hambrock, Gould, Floyd, Clark, James McFatter, Harry Bibee, and Jim Couch. Others who saw action in the Seminole lineup are Stan Humphries, Bob Alberson, George Ellenburg, Herbert Bolton, Gene Gerber, Duane Gordon, Mat Sullivan, Bill Crook, and Charles Mutford.

Swimming

Records were set and left as Florida swimmers splashed their way to victory in the Georgia AAU swimming meet in Atlanta, Saturday.

The Seminoles broke five school records and one pool record took second in the Florida AAU championships, and established themselves over such highly rewarded teams as the Miami Seminoles, Southern Relional Champs, and the Texas Aggies, runnerups in the Southwest Conference.

Co-Capts. Pete Dunn-Rankin and Dick Wells were the big guns for the Seminoles all year. Wells was this year's high man while Dunn-Rankin broke school records in the 150 yd. Individual Medley and the 220 yr. Freestyle. Junior backstroker Jack Barsch broke the record, man Bob Carter and Don Van Hise were also outstanding performers. All three recorded 40 or more points for the season.

Freshman sprint star John Barsch broke the pool record in the 50 yd. free style event during the season in a sparkling 24.4 Most of State's school records fell, however, in the Florida AAU Championships. Walter Jardine having tied Miami's national ranking diver Gene Kana in the 150 yd. Individual medley the day before and set a new record in the process on the pool a new mark in the 200 yd. medley relay. George Cooper as a new school and AAU Mark in the 200 yd backstroke.

Wilton Jardine and Bob Calter both broke school records in the 220 yd. Breastroke and freestyle but trailed teammates Van Hise and Dunn-Rankin as they too swam the distance in record breaking times. Van Hise teamed with Jack Barsch and Dick Wells to break the fourth record of the day in the 300 yd. medley relay.

Other outstandins swimmers for the season were Mitch Stubenhard, Gwen Boone, and diver Tom Conway.

Gymnastics

The high light of the gymnastics season, which lasts all year was the FSU victory in the NCAA. The Princess scored 89½ points to nose out favored Southern Cal...

Gene Rabbitt Top Side-Horse Artist Of All Time—Price

By TOM CONKLING

"The greatest side horse performer of all time" is what the experts call Florida State Gymnast Gene Rabbitt.

Gene who came to Florida State University last September, became the greatest of all United States history to cop the national side horse title four consecutive times.

Before coming to Tallahassee Rabbitt attended Syracuse University in New York from September 1947 to June 1951 where he received his AB Degree in Political Science-Public Administration.

As a member of the Syracuse University Gymnastics squad, Gene won one following side horse title: Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics 1949-50-51, National Collegiate Championship 1950, National Invitational Championship 1950, National AAU Championship 1949-1950-1951 and was named to the All-American team in 1949-1950-1951.

As a member of the Florida State Gymkana Club he added a fourth straight AAU Championship in the NAAU meet held at Penn State last month. He has been a member of the All-American Gymnastic Team for the fourth consecutive year.

This amazing record is unmatched by any gymnast in the history of the sport.

Rabbitt started his gymnastics training in the Jersey City High School where star coaches Ed Berkower and Frank Weis of Jersey City High fame.

While in high school Gene won eight City wide honor titles. He was also a member of and one time honor championship.

Florida and Indiana at the Gymnastic championships in Gainesville. Florida won the second straight title for the Alumni Gym Team which was led by Gene but the overall strength brought in the others.

Dick Peters won a first place in the trampoline and Jack Sharp ...team captain ...topped the Florida ...

In the national AAU in Philadelphia Gene was the only Florida meet for the College ... the FSU team ... entered under the name of Florida State University finished in third place as Bill Boreatrom and Jim Porter qualified for the ... Olympics. Hooper was a second and Rosenheim tied Rabbitt in the all-around competition

394 Wins Dorm Softball Title

Late ... batting 394 ... overpowering carriage, 394 is a wild student to capture the ultimate ... league softball crown.

Schaar and Adams ... the battery for the 394 ... Schaar ... batting ...

Final standings in dorm softball:

	W	L
[illegible]	8	0
[illegible]	9	3
AAS	5	3
[illegible]	5	2
[illegible]	3	2
[illegible]	2	3
[illegible]	2	3
[illegible]	1	5
[illegible]	0	5
394	0	5

Nic's Toggery

GRAD GIFTS

Marlboro Shirts

For the Graduate who cares choose carefully a Dress Shirt style that he will like.

Argyles

For the Grad. Interwoven, Jerks, Wilson Bros.

Jewelry

Pioneer and Smart Belts and Tie clasp with matching cuff links are ideal for the male graduate

Nic's Toggery

Frankness, Serious Thought Aid In Law Codification

BY MECK-STROTH, KIGHT, FLYNN AND CAROTHERS.

The University Senate of 1951-52 has seen a turbulent year. Like a baby coping with the awkwardness of quick growth was the legislative group.

Many of the senators were new. There were a few UGA old-timers who helped to stabilize, but if ever a body was composed of individuals, it was this one.

EX-SENATOR Myra Kight says that she believes women's senate has gone a step forward in putting rules down in black and white which were never written out before.

As to University Senate she believes that the group worked hand in hand with student opinion—that there was more debate, more feelings expressed by majorities of students, and that the student-faculty relations were, on the whole, good.

EX-SENATOR Margie Meck-stroth agreed with her in this respect—that students and faculty were no longer "tongue-tied" about expressing their frank beliefs. She thought that the legislative body worked in greater harmony and objectivity than any other group of like size and importance on campus. Although there was a lack of order at times, most of the senators kept their senses of humor and got things accomplished.

Ex-Senator Milton Carothers, who now is vice-president of legislative affairs, remarked that the parliamentary procedure and order aspects were somewhat lacking, but that the senate was composed of hard-working people who got things done, particularly in student government structure such as the cabinet system.

IT COULD BE wished that the faculty advisors who sit in the senate meetings would vouch safe opinions about proposed legislation before the bills or amendments have been written up and passed by the student group. The senators rarely hear from the faculty until a meeting of faculty reviewing board has taken place and the legislation either approved or rejected. Then a lot of time has been lost.

Ex-Senator Jean Flynn believes that there should be less personality complications involved, that the senate and its doings could be kept on a strictly impersonal basis, and that there should be more consideration of the opinions of fellow officers. She agrees however, that the group accomplished many things, big things, and that to each bit of legislation, much serious thought was applied

4-H Clubbers Install Next Year's Officers

The University 4-H Club recently installed next year's officers at a social meeting in the Longmire building.

President is Evelyn Henley; Jackie Dupont, vice-president; Dot George, secretary; Mickey Kendall, treasurer; and Jackie Dupont and Anne Edwards, youth conference co-chairmen.

The Red-n-Eyes will participate in the annual state short course held for 4-H Clubbers of high school age. The course is scheduled for June 9-14.

Every year the Agriculture Club and 4-H Club from the University of Florida, and the 4-H Club from FSU hold a joint Youth Conference. This year the groups will meet at FSU and discuss the theme, "Rural Youth Spotlights Education."

Men are now eligible to membership in the University 4-H Club. By an amendment to the constitution passed this year, the organization is now co-educational

NYSU Eyes Painting By FSU Grad Student

"Cypress Egrets," a silk screen print by graduate art student Artemis Skevakis, is now under consideration for purchase by the New York State University for inclusion in its permanent collection.

The print, called a serigraph was selected for exhibition some time ago in the annual showing of the National Serigraph Society. In the April issue of Art News, "Cypress Egrets" was singled out as one of the "notable serigraphs" in that exhibition.

Used Book Exchange Open All Day Today

The Used Book Exchange, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, service honorary, will be open all day today and through exam week for picking up books not sold and leaving books for exchange, said Jay Ladd, chairman.

Books which have been left at the exchange since last year will be forfeited if not picked up by today at 5 p.m.

Classified Ads

FOREIGN EMPLOYMENT for young men and women. Work, play abroad! Big pay! Adventure! Round-trip free transportation, housing. Hundreds all kinds actual job-openings South Pacific Islands, Alaska, South America, Europe, summer foreign jobs, foreign cruises, etc. New listings daily. We provide latest, world-wide job openings, wages, list of firms hiring, detailed information application forms—all for $1.00 ($1.25 airmail). Adventure, Ltd. Box 44 Marshall, Michigan.

FOR SALE—$189 tape recorder, will sacrifice for $120, used only three months. Catherine Thompson Phone 2-1816, 2 to 5:30.

NEEDED—A ride for one person only to Daytona Beach on Sunday June 8th. Will need lots of space to transport items. Will make it worthwhile for driver financially. If able and interested, please contact Helen Bell South Carothers Hall or Box No. 205 Campus Mail.

Veterans Cautioned On Illegal Offers In Loan Payments

Veterans who are delinquent in payments on their GI home loans are warned to check carefully any offers by strangers to pay delinquent payments if they, the veterans, will "sign on the dotted line."

This warning was sounded recently by H. F. Dickensheets, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office at Panama City, Florida.

IN SOME PARTS of the country, a revival of the practice sometimes called "milking" or "equity skimming" has occurred, VA reported. In one form of this racket, the veteran, who is behind in his GI loan payments, is approached by individuals offering to pay the delinquent installments if the veteran will "sign on the dotted line." The veteran subsequently learns that he has signed a deed and can get his property back only by signing a land sales contract at a much higher price

Dear Editor

(Continued from Page 1)

Marie Green, our predecessor for the invaluable guidance she gave us in writing the facts.

To Bruce Gaspin, I say you are the best writer the paper has. I hope that you may sometime graduate to a more influential position in the paper's policy.

To June Morgan, feature editor, I say if there has been anything lacking on this paper this year, it has been feature material. You have an open field. There are features everywhere.

To Marcia Morris and Judy Simkins, associate editor and society editor, I say you are rather new at your present jobs but I think because of the interest you show, that you will become quite capable and efficient.

To sports editor, Jim Eady and Barbara Collinsworth, yours is a foreign field to me, but I know your copy comes in. You are dependable.

To Gene Lawler, columnist, you and Bruce Galphine and Stan Schmidt have a wonderful advantage as any columnist does. You may speak your mind.

To Al Pierce, assistant news editor, if you do your job well, it will be a full time one.

To a former member of the staff but who is not presently on the staff, Carol Bevac, I express my extreme gratitude for the excellent job you did as rewrite editor the first of the year. To John Maracopus, I hope you do as well.

Good Luck.

Sincerely
HAZEL MORRISON.

Get an 'A' the NODOZ way!

Gotta cram for that exam? Don't get caught-napped. Don't get drowsy. Keep alert safely with NoDoz Awakeners. Completely harmless and mighty helpful when you're burning the midnight oil. Take a NoDoz Awakener when you hit the books and make the grade!

NoDoz Awakeners give you a lift without a letdown. Quickly help you become your normal, alert self.

12 tablets 35¢ Large economy size (Six Scott Tins and Saving) 98¢ 48 tablets

At your drugstore

NODOZ AWAKENERS

HARMLESS AS COFFEE

CASH For Your USED Books

UNLESS COMPLETELY OUT OF DATE

- Take your used books to Malone's today and exchange them for CASH.

Books are accepted whether used here or not.

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

"Say Fellows Let's Not Raid Tonight"

We'll Meet You At The

MECCA

for Good Food In a Friendly Atmosphere

Here Ye All Men

Roses are Red
Violets are Blue
Why take my undies
They won't fit you.

The MECCA

Congratulations To The Class Of '52

BEST OF LUCK TO AMERICAS NEW LEADERS!

We Have Gifts Designed with the Male Graduate in Mind!

May We Suggest . . .

- Ties
- Shirts
- Shaving Kits
- Belts
- Sport Jackets
- Jewelry
- Handkerchiefs
- Pajamas

Our's is the only Place in Town you can choose from

. . . McGregor . . . Arrow . . . Manhattan

Alfords Brothers

Better Clothes For Young Men

212 South Monroe

CHILDHOOD AMBITION

Physiology Student Chooses Research

The childhood ambition to be a doctor started David Chalifin, graduate student in physiology, on a career of research. Now he realized that doctors rather than apply but are helpful when diseases appear incurable. He decided to increase his time in the world by finding the necessary drugs instead of just using them.

Chalifin was one of 3,000 applicants for the National Science Research Fellowship for 1952-53. After taking the competitive examination he received word that he was chosen among 800 graduate students to receive the $1,700 stipend fellowship. He was the only student from Florida State University to win the award this year.

IMMEDIATE PLANS concern work at Woods Hole Marine Biological Laboratories in Massachusetts during the Summer. Chalifin said that the famous resort is the vacation spot of the world's most famous scientists and research experts. During the summer session he will carry new techniques and study a series of lectures.

While at FSU, he has been working on the problem of blood pressure under Dr. F. R. Hunter, professor of physiology. He explained that it is usually the direct teacher's specialization that carries the field in which a student works. When he finishes here he will go on to another research field.

ACCORDING to Mr. Chalifin, Methods and research equipment in physiology were not developed until after the war. Also men trained that something happens when cells are stored." Bit by bit the puzzle is being fitted together and Chalifin feels he may someday be able to fill in the information gaps by his research and experimentation.

He received his BS degree in zoology at the University of Oklahoma in 1950, and is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and Phi Sigma, honorary biological research society.

Professors Speak On English Topics

Three Florida State University professors of the English department will read papers on different subjects on which they have done research this afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. in Room 223, Music building. The readings are open to the public.

Dr. Carmen Rogers will read her paper on "Heavenly Justice in the Tragedies of Shakespeare," which she read recently at the Shakespeare Festival at the University of Miami in Coral Gables.

Dr. George Yost will read a paper he gave at the recent Ninth Annual Conference of the Southeastern Renissance association held at Duke University. His topic will be "Reason in Pseudodoxia Endomica."

A portion of a book "Emerson as Myth Maker," by Dr. Russell Reaver will also be read. A brief discussion will be held following the presentation of each paper as time permits

Issue Honors Grads

Today's issue of the Florida Flambeau will be the last one for the school year of 1951-52. The edition is dedicated to all graduating Seniors with the best wishes of all the staff

Honorary Initiates New Group Today

Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary for Freshmen women, will initiate fifteen new members today at 5:30 p. m.

Initiation ceremonies will be followed by a banquet in the new initiates honor at 6:30 p. m. in the Lafayette Room. Dr. Olivia Dorman, faculty advisor. Dean Katherine Warren and senior girls who have been members of Alpha Lambda Delta and have maintained a 2.5 average during their college careers will be special Guests. Dr. Paul Reynolds, president of Phi Beta Kappa, will be guest speaker.

New Alpha Lambs are Charlotte Covington, Madelyn Cox, Betty Lou Dilmore, Joan Dasler, Lynwood Evans, Helen Hamrick, Joyce Hicks, Phoebe Jackson, Mary Lloyd, Maria Schaefer, Sandra Shuman, Betty Srygley, Lou Rene Vorrs, Hildegard Warner and Dorothy Womble.

The new members will elect officers next year.

Interviews Palnned For Area Teachers

Prospective teachers graduating in June or August who wish to teach in the Tallahassee area will have an opportunity to interview the principal of a South Georgia school located about 15 miles from Thomasville, on Wednesday, May 28.

Mr. H. Gay Rowe, principal of the Boston, Georgia, school, will be in the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott, then to interview candidates. He is interested in filling vacancies in the fifth, seventh and eighth grades, a math-science combination, and an English-social studies combination. The beginning salary for teachers without experience is $2 400 a year.

Anyone interested in talking with Mr. Rowe should contact the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement for an appointment.

Photo by Strawbridge

QUEEN AND ADMIRER—Art Mooney shows his approval of "State Queen" Queen Ernestine Hunt, Ernestine, who was sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, was chosen queen from among 14 contestants at the Saturday afternoon concert presented by Art Mooney and his band.

Two Florida State Graduates Receive Ensigns' Commissions

William H. Bennett and George R. Schmidt Jr., both graduates of Florida State University, were among the 500 men awarded ensign commissions recently from the Navy's only Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I.

Both men graduated from FSU in 1950 with BS degrees.

THE SCHOOL was established at the Newport Naval Training Station in June, 1951, to help provide junior officers to man the ships of the Navy's fleets and to relieve reserve officers recalled to active duty after the outbreak of the Korean hostilities. The original enrollment has grown from 800 to 1,500, and will swell to 2,100 by October.

During four months' training, officer candidates, all of whom are college graduates, undergo intensive training in the basic seagoing skills, such as gunnery, seamanship, navigation, engineering, damage control, and communication. They cover the same ground in 16 weeks that Navy ROTC students do in four years.

After graduation OCS graduates report to sea duty following a brief leave. For the most part, they are assigned to duty in the type of ship which they have requested. In the past, the most popular choice of duty has been destroyers.

STUDENTS OF the recent class, of which Bennett and Schmidt were a part, came from 43 different states and 286 colleges, majoring in everything from drama and bacteriology to optometry and horticulture. Two-thirds of them entered the school directly from civilian life and all were required to be between the ages of 19 and 36.

Student Exhibition Opens Wednesday

The second annual Student Honor Show, an exhibition of outstanding work by students in the department of art, will open in the University Gallery on Wednesday, June 4 An informal opening will be held from 4 to 6 p.m.

For the first time the honors exhibit will continue throughout the summer months, so that students in summer school may see them. The show will include works of all classes, Freshmen through Seniors and even some graduate work. As the Gallery cannot house all the paintings, some will be hung in the classrooms and corridors of Westcott.

Among the student artists who will have paintings in the exhibit are Polly Doe, Carolyn Henry, Artemis Spyrakis, Diane Van Dyssen, Patricia Cole, Marilyn Lingo, Nancy Stevens, Eleanor Gaer, Dorothy Robertson, Bertha Kersey, Rosemary Trefethen, George Milton, Tyko Make, John Bollini, Murrey Fadial, Guy Johnson and Frank Reiber

Madagascar's traveler's tree is a palm often 100 feet high, which stores water for the thirsty. Cut one inches a quart of pure water at the tap of a spear.

F Club Concludes Term With Party, Banquet, Election

Women's F Club is winding up the semester's activities with an initiation, party, banquet and election of officers.

Five "goats", F Club tags, were initiated last night. Following this a Senior Hood-bye party was held honoring the forty members which the women's athletic honorary will lose at graduation. The graduating Seniors acted as hostesses.

The traditional Senior Banquet will be held Thursday, May 29, at 7 p. m. in the Floridan hotel. The banquet will follow the theme of "Piracy."

New F Club members are Hazel Ready, Liz von Werner, of the students, and Faculty members, Mildred Anderson, Marian Pallooh, and Glenna Rae Williams.

Joan Webb will serve as president of the organization next year, with Anna Athanason, vice-president. Secretary will be June McGill; Pat Folsom, assistant secretary; Patty Martin, parliamentarian; Betty Ann Haynes, sing chairman; Doris Partin, social chairman and Dot Sturgis, historian.

Trezevant Attends Editorial Board Meet

Miss Blanche Trezevant, faculty member of the School of Education, attended a meeting of the Editorial Advisory Board of Scholastic Magazine in New York recently.

She is one of the five English specialists serving on the board of Literary Cavalcade, a monthly magazine published for use in high school literature classes. The purpose of the two-day conference during the weekend was to enable the editors to discuss ways and means of improving magazines for high school students with board members.

Music Camp Opens Summer Session

The Music Camp, an annual institute conducted by the School of Music, will open its 11th Summer session June 18 and last through July 18. Over 100 students will attend.

Qualification for registration is a recommendation by a music teacher. The students, while at FSU, will be given private and group instruction and may join the band, orchestra or choral organizations. There will be weekly concerts held, plus a program of entertainment.

The staff will consist of 40 musicians. Classes will be in everything from baton twirling to harmony, theory, and conducting. Regular university residence halls and dining facilities will be provided students.

Parker Presented Newmanites' Prize

Marjorie Parker, senior from Miami, was presented the John Henry Newman Honor Award at a party given in honor of the graduating seniors Sunday evening by the Newman Club of Florida State University.

Miss Parker has served as Recording Secretary of the Florida State University and the Southeastern Province. She has also served as President of the FSU Newman Club and the Southeastern Province. Recently the 26th Annual Southeastern Province Convention was held at FSU at which Miss Parker presided.

The presentation of the award was made by the newly elected president of the Florida State University Newman Club, Bert Hopkins. It is the first time that a Florida State University student has been given the honor.

FSU'S FAVORITE DANCE BAND

The Regents

Look forward to the Fall Semester when we will return with the danceable music that had made this, our First Year together such a success.

Your support has been greatly appreciated.

MILLER'S Cootery

LOOKING FOR A GRADUATION GIFT

Why Not Visit Our Air Conditioned Store and Let Our Sales Girls Suggest and Show You Our Terrific Selection of Unusual Gifts

TO MENTION ONLY A FEW . . .

- BILLFOLDS every type, color and material . . . stamped free in 23-K Gold . . . by Lady Baxton or Princess $1.00 to $7.50
- HOSIERY—No Mend, Van Raalte and Sapphire—in all colors, all sizes, and in both fashion and novelty styles fro m$1.35 to $1.95
- JEWEL BOXES Mele Musical Jewel Boxes and Mele non musical Jewel Boxes in a number of colors . . . All with locking clasp plush lined, with swing up tray.
  Musical Styles $5.95 and $7.95
  Regular Style $2.95, $3.95, $4.95
- COSTUME JEWELRY from $1.00
- GLOVES—All Materials—from $3.00
- BEDROOM SHOES and Slides from $1.98

and many many other Gift Items

Gift Wrapped—Gift Boxed FREE

MILLER'S Cootery
College Ave.

Ideal Gift For The Girl Graduate!

ALL NYLON

Shorty P.J.'s

frosted with Lace and Net

by Luxite

Abbreviated sleepsan that washin-a-wink, dry in-a-jiffy! All nylon tricot misted with nylon Val lace ruffles and nylon lace insertions. Bouffant Etes, Classic Carol. Sizes 10 to 16. 7.95 style awarded Fashion Academy Gold Medal

Turner's

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 42... THE PORCUPINE

"They picked on the wrong guy when they tried to needle me!"

He's listened to the weak thread of so many shallow claims he's fed-up! His point is—there's a thorough test of cigarette mildness. Millions of smokers throughout America concur.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions

GLOBULAR ENGRAVINGS

Examples of the first engraving on a globular surface done in America are a terrestrial globe made in 1811 and a celestial globe made the following year. These were handmade by James Wilson Bradford, Vt., who later established the first globe factory in the United

Campus' 50-Year Plan Forges Ahead As 8 Dorms Finished, More Begun

Florida State University's 50-year plan continued at a strong pace during the past year with the completion of eight small dormitories and the starting of several other important campus buildings.

Eight fraternities occupied their modern new quarters in the month of January. These 40-man buildings are rented to local fraternities by the university under the self-liquidating plan, whereby buildings are paid for with student rentals.

Fraternities who are living in these university-built buildings are Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Tau, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Tau Delta.

Meanwhile other parts of the 50-year plan were being pushed to completion.

An eighth sixty dormitory behind Landis hall on West Jefferson street plowed slowly upward. Originally intended for women, the building is now scheduled to be turned over to freshmen men sometime next fall.

This new dormitory is the last building on the main part of East campus to depart from the traditional Gothic pattern. It features a large, glassed-in lounge, expansive window space and cement projections on each floor above the first.

Over the old circus parade ground, construction was pushed almost to completion on the student service center. Modeled along the lines of the University of Florida component the center will house all post office boxes, the University Bookstore and a new cafeteria.

The student service center was originally scheduled to open in February, but shortage of materials and other difficulties have held it up.

New post office facilities will be ready the beginning of July, but the cafeteria portion of the building will not function until July.

An eleven story dormitory for men students is slated in 1950 to be the first to become a reality since the college has cleared its priority for action.

The proposed structure will consist of two wings meeting in a curved bustle area. The whole curved area will be a canopied porch which may be used for dancing, ping pong or shaded tables. The remainder of the main floor will include guest rooms, a counselor's apartment, laundry room, storage space and a lady's powder room.

Upper floors of the ultramodern dormitory will have lounges and rooms with private baths. Other facilities to be included are foam rubber mattresses, built in desks and clothes hampers.

The 500 fourth residents will also enjoy a sundeck and living room library while the roof occupies the dormitory's top floor.

Most recent appropriation made by the board of control was the 300 thousand dollars set aside for the construction of a new Demonstration School. Work on the new building will begin in late summer or early fall.

NEW DORMITORY by Landis hall will be used to house freshman men when it is completed sometime next fall. Original plans called for use for women residents

Roetzheim Featured In June Magazine

Bill Roetzheim a student of Florida State University, will be featured in the June issue of ... Friends magazine.

The magazine will have colorful photos of Bill doing his ... some new circles and a book flies away with the ball. The magazine will also carry snapshots of other famous ...

Bill is the national high bar champion. He also holds the American All-around Gymnastic title. Bill's flashy grace has earned him many honors that have been won by his sister himself. In the history of the sport, a honor that goes back to the an-

Dr. Doak Campbell to Address High School Commencements

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, Florida State University president and other faculty members are ... called to make the commencement addresses at various Florida high schools during the next several weeks.

On Friday, May 30, President Campbell will give the graduation address to the senior class of Greensboro High School. He will deliver the commencement address at the Bethel T.C. school of Forsyth Fla., Monday June 2, and at the Ar. University Mary and Field Montgomery, Ala., on Monday June 6. He will also speak to the graduating class of Tarpon Springs High school, Thursday June 12.

DR. A. R. MARTIN, vice-president will speak at the commencements one at Sebastopol on Friday, May 30 and the other at Lake City High School on Tuesday, June 3.

Dr. Monte Stone, dean of the school of Education, will give several commencement talks during the next two weeks. The Bradford High school today, Crescendale, Thursday, May 26, Gracesville, Monday June 2 and St. Cloud High school, Thursday, June 9.

DR HOWARD Bayford director ...

Tobacco Company Has Sales Vacancy

The American Tobacco Company is looking for two men between the ages or 21 and 35 to fill sales vacancies in the Tallahassee and Albany, Georgia area, Glover E. Tully, director of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, has announced.

A newly employed salesman will receive a salary of $50 per week a car, and all necessary traveling and business expenses.

A representative from the American Tobacco Company will be in the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott, on Wednesday June 4, for the purpose of interviewing prospective employees. Interested persons should make an appointment to see the representative Mr. Kelley, at the office.

Canfield Continues Research on Atlas

Dr. D. Lincoln Canfield, ... Florida State Un... of the Department of Modern Literature Tropical ... Languages, will continue his ... research work this summer in El ... Salvador for the linguistic atlas ... he is preparing.

This research work, started the ... summer of 1951, has been given ... the official approval of both ...

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATES

SEARS ROEBUCK AND CO.

WANTED

Couple to Operate Summer Resort on Gulf

From June 15 to September 15th

CONTACT JEFF LEWIS, 2-0020, or IVAN MUNROE 2-2600

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA

Last Time Today
'That's My Boy'
With Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin

Weds. thru Saturday
'Carbine Williams'
With James Stewart and Joan Hagen

STATE

LAST TIMES TODAY
'The Wild North'
With Stewart Granger

Weds. thru Tuesday
'Skirts Ahoy'
With Esther Williams

RITZ

TODAY and WEDNESDAY
'House Across the Street'
With Wayne Morris

Thursday thru Saturday
Mark Stevens in 'Between Midnight and Dawn'
Also
'My Pal Trigger'
With Roy Rogers

DRIVE-IN

TODAY and WEDNESDAY
'Lone Star'
With Clark Gable

Thursday thru Saturday
'The Strip'
With Mickey Rooney
Also
'Hawk of Wild River'
With Charles Stewart

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT SEE A MOVIE NOW!

STUDENTS MAKE RESERVATIONS
For Your Parents
Phone 2-1361
BOWEN MOTEL
Perry Highway No 27
Cool, comfortable beautyrest beds
Air-conditioned and tub in every room
AAA-Member Superior Untied-Recommended by Duncan-Hines
Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hale
Owner and Operator

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Emory Junks Journalism Amid Student Protest. See Page 1—Editorials

Summer Flambeau

Summer Artist Series Starts Tuesday Night See Page 1.

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 58 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, June 20, 1952

Press Meet Draws Student Journalists

FSU Offers Workshop to Prepare High School Paper, Annual Staffs

The Florida State University Southern High School Press [illegible] under the supervision of the School of Journalism [illegible] Florida State University is holding the first Annual workshop for high school students.

[illegible] te is a Florida serv- [illegible] to these students who [illegible] will be editors of their [illegible] newspapers or year- [illegible] purpose of this work- [illegible] zed training with [illegible] may encounter next [illegible] they start publication [illegible] school project

THERE ARE students from [illegible] Georgia, South Carolina, [illegible] Mississippi and Louisi- [illegible] being the first Univer- [illegible] South to hold this press [illegible] carrying on a func- [illegible] tar ed at Northwest- [illegible] in 1934 and later [illegible] the University of In- [illegible]

[illegible] for this inst- [illegible] Northwestern and [illegible] ies. Head in- [illegible] counselor for the [illegible] Ruth Marie Griggs. [illegible] assisted by Miss M[illegible] [illegible] and Miss C[illegible] [illegible] selor and head in- [illegible] men is Mr Har- [illegible] Milwaukee State [illegible] h.m are M. [illegible] Professor Wesley [illegible]

DEAN OF the School of Jo- [illegible] Lawrence Campbell [illegible] Senator, Dr W. R [illegible] arranged a sched- [illegible] meetings workshops. [illegible] There are classes [illegible] feature writers [illegible] editors of the [illegible] year books Two [illegible] radio script w- [illegible] apy are also be- [illegible] Afternoon workshops [illegible] who have an- [illegible] ning their work [illegible] speeches and tips [illegible] different occasion [illegible] mation for w[illegible]

[illegible] n the Longmire [illegible] panel discussion was [illegible] the pres[illegible] in relationship [illegible] Representative Ken- [illegible] Dr S[illegible] [illegible] Ya[illegible] and Mr M[illegible] were on the panel. [illegible] students eag- [illegible] questions at the men [illegible] promptly answered.

FOR PLEASURE the [illegible] production "Theatre [illegible]" was attend the [illegible] here on campus [illegible] Wakulla Springs and [illegible] Caverns, and on Sat- [illegible] will attend a [illegible] the Music Camp [illegible] Longmire b[illegible] [illegible] Institute [illegible] at Florida State [illegible] will spread [illegible] State.

Figures Show 2400 Enrolled; More to Come

Incomplete registration figures for Florida State University's summer school have been released. According to Chales H. Walker, Registrar, over 2400 students have enrolled for the summer session.

This total is a decrease from the all-time high of 3,035 for 1950 and the [illegible],865 students who enrolled last summer

WALKER SAID full figures are not available because registration has not been completed. He expects a number of state school teachers who have not been able to get here yet to arrive for registration tomorrow

Since registration has not been completed a breakdown on the enrollment figures is not available at this time

FOR THE SUMMER session, the following womens dorm are open: No[illegible] and So[illegible] Cawthon, Bryan G[illegible] and La[illegible]

Housing for men is centered in S[illegible] Hall and Magnolia Hall [illegible] fraternity houses open [illegible]

THE REGISTRAR has stated [illegible] academic regulation that Monday June 23 is the last day [illegible] dropping [illegible] adding a class. Those who drop courses after this deadline will receive a "Withdrew Failing" notice for the summer session

[illegible] Graduate Record Examination will be given July 11 and 12 [illegible] to the Graduate S[illegible] office. Students must register for the exam by noon June 20 at the Test Service Bureau

Dean Writes Article

D[illegible] Dame dean of the [illegible] of Business [illegible] the author of an article in the current issue of the Balance Sheet, a nationally [illegible] magazine on business and economic education

Exchange to Close Today; Takes Texts Later in Session

The Alpha Phi Omega Book Exchange will close this afternoon at 5, but will reopen [illegible] a week before the end of the session, Jay Ladd, [illegible] an, has announced.

The exchange, located in [illegible] lounge of the Longmire [illegible] was started as a junior [illegible] in the fall of 1950 [illegible] ed by the APO service [illegible] 1951 The plan makes [illegible] students to sell old [illegible] obtain used copies at [illegible] reduced rates

THOSE WISHING to sell books [illegible] price themselves For every [illegible] for a dollar or more, [illegible] and seller contribute 10 [illegible] each, otherwise the fee is [illegible]

[illegible] will be given receipts [illegible] cates with each book they [illegible] be sold. If their books are [illegible] will receive their money. [illegible] their books will be re- [illegible] Books not claimed after [illegible] forfeited to the service [illegible]

THE EXCHANGE particularly [illegible] texts used in general edu- [illegible] courses, but will accept any [illegible] used in courses on the cam- [illegible]

[illegible] also revealed that [illegible] of the Longmire lounge [illegible] turned over to the Exchange [illegible] present APO has only a closet [illegible] storage

Move at Emory Kills 'J' School; Dean Resigns

Students and Faculty Loudly Protest Action, Hit 'Lame Duck' Degrees

The Southern academic world was surprised early last week by the decision of Emory University to discontinue its School of Journalism.

The action was taken on grounds of the resignation of Dr. Raymond Nixon, for years head of the department at the Atlanta school. Dr. Nixon resigned recently to accept a position at the Minnesota School of Journalism.

DR. GOODRICH WHITE, President of the University, further explained the action by stating that the University of Georgia also has an accredited School of Journalism and continuance of the school at Emory would be "needless duplication of effort in a highly specialized field."

Critics of the move, which include prominent alumni, faculty members and students, immediately commented that no one including the administration of the University of Georgia would compare its Journalism school with that of Emory. The Southern University conference in 1951 rated the graduate program at Emory as equal to any in the nation. No other journalism graduate program in the South has yet achieved that distinction.

THE JOURNALISM division at Emory was initiated in 1938 under the directorship of Dr. Nixon. Since that time it has become the only department or school of journalism in the Southeast to be accredited in all three sequences of journalism — news, radio and advertising.

Dr Nixon when reached for a statement concerning the discontinuance of the division said:

"What disturbs me is the manner in which the Administration reached its decision to abandon journalism. The very least that should have been done was to consult the faculty, students and alumni of the division. The matter was not even referred to the University Senate's Committee on Educational Policy."

THE ACTION will become effective "as soon as commitments to students now enrolled have been properly met," said President White.

Students of the division were this week loudly critical of the action which they said would award them 'lame duck' degrees.

Boys' State Commences Meeting Here Sunday

The eighth annual Boys State, sponsored by the Florida Department, American Legion, will get underway next Sunday afternoon on the Florida State University campus.

Immediately upon their arrival on the FSU campus in Tallahassee the 330 Florida high school [illegible] selected on the basis of [illegible] and scholastic stand- [illegible] the citizenship and pa- [illegible] training program will reg- [illegible] meet their counselors and be [illegible] to their quarters

ONCE THESE formalities are over the youthful citizens will begin the business of forming their own political groups, organizing the various activities units, preparing skits and other events

Dr Doak S Campbell, FSU president, will extend the official welcome of the university to the 1952 Boys State. He will speak at the first assembly session at 7:30 p m Sunday in the FSU Little Theater

In addition to their own Glee Club and band the boys will also operate their own daily newspaper during the week, reporting news of the various candidates for political office, activities of the day and other events

COL. H. NEILL Kirkman, director of the Florida State Highway Patrol; State Legion Department Commander Frank Falsone; State Cabinet members and others have been included on the week's events as speakers. Dr Wilson K Doyle dean of the FSU School of Public Administration, will serve as educational director and consultant for Boys State again this year. Director Hayman [illegible]

[illegible] legislative session in the state [illegible] senate and house cham- [illegible] band [illegible] and [illegible] governor [illegible] the new Boys State governor to be selected during the week, are included in the program

AS ROMEO AND JULIET—Michael Higgins and Carol Teitel, shown above in a scene from Shakespeare's timeless tragedy, will open the summer Artist Series Tuesday night with "Theater As You Like It," a series of excerpts from famous plays.

Youngsters Gather In Music Session

By C. M. CARROLL

The FSU Summer Music Camp began its eleventh annual session Monday, June 16, with a record attendance of 160 high school musicians from Florida, Georgia and Alabama registered for the five-week session.

The activities of the Musicampers will center around participation in the orchestra, chorus or band, with most students in two of the organizations and a few hardy souls in all three. Besides playing or singing, the Musicampers will have private lessons in their musical instrument, voice or baton twirling, and classes in music theory and conducting.

PERFORMANCES by the three organizations will include a weekly concert by the band and orchestra each Sunday at 6 30 P M and a concert by the chorus on Wednesday, July 2. A final gala concert by all three groups will include the Music Camp on Friday, July 18

An operetta will be produced by the Choral Division of the camp on Wednesday, July 16, with the Musicampers taking the lead roles and providing the chorus. The production this year will be "R. S V. P., or A Musicale at Mr. Cauliflower's" by Jacques Offenbach, and will be staged by Professors Hrman Gunter and Walter James

MEMBERSHIP IN the Music Camp is made on a selective basis, according to J. Dayton Smith, registrar of the Camp. All applicants submit a recommendation from their music teacher and school principal, plus a short history of their musical training. Mr. Smith said, with those students being selected who show the best musical ability and achievement, good character and prospects of success in music.

Director of the Music Camp is Karl Kuersteiner, dean of the FSU School of Music with Prof. Owen Sellers serving as associate director. Musical directors of the performance groups are Robert Braunagel and Oliver Hobbs in charge of band, Robert N Sedore, orchestra and Herman Gunter Jr., chorus

Watson New Veep Of Fla. Craftsmen

William Watson [illegible] member of the art education department, has been elected vice-president of the Florida Craftsman. Harold Sutton, also of the same department was elected to the advisory board.

The organization which met recently in DeLand adopted a constitution in which objectives were set forth to further art crafts in Florida, to improve and stimulate design quality, encourage research techniques and to foster markets for products of the arts craftsmen

Those attending the DeLand conference from FSU included also Charles Frothingham.

Gunns Visit Paris To Study Music, Art in Summer

Prof. James M Gunn of the School of Music, and his wife plan to study contemporary European music and art during a summer stay in Paris.

The couple will embark at New Orleans, La., on June [illegible]5.

Gunn will study advanced musical composition with a leading French composer, while his wife, a member of the Florida Art League and immediate past president of the Tallahassee Art League, will study painting.

The trip will also mark the first reunion on French soil of Gunn and his mother, Mme. Suzanne Masson. Mme. Masson graduated from the Paris Conservatoire with triple honors in piano, voice and opera at the age of 15.

Try-Outs Finished For Summer Play

Auditions for the Summer play The Late Christopher Bean, ended in the Augusta Conradi theater last night.

The play, a three-act comedy by Sidney Howard, will be produced July 22 and 23 by the theater area of the department of speech.

There are nine speaking roles in the cast, five men and four women. Tryout materials were supplied and any student could try out Positions on all stage crews were also open and were applied for at the same time.

Last Summer the department of speech presented two plays: Philip King's See How They Run and Thornton Wilder's Our Town.

JOHN ROVER TROTTER INQUIRES

Opinion Varies on Effects of Graduate s

John Rover Trotter professional poll-taker, has been retained by the Summer Flambeau to conduct a weekly survey of student opinion

In his initial poll this week, Dr Trotter investigated the effect of the large number of elementary and secondary school teachers who have registered at FSU for the summer session

According to Dr Trotter a scientific sampling method is being used "[illegible] of [illegible] method." he said. In other words he asks anyone he wants to when the thought strikes him.

To remain perfectly impartial, the same question is asked of everyone interviewed. This week's query was stated as follows: "What changes in the character of the FSU campus have you noticed on account of the large summer graduate enrollment?"

Several representative answers [illegible] from people who [illegible] keep their mind off the weather are [illegible] below

James Turaville, senior. It seems [illegible] the newmen: [illegible] a party and is gone. Too many [illegible]

Barbara Browne, sophomore: Between the kids at Music Camp and some of the others, I'd say the students were either too young or too old

Buddy Watson, junior: The campus [illegible] We need some cooler weather to create a [illegible] sp[illegible]

Anne Egan, senior: [illegible]

Mimi Patterson, sophomore. I [illegible]

Earl Ferrell, sophomore: I [illegible] the campus is not nearly as l[illegible]y

[illegible] it is in the fall [illegible]

Lou Calderoni, junior: It's amazing how much energy these older people exert to create good impression at the first meetings Let's hope they respond this way to school [illegible]

Harold G. Anthony, graduating senior: [illegible] on refers [illegible] students. [illegible] the others are [illegible]

Nancy Love, sophomore: So [illegible] hardly anybody [illegible] stops to pick us up.

Artist Series Opens With Play Excerpts

Campbells Hold Party at Home

Recreation Plan Begins With President's Fete

The program of summer recreation will officially begin with a reception at the home of FSU President Doak S. Campbell on Thursday, June 26, from 4 until 6 p. m.

The summer recreation committee handbook distributed earlier this week reveals a full program including concerts, outdoor movies, square dancing, deep sea fishing, book reviews and informal receptions.

One of the highlights of the schedule are the trips to St. Marks, originally called San Marcos, one of a chain of missions built by the early Spanish settlers in America. The trip will include a tour of the city itself, a visit at the former site of the San Luis mission and a stop at the grave of Prince Murat, a nephew of Napoleon.

Miss Frances Clark of Jacksonville is the chairman of the summer program of recreation which ship of Dean Otis McBride and is conducted under the sponsor- Miss Katherine Warren, Dean of Men and Dean of Women.

Christine P'Simer is the Faculty director of the program designed to fill the need of summer students for a balanced of study and recreation

Witteborg Speaks To Grad Students On Indian Exhibit

Lothar Witteborg, curator of the Florida State Museum, will speak on "Indians of the Plains," at 4 p. m. Monday, June 23, at the Museum in connection with a museum exhibit and reception to the Summer session graduate students.

Dr. Milton Carothers, dean of the FSU Graduate School, will welcome the graduate students at the informal reception in the museum. This will be followed by Mr. Wotteborg's talk.

In his talk to the group Curator Witteborg will explain the development of the Western Plains culture in this country and the use of the materials on display in that culture He will use much of the material now on public exhibit in the museum to illustrate his talk. Music of the Plains Indians will be used to give the talk added colors

'Theater As You Like It' Runs In Amphitheater Tuesday Night

"Theatre As You Like It," to be presented on the Florida State University campus Tuesday night at 8.15, will bring to the students a program of comedy and drama as the first Artist Series entertainment of the summer session.

The production, consisting of a repetoire of famous plays from Shakespeare to Tennessee Williams, will be carried out by New York artists, Carol Teitel and Michael Higgins, in the amphitheater.

The experimental theater is composed of experts, monologues and scenes from ten plays. The Broadway star will present an interpretation in part of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," June Moon" by Lardner and Kaufman, "Red Peppers" by Noel Coward and "The Shy and Lonely" by Irwin Shaw.

HIGGINS WILL also give monologues from "Henry V" and "Richard II, two historical plays by William Shakespeare. Miss Teitel will join him for scenes from "Romeo and Juliet," in which Higgins played last season with Olivia de Haviland.

"Cyrano de Bergerac" by Edmond Rostand is also included among the repertoire, along with Tennessee Williams' "Mooney's Kid Don't Cry," which is said to be the most unusual and dramatic of all the Teitel-Higgins performances

MISS TEITEL'S career as an actress dates back to when she was 15 and joined the company of the Cedarhurst theater under the direction of former director of the Moscow Art theater, Leo Bulgarov. She appeared with Ethel Barrymore in "The School for Scandal" and with Ina Claire in "Biography." Both plays were presented on the FSU campus by student groups this year

Other plays in which she appeared with "Springtime for Henry" with Edward Everett Horton, and "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" with Tallulah Bankhead. During the war, she toured hospitals

MISS TEITEL, also a television star, has had radio performances on "Theater Guild on the Air," "Cavalcade of America" and several radio serials

Before the war Higgins played for four years with the Shakespeare Fellowship of America. He spent three and a half years with the 85th Infantry Division in Italy, and then returned to New York. There he joined the Katharine Cornell company in "Antigone and 'Candida" on Broadway.

IN 1948 he went on tour as the comedy lead in "Brigadoon," visiting 1[illegible]0 veterans' hospitals in the United States and abroad. His most recent radio roles have been in "Theater Guild on the Air," "The Aldrich Family," and "I Love a Mystery."

Higgins met Miss Teitel while they were both working on the American Theater Wing. Recently the two played opposite each other in "Billy the Kid."

Flambeau Could Use Some More Writers Editor Schmidt Says

A call for workers for the Summer Flambeau was issued today by Editor Stan Schmidt. He stressed the need for news writers, feature writers and correspondents at the various FSU departments.

"The Summer Flambeau is operating now with a small crew of experienced people who would be glad to work with anyone interested in writing," the editor said.

The Flambeau office is located in the FSU Alumni building.

Station Broadcasts Short Schedules, Manager Reveals

Bob Ducker, program director and summer station manager of radio station WFSU, issued a statement yesterday reminding students that WFSU would continue broadcasting on a limited schedule throughout the summer session.

WFSU takes to the air waves next Monday at 660 on the dial for a two-hour program between 7 and 9 a. m.

At present the time is planned to be allotted to a disc show featuring all kinds of popular music, the latest news, sports reports and the weather.

Announcers will include Ducker, Bill Bass, Paul Knepper, Charley Heisner and Gene Turano

If all goes well, the station hopes to expand its two-hour "Coffee Caper" to include a couple of hours later in the day or in the early evening.

WFSU also plans to appear at numerous summer evening functions with its traveling mike and tape recorder to get interviews and on-the-spot happenings of interest for re-broadcast.

Ducker stated that anyone who was interested in visiting the station should come up to the fourth floor of the Longmire building between 7 and 9 in the morning. Tryouts will be given for engineering or announcing positions.

Scalera Selected as One of Ten Newsmen To Report Republican, Democratic Convos

Paul Scalera, assistant professor of the Florida State University School of Journalism, will cover the Republican and Democratic national conventions in Chicago next month as a fully accredited correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company.

Professor Scalera was one of ten experienced newsmen named in a national selection by NBC and Northwestern University to supplement the network's convention staff. The ten will be assigned [illegible] candidate headquarters.

BEFORE [illegible] een and after [illegible] the ten will attend [illegible] at N[illegible] c[illegible] reporting [illegible] sponsored jointly by the [illegible] and the network.

While in Illinois, Professor Scalera will make a survey of programs and facilities at Northwestern, the University of Illinois and other schools as part of a plan to establish a comprehensive radio and television curriculum at the FSU School of Journalism. He will also provide some direct convention coverage for the Tallahassee Democrat.

A GRADUATE OF the University of Pennsylvania, Professor Scalera worked for the Philadelphia Record and Baltimore Sun and was for six years a contributing [illegible] on Time magazine before coming to FSU two years ago.

Wheeler Notes Site Of Book Shop New

Mr J G. Wheeler, manager of the Florida State University Book Store, has called to the attention of summer school students the fact that both the book store and the post office have been moved to the new student service building on Call street beyond Senior hall

Clanton Gets Prize In Ad Competition

Kenneth M Clanton who will be a Senior [illegible] Florida State University [illegible] won $100 [illegible] nal [illegible] college [illegible] field.

[illegible] against [illegible] students in [illegible] ed by [illegible] Corporation [illegible] marketing [illegible]

[illegible] who [illegible] est [illegible]

Prof. R. E. [illegible], in whose class Clanton [illegible] enrolled at the time he tried for the award, also received a letter of con[illegible] tion and a certificate of [illegible] from the advertising [illegible], which recommended him [illegible] "high standard of teac[illegible]"

The prize winner [illegible] to an FSU student who [illegible] commencement exercises this month.

Emory Journalism Jettison Viewed as Unwise Move

Students at Emory University, at least those in a position to make themselves heard, have raised quite a hue and cry over the summary abandonment by the University administration of the Division of Journalism.

The decision to discontinue the division "when commitments to students now enrolled have been properly met" was announced by President Goodrich C. White shortly after Dr. Raymond B. Nixon, director of the division since 1938, made public his acceptance of a professorship at the University of Minnesota.

Part of the reasons given for dropping the division may be placed in the category of expenses. In his official statement, Dr. White remarked,

"With Dr. Nixon's resignation the University was confronted with the necessity for deciding policy as to the future. It has been clear to the administrative officers concerned that to replace Dr. Nixon with a man of his caliber and his academic and professional qualifications would be impossible without commitments to a program of expansion of staff and facilities which would require large expenditures.

"Without such commitments there would be grave danger, to say the least, that the character and quality of the program would deteriorate and that the work in the field would not be maintained on the level of excellence to which Emory is committed and which has been successfully achieved in journalism under Dr. Nixon's guidance."

The crux of the argument, however, is contained in this statement to cut down on professional schools and return to liberal arts:

"The continuance and expansion of the program in professional journalism is not in accord with the University's policy of limiting its undertakings in vocational and professional fields and concentrating on the basic disciplines."

"We believe that the College and the Graduate school will continue to provide for students looking into journalism as a career opportunity to secure the kind of education that is most fundamental to success, and that, by many experienced journalists is emphasized as most important."

In the face an almost overwhelming wave of "professional schools dealing in "practical" courses, Emory's decision could be a hopeful sign. A return of the liberal arts to their former position of importance would indeed be a boon to effective education.

There are reasons to question the actual wisdom of the move, however.

First of all, the president himself admitted Nixon emphasized liberal arts: "Dr Nixon has consistently put major emphasis on the fundamentals of general liberal education as essential to the preparation of future journalists. There has been a minimum of emphasis on specialized techniques."

Second, the Emory journalism division has been in operation for a number of years and during that time has gained much renown. It is rated one of the best in the nation and by far the best in the South. Certainly nearby Georgia and Georgia Tech cannot match its record.

Also, those students now enrolled in the division feel that they will get "lame duck" degrees if they stay with their major at Emory.

Finally, just as a rule of the thumb when dealing with faculty politics, one should suspect that the stated reasons are not the only ones, perhaps not even the main ones.

The Emory administration's move must generally be considered an unwise one

THE EDITORS POST

'PATTER OF PEDAGOGIC FEET' AT FSU

By STAN SCHMIDT

Tha patter of pedagogic feet is once again heard on the greenaward of Florida State.

The time of the year when schoolmasters from all over the State gather to brush up on iambic pentameter and digest the latest devices designed to make the young Floridian tremble with eagerness at the sight of Ye olde red schoolhouse.

It would seem that any drives directed toward "hooky," the old swimming hole and the proverbial pigtailed, flaxen-haired one doesn't stand a chance against the machinations of Educational Psychologists committed to a goal of making kids beg to go to that nice place where they can sunbathe and use their fingers for paint brushes. . . .

During previous summer sessions friction has developed between the older students and the regular FSU students. The "regular" has a picture of a prissy old gal who strides into class with a new shiny box of 24 Mirado pencils (sharpened, of course) and proceeds to give the instructor a hard time in an effort to prove what her looks say—"You can't teach me anything." The teacher back to brush up on things she has been teaching for years might be expected to dig in and really learn something and even be a little tolerant of the guy in blue denims trying so hard to impress the cutie in the sunback. Who is so strong as to be able to resist the temptation to tell the young in which direction lies the straight and narrow?

And so the difficulty last summer involving the disapproval of older students of the goodnight smooching under the flashing lights. Each had a case.

Many of the older women studying then had daughters of their own and thought it something less than desirable to watch "mere youngsters" clutching at pimply faced Don Juans.

The "mere youngsters" wished the well-meaning, but dated spinsters, would push their own red wagons and leave them to their dissolute slide into abject immorality.

Would it be naive to suppose the grey heads and the gay heads could live together in tolerance for a few weeks on the same couple of acres?

• • •

The summer recreation program opened with a relaxed, ice cream social that should have stopped there. An uninspired, young monologist with a death grip on the microphone was responsible for the groans that rolled o'er the Frosh area

Congrats to popular Journalism Prof. Paol Scalera who was one of ten newsmen picked to cover the conventions this summer for NBC. It's rumored that ex-Time magazine department head, was loath to leave his Tallahassee farm and pet cow to less experienced hands. . . .

Among the familiar faces returned this summer is ex-FSU football great, Dub Kendrick now teaching Phys. Ed in Central Florida. . .

Another familiar face is 1950's campus personality Wally Frye who hasn't changed much — met him 'discussing teaching methods' with a cute little educator. Time marches on?

OFF THE CUFF

1952 — AGE OF THE 'WEASEL WORDS'

By BRUCE GALPHIN

When some future historian looks for a phrase to characterize our times, he may well call this the age of the weasel word.

The world is on a drunken orgy of misrepresentation, of honest dishonesty, of cheating by the rules.

Everyone from the city dogcatcher (the co-ordinator of municipal canine pursuit, you know) on up has a special title. No activity involving as many as ten people is complete without its public relations officer. Worst of all, great ideas and great issues are effectively clouded by loaded words and catch phrases.

It's understandable why the bank janitor would rather be called the fifteenth vice-president in charge of equipment or why the government would prefer to designate the draft as selective service. Such euphemisms add a little glamor to necessary drudgery; they give Joe Average somewhat of a moral boost as he plods through an average day in an average life.

To this extent, gilded words could hardly be called harmful. They aren't quite precise perhaps, but no one is really much worse off because of them

When weasel words are used to preclude any directed thought on serious issues, however, they become dangerous. Inasmuch as they cover deceit and enflame unreasoning emotions they are the worst sort of abuse of the language.

It has been suggested that the Ordinary Citizen does not have enough understanding of world affairs to be able to accept the facts unemotionally, that he must be goaded to action by the conditioned stimuli of stock phrases. Such reasoning, however, denies the very esence of democracy: that given the facts and time the citizen will make the wise choice. And it certainly does not explain why the leaders, the people who should know what is going on, are just as surely deluded by their own verbal trickery as anyone else

In the realm of political thought Communists are particularly notorious for their c[illegible]dish accusations and oversimplifaction Americans as a whole can see through such clichea as "inevitable revolution," "peoples' democracy," and 'dictatorship of the proletariat,' but when it comes to seeing their own assininities they are just as ignorant as anyone else

The University of Indiana's Crimson Bull recently carried a series of stock phrases from military communiquea together with some less usual interpretations A few are reprinted below

. . . interrogated the prisoner (U. S. intelligence blacks an eye) . . reports of more atrocities against helpless prisoners (Enemy intelligence does too) . . . courageous charge in the face of fierce enemy resistance (We're advancing) . . suicide attacks by crazed oriental fanatics (They're advancing) . . convicted on a trumped-up charge in a parody trial, a martyr to totalitarianism (The MVD caught a spy) . .traitor to the land which befriended him, hiding behind the pillars of American justice (So did the FBI).

To these could be added bookfuls on race relations and sex taboos, on economics and religion. What it boils down to is that those who dispense the news don't trust the public with the truth. They must alternately butcher and doctor the facts until these fit a preconceived pattern. Perhaps they realize that wars might die out and much of the other confusion in a muddled world come to an end if the truth were known.

Until some day in the golden future though, the [illegible]tering generality and the passion-raiser will reign in shoddy glory.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—STAN SCHMIDT

Managing Editor	Bruce Galp[illegible]
Sports Editor	Tom Conkl[illegible]
Columnists	Dan Alth[illegible]
	Gene Lawler
Flambeau Photographer	Mimi Patterson

BUSINESS

Business Manager	Lou Calderon
Asst. Business Manager	Nancy Lowe

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-800, Ext 4621 second Floor, Alumni Bldg.

The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

ROTC Students Train at AF Bases

A number of Florida State University students enrolled in the Air Force ROTC unit have been assigned to summer camp training programs at various Air Force bases in Florida and other sections of the country, Col. Bernice S. Barr, FSU professor of Air Science and Tactics, revealed recently.

The FSU student cadets will report to the Summer Camps effective June 23, along with some members of the Air Force personnel from FSU assisting in the training of the ROTC unit. The cadet students, Col. Barr said, are in their junior and senior years in college and will attend the Summer camp courses for further training to familiarize themselves with new training techniques and to learn more about the operations of Air Force bases.

Upon their graduation from FSU the cadet students will be given commissions as second lieutenants in the United States Air force is having completed the required course of training as university cadets

FSU student cadets assigned to Summer Camp training at MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa are Joseph B. Bachman Jr. Travis J. Barnes Jr. Gordion P Blitch Jr., Charles R Carey, William F Cox, Bobby B Drake William D Dunn, William B Fletcher, Ralph W. Hanks Frank H Hirt, William V. Holloway Ray G Jones Jr Robert L McCollister, Raymond Nye William B Petry, John H Quinn and Fred Sadler

Others are Edward P Seagram Victor J Szczepanik Roy L Thompson Jr Richard D Turk, Jack M. Watkins and Lewis L Wesson.

Those assigned to Tyndall Air Force Base, Panama City, are Sgts. Virgil M Bumgarner and Thomas J. Smith and members of the ROTC Air Force personnel training staff while Capt. Vadim N Pchelkin, FSU assistant professor of Air Science and Tactics, has been assigned to the Ellington Air Force Base in Texas for the Summer Camp training instruction

FSU cadet students assigned by the Air Force to Brookley Air Base Summer Camp at Mobile, Ala., include Warren P. Dolan, William T. Edwards, Kent W Heberling Charles B. Hennesey Fred W Hoover, Robert H. Kirkland Anthony J. Lefevre Robert O McKenzie, Finley M McMullen, Norman M Moore, Jimmy T Patronis, Ronald K Pickett Robert C Ryals Jr. Francis E Steinmeyer, Carlos F Stone Billy D Teel Hugh W Weaver, Olenn T. Allen Jr Donald G. Bookmyer, James L. Brady and Ashley M Costin.

Student cadets assigned to Robins Air Force Base Georgia, are Walter A Baldwin, John K Brown John C Burnett James P Corry Angus C Craft Jr Robert R King Benson L Skelton Jr Edward O Stripling Robert B Willis and James N Yaden

SOUNDING OFF

SUMMER SCHOOL GEARED TO WEATHER

By DAN ALTHOFF

Summer school is here again.. No more talk of panty raids, "Streetcar Named Desire," coast parties, sports, weekends in Gainesville, the draft, fraternity and sorority parties, or any of the other activities that take place during the regular session Instead there are distinguished looking, gray headed men and women, and a scholarly atmosphere pervading the campus. The whole business is much more easy going and leisurely, except for the class work. It seems that Summer school is geared to the weather, as well it should be.

However some things about a university never change For instance, there is the good old rooming house where I sack in at night (or early morning) We have the usual assortment of globe-trotters from Alabama, Georgia, Texas, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, and even some boys from Florida I think our maid is from South Africa Of course, there are a few old timers walking around to remind us that it is Summer school, as if the heat were not enough.

It is a little tougher getting a date at this time of year. It is necessary to look longer and harder, doe to the smaller enrollment and smaller selection, but fortonately I haven't had any trouble so far.

The university is making an effort to provide diversion for the students but it cannot make up for the lack of commercial entertainment around town If you have a car there is Wakulla, the camp, or the coast, but how about when the sun goes down?

Besides the cinema there are a few drive-ins and that is just about the whole works. For a man on foot there isn't that much. All the pedestrian has is the show downtown and the only place to get beer is the Oasis. But they have Michelob and that covers a multitude of sins. About the only remedy is pleasant companionship comprendes?

The library still has capacity crowds. The faces are different but the expression on them is the same. Some of the residents look as if they were born in a library, some complexions match the paint on the wall, some faces strangely resemble the cover on an anthology of classical Greek literature or some such book of similar depth, others look as if they wandered in out of the rain, and there are some young chicks that have no business in a library at all.

Every day has its outstanding event or events While I was in the library yesterday afternoon a bunch of old maid school teachers came wadding in with the most absurd heads of hair I have ever seen at one time It looked like a gathering of Zulu chieftains

If you stay in any library long enough you are bound to see a creature resembling a weird tropical fowl flitting from stack to stack clutching a ponderous volume the way an osprey seizes a fish from the water throwing it on a table, opening it with a grand flourish and devouring its contents the way a starved lion would ravish a young, tender deer The things a man sees when he doesn't have his gun

Museum Offers Summer Exhibition Of Western Plains Indian Relics

One of the most exciting exhibits offered so far in the Florida State University Museum is open to the public without charge.

It is the "Indians of the Plains." These are Indians that the settlers of the old West first saw as they crossed the Western plains in their covered wagons. They are the Indians depicted in the movies countless times years ago and are still shown in the Western movies of today.

THOSE ENTERING the Museum receive an illusion of entering a large Indian tepee. They will see the large feather headbonnets, worn by the Indian chieftans, a large painted buffalo robe, a painted buffalo hide shield, bows and arrows, an Indian drum used in ceremonials, beaded moccasins, leather leggins and other articles used daily by the Indians

The unusual and very colorful exhibit was obtained by the University Museum on loan from the Museum of the American Indians in New York and tha William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art in Kansas City, Missouri

LOTHAR P. WITTEBORG, Museum curator said the exhibit has a high degree of interest for both adults and youth since it is closely associated with the early history of this country and the development of Western plains

He says it is also extremely interesting because it shows the material objects of the last great Indian cultural development in this country which came about with the use of the horse by the Indians on the Western plains

WITH THE advent of the horse the exhibit shows how the Indians living as an agricultural people on the edge of the Plains left their old way of life and took on a life of wandering from place to place hunting buffalo for food and clothing

It shows how they began a new social life with the changes made in their ceremonies and forms of worship This dramatic new life of the Indians, according to Curator Witteborg, came to a slow halt around the 1820's when the encroachment of the white settlers on the Western Plains curbed the general activities of these Indians

THE NEW exhibit will be open to the public without charge during the Summer months

NOW WHERE'S THAT WESTERN HEMISPHERE? . . .

What most college students don't know about geography would fill several university libraries, a New York Times survey indicates

The paper gave a geography test to about 5,000 students in 42 colleges. Some odd misconceptions of how the world is layed out were turned up.

For example, when asked to name the countries bordering Yugoslavia, some students named Belgium, Egypt, Manchuria, Portugal and even Canada. Only two per cent, incidentally, could closely estimate Canada's population.

Less than half the students could approximate the United States' population Many thought it was 500 million or more, while some placed it in the billions. (1950 census estimate of U. S. population: nearly 152 million). Five percent could name the states bordering on the Atlantic coast Many states as far inland as the Mississippi were mentioned

So far few college papers have commented on this survey. The Kansas State Collegian called tha results "appalling" and added:

"The wild guesses show that our college men and women are deficient in basic facts about our country and the world . . . A refresher course on basic geography would be a fine subject to require of all students in order for the men and women to be 'wide-awake' and intelligent citizens."

The survey indicated that geography is seldom required by major schools Less than five per cent of the nation's college students take even one geography course, according to the study.

A. C. P. ROUNDUP

VIOLENCE, CONFUSION ON U.S. CAMPUSES

At the end of the school year, college students across the nation played strange tricks on their neighbors and on their administrations.

Rioting "panty raiding" and alcoholic outbursts have created stirs on dozens of campuses What have created just as much of a stir are the various administration's retaliations. Here, then, is a break rundown of the situation.

Close to 30 colleges (ACP count) have staged some sort of panty riot in the past three weeks. In addition, there were about a dozen other riots, staged for a variety of reasons ranging from a "Pogo for President" melee to one for an ice cream vendor

Many of the raids were, for all practical purposes, ignored by the administrations Others were immediately squelched by police, such as the one at the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia. Still others were followed by stringent disciplinary measures.

At the University of Wisconsin 25 students were temporarily suspended for participation in the riot there Damages from the raid amounted to about $900 and girls were requested to submit lists of their lost belongings to the dean.

At the University of North Carolina the chancellor made a personal appearance at the early morning riot and ordered the crowd to disperse "I'll ship any and everybody I catch after this minute," he shouted

Police used tear gas to break up the Minnesota tumult Later, several students were suspended, dormitory rooms were searched and students complained that they were given something like "the third degree" by administration officials

On most campuses the girls also participated in the riots, egging the boys on and throwing them words of encouragement. But at the University of Colorado the girls fought back with bottles, cosmetic jars and other missiles. One boy got a broken hip while trying to elude police

Farther west, at Oregon State college, the girls were most cooperative, opening their dormitory windows from the inside and unlocking the front door The boys climbed fire escapes but were repulsed by the dormitory matrons and campus police

At Otterbein college Ohio, students complained that phone wires were being tapped by the administration in an effort to discover who started the raid there

• • •

AND THERE WAS MORE . . .

"A rowdy drinking party" according to the Daily Texan, ended in the burning of $30,000 worth of the Austin City Park bathouse

Four University of Texas students have been charged with arson. The whole affair began harmlessly enough with beer and a bonfire both of which had surprising result.

• • •

And a quartet of students at Michigan State university got stern warnings from the local chief of police for falsifying their identification cards in order to be served at a bar Another student was arrested and fined for drinking as a minor.

The beer flowed too, in three fraternity houses at the University of Colorado. The fraternities were promptly fined $50 apiece by a student board

• • •

And at Ohio State university vandals took a .22 caliber rifle and shot holes into the plate glass windows of the Union cafeteria. Damages amounted to $520

• • •

DON'T CRAM, IT'S NERVE-RACKING . . .

Here's what Kenneth Cristophe, director of Boston university's health service, has to say about studying for exams

Don't try to stay awake by drinking coffee or smoking. You may keep physically awake, but "When you take a 'quick break' mentally you are just numb Don't light a cigarette. Get into the fresh air and clear your head

"Don't study in a room that is too hot or cold. If the room is overheated you will become sleepy Those who believe brains work better in a cold temperature will probably miss the examination because of colds or more serious ailments

"The absolute limit for studying should be 2 a. m After that the outgo of knowledge possibly surpasses the intake"

And a physician in Washington D C. claims he has found that you can "cram" more quickly while under hypnosis.

SLIGHT ERROR . . .

When a sophomore at Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons was asked how large a dose of a certain drug he would administer to a specified patient, he promptly replied, 'Six grains

A minute later the student realized he had made a mistake and asked if he could correct his answer The professor glanced at his watch and said "Well, you can revise your answer if you like, but your patient has been dead for exactly 45 seconds"

INK HAPPY . . .

While 93 political candidates at the University of Pittsburgh were scurrying about the campus getting petitions signed to endorse their candidates one poker-faced reporter for the Pitt News was circulating his own petition

It stated that he was running for the position of elevator operator and he got 31 students out of 34 to sign it without reading the first page

Drunk with success the reporter drew up another petition which said 'We the undersigned fully admit to being first class jackasses for not reading this before signing it The score 24 signatures out of a possible 27

INTELLECTUALISM? . . .

The Davidsonian, Davidson College (N. C.) thinks students are intellectually lazy It declares:

"In the realm of social relationships with each other, the student falls down intellectually. In most conversations in the f[illegible]

The Davidsonian, Davidson College (N C) thinks students are intellectually lazy It declares:

"In the realm of social relationships with each other, the student falls down intellectually In most conversations in the fraternity and the dormitory the cultural and intelligence level is below college standards.

"We seldom say significant things to each other, and when someone does say something important, the recipient usually doesn't recognize it Now this doesn't mean we have to go around with sour faces attempting to solve the world's problems all the time, but when a more enlightened individual brings up such a topic we should at least know what he's talking about—and few of us do."

Burns, Burdick Qualify For FSU's 1st Ed. D.'s

Clyde L Burns, chairman of the industrial arts division, arts education department at Florida State University and Richard L Burdick, FSU graduate assistant, have completed all requirements for their degrees of Doctors of Education at FSU.

They will be the first two graduate students to receive degrees of Doctor of Education from FSU, marking another milestone in the progress of the FSU Graduate School according to Dr Milton W Carothers dean of the school.

IN MEETING the requirements for his degree, Prof Burns prepared his dissertation on a study of the use of the problem-solving approach in industrial arts programs in Florida secondary schools

During the research for his dissertation material, Prof Burns visited 22 Florida secondary schools where he administered questionaries to 1,800 students In addition he analyzed questionaries returned from 100 Florida industrial art teachers.

HE FOUND that the development of problem-solving ability was not a major objective for most art teachers He also found a need for improvements in techniques to develop problem-solving ability by the students

Prof Burns says his research work indicated a definite trend toward more democratic procedure in industrial arts shops and increased acceptance of responsibility by students

SINCE COMING to FSU in 1947, Prof Burns has served as an industrial arts teacher in the FSU Demonstration School and helped organize the university industrial arts division which he headed for the last three years. He is a former teacher in Sylvania, Ohio, public schools, Tennessee High School in Briston, Tenn, and Tennessee Tech at Cookeville, Tenn

Under his supervision the FSU Industrial Arts Division has expanded to include an undergraduate program and graduate program of study The first masters degree in industrial arts at FSU were awarded during the June 7 commencement exercises

MR. BURDICK came to FSU in 1949 to work for his doctors degree. He was formerly a professor of history at the State Teachers College in Dickinson, North Dakota He received his A B degree from Battle Creek College in Michigan and his masters degree in history from the University of Michigan.

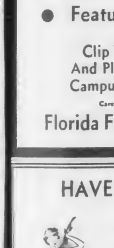
He prepared his dissertation for his doctors degree from FSU on a guide for a course in United States history for prospective high school teachers of history He has shown in his dissertation the relationship between the education of high school history teachers and the overall problem of generally improving teaching as it relates to American history

MRS. BURDICK who was in Tallahassee with her husband while he was working for his doctors degree, is the daughter of Mrs Irving D Smith, of Skaneateles, New York

A LINE ON BALLROOM FLOOR

The University of North Carolina may have a law suit on its hands, if it continues its policy of all-white dances on campus The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says it hopes student pressure will force the administration to reverse its policy, otherwise, the association will go to court.

"It is the policy of NAACP to see that Negro students enjoy the full privileges of being a student" said the NAACP attorney The dispute arose when the law school association announced its plans to hold an unsegregated spring dance Five Negro students are members of the law school association.



A similar case occurred there last fall when Negro students were given segregated seats at the football stadium. Student pressure later forced the administration to allow unrestricted seating.

The law school association voted 82 to 63 in favor of the non-segregated dance. Said the Daily Tar Heel in its news story: "Law school students yesterday decided that a student is still a student, regardless of the color of his skin, and opened the door for a possible bi-racial dance. . ."

For the Finest, Fastest Service
In Town Take Your Car to
CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

The Amber House
FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE
Now You Can Enjoy
the Same Fine Food Plus
Cool ! Cool ! Cool !
Air-Conditioned Comfort

We Want You!
● Reporter ● Business Staff
● Feature Writer ● Sports Writer
Clip This
And Place In Campus Mail
Care of
Florida Flambeau
NAME .....
BOX NO. .....
Reporter ☐ Feature ☐
Business ☐ Sports ☐

HAVE YOU LOST ANYTHING?
Try to find it by using the Classified Section of the FLAMBEAU.
The Flambeau is the place to advertise.

EXTENSION 4821
• BOOKS
• RIDES HOME
• ROOMS
• TYPEWRITERS
• AND MOST ANYTHING FOR THE STUDENTS
FLAMBEAU CLASSIFIED

Blind Veteran Gets Master's; Plans Career of Social Work

Kenneth Clark '27, recent graduate from the School of Social Welfare at Florida State University, is well on his way toward realizing his ambition to become a professional social worker.

He has already received his B.A. degree and a certificate of social work from the University of South Carolina, and received his master's degree at FSU this June. He has made good progress despite a severe war wound handicap received during World War II when a land mine exploded in France.

THIS HANDICAP requires him to use readers, whom he praises very highly for their assistance to him. He says any person of average intelligence suffering the same handicap can make just as much progress in education through use of good readers.

To his classmates Clark was just another graduate student. He studied and worked in his classroom activity as a member of the group, asking no special favors and receiving none from his professors.

HE HAS MUCH praise for Dr. Coyle E. Moore, dean of the School of Social Welfare. Dr. William L. Leap, his major professor, Prof. Margaret Bristol and the entire school which he feels gave him the opportunity to make good strictly on his own despite his physical condition.

Clark's wife, Mary, is also due much credit for encouraging him to continue his work in higher education toward becoming a professional social worker. The Clarks have two children, Carolyn, 5, and Linda Mary 3. They had a double celebration June 7 with Kenneth receiving his masters degree in social work and Carolyn celebrating her sixth birthday.

BACK BEFORE World War II and his service in the Army Engineers overseas caused a drastic change in his future plans, the husky 180 pound graduate student had prospects as a potential major league baseball star. He played some semi-pro baseball and was an all around athlete in football, basketball and other sports. His injury in France caused him to spend more than a year in hospitals in this country where one of his nurses later became his wife.

While attending FSU, Kenneth and his family live in an apartment on the West Campus. He is fond of fishing and usually goes on week ends. He likes to listen to baseball games on the radio, follows football and other sports actively and enjoys association with his neighbors and other friends. He enjoys a normal campus life getting about with the help of his readers. Meeting him on the campus you would hardly notice him apart from thousands of other young men students. That is except for one thing.

THE WORLD WAR II veteran is totally blind.

Vacation Study Opportunities Presented in UNESCO Report

The number of opportunities for international study and travel during the summer vacation of 1952 and international scholarships will be unusually great and varied, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization recently reported.

So that students may learn of the opportunities, UNESCO has published a "Vacation Study" report and an international handbook of fellowships, scholarships and educational exchange entitled "Study Abroad."

THE 40-PAGE booklet "Vacation Study" lists hundreds of general and specialized study courses offered in 20 different countries, as well as seminars, study tours, camps and youth centers. Fees, lodging and travel costs quoted are moderate, and in many cases scholarships are offered for vacation study, UNESCO stated.

The exceptionally wide range of the subjects covered is particularly noteworthy in the courses offered in European countries, UNESCO has pointed out, but there are also vacation study opportunities in India Israel, Lebanon, Japan, the Union of South Africa, the United States, Mexico, Cuba and various South American countries. More than one-quarter of the booklet is devoted to study opportunities in the United Kingdom.

"STUDY ABROAD, Volume IV", UNESCO's annual survey of international study opportunities, lists more than 36 000 scholarships for the 1951-52 school year. The handbook also indicates many that will be available for 1953 and 1954 American students, the UNESCO study indicates, are eligible for more than 5,000 fellowships in 38 countries. Opportunities range from tuition and maintenance costs only, to grants which cover travel and living allowance.

Largest donor nation, according to the report, is the United States, which is represented with approximately 14,000 study opportunities, about half of which are granted by colleges, universities, foundations and national organizations.

Journalism Offers Varied Curriculum

Six areas of graduate study in mass communications will be stressed this Fall at the Florida State University School of Journalism, according to Dean Laurence R. Campbell.

Taking advantage of its location in Tallahassee, the state capital, the FSU School of Journalism will continue to stress government news in courses on "Covering the Courts" and "Reporting State Affairs," taught by Professors Sidney Kobre and Paul Scialeta.

Advertising will receive greater emphasis with the arrival of the famed Dr. Royal H. Ray on the campus as head of the new department of advertising. He comes to FSU from a similar position at Syracuse University.

Communications research will be stressed in Communication Media Analysis. Literature of Journalism, readability of Mass Communications, and Public Opinion Polling Techniques.

Public relations will receive increased attention under the supervision of Professor W. R. Slaughter, formerly of Northwestern University. Plans are under way to introduce an advanced course.

Evaluation of the press and its responsibility in a free society is important in the History of Press and Radio, Press of the South, Inter-American Press, as well as Press of the Seventeenth Century.

Student publications and high school journalism are covered in courses for teachers who will be qualify fully for professional work as sponsors of the school press.

Patronize Our Advertising

Price Attends GTP Meeting; Shows Movies

Dr. Hartley price, Florida State gymnastics coach who has developed several national champions, attended the Fourth Annual Reunion of Gymnastics Teachers and Performers at Chicago June 6.

He showed motion pictures of the FSU gymnasts, including performances by Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder, who will be members of the United States Olympic team at Helsinki, Finland, this summer.

Roetzheim is the national high bar champion and the All-American all-round gymnastics champion. He has won more honors than have been accorded to any other performer in the history of the sport. He was on the Olympics team in 1948 and represented the United States in Buenos Aires in 1950.

Roetzheim was the subject of a two-page feature spread in the June issue of Friends magazine.

Sees FSU Pictures On New York Train

Florida State University is traveling fast.

Dr. Louis Shores, dean of the School of Library Science and Training, who recently returned from Europe on a Fulbright Fellowship, said when he got on a train in New York to return to Tallahassee, he found the name and gold spirit right along with his food!

The back of the menus in the dining car were plastered with FSU information, complete with a picture of Westcott, he said.

Veller Leaves State For AF Training

Don Veller traded his title of head football coach at Florida State University for the rank of major in the Air Force when he goes on active duty assignment for two weeks training beginning June 7, at Stetson University in Deland.

Veller will take a course in Air Force personnel management. Upon completion of the training he will go to Indiana for a visit with his mother.

Veller will call his 1952 football squad for practice in mid-August. This year he faces a 10-game schedule that includes six home games against Louisiana Tech, Louisville, V. M. I., Mississippi Southern Furman, Homecoming, and Tampa. He also will game against N. C. State at Raleigh, Stetson at Orlando, Georgia Tech at Atlanta, and Wofford at Spartanburg.

Season tickets for the FSU home schedule now are on sale by the Athletic Department at $15 each. This is a saving of $4.00 from the single game price which would total $19.60 for the six home games.

Coaches on Leave Seeking Doctorates

Two members of the athletic coaching staff at Florida State University are going back to school to work on their doctors' degrees.

Ed Williamson, director of intramurals, will go to New York University on a year's leave of absence. J. K. (Bud) Kennedy will attend summer school at the University of Colorado, and will return here in September. He is head basketball coach.

Five members of the athletic staff already hold doctor's degrees. They are Dr. Howard G. Danford, athletic director; Dr. Don Veller, head football coach; Dr. Donald Loucks, head tennis coach; Dr. Kenneth Miller, head track coach, and Dr. Hartley Price, head gymnastics coach.

Patronize Our Advertising

Get This Postgraduate Course worth Thousands of Dollars!

New Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Advantages To College Men Now Preparing for Military Service
Here is valuable postgraduate training that money can't buy! As an Aviation Cadet you can receive instruction and training worth thousands of dollars—at the same time you are serving your country. You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. Seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can receive unmatched training in flying and leadership for the years ahead.
WHO MAY APPLY
AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.
HOW TO QUALIFY
1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.
2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.
3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and Tests for (no two years only)
4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.
5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Class starting July 19, August 19, October 2, and November 18, 1952.
6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.
7. Graduate, win your wings. Commissioned second lieutenant, begin earning $5,000 a year! Receive $250 uniform allowance, 30-day leave with pay.
WHERE To Get More Details
Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.
U.S. AIR FORCE

Phaedrus philosophized:
You will soon break the bow
if you keep it always stretched
Fables

Recipe for relaxation—take the contents of one frosty bottle of Coca-Cola. Delicious, too.
DRINK Coca-Cola
5¢
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Beetle Bailey

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
"The Sellout"
Starring
Walter Pidgeon, John Hodiak, Audrey Totter
STATE
'Jungle Manhunt'
Starring
Johnny Weissmuller
RITZ
The Lady Pays Off
Starring
Linda Darnell
Stephen McNally
plus
'Arizona Raiders'
Starring
Buter Crabbe, Marsha Hunt
DRIVE-IN
"Sealed Cargo"
Starring Dana Andrews
"Oh, Susanna"
Starring
Rod Cameron
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

'UNWRITTEN LAW' . . .

At Drake University two students have resigned from an honorary music sorority after learning that the group has an "unwritten law" forbidding Negroes to join.

The sorority Mu Phi Epsilon, said to share this policy with three other national music sororities. There is an understanding that no group will change its policy without consulting the others.

MEN! HERE'S GOOD NEWS!

Turner's Terrific Trouser SALE IS ON!

There Are Still Stacks of Slacks to Choose From.

GET YOURS TODAY

4.95 pair

VALUES TO $8.95

Turner's

No Statement Yet Concerning Rumor Dean May Resign

In answer to consistent rumors that Edwin R. Walker, dean of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, is planning to resign, Walker's office had no comment Wednesday.

An official announcement on the matter is expected over the weekend, however.

Walker took over his duties as Dean at Florida State University in September, 1948.

He holds the A. B degree granted in 1926 by Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas; the B. D degree from Vanderbilt in 1928; the Ph.D degree from the University of Chicago in 1939. His major course of study at Southwestern and Chicago was philosophy and the philosophy of religion at Vanderbilt.

Magazine Publishes Permenter Article

Dr. John Permenter, associate professor in the School of Education, is author of an article titled, "A Statewide Teaching Internship Program," which appeared in the May issue of Teachers College Record, a national periodical published at Columbia University.

The article is an informal evaluation of the internship program and the contribution of interns and this program to teacher education in Florida. It deals with the state internship program from the historical and developmental aspect.

Dr. Permenter received his Ph.D degree from Columbia.

Patronize Our Advertising

PRESIDENT AND WIFE AT HOME—Dr. and Mrs. Doak S. Campbell stand on the steps of their spacious home, which will be the scene of a reception next Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m.

SHAKESPEARE ON EXAMS . . .

From the Manatawa Daily comes proof that Shakespeare's witticisms can apply to just about anything. Here's what one talented gent had to say about examination.

Students in the library. Make you know, and then the tables up. And quietness the room so quiet too. Romeo and Juliet.

Cramming at 3 a.m. Weary, stale, flat and unprofitable seem to me all uses of this world." Hamlet.

Cramming at 7 a.m. It is time your brains are coming very weak compared to the dull my sense. Othello.

Teacher hands out exams. Those permitted writing? Go to hell. Death [illegible] Hamlet.

Composition exam. [illegible] from with him upon this theme; mine eyes, no matter what." Hamlet.

Fiendish pen devil damned spot out, I say! Macbeth.

FSU Students Win Ad Contest Awards

A group of college students in the D. W. Ryan Wholesale Grocery Company [illegible] in a contest sponsored by the Food Advertising Council of New York for the Advertising Department portion of the Betty Clark [illegible] W. Ford Jackson and Joanne Ford [illegible] Kennedy of Camden, were [illegible] the Tallahassee.

Ray, New Ad. Head Talks At Jax Club

Dr. [illegible] Ray, [illegible] Department of Journalism, [illegible] Florida State University, [illegible] Advertising Club of Jacksonville [illegible] Ad Club.

Officers Selected

[illegible]

MEN, WHERE'S YOUR MASCULINITY? . . .

[illegible]

Studies Problems Of Little Merchant In Display Plans

Show window displays, represented the reputation of the store on the shopping public.

That is one of the conclusions reached by Etienne Simmons, business major, during a study of display problems of the small merchant. The study was conducted under the supervision of Dr. W. Bruce Weale, associate professor of business.

A COPY of the study has been placed in the library, where it has been made available to any interested merchants confronted with display problems.

In his paper entitled, "A Study of Some of the Basic Display Principles As Applied to the Small Retail Merchant," Simmons took of the results of a series of personal interviews with small retail merchants to ascertain their display problems.

HE SAYS the need for research in advertising problems of the small retailer has long been [illegible] ignored by advertising authorities. Since World War II, he says, display has carried the new name of visual merchandising and many small retail merchants are unaware of the sales appeal in their show windows and other display areas.

The FSU business research [illegible] points out that display [illegible] is an advantage for the small retail merchants in realize [illegible] qualities can be controlled by the individual merchant. To [illegible] needs, says Simmons, a display [illegible] able so the customer whose [illegible] merchandise is also available.

HE STATES that [illegible] materials can be used in [illegible] display, and that [illegible] prevent the [illegible] color and [illegible] can be kept [illegible] keep pace with [illegible] trends exist.

Simmons [illegible] plan visits [illegible] between [illegible] Associated [illegible] display [illegible] and [illegible] agencies.

HE ALSO SAYS [illegible]

Patronize Our Advertising

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

Formerly Meats Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

NYLON PANTIES

(White Only)

$1.00

ONLY 2 TO A CUSTOMER

SWIM SUITS ½ PRICE

Bertha Cooke

206 W. College Dial 2-8229

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

107 SOUTH COPELAND STREET

BOOKS — SUPPLIES — SUNDRIES

STATIONERY

WE BUY USED BOOKS

The Mecca

101 SOUTH COPELAND

featuring

- Delivery Service
  FOR ORDERS OVER 1.00
- Summer Menu
  DELICIOUS COLD PLATES
  ICE COLD WATERMELON
- Assorted Sundries
  SCHOOL SUPPLIES
  KODAK SUPPLIES
  STATIONERY

3-0659 — PHONE — 2-4031

Paul Turner

JEWELER WATCHMAKER

KEEPSAKE DIAMONDS

102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

MUCH MILDER

Chesterfield CIGARETTES

CHESTERFIELD

NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE

AT DARTMOUTH

"THE INDIAN BOWL" SELLS CHESTERFIELD 2 to 1 OVER ALL OTHER BRANDS

FIRST CHOICE OF COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN

Freedom in Education
Not for Weaklings
See Article—Page 1

Summer Flambeau

Our Silent Generation
Discussed by Writer
See Ed. Page

VOL. XXVIII, No. 39 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, June 27, 1952

Boys Finish Week Of 'State Govt.'

Elections, Lawmaking, Recreation Mark American Legion's Annual Boys State

...eighth annual Boys' State has been humming with ...y this week on the Florida State university campus. ...overnor of Boys' State was chosen last night in ...ad after Flambeau deadline.

...D Campbell of Au... high school senior will ...e become an attorney. THE FEDERALISTS nominate... ...ampbell of Ocala, also ...president at his high ...

...ar, join Glynn State ...nicipal at the FSU stu... ...ernship certificate ...off in honor of the ...chief executive.

THE GROUP, sponsored by the ...ion of the American ...ry training and demo... opened its meeting here ...y with a welcome by ...Campbell, president of ...ssembly.

...ssage of welcome, Pres... ...ppell said:

"WE ARE ALL here for the ...me basic purpose, to give ...m to the finest and highest ...of American democracy. ...ipated boys as a rising ...ration of American leadership ...portunities and responsi...

Immediately after their open... ...l session, the boys be... ...ir business operating their ...ock's government for a week. ...ession is bicameral.

FOLLOWING the annual state ...s Tuesday night the Boys... ...ed a full day of entertain... ...ed to go on during all the ...Carol Flakes, who is Miss ...President and Governor Abby ...

...ys will spend some time in ...of legislative bills to be ... at their legislative ... in the state capi...

DR. WILSON K. Doyle, dean ...ida School of Public Ad... and his staff are ...vocational counselors ...and coaches in the ...ation for these leg...

...on Wednesday at ...ssembly in the ...ium for the ...ion of the ...

...Speakers of the ...Boys' Senate ...afternoon.

...DAY'S activities were end... ...ar-winning Glee Club and ...and Stunt night. ...he Student Union.

Cast Is Chosen For Production Of 'Chris Bean'

The cast for Sidney Howard's comedy, The Late Christopher Bean, has been selected from tryouts held Monday, according to Dr. George C. McCalmon, head of the drama division of the speech department.

The play will be presented July 22 and 23 said McCalmon.

THE LATE Christopher Bean is the story of a penniless artist whose greatness is discovered only after his death. The picture he left an unknowing New England family becomes the focus of interest as the play progresses.

Howard has written such plays as The Silver Cord, They Knew What They Wanted and See How They Run, which was produced here last summer.

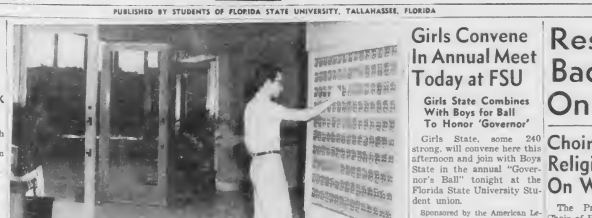
CAST AS Dr. Haggett is Host Bowen a graduate student who has appeared in Circle Theatre productions. Nancy Baxter as Susan Haggett and Frances Wise as Abby.

Miss Haggett will be portrayed by Nancy Hall, graduate student. Bert Rutherford will be portrayed by Ruth Ward. The part of Warren Cresmer is ill to be cast.



CHARLES BOGARDUS, who played the Marquis in Mistress of the Inn, will play Tatiant while George Langford as Rosen and C M Hoffman as Maxwell Davenport complete the cast.

The stage crew includes William Peterson as director, Orvis Day as stage manager, Ruth Ward as assistant stage manager and Leah LaPlante as head of properties.

JIM SLACK and Bonnie Brown will be in charge of lighting. Jane St. Clair of costumes and makeup and Margaret Johnston of publicity.

Bert Hollander will head publicity and production and serve as house manager with Jack Lark as assistant manager. Ruth Ward is social worker. Nine other serving

(Continued on Page Three)

OLD ROUTINE, NEW SITE . . . A Florida State University student checks his mail box in the post office in the new Student Service Center. The center, located near the corner of Call and Woodward streets, houses the FSU bookstore and space for a cafeteria and snack bar. The snack bar is expected to be put into operation soon.

Nimkoff Heads Marriage Study

Plans Tour of Europe To View Family Life

Dr. M. F. Nimkoff, chairman of the department of sociology at Florida State University, will lead a group of twenty educators on a marriage and family life study-tour in Europe this summer.

The purpose of the study tour organized and sponsored by the National Council on Family Relations, is to observe what other countries are doing to stabilize and enhance marriage and family life.

THERE WILL BE investigation of patterns of family organization of state and community social services and counseling, of community planning for family life and of the functions performed by schools, church, universities and adult education programs.

Academic credit is available through either FSU or the State University of New York, which is cooperating.

THE GROUP will visit Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Germany, Holland, France and England. Conferences have been arranged in each country with government officials, church and social workers and other persons

(Continued on Page Three)

RETURNING SHORES SAYS

British Know How To Handle Com'ism

The British are effectively dealing with the Communists by letting them spout off to their hearts content, Dr. Louis Shores, Florida State University dean says.

As dean of the FSU School of Library Training and Service, Dr. Shores has just returned to this country from Britain after a nine months leave of absence. He worked in the United Kingdom during the past academic year doing research and study for the U. S. Department of State under a Fulbright grant.

"The COMMUNISTS have proven themselves past masters at all forms of propaganda, but we are rapidly catching up with them in this respect and have the advantages of the democratic way of life," Dr. Shores says.

In Britain the threat of Communism has been almost completely nullified, he says, because the British have been intelligent enough to let them talk until they talk themselves out. Britain and the people have no faith in what they say. Physical force demonstrations by the Communists in Britain just don't happen because the people have no sympathy for them.

ON THE EUROPEAN continent of France and Italy, however, Dr. Shores says Communism has made some headway but the governments of those countries are now taking active security measures.

While in Britain Dr. Shores had the honor giving the annual lecture at the Fulbright Award convention of the British Library Association. This was the first time in the 75 years that an outsider had been a librarian or an American had been invited to give the lecture. The honor usually goes to scholars in the country.

IN COMPARING public library facilities of Britain with those in this country, Dr. Shores said the British are far superior. For instance, he says, nearly every resident of the British Isles receives access to public library facilities. In many areas of this country such as the rural sections of Florida such facilities are very limited.

While making his study and survey, Physical Science Dean of United Kingdom for the U. S. Department of State, Dr. Shores also visited extensively over the European continent, visiting Paris, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and Spain. He was accompanied on his trip abroad by his wife, Dr. Shores returned to this country on the British ship, Britannic leaving England June 7 and arriving in this country June 21.

Players Surmount Sound Difficulties To Hold Audience

The Summer Artist Series opened this week with a night of a drama under the stars."

A capacity crowd filled the amphitheater to hear Michael Higgins and Carol Teitel in an evening of dramatic excerpts from great plays. Despite the lack of sound equipment few left their seats throughout the program which included the prologue from Kaufman's June Moon, Thornton Wilder's Our Town, King Henry 5th by Shakespeare, Mooney's Kid Don't Cry by Tennessee Williams and the adaptation of a Dorothy Parker short story, Here We Are.

THE PROLOGUE from June Moon introduces the audience to young people on a train going toward New York. It is the story of a rather vague young man completely taken in by a young woman who plays upon his inferiority complex with a vengeance. Kaufman uses every situation of merit to be the basic idea of anyone who has ever engaged in a train flirtation.

During this selection the pose and stage presence of the duo were noted by the appearance on the amphitheater stage of two puppy shuffling moongels. It might have been part of the script for the lack of concern shown by the performers.

IN EMILY'S dramatic monologue from Our Town, Miss Teitel

(Continued on Page Three)

FSU Grads Wed

An unusually romantic but ...e Miami setting became the ...week with the marriage of Patricia Hollis Webster to Ensign Harold Perkins.

The bride and groom are both former students of Florida State ... Webster graduated in Pe... and Perkins was graduated ... band received a degree in Chem... try in February of 1951.

Perkins was commissioned Ensign in the U. S. Coast Guard early this year and ordered to duty in Miami at the Search and Rescue Center there.

Square Dance Set In Service Center Tomorrow Evening

The Summer Session program of square dancing will get under way at 8:30 tomorrow night in the Sunset room of the Student Service Center.

Professor William Tait of the men's physical education department will call the sets, while Jerry Kohler's band will provide the music.

Professor Tait and his family are experienced square dance fans. He started his career calling for the dudes and dames at Colorado University, Mr. and Mrs. Tait took groups of students to the National Folk Dance Festivals, where his student groups gave demonstrations.

Miss Frankie Clark, Summer Recreation director reminds students that the Student Service Center is now air-conditioned and advises wearing cool clothing.

JOHN ROVER TROTTER INQUIRES

Students View New Post Office Site

Oh, no! Don't look at me with that gleam in your eye. You're not serious? But you don't understand! Okay, okay, you win, but where do I start?

The question? I sat dumbfounded staring at my typewriter. Sorry I wouldn't find it printed there for me. Guess I'll walk to the Post Office, maybe I'll think of something on the way down. Tough. The Post Office.

I HAD MY question . . . now I sure would I get my answer? Over to the dorm first, then to the Amber House. Yellins into the showers and interrupting students in the middle of their meals. Coming up with the following answers to my question, "How do you feel about the location of the new Post Office?"

MARY ANN SPERRY, Sophomore "I hate it. In fact I dislike it so much that I'm having all my mail transferred to the student house."

MARY ANN SEBINER, Senior "It seems to me that eventually, we are told, the campus will be centered around the new location. It's better to construct it now, rather than later. Anyway, it makes a nice walk in the evening."

RICHARD JACKSON, Junior "Not knowing very much about the future plans, I would hesitate to make a statement. Politician to the end."

TOM CUMBIE Senior. I like it fine. It's perfect because I live down there" Ladies man.

JANIE JOHNSON Sophomore "It seems to be very far from Main . . . make plans."

CARLOS STONE, Junior. Seeing as how I have a car it is all right, but if I had to walk it would really present a problem" This from a pedestrian peeve.

JOHNNY SHAEFFER Junior "It's on the way to the Wig Wam, which is fine. It's here to stay but would be better with a parking lot." Try the woods, Johnny.

SALLY KENNEDY, Senior "When I'm good for anything purpose I'll tell you. Until then I don't object to walking so far, but don't object to walking so far, but

(Continued on Page Three)

Girls Convene In Annual Meet Today at FSU

Girls State Combines With Boys for Ball To Honor 'Governor'

Girls State, some 240 strong, will convene here this afternoon and join with Boys State in the annual "Governor's Ball" tonight at the Florida State University Student union.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Florida for "citizenship training," the girls begins with registration in Jennie Murphree this afternoon at 2.

PARTICIPATING in the first assembly session Saturday morning will be Doak S. Campbell, president of the university; Mayor B. A. Ragsdale of Tallahassee; Frank Palone, Legion commander for the department of Florida and Mrs. A. G. Shand, Legion Auxiliary department president.

Speeches by candidates for city offices in Girls' State will be heard tomorrow afternoon and followed by the election of the various officials and discussions of city management duties.

THE GIRLS will divide into two political parties Saturday night, elect convention chairmen and prepare party platforms.

On Sunday the girls will hold Bible services in the auditorium of Jennie Murphree hall and then attend church services in the FSU Music Hall.

AN INFORMAL reception honoring the girls selected for Girls' State will be held Sunday afternoon at the residence of President and Mrs. Campbell.

Choir Presents Religious Music On Wednesday

The Princeton Seminary Choir of Princeton, New Jersey, will give a performance of sacred music in the Opperman Music hall next Wednesday afternoon, at 1:15 p. m.

The performance will be one stop on the choir's seventh annual tour; this year the choir is touring fifteen states and Cuba, singing 94 programs in their 54-day tour.

The 23 members of the male chorus are all college graduates who are preparing for full-time Christian service at home or abroad. The entire service is conducted by members of the choir, and most of the music is from a capella. The repertoire includes the works of Palestrina, Lotti, Bach, Brahms and Mendelssohn, as well as contemporaries.

Dr. David Hugh Jones has been director of music at Princeton Seminary since 1924. He is a charter member of the faculty of Westminster Choir College and has taught choral conducting at the FSU Music Hall.

Next Issue July 11

The next issue of the Summer Flambeau will appear July 11, Editor Joan Schmidt revealed yesterday.

Man Studies Weather Under UN Grant

The need for further research and study in the development of Tropical Meteorology has become recognized to the extent that Placido Jordan, airline weather forecaster for a large Cuban airline, has enrolled at Florida State University for the Summer session.

He is attending FSU through a scholarship granted by the International Civil Aviation Organization, a specialized agency of the United Nations.

JORDAN, A NATIVE of Cuba and former bookkeeper, who became a meteorologist after studying books in his spare time at home, is studying Tropical Meteorology and Theoretical Meteorology under Dr. Leon Sherman and Dr. Seymour Hess at Florida State University. He believes he is the first Cuban to be trained in meteorology scholarship grant by the ICAO.

He came to Florida State University, he says, in part, because FSU is one of three universities in the entire nation offering courses in Tropical Meteorology.

THE CUBAN meteorologist, who does his weather forecasting for the aviation company at the large Havana International Airport, says the nearness of Cuba to Miami and other Southern areas of the United States and South and Central America has made it a busy place for weather reporting and forecasting.

There is a direct teletype service between the weather station at the Havana Airport and the Miami International Airport. During the hurricane season the teletype service is stepped up and all suspicious areas in the Caribbean are immediately reported.

Music Camp Gives Orchestra Recital In Opperman Hall

A new composition for trombone and band will be featured in the Sunday afternoon program of the Music Camp band and orchestra next June 29 in the Opperman Music Hall at 4:30 p.m.

The composition, for solo trombone and band, will be played by Jerry Bowles, Junior, with the Music Camp band accompanying. The new musical piece is by Ernest Tomlinson, composer with the Cincinnati Symphony and faculty member of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. The work will be played from manuscript.

The second student recital presented by the FSU Music department will be offered in the Opperman Music Hall on Wednesday afternoon July 1, at 3:30. The program will be composed of solo and ensemble numbers played by the Music Campers.

The third concert in the weekly Sunday afternoon series will be presented by the band and orchestra on Sunday, July 6, at 4:30 in the Opperman Music Hall. On Wednesday, July 9, the Music Camp Chorus will make its first appearance, singing a program of Negro songs at 8:15 p.m. in the Outdoor Theater.

Residents Protest Bad Mail Service On West Campus

University Assists As 107 Sign List Bound for D. C.

Some 107 West campus residents over the past week signed a petition to be sent to Washington requesting better mail service.

The incident arose after arrangements made with Tallahassee Postmaster Cochrane to visit regular city delivery to West campus residents was voided by the vacation head of the Tallahassee postal service.

LEADERS of the movement were informed that an announcement of that sort "took up to six months."

Originally granted special delivery by the University after the new main campus post office was opened, the West campusite, mostly married students, complained that the post office was closed at the very time which most had free.

THEY PROMPTLY initiated a plan which was endorsed by Tallahassee Postmaster Cochrane to submit their petition to the University in favor of regular city mail service.

The University was also in favor of this move since it eliminated unnecessary travel and time saved for maintenance of a West campus office.

THE PETITIONS have now been turned over to Rod K. Shaw, business manager of the University, who will put them through the normal channels.

Shaw is now completing arrangements to have mail flip the various departments on West campus to get their mail on city delivery and then he will send along the names and inform the Post Office Department in Washington that the University is terminating its West campus service.

NO CITY delivery can be arranged at this area in town.

The leaders of the move, Marty Sullivan, Jimmy Thrasher and Minnie Jack Miles, stated that when completion of the plans were in sight they would have blown open by Mr. Cochrane's vacation absence. They must wait on up a three would take months.

ALL INFORMATION and petitions were turned in to the group to the Postmaster General in Washington to appeal this decision.

Sherman Lectures On Oceanography At 'Gator Harbor

Dr. Leon Sherman, faculty member of the Department of Meteorologist and Field of Oceanography, at an Oceanography institute Summer Seminar at 8:30 p.m. today.

The Summer Seminar is being held at the FSU Oceanographic Institute at Alligator Harbor to enrich Summer experience of students majoring in marine biology and aiding to train more students to some of the more rare or which few of us have seen.

Dr. Sherman will be one of several FSU faculty members to appear at the Summer Institute series. He said he will present on his talk how both Meteorology and Oceanography are closely related in that both are pure physical sciences of the earth and dealing with the air and the water of the ocean.

He said he would explain to the Oceanography students how the formation of the ocean water in turn affects the air above us and in turn how the wind affects the ocean currents.

Office Has Listing Of Job Positions

The employment placement services of the University will be open this summer, and persons interested are urged to do so.

The Office of Educational Guidance and Placement stands ready to receive applications from persons reported to graduate this summer, who are interested in teaching, who have had previous teaching experience and who are interested in positions where school opens in September.

Persons who are interested in positions for the summer should report to the office at once. Many positions are available for the summer.

Lattimore Made 'Football' In State Department Misplay

Owen Lattimore, Johns Hopkins Professor and former consultant to the State Department, must wonder when the mudslinging stops.

Lattimore was forced last year to submit to what was probably the most virulent attack of the venom-laden career of Senator Joe McCarthy. He was accused by the loose Senator from Wisconsin of everything from being chief architect of the pre-Korean soft pedal policy in the Far East, to being a downright Russian spy.

At the time Mr. Lattimore was an almost permanent occupant of the hot seat before the U. S. Senate investigating committee.

His reputation, built of a lifetime of service, was stretched, twisted, almost destroyed by the space-happy Senator, whose every syllable found its way into print. These words of a U. S. Senator almost surely besmirched the Lattimore name in the mind of Mr. Joe American who probably never got to read the two inch item on page 34 announcing clearance of Lattimore of the many McCarthy charges. As so often the case in McCarthy's investigations there was absolutely "no proof" of any of the myriad accusations. Finally given respite by the good Senator's meandering to new fields of villification, Lattimore returned to his teaching berth at Johns Hopkins.

His semi-obscurity was short lived.

The State Department last week alerted customs officials to "halt any attempt made by Lattimore to leave the country." The issuance of the order was admitted reluctantly by the Department after the story was released by Lattimore's hometown, Baltimore Sun. At that time the State Department revealed its source as "tip." In Baltimore the bewildered Lattimore stated he had not been refused a passport; indeed had no plans to go abroad.

Later in the week the Washington Post reported that the FBI had checked the "tip" with the State Dept. The dept. reportedly confirmed later a rumor that a man in Seattle was responsible for the "tip." Would it be safe to wonder why the State Department did not do some investigating before using an unverified report as the basis for prohibiting an American citizen from going abroad?

Senator Pat McCarran, chairman of the Internal Security subcommittee and co-author of the McCarran Act, which virtually gives the government the right to refuse an American a passport for any reason, himself disclaimed any desire to deny Lattimore right to leave the country.

Senator McCarran, in the course, has seized the opportunity to play pundit at the appraisant quasi-official nod of approval from the State Department following charges which were not and could not be proven.

Indeed, Lattimore, the football of these proceedings, will may wonder "when the mudslinging stops."

◆ VOTING FACTS

Some facts that should make every voting citizen of Florida stop and think a moment were revealed by the Tampa Morning Tribune recently. In the last gubernatorial election only about 39 per cent of the state's adult population bothered to vote.

Since 57 per cent of the total registered voters did vote, that means that around 61 per cent didn't even care enough about their government to register.

But these figures are hardly the worst of the story. The Tribune noted that only eight out of Florida's 67 counties even managed to eke out more than half their potential voters. One county was as low as 11 per cent.

Tiny Lafayette (Mayo) county managed to get 1144 of its 1846 adults to the polls on election day, whereas Gadsden (Quincy) fielded only 2795 of its squad of 19,575. Such counties as Hillsborough (Tampa) and Leon (Tallahassee) only came through with 28 and 22 per cent of their adult populations, respectively.

Floridians are among the loudest in the nation to scream about the national government, particularly the president, and in general, the conservatives who should get out to go along with the more progressive wing of their party.

Yet when it comes to translating words into deeds, the lion's roar quiets down to a '39 per cent belch.

Not only do the non-voters of the state run down on Florida's representative voice in national affairs but they also leave the remaining vote open to the control of the various ward-heelers and petty politicians throughout the precincts.

It is to be hoped that Florida posts a better voting record in this election year of 1952.

SOUNDING OFF

ALTHOFF IN THE FLORIDA JUNGLE

BY DAN ALTHOFF

Last week the National Council of Boy Scouts of America's Executive Board dispatched its local representative, equipped with notebook and butterfly net, firearms aloft in the taboo on an expedition into the government protected wood sanctuary of Florida. An expedition of this type is extremely hazardous, and it is a wonder we have been lost without leaving any trace, and the National Council is fortunate to have a man such as Lawrence Schmedley as its district representative, for a better man could have been chosen to handle the risks involved.

Mr. Schmedley, Oxford, 31, is versatile, indeed. A native of this country, he is a scholar, author, lecturer, explorer and adventurer, and accompanied the late Frank Buck on more than one occasion, into the jungles of Malaya. He promised to keep in contact with the outside world at all times, if possible, realizing at the time that communication is a very difficult thing to maintain. And the reports and scientists who will chronicle the event, did not expect any more than a trickle of information at first. However, within a few days to the automatic, and delight of all concerned, lengthy reports were being received from the wilderness.

Mr. Schmedley lost three lingers from his right hand in a duel in Paris over a black-eyed bar maid in 1934, and must, of necessity, make his reports to his camera bearer and right hand man, Thornbeogie, Here now, translated from the Wambusian, in the first word received, coming from the Precibre of prolixity, deep in the interior, by way of the Amalaxmailed purse.

"Progress was slow the first day. The jungle was abominably thick, and the heat terribly oppressive. We had to chop through the undergrowth every foot of the way with machetes. The call of the wild birds around us seemed to mock our efforts. The sound calls of the birds plus the chatter of the monkeys high in tree tops combined to make a noise not unlike that which is heard around a sorority house on the day of a big dance. Oh, well. Onward.

I have not been in the jungles for several years, and I had forgotten the tricks which the heat can play on a man who is unaccustomed to the climate. So, around noon, when I happened to stumble across a shady spot, a streetcar bearing down on me I was somewhat un-nerved, and I decided that for the rest of the day I'd lie the heat of the day had passed. After a couple of hours of rest we continued until dusk. In the excitement of the first day I neglected to provide myself with mosquito protection from the sun's rays, and by evening I had a sunburn which gave me considerable pain. I left camp and started walking to the nearest town. After about a hundred yards I realized my folly and returned to camp.

The next morning everyone was up early. I raped from my hammock and, without thinking of my sunburn, stretched myself in victorious joy. I must've do. I popped several hundred binders, and my trusted native guide, Drombooge, standing close by, was hit in the eye with a fine spray. Thus, our start was delayed our departure for about two hours.

It communications hold up, I will describe the second day's adventures in my next report.

Freedom in Education

(Continued From Page 1)

battle is for freedom of the mind. It is the struggle to protect the individual teacher's classroom work, his tenure, or his life as a citizen. Whatever else I might do, I propped several hundred binders, and my trusted native guide, Drombooge, standing close by, was hit in the eye with a fine spray. Thus, our start was delayed our departure for about two hours.

change in attitude which develops from the period of inescapable fear-ridden exercised over the helpless infant, to the time when the adult citizen leaves college committed to the rights of man.

AND FIFTH, a decent modesty should continually remind us of the new idea which, when thrown upon the inevitability of bias. A great American authority once said that the intellectual monogamy is appropriate and essential to our culture, and that a marriage which is both intense and cultivated is a noble accomplishment. Perhaps the belief rests upon his bias as a man. But as a function as an anthropologist is to examine objectively the various institutional types of sexual contract. That is his work as a teacher.

Since bias exists, teachers are learning to relate their private views to the problem under discussion, to define the decree of authority with which they can speak, to state the fact and make clear of their personal opinion, and to show genuine courtesy to the opinions of their students. The mature teacher tells the whole truth.

THE CHALLENGE OF FREEDOM

The teacher and student may recognize the existence of bias, but will the world do as well? This is an age of insecurity. The man who is passionate finds allies, or at least gets the respect due an enemy. But the true teacher or student, the practioner of objectivity, emerges as the universal suspect—the potential traitor to every faith. Consequently, he and his faith faith in the efficacy of

(Continued on Page Four)

TEACHERS-STUDENTS 'GONE STRAIGHT'

BY STAN SCHMIDT

She was shocked.

She had established the source of the argument as a faculty member and leaned back with that "tablet from the Lord" look. With perhaps a touch of chagrin I think I made fairly plain that to me the view was pure, unadulterated garbage.

The old familiar thought startled recurring. . . . There is a breed of students which marches dutifully into class and is of course molded by the assigned explorations—Think! or one of the hundred perverts about that honest man who does so well.

A crash of cymbals, blinding flash of lights and their own personal Jehovah comes in from the bullpen. The proud smiles toward the sun briefly, bows their pointy heads over outlated notebooks, presumably stops thinking. They duly inscribe conohs, sneezes and moustache taps in a frenzied shorthand.

It's easy to sive up and let the scheme of the thing. Nothing for or you, especially when the someone wielding the power actually does know a little more than you do.

Too often, the college student trades his right of independent thought and action for a nice insulated parasitic four years at the expense of successive instructors.

Teachers are nothing more, nothing less than older versions of the nasty humans they teach. Maybe if a public relations program was initiated informing college students of the horrible truth. That teachers are merely students gone straight.

The intelligent teacher doesn't touch such responsibility. He does his best to cajole, stimulate or just plain browbeat a student into thinking for himself—making his own decisions. That's the meaning of Education.

All since propaganda (as previously established) are only human, there are others who cheerfully take on the responsibility of thinking for one or a million believers. Thus he admirably unloads the load of a student around the block chortles at the sight of 30 or 40 bowed heads panting to listen and accept without question.

An obscure Tennessee Williams one act reached out for a artist series audience with violent, hairy hands the other p. m. It's reception was slightly cool compared to that given a couple of "kinds good" excerpts that reddened the hands of the assembled. .

Recent grad Hal (Jabo) Anthony now in back in the Tennessee hills thought like to hear that the FSU Drama department is a planning a summer presentation of a play he wrote earlier this year. . .

This week's stagecoach brought a few lines from popular Curt Campbell working up to the '52 season in Cambridge, Maryland. The hitherto-about-town says he is teaching the entire population (female) to waterski. Summer fun.

Popular Joe Crona, (who cama with the lease) relates that when he told his landlord he was finally going to make it this August she flashed the usual "Feigned" smile and the usual, "I know, I know."

Case of "wolf" once too often, Joe

Summer Flambeau

EDITORIAL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—STAN SCHMIDT

Managing Editor .. Bruce Galpin
Sports Editor .. Tom Cinkling
Columnists .. Dan Althoff
Gene Lawry
Flambeau Photographer .. Mimi Patterson

BUSINESS

Business Manager .. Lou Calderon
Asst Business Manager .. Nancy Love

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2000, Ext. 481
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service 420 Madison Avenue New York 17 New York.

Dear Editor...

Traffic Gripe

Dear Editor:

Annual Boys State started this morning in typical FSU fashion with two buses, two cars and a few motorcycles (police) were doubled parked in front of the University Museum from the corner to the railroad that leads into the infirmary leaving only one lane open.

The typical part of the situation was that the campus police, who at night have nothing better to do than climb trees and shine flash-on lights, were not in sight and traffic was left to worry about itself.

Other scenes about campus . . . The boys here for Boys State running from the rear of the Music Building, across the parking lot, wet grass and finally into the buses one of which proved a joyful tune on his horn. The buses were again double parked only this time in the rain and in front of the Alumni building.

Of course the buses couldn't pull into the parking lot and kept those kids dry. Too much like work . . .

Typical FSU administration.

JACK TYSON.

Free Election?

Dear Editor:

Maybe you're interested in an odd but new subject for next issue—namely, voting by Government elections. The compulsory ones and Thursday's Democratic 19th surpassed any found in the Peron regime.

The slate of candidates was "prepared"—i. e., Women's Senate had previously decided who would be "safe" enough to be entrusted with indirect meddling in democratic government.

As we North Cawthan dunnerls were informed, "Senate Did It", we had no opportunity whatsoever for nominating from the floor. When one man actually registered a gripe, Residence Counselor Anne Pope replied, "It's Your Senate."

Ballots were written — i. e., innumerable little squats of yellow paper was passed around to the electorate. The non-existent ballot box was to be collected and re-stuffed, with no one the wiser. Many girls were too disgusted with the inefficient "democratican method" to bother writing the proper name others voted pluralily.

Tallying was "efficient"—i. e. it was handled by Residence Counselors. Our Miss Pope was democratic about it, the alphabetical method of counting to count results. This seemed cricket enough with local house elected for their council and senate. But the technique left room for incredible error. Many of the Kings Ka master of ceremonies. Professor Wriaht of Engineering, covered a series of geographical notations dealing with U S swamp drainage. Miss Pope's sheet pillow-case gift set an electric scrambler, a trip to the Moon, a cycle and on the final jackpot question, a delux kitchen sink.

Professor Wriaht is on leave his Summer doing advanced work at Columbia. Dean Dodd and Dean Hendrix are doing research in the latest developments in radio and television.

Prof Attends Meet

Dr. S. L. Meyer, professor and head of the FSU Department of Botany will attend a symposium on the "Economics of Growth Research," sponsored by the Society for the Study of Development and Growth, at Williams College Williamstown Mass. achusetts, June 23-28.

Recreation Calendar

Friday, June 27: Movie, "Mr. Imperium," Auditorium, 8 p.m. One Foot In Heaven, starring Fredric March.
Saturday: Dune Buggy Square dancing, Student Center Annex Room; 8:30-11:30 p.m. Movie, "Mr. Imperium," Auditorium, 8 p.m.
Sunday: Dean Bill Provident and Mrs. Campbell Swinging Girls' Swim at their home, 1-4:30 p.m.
Tuesday: July 1: Movie, "Mr. Imperium," Auditorium, 8 p.m. The Maltese Falcon, starring the Fat Man.
Wednesday, July 2: Movie, Lighthouse and Fishing Port trip, Lenoir Bryan Jr. Auditorium, 8 p.m. Movie, "Mr. Imperium," Auditorium, 8 p.m. Recreation in Seminole Club lobby. Return to Bryan Hall dinner at 7:30 p.m.
Thursday, July 3: Movie, "Mr. Imperium," Auditorium, 8 p.m.
The Port of New York Authority, a picture of the Twentieth American Women's Golf Championship, Women's 8 p.m.

WILL 'DARK HORSE' WIN GOP NOD?

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

With the Republican National convention only a couple of weeks away, the dark horse is starting to be said in the nothing is sure.

Senator Robert A. Taft is, according to all reliable polls, leading in the race for delegates, but Mr. Taft and D. Eisenhower not too far behind. Both top candidates claim they are assured of the nomination on the first ballot, but the truth is that neither has quite enough. All the delegates have been chosen now, and unless some wish to switch votes, no one is going to be nominated on the first try.

Most political experts now seem to agree that Taft won't get the nomination on the first ballot, but is expected to slip steadily if the voting goes further.

The Ohio senator seems quite well aware of the fact himself for his every move of late has been toward sticking the fire in his stomach. He has been busily on to collect the bandwagon votes by giving the impression that he is a winner.

His strategy so far has been quite effective. He has organized control of the major convention committees, pretty well tied up a large block of southern votes and secured the support of Governor Douglas MacArthur as keynote speaker for the July convention.

Mac arthur is known to be pro-Taft and decidedly anti-Eisenhower.

Whether or not the Ohioan can stampede enough delegates to the convention is definitely a matter of conjecture at this time. But the Taft campaign would well be the uncommitted delegations from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Rhode Island, Governor John S. Fine, head of the Pennsylvania delegation, reported leader in an effort to block against the votes of the three critical states. Fine is pledged to back Herbert Hoover, although the ex-general has been making victory in the Keystone state's non-binding preferential contest.

Governor Dewey actually prefers General MacArthur to either of the top contenders, however, and the Ohio governor is in the circumstances which have the political dominoes suffering from chills and fevers.

First take the good possibility of the Taft supporters that the convention Taft support will esh with the convention ballot, and where will the majority of his votes go? Not likely to Eisenhower And the Ohio senator would be pow-dreaming to expect much support from the Democratic quarters. It would be far more likely to go to the Democratic presidential candidate, even a dark horse, will emerge the Republican nominee.

Another name frequently mentioned as Harold Stassen, formerly considered sure to turn his few votes over to Eisenhower, feels that he was "disappointed" by Eisenhower's domestic sound and fury. He has also stated that they "are too conservative." Stassen declined to predict who would win the nomination.

He did say that Governor Karl Stefan of North Dakota and Douglas Arthur "cannot be overlooked." MacArthur, particularly, is a very political figure, and he must be considered.

MacArthur, as keynote speaker, is in a position to deliver a "cross of gold" speech that could bring the convention to its heels. He can either make himself out the seeming Republican candidate or rule out any military man entirely and throw the vote either to Taft or someone in the background.

Perhaps even with the cards stacked in his favor, Taft or Eisenhower should not be counted out at this stage As said before, anything can happen.

'SILENT GENERATION' DISCUSSED

Editor's Note—Lacy Baldy is June graduate of the FSU School of Journalism. He was editor at the University for graduate work. This is half of an article he written for his M.S. degree graduation. The Editors of the Flambeau believes this article to be perhaps the best of those written about the "Silent Generation" which is having its day in court.

BY LACY BALDY

Surveying the high-top from one of Westcott's shadowed towers one night like June Allyson in the haunted upon the university's sterility, its barrenness, its peculiar ability to be sterile in creativity in motion without moving, and most of all its quiet, its unbelievably passive silence. It was the silence that was frightening—the silence of the dead, the silence of the minds, the silence of the night and all the preceding nights which were to make this generation known as the Silent Generation. June Allyson was being known as the Lost Generation.

The Poet was privileged to feel sentimental over all these things; to see a few days he would be graduated, to feel the approaching heavy with stars and the dark dormitories reached shedding their light, and hearing his Buddhist idols. He thought of the autumn parties in vaguely located rooms, of drinking, of love, cold-nosed girls, of a smiling Dean of Women, of campus figures doing bacchantic dances in the moonlight. He considered the dimly-lit taverns hidden among the woods where he had drunk and left his heart wander with the moon.

The poet was privileged to feel sentimental over all these things but he was not. He was also sensitive and thought back over the years and the silence of his generation pressed on his mind. Silence—when the world of man is screaming its name and its fame in all spheres. Silence — when values are everywhere toppling in the high winds of conflicting dogmas; silence—when the battle for a humanistic social order is on; silence—when the blackout of learning, literature, and the arts is impending; and, when youth's every existence depends upon their conquest—silence!

And, in silence, the poet meditated:

What is wrong with us? we the youth of the nation Where is the hope that bundles the heavens? Where is the spirit that said the young voice in the night, young with promise for those who will hear? Where is the will, the vision and determination and guts? Where is the youth with the gall to mock? Where is the youth with pity for Olympian laughter?

The Poet's spirit grew softly for fear the leaves will tremble and fall. We do not belong to those of the Lost Generation who sacrificed to make the world and create the future. Perhaps we do not believe in something much too vast—the key to unlock the world; perhaps they have not been driven by unsurely self-righteous when they learned in revolution against the world—but they were missing the world—but they were missing the world—but they were doing something.

But we, we sit and sip coffee and talk. We, we sit and the poet mumbled to the moon with a touch of sadness.

We fight our wars,
we burn our young.
Sexton Blake.
The old earth turns.

We drink our coffee.
Consume our liquor
Reel off the years one by one.
'Til ramline in momentum,
the multi-colored days
Merge in one.

But I, the invisiable I.
Remain . . .
Invisiate.

Oh, to be sure, we sometimes feel a dull drunkenness gain hold of life, drinking and prostituting and snatching what bit of pleasure we can. But we are not reeling against life's imperfections, are only running from them.

Why? Why are we running from? Is it that we have been born from life? Why are we scuttling from life in the murky bottom with only our eyes showing—only the eyes and most time shut tight—and the antennae waved searching when the slender shafts of sunlight pierce the gloomy deep

FSU Prof Cops Jackpot Awards On Radio Show

Professor Thomas Wright of Physics ran off with the jackpot on a recent network quiz program originating in New York City.

Appearing on the "Give and Take" program with Bert Parks and King as master of ceremonies, Professor Wright of FSU was answered a series of geographical questions dealing with U S swamp drainage. After the three sheet pillow-case gift set an electric scrambler, a trip to the Moon, a cycle and on the final jackpot question, a delux kitchen sink.

Professor Wriaht is on leave his Summer doing advanced work at Columbia. Dean Dodd and Dean Hendrix are doing research in the latest developments in radio and television.

Graham Explains Law at Seminar

A seminar sponsored by the FSU School of Education was held Wednesday in the Florida State University science lecture hall on the 27th year of Constitutional Amendment for Financing School Buildings.

James L. Graham of the Department of Administration and Financing in the State Department of Education, explained the effect of the proposed amendment at the seminar open to interested persons.

The chief lawyer, FSU professor of education, presided over the seminar and introduced the speaker. He said the seminar is one of a series of six being held each Wednesday in June to explain the currents Summer session. The various phases of education will week the proposed constitutional certification and the seminar by Graham was the first of the series to cover the program of education in the state.

Has Guest Rooms

Miss Adams, director of Longmire building, reminds FSU students that the Longmire building has rooms for visitors to the FSU campus.

Family or friends of students will be furnished comfortable, economical rooms at reasonable rates. Whenever possible, she requests making reservations in advance.

July 4 will be an Acadine Holiday according to Dean Bowden's Calendar Dean of Students announced the results to Miss Poor

Clay Figures

BY STELLA CLAY

Freudian symbolisms and great issues, reduced to verbiage abbreviations, Stella Clay and guest columnists delve into the subconscious.

HEIGHTS

Fog—dim
Fenceposts
Stretching skyward:
Windmill
Pushing past the mud, and
Rising from eroded ridges.
ISOLATION

Let me weep at the exit of my own and very personal god.
A thing as of clay, it is by others seen unreal . . . absurd . . . ugly and intangible Hardly would they vision in its tear-darkened form any happiness.
Nor in its coldness fathom deep-felt love.
Yet to me it is life. Without it death
Would surely follow as to the body without breath.

CHOKED

Our heavy thickened thoughts
Mass sluggishly:
Impending torrents
Threaten from the North horizon.

Journalism's 'Sun Star' Featured in Article

The Sun-Star, mythical paper put out by a State Report... class in the School of Journalism, has again hit the news... the June issue of the Florida... reader and Radio Digest, fea... article on the course ... Journalism.

Campers Present Opening Concert

"Music from Many Lands" were featured by the Florida State University Music Camp band orchestra in the first of their weekly concerts last Sunday night in Opperman music hall.

The selections included "All Glory Be to God on High," by Bach, "The Great Gate of Kiev," by Mussorgsky, "Indian Nocturne" by Morton Gould and the popular tone-poem, "Finlandia," by Jan Sibelius.

The band section of the program was conducted by Oliver Hobbs and Robert Brainagel. Hobbs lead the band in two marches, "El Capitan," by Sousa, and "Thunderer Triumphant," by Don Keller. "Walking Tune," by Clara Grundman, and "Lili of the Lavin," by David Bennett.

Brainagel directed the band in three "Short Classics," by Purcell, Tonoglia and Marcello. A "Yugoslav Polka," by George Lotz and "Victory and Victory" march by DeForest Cline.

Also this week a student recital was held Wednesday evening in Opperman hall, when solo and ensemble numbers were sung and played by Music Camp students.

OLYMPIC REPORT

By TOM CONKLING

Editor's note: This column will be devoted exclusively to reports from the 1952 Olympic Games in which FSU gymnasts Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder will compete. Roetzheim's direct correspondence with the sports editor will provide the news.

Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder of Florida State University's National Champion gymnastics squad reported to training camp at the United States Military Academy at West Point last Sunday. This pre-Olympic training session represents the first leg of their trip to Helsinki, Finland where they will represent the United States along with six other gymnasts in the 1952 Olympic games in late July.

Roetzheim and Holder, qualified for the United States "Dream Team" last April when they placed the top eight qualifiers in a meet that included 3,000 of the nations top gymnasts.

To background the stellar accomplishments of these two athletes who have achieved Florida State University's greatest athletic achievements is a task that would take much more space than I am afforded. To scratch the surface I will present some of the highlights of their respective careers.

Bill (The Rocket) Roetzheim, according to the experts, is the greatest all-around gymnast in the history of gymnastics in the United States. The sport dates back to 1897 in this country.

Roetzheim has won four national all-around titles, three national high bar crowns and one national side horse championship. He has been the subject of feature articles in Parade and Friends magazines and will be featured this summer in Popular Photography, The Amateur Athlete, and The Athletic Coach and Athlete publications.

This year's Olympic Games will mark the fifth time that Bill has represented the United States in International competition. He previously competed against Czechoslovakia in 1947, in the Olympic Games in 1948, against Japan in 1950 and in the Pan American Games in 1951. As the United States' only gymnast entered in the Pan American games, Bill won claim to the title of the "Champion gymnast of the Western Hemisphere" as he walked off with the all-around and high bar titles.

Players Surmount

(Continued from Page 1)

tel's vibrant performance was perhaps only marred by the lack of sound equipment to carry her voice to those who crowded the edges and grassy surroundings of the concrete theater.

No such difficulty was there in hearing the vital performance of Mr. Higgins of the prologue and pre-battle speech of King Henry 5th. His delivery was reminiscent to many of the screen version of the classic by Sir Lawrence Olivier.

THE VERSTILITY of the young pair was tested in their performance of a little known Tennessee Williams one act, Mooney's Kid Don't Cry. They rose to the occasion with a sparkling dramatisation of all the crude violence of the play. The story is of a man in a factory town, sick of his life, sick of a dirty four walls with a wife who could not understand the idealism of the man she married.

The last selection of the evening was a refreshing change of pace, the adaptation of a short story by Dorothy Parker about a young drunk who winds up in the apartment of a woman who tells him of his indiscretions the night before. The story reaches it's climax in the revelation by the woman that they are married.

WITH NO PROPS to speak of, lack of sound equipment and the many distractions of the Amphitheater stare Mr. Higgins and Miss Hetzel nevertheless presented one of the most fascinating evenings of entertainment seen at FSU in many a day.

Nimkoff Heads

(Continued From Page 1

group will have interviews with representatives of the Population Association, the Marriage Counselor, the needs of families.

In Finland, for example, the ing Service of the Lutheran church, the Association of Vacation Recreation, and the Home Industry Association. The group will visit the Maternal Health Clinic, the Children's Castle and a village for the aged. While in Helsinki, the group will also attend the Oympic Games.

THE SEMINAR will consist mainly of college teachers of marriage and the family from such varied states as California, Iowa, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Kansas, Illinois and Massachusetts. A physician, a public health nurse, an attorney and an editor are also members of the party.

Dr. Nimkoff, leader of the group, is a former chairman of the Committee Research of the National Council on Family Relations, past president of the Eastern Sociological Society, and the author of several books on the family. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Interprofessional commission of the American Bar Association on Marriage and Family Laws.

DURING the 1952-53 academic year Dr. Nimkoff will offer two new graduate courses at FSU on the family in the United States and comparative family systems.

Students View

(Continued from Page 1)

I do object because my bowl is always empty." (Don't be half-safe)

MARILYN STEPHENS, Junior. "It's too far from the main campus, bus service is bad, and when one goes, he has to plan to await the ancient chariot. Other than that, it's great!" (Other than that leaves what?)

DAN ALTHOFF, Senior. "It's extremely too far out of the way. It's even too far from the new dorm." (It's just too-too-too)

BOB WHITMER, Senior. "It doesn't bother me at all. Since I have transportation, it's a very simple matter." (Another pinecrat)

LAWRENCE SCHMEDLEY, Graduate Student. "Things have changed since I was here at FSU. I don't mind the walk because I don't have time for exercise any other way." (Dear Grads and Alums)

JOYCE CANNON, Sophomore. "Last year I attended the U of F and she students here "never had it so good." We had twice as far to walk from the dorms to the Hub." (P.O.) (Fellow pedestrian)

LOUISE HIGGINS, Senior. "It is somewhat further to walk, but I must admit that it is a beautiful improvement to our campus." (An art lover)

TO CLOSE MY EXCURSION, I propound/ound the perpetual student: Phil Davis, to get his profound comments on the subject. He said, "What? No beer?" (Censored).

WFSU Program Schedule

880 Kilocycles
MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

A.M.
6:45—Sign On
7:00—Morning Hymn
7:05—World News
7:15—Morning Sports Page
7:30—Coffee Casers
8:00—Coffee Casers (cont.)
8:30—"It's The Taps" (Mon., Wed., Fri.)
"Here's Ta Vets" (Tues.-Thur.)
Trans
9:45—Coffee Casers (cont.)
9:00—Sign Off
P.M.
5:00—Sign On
5:01—Music by Request
5:55—News
6:05—Sports News
6:30—Sign Off
This program schedule is subject to change

Patronize Our Advertisers

Holland's Restaurant
Complete Soda Fountain & Restaurant Service
Facing the Capitol
at 106 East Pensacola St
Tallahassee, Florida
Excellent Food at All Hours
Air Conditioned

Paul Turner
JEWELER - WATCHMAKER
KEEPSAKE DIAMONDS
102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

SPECIAL
EVERY TUESDAY
FILET MIGNON
Only $1.00
at
Seven Seas
SERVED ALL DAY TUESDAY

Glamour in a D-cup
Hi-A... the beauty brassiere by Maja
D CUP NYLON 5.95
D CUP BROADCLOTH 4.95
Bertha Cooke

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA U.S.A.

FLORIDA
Friday & Saturday
'About Face'
with
GORDON MacRAE
EDDIE BRACKEN

STATE
Friday & Saturday
'Indian Uprising'
with George Montgomery

RITZ
Friday & Saturday
'Texas City'
with JOHNNY MACK BROWN
also
'Superman and the Mole Men' with George Reeves

DRIVE-IN
'The Racket'
with
ROBERT MITCHUM
LIZABETH SCOTT
'Apache Country'
with
GENE AUTRY

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

TUNE INTO 660
WSFU
YOUR CAMPUS STATION FOR THE LATEST IN News
Music
Time Checks
660 WSFU 660

Nic's Joggery
SUMMER SHOE SALE
$7.99
ALL SHOES
VALUES TO 14.95
• BLACK & WHITE
• WHITE BUCK
• TAN • BROWN
• BLACK
• TAN & BROWN NYLON MESH
Nic's Joggery

Pleasure, the sov reign bliss of humankind
Alexander Pope, January and May
To quiet thinking or quick action, ice-cold Coca-Cola brings the pleasure of real refreshment.
DRINK Coca-Cola
5¢
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Attention August Graduates
Orders being taken for announcements for August Graduation and for caps and gowns.
UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE

DOG ISLAND!
NOW OPEN FOR THE SUMMER
COME OVER SUNDAY AND ENJOY
• SURF BATHING
• FISH DINNERS
• COOL ROOMS
• SURF FISHING
• SANDWICHES
• COLD DRINKS
BOAT SCHEDULE!

LV. CARRABELLE	LV. DOG ISLAND
9:00 A. M.	7:00 P. M.
11:00 A. M.	6:00 P. M.

FARE $1.25 ROUND TRIP FOR ADULTS
60c FOR CHILDREN UNDER 10 YEARS
We Are Now Operating Cafe and Rooming Service on Seven-day-a-Week Basis! Come Over Anytime and Stay Awhile.
By Appointment We Can Accommodate Fishing Parties, House Parties, Luncheon Clubs and Others. Phone 2-2600 or 2-7626, in Tallahassee

You see depth or distance in a different way when you are looking at a pea than when you are looking at a nickel or an apple. And your depth perception of large objects can become much more accurate with training and conscious practice.

Plastic poles with wood cores, to permit workmen on the ground to use with safety various tools on overhead wires carrying high voltage electricity, come in lengths from two to 20 feet and are fitted for the easy attachment of the tools.

Fine Portraits at Reasonable Prices

AUGUST GRADUATES MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENTS FOR GRADUATION PORTRAITS NOW.

John Charles

106 West Jefferson. Phone 3-0115

Girl Gets Fund Set Up By Hay As Scholarship

A Calhoun County school girl was last week presented with the first award of the newly established Harry H. Hay Scholarship Fund.

The girl, Beth Pitts of Frink, Florida, was presented the award by Dr. A. B. Martin, FSU vice president.

THE $1,200 SCHOLARSHIP fund will be awarded annually on a $300 per year basis. It was set up by Dr. Marion Hay, FSU professor of education, in honor of her late husband.

Stipulations for the scholarship includes that it must be awarded to a rural boy or girl who plans a teaching career.

DR. MODE STONE, dean of the FSU School of Education, highly commended Dr. Hay for her contributions to the field of education. He said that of the 1952 class of 15,000 graduating seniors in Florida, there are perhaps 26 percent who are of college caliber but who lack the necessary finances.

"In providing the Harry H. Hay Memorial Scholarship," Dr. Stone said, "Dr. Hay has shown that she recognizes this great need."

DR. STONE THEN remarked that since a student has enrolled in a University, ways and means of continuing his education usually present themselves.

This year's award was made only after interviewing over 250 applicants.

MISS PITTS HAS already established an outstanding academic record. Before graduating as valedictorian of her class, she served as president of her junior class and secretary of the Future Homemakers of America. She has been active in 4-H club work and has for the past three years attended the annual short course on the FSU campus.

GOVERNOR AND RUNNER-UP—One of these boys, Donald Tucker, 16, or James D. Campbell, 17, is the new governor of Boys State. The election was held after Flambeau deadline last night. Tucker represented the Federalist party and Campbell the Nationalists.

Courses Present Needs Of Visually Handicapped

The individual classroom needs of visually handicapped children are being met through special courses offered Florida teachers at Florida State University during the Summer School session.

Members of the Florida Council for the Blind will participate in the lecture classes at the university in a week-long program beginning Tuesday, June 24.

THE COURSES, offered throurh the FSU School of Education, are designed primarily for regular classroom teachers who work with visually handicapped children throughout the state.

Specialists in the field who will be lecturers in the FSU classroom as a part of the week's program include: Mr. G. J. Emanuele, medical and social service director, Florida Council for the Blind, who will discuss "Anatomy and Physiology of the Eye"; Dr. E. J. Andrews, "Refractive Error Muscle Imbalance."

DR. O. G. KENDRICK will lecture on eye disease un children, effect of body illness on the eyes, and cooperation of teachers and parents with orthoptists. Miss Clara Christ, Tampa, orthoptist, on "Fundamental Principles of Orthoptics"; and Mrs. Irene Zawadski, field director, Children's Department, Florida Council for the Blind, "Services Available through the Florida Council for the Blind for Visually Impaired Children" and "Resources of the Community in Meeting the Needs of the Children for Visual Impairments."

Adding special interest to the program during the week will be an exhibit on display in the FSU Demonstration School dealing with literature and films available for meting the needs of visually impaired children.

THIS SPECIAL FSU course offered teachers throughout the state is under the supervision of Miss Louise Pickle, instructor in the FSU School of Education.

During the course work this summer the students participating will actually become acquainted with the widely accepted Massachusetts Vision Kit used for screening, finding cases and making referrals, follow-up and medical care of the visually handicapped.

OBSERVATION AND case studies of children with visual handicaps, who are attending the FSU Demonstration summer school, will be made available for the students studying the course. "The school curriculum for the visually handicapped child is the same as that any child with normal eyesight," Miss Pickle says. She added that there are no omissions in the program offered the child with poor eyesight, but that there are modifications.

Special instruction and books are available for children with sight handicaps. Such courses as the one being offered at FSU, Miss Pickle explained, prepare the Florida school teachers for this specialized instruction.

Professors Given Research Grants

Two professors of botany at Florida State University have been awarded research grants to be used during the Summer and coming year.

Dr. Ruth S. Breen is the recipient of a $250 Grant-in-Aid of Research from the Sigma Xi Society. The announcement was made today by Dr. George A. Baitsell, Yale University and Sigma Xi national secretary. Dr. Breen will use the award during this Summer in connection with her field studies of the mosses of Florida.

Dr. Kenneth A. Wagner, assistant professor of botany, has been awarded a grant of $150 from the Indiana Academy of Science to support field studies on the liverworts of Indiana and also a grant of $80 from the Florida Academy of Sciences to be used in field work on an investigation of the liverworts of Florida.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Education Freedom

(Continued From Page Two)

untrammeled thought, must be crushed.

A HIGH SCHOOL principal of unblemished record finds that his religious views do not permit him to salute the flag; his township discharges him after years of faithful service. An entire state is forbidden to use a splendid textbook because dishonest critics use the heinous device of partial quotation to distort the book's quality. A campus newspaper is ordered to concern itself with "college affairs" and to leave the problems of the world to the professional journalist (our college men are old enough to fight in battle but not old enough to debate the reason they may die). There is no end to the catalogue of stupidities chargeable to the fear and anger of those who cannot face the bright light of truth.

And so we come to the grim final fact about freedom in education. This freedom is not for weaklings. The teacher or the student who expects the educational world to offer him security has not read the lesson of history. However much he may desire a paradise which will foster him through his educational experience, he is not likely to find it in this age of revolution. Nor should he. All of us must first qualify for life as men and women. One of the great scholars of all time has put the challenge to us in these words: "I cannot praise a fugitive and cloistered virtue, unexercised and unbreathed, that never sallies out and sees her adversary, but slinks out of the race, where that immortal garland is to be run for, not without dust and heat."

Patronize Our Advertisers

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

What Do YOU Look For Where You Eat?

- Fine Food . . .
- Cool Comfort . . .?
- Pleasant Atmosphere?

find them all at

The Amber House

For Food That's Fine

MALONE'S CO-OP BOOK STORE

BOOKS - SUPPLIES - SUNDRIES - STATIONERY

WE BUY USED BOOKS

Turner's featuring California COBBLERS in White

AAA to B 4 to 9 $6.95

Tri-Delt

You'll love the light-hearted way TRI-DELT takes to your denims, your pretty cottons and summery sheers. Graceful straps hug the foot, and the cushionv platform makes each step a new delight!

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

Formerly Meads Service Station

546 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

FIRST CHOICE OF COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN

AT OHIO STATE IN COLUMBUS

AT "THE HI-HAT"

CHESTERFIELD IS OUR LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE by 2 to 1

William Schatzen PROPRIETOR

WASHABLE WONDERS!

COOL CUTE COTTONS

Shore classics

combed cotton broadcloth with a pleated front, convertible collar and pearl shoe buttons . . . completely sleeveless - - Extra long shirt tail

2.98

★ Rose ★ White

★ Blue ★ Navy

★ Black ★ Lime

SIZES 32 TO 38

See Our Outstanding Selection of Sportswear— Shirts, Shorts, Jeans, Peddlepushers and Burmuda Shorts

MILLER'S Cootery College Ave.

Summer Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 60 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, July 11, 1952

Academic Freedom Is Explained, Discussed
See Editorial Page.

Singing Pair Appear On Series Concert
—See Page 1.

Knowles Duo Sing On Series Tuesday

Husband-Wife Team Offer Selections From Opera, Comedy in Amphitheater

A young but fast-rising couple will sing their way into the Florida State University campus next Tuesday as the second summer Artist Series production is presented in the music amphitheater at 8:15.

The husband-and-wife team composed of Paul Knowles, tenor, and Adriana, mezzo-soprano, will feature consumed scenes from famous operettas, operatic and musical comedies.

THE TWO young singers have already distinguished themselves in the world of music.

Paul Knowles was one of the winners of the 1951 Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, in a field of some 700 contesting artists. He has sung with the Boston Symphony, the Erie Philharmonic, the ABC Symphony and appeared in opera at the Berkshire Festival.

HE IS a real student in his field and won the government's Fulbright scholarship for foreign study.

Adriana Knowles, a pretty, petite blonde with a bit mezzo voice, has appeared in concert, opera, theatre and television. At the age of 17 she won the Community Concert scholarship to the Berkshire Music Festival.

MRS. KNOWLES studied at the New England Conservatory and inherit the Mannes Music School in New York. She has appeared on television in opera scenes with Marguerite Piazza and Robert Merrill.

It was at the Berkshire Festival that Andriana met Paul. The husband-to-be, who was singing in the American premier of Benjamin Britten's opera, "Peter Grimes." They were married after a hectic courtship of only two weeks between rehearsals and public performances.

THE KNOWLES Duo's program for the FSU concert presents a wide scope and should please both opera-lovers and fans of lighter music.

They open with "Ah, Perdona el Primo Attefo," a duet from Mozart's little known opera Titus and Thus from Thomas' Mignon by Henry Purcell.

THEN KARL will present five solos. Next the two will sing the lyric scene from Carmen.

After intermission, the Knowles Duo will give excerpts from operettas and Broadway musicals such as Bittersweet, Kiss Me, Kate; Song of Norway, New Moon and Showboat.

Dept. Presents Alumnus' Play Monday Night

The Florida State University department of speech will present two one-act plays, one of them the work of a recent FSU graduate, next Monday evening at 7 in Augusta Conradi theater.

No admission will be charged for the performance.

"THE GARMENT of the Lord," a comedy about Tennessee mountaineers, was written by alumnus Harold D. Minkin during a playwriting class under the supervision of Dr. George McCalmon, chairman of the Drama area of the speech department.

Actors in the premier performance are Betty Bishop, Robert Brown, Jim Deaton and Lee Hildman.

"THE OTHER play will be "And Then They Knew," written by Nora Stirling, author of the popular Temperate Zone Plays that have the endorsement of the National Association for Mental Health.

This play dramatizes one phase of the relationships among members of the same family and is acted by June St. Claire, Jim Black and Carolyn Dixon.

BOTH PLAYS are directed by graduate student Adolyn Arline.

MR. AND MRS. SING—Paul and Adriene Knowles will appear here Tuesday night at 8:15 in the Music Amphitheater as the second performance of the Summer Artist Series. The husband-wife duo will offer a program of selections from opera, operatic and musical comedy

Pelican Players Offer Summer Stock Shows

Professional summer stock theater, which flourishes on the eastern seaboard but is virtually unknown in the South, is now being produced in Panama city.

Dorms Hold Dance Tonight in Cawthon For Undergrads

The only summer dance for FSU undergraduates will be held this evening from 9 to 12 at the Cawthon Hall patio.

Jerry Kohler, former FSU student whose orchestra has turned in many good performances for Florida State functions, will play at the informal affair. Kohler plays at the new student center every Saturday evening.

The social committee in charge stressed that the dance was to be informal and late permission would be granted.

The dance is sponsored by Bryan, North and South Cawthon Halls and those planning to go to the free movie in the open air amphitheater are urged to attend this dance following the movie.

Mixer dances will be held for the stag or drag group.

Mahaffey Elected Girls State Head

Harriet Mahaffer, 17, of Quincy was the governorship of the recently held Girls State as the Nationalist party candidate.

She defeated Gretchen Nelson, 16, of Panama City, the Federalist party standard bearer.

The girls spent a busy week studying state government, performing mock legislation and electing state officers. Besides a governor, they elected a secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, commissioner of agriculture, Supreme Court justices, a speaker of the house and president of the senate.

For the first time in the six years of Girls state meeting, the girls also saw how the judicial branch of government works, conducting a mock trial.

About 5000 See Indian Collection

An estimated 5,000 people have seen the Indians of the Plains exhibit at the FSU museum, according to Curator Lothar Witteborg.

The exhibit is probably the most ambitious and colorful ever offered at FSU and is meeting with tremendous approval. The war bonnets, buffalo robes, drums, tomahawks and bows and arrows seem especially to be pleasing the younger visitors, the curator said.

The museum hours are the same this summer as those maintained throughout the scholastic year. It remains open afternoons from Tuesday through Friday, on Saturday mornings and Sunday afternoons.

John Newfield's Pelican Players are going into their second season.

THE FELICAN Players, which Newfield founded a year ago against the advice of friends who said "it wouldn't go," are a group of Broadway professionals, many of whom are familiar to television fans.

Productions of the Pelican Players are done in-the-round, with the audience seated all about the stage. This technique produces an intimacy unattainable in proscenium staging, since no seat in the Pelican Playhouse is further than twenty feet from the actors.

JACK HABARAS, leading man, toured last season with Touring Players, Inc., featured in Life magazine, and played on the Broadway role with Judith Anderson in Tower Beyond Tragedy.

Incense for the company will be Barbara Hove, whose appearances on national TV network include Schlitz Playhouse, the Aldrich Family, Studio One and the Hit Parade.

PEGGY LIPPE, leading lady, is widely known in Birmingham for roles with almost every theatrical group there. Owner of a modeling school and a dancing school, Miss Lippe directs a weekly fashion show on Birmingham TV. From Birmingham also is Ted Nordenson, prominent in college and civic theater productions.

Character actors are Ted Gunther, who was a member of the original Broadway casts of Oklahoma! and South Pacific, and Marjorie Kleville. Luke Bragg is stage manager. Student-actors are specializing in the area are working as apprentices.

THE PLAYERS have already produced The Constant Wife and Penny Wise. During the remainder of the season they will present such plays as Outward Bound, Rain, Kiss and Tell and a repeat of their most popular show of last year, Tobacco Road.

Atlanta Issues Call For 60 Teachers

An expanding school program in the Greater Atlanta area has brought about an urgent need for more teachers, according to Jim Cherry, Superintendent of the Atlanta Board of Education, it was revealed here today.

Mr. Cherry is issuing an appeal for 60 elementary teachers to fill openings in and around Decatur and Atlanta.

The basic minimum salary for holders of bachelor's degrees is $2,400.

Elementary candidates desiring information concerning the DeKalb County openings should write to Mr. Cherry at Decatur, Georgia.

Information concerning openings in the Atlanta Public Schools may be obtained by writing Mr. O. Y. Smith, Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Personnel, 11th Floor, City Hall, Atlanta.

Eisenhower Assumes Lead As GOP Begins Balloting

General Passes Taft, Winning Most of Contested Delegates

By BRUCE GALPHIN

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has steadily gained ground over Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio in their battle for the presidential nomination, apparently led the field last night as the Republican National Convention finally got to the business of selecting a candidate.

At the same time Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania announced that the part of the Pennsylvania delegation which he influenced, some 52 to 57 out of 70, would vote for the general, thus pushing the Eisenhower total past Taft's for the first time since the major wire services began keeping an official tabulation.

TAFT had hoped to retain most of the contested Southern delegates with the help of the Republican National Committee and the Credentials Committee, both of which were admittedly in control of the Ohio senator, but true to their threats, the Eisenhower backers threw the contest onto the floor and won their point.

Each side was allotted 45 minutes to present his case to the Florida dispute last Wednesday and used the time to hurl invective at his opponent.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, speaking in behalf of Ike, drew big cheers from the galleries as he referred to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York as the man "who has led us down to defeat two times," and urged the delegates not to repeat former mistakes, but when the matter came to a vote a majority of the individual votes favored General Eisenhower.

IN VIEW of the size of the vote and lateness of the proceedings Taft then called off the battle on the Texas contest.

Yesterday the convention took up the matter of rules changes, approved a platform and finally in the evening got to the nomination speeches.

EARLY indications were that no candidate would be selected on the first or second ballots, although both Eisenhower and Taft have repeatedly stated they expected victory on an early ballot.

The 70-vote California delegation, which may hold the key to the selection of the nominee, planned to keep its votes for Gov. Earl Warren of that state for at least the first two times around.

Land Appointed Publicity Head For Athletics

Former Sports Editor Of Florida Flambeau Graduated Last Year

Recent FSU graduate Bennett Land has been appointed Sports publicity director, President Campbell announced this week.

Land, who graduated from the school of Journalism in 1951 was sports editor of the Flambeau during his senior year.

SINCE that time Land has been working as a sports writer on the Arkansas Democrat. Before he joined them he was part-time sports publicity director of Little Rock Junior College.

The job, originally awarded to Henry Wrenn, was the resignation of Ned West early this spring. was given to Land after Wrenn decided he could not accept the job. At the time of original acceptance Wrenn asked for time to finish the work he was doing for Governor-elect Dan McCarty, who was campaigning.

DR. HOWARD Danford, PSU Director of Physical Education, said that he did not know what Wrenn's plans were. "The decision to forego the job was voluntary on his part," Danford said.

He continued that Land has been highly recommended for the job through his work on the Flambeau, his ability to do both promotional and publicity work in the PSU sports program and his knack of making friends.

IMMEDIATELY upon his graduation from FSU Land worked as a public relations man with the Arkansas Economic Council of the State Chamber of Commerce.

"We believe Land is a good choice for sports publicity director." Dr. Danford stated that "Bennett is an energetic and aggressive young man with a college promotion and publicity background who should make a valuable contribution to the sports program at Florida State.

Scheduled Changed

Three changes have been made in the Summer Recreation Committee schedule Monday at 8 p. m., the movie "Down to The Sea in Ships" will be shown; Thursday at 8:15 p.m., the Artists Series concert will feature the Knowles Duo; Sunday at 4 p.m., the Choral Union will present their Mozart Requiem in the Music Hall at 4 p.m.

JOHN ROVER TROTTER INQUIRES

And How Do You Beat Tally's Heat?

By MIMI PATTERSON

Here I am again . . . Rocking my brain (?) . . . A quest for a Date is what I need.

I would first like to offer a suggestion to the so called editor of this so called newspaper. (no offense) Why don't you set up a suggestion box for my article? My mind is at last too cracked to think of everything.

NOW TO get back to my subject. Which question shall I ask this week? "The price of ears in China?" "Will it rain?" "Do you like FSU?" (That would really be something). "What is your opinion of the Flambeau?" (This question I would never ask).

After many hours work in the very warm Flambeau office I still hadn't reached a decision. Switching on the radio I decided that I would kill some time, relax, and listen to the Republican Convention. Maybe I can get an idea from the bitter battle. Wow!! I must really be hot up there. Can't see how they stand the heat.

THAT'S IT, THE HEAT. I grabbed my paper and pencil and rushed to the "A" house Surely I can find answers to my question, "WHAT DO YOU DO TO BEAT TALLY'S HEAT?"

RAY YOUNG, "I take a cold shower and crawl into bed with a case of beer." "Are you sure that it is beer, Ray?)

JANIE CORNWELL, "The best thing I can think of to do is lounge in the hot bath with the beer House". (Doesn't that set well?)

ALISE TATUM and RAMONA MCCALL, in one accord together, "WE use Mexians heat powder." (No commercials please).

JEAN CANNON, "I spend my time in a tub." (Don't get waterlogged, Jean).

JOAN CROSSER. "Nothing." "About the only thing I can do is go to air-conditioned movies". (May I ask, with whom?)

DICK GUTTING, "Every time I' hesrn to feel the heat I take a salt tablet. Working outside like I do these come in real handy". (Salt bricks are very scarce)

BARBARA CANNON, "Take a damn' fly swet and go "crazy".

(Continued on Page 4)

Music Camp Gives Operetta Satirizing Ordinary Operas

An operetta which satirizes opera, particularly the Italian variety, will be presented by the Florida State University Summer Music Camp next Wednesday evening, July 16.

R.S.V.P., or A Musicale at Mr. Cauliflower's is the title of the operetta, one of the most unusual musical productions ever staged by FSU. It was composed nearly a century ago by Jacques Offenbach, one of the most prolific writers of works he wrote for the French musical comedy stage.

The story of the operetta concerns Stuart Offenbach, fictional descendant of the original composer, who decides to write and produce an opera at home. In the ensuing confusion work because the principal characters aims the wrong numbers, but never speak. They merely pantomime while Stuart Offenbach reads the dialogue and explains the plot.

PRINCIPAL roles will be taken by Patricia Simpson and Joyce Cayard. Ed Carrill, Ford Cohne, Hugh Rawls, John Larson, Kitty Lou Bennett, Robertson and Jeanne Burrell.

Noted Educator Asks What Price Freedom?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Continue to read the speeches made by famous educators, the Flambeau this week begins the reprint of one delivered by Robert M. Hutchins, distinguished educational philosopher, former chancellor of the University of Chicago and at present one of the directors of the Ford Foundation.

So vital is Mr. Hotchins' message that the Flambeau is going to run it in two consecutive editions, rather than cut it edit it in any way. "What Price Freedom?" is recommended reading.

By ROBERT M. HUTCHINS

We hear on every side that America is in danger. I think it is. I also think that many of those who talk the loudest about the dangers to the American Way of Life have no idea what the dangers are.

You would suppose, to listen to some people, that the American Way of Life consisted in unanimous tribal self-adoration. Down with criticism; down with proposals; down with anything that runs down with independent thought. Yet a history and tradition of our country make it perfectly plain that the essence of the American Way of Life is its hospitality to criticism, proposals, unpopular opinions, and independent thought. A few dates like 1620, 1776, and 1848 are enough to remind us of the Pilgrims and attitudes of our ancestors. The great American virtue was courage.

WE OUGHT to be afraid of new things. We ought to be afraid of anyone who is not suspicious enough to suppress the most cowardly and unjust of the ideas prevalent in Russia, and we are doing so in the name of freedom. The world Russian ideas are the police state, the abolition of thought, and the notion that the individual is a slave of the state. These ideas are the basis of the clearance between East and West.

EVERY day in this country men and women are being deprived of their livelihood, or at least their reputation, by unsubstantiated charges. These charges are then treated as facts in further charges against their relatives or associates. We do not throw people into jail because they are alleged to offer the official dogma. We throw them out of work and do our best to create the impression that they are subversive and hence dangerous, not only to the state, but to everybody who comes near them.

THE RESULT is that every public servant must try to remember every tax party his wife has gone to in the past ten years and endeavor to recall what representatives of which foreign powers she may have met on these occasions. A professor cannot take a position on any public question the professor had better not take any position on this question, or he may be hailed before some committee to explain himself.

* * *

IS THIS the American Way of Life? The great American word is freedom, and in particular, freedom of thought, speech and

(Continued on Page 2)

You Will Swelter But Live Thru It, ---It Sez Here

While you're sweltering and cursing in the Tallahassee heat, you should be comforted to know the temperature is not likely to be lethal.

Or maybe you don't care by now.

In any case, figures recently released by the State Board of Health indicate that there are much fewer deaths per capita in Florida than in the nation as a whole.

Your chances of dying of heat prostration are only about one in a million, according to data compiled by secrey's Bureau of Vital Statistics. The national average was 3.4 per 10,000 deaths. In Florida it was about .8.

Teachers Study Language Arts

A statewide language arts conference convened on the Florida U. university campus yesterday and will continue today.

The purpose of the conference is to give practical assistance to school-wide curriculum groups and individual classroom teachers in improving their language arts programs currently with the national effort to improve the language arts curriculum.

MISS Blanche Trese'nell and Dr. Dwight L. Burton, PSU faculty members and co-chairmen, said the meeting was planned for elementary, secondary and colleg English teachers, supervisors and administrators.

Dr. Dora V. Smith, professor of English at the University of Minnesota and nationally known education, was principal conference speaker.

A LUNCHEON given by the Leon County English teacher for those attending the conference will be held today at noon in the LaFayette dining room.

Dr. Smith's conference special emphasis has been placed on all phases of teaching language arts. Dr. Smith has been praised highly for her two speeches yesterday. She is scheduled to speak again this morning at 9.

Food Data Testify Boys'll Be Boys: Artists At Eating

The 344 boys who gathered here for the annual Boys State meeting are going to furnish data the work of adults in government, but when it came to eating they just proved that they are still boys.

In a total of 17 meals served from the Florida State University dining halls they consumed 1,400 pounds of potatoes and 1,100 pounds of fried meat, 1,600 pounds of meat, 100 gallons of fruit juices, 320 dozen rolls, 500 loaves of bread, 200 whole pies, 1,600 cubes of cake and 400 pounds of fresh fruit.

University to Hold Picnic Wednesday

The annual All University Picnic will be held the afternoon of Wednesday, July 16 at Camp Flastacowo.

Students who wish to attend may purchase forty cent tickets in the Seminole Club lobby during the hours from 8 a.m. through Monday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Menu for the picnic will be of fried chicken, salad, rolls, ice cream and lemonade.

Recreation games will begin at 5p.m. Other activities include a community sing, a faculty-student softball game and dancing by record music.

Students must park their cars outside the camp area to allow maximum play space and must have tickets to be admitted to the camp area.

Groups to Sponsor Conference on TB

The Institute on Social, Economic and Emotional Problems: Tuberculosis, sponsored by the Florida Tuberculosis Association and the Florida State University School of Social Welfare, will meet at FSU from July 28 to August 1.

The aim of the Institute, serving professions helping the tuberculous, will be carried out by small-group discussions among consultants.

PARTICIPANTS will include Dr. J. M. Bistowish, director of Leon County Health Unit; Dr. Alfred Gerhich, Southwest Florida Tuberculosis Hospital; Dr. A. C. Wilson, Florida Sanatorium Hospital; Miss Eileen Lester, Children's Bureau of Atlanta.

Dr. L. C. Mann, superintendent of the W. T. Edwards TB Hospital; Mrs. Frances B. Mufson, National TB Association; Dr. John O'Connell, PSU Professor of Psychiatry; Mr. Dodd Ax, Vocational Rehabilitation; Mr. E. B. Porter, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation; Dr. C. M. Bragg, State Board of Health.

DOCTORS, social workers, vocational rehabilitators, hospital staffs, public health nurses, and public health officers are urged to attend the institute.

Hours Announced

The following hours for the West campus library have been announced by Florence Bethea, assistant librarian. Monday through Friday, 8:15 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.; Saturday, 8:15 to 12:30 p. m.

Academic Freedom Viewed As Commendable Concept

From California comes the bleat of a Commencement speaker who blames the concept of academic freedom for the decline of patriotism in the United States. It is indeed unfortunate that such a misrepresentation should come from someone himself involved in Education. On the contrary, this principle, perhaps more than any other, has been a hulwark facing the factions in America who would silence any voices hut their own under the banner of "Americanism."

Academic freedom is the liberty to study, investigate, discuss, and interpret ideas and facts concerning man and his world. Its standard bearers recognize no limitations save those imposed by standards of art, science, and scholarship. American teachers have a right to expect that no special limitations of expression or discussion will be their lot merely because of their profession. They are citizens first, teachers second, and should have the rights accorded to all citizens.

The American teacher must not be required to maintain a fearful silence, indeed by reason of greater knowledge he should be a leader in the affairs of his own town or city.

The late President Roosevelt's "brain-trust" should have dispelled any lingering doubts in the minds of those who would have us raise voice heard in the school-room but not in the town meeting.

Crisis puts pressure on schools to accept current official interpretations of human behavior. Yet this is precisely the time when the ways of Democracy must be maintained. The schools must rise to the challenge in the presentation of differing viewpoints and the encouragement of students to study the facts and draw their own coaclusions.

The faculty member should be free in the field of his own competance, his own opinions and convictions and the premises from which they are derived.

On the other hand, it is his duty not to advocate any conclusions from any source other than his own free and unbiased pursuit of truth and understanding. Commitments of any sort which interfere with such pursuits are incompatible with the principles of academic freedom.

This freedom is not the exclusive province of University or college personnel. Rather it is the constitution by which everyone called "teacher", whether in one room school house or great University should live.

Under this principle of Education the student is a vital part of the intellectual family. In recognizing that freedom of inquiry and investigation is the chief educational institution it is easy to see that a separate standard of freedom for teacher and student is impossible. Therefore the student freedom which is like spirit of promisitveness so vital to the learning process.

This is academic freedom. It is difficult to understand the basis of any criticism of such a commendable concept.

THE EDITORS POST

U. S. AT MOUSSE OF MEDIOCRITY

By STAN SCHMIDT

With the din of the Republican Convention in my ears I wonder about the supposedly intelligent men who under two separate flags gather in a great midwestern city to heap invective on each other.

Each rants and raves about the other, painting the opposition a beast of burden, a monster to be greatly set out to bleed the United States into a comfortable mass of boneless protoplasm.

Oh yes, from these two orgies come the candidates for the Presidency of the United States.

It is not the inadvisibility of the two party system which is the subject of this writing—It is rather, the trend away from the grey matter and toward the adrenalin packed speeches of emotionalism in the over simplified garbage that the All-American headline reader will gobble up.

Sield reader is possessed of a mind which is full of prejudices, curdities and with an insatiable perchant for blood, anybody's blood. Give him his daily quota and they've been in demand ever since man discovered just what a miserable animal he is.

With the din of a "spentane-

OFF THE CUFF . . .

TEXTBOOKS NOT 'SHINING GOSPEL'

By BRUCE GALPHIN

The American school teacher occupies a position of particular power in dealing with the lives of young men and women, and thus of the nation. After the child's eighth year, he spends more time in importance with the preacher and even the parents in molding impressionable influence.

Since the teacher-student relationship is such an important one it is fitting to examine it in some detail, particularly in the light of some of its greatest flaws.

In this article we see our greatest mistakes do progress and idealistic goals become feasible.

The first flaw is the contradictions leveled at teachers by parents about questions of right and life as that child: about partiality or unfair treatment—about such things as not listening to the whole of the child whose needs are peculiar. The chapter is entitled "Do unto others" more often they are probably true.

But there are minor points when compared to the major fault of the first two named, but nevertheless they are so intricately involved in that fault that virtually no one, least of all the child, recognizes their interrelation.

The chief aim of the American school teacher is that he teaches from texts as though they were the shining gospel, pure knowledge and end-all of learning. The student memorizes these books, line and sinker the "golden" words of mediocre books—or suffer the consequences.

The student typically must memorize what is in the books, unrelated as they are, are trivial at best. He gets little or no training in formulating broad, interlocking principles about life. He learns not how to think. And worse yet, he doesn't discover that there are gaps of facts, many others than those neatly capsuled for him by textbooks.

The school child doesn't learn that there are controversies, interpretations of history, that psychologists are in violent disagreement about life. He learns that the authors of his textbooks are infallible and that he is able to talk about things they really don't understand. He learns that he is a "student" memorizer, one "seed" theology, one "type" sociology student.

Thus the average school child never acquires the habit of inquiry and the ability to develop what is so vital in these uncertain times: the ability to analyze rationally the problems developing what is so vital in these uncertain times: the ability to analyze rationally the problems developing in our society.

The questioning habit is all too often stunted in early growth by the teacher whose stock phrase is, "Well, it is in the book, isn't it?"

The very students who displays the greatest curiosity, the one who questions the cherished dicta, is the one most likely to lose interest in school. He soon knuckles under or becomes known as a "troublesome child."

It is disheartening to conjecture how many "bad" boys, how many potential mediocre men, could have been the thinkers and leaders of our nation.

SOUNDING OFF

SCHMEDLEY—HIS DECLINE AND FALL

BY DAN ALTHOFF

In the last edition we began enumerating the adventures of Dr. Lawrence Schmedley in his quest for the rare Eskimo Spitz, a specimen hitherto believed to be extinct. Scientists now suspect that they have ever still existed in the Florida state wad sanctuary. Dr. Schmedley believes Schmedley to track it down and "Bring 'em back alive."

The Eskimo Spitz is a delicate little animal that lives on an equally delicate plant called the 'Bookus Dishlicus.' This plant, as the name little thing, it will flee in panic from the mere approach. It has been known to dis from sheer fright at the sight of its own reflection in a water-hole. Its economy as several dozen dead ones have been found at one time encircling an oasis.

Gradually, however, the L. E. has been coaxed to eat and drink only from running water, and for this reason it probably will habits the territory around the Verbose river, which flows through the center of the sanctuary, and is the boundary between the Everglades National Reservroomia.

Dr. Schmedley has been succesful in all particulars day by day reports of his progress to the outside world, and for a very good reason, as we shall see Dr. Schmedley continues:

"Well, it has been a much easier on the second day. We came upon a two day old elephant herd which happened to be in the same direction of our own journey. We just merely had to follow the route through the jungle, but the elephants left a broad path of their own behind them, which made progress difficult at times.

"We have not encountered out of sight somewhere along the trail, but was not missed until this morning.

About mid-morning, while moving through a dense jungle, one Pyneprynotia, I encountered the formidable Snalkswopsetz and Dr. Schmedley handed to put into writing. Suspicion was aroused. Then another discrepancy was noticed. His messages were positively free from misspelled words. There now seemed reason enough to take action.

Detectives were stationed at all the mail boxes in St. Petersburg Beach. Exactly at twelve o'clock, a man with an envelope in his hand came whistling down the street, and leaning towards a mail box, he persevered in his direction. An alert Pinkerton agent stepped the man in a tactful manner in order to question him. To him. It was Schmedley! Scandal, scoundrel, scum, scullion, schmoe.

Caught red handed, Schmedley revealed everything. The money he had been given for the expedition was squandered in a swank social honors called the Sunset Room. And of course, there was a woman in the case. A woman who shamelessly took in the poor but honest explorer. Thus comes the end of that Schmedley career.

The army is like a mule. After it has learned a formula, the only way to get it to unlearn that formula is to knock it in the head.
—J. Frank Dobie.

To be educated is to know the best that has been thought and said in the world.—Matthew Arnold.

LOST

LOST: Weston Master II Exposure Master number 7784650 with case. Probably in heat up, battered brown imitation leather bar. Return to Bob Mauldin, Florida Flambeau office. Complimire building, or call 3311.

Noted Educator

Denies Charges

Dear Editor:

This is an answer to the letter printed in the June 27th Flambeau entitled "Free Rientora."

In the first place, when the slate was prepared for Summer School officers, an article was printed in the Flambeau stating that nominations at the various house meetings would not be accepted from the floor, and the writer failed to see fit to object or say so in order that his qualifications be checked and his name be placed on the ballot. Consequently the Administration and the American Way of Life to offer prizes for the most provocative criticism of our country as it would be to offer prizes to those who have done the best job of advertising it.

The HEART of Americanism is independent thought. The cloak-and-stiletto work that is now going on will not, even when that many persons will suffer for acts that they did not commit, or for acts of which they have been accused, or for no acts at all. Far worse is the end result, which will be that critics, even of the mildest sort, will be frightened into silence. Democracy in these days is also unchallenged because no one will dare to question the system.

To persecute people into conformity by the non-legal methods popular today is fine, but how about doing it by purges and pogroms. The dreadful unanimity of lifeless self-adoration is characteristic of the Nazi state. It is sadiously reminiscent to Russia. It is to the last degree un-American.

AMERICAN EDUCATION has not been constructed on such unfortunate lines. In some few cases the practice has been to give the student the facts, to try to help him to think for himself and to urge him to reach his own conclusions. It is not surprising that the best kind of American education is the same as that of Americanism: it is independent. The student is unlikely to become a mindless automaton, but he will develop the habit, and who will think always for themselves.

The basic principle of American government, and one that accounts for the importance of education in such a democracy as ours, is that the citizens learn to think and if they will think they cannot be fooled because the Russian dictatorship is that they are not permitted to think for themselves.

THE AMERICAN doctrine rests on the proposition that the right of individual in himself that counts. That is why he is farther weak, or how much money he has, or what his color or creed is, or what party he belongs to, or what his friends are, but who and what he is. That is why the individual must be competent. The professional competence of a teacher is hardly a question to be left to boards or even administrators or trustees. It is a matter of loyalty to the advice of persons professionally competent in the teacher's field.

IF WE APPLY a test other than competence in determining the qualifications of teachers we shall find that promotion and prejudice will determine them. In 1928 it was said that the chances of not be president because he would be a member of the Roman person and today in many places, and if not today it may happen tomorrow, a candidate for the Jewish campaigns may mean that teachers are who belong to those enemies will be under no temptation to loyalty to the profession.

TEACHERS MAY be expected to obey the law of the land. But it is still permissible, I hope to ask questions, to try to find out the criminate against teachers—to act as though they were all citizens and to give them the same special judicial disabilities seems injudicious if we want adult citizens and not to go into the teaching profession.

The assumption appears to be that American education is full of Red, an assumption that is the supreme reverse of the truth. All the excitement of the last few years, all the hearings, investigations, and publicity release, have not turned up more than four or five Communist professors, even though membership in the Party has been perfectly legal up to now and is still not illegal. It is ridiculous because of the eccentricity of assembly. Asserting the dignity of man, and of every man, America has proclaimed and protected the freedom to differ. Each man is supposed to think for himself. The sum of the thoughts of all is the wisdom of the community. Difference, disagreement, discussion decided by democratic processes are required for the health of the body politic. The citizens. America has grown strong on criticism. It would be quite a misstatement with the American Way of Life to offer prizes for the most provocative criticism of our country as it would be to offer prizes to those who have done the best job of advertising it.

Denies Charges

(Continued From Page 1)

The HEART of Americanism is independent thought. The cloak-and-stiletto work that is now going on will not, even when that many persons will suffer for acts that they did not commit, or for acts of which they have been accused, or for no acts at all. Far worse is the end result, which will be that critics, even of the mildest sort, will be frightened into silence. Democracy in these days is also unchallenged because no one will dare to question the system.

To persecute people into conformity by the non-legal methods popular today is fine, but how about doing it by purges and pogroms. The dreadful unanimity of lifeless self-adoration is characteristic of the Nazi state. It is sadiously reminiscent to Russia. It is to the last degree un-American.

AMERICAN EDUCATION has not been constructed on such unfortunate lines. In some few cases the practice has been to give the student the facts, to try to help him to think for himself and to urge him to reach his own conclusions. It is not surprising that the best kind of American education is the same as that of Americanism: it is independent. The student is unlikely to become a mindless automaton, but he will develop the habit, and who will think always for themselves.

The basic principle of American government, and one that accounts for the importance of education in such a democracy as ours, is that the citizens learn to think and if they will think they cannot be fooled because the Russian dictatorship is that they are not permitted to think for themselves.

THE AMERICAN doctrine rests on the proposition that the right of individual in himself that counts. That is why he is farther weak, or how much money he has, or what his color or creed is, or what party he belongs to, or what his friends are, but who and what he is. That is why the individual must be competent. The professional competence of a teacher is hardly a question to be left to boards or even administrators or trustees. It is a matter of loyalty to the advice of persons professionally competent in the teacher's field.

IF WE APPLY a test other than competence in determining the qualifications of teachers we shall find that promotion and prejudice will determine them. In 1928 it was said that the chances of not be president because he would be a member of the Roman person and today in many places, and if not today it may happen tomorrow, a candidate for the Jewish campaigns may mean that teachers are who belong to those enemies will be under no temptation to loyalty to the profession.

TEACHERS MAY be expected to obey the law of the land. But it is still permissible, I hope to ask questions, to try to find out the criminate against teachers—to act as though they were all citizens and to give them the same special judicial disabilities seems injudicious if we want adult citizens and not to go into the teaching profession.

The assumption appears to be that American education is full of Red, an assumption that is the supreme reverse of the truth. All the excitement of the last few years, all the hearings, investigations, and publicity release, have not turned up more than four or five Communist professors, even though membership in the Party has been perfectly legal up to now and is still not illegal. It is ridiculous because of the eccentricity of

THE CRACKER BARREL

POLITICS AND 'GLITTERING GENERALITIES'

By GENE LAWLER

From now on, I shall remember the American public will be submitted to its keepers if it does not do so. Unfortunately, many will swallow the hogwash, even though the majority of speeches made at the Senator Snorts and Phoebe-bounds are enough to curdle the gray matter of any thinking person.

Right now of course, the hitherto secret concentration of demagogery is contained at the International Amph-theater in Chicago. Rep. Joe Martin, who addressed the convention, has shown by speech that even the most respectable politician feels it only fair to utilize the "glittering generalities" and the red-hot catch phrase.

As I remember, Martin was roundly cheered for his indictment of the Democrats "who don't know where they're going, and can't get back to where they've been because they don't know where they are." And of course, the Republicans "will lead a united party into the November to free America of tyranny."

General MacArthur, in his speech-heralded keynote address, managed to slip in some supreme immsnde. The Democratic administration, he said, "has become captive to the schemers and planners who have infiltrated its ranks of leadership to set the national course inexorably toward a socialistic or even later a communistic state . . . they have grasp can eliminate disloyal elements from the public authority; can purge our educational system of subversive and immoral influence . . . "

Governor Dewey, when asked what he thought of MacArthur's speech, said, "I didn't hear it and then added, "I don't intend to read it."

Such an attitude on the part of the American public toward demagogery in general, not just the kind you don't agree with, would certainly have a salutatory effect. As it is, we tolerate the Slasum.

THIS SILENT GENERATION - PART 2

By LACY BALDY

"There is some dumb thing around . . . across the country, across the world, which has not yet been able to throw off.

The universe stands before him as purposeless and meaningless, and hence, man is supposedly without purpose and without meaning. It is not only that man seems to be alone, he has lost faith in the universe, God, Pandora's box of gods and dogmas or what have you, but he is also losing faith in man himself: He dismisly feels that his life is hollow at the center. He is disillusioned and weary. It is this pleasure of a meaningless universe, and a meaningless human life which has left, although mostly unconsciously, man of today impotent and sterile.

It is for this that we have some nameless longing. We are driven with some pent-up fury like a wild animal at our nameless, unseen adversary. We smash our fists bloodily through the walls and howl to high hell with savage joy—who has met some opposition; we have brought blood, some pain, some feeling. We have temporarily loosened the thing that was in us.

We are the young and know the sorrows that are common to youth. We long for the dare when the world was noble and valiant and which has left, although mostly unconsciously, man of today impotent and sterile.

It is basically this picture of a meaningless life which has silenced this generation and disorder is overtaking us.

But long to suit in shortsighted lop-sided view of man. Man is as meaningful as he himself wishes to be. Man's purpose is his way. Out of the slime of the unremembered Past he has evolved and Schmedley to track it down and

The Eskimo Spitz is a delicate little animal that lives on an equally delicate plant called the 'Bookus Dishlicus.' This plant, as the name little thing, it will flee in panic from the mere approach. It has been known to dis from sheer fright at the sight of its own reflection in a water-hole. Its economy as several dozen dead ones have been found at one time encircling an oasis.

Gradually, however, the L. E. has been coaxed to eat and drink only from running water, and for this reason it probably will habits the territory around the Verbose river, which flows through the center of the sanctuary, and is the boundary between the Everglades National Reservroomia.

Dr. Schmedley has been successful in all particulars day by day reports of his progress to the outside world, and for a very good

Recreation Calendar

Friday, July 11—Movie, Three Came Home, starring Claudette Colbert. Amphitheater, 8 p.m.

Saturday, July 12—Deep Sea Fishing Trip. Those interested will be made in the office of the Dean of Men. cost $5 Bus leaves Bryan at 8 a.m.

Saturday, July 12—Social Dancing, Sunset Room, Student Service Center, 8:30 p.m.

Sunday, July 13—Music Camp Band Concert. Amphitheater, 6 p.m.

Monday, July 14—Movie, Down to the Sea in Ships. Amphitheater, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, July 15—Artist Series, Music Amphitheater, 8:15 p.m.

Wednesday, July 16—All University Picnic. Camp Flastacowa, 5 p.m. Supper at 5:30 p.m.

Thursday, July 17 — Music Camp Operetta. Music Hall, 8 p.m.

Thursday, July 17 — Book Review, You Publish Best Sellers. Mary Jo Kennedy. Gilchrist Hall, 4 p.m.

Friday, July 18—Movie, The Tender Years, starring Joe E. Brown. Music Amphitheater, 8 p.m.

Summer Flambeau

EDITORIAL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—STAN SCHMIDT

Managing Editor ..... Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Conkling
Columnists ..... Dan Althoff
..... Gene Lawlar
Flambeau Photographer ..... Mimi Patterson

BUSINESS

Business Manager ..... Lou Calderoni
Asst Business Manager ..... Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-191, Ext. 481 Second Floor Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the Florida State University Tallahassee Florida Represented nationally by the National Advertising Service 420 Madison Avenue New York 17, New York

OLYMPIC REPORT

By TOM CONKLING

Florida State University's two Olympic athletes, gymnasts Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder, arrived by plane in Helsinki, Finland, Wednesday.

The pair, members of the United States' nine man gymnastics team, will compete in the World Olympics later this month.

Prior to their flight to Helsinki Tuesday the 1952 Olympics will be held, the gymnasts were put through the paces at West Point during the two-week training session.

According to Holder and Roetzheim the workout sessions lasted approximately eight hours daily under actual competition atmosphere.

The squad is currently in tip-top shape and is listed as the "Dark Horse," which means this could surprise the experts before the games are over.

According to the experts Finland is considered the favorite in gymnastics with Switzerland, Sweden, and Italy ranking close behind.

The United States squad, with seven gymnasts listed in order, includes Bill Roetzheim of Florida State University; Bob Stout of the Philadelphia Turners; Ed Gagne of the Bronx Turners; Joe Giallombardo of Cleveland ST'V; Don Holder of Florida State University; Walt Blattner of the U. S. Air; John Beckner and Charles Sims both of the University of California, and Vinny Dimeo of the Jersey City Swiss Club. Dimeo has repeated as Olympians this year after being on the 1948 team includes Bill Roetzheim, Ed Scrobe, Vince Pistorio, and Joe Kotys. New gymnasts are Stout, Holder, Blattner, Beckner, and Simms.

On paper Bill Roetzheim has the excellent chance of scoring in the side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bars, and all-around events. Don Holder could very well place on the rings and side horse.

It is interesting to note that Roetzheim's optional horizontal bar routine is identical to the exercise that was victorious in the 1948 Olympics.

However, it is hard to predict anything in the Olympic Games, especially gymnastics. In the United States more emphasis is placed upon daring exercises that involve risks than is on form. Form is not overlooked here but it is not judged as strictly as it is in Europe.

In Europe the judges place much more importance upon the gymnast's form. Consequently with the Olympics being held in Europe, the judges will be influenced by the European approach to gymnastics. Therefore the teams of Europe must be considered the favorites. If the games were being held in America the judges would be guided by the American approach and the United States would probably be in the favorite's roll.

Bill Roetzheim sums up the United States gymnast's outlook in the games: "We like being the dark horse squad and we'll be doing our best to give them all a fight. However, let's not overlook the Olympic motto. 'The important thing in the Olympic Games is not in winning but taking part. The essential thing in life is not conquering but fighting well.'"

Next week's column will present features of the Olympic Camp in Helsinki direct from the correspondence of Bill Roetzheim.

All students and personnel affiliated with Florida State University are urged to write, if only a postcard, to Florida State University's Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder. A little support never hurt any athlete. Their address is U. S. Olympic Gymnastic Team, Kapyla, Olympic Village, Helsinki, Finland.

BEHIND ON YOUR THESIS OR TERM PAPER?

Neat, accurate typing fast at reasonable cost. Intelligent editing if you need it. We take the headaches and you get the credit.

TYPING & MIMEOGRAPHING SERVICE
("ALERT ADVERTISERS")
209 East Call Street Telephone 3-0357

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

What Do YOU Look For Where You Eat?

- Fine Food . . .
- Cool Comfort . . .?
- Pleasant Atmosphere?

find them all at

The Amber House

For Food That's Fine

MALONE'S CO-OP BOOK STORE

BOOKS - SUPPLIES - SUNDRIES - STATIONERY

WE BUY USED BOOKS

It is much easier for us to face machine guns than a new idea and to follow a shining knight in armor than a thinker with a new vision of human relationship.—I. A. R. Wylie.

Patronize Our Advertisers

WFSU PROGRAM SCHEDULE

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

A.M.
7:00—Sign On
7:01—Morning Hymn
7:05—World News
7:15—Morning Sports Page
7:30—Coffee Capers
8:00—Coffee Capers (cont.)
8:30—"It's the Topic" (Mon.-Wed. - Fri.)
Trans. Page Cavanaugh Trio & Guests
"Here's to Vets" (Tues.-Thurs.)
Trans. Name Bands & Personalities.
8:45—Willis's Madhouse
9:00—Sign Off

P.M.
5:00—Sign On
5:01—Summer Serenade (Music by Request).
7:30—News
7:45—Sport News
9:00—Summer Serenade (cont.)

Boer to Present Recital This P.M.

Bertil Boer, concert flutist and composer, will present a recital of music for flute and piano in the Opperman Music Hall on the Florida State University campus tonight at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Boer will be assisted by John Boda at the piano. The recital will be open to the public without charge.

Mr. Boer received his musical training at the Royal Academy of Music in Stockholm, Sweden, and Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. He has been soloist with the major symphonies of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, and has been guest conductor of six orchestras in Scandinavia.

A composer as well as concert artist, Mr. Boer has had his compositions played in concert and radio in Sweden and the U. S. He will include one of his own works on the program next Friday, a "Brazilian Pastorale." Other works on the program will be the Cencerie in D Major for flute by Monart, "Scotch Pastorale" by Cyril Scott, "Piece en forme de Habanera" by Ravel, and "Pan and the Shepherd" by Jules Mouquet.

No personal philosophy is worth its salt which does not exalt the rule of the will above other human qualities, for society owes every advance from barbarism to its functionin.—Frank Snowden Hopkins.

To be genuinely civilised means to be able to walk straightly and to live honorably without the props and crutches of one or another of the childish dreams which have so far supported men.—W. T. Stace.

TUNE INTO 660

WFSU

YOUR CAMPUS STATION FOR THE LATEST IN

News
Music
Time Checks

660 WFSU 660

Shakespeare scribed—

There's not a minute of our lives should stretch without some pleasure

Anthony and Cleopatra

A minute's enough to stop at the familiar red cooler for a Coke. Pleasure? Certainly . . . and refreshing, too.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Graham Approves Plan To Raise School Funds

Passage of the proposed constitutional amendment next November for earmarked revenue from motor vehicle license revenues will assure each of Florida's counties its proportionate share of such revenues to meet school building needs, James L. Graham, director of the State Administration and Finance Department says.

He told a group attending a School of Education sponsored seminar at Florida State University recently that he is convinced the passage of the amendment will actually save Florida taxpayers money since revenue bonds issued by the state under the amendment, backed by the motor vehicle revenue, could be sold at lower interest rates. He said there is positive assurance passage of the amendment will not cost the taxpayers any additional taxes.

He said school revenue certificates issued by about 15 Florida counties since 1946 have carried interest rates ranging from nearly two to four percent interest. Under the proposed amendment, he said the counties could finance their school building needs through the state issued revenue certificates which should bear considerably less than four percent interest.

He said the entire amendment has been designed to protect the bond buyers during the life of the bonds and thus make the bonds attractive to the purchasers even at a low rate of interest.

The amendment provision which will earmark a portion of the motor vehicle license tag revenues for 30 years, starting next January, to finance the school bonds, if voted favorable next November, cannot be changed by the state legislature.

He said the amendment has been so carefully prepared that the State Board of Administration which will administer the school building funds cannot issue any five revenue bonds for any county until that county formally adopts a resolution requesting such certificates be issued against its proportionate share of the available funds.

In the event a county does not want to use its funds for school building revenue certificates it will still receive its share on an annual basis, he said.

The continuing large increase has made it necessary for an assured source of revenue such as the motor vehicle allocation under the proposed amendment to enable many Florida counties to meet their school building needs, according to the state education finance director.

He said the amendment also provides for such safeguards as school building needs surveys to assure the funds are used to meet actual needs for new units. Also the provision that the counties will continue to receive their share of funds based upon their instructional units when the amendment becomes operative and no less than that amount over the 30-year period as their instructional units increase over the years, he added, the counties will receive more of the funds.

Dr. Pierre Lawler, FSU School of Education professor, introduced the speaker and said the proposed amendment has been unanimously approved by supporters of public education in all sections of the state.

Few things are more purifying to our conception of values than to contemplate the gradual rise of man from his obscure and difficult beginnings to his present existence.—Bertrand Russell.

The function of all knowledge is to enable men to live together more happily than in the past.—Bertrand Russell.

Scientific information has entered into every literate person's life to a greater or lesser extent. The scientific mode of thought obviously has not.—Robert L. Duffus.

NOTICE TO AUGUST GRADUATES

The deadline for ordering both the caps and gowns and the announcements for the August graduation is July 15.

PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW AT THE UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE

FACULTY STAFF and STUDENTS

HERE IT IS . . . .

Turner's Sensational Clearance Sale

Of Men's Suits Continues Through Saturday

Hundreds and Hundreds of Men's Summer Suits Tailored by the Nation's Leading Manufacturers, Placed on Sale to Clear . . . .

Men's Suits, Values to $32.50
REDUCED TO $23.75

Group Including Famous MOHARA
Values to $49.50
REDUCED TO $34.75

Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Coronado Suits, Values to $59.50
REDUCED TO $44.75

Turner's

Nyberg to Serve As Visiting Prof

Dr. Alf Nyberg, noted Swedish meteorologist from Stockholm, will serve as a visiting professor of meteorology at Florida State University for the scholastic year beginning with the Fall term, Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president, said recently.

While at FSU Dr. Nyberg will conduct research in connection with an investitation of meteorological conditions in the Mediterranean basin made by the FSU department of meteorology for the U. S. Air Force Cambridge Research Center, according to Dr. Werner A. Baum, head of the FSU department of meteorology. He will also teach several general courses to FSU meteorology majors including a group of U. S. Air Force students enrolled at FSU in a special program of academic training.

Dr. Nyberg will be on leave of absence from his positions as chief of the serological section of the Swedish Meteorological and Hydrological Institute and as a member of the faculty of the University of Stockholm.

The famed Swedish meteorologist holds his Ph.D. from the University of Uppsala. He is a member of the Aerological Commission of the World Meteorological Organization and is author of numerous widely read articles in his professional field. He is perhaps best known for his pioneer work in utilizing information from the upper atmosphere in weather forecasting. He has lectured and written extensively on this subject as an international authority.

Dr. Baum said he met Dr. Nyberg while at the University of Chicago several years ago and was much impressed with his ability in both research and in teaching. He said Dr. Nyberg will spend the month of August in Europe on research and in gathering data to be used in his work at FSU.

During the past academic year at FSU Dr. Wouter Bleeker, internationally noted Netherlands meteorologist, served as visiting professor of meteorology.

Organizations Give Concert on Sunday

A concert by the Band and Orchestra Sunday evening at 6:30 in Opperman Music Hall will be the first of four Music Camp programs next week.

The concert, open to the public, will be conducted by Oliver Hobbs and Robert Braunagel for band and by Robert N. Sedore for orchestra.

Guest conductors for the Sunday program will be Al Rine, band director at Haines City high school, Stanley Biedron and James J. Nehes, of the Florida State University Music School.

Other Music camp programs next week will be a student recital on Tuesday, an operetta on Wednesday and a final concert on Friday evening.

Opinion is only free when nobody can monopolize it, not when nobody does monopolize it.—Gerald W. Johnson.

Fine Portraits at Reasonable Prices

AUGUST GRADUATES MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENTS FOR GRADUATION PORTRAITS NOW.

John Charles

106 West Jefferson Phone 3-0115

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

Formerly Meats Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

MILLER'S Cootery

SEMI-ANNUAL SHOE CLASSIE

NOW IN PROGRESS

I. MILLER
DELMANETTE
MADEMOISELLE
PALIZZIO
BARE FOOT ORIGINALS RHYTHM STEP

8.95

Formerly 22.95

MATCHING BAGS ½ PRICE

RED CROSS . . . NATURALIZER . . . RHYTHM STEP . . . JOYCE . . . PENALJO . . . TOWN & COUNTRY . . . SANDLER COVER GIRLS AND OTHERS

5.95

Formerly 12.95

MILLER'S Cootery

College Ave.

'Plastic Man' Overcomes Gravity Laws on Tramp

Last year an alert Flambeau sports writer tabbed Richard Gebhardt Gutting "the plastic man" after watching the NCAA champion trampolinist in action on his pet apparatus. A more fitting "Tag" was never given an athlete in any sport.

When Dick shoots-the-works on the tramp he defies laws of gravity as he executes the best and most difficult routine in the nation with flawless form.

IT WAS at Boulder, Colorado last Spring when Florida State University's peerless Gymnastic team successfully defended its National Collegiate title. Led by "the plastic man" who paves the way with a first on the trampoline as well as a third in tumbling, the Seminoles were never headed.

Gutting's career on the trampoline started shortly after the close of World War II. In his first year as a competitive performer he notched the Central AAU Championship in 1946 and repeated by copping the same title in 1946. In the National AAU Open the same year, Dick upset the doesters by placing second in competition that included the nation's best and most experienced performers.

UPON ENTERING FSU in the fall of 1950, Dick received what undoubtedly was the greatest break in his career, that of receiving the coaching of the nation's gymnastic team and champion builder, Dr. Hartley D. Price.

In his first year as a competitor on the Seminole's National Champion Squad, Gutting won the Florida AAU tumbling and trampoline titles in 1951 as well as the Southeastern AAU tramp crown. He successfully defended the championships last spring.

"THE PLASTIC man' came through again with his one-two punch in the Southern Intercollegiate by once again walking off with the tumbling and trampoline trophies.

It was one week after his domination of the Southern Intercollegiates that Dick became "Mr Trampoline" by sweeping the country's top performers off their respective soosies with his unmatched routine of tricks at the Nationals.

THEN THE roof fell in. After winning the National title, action was immediately taken to have Gutting declared ineligible for NCAA competition. It seems that Dick took part in a lecture tour of high schools throughout the Mid-West during the 1949-50 school year. The topic of the program was Physical Education and the nature and values of tumbling and trampoline, with acrobatic illustrations.

It seems that the instructors were reimbursed financially for their efforts.

THE CASE is being considered by the NCAA eligibility board at this time. The probably outcome accordine to Gutting will be the termination of his college athletic career—a la Jim Thorpe. The

Magazines Publish Buchanan Articles

James M Buchanan, professor of economics at Florida State University, is author of two articles appearing in national journals during June.

One of the articles, 'Federal Grants and Resources Allocation,' appears in the Journal of Political Economy. It deals with the effects of federal grants to states upon the economic movement of labor and capital resources.

"The Price of Highway Service" by Professor Buchanan appears in the National Tax Journal, June, 1952. This article discusses the pileht of connection on the nation's highways as an economic problem. It offers a tentative solution in the form of increased highway-use taxes designed primarily to raise revenue, but to cut down road usage.

nothing is so unhealthy in the young as docility—Pearl S. Bork.

Mrs. Dohnanyi Translates Tale Of Crusaders

A new book by Elena Zachar has appeared in Chile and Argentina. Elena Zachar is better known in Tallahassee as Mrs. Ernst von Dohnanyi, wife of the famous pianist-composer who is on the Florida State University School of Music faculty.

Mrs. Dohnanyi's latest published work is a novel which deals with the Crusaders. Written originally in Hungarian and translated into Spanish, the book is entitled Tambien Dios Le Quiere, taken from the Crusaders' sloran which translates roughly as God Also Wishes It.

THE BOOK was published by Editorial Jackson de Edocomes Selectas, an American publishing company located in Buenos Aires. It has been taken up by two book clubs, Circulo Literario de Chile and Circulo Literario de Argentina.

Mrs. Dohnanyi is currently at work on a Spanish version of a novelized account of the life of Orff by the same publisher. She is well known in Argentina as a result of articles written in Buenos Aires Hustonium and Musical Argentino. She has also written extensively for the Cuban magazine Elias. Her published works include the life of France Casellnon, her own illustrious ancestor, and biographies of Rossini, Bellini, Donizetti, Schuman, and Haydn

Tait on Committee

William J. Tait, director of recreational curriculum in the men's Physical Education Department of the School of Education at Florida State University, has been appointed to the committee for the Southern Educational Board.

The committee has been asked to work on a study of the recreation leadership needs in 14 Southern states and make recommendations to the board on leadership training programs. The committee expects to have its findings ready about the first of the year according to Tait.

Beat the Heat

(Continued from Page 1)

'I don't believe you understand my question, Harold.'

OWEN BOONE, "I look myself in a closet and eat chocolate!, ! ? ? ? ! !

ROY STATON, JR., "Limit operations to night work". «May I see just what operations you are talking about?"

FRED HEROLD, "Just ignore it". «What about life? Do you ignore that too?»

DUNCAN CAIRE WHEAT, "Play it cool.', «But Helen Caire, don't you know that there are just some things you can't play cool!!!!!?)

JOHNNY BUTLER, "Suck up the SUDS! And play it cool with Helen Claire". «Gotta get those dime stores, right Johnny?»

MARYELLEN SPEED 'SPEEDY', "First thing is take a shower, three of them a day, then drink all cold water you can. I just sit in the "A" house and smile that I cause I just have to smore it'. «After you do all the things mentioned above I don't know how you have time for anything else.»

SAM FAULKNER, "It is my considered opinon that even though everyone talks about the heat no one can do anything about it'. «Step down now, Sam.»

Edwin Walker Resigns To Take Rollins Post

The resignation of Dr. Edwin R. Walker, former Dean of the Florida State University College of Arts and Sciences, was announced June 29 by FSU President Doak S. Campbell. Dr. Walker has accepted a position as dean of Rollins College in Winter Park.

Assuming his duties at FSU in 1946, Dr. Walker came from the Oklahoma A & M. College in Stillwater, where he was general education chairman.

DURING Dr. Walker's administration of the FSU College of Arts and Sciences the university and the college have experienced their greatest period of growth with both the student enrollment and faculty members showing approximately 100 percent increases.

Numerous new departments were established during the period of Dr. Walker's deanship and all departments under his administration greatly expanded.

SOME of the new departments established at FSU during his administration, include geology, meteorology, archaeology and anthropology and the Oceanographic Institute with laboratory facilities at Alligator Harbor, Maxyort and the Tampa Bay area.

Expansion of doctoral studies during Dr Walker's administration has come in the fields of of botany, zoology, philosophy, speech, English, modern languages and psychology.

HE HAD an important part in the development of the FSU chemical research program which has grown to grants totaling $300,000 annually from such agencies as U. S. Public Health, the Sloan-Kettering Foundation, Office of Naval Research, Parke-Davis Company and others.

The FSU Air ROTC and Army Ordnance Units have been established in the College of Arts and Sciences under Dr. Walker along with education programs at the Air Force Bases located at Eglin and Tyndall Fields in Florida and the Turner and Moody Air Bases in Georgia.

FROM JANUARY, 1951, to July of this year Dr. Walker was given a leave of absence from FSU to serve as a consultant to Millard Caldwell, Federal Civil Defense Administrator in Washington.

KD Names Tyron Regional President

Mrs Florence R. Tryon, assistant professor of education in the FSU School of Education, has been appointed Beta Province President of the Kappa Delta sorority.

The Province of the national social sorority includes chapters in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida.

Miss Tryon has contributed to the Yearbook of the National Council for Social Studies and has revised Secretary of State R A. Gray's test on Government of Florida. She is a member of the Committe on College Work of the Sewanee Province of the Episcopal Church and also Phi Kappa Phi, Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Alpha Theta honoraries.

Peters Is Elected Music Camp Head

Frank Peters, Jr., of Palmetto has been elected president of the Florida State University Music Camp students at the recent election of student officers.

Results of the selection were announced by Dr. K. O. Kreitner, director of the Music Camp.

Nancy Ware, of Miami, was elected secretary of the Music Camp students, and Mary Frances Horn, of Tallahassee, represented five for day students in the Music Camp. The student officers will aiit with the faculty steering committee in making plans for camp activities.

The FSU Music Camp is now in its third week, with an all-time record enrollment of 163 students in band, chorus and orchestra activities. The camp will conclude on July 18 with a final student concert featuring the three camp playing groups.

Paul Turner

JEWELER - WATCHMAKER

KEEPSAKE DIAMONDS

102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

Holland's Restaurant

Complete Soda Fountain & Restaurant Service

Facing the Capitol at 106 East Pamacla St. Tallahassee, Florida

Excellent Food at All Hours Air Conditioned

SPECIAL EVERY TUESDAY

FILET MIGNON

Only $1.00

at

Seven Seas

SERVED ALL DAY TUESDAY

AT COLORADO A&M

AT BATSON REXALL DRUG

CHESTERFIELD IS OUR LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE by 2 to 1

John Bates OWNER

SATURDAY SPECIAL

- Nylon Pants $1.00
- Pure Silk Pants $1.00
- 2-piece & 1-piece Swim Suits $5.00
- Cotton Gowns $4.00

50% Off

RACK OF DRESSES

SIZES—9 TO 15
10 TO 20
20 TO 44
12½ TO 24½

ALL AT HALF PRICE

Bertha Cooke

Fascism in US Forgotten
In Red Investigations
See Lead Editorial

Summer Flambeau

SEMINOLES

McCarthy's Past Aired
Played Up War Record
See 'Let's Face It'

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 61 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, July 18, 1952

Music Camp Closes With Grand Finale

Orchestra, Band, Chorus Combine Talents for Big Concert Tonight

All three Music Camp organizations will appear tonight in the concert in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 which will mark the end of the 1952 Camp. This concert is virtually a graduation ceremony for the Musicampers, who will be presenting their tenth public performance in five weeks.

In addition to the numbers by orchestra, chorus and band, the various students in the camp will present a demonstration of baton twirling. Another feature of the program will be the recognition of outstanding campers and the presentation of the Camp Citizenship Awards.

CITIZENSHIP Awards are presented each year on the basis of Camp behavior. The only qualification is a certain minimum number of votes.

The Camp orchestra under the baton of Robert N. Sedore, will present: Prelude and Fugue in D Minor, by Handel; "March in Toccatora, by George McKay, and the second movement of Tchaikowsky's Symphonie Pathetique.

THE CHORUS will join the orchestra for a presentation of the Russian anthem, Glory, and then will offer selections of its own. "The Music Makers," by Adolphus Hailing; "The Old Aurum Bloom," "Choral Processional," by Hugo Kaun; Herman Gunter Jr. will direct.

The class in baton twirling, which by Miss Majorie Fiske, will give a twirling demonstration from Dan K. Cox's Kiowa Girls' camp.

To conclude the outstanding campers and scholarship winners, and will present the citizenship awards.

THE MUSIC CAMP band, directed by Oliver Hobbs and Robert Braunagel, will play "Strauss "Waltzes from Der Rosenkavalier," Wagner's "Tannhauser Overture," Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" Weinberger's "Czech Rhapsody," and Grieg's "Morning Mood," and Lee's "Joyous Interlude."

Exchange Gets Greater Space To Hold Books

... now under way in the ... of the Lonsdale ... will greatly expand the facilities of the Alpha Xi Sigma Book Exchange.

The present storage space will be limited to a closet in the ... in which the present work ... will occupy a portion of the room.

The exchange was started ... class project in the ... 1930 and continued by the ... organization in 1941. The ... makes it possible for students ... texts and obtain used ... at nominally reduced rates ... owning to sell books set ... prices. For every ... for a dollar or more ... and seller contribute 10 ... otherwise the fee is ...

... are given receipts or ... which each buyer ... and. If their books ... receive their money. ... books are returned ... ained after a year ... to the service book ...

Dem. School Ends Its Summer Term At End of Month

... administration School at ... University will end ... summer session Fri... with a peak enrollment of 249 children from the ... ter-eighth grades.

Dr. Elanor Boyce, school principal, announced that the ... been planned for the ... Summer term in the ... the daily program of ... development including ... music, reading and ... proven so popular with ... and summer school, be ... through the close of ... have received much ... this year without ... Dem. program in which we ... to accommodate many ... parents who are ... the university. Summer ... has been a large ... number of children have learned ... during our six weeks pro... and others have developed ... in reading, music and ...

The summer date of the Dem... Summer School for the Fall ... will be Sept. 3, the same date ... the other grade schools in Leon ...

Draft Rules Apply To Men Overseas

... General Lewis B. Her... director of Selective Service ... ruled that students now ... men in a foreign country must ... abroad under the same ruling ... the drafting of students ... United States.

... letter to local boards, all ... the nation, the draft head ... University student in a ... country may be deferred ... summitted is sufficient ... convince the local board ... satisfactory than his ... in study is "necessary to ... national health, safety or interest ... United States.

... find this special allowance ... sive and that such stu... are in the same status as ... studying in the continental ... States. Officials at the na... headquarters stressed that ... directive does not constitute ... blanket deferment of students ... be charged by some ...

... students abroad are under ... obligations to keep their ... boards informed of their ... whereabouts," the official ...

Ruge Director Back To Resume Duties

The Rev. Walter K. Morley, Episcopal chaplain, and his family have returned from a vacation and are now in residence at Ruge hall.

This Sunday at 9:30 a.m. there will be a Corporate Communion for all Episcopal students at Florida State University. Chaplain Morley will celebrate the service and preach in the Ruge hall chapel.

Following the service students and faculty are invited to remain for an informal breakfast to give the chaplain and his wife an opportunity to meet both the new and old students.

The Episcopal Student Center also is now open every day from 8 a.m. to 10:45 p.m. and until midnight on Fridays and Saturdays.

Choral Union To Sing Mozart's 'Requiem'

The last great musical work from the pen of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the immortal "Requiem," will be sung by the Florida State University Choral Union next Sunday afternoon.

The performance will begin in Opperman Music hall at 4:00 p.m. and will be open to public without charge.

THE "REQUIEM" which is the setting of the Catholic Mass for the Dead, has been set to music by nearly every great classic composer, but the music which Mozart wrote to the foreboding words of man's death and dissolution comprises one of the greatest of all art-works.

Mozart wrote the music during the last few weeks of his life. The Requiem was left unfinished at his death and completed by his pupil Sussmayer.

HERMAN GUNTER, Jr., will direct the Choral Union for the performance. Soloists will be Joan Dave James, soprano; Hilda Hamilton, contralto; Claude Rhea, tenor; and Harrison Fiske, baritone. Robert Leslie will be accompanist for the performance.

The performance of the "Requiem will be the only public program to be offered by the Choral Union this summer.

Rains Force Duo Inside for Songs

The Knowles Duo, Paul and Adriana, were forced inside by heavy rains Tuesday night but went on to give their program in the auditorium before a fair-sized crowd.

The pair themselves were caught in the downpour, and perhaps the experience unnerved them, for at times they seemed nervous and somewhat unprepared.

On the whole, however, the two were charming and seemed to please the audience. They opened the program with Purcell's Prince Arthur," by Mozart and "Turn Thine Face," by Harrell.

Then each sang a number of solos. Mr. Knowles' "Sing a Song of Sixpence" was particularly effective.

The main number of the evening was the ten scene from Bizet's Carmen, in which Mr. Knowles donned the military costume of Don Jose.

The couple concluded their program with selections from musical comedies and operettas.

Summer Students Name Choices for Nominee

Thomas Watson:
He's going to be hard to beat. The Democrats need to nominate a good man like Kefauver, a man who will get the Democrats out to the polls.

Sam McCracken:
I'm for Russell. I guess I just like Georgia people.

James H. Revell:
I doubt if there is a Democrat that can beat Ike.

Betty Lou Dilmore:
I believe that Kefauvea would get more votes in November than any other Democratic candidate could. At the same time, I don't think Kefauver is strong enough to win over a national hero like Eisenhower.

W. Averell Harriman — Estes Kefauver

A FEW sample responses follow

Johnny Kahn:
I think Senator Russel for vice-President Barkley stand a good chance of being nominated. My choice is Barkley, inasmuch as I once went to school in Lexington, Ky.

Artie Wells:
Barkley, although he is on his last legs.

Fred M. Hornsak:
It is difficult to select the most popular candidate. The majority of former Democrats will vote Democrat, come what may.

B. G. Campbell:
Who cares, now!

Jim James:
They ought to nominate Truman so I can vote against him.

Ernest Jones:
Sam Rayburn ought to be pretty good.

Phil Springer:
There is no question as to which candidate is the most outstanding citizen because of the true liberalism within the Democratic party. It is painfully obvious that this man is Averell Harriman.

William Dingwall:
I think Kefauver is the man who can clean up the corruption we have in government. I don't think he could beat Eisenhower, though.

Robert E. Russell — Adlai E. Stevenson

Bruce M. Galphin:
If Adlai Stevenson runs, his outstanding record and liberal outlook will make him the strongest candidate. Estes Kefauver, however, also has a good record and is popular with the public. He would have a good chance to beat Ike. Averell Harriman would be an excellent choice for vice-presidency.

John F. Vickers:
I believe Stevenson is the best of their potential candidates. It really doesn't matter who they nominate, though. The American people want Eisenhower.

Drama Starts Next Tuesday For Two Runs

'The Late Christopher Bean,' a play by the late Sidney Howard, begins a two-night run in Augusta Conradi Theater next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m.

The production is the only full-length presentation to be given by the drama department of the Florida State university department of speech this summer. General admission will be 75 cents with the student rate 40 cents.

CAST IN the lead as Dr. Haggett is Boyt Bowen, a graduate student who demonstrated his ability in last spring's Biography. Nancy Baxter will be Susan Haggett, Rose Fryer, Abby.

Nancy Dickinson will play Mrs. Haggett and Ruth Ward, Ada Haggett.

CONSTANT WILL be portrayed by Charles Bodjahn. Riven by George Langfrass and Maxwell Anderson Jr. by Bill Thomas.

Sidney Howard was born in Oakland, California, in 1891 and died in 1939. He in the World War I as a captain in the American Air Squad. Among his more famous plays are They Knew What They Wanted, Silver Cord, Yellow Jack and The Late Christopher Bean.

THE PLAY, adapted from the French is based upon an anecdote about a neglected painter. He had died without leaving much behind him but a collection of canvasses, forgotten by the family which had contemptously befriended him. The play is concerned with the events which take place when a horde of critics and dealers descend upon the bewildered custodians of these forgotten masterpieces.

In the stage crew are William Peterson, scenitrician, Orvis Day, stage manager, Ruth Ward, assistant stage manager, and Leah Lanier, head of properties.

JIM SLACK and Robert Brown are in charge of lighting. Jane Shi, chief of costumes and make-up and Margaret Harton of painting.

Bert Hollander is head of publicity and Leah Lanier and Leah is serving as house manager.

Men Discover Star 50 Million Times Denser Than H2O

Those books you carry all day may seem to get pretty heavy for their size, but you'll get very little sympathy from astronomers when them it's all a matter of relativity.

You see, the scientists have just discovered a star whose heaviness is almost beyond imagination.

Dr. W. J. Luyten, University of Minnesota, and Dr. E. L. Carpenter, University of Arizona, announced before a recent meeting of the American Astronomical Society and the Astronomical Society of the Pacific that no cranie on earth would be able to lift one cubic inch of the star.

A cube one inch on each side would weigh about 11,000 tons, and this would be about 50 million times as dense as water.

The white dwarf star is not visible to the naked eye, but it is just next door, astronomically speaking. Some 25 to 30 light years away.

Air Base Calls For Personnel In Management

Job opportunities for young college graduates have been announced by Robins Air Force Base in Georgia.

Graduates are required to have at least 24 semester hours in accounting statistics, business administration, commerce or economics.

Karl McPherson, chief of Civilian Personnel Branch said that the need for Supply Requirements and Distribution clerks is so great that four years of experience may be substituted for the previously required three years of experience.

The jobs beginning salary is $3410. Employees are then eligible for a raise to $4205 after six months.

Upon passing a written application and completing a course in GS-5 ratings and then undergoing an intensive six-month training course including classroom on-the-job training and instruction in various fields of management. After completing this training the employee is eligible for promotion to GS-7 level.

Interested persons are advised to complete standard form 57 which may be obtained in the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 213 Westcott, and forward it to Robins Air Force Base Georgia.

'Chris Bean' Is Only Full Play For Summer

Those books you carry all day may seem to get pretty heavy for their size, but you'll get very little sympathy from astronomers when them it's all a matter of relativity.

You see, the scientists have just discovered a star whose heaviness is almost beyond imagination.

Dr. W. J. Luyten, University of Minnesota, and Dr. E. L. Carpenter, University of Arizona, announced before a recent meeting of the American Astronomical Society and the Astronomical Society of the Pacific that no cranie on earth would be able to lift one cubic inch of the star.

A cube one inch on each side would weigh about 11,000 tons, and this would be about 50 million times as dense as water.

The white dwarf star is not visible to the naked eye, but it is just next door, astronomically speaking. Some 25 to 30 light years away.

Post Office Runs On Longer Hours; No Noon Closing

The Florida State University Post Office now on its new location in the Student Center building. Open daily Monday through Friday from 8:20 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Gordon Wheeler, postmaster announced. The bookstore hours on Saturdays are from 8:20 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Installation of equipment for food service in the new cafeteria to be operated by Florida State Center buildings is progressing and is expected to be in operation before the beginning of Miss Anna M. Tracy.

Both the new Bookstore and cafeteria will be air-conditioned. The air conditioning equipment and the new cafeteria equipment are expected to be delivered and put in operation by K. Shaw, FSU Supply manager.

Short Hours Set

A spec... Florence ... Belong... Hall ... Room, ... of the ... a temporary ... the Main ... Hours ... noon. ... p.m. ... Saturday ... and Sunday.

Students Send Gymnasts Note As They Picnic

Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder, Florida State University students and members of the nine-man United States Olympic gymnastics team in Helsinki, Finland, will receive a surprise message this week.

Greetings from those attending the all-FSU picnic at Camp Flastacowo last Wednesday were sent to the pair via air mail.

MISS CHRISTINE Palmer, summer recreation supervisor, said the message is serving as encouragement to the two FSU collegiate champions in gymnastics was signed by large numbers of persons attending the annual all-university outing.

"We want them to know we are thinking about them and want to give them encouragement to bring more of the glory and fame they already have to their country, themselves and the university under the able coaching of Ray Hartley" she said.

DR. LOUIS Shores, dean of the School of Library Training, who returned in June after a year spent in the United Kingdom under a U. S. State Department grant for doing research in library facilities, told of his experiences in England and other European nations he visited.

Other activities at the affair included community singing, an address, basketball, softball, volley-ball, softball and other outdoor events.

Millis Views Problems Of College Athletics

Ever since a wave of scandals involving college football and basketball began sweeping the country about 5 years ago, the eyes of the educational world have been turned upon that peculiar outgrowth of the modern educational system, the big business of college athletics.

There have been numerous articles written on the subject, conferences called to discuss its misdeeds in general, much talk.

This week the Flambeau reprints an article from the Phi Beta Kappa Key Reporter entitled, "The College Show Window," which takes a fair, unbiased look at the problem. Analysis and justification for athletics on the college scene may be.

John S. Millis, the author, is president of the University of Vermont and a Rhodes Scholar. He is a member of the Americo Council on Education.

JOHN S. MILLIS

So much has been said and written in the past year on the subject of college that many people feel that the matter has received attention that is out of proportion to its importance. After all, they argue, athletics are an extra-curricular activity of our colleges and universities and hence are certainly not of central value. There are so many more basic problems within education that it is unfortunate that we should not spend too much time in worrying about the athletic program.

Such a point of view is logical, but it also defines a large aspect of the problem itself. To most professional educators, college athletics are extremely important, but to some members of the college community—Students, alumni, trustees and, regrettably, some faculty and administrative officers—athletics are of small importance, a peripheral activity. To most members of the general public athletics appear to be of central importance.

WE, AS EDUCATORS, despite some facts to the contrary, accept them. The one contact with higher education which the majority of people have is through athletic contests. The only time practically millions of people on a college campus is to witness a football game. The only time millions of people are inside a college building is to watch a basketball game. College activities are described much more frequently on the sports pages of our newspapers than on the editorial page.

Continued on Page 4

VA Names Friday Deadline for GI's To Get Full Time

July 25, 1952, will mark a "deadline" for disabled World War II veterans in need of vocational training under Public Law 16 for occupations requiring a full four years of study, Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr. announced.

AFTER JULY 25, no more four-year courses of Public Law 16 training may be started, Gray said. Disabled veterans, however, still will be entitled to train for occupations requiring shorter periods of time.

VA explained that Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, provides up to four years of training for disabled veterans who need it to overcome their handicaps. But the law specifies that no training may be given after July 25, 1956, a date that's only four years away. After July 25 of this year, disabled World War II veterans will be limited to start only those courses that can be completed by the 1956 wind-up of the training program.

A VETERAN who would need three years of training, for example, when the program had but two years to run, could not take it because the length of training may not exceed the remaining life of the program.

The deadlines apply only to World War II veterans with service-connected disabilities in need of training to overcome their disabilities.

FOR VETERANS disabled after the fighting began in Korea, in June 1950, no deadlines have yet been set for Public Law 894 training. Vocational training for them may extend until nine years after the end of the current emergency —a date yet to be determined either by the President or by Congress.

Gives Book Review

Miss Mary Jo Kennedy of the Florida State University library staff gave a book review on "You Make Bee Believe" yesterday in the parlor of Gilchrist hall at 4 p.m.

School to Hold Meet to Study Resource Use

One of the most important conferences at Florida State university during the summer session is the Resource Use Work Conference, scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday.

Sponsored by the FSU School of Education, the conference on Education and the Future of Florida will attract some 400 persons including 100 educational leaders, business men, agricultural leaders and state government officials.

THE PRINCIPAL purpose of the conference is to achieve a greater understanding of the opportunities and problems of Florida and the South in developing state and regional resources.

Other purposes are to achieve a better understanding of the role education can play in developing the resources and identifying problems and opportunities peculiar to Florida schools in developing Florida's resources.

AT THE OPENING general session Monday morning in the Florida Union Ballroom Hall of Prima Keen, Tallahassee attorney and chairman of the Governor's Educational Council of Florida. Rev. Joe Tolle, district superintendent of the Methodist church will offer the invocation. A welcome on behalf of the university will be given by Dr. R. B. Harrison, FSU vice-president, with a response by Thomas D. Bailey, state superintendent of education. Greetings to the group will be offered by Dewey County, LeRoy Collins and Reps. Davis Atkinson and Kenneth Ballinger.

Dr. William McGlothlin Atlanta, Consultant for Professional Programs of the Southern Regional Education Board, will make

Continued on Page 4

Doc, Lost, Found in Lost-And-Found

Anything is likely to turn up in the Longmire building's lost and found department, even a pet dog.

Take "Doc," the year-old registered collie of Wally Kennedy, graduate student in psychology and circulation department route manager of the Tallahassee Democrat.

HE GAVE his owner several hours Monday when he cheated the line used to tie him to a tree around the Florida State University campus and set out upon an adventurous spree.

Doc, being born and intelligent dog, maybe Doc figured that with his only friend and all of his owner on the identification tag around his neck, plus his owner's address and telephone there was little danger of his getting lost.

SO WHILE Wally was attending summer classes, Doc made the most of his new-found liberty.

The collie was strolling peacefully near the FSU Longmire building when Miss Billa DeKruiff assistant to Miss Zane Admis-

SHE INVESTIGATED, decided

(Continued on Page 2)

DOG UNRUFFLED—While his long-searching master, Wally Kennedy, Miss Jane Adams, supervisor of the Longmire building, and Miss Billa DeKruiff, Miss Adams' assistant, look on, "Doc" seems quite unperturbed.

Fascism Almost Overlooked In Current Red Witch Hunts

Like bad pennies, Bill Hendrix and Hendrixian ideas are always popping up.

In the latest episode of "Bill Hendrix, Boy Hate-Monger," we find Wee Willie, complete with the stars and bars emblazoned on his tie, at the head of great and noble army of racists, ready to refight the Civil War.

The Florida Ku Klux Klan Grand Dragon announced the formation of "The American Confederate Army" which is ready to bear arms to "uphold our constitutional rights" and indicated a Supreme Court decision to kill segregation would be considered a violation of rights.

According to Hendrix, representatives of 97 organizations from 31 states met in Orlando last week "to organize all anti-Communist organizations under one leadership and one program. . . . Ten thousand colonel's commissions were ordered printed. The membership shall be limited to white Christians and all organizations now operating will be issued a charter."

It is not the purpose of this editorial to rehash the oft-repeated cliches about segregation. Admittedly, race relations present a real problem in the South, if only because the tradition-bound Southerners have talked themselves into the situation, but that issue will not even be discussed.

The point being made here is that a glaring difference exists between our handling of the menace from the left and the menace from the right.

These are days when multi-eyed Joe McCarthy's see Communists under every bed and in every flower garden. A man need only support an ideal that Communists have praised, need only criticize existing conditions in the country, need only be rumored to have left-wing leanings to have his reputation and life ruined.

No proof need be offered. An innuendo is enough to bring forth a veritable avalanche of castigation from the press—to isolate the offender from his society. Communist-calling has become such a routine, politically enriching practices of the day.

Yet on all sides every day we hear the venom of extreme right-wingers, screaming cries of hate and bigotry, threatening forcible conformity to narrow ideals loosely labeled Americanism.

Hendrix is an example. He openly flaunts the laws of the land. He speaks of burning and lynching by force, yet in general goes merrily on his way.

Of course he did receive a slap on the hand last February, when he was fined $700 and "reprimanded" for mailing a series of extremely vulgar, defamatory letters and post cards via the U. S. Post Office.

Even Willie may run really afoul of the law this time, if he becomes too blatant, but that will not negate the fact that bis ilk continue to get away with their foul tactics. There are surely many times the number of left-wing extremists as right-ists.

We are not in the least tolerant or understanding with Communism, which seems to result from too little knowledge, but we openly allow fascist demagoguery, the result of ignorance.

Lait, Mortimore-Confidential

The Flambeau has the temerity this week to congratulate the New York Post on its series of articles debunking the work of the "confidential boys," Messers Lait and Mortimer.

Jack Lait and Lee Mortimer, two New York gossip columnists have grown fat and prosperous over the last few years on their tremendously successful New York-Confidential, quickly followed by Chicago Confidential. This year has spawned What they know boys have written Washington Confidential and finally the most ambitious and all-encompassing, USA-Confidential.

The Post series revealed what these fellow newspapermen all over the Nation have been saying; that the seemingly altruistic Lait and Mortimer are dedicated to the worship of the green God Mammon rather than the spirit of honesty and investigation, which they point up as the moving principle of the series.

The Post cites case after case revealing the method in which the two "fearless reporters" collected the "facts" on which their best-selling books are based.

Countless reporters tell in the Post expose' how Lait or Mortimer would visit their towns seeking information. On the theory that reporters know all the corruption of a city, local newsmen were contacted by one of the duo. They usually expected to be shown all the vice of a city in "a few hours." One wonders whether the duo is victim of perhaps too many filmland newspaper tales.

WHAT PRICE FREEDOM? PART 2

Editor's Note. The article "What Price Freedom," by Robert M. Hutchins, began in last week's Flambeau, is here concluded.

By ROBERT M. HUTCHINS

The way to fight ideas is to show that you have better ideas. No idea is safe unless it is good in a crisis. You demonstrate the failure of your ideas if when the crisis comes, you abandon them or lose the confidence or get confused about them to the point of forgetting what they are. The American idea is freedom. Freedom necessarily implies that the status quo may come under the criticism of those who think it can be improved. The American idea is that the state exists for its citizens and that change in society must occur to meet their developing needs. The whole theory of our form of government is a theory of peaceful change. Many of the charges that Marx and Engels directed at the Communist Manifesto have taken place in this country, and they have taken place without communism, without dictatorship, and without revolution. Since disproving, incidentally, one of the principal charges of Marx and Engels, that such things cannot be accomplished without communism, dictatorship, and revolution.

These reflections on the Communist Manifesto lead me to say that blocking some things or some man communist because communism happens to favor it or agree with him, that easy process by which one disposes of different but similar things in dirty name to them involves the question of what thought of any kind. If it had been applied consistently in American history it would have destroyed all our ideas and some men that we are proud to think characteristically American. For example, the Communist Manifesto declares that the workers of the world have nothing to lose but their chains. Whenever we are therefore to recant, and to denounce the whole doctrine of free education for all?

And what would the F.B.I. say of Thomas Jefferson, who calmly remarked in his First Inaugural, "If there be any among us who wish to dissolve this union, or change its republican form, let these stand unmolested, as monuments of the safety with which error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it?" Jefferson was not in favor of revolution; he was serene in the face of talk of it because he had confidence in people, in our institutions, in democracy, and in the value, power, and results of independent thought.

We are now in the midst of a cold war. We must protect ourselves against external enemies, their representatives in this country, and any citizens who may be conspiring to overthrow or betray the government. But the statute books are already filled with laws directed to these ends. It has never been shown that there are so many spies or traitors in this country, or that the external danger is so great, that we have to divert the entire attention of our people into one line of thought, one preoccupation, into one great counter-revolution, in which the loyalties of our citizens must be thrown overboard as too burdensome for the flounderings ahlp of state to carry.

It is useful to remember that Jefferson spoke in 1801, when our Government was twelve years old, and when the infant republic had a far more dangerous and deep divisions within and from the wars that were raging between the great powers. If he was right in speaking in such a way at such a time, we cannot be far wrong if now, when America is the most powerful nation on earth, we seek to preserve some of his sanity and courage.

How is the educated man to show the fruits of his education in times like these? He must first of all be convinced that he can and will think for himself. He must keep his head, and use it. He must never push either people around, nor acquiesce when they push him around. He must be able to retain the perspective and the sense of proportion that his studies have given him and decline to be carried away by waves of hysteria. He must be prepared to pay the penalty of unpopularity. He must hold fast to his faith in freedom. He must insist that freedom is the chief principle of his country and refuse to repress it is in effect to repress the human spirit.

MEN A LONG WAY FROM UNDERSTANDING

An El Greco sky

Thursday night bridge session, or at least a member af the same lodge.

By STAN SCHMIDT

Some say that from this segment of the population comes the cruelty, the inhumanity, and the intolerance. This type manages to keep their collective noses to the sand; their feet not in a rut, but a trench of smug positivism in an age when many change at the drop —principals by the hour.

A dark, ominous foreboding sky emblazoned with writing anyone can understand. Gunmetal and even white clouds.

On the other end on the spinning barrel stands the pedantic intellect, the esthete who gets a naughty thrill out of denying everything. This antiomatic dissenter would call the sky green if it got him the attention he seeks.

Man and his claims of understanding are ludicrous. Man and his championship of fool-pot-shots toward the unknown, man seated on sparkplugs at 40 thousand, even man shaking upon the fist at his rump on a rocket is no closer to understanding than was his club-carrying ancestors.

He finds a brilliant ally in Kuyper who exhorts all to:

"Take the cash and let the credit go.
Nor heed the rumble of the distant drum."

Every town boasts those who are sure they have found the glory road It's manifest in that whitewashed building where fathers hustle their children to each Sunday. Those being carried in the sedan chairs down the same golden highway are the steadies who build a life around that shaky frame motif.

This attempt does more posturing than actual thinking. Perhaps their only virtue is an non-conformism.

The chief complaint about this division of the population is under-nourishment and-assurance, Many of the aforementioned talk of "Truman and the Deity that you might suppose He (or It) was a fourth far bridge at the Shiloh's regular

The intelligent man's thoughts on the subject come under the weight of the qualifications with which he loads every sentence He argues with justice that the ignorant man can speak without qualification on any subject because he is not hampered by knowledge. (This column is proof of that.)

The intelligent accomplish one thing, though. They look beyond the emotional prejudices of both of the former. They recognize that the Creator is not necessarily limited to the image of man. They reason that the power admittedly superior to man does not fit man's patriarchal concept of his Lord and Master. That, indeed, his actions may be inexplainable in the light of man's limited frame of reference. That he is soon to philosophers caught on the horns of the question, "Why does the all powerful allow evil?"

Let's face it.

Man's feet are still firmly planted in the mud. For all our brains he simply don't know. That's the realization which must bring man to humility, not any of the million reasons given for "Christian meekness."

Maybe that's the reason for the inscrutability of the sky. To be mind-over-matter? Man as he accepts and returns the plaudits of the crowd, how insignificant is his lot.

OFF THE CUFF . . .

WILL DIXIE GO TO CONSERVATIVE IKE?

The mutant Disinterd. And no many silver linings like seems like a man who tries to turn back the clock, or at least leave it where it is.

Furthermore:

The most ardent Democrat. And no man silver lining like seems like a man who tries to turn back the clock, or at least leave it where it is.

Furthermore:

If the general should win, he is very likely to carry with him Republican Congress, in which such people as Taft, Mundt, Jenner, McCarthy and several other reactionaries would inherit committee leadership. Eisenhower would find it impossible to get liberal legislative measures, even if he wanted to.

The Democrats have a chance that the Democrats nominate a man who is an able battler for liberal principles, who inherits the social progress To do so may cost them the Solid South, but to do otherwise may cost them the core of strength and identity which has been the source of much of the Roosevelian influence.

The coming election indeed men break from the two party system in the South, for if Dixie-crat-ism is to be a viable force, it must have a platform.

Eisenhower's statements, then will see that he represents little point of view far better than the Democratic nominee is likely to do.

Thus the 1952 campaign is waged on its most logical grounds, it may well mark the beginning of a realignment of political elements of parties along a liberal versus conservative basis.

LET'S FACE IT

NOW McCARTHY GETS INVESTIGATED!

BY GENE LAWLER

"Joe was quite popular with all the officers. There was in a little consensational, but he also had found a way around the regulation banning liquor aboard. He had three trunks marked 'Coffee' shipped to him every 239' and all those supplies were liquid.

"Joe was also a fabulous poker-player, though the game he was in was too rough for me. I sat in a game and suddenly, for no reason at all, bet $101.15 or $97.90. Not only would I not know, but other players off balance, but they'd have the problem of counting out the money. Most times they'd let him have the pot just to get on as fast as possible.

Thus goes the testimony of a wartime ship-mate of Joe McCarthy's, Lt. (jg) Lenore Fleming of this Milwaukee Journal, Fleming has the interesting not to McCarthy's method of playing poker although we are unable to find his method of naming the number of Communists in the State Department is quite similar, but because it reveals for the first time the story of Mr. McCarthy's "war injury."

Senator Joe McCarthy, who faces reelection in Wisconsin this fall and who is fast finding that his path to election up with Ike has several times stated that he was severely injured in a plane crash in the Pacific during the war that he carried ten pounds of shrapnel in his leg.

The story, according to his wartime buddy is somewhat different. It started, as it might under Chandler Chevalier, convenient to be upon request, a man to build passage to the Solomon Islands in 1943, with Lieutenant Joe McCarthy as the observer-gunner of Marine Scout Bombing Squadron 235 on board.

On June 22, when the ship crossed the equator, the skipper gave permission for some mild shellback ceremonies. "Joe was a almost thrown with his initiation when he was injured," relates McCarthy's ship-mate. "He was climbing up the mast when a pail attached to one foot. His other foot caught on the bottom rung, and he fell backward breaking his foot, I didn't see them take him away, but he was met by the Sickbay later and saw them put the cast on his foot. That is the general story correctly belones in it."

Lt. McCarthy said, "Don't let it out that I was hurt in this silly way."

And that is the story of Senator McCarthy's heroic wartime injury. It is significant because of the publicity being produced Joe has tried to make out of it. Here's a report on that.

For instance, in 1946, while campaigning for the Senate, he spoke before a group at the University of Wisconsin, Somebody asked him why he limped. He pulled up shoes. "Because I've got ten pounds of shrapnel in my leg," he declared. Later, he told Gen. McCarthy, "That was just pure bullcrap, of course. I was just one of Joe's quick, flip answers."

When asked about the Wisconsin junket, McCarthy denied it. "Why there wasn't a scratch on it. 300 miles when it happened," he said. "The plane didn't even get burned while returning from a bombing run. Not a gunner. I don't think we were hit by ground fire, but the pilot thought so."

But Lt. McCarthy's wartime buddy manored to fabricate a similar story in a television program in New York recently. A reporter for from the New York Herald Tribune asked him about the injury. An excerpt from the program follows:

McCarthy: Oh, yes I had a leg badly smashed up, burned, and I'm glad I got it. Now I can retire from Nunuiz based on that Do I have a limp in my leg? Now I wasn't shot. It was an airplane accident."

Chairman Moderator: Your file doesn't show a Purple Heart.

McCarthy: Now I just a second my good friend. The files show— my files show I go a citation from Admiral Nimitz in connection with a badly injured leg. Now I don't claim I'm a hero, you understand, I think there is nothing wonderful about being injured.

Moderator: Senator McCarthy referred to commended him for his service as a fine intelligence officer from Sept 1 to December 31 1943 when he carried out his duties on crutches because of an injured leg. Moderator: Thank you.

But McCarthy's misrepresentation of his wartime record at this time record concerns more than just his alleged "badly smashed leg." Fleming says there were "The Congressional Directory and Who's Who in America" in his footlocker as entering the Marines in 1942 as a "book private" and a "private" reporting for duty and being discharged as a Captain in 1948. Both of these books were written by the subject himself. Upon inquiry with Secretary of the Navy Kimball and Marine Corps the only ranks McCarthy ever held were Private, Private First Class, and First Lieutenant and Captain.

Another disclosure has revealed that McCarthy "was commended for combat missions" as a rear gunner, which were actually flown by others. Fleming says that on his way into the rear cockpits of Marine Scout Bomber squadron when they flew "milk runs."

These disclosures, piled on top of his other publicity about the Wisconsin Senator, tell considerable about his personal and political character.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled his conduct of the office of circuit judge "highly improper" and "an abuse of judicial power." In 1944 the Milwaukee Bar Assn. petitioned the State Supreme Court to disbar him, for not residing in the district which he was running for the Senate. Said the Bar Assn. "Such a flagrant falsification can be offered for the defendant's violation of the oath he took."

In 1943 the state of Wisconsin held that he had not disclosed a source of income. In 1944 he accepted a contribution of $10,000 from his father, his brother, and his mother-in-law. Yet it was later discovered that McCarthy's father did not have enough income to require the filing of an income tax return, and that neither of the other two had filed a return of more than $2,000.

What does McCarthy say of the criticisms of his war record and his conduct of the office of circuit court judge? His reply is typified by smear artists," he howls

What about the supposedly reputable newspapers like the Milwaukee Journal, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Christian Science Monitor, and the Washington Post, which have run uncomplimentary stories about McCarthy? "They have consistently followed the line of the Daily Worker," he says.

Did McCarthy ever smear anybody? "You gotta treat un-American scum rough."

Just how rough the Wisconsin Senator will treat their junior Senator this year is another question.

ABOUT FLASTACOWO Doc, Lost,

Dear Editor:

In Ita Campf Hukuzzza, P.S.U. has a selling point unmatched by many schools twice its size. Former students returning to the campus make a visit to Flastacowo a must on their calendars The recently completed boathouse and bathing beach brought ohs and ahs from such visitors. Have you seen them? Have you used them?

During the summer months School session already grows numbering more than 100 have enjoyed the camp's facilities, not to mention uncounted hundreds who have dropped in for lunch, beer, swimming, boating, picnicing, and just thinking in case."

Calling 3-2212 you will find the resident hostess ready with answers to your questions and Mrs. Mary V. Alexander, Camp Director, is in her office in the East gymnasium from 1:30-2:30 p. m. on Mon., Wed. and Fri. to issue permits for guests. Individual need only their "ID" card for admission. Camp is open every day except Monday from 1-7:00 p.m. Sat., 1-7:00, Sun., 9 a.m.-9 p.m.

Students, Faculty, Staff—Come on out! The water's fine.

(Signed) Ruth DeKalb,
Hostess, Camp Flastacowo.

(Continued from Page 1)

they'd like "should be" and took him to the office where Miss Adams operates the PSU campus switchboard and information department.

Having walked quite a bit and being somewhat tired after trying to locate his master, "Doc" stretched out near a cooling fan in the Lonesome office and soon went fast to sleep.

MEANWHILE the office's owner had returned to the place he usually left the dog. He found the kennel bit of the dachshund from a tree. He called and whistled for the dog, but got no response.

As the PSU "lost and found" office personnel were trying to reach him by phone to let him know they had his dog Kennedy was making a search of the campus. He arrived to work and went back to the campus several times searching for the dog.

WHEN HE returned to the Democrat office after supervising the regular summer session's final registration, Kennedy learned his dog had been found

He hurried to the PSU Longmire office where a suddenly awakened "Doc" opened one eye and looked up quizzically at his master as if to say, "Where you been all this time, fella, sure of something."

AS SHE turned the collie over to his owner, Miss deKruiff remarked, "We've had all sorts of assorted objects lost on the campus and returned to their owners, but a dog clothing, hats, wallets, fountain pens, pencils and umbrellas, but it is the first time we've ever had a collie and delivered him!"

Kennedy says his registered collie, son of "Rocky of Pine Crest" is a sort of mascot, family companion and first wedding anniversary gift he and his wife bought at Sutton's. Mrs. Kennedy took the dog, then a small puppy, to the PSU commencement exercises last June when Wally received his degree as Campbell Stadium.

"MY WIFE works in a downtown office," Wally says. "I have been leaving him in the shade, secured by a chain, while I attend class in the mornings. I just used to think that he would get over dreamed he would chew it in half."

At this "Doc" hung his head a bit shamefully and then tugged at his master as if to say, "Come on let's go home. I'd just as soon forget the whole thing."

Now, one?

Represents Florida

Royal Mattice, associate professor of economics, is in Blue Ridge, North Carolina today representing Florida State University at the Southern Industrial Relations Conference.

The general theme of the conference will be "Human Relations of Employee Relations," according to professor Mattice.

While in North Carolina, Mattice was a guest of the Florida Power corporation at the annual conference of the Southern Industrial Executives at the Battery Park hotel in Asheville N. C.

Clay Figures

BY STELLA CLAY

This week Stella Clay asks some questions which inevitably arise for those who live by himing ideals.

IDEALISM

Will it be enough as I grow old
That I have been beauty immense and breath-taking in its promise,
Yet never have tried to capture it,
for fear of perverting its essence—
In dread that these untrained hands would spoil its fragile loveliness?

Will it be enough that I alone have seen
The latent facets of this uncut gem
But have shrunk from bringing them to light
Because of the ever-present, terror thought for one false clevage brings?

Will I be content to know,
As the stone lies unrevealed,
Or worse, as others cleave it without an understanding of its inner lines,
That I had glimpsed
for one brief moment its intrinsic worth, then passed it by?

Or, as knowledge has no meaning unapplied,
Is this my highest reward
as I vigorously sought and firmly grasped?

Though some may gain from hidden hopes a kind of satisfaction,
A person my sort finds effort the crux,
if not the all. of living.

Summer Flambeau

EDITORIAL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—STAN SCHMIDT

Managing Editor ..... Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Conkling
Columnists ..... Dan Althoff
Gene Lawler
Flambeau Photographer ..... Mimi Patterson

BUSINESS

Business Manager ..... Lou Calderoni
Asst Business Manager ..... Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Published Every Friday during the Summer Session of Florida State University at Tallahassee, Florida, Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Tallahassee, Florida. Subscription price $1.00 per year. Represented for national advertising by The Florida Education Advertising Service, Inc., 50 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York

Florida Ranks As 2nd State In Gov't Funds

Florida came out of the session of Congress, which adjourned July 7, in good place among all the ates for defense activity.

Texas outranks Florida, ut only a small margin, in ense bill for national se-

The government plans to ake considerable use of the e facilities for training and ansit the armed forces, and will mean no little benefit to e economically.

The MAJOR defense program ally approved by a monetary ng of over $126,000,000 ollar figures, the $5,000,000 ap-ation for the flood control ct, the $10,230,000 for the Jim Creek dam at Chattahoochee, the $1,250,000 for the Jackson-Miami intracoastal water-ay. These funds were appropri-ed by the Army Engineers who put forward these projects.

The CONGRESS also authori-ed $9,000,000 Navy and Air Force expansion programs in Florida. Funds for 14 projects are included in a supplemental appro-riation bill, from which will be financed necessary construc-ion.

Navy projects are: Supply depot, Jacksonville $682,000; Key West air station expansion, $495,000; Naval Auxiliary Air Station Miami-Opa Locka, A.; Station Miami-Opa Locka, $96,000 naval observatory station, Orlando, $96,000

The AIR FORCE projects approved are: Homestead Air Base, $24,-000; Orlando Lakeland Airport, $13,-000; MacDill Field, Tampa, $9,000; Charlotte County Air-port, $1,721,000; Pinecastle Air Base, Orlando, $10,341,000; Tyn-dall Field, Panama City, $1,838,-000; Naval Station Keyes petroleum afor-age, Panama City, $72,000; Naval Beach Co. International air-port, $1,250,000; Patrick Air Base, $15,838,000; Eglin Field, Valparaiso, $5,242,000

Holland's Restaurant
Complete Soda Fountain
& Restaurant Service
Facing the Capitol
at 120 East Pensacola St
Tallahassee, Florida
Excellent Food at All Hours
Air Conditioned

Professor Lists Paradoxes Facing Teaching of Math

Speaking at a mathematics conference at Bowling Green State university recently, Dr. J. R. Overman, dean of the faculties and former chairman of the mathematics department, said a paradox had developed in teaching mathematics.

He described the paradox in this way:

"OUR ENTIRE way of life and our position in the world, are based upon scientific and technological development and these, in turn, are based upon mathematics. We cannot maintain our way of life, or even our safety as a nation, unless we progress and keep ahead, or at least abreast, of the rest of the world. This means more mathematics but, in spite of this, we are teaching less and less mathematics to fewer and fewer people."

The situation is desperate but not hopeless, Dr. Overman contended. For the remedy he urged the more than 200 conference participants to WORK FOR better teaching through better preparation in mathematics itself and a more comprehensive and up-to-date knowledge of modern psychology and the learning proces.

Restudy curriculum methods of instruction and standards. Work for an earlier start in the teaching of arithmetic to avoid being overcrowded in the intermediate and upper grades. Strive to make mathematics meaningful. Provide enough drill for retention and skill. Insist on reasonable mastery of the work of one grade before promoting a pupil to the next.

TURN BACK the tide of simplification and elimination in mathematics instruction and restore the content of arithmetic, algebra and geometry to a reasonable level.

Encourage all high school students who are capable of doing satisfactory work to take a minimum of a year of algebra and a year of plane geometry.

WORK FOR better teaching

If from the facts no laws emerge the facts themselves become an obstacle, not an aid, to scientific advance.—Sir Charles Singer.

Recreation Calendar

Friday, July 18—Movie. Music Appreciation, 4 p.m. The Trader Years, starring Joe E. Brown.

Saturday, July 19—Square dance, 8:30-12 p.m. Student Center. Fiddlin' Bill Hall, Director. Jerry Kelley's Orchestra.

Tuesday, July 22—Movie. Music Appreciation, 4 p.m. Mother Is a Freshman, starring Loretta Young, Van Johnson and Rudy Vallee.

The Lake Christopher Boat, July 22 at 8:15 p.m. in Augusta Conrad Theater.

Wednesday, July 23—Silver Lake Trip. Meet at Student Center. Trip will be swimming, picnic area. Leave Silver Lake at 5:30 p.m. Return to Silver Lake Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, June 24—Fourth in a series of Book Reviews sponsored by the A.A.U.W. at 4 p.m. Gilchrist Hall.

School to Hold

(Continued from Page 1)

the principal address at the morning session.

THIS WILL BE followed by a panel discussion on the subject of "Identification of Problems for Analysis and Discussion." Those appearing on the panel include D. E. Williams, State Department of Education, as chairman. Dr. M. O. Watkins, Hurley Coulter, Director of the State Forestry Service; Dr. Herman Frick, Colin Gunn, Dr. Coyle Moore, Dr. Millard Morris and Dr. L. L. Parks of the State Board of Health.

A summary of the panel discussion will be made by Dr. W. T. Edwards, FSU professor of education. Organization of the work groups will be conducted by Dr. Mode L. Stone acting dean of the FSU School of Education.

DR. JOHN PERMENTER, FSU School of Education associate professor and general chairman of the conference, has appointed a manager of the work of one grade: Director of Athletics for Men; Dr. Eugene Lawler, FSU professor of education, and Mrs. Dora Skipper, FSU associate professor of education.

The special committee chairmen include H. P. Hinton, recording; Dr. Virgil Strickland, publicity; Dr. William Tait, reception; George Chinn, registration; Joe Mills, meals; Claude Rhea, housing and Hugh Allsworth, group discussion.

Freedom, indeed, is a complex thing which does not yield its secrets save to those who love it with an active devotion.—Harold J. Laski.

Millis Views

(Continued from Page 1)

torial pages. I have never heard of a movie about college which did not feature athletics as the main activity on a campus. I have read only a few magazine stories or popular novels with a college setting which managed to stay away from athletic contests and paeans. Radio and television find in athletics the most dramatic part of college life for their particular use. Can we wonder that, in the minds of tens of millions of Americans, higher education and intercollegiate athletics are synonymous?

SINCE THESE are the facts, the ideals, the standards, and the integrity of our colleges are badged by a substantial majority of the public upon the ideals, the standards, which are demonstrated in college athletics. Whether we like it or not, our athletic program is our show window, and both the quality and the nature of our conduct is judged by what is seen there. Thus it is that college and university faculties, trustees and administrators must devote time, thought and energy to the task of solving the problems of athletics. We must be sure that the athletic program truly represents both our ideas and our ideals.

SUBSTANTIAL efforts have been made by associations and groups, both with and without authority, to clarify problems and to suggest solutions. The Conferences and legislation of the National Collegiate Athletic Association have done much to delineate important problems and suggest possible remedies. More recently, the studies and recommendations of the American Council on Education have produced ideas from the point of view of the college administrators. Some of the regional accrediting bodies have now begun to show interest. All of these efforts have been helpful, but the basic problems can only be met at the level of the individual institution. It is in each institution that the problems exist and where the solutions must be obtained. If the individual college and university cannot solve the individual problem, all the resolutions and codes of either regional or national bodies will be but empty words.

WHEN THE individual institution considers its athletic program, there appear to be many complex problems to be solved. There are problems of recruiting athletes, the subsidization of players, the academic status and tenure of coaches, admission standards, academic standards, overemphasis upon winning, and finance. All of these matters are involved within the problems and must be given consideration. However, they are related to one basic question, and when that question is answered, all of them can be answered with consistency and logic.

THE BASIC question which each college and university must answer is what values does it seek in a program of intercollegiate athletics. Historically various answers have been given to that question, including the following: The education of students, the entertainment of the college community and the general public, the acquisition of public recognition and prestige, the improvement of student and alumni loyalty, the making of money. No one can deny that all of these objective are attainable, but the real question is "Are they valid objectives?" Personally, I find it very difficult, in fact impossible, to establish the validity of these objectives except for the first.

COLLEGES and universities are chartered by society to educate students, and their charters rarely, if ever, provide legal sanction for any other purpose. This it seems to me that the institutions must justify, both morally and legally, each of its activities and programs in terms of the education of students, and that any activity which must be justified on any basis other than the central character purpose has no place on the campus. There must be great doubt as to the moral

. . . there is, in the universe outside man, no spirituality, no reward for values no friend in the sky, no help or comfort for man of any sort. To be perfectly honest in the admission of this fact, not to seek shelter in new or old illusions, not to indulge in wishful dreams about this matter, this is the first thing we shall have to do.—W. T. Stace.

. . . habitual indirection in speech supports and stimulates a habit of indirection in thought; and this habit if not pretty closely watched, runs off into more serious dishonesty. — Albert J. Nock

Groups Sell Slides Showing Operation Of Grain Market

The Chicago Board of Trade and the University of Illinois have just completed a second section of a black and white slide-film series which greatly simplifies the explanation of marketing of grain through a grain exchange.

The new section, which deals with the "futures" phase of the marketing operation, is a complement to the section released late last year which dealt with the cash grain market.

This completed sequence of 96 slides has been produced to meet a concerted call for visual-aid material by not only vocational agricultural teachers but professors and instructors in marketing and agricultural economics at institutions of learning all over the United States and Canada. Literature, it is serving a most valuable purpose among county agents, farm advisers, extension workers, 4-H clubs and FFA groups.

It may be secured in either single or double frame prints through Professor M. Henderson, Vocational Agricultural Services, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois.

A society where free discussion is inhibited either by governmental action or by social pressure tends to become an aggregation of robots.—Chamberlin.

Fine Portraits at Reasonable Prices

AUGUST GRADUATES MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENTS FOR GRADUATION PORTRAITS NOW.

John Charles
106 West Jefferson Phone 3-0115

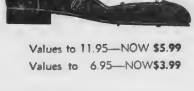
SPECIAL
EVERY TUESDAY
FILET MIGNON
Only $1.00
at
Seven Seas
SERVED ALL DAY TUESDAY

MALONE'S CO-OP BOOK STORE
BOOKS - SUPPLIES - SUNDRIES - STATIONERY
WE BUY USED BOOKS

AT BROWN FAUNCE HOUSE NEWS COUNTER
PROVIDENCE, R. I.
CHESTERFIELD SELLS 2 to 1 OVER
ALL OTHER BRANDS Fiorino Di Sano
MANAGER

VANITY BOOT SHOP'S BIG SUMMER CLEARANCE SALE BEGINS MONDAY MORNING AT 8 O'CLOCK

DRESS SHOES
TWEEDIES
GLAMOUR
WESTPORT
And Other Famous Brands



Values to $15.95
NOW
$7.99

★ All White
★ Brown & White
★ Black & White
★ Navy & White
★ Pastels
★ Multicolors
★ Navy Blue
★ Red ★ Green
★ Black Patent

VALUES IN EVERY DEPT.
COSTUME JEWELRY
EVENING SHOES
HOSIERY

FLATS & CASUALS
DRESSY CLOSED FLATS!
OPEN SANDALS!
All Our Famous Long Wearing Brands
in All Colors and White

Values to 11.95—NOW $5.99
Values to 6.95—NOW $3.99

Remember Monday Morning, 8 A.M. for Our Greatest Sale Ever.

NO EXCHANGES, REFUNDS OR APPROVALS . . . .

Vanity Boot Shops
SOUTH'S SMARTEST SHOES
114 E. COLLEGE DIAL 2-1630

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
CAMERON'S TEXACO
SERVICE STATION
Formerly Meats Service Station
566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

off with flour-sack-type underwear!
on with tailored-to-fit
Jockey Brand
SHORTS
Made only by Cooper

Imagine! 13 separate contoured pieces, carefully tailored into one perfect-fitting garment! That's Jockey Shorts. And with exclusive features such as heat-resistant waistband that outlasts other leading brands by 40%! Come in today—start enjoying real underwear comfort with Jockey Shorts—!
$1.20 pr.
Jockey Contoured Shirts to match ... $1.25

Turner's
Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
American Gem Society
Car-Sac
The deluxe portable clothes closet. Hangs up in car, train or plane. Folds for easy carrying. Lightweight sailcloth, nylon or smart woven tartan plaids.
WOMEN'S 54 SIZE, HOLDS 8 DRESSES, $15
MEN'S 40 SIZE, HOLDS 4 SUITS, $12.50
Price plus Federal tax

REMEMBER Bertha Cooke
SUMMER CLEARANCE
AUG. 1st & 2nd
DRESSES
HATS
STRAW BAGS
PLAY SUITS
TEE SHIRTS
COTTON SHIRTS
COTTON GOWNS
ALL at 1/2 PRICE
Bertha Cooke

Chinese Student Tells Experiences In Taking Up Studies in New Land

By BILL DINGWALL

Learning the customs and ways of American citizens proved quite difficult for some foreigners but not for Lin Tsai.

Lin, who has been in this country since 1941, is a thirty-year-old Chinese student working on his doctorate under Professor Werner Herz, assistant professor in chemistry.

GROWING UP In the British possession of Hong Kong before the war, Lin attended Munsing High School in Hong Kong where he was taught English, mathematics, and history "almost in the same manner that American students are taught."

"My high school days," Lin said, "were very ordinary and not a bit like some people think them to be. People are always asking me about the Chinese educational system and how they find it possible to educate so great a population."

THE EDUCATIONAL system in China is a far cry from what we have in America, according to Lin.

"China has only a little over a hundred universities and with the overcrowded population it is easy to see that only the best may be allowed to enter. Any high school student that wants to enter a university has first to take a merit exam and only those with the highest scores are taken." Lin said very few people ever get to a university.

AFTER HE was graduated from high school in 1939, Lin enrolled in extension school to devote his time to Pharmacy.

"Bui Pesa" Barber ended my career in Pharmacy," and in 1942 he matriculated at Southwest Associated University, located in Kunmig, Southwest China.

"HERE I WAS allowed to continue my studies without trouble from the Japanese."

Lin said that during the war the Japanese captured every part of China except the Southwest territory.

"SOUTHWEST Associated University in Kunmig was really the composite of all government-owned schools throughout China. Mingui is to the southwest as the loxed students to study without interference from the Japs."

Four years were spent at Southwest Associated at which time Lin said he was cut off from all communications at home for the Japanese who had occupied Hong Kong.

"MANY FAMILIES were in the same predicament," Lin said. "All through China, until the end of the war, families were separated and people rarely knew where their relations might be. It was only after the war that I saw my three sisters, brother, and mother."

After the war he traveled to Peiping to teach chemistry in the University of Peking. One-half year of leaving made Lin decide to work on his doctor's degree. With this in mind, he set his sights toward America.

ASKED WHY he had chosen the United States to study for his Ph.D., Lin smilingly discloses, "Perhaps for the same reason Americans travel to Europe. England and France. I wanted to further my knowledge and at the same time become acquainted with all parts of the world."

Crossing the Pacific on the USS Lynx in 1947, Lin landed in San Francisco, California. Here he remained for about six months waiting for a dispatch from Peiping, "a dispatch which was going to send me to Cambridge Massachusetts."

"YOU SEE." Lin explains, "upon the recommendation of one of my former teachers at Peking, I was accepted to Harvard graduate school. At Harvard Lin studied under Professor Fieser, assistant professor of organic chemistry.

The United States certainly has given Lin a chance to see how our educational system operates for only one-half year after his entrance into Harvard, he matriculated at Oregon State for a period of two years and then he went to Northwestern for one year. It was at North-western that Lin received his master's degree. Another year was spent at the University of Tennessee before he came to Florida State University last year.

LIN IS pursuing his studies through a Research Fellowship under the United States Health Department.

When asked what he thinks of American customs compared with his native land, Lin smilingly threw his hands into the air in expected exaggerated proportion on his plate." This, Lin explained, is the waiter's way of showing both appreciation and courtesy to his host.

"Here it seems as if you do not finish everything on your plate it is an insult," he however, considers a preference to this latter custom, "because I like to eat a lot."

HE HAS developed quite a liking for the American version of Italian Puma. The only type of food Lin isn't favorable toward is what he calls, "tallahassee food." About this, Lin says in typical American slang, "phooey"; complaining, "there isn't even a place in Tallahassee to get good old Italian Puma.

Nothing about Lin attracts the fancy more than his physical make-up. A mere five foot in height, he tips the scale at exactly one hundred pounds. His shiny teeth that twinkle at you when he smiles conveys a picture of high school boyishness rather than a student working on his Ph.D.

WHAT Lin lacks in physical bulk, however, he makes up for in spirit and enthusiasm. Almost everyday in the week you can find Lin peering over a microscope on the second floor of the Science Building. Presently, Lin is endeavoring to formulate a type of analog which could retain sulphur. Lin explained, "It would be a sort of a synthetic compound to be used in combating disease."

About the present world situation, Lin remains non-committal.

"I WOULDN'T venture to say anything on the Korean problem. If I were over there now, I could see the difficulties more readily. The only way to pass judgement on any situation, I found out, is to be an immediate part of the problem itself."

In his spare time, usually early afternoons and evenings, you can find Lin musing over the musical classics in his 525 West Park Avenue apartment. An avid record collector, Lin said he loves Beethoven with a passion followed only by "the matchless Bach."

"I'VE BEEN interested in music ever since boyhood in Hong Kong," Lin said. A study of classical music under early youth has given him a marked understanding of the great masters. He has not, however, been Americanized to the current musical fads.

"Jazz Dixieland, and bepop are all rghts I guess, but I'll take Beethoven. When I listen to Beethoven or Bach, I feel calm and relaxed," sighs Lin.

THE FAIRIEST man Lin has ever been on the United States is South Monroe Street, Tallahassee. But he contends, "I'll make it down to Miami or bust as soon as I get the time and the money," mostly the money. I always like to travel and see new places. Miami is one place I don't want to miss," Lin said eagerly.

Since his arrival in the United States, Lin has become an ardent tennis player.

THE GAME of tennis is not new to me for it is played much in China. I became interested in it during my stay at Canterbury."

When will Lin finish at FSU? The answer is even unknown to Lin, who only proclaims, "God knows, if I don't get through in two or three years, I'll give up!"

Veller Calls Team To Drill Aug. 25

FSU Football Coach Don Veller announced this week that the Seminoles practice will start August 25.

The squad, about 70 strong, will begin preparations for its sixth year of intercollegiate competition and by far the toughest schedule faced.

THE COACH will be beginning his fifth season as football mentor at Florida State. He stated that the squad will hold two practice sessions per day from the opening day of practice until the beginning of classes in late September.

The Seminoles have 12 days in which to prepare for their game with Louisiana Tech, first of their four non-game schedule. After Louisiana Tech, FSU faces Louisville, VMI, North Carolina State, Stetson, Mississippi Southern, Furman, Georgia Tech, Wofford and Tampa in that order. The Seminoles have only one open date on their bruising card.

COACH VELLER, who has rolled up a terrific record of 30 victories and only three defeats since he took over the FSU football fortunes in 1948, has 17 letternen returning from the '51 squad which won 6 and lost 2 of its tilts.

The returning monogram winners are headed by Co-Captains Curt Campbell, a versatile offensive and defensive halfback, and Vic Szczepanik who has played everywhere in the forward wall except center during his schooling in 1948.

OTHER LETTERMEN scheduled to return to the 1952 squad are End Jimmy Lee Taylor; Tackle Bob Bozich; Guards Gunday Booth, Preston Bradley, Charley Brown, John Karlowicz, Earl O'Neal and Bob Pecinc; Center Steve Kalenich and Backs Harry Bringer, Bobby Privash, Mac Huey, Nelson Italiano, Roy Thompson and Dick Turk.

In addition, Don Gladden Jacksonville, who lettered as a freshman quarterback on the 1950 squad, is slated to return to school after a tour of duty in the Marine Corps.

VELLER'S BIGGEST problems as the Seminoles move against a tough schedule in the fall next time will lien in replacing two-time All-star Guard Bill Dawkins and high scoring Fullback Mike Sellers, and finding some rugged performers all the ends and tackles.

Veliers indicated that he planned no changes in his basic 'Cock-eyed T' formation, though it is expected he will open up his attack this year with the addition of some buck-lateral stuff.

What Do YOU Look For Where You Eat?
● Fine Food . . .
● Cool Comfort . . .?
● Pleasant Atmosphere?
find them all at
The Amber House
For Food That's Fine

College Rejects Grid Prospects On Low Marks

Coach Don Veller said this week that three Florida State University freshman football hopefuls were denied admission to the university because of inability to meet the admissions requirements.

The three are Landy Boatwright and Frank Hesna of Moultrie, Georgia, and Gerald Darvin of South Bend, Indiana. Boatwright was an All-State high school guard last year.

The loss of Hanna and Ulbricht might prove to be the worst loss, since the Seminoles need flankmen badly. Co-captain Curt Campbell, a Middle Group All-American at end last year is the only tested end on the Seminole team.

Coach Veller said that the men denied admission failed to meet the University's requirement that out-of-state high school graduates must have an average of "C" or better. The rule exempts Florida students, who need only high school diplomas.

Veller said that he regretted losing the men, but we don't want athletes who can't pass their work. They are no help to any team."

There are five or six other out-of-state prospects who are in doubtful because they have not submitted their grades, the coach added.

The essence of faith is that it does not depend upon a perpetual renewal of absolute proof.—Barbara Ward.

. . . the growing influence of the military in American life is dangerous to our democratic liberties.—Hanson W. Baldwin.

Enthusiasm, while it can achieve certain results, can hardly ever achieve those that it aspires. To admire collective enthusiasm is reckless and irresponsible. It is the death of preparedness, war, death and salvery.—Bertrand Russell.

WFSU PROGRAM SCHEDULE

660 Kilocycles
Monday Thru Friday

p.m.
5:00—Sign On.
5:02—Summer Serenade
6:00—Summer Serenade cont.
7:00—News Roundup Time
7:15—Transcribed Show
7:30—Easy Listening
8:00—Willie's Madhouse
8:15—Concert Time or Remote Broadcast
9:00—Capitol Presents
9:30—Musical Scrapbook
10:00—WFSU Housepanty
11:00—Sign Off.

Program Schedule subject to change without notice.

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

OLYMPIC REPORT

By TOM CONKLING

Next Monday, July 21, the United States gymnastics team will compete in the World Olympics at Helsinki, Finland against the best that the world has to offer in this the most ancient of sports.

According to reports, the United States squad, paced by Florida State University gymnast Bill Roetzheim and Don Holder, is in excellent condition for the big test.

Gymnastics although given a back seat in this country is considered a major sport in Europe. Consequently the American squad is currently ranked as a "dark horse" team. Because the United States sports writers over-look this great sport, the U. S. team has been overlooked by European judges in return.

Why is gymnastics considered a minor sport in the United States? The answer is obvious—no publicity. Baseball, football, basketball and track receive tremendous publicity through well organized Public Relations facilities. This is exactly what the sport of gymnastics needs.

Certainly an outstanding gymnast of the Roetzheim calibre is more of an athlete in the true sense of the word than are most. If not all of the professional baseball, football and basketball stars.

After all what is an athlete? Is he only proficient for the word according to Webster is a gymnast. As far as skill, coordination, strength, grace and form are concerned what athlete can surpass or even approach the Olympic Stouts, Scrobes and Holders?

Who can say that the sport lacks color? The gymnasium here at FSU has been filled to the brim at every gym meet presented here. Standing room is less for each meet including even intra-squad duals.

Last year at the Pan American Games Bill Roetzheim, the eventual winner performed before a throng of over 75,000 spectators. No the sport does not lack color, in fact it's overflowing with it.

The sport needs support not from the fans but from the press. According to most authorities here it needs a public relations department. Like any other product the sport must be sold to the American public.

This can be done only by persistent it face to face with the public at every city, town and room in the U.S. Its top performers should be publicized like other stars in other sports.

The greater percentage of the population of the United States has never even seen a gymnastic meet and a fantastic lot do not even know what a trunk is.

The story is just the opposite in Europe. As long as the sport is considered minor in the Wordsworth versed

. . . WITH WHICH THOU DOST REFRESH
THY THIRSTY LIPS
The Easterner
With which? Why, with Coca-Cola of course, for this delicious refreshment is the answer to thirst. Have a Coke.
DRINK Coca-Cola
5¢
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
"Pat and Mike" with SPENCER TRACY
and
KATHARINE HEPBURN
STATE
"Tarzan's Savage Fury" With LEX BARKER and DOROTHY HART
RITZ
"Fighting Coast Guard" With BRIAN DONLEVY and ELLA RAINES
plus
"Arizona Manhunt" with MICHAEL CHAPIN
DRIVE-IN
"Roll on Texas Moon"
ROY ROGERS and DALE EVANS
"Flight to Mars"
Plus Two Cartoons
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

team will be considered likely in Europe. Since human judges score the gymnasts in determining the outcome of gym meets, the Europeans are not going to allow a "minor" athletic team from the United States to win their teams.

Only a stop watch shows preference, a man as judge human error is weakened by prejudice.

The only answer to this problem is to build up gymnastics here in the U.S.A.

BULLETIN: A last minute report from Helsinki just received stated "Bill Roetzheim of the United States gymnastic team suffering from an intestinal ailment. However, it is believed that he will be ready to compete on Monday."

Mere activity is the occupation of monkeys and lunatics.—Proverb Buck.

Paul Turner
JEWELER - WATCHMAKER
KEEPSAKE
DIAMONDS
102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

"No Road Back" in 1952
Fatalistic Creed Born
See Article by Baldy

Summer Flambeau

Article Writer Criticized
US Student Acquiescent
See Lead Editorial

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 62 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Friday, July 25, 1952

Ivey Will Address Summer Graduates

Education Board Director to Deliver Commencement Speech August 13

Dr. John E. Ivey, Jr., Atlanta, director of the Board of Control for Southern Regional Education, will deliver the commencement address at Florida State University August 13.

Over 200 students are candidates for degrees during the exercises in the FSU Music amphitheater at 8 p.m. In the event of the rain, the ceremonies will be held in Opperman Hall in the FSU Music Building.

THE COMMENCEMENT speaker is a native North Carolinian, is also known for his contributions to the educational field. Dr. Ivey is a specialist in educational evaluation for the Tennessee Valley Authority in 1944.

September 1948 he held positions of professor in the Department of Sociology and Director of City and Regional Statistics and was chief of the Division of Research Interpretation of the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University of North Carolina.

DR. IVEY is author of Changing Patterns in Into Education and of numerous articles in sociological and educational journals. He is also co-author of Exploring the South. Community Resources and Southern Values Future.

The outstanding educator received his B.S. degree from Alabama Polytechnic Institute and hoists the Ph. D. degree from the University of North Carolina, where his fields of study were sociology, rural and regional planning and resource economics.

Educators End Two-Day Meet On Resources

The statewide resource-use work conference in its concluding general session Tuesday afternoon at Florida State University made a critical analysis of what can be done throughout Florida for the greater development and wise use of the state's resources of things, people and institutions.

IN TURNING the mirror of self-analysis upon themselves to determine how they can accomplish better serve the needs of the community in resource education management, a panel took the lead in the discussion with other discussion leaders speaking from the floor. William J. McGlothlin, consultant for professional programs of the Southern Regional Board, observed as the panel chairman and summarized their discussions.

Panel members participants agreed that while the schools have assumed their major share of responsibility, they esn concern themselves with greater development of the community resources agencies where they are needed.

THE RESOURCE-USE education topics discussed by the panel were getting better of the pupil's opportunity to appreciate his education, family life education, in service and pre-service training for teachers, school relationships with other agencies, reduction of the number of students dropping out of school for various reasons and full utilization of the many advancements made in curriculum programs in recent years.

The group also adopted a resolution urging that the textbook "Florida — Wealth or Waste" be revised for use in Florida schools by the State Department of Education. Also that the facilities and services of FSU and those of the Department of Geography, headed by Dr. Henry P. Beers and the FSU School of Education be solicited with Dr. Becker being placed in charge of the project.

Talks to Druggists

Dr. W. Bruce Weale, associate professor in the State University discussed the successful operating procedures that scores yesterday at a meeting of the West Florida District Pharmaceutical Association at the Duval Hotel.

Since he became a member of the FSU faculty in 1946 Dr. Weale supervised a number of business surveys through his classes which attracted much favorable comment because of their thoroughness and accuracy.

Christopher Bean Is Not Up to Potential But Still 'Credible'

The Late Christopher Bean, a comedy by the late Sidney Howard, ended the two-night run in the Augusta Conrad Theatre Wednesday evening.

The performance, though not falling to the full the play's comic potential, was creditable. In a word-for-word-at-a-run New Orleans family gathering with bereavement just the canvases left of this house in the Little Chris area, a poor painter whom they had contemptuously befriended, was of considerable value.

WHEN TWO New York art dealers and a critic descend upon the unsuspecting family, ambitious only the comedy becomes impressively involved. The second and third acts were marked with several minutes which briefly lose the comedy illusion.

The climax of the play came after the third act when Abner Abshe revealed that she had secretly married Chris Bean before the latter's death, consequently the valuable masterpieces belonged to her.

CAST IN THE LEAD as Dr. Robert Hoyt Bowen, a graduate student effectively presented the comedy role. Although greed was to him when it was for his own use.

Also equally capable performances were presented by Frances Ivey as Susan Bowen, Virginia Abshe and by Nancy Dickinson and Joe Sullivan.

COMMENDABLE performances were given by Bruce Baxter, Robert Hazzett, Ruth Elin Ward who was cast as Ada, Jack Stuart, Chris Bean and Jack Tallant, George Langenfan as Rosen and F. F. Hoffman as Davenport.

Pianist Will Give Program Tuesday

Marian Lewis, pianist, will present a graduate recital in piano on Tuesday evening, in the Opperman Music Hall. The program will begin at 8:15 p.m., and will be open to the public.

Miss Lewis is a graduate student in the School of Music, at present on leave from Wesleyan School of Fine Arts, Macon, Ga., where she was graduated in 1948, cum laude. She is a student of Professor John Boda.

The program evening will open with Preludes and Fugues in B Major and D Minor J. S. Bach, the "Concerto in D Minor" by Mozart, selections by Chopin, Brahms and Debussy and the "Sonatina for Piano by the contemporary German composer, Gail Kubik. Professor Boda will assist in the performance of the Mozart Concerto, playing the orchestra part on the second piano.

ART GIFT FOR FSU—Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president of Florida State University, is shown accepting the gift of sculpture, "Growth," by Vladimir Izdebsky, exiled Russian, from his daughter, Dr. Izdebsky Earl, wife of Adolph Karl, FSU associate professor of art. The sculpture gift has been placed in the permanent collection of art at the university.

Izdebsky Gives 'Growth' To Permanent Collection

The permanent collection of the Florida State University has been enriched by a large and challenging sculpture, "Growth", given to the University by the artist, Vladimir Izdebsky of New York City.

Mr. Izdebsky is a native Russian who spent some thirty years of exile in Paris for political action hostile to the Czarist and later, the Communists governments. Even though he was the son of a land-owner of considerable wealth, Vladimir Izdebsky worked for the liberation of the enslaved Russian masses and the penalties for this were death, Siberia, or exile. Through the influence of his father, he was allowed to choose exile.

IN PARIS, the sculptor was an associate of many of the more creative artists of his time, especially those of Russian descent. Jacques Lipchitz, the outstanding practitioner of Expressionism in sculpture, was a friend of those years and remains a valued consultant and associate to this day —since he too, is now in the United States.

A man who is deeply imbued with the love of his native language and culture, from whose homeland he has been banished first by royalists and now by Communist ideologies, Vladimir Izdebsky pours into his cumbered, meaningful, gigantic forms the energies and frustrations he cannot express in an active political life. An admittedly fanatical admirer of the great Russian poet Pushkin, Izdebsky is in his work an occasional burst of the Slavic lyricism of that writer.

"GROWTH" is a tall and upward-expanding form suggestive of both Christian and Expressionism. If there is in it as well the suggestion of an animal form, it is such an animal as has never lived on earth and never will. The dancer-like motif which crowns the complicated, but clearly understood, arrangement of planes looks upon the world with energy and a hint of instability. This is no "frozen" form but one filled with life and energy.

Mr. Izdebsky, a very prolific artist, does not model his sculpture in clay, which is then cast into plaster, but follows the direct

(Continued on Page 2)

Navy Hunts Clerks For Civilian Work In Washington, D.C.

A Navy Department recruiting representative is now in Tallahassee to interview applicants for civilian positions in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Ruth Easley Moore, from the executive office of the Secretary of the Navy, will be at the Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office Building for a limited period to hold interviews and give tests.

Positions are offered in clerk-typists, stenographers and highly qualified secretaries at salaries ranging from $2950 to $3175 per year.

Minimum requirements call for a typing speed of 40 words per minute and a shorthand speed of 80 words per minute. A short clerical test must be passed by all. Applicants must be 18 years of age, citizens of the United States, and graduates of accredited high schools.

Applicants are under Civil Service regulations with employees earning 13 days of sick leave and 13 days of annual leave per year, the amount of leave increasing as tenure with the Navy Department increases.

The Navy makes housing arrangements for new employees during their first week in Washington.

Mrs Moore will conduct interviews between the hours of 8:30 and 4:30 Mondays through Fridays, and on evenings and Saturdays by appointment.

Education Board Cites Its Progress In South

Editor's Note: The General Education Board, founded by John D. Rockefeller in 1902, has just issued its report for the year 1951. This week the Flambeau is honored to present excerpts from the Board's report dealing with improvements in Southern education.

Chester I. Barnard, president of the General Education Board, in a foreword to its 1951 Report, says that last year, the fiftieth since its founding, the Board appropriated $14,332,666 to support its southern program.

This is Mr. Barnard's last report as President of the Board, since he resigned retirement age on June 30, 1952, when Dean Rusk became President.

Mr. Barnard says that in other regions were discontinued, the Board has devoted its full attention and support to the educational problems of the 15 southern states.

TOTAL appropriations from the founding of the Board in 1902 to December 31, 1951 amounted to $216,397,185 and of this sum $142,138,000 or 65 per cent has been expended in the South. About $33,942,136 or 37 per cent of the ex-

(Continued on Page 2)

Randel to Conduct Duke Short Course

Dr. William P. Randel, Professor of English at Florida State University and chairman of the American Studies program, has been granted leave of absence from the university until September 13 to conduct a Summer teaching course at Duke University. Dr. Doak S. Campbell- FSU president announced.

Dr. Randel will teach "Modern American Poetry and Studies in Realism, 1870-1900," which is the period that he has furnished the basis for much of his research, various articles, a U. S. State Department grant which enabled him to spend some time teaching in Finland last year, books, and other contributions to English literature.

The Randel family left Tallahassee for Chapel Hill, N. C. Sunday, July 20, and will return on September 13 in time to resume his teaching duties at FSU this Fall.

Party Approves Platform Called 'Strong as '48'

Liberal Wing Pleased But Moderate Terms Placate Southerners

A 28-page "statement of principles" described as "stronger than in 1948" was approved by the Democratic national convention in the early hours of yesterday morning.

The sections on civil rights received praise from Senators Lehman and Humphrey of New York and Minnesota, leaders of the Northern liberals who sought a stronger plank, but surprisingly did not cause a bolt from southern delegation.

BEFORE the platform was introduced there was talk that this year's platform on civil rights represented a compromise between liberal and conservative wings but the actual document is more a compromise in terminology than in fact.

After the platform had been read Senator Sparkman and Sam Rayburn called for a voice vote and though there was a quite audible "aye" in favor, to most the ayes had it. Later in the day Senator Lehman and Humphrey expressed displeasure at the "steamroller" tactics of the Texas Bolt and the bolt ever materialized likely.

THE PLATFORM did not mention compulsory FEPC but called on Congress, federal, state and local governments to assure every citizen regardless of race, color or creed: It asked for equal job opportunities, equal rights to take part in political affairs by eliminating poll taxes, and personal security through passage of anti-lynch laws, and equal treatment in the armed forces.

It did not mention the word filibuster but asked only to assure every citizen regardless of race, color or creed: It asked for equal job opportunities, equal rights to take part in political affairs by eliminating poll taxes, personal security through passage of anti-lynch laws, and equal treatment in the armed forces.

It did not mention the word filibuster but asked only to assure every citizen regardless of race, color or creed: It asked for equal job opportunities, equal rights to take part in political affairs by eliminating poll taxes, personal security through passage of anti-lynch laws, and equal treatment in the armed forces.

Indiana Names Illinoisan Despite His Reluctance

The name of Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois was placed into nomination yesterday evening at the Democratic National convention as the bandwagon for the reluctant governor created jubilant impetus every moment.

When the roll call reached the state of Delaware, the little state yielded to Indiana, whose Governor placed Stevenson's name before the convention.

THE STEVENSON movement has gained great strength during the past few days in convention that up till now has seemed headed toward a deadlock and a long balloting session.

Yesterday the Democrats placed some of them in nomination, some favorite sons, some real contenders.

SENATOR RICHARD B. Russell was first to be named, when Alabama yielded to Georgia whose Senator George gave the nomination speech.

Second was Senator Estes Kefauver, who was presented by his home state of Tennessee. New York's Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. placed the name of Averell W. Harriman in nomination.

OTHERS NOMINATED included Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, William Fulbright of Arkansas, Oscar Ewing of New York, Brian McMahon of Connecticut, Governmen Williams of Michigan, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Vice President Alban Barkley of Kentucky, Paul Dever of Massachusetts and John Bulkley of Ohio.

Despite the fact that the 1852 convention rules had prevented nomination speeches, the large number of candidates scratched the nomination session for the greatest part of a day.

THE 1952 RULES adopted to limit nominating speeches to 15 minutes each, seconding speeches to 10 to five minutes each and demonstrations to 20 minutes.

As the convention started last Monday, Senator Kefauver led all other candidates in number of delegates pledged, with Senator Russell and Averell Harriman trailing in that order.

As Adlai Stevenson bandwagon rolled on, however, Stevenson looked likely to be the nominee of the plank under on the first ballot. And Stevenson supporters claimed that many favorite son votes would go to their candidate after the first vote.

MEANWHILE, Kefauver and Harriman met in what has been guessed to be a stop-Stevenson movement. In a radio interview Kefauver said their meeting was successful, but refused to tell its nature. He said it wasn't stopping the movement but a positive step. He said he and Harriman wanted to keep the party in the hands of liberals.

MEANWHILE, the second big question before the convention was what would happen if anyone should contend the presence on the floor of Louisiana's Huey Long and Virginia, the three states which have refused to sign the watered-down loyalty pledge. The pledge says that all delegates shall exert every moral effort to see that the nominee of the convention be placed on the ballot in their respective states, except where such a pledge would contravene existing state laws.

At Flambeau press time the convention had not come before the convention, but it appeared the potential cause for a bolt of the party.

EARLY yesterday morning the convention approved a platform compromise which it considered a strong civil rights plank.

The platform was heralded by some Southerners as a compromise, but in general it contained pretty much the same planks as the 1948 program which cause some Southern states to bolt the convention and to vote for the States Rights party in the Fall election.

SOME SOUTHERNERS did voice disapproval of the way permanent Chairman Sam Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the House of Representatives, defined a roll call vote on the matter of the platform to the convention.

JOHN ROVER TROTTER INQUIRES ...

And What Do You Think Of the Flying Saucer?

By GENE LAWLER

J. Rover Trotter and Associates, professional samplers of student sentiment, this week made a study of the earnest opinion concerning the many recent reports concerning flying saucers.

Reminding subjects of the recent sightings in Washington, D.C., Cleveland, Tampa, and Weston, the question was asked: Do you believe that flying saucers have been detected on radar, what is your opinion of flying saucers?

A few sample replies follow:

Dick Gutting: "I'll be perfectly frank. how doubtful can you get? Just the enough respect for the truth about before they believe they exist.

Susy McCracken: "I'm in favor of them, as long as they don't touch Georgia.

Jack Miller: "I've seen quite a few myself, but they were all propelled by my wife.

Jackie Keaton: "Literally, they're over my head I'm no student of astronomy, but if they are piloted by men from Mars, let's bone sperm banks and Dave Pinson: "Flying saucers ought to be a good way to fix ice cream.

Bob Ducker: "Look in the name of the high cost of living. if there is a cup of coffee in each one, they're OK with me.

Lucy Baldy: "I refuse to answer on the grounds it might incriminate me.

Bob Leslie: "Maybe they're why the Dining Hall has so few of them

Anna Hendren: "It's probably mass hallucination.

Dallas Weekley: "One thing is sure, they'll be a boon to the comic books.

Eddie Hulahire: "I think the Flambeau is wasting space asking such an inane question.

President Approves GI Bill To Provide Veteran's Education

A new GI Bill for veterans of service in the armed forces of any place in the world since the start of the Korean conflict on June 27, 1950, was signed into law by the President of the United States on July 16, 1952.

According to the regional office of the Veterans Administration, the new law provides five benefits not found in previous programs in their return to civilian life.

Included are education and training; guaranteed insured loans for homes, farms and business; unemployment compensation; mustering-out pay, and job-finding help.

THE EDUCATION and training provisions allow a veteran one and one-half days of training for each day in service after the outbreak of the Korean fighting, regardless of how little service was performed, up to a maximum of 36 months.

The veteran may train in school or college, on-the-job or on-the-farm. Any type of school or training establishment has been approved by an appropriate State Approving agency which meets other qualifications of the law. Only one change of course program is allowed, except under certain conditions determined by the Veterans Administration.

VETERANS in GI Bill training will receive an education and training allowance each month from the Government to meet

(Continued on Page 2)

U. of Texas Holds Convention Backing Pogo's Presidency

Out at the University of Texas, students are busily erected plans for a presidential candidate.

Although their state was the object of much ridicule by both the Republican and Democratic National conventions, students have deserted these two main parties, however.

According to the University's paper, The Summer Texan:

Despite prevailing rumors that Abe Fmaks backers will bolt or hold a rump convention of their own, Pogo supporters are busily making plans for their gigantic area convention for Friday night at 8 on the Texas Union patio.

Punch will be served, and "I Go Pogo" buttons will be available to all comers.

Delegates are warned to be on the look-out for the possible appearance of Fred Gipson, author of "The Hound-Dor Man."

Jitter Klein, director of the Union, has roofer guards around the Union, who are to be alert especially the hound dogs that may answer with Gipson, "Hound dogs don't like possums", Mr. Nolen said.

NO MORE ROOMS

No more guest rooms in the Florida State University Longmire building are available for the night of graduation, August 13, Miss Jane Adams, director, said yesterday.

Disc Tales Return As Radar Proves New Objects Real

It seems you can't keep a good flying saucer story down.

The original themes of the mysterious whizzing dists, together with all variation of flashing, zooming lights, has recently gained in its greatest popularity since the 1947 outburst, with many national magazines featuring stories about it.

The latest report was from the nation's capital this week, where the Air Force announced it had received reports of weirdly moving aerial objects, and further stated that for the first time the objects were picked up by radar, although they were solid, not just lights.

An observer in an airplane said the objects were not travelling at the usual incredible linear velocity but at a slow 100 to 160 miles per hour. They were, however, travelling with "tremendous vertical speed" and sometimes hanging motionless in the sky.

College Backs 5-Day Institute On Disease

Final details of the week long series of July 28 to August 1 meetings at Florida State University to deal with the social, economic and clinical problems of victims of tuberculosis in Florida will be worked out Sunday afternoon at a pre-planning meeting at FSU.

The Institute program is being sponsored by the Florida Tuberculosis and Health Association and the FSU School of Social Welfare.

THOSE WHO will serve as consultants, recorders and staff members will attend the Sunday afternoon meeting for an orientation session on the conferences to be held next week.

The conference institution will be held at 8:30 a.m. Monday, July 28, in the FSU Longmire Building with lectures, social workers, rehabilitation workers, hospital staff members, public health nurses and health educators having been invited to attend.

THE PURPOSE of the institute, according to Dr. Coyle E. Moore, dean of the FSU School of Social Welfare, is to bring about a broader understanding of the problems created by tuberculosis.

Through discussion and sharing of experiences and by bringing in consultants and outstanding lecturers the institute participants will have an opportunity to gain a greater understanding of the problems involved and how to cope with them.

IN ADDITION to a series of lectures, the work group discussions and other activities on the FSU campus those attending the institute will make field trips to the W. T. Edwards Tuberculosis Hospital in Tallahassee and the Convalescent Training Center at Marianna.

Raines to Present Graduate Recital

Vernon Raines, graduate student in the Florida State University School of Music, will present a solo piano recital in the Opperman Music Hall auditorium at 8:15. The program will be open to the public.

Mr. Raines is a student of Dr. Ernst von Dohnanyi at FSU. He received his undergraduate training at the University of Alabama, where he studied with Bianca Jitter Klein, director of the Union, has roofer guards around the Union, who are to be alert especially the hound dogs that may answer with Gibson, "Hound dogs don't like possums", Mr. Nolen said.

His program will include the "Italian Concerto" by Bach, the Sonata in B Minor, Opus 35, No. 2 by Beethoven, and selected works by Brahms, Chopin, Scriabin and Debussy.

Stevenson's Name Appears In Democratic Nomination

Students of 1952 Fearful, Victim of 'Creeping Virus'

"How wild are college students?" asks Robert Stein in his article in USA — The Magazine of American Affairs. Mr. Stein's answer to his own question is at least different.

Brushing aside the American intellectual leaders and educators pointing up the lack of interest, the apathy, the embarrassing lack of knowledge of the typical American studen't, Stein characterizes the student of 1952 as "more mature than ever before". This startling conclusion is said to have its basis in the authors survey of over 100 colleges and Universities where he "talked with College Presidents, Deans, Professors, guidance counselors (oh, yes) and students".

"Unfortunately," says surveyor Stein, "An account of several dozen brawling, rioting students makes more dramatic reading than the story of 2½ million young men and women going quietly and efficiently about the business of learning".

He is at least half-right. The American student is quiet; too quiet. That is the point of the millions of words written not by surveyors but by men who make a business of Education.

The American student is enveloped in silence. Not the silence of understanding but the silence of disinterest, acquiescence and fear.

His disinterest is manifest in his seeming inability to question, his willingness to accept the oversimplification and superfluity he is exposed to in his perfunctory examination of contemporary life. His examined which guarantee all the truth and knowledge and truth of the ages—for only ten cents.

He is a victim of the creeping virus of acquiescence which has gripped our Nation within recent years. It is disturbing to find this on Main Street, but terrifying to find its savage grip in the colleges and Universities of the United States.

Universities throughout the ages have been perhaps the last stronghold of rationality in era of world orgy. This has been achieved by dedication to ideals of objectivity or as near that Utopia as man is permitted. Investigation—no matter where it might lead, and a recognition that from difference of opinion and free intercourse of ideas comes understanding.

He does not question the status quo. He fears non-conformity and snuggle up to security.

Gone are the breed of collegian who "shot for the skies." The student of 1952 is content to plod along the path well worn by others. He dares not look at the heavens.

There are those who defend this attitude as they say it merely reflects what has no illusions. Its an easy step from here to say he has no hope.

The Editors of the Flambeau ask Mr. Stein—is this "pre-baptism faithlessness" maturity?

'NO ROAD BACK' FOR CITIZENS OF '52

By LACY BALDY

On September 30, 1951 John Grey stood looking at the passing night beside the still dark waters of the Saskatchewan. John, a boyhood friend, had just spoken to me quietly: "I'm going to make a run to Russia", he said, "as if nothing were going to happen—as long as I can."

December 23, 1951 was just an ordinary day, just one of those brief autumnal days of winter which soon dwindle to darkness and lengthening cold. The sun on the meridian of New York City had risen at 7:23 a.m. and at 4:42 p.m. it had set. Darkness had gotten out of their beds, gone about their various devious ways and then come home again. And our little globe had rolled on through the darkened alleyways of space—a lonesome traveler lost in the blue shadows of a boundless universe.

Yes, it was just an ordinary day. It was the day that United States Secretary of State Dean Acheson said, "We are not yet 'over the hump'. . . In the contest between a better future and a return to the Dark Ages". It was the day that Kumanekaya Pravda boasted of Red "wars of liberation" in Indo China, Malaya, the Philippines, Formosa, and Western setbiak in Egypt, and Iran: the day that Mrs. Soong Mei-ling Chiang, Mrs. Turner told the Chinese Communists at the Panmunjom conference, "We have now conceded to your unreasonable terms all the Communists asked. From this moment we have and shall have nothing to propose". It was the day that the Chinese Army announced development of "bacteriological weapons to shoot around corners. It was quite an ordinary day.

Yet, as I walked, I felt upon my ear in the stillness of the night the wonderful, fearful, awful sting. I suddenly felt that the world was well on its way to Hell.

I knew what John meant. I knew he meant that there is much that is possible, going to turn his back on all the strife and conflict of the world, that he had decided that all the glaring evils in the world around us—the monstrous and perverse relations between power and servitude; between privilege and privilege and discrimination—were inevitable because they had always been the curse of man and were the prime conditions of this being. I knew that he, too, had been conquered by the sorrowful acquiescence of resigned fatality.

I knew also that these things are not so much because of the words he had just spoken but by the little daily philosophy of fatalism which had shown through the commonplace actions of the few preceding days that we had been together. It was the philosophy that lies at the root, not for rational advance, that man is only a helpless atom in a shifting environment, that he is not a free creature who must peer at brightness of world. Fate is fate, strag. Until Time tips him gently and he falls to death—a long way.

John spoke of his childhood days like one in love. And they were pleasant days and it is well to remember them. But I did not tell him that he could not go back to childhood back to the sweet untrodden moments of youth back to the ivory tower, back to the cottage by the sea—away from all the strife and conflict of the world. I did not tell him there was no road back.

Education Board

(Continued From Page 1)

pendiures in the South have been for Negro education.

President Bell observes that "for five years now the Board has operated mainly on funds taken from its own capital and from contributions of $1,500,000 per year supplied by the Rockefeller Foundation. This support from the Foundation will continue during 1952 and 1953. In addition, The Rockefeller Foundation in December, 1951, made a further terminal appropriation to the Board for its southern program. This grant consisted of securities having a market value of $2,000,000 and a further pledge of $2,000,000 to be paid subsequently in cash."

ROBERT D. CALKINS, Vice-President and Director of the Board said in 1951 when he became President of the Brookings Institution, declares in the report that more has been accomplished in the last 50 years in the field of southern education than was originally believed possible. Excerpts from the report follow:

"In education as in other fields the South needs more activities that are thoroughly and gradually 'second to none,' but justifiably 'better than all others.' No influence would be more wholesome or far reaching than promising examples to demonstrate convincingly that the South can of its own volition create and maintain achievements that by the highest standards are acclaimed everywhere as genuinely first-rate. The way is open for those who will take the lead.

"DURING the half century of its intimate association with southern education, the Board has observed kaleidoscopic change. It has seen the flow and ebb of advance and retreat, the strong thrusts and the helpless inertia, the ambitions and the frustrations, the coming and going of educational personnel, the oppressive grip of circumstance and the triumphant power of leadership that make the history of American education. In few departments of American life other than education does one find short-run pessimism so continuously foreboding and the long-run achievements so encouraging. The South's present patience and a keen eye to discern, in the changing educational scene, the seeds of future good in misfortune, the slow but definite progress that lies beneath the daily discouragements.

GREAT ADVANCES NOTED

"The public school system had hardly begun and private academies were the most part served the function of secondary schools. The few boys who obtained more than a rudimentary education went to state universities. Moreover, the expenditures on education in relation to personal incomes were low. Even the themselves testimony of the southerners' determination to have education and a willingness to support it. Anyone making such comparisons must take into account the pace at which sound educational improvements proceed, may be encouraged by what has—now prospects for education in the South.

MOVING AT ACCELERATED PACE

"The task of building an educational system of credit to the South and to the nation is still in progress and far from finished, but the South is moving at an accelerated pace.

"THE GENERAL Education Board is proud to have had some part in facilitating this progress of southern education. But credit for the achievement belongs to the South. Early in its activities the General Education Board concluded that a modern educational system could be developed in the South only if it were built by the southern people themselves. In consequence the General Education Board has tried to help those who were in the vanguard pushing ahead to improve education and it has scrupulously avoided any usurpation of their function. This restraint in the success depended on building educators as well as educational systems and as almost his only evenne to education. Now he has a system of public schools, elementary and secondary, many of which are being equalized as an encouraging rate. Then a few industrial training schools and a few church-supported colleges offered them only pretext of higher education for a handful of Negro colleges. Then scarcely a thousand negroes attended high schools and colleges, now over 67,-000 are enrolled in the Negro colleges. Then Negroes rarely went to graduate schools of state institutions for white students in the South.

"IF ONE should compare the capital, land, buildings, endowments, budgets and capital expenditures, the Negro colleges have made striking. Moreover, the expenditures on education in relation to personal incomes were low. Even the themselves testimony of the southerners' determination to have education and a willingness to support it. Anyone making such comparisons must take into account the pace at which sound educational improvements proceed, may be encouraged by what has—now prospects for education in the South.

MOVING AT ACCELERATED PACE

"The task of building an educational system of credit to the South and to the nation is still in progress and far from finished, but the South is moving at an accelerated pace.

"THE GENERAL Education Board is proud to have had some part in facilitating this progress of southern education. But credit for the achievement belongs to the South. Early in its activities the General Education Board concluded that a modern educational system could be developed in the South only if it were built by the southern people themselves. In consequence the General Education Board has tried to help those who were in the vanguard pushing ahead to improve education and it has scrupulously avoided any usurpation of their function. This restraint in the success depended on building educators as well as educational systems and

THE EDITORS POST

WOMEN AT CONVENTIONS 'NAUSEATING'

By STAN SCHMIDT

"And this land of plenty, this haven for the oppressed of every nation where tyranny dwells . . ."

"The Democratic Party of Illinois is responsible for twenty years of the greatest prosperity ever seen on the face of the earth . . ."

"I hate war, I have a reason to hate war—my husband and son were killed in America's two wars . . ."

Those clobberings issuing from Chicago squad, if not surpass in sublimity, in fourth of July stumping done two weeks ago at the gathering of the GOP.

The same old high-sounding generalities are as always terrifically nauseating. It's all very well to hear all the grubby-fingered politicos wax lyrical about motherhood, God, and our forefathers, but it leads one to wonder when the political leaders of our country've got some real worthy something the ye quotes out for their speeches.

Will will have to commit to memory are going to break down and say something. Am I displaying naivete? Were the political leaders of the U. S. always so stupid? Or have they managed to bury the ideology that made America under a welter of senseless weasel words.

The quotes of each convention have on behalf of their party taken credit for everything done well since the Sermon on the Mount, and blamed the opposition for everything from the Korean War to the seven-year itch.

Governor Stevenson called on the Democrats to "admit their mistakes." Mistakes? There was a brief minute of uneasy silence. Would Stevenson's head roll down Michigan Avenue?

Over a thousand middle aged Babbits patted their respective cummins, overwormed with thus, hands of pounds of fine-chopped choice victuals, and felt a warm glow of satisfaction at their own liberality.

Men parading their stupidity are bad enough. But the newest wrinkle of letting women sound off from the Convention platform is particularly nauseating.

If possible, they manage to say even less than their male counterpart and take longer doing it. One efficient, Gardner-like type of woman had the mettle-struck lack of taste to dirty up the sanctities of her son and husband killed in action by throwing their names to the unconcerned hordes to add weight to her words. Her words needed all the weight they could bee, borrow, or steal.

It is the opinion of this column that such honest, forthright man finding his way into a convention would be hailed as a Messiah or kicked out on his honest tail. The latter is more probable.

OFF THE CUFF

PRESIDENTS MERELY 'FATHER SYMBOLS'

By BRUCE GALPHIN

To interpret the complex a situation as the election of a president, to reduce the problem in terms of one cause or one set of causes is to be guilty of gross oversimplification. There is one important contributing factor, however which is generally overlooked.

That factor is the personal and attachment of the American public to the chief executive. This attachment is not my purpose to lay clear importance to such an attachment, I shall merely discuss one pas major attention to this neglected consideration.

Saying that the people feel a certain closeness to their president is not to say that they love him. Hitler's people love large masses of people who would, in fact, support his every movement. Still, generalizing to the majority situation, it is fairly safe to say that in the governmental figures, the president is the one to whom people look as a symbol of security.

Again generalizing to the majority, I believe it is true that people feel the president is a sort of father figure. This feeling stands by them against a hostile Congress and a troubled world.

Certainly this feeling of years there has not been much idealism in the United States Congress; all that seems to have been only a sluggish inertia with few pleasant peaks. The legislative branch, Democrats and Republicans alike, has been particularly bad in the service to the demands of lobbies and other pressure groups.

Take housing. When housing facilities were at a minimum and needed it most, it was a plan proposed that the government con-

LET'S FACE IT

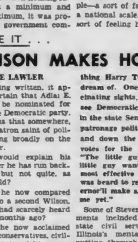
STEVENSON MAKES HONEST POLITICIANS

By GENE LAWLER

As this is being written, it appears nearly certain that Adlai E. Stevenson will be nominated for president of the Democratic party. If he is, it seems that somehow, somehow, the patron saint of politicians will be looking kindly on the Illinois governor.

What else would explain his nomination after he has run backwards almost, but not quite, as hard as he can?

Why else is he now compared to Lincoln, or to a second Wilson, by people who have had hard heads of him a few months ago?



Why else is he now proclaimed by liberals and conservatives, civil-righters and states-righters, reformers, and those not-to-be-reformed?

Indeed, why else is Adlai Stevenson getting serious consideration for extreme good fortune? In 1948, he was elected governor, Harry Just happened to bring Stevenson to the notice of Chicago boss Jake Arvey. Stevenson became that he would rather run for the Senate, Arvey decided." Stevenson to run for governor.

The Stevenson administration of Illinois has been at courses, one to delight the most particular voter. Immediately following the Democratic landslide by more than $72,000 votes, Adlai set in to clean up the mess boss left by his Republican predecessor.

Stevenson's manner of cleaning up was decidedly unusual. Instead of sweeping out the Republicans and sweeping in the Democrats, he shopped around for the best men he could get regardless of their politics. Jake Arvey, confronted by an indignant old patronage man, was wise enough to observe, "Good government will get us more votes in the long run than jobs will."

Adlai's relations with a hostile legislature have been some-

Reprinted from March 1952 issue of Esquire

Copyright 1952 by Esquire, Inc.

"I've done my best to cheer him up, Doctor, always telling him to forget losing his job . . . forget the bills piling up . . . forget the threat of ill health . . . forget . . .

thing Harry Truman can only dream about. Stevenson has accumulating sights, they say, was to see Democratic minority leader in the state Senate, a retound old pro in the business, sitting in and down the aisles carrying votes for the governor's bills. "The little guy wants it," was the little guy wants it," was his most effective plea." Once he was heard to say, "Maybe Stevenson'll make an honest man of me yet."

Some of Stevenson's accomplishments included broadening the state civil service, modernizing Illinois's mental hospitals, and putting through 78 proposals for reorganizing the state government. One of his best-publicized actions was his crackdown on gambling, accompanied by a sincere appeal to local governments to accept state responsibility for law enforcement.

Today candidate from a pivotal state with a record like Stevenson's is naturally a top contender. But when he is a persuasive speaker with a warm voice and a pleasing personality, and when he has the best political orator since FDR, he is an ideal candidate.

The Republicans will find it in the Democratic record is criticize. If they object to his character deposition in the Alger Hiss case, for instance, they will be called a grave injustice. Says Adlai of his testimony favorable to Hiss, "I just can't imagine what people would have expected me to do . . . If I were on the jury I would do the same questions tomorrow, in fact honestly I would have to give the same answers . . ."

In Stevenson the Democrats can offer a candidate of undisputed integrity, with intelligent and liberal views on domestic policy, and a long preoccupation with foreign affairs, including experience as an alternate delegate to the United Nations.

It looks very much as though Stevenson, the reluctant candidate, will enjoy another broad smile come November.

Clay Figures

By STELLA CLAY

Perhaps inspired by convention fever, Stella Clay turns this week to modern government and economics in three figures: "Arena," "Devaluation" and "Labor Market."

ARENA

Ideals exist
So kids can slug it out
And men can kill,
Hating each other and themselves
But blaming it on phraseologies.

DEVALUATION

The Christ,
A Hoffman portrait—
Sold by Pilate to Iscariot;
Democracy,
A Legion poster—
Sold by Hearst to Joe McCarthy.

LABOR MARKET

A whistle pierces sunlit space,
And men go back to work, with red bandanas binding sweaty heads:
"Cheez, double time for overtime—
And then yuh get laid off."
Homo Economicus!

Music Dean Says Near-By Campers Contributed Much

Surveying the accomplishments of this summer's Music Camp Dean Karl Eurnsteiner said the following: "Individual growth has contributed much to the success of the camp.

There were a total of 43 from the local area enrolled, he said, and Tallahassees were among those who had the most dependent campers.

June Barnette and Mary Frances Horn won the coveted camp Citizenship Awards, Mary Frances receiving a bronze award for the second year, and June a silver award for the second year. June also received the Music Achievement Award in the band division; the award is a $15.00 engraved bond given by an anonymous local donor. Mary Frances received an Additional Award for her work as representative of the day students in the camp.

Eight Tallahassee students had the distinction of being awarded scholarships for the camp, the scholarships being given by local donors.

In addition to these honors Tallahasee students appeared on student recitals and won prizes in athletic competitions.

Izdebsky Gives

(Continued From Page 1)

popular among each of the most advanced sculptors of our time, of building the sculptor's figure around a supporting metal armature by using applications of wire to carry small amounts of plaster.

MANY SCULPTORS feel that working in the round is the best way a greater spontaneity and vitality since the material may suggest forms and treatments as the work progresses. "Growth" liberally translated under the auspices of the VA paid tuition and other costs connected with education and also paid eligible veterans a monthly subsistence allowance. Although the law took effect on July 1, 1952, no training allowances may be paid for any period prior to August 20.

Eligibility requirements for the Korean GI Bill are similar to those of its include: a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable; active service any time after June 27, 1950; and at least 90 days' active service, unless discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

THOSE INTERESTED in more information about the new bill may obtain it from the local VA office, Post-a-Grille Regional Office, P. O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

Flambeau

EDITORIAL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—STAN SCHMIDT
Managing Editor ..... Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Conkling
Columnists ..... Dan Hitch
Gene Lawler
Flambeau Photographer ..... Mimi Patterson

BUSINESS

Business Manager ..... Lou Calderoni
Asst. Business Manager ..... Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered June 2, 1950, at the post office at Tallahassee, Florida, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Published semi-weekly during the school year of Florida State University.

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y.

Presidents Appointed

(Continued From Page 1)

port of the expenses of their training and living costs. Tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment will not be paid by the government; instead, they will have to be paid out of the monthly allowance.

Rates for veterans in full-time training in schools and colleges are $115 a month, if they have no dependents; $135 if they have one dependent, and $160 if they have more than one dependent. Those in training less than full time will receive lower monthly rates.

TOP MONTHLY amounts for on-the-farm training are $70 without dependents; $85 with one dependent, and $105 with more than one dependent. The maximum for institutional on-farm trainees are $110, $130 and $150 respectively. The training rates for on-farm rates be reduced, at four-month intervals, as the training progresses and the veterans own earnings increase.

The law also specifies that veterans taking institutional on-farm training must devote full time to their program.

THE NEW GI Bill places a $130-a-month ceiling on job training, regardless of dependency status. Should a veteran's training allowance plus his earnings at a trade exceed this amount, VA will reduce the allowance accordingly. There's no ceiling, however, on what he may earn.

A veteran will get his monthly allowance some time after the end of each month of training completed. Before the VA can pay him, the law requires a certification from both the veteran's school or training establishment, that he was enrolled in and training his course during that period.

THIS NEW METHOD of payment differs from procedures followed under previous veterans' training laws in that the veteran's VA paid tuition and other costs connected with education and also paid eligible veterans a monthly subsistence allowance. Although the law took effect on July 1, 1952, no training allowances may be paid for any period prior to August 20.

Eligibility requirements for the Korean GI Bill are similar to those of its include: a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable; active service any time after June 27, 1950; and at least 90 days' active service, unless discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

THOSE INTERESTED in more information about the new bill may obtain it from the local VA office, Post-a-Grille Regional Office, P. O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

may wish to study the work and it is hoped that "Growth" will be the beginning of a nationally known collection of sculpture.

OLYMPIC REPORT

By TOM CONKLING

According to reports from Helsinki, the Soviet Union won the combined team events of the Olympic gymnastics tournament with Switzerland, Finland, Germany and Japan trailing in that order.

Among the thirty-five nations entered from all corners of the globe, the United States squad with F. S. U.'s Bill Roethenm and Don Holder finished a strong eighth. The U. S. gym team tallied 543.30 points compared to Russia's winning score of 574.40.

Although Russia's margin of triumph over the American team was decisive, nevertheless it was a vast improvement over past U. S. performances in this ancient sport.

The United States, however, could have fared much better had their chosen specialists for the gymnastic meet. Specialists are gymnasts who direct their efforts to only one or two events out of the six that make up a champion-ship gymnastic meet.

These specialists invariably out-score the all-around men on their apparatus events. Since the U. S. squad is made up of the nation's top eight all-around men our squad is weak-er in individual events.

The sum of the U. S. in the past has to place high in the all-around while hoping for the best from the all-around performers on each apparatus. However the plan terrified this year.

A letter received from Bill Roethenm prior to the Olympic Games he stated,

"The Olympic Gymnastics ad-ministrators have decided to abolish the all-around events in parties. Since our squad is made up of all-around men, this news comes as a real blow. Our chances now are mighty slim.

The meet now will be scored according to how the top five men in each event place. The other squads here are loaded with specialists. Our team should be chosen accordingly in the future."

In an intra-squad meet held prior to the Olympic Games in Helsinki Bill Roethenm won first places on the horizontal bar and side horse. As a result of this and other such meets in which he paved the way, Roethenm has left no doubt that he is still the na-tion's number one gymnast.

How Roethenm or Don Holder fared in the Olympic meet is not yet known. However, Roethenm was still hospitalized for an in-testinal ailment just two days be-fore the meet was held.

As to how he was treated in the Finland hospital Bill wrote,

"There Finns are the friend-liest people that I have ever had anything to de with. I asked for a book to read and they brought me fifty books. I asked about world news and they brought me a sheet wave radio."

According to F.S.U.'s Don Holder the athletes are treated like heroes, especially by the youth of Finland.

"I feel like a movie star," says Don. "Wherever I go I am mobbed by autograph seekers."

THE CHAMP, Dick Gutting executes a loophy on the trampoline while Pat Farrell, ace Seminole diver and newcomer to the "tramp" catches.

Both agree that wether condi-tions leave much to be desired. The weather throughout the games has been extremely cool with long showers putting the damper on outdoor training.

It is interesting to note that the nation's best side horse and long horse performers, Gene Rabbitt and Jack Miles of F.S.U. would have been a tremendous lift to the U. S. team, had the team been chosen from the top qualifiers on each apparatus rather than solely from all-around performances.

However, the Olympics as far as gymnastics is concerned is over for another four years. Let us hope that the next gym-nastic team from the U. S. con-sists of specialists as well as men like Roethenm, Sloat and Holder who are noted for their all-around consistency.

Then and only then will the U. S. gymnasts gain the recogni-tion that is due them, that of the world's best, as far as skill, co-ordination and daring are con-cerned our Roethenms and Stouts have no peers, not even in Com-munistic Russia, where an athlete must produce or else.

Parker Explains Work Of Kindergarten Dept.

They call them the "forgotten under sixes."

They are the thousands of Florida children between five and six years old, whose parents would like to enter them in public-supported kindergartens where they could be assured of qualified teachers, safe, healthful housing and proper equipment.

Like the one in Tallahassee most of them usually have long waiting lists. Miss Edna Parker, Florida State University associate professor of education, says only a small percentage of the state's eligible children now have an op-portunity to attend a state-supervised kindergarten.

SHE OUGHT to know, since she has just been reelected for her second term as president of the Department of Kindergarten Pri-mary Education in the National Education Association.

Elected with Miss Parker also for her second term as depart-ment secretary was Miss Elizabeth Hamlin, FSU assistant professor of education.

MISS PARKER says even as far back as 1855 the need for properly operated and supervised kinder-gartens was recognized by the NEA. The kindergarten-primary education department was one of the first departments to be organ-ized in the NEA.

She explained the purposes of the department are to unite kin-dergarten - primary teachers throughout the country for the discussion of questions pertaining to this field of education and to promote a better understanding of basic educational principles as ap-plied to all grades.

ALSO TO acquaint the public with the intellectual, emotional, physical and social values through wisely organized kindergarten and primary work. To work for higher standards in the selection and training of teachers in the early elementary field, to initiate and support movements for the wel-fare of children and teachers and to conduct and cooperate in re-search studies for the furtherance of kindergarten-primary educa-tion.

Both Miss Parker and Miss Hamlin agree that any indiffer-ence to public tax-supported kin-dergarten comes from failure to really understand and appreciate the values of a well organized kin-dergarten. They say primary teachers fully know the values of kindergarten education and can readily tell the difference in those children who have had kindergar-ten education and those who have not.

THEY SAY among the many benefits kindergarten programs offer children are: opportunities to participate in activities that promote physical well-being, such as play, good health practices, safety measures and periods of rest; opportunities to develop readiness for learning basic skills through such activities as problem solving, story telling, cooperative planning and evaluating of plans; and, chances for self-expression and artistic creation in areas of music, art, dramatic play and rhythms.

There are only seven of the en-tire 67 Florida counties which have public supported kindergar-tens. Under the state's minimum foundation law counties can pro-vide public kindergartens by add-ing five percent more to their share of the minimum foundation fund allocations for public educa-tion. Because of the ceiling on appropriations and crowded school buildings expansion of the kin-dergarten program in Florida has been limited.

MISS PARKER and Miss Ham-lin agree there is usually a need for a public-supported kindergar-ten wherever there is a public school system even though there are some excellent privately-oper-ated kindergartens which meet the standards set up by the NEA.

Freedom to disprove is the in-surance of certainty.—H. M. Kal-len.

FLAMASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
"My Six Convicts"
With Millard Mitchell and Gilbert Roland

STATE
Thru to July 29th
"Lure of the Wilderness"
With Jean Peters and Jeffrey Hunter

RITZ
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
"The Old West"
With Gene Autry
plus
"Disc Jockey"
With Michael O'She.

DRIVE-IN
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
"Honeychile"
With Judy Canova
Plus
"Trail Guide"
With Tim Holt
Plus 2 Cartoons

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT SEE A MOVIE NOW!

I mean by "intellectual" the man whose business is to specu-late upon the essential problems of his age.—Harold J. Laski.

Western civilization . . . owes its main triumphs to its habits of experimenting with taboos. —Harold J. Laski.

The railroad trestle across Great Salt Lake is 30 miles long

Holland's Restaurant
Complete Soda Fountain & Restaurant Service
Facing the Capitol at 106 East Pensacola St
Tallahassee, Florida
Excellent Food at All Hours
Air Conditioned

Paul Turner
JEWELER - WATCHMAKER
KEEPSAKE DIAMONDS
102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

TUNE INTO 660
WFSU
YOUR CAMPUS STATION FOR THE LATEST IN News
Music
Time Checks
660 WFSU 660

Fine Portraits at Reasonable Prices
AUGUST GRADUATES MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENTS FOR GRADUATION PORTRAITS NOW.
John Charles
106 West Jefferson Phone 3-0115

Don't Settle For Just a Place to Eat
Try The
Amber House
SEE, TASTE and FEEL The Difference . . .
The Amber House
FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE
New Air-Conditioned For Your Comfort

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION
Formerly Meats Service Station
546 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Sell Your Books At
MALONE'S BOOK STORE
No Bus to Take Just Walk On Over
MALONE'S
107 S. Copeland
BETWEEN THE MECCA AND THE AMBER HOUSE

Today's SPORTEST

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Writer

QUESTIONS

1—What major leaguer once doubled into a double play?

2—What are the three "appeal" plays in baseball — infractions which the umpire does not call unless the rival team brings them to his attention?

3—Who won 20 or more games for 10 straight seasons, only to slump to eight victories in a sea-son that saw him pitch his first no-hitter?

HOOHER?

HE was a rookie stand-out with the White Sox in 1949 but was sidelined by an injury. This year, he was traded to the Athletics and led the Amer-ican league in runs-batted-in and home runs. Who is he?

ANSWERS

1—Babe Ruth to Everett Scott to Joe Dugan.

2—Batter out of order; runner on third missing base.

3—Walter Johnson.

REMEMBER Bertha Cooke
SUMMER CLEARANCE
AUG. 1st & 2nd
DRESSES
HATS
STRAW BAGS
TEE SHIRTS
COTTON SHIRTS
COTTON GOWN
PLAY SUITS
ALL at 1/2 PRICE
Bertha Cooke

Dionysius Cato prescribed:
"Mingle your cares with pleasure now and then" Disticha De Moribus
Make that pleasure an ice-cold Coca-Cola and you'll tip the scales from care to cheer.
5¢
DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
© 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Lightening Makes Big Mess, No Injuries Reported at Dorm

Two rare circumstances combined last Monday to neutralize each other and turn a potential tragedy into a remediable mess.

A bolt of lightning, accompanied by a tremendous crash of thunder, struck a flue at the edge of the North Cawthon courtyard and flung large and small chunks of brick all about.

ONE HUGE slab completely demolished a projecting dormer in the dormitory, coming to rest atop the room's bed. Had the room been occupied at the time, the roomer would surely have been badly injured if not killed, but according to Anne F. Pope, head women's counselor, it was not being used at all this summer.

Another large piece of brick and mortar fell into the court and bent an iron railing into impressive U's, while numerous small pieces added to the debris.

MISS POPE said she was in her office when she heard the terrific crash and the falling of debris. She literally ran to the fourth floor but found no one at all was harmed by the discharge. One girl was crossing the courtyard at the time of the destruction was badly frightened but in no other way hurt.

A fire department truck was summoned but found no work to be done, as building proved to be really fire-proof.

WITHIN a matter of minutes Florida State University workmen were on the job, clearing the debris from the roof, so as to prevent further damage by loose pieces.

AN FSU COED had a narrow escape as lightening struck a chimney of Cawthon Hall during Mondays storm. Falling brick from the chimney caused the shin in the dormer window at lower right.

AN INTERIOR VIEW shows the damage caused by the falling bricks from the lightening-wrecked chimney of Cawthon. Damage was estimated at $7,500.

VA Announces New Procedure In Repair Work

More than 20,000 seriously disabled veterans who use wheel chairs because of service-connected disabilities will soon be able to get emergency repairs for them without prior Veterans Administration approval, CA announced Tuesday.

Veterans who wear prosthetic arms and legs, hearing aids, and orthopedic braces and blind veterans who use such appliances as recording machines and typewriters already are receiving this type of emergency repair service from commercial concerns.

ELIGIBLE wheel chair veterans are suffering from a variety of service-connected disabilities including paralysis of legs from spinal cord injuries, polio and certain types of amputations VA Regional Offices across the country will soon begin to issue a new "prosthetic service card — wheel chairs" to each veteran entailing him to the new service. The Regional Office at Pass-a-Grille has begun issuance of these cards. These wheel chair veterans will get prompt service from commercial concerns or VA when they need emergency repairs.

UPON PRESENTATION of the prosthetic service card at any commercial repair shop, the veteran may receive emergency repairs up to a limit of $15 for each wheel chair.

On-the-spot eligibility for repairs of wheel chairs at any of the 30 VA orthopedic shops located throughout the country also can be established by this card.

HERETOFORE, veterans had to obtain prior approval from VA before emergency repairs to wheel chairs could be authorized. This is still true if the veteran does not have a "Prosthetic Service Card—Wheel Chair."

Beauticians To Gather For Advanced Courses

Beauty culture teachers and professional beauticians from all sections of Florida are enrolling with the State Board of Beauty Culture in Tallahassee to attend the annual Teachers and Beauticians Advanced Training Course August 4-15 at the board of examinations room in the Caldwell building.

Arrangements for the annual beauty culture training course are in charge of members of the State Board, Jackie Dorr, Hazel D. Manson, and Janet B. Hatch. As in past years Florida State University in Tallahassee will cooperate by furnishing faculty members as lecturers for the course. Dr. Charles B. Davis, associate dean of the FSU College of Arts and Sciences, said.

MORE THAN 200 beauty culture teachers and professional beauticians are expected to attend the annual training course designed to offer study, training and professional demonstrations in the latest and most advanced methods of beauty culture, according to Ethel M. Manning, State Board executive secretary.

The services of Comer Spyrell, Los Angeles, nationally known authority on beauty culture, as a guest artist and instructor in advanced hair styling, have been obtained for the Florida state training course. He is one of the principal organizers of the Los Angeles unit of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association and served three terms as its first president. In addition he has served for two terms as director of the state organizations and is also a vice-president of the national organization.

COMER HAS designed many coiffures for such movie stars as Hedy Lamarr, Lauren Bacall, Ginger Rogers, Ruth Hussey, Charlotte Greenwood, Linda Christian and Patricia Neal. Last year he not only designed the hair styles for Julie Bishop and others in the motion picture production of "Why Men Leave Home," but also had an important role in the picture himself.

Other instructors for the beauty training course include Mrs. Ada Hart, expert on hair coloring; Dr. Harry Walborsky, FSU chemist, who will teach "Chemistry of Cosmetics," and Mrs. Katherine Hoffman, also of the FSU Department of Chemistry.

UNDER TERMS of Florida's beauty culture law, at least once every two years all registered beauty culture teachers are required to attend a course of study and training sponsored by the state board for not less than two weeks. This course includes lecturers and professional demonstrators expert in the latest and most advanced methods of beauty culture and is made available to registered beauticians as well as beauty culture teachers.

Florida now has a total of some

Army Now Making Complex Gunsight

In the past 18 months, an automotive plant that normally confines itself to making transmissions has become a volume producer of range finders for tank guns.

The factory's new product, officially known as the "T41," is used to aim the cannon of medium tanks with deadly accuracy.

MORE THAN an ordinary gunsight, it is a complex optical, electronic and mechanical device that also adjusts the gun for target range and movement.

In addition it gives the gunner such information as the exact distance to the target, the type of ammunition the finder is set for, and data for estimating any error in previous firings.

ON DECEMBER 6, 1950, an automotive company received a contract from the government to build large quantities of the newly perfected device.

Although the original T41 had been manufactured in small quantities, production tools and machines available were inadequate for mass production.

IT, THEREFORE, was necessary for special tools to be designed and built during an intensive five-month period of preparation.

Weeks of work formerly were required to produce a single special gear, but new types of gear cutting machines now do the same job in a few hours.

A NEW technique for bonding glass to plas without the use of metal or metal fastenings was developed which improved the range finder's accuracy and cut production costs.

Actual machining operations began within four months after the contract was received, although the plant had been only partially tooled by that time.

THREE COMPLETE range finders were delivered four months later, and fullscale output followed rapidly.

Despite the problems of setting into volume production, all units requested in the original contract were delivered on schedule. Moreover, the job was done at a lower price than the contract called for. Three additional contracts have more than quadrupled the original order.

WHEN THE first contract was received, scheduled production required only 90,000 square feet of working space in the transmission plant.

Since then, the operation has expanded until it now covers 300,000 square feet, and the firm is planning range finder for use in heavy tanks.

FROM AN original force of 12 men, employment on the T41 project has grown to a total of 1,700. Many of the employes were transferred from the company's civilian operations.

So exacting are the specifications for T41 parts that it was necessary to provide employes with special training in precision techniques.

CERTAIN assembly operations must be carried on under carefully controlled temperatures and atmospheric conditions. It humidity drops below 35 per cent, lint sticks to the optical glass.

Employes in several assembly, adjusting and testing operations must wear nylon shirts or smocks to keep the air free of lint.

OPTICAL PARTS and precision mechanical components are stored in covered plastic trays to keep them free of foreign matter.

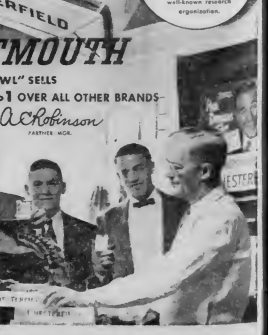
Not only is the range finder accurate and complex, but it is tough. Its delicately balanced mechanisms must be able to hold their accuracy while riding in a tank turret under the roughest combat conditions.

BEFORE BEING delivered to the government each T41 is rubjected to a rugged and thorough series of tests.

Completed units are checked for accuracy in sub-zero cold, in sweltering heat and while being mercilessly vibrated.

SO THAT temperature changes will not affect the range finder's accuracy in the field, dry nitrogen is sealed inside its leakproof case.

SPECIAL
EVERY TUESDAY
FILET MIGNON
Only $1.00
at
Seven Seas
SERVED ALL DAY TUESDAY



Superb Service
Keeps Your Car
In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO
SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

JUST WHAT YOU'VE BEEN WAITING FOR . . .
ENTIRE STOCK of SWIM SUITS
(NONE HELD BACK)
NOW
1/3 Off
MAYERON'S
College Ave. at Adams

FINAL CLEARANCE SALE
On LADIES SUMMER SHOES
Friday and Saturday ONLY
Casuals And Dress Shoes
Values to $13.95
Now $5.85 pr.
• A Must For Every Woman
• You Can't Afford to Miss It
Extra Special,
Handbags Drastically Reduced
Turner's

Hamilton
The Fine American Watch
RAYMOR
17 JEWEL
STAINLESS STEEL
55.00
OUR TERMS
WILL PLEASE YOU
Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
American Gem Society

FIRST CHOICE OF COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN
MUCH MILDER
Chesterfield
CIGARETTES
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
CHESTERFIELD
NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*
*From the report of a well-known research organization.
AT DARTMOUTH
"THE INDIAN BOWL" SELLS
CHESTERFIELD 2 to 1 OVER ALL OTHER BRANDS
A. C. Robinson
PASTIMES MGR.

Recreation Calendar

Friday, July 25 — Graduate Recital, Vernon Raines, pianist, 8 p.m. Music Hall.

Movie, Amphitheater, 8 p.m. When Willie Comes Marching Home.

Saturday, July 26 — Social Dancing, Sunset Room and Terrace. Student Center, 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Jerry Kohler's Orchestra.

Tuesday, July 29—Ice Cream Social and informal get acquainted, 8:30 p.m Bryan-Reynolds Arcade.

Wednesday, July 30—Wakulla Trip. Leave Bryan Hall at 3 p.m. Swimming, glass-bottom boat rides, pay fees at the park. Trip free. Take sack supper. Return to Bryan Hall corner at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, July 31—Last of a series of BOOK REVIEWS presented by the Tallahassee American Association of University Women, at 4 p.m Gilchrist Hall.

Status Quo Patriots
Won't Face Change
See-Off The Cuff

Summer Flambeau

"Non-Political" Legion
Helped Elect Truman
See Lead Editorial

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 63 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, August 1, 1952

TB Meet Concludes Five Day Session

Related Emotional Problems Keynote Of Discussions About Rehabilitation

A conference dealing with the social, economic and emotional problems connected with tuberculosis will end here today after a week-long meeting.

Co-sponsored by the Florida State University School of Social Welfare and the Florida Tuberculosis and Health Association, the institute got under way last Monday.

Welcoming the group were Dr. A. S. Martin, vice-president of the university, and Coyle E. Moreadean of the School of Social Welfare, who predicted success for the meeting.

MRS. MAY MORRISON, executive secretary of the FTHA, said the death rate from TB has been cut in half in the last five years because of field surveys with mobile x-ray units and three modern hospitals built for that purpose.

Recognizing that recovery from the disease is the usual thing these days, the conferees set about to consider ways of helping patients to rehabilitate themselves.

PROFESSOR Gordon J. Aldridge of the Social Welfare School, said to do this demands that the modern treatment of ill persons goes far beyond their physical welfare.

He said teh patient must be assisted in such a manner as to want to get well through understanding on the part of those concerned with his welfare in all aspects of his social, economic and emotional life.

IN THEIR discussions dealing with the social, economic and emotional problems of the TB victims, his family and his concern over his illness and eventual return to a normal life, the conferees were offered from all aspects along with much research that the disease itself towards the patient's recovery.

The work of the conference was carried out in part by breaking into three discussion groups which met in the afternoons to talk over their problems in their field.

MRS. FRANCES B. Mutzen, of New York Board for Rehabilitation Service; E. B. Porter, assistant chief of the Division of Program Services, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation; and Miss Elizabeth Lester, of the Atlanta Social Workers Children's Bureau, led the discussion groups.

Other activities of the conference have included trips to the W. T. Edwards Memorial TB hospital in Tallahassee and to the Veterans Center Training center in Marianna.

SEVERAL STORIES and much talk ago—despite the decision of the Board of Control that the state could not appropriate more money for bricklayers' wage raises, work go on ahead at a good clip on the new skyscraper dorm. Part of the 50-year plan, the building may be ready by the fall of 1953.

Bricklayers' Wage Boost Cannot Authorize

Bricklayers working on the new 11-story skyscraper dormitory will not get a requested wage increase, it was learned last week.

At a meeting o fthe State Board of Control, it was decided that the additional increase in cost of $11,-000 the raise would entail could not be met.

G. R. GANDY of Tallahassee, secretary and business agent of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers local, and Richard Beers of Work Near End On Remodeling Alum Basement

The former game room in the basement of the Longmire building is in the final stages of a complete remodeling, according to Miss Jane Adams, director of the building.

The previously announced enlargement of the Alpha Phi Omega book exchange is nearly completed. The Exchange occupies between a third and a half of the old game room.

SHELVES have been installed and tables set up for business transactions. APO was formerly limited to a closet in the basement for storage.

Other features in the new exchange will be a reception desk and awning patio.

MISS ADAMS also commented that the Exchange space would henceforth be used by the service honorary for meetings.

Other changes which have been effected the Lonmire director said, have been the construction of two offices, which we not as yet been allocated.

PLANS FOR redecorating the remaining section of the room have not yet been completed. Miss Adams said. Rulers in the U.S. caused by expanding earth will have to be repaired first. This entails ripping up the tiles and providing for air spaces.

The rooms have received a new coat of pale green paint, and there will eat a new lounge furniture.

AT PRESENT there are no plans to make any changes in the men's or women's day student lounges.

Vets Find Training In Raising Melons Reaps Nice Profits

Institutional on-farm training under the GI Bill has paid off in handsome profits to three Florida World War II veterans who have just sent a crop of red ripe watermelons to market. The trio of melons has reached $1000 a carload for two carloads of melons, a premium of around $300 a car.

And if those choice watermelons with the Swanee River stamp cost the consumer around $2 a piece, the veterans will have received $1.32 of it—all the results of the GI training program that taught them all they know about melon raising. The veterans are Cecil Anderson, Joe Dennard and Arthur Hillhouse, who teamed up on 77 acres of peanut near Lake City, Florida. Their instructor under the GI Bill of Rights was Prof. A. A. Browning, Florida Vocational Agriculture teacher.

"THE SECRET of the success of the veterans," Mr. Browning said, "is that after they raised a good crop of melons they learned to grade and pack them properly. Their watermelons topped the market for the season here, and I suspect they topped it in New York when the broke."

This summer marks the end of training for all three veterans. Hillhouse and Dennard have already completed their courses, and Anderson will finish his within a few weeks.

"BUT WE'VE learned how to learn," the veterans say. "Even though our training is over, we'll continue to study to closer scrutiny. If this essay does nothing else for us, it will have achieved its purpose.

Depth Versus Breadth In Scholarship

The first of these may be described briefly as the depth-breadth question, ever since the introduction of the elective system in the high and secondary schools. The same arguments pro and con are represented today as they were since the system was introduced by Harvard and Brown some 75 years ago. The growing complexity of society and the broadened base of talents and interests have led to the ever-increasing student population have favored the spread of the system. The movement toward what is now called general education is aimed at providing a common core, some unity in the diversity, some foundation for all the heterogeneous background which was formerly provided in a relatively uniform curriculum on each of the levels—

(Continued on Page 2)

Faculty Assists In Beauty Meet

Several members of the Florida State University faculty in the Departments of Speech, Art and Social Welfare as lecturers for the annual State Board of Beauty Culture Teachers and Beauticians Conference held in Tallahassee August 4-15.

The FSU personnel taking part in the program include: Dr. Harry Walborsky and Mrs. Katherine Hoffman of the Department of Chemistry and Professors Fred Holschuh, Rudolph Jegart and Adolph Karl of the Department of Art.

BOTH DR. WALBORSKY and Mrs. Hoffman will discuss the chemistry of cosmetics while Mr. Holschuh will deal with the problems of the beauty parlor. Possible beauty parlors more attractive to customers, Mr. Jegart will discuss various approaches to advertising problems for the beauty parlor operator and Mr. Karl will give a series of talks on the history of cosmetics and culture as revealed in the ages of mankind.

All of the lecturers of the FSU Art Department faculty personally will be illustrated with slides or other demonstration materials.

Members of the State Board of Beauty Culture will be Homer Sypreit, Los Angeles, nationally known hair fashion expert and a vice-president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, as guest speaker and instructor.

More than 200 beauty parlor operators, teachers and beauticians will attend the annual training course which is in charge of Jackie Black, Miami Beach and Janet Hatch, board members of the State Board of Beauty Culture. Recording secretary of the M. Manning, board executive secretary.

Besides the two-week-day sessions, demonstrations and lectures will be held in the board examination room in the Call-Cadwell Building in Tallahassee.

Movie Will Denict Art Forger's Tale

A movie about a famous art forger will be shown in the FSU Science building on Wednesday, August 6.

The movie, sponsored by the FSU department of Art in conjunction with the Audio-Visual service is "Van Meergeran Forged Vermeers."

Van Meeeran was the famous forger of old masters accused of co-operating with the Nazis during the defense rested on the fact that the paintings that he sold to Hermann Goering and other high Nazis were imitations of Vermeer's work done by Van Meegeran himself. The story might never have been known were it not for the trials of Nazi sympathizers in Germany following World War II.

The Department of Art points out this program will be of interest to all with an appreciation of art and its history. Also all students if for showing of two other short films, "Alexander Calder" and "Fiddle-Dee-Dee."

Neel Says GI's Believe 'Policing' a Real War

"The war in Korea is in one sense a United Nations 'police action', but it is also war in a very real sense to the thousands of American troops who have fought there," A. C. Dr. Samuel Neel, associate professor of philosophy at Florida State University.

Dr. Neel, who has just returned to the campus after spending nearly a year's tour of duty as a chaplain in Korea, watched the tempo of the Korean war move from one of heavy fighting of last Summer and Fall to a more stable front during the cold Winter months.

ALL OF HIS time in Korea was spent with front line infantry troops. He had an opportunity for observation of Communists across the entire front.

He visited front line bunkers and held services in the "Windy Gap" sector in the east; in the Heartbreak Ridge, the Mundung-ni Valley, and the Kumsong Reservoir sectors in central Korea; and in the Kumiwa sector in the west.

DR. NEEL SAYS that although the United States helped its troops keep as warm as possible last Winter South Korea is a cold country, and he is mighty happy to be back to the invigorating warmth of Florida.

As he prepared to leave Korea he said that this country he saw heavy fighting flare up again during the Spring and Summer months. He says that he is convinced that the United Nations troops are well prepared and can

Commencement Set For Next August 13

Services Held in Amphitheater; Ivey to be Principle Speaker

At commencement exercises August 13, 8:00 p.m. over 300 students will receive degrees. The ceremonies will be held in the FSU Music amphitheater, unless the weather is much that it is not possible.

In the event of inclement weather the ceremonies will be held in Opperman Hall in the FSU Music Building.

OF THE STUDENTS who are candidates for degrees this summer, 175 are candidates for undergraduate degrees while 127 are candidates for advanced degrees. All of ithe candidates for advanced degrees except two are candidates for Master's degrees.

The speaker for the exercises is Dr. John E. Ivey, Jr., Atlanta, director of the board of Control for Southern Regional Education. Dr. Ivey, a native Floridian, is widely known for his contributions to the educational field.

THE OUTSTANDING educator received his B. S. degree from Alabama Polytechnic Institute and holds the Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina where his fields of study were sociology, state and regional planning and research administration.

At the Wednesday morning rehearsal tickets will be distributed to the graduates for their guests. In the event the ceremonies are held in the amphitheater, no tickets will be given one ticket, otherwise they will be given two.

THE Florida Chautauk Band, at the organ, will play the Processional and Recessional Marches. Also a member of the faculty composed of Walter James, tenor-Joan Jones, soprano, and Herman Goertner, Jr., baritone, will present held inside each student will be accompanied by Mrs. Pearl at the organ.

The overall direction of the graduation exercises has been in the hands of Royal Matice, associate professor of Geology.

The Geology building forms part of FSU's Fifty-Year plan, begun in 1947 and is the first classroom building to be constructed under it.

OTHER 50-YEAR plans buildings on campus that are under construction or have recently been completed include the old library dormitory to the west of Landis, the 11-story men's dorm in Tennessee Street and the Student Service Center

Plan Revamped For Financing Geology Bldg.

A new plan for financing Florida State University's $700,000 Geology building is being worked out by state Attorney General Richard Ervin.

"We hope to be able to start construction sometime in the Fall," says University Vice-President A. B. Martin, "Ruml now we are concerned with getting the best financial arrangement possible."

THE FLORIDA legislature appropriated $350,000 toward the cost of the building. Original plans called for issuing revenue certificates for the $350,000, to be paid off by rentals from the state and federal Geological Surveys.

A question as to constitutionality had been raised, however, since in effect that plan would commit state legislature to appropriations for the state survey during the future. A "y-o-operative" arrangement is now to be worked out, involving State Conservation Board and the Federal Board.

THE STRUCTURE is to be erected on the block-wide Woodward street, across from the new Student Service Center. Plans call for its two wings to house the FSU Geology Department and the State Geological Survey, with a museum in between the wings, to accommodate exhibits by the State and Federal Geological Surveys, and the FSU Department of Geology.

The Geology building forms part of FSU's Fifty-Year plan, begun in 1947 and is the first classroom building to be constructed under it.

OTHER 50-YEAR plans buildings on campus that are under construction or have recently been completed include the old library dormitory to the west of Landis, the 11-story men's dorm in Tennessee Street and the Student Service Center

Last Summer Issue

Today's will be the last issue of the Summer Flambeau for the 1952 Summer session, Editor Jack Schmidt announced yesterday. The close-down is in accordance with Summer budget and printing advertising schedule, he explained.

Two Sopranos Present Joint Recital Thursday

A voice recital by two junior students in the Florida State University School of Music will be offered in the Opperman Music Hall next Thursday evening at 8:15 p.m.

The program will include Prelude and Furue in C Minor," "Chorale —Prelude in E Minor," and "Pavane in B flat Major" by Bach; "Sonata in F sharp Major, Opus 78" by Beethoven; a nocturne and an etude by Chopin; "Scenas Infantiles" by Price and "Hungarian Fantasy" by Franz Liszt.

Rutgers U. Names Former FSU Man Drama Instructor

Lester L. Moore has been appointed as instructor in speech and drama at the Newark College of Arts and Sciences, Lewis Wood, dean, president of Rutgers University.

Mr. Moore came to Rutgers from the University of Florida, where he was an instructor in English since 1948.

During the current Summer months he is serving as assistant director of Parkway Playhouse of the Burnsville School of Fine Arts, Burnsville, N. C. The new faculty member is expected to devote much of his time to drama instruction and play production during the coming year.

Stryker to Perform In Graduate Recital

Edward Stryker, pianist, will present a graduate recital on Opperman Music Hall next Wednesday evening, August 6 at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Stryker is a pupil of Professor Francisco Zarkovich.

The program includes "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor," "Chorale —Prelude in E Minor," and "Pavane in B flat Major" by Bach; "Sonata in F sharp Major, Opus 78" by Beethoven; a nocturne and an etude by Chopin; "Scenas Infantiles" by Price and "Hungarian Fantasy" by Franz Liszt.

Music Students Granted Funds; Honor Dohnany

Two new scholarships established by Tallahassee in honor of Ernst Von Dohnanyi, FSU professor and world famous composer, were announced this week by President Campbell.

The Scholarships, to be known as the Ernst Von Dohnanyi-Gridley Music Company Scholarships are named for Mr. and Mrs. Asbury Gridley of Tallahassee.

DR. DOAK S. Campbell in accepting the gift expressed appreciation to the Gridleys and revealed the new fund to be for the assistance of worthy students in the School of Music.

In establishing the scholarship, the donors announced that it be given upon recommendation by Dr. Dohnanyi, or by the supervisors in the FSU School of Music, who have shown outstanding ability to major in the course, the plan.

MR. AND MRS. GRIDLEY in a statement this week said, "Being musically inclined ourselves, and knowing the full value of such training in all phases of living we are seeing to encourage young, talented people to continue their musical studies.

"We feel particularly proud to make our contribution toward the encouragement of Miss Rebecca Lou at what we consider the finest school of Music in the South. It is especially a privilege to make these scholarships available in the name of Dr. Dohnanyi, a world renowned musician and composer, and a valuable member of the FSU faculty."

"IT HOPE it will be a great incentive to any young musician recommended by Dr. Dohnanyi for one of these annual scholarships to make every effort to achieve success in the world of music."

ABOUT EDUCATION

Carmichael Discusses Two Basic Dilemmas

By OLIVER C. CARMICHAEL

The Forty-sixth Annual Report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching for 1951-52 is entitled "Some Educational Dilemmas" by Oliver C. Carmichael. The entire report is quite long, but the following quotations from sections of that report which it considers timely and interesting.

Man Says Interest In Politics Strong In State Colleges

Observers throughout the state of Florida are remarking at the unusual interest of college students in politics.

According to Ed Goins, United Press staff writer, much of the interest may results from the fact that this is a presidential election year, but the amount of interest is evident indeable.

GOINS INTERVIEWED representatives of the state's three largest universities the University of Florida, University of Miami and Florida State university, and found the same to be true.

In each institution- he found, there was no increase in the enrollment. The political climate, has been said other indications, such as Young Democrat and Young Republican clubs and Summer interest in student government were strong.

FLORIDA STUDENTS took active part in the recent gubernatorial campaign, it was found. Also, Kefauver drew overflow crowds when he spoke at the college.

The writer particularly cited FSU's new cabinet system as an indication of interest in government. Students themselves select leaders and had many heated debates before accepting the form of government last spring.

A survey of the current educational scene reveals a series of conflicts that baffle and confuse. Some represent ancient dilemmas that have troubled men for centuries. Others are of more recent origin. All are of vital interest to everyone and are being discussed more frequently since 1945 than ever before. In the survey of some of these problems may throw light on their nature and may help to find a wise solution or, if not that, may at least point them out as problems to be solved in order to closer scrutiny. If this essay does nothing more than that latter, it will have achieved its purpose.

Depth Versus Breadth In Scholarship

The first of these may be described briefly as the depth-breadth question, ever since the introduction of the elective system in the high and secondary schools. The same arguments pro and con are represented today as they were since the system was introduced by Harvard and Brown some 75 years ago. The growing complexity of society and the broadened base of talents and interests have led to the ever-increasing student population have favored the spread of the system. The movement toward what is now called general education is aimed at providing a common core, some unity in the diversity, some foundation for all the heterogeneous background which was formerly provided in a relatively uniform curriculum on each of the levels—

(Continued on Page 2)

Nixon Opines Ike Has Natural Edge In 'Earthy' Quality

In the coming presidential battle between two strong contenders Senator Richard M. Nixon of California thinks the "down to earth" quality of Dwight D. Eisenhower will give him a natural advantage over Adlai E. Stevenson.

Nixon is Ike's running-mate on the GOP ticket this year.

Said the vice-presidential candidate to a press conference:

"I am convinced this so-called non-political figure (Eisenhower) will put on one of the greatest campaigns ever seen.

"He has one great advantage over Stevenson.

Stevenson obviously has a fine command of the English language and an appeal to the intelligentsia. But Eisenhower has a warm, down to earth quality that enables him to get his message across also the people better than Stevenson."

Government Seeks C. S. Investigators

Some 400 men with two or more years of college to work as Civil Service investigators will be appointed immediately, according to Wayne Searcy, secretary of the local board.

Civil Service investigators conduct personnel investigations in connection with applicants for Federal government jobs.

Starting salary will be $2,980 a year, Satisfactory work after a year leads to promotion and a $5060 a year salary.

Exam for the Tallahassee area will be held Friday, August 8, here in Tallahassee. Applications may be obtained from 203 Westcott or from Mr. Searcy in the Tallahassee main post office.

August 11 Deadline

Annie Lee Yates circulation librarian, warns all students, including graduates, that all books must be in on or before Monday, August 11. An additional fine of 25 cents per book will be made on each book interested.

Legion Hierarchy Ignores Wishes of It's Membership

The flags festooning Tallahassee this week welcome the American Legion, the Flambeau wishes to join in this greeting. Yet we ask the celebrants to pause briefly in their gaiety to discuss the wide disparity between the wishes of individual members of this organization and their National leaders.

The American veteran of World War II turned, as had his father to veterans organizations, most for the obvious sociality offered, some few to gain membership in an organization which had ruthlessly fought for financial benefits for the veterans of a former war. But even the most partisan must admit that the organization has wandered far afield from these innocuous principles in recent years.

The Legion, so vocal in recent years concerning the decline of why they term "Americanism", surprisingly enough operates under the undemocratic caucus system. Each Legion Post elects delegates, who in turn elect higher delegates ad infinitum to a small group of men located in Washington who are the dictators of the Legion's National policy. These men decide what shall be "legion mandate", and their views are given the weight of the Legion's membership of five million.

An example of the aforementioned disparity between the individual member and the few who speak for him in the Nation's capital is the action of "National" Legion on the matter of housing. Thought the Legion hierarchy might have been expected to wield some of their tremendous influence to encourage housing programs after World War II, they did the opposite. They condemned Robert Taft as the arch-foe because of his part in drawing the Taft-Ellender-Taft Housing bill. This despite the fact that veterans were hardest hit by the shortage of decent housing in the United States.

The Flambeau of the American Legion clearly states that "The American Legion shall be absolutely non-political and shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles for the promotion of the candidacy of any person seeking public office or preferment".

This states clearly and emphatically a political "hands off" policy. But our own President in a speech to a Legion group said, "I owe a great deal to the Legion . . . their support helped elect me to the Senate". Indeed, the "non-political" American Legion employs a covey of high-priced lobbyists to push what is ostensibly the wishes of five million American veterans, who, in actuality have no part in deciding policy. Certainly many thousands of veterans without homes would have balked at Legion opposition to Taft's housing plan—had they been consulted.

The individual Legionnaire might be said to amount to one more frightening statistic to be used to pressure our lawmakers.

The policies of this great veterans group are a seething paradox. One needs only to admittedly seek all they can get for the American veteran. On the other hand, they back arch-conservatism, which of course, seeks to cut down drastically veterans spending.

One of the most sensational cases involving Legion pressure in recent years concerned Omar Bradley. Bradley, then head of the Veterans Administration, called on the American veterans "to be a citizen first, a veteran second." He continued. "Many young men who fought in World War II are being taught by professional veterans for their own ends."

The Legion struck back, and in some cases devastating, formula for casting aside all criticism, while at the same time appearing patriotic as the mesmans of democracy.

Their favorite phrases are — "if you don't like our methods, why don't you get out?" and "You don't like Hirohito, do you?"

Time stands still for these people. It seems impossible that something should be right in Paris or of their early childhood could ever be less virtuous because of subsequent and changing conditions. Jefferson and other eminent early leaders can history are wrenched out of context and interpreted as speaking of events in the atomic age.

The great irony of the situation is that Jefferson, the world's great patriots do have a message for today, and one need not even read between the lines to see that message. Defenders of the status quo are guilty, as are so many, of looking only at the surface—of hearing trite quotes and catch-words which say just what they want to say—and using this limited knowledge as the words of the oracle.

● IVY PREJUDICE

From Dartmouth, New Hampshire, comes word that a local fraternity has lost its national charter because it refused to practice racial discrimination.

In an Associated Press release, Assistant Dean Arthur H. Kiendle, jr., said, "The action of the national fraternity resulted from a letter sent April 8 from the Dartmouth Theta Ci Chapter advising the grand chapter that it would no longer be bound by the racial discrimination clause in the national constitution."

It is unfortunate that a national fraternity should find itself in such a position. Fraternities always have been criticized, justly or not, for being privileged and privilege-seeking groups with altogether too little serious intent.

In view of their positions they should perhaps lean over backward to correct the impression—to show themselves idealistic as well as pleasure-seeking—to show that comradeship is more than a catch-phrase.

To argue that the national chapter was only following orders is only to argue in circles, for the big question obviously is why such a ruling was there in the first place.

In a world particularly sensitive to any indication of hypocrisy in the American credo of democracy, racial discrimination among its youth, this FEPC-in-reverse-gear is a particularly unfortunate circumstance It should point the way to the need for the reconsideration of worn-out ideas.

LETS FACE IT . . .

THESAURUS OF POLITICAL TERMINOLOGY

BY GENE LAWLER

With renewed vigor, the professional pointers-with-pride and viewers-with-alarm are sharpening their verbal daggers for this fall's political duel.

Some observers have hopefully predicted that because of the character of the principals, this year's blood-letting will be unusually gentlemanly. Unfortunately, however, it is not too difficult to teach a new politician old tricks.

From the Eisenhower camp this week came the plaint that Truman had "hand-picked" the Democratic candidate, but that the American people would "see through the 'falsefront' and join in the Republican 'crusade'."

In order to understand these terms better, we offer a few examples from Lawler's Thesaurus of Political Terminology.

High taxes: what the winning party will levy.

Influence peddling: doing in government what is customary in business.

Friend of the Common Man: politician with rural sensibility.

Federal extravagance: a pork barrel that went somewhere else.

Devoted Public Servant: long-time payroller of one's own party.

Pink: someone who has thought ahead of the speaker.

Lest anyone suspect that these definitions are the end-all and be-all things we offer the following colloquy, heard on the radio program, The People's Platform, a few months ago. Senator Blair Moody of Michigan, a "leftwing" Democrat, was questioning Senator John Bricker of Ohio.

Moody: Let me ask you this. Do you think Paul Hoffman is a leftwinger?

Bricker: Oh, I have always thought that.

Moody: You think Paul Hoffman is a left-winger?

Bricker: Pretty much so. Pretty much so.

Moderator: We're getting a little afield here . . .

Moody: He is a former president of the Studebaker Corp., he's now president of the Ford Foundation—and if he's a leftwinger, we're baffled.

Bricker: He's a part of this philosophy. I don't say that he's a left-winger in the sense—

Moody: Well, I'm glad to hear you repeat that one.

Bricker: No radical, but he has a part of the philosophy of government which I oppose . . .

It is the repetitious misuse of smearwords that makes it possible for Senator Blair Moody to declare that Eisenhower was "nominated by the socialist wing of the Republican Party," and for Senator Bricker to brand Robert Taft as a "left-winger" a couple years ago, because he did something they didn't agree with.

Luckily, however, smearwords are their own worse enemy; the more they are used, the less effect they have It's possible that some day a person will feel slandered if he isn't slandered

'NAKED POWER PLAY' AT NORTHWESTERN

By STAN SCHMIDT

At Northwestern University a battle has been raging involving the student newspaper and the powers-that-be.

Two student editors have gotten the axe in at many days. The first for scheduling an editorial about a teacher-strike at the University under investigation by the Student Judiciary. The second felt the guillotine when he wrote a news story of the proceedings of the body that had derricked. The story of the goings-on was finally written by an Academic Senate.

While this column does not wish to appear to be taking up the dual dismissal, it does question the method of the printers-ink princes.

This matter was allowed to become an editorial issue in many minds, unintentionally as was pointed out as a stark attempt of editors and Legislators and as one more indication of the fear of criticism which has swept our country. The semi-academic atmosphere of Northwestern is declared to be the ideal one to stimulate the free exchange of ideas.

Surprisingly enough all of the student newspapers and most of the journals in the state of the journalists in commenting upon the matter.

And so it is fitfully recognized that the knowledge which is a safety valve to prevent explosion is no way protects college administrators from the errors in judgment committed in the past of it.

This is perhaps the first step in stripping the university, the church from the sacrosanct cloud which has covered it for too long. The cloud which has continually shut even the intelligent from a frank and objective discussion of its merits.

When those wanting federal control of the Tidelands wanted to some quasi-holy hook to hang there arguments on, they chose Education. The profits from the coastal lands would be used to subsidize education. Good idea? And something more, for race is the man who sticks his neck out by criticizing what American tradition has made holy.

Can we afford to cloak any institution in traditionalism when such cloaks are the accumulation of outworn values? When our way of life demands we go supersonic and mass liberties are forfeited in the mad scramble—it seems idiotic to allow any free passes.

That's about all, and now the problem is to get the proper wisdom, getting sloppy and sentimental.

THANKS for providing a stimulating example of years.

Thanks too, for providing an example whereby a character with a safety valve to prevent explosion.

To Bill, Bruce, Curt, Dick, Buddy, Charlie, Jerry, and a host more for pulling this Yankee up when he was dragging behind.

To certain Profs. who made the laziest guy in U. S. think upon occasion . . .

OFF THE CUFF

CONFORMISM REAL DANGER TO U. S.

By BRUCE GALPHIN

Among the greatest dangers facing our nation today are the status quo-ites and the most vociferous in crying wolf about those dangers.

They are the loud mouths, and in some cases devastating, formula for casting aside all criticism, while at the same time appearing patriotic as the mesmans of democracy.

Their favorite phrases are — "if you don't like our methods, why don't you get out?" and "You don't like Hirohito, do you?"

Time stands still for these people. It seems impossible that something should be right in Paris or of their early childhood could ever be less virtuous because of subsequent and changing conditions. Jefferson and other eminent early leaders can history are wrenched out of context and interpreted as speaking of events in the atomic age.

The great irony of the situation is that Jefferson, the world's great patriots do have a message for today, and one need not even read between the lines to see that message. Defenders of the staffs are guilty, as are so many, of looking only at the surface—of hearing trite quotes and catch-words which say just what they want to say—and using this limited knowledge as the words of the oracle.

Returning to the example of Jefferson, the world's great patriot said that the man's particular ideas of the democratic process could only be populated agricultural country could be applied without change to the highly industrialized, industrial nation of today. If we are really to draw a lesson from the great statesman, we must understand the principles underlying his philosophy.

Jefferson was in his day a "radical", and doubtless he would be considered the same today. He called for bold new experiments in government, and just because those experiments have been successful is no reason to hope momentum will carry the nation on toward safety. Any experiment which have arisen multifold since the days of Jefferson, demand new approaches.

The democratic republic we can cling to, but democracy—the actual functioning of such a government, changing as it must with changing times—we examine ourselves—know ourselves well so that we will be prepared to face inevitable crises. History has many lessons for us—but democracy becomes static if we forget the vitality of progress and new ideas.

Jefferson himself had great reverance for conflicting views. At his inaugural, he said, "If there be any among us who wish to dissolve this Union or to change its republican form, let them stand undisturbed as monuments of the safety with which error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it."

So status-quo patriots may be considered themselves as an American, for their very actions are in contradiction to the basic principles of democracy.

Examining, if we may, the methods of such groups, we can hardly impugn their intents. Doubtless they believe they are doing what is right.

It is surely great insecurity which leads men to demand rigid obedience to their own beliefs. Having little in themselves to be proud of and little faith in the workings to a true democracy, they seek to bolster their egos by identifying themselves with some well-defined, accepted code. Because they do not really grasp the underlying concepts of such a code, they cannot see how change is a necessary part of any system, and any threat of change is in effect a threat to themselves.

Thus we can understand strict conformists, and we can pity them, but as their constitutes menace to true working democracy, we must be continually on guard against them.

Stevenson's Views on Vital Issues Outlined in His Public Statements

Since Adlai Ewing Stevenson received the Democratic nomination for the presidency of the United States, many biographies of him and many analyses of his beliefs have appeared. The Fla m b e a u feels, however, that perhaps the best way to know what the man stands for is to let him speak for himself.

Governor Stevenson has been compared to Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt in his intellectual abilities, and he certainly has a reputation for being an excellent writer. So it is particularly appropriate that the man be quoted directly.

The Flambeau presents these statements on such issues as a reserve bs prospective voters to help them make their decisions on presidential candidates.

Speaking on foreign policy, Stevenson has said:

The preservation of the free world hangs upon our ability to win the admiration of hungry millions and millions of people throughout the world who have not yet decided whether to support our democratic system on the one hand and the Communist system on the asunism offers on the other. That choice will be mainly shaped by our own performance. It will turn upon such things as our ability to avoid the disillusion of depression, to guarantee equality of opportunity, to narrow the gulf separating economic groups, to preserve freedom of thought and action, to make democracy work and to practice with its promises and professions of faith.

On the subject of civil liberties, Stevenson sent a veto message to the Illinois legislature. Which bill was it? The Broyles "anti-subversive" bills. In part, it reads:

The stated purpose of this bill is to combat the menace of world Communism. That the Communist party—and all it stands for—is a danger to our Republic, as real as it is sinister, is clear to all who have the slightest understanding of our system. But the fear attached to the principles of our society will debate this premise or quarrel with the objectives of this bill.

Armed upon ends, our concern is with means. It is in the choice of methods to deal with recognized problems that we Americans, in and out of public life, so often divide different opinion. Our freedom to do so is a great source of strength, but it is also paired by mistakes of our own, will contribute greatly to the ultimate confusion of the enemies of freedom.

. . . We cannot afford to make public servants out of cowards or hysterics charges of disloyalty. So far as the employers are concerned with practices which could only result in a lowering of the level of ability, integrity and performance in our public agencies, schools and colleges.

. . . The whole question of loyalty suspicitions is a natural characteristic of a police state, not of democracy. Knowing his rule rests upon compulsion rather than consent, the police state must of necessity assume the disloyalty, not of a few, but of everybody against whom a continual inquisition and "liquidation" of the unreliable. The history of Soviet Russia is a modern example of this ancient practice. The democratic state, on the other hand, is based on the consent of its members. The vast majority of the people of democratic lands, as they have amply demonstrated. To question, even by implication, the loyalty and devotion of a large group of citizens is to create an environment of suspicion and distrust which is neither justified, nor in any case consistent with our traditions.

. . . We must fight traitors with the law. We must defend the laws. We must fight falsehood and evil with truth and honest debate. We have them in plenty. But we must not confuse the two. Laws infringing our rights and indiscriminate unoffending persons without enlarging our security, will further enrich subversives nor will converts to our better ideas. And in the end, such laws will be circumvented and conquered not by our laws but only by better ideas

One of Stevenson's liabilities in politics is his favorite intellectual hero, Adlai Stevenson, secretary of Alger Hiss. Said Stevenson of Hiss:

It seems to me that it will be a very sad day for Anglo-Saxon justice when any man, and especially a lawyer, will refuse to give honest evidence in a criminal trial for fear the defendant in an action might eventually prove innocent . . . one of the basic responsibilities of any citizen, most especially lawyers, is to give the best of their ability on any case in which they are called to testify that either side considers relevant.

On McCarthyism:

Unfortunately, we have become the trademark of a new breed of political thinkers who, in the name of the people, with epithets, carelessly impugns the loyalty of patriotic men and shouts dire predictions of a treacherous doom for American institutions.

It is said that America, at the height of her power, influence and well-being, should be a land slander, appeasement, ill-temper and counsels of despair—when all the world looks to us for dignity, sanity and confident leadership.

It is strange but true that Stevenson appeals to many Southerners in spite of his love and many others, stands. They probably are pleased with his stand for strong local government:

It is important that it is timely to explore every alternative before we remark upon a source of tumultuous discontent over the enforcement to the state level. Once that level is reached, we have reached bedrock up—as they have already begun to do—to effect a further transfer of power, always toward the top.

. . . There is a price tag on a good state government as there is on everything else. It must be paid for in active and continuing interest in local affairs, in self-denial in those situations where self-indulgence—the double standard—has a harmful effect on the community at large, in willingness to devote more leadership in the face of strong personal and social pressures

2 FLORIDA FLAMBEAU Friday, August 1, 1952

Summer Flambeau

EDITORIAL

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—STAN SCHMIDT

Managing Editor ..... Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Conkling
Columnists ..... Dan Althoff
Gene Lawler
Flambeau Photographer ..... Mimi Patterson

BUSINESS

Business Manager ..... Lou Calderoni
Asst. Business Manager ..... Nancy Lowe

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-91, Ext. 481 Second Floor, Alumni Building

The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor

Gnann—The Defender

Dear Editor:

In last Friday's issue of the Flambeau you write an editorial entitled "Women At Conventions (Nauseating)". You wrote, and I quote, "If possible, they (women) managed to act even less like their male counterpart and take longer doing it. One officious, Garden-Club type of woman had the monstrous lack of taste to dirty up the sacrifice of her son and husband killed in action by throwing their noses to the unmourned bodies to add weight to her words. Her words needed all the weight they could beg, borrow, or steal."

I ask you, is there any justification for such an asinine statement as that? The specific women of whom you speak in your so-called "Editor's Post" is Mrs. Imlah Edwards. Mrs. Edwards lost not her husband in the first World War and her son in the second World War. Also, you failed in mentioning the fact that "she was a gold star mother" and placed emphasis to a point while addressing the Democratic National Convention in Chicago recently. The point was that she was just as eager as any other mother and her son after World War II to get their men home as fast as possible; without consideration of the government's view that the armed forces should remain in Europe until the time that the best of U. S. Government could be successfully carried out.

I wonder if it is 'dirty' for the women of America to be proud of their sons and so that you could continue to write and preach such disgusting and nauseating bunkum. Perhaps the "deserted hordes" to whom she mentioned this fact the other night, are the people of these United States, and therefore enjoy our basic constitutional freedom of assembly. It most certainly was and I resented to the "so called Editors Post" many weeks ago. It is suggested that Mrs. Gnann should not be exposed to such "disgusting and nauseating trash" by the simple expedient of not attending any that you experience has taught him is not worth-while.

Attends Festival

Dr. Howard Wilson, associate professor of piano in the School of Music at Florida State University has been invited to give a piano recital at the Fourth Annual Virginia Highland Festival at Abingdon, Virginia, to formally open the festival.

Outstanding musicians from every section of the country will attend the annual festival at which the FSU associate professor has been honored by being invited to give the opening remarks.

Clay Figures

By Stella Clay

GRADUATION

As swamps and sands and hills fade gently out of vision near the North horizon,
So will my memories of the South be softened.
Where I am the land of cornflields and the C.I.O.,
I'll talk of Dixie's progress.
I'll speak of semi-caste instead of caste!

GOUGED

Like little chunks of Dish
Cut from cleinched fists by digging fingernails, Morality
Disintegrates—Impressionistically!

EXPOSE

Oh education, why so slow?
One-tenth ten earat gold
Is rubbed with rouge
For further polish.
The glitter is increased:
The substance, weakened.
Oh education, why so slow?

This week, Stella Clay—in her own figurative way—bids farewell to FSU—and reminisces.

ever Gets Leave of Absence ' National Research Council

Dr. Samuel L. Meyer, professor and head of the Department of Botany at Florida State University in Tallahassee, has been granted a leave of absence from the university to serve in the capacity of executive director of the Division of Biological Science and executive secretary of the Division of Biology and Agriculture of the National Research Council, under the supervision of one person for the first time.

Dr. Dook S. Campbell, FSU president said Dr. Meyer would take his new position at the headquarters of the National Research Council 2101 Constitution Avenue in Washington, early in September. Under over the duties of the important positions combined

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
"Walk East on Beacon"
With George Murphy
Virginia Gilmore
STATE
THRU AUGUST 5
"Lovely to Look At"
With Kathryn Grayson,
Red Skelton and
Howard Keel
RITZ
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
"F.B.I. Girl"
With Cesar Romero
plus
"Pistol Harvest"
With Tim Holt
DRIVE-IN
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
"African Treasure"
With Johnny Sheffield
Also
"Border Saddlemates"
With Rex Allen
Plus 2 Cartoons
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

In accepting the offer to serve in the dual capacity of executive director of AIBS and executive secretary for a division of the National Research Council, Dr. Meyer said the union of the two agencies carried much opportunity for possible developments in the advancement of the biological sciences and their application to human welfare.

Dr. Meyer received his A. B. degree from Central College in Missouri, the degree of M. S. from Vanderbilt University, and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Virginia.

He has a broad background in teaching, research and administration in various aspects of botany at Central College, Vanderbilt University, the University of Virginia, Emory University, the University of Tennessee and Florida State University.

He has been active in a number of scientific and learned societies and served as president of the Tennessee Academy of Science and the Association of Southeastern Biologists as well as chairman of the General Section of the Botanical Society of America. Dr. Meyer is a Fellow of the AAAS and a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Betta Kappa. He is the author of the botanical articles in The Grolier Encyclopedia, as well as a number of papers on a variety of biological subjects.

Dr. and Mrs. Meyer and their two sons, who now live at 1524 Hickory Avenue will leave for Washington late in August.

Dept. Sponsors Meet to Study School Lunches

About 1,000 persons responsible for the feeding of Florida's thousands of school children in school lunchrooms will attend the statewide school lunch training program at FSU August 17-23, sponsored by State Department of Education.

Mrs. Thelma G. Flanagan, state supervisor of the school lunch program, said previous statewide training programs have been held for up to 150 persons but the training program this year is the first to embrace 62 of Florida's 67 counties.

THE TRAINING program, they said, will be actually three operations being held during the same week on the FSU campus. One group will attend a training course in "Foundation of School Lunch Program Operations," while a second group will study "Quantity Cookery," and a third group, "The Relation of the School Lunch Program to the Total Nutrition of the Child and Family."

Those attending the training program will take part in discussion groups, observe demonstrations, hear panel discussions of "Current Issues" and "Films" shown films dealing with their services and hear guest speakers during the daily sessions of six hours each, Monday through Friday.

MILLARD CALDWELL, national director of Civil Defense and a former Florida governor, will formally welcome the training program participants at an orientation meeting Sunday evening, August 17. Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president, will welcome the participants on behalf of the university.

Some of the special events will include a style show Tuesday evening, August 19, and a banquet program participants will model appropriate uniforms used in the school lunch department.

ALSO ON Tuesday evening the first annual state-wide meeting of the Florida School Food Service Association will be held in connection with the training program.

men could undergo the exposure to enemy fire on an around-the-clock basis he could at least bring their religious services to them on the front lines," he said.

As to the Red soldiers, Dr. Neel says his observation of them showed that they are well trained and fairly well equipped. This has been especially true of the Chinese and North Koreans who have been opposing the United Nations troops in recent months.

ALSO, from March through June there has been an increasing number of incoming rounds on United Nations positions. Dr. Neel says that the enemy artillery and mortar fire has been sufficiently skilled to indicate a high degree of training.

"Troops other than Americans serving with the United Nations are giving a good account of themselves. Dr. Neel served side by side with first the Ethiopians and later the Colombians while he was in Korea. He says that both of these contingents consist of brave and well-trained soldiers.

THE SOUTH KOREANS are also greatly improved fighters. They have been receiving intensive training since the outbreak of hostilities over two years ago, and they now boast a number of first-rate divisions. The South Koreans need more artillery, tanks, and air power at present, Dr. Neel says.

This FSU faculty member feels that the Korean war has definitely halted Russian aggression for the time being, and he believes that if some honorable way to end the present stalemate can be found, the United Nations effort in Korea could prove an important step toward world order.

MOUNTAINEER CHAMPS

MORGANTOWN, W Va.-
West Virginia University claims two former undergraduate athletes who won battles in their respective minor leagues last year. Herbert "Babe" Barna topped the Class AA Southern Association and George "Buddy" Freese was high man in the Class A Western League.

Educational Dilemma

(Continued From Page 1)

the secondary school and college—that curriculums being one of the casualties of the elective system.

IN RECENT years the problem of depth versus spread has arisen in the graduate schools where both researchers and teachers require their preparation. The complaint is that the degree of specialisation (scholarship in depth) which has prevailed in these training centers does not provide adequate or suitable preparation for high school and college teaching. Even professional education the humblest of discussion with specialization are now being heard.

THE UNEASINESS about college and university education is not based merely on the recognition of the fact that depth in limited areas has resulted in the fragmentation of knowledge, with no adequate provision for putting the pieces together so as to enable the realisation that too often the major items of life and thought are sidestepped. To avoid superficiality only small amounts of knowledge are explored. Although these relate to the major issues of life and thought, they seldom are rarely pointed out. Youth is kept so busy digesting facts that it never rests of the real issues, he never looks up to see the tree; indeed, his attention is rarely directed toward it. "This constitutes one essential difference between then and the old curriculums.

ONE WONDERS what would impress a professor from abroad ago if he should return to resume his labors. He would certainly be amazed to observe the chanes in emphasis in the undergraduate curriculum. He would probably be prepared, however, to accept the increase in participation in sociological courses, in view of the advance of science and technology and the great pressu on graduate and research work in the atomic age. He would probably unhesitatingly stand also the reasons for many of the new courses listed under social sciences and the humanities and for the decline of Latin, Greek, and Hebrew. But the real shock would come when he began to examine the subject matter which it attracted in the average college or university.

LOGIC AND metaphysics, natural and moral philosophy, which were so central in the curriculum which he knew, he would fail to find. He would find, of course, that abstract logic and metaphysical concepts are naturally not too popular in a prticticas land scientific age. Though they are still listed in some catalogues, and that the offspring of natural and moral philosophy have had remarkably rapid growth—political wise has had a healthy brood—sociology economics, and political science.

OUR IMAGINARY 19th century professor would not only be puzzled, he would in all probability be greatly disappointed. He would find little trace in the current curriculums of the philosophical and moral considerations as prominent in his day. He would probably conclude that the emphasis is no longer concerned with the effort to understand the nature of reality or the meaning of life. Judging by the curriculum he would inevitably conclude that in the modern university search for truth had been displaced by search for facts, that moral values had given way to social aeranation as a subject of study, and that specialisation had sacrificed not only breadth of understanding, but other even more fundamental elements of the old curriculum.

IT IS the varue realization of this fact that has resulted in a deep discontent with the curriculum as the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels. As Sir Richard Livinestone once remarked: "The most important task of education is to bring home to the student the greatest of all problems—the problem of living—and to give him some guidance in it." That youth needs a philosophy of living, for shaping conduct, for reference in doubt, for challenge, stimulus, and driving power."

The responsibility for filling this gap, for strengthening the foundation of college and university education, undoubtedly rests upon the faculties, though administrative concern and support are essential if their efforts are to be effective.

Freedom Versus Regimentation In Higher Education

At a time when teachers' oaths, Congressional hearings involving university professors, and calls for loyalty investigations of faculties fill the headlines, the most obvious and acute problem of higher education is that of maintaining the traditional freedom of inquiry and of teaching. Those who demand the protection of the American tradition of fredom in order to be able to accomplish it overthrow deserve no consideration or sympathy. That there are few such in America has manifested by the fact that after more than five years of agitation and investigation, only six or seven professors have been dismissed from their posts for lack of loyalty. But the flinger of suspicion has been accepted as thousands of others whose loyalty is attested by lifelong devotion to American ideals. More than that, many have been deprived of their livelihood or their reputations because of unsubstantiated, but widely publicised, charges.

SUSPICION of a man's loyalty because it is shown that communists serve with him on a particular point has been publicised in press releases. Such an association constitutes not merely character assasination, but the most insidious attack on the American way of life itself. To brand a man as an involuntary association of that kind is t violate the American spirit in favor of communistic methods. Politics, not logic, we would renounce the American doctrine of "free election for all" since the Communist Manifesto demands it.

THE CLIMATE of opinion which permits such folly is designed to stifle academic freedom and that to abrogate one of the greatest American traditions. If reimentation should ever replace real freedom in teaching either through legislation or intimidation, not only would the dynamics of education be lost but one of the chief bulwarks of freedom would be removed. Thus, while the threat to academic freedom is an educational problem of the first magnitude, it is much more. It is of concern to all those who cherish the tradition of free enterprise in all its aspects, for in that is jeopardy is the central core of the American system. Though educators are expected to man the forts that protect this basic American tradition, they may be unable to withstand the onslaught alone. They may need to enlist a reserve of thoughtful persons and alumni who will come to their rescue if the forces of reaction become too powerful.

COLEGE and university presidents have explored the situation. A series of articles appeared some months ago in the Bulletin of the American Association of University Professors, pointing out its significance, and an occasional piece has appeared in non-professional magazines in defense of the independence of thought and freedom of expression of colleges and universities. But a review of the current literature which reaches the general public reveals a surprising lack of attention to this problem. Too few laymen have recognized and come to the defense of the basic freedoms involved in the threat to academic freedom though both legislation and intimidation.

PRONOUNCEMENTS of associations of teachers, professors, and administrators are of little help in combatting the foes of freedom. These are read by members of the profession who, for the most part, are already aware of the situation, and by few others. The public needs to be aroused. This is the responsibility of faculties. The danger is that they will be so absorbed in their own back yards, and concerned with their fields of specialization, that they will fail to build the dikes against the rising tide of reactionism which threatens to enculf them. They cannot, without great risk, neglect this responsibility.

Neel Says—

(Continued From Page 1)

age American combat soldier did not seem to understand clearly what he was fighting for in Korea.

Also, the soldiers seem to feel very strongly that they are "forgotten men" as they are confronted time and again with the mounting apathy of large numbers of American people toward the Korean war.

AS AN EXAMPLE, Dr. Neel says, many of the combat troops receiving newspapers from their home towns would find scarcely any mention of the Korean war. Such news had either been deleted entirely or else buried in an inconspicuous spot on an inside page. This indicated to them that the war was of secondary importance to news events in other areas of American life.

Dr Neel says this tendency toward pessimism on the part of the American troops can most effectively be counteracted by frequent letters from relatives and friends sent to the soldiers cheering them up and expressing appreciation of the sacrifices these men are making.

DURING THE LAST Christmas season Dr. Neel received two large boxes of gifts from the Wesley Fellowship Sunday School Class of Tallahassee. With a Korean "chow-hound" carrying these boxes on an A "Frame" on his back, the chaplain climbed the high front line ridges and delivered these gifts to combat soldiers who had not received any Christmas gifts. He says these gifts had the morale-lifting effect of letting these soldiers know that they had not been "forgotten," and they were very grateful.

During the long months he spent in the Korean front lines attached to the 31st Regiment of the Seventh Infantry Division, the chaplain says he found the response to his religious services very gratifying. He averaged 11 church services a week and two-thirds of these were held in front line positions with enemy shells landing close by on several occasions.

"A CHAPLAIN felt that if the

Don't Settle For Just a Place to Eat
Try The
Amber House
SEE, TASTE and FEEL
The Difference . . .
The Amber House
FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE
Now Air-Conditioned For Your Comfort

Sell Your Books At
MALONE'S BOOK STORE
No Bus to Take Just Walk On Over
MALONE'S
107 S. Copeland
BETWEEN THE MECCA AND THE AMBER HOUSE

YOUNG BURLER

ROCHESTER, N Y - Bobby Rauber is a young burler that has caught the eye of many major league scouts. The Webster High southpaw recently hurled six no-hitter of the season. Blanking Fairport, 13-0.

In addition to fanning 17 batters, Rauber fielded all the balls hit by Fairport except one fly to right field.

Bobby climaxed this performance by smashing three doubles in three trips to the plate.

Holland's Restaurant
Complete Soda Fountain
& Restaurant Service
Facing the Capitol
at 106 East Pensacola St
Tallahassee, Florida
Excellent Food at All Hours
Air Conditioned

Fine Portraits at Reasonable Prices
AUGUST GRADUATES MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENTS FOR GRADUATION PORTRAITS NOW.
John Charles
106 West Jefferson
Phone 3-0115

SPECIAL
EVERY TUESDAY
FILET MIGNON
Only $1.00
at
Seven Seas
SERVED ALL DAY TUESDAY

SIGN UP NOW TO WORK ON
The FLAMBEAU
NEXT SEMESTER

NAME .....

Classification .....

Box No. .....

Beetle Bailey

Recreation Calendar

Friday, August 1—Movie, Music Amphitheater, 8 p.m. All This and Heaven Too, from the bestseller

Saturday, August 2—Square dancing, Sunset room, student center, 8:30-11:30 p.m. Tait, director, Jerry Kirkpatrick, orchestra

Tuesday, August 5—Movie, Music Amphitheater, 8 p.m. Stella Fay.

Friday, August 8—Chapter By the Dozen, starring Myrna Loy and Clifton Webb, 8 p.m. Amphitheater.

Saturday, August 9—Social dance, Sunset room of student center, 8:30-11:30 p.m. Jerry Kistler's orchestra

Monday, August 11—Concert, David Lewa, recital, 8 p.m. Music hall

Tuesday, August 12—Movie, Music Amphitheater, 8 p.m. Miracle on 34th Street.

Wednesday, August 13—Conferring of degrees, 8 p.m. President and Mrs. Campbell honoring seniors and their families, and friends, immediately following the graduation ceremony, main lounge, Longmire building.

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

INFRA-RED OVEN—R. C. Kirkpatrick, member of the faculty of the Department of Hotel and Restaurant Management at Florida State University, shows a sketch of a new type infra-red ray oven he will build experimentally soon to Miss Gladys Hall, associate professor of restaurant and hotel management. The new oven is said to cook food more thoroughly in 75 per cent less time than the conventional type.

DRHM Developes Plans for Cooking In Infra-Red Oven

Something new in cooking and baking methods is being developed in the Department of Restaurant and Hotel Management at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

R. C. Kirkpatrick, member of the department faculty, will soon start building an experimental gas type infra-red oven which he believes will offer many advantages over the conventional type cooking methods.

THIS NEW COOKING process in which the heat is provided by use of special infra-red lamps, reduces cooking time up to 75 percent and results in less food shrinkage, Kirkpatrick says. For some reason the food cooked in this type of oven retains its natural flavors more than in the conventional ways, he says.

A similar type cooking device which Kirkpatrick plans to build is now in use on a larger scale in a Portland, Oregon, restaurant, according to Dr. Donald E. Lundberg, head of the FSU Department of Restaurant and Hotel Management. In addition the National Restaurant Association is conducting similar experiments in their Chicago research laboratories.

HAVING ALREADY completed his plans for the new type cooking oven, Kirkpatrick is now gathering the materials he needs. He says the oven will be about four feet high and about 20 inches square. Inside the oven will be 12 infra-red lamps of 250 watts each placed so that six of the lamps will be above and the other six below with their invisible cooking rays directly upon the food.

Experiments have already shown the practical use of such ovens, Kirkpatrick says, as for instance in cooking a fruit type which ordinarily takes from 45 minutes to an hour by the regular baking methods took only 12 minutes by the infra-red rays. The comparative costs of conventional cooking and infra-red cooking and baking are not yet available he says.

THE INCREASED speed in the cooking time by the infra-red rays is because the rays penetrate the food, cooking from the inside while browning the outside, the FSU food preparation expert says.

As a further means of increasing the cooking efficiency of the oven he will build at FSU, Prof. Kirkpatrick plans to use a reflecting lining in the cabinet and improved insulation to obtain the maximum benefits of the infra-red heating elements.

ACTUALLY this method of infra-red penetrating heating has been used successfully a long time in the automotive industry for baking paint enamel as a permanent finish on autos. The auto paint shops have long since found this method gives the paint more durable and lustrous finish than ordinary air drying in much shorter time.

Doctors have for a number of years used infra-red rays for the heat treatment of sprains and other muscular ailments where a penetrating heat was needed.

Dem School Kids Hold Discussion on Teaching

The grade school children attending the Florida State University Demonstration School this Summer had their say about the mutual problems of teachers and pupils in a panel discussion Friday before a group of elementary teachers attending the University classes.

The panel was the idea of Miss Helen Sessna, a regular Demonstration School teacher who had been working with a class of elementary grade teachers this Summer. They are called "practice teachers" at FSU and observe the grade school children at work two hours daily and spend another two hours working on their mutual problems.

EXPRESSING themselves fully and frankly the panel of pupils agreed that teachers should try to understand their students better, rely less on threats of punishment and more on obtaining full co-operation of the child.

Members of the panel said they had known of teachers using intelligent and sympathetic approaches to help backward children in the classroom and by appealing to their pride and natural ability caused many such children to work harder to keep up with the rest of the class.

IN OTHER CASES the children said where teachers have not understood the problems of less bright children and resorted to frequent punishment these children have become resentful of the teacher and even very little co-operation.

Children in almost every classroom usually know pretty well how they are doing in their studies," the panel members said. "They know even before they receive their report cards whether their work has been satisfactory or not. If they are failing behind they depend on the teacher to help them and not let them continue to fail and carry home a bad report card."

AS TO MISCONDUCT in the classroom the panel of children said they felt that if the teacher was alert and intelligent enough she could deal with that problem by making the children understand the reasons for the rules and regulations.

Some 100 Return To Teach Graders Art Learned Here

More than 100 Florida elementary teachers will return to their classrooms over the state this Fall to teach art to their own students after completing art education courses at Florida State University this Summer.

Through practical work in the classrooms, field trips to observe children at work in FSU elementary grades, use of audio-visual aids and discussions of problems in their work, the elementary teachers are getting thorough training, according to Miss Mary Mooty, head of the FSU Department of Art Education.

"THE TEACHING of teachers in art education," says Miss Mooty, "is based upon the proven experiences that teachers as well as children learn best by doing. They learn by use of their own ideas for work projects and improve these ideas through discussions and constructive criticism.

MISS MOOTY says experience has shown that when teachers have properly qualified themselves to teach children how to take scrap materials of paper, wood, meta and other articles and make useful things of them both the lives of the teachers and pupils have been enriched.

Puppets, for instance have much value in the teaching of the language arts to children, while printing of brightly colored patterns has been used for effectively decorating both the classrooms and homes of the pupils for special occasions.

MANY A CHILD has proudly taken some well made papier-mache likeness of a person or animal, a useful pottery gift, or attractive birthday cards made in classroom art education projects.

For such special events as May Day and the Christmas season when plays are held in many classrooms the ability to make attractive decorations of scrap and other inexpensive materials can bring much pleasure to the teachers, the pupils and their parents.

THE ART EDUCATION program for elementary teachers this Summer at FSU has been taught by Miss Marian Davis, Miss Marylou Kuhn, Miss Sallie Williams and Harold Sutton.

Miss Mooty estimates some 2,000 Florida graduate and undergraduate students have taken art education courses at FSU since she was placed in charge of this work by the FSU School of Education in 1946.

THE TEACHERS taking the courses have the added advantage of having a voice in the planning of the work program which they feel will benefit them most. This way, Miss Mooty feels, the teachers find more challenge in their work and in turn this is reflected in their classroom teaching of art education.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Paul Turner
JEWELER - WATCHMAKER
KEEPSAKE DIAMONDS
102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR SALE—House Trailer sized 12 x 32 feet. Completely furnished. Has refrigerator, electric stove, gas, fan, bookcase, electric space heater, bed, etc. Contact Fred Williams, West Campus Trailer Park.

TUNE INTO 660

WFSU

YOUR CAMPUS STATION FOR THE LATEST IN

News

Music

Time Checks

660 WFSU 660

You are cordially invited to attend our Fall Fashion Preview August 11, 1952 at 8:00. Nomore's Club, Los Robles.

No reservations are needed, but we suggest you come early.

Bertha Cooke

Head of the Class in Gifts . . .

14 K GOLD CAMEO RING $45.00

14 K GOLD 3 PEARL RING $29.75

Visit Our Jewelry Dept. for That Special Graduation Gift.

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
American Gem Society

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

Formerly Meats Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

MEN HERE IT IS

Turner's Final Summer CLEARANCE SALE

On

MEN'S SUITS

Entire Stock Reduced to Clear Our Racks

137 Men's Suits
Regular $29.95 to $69.50
Reduced

You have never seen Values Like These.

1/2 PRICE

• HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

• CORANADO

262 Men's Suits
A Better Selection of Better Suits

• MOHARA

1/3 OFF!

All Reduced For COMPLETE CLEARANCE

It's Your Opportunity Men, Don't Miss Out!

Turner's

LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE in AMERICA'S COLLEGES

AT OHIO STATE IN COLUMBUS

AT "THE HI-HAT"

CHESTERFIELD IS OUR LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE by 2 to 1

William Dohrmann PROPRIETOR

Scholarly Nicholas Udall affirmed—

"Mirth prolongeth life, and causeth health"

Ralph Roister Doister

Cares fade away and good cheer joins the gathering when frosty bottles of Coke are served.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

X
070.5
F636
1952/53

Florida Flambeau

Freshmen Increase By 50 Per Cent
See Lead Story

Honor Necessary For Campus Life
See Editor's Column

VOL. XXXIX, No. 1 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Tuesday, September 23, 1952

Frosh Week Starts With Sunday Talks

Administration, Student Leaders Greet New Students, Who Fill Amphitheater

Freshmen and other new students were given an official welcoming to the campus of Florida State University Sunday night, Sept. 14, as they filled the amphitheater and the terrace of the Music Building.

Guild Will Give 'Sweethearts' Next December

All students interested in any phase of show business will have an opportunity to tryout for the annual production of the Light Opera Guild, which will present Victor Herbert's Sweethearts on Dec. 4, 5, and 6 in the Opperman Music Hall.

A singing talent is not necessary to be eligible for although there are 14 singing roles, there are also four speaking parts and numerous chare land jobs.

TRY OUTS have been set for principal roles on Sept. 29 at 7-9:40 p.m. on Oct. 1 at the same time in the Choral Room of the Music Building. On Oct. 6 from 7-9:45 there will be tryouts for chorus parts.

Singing parts are: Sylvia, soprano, the feminine lead, who, as the play opens, is in love with Eddie Gordon one morning by Dame Paula;

Lucie, soprano, a milliner, who has sought temporary employment in the Laundry of Mme. Paula Devoe and pretends to be Sylvia and Slingsby for the lost princess;

Paula, the dressmaker, proprietor of the Laundry of the White Geese, and Paula's six daughters, Jeannette, Clairette, Babette, Lisette, Toinette, Annette, who are known as The White Geese.

FRANZ, TENOR or baritone, in her presence, who is pursuing unconsto has fallen in love with Sylvia.

Karl, tenor, the military lohis who is betrothed to Sylvia.

Hon. Percy Alverson Slingsby, senior, an important comic who intends to become possessor of the royal estate by making his Myress his bride.

PETER, TWO TROMP, bassbaritone, an important comic who plans to purchase the ancestral estate in England by making the valuable paintings which he can sell to an American millionaire, and Aristide Canticle, second tenor, another comic who is trying to start a new Monte Carlo.

FOR THOSE who are not especially talented in music, there are parts as Mimi Whitehouse to the laundry of the White Geese comes disguised as a monk, to see the lovely Sylvia in Dame Paula's rare years before, knowing that Sylvia was the Crown Princess of the little kingdom of Illyria. He conspires to restore her to the throne, which is about to be offered to Prana. Hon. Percy based on comedy.

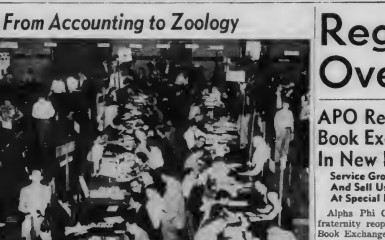
There is also Capt. Laurent, a role to the Prince.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR Opera Guild an old heritage, but during the last three years it has been completely revitalized and even in each year.

Details concerning ticket sales for the show will be announced at a later date.

Play Night Dance Given by Cavaliers

The Cavaliers, Florida State riding honorary for men, held its social event of the season Saturday, Sept. 20, in the form of a Play Night Dance at the O Club on West Tennessee. This is the first year the group has handled the affair.



For the first time, two bands played at the informal dance. They were Bill Sturgeon and Georgie and his orchestra, both were donating their services.

Nevis Pappas em-ceed the intermission program, with a guitar solo by Charles Singer and Jimmy Lewis who had performed during Play Night; a solo by Joan Lee and impersonations and by Pappas.

Jim Pindra is president of the Cavaliers.

236478

Everything From Accounting to Zoology

REGISTRATION IS OVER—Students and faculty alike breathed a sigh of relief when Saturday evening rolled around and another semester's registration had been completed. In the students shown above are attempting to get things up in the classes they desire. Taken early in the morning, this picture does not show the mass of humanity which packed the gym later in the day.

In the Freshman Welcome Program, the student heard talks from University president, Dr. Doak S. Campbell, other University officials and student leaders.

DEAN BROWARD Culpepper, introducing members of the administration, told the audience "This week will be of great value to you as you learn about our campus and our activities" in speaking of the Freshman Orientation Program.

At the outset of the welcoming Herman Dluzen of the School of Music directed the group in the singing of "America" and "God Bless America," with entertainment by Thomas Wright, also of the School of Music.

DR. SAM NEEL, recently returned from Korea, gave the invocation which followed the "PSU Fight Song," written by Thomas Wright. Words to the PSU song were flashed on the way with both the new students.

Dr. Campbell began his talk with a "Hi!" and asked that the Freshmen repeat the greeting. In his speech, he stressed the importance of a "hi" to fellow students and friendliness throughout the year.

"IT'S YOUR University," he said, "and you can make it better than when you got here." He told them to speak to people on campus whether they knew them or not, saying FSU was "a friendly campus" and he wanted it to remain that way with both students and professors. Dr. Campbell said he found that college friendships endured through all the years.

Campbell began his speech "How to Succeed In College;" the FSU president urged the new students to "strive everyday to improve yourself, physically and mentally." He reminded them that they had been told of "the greatest room in the room for improvement." The professors are there to help you improve be said.

"REMEMBER also those who are depending on you," he admonished. "What you are doing a little better than before you are going to be doing. You can cut classes or slide through," he said, "but you are cheating only yourself. Get into several activities; go to all of them."

"The easiest thing in the world to do is gripe." Dr. Campbell said, adding that a friendly a wrong situation. "If anything is wrong around here, talk to someone who can do something about it." He said he wished the students would

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Modern Freshman Hall Houses 246 Men In Singles, Doubles

By BOB UPTON
FSU Freshman

Sunday, Sept. 14, saw the official opening of the new Freshman Hall, first of five to be erected according to the Fifty-Year Plan. This modern seven story structure stands at the southeast corner of the East Campus.

Construction began in May, 1951, it was completed last June. It was decided to postpone the painting of the walls until the end of the school year, allowing the plaster to dry thoroughly.

Each floor, including one of the more modern college dormitories in the country, can adequately accommodate 246 students. Of the 148 rooms, 40 are single accommodations and 104 are double.

Each double room is furnished with two chests of drawers, a large desk with combined book shelves, one or chair besides the desk chairs, two single beds and a spacious double closet.

AT PRESENT the students are awaiting the arrival of the new furnishings, expected to be installed within the next four or six weeks. This spacious parlor has already served as the scene of an informal dance conducted by the counselor of the men, Wallace White.

It was at this informal gathering that the staff members, namely Fred Voest, part time counselor, Mrs. Lela Orinz, house mother, and the six student monitors one on every floor with the exception of the first. These monitors are carefully chosen upperclassmen, maintaining a better than C aver-

Investisure Set For October 21

Ryles Calls Meeting To Discuss Service

Senior Investiture, the annual service which confers upon fourth year undergraduates the status of seniorhood, has been set for Oct. 21 in the amphitheater, Bob Ryals, Senior Class President, said.

The announcement was made at the Senior Class Executive Council meeting last Wednesday, when plans for the event were discussed. A Senior Class meeting has also been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Lafayette Auditorium. All seniors are urged to attend, as Investiture will be discussed at this time.

Ryals appointed the following committee heads: Sue Saxon, class sponsors; Anice Spencer, program and invitations; Terry Stein, address speaker; Ann Thomas, devotional and processional and recessional music; Barbara Brewton, advertising; and Bobby Drake, class rings.

Jane Ellen Sawyer was nominated for class, marshal, and other nominations will be made in the future.

Orders will be taken by Jackie in the parlor of South Cawthon streets on Tuesday of 10 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday; 3 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday; 10 a.m. to 12 noon, 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday; 3 to 4 p.m. on Friday; and 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday. The deadline for ordering is set for Oct. 4.

Freshmen Stunt Night Reveals New Talent

By DAVID DREIS

Working with a tight schedule of giving two performances in two hours, the Freshman Class of 1952 gave their annual stunt night last Thursday night before two standing-room-only audiences.

In the first showing which started at 8 p.m. straight-talking Larry Hill introduced 17 acts which consisted of a vocal duet with the two, Charley Singer and Jimmy Rankin, brushing up on the guitar and ukelele. These two received, as did all acts, in the second show.

TWO MONOLOGUES appeared during the performance when Jeanne Williams and Joan Minch both getting honors. Two pantomimes also frequented the performance as Don Williams mimicked "William Tell Overture." Spike Jones' "Beelzebomb" record and also Jerry Lewis' "Ain't Hunting We Will Go." The other pantomimists as well lanky Gene Warner who satired Johnny Ray on Stan Frebers's recording of "Hey."

Circus officials probably got down the name of acrobatic dancer, Norma Faye Harvey, and the Music School will probably get a few more students from Jack Teagarden.

THE SEMINOLE Quartet made their debut with the voices of John Candra, David and Danny Snyder and Harry Gaines. A trio of girls singing in raincoats and carrying umbrellas, Carol Nydecker, Lorena Smith and Joyce Reynolds, followed with "Singin' in the Rain."

One dramatic bit highlighted the program as Lloyd Kay emoted "Anne of a Thousand Days." Lloyd is a drama major.

TWO PIANO duets were spotted in the production with Carolyn Simmons and John Peck giving a very dirdified arrangement of "Deep Purple." The other duet consistne of Bob Leslie and Jimmy Staples received added applause because the two had not teamed up until a few hours before the production.

Pat Wood and Bert Roselle had the audience's feet beating with "The Charleston."

MARY TRULUCK raised cheers with her rather jaunting of "St. Louis Blues" and Le Vela Armstrong danced to "Stormy Weather."

Danny Knowles, expected to earn a hand on campus in the near future, started the audience cheering with a trumpet solo of "Sugar Blues." A Dixieland band closed the show, but not until the emcee announced that the campus station was carrying the second performance on the air, did the audience realize he existed.

Zany Karl Mohr emceed the second show.

Pledging Services End Rush Week For FSU Greeks

Fraternities and sororities this week will end their rushing period with the fraternities pledging later tomorrow afternoon and the sorority rushees filling out preferential cards at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Rushing for the sororities began officially on Monday, Sept. 15, when the freshmen women attended a meeting during which the rush period was explained by Pan-Hellenic, the governing body of the sororities, and Dean Katherine Warren. Afterwards registration for rushing was held in the Pan-Hellenic office in the Longmire Building.

TUESDAY AND Wednesday the registration continued, and Friday night cards were given out in the Longmire auditorium after formal receptions at the houses on Saturday night.

Besides each sorority gave five parties including a dinner, to which a girl could come only once at each chapter. Date cards were given out Sunday night for the parties yesterday. Four were held at each house and each girl could have two engagements with one sorority if she wished.

TONIGHT, STARTING with dinner, the last three parties will be held, with each rushee allowed to come to only one party at each house. At 5:15 p.m. there will be a meeting of rushees in the Longmire auditorium during which preferential bidding will be explained.

Tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. preferential cards will be filled out in the Pan-Hellenic office. Saturday, girs who receive bids will be notified and can pick them up from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday the sororities will pledge.

LAST THURSDAY and Friday the fraternities had open house and from Saturday through today, fraternities gave one party each day. During this period, rushees could have only one engagement with each house. By Friday, Sept. 26, the new pledges will move into the fraternity houses.

Piano Recital Given By Thomas Wright

The first faculty recital of the fall season will be presented by pianist Thomas Wright, Friday Sept. 26 at 8:15 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall.

The program will open with Sonata in F Minor, Op. 57 in A Flat Major by Beethoven. This will be followed by Fantaisie in F Minor, Op. 49; Sonata in G Major Op. 37 No. 1; Valse Brillante Op. 34 No. 1; Etude Op. 10 No. 3 and Scherzo in B Flat Minor Op. 31 by Chopin.

After the intermission Wright will play Lisle Joyeuse and Rafaele Danse L'eau by Debussy. The program will conclude with Deux Poems Four Piano Op. 32 including "Andante Cantabile" and "Allegro" by Scriabine

Blue Cross Info Given Faculty and Employees

J. W. Bennett, insurance representative of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, will be in front of the auditorium entrance in Westcott today and tomorrow to discuss group insurance plans for faculty, staff and maintenance workers.

Mainly for the benefit of new university faculty and workers, information on group insurance plans can be gotten from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on these days or any time at the Blue Cross offices at the Tallahassee Memorial Hospital.

Registration Swells Over 6,000 Mark

APO Reopens Book Exchange In New Room

Service Group to Buy And Sell Used Books At Special Low Rates

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity reopened its Used Book Exchange yesterday in newly remodeled headquarters in the basement of the Longmire Building.

THE EXCHANGE, is an entirely non-profit service which the group operates as one of its service projects. It operates as an agent between the student who wants to sell and the one who wants to buy, according to a spokesman for the group.

THE SELLER is given a receipts for the books he leaves on sale and names the price he wants to charge. The buyer pays the Exchange the asking price and the Exchange, in turn, turns the money over to the seller after deducting a ten - cent operating fee.

Now in its third year, the Alpha Phi Omega Exchange has handled after two such agencies at New York University. The local exchange is patterned after the one at U. as a project of the Junior class of 1951 and is considered one of the most useful agencies so far to the students of Florida State.

"IT'S GOOD to see so many of service to students, the executive must have books, Chairman Jay Ladd commented. The agency will be open from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Monday through Friday and students are urged to bring in for resale any used books they have.

Books urgently needed are History—Wishash; Education 101; Math—Bolser, Trimble, Wade; Psychology — Munn; Education — Cook; Physical Science — Kracken; Sopf: "College Chemistry" Lanus Pauling and Haniah — "Think Before You Write" by McCrimmon and "Writing With a Purpose" by Lees.

ALSO "Building a Successful Marriage" by Landis and Landis; "Introduction to Poetry" by Hazelgrin; "Literature of England" by Wood; Economics by Samuelson; Goode's Atlas, Music theory books, "The American Way," 4th edition by Hacker and Kendall; "Educational Psychology" by Gates Jersild and "Obstruction to Public Welfare" by Miles.

Founded in 1925 at Lafayette College in Pennsylvania to carry out service programs for the benefit of the campus, community, organization itself and the nation, Alpha Phi Omega limits its membership to those who have had Orientation Week testing program.

Art Exhibit Opens In Seminole Hall

The University Art Gallery opened the 1952-53 season with an exhibition entitled "The Cranbrook Academy Student Traveling Exhibition," which will continue through Sunday, Oct. 19.

The gallery, located in the Seminole Dining Hall, is open from 12:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday and 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The Cranbrook Academy, located at Bloomfield Hills, Mich., is less than 25 years old. Some of the outstanding artists who have been there are Eliel Saarinen, Finnish-American architect, and his son, Eero; Zoltan Sepeshy, contemporary artist and Carl Milles, Norwegian sculptor.

Miss Kasa, instructor in the art department, enrolled for post-graduate work in the Michigan institution in the summer of 1951, and also revisited the Academy in June when she saw the exhibition which is now on display here.

Freshman Percentage Up Most; Totals Include 52 Korea Vets

Fifteen to 1600 new students has swelled the ranks of Florida State University students this Fall to well over the 6,000 mark, Dr. A. B. Martin, FSU vice-president has announced.

Of the new students, there was almost a 50 per cent increase of freshmen over last year, or at least 300 to 600 more than the first semester of last year.

THIS YEAR also sees the registration of 52 veterans from the Korean War, honorably discharged from the Armed Forces and coming here under the new federal bill, Public Law 550. Three hundred and fifty-three of the veterans going to school under the old GI bill are still here, Charles Walker, registrar, has said.

By Friday, Dr. Martin said the university would have an official count of the students enrolled.

STUDENTS MAY apply for a change of classes through Monday, Sept. 29 at the registrar's office. That is also the last day that a student will be allowed to register with a full academic load. After that date, the student will have to take fewer semester hours and will need the permission of his academic dean in order to register late.

Last year after registration at first semester, a total of 5,000 students had signed up for classes, not counting those who registered late.

THIS YEAR, many students waiting in line in the hall of the women's gymnasium, where registration takes place twice yearly, got wet as the campus was showered with its traditional rain, which christens all newcomers during Freshman Week.

The ID cards given out were attached to meal booklets of tickets numbering events to be used for sports and other campus activities.

Band Announces Season's Outline For Ball Games

Plans have been announced by Dr. Bruce Mahaffey, director of Florida State's widely-known marching band, for what promises to be their most successful season so far. Robert Brazeagis is director.

Besides the band's two football majorettes, the troupe will be present at the Miami, Auburn game and the Stetson and Georgia Tech games to add their showmanship to the band, coupled bit to these already eagerly anticipated events of the school year.

In addition, plans are being made to send the band on trips to all other games away from Campbell Stadium.

Brazeagis thinks much in store for the band and hopes to make the Saturday parade in Doak Field, both marching and half-time programs, a memorable part of football season for all the spectators.

"Even though we have such a fine, well-coordinated group at present," comments Mr. Brazeagis, "we must always be ready to accept, take into consideration the band and replacing the graduating members." Any persons interested in joining the Marching Chiefs may contact Mr. Brazeagis at the band room. There are openings for trumpets, clarinets, trombones and some of the larger instruments which the band furnishes.

The "Chiefs" will be glad to have any interested students join the organization.

Circus Schedules Tryouts In Gym

Tryouts for the University Circus will be held in the men's gymnasium tomorrow and Wednesday at 7 p.m.

They will be open to all Florida State University students. No previous experience is necessary or expected. "The tryouts are not of a difficult nature but are designed to indicate the abilities of the student trying out," said Coach Jack Haskins.

The new nationally-known circus is booked for tours in Florida, Alabama, and Georgia for this season. The home show will be held in Campbell Stadium the first weekend in May.

Frosh Undergo Intensive Week Of Orientation

The Class of '56 yesterday began its first college classes after a tiring week of indoctrination on Florida State University which left them little time to get homesick.

The freshmen, now wearing name cards and odd tin caps, were officially welcomed Sunday by a group of university officials and campus leaders including FSU President Doak S. Campbell and student body President Mary Ruth Summers.

MONDAY MORNING they met in a general assembly where Dr. J. Broward Culpepper, dean of students, were presided and Dr. M. H. DeGraff of the Test Service explained the long series of placement and exemption tests they would be taking during the week.

After this the English, ACE psychological and mathematics examinations were given. That afternoon, the women met with Pan-Hellene, the governing body of the sororities, in a program explaining sorority rushing. The newcomers met their student guides, after which they went to their dormitories to meet with roommates-to-be. Monday night floor parties were held in the women's dormitories, while the men had get-acquainted meetings. At this time they met all the dormitory and student counselors.

A PERSONALITY rating scale, required of all students, was given Tuesday morning, and registration materials was received. Deans and department heads held special interest meetings for students planning to major in their particular fields. Foreign language exemption tests followed, along with music theory tests for music majors.

Wednesday, the students met their educational counselors and got down to the business of deciding what classes to take. Library tours and health examinations were held on Thursday, with the President's Reception at the sunken gardens in front of Strozier Library the final day of activities on both Tuesday and Wednesday.

THURSDAY, speech - hearing - articulation tests were given new students with library tours, interest meetings and the like also held. A freshman Dutch-treat supper with the counselor group was held in the late afternoon and Thursday night at Sam Baptista, office of coordinator, in charge.

An evening of entertainment, entirely the product of the new students was given Friday night in form of the annual Stunt Night.

SATURDAY SAW the influx of upperclassmen, who began registration in earnest. A dance party was taken over with parties given by the various church groups. Sunday saw the beginning of orientation sessions held open house for the freshmen women.

Saturday, the new class experienced its first registration, beginning at 8 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m. Play Night, in the new men's dormitory on East Campus, ended the week's activities.

Student Recital Today In Music Auditorium

A student recital will be given at 3:05 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall.

The program will feature several students at the piano. James Harris will play Ballade in A Major by Brahms; Robert Leslie will play Scherzo Op. 4, E flat Minor by Brahms; Kathryn Jett will play Etude E Major by Chopin and Harrison Fisher will play Nocturne in D flat Major by Chopin.

This will be a compulsory convocation for all under-graduate music majors according to the music school.

LIBRARY
FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

WELCOME F. S. U. Faculty and Students

Welcome to Our City . . . We Sincerely Hope Your Stay Will Be a Pleasant One

You are cordially invited to make our friendly store your shopping center while in Tallahassee. In just ONE stop, you will find Tallahassee's finest selection of

• Men's Clothing and Haberdashery • Ladies' Apparel and Accessories • Home Furnishings • Fabrics • Shoes

Dress Up our Room with sparkling fresh College-tested 'BATES' spreads and drapes.

Mendelson's

TALLAHASSEE'S MOST COMPLETE DEPARTMENT STORE
JEFFERSON and ADAMS STS.

Brighten up your Spirits (and appearance) with a new dress or "Arrow" shirt.

WE PROUDLY FEATURE THE VERY SAME FAMOUS NATIONAL BRANDS YOU ARE ACCUSTOMED TO BUYING IN YOUR FAVORITE HOME-TOWN STORE.

• Arrow • Cannon • Holeproof • Samsonite • Stetson
• BVD • Bates • Gotham Gold Stripe • Mark Twain
• Betty Barclay • Shirley Lee • Bostonian • Hickok
• Seamprufe • Maidenform • Timely • Botany • Pepperell • Dan River • Pacific • Startex • McCall
• Teena Paige • Mojud • Jolene • Cay Artley • Campus

Lewandowski Serves On Exhibit's Jury

Prof. Edmund Lewandowski, head of the department of art, spent Sept. 15-16 in Atlanta as a member of the regional Jury of Selection for the Metropolitan Museum's exhibition "American Water Colors, Drawings and Prints 1952" which will open in New York Dec. 5.

Frosh Week

(Continued from Page 1)

feel as liberty to call on him about any matter they could not get straightened out through the appropriate channels.

THE PRESIDENT also said that every young man had a right to be in college and do his best, but that they were subject to military draft. For this reason, he urged the Freshmen men to join one of the ROTC branches. In closing, he asked the students to come and visit him and Mrs. Campbell in "the house on the hill."

After the speech by Dr. Campbell, FSU Vice-president A. B. Martin gave a brief hello to the audience with "welcome from the bottom of my heart."

BOB DUCKER introduced the student speakers after the singing of the Alma Mater. At that time, he introduced Dean of Men Otis McBride and Dr. Culpepper, who had introduced the University official speakers.

Student leaders to speak were Lane McMillan, honor chairman on the Cabinet; Peggy Moore, chairman of Judicial Court; June Tate, chief justice of Honor Court; Gracen Smith, president of the Freshman Class of '54; Bob Canada, President of Sophomore Class of '53; Margaret Kraemann, in charge of Campus Chest; Curt Campbell and Vic Kocepka, co-captains of the football team.

ALSO TOM SIMMONS attorney general on the Cabinet; Bob Ducker, secretary of the Elections on the Cabinet; Jo Bell Proctor, secretary of Organizations on the Cabinet; Bill Skipper, secretary of Finance on the Cabinet; Jean Wetherell, treasurer of the University Government Association; Jim Dye, vice-president of Men's Affairs; June Conyers, vice-president of Women's Affairs; Milton Carothers, vice-president of Legislative Affairs, and Mary Ruth Summers, DGA president.

These students gave brief welcoming talks in which they explained some of the duties of their offices.

Director Wants People to Sing In Choral Union

Students and townspeople may participate in the Florida Choral Union this year, the largest choral organization on the campus which is led by Prof. Herman Gunter Jr.

The first meeting will be tonight at 7:30 in the choral room of the Music Building. All interested in joining should come to this meeting.

Gunter said there are no requirements for entrance as far as previous training and experience is concerned. "We welcome beginners as well as experienced singers, and hope that all will enjoy the inspiration of expressing themselves in the singing of good music written by some of the world's greatest composers."

This year the Choral Union plans to present Paris I and II of the "Christmas Oratorio" by J. S. Bach about the end of November, and the traditional performance of the "Messiah" by Handel, with orchestral accompaniment, on Dec. 12 and 13.

Bureau Announces Testing Sessions

Law school admission tests and graduate record examinations will be given at four separate sessions during this school year, the Educational and Testing Service has announced.

The applicant to a law or graduate school this year should inquire of the school of his choice whether he will be required to take examination in order to qualify for entrance into that school.

The Educational and Testing Service is employed by a number of colleges and universities throughout the country as an agency to administer its qualification tests. These schools require the results of the exams to appear on the prospective student's application blank.

All information concerning these tests and sample questions which appear on the tests may be obtained by writing Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J., or P. O. Box 9896, Los Feliz Station, Los Angeles 27, California.

Completed applications for tests must be received at least two weeks before the desired testing dates.

Price Issues Call For Gymkana Play Out of This World

All students interested in joining Florida State University's Gymkana Troupe are urged to contact Dr. Hartley Price immediately.

This year's annual gymstravaganza entitled "Out of This World," will play a full week in the East Campus gymnasium starting November third.

Last year's show, "Playland USA," was highlighted at the North Florida Fair, however this year Dr. Price has brought it back to the campus for presentation.

Girl acrobats, dancers, singers, and skaters should report to the practice sessions which are held from 4 to 6 every afternoon at the gym.

The highlight of the week long running of "Out of This World" will be the crowning of Miss Gymkana. All organizations are allowed to enter as many candidates as desired. Fraternities, sororities, dormitories, clubs, Circus and other recognized organizations can vie for the honor which was won by Miss Carolyn Hadden of Winter Park last year.

Gymkana is comprised of the National Champion FSU gymnastic stars, co-ed talent and the famous Tallahassee Tumbling Tots.

Mexico to Offer New Scholarships

The Mexican government is offering seventeen scholarships to United States students for study in Mexico during the academic year beginning March 1, 1953.

Eleven scholarships will be offered at graduate level and six at undergraduate. These awards will be granted to any qualified graduate student who is doing work in physical anthropology, ethnology, Mexican history, museography, painting, biological sciences, pediatrics, tropical medicine and cardiology; and to any undergraduate student studying in the field of physical anthropology, archaeology, ethnology, Mexican history, architecture and philosophy and letters.

These awards are granted through the Mexican - United States Commission on Cultural Cooperation. Interested students may obtain further information from the Institute of International Education.

School Names First Subject For Contest

National Newspaper Week will be stressed in the first feature-of-the-month contest of the School Press Tournament-by-Mail which is sponsored by Florida State University School of Journalism.

The tournament is a journalistic track meet, according to Dean Laurence N. Campbell. It is open to high school newspapers. Each month there will be contests for editorial and business staffs.

Editorial staffs will submit the feature-of-the-month and business staffs will submit the project-of-the-month. All contests are to improve standards of the school press.

Each entry submitted will be rated on basis of first class, 20 points; second class, 15 points; third class, 10 points; fourth class, 5 points, according to Dean Campbell.

The October feature-of-the-month is on the topic, "What the Local Newspaper Does for Our Community." The entry must appear in a school newspaper and be written by a high school student.

The first project-of-the-month is on the topic, "How We Build and Maintain Newspaper Circulation." High school newspaper staffs will submit a report on their methods.

All high school newspaper staffs may participate in this program according to Dean Campbell. Educational and journalistic value will be stressed in the appraisal of all entries.

Lewandowski Ends European Art Tour

Dr. Edmund Lewandowski of the art department and his wife have returned from a two-month tour of Europe's art centers, including Madrid, Toledo and Seville.

The tour was the third to be sponsored by American Artist magazine, and was conducted again by its associate editor, John D. Morse. It began with a survey of classic Greek and Roman sculpture in the National Museum at Naples and then followed the chronological development of European art northward through Italy, Germany, Belgium, Holland, England and France.

"Say Gang, Come On, We'll Meet You At The MECCA!!"

And Have You Heard? Something New Has Been Added . . . A Bakery! Just Phone in Your Order For Party Pastries, Birthday or Wedding Cakes and they will be made to Order . . . and The Mecca still delivers right to your dorm. Snacks or Box Dinners. Just phone 3-0659

THE MECCA

Who is he?

The chap represents thousands of young, red-blooded sons of great American families. He is ready to stand on his own, to carry his share of responsibility. He is preparing for a bright future and desires to train further toward his success. He wants peace, security, and a full life for his family and home. If need be, he is ready to defend his rights and his country. When called on to serve in defense of American liberties, he will be fully trained and equipped to fly and fight with the U. S. Air Force.

This is what he will do—

Today's college man will plan to stay in school and graduate if at all possible. If he is faced with early entrance into military service and possesses at least two years of college, he will enlist as an Aviation Cadet in the U. S. Air Force and choose between becoming a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After a year of the world's best instruction and training, he will graduate into a real man-sized job and wear the wings of America's finest flying fraternity. Commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force, he will begin earning nearly $5300 a year. His future will be unlimited!

How he qualifies—

He is between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried and in good physical condition, especially his eyes, ears, heart and teeth. After he has graduated from a recognized university or college, or has earned at least two years of college credits, he is eligible to enter the Aviation Cadet Training Program and will receive immediate processing for assignment to training. By sending for an Aviation Cadet application now, this Most Important Young Man in America Today will help bring about a peaceful tomorrow.

WHERE To Get More Details
Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.
PILOT · AIRCRAFT OBSERVER

U.S. AIR FORCE

Establishment of Scholarship Honors Memory of Educators

The cause of education in Florida is being given a financial boost by the last wishes of two Florida faculty members, the late Dr. M. R. Hinson and the late Dr. Ward T. Fletcher.

AT THE DEATH of Dr. Hinson his friends in Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary society, established a continuing scholarship in his honor. Dr. Fletcher's family requested that all money which would have ordinarily been spent on flowers be donated to the scholarship fund of Kappa Delta Pi in honor of Dr. Hinson.

Both men served in the educational field for many years. Dr. Hinson became high school supervisor in the Florida State Department of Education in 1927. In 1936 he joined the faculty of the Florida State College for Women, the institution which in 1947 became the Florida State University. He served as president of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1940.

DURING World War II he was dean of the FSU Graduate School and worked with the local draft board. The strenuous work during this period is credited with bringing on a heart attack which resulted in his request that he be relieved of the responsibilities of the deanship. He recovered from his illness sufficiently to return to his duties as professor of education. He was educated at the University of Florida and at Peabody College where he received his Ph. D. degree and served in the American Expeditionary Forces during World War I.

DR. FLETCHER entered the teaching profession at Leon High School in 1920 after graduating from the University of Florida. Four years later he joined the faculty of the Demonstration School of the Florida State College for Women. In 1936 he received his Master's degree from Duke University. He entered the armed service in 1941 and served for six years, five of which were at West Point as instructor in mathematics.

He returned to the Florida State University as technical assistant in the Test Service Bureau. In 1949 he took a year's leave of absence and completed requirements for his doctoral degree at Teacher's College, Columbia University. He was associate professor of education at FSU at the time of his death.

THOSE interested in contributing to the M. R. Hinson Memorial Scholarship Fund in memory of Dr. Ward T. Fletcher may send their contributions to either Dr. Mildred Swearingen or to Dr. Mode L. Stone, FSU. Checks should be made payable to the M. R. Hinson Memorial Fund marked "In memory of Dr Ward T. Fletcher."

FSU Chemists Go To Science Meeting

Six Florida State faculty members of the department of chemistry recently attended the fourth Conference on Reaction Mechanisms at Bryn Mawr College.

The four-day meeting was attended by approximately 150 college and university chemists and government and industrial scientists.

The FSU representatives were Dr. W. C. Coburn, Dr. Werner Herz, Dr. R. P. Marshall, Dr. W. F. Gresham, Dr. John Leffler, and Dr. R. M. Walborsky.

Sammy Kaye Signed

Sammy Kaye and his orchestra will play for the Florida State University Homecoming Dance Saturday, Nov. 15, according to an announcement from Dean of Men Otis McBride.

Campus Switchboard Tries Patience of New Students

Alexander Graham Bell was considered a genius when he turned some wire and a magnet into a magic voice carrier called the telephone. However, he hadn't reckoned with what a monster his invention might become in the hand of any student unschooled in the quirks of a campus switchboard.

The biggest mistake made by the new student is that to call a department on campus, he dials 9 for outzone, then dials 1-8000 to get back inside and then asks for an extension. Thus, three trunk lines are held up and the caller literally went by way of China to get from Jennie Murphree to Reynolds or some similar place.

A STUDENT may call anywhere on campus by simply dialing the extension number or else dialing "0" and asking the operator to put through the call. For calling outside he must dial 9, and then the desired number. By using these methods of communicating, he saves wear and tear on operators, Alex Bell's equipment and his own frazzled "university nerves."

Later in the semester a directory of students and faculty names will be available, making communication on campus even more convenient.

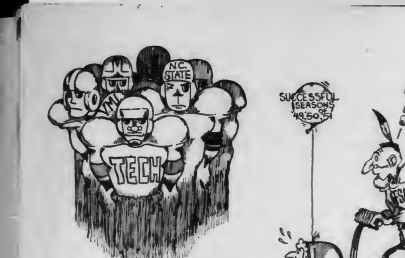
APO Meeting Is Set

An executive meeting of Alpha Phi Omega, service honorary for men, has been called for Thursday at 3:30 p. m. in the APO Chapter Room by President Tommy Bowen.

TALLAHASSEE'S THEATRES

WELCOME

F. S. U. STUDENTS AND FACULTY



AIR-CONDITIONED FOR YOUR COMFORT
FLORIDA
ADULTS 44c ALL CHILDREN 14c
Donald O'Connor
Lori Nelson
"FRANCIS GOES TO WEST POINT"

★★ STARTS TOMORROW—4 DAYS ★★
James CAGNEY
Corinne CALVET
Dan DAILEY
They're Rough and Ready For the Girls—Those Lusty, Lovin', Battlin' Soldiers, Captain Flagg and Sergeant Quirt!
The NEW WHAT PRICE GLORY
Color by TECHNICOLOR

FOR YOUR COMFORT COOL!
STATE
LAST DAY
Lana Turner
Fernando Lamar
in
"MERRY WIDOW"
STARTS TOMORROW — SHOWS ONE WEEK
CECIL B. DeMILLE'S
THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH
Color by Technicolor
Starring
BETTY HUTTON · CORNEL WILDE
CHARLTON HESTON · DOROTHY LAMOUR
GLORIA GRAHAME · with HENRY WILCOXON · LYLE BETTGER · LAWRENCE TIERNEY · EMMETT KELLY · CONTORA · ANTONETTE CONCILLO and JAMES STEWART
Produced and Directed by CECIL B. DeMILLE
Produced with the cooperation of Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus
ACTUALLY FILMED UNDER THE BIG TOP!
Adm. "Greatest Show" Only Mat. 75c 5 P. M. 63c Eve. 74c Chil. All Times 25c

Movies Under the Stars
CAPITAL DRIVE - IN THEATRE
Adults 44c Children Under 12 With Parents Free
TONITE and WEDNESDAY
GENE KELLY IN
With J. Carrol Naish—Teresa Celli
"BLACK HAND"
Complete Refreshment Facilities
★★ THURSDAY—FRIDAY—SATURDAY ★★
AGAINST FANG AND CLAW WITH KNIFE AND AXE!
Amazing, authentic thrill drama! . . . Sea man-killing elephant herself . . . Ferocious tiger trapped . . . Girl lured by killer-ape—and many more sensations
FILMED IN WILDEST BAANI
Jungle of Chang
A STERLING PICTURE PRODUCTION
Produced by S. E. V. ENGLUND · Directed by Pichel and Meting
Second Feature
Tim HOLT
"OVERLAND TELEGRAPH"
with RICHARD MARTIN

RITZ
ADULTS 35c — CHIL. 9c
TODAY & WED.
Bob Hope
Hedy Lamar
in
"MY FAVORITE SPY"
THURSDAY - FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
Lash La Rue
in
"OUTLAW COUNTRY"
John Litel
Marie Windsor
"TWO DOLLAR BETTOR"
—Plus—
Chapter 7 of Serial
"FLYING DISC MAN FROM MARS"

Welcome To The Big Time

Frosh Welcomed To FSU; Reminded of Advantages

This editorial is intended to welcome freshmen to the campus community of Florida State University and at the same time to remind them of some more serious aspects of their new life.

Most freshmen, perhaps, come to FSU with a specific field of study in mind; of these, statistics show a large number will change their minds before the end of their college years. Many others come because their parents want them to and are able to send them; others still to get some of the broader values of a general education.

FSU offers something to each of these types of students, but in no case is the way easy, the path clearly defined.

It is a common story to the student to find after a semester or two that his chosen major is not what he thought it would be. Or he may simply be discouraged temporarily and wonder whether he is really able to keep in the running.

To add to his disillusionment, the student learns along the way that there is considerable anti-college sentiment among large numbers of people. "Impractical," is their cry. "How is all that book learning going to help you when you get out?"

The student may be inclined to ignore these criticisms at first, but when he realizes that he must live among and work with such people, he will consider what they have to say and see that there is much truth beneath resentment.

In fact, taking certain common criticisms into consideration can help the student form important goals and ideals for his college work.

First, he must counter the claim that education is impractical. If the student just skims through his work for a degree, then it may be true that he will have a hard time making the transfer from college studies to bringing home the bacon.

But experience does not bear out the assertion that higher education is impractical. Some of the outstanding men and women in our day are college graduates, and a look at the achievements of modern science shows that theory is not so "abstract" after all. Thus it behooves the student to make his major subject a meaningful study, and show that book-learned knowledge is quite applicable to living problems.

On the other hand, no one should become a money-making machine. Too often the student falls victim to the converse propaganda: that the world is waiting with open arms for college graduates, that he is going to step right into a big executive job after commencement. He throws himself entirely into his major subject, excluding other worthwhile studies and scorning them as "all this silly stuff."

No specialized study ever really perpares a person for life in the whole. The accountant should know about politics, the chemist about social science, and they should learn about these things not just by reading but by active participation.

At FSU, freshmen can find most of these things. There's a general education program and there are many fine teachers; the campus offers practical experience in government and radio. This campus has a reputation for being friendly, and it is an excellent preparing-ground for community life.

Thus as the confusion of orientation week dies down, freshmen should think along these lines and remember that with privileges come duties. Florida State University is glad to have you, freshmen, and hopes you will take full advantage of what it has to offer.

● WELCOME

To all students who are enrolling in The Florida State University for the first time, I extend a most cordial welcome. You have been accepted as a student in the University because we believe you sincerely wish to secure the advantages of further education. You have been properly recommended by your school authorities as individuals who we can trust to make good students.

To returning students we extend a sincere greeting. It is good to have you back on campus. We shall depend on you to provide the leadership for the many activities of the student body for the year just beginning.

On behalf of the faculty, the administrative officers, and the people of the city of Tallahassee, I extend this welcome and every good wish for a most happy and successful college year.

Doak S. Campbell
President

● WELCOME

Dear Freshman,

It is so good to have you with us! We welcome you from the bottom of our hearts.

You are a big class, you are a good looking class, you are a smart class, you are the spirit, the life which is Florida State University.

College is a big step. Take it from an old Senior—study. The person who slides through college slides through life and has little respect or love for the least of all himself.

Be friendly, speak and smile to everyone whether you know them or not. Be responsible, if you say you are going to do a job—do it. Start now making posters for Freshmen Elections. Live by the honor code.

Have faith in yourself and keep faith in a higher being and you will come out on top. God bless each one of you.

Mary Ruth Summers
President.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Merca Meeks, Bruce Gatchel
Sports Editor ..... Jim Couch, Jim Eady
Feature Editor ..... Jane Mercer
Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York.
Telephone 3-8900, Extension 4221 Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

FROM THE EDITOR

TRUTH IS BASIS OF SELF-GOVERNMENT

By BILL DUNN

"When the one great scorer comes to write against your name, he'll write . . . not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."

Every student who matriculates at FSU becomes a member of a community which enjoys a considerable degree of self-government. Truth and honesty are the basis of such community life. Only when there is a deep sense of personal integrity can there be the mutual trust and self-respect upon which any society of self-government must rest.

Every member of the student body shares its obligations as well as its privileges. He must be willing to place the standards of the community above his own. He must accept the responsibility not only for himself, but for his fellow-citizens as well. It is presumed that every student who enrolls at FSU is a person of honor and that he will act honorably in all of his relations.

The honor system is established for the purpose of fostering and preserving these ideals. Living under such a system has considered violations of the honor system, whose effective operation is entirely dependent upon each individual student. Each student is equally responsible and should conduct himself so as to be free of reproach or suspicion. Failure to subscribe to these practices impairs the efficiency of the group and reflects upon the entire student body.

Cheating (which includes deliberate acts of deception), as applied to this code, is defined in terms of situations concerning student regulations; it comes under the jurisdiction of the University Government Association. Lying is a falsification of the facts, either in giving out false information or in withholding the truth, whether by self-interest or wilfully to cause harm.

Cheating in the giving or receiving of aid (whether written or oral) or otherwise in order that a student may receive undeserved credit for work which is not his own handwriting.

Stealing is the appropriation of funds or other property belonging to another, and the borrowing of money or article without the knowledge or consent of the owner.

It is a false sense of values, indeed, that makes us seek good grades without seeking the knowledge that would truly help us to get along in the world.

Grades are like wrapping paper on packages. The contents of the package are in use long after the wrapping has been discarded. Unearned grades are just fancy wrappings on an empty package.

High scholastic averages may help us to secure good jobs after we have graduated, but it will be hard to keep them without the knowledge back up the grades.

Earning good grades needn't be a problem. Any course can be a "crip" course if you are really interested in it. Try to become interested every course you take. Don't think of it just as another course that is required. Think of the ways in which you can benefit from the knowledge. Eliminate the need for cheating.

We are never enriched through dishonesty. We may make some fleeting material gain but we lose something more important—our self respect.

Remember . . . the way in which you play the game of living determines your ultimate reward.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

GREATER VOTER PARTICIPATION INDICATED

By SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS

(Written exclusively for Florida's Weekly Press

WASHINGTON—1952 thus may be the year in which Florida could send 1,000,000 voters to the ballot boxes in a general election.

In no general election of any memory has there been such an active interest in the campaign leading to the November 4 election day. Likewise, there is evidence of voter participation than ever in the past.

It was shocked to learn that in 1948 only eight of Florida's 67 counties cast votes equal to as much as half their potential strength in the presidential election. Others cast votes as low as 14 per cent. For the state as a whole in 1948 only represented not quite 36 per cent of the adult population.

Because of the importance of the issues, I have cooperated in every way possible with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other organizations which are pulling on the "get out the vote" drive. I would be happy to see all of the approximately 1,200,000 eligible voters in Florida cast their ballots six weeks hence.

In the conviction that it is incumbent upon all of us in public life to encourage voting, I accept the desirability of having all eligible citizens vote, I interested myself actively the other day on behalf of a special group which should be entitled to vote.

My office has received a large number of inquiries from men in the armed services, regarding their balloting rights. Florida has a liberal absentee voting law and it has been a simple matter to advise those soldiers, sailors, airmen and WAVES as how to apply for the absentee ballot.

But there has been one group of service men who pose a question. They are the draftees.

The boys who did not register before they were called into the service now find they probably will not be able to vote because Florida law requires that initial registration be in person. Some of these men were inducted, or volunteered, a month before they reach voting age.

I have written to Secretary of State Robert Gray asking that such a general authorization for "Voters Leaves" be issued to all Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine commanders stationed in the United States. Under such an authorization, men would be granted leave by their active duty officers to their home towns for the purpose of registration by the November general election. I believe that such a policy could be carried out without serious loss in efficiency of the defense organizations, and it would cost the government absolutely nothing.

The armed forces lay great stress upon the importance of citizenship in their effort to teach the men and women in the ranks to discharge their citizenship responsibilities.

I know of no more dramatic way of demonstrating to the world that Democracy, of demonstrating to the members of the armed services the ideals for which they are organized and trained to defend, and to spotlighting to all the citizens the importance of election.

I confidently expect that the Defense Secretary will give earnest consideration to my suggestion and to take steps for the immediate adoption of a program of "Voters Leaves."

SEMINOLE SCENES

OLD FASHIONED WELCOME IS BEST

By FRANCES CAWTHON

To all those new Suzes and Sallys Gumdrops, welcome! Glad to see you back for another week, welcome! The same goes for all people with fallen arches—those are our upperclassmen and professors. (Even the dogs around here get fallen pass-pads with those bills in the mail.)

Profound apologies for the no-loss-of-weight diet that worked word "welcome." But even the Thesaurus, that handy writer's book of interesting and synonyms, contains no word of greeting which hadn't already been used at least 153 times since we all started coming back. A long research, however, did dig up two forms of saying hello which would be new to everyone.

One of these, the kowtow, ain't so hot. After all, it's the millions Chinese have been using it for something like a few centuries. Still it is different to this campus.

The kowtow is a form of greeting by which when one meets his superiors, one bows and bows until one's head touches the ground, according to a dictionary-like definition. Now, can you IMAGINE what Dean Campbell said at Frosh Orientation is true about this being a land of equality and would spend half our waking moments in our heads. That would be convenient only for Biology students looking for new species of mites or protozoa something of the picturesque for the many students who refer to FSU as the "circus college."

The other type of greeting consists of pulling the forelock of your friends' hair. This isn't practical. Popular people would lose all their curly locks, and while it would be embarrassing to bald people, the thing that point of this hair-pulling deal is that, pretty soon nobody would speak to anybody because nobody exactly is pleased to have tuffs of their hair yanked out.

So, sacrificing originality, I am leaving the kowtow for the China-men and the hair-pulling for the hair-pulling to the people who have to have hair shampoos, the old fashioned, deep down in the heart "welcome" will have to do here.

This is the first year since their inauguration that rat caps have come in different sizes and also the first time that upperclassmen students have refused to wear them.

If you look closely, you will see a number of two-tone jobs on some of our older Seminoles which read "Schlitz." Seems that these are left over from the days when a pound and do research work in Alaska . . . Cause, said one fellow, are mostly all natural and it takes longer to get a degree Four guys . . .

PLAYBITS

Orr Becomes Drama Head

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Another year, another season of theatre. We said to ourselves back the new faces and some we've seen around before. Here's something special for each and now alike. There will be reneral tryouts for the Florida Players on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Auditoria Conrad Theatre and all students who is interested either in being in any of the shows or in working on them at all is urged to attend.

Dr. Orr, who replaced Dr. Mc-Calmon as head of the drama area in the Speech Department, hasn't had a chance to meet everyone yet and these tryouts will give him an opportunity to get acquainted with you and vice-versa. Be come on over! There's plenty of work, fun, and room for all.

Speaking of Dr. Orr, he's new to us here at FSU, but not in the field of theatre. And from what we've seen of him and heard around the Hickory building, it looks like a pretty exciting year for student drama. He comes to us from L.S.U. and that's quite a recommendation in itself. Why don't you drop by and say "hello"? You'll be glad you did.

We know many of you who have enjoyed the fine performances of such folks as the Silvers and the Bergmans will be glad to see that they won't be treading the boards here this year, but the absence of many of the familiar faces around Conrad doesn't mean any slowing up of productions . . . not from what he saw of the Freshman Stunt Night. So, it looks like we'll have a show that's just for you! It's the theatre's business to see that the schedule for this semester. You can find out all the particulars at the general tryouts, so don't forget to be there.

Among the people whom some of you already know from cast productions and who are back this year are Skipper Lambert, Charlie Bushlen, Jayne Gardner, Libby Lach, Connie Birdie, Don Remington, Sara Ware Lee Davis, and Don Mower. They'll all be around to help calm those stage-frightened nerves at general tryouts.

Another plug for general tryouts, but it's worth plugging!)

Ken Martin, a quite familiar personality in drama at Florida State, left Friday for Lackland Air Force Base in Texas to lend his talents to Uncle Sam's air force for a few years. He received his appointment as second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve as part of September. Ken was former president of Los Jongleurs, the dramatic honorary. We wish him the greatest success in his latest "role."

And mention of Les Jongleurs brings to mind another important item. It's the first meeting of the dramatic honorary. Be on the look-out for a notice of the time and place. Membership in the organization is open to any student who meets the qualifications. It's worth investigating.

MOVIE NEWS

Circus Life Film Starts Week Run

By JUNE MORGAN

In keeping with his reputation for filmdom's spectacular and realistic, Cecil B. DeMille explores the adventure and pageantry of circus life in "The Greatest Show On Earth." his latest production which begins a one-week run at the State Theater, tomorrow, September 24.

Considered DeMille's peak film achievement, his latest hit is the result of three solid years of planning, research and production. The "big top" scenes were made with full cooperation of Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus at Sarasota, Florida and genuine native scenes familiar to all who've visited those state attractions.

DeMILLE joined the Ringling show in 1949 making notes, talking to circus people and getting a hand for every performance. Eighteen months later the script prepared by him and his staff was ready for production.

Betty Hutton, Cornel Wilde, James Stewart, Dorothy Lamour and Gloria Grahame head the all-star cast and perform their own stunts in the film. Many hours of rigorous training were essential for their role.

"THE GREATEST Show On Earth" combines dare-devil adventure, romance, top star names and the leading director in the annals of Hollywood movie history.

Special admission rates for the showing will be matinee, 60 cents and evenings, 74 cents, according to theater manager, Vernon M. Carter.

"Mademoiselle From Armentieres" makes her comeback in the new "Musical Price Library", an outstanding story of World War I that comes to the Florida tomorrow.

CORINNE CALVET plays the bubbly French miss who entertains "Johnny Doughboys" James Cagney and Dan, Dailey.

The screenplay by Phoebe and Henry Ephron was first produced in 1946 but is brought to the screen under the direction of John Ford of "How Green Was My Valley" and "Port Apache fame.

HIGHLIGHT of the movie are the duets of Miss Calvet and Miss Calvet, the same songs that made tunesmiths Ray Evans and Jay Livingston their hottest hits— "Oui, Oui, Marie", "Tipperary" "Mademoiselle From Armentieres" and "The Caissons Go Rolling Along."

Featured in the supporting cast are William Demarest, Craig Hill, Robert Warner, Marisa Pavan and Henry Letondal.

ROTC Course Designed To Meet Many Needs

A course known as "Branch General" is being offered students who applied for Army ROTC this year. It will give the students an opportunity to prepare for any of the 12 branches of the Army and obtain a commission after graduation in the branch most appropriate to the student's aptitude and preference.

All Army ROTC students will take the same course, but in their junior year they will be assigned to a specific branch and will attend the Summer camp of that particular branch.

LT. COL. Cornell D Booth, professor of military science and tactics said that because of the unit said that students with a desire for leadership and action should sign for artillery, armored units or infantry.

Those interested in figures and science can sign for Army technical branches as the Engineer Corps, Ordnance, Chemical or Signal Corps. The student of business will find many related branches of Quartermaster, Ordnance and transportation Corps as well as in the arms.

"FLORIDA STATE University is one of the first among 25 major universities and colleges to be selected for this opportune program," Col. Booth announced in a decision of Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president, to accept this program for the immediate future.

Army clearly demonstrates the desire of the Army to train and give FSU students the greatest possible advantages in preparing for their service," the Army ROTC commander said.

"The nation's armed forces are by necessity a part of the life of every civilian and a military career can and is very attractive as the United States becomes obligated to increasingly heavy International responsibilities. The ideas of Better Prepared to Better Serve the country can be applied in the Army ROTC and the future plans for expansion at Florida State University."

Alexander Presents Paper on Children

Dr. Theron Alexander, psychologist, earlier this September presented a paper on social status among children to the American Psychological Association Convention in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Alexander based his findings upon experiments conducted with 21 children, 16 girls and 11 boys in each group.

THE PAPER stated that blish and standing among children does not necessarily indicate a child is effectively meeting his environmental tasks and that he has desirable personality characteristics.

One child in the group, Dr. Alexander says, was found to have the highest social status among the children in all their activity situations.

THE FSU psychologist, as a result of his research asks if either extreme of social status a child be beins highly popular and selected for all group activities or being unpopular and rejected are going to be detrimental to the development of the child.

In his paper Dr. Alexander says the study included examination of the child's perception of himself and his world and his approaches to solving problems encountered in his relationship to his environment.

IN HIS ANALYSIS of the child in the group of 37 selected most of the children to take part in their group activities Dr. Alexander found this child was seldom original or creative and that he lacked leadership qualities.

In this instance the child was satisfied when acting under control and directions of others, because responsibility for his own actions and possibility of the increase of risk was then lessened.

"ALTHOUGH the social status of such a child is high," says Dr. Alexander, "he is a child who in his interpersonal relationships remains emotionally isolated."

Freshman Finds First Week Hectic

Editor's note: The following is a typical freshman letter home after the first week of school. Written by one of FSU's new students.

Dear Folks:

Things have been a lot of fun as well as a little hectic for freshmen on the campus these past few weeks but I think we'll make it in spite of the rain, registration, rainouts parties, rain and rat caps.

As you know, we get set up in our rooms with the help of the sophomore counselors who are more affectionately known as "sophomore Thinkies." They also help us to get acquainted around the campus.

During the student houses and all so nice that we don't really have a chance to miss our home very much, group.

At registration the other day we met three friendly people. When we couldn't find a certain table someone would come to our rescue by directing us to it.

The only unfriendly thing that our new friends did to us was to close sections like mad as the while we had to have classes on Saturday in order to get all the subjects we wanted into our schedule. Some of us have three or four classes on Saturday or some classes at night so that we can get everything in.

There are oodles of places to eat and tons of things to buy. But don't worry about us; we are almost enough money for food.

Will close for now.

Your daughter,
SUSIE SEMINOLE

Camp Flastacowo Opens Its Gates And Invites All To Enjoy Facilities

By KEN HURLEY

Camp Flastacowo, which is easier to reach than to pronounce, opened for business Saturday, September 20.

And what's more, according to acting camp director Mrs. Ruth DeKalb, free buses for students will ply back and forth from the Women's Gymnasium to the University's 5-acre recreation camp at regular intervals daily except Sundays.

FACILITIES for a wide variety of enjoyable activities are available at Flastacowo including swimming, canoeing, volleyball and badminton. There are also opportunities to indulge in less strenuous but equally enjoyable pastimes such as eating and picnicking using strategically-located barbeque ovens for cooking purposes.

Walking down shady, peaceful paths communing with nature, the good earth and such are also available for those so inclined.

MOREOVER, two large cabins for use of organized groups and week-end conferences or outings are available. Reservations for using the cabins can be made through the camp director at her office in room 115 in the Women's Gymnasium Monday, Wednesday or Friday from 1:30-2:30 p.m.

Mrs. DeKalb, substituting for Miss Mary V. Alexander who is on leave of absence this year while attending the University of Michigan, pointed out that many campus organizations have found Camp Flastacowo an ideal retreat in the past and issued an invitation to all students to visit the camp and acquire the "camp habit."

THE DIRECTOR is on duty at the camp Tuesday through Friday from 3-7 p.m. and all day Saturday and Sunday. Her camp phone number of 2-2212 and her office number is extension 3391.

Camp hours for students, faculty and staff are: Tuesday through Friday, 3-7 p.m.; Saturday, 1-7 p.m. and Sunday, 10 a.m. - 7 p.m.

BUSES LEAVE the Women's Gymnasium at 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and at 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Return trips will be at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and at 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30 Friday, 3-7 p.m.; Saturday, 1-7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Come On In --- The Water's Fine

FUN-O RELAXING—Camp Flastacowo offers students those much needed hours of relaxing away from the books. The lives at the University owned camp are being expanded constantly but the main drawing cards are still the sun, water and "woody" atmosphere.

TO REPLACE FSU GIRL:

Committee Seeks New Bowl Queen

A search for a queen to reign over Miami's 19th annual Orange Bowl is now underway. The 1953 winner will replace Miss Ruthie Garst, the Florida State, Bradenton blonde, who has held the title for the past year. Miss Garst will be a Senior this year.

Winner of the glamor race will be awarded a $500 scholarship to a Florida school of her choice, a wardrobe and other honors in addition to the fame. She will reign through the Orange Bowl Festival, Dec. 25 through Jan. 2. Four runners up will form her court.

ALTHOUGH the deadline for entrants has not yet been set, the Orange Bowl Committee is starting its 1953 search earlier in order to make an earlier selection.

Finalists will be selected from photographs submitted. These should include a head and shoulders closeup, one in a play suit or bathing attire and a third in street or evening wear. Unretouched eight by 10, black and white glossy prints are preferred for possible newspaper reproduction.

PICTURES, accompanied by descriptions to include age, weight, height, color of hair and eyes, along with bust, waist and hip measurements should be sent to Press Bureau, Orange Bowl Committee, 615 S. W. Second Ave., Miami.

Limited to unmarried Florida girls or out-of-staters attending Florida schools, the field will be in the 16 to 24-year age bracket. Minor girls must have parents' permission to compete. Sponsors are not required.

WELCOME

TO YOUR NEW

Student Center

- Soda Fountain
- Short Orders
- Dancing
- Recreation

The Student Center

STUDENTS!

WE KNOW WHAT YOU WANT

AND WE HAVE IT FOR YOU!!!

✶ USED BOOKS -- BUY NOW ✶

- Art Supplies
- School Supplies
- Stationery

The Student Center

- Used and New Books
- Felt Goods
- We Buy Your Used Books Anytime

University Bookstore

Big Things Are Ahead For This Group

UGA—These elected officials of the FSU student body are shown opening the door of a new year in the University's life. From left to right they are: Jean Wuthenell, UGA treasurer; Jim Dye, vice president of Men's Affairs; Mary Ruth Summers, president of UGA; Milton Carothers, vice president of UGA, and June Conyers, vice president of Women's Affairs. Marcia Morris, secretary of UGA is not pictured.

Free Movies Offer Thrifty Fun To Students With Spare Evenings

By JUNE MORGAN

No pesos in your pocket? No place to go and nothing to do? Nothing left for dates when money disappears for dinner? Well, the Junior class and numerous agitators last year found a solution for every Seminole brave's problem, be he frightened frosh or senile senior.

In answer to a plea for organized recreation and more money's worth from activity fees last year, the campus soon had its own system of free weekly movies. Each film attraction is scheduled for a week, thus giving many students an opportunity for free entertainment. The film may be a little antique but the atmosphere, laughs and tears are the same enjoyed at the best 44-cent downtown "talkie."

DURING the first semester the campus movie house will be Monday, West Campus; "O" Club, Tuesday; South Cawthon, Wednesday; Marshlot, Thursday; Men's Senior Hall and Friday, Music Amphitheater. The shows begin 7:30 p.m. weeknights and 8 p.m. Friday.

In the past the boys found it convenient to attend the shows at the girls' dorms, while the girls preferred Magnolia and Senior Hall theatres. It seems interesting acquaintances are a by-product of the entertainment.

SCHEDULED MOVIES include Father Was a Fullback, Dark Victory, Two Flags West, The Hasty Heart, Call Northside 777, Charge of the Light Brigade, The Black Rose, South of St. Louis, The Jackpot, Life of Emile Zola, State Fair, The Razor's Edge, The Stadium, I Was a Male War Bride, Day the Earth Stood Still, and Mother Was a Freshman.

The title of each coming movie will appear in the weekly bulletin, printed in the Flambeau and posted on the main bulletin boards.

Engineers Needed Throughout USA Says VA Director

Veterans Administration has immediate vacancies for engineers in Washington, D. C., and throughout the country, H. F. Dickensheets, manager of the Pass-a-Grille Regional Office, announced recently.

No experience is required, Dickensheets said, but a college degree in civil, general, mechanical or instruction engineering is essential. Beginning salary is $3,410 a year.

Persons employed will be assigned to trainee positions and promotions are assured to those whose progress is satisfactory, he added.

Interested applicants may apply by mail to the Departmental Personnel Officer, Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C., or in person to Room 2057, Munitions Building, 20th and Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

PAINTED BY JEGART

Soda Shop Mural Provides Painless Tour of Campus

Orientation-dazed freshmen and sedate upperclassmen may enjoy a colorful, effortless tour of the Florida State University campus when they view the 50-foot mural recently-installed in Soda Shop, located in the basement of the Alumni building.

The continuous four-panel mural covers the upper portion of one wall and was painted by Artemis Sakrakis Jegart, FSU graduate student in the department of art.

In brilliant colors and with a light, airy style, Mrs. Jegart captured portions of campus landmarks and customs that will bring a reminiscent smile to the faces of returning students and alumni, as well as orient new students to the spirit of the college.

MRS. JEGART'S mural begins with a drawing of a popular Seminole pastime, throwing fellow students into the local fountain. The swimmers are usually Greeks and their recently-pinned sweethearts, but campus politicos, rat court judges, and other odd varities of students may join in the swim before the year is over.

The drawings are so detailed as to even capture the mosaic pattern of walks, the architectural details of buildings and the great live oak tree in front of Westcott that has been hollowed out and refilled.

REPRESENTING the year's highlights are football games, canoeing on Lake Bradford at Camp Flastacowen, the guide wires of Flying High, FSU circus, the familiar grecian pillars of the Music amphitheatre and the proposed West campus buses.

The slick texture of the painting has an unusual method behind it according to artist Jegart. She used Gesso, a white chalk-like background, over the Masonite panels. The painting was done with oil and a brush, later partially rubbed off with a cloth, smoothed with sandpaper and waxed.

SHE TRIED to show soda shop customers the trip from the front gate to the freshman women's dormatories and back over the path to the music building as well as other college scenes.

Mrs. Jegart plans to present her painting show sometime in December in the Museum Galleries. Upon graduation in February she plans to do free-lance commercial art. She is the wife of Rudolf Alfred Jegart, Associate Professor of Art.

Dr. Baum Presides

Dr. Werner A. Baum, head of the department of meteorology and editor of the Journal of Meteorology, official publication of the American Meteorological Society, served as chairman during one of the sessions at a joint meeting of the AMS and American Geophysical Union in Chicago recently.

The session over which he presided dealt with Evaporation from Lakes and Reservoirs.

• White Frontier Buck" welted to red rubber soles—yea, Man, this Fortune is right for campus wear. It's the favorite of young men everywhere. See it in our window. Come in for your pair, today.

Nic's Toggery
Next to Seven Seas

Make Thompson's Your Record Headquarters
THOMPSON'S MUSIC HOUSE
214 W. College Ave. Shaw Bldg.

Special Purchase Reg. 1.25 Now Only .79

"AYE LADDIE!"
Nic's Toggery features thr-r-rifty, nifty ARGYLES

Cottons in Authentic Patterns and colors to give your wardrobe a lift for Fall.

Special Only 79c
Nic's Toggery
Next to Seven Seas

Here's Your Special
INVITATION
To Become Better Acquainted With Fine Foods in a Friendly Atmosphere . . . . and like everything else here, The Prices Please!

Students and Faculty
We invite you to come in relax and enjoy a meal, snack, or just a coke in our beautifully modern air conditioned
Amber House

"For Food That's Fine"
The Amber House

Georgia Tech, VMI, N. C. State Head Football Slate

SEMINOLES—The Florida State University football team. The Seminoles will face a tough ten game schedule this year. Their opener is slated for Saturday night against Louisiana Tech. Game time is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Hopes Bright For Tennis

The Florida State University tennis team, which posted a record of nine wins and five losses last year, will return completely intact with the exception of Jim Berry.

Berry, last year's No. 1 player on the net squad, did not return to school this year. However, Tom Cundy, Dave Scanlon, Joe Harris, Jack Egan and Dan Boda will all return to give the Seminoles plenty of depth and experience.

Also on this year's team will be Hal Schaun, who was ineligible last year and served in the capacity of manager.

Coach Don Loucks, who remained his duties as tennis coach last year after a year's absence expressed hope for another good season because of the experience gained last year.

He indicated that the schedule would be similar to last year's, which included Indiana, Rollins, Georgia, Mercer, and Loyola.

No Breathers Seen For 1952 Season

This is the season all good Florida State football fans have been waiting for: for this fall FSU will venture into first class competition, notably Southeast Conference champion, Georgia Tech; Furman, VMI and North Carolina State of the tough Southern Conference. So after five years of mauling sub-par football teams, the Seminoles this year match brawn with some of the better teams of the South.

Since the grid sport started here in 1947, the Indians under coach Don Veller have compiled an impressive record of 30 wins and only four setbacks besides finishing the 1950 campaign undefeated and winning the Dixie Conference three years in a row before dropping out in '50.

But things will be different this year. In fact only two of last year's opponents — Tampa and Stetson—are on the 1952 slate.

The 1952 schedule starts out slow with a night game against little (enrollment 1,888) Louisiana Tech at Campbell Stadium. The 'Bulldogs' from Ruston, La., finished last year with a 4-5-0 record and averaged 17 points a game.

The second opponent to face the Seminoles is the Cavaliers of Louisville Cardinals who compiled a record of 8 wins and 4 losers. The Kentucky team averaged 15½ points last year—averaged 18 a game—while their opponents chalked up 208.

The third game, against Virginia Military Institute, should provide the first real test for Dr. Veller's charges. The 'Keydets' tied for the Southern Conference championship with the great Maryland squad of 1951 with seven and dropped three. VMI scored 227 points for an average of 22 a game while they allowed their opposition 162 points.

Another Southern Conference eleven, North Carolina State will provide the competition for the Seminole's fourth game on the road. Playing at Raleigh, N. C. last year the visiting a team that won only three games last year while losing seven.

After the North Carolina State contest, The Seminoles will be away again to meet an old arch-rival: The Stetson Hatters who have eight victories and two loss last year. They rolled up an impressive 240 points—which is an average of 30 a game. The Hatters opened their '52 season last week by losing to the University of Florida, 33 to 6.

The Seminoles come back home again to face a real rarity here, Mississippi Southern. Word has it that the 'Southerners' are loaded this fall which doesn't seem hard to believe since they gave Alabama a stiff fight before losing by 20-6 last Saturday. In 1951 they took top honors in the Gulf State Conference as they won six and lost five.

Furman University of the Southern Conference will provide the competition for game number seven which will also be the homecoming game. The Purple Hurricanes, from Greenville, South Carolina, took only three contests last fall while losing six and tying one. But they started this season off with a lopsided 47 to 6 triumph over Newberry.

The Furman tussel will be followed by an engagement with the Ramblin' Wrecks from Georgia Tech at Atlanta. Tech is rated among the top three of the country—with Michigan State and Maryland and they gave good reason for that rating last Saturday by mauling The Citadel, 54-6. The Atlanta institute was undefeated last fall won the Orange Bowl over Baylor and scored a total of 278 points. A meager 76 points were countered against them during their eleven game schedule.

The next contest will see the Indians travline to Spartanburg South Carolina to battle the Wofford College Terriers, who in their first outing last Saturday were trampled by South Carolina, 33-0. The Terriers won the championship of the South Carolina Little Four league. Their record was 6-3-1.

The ten game season will be completed with the annual fight against the University of Tampa on the Campbell stadium green. The Tampans scrunked by Troy State in their first game this football season, 6-0, but they always save their best for FSU as was proven last year. In 1951, they won seven which included a 14-6 victory over the Seminoles, lost three and tied one. The Boucans ran up a total of 289 points for an average of 26 per game.

Six of the ten FSU opponents began their seasons last Saturday. Tampa ,Georgia Tech and Furman were victorious while VMI, Mississipi Southern and N. C. State were down to defeat.

The six home games are most ever played by Florida State so an attendance record should be set.

Five Lettermen To Pace State Cagers

Much Help Expected From Big Standout Freshmen Group

The Florida State University basketball team turned in a record of five wins and 20 losses last year but this year's squad should make a far better showing due to the return of five lettermen and a large number of promising freshmen.

Scheduled for heavy duty action as returned veterans Bob Pence, Sam Wernke, Rick Benson, Duane Hodson, and Jerry Westhafer. The quintet will be bolstered by Herman squad members from last year. They are Jim Tom Richardson, Tom Burst, Bill Wisner, and George Kahlich.

Raising these experienced playing up will be a host of freshman men are working out daily in an attempt to get in shape before regular practice starts, Coach Bud Kennedy stated that official drills would begin on October 13 with two weeks of cross-country conditioning.

These freshmen are Warren Allen, Tallahassee; Lloyd Biles, Rising Sun, Indiana; Gene Wagoner, Dearborn, Michigan; Gary Wold, Madison, Wisconsin; Jerry O'Leary, East Chicago, Indiana; Jim Oler, Economy, Indiana; Dave Holt, Kearny, Missouri; Wayne Patton, St. Louis, Missouri; Dick Klemeyer, Hinsville, Alabama; Wallace Higginbotham, Woodbine, Georgia; H. B. Marcum, Somerset, Kentucky; Albert Valiani, Monongahela, Pennsylvania; Jack Letherworth, Greenville, Florida; Forest Brown, Southwest Georgia Junior College; Preacher Reeves, Georgia Military College; Sandhurst and Charles Franklin, Newland, North Carolina.

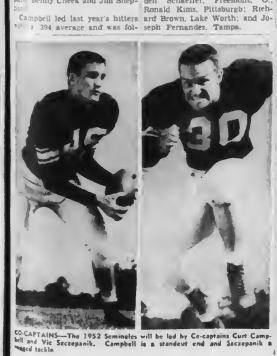
THREAT—Roy Thompson, one of FSU's speedy halfbacks, who will see lots of action this year.

Prospects Good For Baseball Team

The Florida State University baseball team, under the able guidance of Coach Ralph Mathis, posted a record of 17 wins and four losses during the 1951-52 season, and seem well manned for the coming year.

Matherly, also athletic business manager, indicated that although there were only seven lettermen returning he expected other regulars and crowned freshmen to compensate for the losses due to graduation.

Lost from this year's diamond crew will be Wayne Benner, Ren-Mitchen, Les Mullen, Ed Sen-Ken Smith, and Bob Trow-Sessoms was the Semi-most effective pitcher last ear, posting a 6-1 won-lost rec-



Holding this year's mound staff will be Ed Lockard, who also won six and lost only one; Chuck Sandlin and Marvin Haynes. Other returning lettermen, on whom Matherly is counting, are Ralph Bunn, Ham Wernke, Billy Mills, Wade Rowlyn, and Billy Campbell. Additional help will come from rookie members Johnny Shepherd, Jim Cheek and Jim Shepherd.

Campbell led last year's hitters with a .394 average and was followed by Blinn, .317; Benner, .313; Melton, .308; Mullen, .301; Smith, .299; Mills, .243; Trowbridge, .217, and Wernke, .197.

Besides the 6-1 pitching records posted by Lockard and Sessions, Chuck Sanders had a 2-0 record. John Witt, 2-0, while Marvin Haynes did not receive credit for any of his tollings.

Matherly, in his second year here as head baseball coach, is expecting a large group of freshmen to bolster the team, which will play a schedule similar to last year's. That schedule included Georgia, Georgia Tech, Loyola, Miami, Stetson, Tampa, Rollins, and Florida Southern.

Freshmen baseballers are Louis Cox, Miami; Max Long, Jacksonville; Jim Atwood, Hollywood; Charles Whidden, Cairo; Gene Johnson, Mulberry; John Cuesta, Tampa; Bob Wynn, Woodland, Ga.; Gary Ashley, Greenville, S. C.; Ray Bazzell, Panama City; Fred Kendall, Ft. Pierce; Jack Morgan, Alloona, Pa.; Billy Kelly, Tallahassee; F. P. Hightower, Alapulgas, Ga.; Manuel Yaleseas, Tampa; Bob Bonbi, Tampa; Bill Braden Schaefer, Freemont, O.; Ronald Kims, Pittsburgh; Richard Brown, Lake Worth; and Joseph Fernandez, Tampa.

CO-CAPTAINS—The 1952 Seminoles will be led by Co-captains Curt Campbell and Vic Szczepanik. Campbell is a standout end and Szczepanik a standout tackle.

Swim Team High In Youth

The Florida State swimming team splashed through another highly successful season last year, ending a nine meet season with six wins, two losses and one tie, to remain one of the top teams in the South.

Coach Bim Stults' aquate wonders broke five school records and added a pool record while finishing second in the Florida AAU and downing Miami, Southern Regional Champions, and Texas A. & M., Southwest Conference runnerups in dual meets during the season.

Records fell in the 150-yard individual medley, 220-yard free style, 440-yard free style, 200-yard backstroke, 200-yard breaststroke and 300-yard medley relay.

Returning letermen on this year's squad include Dick Wells, John Burnett, Bob Carter, Don Van Hise, Jack Burnett, Dan Blackshear, Larry Beaty, and Bob Richardson.

Pat Farrell, veteran diver and Mike Gaines, star of the Blue Devils, along with numerous winners Steve Bailey, Bob Foley, Bob Straniff, and Skippy Lewis will be counted on to bring in points this year.

A large host of freshmen will also be trying out for berths on the Seminole tank team. They are Don Burwell, Norman Shipley, Ronnie Weaver all from Kansas City, Kansas; Robert Rhodes, Albany, New Jersey; Charles Carothers, Tallahassee; Charles Crowe, Pittsburgh; Larry Decker, Daytona Beach; Joel Lurie, Cleveland; Don Jaicks, Tallahassee; Robert Dapper, Pittsburgh; Benjamin Fisher, Daytona Beach; Harvey O'Laughlin, Fort Lauderdale; Ryan Ray, Daytona Beach; Richard Rhoten, Morristown, New Jersey; and Bob Bluke, Lake Worth.

With this group of newcomers and his veterans from last year, Coach Stults is hoping for another good year. Stults is planning to schedule practically the same teams as last year, with the exception of University of Miami. He has issued a request that all students interested in trying out for the squad to report to the East Campus pool, in the Women's Gymnasium, sometime between four and six in the afternoon.

Stults also indicated that there were several openings available as assistant managers and that anyone interested contact manager Don Cooper at the pool.

Another Great Year For Seminole Gymnasts

By TOM CONKLING

It looks like another fabulous season, to say the least, for the greatest team in the history of Florida colleges, namely the national champion Florida State University Gymnastic squad.

The famous twins Carmine and Joe Regna, two of the nations best gymnasts, have been voted co-captains of the 1952-53 edition of the Pricemen.

With such veteran competitors as the Regnas leading the team, there is little doubt that the champions will once again bring some more national titles back to FSU.

The losses of Gene Rabbitt, four consecutive years national side-horse champion, and Jack Sharp, NCAA flying rings title holder, will be felt; however Coach "Hustlin' Hartley" Price has filled the vacancy by bringing two standouts to FSU. The pair are Charley Simms, NCAA High Bar Champion and member of the U. S. Olympic team and tumbler Bob Bollinger, who has the potentialities of winning the national championship on the mats.

Returning to FSU as a graduate student is Bill Roethehm, one of the greatest gymnasts in the sports history. Roethehm has represented the United States in the last two Olympic games, against Czechoslovakia in New York in 1947, against Japan in Tokyo in 1950 and in the Pan American games in 1951. He won the title of "Champion gymnast of the Western Hemisphere" in the later contests at Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Bill's national records include four national all-around championships, three national high bar titles, and one national side horse crown.

Coach Holder, who along with Roetehm represented FSU as U. S. gymnasts in the Olympic Games in Helsinki this summer, is rated the number one undergraduate gymnast in the United States.

Don is the only member of the past Olympic team with collegiate eligibility remaining.

Jack Miles is a national champion performer on the flying rings and has an excellent chance of winning the NCAA all-around championship this season. He is also one of the best long horse vaulters in the nation.

Dick Gutting, national champion trampolinist and an outstanding tumbler, is another high point collector on the peerless Seminole team.

Rounding out the list of national championship performers are Ray Signorelli who is about to hit top form which will place him among the nation's top all around performers and Al Rudolph who scored in the long horse event in the last national AAU meet.

Other outstanding performers include: Larry Weston, Benny Wallace, Jim Tanaka, Bill Scarlow, Bob Martin, Eddie Evans, Gene Abrahamsom, Jim McCauley, Kent Hetreling, Al Zerna, Tony Flitcraft, Bob Hicks, Al Marcus, John Garbuzet, Harmer Weichel, and Tommy Thompson.

At the helm of this star-studded lineup is the coach of nine national championships, Hartley Price. Price is to the field of gymnastics what Bear Bryant is to football, Phog Allen to Basketball and Gilbert McGrew to baseball.

Besides the NCAA and NAAU meets along with other sectionals the Seminoles will vie against such outstanding squads as Army, Navy, Syracuse, Duke, Maryland and Georgia Tech in dual meets.

Paul Dekker is being counted on to become Michigan State's top pass receiver during the coming season.

Dick Morgan, West Virginia University's star pitcher last spring, recently won his first game in pro ball for the Roanoke team in Class B Piedmont League.

Welcome Freshmen

JUGGERNAUTS—Dick Turk (left) and Earl O'Neal are two of FSU's real juggernauts. Turk is a pile-driving fullback and O'Neal specializes in bone-crushing from his tackle position.

Vollyball Team Posts Long Record Season

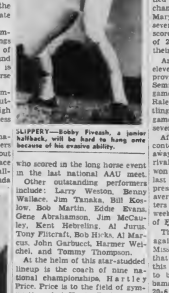
The Florida State University vollleyball squad, with but three returning lettermen, will open their regular season soon after the Christmas holidays.

Last year the vollleyball team won 36 and lost 45 games, while winning 23 matches, losing 15 and tying 8. They placed second in the Florida AAU, third in the St. Petersburg Open, third in the Smoky Mountain Open, fourth in the Mid-South Open, and fifth in the National Collegiate.

Returning will be Howard Gould, an aggressive spiker who hits with great accuracy with either arm, and Jim Couch, a spiker who was converted to a roving setup man.

Stan Humphries, a promising newcomer to the sport showed signs of developing into a good setup man will also see lots of action this year. Several basketball players will join the team after their season closes to strengthen the squad for the nationals.

New to this year's squad is Dick Bagge from Providence, Rhode Island. Bagge is six feet four inches tall and weighs 215 pounds and is an aggressive spiker with drive and experience.



Many records were set last year as Ross Hasbrock, with a terrific season, accounted for 367 spikes, 38 ace serves, 136 points while appearing in 103 games. Howard Gould was credited with 150 blocks, 134 points and 243 errors.

Coach Bill Ozeneal expressed a desire to have all students interested in tryinc out for the team to contact him as soon as possible.

The FSU vollleyballers will enter a pre-season meet at St. Petersburg on December 1, and are scheduled to participate in the Smoky Mountain Open on January 17.

SLIPPERY—Bobby Fiveash, a junior halfback, will be hard to bring ante because of his evasive ability.

COACHING STAFF—The 1952 Seminole coaching staff, working up game strategy. Seated are Don Veller (left) and Bob Harbison. Standing are Vaughn Mancha, Tom Robertson, and trainer Roy Williams from left to right.

Trophy Honors Scotty Stanton

Plans for a "Scotty Stanton Memorial Trophy" to be presented to the most valuable gymnast annually have been drawn up by members of the Gymkana Troupe.

The trophy honoring the famous and beloved athlete will be awarded on the basis of team contribution rather than solely upon individual records.

"Scotty," whose full name was Charles Scott Stanton, died accidentally in the watery of Wakulla Springs while staging an underwater acrobatic show for friends on Labor day.

The 25-year-old FSU gymnast from Macomb, Illinois, frequently entertained visitors to the Springs by diving through a hole in a submerged log.

Before the accident he had successfully accomplished this trick with a host of other acrobatics in 180 feet of water at Tarzan pitched through the crystal-clear water from a glass-bottom boat.

He had just come up from staging his show, grasped at the edge of the boat, missed and must back into the deep water. Spectators thought at first it was part of the act, and by the time the guard Wilton Jardine, of the Seminole swimming team, was summoned it was too late to save him. Jardine made two attempts to reach the drowned athlete but both were in vain.

It is believed that Stanton ran out of oxygen sooner than he had anticipated or suffered a heart attack.

Stanton was a junior at Florida State University and an accomplished gymnast. Known chiefly for his care-devil feats, Scotty thrilled throngs all over the state with his famous handstands at dizzy heights without the use of safety apparatus.

The husky athlete transferred to FSU from Western Illinois State Teachers College, Macomb, Illinois, in September of 1950. He attended summer school this summer.

Welcome FSU Students

Scurry Into Sports Wear At Bertha Cooke, Your Nardi Headquarters

Nardis of Dalla

Very different, very flattering — this well-made blouse of Wyner's fine Sagmo-mor worsted jersey, with lustrous tassel trim. Comes in white, red, green, brown and black in sizes 10 to 18. $10.95

Hour-glass figure in seconds — that's what the strong elastic waistband of this lustrous corduroy skirt can do for you! Holds your blouse in too. Rust, red, purple, moss green and gold in sizes 10 to 18. $10.00

Hours
8:30 to 5:30

Bertha Cooke

Strong Track Team Back

Mize is Captain, Weak in Sprints

The Florida State track team, after a record shattering season during 1952, will be left stocked with returning veterans and may well equal last year's record of six wins as opposed to but a single defeat.

Eight new records were set last year as the Seminoles downed Georgia, Georgia Tech, Davidson, Miami, and South Carolina while losing to Loyola.

Foremost of last year's thinclads was John Poston, who set records in the 100 and 220 yard sprints and aided in the mile relay record effort. Poston's time for the 100 was 9.6 seconds and 20.8 seconds for the 220.

The mile relay team, composed of Poston, Dick Mize, Woody Parker, and Harvey Heagerty covered the distance in three minutes, twenty-two and four-tenths seconds.

Other track marks set were by Bill Wagner, with an 880 time of 2:01.2; Woody Parker, running the 440 in :49.8; and Jule Hurst, over the 120 yard high hurdles in :15.3.

Carlos Fraundorfer aided the record shattering effort by pacing new marks in two field events; putting the shot forty-four feet, five and three-quarter inches and tossing the discus one hundred thirty-five feet and four inches.

Poston is the only mainstay who will not be back this year, leaving a big weakness in the sprint department. However, Coach Kenneth Miller hopes to get some good 220 performances out of Woody Parker and Captain Dick Mize in addition to their fine 440 runs.

Miller indicated that he would have at least one good man in each event except the sprints and the high jump. He also pointed out that he will probably use Bill Wagner as a miler this year because of the sophomore's great endurance well regulated timing.

While this year's team will be without the services of Poston, two-miler Eddie Kucera, broad jumper Walter Grace, and sprinter Harvey Heagerty; Miller will rely upon returnees Tom Behring, Marvin Mollet, Baker King, Paul Sorapuru, Pete Nimkoff, Bill Whaley, Art Fraunder, and Jack Koonce to fill up the gaps.

The incoming freshmen stars have dwindled to only two because of last minute decisions by others to enter other schools. These two, however, were top high school performers and should aid the cause this spring. They are Wes Minton, state champion in the 120 yard high hurdles, from Jacksonville Beach, and Charles Mixon, a Tampan who placed second in the state in the two mile jaunt.

Coach Miller has expressed a desire to have anyone that is interested in trying out for the team or managing contact him as soon as possible. He announced that, although official practice sessions will not get under way until January, some of the tracksters, especially distance men, would be working themselves into condition prior to that time.

Miller stated that this year's schedule would be similar to last year's, having meets with SEC and Southern Conference teams.

'Murals Begin in Oct; ATO and AF Champions

The Florida State University intramural program will again offer students a means to happy hours of recreation throughout the entire year. Through its program, students will be able to take part in competition with other dormitories and fraternities in a wide and varied assortment of activities and athletic contests.

A total of ten athletic activities will make up this year's mean program. Interest ore vigorously and enthusiastically received by both fraternities and dormitory groups.

The team championships, awarded on overall standings in all sports, were won last year by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and a unit of Air Force Meteorology students in the dormitory division.

Behind the ATO's in the fraternity league, in order, came Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Zeta Tau Delta, and Kappa Sigma.

Individual fraternity team champions of the various sports were: Theta Chi-Badminton, Alpha Tau Omega-Basketball, Pi Kappa Phi-Volleyball, Sigma Nu-Bowling, Theta Chi-Swimming, Kappa Alpha-Golf, Pi Kappa Phi-Touch Football, Phi Delta Theta-Tennis (Doubles) and Alpha Tau Omega-Tennis (Singles). Sigma Nu-Track and Field, and Sigma Nu-Softball.

The Delta Tau Delta fraternity was awarded the sportsmanship trophy, a trophy awarded annually to the team displaying the finest sportsmanship throughout the entire intramural season.

Behind the U. S. Air Force team in overall leadership in the dormitory league came 304, Newman Club, and Senior Hall.

The individual dormitory team champions of the various sports were 640-Badminton and Golf, Senior Hall-Bowling, 294-Softball and Track and Field, Newman Club-Swimming, and Air Force-Tennis, Touch Football, Basketball and Volleyball.

This year's sports calendar calls for the fraternity league to have tennis (singles) and touch football in October, tennis (doubles) and touch football in November, table tennis in December, track and volleyball in January, bowling and basketball in February, golf and basketball in March, horseshoes and badminton in March, gymnastics and softball in April, and swimming and softball in May.

The dormitory calendar schedules bowling and touch football in October, badminton and touch football in November, table tennis in December, track and tennis (singles) in January, basketball and tennis (doubles) in February, golf and basketball in March, horseshoes and volleyball in March, gymnastics, softball in April, and swimming and softball in May.

RUGGED—Charlie Brown, a rugged guard who will be a thorn in the opposition's side this fall.

Golf Team Hit By Graduation

The Florida State University golf team was hard hit by graduation and transfers last year and will have only Tom Cumbie, Tom Brown, and Frank Hirt as possible starters during the coming season.

Last year the golf team waded through a rough thirteen match season and wound up with a record of six wins and seven defeats.

The FSU club swingers won matches over Rollins, Stetson, Miami, Georgia Tech, and twice over Mercer University. They dropped fairway duels to Jacksonville Navy, Georgia, Citadel, Rollins, Stetson and Alabama.

The team also finished third in the Florid Intercollegiate at De-Land, with veteran Sonny Tinney walking off with the individual championship.

Coach Bob Harbison said that he is expecting help for this year's team to come from four freshmen: Randy Church, Dothan; Bob Harwood, Tampa; Rudy Boyd, Laporte, Indiana, and Tom Hall from Glendale, West Virginia.

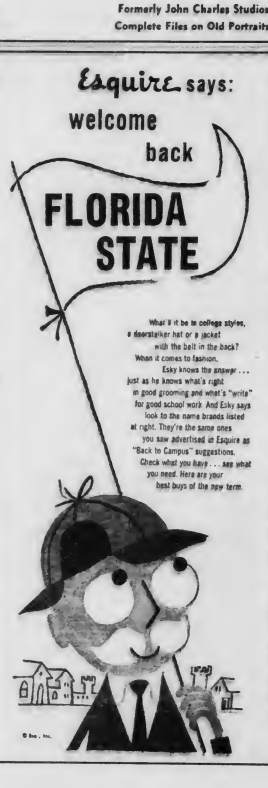
Harbison indicated that he is trying to contact teams of similar standing to those of last year, to round this year's schedule.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Welcome Back

Students and Faculty of F. S. U.

We invite you to come in and visit our Beautiful New Studio located at 129 North Monroe — across from the Florida Theater.



Anything in Photography from Artistic Portraits to group composits and candids of Social Functions. Intern and ID Photos are due soon, Make your appointments now. (3 for $2.00).

Our Prices and Service Please the Student Just Phone 0-3115 Today

Photography By Glenn

Formerly John Charles Studios
Complete Files on Old Portraits

Esquire says:
welcome back
FLORIDA STATE

What if it be in college styles, a deerstalker hat or a jacket with the belt in the back? When it comes to fashion, Esky knows the answer . . . just as he knows what's right in good grooming and what's "write" for good school work. And Esky says look to the name brands listed at right. They're the same ones you saw advertised in Esquire as "Back to Campus" suggestions. Check what you have . . . see what you need. Here are your best buys of the new term.

APPAREL
Air-O-Mesh Shoes
Allgaier Shoes
Arlyn Slipovers Shoes
Arrow Shirts, Ties, Sweaters
Bancroft Stockings
Bass "Weejuns"
Bostonian Shoes
Bullock Clothes
Cambridge Sportswear
Catalina Sweaters
Champ Hats
City Club Shoes
Clarks of England Desert Boots
Coed Shoes
Corbett Sportswear
Corticraft Socks
Cricketeer
Curlee Clothes
Dress Socks
Duofold Sweaters
Eagle Clothes
Edgerton Shoes
Fabiani "Drip-Dry" Suits
Fashion Shoes
Florsheim Shoes
Foster Sportswear
Freeport Shoes
Hathaway Shirts
Hollywood Socks
Interwoven Socks
Jantzen Sweaters
Jarman Shoes
Jockey Underwear
Jo White Shoes
Kelly Foresters Socks
Lamoreaux Woolen
Lee Riders
Lee Sportswear
Manhattan Shirts
Marshall Fields
Marlboro Shirts
McGregor Sportswear
Mohawk Socks
Nelson Knitting Mills
Nunn-Bush Shoes
Oxford Shirts
Pacific Trail Sportswear
Penn Shirts
Penney Socks
Pendleton Shirts
Perma-Prest Shirts
Pilgrim Shirts
Pioneer Sportswear
Plymouth Shoes
Pro-Keds
Puritan Sportswear
Ralston Shoes
Rand Shoes
Rayon Socks
Renown Sportswear
Robert Reis Underwear
Sanforized by Belcro
Shiloh Shoes
Shirt Craft Topcoats
Shirt-Ur-Fashion
Sloane Knitting Mills
Smart Set Shoes
Sperry Topsider Boat Shoes
Stetson Shoes
Stratford Socks
Superior Socks
Swank Jewelry
Swingster Coats
Sunglo Socks
Tennis Sportswear
Timely Shoes
Tom Boy Shoes
Tom Sawyer Shirts
Van Heusen Shirts
Wee Dee Socks
Wembley Ties
Wilson Sportswear
Worthington Shoes
Wrigley Golf
Yale Shoes
Yarnworth Shoes by Sanforized

TOILETRIES
Vitalis Hair Tonic
Brylcreem Hair Dressing
Bryllcreem Brush & Comb Set
Barbasol Shaving Cream
Barbasol Shave Lotion

LEATHER & LUGGAGE
Bellevue Luggage
Bond Bill
Dopp Kit
Prince Gardner Fine Leather Accessories

JEWELRY
Bellevue Diamonds
Lamont Watches
Hamilton Watches

MISCELLANEOUS
Bates Leather Chair
Eastman Kodak Cameras
Ever Ready Razors
Gillette Super Speed Razor
Parker 51 Pens
Parker Vacumatic Pens
Pelikan Pens
Reynolds Rocket Pens (Ballpoint)
Schaefer Pencils
Shick Hair Trimmer
Sheaffer Pens
Wahl Eversharp Tubepen
Wahl Eversharp Pencils

...But only Time will Tell . . . . . .

CAMEL leads all other brands by billions of cigarettes per year!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor

CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are — pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are — week after week!

FSU's Seminole Namesake Not Likely to Vanish; Statistics Show Florida Tribesmen Increasing

By EMORY KING

The student body here need not worry that the name Seminole" will disappear from the annals of Indian tribes the nation. The Florida Tribe, for which the FSU football team is named, is definitely not in the "Vanishing American" category, according to the Federal Bureau of Indian Affairs.

J. NIXON HADLEY, chief statistician of the bureau, reported the Florida State Board of Health that the Seminoles here in Florida have scored an almost 50 per cent increase within the last 10 years. The population has increased from 600 in 1940 to 1,001 in 1950.

The Seminole is the predominant Indian tribe in Florida, but the many of the present population is Seminole and how many of the other tribes "is not determinable" from census records, he stated.

Most of the Seminoles are descendants of refugees who fled to the sanctuary of the Everglades in South Florida following the disastrous seven-year war with the United States Army which ended in 1842.

THOUSANDS OF Indians lost their lives in the long campaign which cost an estimated 10 million dollars. Most of the survivors were rounded up and transported to the new Indian Territory west of the Mississippi River.

More than half the state's population of Indians is located in the four counties in the southern part of the peninsula, Nixon said. The counties include Broward, 147; Collier, 175; Glades, 124; and Hendry, 125; a total of 581. The remaining 430 were scattered throughout the state at the time the census was compiled.

Florida Seminoles were originally Creek Indians who separated from the Creek confederacy and overran the Florida territory after the destruction of the Apalachee and Tumlcua tribes by the English in 1702-03

THEIR WARLIKE qualities got them in trouble twice with the United States. In 1817-18 a United States force under the leadership of Gen. Andrew Jackson invaded the then Spanish-held territory to curb their border raids into Georgia.

By a treaty signed in 1832 they pledged themselves to move to the new Indian Territory in the West. They repudiated that treaty and touched off the seven-year war in 1835.

OF SPECIAL interest to history majors is the fact that technically the United States is still at war with the Seminoles. A peace treaty has never been signed with the Red Men who fled to the safety of the Florida swamp-jungle.

Library To Receive Set of "Great Books"

The Florida State University library will soon receive a set of the 54-volume "Great Books of the Western World."

This set, produced jointly by Encyclopedia Brittanica, Inc. and the University of Chicago, comprises 443 works by 74 authors from Homer to the present who are deemed best to embody the Western tradition. Its fundamental ideas and basic arguments

Thomas Runner-Up In Field of 8000 As Student Leader

Jerry Thomas, graduate student in the school of public administration, has been selected as a runner-up in the "Ten Outstanding American College Student Leaders Award" by the editorial board of Leader Publications.

A total of 8,000 of the nation's outstanding student leaders were considered for the annual student leader awards on the basis of their leadership qualities, maintaining a high scholastic standing and taking a widespread interest in student affairs.

Thomas, while an undergraduate, was a candidate for president of the FSU student body, a member of Gold Key, Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership and scholastic honoraries; Pi Alpha Sigma, public administration scholastic honorary, and Sigma Nu social fraternity. He was also named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Patronize Our Advertisers

VA Cites Change In Payment Plans On Life Insurance

Veterans may now make their checks or money orders for government life insurance premiums payable to "Veterans Administration," VA announced recently.

Heretofore, checks and money orders had to be made payable to "The Treasurer of the United States." As a result, many premium payments were sent to the Treasury Department rather than to the VA District or Central Office handling the insurance account.

Veterans were advised by VA not to send cash through the mails but to use checks or postal money orders. Cancelled checks or money order stubs serve as premium receipts

Frosh Coed Is Kin to Early FSU Founder

By MARJORIE MANGELS

History repeats itself for the third generation this Fall as Jennie Henderson Wallace moves into Jennie Murphree Hall on the Florida State University campus to begin her freshman year.

Jennie especially chose that dormitory. It was named for her grandmother, Jennie Henderson Murphree, who died a year before her husband Dr. A. A. Murphree became the first president of Florida State College for Women. The new women's dorm was named Jennie Murphree upon completion in 1922.

JENNIE MURPHREE was a native of Tallahassee and graduate of the West Florida Seminary as FSU was called then. Her daughter, Martha Murphree (Mrs. W. G. Troxler of Coral Gables) received her B.A. degree in English from FSCW.

Now the attractive blonde, oldest granddaughter of the late Dr. A. A. Murphree, is the third generation-descendant to live in Jennie Murphree Hall. Three of her cousins still in high schools and grammar schools of Florida are planning to follow in her footsteps when choosing a dormitory. One is nine-year-old Jennie Murphree, who now attends Kirby Smith grammar school in Gainesville.

A GRADUATE of Coral Gables Senior High School, Jennie plans to continue her studies in the field of social welfare.

Contest Now Open For Original Verse By Student Poets

College students may now submit original verse to be considered for possible publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry in the 35th competition.

Over 100,000 manuscripts have been submitted to the National Poetry Association in the past 10 years. Of these, about 4,000 have been accepted for publication.

Manuscripts must be typed or written in ink on one side of a sheet. The student's name, home address, name of college and college address must appear on each manuscript.

There is no limit on the number of manuscripts which may be submitted, and theme and form may be in accordance with the wish of the student contributors. Shorter efforts, however, are preferred.

The address is: National Poetry Association, 2210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Johnson to Direct Arts Ed. Division

Ivan E. Johnson, former director of art education for the Dallas, Texas, schools for the last six years, has been appointed head of the art education department at Florida State University, effective with the fall term.

While serving as art director for the Dallas schools, Mr. Johnson was part-time faculty member of Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

HE HAS a bachelors degree from North Texas State and his master's degree from Teachers College, Columbia University. His doctoral work was done at New York University.

Dr. Johnson has a background of 16 years of teaching experience in art education as an art supervisor and as a college instructor. He has also had considerable experience in designing furniture and fabrics.

HE SAYS that one of the major objectives of the Art Education Department during the current scholastic year at FSU will be the closer integration of constructive design, industrial arts and art education. A series of research projects will be inaugurated to develop better art education for schools and adult groups. In the field of constructive design a number of seminars and product analysis conferences are planned to give the FSU student a greater awareness of the trends in the field.

MR. JOHNSON has recently completed a term as president of the Western Arts Association and has been elected chairman of the association council for the next two years. He is a member of the board of the National Art Education Association, immediate past president of the Texas Association for supervision and Curriculum Development and vice-president of the Dallas Craft Guild. He is author of numerous articles on art education published in national publications and the author of a book for children, "Arts for Living." He has also served on the editorial board of two yearbooks in the field of art education for parents and educators.

Public Ad Has Courses On Improving Government

Two special evening courses are being offered this semester by the School of Public Administration for those citizens interested in governmental operations and how they can be improved.

The two courses have been added under the supervision of Dr. James A. Norton, public administration chairman of the school. Dr. Wilson K. Doyle is dean.

"ADMINISTRATIVE Problems of Florida" is being taught by Angus Laird, director of the Florida State merit system from 7 to 8:30 p.m. each Thursday during the Fall term.

The other course, "Municipal Administration," offered by the school for the first time as an evening course, has meetings from 7 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday under Fred Blair, director of the development division of the State Improvement Commission, and Dr. Norton.

THIS LAST course is designed to help Tallahasseans and citizens become better acquainted with local governmental problems. Although the whole field of municipal government is being covered, special emphasis will be placed on problems of major importance to those of the Tallahassee area, such as tax assessments, budget making, city manager duties and others.

"We believe that the progress made in state and local government depends upon the informed interest of public spirited citizens and we are anxious to do our part," Dr. Doyle and Dr. Norton said.

Kobre Writes Review

Dr. Sidney Kobre, professor of journalism, is author of a book review in the Journalism Quarterly, official organ for the Association for Education in Journalism for which he recently prepared a study on the teaching of history of press and radio.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Welcome Back Students And Faculty

P. W. WILSON

Since 1837

EIDERDOWN, THISTLEDOWN, TOUCHDOWN & SMITH

Attorneys at Law

Kissichobee, Florida

September 23, 1952

Dear Son:

Your urgent request of the 21st received, and am enclosing $25.00 — not $100.00 as requested. This ought to feed you until the 1st. Yeah, I know the food up there is not what you like, but nowhere on earth will you find anything like Mama's cooking. I believe you can get by without a big steak supper every night.

There is another problem that you will face now for the first time, and that is the selection of your clothes without your mother or me to advise you. Fortunately, there is a fine old store up there in Tallahassee that I can recommend without any reservations. The name of the store is "Alford Brothers" and it's located right uptown between the two big dime stores. They were there when I courted your mother at FSCW twenty-five years ago. In fact, when I was a boy and my daddy took me up to the legislature, I remember Papa taking me in there and they were nice to us then. On my last visit to Tallahassee last Spring I dropped in Alford's and, though they have spruced up some and have some new faces, I found the same old nice atmosphere of friendliness and service. I noticed, too, that they still carry the best lines of men's wear—Campus-Togs suits and sport coats, McGregor Sportswear, Jarman and Florsheim shoes, Arrow and Manhattan shirts, ties and underwear—in fact, all the fine old brands that you have liked here in our home stores.

You go up there to Alford's and introduce yourself. I know they will welcome you whether you buy anything or not. Their place has been the uptown home for students as long as I can remember. If you like, I'll drop them a line and arrange for you to cash checks and charge your clothes with them—within reason, that is!

We plan to see you when we go up to see Coach Veller's great football team step into big time on October 10th against VMI.

Write us soon and often—Hah!

Lovingly,

Dad

Sammy Seminole Says—

"Workum on Flambeau is Heap Big Fun and Good Experience"

Sign Up Today in the Flambeau Office 2nd Floor Alumni Building

Counselling, Aspirin Help Frosh Through Orientation

By JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

Every freshman who has just completed orientation probably had his first thoughts of choosing and planning his course of study for this year accompanied by a case of mild hysteria—as mild a case as a newly-graduated-from-high-school could get in his first week of college.

And when a lowly frosh in his rat cap approached with caution the "divine being" who was to serve as his educational counselor, he was awe-stricken to say the least. (Anyone who could understand something as complicated as planning a course of study, choosing a major, making a trial schedule, and reading that mysterious coda book, The Bulletin, must be a genius, he thought.)

But, to his surprise, the counselor was actually human, and tried to aid him in his decisions and to understand him as an individual. How did Florida State come to provide such a genius for every 30 or so new students, he wanted to know?

IT ALL DATES back to 1948, when the Office of Coordinator of Counseling was established at FSU under the direction of Dr. Melvene Hardee, and her assistant, Mr. Geo. Spencer. Since then almost 900 faculty members have been trained by Dr. Hardee for their duties as educational counselors.

Faculty members chosen to participate in the program of counseling are selected by the academic deans on the basis of their interest in working with students, their ability to deal with students in a counseling situation and their willingness to take part in a program of in-service training.

TO PREPARE himself to be of maximum service to you, the new student, the educational counselor takes part in both large and small group meetings, forums, and individual conferences. They learn with the aid of clinicia... vocational counselors, ... study of the individual's ... interests.

SINCE 1948, more than ... thousand new students have been aided by educational counselors in their first year of college. Each year, Dr. Hardee has made a careful evaluation of the work of teacher-counselors and the opinions of students who have had the experience of working with one. The results indicated that every freshman readily agreed that every new student has a specific reason to know he is very fortunate to attend a college where the transition from high school to college levels can be brought about so easily.

FSCP To Discuss Difficulties Faced By Student Press

Editorial and business problems will be studied here at the Florida Scholastic Press Association meeting Saturday, Oct. 4.

Student editors and their advisors from Florida and neighboring states may attend, although the meeting is held primarily for the southern district.

THE PROGRAM is being arranged by Dean Laurence R. Campbell of the school of journalism in cooperation with school press advisors of this region.

The newspaper school will consist of sessions dealing with gathering, writing, editing and headlining news as well as other editorial problems and also advertising, circulation and budgeting.

THE YEARBOOK School will stress choosing the yearbook theme, scheduling copy, planning the art, selecting the cover and solving other problems of yearbook staffs.

The Magazine School will focus attention on creative writing and magazine production. It will have sessions on article writing, story writing, poetry writing, and related topics.

ADVISORS will meet to discuss their problems and the activities of the Florida Association for Teachers of Journalism and the National Association of Journalism Directors.

Visiting speakers as well as members of the FSU faculty will be on the program. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. Sessions will open at 9 a.m. and close about 5 p.m.

Welcome Freshmen

have particular problems, how to make use of test scores provided on all students and how best to aid the student in his college experience.

Counselors are usually combined with new students who have indicated their choice of study to be parallel with the counselor's department. However, even if a new student is undecided as to his major, the counselor has several means of helping him decide about so easily.

WELCOME—FSU STUDENTS

created for you... by Capezio

THE DANCER'S COBBLER SINCE 1887

SOFT-TOE BALLET

Skillfully designed, Capezio soft-toe ballets meet every requirement... flexible, fast conforming, durable.

$3.75

TAP SHOES

Designed especially for tap and character dancing with "stitched" sole construction in without strain—light—right and flexible.

$5.95. Taps Extra

RHYTHMIC SANDALS

Capezio sandals represent functional perfection, combining the basic need of modern dance, acrobatic grip and physical educational work.

7.50

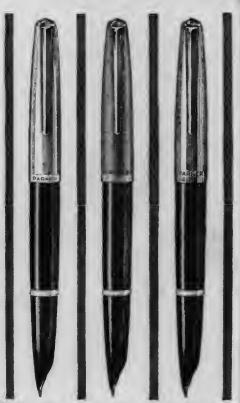
Capezio, the Dancer's Cobbler since 1887 has sent his footwear 'round the world for over sixty-five years on the enchanted feet of the world's most famous dancers. You, too, will find joyous allies to your dancing in Capezio's flawless functional designing and skilled crafting.

Strickland's on College Ave.

Malone's Co-op Book Store

107 SOUTH COPELAND STREET

- Used Books
- School Supplies
- Sundries
- Felt Goods
- Decals
- Magazines
- Sweat Shirts
- T Shirts
- Fountain Pens
- Ladies' Hose
- Stationery



—We Buy Used Books—

Malone's Co-op Book Store

Now! From the makers of Parker '51' the world's most wanted pen...

3 brand-new PARKER "21" pens ...at new attractive prices!

Parker "21" — With metal slip-on cap. Hooded point. Colors: Black, Blue, Green and Red. $5.75

Parker "21" DeLuxe — A luxurious pen with solid engraving on metal cap and clip. 4 colors. $7.50

Parker "21" Custom — 12K rolled gold plate cap and clip—only gold capped pen near the price. $10.00

Start off school in a breeze with one of these smart new Parker 21's. Smart styling... better writing features seldom offered at even twice the price.

Writing's fun with the New "21"! You glide through schoolwork on a super-smooth point of Osmiuim, the wonderful new 8-metal alloy. Ink is specially metered to prevent skips and blots.

What's more, the "21" stores more ink in a new-type reservoir which you can see through. And Parker's exclusive, full-length hooded point protects against smudgy fingers. Choose your new Parker "21" for school now!

Also see the economy pen value of the year... PARKETTE—$3.50

Copr. 1952 by The Parker Pen Company

Child Development Among Courses Psychology Will Teach at Night

The Florida State University department of psychology is offering a number of night courses this semester, including one in child development from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. each Monday.

The course will be taught by Thorrn Alexander as part of child development program and is being offered in response to many requests fo rsuch a course in everyday child guidance.

DR. HUGH WASKOM, head of the FSU department of psychology, says another course "Psychology 565 is designed so a parent or a teacher need not be told humility is complex or that a child's behavior is hard to understand. However, though understanding is difficult and there are gaps in our knowledge of the development of children, scientific investigation and clinical work have added a great deal to our knowledge in recent years." The class will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. on Mondays.

Other evening psychology courses include "Psychology 565, "Mental Hygiene," which is the study of the principles of mental health: the promotion of favorable opportunities for physical, intellectual, social, and emotional growth in the formative years of life. The relationship of the school and the home to mental health will be discussed. This course will be taught on Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

ANOTHER course is Psychology 515, "Growth and the Psychological Processes." This course, to be taught on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon, is intended to acquaint teachers and other professional children's workers with the influence of the growth processes on the behavior of the individual.

Psychology 667, "Clinical and Experimental Psychology of Religion." This will be taught from 7 to 10 p.m. on Thursdays. This is a research seminar in the phenomena of religion. Modern experimental designs and controlled clinical observation will be employed in endeavoring to arrive at adequate psychological descriptions and explanation of religious behavior and attitudes.

Hannond Appointed To Manage Food At Student Center

Holly Hammond Jr., a graduate of the University of Denver in hotel and restaurant management, has been appointed manager of the food service at the new Student Center, located at Call and Tennessee streets, Dr. Dook S. Campbell, Florida State president, has announced.

The new center, which includes the post office, bookstore, grill, soda fountain, trophy room, and accommodations for small dances or banquets, had its formal opening the night of Sept. 12.

Hammond spent the past year at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education at Michigan State College, where he took a graduate training program in hotel and restaurant management.

He served 32 months in the Navy during World War II, including 18 months in the Pacific Theater of Operation. He is married and has one child. The Hammonds live at 446 Roosevelt Dr.

In assuming his new position at the student center the food manager expressed himself as being highly pleased over the modern grill and soda fountain.

"This equipment, together with the ideal location of the bookstore and post office adjoining, offers much opportunity for additional service to FSU students," he said.

Center Makes Formal Debut By Holding Open House

The red brick Student Center is in full swing operation now after having its formal opening Sept. 12, during which an open house was held for those interested in seeing the interior of the new building located at Woodward Ave. and Call St.

The building houses a bookstore, post office, grill, trophy room and student lounge, and is part of the FSU master campus plan.

THE POST OFFICE, previously located in the Seminole Dining Hall, has been given increased working space with mail being placed three times daily in the 2,000 mail lock-boxes, a 1,000 increase over last year. Mail deliveries and pick-ups from the main post office in down town Tallahassee have been arranged through a driveway and parking area immediately in the rear of the new post office location. There are front lobby windows for handling stamp sales, outgoing mail and registered matter, with modern lighting, and other improved postal services.

Paved walkways and parking space have also been provided.

LOCATED adjacent to the post office, the bookstore contains open displays of student materials while the grill has been arranged so that the floor space can be used for numerous students activities.

The student lounge area has a trophy room where some of the trophies won by FSU in competitive collegiate competition are on display.

AS A SELF-liquidating project, built through issuance of revenue certificates, cost of the new center and its equipment will be paid through funds derived from non-tax funds.

Council Outlines Rules In Cotton Maid Contest

The National Cotton Council of Tennessee is now holding their annual Maid of Cotton Contest.

Requirements for entering the contest are that contestants must be between the ages of 19 and 25, must have been born in a cotton producing state, never have been married and be at least five feet five inches tall.

A board of judges will select approximately 32 entrants to compete as finalists in Memphis, Dec. 29-30. From this group the 1953 Maid of Cotton and two alternates will be chosen on the basis of personality, intelligence, poise, background and appearance.

The selected maid will be flown to New York City where she will be outfitted in an all-cotton wardrobe. She will appear on nationwide television and radio programs and pay visits to the World Street textile center.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the National Cotton Council P.O. Box 18, Memphis 1, Tenn. All entry blanks must be postmarked before midnight December 1, for the contestant to be eligible.

Seniors Register For Placement Aid

Approximately 325 seniors signed up during registration Friday for a placement interview, according to Glover E. Tully, director of vocational guidance and placement. This year the placement registration table was set up near the entrance of the gymnasium rather than at the exit as in previous years.

Each year the placement office gives seniors an opportunity to sign up at registration for placement interviews. Those who failed to do so Friday may still take advantage of the opportunity to establish placement credentials by signing up on the bulletin board in the north end of Lower Westcott.

All seniors expecting to graduate in 1953 who wish to register for placement will be interviewed during the first semester. No interviewing program is to be conducted during the second semester.

Although seniors are not required to register for placement, failure to do so may seriously handicap a graduate's efforts to find the job he wants, either immediately after graduation or even 10 years from now, Tully says.

The 20 minute interviews are scheduled to begin around Oct. 1. Seniors who have not yet signed up for an interview are urged to do so at once.

Kobre Speaks at Columbia U On Importance of Visual Aids

A need for teaching American journalism through the use of visual aides was brought out by Dr. Sidney Kobre, associate professor of the School of Journalism, in a report at an annual convention of Press History Teaching Committee of the Association for Education in Journalism at Columbia University in New York.

Dr. Kobre, as secretary of the Press History Teaching Committee made the report on a nation wide survey of journalism history courses. He said the courses were lacking in visual and auditory aids such as recordings, slides, still pictures and motion picture films.

HE SUGGESTED that these audio visual aids should be developed by the various schools teaching American Journalism history to supplement classroom lectures and thus make the courses more graphic to the students.

"Progress in educational methods can be applied to the press history courses," he said, "in which the students take a more active part in class discussions and engage in workshop projects such as the reproduction of early newspapers. If the journalism student is to fully grasp the significance of journalism history in this country, the past must be brought to life for him and he must understand their contributions to the present day journalism."

IN ADDITION to Dr. Kobre, Dean Laurence Campbell and Profs Zell Mabee and Earl Vance represented the University at the meeting.

BROWN'S MEN'S WEAR

welcomes you Back-on-Campus

Florida State University

with Esquire Feature Fashions for Fall

All the brands you know the best, all the sharped new Fall styles in our best opening line-up since Koby himself was an undergrad.

Here's a list of our Esquire-advertised-brands. You can spot your favorites at a glance. Stop by to freshen up your wardrobe or just to say "hello". won't you.

Alligator	Dynel	Foster
Jantzen	Jayson	Lee
Los Angeles	Paris	Swank
Walkover	Wembley	Winthrop

Patronize Our Advertisers

WELCOME FRESHMEN

To

Florida State University

Welcome Freshmen

To The Campus Craze

Sandler of Boston

White Buck Shoes

White Bucks Red Sole 8.95

White Buck 7.95

Also

- Russet Calf
- Black Calf

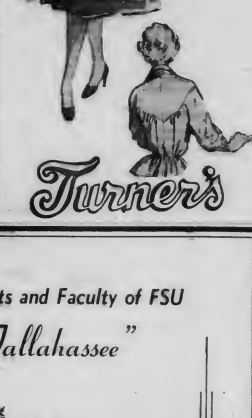
7.95

- Grey Bucks
- Black Bucks
- Spice Bucks

8.95

MILLER'S Cootery

College Ave.



Turner's featuring 2 piece worsted Jersey Dress By

ROCKLAND

Worsted jersey blouse to wear under a skirt or over a skirt. Push-up sleeves. V-neck at back. Black, moss green, cocoa. 10 to 18

Matching worsted jersey skirt with detachable, striped elasticized cinch belt.

$19.95

Turner's

Welcome Back Students and Faculty of FSU

"Serving Tallahassee"

LEWIS STATE BANK

INDUSTRIAL BANK OF TALLAHASSEE

CAPITAL CITY NATIONAL BANK

TALLAHASSEE STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY

ALL BANKS ARE MEMBERS OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Seniors Enter Contest On Academic Freedom

Members of the Senior class may compete for the $5,000 in cash prizes offered by the National Council of Jewish Women for the best essays by fourth-year college students on the subject of "The Meaning of Academic Freedom."

Deadline for entries is Dec. 31, but contestants are requested to submit their efforts as early as possible. Essays of 2,500 words maximum should be mailed to Essay Contest, National Council of Jewish Women, One West 47th St., New York 36, N. Y. First prize will be $2,500; second, $1,000; and third, fourth and fifth, $500 each.

The committee of Judges is headed by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and includes Dr. Ralph Bunche, winner of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize; Thomas W. Arnold, former Associate Justice of the U. S. Court of Appeals; Dr. Abram L. Sachar, president of Brandeis University, and Mrs. Douglas Horton, former president of Wellesley College and former head of the U. S. Navy WAVES.

Interested seniors are asked to obtain the rules of the contests, as well as printed certificates of authorship which must accompany essays, from the college administrative offices, which have been furnished a supply, or from the National Council of Jewish Women's contact headquarters in New York. Only class of '53 students are eligible.

Article Is Published

Theo Sommerkamp, graduate Journalism student at Florida State and former writer of the Flambeau religious column, is the author of an article in the Journalism Quarterly entitled "Helping Future Journalists Cover the Atomic Age." Sommerkamp is also employed by radio station WTNT.

Ray Gets Appointment

Dr. Royal H. Ray, chairman of the department of advertising here, has been appointed to the editorial advisory board of Journalism Quarterly, official publication of the Association for Education in Journalism.

Pep Rally Set For Friday Eve At New Center

The first pep rally and bonfire of the football season will be in front of the new Student Center from 7:30 to 8:15 p.m. Friday, Sept. 26.

The football team, cheerleaders and the "Marching Chiefs," Florida State band, will be present. Coach Don Veller will speak, and the team will be introduced.

Cheerleaders will teach the songs and yells. Those leading the cheers will be Patsy Gates, Martha Williamson, Shirley Knight, Ruthie Spencer, Ann Adams, Shirley Harper, Betty Ann Munroe, Dot Johnson, Nancy Black and Ann Yates.

Martha Williamson and Patsy Oates urge all Seminoles to "come on out and let's show the team that we're behind them 100 percent."

USCS Gives Test For Federal Jobs In Scientific Aid

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Scientific Aid (Cotton) for filling positions payable from $2,750 to $3,410 a year in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C.

To qualify applicants must take a written test and have had appropriate experience or education.

Applications must be filed by Oct. 7 with the Board of United States Civil Service Examiners for the Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. Further information and applications may be obtained from most first or second class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Alumnus To Direct Savannah Academy

James H. Persse, Florida State University alumnus, is the director of the recently-opened Academy of Music of Savannah, Ga. The academy is a cooperative association of Savannah musicians whose purpose is to make available higher musical education in their city.

The Academy is organized on the plan of a junior college of music and offers a two-year program leading to a diploma in piano, voice, violin, violoncello, theory and composition.

Persse, also a graduate of the University of Georgia, received his Master of Music degree at FSU in August, 1951.

INS

Ex-Prof Journeys To Jordan to Aid In Point 4 Work

Dr. Clyde Burns, for several years head of the industrial arts education at Florida State University, has gone to Washington, D. C., for a period of training with the United States State Department for a position in the United States Point Four Program of establishing industrial arts education in the country of Jordan in the Near East.

He flew from the States to Jordan Sept. 12 under a two-year contract.

Burns' family will sail from this country aboard the ship United States on Oct. 3, for France and from there will go to Jordan. Charles Burns, 17, will enter high school in that country, while an older daughter, Betty, will enter the University of Beirut in Lebanon. All the miles from Ammon, Jordan, the capital, where they will live.

W. H. Hinely, associate professor in the school of education who came from Columbia University, will be in charge of the industrial arts education program at FSU.

Circus Hits News In English Paper

"Flying High," Florida State's all student circus, has again hit the headlines—this time on the isle of Britain.

The Yorkshire Observer in Bradford, Yorks, commented on a "cutting" (newspaper clipping) from an illustrated journal about the circus received from Miss E. Russell, former Leeds, England resident.

The newspaper says even though FSU added the study of acrobatics to its courses in 1947—the only university in the country to offer a circus study in its curriculum and offer credits—top—not a single student performer has shown any desire to become a "pro" in the circus profession.

Seminole Eyeful

HEAD MAJORETTE—Anica, Spencer will lead the other high stepping coeds of the majorette squad this year in their colorful capers on the gridiron. Anica is a senior from Jacksonville.

Miamians Donate Scholarship For Restaurant Work Majors

The Greater Miami Restaurant Association has established a $100 scholarship at Florida State University to be awarded to a student majoring in restaurant management.

Notification of the new scholarship was sent to Pres. Doak S. Campbell by Grace C. Cross, secretary-treasurer of the Miami association, and arrangements were handled through the Florida Restaurant Association of which the Miami unit is a member.

Dr. Donald Lundberg, head of the department of hotel and restaurant management, said four other scholarships have been given in the past through the Florida Restaurant Association, but this is the first received from the Miami association.

Selection of the student to receive the scholarship will be made by Dr. Lundberg and his department faculty with preference being given to a student living in the Miami or South Florida area. This scholarship, as all others, are administered through the office of G. E. Tully, director of vocational guidance and placement.

Entire School Makes Move From West to East Campus

Does moving get you down?

Did the opening day of fall session find you struggling with suitcases, footlockers and trunks, and the assorted "stuff" you had collected each year in school? Then you can imagine the difficulties and problems of moving a whole school from one campus to another.

JUST THIS past week the FSU Library School completed its move from the West Campus at Dale Mabry Field to the East Campus. This is the first time in the school's five-year existence that it has been on the East Campus.

Along with moving offices, classrooms, supplies, and personnel the school also moved a 11-brary — the Curriculum Library with more than 15,000 books. Also in on the moving was the Audio-Visual Center, with its film/ more collection, motion picture projectors, screens, slides, and other equipment.

THE LIBRARY School is now located in the Village, at the back of the FSU Campus, near Magnolia Hall. Offices of the school are in Cockrell Hall, the Curriculum Library is in Van Brunt, and the Audio-Visual Department will be located in Lane Hall. Classrooms have been set up in Cockrell Hall. The new extension number for the school is 3211, in case some students haven't been able to locate the office since the move from West Campus.

Dean Louis Shores, back from a year's leave of absence as Fulbright Research Fellow in the United Kingdom, directed the move from West Campus during the month between summer and fall sessions, and praised the work of the University staff.

"COLONEL Mendenhall, Mr. Paquetharron, Mr. Gulick, and all the members of their staff and associates in the Maintenance Department deserve highest praise for the efficient and speedy execution of a complex mission. So also do the members of the Library School staff who worked with them," stated Dr. Shores.

The FSU Library School is the only full professional school in Florida, serving also the areas of South Georgia, Alabama, and South Carolina. It offers both a bachelor's degree program for undergraduates and a master's degree program for college graduates.

Magazine Features Neel On Its Cover As Korea Chaplain

A large front cover picture titled "A Front Line Chapel in Korea" appearing in a current issue of the magazine, "Presbyterian Life," shows Dr. Samuel R. Neel Jr., associate professor of philosophy and religion at Florida State University, conducting front line chapel services in Korea only a short distance from the enemy lines.

Dr. Neel, who has resumed his teaching duties at FSU this Fall after a year of service as a chaplain for United Nations troops in Korea, says the front line outdoor chapel was constructed on a Korean mountain by infantrymen. The pews were made of logs resting on sandbags and the altar built of ration boxes covered with blankets. The cross in front of the outdoor chapel was made of pine branches.

"Presbyterian Life" is a nationally circulated journal with one of the largest circulations of any Protestant journals, being published through the authority of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Music Professor Is Granted Leave

Prof. Owen F. Sellers, associate professor in the School of Music, has been granted a leave of absence for the 1952 academic year to continue his studies for a doctoral decree in college administration at Indiana University.

Prof. Sellers has been a member of the faculty since 1931, having been associated with the School of Music since that time. He served in the U. S. Air Force during World War II as a flight instructor.

He represented the School at the Bach-Casals Festival in Prades, France, in June, 1950, sponsored by Casals. with his trip financed by a private grant. During business absences from the school by former Dean Ella Scobie Opperman and Dr. Karl Kurtsteiner, present dean, Prof. Sellers has served in the capacity of acting dean.

Daily Mass Planned

Mass will be said daily at the Newman House, Catholic student center, according to Bert Bollaert, Newman Club president.

In addition to the weekday Mass starting at 7 a. m., a Sunday Mass for Florida State University students is said each Sunday at 10 30 a. m. This Sunday Mass is expressly for Catholic students and they are requested not to attend the downtown Masses if possible

Brooks Replaced By Psychiatrist

Dr. J. J. O'Connell, psychiatrist and Florida State University professor in the School of Social Welfare, has been appointed director of the University Health Service and consulting psychiatrists, according to Pres. Doak S. Campbell.

A member of the faculty for nearly two years, Dr. O'Connell came to FSU from Canada, where he had been engaged in general medical practice and was associated with the Toronto Psychiatric Hospital, the teachme hospital for psychiatrists in Ontario.

He joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1940 and became commanding officer of the Air Force hospitals in Canada and Newfoundland. He also served as psychiatric consultant and was in charge of the Psychiatric Hospital in Montreal.

After leaving the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1944, Dr. O'Connell became associated with the Toronto Psychiatric Hospital. He was awarded a fellowship in child psychiatry at the Catholic University of America in 1945 and a year later returned to Ottawa to again take up private practice.

Dr. O'Connell, who succeeds Dr. Thomas J. Brooks, who resigned to take a position with the University of Mississippi, has done considerable research in the fields of psycho-neurosis and problems resulting from marital maladjustments.

harriet
Your Hair Stylist
Phone 2-5214
212 West College

WELCOME STUDENTS and FACULTY of FSU
Come In— Get Acquainted with Your Store for THRIFT and QUALITY
QUALITY Men's Wear!
Dick Moore, Mgr.
Fremac's
302 S. MONROE

CHESTERFIELD
FIRST PREMIUM QUALITY CIGARETTE
TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy—nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger—contains considerably more of the same tobaccos—enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs little more.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD — EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM

★ CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY AND HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE in AMERICA'S COLLEGES

Buy CHESTERFIELD—MUCH MILDER

Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

UF '53 Homecoming
To Feature FSU??
See Sports Column

Florida Flambeau

Froth Qualifying
Ends Monday
See Lead Story

VOL. XXXIX, No. 2 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Friday, September 26, 1952

Rat Court Session Slated for Frosh

Sophomore Judges Plan Interviews For Freshmen Caught Without Caps

Those Freshman who have been caught recently without their rat-cap, rat-tag or both will be standing before the Sophomore judges of rat-court very soon, announced Don Van Hise, co-chairman, today.

Van Hise, who is teamed up with Phoebe Jackson as master of the group, promises that the punishment will be "painless, but constructive."

"SO FAR, most members of the Frosh class have been willing to play along with being caught by Sophomores, but it's those few whom we have to force which we have the most 'fun' in judging," continued Van Hise.

"Freshman," Van Hise commented, "must realize that it's just as much the job of the Sophomores to give out summonses as it is for the Freshmen to accept them."

RAT COURT members are chosen by their activity while freshmen. This year's court includes Bob Berto, Jim McCauley, Alan Williams, Jerry Jones, Wylene Barmore on the judging staff and David Dress as reporter.

The Rat court is a recently organized group which created much controversy on campus last year. The group plans a rental open meeting in the near future, when FSU students may watch as he behind closed doors.

FRESHMAN WILL BE allowed to dress their class if they beat the Sophomores in the forthcoming first annual Freshmen-Sophomore day. At the end of the rat-cap wearing days, the freshman will be allowed the privilege of throwing the rat court chairman into the Westcott building. Last year the chairman didn't get dunked by the Frosh. It was the member who gave out the most summonses that the rat-cap wearers dipped.

Team Appears At Pep Rally

Cheering, Music Mark First Meeting Tonight

Amidst much display of youthful exuberance, hoopras, whoopees and fight songs, the first pep rally of the season will be held tonight at 7:30 in front of the new Student Center.

On hand to greet the students and tell of their prospects for victory against the Blue and Red team of Jacksonville, will be Sponser tomorrow night in Campbell Stadium will be Football Coach Don Veller and his stalwart 1952 Seminole squad.

A variety of yells and cheers, designed to spur the team on to amassing at least several hour touch-downs than their opposition will be taught by the cheerleaders, Patty Gates, Martha Ott, Lita Ann Shirley Knight, Bobbie Spencer, Ann Adams, Shirley Barber, Betty Ann Munroe, Dee Johnson, Nancy Black and Ann Yates.

Add as a special added attraction, the "Marching Chiefs" band, under the direction of Dewey Brannaset, will make its first appearance of the year to accompany the singing.

Bette Davis Stars In 'Dark Victory' Beginning Monday

"Father Was A Fullback," free movie, will be shown for the last time in the Music Amphitheater at 8 tonight.

Starring Fred MacMurray and Maureen O'Hara, it is the story of a college football star who falls in love and seeks to win.

Monday "Dark Victory" will be on, featuring Bette Davis, George Brent, and Geraldine Fitzgerald. This depicts the life of a selfish society girl, whose eyes are transformed by a deep and pure love which allows her to face an incurable illness and with dignity and courage.

The "theater" will be at the O Pho on West Campus on Monday, South Cawthon, Tuesday; Mcmahon, Wednesday and Senior Hall, Thursday, and the Music Amphitheater, Fridays.

On these nights the movies are scheduled for 7:30, while on Friday, it is 8. In case of bad weather on Fridays, an announcement will be made over WFSU as to the new location.

Picnic Is Planned By Flambeau Staff

Flambeau staffers proved conclusively that they can put away the paper they write, when they selected Camp Flastacowo for Saturday afternoon's picnic. The outing is a get-acquainted venture for editors and new writers.

Business manager Joan Ethridge steps into the role of social chairman for the event, while editor Bill Dunn becomes "chief hot dog cooker."

The plumbow which is scheduled from 1:00 to 8:00 p. m. will include the athletics available with present camp facilities, swimming, canoeing, sailing, hikes, handball, volleyball and pingpong.

All old and new Flambeau staffers and their friends are invited to the Saturday outing. Twenty-five cents is the fee for the 5:00 picnic supper.

Buses leave the Women's gymnasium at 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 p. m., and return at 6 p. m.

Operetta Tryouts Set

Tryouts for the principal roles for "Sweethearts," to be presented in December by the Light Opera Guild, will start Monday from 7 to 9:45 p. m. in the Choral Room, 321, of the Music Building.

They will also take place Wednesday, Oct. 1, at the same hours in Room L-5. Briggs is director of the Guild.

City Channels Homecoming 500 of Funds

Commissioners Grant Request by Culpepper For Homecoming Aid

Dean of Student Welfare, J. Broward Culpepper appeared Tuesday before the City Commission of Tallahassee in a request for $500 to help with the Seminole Homecoming to be Nov. 15. City Commissioners agreed not only to grant the money, but moved to put the amount permanently in the annual budgets.

The Commissioners also agreed to purchase from a decorating company 60 streetlight panels which will provide for 20 lamps. Commissioner Ben Hall contacted Dr. Edmund Lewandowski, head of the Art department, who had agreed to paint the panels in Homecoming colors.

THE ART DEPARTMENT will paint one panel with a Seminole another, a football player, both in Homecoming colors, while the other two will be a megaphone saying "Welcome, Alumni" and a football with "Tallahassee Welcomes You."

The City will be able to use the decorations from year to year; when FSU has its Homecoming.

DR CULPEPPER, as general chairman of Homecoming, appeared before the Commission this Tuesday seeking support for the University's big annual event. With him at the Commission Tuesday were Millard Davidson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Bob Proctor, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Rod Shaw, FSU business manager.

Shaw appeared before the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, which was granted $300 there for the Homecoming program.

Mixers To Be Held

Mixers will be held in all Women's dormitories today from 7 to 9:30. All men students are invited to the informal parties. Refreshments will be served.

Job Seeking Students Are Readily Placed

Spending money is at the fingertips of all students who need it when they take their problems to Glenn Griffis, head of the department of Vocational Guidance and Placement. Beside setting jobs and typing for students, Griffis also aids in the placement of each graduating class and schedules interviews for companies during the year.

THE NUMBER of students who have applied for placement has steadily. Since the beginning of the school year, hundred applicants have already found positions.

Complying with the applicants' interests, the office tries to place students according to their special skills, interest or aptitudes. However, as the office points out, those students who have no particular skills but who are willing to work are also helped in the placement of each.

Countless students explore their vocational interests and prepare their life job through this university service. Many graduate directly. As well as placing students for part-time work, the office also aids in the placement of each graduating class and schedules interviews for companies during the year.

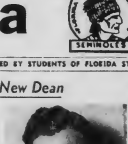
THE NUMBER of students who have applied for placement has steadily. Since the beginning of the school year, hundred applicants have already found positions.

Complying with the applicants' interests, the office tries to place students according to their special skills, interest or aptitudes. However, as the office points out, those students who have no particular skills but who are willing to work are also helped in the placement of each.

Seminar Offered Intern Teachers

Today is the last day to register for Education 589, a seminar dealing with the problems of internship, which is being offered through the Florida State University and the Florida General Extension Division.

The course will carry three semester hours of graduate extension credit. Dr. John A. Hamilton of the FSU School of Education will be in charge of the course.



All superintendents, supervisors, principals, and directing teachers of FSU interns are invited to take this course without payment of tuition or other fees. All other teachers with two or more years teaching experience are eligible to take the course without tuition if recommended by their principals or superintendents if they agree to serve as future directing teachers of FSU interns.

Monday Is Last Day For Changing Classes

Monday, Sept. 29 has been designated by the Registration office as the last day a student may apply for a change of classes.

Also, states Registrar, Charles Walker, "Monday Sept. 29 is the last day a student will be allowed to register with a full academic load. After that date, the student will have to take a smaller load and will need the permission of his academic dean in order to register late.

New Dean

Dr. Charles S. Davis

Davis to Head FSU College

By JUNE MORGAN

From associate professor of History to dean of Florida State University's largest college in five years is the history of Charles Sheppard Davis, recently appointed Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Before joining the FSU faculty in September 1947, Dean Davis contributed widely to research and literature; was part time lecturer at Huntington College, Montana; director of research for Alabema's State Department of Archives and History and production manager of Merritt's Beaten Biscuit Company in Montgomery, Alabama.

HE EDITED the History of the U. S. Seventh Army of which he was chief historical officer. Other literary achievements included articles on Southern History for various journals and his book, Cotton Kingdom in Alabama.

During the war he served as a Major in the European Theater for 3 years, as a member of the North African Economic Board, American Secretary to Allied Local Resources Board, Italy, and Chief Analyst of Import Division of Lend-Lease in Tunis, and Tunisia.

DEAN DAVIS was born in Mobile, Alabama, received his B. S. degree in Economics from Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn in 1931, and his M. S a year later from the same college. Further study was made at University of California in 1934 and Duke University in 1935 and 36. He was awarded his Phd. degree in 1938.

Mrs. Davis is the former Mary Greenfield Merritt. They were married in June 1936 and have three children: Mary Brinkhurst, 14, Catherine, 12, and Charles, 9.

IN COLLEGE he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity; Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary. He is also affiliated with Kiwanis, Southern Historical Association, Florida Historical Society, and Newcomer Society of England. He is a member of the Episcopal Church.

F Club Selects 13 For Membership

The Women's F Club tapped 13 girls for membership Wednesday night. They were selected through their traditional period of "goating" before initiation.

Goats are Sandra Dowling, Shirley Simpson, Shirley Knight, Mary Ann Batchelar, Myrtle Herndon, Jo Ann Trawick, Nancy Jivets, Gloria Michie, Boots Paris, Faye Finnell, Ruth Bryant, Jean Rohma and Jo Anne Austin.

Last night the F Club held a tea in the home of Dr. Lewis Sure Building.

This year's officers for the club are Joan Webb, president; Anna Athanason, vice-president; June McCain, secretary; Pat Folsom, assistant secretary and Patty Martin, parliamentarian.

ID Cards Required Of Library Users

Library hours have been announced by the Assistant Librarian, Florence Bithes.

They are Monday through Friday 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. Stacks, circulation and the needs of the department open at 8:30 a.m. Stacks room open at 8:30 a. m. Stacks close at 8:30 p. m. Saturday the library will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Stacks, circulation desk and reference room open at 8:30 a. m. Stacks close at 4:45 p. m.; Sunday the library will be open from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Only reference and periodical rooms will be open.

All students including graduate students must present ID cards to use library materials.

Freshman Primaries Set For Oct. 7 Finals Oct. 14

Frosh to Have More Meetings On Orientation

Freshman Orientation for women will continue with meetings once a week on Tuesday at 12 noon in the Opperman Music Hall, Assistant Dean of Women Elizabeth Lynn said.

All Freshman women are to attend these meetings with the exception of approximately 50 who have excuses because of work, classes, etc. she said.

AT LAST Tuesday's meeting the program, presented by Mortar Board, was on the phases of government concerning Freshmen. Elizabeth Rose, who presided over the meeting, told the audience about the legislative system and also about choosing Senators.

Carolyn Gola spoke on the effects of Rush Week. Jo Ann Trawick Hails the second semester, while Terry Stein told of the cabinet and Freshman elections.

Dean Lynn also announced that the regulations test "Knowledge of College," will be given during the noon meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 7, instead of the usual weekend. The five girls excused from the Tuesday meeting will be given a make-up test, to be announced later through their dorm counselors.

This year, people who failed will not be notified until the following Monday after the first weekend Freshman women are allowed to go home, and therefore will not be kept on campus that weekend.

PHOEBE JACKSON has called an organizational meeting for the Freshman Finishes on Wednesday, Oct. 1 at 7:30 p. m. in the Alumni Auditorium. Ellen Avis spoke on Homecoming.

Next Tuesday's meeting will be handled by the Honor Committee, with June McMillan in charge.

Annual Coke Party Planned by Pastor Of Baptist Church

All Baptist students and their friends are invited to the Pastor's Annual Coke Party today from 3:15 to 6:30 p. m. at the Baptist Church Pastorium, 2007 Lee Ave.

Free bus and car rides will be given, leaving the Baptist Student House, corner of Copeland and Call, between 5:10 and 5:40 p.m. A light supper will be served at the informal gathering.

Sunday evening supper is served in the Rural Street Wing, First Baptist Church, for University students, preceding singspiration at 6 p. m. and the Baptist Training Union at 6:15 p.m. The assembly program topic this Sunday night will be "Christian Stewardship of Religion." Miss Mary Beth Baggett is the director for the 10 unions.

Students from the Florida State School last Sunday will be assembled in the church at the same Sunday morning at 9:45. The teachers are Mrs. Claude Rhea, Miss Mcintyre Taylor, Mrs. Fred Vogel, Mrs. Broward Culpepper, Mrs. Harold D. Hays, Mrs. Hugh McGarity, Fred Vogel, Hugh McGarity, Ed Henderson and Robert McCrelor. Wendell Carpenter is superintendent of the department.

Prayers are held each Tuesday evening from 7 until 7:30, followed by BSU Choir rehearsal under the direction of Claude Rhea.

Contest Is Open To Women Students

Women students interested in participating in the annual Mademoiselle College Board Contest, should contact Mrs. Margaret Blair in the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement by Friday, Oct. 10.

The 20 best applications in the nation-wide contest, will be given a Summer mooth's job on the magazine Basis of selection is on a 1,000 word criticism of Mademoiselle's August College issue.

Candidates to File Applications Not Later Than 5 pm Monday

Primaries for the annual Freshman elections have been set for Tuesday, Oct. 7, with run-offs on Tuesday, Oct. 14, Bob Ducker, secretary of elections, announced today.

Polling places will be in front of Bryan hall, in the new student center and in men's freshman hall. In front of Finn the Bryan precinct will be moved inside.

AFFLICATIONS for candidacy to the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, parliamentarian, social chairman or senator may be picked up at the information desk in the Longmire building. Ducker said. Three men and three women senators will be elected. the chairman reminded.

They must be filed on or before 5 p.m., Monday, September 29, in the University Government Association office or the Longmire information desk.

CAMPAIGNING may officially begin at 5 p.m. this coming day and Tuesday, September 30, and not before, he emphasized.

Expenditure limits will be a maximum of $15 for president, $10 for vice-presidents and for senator, secretary, treasurer, social chairman and parliamentarian, Ducker said. This also includes gifts of supplies or materials. These must be evaluted by the committee, he said, in expenditure reports which are to be filed the day of the secretary of elections at a date which will be announced later.

ALL REGULARLY enrolled freshman may qualify to run for an office, the elections secretary said. Dormitory limits will be considered to be UGA officers and may not run for any further offices, Ducker explained.

"Run-offs will pit the two highest individuals for a given office as determined in the primaries. Any person receiving a majority, 50 per cent plus one, in the primaries is automatically elected," the elections chairman revealed.

FURTHER rules and regulations will appear in next Tuesday's issue of the Flambeau along with a list of the qualified.

Massed Bands Perform Here

High Schools Send 2000 for Band Day

Approximately 2,000 brilliantly uniformed high school bandsmen will perform in massed formation on the Florida State University gridiron on October 4, when FSU celebrates its second annual Band Day. Invitations for the event have been issued to bands in Florida, Georgia and Alabama, according to Howard Dashiell, director of athletics, and K. O. Kuersteiner, dean of the School of Music.

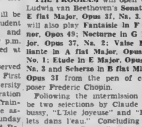
The one-time high school bands with their directors and chaperones, will be guests of the University for the football game between the Seminoles and the University of Louisville in Doak S. Campbell Stadium. At the halftime period, they will take over the field to provide a show.

As a prelude to their massed demonstration at the evening game, the combined bands of men will stage a pre-game parade through the Tallahassee business district in the afternoon. The parade will be led by the "Marching Chiefs," directed by Robert "Pete" Braunagel, and by the University of Louisville Band, directed by Ernest Green. Both university bands will also take part in the half-time show at the game.

Band Day is offered at Florida State University through the joint sponsorship of the School of Music and the departments of athletics. Prof. J. Dayton Smith is co-ordinator of Band Day activities.

Thomas Wright Gives First Faculty Recital

Thomas Wright, assistant professor of music, will open theyear's series of faculty recitals when he appears in a concert tonight at 8:15 in the Opperman Music Hall.



The young pianist will feature a program of the music of Chopin and French and Spanish impressionists.

THE PROGRAM will open with Ludwig van Beethoven's Sonata in C Minor, Opus 13, No. 8. He will also play Fantasie in F Minor, Opus 49; Nocturne in G Major, Opus 37, No. 2; Valse Caprice in A flat Major, Opus 34, No. 1; Etude in E Major, Opus 10, No. 3 and Scherzo in B flat Minor, Opus 31 from the pen of composer Frederic Chopin.

Following the intermission will be two selections by Claude Debussy, "Reflets dans l'eau" and "Les lents dans l'eau." Concluding the program will be "Rumores por Piano. Opus 22" by Alexander Scriabin; "The Maiden and the Nightingale" by Isaac Albeniz and "Triana" by Isaac Albeniz.

PROFESSOR WRIGHT was on leave this Summer doing graduate work at Columbia University and

Plays Tonight

Mr. Thomas Wright

television programs which included a half hour Chopin recital on the "Keyboard Concerts" on the CBS network. Professor Wright was one of eight music specialists chosen for this CBS Summer series which featured a different artist each week.

During the first two weeks of September he played five radio recitals in Nashville, Tenn., for stations WSM and WLAC and was also guest artist on the "Beasley Smith" show on WSM and on "Music City USA," a television show on WSM-TV.

Wright is the composer of the Florida State University "Fight Song."

Figures Show Men Outnumber Women

Florida State University has 6,010 students at last count on Wednesday, according to Vice-President A. B. Smith.

"We expect more to come in on late registration and special work" he added. Monday will be the last day a student may register with a full academic load. It is also the deadline for class changes.

There are 3,014 men in the University, including 52 Korean veterans and 353 veterans coming to school under the old GI bill. The women number 2,996. This means there are 18 more men than women enrolled this semester. Further breakdown of the registration figures as to classes has not been completed, said Dr. Martin.

Sammy Kaye To Play

The music of Sammy Kaye and his orchestra will be featured at the Homecoming dance, Saturday, November 15, in the Suwannee Room, Dean of Men Otis McBride announced today.

George Heilman is chairman of the affair, with Ted Steinmeyer, as student chairman. Tickets will be $1.50 per person.

Chairman Says Campus Chest Goal $6,000

The Florida State University Campus Chest has set a goal of some $6,000 this year or $1 per person and will have an intensive program of activities from Oct. 16-24 to reach this goal, Miss Margaret Krasaman, chairman of the Chest, said.

John Gleason, Atlanta, secretary of the World Student Service Fund will spend three days on the FSU campus during the annual Campus Chest drive to assist in making the campaign a success. He will speak at a student forum on Oct. 16.

THE SORORITIES will pitch in to do their share by staging a fashion show and selling peanuts, candy, pencils and other articles to the student body and faculty with all proceeds going into the chest fund. At 7 p.m., October 21, the "F" Club, a women's group, will sponsor an athletic supper on Landis Green, open to all students, faculty and staff on a "Dutch treat" basis. The FSU Sophomore Council will sponsor a pie-eating-cake auction at 8 p.m., October 22.

The Kappa Delta Sorority will give a pajama party October 27 at their sorority house. A movie will be given and a Joe College Contest to select the most handsome men students is being sponsored by the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. The Delta Gamma Sorority while the Sigma Kappas are working on plans for a 3 star variety show.

THE CAMPUS CHEST Committee will climax the fund raising activities with a student dance from 8 to 11:30 p.m. in the women's gymnasium.

Margaret Krasaman is being assisted in the Campus Chest project by Martha Bailey, finance chairman; Shirley Traxler, dance chairman; Phoebe Jackson, Kinman Britton, fraternity fund solicitations; Frankie Clark, sorority houses solicitations; Helen Hunnicker, dormitory solicitations; Sally Reed, religious groups solicitations; Sue Bickel, faculty solicitations; Helen Hamilton, Eleanor Smith, other student groups solicitations and Jean Clark, who will work with Mr. Gleason in his arrangements for talks on the campus.

Fraternities Pledge Almost 400 Men; Women Get Lists

The 14 fraternities on the Florida State University campus pledged into membership Wednesday night, culmax the fall rushing men, transfer students and others after a week-long period of rushing.

Sororities will officially set their lists of pledge classes Saturday morning, Dean Lynn said today.

Don Waters, president of Inter-Fraternity Council, the governing body of social fraternities, said the greatest number of 400 bids handed out by IFC to the men students, have been accepted, and the new levels are now forming into the fraternity houses.

Pledges of the sororities will be notified if they have bids tomorrow, and may pick them up in the Panhellenic office, fourth floor Longmire building, from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

The list of new fraternity pledges will not be published in this issue, due to IFC records were not available at press time, and not all the fraternities could be contacted. The list will be printed in the Tuesday's edition, however.

FSU's 6th Football Season Begins Big-Time Schedule

A child emerges into maturity tomorrow night as Florida State University plays its first game in a big-time football schedule.

Five years ago representatives of FSU's small male population played five games and won none. Perhaps it was a discouraging year, but the university felt a start had to be made, and the 1947 stalwarts provided the wherewithal.

The next year Don Veller became head coach, the male ranks jumped and the Seminoles won their first Dixie Conference title. Out of eight games the Indians dropped only one, to Erskine college.

The next year the team added further honors to itself by being invited to play in Tampa's Cigar Bowl, and in 1950 the Seminoles were the first University team in the state to play a full intercollegiate schedule without a defeat or tie.

But Florida State University was growing restless. The honors seemed to mean less because the school was a full-sized coeducational institution and was still playing smaller opponents. A small voice grew louder and louder for a big-time schedule.

The change couldn't be affected immediately. There were many problems that had to be licked. How could the university build a really heavy card? could they manage the high finances of big-time football? should FSU adopt the often-criticized subsidization program?

The first steps were made last year. The university instituted a wide-scale system of scholarships and dropped out of the little Dixie Conference. The Seminoles took on their first big team, the University of Miami.

This year Florida State takes on a whole roster of nationally known teams: Georgia Tech, rated one of the top three squads of the country; Louisiana Tech, V.M.I., Furman, North Carolina, Louisville, Mississippi Southern, Tampa, Stetson and Wofford.

The seasons of one or two or no defeats are over, at least for a while. Students should know that with growth come growing pains. No matter the outcome of this season, FSU football fans should be proud of their team. It is becoming nationally known; it is putting FSU on the grid map.

This much has been only through combined efforts of many people. The major work, of course, has been done by the men's physical education department and the team itself, but there are countless other tasks performed by such divisions as the public relations offices and the business office.

Finally, and by no means least, is the student audience.

Much has been written in the high school press about "school spirit," and it is not the business of the Flambeau to drag out these saws now. The newspaper only wants to remind the student body of a few things:

The Seminoles are a major advertising source for the university. Many thousands of dollars a year are spent each year for the team, and it is difficult to make the football program a success.

The student body helps pay for the team of enthusiasm. Campus office holders, all students need fine admissions.

The most elaborate and carefully made plans for a big season can fall flat if a sparsely-populated stadium dampens the spirit of the team.

Without trying to be trite, the Flambeau is trying to put across this message: Florida State is beginning a season of big-time football. It needs all the support it can get.

● FALL FEVER

The beginning of a new school year always seems to carry with it an abundance of enthusiasms. Campus office seekers, all the way from the biggest and most important down to the smallest and least known, are bursting with ideas, energy and excitement over their duties for the coming year. The followers likewise are filled with ambition and a desire to get things moving.

There is a good spirit of friendliness and cooperation even among rival camps. Everyone seems resolved that this year will be a great one, a pleasant one, a one in which much is accomplished at FSU. With a spirit like this, what is there to fear?

The sad part of this story is that there IS some reason for apprehension. If past experience is any judge, this enthusiastic atmosphere will vanish before long, leaving a trail of forgotten plans and languishing spirits.

It is very possible that this is only one of the inevitable results of human nature and impossible to avoid. People have a habit of taking on monstrous responsibilities in a fit of ambition and then shirking or completely avoiding these responsibilities when the novelty wears off and the pressure gets heavy.

Every year campus offices are left vacant in the middle of the stream by faded office holders, who when they find that the glory had worn off their jobs and that they were having to miss a good deal of fun just because of their duties, simply say so long and resign. There are others who hold tenaciously on to their positions but with no zeal, not even slightly, to their responsibilities to a shameful degree.

Any student who considers accepting an office on campus should do so carefully, not forgetting the worries, hard work, and ungiamourous moments ahead. He should never accept any responsibility unless he intends to carry it out to the hitter end and to the best of his ability.

Judging from all advance notices, this year looks like the biggest and best in FSU's history. The society at Florida State can assure this by maintaining their encouraging enthusiasm right through to the finish line.

● WIN OR LOSE

Early in October the Freshman Class will go to the polls here on campus and elect a slate of officers to represent their interests in the University Government Association.

The success (or failure) of the class of '56 may well rest on the interests, abilities, and ambitions of those students who are given the positions of duty and trust in this first election.

By the very fact that is the largest freshman class in the history of this institution the net results of all that class's accomplishments is expected to be great—and more than that—it is expected to add much to the prestige of the university.

It has been said that every privilege implication—that student government is the one activity on the campus that in some way touches every student during his academic career.

All freshmen can not be elected to an office, but all can take an active part in the election—and perhaps more important they can and should take part in what happens in the government after the election.

The priceless gift of democracy is ours. We must use it constantly or it will tarnish and blacken and all the struggle will have been in vain.

Students Polled Show Interest In Child Pscy.

By DAVID DREIS

Several students were perplexed yesterday afternoon when they were asked this question: "If, while studying at FSU, you learned of a new way and philosophy of living and learning, would you tell your parents about it?"

June Browder, freshman, Pensacola, tersely replied, "—Not unless they made an awful mess on the ones they'd already brought up." June continued, "I certainly hope they haven't."

ANOTHER FRESHMAN from Miami, simply answered, "Yes."

Bill Twyford of Miami, Sophomore, replied, "It wouldn't do any good—the parents would have a low opinion of your ideas on raising children . . . after all they raised you and you . . . well you nounced. "I don't see why not. . . . you didn't."

Pat O'Brien charged. "I think they did a very good job. I certainly would not."

Twyford replied, "It wouldn't do any good—the parents would have a low opinion of your ideas on raising children . . . after all they raised you and you . . . well you nounced. "I don't see why not. . . . you didn't."

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor..... Jim Couch, Jim Seay
Feature Editor..... Lynn Wingate
Society Editor..... Judy Simkins
Assistant News Editor..... Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor..... John Harcopos

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-8000, Extension 4231
Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

OFF THE CUFF

WILL SOLID SOUTH VOTE BE SPLIT?

By BRUCE GALPHIN

There has been much talk in the past few weeks of the splitting up of the "Solid South." Not only have political writers called attention to it, but the situation has been marked by such aberrations as a visit to the South by a Republican presidential nominee and the cost-turning of such stalwarts as Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina and Allen Shivers of Texas.

I myself have speculated in writing whether the more conservative southern vote would not find closer alliance with the pronouncements of General Eisenhower than those of Governor Stevenson.

Certainly no one will deny that the Republicans will make considerable inroads on the regularly Democratic vote in the South. The huge crowds in Atlanta, Jacksonville, Miami, Tampa and Birmingham could not have been composed entirely of curiosity-seekers; no matter how much toe receptions were prepared in advance by partisan Republicans, there were certainly real cheers by the audiences.

General Eisenhower is becoming master of the old-fashioned art of the "dynamic cliche." It is not been for southern support, the high-nose folks call a tonsorial parlor and to replenish our wardrobes, regardless of what you've heard, we Arkansas chaps do wear shoes, especially in the wintertime.)

But the wholesome atmosphere we've discovered at FSU after dwelling under a Florida moon for only a few days, is enough to carry one for months.

We're looking forward to viewing a few more glimpses of the sun and scenery as the days progress. But right now we're only stealing a few brief glimpses of the surroundings while we continue to climb the steps of the ivory tower melee commonly referred to as "Orientation Week."

We all haven't recuperated from that get-acquainted week, helpful though it was. Undoubtedly, they were glad to get Tallahassee than in Washington.

While traipsing across campus from one guidance session to another, we did happen to catch these "campus guides" as we shall call them.

Many of the guys and dolls making these "collitch" debuts this fall came equipped with more clothes than the Salvation Army

. . . And here's a gem . . . One member of the male contingent brought so many clothes to the first seance he was forced to ask for "an extra dresser." . . . In other words, he needed more drawers to hold his, er, wearing apparel.

The following true story proves the world is a small place. . . . A travelling fellow from New York (not to be confused with a fellow traveler) bumped into a fellow from New Jersey, somewhere on the Eastern seaboard earlier this month. . . . Each was amazed to discover the other's destination, Tallahassee, Florida. (They lived happily ever after).

Several freshmen were seen bounding their chins against hard-surfaced buildings. . . . Consequently hadn't seen double.

Perhaps the new men's dormitory—A beautiful, seven-story luxury receiver christened—does take on the appearance of a hotel. . . . Can be only one of the bold freshie who wept when he learned there was no "room service."

660 ON YOUR DIAL

STUDENTS OWN AND OPERATE WFSU

By MARGARET FARHAM

"This is WFSU, at 600 on your dial" is the familiar sound which identifies the broadcasting efforts of your own radio station. Owned and operated by the students of Florida State University this station represents the efforts of over 50 students who spend from five to thirty hours weekly preparing the programs that you hear from 3to 11 p.m. each day.

A casual turn of your radio dial to the 660 spot will fail to reflect the many hours of labor that go into the programs that you hear. Before a program is aired it affects each one of WFSU's six major departments.

The program will be concerned by the program director who after a conference with the continuity department will place it on the program schedule. The producers will pull the records and set up the show, while the engineers and announcers are assigned to accomplish the actual broadcast. By the time that this cycle is completed for such hours of broadcasting each day, it is easy to see the vast amount of work involved.

The student station is primarily a training device which allows students the opportunity to learn actual broadcasting while in college. Many have found this experience helpful since several alumni now hold excellent positions with commercial stations all over Florida and in several other states. Also, the people will attribute a part of their success to the experience gained while at FSU.

WFSU is using wired-wireless transmission, which means that the sound waves radiate from telephone and electrical wires eliminating the need for an antenna. Therefore, we can operate a low-cost, low-power station which is heard only on the campus of our university. The programming is designed with this in mind, to reach the students with the kind of radio-listening that they enjoy.

WFSU is naturally non-commercial, for we believe that our broadcasting efforts should reflect campus life. Consequently, spot announcements are limited to important items from campus organizations and departments. In doing so, the station will feel that we are rendering a service to the university while training people in the arts of radio.

Remember, the station welcomes these announcements. If there is any item that you would like to have on the air, the station would be happy to accommodate you. Leave the information at the information desk in the Alumni building.

When you listen to WFSU, remember that it is your radio station. Yours because you have chosen FSU as your campus home, and yours for good radio entertainment all year long.

ARKANSAS TRAVELER

FSU IS PROVERBIAL SIGHT FOR SORE EYES

By PAT HOGAN

The goose of the fairy tales wouldn't give a second glance at the fine feathered friend waddled over the Florida State University campus toting a golden egg on every doorstep.

For to this young Arkansas traveler, who left the hills to get an education in the "Land of Sunshine," FSU is that proverbial sight for sore eyes.

As we see it, Old King Midas could relax here as one of the boys and Cinderella might remove her celebrated glass slipper and wiggle her toes under the table without fear of social ostracization.

That is because the heart-warming friendliness and hospitality on display at FSU—sprouting as if nurtured under glass houses—makes penny-ante players of those foiled characters.

It's not that Yours Truly has not been outside our mountain homestead before, even though until recently we, though the letters F-S-U stood for some railroad.

We've been to the "city", so to speak, on several occasions, mainly to get our hair cut at what

Friday, September 26, 1952 Florida Flambeau Page 3

FSU Expands Curricula By Adding Evening Courses

By AL PIERCE

Florida State is even growing at night!

Besides the record number of various courses being offered in the regular daily curricula, the University has great plans for enlarging and expanding its night school program.

Tonight at 8 o'clock a general public meeting will convene in Lemaire Auditorium to discuss the possibility and workability of a night school program of hundreds of college level courses. Already people of the Tallahassee area, students and anyone interested in any one of a number of fields may register in evening courses now being offered and may begin attending classes within a week.

The Republicans can expect to pick up the most votes in the field of civil rights and such things as the filibuster which are directly related. This is, of course, a generalization and perhaps glosses over many pertinent facts, but the fact is still relatively true.

The New Deal, for instance, could not have been put through if it not been for southern support, for without its southern representation, the Democratic party would have been in the minority. Congress' Raybums and Blacks were important assets of the Roosevelt administration.

Even now when there seems to have been a resurgence of conservatism in the South, it is still easy to distinguish between votes in Congress from Republican. Even as liberal a group as the Americans for Democratic Action raises such men as Hill and Sparkman of Alabama as "good" voters.

The rockbed of the Democratic vote in the South, of course, is and will remain in farming and other formerly backward areas where the party has made it definite, gratifying gains in the farm, rural electrification, TVA and other programs. The "reactionistic" cry probably has little effectiveness in such places.

The Republicans can expect to pick up the most votes in the urban areas, where there is the greatest influx of northern Republicans and anti-Trumanism is quite strong.

The outcome of the Southern vote, then, is still in doubt. The Republicans will have to put on a very strong campaign to capture any of the Democratic vote.

ideas and methods which are constantly springing up.

We may now say that Florida State is fulfilling its debt in bettering the lives of the very people supporting it by offering them something in return for their investment.

That something is education—the school's main purpose.

Methodist Activities Include Freshmen

The Wesley Foundation of Methodist college students has planned several events for the near future since its Freshman party and pre-school retreat at the Methodist Youth Camp in Leesburg.

Churches in Tallahassee will entertain the FSU students Sunday. Those who attend Tallahassee Heights will be guests at dinner - on - the - ground Sunday after the morning services. All FSU Methodists will be guests of Trinity Sunday at 6:30 p.m., then they will meet the leaders of the church and attend a fellowship hour.

Sunday School will be held as usual in the Chapel with the minister, Virginia Leeper, Rev. Walter K. Morley is chaplain will be held at their usual time.

TAFFY-PULL

A taffy-pull for all freshmen will be sponsored tonight at 8:30 by Rupe Hall, Episcopal student center. Rupe Hall is located at 655 West Jefferson.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today & Saturday
James Cagney
Dan Dailey
Corrine Calvet
What Price Glory
Sunday - Tuesday
Joan Crawford in This Woman Is Dangerous
and Marlon Brando
with Errol Flynn
STATE
Now Showing Thru Tuesday
Carol E. Dahlilla's
Greatest Show on Earth
With All Star Cast
In Technicolor
RITZ
Today & Saturday
DOUBLE FEATURE
Lash LaRue in Outlaw Country
and John Lind in
Two Dollar Bettor
Sunday-Monday
Abbott & Costello in Jack and the Beanstalk
DRIVE-IN
Tonite & Saturday
Tim Holt in Overland Telegraph
Second Feature
Jungle of Chang
—A Documentary—
Sunday-Monday
Robert Mitchum in My Forbidden Past
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

SEMINOLE CLUB
DINING HALL MEAL SCHEDULE

	MONDAY thru SATURDAY	SUNDAY
Breakfast	7:00 A. M. — 11:00 A. M.	8:00—10:30 A. M.
Lunch	11:00 A. M.— 2:15 P. M.	Dinner 11:50—1:45
Dinner	5:00 P. M.—6:45 P. M.	Supper 5:00—6:45

ENJOY EATING
CUT OUT AND POST IN YOUR ROOM

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

VS FLORIDA IN 1953 ?

...mmer has it that the game all Florida and especially FSU has ...enously waiting for will actually take place. It appears that ...will meet the University of Florida Oct. 24, 1953. It will be the ...ominic game for the Gators. There may also be a meeting ...ert the two state institutions the following year in 1954. Could ...be the beginning of a yearly affair?

* * *

...ge back in the 1890's a sports scribe by the name of Walter ...g selected and put down in print the names of eleven football ...ers whom he considered the best in the country. This was the ...All-American team ever compiled, Mr. Camp picked a team every ...from then till his death in 1918 at which time Grantland Rice ...over that duty and it still performing it.

...those days, Camp and then Rice and the AP, held a virtual ...opoly on the selection of All-Americans. Then the American ...fan eagerly awaited the appearance of the one and only All-...ican team.

...gradually in the 1940's others connected with the sports ...dustry became aware of the publicity value derived from ...appearance of an All-American team in their publications. So ...today's every fall at the end of the gridiron campaigning there ...over the newsstands, and even on the movie and television ...more than a dozen All-American squads . . . and of course ...r "official." Each team differs from the next by one or two ...consequently there are about 30 each fall walking the ...ets of the country who are All-Americans. Quite a difference ...the days of Walter Camp when only eleven made the honors. ...all this is most misleading to the fan . . . probably to the players ...since now Mr. Fan evaluates a back, a tackle or a center by ...spot-season honors he has reaped. In many cases ability is for-...n. You ask the fellow next to you who he thinks are the 11 best ...ball players and chances are he'll rattle off the names of the ...to get the most publicity and post season ink.

...a certain player gets no ink Joe Fan is led to believe that the ...just hasn't "got it." But just to see how wrong this idea is look ...the rosters of the professional teams, where only the best of ...ollfree players survive. You'll notice names which were probably ...nities in their college days to 99 per cent of the country's grid ...aters . . . names like Emlen Tunnel, Tank Younger, Bulldog ...Arnie Weinmaster, etc. who are all pro stand-outs.

...another good example is the case of Hank Lauricella who made ...scout every All-American team in the country last year. So ...did the Pros think of him? He was the 23rd draft choice of ...Detroit Lions . . . in other words the Lions wanted 22 players ...than they desired the services of Mr. Lauricella. By the way, ...Lions' first draft choice was Dick Stanfel from the University ...of Francisco . . . who's he?

...Of course a few publications weren't satisfied with waiting until ...season was completed to make their "official" selections. This ...they selected a pre-season All-American and, further, the line-...and the back of the year. So now a fellow doesn't have to do ...much as don a uniform to make the honors. There's a lot of ...in that statement that All-Americans are made on the sports ...writer director's typewriter.

FSU Opens Tomorrow Night Against Louisiana Tech

Outlawed Kentucky Wildcats to Play FSU Cagers Dec. 29

Contest Expected to Draw Largest Seminole Attendance

Now it can be told: The mighty Kentucky Wildcats, who have been banned for one year from Southeastern Conference play because of their bribe scandal, are rounding out a slat of southern independents and have selected to stop over at the West Campus gym on December 29 to play the FSU Seminoles.

Although this alarming news was released two days ago by the Tallahassee Democrat, it will come as a surprise to most students who have not read the article.

The Wildcats will play the Miami Hurricanes in the Magic City on December 27 and will play the Seminoles on their northward journey.

When Kentucky takes the floor against the Seminoles, it will mark the fifth time the FSU cagers have vied with SEC teams. Previously they have played Mississippi twice, and Georgia, Mississippi state and Florida.

The FSU-Kentucky game will undoubtedly go down in history as the Seminole's biggest interest drawer in its five years on the hardwoods.

Because the date falls in the Christmas holidays, when most students will be away, it will not be included in the activities series, and students wishing to see the game will have to purchase tickets.

Athletic director Howard G. Danford announced the contract Wednesday morning, and said that the Wildcats were being guaranteed $1.000 for the game here.

With their usual top rating in the country every year, the Wildcats may well break all attendance records as people who have never bothered to come out to see the Seminoles before will jam the small Wes Campus gym.

This top flight name will be the shot in the arm the Seminoles need, after their up and down season last year, finishing with five wins and 30 losses.

This year's FSU prospects will be much of a mystery until practices progress, and Coach Bud Kennedy can ascertain the new

Florida Boys Dominate 1953 FSU Grid Squad

Thirty-five members of Florida State University's 66-man 1952 Seminole football squad are natives of the Sunshine State.

In other words, 54 per cent of the personnel in the Indians' camp is home grown, including a quartet from Tallahassee.

Seven other states—five situated above the Mason-Dixon line—are represented on Head Coach Don Veller's upcoming FSU aggregation, including the northern states of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Georgia ranks second to Florida in quantity with 12, most of them hailing from the southern section of the Peach State. Indiana, with three players from East Chicago and a pair from South Bend, is third with seven players.

Alabama sends a half-dozen into the Tribe's fold, Pennsylvania three and Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia one each.

Florida's contingent includes:

Center Buddy Bryant of Perry; Backs Nelson Italiano, George Carnes and Mac Hiery of Tampa; Back Jimmy Messinese, Center George Boyer and End Jimmy Lee Taylor of Jacksonville; Center James Hall of Orlando; Backs Richard Rozman, Billy Kelley and Tom Behring and Tackle Ted Williams of Tallahassee;; Guard Charlie Booth of Lakeland; Tackles Bob Wodrich and Ted Merrill, Back Joe Martinez, Guard Nat Polak and Center Bob Crenshaw of Miami; Center Kenneth Bass of Key West; Tackle Don Smith of Vero Beach; Guard Ed Chisner of Largo; Back Fred Kendall of Ft. Pierce; Tackle Robert Duckworth and End Ronnie King of Daytona Beach; End Curt Campbell of Pensacola; End Jimmy McDonald of Chattahoochee; Center Bill Whaley of Ocala; Back Harry Bringger of Winter Haven; Center Wayne Hodges of Dade City; Back Gene Kahlich of High Springs; Tackle Dan Strickland of Sopchoppy; Back Pete Minton of Jacksonville Beach; and Back Buddy Newsome of Plant City, and End Harold Powell of Maimi.

INTRAMURALS

All students interested in officiating touch-football games during the coming intramural season, meet with Jim Gause, intramural director, in his office in the West Campus physical education building at 4 p.m. on Thursday, October 2.

Seminoles Favored in Tilt; Kick-off Slated for 8:00

Florida State BIG season will get under way tomorrow on the green of Doak S. Campbell stadium when Coach Don Veller sends his mighty mites against Louisiana Tech. In the starting line-up Veller will be using two freshmen, George Boyer at center and Jerry Jacob at guard. There will also be two frosh in the defensive line-up; Jimmy MacDonald of Chattahoochee, at end and John Grimer of Jacksonville at halfback, Boyer will probably see action on the defense.

Louisiana Tech, who in their first game defeated McNeese 8-0, operate from a straight T formation and will be on the upgrade this fall after a 4-5-0 season mark last year. Tech has on hand 17 lettermen including a candidate for Little-All-American honors, Gordon Brown, a rugged 215 pound fullback. Handling the quarterback spot will be Jimmy Brown, a proven passer and ball handler and who is ticketed for big things the coming season.

"We know that Louisiana Tech has some fine materisl and in Joe Aillett they have a capable coach," Veller commented. "Saturday's game should be a battle one for the fans."

Besides the four freshmen in the starting line-ups, Veller will also use five players on both defense and offense. Playing both sides of the line will be Curt Campbell, Steve Kalenich, Charlie Brown and Jimmy Lee Taylor—all lettermen—and big 240 pounds George Boyer.

Here's the way the Seminoles will line upon the attack; Campbell and Kalenich at ends, Charlie Booth and Earl O'Neal at tackles, Brown and Jerry Jacobs at guards and Boyer at center. Taylor will be at quarter, Roy Thompson at left half, Al Wodham at right half and Dick Turk at fullback.

Whom Tech has the ball FSU will be arrayed this way: Taylor and McDonald at ends, Brown and Nat Polak at tackles, and Co-Captain Vic Szespanik and Boyer at guards. Kalenich and Nelson Italiano be'king up bie line, Campbell and Grimer at halfs and Tommy Brown at safety.

Students to Sit In East Section

The student section for tomorrow night's Louisiana Tech game is the entire east section of the stadium. Students are asked to enter the east side gates and also to buy tickets for guests there. FSU students will be admitted free by presenting their I.D. cards.

Tickets for the game will sell for $2.50, reserved seat; $1.85 general admission and .85 for students without I.D. cards.

Tickets for the Georgia Tech game in Atlanta, November 22, are also now available. Student tickets will sell for $1.25 and adult tickets for $3.00.

American Studies Reopens Seminar

The Pro-Seminar in American Studies, one of the most unusual courses offered at Florida State University, is resuming this Fall after a year's suspension.

The Pro-Seminar, which meets every Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5 in 214 Educational building, is the one required course for students majoring in American Studies, but it is open to other students, too, as a general series of lectures.

Each week a different topic is presented, usually by a specialist from some FSU department, with discussion during the second hour of the session. On Tuesday, September 30, Prof. Harrison Chase of the geography department will analyze some of the theories about American climate and its effects upon people in different regions. Sometimes during the Fall, Prof. Thomas Pyle of the University of Florida, author of the recent book, Words and Ways of American English, will be a special guest speaker.

Students, faculty and townspeople are welcome to attend, said Prof. Bill Randel, director of American Studies.

Journalist to Talk At FSPA Meeting

Reid H. Montgomery, the director of the South Carolina Scholastic Press Association, will speak at Florida State University Saturday, October 4.

Montgomery, who is head of the journalism department and director of information at Winthrop College, will speak at the meeting of the Florida Scholastic Press Association at FSU. Sports writing, duplicated newspapers, and other topics will be discussed.

Montgomery has worked on the staff of The State in Columbia, South Carolina, and the Daily Item in Sumter, S. C. In 1946 he judged features in a contest conducted by the North Carolina Scholastic Press Association.

VV to Tap Frosh In Coming Weeks

The Villase Vamps, social-service group whose members are chosen on a basis of personality, will tap in the next few weeks 30 or less of the freshman women, Judy Ellis, president, said.

New members are Ann Adams, Stephanie Ambrose, Judy Bilich, Joan Brown, Jean Christiaver, Janie Cornwell, Charlo Cotton, Cynthia Calhoun, Ann Collins, Joan Edwards Lynwood Evans, Holly Fichl, Nancy Munt Virginia Shaw, Janet Starke, Nancy Sweetman, Ann Yates, Kathleen Vesi, Mary Ann Fields, Linda Helms, Shirley Hogan, Jo Ann Hutto, Dot Johnson, Ann McVey Lynn McNish, Betty Jo Miller, Marsha Mohr, Betty Ann Munroe Pat Turnley and Jo Ann Owens.

ENJOY EATING

Excellent Food, Prepared to Your Taste, Appetizingly Displayed and served where the Students Like to Meet and Eat.

THE SEMINOLE CLUB and SEMINOLE SOUTH

UNIVERSITY DINING HALLS

WELCOME SERVICE for all METHODIST STUDENTS

Trinity Methodist Church

Park at Duval on the Lawn

This Sunday September 28th 6:30 p.m.

Fellowship --- Singing -- Snack

SEARS ROEBUCK AND CO.

fresh and colorful form fitting

Kerrybrooke sweaters long sleeve fitted or boxy cardigan

5.95

short sleeve fitted pullover

3.98

Flirtatious sweaters in softest virgin wool, to make your winter wardrobe sparkle and come to life! First, the pullover in subtle Heathertones . . . cashmere-like pink, blue, green, tan or grey. Then the cardigans in thrilling Horizon Hues . . . starry ruby, moonglo royal, timber green, cosmic brown or eclipse black . . . as well as Heathertone tan or grey! Now you have it—vivacious colors to mix or match in sweater sets . . . priced low enough to make it easy on your budget! 34 to 40, only at Sears!

Pretty . . Soft . . Warm !

Spun Nylon Crews

To Match Your Sweater 98¢

Wonderful spun nylon that looks, feels just as beautiful and soft as wool . . . yet won't shrink and lose its fine shape. Choose them in pastels, radiant tones, white, Misses', women's sizes 9-10½.

"Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back"

SEARS "Use Sears Easy Payment Plan"

311 S. Monroe St., Tallahassee Phone 2-4260

Sho pDaily 9:00 to 5:00 Sat. to 6:00

F. S. U. Freshman Reveals Past in Concentration Camp

Campus life, ambition to become a fashion designer, new friends and a new land are a far cry from a past crowded with the blood and horror of a Nazi concentration camp, but in a sentence that sums up the past and present of Marlies Gessler freshman at Florida State University.

A ready smile, engaging personality and eagerness to learn show no evidence of the haunting, dark days of her past in war-torn Poland.

MARLIES was only four years old, the daughter of a prosperous family in Lodz, Poland, when Hitler's ambition of world conquest sent his ruthless armies marching into that country. Blissfully unaware of impending tragedy as she played in a kindergarten, she was faced with the death of her father in 1942 and the frantic efforts of her mother to feed them by selling their home and belongings.

In the heartbreaking years that followed she was taken from her mother by the Nazis and placed in a children's detention camp.

THE RUSSIANS invaded Poland, so Hitler moved his camps further into Nazi territory. She and hundreds of other children were herded like cattle into unbraked railway coaches and sent to Germany . In a camp near Chemnitz they lived in rough barracks and considered themselves lucky to be able to stay alive under a brutal military discipline and diet of black bread and watery soup.

Shifted about from one camp to another, she was finally sent to live with a peasant family in 1945. Her one luxury for Christmas was being permitted to take a bath.

SHE attended a one-room school and applied herself diligently to make the most of the meager opportunity for education.

Then in May 1946 the sun shone again for this war-weary waif, when living in the Soviet zone of Germany she was reunited with her mother. Mrs Gessler, then working with the American occupation forces in Germany, braved arrest by the Russians by crossing into the Soviet zone on foot to verify vague reports that her child was living there.

"WE just stood and stared at each other hardly daring to believe that we had again become reunited," Marlies recalls . "We actuli faced the task of getting back into the American zone, but Mother talked the Russians into allowing us to return."

Another high point in her life, Marlies recalls, is that day she and her mother, aboard a ship carrying 150 displaced persons to New Orleans, hove into sight of the lights of Miami to give them their first glimpse of the "land of the free."

MARLIES and her mother eventually went to Monticello where she attended high school for one term. As they tried to forget the horrors of the Nazis and the cruelties of the Soviet they adjusted themselves to some of the conveniences of American "capitalistic" life: such as plenty of soap and water, nourishing meals and friendship with other people.

"Freedom in America," they said, "makes for an entirely different kind of people—people who can worship as they please and are happy to be alive."

WHILE working during the Summer as waitress in a Tallahassee restaurant to help pay her way through college Marlies won many friends and further perfected her knowledge of English.

As to the future Marlies only smiles and says, "I will do my best to make my new country proud of me. I'm so happy here."

"Mademoiselle" Places Stress On Eye-Catching Accessories

For on and off campus, October Mademoiselle says, "Have the courage to be different. Draw attension as you walk into a room and hold it with one wonderful accessory that snakes you stand out." Thus the magazine preview spotlights bags, belts, scarves, jewels and shoes to make basic college wardrobes become brilliant conversation pieces.

High on the list of fashion accessories coming into their own this winter is the stole. With skirts, date dresses, or formals they're now an important must.

WITH everything, from most casual separates to the sleekest after-five dress. Mlle. recommend "cuffs of gold," giant gold bracelets to weigh down an arm or to wear two on one wrist.

The new "ruff scarf"—simply a tube of fabric, one end tucked into the other frames any of the new "faraway" necklines. Also on the bateau beat, the editors recommend "bibs" of rubies, emeralds, rhinestones, or wrought gold and "lariats" to be tried as scarves leaving the ends dipping in front or in back.

THE OCTOBER issue concludes by establishing the "sculptural belt": it's shaped to the body and may rise to three inches above the waist or drop to three inches below it., making an attractive conjunction for torso blouses and slim skirts.

Mademoiselle says "the trick to this winter's fashion is to pick the right accessory for you."

Oct. Script Deadline Set for Sandspur

Script deadline for the Sandspur production to be held Feb. 15, 1953, has been set at Wednesday, Oct. 15, said Jim Harris.

All scripts are to include song lyrics for the show. A maximum award of $75 will be awarded for the winning story, which will be decided upon by a board of directors to be announced soon.

"Arrangements will soon be completed for organizing all available help into committees for the production," said Harris. "We extend a particular welcome for Frosh help, which is always important to Sandspur."

Dorm Meetings Held

Compulsory meetings were held in all women's dormitories Thursday night. At that time plans for Homecoming were formulated and vacancies for house offices were filled.

Hobby Shop To Open In West Campus Club

The Hobby Shop located in the West Campus O Club will be open again Tuesday under the direction of Ruth Jelks. Hours are from 7 to 10 p. m. Tuesday and Thursdays and 2 to 5 p. m. Wednesdays.

Handicrafts offered will be bead work, shells, weaving, leatherwork, metal work, flower arranging and anything else anyone is interested in.

There will be a charge for materials only, said Miss Hilda Tinney, director of the O Club. "Now is the time to start on Christmas gifts," she said.

Classified Ad

FOR RENT.—Single and double rooms also furnished apartments and utilities furnished. Opposite college library. 642 West Jefferson. Phone 2-4024.

Patronize Our Advertisers

ATTENTION ALL STUDENTS!

Golf Driving Range

NOW OPEN

3:30—10:00 EVERY DAY

3 Blocks West of Student Union on Call St.

Special Rate College Students . . . 35c

THE SNACK BAR

IN THE

SEMINOLE CLUB

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

7:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M.

SATURDAY 7:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M.

"QUICKIE" BREAKFAST — SUGGESTION:

Orange Juice, Sweet Roll, Coffee . . . 18c

With Cold Cereal and Milk 28c

SANDWICHES AFTER 10:30 A.M.

SHAKES and MALTS — ALL DAY

Fresh Bakery Items Daily

Cigarettes and Candy

Turner's Featuring Squares for the Game Saturday

We've cornered the smartest idea ever for your favorite classic — the moccasin! See the new slant we've given this of-square toe for the belittlingest, bewitchingest Old Maine Trotter. Original of all.

9.95

Vera Ravine Rigid buttoned sole

Turner's

Sound OFF!!

on the Voice of the Seminoles

WFSU

Join the Staff

- announcers
- technicians
- scrip writers
- disc jockeys

There's a Place for You!

WFSU

660 on Your Dial

FOR THE GAME

Sport Rust Alligator-Lizard High or medium heel

22.95

by PALIZZIO

FOR YOUR SORORITY TEA

★ Black Suede
★ Brown Suede
★ Gray Suede
★ Navy Suede

14.95

By MADEMOISELLE

FOR THAT "SPECIAL" RUSH PARTY

Black Suede

Jet nail heads

16.95

By DELMANETTE

with the new Cinco counters

For Campus or Class

Russet Calf
Black Calf
White Buckskin

7.95

Black Bucko
Grey Bucko
Spice Bucko

8.95

We have an exact bag to match each shoe shown.

WELCOME F S U

Welcome back to the rolling hills of Tallahassee, to the excitement of College Life;

Welcome also to Miller's Bootery, Since 1924 Tallahassee's largest and finest for Ladies Shoes.

Come in, select from the finest collection of quality merchandise in the South, let our courteous, capable staff assist you. You'll enjoy shopping at Miller's.

Ours Alone

MILLER'S Bootery

College Ave.

FOR THAT "COKE" PARTY at the DORM

Patootie
★ Black Suede Tan calf trim
★ Brown Suede Beige tan trim
★ Grey Suede Ruby Red Calf Trim

9.95

By GOLD ROOM BAGS TO MATCH

For Shoppin' or Show

I'm Wit 'U
★ Red Calf
★ Navy Calf
★Tan Calf
★ Black Suede

9.95

by Gold Room

Caps and Gowns Must Be Ordered By October 4

Florida Flambeau

Freshman Qualifying Deadline Extended See Lead Story

VOL. XXXIX, No. 3 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, September 30, 1952

Cabinet Votes to Extend Frosh Qualifying Deadline

Sr. Class to Hold Investiture Oct. 21

Ceremony Officially Designates Seniors Soph. Brothers and Sisters Chosen

The Music Amphitheatre will be the scene of Investiture for the Senior Class of 1953, on Tuesday, October 21. As yet, no definite hour has been set for the event.

The traditional capping ceremony will officially designate FSU students as Seniors. The actual capping will be performed by each individual Senior's Sophomore sister or brother. Each Senior picks a Sophomore brother or sister at some time before the ceremony.

PLANS for the Investiture were disclosed at a meeting of the Senior Class last Thursday, Sept. 25, when it was announced that Seniors would attend a meeting with Dr. V. L. Shores, at a time to be set later. The purpose of the meeting is to have the meaning and history of Investiture explained. Seniors will also receive specific instructions as to the procedure they are to follow on that night.

Terry Stein, Senior Senator, will bring the official speakers at 1 p.m. The devotional speaker has not yet been named.

SENIOR PRESIDENT Bob Ryals remarked that on that night, the boys would be wearing dark trousers and ties along with their gowns and black tassels, while the girls would wear the caps and gowns with black tassels and the formal collars.

Barbara Brewton, Senior Class secretary and Katherine Skogstead were elected to serve as Marshals. They will take charge of seating arrangements for the Seniors and general arrangements for the ceremony. Also elected at this meeting were the two class sponsors. They are Dr. Samuel Neel and Dr. W. H. Rogers, English Department. Their duties are to attend all functions of the Senior Class.

PRESIDENT RYALS announced that the deadline for measurements for senior caps and gowns was Saturday, Oct. 4. He stressed the importance of doing so as early as possible.

Jackie Dickerson, chairman of the caps and gowns committee, made this comment, "Orders are being taken in South Cawthon parlor, and please bring the $10 with you. Orders can not be taken without it." Schedule for order taking is as follows: Tuesday, 10:00 to 12:00 a.m.: Wednesday, 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.; Thursday, 10:00 to 12:00 a.m.: Friday, 11:00 to 12:00 a.m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.; on Saturday, the last day, orders may be placed from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

"IF IT IS impossible to come during scheduled hours, contact me at South Cawthon," explained Jackie. "Also," she continued, "come as soon as possible and you'll avoid making long lines for many hours."

Paul Soraparu, Social Chairman, revealed that plans are in the making for Pres. Doak S. Campbell's birthday party, a yearly affair staged by the senior class.

Working with Dean Broward Culpepper, for the selection of speakers were the two speaker's committees. The devotional committee, headed by Barbara Thomas, includes Ellen Avis, Bill Bloom, and Mary Browden. While on the principal speakers' committee, headed by Terry Stein, are Sally Ellis and Tommy Bowan.

Debaters Argue On Influences Upon Women

Humorous Topic Set For Tonight's Mixer Of Fall Forensics

Resolved that women exert a greater influence over men than money.

This is the topic to be debated at the fourth annual Fall Fornescis Mixer to be held tonight in room 208 of the History building.

Leah LaPlante will present the negative while Peter Nimkoff argues for the affirmative on this humorous proposition. Acting as chairman for the debate will be Katherine Skogstead, member of the varsity debate squad.

Following the debate Dr. Clarence Edney, head of the Department of Speech will address the group on "The Place of Forensics in the Program of the Speech Department and the University." Dr. Wayne Minnick will speak on "The Value of Forensic Activity," and Dr. Gregg Phifer will give a glimpse into this year's schedule with a discussion of 1952-53 Forensics at FSU.

All students interested in debate are invited to attend the meeting. Freshmen will find this an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with both varsity debaters and faculty members of the Department of Speech.

Circus Selects 100 Members

One hundred new students were chosen by the Florida State University Circus this season.

The nationally famous "Flying High" each year conducts try-outs for hundreds of new students and chooses many of these to train and eventually perform on rings, tight-ropes and various other paraphernalia for which the Circus is noted.

SELECTED TO BE the future performers are: Dorsey Cooper, [illegible] Sisson, Barbara Tribble, La[illegible] Armstrong, Jean Ford, Betty Wilimon, June Morris June [illegible]ner, Margie Wilkerson, Donna [illegible], Norma Harvey, Margaret [illegible] Ann Callahan, Joanne Cog[illegible] Sally Stevens, Laura Streetman, Jaoe Walker, Janet Lifsey, [illegible] Hammer, Marilyn Keefer, Ana Adams, Jane Davis, Margie [illegible] Jeanne Craig, Katherine Mason, Carolyn Williams, Karen B[illegible] James Byrd

Others are Shirley Kellog, [illegible] McCants, Shirley Bol[illegible] Diane Hood, Joan Tavel, Jayteen Robertson, Sandra Carter Barbara Brunson, Ann Frazer, Nancy Warner, Joyce Morgan, Pat Warner, Barbara Slaughter, Joann Queen, Martha Slaydon, Gail Griffin Terry Secord, Bebe Bellinger, Ann Hoffman, Sue Herndon, Sarah Hamby, Joanne Anderson, [illegible] Blanton, Jo Bell, Madalyn Cox, Martin Culbreth Dennis, Ca[illegible] Atwood Cochran, Betty Goggins, Caryann Davis, William Doxey, Tom Dickey, Betty Fahle, [illegible] Leah Earnest, Patricia Emmett Betty Fischer, Carroll [illegible] Carl Gay, Oswald Geiger, Gordon Gaster, Joe Hill, Jane Helm

Also, Peggy Halberstadt, John Ha[illegible], Lillian Johnson, Robert Jones, John Lindgreen, Howard [illegible] Rene Boynton, Mary McFarland, Neville Malloy, Walter McPeak, Ray Maltby, Ralph Matienzo, William Osterhoudt, Ha[illegible] Peebles, Harriet Ramset, Jackson Richie, Barbara Rynski, Martha Scott, Harlace Sealy, Laura Streetman, Jaynes Snellgrove, Ed Titus, Barbara Vickers, Nancy Mayer, John Mund.

"FLYING HIGH", as the circus is appropriately named, is moving into its sixth season this year with five highly successful triumphs behind it. Extensive plans are being made for new costuming, new acts

(Continued on Page 4)

Intern Applications Due October 11

Applications of internship must be filed with the Internship Office by 12 p.m. Friday, Oct. 10, by those who wish to intern second semester.

A "C" average is required before the application will be processed. It takes several days of part-time work to complete the application of internship, therefore, students are urged to file their applications as soon as possible.

Order Caps, Gowns

Orders for caps and gowns must be made by Saturday, Oct. 4, Jackie Dickerson, who is in charge announced. Caps and gowns must be ordered by then so they will arrive in time for Investiture, Oct. 21.

Price for the academic regalia is $10. Measurements and orders will be taken by Jackie in the parlor of South Cawthon between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 noon on Tuesday; 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday; 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday; 11:00 to 12a.m. on Friday and 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Take Your Choice

IFC PRESIDENT—Don Waters holds a few of the hundreds of bids that were issued as a climax of fraternity rush week. 224 boys pledged the 14 fraternities.

Greeks Settle Down As Pledging Ends

Pledges to Florida State's 14 national social fraternities have now begun their period of Greek indoctrination, with many of them moving into the fraternity houses.

Taken into the Greek societies last Wednesday were:

Phi Delta Theta: Robert Sessions, John E. Crider, Ken Edwards, David Abner, Alvin Pierson, William C. Gallups, Rudy C. Boyd, Ken Peterson, Jerry Jacobs, Robert C. Roffey, Harry Buzzy, Strandghen, Lee Barber, George Kallish, Gordon Spana, Thomas E. Ehrhardt, Jim Elliott, Charlie Keen, Dan Simatovich, Stan Dobosz, Earl D. Long, Dean Pohl, Eddie Goodwin.

Sigma Phi Epsilon: Hank Baker, Joe Blanton, Ardeo Brown, John Curry, William Osterhoudt, Exiquio Vidal, Don Williams, William Daye, Jack Hampton III, Richard Nasrallah, Charles DeGraw, Joe Donaldson, Lloyd Kay, Jess Love, Robert Pittman, Lloyd Stiles, Donald White.

Theta Chi: Charles Franklin, R. C. Cobb, Bob Wilson, Tom Woods, Andy Beverly, Jimmy Campbell, Douglas E. Pichard, Tom Johnson, Bob Kennedy, E. Walter Herold, Charley Strickland, William H. Brown, Harold Steward, Richard L. Dean, Alan Daly, Jimmy Kyle, Jim Towns, Bob Scarbough, "Doc" Cottingham, Buddy Pearson, Raymond T. Baker, Gary Sammons.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Charles Chafin, Tracy Harrison, Dick Morrow, Jim Welch, Clynch Newsome, Mac Steinmyer, Ted Morrill, Nat Polak, Jerry Connell, Scudder Mead, Tally Bludworth, Hunt Wester, Charles Moore, Harrison Fisher, Tommy Fountain, Gene Wagner, Tom Nissalke, Wayne Patton.

Kappa Sigma: Wayne Lewis, Jack Johnston, Charles Heisner, Harrell Case Fountain, Cecil Cook Bechler, Sieurjon Rumar Rasmarsson, Virgil Fred Brown, David Durrett.

Delta Tau Delta: Stephen C. Walker, Fred L. Bridges, Kenneth B Chadwick, James R. Crosby, Merrill A. Craig, Donald Hartsfield, Sam P. Plaines, Bud Dixon, Gene Johnson, James

(Continued from Page 1)

"South Seas" Is Museum Exhibit

The beauty and charm of the tropical islands of the vast South Pacific has been brough, in some measure, to the Florida State University Museum on East Campus.

From now until November 15, art works of many native groups in New Guinea, Palau, the Marshall Islands, New Zealand, the Solomons, Australia and other areas will be on exhibit. These materials have been obtained from the American Museum of Natural History and the University of Southern California.

Called "South Seas Culture," the displays include ceremonial objects and war implements made from wood, shell, bone and shark teeth.

Arranged in groups, each exhibit concerns an important area of native life.

The University Museum is free and open to the public. Hours for this display are: Tuesday through Friday, 12:30 to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 12 30 p.m; Sunday, 2 to 5 p.m. The Museum is closed Mondays

FSU Grad Is Chosen Winner In National Magazine Contest

Although Phi Beta Kappa makes no specific demands that its members be both brainy and glamorous, sometimes the two combine and the result is—well, take Mrs. Helen Gong Chin for example

The 1950 FSU graduate was chosen one of the "Ten Girls With Taste" in a contest of the same name sponsored by Glamour Magazine. Basis for judging was "to find the girl who most typifies our reader—the girl with a job who dresses and lives with good taste on a salary not exceeding $75 a week." A picture of Helen and her husband, Gilbert Chin, appears in the September issue of Glamour on page 179.

KNOWN TO her friends as "Bing," she participated in a wide variety of activities at FSU and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Mortar Board, Sophomore Council, vice-president of U.G.A., Garnet Key and as a freshman was in Alpha Lambda Delta.

After graduation Helen went to New York to work, having worked there one summer. She is now Production Manager for the advertising department of Lord & Taylor in New York.

MRS. MARGARET Blaire, of the University Vocational Guidance department, has received glowing accounts of Helen's ability and performance on the job.

Helen describes the job in Glamour as being "like a continuous exciting game — doing the impossible in the minimum time."

Local Band Plays For Homecoming

A local band will play in the Women's Gymnasium at the same time the Homecoming Dance with Sammy Kaye and his orchestra is in the Suwannee Room, G. E. Heilman, dance committee chairman, has announced.

Tickets for the main dance Saturday, Nov. 15, will be $1.50 each. Kaye and his orchestra will be here for a one night stand. The theme which will be used in dance decorations has yet to be decided, Heilman said.

Ted Steinmeyer is student chairman of the dance committee, while Bill Skipper is publicity chairman. Edward James and Paul Sorsparo have been appointed co-chairmen of ticket sales Betty Ann Pierce is in charge of the annual Garnet and Gold Banquet, with Dr. J. Broward Culpepper as overall Homecoming director.

ODK Calls Meeting

Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership fraternity, will have a meeting at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 1 in Room 401 of the Longmire Building.

FSU Collegians To Serenade Dorms On Thursday Night

The thirty-six voices of the men's glee club, the Collegians, will serenade the women at their dormitories on Thursday evening at 11.

J. Dayton Smith commented today that he expected this year's group of men to be the best ever assembled in the Collegians.

The choral group will also make it a point, as is their custom, to serenade those girls who have been pinned or are engaged to members of the Collegians.

Plans also are in the making for the group to sing at the weddings of several of their members.

APO Requests Several Texts

Book Exchange Lists Most Repeated Calls

The Alpha Phi Omega Used Book Exchange is in need of several textbook editions, Tommy Bowen, APO president, said today.

The exchange is open in the Longmire Recreation Room from the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Jay Ladd, chairman of the project, says that hundreds have been turned away because of lack of books to sell and exchange.

BOOKS URGENTLY needed are History — Wabash; Humanities 101: Math — Bolser, Trimble, Wade; Psychology—Munn; Education—Cook; Physical Science—Krauskopf; "College Chemistry", Linus Pauling and English — "Think Before You Write" by McCrimmon and "Writing With a Purpose" by Leary.

Also "Building a Successful Marriage" by Landis and Landis; "Introduction to Music" by Bernstein; "Literature of England" by Wood; Economics by Samuelson; Goode's Atlas, Music theory books, "The American Way," 4th edition by Barnes and Reudl, "Educational Psychology" by Gates Jersild and "Introduction to Public Welfare" by Miles.

APO MEN who are working with Ladd are Carroll White, Bob Ducker, Jimmy Evans, Tommy Rogero, Tommy Bowen, Richard Yeager and Henry Redd.

Nimkoff Honored With Membership In State Society

Dr. M. F. Nimkoff of the department of sociology, has been elected an honorary member for life in the Florida Psychological Association along with Dr. W. C. Allee, chairman of the department of biology at the University of Florida and formerly chairman at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Nimkoff and Dr. Allee, together with Dr. H. W. Nissen of the Yerkes Laboratory of Primate Zoology, participated in a panel discussion of the topic, "A Reexamination of the Question of Instinct," at the annual meeting of the association.

The symposium has been accepted for publication by the Psychological Review. Prof. Winthrop N. Kellogg of the department of psychology at FSU, president of the association, arranged for the panel and publication of the papers.

Flambeau Welcomes News, Club Notes

The Florida Flambeau will carry any club notice and write-ups of club meetings. Club presidents or reporters are urged to turn this material in at the Flambeau office, second floor Longmire Building. It should be marked for Frances Cawthon, News Editor.

Stories should be turned in by noon Saturday for the Tuesday's edition and noon Wednesday for the Friday's edition if at all possible. Three o'clock on Mondays and Thursday are final deadlines.

All club and departmental news is welcome. The Flambeau is a student newspaper. If you have news, the paper will be glad to publish it.

Lists Close Wednesday at 5; Extension Opposed by Ducker

Deadline for qualifying for Freshman elections has been extended to Wednesday at 5 p.m., according to Secretary of Elections Bob Ducker. This deadline is absolute.

The Cabinet moved that the deadline be extended because it felt that there had not been sufficient time for Freshmen to learn about the elections due to Rush Week and beginning of classes. Ducker, who was opposed to moving the deadline, said that a good sound election system did not include shifting of deadlines.

THE OTHER members of the Cabinet argued that perhaps by closing qualifications yesterday at 5 p.m., the elections might lose some good people.

"People who are interested in becoming good student officials will watch for this information, qualify on time and get out and campaign," Ducker replied.

CAMPAIGNING will officially begin at 5 p.m. today, and no sooner, Ducker said. The campaigning deadline has not been changed.

Monday at 7:30 p.m. a political rally will be in the Music Amphitheater, Ducker announced. A time limit of five minutes for president; three for vice-president and senator, and two for all other offices has been set. Candidates during the rally may have time for a speech, entertainment or combination of both, said Ducker, as long as participants representing them are Freshmen.

ANY CANDIDATE wishing to participate in this rally should leave a slip with their name, office and what they plan to do on it, at the Information Desk in the Longmire Building or in the University Government Association office on second floor Longmire, Ducker said.

Time will also be given over campus radio station, WFSU, with the same time limits Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

THE FOLLOWING Freshmen have qualified to appear on the Oct. 7 ballot for the office of Freshman Class President:

Wesley Lee Barber
Jeff Davis
Harry Albert Eielson, Jr.
Harvey Jackson Hampton, III
Jimmy Joanos
Charles Frederick Mixon, Jr.
Charles Edward Singer

Persons qualified for the office of Vice-President are:

Thomas H. Dickey
Charlotte Anne Farber
Lincoln "Bob" Hall
Jimmy B Hanks
Jennie Woodworth Swearingen

OFFICE OF Secretary:

Sue Elaine Allen
Bebe Bisbee
Lenora Ann Hollingsworth
Alice Carol Rodgers
Louise B. Yarborough

Office of Treasurer:

Donald Eugene Dixon
Elizabeth Elaine McLendon
Arden Maps Merckle
Marion Jeanette Porter
Nancy Vaughn

Social Chairman:

Barbara Ann Brunson
Margaret Ann McIntosh
Inia Jean Pruitt
Sandra Schaal

PARLIAMENTARIAN:

Joyce Morgan
Deane Jackson

Men's Senate:

Richard Normao Blttner
John P. Callahan
Charles Graham Carothers
William L. "Sonny" Daye
James Stanley Harvey
Bobby Jones
Coyle Moore, Jr.
Richard Franklin Nasrallah
Sam Lawton Skogstad
Tammy Tomlin
Allyn Gifford Rivers

WOMEN'S Senate:

Orchid Favia Alonso
Shirley May Boulware
Mary Louise Dee
Ann Scott Dickinson
Nancy Carolyn Graham
Joan Hawley Halford
Joan E. Johansen
Barbara Lou Letser
Florence Harriet Lowe
Margaret Sue Martin
Rose Ellen Moore
Joanne Queen
Cynthia Ann Vance

Opera Guild Slates Additional Tryouts

The second tryout period for principal roles in the Light Opera Guild's December production of Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts" will be Wednesday, Oct. 1, from 7 to 9:45 p.m. in the Choral Room (223) of the Music Building.

The first tryout period was held Monday. Tryouts for chorus will be Monday, Oct. 6, from 7 to 9:45 p.m. in the same room. Among the principal roles, says Director Robert L. Briggs, are a few parts which will not require talented singers but instead ability in acting.

Senate Holds First

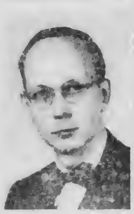
The first meeting of the University Senate will be today at 4:30 p.m. in the University Government Association rooms.

Doctor Francis Redding Walton Heads Department of Classics

Thirty-one articles for the Oxford Classical Dictionary plus publication of a fistful of papers on such diverse topics as philology, theology and archeology are a few of the scholarly achievements of Dr. Francis Redding Walton, new head of the FSU Department of Classics.

Dr. Walton replaces Dr. Olivia N. Dorman who has served as acting head for the past year. Dr. Dorman will continue to serve as a Professor in the department.

EDUCATED at Haverford College, Harvard University and the American Academy at Rome, the new head of Classics comes to FSU from the University of Chicago where he was a member of the faculty for the past four years. He has also taught at the University of Minnesota, Williams College and Haverford College.



He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the Archeological Institute of America, the American Philological Association, and the Classical Association of the Middle West and South. In addition, he is a member of the Editorial Board of the Committee on History of Religions of the American Council of Learned Societies and a member of the Classical Jury of the American Academy in Rome.

CURRENT RESEARCH projects of the new department head involve an edition and translation of Diodorus of Sicily, to be published as two volumes of the Loeb Classical Library, and a collection of texts, in translation, to the illustrated history of Greek religion to be published by the Liberal Arts Press.

Dr. Walton has traveled in Italy, [illegible], France and England and has also made short visits to Turkey, Syria, Palestine and Egypt.

HE IS married to the former Mary Sabin Cooper. They have two children, Sarah Jane, five and a half years old, and David Ford, five months.

Classics Head

Dr. Francis R. Walton

Rushing Closes As 229 Girls Join Sororities

Pledging Ceremonies Took Place Sunday In 16 Chapter Houses

Pledging ceremonies Sunday took 229 Florida State girls into the Greek life of the 16 chapters of social sororities on campus.

Pledges and their sororities are:

ALPHA CHI OMEGA: Pat Dewberry, Loretta Green, Barbara Linehan, Shirley Norman, Carolyn Redfern, Jean Sodge[illegible], Marion Weaver, Sarah Jane Wh[illegible], Gerry Sellars, Marjorie Mangala, Charlena Hill, Lenora Hollingsworth.

ALPHA DELTA PI: Ada Adams, G[illegible] Ada[illegible], Jean Braswell, Helen Caroth[illegible], Jenny Swearinger, Margaret Ann Young, Janet Hughes, Margaret Miller, Sa[illegible] Paul, Martha Rasor, Virginia Spicer, Jane Davis, Carol Ellinor, Claire Ba[illegible], Loquita Johnson, Jeannette Porter, Ela[illegible] McLandon, Pat[illegible] Wood, Eliza[illegible] Brown, Christine Starbird, Alice Carol Rodgers, Sally Ann Davenport.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA: Pat Emmett, Carol Fulkerson, Mary Jean Gillis, Nancy Leop, Antionette Lete, Mary Trulock, Virginia Phillips, Elin Quicksall, Betty Jane Sharp, Barbara Ann Tribble, Joanne Wi[illegible], Donna McNab, O[illegible] Hood, Bettie Carter, Joanne Anderson, Mary Turnbull, Betty Jana Bailey, Sy[illegible] Lewis, Scottie Dickinson.

ALPHA OMICRON PI: Sue Allen, Ma[illegible] George Anderson, Gail Gr[illegible], Barbara Lynch, Jeanne O'Hern, Barbara Santana, Mary Pa[illegible]iglia, Boots Haynie, [illegible] E[illegible], Pa[illegible] Schofield, Jo[illegible] Elson, B[illegible] Ann Pearl, Peggy Br[illegible].

ALPHA XI DELTA: Nathalie Emery, Mary Alice Gotter, Joan Johansen, Kay K[illegible], Frances Lo[illegible] Ro[illegible] Shafer, Betty Sul[illegible] Anne W[illegible], Mar[illegible] Nichols, Diana Hunt, Jane Williams.

CHI OMEGA: Jane Sisson, Dorsey Lee C[illegible], La Ve[illegible] A[illegible], El[illegible] Sc[illegible]rough, Martha Slay[illegible], S[illegible] Williams, Kay Moods, Joyce Par[illegible], Eugenia McSwain, Betty Ann Char[illegible] Ann McIntosh, Car[illegible] Stel[illegible] S[illegible] Linebaugh, Jeanne Owens, Phyl[illegible] P[illegible]man.

GAMMA PHI BETA: Susan Earle, Betty Jane Johns, Netty Johns, Carol McCory, Enid Taylor.

DELTA ZETA: Allie Jane Bird, J[illegible] Brinson, Peggy Hawn, Ellen L[illegible], Carl Ann Nydegger, Jane Ellen W[illegible]son, Doris Ann C[illegible], Mar[illegible] Pace, Phyllis Dye, Ellen Jane S[illegible].

DELTA DELTA DELTA: Emma Lo[illegible] Buck, Betty Ann Furman, Joan Goddard, Jeanne Hobbs, Elizabeth Carol Johnson, Linda Lee, Paula Orr, Cynthia Parr, Cecile Rob[illegible], Helen Russell, Dorothy Young, K[illegible] Bell, Shirley Cox, Shirley S[illegible]th, Ga[illegible] Fulghum, Nancy Lee Hume, Meredith Glenn, Martha Simpson.

DELTA GAMMA: Sue Angel, Janis DeWitt, Anne Farber, Beatrice Smith, Dara[illegible] Peck, Shirley Mae Ham[illegible], Margie G[illegible], Lottie J'enne Br[illegible], Mary C[illegible], Melinda Louise U[illegible], G[illegible] McDon[illegible].

KAPPA ALPHA THETA: Janet Er[illegible], Betty Jo Grubbs, Jean Hodges, Shirley Kellogg, Joanne Quee[illegible], Ruth Spen[illegible], Joan Lee, Sue McCormick, Shirley M[illegible], Inia Jean Pruitt, Cynthia Vance, Jane Walker, Betty Willmon, Louisa Yarbo[illegible], Barbara Caldwell.

KAPPA DELTA: Car[illegible] Alford, Mary Carolyn Branch, Beverly Brown, Barbara Ann Br[illegible], Lujane Donaldson, Pa[illegible] Fl[illegible], Ann Fraser, Florence Getzen, Deane Jackson, Sue Mart[illegible], Caryl Neel, Mary Jane Robertson, Marie Seford, Mary Lois Thornhill, Nancy War[illegible] Sally F[illegible], Jane Wallace, Joyce Morgan.

PHI MU: Martha Chesnut, Jo E[illegible] Hob[illegible], Lil Johnson, Virginia Norfleet, Je[illegible] Rob[illegible], Be[illegible] Strickland, Ma[illegible] Wilkinson, Bette Jacobs, Shirley De[illegible], Nancy Graham, Jeanette Fol[illegible], Marion Stevenson, Shirley Burrell, Francine Pab[illegible], Pat Meaaugh, Joanne Brooks.

PI BETA PHI: Mary Abel, Sally Hanner, Mary Irwin, Janet Lifsey, Mary Lilienthal, Louise Ostner, Jane P[illegible]man, Sylvia Par[illegible], S[illegible] Reasoner, C[illegible]thia Sweatt, Joan Ta[illegible], J[illegible] Sou[illegible]erland, Audrey Carlton, Joann G[illegible], Frances Ekwurzel, Janet Sdges, Susan Phelps, A[illegible] Holl[illegible].

SIGMA KAPPA: Joey Bell, Sh[illegible] Harper, Jean He[illegible], Yvonne B[illegible], Laurie Vincenti, Arden Wright, J[illegible] Pr[illegible], Edith D Lugos, Sandra Portz, Ruth Reed.

ZETA TAU ALPHA: Dorothy E[illegible]ton, Jean Sieger, S[illegible] Bo[illegible], June Ygles, Ann Moore, Do[illegible] Ann Miller, S[illegible] Mc[illegible], Vera Marie Gasker, M[illegible] Jo B[illegible], N[illegible] King[illegible], Jane Smith, Den[illegible] Dever, Sue H[illegible], Te[illegible] Sta[illegible]ker, Betty Sellers, Martha Sue C[illegible]ler, Sally Oarner.

Skish Club Holds 1st Meeting Today

The first meeting of the Skish Club, bait casting, sponsored by the Adapted Physical Education Club, will be this afternoon from 5 to 6 in front of the Women's Gymnasium.

All men and women students who are interested are invited to attend. The equipment will be furnished by the women's physical education department.

The skish practices will be held every Tuesday afternoon until Nov. 19. A tournament will be set for the end of the practices.

Letters Due Saturday

Letters to the editor will be printed in next Tuesday's issue of the Florida Flambeau for those candidates running in the Freshman elections, Bill Dunn, editor, said.

The letters should be not over 250 [illegible] and double spaced. They must be in the Flambeau office by Saturday noon, Oct. 4.

Forgetfulness of Others Marks Campus Snobbery

To most people snob is a word with unpleasant connotations. It brings to mind an unreasonable person, nose in the air, conceited and thoroughly unlikeable.

Yet when it comes to specific cases and the word is viewed in a slightly broader sense, it becomes uncomfortably clear that everyone is a snob in one way or another. To illustrate the point, the Flambeau lists a few campus snobs below.

The intellectual snob—this type can always be recognized by his low ration of sense to word volume. He sits in the Soda Shop, Sweet Shop, Amber House or Mecca and exhibits a peculiar ability to make himself heard over a radius of several tables. He tells people know in as many polysyllables as possible that nothing is very good in this world; he's spent considerable time in New York, of course, and it's evident that everyone who hasn't is a bumpkin. But alas and alack for all concerned, even the big city wasn't good enough for him "nd he's here.

The non-conformist snob—this one goes the intellectual snob one better by being quiet about hating the world. He is characterized by a dreamy-eyed, unconcerned stare and listless attitude. Anyone who takes part in campus politics or social activities is a fool per se because a sensible person realizes things may be all right in theory, but they never work.

The political snob—the counterpart of the ivory-tower snob is this energetic creature who usually has a sickening grin on his face and a hand outstretched. People who disagree with his point of view are either uninformed or just malicious.

The Greek snob—this variety displays such symptoms as pin-polishing, wearing white bucks and talking incessantly about parties, lion-hunrings and heavy dates. Non-Greeks are a sort of sub-species. The independent snob is his counterpart and is sure that nothing Greek is right.

The solc-individual snob—here is a snob everyone knows too well. Working on the premise that he is the only important person in the world anyway, he falls into lapses of memories about the existence of others. His favorite time of operation is late at night, when he can be heard yelling at the top of his lungs in a dormitory, playing his radio full blast or honking his car-horn, but he's not below using other times of day to be selfish.

There are many others, such as the Selfpity snob, the "you can't teach me anything" snob and the "teacher knows everything" snob, to mention only a few.

The point of all this discussion is not that everyone is essentially snobhish, but that in each person there is a greater or lesser tendency to put the rights of others, the world is, needless to say, a complex organization, and there is room for all sorts of individuals in it. At the same time, the crowded conditions of civilization demand a certain degree of thinking of the other fellow.

At the campus level this is especially true. To the extent that the individual becomes more considerate and more tolerant of others, snubbery is dissipated and living made considerably more pleasant.

● CONSOLATION

Another Greek rush week is over and, as always, there are a few tragedies in evidence among the remains. To many young c::'ge students, pledging a sorority or fraternity means the difference between sublime happiness and utter dispair. It is inevitable that some should be left out and so it happened this year.

Hardly a person can look back on his past and not recall a disappointment which at the time it occurred seemed like the darkest moment of his life. Time is an amazing healer, but to those wounded souls referred to this may seem like little consolation. Later they may look back and laugh at their lack of perspective, but right now they could use a few words of cheer.

The key to the whole problem lies in that word just uttered—perspective. The importance of being in a sorority or fraternity is widely over-emphasized by many. It is a luxury, meaning that it is not indispensible.

There are many students on campus who have lived a full and happy college life without ever having known the benefits of Greek life. Some could not afford this luxury. Some never quite made the grade with the group of their choice. Others simply chose to remain independent, frat life holding no lure for them. These people are well-rounded, well-adjusted students.

Numbered among them are many of the most popular and outstanding leaders on campus. In other words, being a fraternity man or woman is only what a person makes of it. And being an independent, likewise, does not automatically change one for better or for worse. It is the individual that counts.

If there are some who are still not convinced, and who feel that not pledging is the worst thing that ever happened to them and that they are now going to wither up and die, let them be consoled by the fact that they still have a chance of getting their wish.

To the freshmen, to whom these words of wisdom are addressed in the main, let them remember especially, that they still have four years of college ahead of them and can be rushed, pledged, and initiated into the group of their choice at any time during their stay in college.

Chin up kids! Things could be blacker you know.

● HEARTY THANKS

Campus organizations and special committees are already making extensive plans for Homecoming at Florida State University on November 15. We Seminoles like to welcome our grads and friends back to campus in style, which means plenty of hally-hoo and decorations.

There is one catch to this. It costs money, and plenty of it to "do it up" the way we'd like. Every little penny counts, and we FSU'ers are especially grateful to not only those who give their hours of labor, but also to those who are giving our Homecoming funds a boost.

Therefore, we would like to thank very heartily the following people and organizations:

Dean of Student Welfare J. Howard Culpepper, already a busy man, who has taken over organizing our Homecoming festivities with hard work and enthusiasm. He appeared before the City Commission during the Summer and just last week asked support for our annual event. From the City Commission he received $500 to put on the "program and decorations for the streetlamps.

The City Commission, for not only giving us this support, but for also including the $500 in the budget each year, so that FSU may be assured of financial help in her welcoming.

Rod Shaw, business manager of FSU, and the Chamber of Commerce. Shaw appeared before the Chamber and was given $500 also for work with welcoming our grads.

Dr. Edmund Lewandowski and the art department, for agreeing to paint the 80 panels the city is buying for streetlamps a Homecoming motif.

To these, and all others who are working to make FSU's 1952 Homecoming the grand success we know it's going to be, a heartfelt thanks.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Gunnin
Sports Editors ..... Jim Cash, Jon Eddy
Feature Editor ..... Judy Morgan
Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierre
Rewrite Editor ..... John Hersonas

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-8000, Extension 6251

Second Class Postage Paid at Tallahassee, Florida

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

SEMINOLE SCENES

CLASS OF '53 COWED BY PROGRESS

By FRANCES CAWTHON

As the age of 23, Ignat should feel young. But Ignat is a Senior, and the Class of 1953 just doesn't fele like clicking its heel anymore.

The exalted status of Seniorhood should make him and his classmates react different from this. Rather all, come middle October after Investiture, they will be stumbling over long, dignified robes, tripping over their noses—mainly so they can see where they're going—at rat race tempos from breath flattopped hair which rest gently on top of the cheeks and have tassles that tickle the nose.

But unfortunately Ignat, poor fellow, is exhausted. Four long years of study dutin't do it either, Ignat, who will hardly have the energy to support the flowing robes of wisdom, has been cowed by progress. In other words, the Fifty Year and FSU emergency plan.

Time was when Iggy and his pals got up at a quarter to eight for their 8:10 o'clock class, dropped into the soda shop for a cup of coffee in between classes and knew where they were going in this world of Seminoles.

Immediately following registration—and they even changed the color of his ID card—Ignat set out upon his Senior year. But the wheels of progress were a-grinding, and Dimbo had changed.

At first Iggy answered the call of the alarm clock at the usual quarter to eight. By the time he got to the new Student Center for breakfast, however, it was high noon, so he had lunch instead.

Now it's hard to teach old dawgs new tricks, so for the first couple of days Iggy shot out of bed at his regular time, grabbed a shirt, pair of trousers and his shoes from Phys. Ed. 217 and sprinted across the campus.

This didn't work. Before three days were up he had been offered a scholarship to NYU for 200 meter running, glared at like an unpleasant worm by four prospective dates because he'd never heard and each twice as much because of increased activity.

That wasn't all either. Ignat, being a business major, had signed up for Economics, Room such-and-such, in Building. After he and several hundred other students, also business majors, had tried out three different classrooms in the Journalism Building, they discovered that it stood for James Building.

Ignat and his friends spent the rest of the week asking each other where the James Building was, and Iggy even got so desperate he and a Frosh, who had been hunting for his English 101 class just as long, went out and drowned their missing classmates in bottles of Miller's High Life. Fortunately, Izzy fend that Ja was a little white house on Jefferson, while the Frosh is still looking and along with the English Department is beginning to feel like a Displaced Person or refugee from West Campus.

Iggy cannot get over the new men's dormitory, now overrun by Frosh who take it for granted. As for himself, he was shocked between one lumpy mattress and a lovely pattern of coiled bedsprings which squeaked in three octives every time his roommate breathed in the hunk above. All this in a delightfully decorated niche.

When Ignai hears that Jack Whal-You-Call-Him is now a second lieu in the army, he's elated and begins to babble an about Jack. But others don't remember Jack Whal-You-Call-Him, who had really been a campus leader, because he had answered his draft board way back in '50. So the newcomers just shrug their shoulders, talk about guided missiles and leave poor Izzy mumbling in his coffee cup. Izzy sighs and is firmed old man.

The diploma looms in the distance, and Izzy feels FSU fast slipping from him. The other kids are taking over now, and at the age of 23, Ignat the Senior doesn't feel so young. Progress has slowed him down . . . but he's not sorry to see it.

PLAYBITS

WANTED: PEOPLE WITH SPARE TIME

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

To paraphrase the Immortal Bard, "To class, to class, to class a . . ." and so it goes this first week. Already we're hearing the old familiar phrase, "I'd love to, but I'm so busy . . ."

We know everyone is but things should begin to level off this week and you're bound to find yourself with a little spare time. Special note: we'd be only too happy to have you spend this time at Conrad Theatre.

We talked to Dr. Orr again and agreed with him that the importance of general auditions can not be stressed too strongly or too often. They didn't already know it in Conradi listed in the schedule book as the Little Theatre to those of you who don't already know.

If you haven't met anyone yet who is familiar with general tryouts, don't be bashful about coming ever and finding out for yourself. You have to start somewhere. Just come on over to the history building and there will be plenty of people who can tell you all the why's and wherefore's.

It's important, too, to mention again that everyone who intends to work on productions at any time this season should exhibit their theatrical interest by attending these auditions. This is for people who have worked on shows before as well as new talent.

Mr. Reimer knows better than anyone that all the acting and directing in the world can't make a show without interested and cooperative crews to carry out so many of the praises of the show that the audience seldom sees. But if they're there but would certainly miss if they weren't. We mean the backstage angle of getting a show on the boards and believe us that part of show business is just as fascinating if not more so than acting.

There will be at least three major productions this first semester, all calling for sets, props, lights, crews and the like. You can learn much in the way of technical knowledge besides things like cooperation, consideration, and meeting new friends.

So those of you who don't aspire to smoke in the spotlight are really urged to try your hand at the construction and painting of sets, throwing that spotlight, or making sure the right properties are where they should be when they should be there. You can talk to Mr. Reimer at general auditions.

Since we've mentioned the auditions again we might as well add that there will be at least three directors at the tryouts, all with their own productions in mind. Remember that people who are selected to read for these three shows will be chosen from the people who attend this first general session.

Past Movies Make Prof a Dreamboat

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

Imagine what happens to a campus when the stuffiest "prof" turns out to be a former heartbeat of silent films. By doing this you can see a portion of the havoc Clifton Webb creates in his latest release, Dreamboat, which opens at the Florida Wednesday, October 1.

As the outraged "ilt prof" who faces losing his job when TV revives the forgotten films, Webb hits a new high in comedy in his new role. His one-time celluloid sweetheart and new television commentator, Ginger Rogers, hopes to turn the revival into a big movie comeback, but Webb has other ideas and uses the company that showed the old movies.

BE IN offered moral support by his prim, intellectual daughter played by Anne Francis. While Miss Rogers has 28 changes, Anne appears in just a few tweed suits. It's not until she meets TV agent Bill Adams (Jeff Hunter) that she forsakes her plain life for feminine frills. Bill falls for the daughter into marrying him as he can't talk the "prof" out of his plans to see Ginger ending it writes a happy close to "Mr. Belvedere's" refreshing new film.

Inspiration for the novel and timely story line of Dreamboat stems from a story by John D. Weaver, with past master of high comedy, Claude Binyon serving in the dual-capacity of writer of screen play and director.

SOL C. SIEGEL produced the picture, which features Elsa Lanchester, Fred Clark, Paul Harvey, Ray Collins, Helene Stanley and Richard Garrick.

Pennywise Florida Staters will be interested in the special double feature bargain which finishes today at the Florida. The two films are Joan Crawford's new mystery hit, This Woman Is Dangerous and the inland adventure story Mara Maru.

AS THE woman who would stop at nothing to gain money and position, Joan turns out one of her outstanding dramatic performances. Gangster's sweetheart, gambling-den decoy and hunted murderess, as Beth Austin, she's the star all the way. Playing opposite her in the movie are Dennis Morgan and David Brian.

Treasure, typhoon and temptation are the three words that sum up the second hit Mara Maru which stars Errol Flynn and Ruth Roman.

A FORMER PT skipper, Flynn undertakes to lead a yachting expedition through dangerous waters in a hunt for buried treasure.

During a storm, they locate the sunken treasure ship and Flynn dives to recover the fabulous cross of diamonds hidden there.

CELEBRATING their 17th year as a comedy team and their 20th picture together, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello star in Lost in Alaska, the film scheduled for the State theatre, Sunday, October 5.

Bette Davis Stars In Movie This Week

"Dark Victory" beran a weekrun last midnt as the second of this semester's free movies.

Starring Bette Davis, George Brent and Geraldine Fitzgerald is the story of the disease which comes into the life of a selfish woman faced with a life of illness.

Permanent showing places at West Campus O Club, Monday; Hall, Thursday; Mallonia, Wednesday; Men's Senate Hall, Thursday, and Music Auditorium Friday. The shows begin at 7:30 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Friday.

Beetle Bailey

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Wherever the formal occasion—wear fashionable, correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

Sound OFF!!! on the Voice of the Seminoles
WFSU
Join the Staff
● announcers
● technicians
● scrip writers
● disc jockeys
There's a Place for You!
WFSU
660 on Your Dial

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

IT SEEMS THAT the only good words that can be said about last Saturday night affair at Doak S. Campbell stadium concern the outing of Roy Thompson. The lad from Wrightsville, Ga. who is the student running back on the [illegible] squad, completed 7 out of 12 passes for a total of 120 yards. Also, with his running he personally accounted for more than half the total yardage. The majority of the passes were made on the run when he was being chased by the Seminole linemen. Yet he showed very good accuracy.

Thompson

ANOTHER GOOD performance was turned in by Nelson Italiano. Although he didn't start the game on offense he did see enough action to lead the Seminole ball carriers in rushing. He picked up 77 yards in 10 tries; better than 7 yards each time he lugged the pigskin. Most of his gains were made on delayed bucks; over the middle and usually without the aid of any appreciable blocking.

As a whole the FSU backfield performed very well. . . . As well as any other outfit could do with the little blocking they received. The kick-offs, when State received, usually the whole 11-man Tech squad hit the ball carrier. Seldom were they slowed up by the FSU backfield.

AN INTERESTING feature of Saturday's game was the fact that the Seminoles were penalized only 10 yards the whole game. And many of those ten were assessed for delay of the game. Louisiana Tech lost 80 yards through penalties.

To get through a game with such a low number of penalties is remarkable. And although penalties can hurt, they are at least a pretty good sign of an aggressive ball club. It usually is the anxious lineman who is guilty of off-sides, and it's usually the lineman who plays who is sometimes guilty of clipping.

Oh well, we can get 'em next year . . . since Louisiana Tech is on the Florida State schedule in 1953.

* * *

IN ATLANTA, Saturday afternoon, the University of Florida won its first moral victory at least when they were beaten by highly-rated Georgia Tech. The Gators were either tied or held the lead throughout most of the game but a field goal in the last quarter was the margin of victory factor. A 66-yard touchdown dash by the Gators' J. Hall, of Tallahassee was the highlight of the battle.

Since both Tech and top rated Maryland had such close calls—Maryland beat Auburn 13-6—Michigan State will probably get the nod as the No. 1 team in the country. The Spartans steamed over Michigan 27-19.

La. Tech Turns Tables on Startled Seminoles, Win 32-13

Good Crowd Sees Opening Game; King and Italiano Score for FSU

Florida State's opening battle of a rough 10 game schedule was a disasterous one. The 32 to 13 defeat that little Louisiana Tech hung on the Seminoles stunned the 7,843 people who viewed the contest not to mention Coach Don Veller's players. The Tech aggregation was considered a lesser power on this year's power-pact slate but this illusion was soon dispelled when they drove for a touchdown at the beginning of the second quarter. From then on the game turned into a rout with Tech gaining more power with each score.

Spearheaded by the running of Jackie Martin, Russ Rainbolt and Billy Wiginton the Bulldogs amassed a total of 355 yards rushing as compared to 125 yards for the Seminoles. In the passing department however FSU gained 144—mostly in the last quarter—to 92 for Louisiana Tech.

THE SCORING parade began in the second quarter when Tommy Brown, who otherwise punted brilliantly, got off a poor 8 yard boot which gave the Bulldogs the ball on the FSU 25-yard line. From there it took them four plays to score with Martin scampering around end unhouched for the final 10.

After this first TD. the Seminoles held Tech and made them punt, which was returned to the 35-yard line. From here FSU drove within 3 yards of the pay-dirt. Italiano started the drive by throwing a 12-yard pass to Curt Campbell for a first down on the 23. Pressing gained one and then Italiano picked up 12 and a first down on a delayed buck over guard, which he followed by a 4-yard dash to the Tech 6. Bobby Fiveash went over right tackle for 3, putting the ball three yards away from paydirt. At this point disaster struck, for on the next play there was a fumble on a reverse play to Al Wodham's pass. Tech went 89 yards in eight plays. The drive was capped by Charlie Wyly's 14-yard touchdown run.

IT WAS IN the closing minutes of the contest that the Seminoles finally broke into the scoring column. Starting from their own 42, FSU came to life. Roy Thompson completed three straight passes for gains of 26, 12 and four yards, putting the oval on the Tech 9. And after Thompson picked up four, Nelson Italiano burst over right guard for the TD. Freshman Stan Dobosz booted the extra point.

The Indians' second TD was set up when end Ted Morvil recovered a Tech fumble on the 42. From there Italiano flipped a jump pass to Campbell, good for 11 yards. Thompson followed suit by completing a throw to Jimmy Lee Taylor for a 15-yard gain. With the ball on the Tech 20, and 10 seconds remaining in the game, Thompson faded back and threw a perfect strike into the arms of end Ron King in the far corner of the end zone. The try for the extra point was wide as the same ended.

For the Seminoles it was a hard loss to take. Only in the closing minutes of the game could they assemble any kind of offense. And the defensive line proved little obstacle to the Tech T-formation attack.

Next week Veller's gridders will face the University of Louisville at Campbell stadium.—J. E.

1952 Florida State Roster

RETURNING LETTERMEN—1952

BACKS—Roy Thompson, Mac Hutto, Buddy Fiveash, Dick Turk, Nelson Italiano, Harry Bringer.

ENDS—Curt Campbell (Co-captain), Jimmy Lee Taylor.

TACKLES—Vic Bozemock (Co-captain), Bob Weinstein.

GUARDS—Charlie Booth, Charlie Brown, John Karlowicz, Earl O'Neal.

CENTERS—Bobby Kissinger.

No.	NAME	Pos.	Age	Height	Wt.	HOMETOWN	Class
14	Cassels, Ben	Back	19	5—10	170	Wetumpka, Ala.	'54
11	Thompson, Roy	Back	20	5—10	155	Wrightsville, Ga.	'54
12	Bryant, Buddy	Center	20	6—2	190	Ft. Myers, Fla.	'54
13	Carter, Charles	Back	18	5—11	165	Tampa, Fla.	'56
14	Bernas, Robert L.	Back	17	5—11½	152	Jacksonville, Fla.	'56
15	Hall, James	Center	18	6—1	185	Cahaba, Ala.	'56
16	Brooks, Lee	Back	18	5—9½	168	Bamberger, Ga.	'56
17	Bell, Jimmy	Back	18	6—1	180	Lakeland, Fla.	'56
18	Booth, Charlie	Guard	20	5—11	185	Lakeland, Fla.	'54
19	Leonhardt, Louie	Guard	19	5—10½	185	Louisville, Ky.	'56
20	Wyly, Charlie	Back	19	5—8	175	E. Chicago, Ind.	'56
21	Greene, Fred	End	19	6	170	Thomaston, Ga.	'56
22	Wodham, Al	Back	20	5—11	175	Miami, Fla.	'54
23	Bass, Kenneth	Center	19	6	190	Key West, Fla.	'56
23	Kelley, Billy	Back	18	6	186	Tallahassee, Fla.	'56
24	Smith, Don	Tackle	19	6—10	184	Vero Beach, Fla.	'56
24	Huey, Mac	Back	19	5—10½	218	Tampa, Fla.	'54
25	Martin, Jack	Back	19	5—9	160	Chickasaw, Ala.	'56
27	Bernas, Troy	End	19	6—2	188	Chickasaw, Ala.	'56
27	Dykes, Eddie	Back	21	5—11½	185	Bamberger, Ga.	'54
28	Fiveash, Bobby	Back	18	5—9½	160	Bamberger, Ga.	'56
28	Redman, Richard	Back	18	5—8	160	Tallahassee, Fla.	'56
29	Hall, Ed	Back	18	6—2	185	Ashburn, Ga.	'56
30	Mazzagatta, Vic	Tackle	19	6—1	190	E. Rockaway, N.Y.	'56
31	Cloutier, Ed	Guard	17	5—10½	180	Ft. Pierce, Fla.	'56
31	Taylor, Jimmy Lee	End	19	6—1	185	Jacksonville, Fla.	'54
32	Kendall, Fred	End	20	6—3	195	Ft. Pierce, Fla.	'54
33	Ward, Bob	Tackle	21	6—2	210	Miami, Fla.	'54
34	Turk, Dick	Back	23	5—10	185	South Bend, Ind.	'53
35	Bozemock, Steve	Tackle	22	6—1	205	Miami, Fla.	'54
36	Somerlott, Don	End	18	6—1	175	E. Chicago, Ind.	'56
37	Reben, Billy	Back	18	6—1	170	Fitzgerald, Ga.	'56
37	Weedman, Al	Back	18	5—10	170	Miami, Fla.	'56
38	Mesaros, Jimmy	Back	20	5—10	170	Jacksonville, Fla.	'55
39	Hall, Jimmy	Back	18	5—11	170	Jacksonville, Ala.	'56
40	Morvil, Ralph	Back	22	5—11	185	Tampa, Fla.	'54
42	Garrett, B. F.	Back	20	5—10	175	Thomaston, Ga.	'54
42	Hines, Ray	Back	18	5—10	175	Bamberger, Ga.	'56
43	Moore, Richard	Back	18	5—10	175	E. Gary, Ind.	'56
44	Campbell, Curt	End	22	6	185	Jacksonville, Fla.	'54
44	Jacobs, Curt	Tackle	17	6	195	South Bend, Ind.	'56
45	Campbell, Curt	End	22	6—1	175	Pensacola, Fla.	'53
46	McDonald, Jimmy	Back	19	5—10	175	Jacksonville, Fla.	'55
46	Powell, Harold	End	19	6	175	Miami, Fla.	'56
47	Wilson, Jim	Back	18	6—1	175	Lenox, Ind.	'56
47	Whaley, Jerry	Back	19	5—10	170	Ocala, Fla.	'55
48	King, Ronnie	End	19	6—1	174	Panama City, Fla.	'56
48	Barwick, Jimmy	Back	21	5—10	165	Groveland, Fla.	'54
49	Bringger, Harry	Back	21	5—11	168	Winter Haven, Fla.	'53
50	Felix, Nat	Guard	19	5—11	185	Miami, Fla.	'56
51	Crenshaw, Ray	Center	18	6—1	170	Miami, Fla.	'56
52	Dobosz, Stan	Center	19	6—2	190	Pittsburgh, Pa.	'56
53	Hodges, Wayne	Guard	21	6—1	201	Bells City, Fla.	'54
55	Bazer, George	Tackle	17	6—2	240	Jacksonville, Fla.	'56
56	Nelson, Gordon	Tackle	21	6—1	217	Palm Springs, Fla.	'54
57	O'Neal, Earl	Guard	22	6	208	Valdosta, Ga.	'53
58	Karlowicz, Eddie	Guard	18	5—10	195	Farrell, Pa. Vo.	'56
59	Karlowicz, John	Guard	20	6—1	210	Farrell, Pa.	'53
60	Strickland, Don	Tackle	21	6—2	205	Pensacola, Fla.	'54
61	Powell, Dick	Tackle	19	6—1	190	Miami, Fla.	'56
66	Steele, Andrew	Back	18	6—2	214	Centerville, Ala.	'56
70	Kissinger, Bob	Center	20	5—10	195	E. Chicago, Ind.	'54
72	Wiginton, Tim	Tackle	17	6—1	195	Tallahassee, Fla.	'56
73	Merrill, Ted	Tackle	19	6—1	181	Miami, Fla.	'56
74	Dolan, Jerry	Tackle	18	6	185	Birmingham, Ala.	'56
	Lander, Lowell	Back	18	5—11	165	Pittsburgh, Pa.	'56
	Watson, Wayne	Back	19	5—11	155	Jax Beach, Fla.	'56
	Newsom, Buddy	Back	18	6	195	Plant City, Fla.	'56

Young Demas Meet

Florida State University's Young Democrats Club will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 8 in the Longmire Auditorium. Richard Jackson, acting chairman of the group, announced.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Intramurals

Tennis and Football Schedule for 1952

The Florida State intramural season will open on Tuesday, October 7, with both touch-football and tennis singles in the fraternity league.

The tennis matches will be held on the East Campus courts. The time is scheduled for 7:30 and rackets must be checked out at the East Campus round house before 6:00 p.m.

The starting matches will include PKP against KS. TC versus SC, PKA against SN, KA against LCA, ATO against PKT, and SPE against DTD. All of these teams will play on October 7.

The remaining matches scheduled for the October 8, 9, 14, 15, 16, 21, and 22, Pairings for the matches will be decided on the various winners and losers positions. The tournamment will be a double elimination affair and all matches will be two out of three sets.

Florida State University formally touch football.

Field

No.	Oct. 7	Oct. 9
1.	PDT—SAE	KS—KA
2.	PKA—SPE	PDT—PKA
3.	DTD—SC	SAE—DTD
4.	TC—ATO	SPE—SN
5.	PKT—LCA	TC—PKT

Oct. 14	Oct. 16
1. ATO—KS	TC—ICA
2. LCA—PKP	ATO—KA
3. PDT—SPE	PKT—PKP
4. SAE—SC	PDT— DTD
5. PKA—SN	SAE—SN
Oct. 21	Oct. 23
1. PKA—SC	SAE—SPE
2. TC—KS	DTD—SN
3. ATO—PKP	TC—KA
4. PKT—KA	ATO—LCA
5.	KS—PKP
Oct. 28	Oct. 30
1. PDT—SN	LCA—KA
2. PKA—DTD	SAE—PKA
3. SPE—SC	SPE—DTD
4. TC—PKP	SC—SN
5. PKT—KS	ATO—PKT
Nov. 4	Nov. 6
1. LCA—KS
2. KA—PKP	Begin Playoffs
3. PDT—SC

RULES

1. All games start at 4:50. Teams more than 10 minutes late will forfeit the contest.

2. Fields are numbereede counter clockwise; field one east of main football field, field two southwest of main football field, field three eimside track, field four east of track, field five south of old English building.

3. Variations from regulation football rules will be found in the Intramural Handbook.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

CAMERON'S TEXACO SERVICE STATION

Formerly Meats Service Station

866 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

HAVE YOU LOST ANYTHING?

Try to find it by using the Classified Section of the FLAMBEAU.

The Flambeau is the place to advertise.

- BOOKS
- RIDES HOME
- ROOMS
- TYPEWRITERS
- AND MOST ANYTHING FOR THE STUDENTS

FLAMBEAU CLASSIFIED

EXTENSION 4821

APO Service Frat To Have Rush Party

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity will have an open rush party Wednesday night from 8 to 9 in the Longmire lounge, Tommy Bowen, president, said.

Any man who has had previous Scout training, a desire to render service on his campus and satisfactory scholastic standing is invited to the party.

Get these for good looks . . .

ARROW WHITE SHIRTS

WITH THE BEST-STYLED COLLARS IN AMERICA!

ARROW GORDON DOVER: 4.50

ARROW DART: 3.95

Best-looking shirts on (and off!) campus. Big choice of collar styles . . . button-downs; widespreads; short, medium and long points. All with the famous Mitoga trade-mark . . . your assurance of trim, tapered fit. "Sanforized"® fabrics keep their fit through constant launderings. Come, choose your favorites today!

Mendelson's

FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

There's something magnetic about men who wear Arrow White Shirts

Arrow Gordon Dover: popular button-down oxford, $4.50.

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

Stay SOUTH, Young Man!

It's FALL—and that means back to school again.

Perhaps this is your last year—so you'll bear down on the books a little more. You'll look ahead as you haven't before—pulling your dreams for the future out of the clouds and bringing them down to earth.

Hold fast to those dreams, young man. Stay South and see them come true! For right here at home, in the Southland you know and live in and love, a great new "opporunity-land" is coming of age, where dreams can take root and grow into reality.

In Southern industry, agriculture and commerce, new frontiers are opening up on every hand. Here, horizons are limitless for young men of courage, competence and vision. You are the future of the South today. You will be the leaders of the South tomorrow.

Look ahead—stay South, young man!

Harry A. DeButts
President

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Ernestdeen Johnson—Coed Walks With Courage at FSU

By EMORY KING

"I was without shoes and I pitied myself—until I met a man without feet"—Arabian Proverb.

Today Ernestdeen Johnson walks across the campus, attends classes, makes friends, and laughs at the same jokes co-eds have laughed at for years. She smiles at boys and gals when they speak, and they smile back—but she doesn't know it—because Ernestdeen Johnson is blind.

ERNESTDEEN is on this campus because of the combined efforts of the Florida Council of the Blind, the Tallahassee chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club, the FSU chapter of Delta Gamma sorority—and the courage of Ernestdeen, herself.

The 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson of Crestview graduated with honors from the School for the Deaf and Blind at St. Augustine. She received a scholarship from the Florida Council of the Blind.

Ernestdeen wanted to come to FSU and major in social work. The Florida Council of the Blind went to work on the problem.

THE TALLAHASSEE B & PW gave her an additional scholarship for $150. The Delta Gamma chapter here at FSU assured the Council representative that they would supply "readers" for Ernestdeen. The University gave its approval and Ernestdeen was on her way to Tallahassee.

During registration she found at least thirty Delta Gamma members around her to assist in any way possible. During the entire "Orientation Week" the Delta Gamma girls were always on hand to do whatever they could.

WITH CLASSES underway Ernestdeen is fast learning her way about the campus. The DG "readers" are going to her classes with her, making it easier for her to study.

"It's all very wonderful." Ernestdeen says. "Knowing the chance from the school at St. Augustine School to FSU was a big step, I was a bit fearful at first, but people here been so kind. The Florida Council of the Blind, the St. Augustine School and now the Delta Gammas have already done so much for me I can't help but succeed."

Film Club Tickets Offered to Public

Season tickets to the Newcomers Film Club are now on sale. The club shows an annual series of movies, for which the general public may buy tickets.

Tickets may be obtained by writing to Dr. Robert Anderson of the Newcomers Film Club at the department of Anthropology. The season tickets will be sold for $2.50. Tickets and membership will be limited to 600 applicants.

The series of films selected by the Newcomers Film Committee of the FSU Faculty Wives Club are selected to stimulate a cultural appreciation of the best American and foreign films not readily accessible to the general public.

Films that will be shown on this series will be: "Passport to Pimlico" October 16: "Of Mice and Men," November 6: "Woman Trouble," November 20: "Brief Encounter," December 11: "Mr. Little Chickadee," January 8: "You Can't Take It With You," January 22; "Day of Wrath," February 12; "Jenny Lamour," February 26; "Der Hauptman Von Koepenich," March 12; "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," April 9; "The Thirty Nine Steps," April 9; "Volpone," April 23; "Farrebique," May 7; and "Marriage of Figaro," May 21.

Tickets may also be purchased at the door on opening night.

Personnel Chosen To Supervise Camp

Supervising the waterfront at Camp Flastacowo this year are two returnees to the campus, Mike Castanza, "back from the wars" who enters graduate school in February, and Eileen Britton takuing a year off from teaching school also to do graduate work will hold the fort down at the camp this year.

Both are old hands at their jobs. Britt, heading camp personnel, has assumed life guard duty to Bob Carter, Charles Biersborn, June McGill, Ida Simpson, Jo Anne Thorpe, Dorothy Starbuck, JoAnne Young, Mary Ann Batchelier, Joan Pars, Cynthia Brown, Sadie Kathrine Presnell, Jona Moody and Jean Guard.

In charge of the new snack bar which centers the bathhouse unit will be Doris Partun and Pat Folsom.

There will be an important meeting of the guards tonight at 7:30 in room 303, Women's Gymnasium.

European Travels Given to Winners Of Poster Contest

Florida State students may now compete in a poster contest with copy designed by the student tours to Europe. Prizes will be $50, $30 and $20.

The Travel and Study Inc., of New York City is the contest sponsor. All students may participate, both graduate and undergraduate. Deadline is Oct. 25.

Designs should illustrate or suggest student travel to Europe and should be centered around a slogan of not more than six words. The poster should be not larger than 13½ by ten inches. Last year's prize-winning poster carried the caption, "You Can't Hitch-Hike to Europe."

Students who are interested in earning part or the whole of a trip to Europe next summer, or cash, and who fancy their own prowess in sales rather than slogans, promotion rather than poster design, might wish to become Travel and Study campus representatives. Those who are interested should obtain further details from Travel and Study Inc., 119 East 57th St., New York 22, N. Y.

Circus Selects

(Continued from Page 1)

and light effects never before used.

Included in this year's list of major clues in which the Circus will perform are Jacksonville, Fort Pierce, West Palm Beach, Miami, Fort Myers, Bradenton, Lake Wales, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Panama City, Pensacola, Marianna, Thomasville, Brunswick, Albany, Columbus and Valdosta. Definite dates have not yet been released.

Fashion Spotlights Leather

HERE'S A GIRL whose whole appearance spells style. Her green tweed suit with boxed jacket is straight from the pages of Harper's Bazaar. And her accessories point up the editor's report that "leather is big fashion news." The supposed bag and cord-seamed gloves are made of tan pigskin—a perfect leather in color and texture to go with rugged tweeds.

Johnson's Painting Gets Prize In Atlanta Art Group's Exhibit

Guy D. Johnson, Jr's painting of "Chilean Riesling" has been awarded second purchase prize, valued at $300, in the Atlanta Art Association's Seventh Annual Southeastern Exhibition.

Johnson is a teaching assistant in the department of art, and took both his undergraduate and graduate work at Florida State. He is now the instructor of an evening course in oil painting.

"Chilean Riesling" is an abstract still-life painting in oil, in which dark objects are arranged in front of a warm orange background. Johnson received his award this Sunday in Atlanta.

The Atlanta Southeastern Exhibition had a jury of selection Committee.

Greeks Settle Down

(Continued on Page 4)

Lawrence Cox, Bob Blanchard, Duane Purvis, Jim Padigan.

Kappa Alpha: Tommy Waite, Ken McKenzie, Bill Durham, Max Long, Arden Merkle, Gracen Smith, Tommy Brown, Alark Monroe, John Stanley, Anderson Bowden, Ronald Melton, Jimmy Hollis, Richard Rosman, Ted Williams, Billy Kelly, Tom Dickey, Wayne Hodges, Harry Lingo, Bill Moe, George Cooper, Don Kyle, Edward Custer, Eugene Kahlich, James Dean, Buddy Newsome.

Pi Kappa Alpha: Lincoln Hall, Douglas J. Scott, Richard P. Turner, Gene Lea Mond, Jack Smith, Robert Upton, Thomas L Hall Jr., Thomas L Wells Jr., James B. Stephens, Bert Correa.

Sigma Chi: Elliot Whitton, Graham Carothers, Oswald Geiser Jr., Drew Boggs, Jimmy Joanos, Tom Morgan, Sandy Sanderson, Larry Hill, Cecil Bowers Jr., Gustav Bischoff Bill Kelly, George E. Loch, Kenneth Haskins, Al Schlueter, Ray Maltby, Elbert Roselle, Bill Dukey, Sam Skoglad, Eddie Johnson, Ed Mann, Joe-Ben Cassedy.

Alpha Tau Omega: Bob Michie, Jim Atwood, Eddie Chalker, Walt Conrad, Bob Harwood, Bob Crenshaw Bert Gardner, Herold Powell, Vernon Edgar, John Gurley, Dick Hallman, Tom Richardson, Jack Hardie, Weston Mehlon, Jimmy Messmeu, Dick Merrill, Pete Peterson, Pete Pevinson, Don Powell, Tom Scurrii, Jim Tully, Ellison Willis, Lundy Willis, Kenneth Wilson, Chris Young.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon: Sonny Titus, Max Powell, Max Van, Al Stringer, Jim Clark, Don Borsell, Norman Bullock, Ronald Weaver, Bob Bennett, Johnny Lingern, Leighton Brown, Allen Brown, Gene Cox, Raymond DeFunak, Lou Cochran, Paul Grimmie, Tommy Tinney, Ronald Reckcliff.

Phi Kappa Tau: Bob Amimon, Bob Duckworth, Bill Kelly, Ronnie Kind, Gerald Dunn, Dempsey Herrine, Buck Stuckey, Eddie Hoffman, Ray Inlow, Louis Leonhardt, Bob Merry, Jerry Pierce, Jim Rine, George Tucker, Howard Gurie.

Sigma Nu: Tommy Tomlin, Bob Jone, Charlie Singer, Jimmy Hanks, Brent Watson, Frank Beouch, A E. Carsant, Sonny Rumble, Howard Louie, Martin Culbreth, John Callahan, Jimmy Goodrich, Don Andrews, Curtis Jackson, Richard Mary, Beaver Bey.

The Pi Kappa Phi is not included in this list.

Many Awards Set For Vogue's 'Prix'

Six months in Paris, six months in New York and a bright shiny passport into the glittering fashion world, labeled Vogue—that's the future of the college senior who reps the 1953 Prix de Paris, awarded in the top senior's laurels, the second place winner receives a six months assignment in Vogue's New York office.

Ten honorable mention winners will receive $25 each and an opportunity to work on the other Conde Nast publications, Glamour, House and Garden, and Vogue Pattern Book.

Enterprising senior girls must send in an entry blank by October 15. Rules and blanks are available at the Office of Vocational Placement and Guidance.

THE CONTEST consists of two quizzes, each consisting of four questions. Girls still eligible after the two screenings shall be invited to write a 1500-word theme.

According to Vogue editors the entries will be judged on the basis of writing style, current and general information, and evidence of ability to "gather, sift, and arrange information"

THE FIRST quiz was available in the August 15th issue and must be completed and postmarked before October 31, 1952. It includes such questions as discussing the eight important points made on the college edition and how they effect your wardrobe, your opinion of the new man-made fibers and how women effect the women dress. Every entrant is also instructed to write a 600-word profile of herself and a proposed Vogue feature

As a special service, every entrant receives a chic little booklet made up of articles by past Prix winners and a letter assuring them that any type girl, regardless of country, college, or other background is eligible to win.

VOGUE'S 1952 Prix winner Catherine Chevremeteff who came to Bryn Mawr College from a stint in war-torn Europe. Her winning thesis appears in the August issue of Vogue and concerns the "system" behind a college dance.

According to Catherine there are "no wallflowers, but no belles—no star lines and no fun."

"Just entering the Prix is an education in itself, and an opportunity available to you only one year in a lifetime," says Jessica Davies, current editor of Vogue.

FSU Student Gives Recital In Georgia

Robert H. Leslie, Student of Music student, presented an organ recital in the First Presbyterian Church in Bainbridge, Ga., Sunday.

Edgar Evans did the vocal selections on the program, which was a dedication program for the organ just recently installed in the church.

Leslie recently presented a solo piano recital in the Walton High School auditorium in DeFuniak Springs. It was a benefit program for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of a war orphan adopted by the DeFunak Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi service sorority.

Classified Ad

LOST—LOST

ON CAMPUS, A 100 DOLLAR BILL. LOST SUNDAY NIGHT. IF FOUND PLEASE RETURN TO DAVID WHIPPLE AT FRESHMAN HALL.

Cotillion To Meet

The first meeting of the Cotillion Club, women's dancing honorary, has been called for 7:15 Thursday night by Donah Aase, president. It will take place in 303 Westcott.

Plans for forthcoming events, including tapping, initiation, and dancing lessons will be discussed.

Patronize Our Advertisers

CHESTERFIELD

FIRST PREMIUM QUALITY CIGARETTE

TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

IT WENT OUT WITH RACCOON COATS and rumble seats. And we say good riddance.

Today's college man doesn't die a thousand deaths when the school loses the big game. And his clothes are no longer flashy, fancy and gaudy.

For his apparel, he looks to Manhattan for perfect hotguest, self-assured manner . . . his insistence on quality, comfort and casualness. Like the his button-down Oxford with just the proper roll to the collar. Or this fine white pique with an eyelet tab collar with just the right degree of difference.

We understand the modern college man. We concentrate our efforts, not on fads, but on making a better shirt. Ask for Manhattan . . . and you'll see how true this is.

Manhattan

Shirts, neckwear, underwear, loungewear, sportswear, beachwear and handkerchiefs

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD — EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM

CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY AND HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy—nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is longer—contains considerably more of the same tobaccos—enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.

LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE in AMERICA'S COLLEGES

Buy CHESTERFIELD—Much Milder

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA

NOW PLAYING

"This Woman is Dangerous"

With Joan Crawford

WEDS. THRU SAT.

"Dreamboat"

With Clifton Webb

STATE

"The Greatest Show on Earth"

COMING SOON

"When Worlds Collide"

RITZ

NOW PLAYING

"Retreat Hell"

With Frank Lovejoy

THURSDAY THRU SAT.

"The Sea Tiger"

Also

"The Hawk of Wild River"

DRIVE-IN

NOW PLAYING

"Sirocco"

With Humphrey Bogart

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT

SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Florida Flambeau

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

VOL. XXXIX, No. 4 — Friday, October 3, 1952

Pre-Game Pep Rally Tonight at 7:00 In Music Amphitheatre

"Miss Majorette of 1952" To Appear in Stadium Tomorrow Night

House Decorators Asked for Plans

Alumni Association to Give Trophies To Four Winning Residence Units

All fraternity and sorority houses and men and women's dormitories planning to compete in the annual Homecoming house decorations contest must submit their entry in writing with an accompanying sketch to Prof. Fred Holschuh, department of art, on or before Thursday, Oct. 30.

The designs must be completed, ready for judging by 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14, and can be taken down after Sunday, Nov. 16.

THIS YEAR one trophy will be presented to the winning house in each of four categories: fraternity house, sorority house, men's dormitory and women's dormitory. The trophy, given by the Alumni Association, will be engraved appropriately and will be in the possession of the winning house for a 24-hr. case until the following year. Once the trophy is won by one house for three consecutive years, it becomes property of that house.

Chairmen of the Decorations Committee, Dr. Edmund Lewandowski art department head, said there will be no time limit periods of judging, one in the afternoon of Nov. 14 at 3, and the other at 9 p.m. on the same day.

NO SINGLE residence unit can be disqualified from the competitions, and a record of these expenditures must be kept and turned in to Dr. Lewandowski by Nov. 27.

Rules in the decorations "good taste and reasonable decorum is not kept, said Dr. Lewandowski, the house or dormitory may disqualify the house competely.

JUDGING will be on the basis of originality, cleverness or imaginativeness, artistic effect and orderliness, each judged independently.

The Homecoming weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday will mean the dismissal of classes at noon Friday for FSU students. Alumni registration will be from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Longmire Building, with the parade forming off the campus through the downtown area at 3 p.m. Prizes will be judged and prizes given.

FRIDAY NIGHT will be the annual pep rally, followed by a program of entertainment. Introduction of the Seminole coaches and football team and a pep rally will mean the dismissal of classes at noon Friday for FSU students.

The Garnet-Gold Key banquet will be Friday at 5:15 in the Student Union building. Alumni will have their breakfast Saturday morning at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Doak S. Campbell. A business session will follow in which the alumni will elect officers and hear annual reports.

CAMP TALLAHASSEWO will be
(Continued on Page 3)

Petition Starts Cafeteria Price Investigation

By EMORY KING

An infant petition produced immediate and strong results yesterday as four members of the administration and staff met with seven students to discuss an early semester gripe about the FSU cafeteria system.

Wednesday night Sue McGlothlin started the petition and Landis Hall concerning the prices of food in the cafeteria. Student Body President Marty Ruth Summers interviewed her when she had about five names on the petition.

YESTERDAY, President Summers and FSU business Manager Rod K. Shaw arranged for a meeting between seven students and himself and Vice-President A. B. Martin, Head Dietician Anna M. Tracey, and Benjamin B. Sapp Jr. Dining Hall Manager.

The student body was represented by Petitioner Sue McGlothlin, Sue Free, Milton Carothers, Bill Dunn, Pat Bowden, Lois LaPlante, and Mary Ruth Summers.

THE STUDENTS in general complained that the prices of the cafeteria food don't correspond the prices of last year and that the cost of meals at the several restaurants surrounding the campus are currently less expensive than the cafeteria.

It was also mentioned that a la carte ordering was less desirable than ordering a "special" dinner.

Cafeteria Manager Adams blamed the higher cost of living for food prices, he told the group. Aid increased greatly since last
(Continued on Page 3)

Carothers Appoints Committee Heads In Opening Senate

The University Senate underwent the first call to order for the year by Chairman Milton Carothers at 4:30 p. m. on Tuesday, September 30.

Those appointed as chairmen of the new standing committees are Jimmy Rhodes, Petty Store Assenter; Barbara Thomas Constitutional; Joan Doner, Regulation; Bobby Drake, Service; pat Risick, Finance; Colin English, Research; and Charles McDaniel, Situation.

Changes in the committees will be necessary when the vacant seats are filled by the Freshmen senators.

Mary Ruth Summers, president of the student body, has been invited to make a report to the senate at the next meeting on Tuesday at 4:15 p.m.

Regular meetings for the Senate have been set every Tuesday at 4:15.

Tomorrow Last Day For Caps, Gowns

Cap and gown orders will be taken from 11 a.m. to 12 noon today by Jackie Dickerson in the South Cawthon Parlor. Tomorrow from 1 to 4 p.m. will be the last day June and February graduates may order their academic regalia.

Jackie asks that all Seniors have their money with them when they come. Checks can be made payable to the University Bookstore, and must include the student's campus address under the signature.

Formal collars are not included in the order for caps and gowns. Senior women must have collar measurements made by the seamstress on Landis Hall.

Traditionally, FSU Seniors choose graduation dresses to match their cap them with their mortar boards at the investiture ceremonies this year on Oct. 9.

CHAMPION MAJORETTE—Miss Hilda Gay Mayberry, head majorette with the Louisville band, will appear with the "Marching Cardinals" before next Saturday's football game. Miss Mayberry was chosen Miss Majorette of 1952, edging out 20,000 other girls who competed with her in the contest.

Louisville Brings Band To Play at Game Time

Not only the Florida State football team is going to have competition from the University of Louisville tomorrow night, but also our "Marching Chiefs."

For the spotlight during the second FSU game here, the "Marching Cardinals," Louisville band, will vie with garnet and gold horn blowers.

The Louisville red birds have quite a record backing them up, too. First, it is the only college band in the nation that has made recordings for a national recording company for distribution through music stores and educational channels, says Ernest E. Lyon, director of the department of bands up Kentucky way. Those recordings are "March Time With the University of Louisville Band" and "A Pops Concert With the University of Louisville Band."

The director of the marching band is Charles B. Hancock. The band's trirler is Miss Hilda Gay Mayberry, whose majorette uniform is worn over the neck by medals. Ducetor Lyon says she has won every major national contest at start once, has the title of Miss Majorette of America 1952 from a competition where she edged out over 20,000 other girls because of her various abilities.
(Continued on Page 4)

Senior Hall Elects Dormitory Officers

Dormitory government officers for Men's Senior Hall were elected Monday night, Sept. 29. Those elected were Ray Chasnon, governor, and Howard Abel, secretary.

Elected to serve on the Social Committee were Bob Brady chairman; Jim Bclote, John Curtin, Jim Diamond, Wayne Edris and Ken Hurley. Wayne Jones will program of entertainment. Introduction of the Seminole coaches and football team and a pep rally will mean the dismissal of classes at noon Friday for FSU students.

The Garnet-Gold Key banquet will be Friday at 5:15 in the Student Union building. Alumni will have their breakfast Saturday morning at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Doak S. Campbell. A business session will follow in which the alumni will elect officers and hear annual reports.

CAMP TALLAHASSEWO will be
(Continued on Page 3)

Freshmen Spark Campaign With UGA Political Rally

Briggs Reveals Leading Roles In Sweethearts

Peacock Sings Sylvia, Nelson Plays Prince; Others Announced

Principal singing and acting roles for the forthcoming production of Victor Herbert's operetta, "Sweethearts," have been announced by Prof. Robert L. Briggs, producer of the show. The operetta will be presented December 4, 5, and 6 in the FSU Opperman Music Hall with Dr. Briggs as musical director and Prof. Betty Jane Grimm as chorus director.

Alice Peacock will take the role of Sylvia, the female lead, who is found as a baby in a tulip garden by Gretchen, a laundress, and who later turns out to be the long-lost princess of Zilania and heir to the throne of that country. The role of Franz, heir presumptive to the throne, who falls in love with Sylvia, will be played by Kenneth Nelson.

MARTHA BELLES announced are Liane, a milliner employed in
(Continued on Page 4)

Cheer Leaders Offer New Crew at Rally

Six new freshmen cheerleaders will be introduced tonight at the second pep rally of the season, it was announced today by head cheerleader captain Leander Martha Williamson and Peter Gary.

The new cheerleaders will add their voices tonight to the rally by presenting a skit depicting the coming game with Louisville. The rally will be held in the Music Building Amphitheater at 7:00.

The FSU Marching Chiefs will play the Seminole song and the cheerleaders will lead in the singing and pep yells.

The new cheerleaders include June Yates, Joey Bell, Nancy Black, Sandra Sanders, Sally Hosmer, and Carol Ellinor.

Returning cheerleaders include Martha Williamson and Patsy Gates, co-captains; Ruthie Spencer, Ellen Bowden, Betty Harper, Ann Adams, Ann Yates, Betty Ann Thurow, Dot Johnson, and Nancy Black

Rat Court Offenders To Shine Oris' Shoes

Dean of Men Otis McBride will get his shoes shined today at 4:30 p.m. in front of Westcott by the first offender of the Rat Court laws.

All students, especially Freshmen, are invited to watch and they can see "the consequences of a rat court trial. Sandra Phoebe Jackson and Don Van Hise, co-chairmen of the Court, announced.

Garnet Key Is First With Campus Campaign

Garnet Key women's honorary will kick off the Campus Chest drive this year with a sale of Pompons, garnet and gold paper pompons to stuck near the door October 10 for the VMI football game.

Garnet Key members will sell the pompons throughout the campus all day Friday and at the same Friday night. They will be 10 cents apiece with all proceeds going to the Campus Chest.

Club Plans Dance

The Adanced Physical Education Club will meet Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the lounge of the Women's Gymnasium.

A social and square dance will be held. Prospective members, old members and men and women enrolled in C Health physical education activities are urged to attend.

Degree Deadline Set

The deadline for filing an application for a degree for graduation Jan. 31, 1952, is Monday noon, Oct. 6. This includes candidates for all degrees, graduate and undergraduate.

Students who expect to graduate in June and August, 1953 should also file application at this time

Candidates to State Platforms In Amphitheater Monday Night

The 1952 edition of the Freshman Elections will get underway Monday night at 7:30 in the Music Amphitheater with a rousing political rally sponsored by the University Government Association.

Candidates representing the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, social chairmen, parliamentarian, men and women's Senate will be given time to present their platforms and provide entertainment in their behalf.

THE RALLY will be broadcast throughout the campus by WFSU, and should give even the Freshmen who stay at home a look at their future class officers. Candidates are reminded that the time limits are five minutes for president, three minutes for vice-president and seven minutes for nominees for all remaining officers. The time may be utilized in speaking or presenting entertainment as long as any participants representing candidates are performers.

True intending to take part in the rally are urged to submit a device with their name, office, and type of participation in the office of the UGA no later than Monday afternoon at 5 p.m., Ducker said, so that the program can be arranged. Participants should be at the Amphitheater no later than 7:15 Monday night.

ACTUAL VOTING will begin at 8:30 Tuesday morning at the three UGA precincts to be located outside the Student Center, at the northern end of Freedom Hall and in front of Bryan Hall. Only Freshmen will be allowed to vote and must present their ID cards to obtain a ballot. The polls will be manned this year by officials from the Department of Elections as well as representatives of Alpha Phi Omera and Circle K, the two men's service organizations on campus. Polls close at 6 p.m. and results will be made known as quickly as available over WFSU which will have special election coverage.

"With elections but a few days away it looks as if a record Freshman vote is in the offing as the elections secretary said. "Eighty candidates are presenting themselves to their classmates and as part of the spirited competition, this vote should be decisive.
(Continued on Page 4)

Holschuh to Speak To Ruge Members

Dr. George Fredrick Holschuh, assistant professor of art, will be the principal speaker at the Canterbury Club Supper to be held at 6 in Ruge Hall, 655 W. Jefferson St.

In his discussion of "Art Expression and Religion," he will present the values of art in man's religious life and his own personal experience. Canterbury Club Vice-President Skipper, will introduce him.

Dr. Holschuh has been a member of the FSU faculty since 1946 and holds decrees in art from several universities. He has specialized in the fields of industrial and art education and art history.

Holy Communion will be at 8 a.m. Sunday, followed at 10 by choir practice. Holy Communion, the second service, will be at 11 a.m. Vespers preceded at 5 p.m.

Recitals To Be Held

Student recitals will be in the Opperman Music Hall at 3 p.m. today.

Mildred Burroughs will sing "Alma Del Core" by Caldara and "To a Sleeping Child," by De Golier. Piano soloist Irving Fleet will play "Jeux d' Eau" and "Allborado del Gracioso" by Ravel. Another piano soloist, Lynn Longbotsm, will play "Le Petit Ane Blanc" by Jacques Ibert.

Student Center Site of Dances Held Weekly

The first of a series of informal dances to be held at the new Student Center will start tonight at 8:30 and last till 11:30 Dancing will be to the music of Danny Knowles, a new orchestra on campus.

These dances are expected to exceed greatly the social and recreational program at Florida State University this year.

A student committee representing the entire student body will take charge of these affairs. At this point, it is planned to coordinate all the social chairmen in men's and women's residence halls and to follow the same organizational plan for sororities and fraternities. A listing of committees and their members will appear in a later date in the Flambeau.

The social calendar of the University will be checked to determine the Friday or Saturday night when it will be convenient to add additional opportunities for dancing.

Combos from the various campus orchestras will be invited to provide the music for these informal affairs.

Jackson to Head Young Democrats; Group Organizes

The Florida State University Young Democrats elected Richard Jackson president in an organizational meeting last Tuesday night.

June Tate was chosen first vice-president in charge of membership and Ed Stripling vice-president in charge of publicity. The group selected Woodley Grimard secretary and Rodney Ketcham treasurer. Prof. Hall Springer was parliamentarian.

A group appointed a committee to draw a permanent constitution and another to study selective honorary membership for the organization.

The group will have another meeting next Tuesday night at 7:15, and Jackson said all interested people are invited to attend. In future weeks guest speakers will be brought to the campus through the Young Democrats.

Senate Creates Male's Version Of Bluejackers

Dye Pens Constitution; Dreis, Conyers Make Plea for Organization

The Men's Senate unanimously voted into existence a constitution for a male counterpart of Sophonore Council Wednesday afternoon at a called Senate Meeting.

The constitution was written by Jim Dye, vice-president in charge of men's affairs. David Dreis talked on behalf of starting the new organization. Dreis and June Conyers, who had been a freshmore Council member, had seen Assistant Dean of Men Frank Carr about the need for such an organization for men.

Carr brought the idea a good one, and Dreis then talked to Dye, who drew up the constitution. The Senate agreed to minor changes in reward to the election of members and selection of permanent officers and then passed on to a movement by Sen. Bobby Drake.

Drake also presented a list of 25 prospective members which will be considered for the charter organization.

Vice-President Dye also told the Senators that the wife of Howard Gilbery of the Tallahasee Chamber of Commerce about a Bearcat Day for FSU, and reported that Men's Senate would probably be concerned only with the publicity for the event.

Senators present were Jimmy Flowers, Bobby Drake, Corbe Lawler, Wayne Terry and Charles McDaniel. Senator Lawler is acting temporarily secretary of the legislative group.

Professor Lacayo Gathers Data For A Linguistic Atlas

Dr. Heriberto Lacayo, associate professor of modern languages, says work on a Linguistic Atlas of the Spanish Language in Nicaragua which he has been preparing is progressing very well.

Dr. Lacayo recently spent eight weeks in Nicaragua interviewing students with use of audio-visual aids to gather data for the Atlas, a project being carried out in cooperation with the American Linguistic Society under the direction of Prof. Thomas Navarro Tomas. The laboratory work is being executed under the sponsorship of the FSU Research Society.

DR. LACAYO, who took a master's degree in linguistics, was trained by the FSU Audio-Visual department in taking voice samples of Nicaraguan Spanish.

He worked with the Ministry of Education and the Office of Latin-American country and was furnished office space by the American Embassy in Managua. The linguistic is supported by both the American and Nicaraguan governments and will be published reports to the U. S. State Department. Sold of this work is being done by the FSU professor.

Dr. Lacayo assisted the Nicaraguan Ministry of Education and the American Institute of English in performing an examination of English teachers in that country. He worked with Dr. John M. Pittman of Purdue University in conductine a seminar for the English teachers on the problems of foreign languages teaching.

Flambeau to End Activity Columns

No religious or fraternity-sorority columns will be run in the Florida Flambeau this year as has been done in the past, Social and Greek news, however, may still be submitted, and will be run as individual stories according to their news worthiness.

This deadline should be turned in to Frances Cawthon, News Editor, in the Flambeau office second floor Landis dormitory by 5:00 noon Saturday for the Tuesday issue and before noon Wednesday for the Friday issue.

Students Face Early Draft For Improper Registration

From 50 to 100 men now enrolled at Florida State University will be drafted into the armed forces within the next few weeks.

This statement was issued by Mr. John T. Flournoy, Director of Student Personnel Records.

Mr. Flournoy said that the reason for this is that these students who are under draft age either have failed to comply with the draft regulations or have registered improperly registered at F. S. U. This is broadly about by men who are in the ROTC and by men entering during the previous year registering for a new term who did not have the qualifications.

SUCH AN oversight on the part of the student will automatically cancel his present draft classification and subject him to immediate reclassification and probable induction by his local board.

A recent release by the Selective Service Examining Section of the Educational and Testing Service state that applications for the December 4th, 1952 and the April 2nd, 1953 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service local boards throughout the country.

F. S. U. STUDENTS desiring applications for the qualification test may pick them up any time at the Tallahassee Local Draft Board, Local 11, 319 E. Gaines St. Mr. Flournoy further urges all students to secure an application immediatly in order to assure themselves a place in the examination on December 4th. Students may see Mr. Flournoy about inquiries regarding this at the Office of Personnel Records, 204 Westcott during the day."

The release further states that eligible students who intend to offer this test on either of the dates should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information. Upon receipt of this application, at once, according to the Educational Testing Service, will be greatly to the advantage of the student, regardless of whether he intends to take the December or April test. The results will be mailed to the student's local board for use in considering his deferment as a student.

THE NUMBER of students taking the qualification test during this year will swell to nearly half a million according to a release from National Headquarters of the Selective Service System in Washington.

In announcing dates of this year's series, Major General Lewis B. Hershey said that 412,395 students have already taken the test. This number, 190,000 students are currently deferred on the basis of test scores or class standing.

STUDENTS WHOSE academic year will end in January 1953 may be required to take the December 4th, 1952 test so they will have a test score in their file sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards will reopen and consider their cases to determine whether they should be deferred as students.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to apply for college deferment tests students must (1) intend to request deferment as a student (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not have previously taken the Selective Service Qualification Test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score of 70 or better on the qualification test or specified rank in class (upper half of the male freshman class, upper two-thirds of the male sophomore class or upper three-fourths of the male junior class.)

STUDENTS accepted for admission or attending a graduate school prior to July 1, 1951 satisfy the criteria if their work is satisfactory. Graduate students admitted or attending after July 1, 1951 must have been in the upper half of their classes during their senior year or make a score of 75 or better on the test. It is mandatory for local boards to follow the criteria.

Use of tests by the Selective Service System, along with class standing, was originated by a 1951 recommendations of the six Scientific Advisory Committees appointed by General Hershey in 1948. The committee's report, presided by Dr. M. H. Trytten, Chairman, was made in the fall of 1950. After a subcommittee had prepared general specifications for a suitable test of scholastic aptitude, Educational and Testing Service was obligmated as the testing agency to carry out the construction of the test and its nation-wide administration.

POEM GOVERNORS—Gordon Tyrrell and Boy Chapman have been elected governors of Magnolia and Sanor Halls respectively.

Southland Now Suffering Erosion of Talent Brains

Dr. John E. Ivey Jr., who was principal speaker at commencement exercises the last summer, recently spoke on a problem very near and dear to the heart of southern educators: he said the South is suffering from an "erosion of talent and brains."

Addressing an educational conference in Nashville, Tennessee, Ivey told those assembled that many of the South's most promising young men are leaving the area to obtain specialized training in other regions. A large number of these, he added, never return to make their homes in the South.

The draining off of both specialized talent and of broader, socially conscious intelligence is unquestionably an unfortunate circumstance for the South and for the nation as a whole.

The deficit to the South is ovvious. Without trained citizens it is going to have a hard time keeping up with the rest of the country. But at the same time the whole United States is retarded, too. First of all, the whole cannot proceed much faster than any part, or to put it another way, a chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

Perhaps a more subtle result of this sipping away of a large part of the best brain cream is the promotion of sectionalism. In a society with many types of people and many beliefs and goals, there is an implicit intregation built into it that a democratic compromise spirit prevails. But if that society lacks an important segment, extremism is likely to result. Thus the part is often at odds with the whole.

The most compelling reasons for students to leave the South and stay away undoubtedly come under the heading of financial. First, the South cannot at present compete on an equal basis with the North and West through scholarships. Many generous scholarships are offered, of course, and a good percentage of Southern students are receiving assistance, but the South is at least temporarily at its limit.

Second, the South, again for the same financial reasons, cannot afford to offer facilities comparable to those of other sections of the country. Students in many fields necessarily must leave the South to pursue their 'ines of interest.

Finally, the South as yet does not offer as many opportunities in business to graduates of colleges and universities. They find it more profitable to stay North.

Yet the picture is one of great hope rather than dark despair. The above problems are still very vital ones; they are still very much with the South. But the picture over the last two or three decades presents a completely different perspective. Tremendous strides have been made, and all indications are that the improvements are just beginning.

The brightest hope for the South is the ever-increasing tendency toward industrialization. Manufacturers are seeing more and more the opportunities for the future. Government contracts are being let to southerners in increasing numbers. Intensive campaigns by southern concerns, such as the Southern Railway System, are being waged to keep talent at home.

The South is being boomed as an "opportunity land" a frontier of the future.

Erosion is still going on, it is true, but all the indications are that the South is beginning to nail down its intellectual top-soil.

School Adds Division For Government Study

A new FSU division of the School of Public Administration will provide both graduate and undergraduate students in the school with a practical laboratory for exploring many phases of Florida government as all levels. The newly created Bureau of Government Research and Service will have as its head Mr. James J. Flannery, who has just finished his graduate work for a doctor's degree at the University of Wisconsin. Directing research work of the bureau will be his full time job here at the University.

Two projects are already underway in the new bureau, according to Dr. Wilson K. Doyle, dean of the FSU School of Public Administration. A manual for Florida county commissioners, and a tax assessors manual which is being prepared in co-operation with the Florida Tax Assessors Association and the state comptroller's office.

THE manual for members of the county commissioners will provide the information on the operations of Florida's county governments and is aimed at improvement of county and state and local government. It is being partially financed through the Florida Association of County Commissioners.

Preparation of the tax manual illustrates an important phase of the Bureau's operations in which it is able to use the knowledge and assistance of the teaching staff of the School on many of its research projects.

Director Flannery says the bureau is working in co-operation with the joint legislative committee on fees, compensation, and duties of county officers. A preliminary report of the fee system has been completed and the compensation for county officers has been compiled.

Flannery will be chairman of the steering committee while State Senator Evans Crary of the Florida 12th senatorial district is committee chairman.

The bureau plans to make a pilot study of representative counties based on small, intermediate and large size populations through co-operation with county and state officials. Also, it will work with the State Legislative Reference Bureau on state government research projects and has already completed a number of important projects for it.

The ultimate objective of the bureau, will be able to engage in some of the research projects which will benefit the state and the benefits of the materials obtained in the classrooms providing the students with more practical knowledge of how the state government operates.

Publications Department Head Credited Voice of FSU

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

Every School of the University, publication, department, bureau, research council, and business department needs a voice, according to Robert Leigh, "the printed voice" of Florida State University.

Mr. Leigh heads the Publications department of the university, a department composed of a writer which has something to do with nearly every bit of printed matter used by FSU. From the Seminole to the stickers, blotters, tickets, football, concert, and convocation programs, general publicity materials, catalogues, and brochures for each of the many schools, and the few of the hundreds of publications this department has a hand in.

The actual work of the department may sometimes be more than advice to the author, or it may mean a re-write, layout and editing of material, or composition of his art help, layout and collection of pictures to be used. Miss Tally He or other student publications requesting help.

When a portion of the university wants some printing done, the Publication's Office sends out for bids from numerous printers, checks the estimates by the national printing catalogue and usually gives the job to the lowest bidder. They records are complete then but the rest of the transaction goes through the business department.

The Board of Publications, of which Leigh is chairman, is made up of Dean Paul Moore, representing the academic deans; Charles Walker, registrar; and Rod K. Shaw, business department director.

High on the list of publications being printed now are the football folders that will make their debut during Homecoming time. Peg Ruiz, Bobbie Jo Gibbons are busy thinking up eye-catching headlines like the "Football" one she created for this year's Pow Wow.

Her office is located in an overcrowded little building on the Lonsmire building second-floor auditorium where she and her assistants, Jeanne Hall, senior assistant, do layouts, lettering and covers.

Concluding the interview, Mr. Leigh spoke of the 1951 bulletins that are being published, among them was FSU third place honors for printed publications for a bulletin. Amid the art supplies, typewriters and copy paper, he represents the "printed voice" of FSU.

Band Day Brings 34 High Schools To Football Game

Thirty high school bands will perform at the half-time of the Florida State University-University of Louisville game tomorrow night.

The event, the second annual Band Day, sponsored by the School of Music and department of athletics, will be composed of 20 Florida bands and 14 Georgia bands. This will include 1,837 musicians and 187 majorettes in formations on the field, said Dr. Arnold Brounacel, director of the FSU "Marching Chiefs." Formations to be executed by the massed group will be a spelling out of "Band Day" and a large "FSU" to be used during the playing of the National Anthem.

A parade through the Tallahassee business district will be staged by the bands at 4 p.m. tomorrow. The high school bands will be led by the "Marching Chiefs" and the University of Louisville Band, directed by Ernest Lyon. The parade route will be from the Capitol out to Adams St. to Call, east on Call to Monroe, and south on Monroe to the Capitol.

Before the parade, the bands will have a rehearsal of the evening's show on the FSU gridiron, and will leave in concurrently to inspect the Music building.

Seniors to Make Photo Appointments

Seniors are to make their Tally Ho picture appointments by October 8, other students are urged to make their appointments as soon as possible.

Both pictures and appointments are being taken on the fourth floor of the Lonsmire building in the outer office of the Tally Ho. Seniors bean having their pictures made Wednesday, October 1. Caps and gowns are provided at the office.

Women, other than seniors, are asked to wear dark sweaters and pearls when reporting for their picture appointments. Men students, other than seniors, are to wear coats and long ties, not bow ties.

Day Students To Give Dance On October 18

All students living off campus are invited to join the Day Students' Organization at a dance.

The first meeting of this group for this year was Monday in the Student Lounge of the Lonsmire Building with Pres. Delores Pitts presiding.

Plans for a dance to be given by Day Students, Saturday, Oct. 18, were also made. Committee heads for the event are Alice Bush, invitations; Daisy Lou Connolly, publicity, and Betty Davis and Irma Edwards, refreshments. Dance hostesses will be Helen Wages and Manerie Mathis.

Dance Group To Seek Talent At First Tryout

The Theatre Dance Group will hold its first tryouts of the year Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 7 until 9 in the dance studio of the Women's Gymnasium.

These three nights are practice sessions, and those who try out must attend at least two sessions before they are eligibility for membership. New members will be chosen by a Board of Selection and then presented to the group. Both men and women dancers are needed.

Presbyterians Stage Big Ranch Roundup

A Bar None Ranch will be staged by the Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship tonight at 7:30 in the student house.

The "roundup roster" includes Tom Alchourot and Betty Vesey with Liz Palmer in charge of food, and Woody McKay and Jim Harris planning the entertainment. "Wild Bill Hiccup" will be invented by Dr. Hudson Rosen, Dean Ora McBride and Miss Miriam Wilson.

A hillbilly band will also be on hand for square dancing. Those who attend are requested to wear jeans and older informal dress.

Today Is Last Day For Cloiming Books

Today is the last day to claim money or books that were brought into Alpha Omega's Book Exchange last year. Jay Ladd, chairman of the project, said.

All books and money are good for one year, and then will be rewnied to the property of APO. The Book Exchange closed April 1 and will reopen the last week of this semester. In order to claim any money or books, the claimer must have his receipt.

Build your wardrobe around Flannel From Nic's Toggery

$1.00 to $2.50

.39 to $2.95

$3.50 and $5.00

$3.95 to $4.95

- Solid Navy Flannel
- Solid Grey Flannel
- Salt and Pepper Grey Flannel
- Salt and Tan Flannel
- Also Plaids Flannel Spont Coats

in Brown-Rust-Grey, with Matching Slacks.

(Here's your chance to save many dollars on this suit or sport coat combination)

$42.50 up

The Best Clothing Value in America Today . . . that's a Style-Mart suit. You can feel the quality in Style-Mart's exclusive fabrics . . . see the quality in Style-Mart's master-tailoring. Build your wardrobe around a Style-Mart suit . . . and you'll always be well dressed! Come in now while stocks are complete.

Compare the Dollar Value!

Nic's Toggery
NEXT TO SEVEN SEAS

REPUBLICANS TAKE CALCULATED RISK

When the hierarchy of the Republican campaign decided to keep Dick Nixon on the ticket after the revelation of his California campaign fund, it was a calculated risk.

No choice could have been easy if what was done was the least of a few painful possibilities. This was the dilemma:

Nixon, vice-presidential aspirant, had admitted to having received a fund from wealthy California while he was a senator from that state. He said there was no moral wrong in doing so and at first brushed aside the revelation as a "typical left-wing smear." As the news snowballed in the nation's papers, though, he knew some better explanation had to be made.

So did the Republican leaders, and from the best accounts available, they were split right down the middle, and stayed for keeping Nixon, the "young neurosis" candidate.

Dropping the candidate would have displayed story-book honesty, but time-wise politics. Dumping also would have meant alienating Nixon's Senate friends and a considerable wing of the party. It would have been a loss of face, too, in that it would have been tantamount to admitting that he was guilty.

If he were kept on the ticket, however, the advisers knew that the popular and effective issue of clean-up in corruption in government was dead. Even if it turned out that Nixon had been doing no more than many other Congressmen, the "single standard" of morality was gone. Eisenhower could no longer promise, as he did in Miami, that it would not take him three years to get rid of a rotten apple in the barrel.

So the decision was made to let Nixon make the dramatic TV appearance and then leave him on the ticket. The Republicans said he made a wonderful account of himself and the Democrats said he failed miserably. This much was to be expected. The big question is what kind of effect, if any, it has on the independents, are thinking.

Not being an independent in this election, I have been trying to see what people in this group are saying. The only real indications thus far seem to be the independent newspapers, such as the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and other independent papers, such as the Washington Post and New York Herald-Tribune, which are supporting Eisenhower in the 1952 election.

These papers called on Nixon to make shortly after the New York Post made the original revelation. Following the Nixon TV appearance, these papers generally agreed that explanation was sometimes "soap opera" and did not answer various important questions.

For a while, particularly after the Stevenson aid fund for Illinois state employees came into the limelight, the Nixon affair died out. Now it is again being brought out by several syndicated columnists who are printing more facts and asking several questions.

In other words, the issue is far from dead. It doubtless will go on until November 4, when the people make their final decision on how important the whole matter was.

SEMINOLE SCENES

HIGH 'C' OUT OF PLACE WITH FOOTBALL

By FRANCES CAWTHON

upon seeing a football game . . . I gotta complaint to make. That is all man football fans and the female section of the student body that can't hit the second "do" on a musical scale, have a right with somebody . . . the band, the cheerleaders, and the majorettes.

For years now up in our cell called the Flambeau office, we have been complaining about the Apathy, APATHY!" We have consumed millions of bottles of aspirins and school spirit while worrying about the lack of student spirit. Now that we've got a good loush football schedule where our team is having a little success, and some real-minded foreigners, we thought the apathy had come to and end. We will all join together now for the third singing of the "Fight Song" and the fiftieth round of "Go, Seminoles, go!"

So we all turned out. What happened? It would have taken Ima Hogg's dog to howl in the hit the notes of our Almy Mammy, and the Pluto Sons sounded more like a ditty composed for a woman a she club.

Who cripled I don't like to do . . . not now anyway. But how in the world are we going to outpree that Gainesville yelling gang of ours if all you bear is sopranos at our football games! You aren't going to do it.

Lagging spirits were helped out in our section by a small group of Frosh boys, one of which had a brass-type horn which he managed a few exciting notes, expounded upon by our yells of "Charge" . . . It helped though because the students over there, some ways away from the band, couldn't even hear what the cheerleaders were cheering for.

Also, where are the boys with the megaphones most college cheerleading groups contain? A little megaphone in the hands of the males less sissy with their vocal chords and the female fans would at least yell, even though they might not watch the game.

So, come tomorrow night, pitch it a little lower, somebody, and we'll all get in. A mixed chorus sounds a sight of a lot better at sports event than a few voices straining for high C and a few other radical ones booming forth from the bottom.

We'd all have our AB's in two days if we pitched in the way the Frosh are doing on elections . . . Ya gods what enthusiasm!

Fire o'clock Tuesday afternoon was the official time when campaigning for class officers could begin. Unfortunately, I happened to be waiting for an exam at that time. Exactly as the hand came on the twelve mark, 2,000 million people, all wearing rat caps, came bounding by with pencils behind their ears, one make bold campaign promise and the other shaking hands as fast as they could with voters on the horizon. Behind them came other things composed of brightly colored crepe which, I guess were Frosh because of the rat caps on top.

The young politicos went around with their noses up in the air like gentlemen hunting for rat scent instead of birds. Ah ha! The eternal quest of the observed voter is gradually won't vote anyway because his ID card is in his shirt pocket and would necessitate moving his hand at least five inches upward, as a rehanding time.

There was such a hub-bub that I almost got three political signs in the face before I got to the safety of a bus. Youth in politics is an inspiring thing.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

GOOD REPRESENTATION NEEDS CLOSE TOUCH

By SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS
(Written Exclusively for Florida's Newspapers)

WASHINGTON: By the time you read this, I will be in Florida again for the first time in several months.

I expect to spend most of the fall visiting with the home state folks, talking with them, getting ideas and thoughts from them in preparing for the opening of the 83rd Congress in January. It seems to me this is the most valuable period of the year for any man in Congress because it is a time for renewal and strengthens his ties with the people whose home is their representative.

In his service here, no man can properly represent the people of his state unless he keeps in close touch with them, maintains a relationship of mutual understanding, listens to them rather than seeking them to listen to him. That's the only way representative government can work.

Therefore, I am coming to Florida to listen and I hope to see and talk with a great many people whom I have not previously been able to meet in person and old friends whom I've not seen in a long time.

In talking over this program with one of my friends, I received the suggestion that I talk on "plain everyday themes." I disagreed to the use of the term "normalcy." I think there are few of his all citizens are in the same category, and the word is of sufficient humor to require no adjectives.

* * * *

A lighthearted notice on our office bulletin board the other day announced "Cupid Strikes Again."

Juanita Tuomas, my personal secretary for the six years I have been in Congress, is to be married on November 5th.

The young groom is a splendid fellow from Texas, John Wilder-that, a young lawyer who came to Washington with Senator Lyndon Johnson and who is now in the legal division of the Renegotiation Board.

This is the third raid on my staff by Dan Cupid. Byrne Litschei, my legislative assistant, took the vows September 13th at Hammond, Louisiana. His bride is the former Elaine Herring, secretary to Congressman Hale Boggs of Louisiana. They are now honeymooning in Canada.

George Young started all this by marrying Iris June Hart last fall. They later moved to Jacksonville where George is practicing law.

I plan to return to Washington for Juanita's wedding and will "give her away" at the altar. I have my speech all ready. When asked who was "giving the bride away" I'm going to say "I do, but I want her back in the office two weeks from Monday!"

Fortunately for us, she will be back after her honeymoon to help take care of Floridians.

* * * *

An appreciable stimulus to the home building industry is anticipated as a result of the lifting of "Regulation X", a requirement under the Defense Production Act (Controls Law). The effect of the new order is that no longer will the Federal government require such large down payments in the purchase of homes, and FHA loans may be secured as homes purchased with as little as five per cent down payment.

This is a matter I've been concerned with for a long time and am happy that Regulation X is gone. Its removal will be of much help to the purchasers of modest homes—those who find it difficult to raise a large down payment in cash. The down payment on a $7,000 home, for instance, will be only $350 under FHA.

Stimulation of any business activity helps everybody.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Harris, Bruce Crichton
Feature Editor ..... Jane Cook, Dr. Ellen
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Society Editor ..... Judy Thomas
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor ..... John Hargrove

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 7-8606, Extension 4621 Second Class Postage Paid at Tallahassee

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

FSU Seeks First Win Against Louisville

EMINOLE SCOUT . . . by Jim Couch

SSIDIZATION, WILL IT EVER CEASE?

This is a big question and though I can't answer it, I would like to put a few seeds of thought into the winds those who are so sure that it is a great adventure for nida State University.

ure, we had to subsidize in self defense. That's the big-preparication this university's propaganda heads have to put out, and that's saying a lot. Naturally, any ad-istrative official will quickly insist that our policies athletic transactions have a tendency to keep "big time" tics and all its associated evils off our old "almon ey" campus.

But, when the gigantic guffaws and horse laughter sub-ps, we find little support to these well worded phrases non-indulgence. We are to believe that here is a grow-university, that wants to step up into higher circles of letic competition, and the only way to hold our own in higher bracket is to bring in the "play for pay" boys. How can any university justify paying athletes for their letic prowess and skill alone, especially in a state sup-ted institution?

We are supposed to go to classrooms of philosophy, ial welfare, political science, and biology and be pre-ed to present arguments why and how we are equal in free country of ours; yet as our right hand turns pages academic theory, our left hand casts a shadow over the ent opposite in actual practice right here on our own pus. Is it any wonder the young people of this land that they often become confused. That "practice what preach" saying protrudes too obviously and too often. We are supposed to be getting something out of this ation that is known for "higher learning", yet even high ool logic can find fault in this widespread subsidization ster.

Why should the people of Florida have to pay to see their own employees perform on the gridiron every Saturday afternoon? They're paying the bills, so why not let them e a free seat on the fifty yard stripe?

I can answer that one easily. It's because the general blic is ignorant of the fact that the money belongs to e state and thus to them. Or, better yet, they are foolish ough to believe that the administrators of the scholarship ld are going to use their best judgment in its distribution. orts are the ultimate goal of the college student today, nd I praise this brilliant judgment; but if, as I suspect, e fund is used because it will raise the popularity of the hool among the sports minded public, then we had better nge our present educational values to conform to that

I can not bring myself to find fault with any athlete o accepts a scholarship or partial scholarship because his athletic ability, for each athlete is only taking ad-ntage of this legalized evil to better himself.

However, I find myself somewhat amused by these "well eaning" administrators who try to make the students, ulty, and alumni believe that a school's athletic pro-am must increase in size and scope with the enrollment f academic standards.

Anyone who earnestly believes that has no right to even gle with students, faculty, or good American people. s place is not directing education or even viewing it in application; but rather in some far off country that ieves in physical attainment over intellectual endeavor. , here at Florida State University, had a fine reputa-for non-subsidized athletic teams, and instead of going a slightly higher areas of competition, while maintain-that same standard, we have gotten on the glory wagon ey will one day ruin all large sporting activities, and are ing it to, and often past the limit of financial backing.

urge all of you, whatever your interest in sports may be at dusk soon, and try to remember the distant days ide "old college try," because they are following the pat-yet set by the famous flying wedge. Good, clean, whole-e athletic contests are being outlawed; not by men who exercise them but by shortsighted, self-appointed sports ntusiasts that lack courage and wisdom and are selling for the "big name" teams that register at the gate and ple sports page, but never on the academic scale.

It is small wonder that we can't advance swiftly along ucational paths; the administrators—not the educators ind you—are out planning the sports program and its financial necessities. God forgive them their sin.

How this fund aplurging affects FSU athletics is very ious, to say the least. The idea, we are supposed to ieve, for this money indoctrination was to raise FSU ms to the level where they would be able to compete ch other top flight teams.

It is humorous because anyone who is at all familiar h the overall athletic picture at FSU can tell you that ll teams except the basketball and football teams have en holding their own against big name teams for several ars.

This merely exposes the fact that the scholarship funds, ssively earmarked for all sports, are being devoured y football and basketball. These two sports are the ones t are supposed to pay their own way.

This fact then betrays the true interest of certain top officials at our university. As a final thought I would like to ask "Is a seat on the fifty-yard line at a home game with the same school really worth thousands of dollars?"

Saturday Special
½ Fried Chicken
$1.00

Sunday Special
ROAST TURKEY
With Dressing,
Cranberry Sauce

Patronize Our Advertisers

GYM TEAM CO-CAPTAINS—Pictured above, working on special routines are Joe Gelfi and Carmine Regna, FSU's twin gymnastic champions. They will captain this year's Seminole team.

Regnas-Gym Co-Captains—Lead Squad

By TOM CONKLING

The famed Regna twins newly elected co-captins of the National Champion Florida State University gymnastic team, are expected to earn their fourth straight monogram this season.

Joe and Carmine Regna have been outstanding sparkplugs for the Seminole gymnasts ever since they entered the university three years ago. Both have scored important points in all three national meets in which the FSU squad has been victorious.

The Regnas, products of Jersey City, New Jersey, received their early training under the guidance of former Olympic star Frank Cumiskey, coach of the Union City Swiss Gymnastic Society. The pair have won numerous titles as members of the Swiss team in the Metropolitan area.

Carmine Regna, who is an excellent high bar and parallel bars performer, teamed with Bill Roberts to bring home the first Seminole National Championship in 1951. It was at the 1951 NCAA meet where Carmine scored three points with a fourth on the high bar. This, added to Roetheum's 23 markers, enabled the purse and gold to win the national crown by 2½ points.

Incidentally it marked the first time in history that a Florida athletic team ever won a national title.

At the national AAU meet the same year Carmine scored a fifth on the high bar and a third on the parallels. Joe first broke into the national limelight at the same meet when he garnered a third on the flying rings as once again the Pricemen brought home the bacon, namely the 1951 National AAU Championship.

Last season was another outstanding year for the stellar twins. Both scored in the National Collegiates where the FSU squad successfully defended their trophy and lengthi the university its third National Championship in two years.

In the 1952 Southern Collegiates, Joe upset Seminoles Don Holder and Jack Miles to notch the all-around event replacing brother Carmine who gained the title in the 1951 meet.

The twin athletes stand even at 5 ft. 4½ in. though Joe outweighs Carmine by 15 pounds. However, there are few students on campus who can identify one from the other.

Besides scoring in every meet that the Seminoles have entered a gym team, including national, sectional and dual, the twins have lured an abundance of talent to the Florida State campus.

They are responsible for such outstanding gymnasts as Pat Shannerell, Olympic team member; Don Holder and Bill Koslow entering the University.

Rough Workouts Mark Seminole Practices

BY PAT HOGAN

PETTY PRATTLE—FSU's afternoon football workouts this week — referred to in finer company as football practices — have been busier than the Elks Club on the night of the Christmas turkey raffle.

For Head Coach Don Veller, the delightful chore would probably cry for food with a rib roast tucked under each arm, doesn't want his Indians to return empty-handed when they go hunting for birds—the Redbirds of the University of Louisville, that is—in Doak S. Campbell Stadium tomorrow night.

The renowned gospeller of whom didn't have his appetite satisfied in the least last Saturday night, when the Seminoles probably should have been engaging in a game of track-'um injured or football.

COURAGEOUS CANINES

About the only thing proved in the Louisiana Tech bout is that a Bulldog is about 19 points better than an Indian when it comes to grappling with a plaskin.

Almost every one but Veller was greatly startled at what took place that fair evening, and even the doctor didn't expect the Semi-

Petition Starts

(Continued from Page 1)

year and in order to operate in the black the prices had to go up.

BEAU LAPLANTE, a former employee of the cafeteria, protested the policy of "paying" the student workers in food instead of money. She said that it wasn't fair to students who had an opportunity to eat elsewhere.

Mr. Adams answered by saying that he had interviewed all the employees and the majority of them said they preferred food rather than money.

ANNA M. TRACY, Head Dietician, said that the cafeteria could be run cheaper if they didn't hire students to work in the cafeteria, and if they used canned vegetables.

ROD SHAW commented that, "If we didn't have the dining hall the students would have to pay twice as much to eat elsewhere. That dining hall is keeping prices down in Tallahassee."

IN CONCLUDING the meeting Vice-President Martin said, "We pledge you this: We are going to do everything that we can to give you bigger and better meals than you can buy anywhere around the campus."

One student commented after the meeting, "I think this sort of meeting will get things done that individual srtiges can never get done. If things change because of this it could lead to the one measure that students and administration can solve their problems by working together."

noles' illness to be that acute.

But, after four days of boosterarring scrimmaging, you'd see a more fierce, war-like Tribe tomorrow night.

They've been going at their task with all the zeal of an Indian treking out for buffalo, knowing that winner is just around the bend and the papooses will soon be squealing for fresh meat.

WISHFUL WITCH DOCTORS

Even so, the elements will be against the FSU hunters. For the witch doctors around the nation will make their wampum predicting the outcome of football games have established the invaders from the Bluegrass region as the favorites to carry away the game.

That would lead Seminole supporters to give out with a big UGH!

But don't despair, for the tomahawks are sharpened, the war paint has been applied, and the Indians Want it known they intend to be feasting on Cardinals come 8 p. m. Saturday.

Gym Team Plans Emphasis on Rope

The Florida State University gym team will place special emphasis on rope climbing this year, it was learned yesterday from gymnastics coach Dr. Hartley Price.

Dr. Price pointed out that this position has always been the weakest on his many FSU championship teams and he is planning to combat it as best he can.

The FSU team record for climbing the twenty foot length is four and nine-tenths seconds. The world record stands at three and one-tenth seconds.

Price said that Humberta Correa, a newcomer to gymnastics this year, has already been timed at :5.0.

The famous gymnastics coach is planning to start a "Mile a Month Club" in which all members must climb an aggregate distance of at least one mile every month.

Each member will be encouraged to try for two miles a month, but all those who top the one mile standard each month for the entire year will receive special Club certificates and freshmen will have earned their numerals.

House Decorators

(Continued from Page 1)

the scene of a dance for special guests of honor and alumni.

At 2:30 p.m., the Seminole football team will meet Furman University at Campbell Stadium. It will be the fifth year here for Don Veller who has never lost a Homecoming game. A Homecoming Queen will be crowned during the Pow-Wow.

AFTER THE game, sorority and fraternity houses and dormitories will have open houses and coffees.

Saturday night the annual festivities will end with the Homecoming dance at which Jimmy Kaye and his orchestra will play. A local band will also play in the Women's Gymnasium.

Price made it clear that this position on the team is still wide open when he said "Any man that can get his time down to four seconds flat will go to all national meets."

In addition to those interested in rope climbing, Price issued a call for all tumbling hopefuls to report, stating that they would be able to work out with Dick Quiring and Bob Bellinger, who are two of the greatest tumblers in America today.

Unitas' Arm, Williams' Running Spark Strong Louisville Attack

The Florida State University Seminoles will try their sledge hammers on the second rock of their over-sized rock pile of rough and tough elevens tomorrow night, when they meet the University of Louisville Cardinals at 8:00 p. m. in Doak Campbell Stadium.

Unlike last week's unknown atomic pebble, Louisville will ride into the Seminole camp as the favorite, after defeating Wayne University 19-12 in their season opener last Saturday, while the Seminoles were taking an unprecedented shellacking, losing to Louisiana Tech 33-13.

Coach Don Veller, who's "Doleful" tag has been run deep into the mud, has a right to be pessimistic should he care to do so, for the Cardinals possess a fine passer in the person of Johnny Unitas and a rough linemasher in fullback Jim Williams.

Last week, Unitas unleashed his throwing arm and completed 18 of 31 passes for two touchdowns, while Williams proved quite a bit of commotion in the Wayne defense by thrusting his 205-pound frame through their line for numerous gains.

Besides three offensive threats, Louisville has twenty-two other returnees from last fall, including their vast heavyweight guards, fourteen men over the two-times-

FRESHMAN FLUNKIES

The girls of the class of '56 met Wednesday night and organized the Freshman Flunkies service organization.

Mary Catherine Freeman was elected overall chairman: Cynthia Sweatt, chairman of the poster committee; Susan Phelps, chairman of the typing committee and Cynthia Vance, chairman of the miscellaneous committee one-hundred weight standard.

After the way the green Seminole defense reacted against the Tech Bulldogs last week, Coach Veller and his staff have been constantly hearing down and changing lineups in an effort to strengthen this vital part of the gridiron sport. His changes will not be certain until game time, because experimenting is still going as at the West Campus practice area.

Although there have been stories hinting that Curt Campbell, end and defensive halfback, will be lumbering as a slim interfection, and Nelson Italiano, fullback, may be slowed by bad knees, it was announced last night that they will probably be ready for unlimited action when the whistle sounds tomorrow night.

Also on the injured list were Bobby Pittman and Jimmy Reaves who seem to have recovered and will be ready to go against the Cardinals. Pittman has a slight leg injury and Reaves has a cut mouth.

This, along with the inclusion of guard John Karlowicz for the first time this year, should bring the Seminoles up to top strength for the contest. Karlowicz has been sidelined with bad knees, which have been healing since an operation this summer.

The big question is whether the defense will hold and whether Veller will be able to afford his hard-running backs with some blockers, obviously AWOL last Saturday night.

Football Weekend Special

- Special Fish Dinner with all the Trimmings $1.00
- Oysters on the Half Shell 45c Dozen

We offer our customers only the finest-in-season seafood which is purchased fresh daily.

Shell Point

CORNER DUVAL AND PENSACOLA

...But only Time will Tell

CAMEL leads all other brands by billions of cigarettes per year!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor

CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are — pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are — week after week!

STADIUM ROUTES—Above is a map of the streets surrounding Doak S. Campbell stadium with designated areas for pedestrians and drivers. Football fans will find it easier to get to and from the stadium by studying the routes mapped out.

Traffic Routing Eases Stadium's Perplexed Parkers & Pedestrians

If you are planning to attend the football game this Saturday night at Florida State University's Campbell Stadium, between FSU and Lousville, here are a few simple suggestions that will help in avoiding delay in traffic.

FSU officials advise that 15 campus police will be on duty at the stadium parking areas. Four Tallahassee police and road patrolmen will be stationed at streets near the stadium to direct and control the flow of traffic. Game time is 8 p.m., but police will be on duty long before that time.

PEDESTRIANS walking to the stadium will enter the stadium grounds from Pensacola St. and proceed along the walk ways provided for them to the stadium gates.

Automobile traffic before and during the game can enter the stadium area from either Pensacola St., St. Augustine, or Gaines Sts. This traffic will drive around the rim roads to the parking areas located behind the west stands and in the north and east sections.

BUSES, TAXIS and other traffic having to leave the stadium before the game or during the game over the overpass.

After the game automotive traffic can leave the stadium parking areas via Pensacola, St. Augustine and Gaines Sts. headed eastward. Traffic headed westward can go either to Gaines St. and turn right or to Pensacola St. and turn left over the overpass.

Upon your arrival at the stadium, if driving, be sure and lock your car. FSU officials said reports were made of several cars pilfered during last Saturday night's game. To avoid the heavy traffic, it is advisable to come early.

Meyer Nimkoff, head of the department of sociology, will speak on "It Happened in Helsinki."

"News of Violence" will be the subject of Dr. Vernon Fox of the School of Social Welfare at 4 o'clock. Professor William R. Slaughter will discuss "Adventurers from Seven States."

Round table meetings at 10, 11, 1, and 2 o'clock will deal with creative writing, sports writing, advertising, yearbook problems, magazine problems, newspaper problems, radio news, and related topics.

Mrs. Eunice Johnston of Leon County Hitch School will preside at the sectional meeting of National Association of Journalism Directors

Address by Allnut On Annuals Slated

Journalism students and teachers from Pensacola to Miami will be in Tallahassee tomorrow to attend the northern district convention of Florida Scholastic Press Association.

The thirty-eight different round table sessions, general sessions, and luncheon will be held on the campus of Florida State University. Registration will be in the Lonsmire Building.

Dean Laurence R. Campbell of the School of Journalism will preside at the opening session at 9 o'clock. Dean Mode L. Stone of the School of Education will speak on "Your Job Is Important."

"Covering Two Conventions" will be subject of Professor Paul Scalera's talk at the opening session. Formerly with Time magazine, he wrote news for NBC for the national political conclave.

President Doak S Campbell will welcome the students to the campus at the luncheon at 12:15. Dr.

Newman House Open

The Newman Club has announced that there will be an open house after the football game tomorrow night.

Louisville Brings

(Continued from Page 1)

ity, beauty, poise, grace, etc. . . . AND—here comes her Florida fame—won the American Legion National Junior Championship in Miami in 1948 with the highest score ever made in the contest.

The "Marching Cardinals" and their famed twirler will arrive at the train station tomorrow at 5:40 a.m., after which they will come to this campus for room and breakfast. They will rehearse at Campbell Stadium at 10 a.m., and will perform at 7:50 p.m. before the game.

The "Marching Cardinals" is an all male unit. The women band members stay in the stands.

Briggs Reveals

(Continued from Page 1)

Dame Paula's laundry, played by Ellen Snow; Dame Paula, proprietress of the "White Gerve" laundry, played by Beverly Bennett; and Paula's six daughters, played by Lynn Lonsdale, Mickey Kendall, Donna Harper, Janie Brown, Sandra Darling and Claire Kenyon.

Male leads will be taken by Bill Dalrymple as Karl, a muiler; Lothario; Harrison Fisher as Mikel Mikelovi, who alone knows that Sylvia is the real crown princess of Zilania; Robert Perrish as the Honorable Algernon Algernon Slingsby, who has designs on the heroine, Sylvia; Sam Frank as Petrus Van Tromm, a Zilanian plotter who plans to sell the paintings of the ancestral palace to a rich American and Lloyd Fish, as Aristide Caniche, who wishes to buy the entire kingdom of Zilania to start a new Monte Carlo.

Tryouts for singers who want to be in the chorus for the production will be on Monday evening, Oct. 6, in the choral room of the Music building from 7 to 9:45. All interested singers are urged to be in the chorus. Dr. Briggs said. The chorus music for "Sweethearts" is the most difficult of any of the recent Light Guild productions, he said, but it is also the most interesting. Singing in the operetta chorus is not only fun in itself but provides an opportunity for valuable experience on the stage.

Freshmen Soark

(Continued from Page 1)

should be the most succesful ever. It's success rests upon each member of the Freshman Class."

"HERE, OU a democratic campus, with a democratic form of student government, it is the students who have the responsibility for providing themselves with capable and agressive leadership," Ducker said. "What they do with that responsibility at the polls will decide the future of their class. Let's hope that it will be a unanimous future filled with accomplishments."

Following is the official list of men and women who have qualified for the elections including withdrawals since the last edition of the Flambeau. These names will appear on the October 7 ballot pending the filins of expenditure sheets on or before 5 p.m. today. October 3 in the U.O.A. office on the second floor of the Alumni building. Anyone failing to submit the expenditure report will automatically fall to qualify for the ballot.

PRESIDENT: (6) Lee Barber, Gene Johnson, Jeff Davis, Harry Erikson, Jack Hampson, Jimmy Jenson, Charles Mixon, and Charles Sinner.

Vice President; (7) Tom Dickey, Anne Farber, Lincoln Hall, Jimmy Hanks, Shirley Norman, Carole Nydeszer, Maxey Powell.

Secretary: (8) Sue Allen, Bebe Bisbee, Dorsey Lee Cooper, Ann Gwin, Lenora Hollingsworth, Carol Rodgers, Joan Elizabeth Tavel, and Louise Yarborough.

Treasurer: (7) Carolyn Alford, Ray Baker, Donald Dixon, Lloyd Kay, Gail McDonough, Marion Jeanette Porter, and Nancy Vaughn.

Social Chairman: (6) Barbara Ann Brunson, Barbara Linehan, Margaret Ann McIntosh, Inia Jean Pruitt, and Barbara Santana.

Parliamentarian: (7) Jo Emma Hobson, Jean Hodges, Deane Jackson, Joyce Morgan, Neese Ostner, Malinda Usina, and Laurie Vincenti.

Men's Senate: (13) Andy Beverly, Richard Bittner, John Callahan, Graham Crowhers, Sonny Daye, James Harvey, Alfred Holderbach, Bobby Jones, Coyle Moore, Richard Nasrallah, Allyn Rivers, Harry Strashagen, and Tommy Tomlin.

Women's Senate: (23) Orchid Alonso, Allie Jane Bird, Shirley Boulware, Sally Ann Davenport, Mary Louise Dee, Ann Dickinson, Nathalie Emery, Betty Ann Furman, Nancy Graham, Joan Halford, Joan Johnsen, Barbara Lou Lester, Harriet Lowe, Marjorie Manuels, Sue Martin, Elaine Mc-Lendon, Rose Ellen Moore, Katherine Panos, Joann Queen, Christine Stanford, Cynthia Vance Junewinters, and Susan Young.

Pre-Med Students Will Hear Speech

Dr. H. F. Marsh, associate Dean of the Medical School at the University of Miami, is making the rounds of state schools from which medical students will come. He will be here Tuesday, October 7, afternoon and evening and will speak to all pre-med students Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the clubroom on the second floor of the Longmire building.

One student from FSU, Curtis Cannon, is in the first Freshman class this year. . . . 28 members in all are in the class. Three or four from here are planning to apply for admission next year.

Student Is Chosen As City Engineer

James V. Doyle Jr., 23, a Florida State University graduate student who has been working in the State Comptroller's office as an auditor, has been appointed as city engineer of Mulberry, located in Polk County. He has been serving as auditor in charge of the Analysis Section in the Sales and Use Tax Division.

In his new duties as Mulberry city engineer, effective Oct. 1, he will be administrative supervisor of all city services and work closely with the city council.

Doyle received his masters degree in public administration here last June, specializing in general city administration. He is a native of DeLand, and is a graduate of DeLand High School. He entered the U. S. Navy in 1944 and served two years, including overseas duty in the Pacific.

Doyle is a student member of the City Managers Association, Florida Planning and Zoning Association and American Legion.

In announcement of his appointment, the Mulberry City Council said a qualified man was needed by the city to study problems of sewage, water supply, new streets and other municipal improvements on connection with the new uranium plants being constructed near Mulberry and scheduled reactivation of Drane Field in Lakeland.

Classified Ad

rooms, also furnished apa ments and utilities furnish Opposite college Library. West Jefferson. Phone 2-4

Campus capers call for Coke

Everyone enjoys the break between classes. The lid's off for a time and relaxation's the mandate. What better fix the moment than ice-cold Coke?

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY T... TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Dine with us . . . in the Amber House

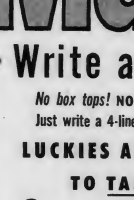
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Country Fried Steak
Stuffed Pork Chops
Swiss Steak
Broiled Fish

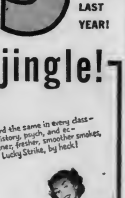
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

STUDENTS!

Make $25.00



Write a Lucky Strike jingle!



189 AWARDS LAST YEAR!

No box tops! NO ENTRY BLANKS! It's easy!

Just write a 4-line jingle based on the fact that

LUCKIES ARE MADE BETTER TO TASTE BETTER!*

I've heard the same in every class— In history, psych, and so— For cleaner, fresher, smoother smokes, It's Lucky Strike, by heck!

HERE ARE THE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike jingle on a plain piece of paper or post card and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.

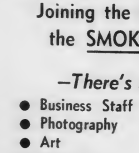
2. Base your jingle on any qualities of Luckies. "Luckies are made better to taste better," is only one. (See "Type to money-makes").

3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.

4. You may submit as many jingles as you like. Remember, you are eligible to win more than one $25 award.

*TYPE TO MONEY-MAKERS

To write a winning Lucky Strike jingle, you're not limited to "Luckies are made better to taste better." Use any other sales points on Lucky Strike such as the following:



L.S./M.F.T.
Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Luckies' cigarette-tasting demonstration
Luckies taste cleaner, fresher, smoother
Be Happy—Go Lucky
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you drop-down smoking enjoyment

I like a better-tasting smoke And evidence couldn't with me. So when I buy I keep in mind That L.S./M.F.T.

COPR., THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

IT'S A FACT . . .

Not everyone can play football. But you can take your place in the University by Joining the Seminole Lineup of the SMOKE SIGNALS Staff

—There's a Place for You—

- Business Staff
- Photography
- Art
- Humorist
- Writers
- Sports
- Features
- Cartoonist
- Office Workers

Freshmen and Upperclassmen, No Experience Necessary. Sign Up Now in the Smoke Signal's Office.

SMOKE SIGNALS

YOUR STUDENT MAGAZINE

VOTE TODAY

Florida Flambeau

VOTE TODAY

XXXIX, No. 5 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, October 7, 1952

APO Schedules Conference On Leadership for Saturday

Service Group Leads Problem Studies In Special Session of Annual Affair

A Leadership conference will be staged by Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization, this coming Saturday, Oct. 11, in the Longmire Auditorium from 1:45 to 5:30 p. m.

"Tommy Bowen, APO president, said that this conference, a great edition of the annual Leadership Conference sponsored by Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa, has been planned by his group because many felt the campus needed more than one a year.

THE KEYNOTE address will be given by Rev. Dr. William Marvin of the First Presbyterian Church, after which the campus leaders will divide into three groups to study various problems. These discussions will be Publications, led by Dean Laurence Campbell of Journalism School; Flambeau Editor - in - Chief Bill Dunn; Student Government, Dean of Student Welfare J. Brown Culpepper and UGA President Mary Nell Bozeman; and Organizations, Margaret Earnest.

A further breakdown to study specific problems will be made afterwards. It will consist of: Senate, under Milton Carothers; Cabinets, Bonnie Tom Simmons, Bob Ducker, Jan Arbogast, Betty Wilkes, Peasy Moore; University Court, June Tate. Honor Committee Chairman Miles Allen; presidents, Jimmy Evans; Fraternity presidents, Bill Hall; Sorority presidents, Barbara Brewton; WFSU, M. J. Parham; Rainbow, Jean Hall; Flambeau, Claudia Thomas; Smoke Signals, Linda Arnold; Student Veterans Association, Betty Holland; Secretaries, Mary Hamilton; Religious emphasis, political science instructor, Miss Daisy Parker; Treasurers, Jean Wellborn; social chairmen, Eleanor Green and Dorm Presidents, Ellen Ann.

A final meeting will be held for evaluations of the discussions.

Publications area being extended to all former and future student officers including newspaper, preceding officers, vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers, social chairmen, chairmen, committee directors, court members, house presidents, faculty advisors, graduate and fraternity presidents, parliamentarians and staffs of student publications.

Rat Court Tries First Offenders

Freshman Sentenced To Shine Otis' Shoes

A large group of people surrounded James Baker of Key West last Friday afternoon when he had the privilege to the first person to be tried by rat court, of shining Dean of Men Otis Mendenhall's shoes in front of the Westcott Building.

Baker, here on a basketball scholarship, played along with the ruling and went right to work.

LAST THURSDAY evening several freshmen faced the jury consisting of co-chairman Don Nue and Phoebe Jackson, Wynne Bo Kellogg Hester, Jerry Jones and Bob Canada.

Noddy Johns and John Perkins fought without their red-topsave inflicted with the penalty of wearing a sign around their necks. The sign read, "I am a rat, I did not wear my rat cap to the game, I'm sorry." Rosalind Moore also got that penalty. The only person completely exempt was Bill Hamner.

AFTER THE meeting Jerry Jones said, "I never knew a rat court meeting would be like this." Sally Parker added, "I'm not through it was very interesting. I have an opportunity to meet and know the freshmen." Pearce Jackson's view was, "A very effective meeting — this should show that summonses should be heeded or more drastic means will be taken."

Sophomores are anxiously waiting to meet the freshmen on Frosh-Soph day, Oct. 25 on West Campus," said Van Hise.

The next rat court meeting will be tonight at 7:30.

Gymkana Will Be 'Out of This World' Says Coach Price

The Gymkana production for this year has been set for Nov. 3-4, Hartley Price, director, announced. It will take place in the Women's Gymnasium.

This year's show is being built around a theme of "Out of This World." Miss Gymkana contestants will display their costumes to interest anything having to do with the theme. Last year's title and trophy winner was Carolyn Bidden dressed in "Miss Prince Editor," in honor of Princess Elizabeth, U. S. A."

Pat Finney, Gymkana senior women's manager, Frances Stokes, Margaret Goodlett and Sally Ann Bowden are in charge of the costumes, for which all campus organizations may enter a costume suit. Miss Gymkana is featured in Gymkana activities including the rings throughout the show.

There were 36 entries for the contest last year. This year possible also for consideration are ninet, cloudburst, stardust, moonbeam, runway, starlight, snow storm, moonlight, buttermilk, north wind, south wind, Venus, Neptune, Saturn, Uranus, Pluto, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Earth, sun, moon, meteor, comet, hurricane and flying saucer.

Last Call Is Given For Senior Pictures

Tomorrow is the last day that Seniors may make picture appointments for the Yally Ho. Both appointments and pictures are being taken on the fourth floor of the Longmire Building in the Tally Ho outer office.

Seniors began having their pictures made October 1. Caps and gowns are provided at the office.

Freshmen, Juniors and Sophomores are asked to make their appointments as soon as possible, although no deadline has been announced as yet. Men other than Seniors should wear coats and ties, and all women who are not Seniors should wear dark sweaters and pearls

Counselor Returns From Omaha Clinic

Dean Johnson, director of marriage counseling services in social welfare, will return to the Florida State campus today following a conference of the Nebraska, Iowa and Nebraska in Omaha to which he was selected to serve as consultant.

The clinic was with influences within personalities and with the relationships that help or hurt play in molding character. Its purpose was to enable ministers to better surrounding the people with whom they are working.

DURING THE clinic the function of social welfare, medicine, psychiatry and other subjects related to human relations were made available to ministers.

Johnson recently spent a year's leave of absence working for the Menninger Foundation, an interdenominational clinic and laboratory in Topeka, Kan., where he specialized in the social application of psychiatry. The Grant Foundation Fellow and staff maintains counselors. He was awarded a certificate of recognition at the close of his year's work.

The Faculty member believes the fields of psychiatry and religion have much in common, and this close relationship is becoming more and more in evidence as ministers seek better understand human personality.

Women's Convocation Has Been Cancelled

No Women's Convocation will be scheduled for Thursday night, as the Women's Senate announced there was no special business that would call for a meeting of through house officers. There was also no adequate meeting place.

Dormitory presidents may use this time for a house meeting if they deem it necessary.

Gold Key To Meet

Gold Key members will meet this afternoon at 5 in the Longmire Building, Room 401. Pres. Ted Steinmeyer announced.

Adams Named Business Head For Sandspur

John Adams, FSU Junior, has been appointed business manager of the annual Sandspur production this year.

This announcement comes from Jim Harris, Sandspur producer who was appointed last spring after several candidates for the position were disqualified.

"In answer to many inquiries," states Harris, "the deadline for sandspur scraps, the annual content offered to all students at FSU, has been set at October 15." All scripts are to be turned in at that time and selection will be made after the entries have been read by a panel of authorities and Harris.

New Lab Opened For Nuclear Study At Florida State

The Florida State chemistry department has included within their department's a Nuclear Chemistry Laboratory.

The laboratory is divided into three sections. There is a laboratory where radio active shipments from the pile at Oak Ridge and cyclotron at the University of California are opened and processed, a medium radioactivity laboratory, and a tracer laboratory. The equipment in the laboratory is said among the finest and most versatile in the South and has already attracted some outstanding graduate students.

Dr. Raymond Sheline and Dr. Rowland Johnson, members of the FSU chemistry department have already done research within the new laboratory. Dr. Sheline has made the discovery of Vanadium-50 which he believes is a new radioactivity which like uranium occurs in nature. In another important nuclear research experiment, Dr. Sheline working with Noah Johnson, an FSU graduate student, succeeded in fully characterizing two other radioactivities, Scandium-46 and Potassium-37.

Dr. Rowland spent the summer months at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. He was engaged in fundamental research on liquid ammonia using radioactive tracers to definite conclusions existing in liquid ammonia solutions.

Laboratory, according to Dr. Karl Dittmer, head of the chemistry department, is open to all science graduate students.

Democrats To Meet

The FSU Young Democrats will hold their second meeting of the year tonight at 7:15 in Longmire auditorium, according to Richard Jackson, president.

The group plans to adopt a constitution and handle other business in the short meeting, which will be adjourned early to enable members to hear ex-Senator Claude Pepper speak downtown afterward.

'Carmen' Opens 1952 Programs In Artist Series

Students Admitted Free Upon ID Presentation; Bizet's Opera at Leon

The 1952 edition of the Florida State Artist Series will start the season with the presentation of Bizet's exciting opera "Carmen". The Charles L. Wagner Opera Co., will make the presentation at Leon High School Auditorium on Tuesday, October 28.

Student tickets for "Carmen" will be made available free upon presentation of ID cards, and students may purchase tickets for members of their families at a student rate of $1.00 for the matinee, at 2:30 in the afternoon, or $2.00 for the evening performance, at 8:15 P. M.

STUDENTS MAY pick up their tickets at the Public Relations Office on First Floor, Longmire Building starting Monday, October 13, and are urged to do so by Saturday, Oct. 18, as tickets will go on sale to the general public starting Monday, October 20.

There will be two casts for the principals in the opera. One for the matinee, and another for the evening performance, which requires, as usual, formal dress.

THE PRESENTATION by Wagner is an amazingly new production with new scenery by Cirke and Robbins, and new costumes by Brunello & Sons. Also present will be a complete 27-piece orchestra and a selected chorus. Artistic director will be Desire Defrere, and Conductor Ernesto Sorbini.

It will no doubt be of interest to many who were summer school students in 1951, that Lee Cass, who sang a concert here with Ellen Faull, will sing one of the roles." comments Mrs. Kay Vernon, spokesman for the FSU Public Relations Office. "The next event in the Artist Series schedule, she continues, "is the Boston Pops Orchestra, scheduled for February."

Four Top Debaters Fill This Month's WFSU Schedule

Tomorrow night at 8 p.m. five students will appear on the WFSU Forum sponsored by the University Government Association.

Three, the President of the Pan-Hellenic Council, the president of the Inter-fraternity Council, and a pledge will take issue with two non-creek students on the question: "What Value is the Greek System at FSU?"

This is the first forum of the year over WFSU. From comments and activity of the debaters yesterday in preparing for the "new and interesting" debate, said Jan Arbogast, UGA Forums Chairman.

The topic of fraternity-sorority value on the campus has been discussed in the Dorms, over the coffee cups, and the dorms and "houses" for several years.

Forums scheduled for the rest of this month include: "Does the FSU Honor System Really Exist, 15; "Are Athletic Scholarships Detrimental to Intercollegiate Sports" Oct. 22; and "Should FSU Join NSA?" Oct. 29.

Election Polls Open Wed As Frosh Choose Officers

Council Offers Several Prizes For Essayists

Awards totalling $1800 will be given to the winners of a nation-wide essay contest on the Point IV Program, the National Council of the Churches of Christ announced recently.

The contest opens Nov. 1, 1952 and closes midnight, March 23, 1953, and is open to all Americans between the ages of 15 and 23.

Prizes will be awarded to two age groups, 19 to 23 years being specified for college students. Winners' names will be announced about the middle of May, 1953, the council stated.

IN ADDITION to the two first prizes of $400 each, there will be two second-place awards of $200, two third-place prizes of $100 each and five other $50 awards.

Explaining that the Point IV program is a "two-way street," the Council goes on to say that "we are naturally concerned with

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 8)

Civil Service Exam In Agriculture Post Given October 21

Applications must be filed not later than October 21 by students planning to take the U. S. Civil Service examination for Junior Agricultural Assistant.

This examination is given annually to college students who wish to enter the field of agriculture. Jobs to be filled from this exam include Agricultural Economist, Agricultural Writer-Editor, Agronomist, Animal Husbandman, Botanist, Entomologist and Home Economist, to mention only a few.

Beginning salary for these positions is $3,410 a year in the Department of Agriculture, Department of Interior in Washington and throughout the country. This exam is particularly of interest to students in these fields who expect to complete their courses by June, 1953.

Further information on application and details may be obtained at the Information and Placement Office, 203 Westcott.

Frosh Hear Talks On Honor System

Freshman convocation was given by the Honor Committee last Tuesday in the Opperman Music Hall with Miles Jones McMillan explaining how effective an honor system can be and how this system is working at Florida State University.

Then time introduced the following speakers with their respective subjects concerning the honor system: John Rooney, sealing; Margaret Nash, lying; Tommy Bowen, cheating; and Betty Whitmire, the reporting of the infractions of the honor code.

Following the speakers, Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant dean of women, summed up the infractions of the honor system.

Sixteen Candidates Eliminated; Failed to Submit Expenditures

Polls opened this morning at 8:30 as the Freshman Class began its annual job of selecting the governmental officers to represent them for this year.

The ballot was 18 short of the original would-be slate, due to disqualifications based on failure of prospective candidates to turn in the required expenditure lists, Secretary of Elections Bob Ducker said.

THE ORIGINAL deadline for turning in these campaign expenditures was 5 p.m. Friday, which had been stated in the Flambeau, printed on top of the expenditure sheets and also announced in the election regulations given to all candidates.

Since not all expenditures had been turned in at that time, Ducker held the deadline up until noon Saturday. "I contacted the individuals whenever possible," Ducker said, "and placed spot announcements over WFSU." The election official also talked sorority and fraternity houses and sent lists of disqualified candidates to the dormitories with the request that the people be located and reminded about the deadline.

DUCKER, WHO stayed in his office until 9 p.m. Saturday to take statements, said he counted any record indicative of expenses that he thought would fit it was on the statement prepared by his office. Ballot boxes were also delayed until late yesterday afternoon, Ducker said, in hopes that the delinquent qualifiers would come in.

"I honestly feel that we gave them every break we could to get their expenditure reports in," Ducker said. "It is unfair to the individuals cooperating with the regulations to keep on extending deadlines and setting a precedence."

THOSE DISQUALIFIED are Wesley Lee Barber, office of president; Shirley Ann Norman and Carole Ann Nyles, vice-president; Carolyn (Porky) Alford and Gail Patrick McGregor, treasurer; M. Deane Jackson, Joyce Morgan and Malinda Louise Dicus, parliamentarian; Jerry Jones,

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

Student Tickets Sold For Films

Newcomers Club Has Series of 14 Movies

Florida State students will have an opportunity to buy season tickets for the 14 movies to be sponsored here by the Newcomers Film Club of the Faculty Wives.

Membership fee is $2.50 per person, which makes the average cost of the film 18 cents each. Shorts will be shown only when the feature program runs less than 90 minutes.

There will be two showings, one at 6:30 and another at 8:30 p.m. of all movies scheduled for the months Council Theater.

THE FIRST MOVIE, "Passport to Pimlico," will show Oct. 16 in the Opperman Music Hall, 8:15 p.m. The second will be "Of Mice and Men," Conradi, Nov. 8. The remainder of the movies are: "Brief Encounter," Dec. 11, Opperman Music Hall, 8:15 p.m.; "My Little Chickadee, Jan. 8, same time and place; "You Can't Take It With You," Jan. 22, same time and place; "Day of Wrath," Feb. 12, Conradi Theater; "Jenny Lamour," Feb. 26, same time and place; "Der Hauptman von Koepenick," Mar. 12, same time and place; "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse", Mar. 26, same time and place.

Also "Thirty-nine Steps," Apr. 9, Opperman Music Hall, 8:30 p.m.; "Volpone, Apr. 23, same time and place; "Farrebique," May 7, same time and place, and "Marriage of Figaro," May 21, same time and place.

Crane Exhibit Marks Progress in Exchange

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

A step forward in the matter of scholastic exchange of ideas was taken by the University Museum staff when they arranged the first Art Exhibit which came from Dartmouth Academy of Art, Hanover.

The colorful exhibit that closed yesterday was representative of the work of the Academy's students in painting, sculpture, ceramics, graphic arts, architecture, silver and textiles.

CATERING TO a maximum of 100 students, the school is heavily endowed and a sister to the famous Cranbrook Academy of Science.

Outstanding in the display were the giant photographs of the new model architecture, done by students of Cranbrook. Not only were the interesting weaves and heavy textured material in colors complementing the Museum's rich red brown walls.

TERRAPS the greatest portion of the exhibit was devoted to paintings and lithographs done in a non-objective or impressionistic mode. One, a scene looking into the Universe, was so realistically textured that it was hard to determine the painted from the pasted-on parts. Several other prints were nohlists more than studies in color and line, but very effectively done.

Two of the oils, Pink Cloth and Night Lights, were riots of color by Robert Gardiner, one of the outstanding students at Cranbrook.

ALSO included in the exhibit weer silver jewelry and containers, ceramic vases, and objects made fro macrap metals.

Made from scrap metals, recurfaris during the year, Baroque—the New Generation, a collection of paintings by Frroch, Italian and British artists from 1944 to '50 will have its formal opening October 26 f 8 to 10 p.m. The collection will be on loan from the Museum of Modern Art in New York City. Several of the works to be shown are available for sale for from $250 to $700.

BAND SPECTACLE—Approximately 2,000 brilliantly uniformed high school band members performed in massed formation Saturday night in Campbell Stadium. Led by Florida State bandleader Robert T. Bruvaged, the thirty-one bands put on an exciting show during the half-time of the FSU-Louisville football game.

Mass Movement Marvels Multitude

Groups Qualify For Decorations By October 30

October 30 is the deadline set as the last day on which men's and women's residence halls, fraternities and sororities may register for the Homecoming Decorations contest.

A written announcement of intention to compete unaccompanied by a sketch of the proposed entry must be turned in on or before October 30 to Professor Holschuh, Dept. of Art, Westcott Building, if a house or residence wishes to enter the contest.

All displays must be completed, ready for judging, by 8 p.m. November 14, and may be taken down after November 18.

FOUR 1st PLACE $ will be awarded, as is the custom each year. A loving cup will be awarded to the sorority University, men's residence hall, and women's residence hall whose entry is judged the winner in their category. Judging will be based upon initiative, artistic effect, and originality.

Further inquiries about contest rules should be addressed to Professor Holschuh at the Art Department in as much detail as possible so contestants will have the maximum amount of time for working out ideas.

Also for complete rules, and further information, contestants may read the story of the contest in the Friday, October 3 edition of the Flambeau.

Band Performance Thrills Spectators At Louisville Game

By AL PIERCE
Assistant News Editor

Spectators at the Florida State University - Louisville game at Cook & Campbell Stadium Saturday night were treated to as spectacular a half-time performance as has been seen at State for many a moon.

At the end of the second quarter of the game, some 2000 musicians and 190 majorettes marched and twirled in a waving panorama of color and rousing march music.

LED BY FSU's own Marching Chief's under the direction of Bob Braungard, 20 Florida and 18 Georgia high school bands paraded to the center of the gridiron, playing their talented, curvaceous majorettes to form a gigantic "Band Day" formation.

Then the huge group simultaneously played the "Star Spangled Banner" to split-second marching perfection, a remarkable display of coordination which, no doubt, would be heard about several counties, so great was the volume of this combined effort.

THE BANDS then moved into a huge "US" and gave several other marches, also in perfect coordination. Each band, whose show, pretty majorettes lined the ends of the field and performed their twirling feats in time to the music.

The whole picture took on the aspect of a three-ring circus and, as in a circus, it was difficult to keep your eyes on one thing with so much going on.

ANOTHER highlight of the game was the appearance of "Miss Majorette of 1952" accompanied by the Louisville U. band who performed several difficult feats with flaming batons in the completely entertained audience before the game.

Band Day the second in an annual series presented and sponsored by the FSU Music and Athletic Departments will become a staple item on the sports calendar at FSU from now on.

Needless to say, the half-time show Saturday night will long be remembered by football fans at State and it is hoped that they will again be treated to similar shows in the future.

OUR WARBONNETS are off to the faculty and staff of the Department of Music and the Department of Athletics who made the event possible.

If Elected, I Promise

President

Fellow Freshmen,

I am truly grateful or this opportunity to get my message to you.

I am running for the office of president of the freshman class. You will see very few of my signs on campus, and the ones you see will be small. I don't believe gaudy posters make good candidates, and to be honest, I just can't afford costly circulars.

I could have had the support of several powerful voting blocks, but I refused because I wanted to present myself to my class unchained by special interests.

As to my qualifications and goals:

I have long been active in student government and was president of my senior class in high school. I come from a long line of Southern statesmen and really have the interests of FSU and the South in my hands.

If elected I promise to serve my class faithfully and honorably to the best of my ability. I am disturbed, as the rest of you must be, by the ignorance in our school. It's not that student government is in the hands of Yankees, but Yankee indifference, corruption and special interests have crept in. I will do all I can to eliminate these influences, just as my illustrious ancestor and namesake would.

I haven't much money, and the thing that disturbs me is that I won't be able to get my message across to you, the students. Won't you please ask your friends to read this letter, then cast a vote to return morality and true Southern spirit to student government.

Sincerely,
Jeff Davis

President

Dear Fellow Freshmen,

We are in the midst of the campaign for Freshman officers. It is important to you that these officers be both sincere and capable. I ask you to look deeply into each candidate's campaign and decide whether or not he will be a good officer.

This is my platform! I stand for thorough representation. I am elected President wil be in Whatever I may accomplish if I take an effort to benefit the whole Freshman class, and not just a few individuals. Consider this fact. If this is what you want, then I hope that you will give me your support and your vote. for I know that the road to victory will be a hard fought rod.

If I am elected, don't be surprised to find me consulting individually and informally on Freshman class issues. This is the only way that I can be well informed in order to act for you.

Win, lose or draw,
Hoping to serve you.
Jimmy Joanos

President

Dear Sirs,

I am running for President of the Freshman Class. I believe I have had invaluable experience and information which qualifies me to be the Freshman President. Mainly my father was in politics for sixteen years. He was elected County Treasurer, County Sheriff, County Commissioner, and Mayor of Springfield, Illinois. I was brought up for the first seventeen years of my life in a political family. I believe I know quite a bit about administrative affairs.

To tell you about myself, I was born in Springfield, Illinois in 1934. I attended Grade School there and attended Springfield High School my freshman year and then went 125 miles north of Sprinfield to attend Onarga Military School at Onarga, Illinois. I went there for two years. Last year after my Dad's mayor term ended, my mother, dad, sister and myself moved to Fort Lauderdale. I sure do like the South and especially the corn pone. Last summer I decided to come to F.S.U., and I'll never regret this decision.

I guess you want to know what I'd do if I am elected president. There are quite a few improvements for which I would work. First of all I would see about giving the telephones in Freshman Hall numbers. So we fellows could get more use of them. I would try to get the Freshman Hall rooms faster equipped. I would try to have more open house social events. I know they have been very successful in the past. Those are my ideas for improvement at Florida State University.

Sincerely,
Harry A. Eleison Jr.

Vice President

Dear Editor,

I am running for the office of vice-president of the freshman class. I realize the importance of this office and responsibilities of vice-president, and I feel that I am capable of meeting them wisely. If elected to this office, I will do my best to meet the needs of the Freshman class.

Tom Dickey

Secretary

Attention: Class of '56,

As a fellow class member aspiring to become your secretary I would like to cite my qualifications for this office.

During my high school years in Atlanta, Ga., I held secretarial positions in various organizations. I always striving to give my best to these groups. Although I am not a Floridian I have nothing but respect and admiration for this campus and the people who make it what it is. Therefore, I would like to become a living part of the student government at Florida State University so that I might help to uphold its fine standards. If elected, I will pledge my time, service, standards, and spirit for the good of our class and school.

In a democracy the most important privilege is to vote and elect the best qualified persons to fill the various positions. Therefore I urge each and every one of you to go to the polls today and cast your votes, whether they be for me or my worthy opponents.

Your candidate for Freshman Secretary,
Ann Craig

Secretary

Dear Editor,

Today is election day! The members of the freshman class will go to the polls to determine their class officers.

As a candidate for the office of secretary, I, Bebe Bisbee, would like to state briefly my experiences and make an appeal to the members of the class for their support.

In my last year of high school I was secretary of the student body. This job was an important one as I had to keep the minutes oft he student council, and write articles concerning progress within the student council for the school paper. I also carried on correspondence between our student council and those of other schools, as well as doing secretarial work in the principal's office.

I feel that I am sufficiently qualified for this job because of these experiences.

If I am elected to this office I will do everything in my power to make this freshman year an enjoyable and highly successful one.

We need a busy, active worker for this position of secretary and I feel that I am the one who can do it. That is why I have for my motto—"Busy as a bee—that's Bisbee."

Thanking you I remain, very truly yours,
Bebe Bisbee

Secretary

Members of the Freshman Class:

Election time is here, and I am one of your candidates for Secretary. From my previous experience at Girl's State and a Secretary of my class in high school, I know tha responsibilities of this office.

I will certainly appreciate your votes, and if I am elected I will work with the other class officers to the best of my ability in making all of our projects a success and our Freshman Carnival the best ever. In closing, I urge every freshman to vote Tuesday.

Sincerely
Joan Tavel

Secretary

Dear Freshmen:

I want to urge each of you to go out and vote today and would appreciate any ballot cast my way. I feel I am qualified for the office of secretary of the Freshman class because I have had experience in this work.

If elected I will serve you to the best of my ability so be sure and cast your vote will Sue for your QUE.

Sincerely your candidate,
Sue Allen

Treasurer

Dear Freshmen :

I have qualified for the office of treasurer of the class of '56 and I do not know all of you personally and I am sure that you don't know me as yet. However, I do feel that I am capable of holding this very important position of trust.

I had the honor of serving my high school graduation class for two years at this same position. I also gained experience as a treasurer when I acted in this capacity with Youth Fellowship.

I want all the Freshmen to consider every candidate and choose the persons you feel best qualified for the job. I earnestly solicit your vote and support.

Here's to the class for a bigger and better year.

Sincerely,
Ray Baker

Treasurer

Members of the Freshman Class:

Today is election day! This will be the first time that we, as the newest part of F.S.U., will be able to vote. Casting our votes will show a real interest in both our school and class. I am running for the office of Treasurer of the Freshman Class. I am sincere in wanting this office and will appreciate any support. In any event, please remember to vote.

Sincerely,
Nancy Vaughn

Treasurer

Dear Freshman:

You all know how important the job of treasurer is. Because it is such an important job you should give great consideration to each of he candidates running for this office before you decide on the right one. I believe I am qualified for the job of Treasurer by my experiences in three major clubs in high school. Hoping that you will consider me for this job.

I remain, thankfully . . . especially to my campaign managers who took a lot of their time to help me.

Lloyd Kay.

Parliamentarian

Dear Classmates:

I should like to express my appreciation at this time to those of you who have helped me in this campaign.

The office of parliamentarian is a difficult position, and if elected, I will fulfill the duties of this office to the best of my abilities. I have had some previous experience in high school politics, and I believe that I am qualified to fill this office.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.

Sincerely
Nesse Ostner

Parliamentarian

Dear Freshmen,

My roommate Laurie Vincenti is running for Parliamentarian and I'd like to tell you something about her. I feel she is well qualified for this job as she has had much experience in the type of meetings which will be held by the freshmen officers.

More important though, she has the interests of the Class of '56 at heart and is ready and willing to serve them in any way possible. I know she will do any job she is called upon to do conscientiously.

Laurie is dependable and capable—a good bet for your Parliamentarian.

Sincerely yours,
Irma Jean Simpson

Social Chairman

Dear Freshmen Classmates,

Do you want a good Freshman Carnival this year . . . the best ever? Or how about some good dances and Freshman parties?

Well, to have these you must have a competent, dependable, and all-qualified Social Chairman.

The office of Social Chairman is one which requires a person who will not only devote her time to the job, but one who has the interest of the class at heart. Not the chairman alone plans and directs tha activities, but the whole committe.a A person with leadership, initiative, and experience in social affairs should fill this office.

I am one of the four candidates for this office . . . my name is MARGARET ANN MCINTOSH, nicknamed "MAC". I am more than willing to devote my time to this position. After fully understanding the duties of the Social Chairman, I feel that I am qualified to hold this office. I have had quite a bit of experience with planning social activities as I was the president of the Teen Age Club for two years, and I served in the following capacities . . . Chairman of the Sophomores and Senior Dances, Student Representative to the Social Committee of the high school. Director of the Sandhill Pavilion Shows, and Student Representative to the Social Committee of the Parent-Teacher Association.

On Tuesday, October 7th, we, the Freshman Class, go to the polls to elect the people to represent your class in the activities of the forthcoming year. I hope that you feel that I am qualified to hold this office. I would deeply appreciate your support and VOTE. Thank you.

Sincerely Yours,
Margaret Ann McIntosh.

Men's Senate

Dear Frosh:

I ask your support for my campaign as I need your support to fulfill my ideals of good Freshman representation in the student government we have here at Florida State. I promise you, each and every one, that I will work sincerely and diligently and with the very best of my ability to serve YOU the Freshman Class of this great university. I feel that we need a good government as we represent YOU the students. We have a great spirit here that cannot be matched anywhere in Florida and we must uphold our reputation.

I am sincerely interested in improving our University and one thing that I am sure that you will agree upon with me, is an easier form of registration.

I wish to extend my greatest thanks to my ten campaign managers who have worked so hard on my campaign. They have really done a fine job for me!

Sincerely and respectfully
Dick Bittner

Men's Senate

Fellow Freshmen,

I want to give you in a few words my qualifications for senator.

For the last two years I have been chosen to represent my school in all phases of National Forensic League student Congresses.

This has given me valuable legislative experience, and has prepared me to shoulder the job of representing you in our Senate. I have been a member of one of Florida's best debating teams, and I have been very active in High School politics.

However, I wouldn't even ask you to consider me for senator if I thought that these things were more important than my desire to serve each one of you. My primary goal is to give my all to the voters, if elected.

If it is your decision to give me a chance I feel certain that not one of you will ever regret having cast a vote for me.

Sincerely,
Andy Beverly

Men's Senate

Dear Fellow Freshmen:

I am running for Senator of your class. Although I am elected, I feel that I can accomplish the things that you wish to be done this year.

If I am elected to represent you I promise to cooperate with school officials and other elected representatives for the success of our Freshman class. I will sincerely appreciate your support on October 7.

Allyn (Bud) Rivers

Men's Senate

Dear Fellow Freshmen:

I have been trying to meet each and every one of you personally in order to explain my campaign. However, if I have failed to see you, remember that I am trying, and I hope you will read this letter as if we were talking face to face. I know you would want to ask, "What do you stand for?" "Will you run the office efficiently and honestly?" and "What are your plans if I elect you?"

My aim, if I am elected is to serve you, the Freshmen of FSU, bring your problems and grievances before the attention of this University Government, and then endeavor to solve those problems as rapidly as possible. I'll strive in every way possible to give you good, honest, impartial government. My three and a half years in the Air Force has given me a much broader view of what we are fighting for. I would like the opportunity to continue fighting—for you, the Freshman, in your Legislative government. Your vote will be very greatly appreciated.

It seems that some of my friends have put up signs for my campaign improperly, unbeknown to me. It has been reported that a few of these signs have covered signs of other candidates. This most certainly would not have happened if I had had any knowledge of this whatsoever. At this writing I am taking measures to correct this injustice. I want to express my deepest apologies of this act, and I assure you that this will NOT happen again.

Your Candidate for Senate,
Alfred "Lucky" Halderbach

Men's Senate

Dear Freshmen:

I am running for the office of Freshman Senator because I am very interested in the University Government and I sincerely want a chance to serve my fellow students.

If you choose me as one of your men senators I will perform every duty of this office the best that I possibly can. You can count on me to take an active part in supporting measures sponsored by the Freshman Class and I will strive to be a true representative of the Freshman. I will not be influenced by or become obligated to any one group or clique on this campus. I will also cooperate to the fullest extent with my fellow officers.

Remember—accept no others; vote for Carothers!

Graham Carothers

Men's Senate

Dear Freshman Classmate:

Today you will go to the polls to make an important decision—it will be your Freshman Senators and represent your interests during the year. I come before you as a candidate for one of the three positions as a Men's Senator.

Within the space allotted me, I can give you only briefly some of the things which I hope to accomplish if elected your Senator.

1. I shall work as your Senator for a simpler registration procedure. (Remember all of the confusion?)

2. I shall work for a stronger student government with more responsibilities.

3. I pledge to represent the freshman class fairly and conscientiously.

4. I shall work for a stronger student government with more responsibilities.

As you know, F.S.U. has experienced tremendous growth in the past few years. I know that our university is one of the finest universities in the country, and if elected your Senator I will work with other student body officers and endeavor to put F.S.U. "on top" in the nation.

Much time and thought has been spent in preparing this campaign platform, which I believe is a very sound one. I respectfully solicit your vote and active support in this campaign. We need not only your active support but that of all of your friends as well.

It is my earnest desire to have the privilege of serving you as your freshman Senator.

Very sincerely yours,
Cayle Moore

Women's Senate

Members of the Freshman Class:

My name is Bobbie Lou Lester and I am running for the office of Woman's Senate Next Tuesday you will have the opportunity of electing those who will represent our class in the Senate and the success of our class will greatly depend upon those officers. I am sincerely interested in wanting to help make our class one of the best. I hope you will give me the opportunity.

Sincerely,
Bobbie Lou Lester.

Women's Senate

Fellow Students:

I am a candidate for the office of Freshman Senator of Women's Affairs. Although while attending high school I did not receive the opportunity to serve my class on our Student Council, I nevertheless participated in various school activities which I earnestly believe serve to qualify my candidacy for the Senate.

I elected, I will endeavor to create more interest in Student government and the University and the University Senate. I sincerely want this opportunity to serve.

(Continued on Page Three)

Hi-A ... beauty bra by Maja

Broadcloth $2.95—Nylon $3.95

Bertha Cooke

McGREGOR

GINGHAM SPORTSHIRTS

Crisp quality woven cotton gingham in always smart, always wanted small neat patterns. Tab them like you would a handkerchief. Available in sparkling color combinations.

$5.95

Alford Brothers
Better Clothes For Men
212 So. Monroe

New! neat and cheery..

Photography By Glenn

Is Photography that Endures

and you can expect the sama high quality in your ID photos that you will get in the artistic portraits or group composits or candids of social functions.

Intern and ID photos are due soon, make your appointment now.

3 for $2.00

129 North Monroe
Phone 3-0115

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car
In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO
SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
"Duel At Silver Creek"
With Audie Murphy
WEDS. thru SATURDAY
John Wayne In
"Big Jim McLain"

STATE
LAST TIME TODAY
Eud Abbott and Loo
"Lost In Alaska"
WEDS. thru TUESDAY
"Just For You"
with Jane Wyman and Bing Crosby

RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
"Border Incident"
With George Murphy
THURSDAY thru SAT.
"Reunion In Reno"
Also
"Night Stage to Galveston"

DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
"Belles On Their Toes"
With Jeanne Crain and Myrna Loy
THURS. thru SAT.
"Santa Fe"
Also
"When the Redskins Rode"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Indians Surprised by Visit From Student Adventurers

Exploring the dark jungles of Panama, living among Indians, visits of unexcavated islands off of the northwest coast of Florida and enjoying a "Robinson Crusoe" existence were the summer stories of field workers from the Anthropology and Geology department.

Megan Smith, Talee Miske and Joe Steinbach, students in the department, flew from Miami to the Republic of Panama, May 12. There they contacted Dr. V. Carter, a local businessman and spent two weeks planning their trek into the unexplored jungle.

ARTIFACTS were found in the ruins of Old Panama City and the San Lorenzo, ancient cities destroyed by the pirate Henry Morgan in 1670.

They found them shifting from archeological work to substantial study—a investigation of plants and how the natives used them. In the valley of Chepo, Smith and Holden said they visited the villages of the Menimo, half-breed Indians and Spanish. By making photographs they studied the processes by which these people made implements and articles of daily living from native plants.

COLLECTIONS were made of making of a Cayuco, a dugout canoe, and processing medicinal herbs made interesting pictures that will serve as forthcoming displays for the University Museum. In all the expeditions made, four hundred kodachromes and four hundred black and white photographs were accumulated.

In another part of the world, Dr. Robert Anderson, a department faculty member, collected Plains Indian objects and records of tribal songs of the Cheyenne, Crow, and Blackfoot Indians to use for Museum exhibits. His Montana vacation netted him the first recording ever made of narratives of an old Buffalo ceremony and a corn dance, as well as recordings of Cheyenne medicine, peyote ceremony and war songs.

SPOTLIGHTED in his study were the Indians of a community of the Tongva River reservation the finished products as well as seeds and living plants from which the objects were made. The whole many of the customs of the old days survive, making it difficult for Indian Service Officials to establish sound economic programs for the betterment of the Indians.

Glenn T. Allen, graduate student, went digging on islands off the coast of Nortwest Florida, chiefly St. George, Dog and Marsh Islands. His work was to serve as part of his work for a Masters degree of Arts. Piece, of broken pottery and other artifacts found indicated that the native Indians inhabited the islands just prior to the coming of the Europeans, according to Allen.

WHILE TRAVELING between the islands, he broke the main drive shaft of his boat and was adrift for twenty hours. A prevailing wind from the south and an anchor rope helped him guide the craft safely to shore.

If Elected

(Continued From Page Two)

ove you the Freshman class of ear to an Senator.

When casting your ballot in today's election, remember this Illustrative female senator must be young and sweet sometimes stern, sometimes peute.

The pal can do most any feat.

ote for Jeanie, from St. Pete

Your support at the polls will deeply appreciated.

Thank you.

Jean Halford.

Women's Senate

To: Fellow Students:

I'd like to introduce y'all to one of the candidates for the office of Women's Senate. She is intelligent, capable, conscientious, and ambitious. If elected she will always have the time to listen to your problem large or small, and use her talents to solve them.

In the few weeks I have known her, I have found very much impressed by the sincerity of her every action, her effort on her part, and by what she could do whenever it is needed. I feel sure that this candidate would be a valuable asset to the senate if chosen to represent us freshmen in the senate elections.

The person of whom I am speaking is NANCY GRAHAM from Jacksonville, where she was secretary of her class in her senior year and also president of the Senior Girls' Club, president of the Girls' Athletic Association, and feature editor of the school annual.

So fellow frosh if you want a person in the senate who will have our interests at heart, and who will also work the hardest to preserve those interests, vote for NANCY GRAHAM as one of the freshmen women senators.

Thank you.

Ruth Kasch.

Women's Senate

To the freshman class.

Hello fellow students of Florida State University. I, Ann Scott Dickinson, better known as "Scotty", am running for the Women's Senate. I am from St. Petersburg where I was in many governmental activities including being a member of our high school senate. I feel that I am well qualified for the job of senator and would appreciate all of F S U's freshman vote.

If I am elected to the Women's Senate I promise to represent the freshman class to the best of my ability. I will always have the students' welfare at heart when any conflicting question comes to the senate affecting them.

When you go to the polls this coming Tuesday you may vote for three women and three men senators. Please vote for the largest campaign or the prettiest face. That is not an issue. Vote for the most qualified students and the ones that you think will make the additions to our University Government Association. We're not voting for fun, we're voting for a better University Government. We're voting to make our Florida State University a better university in which to attend.

I hope you will give me the opportunity to represent you, the freshmen class, in the Women's Senate for the 1952-53 school year.

Sincerely yours,

Ann "Scotty" Dickinson.

Women's Senate

Dear Editor:

It is because I believe that I have the qualifications for the office of Freshman Senator that I am writing this letter for publication in the Florida Flambeau.

I STAND for greater cooperation among students, faculty and all FSU personnel! I STAND for developing better school spirit! I STAND for the principle of doing what is best for the majority rather than pleasing a few individuals!

Honesty, dependability, capability, and keen interest are my qualifications. I am always ready to talk with the students and accept any suggestions and criticisms. I want to be their friend, striving always to fulfill their wishes.

Yours truly,

Harriet Lowe

Aviation Club Has Twenty Openings

All students interested in aviation should attend a meeting and social tomorrow night at 8 in the Trophy Room of the Student Center. The meeting is being held by the Seminola Flyers Club, Inc. to which there are openings for 20 new members.

The purpose of the club is to create interest in aviation and make it possible financially for all students who would not otherwise have the opportunity to learn flying. The instructor, G. C. Shuler, is qualified to teach students so that they may apply for all flying licenses including the commercial.

Further information can be obtained from Jacks Gunn, phone 2-1800 or ext. 2211; Blain Hennecy, 2-1091; Mrs. Marr Kreuner, ext. 4251; Tom Mauzy, 2-3429; Paul Sorapuru, ext. 5061; Dr. Kenneth Wagner, 2-8625 or ext. 4791.

FSU Artists Send Plea for 'Rubbish'

Old bed-springs, animal skulls or a Victorian vase may seem useless to many householders but Florida State University is sending out a plea for just such "worthless" materials.

Artists need inspiration, materials for design, or just something to paint. Many of the objects will be important for texture, color or unusual design and may be arranged for so-called still-life compositions. Annals of art give evidence of similar compositions that have become great works of art.

LOCAL residents are being urged to donate any articles no longer useful to them. The art department suggests children's toys, small furniture, linens, bric-a-brac, old musical instruments and other potential "objects d'art". Anyone willing to make materials available may contact bedding over FSU artists at extension 5261.

Senate Meets Today

The University Government Association Senate will meet today at 5:15 p.m. in the UGA Senate room. Pres. Mary Ruth Summers will make the opening address.

Senate meeting time has been officially set for 5:15 p.m.

Election Polls . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

Ann Brunson and Sandra Schaa', social chairman; Alla Jane Bird, Betty Ann Furman and Marjorie Faye Mangels, Senate, and Tommy Tomlin, Bobby Jones and John F. Callahan, Senate.

The polls, operated by service fraternities, Sophomore Council, Circle K and Alpha Psi Omega, are located in front of Bryan, outside the northeast section of the new men's dormitory, and inside the front entrance of the Student Center. They will close at 7 p.m. In case of a tie, Bryan precinct will be moved into the Bryan-Reynolds arcade, while the one at the men's dormitory will be set up underneath the portico on the north side.

ALL FRESHMEN must have their ID cards in order to vote. Names will be checked off a master list, and ID cards will be punched after voting.

The returns will be broadcast as they are counted, starting with the 7 p.m. newscast over WFSU. Results will be broadcast until the unofficial finals are in.

An official list of the candidates for the run-off election, Tuesday, Oct. 14, will be printed in Friday's Flambeau, after the list has been signed by UGA Pres. Mary Ruth Summers. Ducker said the runoff will be handled under identical conditions as today's elections.

STUDENT CANDIDATES were allowed to air their political views and platforms last night in a rally at the Music Amphitheater. Tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, candidates will be given time over WFSU between the hours of 7:30 to 8 for political speeches. Time limits have been set at five minutes for president; three, vice-president, and two for all other offices.

The official ballot in today's voting consists of:

PRESIDENT: (one choice) Harry Eielson, Jack Hampton, Jimmy Joanos, Gene Johnson, Charles Mann, Charles Singer and Jeff Davis.

VICE-PRESIDENT: (one choice) Tom Dicker, Anne Farber, Lincoln Hall, Jimmy and Maxey Powell.

SECRETARY: (one choice): Sue Allen, Bebe Bolger, Dorothy Lee Cooper, Ann Gwin, Lenors Hollingsworth, Carol Rodgers, Sue Ellen Steele, Louise Yarborough.

TREASURER: (one choice): Ray Baker, Donald Dunn, Jared Kay, Marion Porter, Nancy Vaughn.

PANLIAMENTARIAN: (one choice): Jo Emma Hobson, Jean Hodges, Nesse Ganzer, Laura Vincenti.

SOCIAL CHAIRMAN (one choice): Barbara Linehan, Margaret Ann McIntosh, Inia Jean Pruitt, Barbara Santana.

MEN'S SENATE (three choices): Andy Beverly, Dick Bittner, Graham Carothers, Sonny Daye, James Harvey, Coyle Moore, Richard Nasrallah, Allyn Rivers, Harry Strandhagen, Alfred Holderbach.

WOMEN'S SENATE (three choices): Orchid Alonso, Shirley Boulware, Sally Ann Davenport, Mary Louise Dee, Ann Scott Dickinson, Nathalie Emery, Nancy Graham, Joan Halford, Joan Johansen, Barbara Lou Lester, Harriet Lowe, Sue Martin, Elaine McLendon, Rose Ellen Moore, Katherine Panos, Joanz Queen, Christine Rachild, Cynthia Vance, Jane Winters, Susan Young.

VOTE TODAY

SCA Introduces Purpose, Activities

A short introduction of the purpose and campus activities of the Student Christian Association was given by Pres. Dick Schoenberger during the organization's first meeting recently.

Following this, Ken Chadwick led the group in a period of recreation. Refreshments were served.

No regular meeting will be held this Thursday, but all members and interested students are invited to come to the Longmire Lounge between 7 and 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served at that time, and the new sponsor, Don Grey, a graduate student from the University of Michigan, will be present.

Major's Club To See Olympic Game Scenes

Tomorrow the Major's Club, the professional campus organization for physical education majors, will hold their first meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the women's gymnasium.

Dr. Howard G. Danford, head of the men's physical education department, will give the address at the meeting, and Bill Roetzheim, United States Olympic gymnast, will show scenes for the 1952 Olympic games held at Helsinki. A portion of the meeting will be devoted to business matters of interest to the group.

President Hal Leddy urges all men physical education majors to show their professional spirit and interest by attending this meeting.

English Profs Speak At FSPA Convention

Dr. George Yost and Dr. Walter Blackstock, professors of English, participated in the Florida Scholastic Press Association convention Saturday on the Florida State campus.

Dr. Yost, authority on Thomas Brown, and creative writing teacher, spoke of "Getting Started in Narrative Writing." Dr. Blackstock, author of several books of poetry and a volume of selected poems to be published in January, spoke on "Appreciating and Writing Poetry in Our Time."

The FSPA convention, sponsored by the School of Journalism, was attended by scholastic editors from 20 high schools in Florida and Georgia.

Council Offers

(Continued From Page 1)

pointing up U. S. responsibility to underdeveloped areas. But we are equally concerned with recognizing our dependence upon these areas for raw materials and markets, to say nothing of the ideas and values we may learn from them."

CHIEF REQUIREMENTS of the contest are that the essays be kept to 1000 words or less and deal with the moral responsibility of the U. S. and the underdeveloped countries. Any phase of this topic can be chosen as subject for the essays.

Contest leaflets and posters announcing the contest will be sent upon request by the Point IV Essay Committee, National Council of Churches, 79 E. Adams St., Chicago 3, Illinois.

FRESHMEN!
Exercise Your Rights as Students and Citizens!
Vote in the Primaries Today!

Turner's
Featuring The completely, completely, COMPLETELY WASHABLE
our Van Gab gabardine
sport shirts by
Van Heusen
No more worries about laundrys shrinking or shoving those smart sport shirts. They take to water like a duck. Keep their bright new look as new after you've had them dry cleaned. In 27 full right shades also 35 inch sleeve lengths for tall men.
only $4.95

Beetle Bailey

You get extra comfort built right in—
ARROW GABANARO
your exact collar size and sleeve length

$6.50

Relax, brother!—is the most comfortable sports shirt you can wear. Arrow Gabanaro. With the amazing Arrafold collar that looks great—feels great—worn open or closed, with or without a tie. Washable rayon gabardine. We have all your favorite solid colors.

FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES
Mendelsen's

Time you picked on a sports shirt your own size!

Arrow Gabanaro . . . $6.50
* in your exact collar size
* your exact sleeve length
* washable rayon gabardine
ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

COLLEGE STUDENTS PREFER LUCKIES
IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette -- and by a wide margin. No. 1 reason given -- Luckies' better taste. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

STUDENTS!
Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Mail your Lucky Strike jingles. We pay $25 for every one we use. Send as many jingles as you like to: Happy-Go-Lucky, P.O. Box 67, New York 46, N.Y.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!
FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE
Be Happy-GO LUCKY!
©A.T.Co. PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company — AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Leaders Seek Agreement On Cafeteria Controversy

The University cafeteria, often before the center of controversy, is again in the limelight. This time, fortunately, representatives of the various sides have gotten together before the situation has come to a head and are seeking to make some sort of agreement.

The matter came up a week ago when Sue McGlothlin, a former dining hall employee, started a petition in the women's dormitories protesting the cost of university meals. University Government President Mary Ruth Summers took the matter to business manager Rod Shaw and on Thursday there was a meeting between several administration and student government leaders.

The dining hall problem is divided into two quite separate but important phases.

The first is the high cost situation mentioned in the petition; the second, brought up by Leah LaPlante at the Thursday meeting, is whether student help should continue to be paid in kind or should receive money for pay.

It is difficult for those not intimately connected with the cafeteria business to say that charges are too high. Wa all realize that the cost of living in general has risen considerably and that food prices have jumped perhaps the most.

But there is reason to question the charges when various eating establishments around the campus, which say in business by making comfortable profits, can offer equivalent meals at equal and lower prices.

The reason given by officials for the costs are that they hire a large number of student workers; they could cut costs, they say, by reducing the student staff and offering lower quality foodstuffs. They maintain that their influence keeps prices down elsewhere.

It is hard to see, though, how the university is going to be able to keep prices down when it is being undersold elsewhere and cannot get the business that these other places are getting.

The general feeling among students seems to be that if the University cafeterias offered special meals at somewhat lower costs, the increased patronage would more than compensate for high overhead.

The other problem is of a different nature. Student help is now being paid in meals rather than in money. There is some confusion about whether students prefer this system. The statement has been made that all assistants were canvassed and that a majority of them were in favor of keeping things as they are. Some contacted by the Flambeau, however, said they had not been approached and that they certainly would like a change.

Paying students in kind instead of money works hardships on them. Most of the time it would be just as convenient as not, but many times the student would like to eat out of town, downtown with friends or dates, or on special occasions at banquets. When th-y do that, they lose what they have a worked for.

Thus the two problems are knotty ones. The students have some real grievances, but there are many things on the other side to be considered. The administration and student leaders are to be congratulated for tackling the situation early.

important." Yes it is important, President. Social climbing is important—all of the offices are important. But what is more important is that a candidate should at least be able to define the name of the office for which he is running.

There are some good leaders running for office. Many Freshmen who have grown up in student government through High School, Scouts, Girl state and Hi-Y. These students know what the duties of a social Chairman are and know what parliamenarian means.

The voter must look for the good leaders and be sure that they belong in government before placing them there.

Be sure and vote—and vote wisely.

● VOTE WISELY

Today the largest Freshman class in the history of F.S.U. will elect their class officers for the year. Just who are the candidates running for office, where do they come from and why do they want to get elected?

Every student should take care in selecting the leaders for his class, every student should know the candidates. Any questions should be: is the candidate willing to serve the students to his best capacity; if he is not then he has no place in student government.

In past elections it has been obvious that some politicians use their positions as a fast means of becoming campus "wheels." Some candidates are used as instruments for organizations. And still others are pushed into politics by Greek brothers or sisters "for the benefit of the party." Last but not least the old standby in every election, the art of winning by a fast publicity stunt or a popularity contest.

Why do these candidates want to be elected. Every voter should know why before he votes.

It takes a lot of time, a lot of energy, a lot of patience to become a good leader. If a candidate does not have the needed time to devote to student problems, he should not run for office. If he does not know the responsibilities of his office he does not belong there.

For instance, on the last day for qualifying to run for office, a group of freshmen came hurrying in to file. Their overbeard remarks were: "What office are you running for?" "I don't know yet, what offices are there?" "What does a parliamentarian do?" "I don't know but it sounds

HOPE FOR GRADS

The probing fingers of survey conductors have unearthed a hand-full of hope for the college student who looks toward graduation as "the end of the world."

Apparently all is not dark on the outside. In fact, only one per cent of the national collegiate class of 1951 is currently unemployed, according to a survey taken by the National Scientific Register.

The Register, a federal agency, found that 63 per cent of the male graduates are employed, 18 per cent are in military service, and 17 per cent are in graduate or professional school.

Almost all those employed are doing work which requires college training. The remainder are engaged in such obviously non-professional jobs as "laborer," "taxi driver," or "tourist guide."

A college fraternity in Alabama was shut down by the school authorities when it was learned the house-mother was 19 years old.

HAVE YOU LOST ANYTHING?

Try to find it by using the Classified Section of the FLAMBEAU.

The Flambeau is the place to advertise.

- BOOKS
- RIDES HOME
- ROOMS
- TYPEWRITERS
- AND MOST ANYTHING FOR THE STUDENTS

EXTENSION 4821

FLAMBEAU CLASSIFIED

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

CIVILIZATION GOING CHLOROPHYLL CRAZY

By FRANCES CAWTHON

A move should be made to counteract this "back to nature" trend.

All the plants in the vegetable kingdom are probably sitting back on their stems and dying of laughter. We, this high civilization, are dead. Chlorophyll crazy.

This green stuff that gives plants color is beginning to dominate our eating, breathing and teeth brushing. You can't get away from it. Big business firms have seized upon it as being the "greatest aid to nature's products," and all manufacturers are hastily adding green coloring to everything they produce.

In view of all this, it is a wonder why the Marketing Department doesn't take advantage of the opportunity and open up a classified "Marketing Chlorophyll Products 383" with a prerequisite of "Advertising for Chlorophyll-384." It seems quite the field today.

No product is complete anymore unless it is a green. Na matter if Mildly Soap doesn't get grease out or doesn't lather, if what ads that do result are green, it is bound to be an overnight sensation with the ladies who do the laundry. Its manufacturers will make millions.

Nowadays you are certain to be the victim of BO, unless your deodorant contains chlorophyll. You are lucky if a girl even breath if you haven't first chewed a package of chlorophyll chewing gum or taken chlorophyll tablets.

To me this just doesn't make sense. Some of the most vile smelling things in the world are plants. If chlorophyll doesn't do any good, why ruin our lives with it?

Oh, and we mustn't forget toothpaste. The other day I was standing at a counter when a girl asked for some toothpaste. "this white kind, please," "White kind?" the pleasantly surprised clerk. "You mean you don't want chlorophyll?"

"No." "But why?" asked the clerk. By now a little audience had gathered. Everybody was wondering why anyone would be so stupid as to not want chlorophyll in their toothpaste.

"I'm just a little tired of it." the girl answered sheepishly. "But, dear," was the tolerant reply, "don't you know chlorophyll is a much better for you . . . it improves the product so much."

The girl finally got her white toothpaste, but she left amid mumbles of "these people who are part of the resistance of progress."

I would not be surprised to hear of a movement among the national woolen manufacturers to change the name of kelly green to Young Republican Federation.

Dear Editor . . .

Aid Solicited

Dear Editor:

The Eisenhower bandwagon is rolling toward a victory on November 4th. In principle, I would be a victory for liberty as against authoritarian statism—a victory for individual freedom of opportunity in the economic and social worlds as opposed to socialized control by the few in a corrupt administration. I am looking toward a securer America which will hereafter consult its Congress before experimenting abroad and scoinored wars as the Korean War.

This letter is written for the purpose of soliciting aid of students in forming a Young Republican Club at your University without delay. Whoever is ready to forward the IKe campaign will write immediately to Young Republican Federation, 346 Grove Street North, St. Petersburg, Florida. You will receive aid and literature and speakers if desired. The purpose of the club A two party system is achieved by uniting with those for IKE clubs in furtherance of your beliefs.

So, for everyone interested or conscious of the need for a Republican victory plan a meeting, electioneering and write to the address above today. Your project will be of value to you, your state, and your nation.

Yours truly,

Bud Sohngen, State Chairman College Activities Committee Young Republican Fed. of Fla.

Enjoyed Playing

Dear fellow students:

During the past several years we have enjoyed playing for numerous campus dances, however, during the last we believe all of us enjoyed the social hours together. I have every intention of showing you the amount of compensation has not been commensurate with the cost of operation and have decided to seek work elsewhere was made necessary because most of our members depend largely upon the income of income to meet school expenses.

We have set up a standard of pay for our organizations which we believe to be fair. It is as follows:

2 hour dance
Regents 110 pcs $110.00
Georgie Bee 12 pcs $120 00
4 hour dance
Regents 12 pcs $130.00
Georgie Bee 12 pcs $150.00

We sincerely hope that this policy will again make it possible for us to 'come home—we like it here but we've got to eat.

Randy Canfield—The Regents Georgie Bee .

Agrees With Article

Dear Miss Cawthon.

I have just read your article in the Florida Flambeau of October 3rd. It is true that a great deal of joy to find some one else who thinks along the same line as I do. I'm referring to the idea of having some male cheerleaders. I think it is wrong, as at present cheerleaders are doing a pretty fair job of leading the squads. Florida State University is a young school, and we have yet to see what we are playing on this year's football roster. I for one, think we need to get some pep out from the grandstands to help loosen some of this "School Spirit."

It is a very hard thing to put your finger on, but there is something about the male cheerleader that can make a crowd yell and scream and really let it be known that the stands aren't full of just "Bumps on logs."

As was said in your column, the certain school to the south of us has lagged Florida State as far as school spirit is concerned for plenty of them, how about putting them out front?

Yours truly,
Patty Jane Bixler.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

SMATHERS' CAMPAIGN WORKERS HOLD REUNION

By SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS
(Written exclusively for Florida's College Newspapers)

MIAMI.—The stalwart group of Floridians who helped elect me effectively together more than two years ago has just completed its second reunion.

Sloan McCrea, who directed my campaign for the Senate in Dade County in 1950, generously invited me and many of the key workers in that campaign to attend a fight to a two-day get together at Miami Beach.

Sloan is the perfect host, and had an entertaining and refreshing program for us from Saturday at the beautiful and modern Eliot Waters hotel on the ocean front.

We missed those who could not respond to Sloan's invitation, but there was an even larger crowd than last year's meeting. It was a real pleasure for me once again to enjoy the fellowship of those Floridians who take their citizenship seriously, and my gratitude for their friendship and loyalty was renewed.

Grant Stockdale, who went with me to Washington to be my congressional assistant and who is now commissioner of Dade County, helped Sloan with the 1952 arrangements. Helen Gillen of Tallahassee, our "Girl Friday" handled the details of the party and made its success possible.

Guests began reporting in Friday afternoon and almost a "full house" was on hand for dinner Friday night and the football game at the Orange Bowl at Miami's Bawl stadium. Arrangements had been made with the University of Miami for a reserved section and we all had seats together in the Miami-Alabama game.

On Saturday morning, I had the privilege of being host at a breakfast for the group at the McFadden-Deauville hotel. We talked together informality of the events of the past year and Sloan called upon several members of my staff for introductions. My remarks were brief and the entire affair was informal and devoted largely to yarn-swapping.

Saturday afternoon, arrangements had been made for chartering of The Shamrock, a sight-seeing vessel, which took about 100 of the guests on a three trip through the islands in Biscayne Bay and vicinity. Then Saturday evening, the Dade County group got together for a "dutch treat" party at the Miami Yacht Club, on the Dade County causeway.

The entire weekend was "nonpolitical" and we believe all of us enjoyed the social hours together. I have every intention of showing you the amount of compensation has not been commensurate with the cost of operation and have decided to seek work elsewhere was made

PLAYBITS

NOT A SINGLE DUD SHOWED UP!

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Conradi was certainly reekins with talent this week. In two nights of auditions over 60 hundred people read and the results of these readings were quite unusual. Not a single dud showed up! The quality of the auditions was definite of the "cream of the crop"—rather amazing, especially considering the large number of people in attendance.

And don't get the idea that these folks were all speech majors, for quite the contrary! Commerce and fields were as varied as their home states. From all parts of the east and west they came. From the science, English, classics and music departments.

Some had semi-professional experience while others with outstanding little theatres throughout the country. Others has had extensive radio and/or sound training. They wanted to sing, dance, act, work crew and just help generally. And they all seemed them with open arms!

Many of some of these people wish special talents brings up point number one for today: if you have one of the particular misfits in fields other than acting and think we can make use of them in the production this year, come tell us about them.

It isn't just all acting. For instance, there were so many people with dance training at try-outs that a dance sequence may be incorporated into the January show, "Timing of the Others." This is still in just the planning and speculating stage but it is a possibility.

Tonight there's a meeting at 7:30 in Conradi of all the people who have auditioned to date. Everybody, that 's! The main purpose of the meeting is to further acquaint both old and new aspirants to the drama with the various (and numerous theatrics) activity, and to give them information on future readings. This will include talk about the experimental series as well as the major productions. Then too, we'd like you to meet the new members and the officers of Les Jongleurs.

Remember, one more number two: Get the call board habit! That's the bulletin board outside the office where you can find out all the theatrical notices. Check it every day. It may be important to you.

Mr. Reimer has posted a tentative time schedule for working crews and we may go on Sunday a time open for everyone who wants to come down to the shop and help generally. Watch the "Torchbearers" begins this week and if you're an actor with a time, come hammer and painti The shop will be open evenings, Mon. through Thurs. and Sunday.

Seems the history building is full of "really astounding" this semester, too. On Thursday, October 16, the Department of Speech is holding an Open House and everyone is invited to come ever. It's a departmental affair but we'd like to stress the drama area's part. At this time there will be many places open to the public that ordinarily aren't.

You will be able to go through the costuming room, the dressing rooms, the make-up room, the shop and all the other areas of backstage. These tours of the drama area will be guided and you'll learn a lot about backstage as you go along. The many exhibits will certainly stimulate interest in productions, too.

'Flags West' Showing

"Two Flags West," free movie, plays tonight at 7:30 in Soutli Conradi.

The movie will be shown Wednesday at Magnolia Hall; Thursday, Senior Hall and Friday, at 6 p.m. Music Amphitheater.

Playmakers Will Hold Meeting Wednesday

The Tallahassee Playmakers will hold their first meeting next Wednesday, October 15, at 8 p.m. in the faculty lounge at the Longmire building.

Plans for organizing a playreading group will be discussed. Also a start will be made toward the year's drama and dance entrance.

All faculty and staff members and their husbands and wives are invited to attend.

Flambeau Staff Meets

All Flambeau reporters and members of the business staff are urged to come to a short meeting this afternoon at 5 in the Flambeau office, second floor Longmire Building.

Students who do not work on the newspaper, but are interested are also asked to 'come

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS BENEY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Gaskins
Sports Editor ..... Jim Cosby, Jr.
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simons
Feature Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Perrin
Reporter ..... John Hargeaves

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York.

Telephone 5-8196, Extension 4261 Second Floor Alumni Bldg

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Classified Ads

FOR RENT — Single and double rooms also furnished apartments and utilities furnished. Opposite colleee library. 642 West Jefferson. Phone 5-4037.

LOST—Black pocketbook in the Amber Winter Prom return to Sue Chandler. Reynolds Hall

LOST—One Theta Chi frat pin. Reward. Please call Bill Skipper at the Theta Chi house 3-1231.

FOR SALE: My equity in 49 Packard, $295. Must sell. May be seen at Bldg. 394 Room 115 or phone Tommy Bruckner at 3-3966 after 5:30.

Dear Editor . . .

Aid Solicited

Dear Editor:

The Eisenhower bandwagon is rolling toward a victory on November 4th. In principle, it would be a victory for liberty as against authoritarian statism—a victory for individual freedom of opportunity in the economic and social worlds as opposed to socialized control by the few in a corrupt administration. I am looking toward a securer America which will hereafter consult its Congress before experimenting abroad and scoinored wars as the Korean War.

This letter is written for the purpose of soliciting aid of students in forming a Young Republican Club at your University without delay. Whoever is ready to forward the IKe campaign will write immediately to Young Republican Federation, 346 Grove Street North, St. Petersburg, Florida. You will receive aid and literature and speakers if desired. The purpose of the club A two party system is achieved by uniting with those for IKE clubs in furtherance of your beliefs.

So, for everyone interested or conscious of the need for a Republican victory plan a meeting, electioneering and write to the address above today. Your project will be of value to you, your state, and your nation.

Yours truly,

Bud Sohngen, State Chairman College Activities Committee Young Republican Fed. of Fla.

Enjoyed Playing

Dear fellow students:

During the past several years we have enjoyed playing for numerous campus dances, however, during the last we believe all of us enjoyed the social hours together. I have every intention of showing you the amount of compensation has not been commensurate with the cost of operation and have decided to seek work elsewhere was made necessary because most of our members depend largely upon the income of income to meet school expenses.

We have set up a standard of pay for our organizations which we believe to be fair. It is as follows:

2 hour dance
Regents 110 pcs $110.00
Georgie Bee 12 pcs $120 00
4 hour dance
Regents 12 pcs $130.00
Georgie Bee 12 pcs $150.00

We sincerely hope that this policy will again make it possible for us to 'come home—we like it here but we've got to eat.

Randy Canfield—The Regents Georgie Bee .

Agrees With Article

Dear Miss Cawthon.

I have just read your article in the Florida Flambeau of October 3rd. It is true that a great deal of joy to find some one else who thinks along the same line as I do. I'm referring to the idea of having some male cheerleaders. I think it is wrong, as at present cheerleaders are doing a pretty fair job of leading the squads. Florida State University is a young school, and we have yet to see what we are playing on this year's football roster. I for one, think we need to get some pep out from the grandstands to help loosen some of this "School Spirit."

It is a very hard thing to put your finger on, but there is something about the male cheerleader that can make a crowd yell and scream and really let it be known that the stands aren't full of just "Bumps on logs."

As was said in your column, the certain school to the south of us has lagged Florida State as far as school spirit is concerned for plenty of them, how about putting them out front?

Yours truly,
Patty Jane Bixler.

State Theatre Features New Hollywood Musical This Week

Jane Wyman sheds her middle-aged-motherly roles to don ruffled tights for her latest Hollywood musical "Just For You" which opens at the State Theater tomorrow. The new production also features Bing Crosby and Ethel Barrymore.

Bing and Jane have proved themselves to be a hard-to-beat combination of talent and charm and Miss Wyman, who soon movie fame as a dramatic actress, surprised Hollywood by suddenly blossoming out as a singer opposite Bing in "Here Comes the Groom."

Actually while it may not be generally known, during her pre-Hollywood days she did a little singing with several bands but dropped her career in favor of straight acting.

In "Just For You" Jane again proves that she can sing a romantic duet. "Zing a Little Zong" which is even outstripping in popularity your favorite of 1952 "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening."

The new movie reveals Jane as a shapely musical comedy star who impresses director-producer-composer boss Bing Crosby.

DYNAMIC film lady of the drama, Ethel Barrymore is seen as the fun-loving owner of a fashionable school for girls. Others in the film are Natalie Wood, Cole Wood and Bob Arthur.

"Just For You" is based on Stephen Vincent Benet's "Famous" and was directed by stage-and-screen personality Elliott Nugent.

UNCLE SAM said "no-get-em" and John Wayne was the man they sent as "Big Jim McLain" a tomorrow's feature film at the Florida

Nancy Olson provides the romance and James Arness also stars in the mystery-adventure picture story filmed in Hawaii.

AS A trouble-shooting special agent assigned to his investigation of a world-wide terror ring headquartered in Hawaii, John Wayne plays one of the most two-fisted roles of his career. The plot of the movie involves his dis-

University In Japan Needs Student Aid

A nationwide appeal to American students to contribute to a scholarship fund for the further support of the International Christian University in Japan is being made this year, according to an announcement made recently by Ruth Miller of the ICU Foundation in New York.

Miss Miller, who will direct the ICU student campaign, said the young institution is "already the class mates on dollar groups throughout the country early in the Nation's summer. It is sponsored by fifty college and university presidents in the United States.

Inshore Oceanography To Be Lecture Topic

Dr. F W. Olson, research associate in Oceanography, will present a lecture today on "Inshore Oceanography" at 4 p.m. in Room 124 of the Science building.

Dr. Olson and his talk will illustrate the impact of inshore oceanography upon aviation and meteorology, and how pilots and meteorologists may make important contributions to the development of inshore Oceanography, a relatively new field.

This lecture is being presented by the FSU meteorology department for their weekly seminar.

Religious Drama Club Begins Open Meeting

The Wesley Players, the religious drama organization of Wesley Foundation, will begin open meetings on Thursday, Oct. 9, at 9:30 p.m. at the student house for those interested in joining.

In order to be taken in as a pledge, it is necessary to attend three out of four of the open meetings.

Thursday night a cutting from Dickens "Christmas Carol" will be presented to demonstrate the practical aspects of staging. All succeeding meetings costuming, scenery and lighting will be explained.

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

On a radio broadcast Saturday, before the Louisville game, the athletic director of that institution claimed that our quarterback "is the best passer in the country." Of course he was referring to James Unitas.

It's evident that the above utterance is colored by exaggeration and bias. It's quite common for coaches and those directly concerned with the football team to heap lavish praise on one of their stars. But it would not be exaggerating to say that Mr. Unitas was the finest passer to throw football against a Florida State football team. The slim quarterback from Pittsburg, Pa., showed the 10,000 fans in Campbell, Saturday night, how the duties of a T-Formation quarterback are performed.

In piloting the Kentucky school to victory, Unitas threw 22 passes and completed 15 of them, which is a percentage of .681. Last week in his first game of the year, he completed 9 passes for a .500 percentage. Percentages like the above are comparable to batting .400 in baseball . . . phenomenal, in other words.

Unitas is just picking up where he left off last season. When he came off the bench as a frosh and led the Cardinals to four straight triumphs. In the six games (4 last year and the two this season) he has started, Unitas has thrown 6 touchdown passes and completed 46 out of 99 attempts.

Not only is the fact that he has connected on half of his passes he's tossed remarkable, but the manner in which he's gotten them off is also remarkable. Many were the times, in the Saturday game, when Unitas was literally swarmed under and still got off his pass. On one play he was piled up but still managed to flip the ball underhand to the receiver. He exhibited the coolness that even seasoned veterans sometimes lack. It was apparent that charging linemen seldom distracted Unitas when he was looking for receivers.

But it's too late now to worry about Unitas, the trouble before this season is over, the Seminoles will encounter passers of the same cast as Unitas.

Unitas's companion in offensive power, Jim Williams, brought to light the weakness in the FSU defensive backfield. On both of William's long runs (68 and 44 yards) he ran hit a couple of times but still remained on his feet. After he got past the linebackers, he made his yardage without much aid from blocking. He carried on sheer power. William's success can in part be attributed to the fact that he out-weighed most of the Seminole backs by around 20 pounds. So it's apparent that a little more heft is needed behind the linebackers.

* * *

In one of the many football magazines to be found on the newsstands now-a-days there is list ranking just about every team in the country. Ranking 114 is Florida State just think, FSU is picked to finish 114th in the nation. Well, dear readers don't put too much stock in the above, because it seems to lack accuracy. For instance Louisville is ranked 120 . . . six places below FSU. Michigan State is ranked fifth (they're No. 1 now) and Georgia Tech is ranked tenth (they're second).

Indians Scalped For Second Time; 41-13

Yanks Even Series With 3-2 Victory

SATURDAY NIGHT ACTION—In the FSU-Louisville game. In the top picture, the Kentuckians' rampaging fullback, Jim Williams is shown picking up part of 152 yards he made during the game. Closing in on him is back John Grimm. In the bottom picture, FSU's Johnny Lee Taylor, with outstretched arms waits for a Thompson pass. But he missed it as Rivers (84) breaks up the play. Photo by Allen Rubin.

BROOKLYN (AP)—A pair of mighty homers by Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle snatched a pair by Brooklyn's Duke Snider today but the Yankees beat the Dodgers, 3 to 2, in the sixth game of the World Series and square the series at three victories for each team.

Sixth Inning Dodgers

Snider homered over the right field screen to put the Dodgers ahead, 1-0. It was Snider's third homer of the series. It was the series' 11th homer, tying the 6-game record of the 1936 Yankees-Giants series.

Robinson flied out to Woodling. Shuba struck out.

Campbella was tossed out by Raschi.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Seventh Inning Yankees

Berra hammered over the right field screen making it 1-1. This tied the 7-game series home run record set by Washington and Pittsburgh in 1925.

The Dodger bullpen got busy.

Woodling sangled to center. He moved to second when Low dropped the ball and was charged with a ball.

Noren struck out.

Martin popped to Cox.

Raschi's box grounder bounced off Loes' knee into short right for a single, scoring Woodling to put the Yanks ahead, 2-1.

McDougald walked on four pitches.

Rizzuto grounded out, Cox to Hodges.

Two runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

Eighth Inning Yankees

Mantle homered into the lower stands in left-center, setting a new series home run record of 19.

Mize popped to Hodges.

Berra flied to Snider.

Woodling walked.

Noren singled, Woodling stopping at second.

Martin dribbled out, Cox to Hodges.

One run, two hits, no errors,t wo left.

Eighth Inning Dodgers

Collins replaced Mize at first for the Yanks.

Reese bounced out, Rizzuto to Collins.

Snider hit his second homer over the right field screen and scoreboard. It was his fourth of the series, tying the record held by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1926.

Robinson flied to Woodling.

Shuba doubled to left-center.

Alle Reynolds relieved Raschi. Campanella struck out.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Unitas, Williams Pace Winners In FSU's Second Straight Loss

The road for the Florida State football team gets rougher with each Saturday . . . last week in the season opener they were beaten, 32 to 13 by a good Louisiana Tech team. In their second game, Saturday night, the Seminoles, showing an improvement over their first game, were again defeated. This time by the University of Louisville. The score was 41 to 14 and the defeat marked the first time an FSU team has lost two straight home contests.

In winning the victory, the Cards spearheaded by the deadly accurate passing of John Unitas and the bone?crushing running of 210 pound fullback Jim Williams. These two were almost the sole ingredients of the Cardinal offense. Unitas, only a sophomore, completed 15 passes out of 22 attempts, including two touchdown throws. His passing accounted for 195 yards of the total offense.

The other part of the offense, fullback Jim Williams, gained 142 yards by his bull-like running. He also scored three of the Cardinal's 6 touchdowns on runs of 44, 68 and 61 yards.

FOR THE FIRST eight minutes, the contest was fought on fairly even terms with neither team able to get an offense started. Then, after Tommy Brown punted to the second time, the Cardinals beg nto roll. From their own 42 yard line they pushed to the FSU 26 in three plays all run by Williams. A 15 yard penalty and an incomplete pass stalled them momentarily, but on third down with 28 yards to go, Unitas flipped a short screen pass to Williams who galloped 44 yards for a touchdown behind a wall of blockers. The conversion was good and Louisville led 7 to 0.

The Seminoles came roaring back, as Roy Thompson took the kick-off and scampered 30 yards, but a Seminole clipping penalty moved the ball back to the 49. From here the Seminoles, with fresh fullback Stan Dobos doing most of the running, got down to the Louisville 13 yard stripe where the drive stalled and the Cardinals took over.

Unitas' passing accounted for Louisville's second TD. He passed for a total of 36 yards in the eighty yard drive including a 14-yard touchdown toss to end Dava Rivenbark. Rivenbark converted for his second of five conversions for the night.

Following an exchange of punts, FSU 16 yard touchdown drive pulled through the muddle for the TD. The ball ended with the score at 21 to 7.

The scoring pattern in the second half was the same as the first, with the Cardinals scoring twice in the third and once in the fourth quarter.

The two Cardinal TDs came as a direct result of Seminole passes an intercepted pass. The first bobble occurred when Curt Campbell dropped the ball after catching back a Cardinal punt. Louisville recovered but could go nowhere so they were forced to punt again.

Their second fumble was the costly one . . . for it happened after the Seminoles had driven to the Louisville 26-yard line. The drive was sparked by Tommy Brown's 20-yard run and Stan Dobous's smashes over the middle. But their efforts were wasted when Dick Turk fumbled a poor snap for center and Louisville recovered. On the third play after recovering the Cardinals scored as Mr. Williams lumbered 68 yards through the Seminole defensive backfield.

Minutes later tragedy struck again. On the first play after the kickoff, a Roy Thompson screen pass was intercepted by Bob Lechvar and returned to the FSU 4. A Lay penalty moved it to the 1 yard stripe from where Wyman Tomwell scored.

The rest ended the scoring in the third quarter, but right after the last stanza started, the Kentuckians added their last touchdown five minutes before the game ended. Using a line-up liberally sprinkled with freshmen, coach Don Veller's aridmen took the kickoff to the FSU 43 yard line. From there it took them ten plays to score. Al Wodham made 16. Freshman Billy Rabon passed for another ten yards to Curt Campbell. Then a pushing penalty and an interference penalty against Louisville gave the Seminoles 35 free yards, putting the ball on the Cardinal 10. Two plays later Thompson scored from three yards out.

Although the Seminoles showed more aggressiveness and played better ball than in their opening contest, they were beaten by a team superior to Louisiana Tech. A defensive weakness was still evident, particularly in the defensive backfield. The winners rolled up 452 yards, passing and running, with their spread T-formation. That total is a hundred more yards than the Seminoles piled up. Only 29 yards were made on pasing by the Seminoles.

Next Friday night, the Florida State eleven will be after their first victory of the season when they face the Virginia Military Institute. VMI is a member of the Southern Conference and they tied for first place in it last year.

The Arkansaw Traveler

By PAT HOGAN

TUESDAY TITBITS . . . AFTER SATURDAY'S SADNESS—"Unitas we stand, divided we fall." That's the new twist to an age-old adage circulating today, especially within the ivy-covered walls of the University of Louisville.

Anyone who had a ringside seat at the FSU-Louisville football doings at Doak S. Campbell Stadium last Saturday night knows the saying has reference to one Johnny Unitas, the U. of Louisville quarterback who starred in the shadows of Guy Mitchell's Pittsburgh, Pa., township.

What the Florida State U. athletes, coaches and fandom don't know, however, is the big iron bird which brought the Cardinals to Tallahassee came to earth, was that Mr. Unitas was carrying a membership card of the Hialeah Kibitz Klub. Tony knew it when the plane started its return flight.

For Unitas staged a performance of passing wizardry Saturday which would put even Maudrais to shame. When the air was once again calm, this Unitas character had completed 15 of 22 passes, three of them for touchdowns, and had field-pranked the "Yankees" to a 41-13 conclusion.

We figure it was a little unfair for the Louisville receiver to have radar sets taped under their shoulder pads, but the way Unitas was throwing, it wouldn't have made much difference.

In fact, Unitas has been throwing so many passes on the run rumor is that Casey Stengel and Charley Dressen fought a recess battle for his services, only to discover Johnny was ineligible for World Series play.

And to think the guy is only a sophomore and that he'll be around to agravate most of the hearts of ulcer-laden coaches for days to come.

That prompts us to pen the following verse, in memory of Johnny Unitas, which goes like this:

THE PASSER'S POME.

John does not worry
Or get in a hurry
Whenever the Cards do stall,
And passing's so great
It must be that late
Is taking a ride with the ball.

Starts Today

Murals Open With Touch Football

BY ART KENNERLY

With the arrival of cool and invigorating football, the local fall favorite once more has evolved from the social to the athletic.

The 31-52 interfraternity circuit, Alpha Tau Omega galloped into the trophy with Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Nu, Kappa Sig and Sigma Alpha Epsilon quick on their heels. Only a second behind it wound up twelfth in the curious sportsmanship union.

Winner Phi Kappa Tau showed fast in clean play.

Last year's ATO also copped the crown once before—in '48. Last year's runner-up, Phi Delt, came in first place twice before—'47 and '49, while KA had a fickle first place position—'50.

Before the curtain rises to relive the initial pigskin activities on the campus trots, Although last year's mural champions will be defending champions, they will be assailed by the aid of Minerva and Leo, ran the show.

The king of the bowling alleys was Sigma Nu, with Kappa Sig and Phi Delt rolling into the second and third spots.

Back in the shadows stands the memories of last year's Campus football record. Often an indicator of good things to come, this year's murals may aid the football prophets in forecasting the outcome of the coming year.

Last year Pi Kappa Phi ripped its way to victory over all comers on the football field, while Phi Delta Theta and Theta Chi romped into the second and third slots respectively.

Whether these three are as strong this year as they were last year remains to be seen.

SIGMA CHI IF IT'S a little out of season. other phases of '51-'52 came out like this:

In tennis singles the Phi Delts awaited their way into the winning spot, while the rebellious rebels of KA were runner-up. In tennis doubles ATO smirched the first place mark, as the drawl of KA was heard again in second place. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with the aid of Minerva and Leo, ran the show.

The king of the bowling alleys was Sigma Nu, with Kappa Sig and Phi Delt rolling into the second and third spots.

The Theta Chi used this bird to good advantage to come from behind to win the badminton crown.

The boys from the Sigma Nu house outran everyone else in track, but ATO and SAE came close when they tied for second. Sigma Chu was third.

Pi Kappa Phi captured its second first place position in volleyball. Just behind came two ties for KA and ATO for second place, and SAE and Sigma Phi Epsilon for third.

The Southern Gentlemen of KA clubbed their way to victory over the favored SAE to take the golf title, while Sigma Nu putted second.

The athlete ATOs gribbled into the basketball finals, while the rebels of KA were stopped by the stampeding SPE elephant and third notch Lambda Chi Alpha.

In swimming events Theta Chi splashed everyone else out of the pool to reun as champs of the H2O. Phi Delt and ATO dogpaddled in the two runnerups.

Led by rifle-armed John Newland, the Sigma Nus outclassed completely all opposition on the diamond to walk off with the softball race. ATO ran second, and Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Chi tied for third.

Disinterest keynoted the Dormitory League Throughout last year. Some think that the much needed spring of energy and interest will bubble forth this year. At any rate, to improve the league over last year's showing will take a lot of work.

But, why worry? The treadmill has already started to roll. Besides it's a rough war, Tom. Even the birds are walking.

October 9 football schedule: Phi Delt vs. SAE; Pi K A vs SPE, Delta T Delta vs. Sigma Chi; Theta Chu vs. ATO, Phi Kappa Tau vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

Seminole Opponents Score Varied Success

With FSU's schedule looming bigger and bigger, the Seminoles will be greatly interested in how their opponents are doing while they themselves are doing battle on the gridiron.

Last week, FSU's next opponent, Virginia Military Institute, resumed their initial win of the season, as they overpowered Richmond by 28-14. VMI has dropped games to William and Mary, 34-13, and Miami, 45-6.

North Carolina State, following VMI, took the undefeated Georgia last week and were unable to score as the Bulldogs racked up seven touchdowns and seven conversions to remain atop the SEC.

Bleston, after losing to strong Florida, 32-6, returned to the high scoring form they displayed all last year, to romp North Eastern Louisiana 40-20.

Mississippi Southern, after losing their season opener to Alabama, 20-6, turned on the steam to outscore Tampa 52-25.

Furman brought their win-loss record to one and one, as they lost to South Caroline, 27-7. The Purple Hurricanes stunned Newberry 47-6 the week before.

Georgia Tech, the goliath amoung giants on FSU's bigtime schedule, overpowered their third straight foe, beating Southern Methodist 20-7. Previously they had edged Florida 17-14 and plastered Citadel 54-6.

Wofford lost their opener to South Carolina 33-0, but returned to the win column with wins over Elon and Presbyterian.

Tampa, romped by Mississippi Southern 52-25 last week, had previously beaten Troy State 7-0 and South Georgia, 66-6.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Convertable Listed As One of Prizes For Cotton Maid

A streamlined new 1953 Ford convertible will be one of the gifts to the 1953 Maid of Cotton, the National Cotton Council announced.

Memphis district Ford dealers will present the 15th Maid with the new car as a symbol of the close working relationship between cotton and the automotive industry. The automotive industry is the largest cotton customer, with an annual consumption rate of close to 7?0,000 bales.

A certificate of award will be presented to the girl who is chosen 1953 Maid of Cotton when her name is announced at contest finals in Memphis' Ellis Auditorium December 30. The car itself will be delivered to the Maid approximately six months from that date when her goodwill and fashion tour is completed.

Entries are now being accepted for the 1953 Maid of Cotton contest, the Cotton Council reported. Deadline for entries is midnight Dec. 1. All applications must be postmarked before that date.

Any girl born in a cotton-producing state who is between the ages of 18-25 years, who has never been married, and who is at least 5'3" tall is eligible to become Maid of Cotton. Entry forms may be obtained from the National Cotton Council P. O Box 18, Memphis 1, Tenn.

Campus capers call for Coke

There's bedlam in the stands when the team is on a march to the goal. Keep things going! Refresh now and then with a frosty bottle of delicious Coca-Cola.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental price!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

Dine with us in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
Fried Beef
Bar-B-Q Pork Chops
Oysters
Beef Hash
We Specialize in Hamburgs Made Home Style Every Weekend

Reservists Change To Tally Company

Three Florida State students have moved their Naval Reserve memberships to Organized Electronics Company 6-3 in Tallahassee.

They are Argyll M. Smith Jr., seaman apprentice, Jay Patrick Perkins, seaman recruit, and Maurice Hennrix, all of Freshman Hall. All are former members of the Organized Surface Division 1-16, Daytona Beach.

The Tallahassee company meets 1 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Naval Reserve building at Dale Mabry Field. Members draw a day's pay for each drill.

Company officers include Comdr. James H. Faulkner, FSU doctoral student, training officer, and Lt. (j.g.) Jim Sellers, FSU Journalism lecturer, executive officer.

Pledges Are Feted

At the conclusion of their pledging ceremony last Sunday morning, the Alpha Chi Omegas rave a breakfast in honor of their new pledges. Following breakfast, the chapter attended church together.

They spent Friday night at Camp Flastacowo. Also planned is a supper for the pledge class to be given by the actives.

Department Pleads For Dated Clothes

The department of speech requests that all students and faculty members donate old, out-of-style clothes so that they may be made into costume wardrobes.

The speech department members will pick up the clothing after donors call ext. 2051.

Anything can be remodeled to create a period effect for the theater, they say, including hats, feathers, gloves, skirts and dresses. The department is particularly interested in costumes of the early 1920's, as its first public presentation will be George Kelly's "The Torch Bearers," a play which is in the setting of the early twenties.

FSU Professor Writes Article For Magazine

"If Your Child Stutters," an article by Dr. Gregg Phifer, assistant professor of speech at the Florida State University, appeared in the September issue of The Christian Home.

Declaring that the evidence shows that stutterers are made, not born, Dr. Phifer warns that even the best-intentioned Christian parent may unwittingly make his child a stutterer.

Cavalier Tryouts Set for Late Nov.

Cavaliers, Men's dance honorary, discussed plans for a busy year at the first business meeting of the year.

Final arrangements will be made at the next meeting for the free dancing lessons given in conjunction with Cotillion, women's dance honorary through the year. These lessons will be given each Tuesday and Thursday night from 7 to 9 p.m. at the new Student Center, beginning Tuesday, October 14 and continuing for 5 weeks. The Student Center will be a welcome change over the Student Union on West Campus where the dance instruction has formerly been held.

Ralph Atwell and Vic Holloway, tapped last year by Cavaliers, will be initiated into the group next Tuesday evening at the next meeting.

Tryouts for Cavaliers will be held late in November. This year's freshman men have shown much interest in Cavaliers and many promising dancers have been spotted on campus. Keen competition for a large tap class is expected.

Final arrangements for securing Cavalier pins will be made at next Tuesday's meeting, and the annual Bandsingur production will be discussed for which the Cavaliers traditionally volunteer.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Sweater Queen

WINNER IN WOOL—Jeanne Davis, 22-year-old hazel-eyed blonde from Opp, Alabama, is the proud winner of the title "Miss Sweater Girl, 1952." Chosen from a field of 500 aspirants in the annual Sweater Girl competition, she is seen here in her sparkling crown and soft, all-wool turtle-neck sweater which helped her catch the judges eyes.

Germans Observe FSU's Education

Three German teachers under sponsorship of the U. S. State Department were recently on the Florida State campus to observe the system of education here.

Members of the faculty volunteered to show the Misses Anneliese Hehm, Hildegarde Braeuer and Paula Stolz the various departments and gave them an academic tour of FSU.

The three teachers who are also interested in student government and student publications, had dinner with UGA President, Mary Ruth Summers, Thursday night.

Today they took a tour of the sculpture studio, art gallery, student internship program, Florida A and M. College for Negroes, Flambeau office, WFSU studios and the School of Music.

Alpha Kappa Psi Business Fraternity Sponsors Dinner

The Beta Psi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, invited rushees to a buffet supper recently in the Suwannee Room.

Fred Brinkman was elected as delegate and Doyle Hutto as alternate to represent the Beta Psi chapter at the Alpha Kappa Psi district convention, which will be held in Athens, Georgia, on Nov. 21-22. Other members of the fraternity will also attend the convention and then proceed to Atlanta to lend "moral support" to Coach Don Veller's Seminoles at the FSU-Georgia Tech football game.

John Pate has been elected treasurer of the Alpha Kappa Psi chapter, while Gerald Patrolia is the new secretary.

Pres. Bill McDonald, Vice-pres. Bill Kaiser and Master of Rituals Frank Kerr will maintain their respective posts after the regular election of officers in December.

With a program featured by professional activities, the FSU Chapter looks forward to another successful year, said McDonald. During the past year, the chapter skyrocketed from fifty-seventh place up to eighth place in efficiency rating among 64 Alpha Kappa Psi chapters throughout the nation.

Dr. Phifer Speaks At Annual Banquet

Dr. Gregg Phifer, assistant professor of speech was the featured speaker at the annual banquet of the East Tennessee Historical Society in Knoxville recently.

"A Reinterpretation of Andrew Johnson's 1866 Swing Around the Circle" will be Dr. Phifer's subject. A series of four articles by Dr. Phifer on different aspects of Johnson's famous whistle-stop tour is currently appearing in the volume of the Tennessee Historical Quarterly. The first to appear was entitled, "Andrew Johnson Takes a Trip."

Free Messages Sent

Broke? Call Pop at MARS

"Calling MARS, calling MARS! Dear Pop, am out of money, send $25 quick. Can't afford a telegram."

Sounds silly, but it's true. If you are out of money and haven't got the $1 cents it takes for that swift message home, just call MARS, telephone 2-4281, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. If your home is anywhere in Florida, you might wait around for an answer so you will know immediately whether Pop is going to come through or you'll have to make a touch on roommate.

IF YOU want to send a free of charge message anywhere in the world outside the iron curtain, a very nice fellow, Pfc. Walter Pish at MARS, will be glad to do it.

MARS, at least this kind, is located in the Organized Reserve Corps building T-100 at Dale Field. Pfc. Pish's job there as one of the operators of the nine MARS stations in Florida, is really to provide communication in case of hurricanes or other disasters. Fortunately, hurricanes don't happen every day, so Pfc. Pish has authorization to send messages for citizens to friends and family in the United States or even in the battle areas of Korea.

NOW UNDER a Federal Communications Commission license so they may receive and send messages are MARS stations in Gainesville, Miami, West Palm Beach, Orlando, St. Petersburg, Bartow, Jacksonville and Tampa. But messages may also be sent to Florida cities not listed. "You can get an answer in a matter of minutes or a few hours," says Pfc. Pish.

Messages usually run from about 15 to 30 words, the MARS operator says, but can be cut down by radio language and more packed in. Pfc. Pish says he will also be glad to help in writing any messages sent.

PFC. PISH says he must have the complete address of the one to whom the message goes, and if it is a man in service, the serial number. Messages to overseas points will be relayed from station to station, and it takes about two or three days.

During last Christmas and New Years, civilian operators relayed nearly 100 season greetings through MARS to servicemen overseas from Tallahasseans.

THE LETTERS MARS come from the Military Amateur Radio System. Pfc. Pish and eight other Army enlisted men were sent to the Florida Military District Headquarters in Jacksonville in May, where they learned how to operate the proposed MARS setup. After this, they took and passed an FCC operators license test.

A Lt. Col. Bradley Fessenden, signal officer at Jacksonville, is largely responsible for the MARS system, according to Pfc. Pish. The radio system will act, too, as a civil defense system by which citizens may be warned of possible enemy attack.

PFC. PISH, who had never been in radio work until he became an Army man, finds his work "most interesting." He is also determined about it, and says MARS will get your message through even if they have to send it by mail, although the usual procedure is by direct telephoning after the message is relayed by radio to a location nearby.

The Army operator says he would like some personal visits but will take messages over the telephone. He will be stationed here until December, when he will probably be relieved by another operator. As for now, he is on loan from Camp Gordon, Ga., a native of Pittsburgh, he was inducted into the Army in February of 1951, and got his basic training at Camp Gordon.

DURING THE maneuvers of "Exercise Longhorn" at Fort Worth, Tex., earlier this year, he was a teletype operator and handled messages for both sides.

Cpl. Pish welcomes all Florida State traffic. So if you want to wish your buddy in Korea good luck or tell your parents what bus you're taking for home, why not call MARS?

Patronize Our Advertisers

- School Supplies
- Films, Flashbulbs
- Film Developing
- College Outline Series
- Art Supplies
- Walter Foster Art Books

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

107 South Copeland

Are the Folks Coming Over For the Weekend

GET THEM A RESERVATION AT THE UNIVERSITY MOTEL

IT'S BRAND NEW AND CONVENIENT,

ONLY FOUR BLOCKS FROM THE CAMPUS

AND SEVEN BLOCKS FROM DOWNTOWN

431 WEST TENNESSEE

PHONE 2-2081

ON U. S. 90 AND FLA. 20

TUESDAY SPECIAL

Filet Mignon

$1.00

Seven Seas

WEDS. SPECIAL

Fried Shrimp

.75

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields -- 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD—EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM

★ CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY & HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

Buy CHESTERFIELD—Much Milder

Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Want to Cheer?
Sit in Booster Section
Tonight at Game.

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXIX, No. 6 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, October 10, 1952

Got A Match?
Got A Match?
Got A Match?

Rev. Dr. Martin to Address Leadership Group Tomorrow

'Little Leadership Conference' Opens With Eminent Church Leader's Talk

[illegible] Dr. William Martin of the First Presbyterian Church [illegible] [Talla]hassee will be main speaker at the Alpha Phi Omega [Leader]ship Conference to be held tomorrow afternoon from [illegible] 5:30 on the 2nd floor of the Longmire Building.

President of three student bodies, Dr. Martin graduated from the University of North Carolina, spent four years in the Naval Air Force and later attended Harvard Law School. He graduated from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond in 1950. Dr. Martin's address will be a great inspiration to the conference as his whole schooling has been centered around student work.

"All presidents, vice-presidents, parliamentarians, secretaries and social chairmen of all organizations on campus are urged to attend this conference," announced Tommy Bowen, President of APO.

After the keynote address, discussion groups of organizations, publications and student government will separate until 3:30. At that time, the groups will divide into smaller groups including parliamentarians, secretaries social chairmen and others to discuss their problems and solutions.

AFTER REFRESHMENTS a final meeting of the whole group will be held to evaluate the discussions.

This conference was urged by APO because they felt that it is necessary to have a smaller meeting besides the Annual Leadership Conference sponsored by Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Seminole Band To Go Political At Game Tonite

[illegible] the FSU "Marching [illegible] band takes to the [illegible] between halves in the [illegible] Military Institute [illegible] game tonight, it will [illegible] their new role of musi[cal] political prophets.

[illegible] although they are obvious[ly] [illegible] trained in music than [illegible], they certainly ought [illegible] to do as well as their [illegible] prophesiers of such affairs [illegible] last presidential elec[tion] [illegible] in 1948. At that time, [illegible] seniors and older juniors [illegible] nobody. Just nobody [illegible] Harry would win—ex[cept] [illegible] himself, and maybe [illegible] Margaret.

ANYHOW, the theme of the [illegible] reportedly one of the most [illegible] ever presented in Doak S [illegible] Stadium, is "Get Out To [illegible]" Robert Braunagel will di[rect] [illegible] 80-piece "Marching [illegible]"

[illegible] keeping with the [illegible] break from strictly [illegible] band music to more [illegible] will include "Who," [illegible] Before and We Will [illegible]" and 'Feudin' and [illegible] addition to several [illegible]

BESIDES [illegible] formations [illegible] both sides of the No[illegible] [illegible] the band [illegible] big plans accord[ing] [illegible] prexy Lloyd Fish. For [illegible] said an all-male [illegible] Band composed [illegible] a select group of brass [illegible] tooters has been [illegible] express purpose [illegible] Seminole stalwarts [illegible] out-of-town [illegible] entire band can't [illegible]

[illegible] for the "Pep [illegible]" jaunt to [illegible] for the North [illegible] There they [illegible] half-time show [illegible] and in a parade [illegible] in Raleigh. They [illegible] make the trip to [illegible] the Wofford [illegible]

City Pan Hellenic Offers Scholarship To Leon Resident

[illegible] are now being a[illegible] Office of Vocational [illegible] Placement for a [illegible] hip just estab[lished] [illegible] Tallahassee Pan [Hellenic] Association.

[The sch]olarship open to a wom[an] [illegible] of Leon County who [illegible] FSU and has a two-[illegible] was announced by [illegible] Robinson, project [illegible] the association.

DEADLINE FOR handing in [illegible] Monday, Oc[tober] [illegible] The Vocational Guid[ance] [illegible] Placement offices are [illegible] Room 203 Westcott.

[illegible] to University records [illegible] be the first scholar[ship] [illegible] by a Florida Pan Hel[lenic] Association wholly on a gift [illegible] other associations in Jack[sonville] [illegible] Miami, Ft Lauderdale, [illegible] Lake Wales and West Palm Beach have established [illegible] FSU but all of these are [illegible] and part gift.

[illegible] members of the Talla[hassee] project committee are Mrs. [illegible] West, Mrs Otis Beck, Mrs. [illegible] Munroe, Miss Christine [illegible] and Mrs. John Johnston. [The] Tallahassee organization was [illegible] two years ago, with Mrs. [illegible] Henry as the first president. [illegible] F Nimkoff is president [illegible] coming year.

O'Connell To Speak

Dr O'Connell, head of the University Hospital and faculty advisor of the Newman Club will speak Sunday night at the Newman Club meeting at 7:30. Dr. O'Connell will speak on the subject of "Religion and Psychiatry."

Haynie Outline Smoke Signals' Autumn Edition

Editor Says Magazine Plans Frosh Feature, Homecoming Details

Smoke Signals, Florida State University's campus magazine, will be available to the students by November 15." announced Boots Haynie, editor.

The first edition will contain 24 pages and will include details of the 1952 Homecoming. Also of interest, especially to Freshmen, is a two-page picture story on the frosh.

IN ADDITION to the editor other Smoke Signals staff members are John Howard, managing editor, and Nancy Wilson, business manager.

There will be four editions of the magazine this school year. The last and biggest, is scheduled for June.

WE'RE GOING to try our best this year to get it out on time," says the editor. "Also," she continues, "we'd like the students to understand that we are offering the most that we can under our present budget and the rising cost of publishing."

"Students interested in any phase, articles, fiction humor, cartoons, make-up, should contact me in our office at second floor Longmire," concludes Haynie.

Section For 400 Set As Booster's Section

A booster section for football games has been inaugurated as part of a Senior Class project to foster school spirit.

The section is between aisles four and five and will seat 400 people. A sign 30 by four feet, reading "Booster Section" will be placed at the back of the area.

Cheerleaders are going to fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories to urge students to sit in this special section.

Dr. Shores To Speak At Senior Class Meet

The Senior Class will meet at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Longmire Auditorium, at which time Dr Venila Shores will explain the significance of Investiture and the academic regalia.

Lack of space has created the problem of whether or not to have Sophomore brothers and sisters as is traditional. This will be put to a vote.

Other projects and goal of the year will also be discussed.

New Senator

Coyle E. Moore, Jr.

Coyle E. Moore, Winning Senator, Heads for Fame

"Ambition personified" should be the label for Coyle E. Moore Jr., 18 year-old Fresman lawyer-to-be who was the only candidate in the Freshman elections to win on the first ballot.

The future Men's Senator is also well on the road to making a national name for himself by speaking at Kiwanis conventions all over the country.

As 1951 president of the Florida District of Key Club Interanational, he traveled more than 15,000 miles in Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina, making a reputation for himself as speaker at numerous Kiwanis meetings and Key Club functions.

THE youth handled his post so well as supervisor of the 89 Kiwanis-sponsored Key Clubs of Florida that he was elected president of the Nominating Caucus at the International Key Club convention in Chicago this Summer. He was selected from a group of nominees from the United States and Canada.

Recently Moore accepted an invitation to fly to Knoxville Tennessee, to speak at the fellowship luncheon of the Kentucky-Tennessee District Kiwanis convention, Monday, October 13.

HE will also appear on a Kiwanis-sponsored Key club panel and will speak to students of South High School in Knoxville when he presents their charter for a newly-organized club.

Cafeteria Lowers Food Prices; Tracy Replies to Controversy

By LONA COCHRAN

Miss Anna May Tracy, food service director for FSU, has stated her views in response to the numerous controversies concerning the present cafeteria system, and in particular to an article which appeared in Tuesday's Flambeau.

All efforts, she said, are being made by the food service department to furnish "the combinations that the students want at prices they can afford."

BECAUSE MUCH of the discussion has been over the discontinuance of last year's special, a 55c lunch special and a 65c dinner special went into effect Wednesday. "We are also replacing some of the more expensive dinners with cheaper dishes in an effort to lower prices to the level that the students desire," Miss Tracy said.

When asked her reaction to the statement that various eating establishments around the campus are making a profit while offering meals equivalent to the cafeteria's at equal and lower prices, Miss Tracy refused to comment. She said that she had no knowledge of what grades of food or what size portions are sold in these establishments, and, therefore could not make a comparison to the school's cafeteria. She did say that the cafeteria ended last year with an approximate profit of 2% of the gross income. This amount went back into seasonal repair work on the building which houses the cafeteria.

IN COMMENTING on the second question under controversy, that of whether student help should be paid in meals or money, Miss Tracy declared that unless her superiors advise her otherwise, she has no intention of changing the present method of payment. She explained that when a student is hired to work in the cafeteria, he signs an agreement which states that all the work he does up to two and one-half hours per day will be paid for in meals, and that all work in excess of this figure will be paid for in cash at the rate of 60c per hour.

The cost allowance for meals is established at 35c for breakfast, 55c for lunch, and 75c for dinner. On a basis of 2½ hours of work, this amounts in cash to 66c per hour. Miss Tracy maintains that the student agrees to these conditons before taking the job and, therefore, should abide by them.

SHE FEELS that from a business standpoint it would be much more practical for the food service department to hire regular labor for eight hour shifts. This would cut down on labor costs and also increase efficiency. "But," said Miss Tracy, "I am always ready to go to bat for student employment because I know that without their jobs these students would not be able to complete their university education."

It remains to be seen how the University will react to these announcements.

Homecoming Heads To Meet October 15

A meeting of all committee chairmen concerning Homecoming will be held in the Longmire building on October 15 at 4:30 p.m. to discuss further plans.

The general planning chairman is Dr. J. B. Culpepper, with co-chairman, R. K. Shaw, assisting. On the dance committee the chairmen are Betty Ann Pierce and Ted Steinmeyer.

A complete list of the remaining committees and the chairmen will be released at a later date through the office of Dean Culpepper.

Bare-Headed Frosh No Longer Excused

Three hundred rat caps have just arrived and will be sold today from 12 noon to 5 p.m. in front of Bryan Hall. As of today, all slips that were issued in the place of rat caps will be invalid.

Nancy Watkins was the only offender at the rat court meeting Tuesday. Those serving on the court were Bob Berto, Jim McCauley, Phoebe Jackson and Liz Vang.

Junior Class Leaders

BLOOD DRIVE—This year's Junior class is sponsoring the blood drive which begins October 28. This is the third blood drive to be held on the Florida State University campus. The first was sponsored by ODK and the second by Men's F Club. Junior class officers shown above making plans for the drive are: seated on the floor at the left, Judy Simkins, senator. The others, left to right, are: [illegible] Albert Lowthan, parliamentarian; June McMillan, social chairman; Roy Staton, president; Betty Sue Fryer, secretary, and Jackie Keaton, senator.

Joanos, Mixon to Contend For Freshman Presidency

Election Finals Slated Tuesday; Second Largest Turnout Staged

Jimmy Joanos and Charles Mixon will compete against each other this coming Tuesday for the presidency of the Freshman class. Polls will open at 9 a. m. instead of 8:30, and will remain open until 6 p. m.

The vote in Tuesday's election totaled 730, the second largest Frosh election turnout in the University's history. The record vote came in 1949.

LOCATED AT exactly the same sites, precincts will be handled by Sophomore Council, Alpha Phi Omega and Circle K.

Twenty-two students will be on the runoff ballot. Jimmy Joanos, presidential candidate, received 359 to Charles Mixon, his opponent's 199. The only person to be elected on the first primary was Coyle Moore, whose 420 votes gave him the majority of all 730 votes cast. Moore will take up the duties of Men's Senator.

VOTES TUESDAY will be counted publicly in the Longmire Auditorium starting at 6 p.m. Monday WFSU will give radio time to candidates after they have signed up for spot broadcasting in the studio.

Secretary of Elections Bob Ducker said that in the primaries there was some confusion as to whether or not second semester Freshmen were allowed to vote.

(Continued on Page 4)

Summers Gives Senate Address With Proposals

President Lists Plans For Year's Legislation; Urges Study of NSA

University Senate held its second meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon, at which time Mary Ruth Summers, President of the University Government Association made the opening address.

President Summers called upon the Senate to "Act with purpose and with speed, and act together" during the year's projects.

IN HER TALK she presented an outline of suggestions for Senate action this year which included immediate revamping and publishing of the University Government Constitution, changing the name of UGA, and the renaming of Camp Flastacowa in keeping with our transition from a girls school to a Co-Ed Institution.

President Summers asked that the group study and investigate the possibility of joining NSA.

(Continued on Page 4)

Gold Key Will Tap In Coming Weeks, Steinmeyer Says

Gold Key, the men's leadership, scholarship and service honorary, will tap new members within the next three weeks, Ted Steinmeyer, president of the organization, announced yesterday.

"We feel that there are numerous men on campus who have done outstanding service to the university and we are ready to open our doors to these individuals," Steinmeyer stated in his announcement. "We urge all men who qualify to make application for membership."

Active membership in Gold Key is restricted to undergraduate and graduate males with two semesters attendance at Florida State University; at least 56 semester hours credit; sufficient points to qualify, based on Gold Key's rating system; successful completion of the training period; signing the Statement of Intention and the required affirmative vote by the active Gold Key members.

"Applications will be available at the information desk in the Longmire Building until Thursday, October 16 at 5 p.m.;" Steinmeyer continued "and at that time they will be turned over to the tapping committee to check the grade point average and to determine the number of points each prospective member accumalates under the Gold Key rating system."

Tentative plans call for the tapping ceremony to be held Sunday, October 26, at 5 p.m.

Campus Co-eds To Qualify For Queen Contest

Deadline for candidates for the Homecoming Queen has been set for Friday, Oct. 31, according to Milton Carothers, chairman of the selection committee.

Any organized campus group can sponsor a candidate in the annual contest, he said, and should turn in an eight by ten, black and white head and shoulders portrait on double weight matt paper of the contestant into the Office of Dean of Student Welfare.

The name, hometown and sponsoring group of the contestant should be written on back of the photograph. The first primary, said Carothers, has been set for Tuesday, Nov 4, at which time students will vote for five candidates. That ballot box will be located in Westcott.

The runoff will take place Friday, Nov. 7. A second slate will be drawn up from the finalists, and students will vote only for the queen, said Carothers. The queen will have four attendants.

All pictures will be on display the Monday before the first primary. For further information, contact Milton Carothers, in the UGA offices between the hours of 3:30 to 5 p. m.

Key Sells Pom Poms For Campus Chest

Pom Poms, crepe paper streamers on sticks, to be used for cheering sections at the FSU football games, will be sold by members of Garnet Key all day Friday. Tables will be located at the Amber House and the front entrance of Bryan Hall from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and at the dining hall during the supper hour.

This project is being sponsored for the benefit of Campus Chest. All students are urged to buy in support of the campaign as well as to enliven cheering at the home games.

Foreign Club Meets

The year's first meeting of the Foreign Students Club is scheduled for Wednesday, October 15, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 211, Music building.

FSU Discount Day Slated Next Week By City Merchants

The Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce has agreed to a Discount Day for Florida State Students; to be Thursday, October 16, Jim Dye, chairman of Men's Senate, has announced.

All students are asked to change their money into silver dollars at the Student Bank before Discount Day begins, said Dye. The Federal Reserve Bank in Atlanta, Ga., is sending the bank 30,000 dollars in silver.

Students who purchase goods in town from Thursday through Sunday are urged to use the silver dollars, said Dye, so that merchants may have some idea of the volume of business received from Florida State students.

The Discount Day is a special project of the Men's Senate.

Delta Sigma Pi Frat Addressed By Clark

Ed Clark, former president of Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce, spoke to a large number of members at the first meeting of the Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity Wednesday night.

Third FSU Campus Blood Drive Set for 28th of This Month

The third campus Blood Drive to be held at Florida State University will open Tuesday, October 28, announced Junior Class President Roy Staton.

This blood drive will be the main project of the Junior Class this semester and president Roy Staton, overall chairman of the drive, feels it can be a great success with the cooperation of the entire student body.

Blood captains will be appointed by the presidents of the various organizations on campus within the next week. The initial meeting of this group of captains will be held Tuesday, October 14 at 5 p.m. in Longmire auditorium. At this time parental permission blanks will be distributed and procedures will be explained. The following week, donors will be solicited.

THE FIRST blood drive to be held on campus was organized and engineered by ODK Men's honorary in December of last year. The second such drive was sponsored by men's "F" club last Spring. Both drives were well received and all quotas were met by enthusiastic student donors.

It is hoped that the same spirit will lead this year's blood drive at FSU to surpass its goal. "It is up to each individual student here to do his part in this great work," states Staton.

Library Majors Meet

The Library School Faculty has invited all Library Science ma[jors] in for coffee and conversation in the New Student Center Trophy Room this afternoon from 4 until 5:30.

Annual Extends Photo Deadline For All Seniors

Claudia Thomas Says 400 Senior Pictures Taken, More Needed

The Tally Ho Editor has announced that the picture deadline for seniors has been extended to October 17. This date is final.

To date, only 400 seniors have had their pictures taken.

Underclassmen may make appointments at the office of the Tally Ho on fourth floor Longmire. Girls are reminded that they must wear dark sweaters and pearls, while boys must wear coats and long ties.

Claudia Thomas, Tally Ho editor, announced that work is in progress on the annual. "Fraternity and sorority pictures are being taken along with the others," she added.

OTHER MEMBERS of the staff include Becky Brown managing editor, Julie Ferrell assistant editor; Tom Edwards business manager; and Donnie Hollis, advertising editor.

"L'Avant Studios in Tallahassee is in charge of picture taking this year," explains Editor Thomas. "Also," she concludes, "there are still staff positions open. No experience needed, just sign up at our office anytime between 1 and 5 in the afternoons."

Frosh Battle for Dousing Privilege Soph-Frosh Day

Plans for the first annual Sophmore-Freshman Day have been announced by the committees.

The event will get under way at 1 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, October 25, at the West Campus Track Area. On this day the Freshmen will compete with the Sophomores to determine if they shall continue wearing their rat caps until Homecoming or dispose of them now.

If the Frosh defeat the Sophs in the track and field events that are planned, they not only rid themselves of the traditional rat caps, but also win the privilege of dousing the rat court chairmen in Westcott pool and rat court will be nothing but a bad memory. If they lose, Rat Court will continue until Homecoming doling out their odious tasks to unfortunate freshmen until Homecoming.

The nature, rules and details of the events and the men will appear in next week's Flambeau. Entry blanks will also be made available at that time.

Fake Jeff Davis Loses in Election

Jeff Davis, who lost his presidential race Tuesday, does not exist. The "young man" ran on a platform of down with "the Yankee indifference, corruption and special interests on our campus."

His colleagues, who have not revealed their identity, had political posters printed for him and even wrote a letter to the editor of the Flambeau.

University Government Association President Mary Ruth Summers says she regrets the affair, but that the Freshmen running had been put on their honor to give the right classification. She lauded Secretary of Elections Bob Ducker for his hard work during the elections and said it was "a shame someone had to pull such a trick.

Knowledge Of College Exam Scheduled Soon

The Knowledge of College examination on University rules will be given Tuesday from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall, [illegible], who is in charge announced.

All [illegible] men and trans[fers] [illegible] the test. [illegible] it at the [illegible] Re[illegible] Tuesday night at 10.

Campus Chest Drive Goal Set at Dollar Per Student

Bet 'een October 16 and 24 the Campus Chest Drive will hit the campus. Margaret Krasenan, Chest chairman has announced a goal of $6000 for the week's drive.

That amounts to approximately one dollar per student.

The 3 Cross, Community Chest, Cancer Drive, Polio Fund, and the World Student Fund Drive are all lumped into this one big money raising drive. This way students won't be asked four or five times during the year to contribute to several different organizations. The donation of one dollar will be split up among these organizations so students are actually only giving about twenty cents to each one.

The Chest originated in January 1951. when University Council decided students would rather dip into their allowances one big time instead of turning up a dime or quarter every few weeks for 15 or 20 worthy causes.

Dormitories, sororities, fraternities and other organizations are encouraged to sponsor individual money-making projects and at the close of the week contributions are pooled and then apportioned between the various welfare agencies.

Thus students may contribute their $1. quota by buying fudge, having their shoes shined, eating a picnic supper, stocking up on pencils or partaking of the numerous other projects scheduled during the week. The net result in a week of fun with a donation by-product.

"Give 'em heaps" was the motto of the first Campus Chest, April 13 to 21, 1951. The quota then was $1500 or approximately 10 cents per student.

Outstanding in the week of activities were a Village Vamp fashion show, and the Sophomore Hop. Incomplete totals from the drive showed a $1200 contribution.

Last year the goal was set at $1 per person. For the second time the Phi Phi's and Theta's presented their Powder Puff Bowl Game, there was a Faculty Auction and an "F" club picnic supper. Dormitory suppers, a street dance, penny-guessing contest. fudge sal, Silver Tea, Sunday Party and "Joe College" contest made the week a bigger success than its predecessor.

Sixty percent of the total contribution was sent to the World Student Service Fund. The remainder of the funds was divided among the other charities' Dolls, 10 percent; Cancer, 10 percent; Red Cross, 10 percent; and Miscellaneous, 10 percent.

Margaret Krasenan, 1952 chairman, announced a $6000 goal. Some of the events scheduled for the week are the "Joe College" contest, "F" club picnic supper, faculty auction, pop corn stand, and spaghetti supper.

According to Chairman Krasenan the Campus Chest this year shows promise of beating previous donation as well as entertainment goals.

man Men's Dormitory. The committee wants to keep the auditorium as clean or less as permanent as it can, and therefore, cannot depend on the Longmire Auditorium. for which dances and meetings come first. so the Campus Music Hall which is taken up about every weekend of the year.

The West Campus showing, which has received mild criticism from those who say there are only a few people there now to warrant a theater, has been scheduled for convenience of those married students and their families, as well as for the remaining men students on the West Campus showings are held for the students who live on the main part of the University.

Despite any criticisms tha might arise from the showings, it is certain that there is really no room for yelling. It' free, it's entertainment, and it's something the campus has been needing for a long. long time.

● PRICES CUT

Elsewhere an the paper there is a story concerning the results of the 'Cafeteria Investigation" the Flambeau reported last week.

As a result of the meeting of the cafeteria management and the University Administration and several members of the Student Government and the student body. the prices at the cafeteria are being cut and "special" plates are again being reintroduced into the menu.

It is truly significant that the action began with a student who had no official title, and obviously one who wasn't wound up in the tangle of "current problems" in the student government.

Her action should be an example to others. We advise all students who feel they or the student body in general be being "hurt" in any way to contact others like themselves and then "in a body" call upon either the Flambeau or the Student Government officials. That is what both organizations are here for.

It is our duty to help the students first. We commend Miss Sue McGlothlin on her action. The Citizen's first duty is to himself.

● WALLETS BOOSTED

The free movies shown five times weekly on the campus are not exactly the latest releases, nor are the screen and theaters as big as we would like them. But the fact is they are free. draw an audience, and everybody enjoys them.

To all those responsible for adding a boost to our entertainment calendar and to our wallets, we should be thankful. The movies are administered and planned by a committee of six students presided over by University Recreation Association President Betty Holland. Faculty advisors are Miss Genevieve DeArmond and Georgy Heilman.

This group is alloted one thousand dollars. which has been set up as a special budget for free movies. Last semester the URA Junior and Senior Classes, and Officers of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women each contributed one hundred dollars toward the project. After the matter was taken up with Dean of Student Welfare J. Broward Culpepper, the special budget was inaugurated.

There is naturally a difference in the films this year, too. They are not so outmoded as some previously shown, there is a variety in the types of films and some are considerably recent.

Chairman Betty Holland says that when cold weathr comes, the Friday night theater at the Music Amphitheater will probably be changed to one in the new Fresh-

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors ..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... Jim Couch, Jim Eddy
Copy Editor ..... Judy Simmons
Feature Editor ..... Judy Morgan
Assistant News Editor ..... Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor ..... John Hargreaves

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-8976, Extension 4921 Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

SEMINOLE SCENES

UNCOOPERATIVE DOOR KEEPS CLASS OVERTIME

By FRANCES CAWTHON

When a professor keeps you overtime after the bell has rung, that's one thing. But when one locks you in the classroom, he is apt to be the target of all sorts of unkind student opinion.

That's what happened the other day. Only the prof can yell not guilty.

A public administration instructor was opening new doors of thought on Federalism to his Municipal Administration class when he closed the classroom door so that the Spalding, Sparkman, what-have-you lesson nearby wouldn't get tangled up with governmental powers.

After a few minutes, however, when it came to a choice between ten hours of class or too much heat at once, the prof "assault" circled over to the door. The door knob co-operated, but the door didn't.

Soon, as the picture was about over, he tried again. No luck, so somebody else tried. Still no luck. After the public administration had been made, the bell rang. There was no class for a few more points. Nobody got worried. After all, there was a class in that room next period . . . wasn't there?

Soon people could be seen in the outside, waiting for the class to come out. They kept on waiting.

"Come in," called the professor. They didn't come.

"PLEASE come in," called the professor. Somebody tried the doorknob, and the door wouldn't budge. Two somebodies tried it. By now the whole class was inviting, please-come-in, with the more desperate adding, "And let us out."

Finally a male voice asked, "You can't get out? You're locked out?"

"That seems to be right," was a reply.

"HAW!" Then snickers outside.

The prof opened the transom, but that didn't do any good, so he climbed on the transom over with a key. After some scratching sounds the voice on the other side said, "It doesn't work." He'd lose it over and let the class on the inside unlock the door.

OFF THE CUFF

FREE PRESS IS PRIZED POSSESSION

By BRUCE GALPHIN

One of this nation's most prized possessions is its free press; it is proclaimed throughout the world as one of the bulwarks of American democracy. But a free press does not always find the ability to support she news; it includes also the assurance that the news will be reported.

The press is largely and admittedly Republican; to even the casual observer it has overwhelmingly supported the GOP's nominees. But the world does not end with an end. The editors point out that although they have the ability to print editorially, the news is still unbiased.

In the handling of the recent Nixon-fund controversy, however, there is reason to worry bout our press. Out of 31 major newspapers in 48 states, only 7 of them printed anything about the story on the first day it broke. Of these, three placed the story on the front page and published only the column by a man who was a defense of Nixon, and the others placed the item on pages 11, 15, 57 and 64 respectively.

On the second day, Friday, 14 of the 70 gave it a short, inside mention. Only 23 out of 70 newspapers still suppressed the news entirely Of the 47 who did print the story on Friday, none of them made editorial comment until the following day.

Nixon was scheduled to speak in Reno the night the story broke. Reno's Evening Gazette carried no mention of the fund, but ran a front-page banner, "Senator Makes Major Speech in Reno Tonight." Below ran a feature on Eisenhower whistle-stop campaign "Campaign Train Life Takes a Lull" and an editorial about the split in the Democratic party in Texas. Dorothy Dix Carter ran a large headline, "End Truman," mandi Nixon Urges" and a front-page picture of Richard Nixon, Eisenhower Says on Fund Furor."

The majority of the nation's press on Friday ran either the story featuring Nixon's statement, "It's an Attempt to Pull a Political Smear" or Eisenhower's statement, "Nixon's Honest Man" without detailing the charges made against Nixon or telling where they came from. Thus the papers defended him before their people really knew what he had done.

Meanwhile, these same newspapers were printing columns of editorials to stories like "$10 Million Trucks on Gram Scandal Charged," T. Lamar Caudle's attack on the Justice Department and Governor Stevenson's support of Eisenhower. The Boston Post, a Democratic paper, was conspicuously for two days, ran such things as "Real Red Threat in Massachusetts" and an announcement that it would serialize McCarthy's book McCarthyism: the Fight for America.

In Nixon's home state of California, papers buried the story until a defense could be printed. Even the Los Angeles Herald-Express, which is supporting Stevenson and whose reporter helped uncover the facts, killed the story for one day. The L. A. Times, whose publisher Norman Chandler a brother-in-law of John J. Gardner, a Republican representative, an editorial on Friday "Democratic Attempts to Attack Corrupt Use of Contributions Hedged" as its first mention of the story.

The Oakland Tribune which is published by California Senator William Knowland's father, ran two one-column heads "The Defends Sen. Nixon's Expense Fund" and "Nixon Alleges Smearing Me Nixon Declares."

My apologies to those people who are tired of hearing my partisan side of the campaign. Only 600 dollars, with $1.25 per cent of the nation's circulation are for Eisenhower, while only 140 dollars with 9.5 per cent of the circulation are for Stevenson, I think my one small voice can be tolerated and excused.

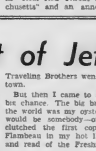
Note — The radio networks seemed to have taken over the press' historical duties of reporting the news. Their coverage of the Nixon fund was quick and complete.

ELECTION FADES

But WHAT of Jeff Davis?

By JEFF DAVIS

As told to Emory King



When all the votes were counted last Tuesday night, I had lost my campaign for President of the freshman class. It was a crushing blow—but I shall get over it in time. I'm sure.

Ever since I can remember I have always wanted to be somebody. When I was little, my mother told me, "Jeff you're somebody. You'll never come to anything. You're a bum just like your father."

I HAVE ALWAYS been determined to overcome that handicap. I was a nobody—but I was sure I could, with ruthless drive, be SOMEBODY — anybody. But I was nobody. When I entered elementary school the sitting-mistress informed me. I remember her when somebody showed me a picture of the teacher on the blackboard. I said, "Nobody did it, everybody said, "Nobody," and she whaled the tar out of me.

When I entered high school I knew things would be better. It couldn't fail, I told myself. Even the janitor can be a somebody in high school.

THAT'S WHAT I thought—but alas and alack, I was doomed to be a nobody even there. All the girls used to look at me and laugh. I couldn't help it if I didn't have any clothes to wear except some made over things left when the Traveling Brothers went broke in town.

But then I came to FSU. The world was my oyster. Now I would be somebody—at last. I clutched the first copy of the Flambeau in my hot little hand and read of the Freshmen elections There was my chance. Out of all those people in my class I might get in without anyone having to know that I was a nobody.

I SECURED the necessary forms from a mysogynous junior counselor who thought I was the campus policeman. I spent my last $4.56 on campaign posters. I didn't dare try to personally contact anyone in the women because I knew what the final outcome would be.

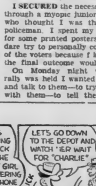
On Monday night when the rally was held I wanted to go out and talk to them—to try to reason with them—to tell them that I could do the job—but I knew they would never listen. Few people ever listened to me. So I went home to my room and cried myself to sleep.

I HAD TO leave everything to the people. However I was able to get a letter to the editor into the Flambeau. I didn't quite know what to write about until I overheard some KA fraternity men talking in the lobby. Then I had the issues all clear, I wrote.

Well you know the results of the election. There is no place even here for me. So I am going away. But you will never hear from me again. But it really doesn't matter. I'm used to never really existed at all you know.

British Comedy Opens Newcomer Film Series

The Newcomers Film Club will open its series this year with "Passport to Pimlico," a British comedy. Also, a ten minute short entitled "The Loon's Necklace" will precede the main feature. Show time is Thursday, October 16 at 8:15 p.m in Opperman Music Hall.



Tickets for the entire season of 14 films are $2.50 and can be bought tonight at the door or by sending a check to Dr. Robert Anderson Department of Anthropology

Schedule Club To Hold Meeting

There will be a meeting of Soltas, the Library Science Club, Monday, October 13, at 7:30 in the Library School Building, it was announced today by Jo Ann Nelson, president.

All students interested in joining are especially invited to attend.

Beetle Bailey

Dear Editor

Mail Solicited

Dear Editor:

We would appreciate it very much if you could place our names and addresses somewhere in your college paper.

We have been in Korea six months and we would like very much to receive some mail from some co-eds who would like to write. You don't know what it means to receive mail from the good old USA after being in combat.

Thank you very much. Your kindness will never be forgotten by we four leathernecks.

Pfc- Walter H. Baggett, 1196160.
Pfc. Paul Galindo, 1290353.
Pfc. Kenneth E. Anderson, 1218897.

Pfc. Cecilio Lajan, 1290175.

All addresses are the same:

Wpn. Co. 1, Mortar
1st Bn 1st Marines, 1st Marine Div.
c/o F. P. O., San Francisco, Calif.

Compliments Frosh

Dear Editor:

There are several points I would like to cover in this letter. First of all I think the Freshmen need to be complimented on their phenomenal political awakening. I am pleased that at last an awakening has come to Florida State University.

Secondly, which is more disappointing than ever . . . is the school spirit (???) which FSU still lacks. What in the world can we do to drill school spirit into those addle-pated males and females? I believe the crowd at the FSU-U of Louisville game was the worst display of school spirit I have ever seen. Last year was bad but this year is positively disheartening. What in the name of goodness do you so called upperclassmen want? Oh, to be a freshman again. I hope to Heaven the class of '56 won't let us, the class of '55, down by losing what they have now. Bless them!

Bee Lee Mullins.
Class of '55.

Thanks Supporters

Dear Fellow Classmates:

I wish to express my most gracious thanks and appreciation to my campaign staff and the many supporters who have helped me in my campaign for Senate. Specially I thank Jack Hall and Sally Jennie Murphree Hall and my friends of West Campus who sacrificed much time in valuable time to aid me in my bid for the office of senate.

To my opponents elected to the Senate, I extend my most sincere wishes for success in your important offices and may you serve the students of FSU to the best of your ability. . . . Congratulations.

Taking into consideration my late start in this election and the unforeseen difficulties I encountered, I feel that I received a fair, exceeded my expectations. I want to thank all and everyone of you again for your unquestionable support.

Your most sincere friend,
Al "Lucky" Helderbach

"Heavenly Bodies" Needed To Emphasize Gymkana Theme

Have you ever had a hidden desire to become a comet, meteor, or planet way out in space?

The FSU Gymkana Show offers such an escape mechanism to curvaceous coeds with a flair for performing. The "heavenly bodies" trend of the 1952 Miss Gymkana contest is to be carried on into the show's Hall of This World theme.

THE PLANET and other sky-like covered entrants will compete during the show week. Number 1 on the list is Gymkana's 200 dailies, with $1.25 per cent of the nation's circulation are for Eisenhower, while only 140 dailies with 9.5 per cent of the circulation are for Stevenson, I think my one small voice can be tolerated and excused.

Note — The radio networks seemed to have taken over the press' historical duties of reporting the news. Their coverage of the Nixon fund was quick and complete.

Miss Gymkana Finalist Sally Ann Brewster will assist Chairman Faneuf in the contest activities.

The Big Red Chief and Yells Yeller and his Florida State University football forces are frustrated to be left out of the limelight of the new season. For Yeller and his gridsters are accustomed to scoring—lots of scoring.

In the 1951 season, the fridists scored 39 points against every game and made a half-dozen or more six-pointers in four of their eight games.

With two intersectional games booked for 1952 the tribe has yet to make more than two marks an outing on the scoreboard. Coach Tom Nugent, his staff and team casting about wildly for an answer.

The passing theories have been advanced. The defense has been taught and retaught. It's usually deadly single-wing attack, the blocking has been far below par—and the quarterbacking has been questionable; the backs are not running hard; there are too many young, inexperienced men on the roster; a "jinx" has descended on Yeller's Tribe; which is due a little bad luck after four victorious campaigns; the opposition is better than in the past.

The coach believes there is some truth in some of them; none at all in others.

We've acquired two late leads a time enough," the famous maxim of Mosan pounds out, and we should have some success against 20 of them."

Yeller is doubling over this 2-1- and 41-19 decision at the hands of Louisiana Tech and the Mississippi Southern, respectively.

"We've had some golden opportunities in the two games but we couldn't keep going down the line. To date our backs just haven't been our race of an accurate defense. You can't score when the point man has the ball," Yeller continued.

Yeller won't breathe a word of it, but the real reason probably lies in the fact the feminines are facing tougher opponents than they ever dreamed of meeting say two or three years ago.

"We'll learn a lot this season, lose a lot, win some and we'll all better every Saturday," Yeller concluded.

The Seminoles will try to taste some of the victory victuals work they entertain the Keydets of Virginia Military Institute in Doak S. Campbell Stadium here Friday night.

Seminole Scout

By JIM COUCH

COURAGE AND SPIRIT HIGH

o and behold, the spirit arises from the grave. Last unday night, the Seminoles were trailing the power-ouse Louisville Cardinals by an uncomfortable margin, as Roy Thompson squeezed past all except one Redshirt kickoff return.

s he weaved his way through the opponents team, the nsole student body rose as one in the most deafening ad heart warming cheer that has sounded in that stadium ithree years.

t is significant of a new ers of spirit, which was born the FSU-Miami clash year, but left in that beautiful along with the Seminoles fine showing. Now it seems the role of underdog is going to bring that wonderous fficient which completes the gridiron story.

The student body is beginning

To see the need for yelling and rooting for the home ms and I believe it has already taken effect down on the ld of battle.

Last Saturday your team was outscored, but their fierce ority and courage were to be denied as they fought everything at their disposal to the very end.

Anyone who saw the game will admit that here FSU has e of the gamest hunch of padwearers that ever had their es covered with mud and grime. The team still lacks ish and the timing for breakaway offensive deception, t as amateurs and prof-ssionals alike will agree. they improving. And, of primary importance, they are not king in the will to win or the effort to try to better themselves. They are knocking themselves out so that they may be at the kind of ball that wins games.

Whether they be favorites or the predicted vanquished, they will be out there on the turf with but one thought mind, to play good ball. This year's schedule is made up a lot of big time, highly seasoned elevens, and the Semi-e spirit is taking them on to the best of their ability. The players will make obvious mistakes

As will the coaches, but they are honest mistakes made in effort to salvage a win for FSU against a better opponent.

This week, today, to be exact, they run out on the field the underdog, but watch out, if their injuries are comely healed. There have been a rash of Seminole injuries this year that have put an added strain on certain positions, but the burden carriers have come through with exceptional ability.

Roy Thompson, always a thing of beauty on the turf, showed in another fine night, as did Al Wenham, who proved when he wasn't bottled up by opposing linemen.

The offensive line, a varied assortment of all kinds of experienced and unexperienced men looked greatly improved, although far from perfect.

Besides the almost uncanny accuracy of John Unitas' passes and the seemingly unstoppable steamrolling of man-mountain Jim Williams, the Seminole defense held up very well. Freshman John Grimes and Billy Kelley showed that they will be seeing a lot of action in the defensive backfield, while Frank Henico had a fine night on the offense, even though it was limited to the last quarter.

Today, or rather tonight, Virginia Military Institute invades Seminoleland and will be looking for a tough fight. The Seminoles won't be ducking either and, because I predicted the Wofford outcome wrong last year, I hope I am wrong in this one too; but I am afraid I will have to wait for next week to pick the first win for the Tribe. VMI is a hard fought 28-20 victory.

With enough encouragement

From the fans and their constant rate of improvement, I could be FSU by two TD's. I hope they prove me right on the latter count, the team has got the spirit. how about the rest of you audents?

Football Weekend Special

★ Special Fish Dinner with all the trimmings $1.00

★ Oysters on the Half Shell 45c dozen

Shell Point

CORNER DUVAL AND PENSACOLA

A BIG MANcha . . . Vaugha Mancha, assistant football coach at FSU makes his typewriter and desk seem but a model as he maps out Seminole strategy.

Arkansaw Traveler

BY PAT HOGAN

By PAT HOGAN

FRIDAY FUMBLES . . . AND A MAN NAMED MANCHA—Are you having difficulties and differences with your landlord, your mother-in-law or some sad sack who's cutting in to scrum every melodies on your fair lady's heartstrings?

Well, if you're shorter than a fire plug and skinnier than a midget's toolpick—such be the case of the undersized runt in this chair—allow t.. so insrounce a certain Southern gentleman who could be meaner than Allie Reynolds was to the Yankees in their heyday times of dintrus.

The modern-day Achilles is none other than Vaughn (''Big Man'') Mancha, Florida State University's assistant football coach who makes every-ass-sine man look like toy soldiers.

They say the big, bronzed fellow is quite resentful now, engaged in the intricacies of teaching FSU's football scholars the art of rending opposing gridiron machines apart.

But there was a day, they say, when The Man reigned over the Alabama football pasture in a fashion which would make a panthesaist of Alex the Great.

Those were the days when journalists were jotting The Man's name down in their pigskin programs opposite the slot: All-America Center, 1945. And if you don't believe it, ask the lads who played against him, or rather ran from him.

Mancha is just a spectator now, although more than just an interested one, for obvious reasons. But he still rejoices when the cry of "white meat" or the sound of popping leather and massive muscles drifts across the practice field.

"NI-I-I-CE." The Man will comment when a Seminole tackler savagely dumps an Indian ball-carrier on the latter's posterior. It's not that The Man relishes in such dastardly acts as clipping the wings off a baby sparrow or tying cans to a dog's tail. It's only that he likes the game of football to be rough and tough, so characteristic of the good ole days.

The Seminoles go for The Man's game, although it means they wake up in the mornin's with more bruises than an over-ripe banana and more scratches than a racing form.

The Man is tough all right, but he's the possessor of enough poise and manners to feel at home at the Monday meeting of the Women's Sewing Circle, if they could drag him there.

"He's one of the swellest persons I've ever known, one burly Seminole lineman said of The Man. "He's great," added another.

Those players hit the ball square on the crashish.

For it they passed out All-America awards for personality, friendliness and all the ingredients which make up a "swell guy", The Man would have one adorning his mantlepiece.

Dancing Cavaliers Elect New Officers

Three new officers were elected to fill posts at the Tuesday evening meeting of Cavaliers this week.

Carmine Regna is designated to be Correspondent Secretary. Jim Naude, Social Chairman and Joe Regna, Publicity Chairman.

Also during the meeting, a new tap, Ralph Atwell, was initiated into the organization as a member.

Plans are now complete for the Cavaliers' and Cotillion's joint annual series of dance lessons. Beginning this Tuesday, October 14, dance lessons will be given at the new Student Center on East Call-ne every Tuesday and Thursday night from 7 to 9 p.m. All members of Cavaliers and Cotillion will be on hand to instruct.

Topping the new Cavaliers will begin at the conclusion of the dance-lesson period in five weeks.

Dr. Bellamy Writes Chapter for Book

Dr. Raymond F. Bellamy, professor of sociology, has contributed to a symposium entitled "Social Theorists" to be published by the Bruce Publishing Co.

The book is under the editorship of Dr. Clement S. Mihanovich of St. Louis University. Dr. Bellamy's chapter deals with Dr. Lester F. Ward, generally regarded as the founder of American sociology. Ward was a natural scientist who did not turn his attention to sociology until he was in his sixties, yet he wrote more than a dozen works in sociology before his death.

Ward was the first professor of sociology at Brown University. The FSU department has a rare autographed photograph of Lester Ward given by him to the librarian of Brown University. After several years at Brown, the photograph was given to a member of the FSU department.

Vets Denied Services Due To Low Funds

Much of the medical and dental service veterans are entitled to by law will be denied them during October, November and December. H F Dickenshieds, Veterans Administration official, announced.

The situation is caused because the funds for these services have been severely reduced, he said, and are inadequate to meet the known needs of veterans located within the area served by the Pass-a-Grille Regional Office.

"Everything for the Student"

- F.S.U. Stationery
- Greek Stationery
- Sheaffer, Esterbrook Pens
- Greeting Cards

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

107 South Copeland

FSU; Keydets Clash Tonight

Spirit High As Seminoles Seek First Victory

Tonight, hoping for an upset win over slightly favored and always rugged Virginia Military Institute, the Florida State University Seminoles will also be hunting their first win of the season.

The Seminoles will go into this game with the best spirit they have had yet this year, Coach Don Veller stated yesterday. Veller also said that Wednesday's practice was the best that has been held this year and hopes that the team will continue to show the improvement they displayed last week.

FSU will have its hands full with quarterback Bill Brabaney, the Southern Conference's leading ball carrier last year, a constant threat this year. In addition to Brebany's passing talents, VMI possesses not one but two fine fullbacks. Tim O'Neil, the most effective running fullback Richmond last week, and George Chumbley, last year's top ground gainer for the Keydets will be doing a lot of ball toting tonight behind the blocking of halfback Mike Foley, who seldom carries the ball on a deadly blocker.

Running from a variety of formations, which include the T, the split-T, spread, and conventional T, the VMI Keydets dropped their opener to William and Mary by a score of 34-13, lost their second contest to Marshall 45-0, but broke into the win column last week with a 28-14 triumph over Richmond.

Ted Morrill, defensive end, is definately out of the FSU lineup as he is suffering from a pulled cartilage in his right knee.

Taking Morrill's position will be Ed Mann, who saw lots of action in the Miami game. Other newcomers in the starting lineup are Bevis Longstreth and John Griner. Fiveash, heretofore an offensive reserve, will be starting his defensive halfback while Griner will start at the backup-end slot, a position he filled very well most of last week.

Stan Dobson, also out of last week's tilt, will get the nod at the fullback slot and will be on call most of the afternoon because he has a slightly injured leg. Dick Turk and Billy Hudson, FSU's other power driving fullbacks are still ailing with bad less, but may be available for duty tonight.

Rounding out the offensive backfield will be Roy Thompson at tailback, Jimmie Lee Taylor at quarterback and Al Woodham at halfback.

Although the national spotlight will be focused on the backfield, the Seminoles are planning to cast a few doubts about their forward wall.

A good advance sale of tickets has been reported, and will be between nine and ten thousand, with a large number of season ticket holders in addition.

FSU		VMI
PROBABLE LINE-UPS
OFFENSE		DEFENSE
J. Rowan (170)	LE	C. Caudill (172)
G. Curry (180)	LT	C. Booth (195)
J. Lewis (194)	LG	E. O'Neil (205)
P. Cullum (220)	C	G. Bayer (200)
J. Griner (180)	RG	J. Longstreth (190)
B. Smith (200)	RT	L. Jacobs (185)
R. Ralph (227)	RE	S. Kalanich (188)
B. Brabaney (190)	QB	Tarpley (187)
C. Woods (184)	LH	R. Thompson (180)
T. Foley (182)	RH	A. D. Brown (175)
G. Chumley (190)	FB	T. Foley (175)
DEFENSE		OFFENSE
Pass
Landord	LE	Jimmy McDonald
Lott	LT	Eddie Johnson
Siler	LG	Jerry Jacobs
Zeidery	RG	Vic Szczepanski
Bevis	C	Bill Bevan
Hood	RE	Ed Mann
Gilbert	LB	Nat Polak
Thompson	MB	John Grimes
Mann	RB	Billy Kelley
Longstreth	RB	Curtis Crowell
Woodvine	Safety	Tommy Brown

Open House Planned

All Baptist Students are invited to an open house in the Baptist Student Union immediately following the Virginia Military Institute-Florida State game.

SAE Axed by Phi Delts 7-0

FSU "B" Team Wins 45-0 Over Pensacola Club

The Florida State University B football squad showed that they had plenty of what it takes Wednesday night as they downed the Pensacola Braves 45-0.

B team coach, Ken McLean said that he was very pleased with the showing and last only praise for the entire game and were "peppery" right up to the last whistle.

Scoring touchdowns were Frank Henico (2), Lindy Willis, Gene Hatch, "Pappy" Norman, Fred Kendall, and Leo Brooks. Kahlich converted after each seven attempts.

The Braves threatened only once, in the first period, when they blocked a punt and drove to the FSU four only to be completely frustrated by the fine FSU defensive play.

Score by periods:

Florida	8	6	12	19—45
Pensacola	0	0	0	0— 0

Danford Named CRA President

Dr. Howard G. Danford, Director of Athletes at Florida State University in Tallahassee, has been elected president of the College Recreation As ociation, a national organization of colleges and universities offering recreation courses in their curriculum.

He will serve during the 1952-53 year, and succeeds Dr. John Hutchinson of Columbia University. During the year Dr. Danford has served as association secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Danford has a wide background in recreation education and served as president of the Florida Recreation Association in 1931. He is a member of a number of national honorary and professional groups and author of several books and many papers in the field of collegiate recreation.

Aerial warfare punctuated one of the outstanding Greek touch football games as the interfraternity gridiron season opened on Tuesday.

Two of last year's top five teams, Phi Delta Theta and Sig-ma Alpha Epsilon, renewed pigskin battle on West campus with the Phi Delts coming out on top in a fabulous scrawling game 7-0.

The Phi Delts, sparked by passer Ken Edwards, shakily held a dominating edge throughout the duel, but the Loonmen from SAE dauntlessly growled back at defiance, holding the Phi Delts away from paydirt until the fading minutes.

Throughout, the first half, and most of the second, the two teams hammered away at each other's pass defense and occasionally shook loose their backs on short, jarred runs. Several times the Phi Delts managed to push within crawling distance of the SAE goal, but the SAEs matched blow for blow in skillfully repelling the invaders.

With the Phi Delt ahead on first downs and time running by, SAE let loose a desperate aerial barrage—but to no avail. Phi Delt took over. Rubber-armed slinger Ken Edwards knifed a pass to end Charlie Johnson in the end-zone for the only t.d. of the contest.

The SAEs took the Phi Delt kickoff a few minutes later but the game ended there. Statistical finer score: Phi Delt 7, SAE 0. First downs: Phi Delt 7, SAE 4.

OTHER GAMES: Meanwhile, activity was going on in the rest of the Fraternity League, as the ATO's were rolling over TC, SPE downed PKA and SC edged DTD.

Wednesday was the beginning of the dormitory league, and there were five games scheduled. The Trojans won over the Rebels, Mocassins over the Cats, the AAP over the Newman Club, the Confederates and Panthers had a double forfeit, and Manatee Junior Senior Hall 1-0 in first downs. (Scoreless games are decided by the team having the most first downs.)

The legend for the names of the Freshman Dormitory teams is: Floor 2- Rebels; Floor 3- Trojans Floor 4- Cats; Floor 5- Mocassins; Floor 6- Confederates; Floor 7- Panthers

Last night the Frats squared off in their second game as PDT won over PKA, DTD over SAE, PECT beat TC, SPE downed SN, and KA defeated KS

In the tennis matches for the Greek outfits, KS won over PKP, SC over TC, SN over PKA, KA over LCA, PECT over ATO, and SPE over DTD.

Football scores:

Tuesday

PDT 2 - PKA 0; DTD 7 - SAE 0
SC 2 - DTD 0; PDT 7 - SAE 0

Thursday

PDT 2 - PKA 0; DTD 7 - SAE 0
PKA 2 - TC 1 (first downs)
SPE 7 - SN 0; KA 8 - KS 0

Artist Series Secures New Galleries Exhibit

Whether you prefer realism or abstraction , the latest University Art Galleries Exhibit has exactly the type of paintings you enjoy in its "Eleven - The New Generation" a collection of contemporary works.

The Artist Series is responsible for the securing of the new exhibit from the Museum of Modern Art in New York City. Thirty-one canvases are included in the collection that were viewed here for the first time at the informal opening Wednesday.

AMONG the artists included are Italian Bruno Cainard and British Graham Sutherland, both of whom were awarded prizes at the 1952 Birnale exhibition in Venice.

The youngest artist represented is French Bernard Buffet, born in 1928 and awarded the Prix de la Critique in 1946 when he was only 20.

EMPHASIS of the pictures is on a broad dynamism of energetic line: Pignon and Gattus using this notably to trace the figure; Hartung, de Stael, Vedova, Capie over LCA, PECT over ATO, and more abstractly. This energy is the most exuberant and affirmative voice of the newer painting and is most closely allied to our own flourishing "abstract expressionist" group.

"Europe: the New Generation" will be shown in the Art Gallery through Sunday, October 26.

Management Exam Planned in October

The 1952 Junior Management Assistant examination dates will be announced the third week in October, according to the Civil Service Commission.

This examination will give outstanding young men and women an opportunity to begin a federal career in administration. Applicants must pass two written tests in addition to having had college training or experience in public or business administration or the social sciences.

Persons who successfully meet these requirements will be given an interview to determine whether or not the persons the personal qualities required for these positions. Applications will be accepted from students who expect to complete the required study by June 30, 1953, and those who attain eligibility in the examination will receive offers of employment upon graduation.

Applications may be obtained, when the examination is announced, from the nearest office, from most first or second class post offices or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Martar Board Plans Over-Night At Camp

Mortar Board members will spend tomorrow night at Camp Flatacowo. The main purpose of this get-together is to clarify the aims of Mortar Board, according to Ellen Lee, president.

The group will leave from Landis hall tomorrow evening at 6:00 and will return Saturday morning. Supper tomorrow night and breakfast Sunday morning will be served at the camp.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Imported 100% Cashmere by Gantner of California

COLORS
- Baby Blue
- Light Green
- Wine
- Camel

Only $15.95

Nic's Joggery

Got a Match?

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Toggery

Attendance Up Over Last Year

Attendance at Florida State University's home football games is far ahead of the same period of last year. In the two home games the Tribe has drawn a total of 18,479 fans.

Total attendance for the five home games last year was only 31,083 or an average of some 6,217 a game. The Seminoles have four home games remaining on the '52 slate. They face VMI in Tallahassee tonight.

Lectures Planned On State Problems

A series of lectures based on "Administrative Problems of Florida" has been inaugurated by the School of Public Administration for this semester.

Amus Laird, state merit system supervisor and part time FSU instructor in charge of the course, announced the lectures will be given by state cabinet members, bureau heads and others in top governmental positions.

These will take place each Tuesday night in Room 123 History Building from 7:30 to 9:30 p m.

Robert Gray, now serving his 22nd year as secretary of state for Florida, was the speaker this Tuesday. Gray was appointed to his post in April of 1930. Before that time he served as assistant state auditor, state auditor, secretary to Gov. Park Trammell, private secretary to Trammell when he was a U. S. Senator and assistant state comptroller.

Company Reveals Unique Competition In Pipe Sculpturing

Ever entertained ambitions to create some weird pipe design of your own? You'd have to go pretty far to outvie some of the geniuses in that field whose ever new creations startle the patrons of tobacco and cigarette counters the world over. Here's your chance to try.

The Kaywoodie Pipe Company has announced a new sculpture competition among American and Canadian amateur and professional sculptors designed to encourage new and artistic designs for tobacco pipes.

Cash prizes totalling $2,500 are being offered to winning sculptors with first, second and third prizes amounting to $1,000, $500 and $250 respectively. Five Honorable Mentions of $100 each are also included.

Requirements have been announced. Competition begins October 16 and entries must be received at the Kaywoodie Co., 6400 Broadway, West New York, New Jersey, postmarked no later than January 31, 1953. Entry blanks are obtained by writing the Sculpture Competition Director, Kaywoodie Co. at the above address.

JUDGES SERVING on the competition will be Wunder Wunderman, President of the National Sculpture Society; members of the society, Cecil Howard, nationally known sculptor, Michael Lantz, leading American Sculptor and Mr. Morris L. Levinson, president of the Kaywoodie company.

Free Movie Cancelled Due To Football Game

No free movie will be shown tonight, so that all students may attend the VMI football game.

Starting Monday, October 13, is "The Hasty Heart."

Theatres will be set up: Monday, West Campus; "O" Connor; Tuesday Magnolia; Thursday, Mc Tuesday, South Cawthon; Wednesday, Magnolia; Thursday, Men's Senior Hall and Friday, Music Amphitheater. The shows beein 7 30 p.m. weeknights and 8 p.m. Friday.

Hold Foshion Show

Delta Delta Delta social sorority will sponsor a fashion show on Monday, October 20, from 5 to 6 p.m in the Opperman Music Hall. Proceeds will go to the Campus Chest. Everyone is invited.

Election Finals

(Continued From Page 1)

All freshmen, regardless of semester standing, may have a ballot," he said.

ONE CANDIDATE, Jeff Davis, who ran for president, was a fictitious person put up by students. Unified persons who posted signs for him and wrote a letter to the Flambeau in his name.

"Obviously it was perpetuated as a joke, and a very clever one," said Ducker. Ducker said he even received a telephone call from a telephone who represented himself as Jeff Davis.

IN REGARDS to the candidates' election returns, Ducker checked by the Registrar's Office. Ducker said in the past it had been the precedent for all qualifications to be filed under the Honor System.

Candidates who will be on the runnoff ballot and the number of votes they received are, Jimmy Jeanne, 309 and Charles Mixon, 109, president; Tom Dickey, 225, and Jimmy Hanks, 129 vice-president; Bebee Bobee, 160, and Joan Tavel, 113, secretary; Donald Dixon, 161, and Nancy Vaughn, 112, treasurer.

JEAN HODGES, 160, and Laurie Vincent, 145, parliamentarian; Marraret Ann McIntosh, 167, and Barbara Santana, 133, social chairman.

Men's Senate, for which three may be elected; Andy Beverly, 187, Dirk Bittner, 265, Graham Carothers, 203 and Sonny Dare, 126. Moore's election will mean only two of these men can be chosen.

WOMEN'S SENATE, three chosen; Orchid Alonso, 168; Shirley Boulware, 103, Nancy Graham, 156, Joan Halford, 160, Harriet Lowe 116; Sue Martin, 132 Betty Ann Furman received one write-in vote in the primaries for Senate office.

Summers Gives

(Continued From Page 1)

and urged that all campus officers attend the Leadership Training Conference scheduled for October 31.

SENATOR EVANS, chairman of the Election Committee, presented ideas for a bill to be brought before Senate at a later date, clarifying all rules governing election procedure.

University Senate approved the following appointments made by President Summers: Secretary of Recreation, Tom Owens; Senior Men's Senator, Merrill Mooney; Chairman of Men's Judiciary James Graham; Senior Men's Judiciary Representative Gene Nobis; Junior Women's Judiciary Representative, June McGill; Men's Judiciary, Pinky Noland; Editor of the Pow Wow, Jim Couch.

Absent from Senate meeting were Senators Jackie Kraten and Terry Stein.

Hillel Chapter Elects Year's New Advisors

Dr. Sidney Kobre and Bernard Hirsch were unanimously elected as advisors for the Hillel Chapter of Florida State University Monday, at the meeting in Temple Israel.

Also at that time, more than 25 students participated in making several plans for the coming year. Leslie Spellane was chosen president and Tulie Capelouto, secretary, in temporary elections.

Hillel will meet next Monday at 8 p. m. At that time a permanent program will be set. After the meeting there will be an informal social with refreshments. All interested students are invited to attend.

Dr. Cooper Named Ruge Choir Director

Dr. Irvin Cooper, professor of music, has been named director of the Ruge Hall choir. Practice will be at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Dr. Cooper was born and educated in England. He received his education at the Royal Manchester Colleo of Music and the University of Manchester. Coming to Canada in 1923, he did post-graduate work at McGill University and Universite de Montreal. He holds degrees of Doctor of Music and Master of Music from the University of Monitreal where he served as associate professor of music. Royal Manchester College of Music.

From the years 1923, to 1946, Dr. Cooper held high school and public school music director, supervisor of music at Montreal city schools and lecturer at MacGill University. In 1946 he was awarded the Order of Merit by the Canadian government.

Before coming to FSU, Dr. Cooper spent two years as editor and educational director of a well known publishing house. He has been guest speaker and conductor at festivals and conventions in most of the eastern and southeastern states. He has produced over 200 publications of text books and choral, orchestral and band music.

There will be an open house at Ruge Hall immediately following the VMI game tonight.

Freshman Assembly Scheduled On Monday

Freshman Convocation will be held Monday in the Music Amphitheatre at 8 p.m., according to a University Government official.

President Doak S Campbell will address the Freshman class. Terry Stein, chairman of the Inter-Church Fellowship, will give the devotionals. Romona Crawford Beard, pianist, will accompany the audience participants in some selected music.

All Freshman men and women are urged to attend the convocation.

Gymkana Queen's Preliminary Judging Starts October 15

Preliminary judging for the title of "Miss Gymkana", as queen of the annual Florida State University Gymkana production "Out of This World", November 3-4, will be from a 'arger number of entries at 6:30 p.m Wednesday, Oct. 15 in the Women's Gymnasium.

All FSU campus organizations are eligible to submit entries for the contest, states Doris Harley Price, director. In keeping with the celestial theme of the production, girls may design their costumes to represent anything associated with the heavens. FINALISTS FOR the title are picked on the basis of beauty, poise and costume design adds Dr. Price, and a handsome trophy is given the winner with appropriate certificates awarded to the runners-up who serve in the queen's court.

Pat Pitney, Cindy Pound, Frances Stokes, Effie Zipperer, Martinal Goodlett and Sally Ann Browder have been placed in charge of the contest by Dr. Price.

The Gymkana show, which played to large audiences last year at the North Florida State Fair under the name "Playland, USA," will be given at 8 p.m., nightly, during the week at the Women's Gymnasium under the direction of Dr. Price. Last year the "Miss Gymkana" title was won by Carolyn Hadden, a freshman form Dundee, Florida.

Delts And Chi-O's Resort To Gambling

Members of Chi Omega sorority were entertained Wednesday evening by the Delta at the Delta Tau Delta house at a western style "Gambling" party.

The Delts, prepared to relieve all the Chi Omegas of their cash at an electronically wired roulette table, were stocked when one of the alert Chi-O's turned the tables on them by keeping her foot on the control button. The result: the girls took more than $2,000.- 000 from the Delta ' . . stage money, that is!

Fencing Group Halds Organizational Meet

Foil and Mask, the co-educational fencing group, will have its first meetng Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 1:30 p.m. in the Women's Gymnasium.

"You don't have to be a Cyrano; you don't even have to know how to hold a foil, but if you are interested in knowing how to fence or improving your skill, join the Foil and Mask," says Pat Folsom, University Recreation Association vice-president.

Classified Ads

LABORATORY TECHNICIAN — Full time or afternoons. Contact Miss Betty Murphy. 2-8737.

LOST: A Theta Chi Frat pin. REWARD. Call Ski Skipper at the Theta Chi House

FOR RENT Furnished Apt. with utilities. Single and double rooms for regulars and transients. Opposite Coilege Library Phone 2-4624. 643 W Jefferson

Superb Service

Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION

131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

Saturday Special ½ Fried Chicken $1.00

Sunday Special ROAST TURKEY With Dressing, Cranberry Sauce

Seven Seas

Turner's Featuring California COBBLERS

Crepe Sole Ties Soft, Comfortable Smart . . .

AAA to E 6 to 9

$6.95

Bertha Cooke

All curves, all compliments—this Gilbert Original for the young figure of any age. Strook's fine wool tweed shaped as a turn with velvet petaled tulip collar poised above the pocketed jacket. Skirt is slim and back-lined for shape retention. Tweed mixtures of brown, grey or deep green.

69.95

Gilberts

TULIP SUIT IN TWEED

MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA

Today and Saturday

'Big Jim McLain'

with John Wayne

STATE

Today thru Tuesday

'Just for You'

with Jane Wyman and Bing Crosby

COMING SOON 'Son of Paleface'

RITZ

Today and Saturday

Gene Autry in 'Night Stage to Galveston'

also

Mark Stevens in Reunion in Reno

DRIVE-IN

Today and Saturday

Randolph Scott and Janis Carter in 'Santa Fe'

Also

Jon Hall in 'When the Redskins Rode'

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT SEE A MOVIE NOW!

JARMAN'S NEW "Leisuals"

AS ADVERTISED IN Esquire

8.95 to 11.95

America's Solid Comfort Shoe Design

Weekends...outings...vacations... indoors or out, wherever friends gather for informal good times, Jarman's authentic "Leisuals" put you in the mood for fun. And because they ship on so easily, you'll find lightweight, flexible Jarman "Leisuals" your favorite "easy-chair" footwear. Try a pair today.

Jarman SHOES FOR MEN

Alford Brothers

BETTER CLOTHES FOR MEN

212 So. Monroe

"Represents education that continues," says GEORGE GALLUP

Founder of the American Institute of Public Opinion, formerly Professor, Princeton and Iowa Universities, Columbia U.

"A serious weakness of the American educational system is the missing link between what we are taught in school and what we learn after leaving school. The Reader's Digest represents education that continues. It arouses and satisfies keen interest in the vital issues of the day and in varied fields of lasting knowledge."

Look at the wide range of subjects in any issue—The Reader's Digest is designed for the well-rounded individual who cultivates interests far wider than the confines of any particular field.

From the wealth of material that is published each month, the editors select those outstanding articles no thoughtful person would want to miss. Each article is condensed to present the essentials clearly, yet preserve the full content and flavor of the original.

The Reader's Digest offers a continuing liberal education for millions of men and women with alert, open minds.

* * *

In October Reader's Digest, you'll be interested in Cobalt 60— how an offshoot of A-bomb research is being used to fight cancer; Watch Out for the Weather— how six changes affect your physical and mental behavior; 25 page book condensation: Windows for the Crown Prince— an American woman's prec.dent-shattering experience as tutor to Japan's future Emperor.

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Fine Foods Cocktail Lounge Banquet Facilities Private Dining Rooms

We Specialize in Flambeaux Home Made Pies Waffles

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXIX, No. 7 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, October 14, 1952

Rev. Dr. William Martin

SPEAKER: Rev. Dr. William Martin of the First Presbyterian Church at Tallahassee opened the APO Leadership Conference Saturday afternoon with an inspiring address on the responsibility of leaders. The conference were officers in the student government, officers of campus organizations and publication and WFSU staffs.

Voting to Continue Until 6 In Freshman Finals Today

Counting of Votes Will Begin At 6; Students Invited to Observe Tallying

The polls will stay open until 6 this afternoon for first and second semester Freshman students to choose their governmental representatives.

Secretary of Elections Bob Ducker said that a counting of the votes will begin immediately at 6 in the Lonnmire Auditorium. "All students are invited, and urged, to come during this. he said. Ducker said he hopes to have all returns in and counted by 6 p. m. or shortly thereafter.

TWENTY-TWO students will be listed on the ballot, this year on different colored paper according to the precincts from which they come. Those polling places are at the Student Center, in front of Bryan and at the new Freshman Men's Dormitory.

Jimmy Joanos and Charles Mixon will vie for the Frosh presidency, with Tom Dickey and Jimmy Hanks for the vice-presidency. Running for secretary is Bebe Bisbee and Joan Tavel. Vaughn Drash and Nancy Vaughn will compete for treasurer.

JEAN HODGES and Laurie Vincenti are on the ballot for parliamentarian; Margaret Ann Mc-Intosh and Barnes Santan, sopranos; Cechid Alonso, Shirley Boulware, Nancy Graham, Susan Hatchett, Harriet Jones, and Sue Marvin, Women's Senate. Three will be elected for Women's Senate, whereas from Andy Beverly, Dick Bittner, Graham Carpenters and Sonny Dave, two will be chosen. Cycle Moore, receiving more than a majority, was elected on the first primary.

Village Vamps Plan Mystery Revealing On Thursday Night

A surprise is in store for Florida State University students, Wednesday, October 22, although the Village Vamps, girls' social club on campus, want everyone is to meet in front of the Mecca and Amber Room to solve the mystery that must be good, because they won't even tell the Flambeau about it.

Vamps held invitational Friday night for three of their pledges who missed initiation last Tuesday night. Running for secretary is Bebe Bisbee and Joan Tavel. Vaughn Drash and Nancy Vaughn will compete for treasurer.

Following the initiation, Carolyn Nelson was chosen "Keeper of the Records" and secretary, while Charlotte Wood was elected "Keyhole Kitten" or reporter. Other Vamps elected were "Chief Hint Breaker" Judy Ellis, "Chief Vice-President, Anne Hall, "Chief Gold Digger," Joyce Whidden; and Press Chairman, Patsy Chaffee.

Athletic Honorary Plans Box Supper

The annual Women's Athletic Association supper to be held Oct. 21, at the girls' gym will start at 5:30 p. m. Chairman of the event is Betty Lou Hall, sorority representative and in the Seminole Club. Tickets are priced at 75 cents and will be from 5 to 7 p. m. Students may buy your box supper. Pat Folsom, tickets chairman, has contributed to the cause—our Campus Queen—and hopes to have a few sorority groups to compete in manner to the box supper. Each sorority group is expected to have a box supper too.

Thorpe, co-all-chairman of the Women's P Club functions that the following committee chairmen have assisted in the plans: Charlotte West, food; Jo Foxall, tickets; Jean Guard, preparation; the P Club "gosts," Sally Grant, clean-up, and Frank Brownlee, publicity.

Gallery Opens Exhibit Of European Works

The Art Gallery of Florida State University is presenting a new exhibition entitled Europe—The Post Generation.

The exhibition is of limited size but it is still a very fair sampling of the work being done in Europe today. The paintings have been selected from public and private collections and juxtaposed original work from France, Italy and Great Britain.

Anyone interested in viewing this new exhibition may visit the Art Gallery from 9 to 12:30 on Saturdays, and 2 to 5 on Sundays.

Foreign Students Meet

The first meeting of the year for the Foreign Students Club will be tomorrow night at 7:30 in room 211 Music Building.

All foreign students are invited to attend.

Variety Show To Plug Drive

The Sigma Kappa social sorority will sponsor a variety show Thursday, Oct. 23, from 7 to 9 p. m. in the Opperman Music Hall. Proceeds will go to the Campus Chest.

The show will be composed of talent from competing sororities and fraternities, who will vie for the two trophies to be awarded. Judging will be on the basis of originality, audience response and talent. The board of judges will be composed of faculty members.

Some of the acts in the show will be Walt Baldwin and Steve Kalenich in a comedy routine, Woody Parker, playing a ukelele solo, a quartet from the Phi Delta; a guitar number from the Sigma Alpha Epsilon's; Dick Slade and his partner with a bamboo pole; Jim Dye, Jim McCauley and Ray Krupo in a comedy act; Ruthie Smith singing; Nancy Lee Erickson, a reading; Chi Omega band, and Claire Knupon, singing.

While the judges are deciding the winners, Gail Jackson will play the piano and sing, and Arden Wrisht will play two numbers on a baritone ukelele with audience participation for "a humdinger an hour."

The student leaders, meeting in three sections, student government, organizations and publications, during the afternoon discussed problems peculiar to their duties and then as an entire group for the good of student welfare. Refreshments were also served.

THE GROUP decided in favor of having Dead Week, before examinations in so much as all organizations should be discouraged from calling meetings or holding socials during that period. The group also thought that scholarship should be stressed more than previously.

School spirit also came under

(Continued on Page 4)

Gold Key Applications Can Be Obtained Now

Applications for membership into Gold Key, men's honorary, can be obtained at the Information Desk in the Lonnmire Building until Thursday, at 5 p.m.

All men interested in becoming Gold Key members should fill out one of these blanks and leave it at the desk. Tentative plans call for tapping to be Sunday, Oct. 26, at 5 p.m.

UGA Leaders Air Suggestions At Conference

Officers Emphasize Enforced Dead Week, Boosting School Spirit

Student problems affecting campus life and possible improvements came under discussion Saturday as approximately 50 student leaders from organizations, government, publications and radio met in an Alpha Phi Omega sponsored Leadership Conference.

The service fraternity of ex-Boy Scouts scheduled the meeting, a simulate of the annual Common Dells Kappa-Mortar Board conference, because it felt the need of open airing of student problems and solutions. Tommy Bowen, APO president, introduced the speakers and WAC coordinator.

THE SPEAKER for the event was Rev. Dr. William Marsin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The young minister emilingly compared campus leaders with a group of hustlin doctors. When you take the dogs out for exercise, he said, they just go wild with no apparent organization or leadership. But when they are on the trial of a scene, he said, the lead dog goes to the front.

Leadership among humans is like that, Rev. Martin said. Once you set a goal—set a scene—then true leadership comes to the front.

HE STRESSED the importance of setting sights on a goal that is attainable. The minister, a leading light in these days, said that at the beginning of the year, a list of the projects group wants to accomplish should be drawn up. Once this list is made, he said, it should be the guidance for all action. Don't let other projects come in and take their place, unless it is an emergency or work will be spread thin and nothing important accomplished.

He also said that with leadership there is a deep sense of moral responsibility, and that all true leaders, no matter their outward appearance, have one thing in common, character.

THE MINISTER upbraided the "key wearers," the people who belong to clubs for honorary and do nothing more than attend meetings and "be honored by an hour."

The student leaders, meeting in three sections, student government, organizations and publications, during the afternoon discussed problems peculiar to their duties and then as an entire group for the good of student welfare. Refreshments were also served.

THE GROUP decided in favor of having Dead Week, before examinations in so much as all organizations should be discouraged from calling meetings or holding socials during that period. The group also thought that scholarship should be stressed more than previously.

School spirit also came under

(Continued on Page 4)

Ducker Reveals Good Turnouts In Frosh Voting

The percentage of voters participating in the Freshman elections exceeded the average national presidential election turnouts by 2 percent reported Secretary of Elections Bob Ducker at the UGA Cabinet meeting yesterday.

Miss Florence B. Cole, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, who will act as UGA advisor, was introduced to the Cabinet. Tommas Owens, who was appointed Secretary of Recretion, was also introduced.

President Summers enumerated the four aims of the Alpha Phi Omega Leadership Conference as being; to strength the honor system, to create more school spirit, to have fewer but more efficient organizations, and to improve study situations for students.

SECRETARY OF Elections. Bob Ducker, gave a repoqt on the results as well as procedures of the Freshman elections. He commented that the different colored ballots for every precinct helped in keeping better election return records. He also stated that the time for getting in election returns was cut considerably in comparison to previous years.

Secretary of Organizations, Jo Hell Proctor, gave a summary of having fewer and better organizations. There are many organizations that are not functioning that could be eliminated her committee reported.

Would Be Queens Face O.B. Deadline

Florida State Orange Bowl Queen hopefuls were warned this week that the deadline to enter the 19th annual Orange Bowl Queen Contest is Saturday, November 8.

The 1953 Orange Bowl Queen who will succeed Ruthie Garst, Florida State University senior, will be named, along with four princesses one week later.

Semi-finalists will be selected from photographs and other information submitted before the contestant's résumé date to the Press Office Orange Bowl Committee, 615 S.W. Second Avenue, Miami, officials pointed out that teen-agers predominate early entrants to compete. One reason for the younger girl's interest was attributed to a $300 scholarship to a Florida school of her choice which will go to the winner and four runners up.

The contest is limited to unmarried Florida girls and residents of other states attending Florida schools.

Campus Chest Sets Plans; Forum Sparks 1952 Drive

Chairman Kraseman Says Goal Figured at Dollar Per Student

John Glasson, regional secretary of the World Student Service Fund, will officially open the Campus Chest Drive by conducting a forum at 7:30 p. m. In the Longmire Auditorium this Thursday.

The goal for this year is $ 6.000 dollars, or a dollar per student. We can reach our goal if each person gives only one dollar, which means merely giving up three colors and two movies, something all of us should be willing to do," says Margaret Krasemann, chairman of the drive.

CAMPUS CHEST is the only charity drive held on the FSU campus during the year. The largest amount, 60 percent, goes to the WSSF to give material aid to needy students and universities in other parts of the world. The only source of income for WSSF is American and European universities.

The remainder of the Campus Chest proceeds will be divided among five organizations. The American Heart Association will get ten percent, American Cancer Society, ten percent; March of Dimes, ten percent; American Dimes, ten percent and Campus five percents and five percent in miscellaneous charities.

THE FORUM Thursday night will also include Miss Elizabeth Lyons, assistant dean of women, who will give a history of the Campus Chest. Margret Krasemann, chairman of the drive, will tell where the money goes. Mary Ruth Summers, Student Government Association president, will speak on contributions.

The Campus Chest drive is the first open forum of the year, with the purpose in mind then to enable interest in the Campus Chest drive, which will last from Oct. 16 to Oct. 24.

ADVICE ARBOGAST, forum chairman, will introduce the speakers and serve as moderator for the open discussion from the floor after the speeches.

A loving cup will be awarded the organization contributing the most to the Campus Chest at the end of the drive. The cup, which will rotate yearly, will become the permanent property of any organization winning it for three years in succession.

ANY organization raises 75 dollars and has the largest attendance at the forum, its contribution will be counted as 100 dollars.

Gold Key, women's honorary, has games and gold coins at the football game last week, while the Women's F Club is planning their annual box supper in Landis Green for Oct. 21. Proceeds will go to the Campus Chest. Many social sorority is making pants for a variety show in which sororities and fraternities will compete. Other campus organizations are also planning fund-raising projects.

Day Postponed For Discounts

Summers Announces Later Date To Be Set

"Discount Day has been postponed," announces Mary Ruth Sumner, UGA president. The Dollar Day was originally planned for Thursday, Oct. 16, but both the merchants and the student group decided it would be inconvenient at this time.

"But," advises Mary Ruth, "save your pennies because it will be another fine time next month."

The original plan was to have students buy at the downtown stores at a discount, using silver dollars that they could obtain from the University Bank. This was to be better able to determine the buying power of FSU students, at a saving to them.

Discount Day is a project of the Men's Senate, and was worked out with the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce.

Qualification Test Applications Ready

Attention male students! Applicants for the December 4, 1952 and the April 23, 1953 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible Florida State University students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at once to local board No. 11, 119 E. Gaines St., Tallahasse for an application and a bulletin of information.

The office of Personnel Records urges all students to take note of this announcement and, regardless of whether they intend taking the December or April test, to apply at once as it will be greatly to their advantage. Applications for the December 4th test will be postmarked no later than midnight, November 1, 1952.

Remove Posters

All students who put up posters and campaign material for the recent elections are requested to remove all their signs as soon as possible after the finals today.

This request has been made by the local sofa shops around campus.

Opera 'Carmen' Appears Oct 28 To Open Series

Bizet's opera, Carmen, will open Florida State University's 1952-53 Artist Series with two performances on Tuesday, Oct. 28, in Leon High School auditorium.

Students may now obtain their tickets to either the matinee or evening performance by presenting their "ID" cards in the Public Relations office, Longmire building.

The opera will be presented in Tallahasse by the Warner Opera Company. Lydia Ibarrondo and Maria Russo will alternately appear in the title role.

The production will be staged under the direction of Desire Defrere of the Metropolitan Opera company. A chorus and a 27-piece orchestra will appear in Tallahassee. Ernesto Barbini, also associated with the Metropolitan, will serve as conductor.

On Monday, Oct. 20, tickets will go on sale to FSU faculty members and staff at the Public Relations office and to Leon High School students in their school office. The remaining tickets will go on sale to the general public beginning Thursday, October 23, in the Public Relations office.

'52 Miss Gymkana Tryouts Scheduled

The preliminary tryouts for the Miss Gymkana contest will be tomorrow night at 8:30 at the Women's Gymnasium. Contestants must wear tee shirts, shorts and tennis shoes and will be judged on a basis of beauty and poise.

About 15 finalists will take part in the Gymkana production starting Nov. 3. They will be judged for the queen selection that night and Saturday night, Nov. 8, when Dr. Josh S. Campbell will crown the winner. All court members will be given a certificate, while Miss Gymkana will receive a 30 inch trophy which will be her permanent property.

Judges are Roy Flynn, director of public relations; Jack Mildred Partin, executive secretary of the Alumni Association; Lloyd Olson, head of Relations and Coach and Mrs. Hartley Price.

Head of Ceramics Will Attend Course

William Watson, head of Ceramics in the Art Education school, will leave tomorrow to attend a two week training course in Ceramics at Black Mountain college in North Carolina.

The ceramics course in advanced Ceramics is by invitation only. Noted speakers in the course are Peter Voulkos of England, Homads, Japan; and Marguerita Wildenhain, of the U. S. as a non-American potters.

A Seminar on Aesthetics will run concurrently with the Ceramics course. Watson will attend both the seminar and course.

Watson was one of the 60 picked from 200 United States craftsmen to display his work in the Texas State Fair show. "American Craftsmen." He is noted for his use of clay bodies.

Knowledge at College Exam Planned Today

The Knowledge of College examination will be given today from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall, Peggy Moore, who is in charge of the testing of women students on University rules, says that all Juniors and transfer students must take the examination.

Those who cannot take it at noon will take it at 10 tonight in the Recreation Room of Reynolds Club.

'Hasty Heart' Begins

The "Hasty Heart" will be shown tonight in South Cawthon at 7:0

Tomorrow night will be in Manning, Thursday, Men's Senior Hall and Friday, the Music Annex.

Week-end movies are at 7:30 p.m. and Friday, 8 p.m.

CLASSES END FRIDAY NOON

Plans for Homecoming Swing Into High Gear

Alumni Receive Lowdown

Plans for the biggest "bang-up" Homecoming in the history of any on Florida State's campus are being shoved into high gear as the Homecoming committee gets all of the many activities bucked down to the serious business of the annual affair this week.

The Tallahassee City Commission, Leon County Board of Commissioners and Board of Directors of the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce have given the go-ahead signal to the University to spend $1500 of their revenue donation to the FSU Homecoming Fund. Parts of this fund will go toward financing the annual barbecue and to provide entertainment for distinguished guests of alumni and students alike.

Classes will end Friday noon, November 14 to mark the beginning of the two-day celebration. Registration of alumni will start at 12:30 in the Lonnmire Alumni Building with Miss Maldred Parrish, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association in charge.

The big Homecoming parade through Downtown Tallahassee is set for 3 p.m. on Friday afternoon with all campus organizations and student body beauties and general hullabaloo.

HOMECOMING PREPARATIONS—Miss Mildred Parrish, right, FSU Alumni Association executive secretary, is shown supervising the preparation of information material on this year's Homecoming. This material is being sent to the thousands of FSU and FSCW alumni now living in all parts of the world. Students assisting with the work here are, left to right: Joan Northrop, Deane Jackson, Bennie Lee Smith, Margaret Ann McIntosh, Charles Brandies and Carolyn Hicks.

Repeat Performance Of Miss Elizabeth Lyons

Miss Elizabeth Lyons, assistant dean of women, will repeat her performance as Campus Chest Forum speaker tonight at 7:30 in the Longmire Auditorium.

Miss Lyons will give a history of the Campus Chest Drive, which will last from Oct. 16 to Oct. 24.

Other speakers will be Margret Krasemann, chairman of the drive, and Mary Ruth Summers, president of the Student Government Association.

Advice Arbogast, forum chairman, will introduce the speakers and serve as moderator for the open discussion from the floor after the speeches.

College Spirit of the 20's Reborn on FSU Campus

Back in the flaming '20's when Mother was a flapper and Papa wore a racoon coat, it was peanuts, mums and rah-rah patriotism for the home team at football games.

But mother put her red fringe dress in the trunk with the mothballs and Papa doesn't like the sight of fur coats because he's bald now. In all this change of style and with the death of college days as the books picture them, university spirit and the blind sectionalism as far as goes the campus grounds seems also to have disappeared.

We of the press have been passing our tear cup for about five years now, and Friday night were so startled we almost dropped it. You see, the best way to fill a tear cup around here is to go to the football games. Everytime people just sit there in the stadium while one of our guys is charging toward the goal, we let a drop go for their lack of appreciation. While the cheerleaders blast out their lungs to an unresponsive audience, we let another drop fall. By the time the half comes, with Seminoles leaving for the exits in droves, we are sending onr copy boy to the store for a galvanized tuh.

But, and the heavenly choir may join in rejoicing, the tear cup is no longer. Friday night when we went, we saw a thing for which we originally held little hope—a booster section. We also saw Seminoles, about 400 of that hlessed tribe in that beribboned area, shouting, screaming, yelling, hollering, and, in general, making the kind of noise you should make at football games.

They sang, they pounded their feet, they had goal posts in their eyes. 'Twas a wonderful sight to see. And down in front, yelling through a mike, was Ted Steinmeyer, who upbraided the crowd every time someone lowered the volume.

Yes, we have dashed the tear cup on the gridiron. We hope we will not have to go huy another. In that booster section Friday night was the spirit, the loyalty and the everything in that category we have been lameting over for all these years.

All sorts of congratulations to those responsihie, including those who pitched the school tunes low enough for the basses. We love you.

And in closing, may we beg you, the student body, to keep on yelling. The Flambeau staff cannot afford another tear cup until football season is over. It's not, and by rights shouldn't be, in our budget.

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

WARBONNETS OFF TO BOOSTER SECTION

By FRANCES CAWTHON

The before and the after and, we hope always. . . .

Sammy called Susie up for a date. It was Friday night, and they had seen all the movies in town except ona entitled "The California Babe Rides Again" starring Tom, the Kid, Smith and "Dracula's Step-brother" with a fine arrey of ghoulish stars. That didn't sound so good. After eliminating all other possible forms of recreation, they decided to go to the football game. Might be fun. After all, they hadn't been to one since their Sophomore days.

Once in Campbell stadium, the two stood up for the Alma Mater and kickoff, then settled comfortably on the benches. The game rolled along until FSU made a first down. "Yea," said Sammy. "Wonder who that guy with Phyllis is," mused Susie, looking down the aisle.

"Keep your mind on the game," her date said. They sat and watched for five more minutes. The cheerleaders came out and began to cheer. They sat in silence. Sammy was wondering who the blonde one was, and Susie was pondering the question of how they kept their hair from falling down in the damp.

At the half Sammy said, "Let's go to the O Club." "All right," said Susie. They left.

That was all yesterday. Today we say . . .

Warbonnets off to Ted Steinmeyer, the band, Senior Class, student body, cheerleaders, ad infinitum. . . .

The red and white VMI's got a two digit score to our one, but it was the best game I've seen since rat cap days. . . . I won't go into a discussion of the football team, but it can be said there was more determination shown this time by the eleven than the first game. But the booster section—it was a tremendous, marvelous, atupendous success. If anybody could talk Saturday morning, he has mighty atrong vocal chords.

Sitting there, amidst screaming, enthusiastic football fans, it semed like an act of the Deity. After years of apathy—bless the word and let's stuff it in the cedar chest — the student body in the booster section showed we could be a college, too—not just drab spectators who gripe if we don't win the game.

It seemed as if everybody finally realized the football team is not a "they." It is composed of Seminoles, and Seminoles mean "us." It was as if what the UGA and Flambeau has been campaigning for, working together to go forward, had gotten through. Abe's old saying of a house divided goes for student bodies, too.

Ted's "Aw, come on now, you can yell londer (with a Southern accent) than that!!!" really roused the crowd. He was pulling for school spirit so hard and strong, he didn't notice that he was getting a fan himself, a little four-year-old girl who watched him give forth with the energy with an enthralled, awed expression.

The mouths of several people fell open so wide Friday that it's a wonder they didn't get quadruple pneumonia of the tonsils. Braunagel gave the downbeat on the "Fight Song" and students were actually able to sing. The cheerleaders came to the aid of the Middle C'ers with a good nice alto, basses joined in and it sounded like the students had taken the advice of "you gotta fight, fight, fight for FSU." The guy with the horn came through with "Charge!" again, too.

Well, we lost the game. But that loss is going to be the real test of whether our backing, our yelling, our spirit is real. Ted, the cheerleaders, all those responsible worked hard Friday night, and we, the students, did too.

Come on, let's keep it up, huh? Let's make this a new habit for Susie and Sammy.

PLAYBITS

FIRST SPEECH PRODUCTION NOW UNDER WAY

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

"Try it again, a little further down right this time . . . what angle do you think we ought to play up for publicity? . . .be careful with that saw, and bring those pieces of lumber over here, will you?" We've begun to hear these familiar phrases this week at Conradi as "The Torchbearers" swung into production Tuesday.

Rehearsals and crew work are gathering speed and skill. To you who have never worked on a show, there are a great many angles that you've never dreamed of involved in working toward that opening night. For instance, you don't just get a role and suddenly find yourself on stage in front of an audience. There are endless rehearsals, hard crew work, exacting costuming details, and countless hours spent on publicity to help insure the success of a show.

Without all these things, the audience would feel pretty cheated when they viewed the play. But as we said, work is well under way on all of these and many more parts of production already. Its rather exciting to see a new theatrical season off to such a grand and enthusiastic start.

And this week another play will be cast by director Carl Zerke Notices as to the "who, when, and where" for the readings will be posted on the call board outside of 115 History. This is for "Taming of the Shrew" and since the opening is some three months away, you can see that its pretty important to rate such a long rehearsal period. Keep watching the call board. Your name may be posted to read.

One of the alums from the Department of Speech was back visiting this week. He's Bill Yarbrough from St. Petersburg. Bill stopped through here on his way to Charlotte, North Carolina and points to the north. He is back in civilian life after a year and a half in the United States Air Force, and is headed north to try his luck in "Yankee" theatre.

Some of you "old timers" may remember Bill's performances in "The Shoemakers House" and "Family Portrait." It was certainly good to see him around again and we all wish him the best of luck.

Don't let the Department of Speech Open House slip your mind this week. Its Thursday night, October 16th., at 7:30, and the place (naturally) is the History building. Besides the guided tours through other areas, the drama area will have many displays, exhibits, people to meet and things-of-interest-dramatically to find out.

One of the most promising features that we've heard of is the special lecture-demonstration to given by the costumer, Mr. Doug Russell. His subject is the Oregon Shakespearean Festival which is presented every year at Ashland, Oregon.

Mr. Russell has done the costumes for the Festival for several years and has some beautiful color slides which he is going to show. It should be quite exciting not to mention being interesting.

Some of you have probably heard your voice on a tape or wire recording but have any of you ever seen your voice? Well, something else unusual at the Open House will give you a chance to do just that.

Besides having the opportunity to hear yourself on tape you will actually be able to "see" your voice give you all the complicated details of how it works (not knowing enough about an oscilloscope to even recognize one in broad daylight!) but you can find out if you come on Thursday night.

Now, pardon our dust, but we've got a date with a hammer, some nails, and a couple of pieces of lumber! Don't forget the Open House!

● REWARDING WORK

The following editorial is reprinted from the Christian Science Monitor and was written by Emory King, a senior at Florida State University.

If a student in college wishes to gain an overall concept of the University, its life, its business, and its place in our society he should become a member of the college newspaper staff.

Working on a college paper offers the best opportunities for a student to get acquainted, not only with the complex social and business life around him, but also with the social structure he will encounter outside the ivy-covered walls of the institution.

Too many students are going to college, spending four years there, and leaving without really knowing where they have been, and why. In these trying times every student should attempt to understand society and the reason for our democratic way of life.

Understanding people and their problems is of major importance today if we are to have real and lasting peace. Working for a newspaper can aid students to meet and know many people, and can aid one in understanding others' viewpoints.

There are many advantages to being a reporter, or even a copy boy, I have found. The student body may be indifferent towards the officials of the school and their prohlems, but this sort of attitude does not usually prevail in the college newspaper office. Every day these student newsmen come in contact with the educators. Gradually they come to know and understand the whys and wherefores of the rules, regulations and restrictions placed upon college youth.

Besides understanding the business end of the university, the student journalist has the great opportunity to study and undertsand human nature. Also, what is perhaps more important, he has an opportunity to help other people. He soon learns that a constructive editorial, a plea for tolerance, or a news story that helps someone find a missing pet, for instance, is far more rewarding than all the "gripes" he can muster.

Newspaper work readily lends itself to the self-expression that is so essential for a student. A pupil does not have to be majoring in journalism in order to write for a college newspaper; many reporters have never seen the inside of a journalism school, hut they are admirahle writers of features, news stories, and editorials.

● CAMPUS CHEST APPEAL

Dear students, faculty and staff members:

Campus Chest week is starting this Thursday, October 16 with a forum (at 7:30 p. m. in Longmire auditorium) about our annual drive. This week will be of great importance to our campus and to our university, because during this drive each and everyone of us will be ahle to show his ability of helping others and of being unselfish.

When my committee, at the end of the Campus Chest week, will distrihute the money to the various organizations and funds, the spirit of our University will be known all over the country, yes, even all over the world.

Therefore, I beg each student, faculty and staff member to show his cooperation for such a vital task.

Certainly, it is important that we have a very successful drive (materially speaking), hut to the people (mostly students) to whom our contributions are sent, the spirit with which we give is far more important.

I, myself, being a foreign student, am very lucky to have been able to come to the United States. Personally, I know hundreds, yes thousands, of refugees who live in misery without food, clothes, housing, study materials and sufficient medical equipment.

Why can't we, even if we don't have much, help those, who are less fortunate than we are, to a better life? Each of us should be able to sacrifice at least one dollar—for such a worthy cause.

Let us remember, there are millions of peopl. who are worse off than we are. Let us help them and make this the higgest and greatest Campus Chest Drive we ever had.

Won't you help us?

Margaret F. Krasemsn, Chairman
Campus Chest Committee

WFSU Program Schedule October 14-17

TUESDAY

5:00	Supper Club
7:00	World News Roundup
7:15	Easy Listening
7:30	Los Picaros
7:45	Guest Star
8:00	Musical Screpbook
8:30	Masterworks from France
9:00	Late News
9:10	Our Heritage Freedom
9:15	Repeat Performance
9:30	Lyrically Speaking
9:45	Here's to Vets
10:00	Late Date

WEDNESDAY

5.00	Supper Club
7:00	World News Roundup
7:10	Easy Listening
7:45	County Music Time
8:00	U.G.A. Forum
8:30	Starlight Concert
9:00	Late News
9:10	Our Heritage Freedom
9:15	Repeat Performance
9:30	Faith for Today (University Religious Council)
9:45	Here's to Vets
10:00	Late Date
11:00	Sign Off

THURSDAY

5.00	Supper Club
7:00	World News Roundup
7:15	Easy Listening
7:45	Guest Star
8:00	Sigma Alpha Iota
8:15	Pigskin Preview
8:30	Masterworks from France
9:00	Late Date
9:10	Our Heritage Freedom
9:15	Repeat Performance
9:30	Alpha Tau Omega Show
9:45	Here's to Vets
10:00	Late Date
11:00	Sign Off

FRIDAY

5:00	Supper Club
7.00	World News Roundup
7:10	Easy Listening
7:45	Naval Air Show
8:00	Seminole Hit Parade
8 45	Here's to Vets
9:00	Late News
8:10	Our Heritage Freedom
9:15	WFSU Houseparty
11:00	Sign Off

Graduate Students To Take Examination

One-hundred ninety-two graduate students have signed up for Florida State University's record examination which will be given October 17-18.

Dr. Mark H. DeGreff of the Test Service Bureau said the tests are given in three parts. First in the series is Profile. This gives a reflection of the examinees themselves. Aptitude, which is second, tests the mental ability of the individual student. Third is Advance, which quizes the graduate in his major field.

Mrs. Marie Willis, graduate office, said last year's graduates, 125, are outnumbered by 67 this semester.

3 Faculty Members Honored By Gilchrist

Three Florida State faculty members who have been chosen honorary house members of Gilchrist Hall will be the honored guests at a tea from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The professors selected to the position are Dr. Margaret V. Campbell, modern language department; Miss Sara Lou Hammond, elementary education, and Thomas Wright, School of Music.

Grants in Research Offered by Council

The Social Science Research Council is offering fellowships and grants for 1953 to PhD holders and those who have finished all PhD requirements except for the dissertation.

Young doctors of philosophy will be able to apply for research training, while more mature scholars may sign for travel grants for area research, grants-in-aids of research and faculty research fellowships.

Predoctoral and post doctorel research training is offered only to men and women of exceptional aptitude for research.

All applicants must be citizens of the United States or Canada and must place their application by January 5, 1953. Those who will be granted these fellowships will be notified about the first of April.

Phifer Writes Helps

Dr. Gregg Phifer, assistant professor of speech at the Florida State University, is currently writing the leaders' helps for some forum materials appearing in the Adult Student and the Adult Teacher, two Methodist church school periodicals. Those helps will appear in October, November, December, January, and March.

Cawthon Hall Selects Homecoming Entrant

At their second annual house meeting Thursday night, October 9, the residents of North Cawthon elected Betty Jo Miller as their candidate for Homecoming queen.

Runners up in the queen contest, Lynn McNab and Kitten Marrow, were named North Cawthon's representatives in the Betty Co-ed race.

After the business meeting, which was conducted by president Jo Ann Nelson, Arlene Amend, from Mortar Board, spoke on the value of good study habits. Entertainment was provided by Ruth Ward, Allee Peacock, Jo Ann Williams, and Kitten Marrow.

Film Festival Slated; New York Is Scene

America's Second International Art Film Fesival will be held in New York City at the Hunter College Auditorium, Nov 28, 29 and 30.

Outstanding new films from all over the world relating to art and artists, many of which will be shown for the first time, will be screened at five sessions. Workshop conference to discuss the better production and wider distribution of films about art will be held the mornings of Nov 29 and 30.

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

Associate Editors — Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editors — Jim Couch, Jim Eady
Copy Editor — Judy Simkins
Feature Editor — June Morgan
Assistant News Editor — Al Pierce
Rewrite Editor — John Harecopos

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 2-8000, Extension 4321 Second Floor Alumni Bldg

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegite Press Association

Dear Editor . . .

Freshman President

Dear Members of the Class of 1956:

I wish to express to each of you my sincere thanks and appreciation for the vote you gave me in my rece for Men's Senator. As I take up the duties of this office, I shall need your counsel and advice in order that we of the Class of 1956 may make the maximum contribution to the growth and development of the Florida State University.

I am proud of being a student at FSU and I am proud to be a member of the Class of 1956. There may be other classes that will be larger and they may excel us in a number of ways—more brilliant scholars, scientists, or thletes—but let us not allow any class now or later to excel us when it comes to school spirit, loyalty, and service to Florida State University. Let us set such high standards of honor, of fine and noble living, of democracy, and of University service that future classes may well say of us, "The Class of 1956 laid the base and set the standard on which we have built."

To earn such praise from those who come after us will require nothing less than the best of each of us during the four years we are here. As one of your Men's Senators, I pledge you that I will work to achieve these goals.

Sincerely yours.
Coyle Moore, Jr.

Women's Senate

Fellow students:

Thank you for the opportunity to be in the run-off for Woman's Senate. I appreciate your support and sincerely hope that the results of thsi election will give me the privilege of serving as your representative to the Senate this year.

My earnest desire is to express the true wishes of the members of the Freshman class in a democratic manner. I assure you that I will work always for better understanding between the various classes and factions of the University.

I will appreciate your continued support.

"Vote early for Shirley" but anyway, Vote!

Shirley Boulware.

Mail Solicited

Korea

Dear Editor:

This letter may seem somewhat erratic, but the way we're forced to live these days is somewhat eccentric in itself, if you judge by ... social standards twenty years back.

Next fall I plan to enroll in your school. So I believe it would be nice if I could become acquainted with a few of the students who will be there then. Naturally I prefer those of the feminine species.

To explain why I should go to such means to acquire pen relations., I'm twenty four years of age. After being here for about four months, my one contact at home found reasons best known to herself, to write what is well known as the dear John letter. My relations with this person goes back well over two years. So it'seasy to see that my contacts were at low ebb before this last break.

For the last couple of months I've received about one letter each week. Those being sent by my Mother and Father. . . .

Receiving no mail, might appear a small detail in such a situation, but it's not. Mail tends to take the sting out of the sharp edge of loneliness, which seems to creep up constantly.

I am 5' 10½" tall, weigh 161, eyes green, age 24. I spent one year at Georgia Southwestern, in Americus, Georgia—'49. Attended Baker High School, Columbus, Georgia. Love to dance—played baseball, football and basketball in high school; baseball and basketball at Southwestern.

If anyone decides to take the trouble to write, wish they would send along their picture.

Sincerely in your debt,
Billy Greene

Address:
Cpl. Wm. T. Greene, U.S. 5387-5645
88 M. P. Co. honor guard (Corp)
A.P.O. 909 c/o P.M
San Francisco, California

Women's Senate

Fellow Students:

I wish to take this opportunity to sincerely thank each and every one of you for your earnest support in last Tuesday's primary. Your work and campaigning in my behalf has made it possible for me to enter the finals.

Once more I would like to remind you that if I am elected as YOUR representative in the Senate, I shall strive toward the constant improvement of our class and University government. As your class officer, my platform would be established solely by YOU, the voters.

Your support at the polls in today's ballotting will again be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Joan Halford.

Cowboys, Pirates, Technicolor Share Billing in Local Movies

BY JUNE MORGAN

Bob Hope, Jane Russell, Roy Rogers and all the Western hoopla that could possibly be squeezed into several miles of Paramount technicolor are the big attractions that open tomorrow at the State theatre.

Even Bing Crosby is included in the two-gun talkie, Son of Paleface. Add the works of those two famous magicians Jay Livingston and Ray Evans: "Am I In Love?", "California Rose" and "Wing-Ding Tonight" and you have one of the craziest musical comedies of the year.

THE SCREENPLAY by Frank Tashlin, Robert L. Welch and Joseph Quillan considers the hilarious happenings when Harvard grad Hope heads West to claim his late pappy's fortune. To his dismay, the fortune turns out to be an empty strong box and a fistful of debts.

To soothe the gang of gun-toting creditors, he sets out to woo Jane, local badlands beauty.

IN THE course of the hilarity Jane Russell climbs in and out of a wardrobe billed as the most exciting of her career. It ranges from a rich set of below-the-shoulder suds in a bath tub sequence to a revealing dance hall costume.

* * *

Tomorrow at the Florida another technicolor film, Caribbean, shares the weekly spotlight. In the adventure tradition of "Two Years Before the Mast," "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Reap the Wild Wind," Paramount has teamed John Payne and Arlene Dahl in a suspenseful pirate tale.

CARRYING a argo of thrills the new adventure story concerns a salty soldier-of-fortune who is captured by pirate captain, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and sent as a spy to a mysterious outpost.

High on the list of spectacular scenes is a hair-raising knife duel between Payne and Willard Parker which comes as a prelude to the film's climax.

CARIBBEAN was produced by Pine-Thomas and directed by Edward Ludwig.

* *

Loretta Young as Paula is a girl with two love stories. In one of the greatest roles of her career she appears in the movie by the same name which begins Sunday at the Florida.

ONE of the most beautiful women of the screen, she brings sensitivity and passion to the demanding role of Paula, the young wife, envied and adored, whose life remains unfulfilled because she cannot bear children. The suspense of the film involves her hitting a little boy with her car and not turning herself in for fear of ruining her husband's career.

The boy, mute because of the accident, is taken into her home where she cares for him and he finds out she is the woman that hit him.

PRODUCER Buddy Adler and director Rudolph Mate filmed the action in locales in Los Angeles. The screen play is credited to James Poe and William Sackheim.

Gown Orders Taken

All Seniors graduating in either February or June who have not ordered their caps and gowns may do so at the University Bookstore, Jackie Dickerson has announced.

Paul Turner
JEWELER - WATCHMAKER
KEEPSAKE
DIAMONDS
102 S. Monroe Ph. 3-1442

Holland's Restaurant
Complete Soda Fountain & Restaurant Service
Facing the Capitol
at 106 East Pensacola St
Tallahassee, Florida
Excellent Food at All Hours
Air Conditioned

Patronize Our Advertisers

BILL RIVEASH, halfback from Bainbridge, Ga., picks up seven yards around end in the first quarter of Friday's game. Stan Petrey, Seminole fullback is in the ground and the VMI defender is Joe Siler. Photo by Alan Rubin.

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

Although football is getting all the ink of late, which is customary procedure for the first three months of fall, it's sad too early to bring up the sport of basketball. And though the sports fan does nothing but think, talk and dream football, their are a certain few who are more devoted, right now, with the cage sport. One of these men in particular, is "Bud" Kennedy, head basketball coach at FSU. Mr. Kennedy is quite concerned since the season opener is less than a month away on a schedule which includes the great Kentucky Wildcats.

Of more important, he is out to rebuild the basketball fortunes of FSU which took a tremendous tumble last year. After reaching the semi-finals of the NAIB tourney in 1951 they came out with a dismal record of 8 games last year while losing 20. Everybody, none more than Mr. Kennedy, would like to forget that disastrous campaign.

YESTERDAY, THE REBUILDING began, as the first day of basketball practice got under way. But, for the first week or so the coaching won't be done in the gym. It's done in the woods adjoining the West Campus track. On any afternoon, you can find sweating figures trudging through the underbrush, in the process of getting in shape for the coming campaign.

The basketball candidates do about two miles trompting every day. The aim is to build stamina through this forest. This Kennedy feels, will get the boys in shape for his charges into physical shape probably produces better basketball teams in the country. But to use the fast-moving style of basketball that Kennedy favors, the average player will be able to do about two to three miles of running per game. And when cross-country is included in the sports program at FSU the best candidates will be found on the basketball team.

AFTER FRIDAY NIGHT'S loss, probably no one is more thankful for the advent of a game next week than Don Veller, his staff and the FSU Seminoles in action have certainly been a thrilling one. The two weeks intervening before another contest will definitely be welcomed. Veller indicated he will use the time to do a little brushing up on the fundamentals and to make sure that no talent is being overlooked. Although there's a game every week there is little time for this. Much of the time will probably be spent in rooch scrimmages.

There are several people who have been venturing out to Campbell stadium to watch the Seminoles in action have certainly seen a thrilling array of offensive formations. About every possible method of operating from the single wing has been used by the three FSU opponents so far this season, from the orthodox T, the fans have watched the spread T, the split T and the 'I' formation. This last one, used by coach Tom Nugent of VMI, is really another variation of the T, since the quarterback takes the ball directly from under the center. The distinction of this I-formation has been credited, by many, to VMI's Nugent.

Regardless of Nugent's innovations, it's been claimed, is the buddle. Seminoles in action here face the opposition and the quarterback. It's also called the "Notre Dame" huddle and it's used by a large number of football teams in the country. It's commonly considered to be the product of ND but many dispute this and give credit to Pitt. However this quarter is in dispute with both of the above teams. Some give credit for the Notre Dame huddle to MacGill of Canada. This MacGill was using this type of huddle long before Notre Dame or VMI employed it.

Seminoles Have Open Date After Third Straight Loss

The winless Florida State football team will take a rest this weekend from football wars after absorbing their third straight loss Friday night at the hands of VMI. The score was 26-7 and it was the closest the Seminoles have come to victory this football season.

The Seminoles will be back in action in two weeks when they travel to Raleigh, N. C. to do battle with the North Carolina Wolfpack. The game, slated for Saturday afternoon October 25, will be FSU's first game away from home and their second against a Southern Conference eleven. The following week they'll be at De-Land for an encounter with Stetson. The next home contest will be an afternoon affair with Mississippi Southern, Nov. 15.

In the Friday night defeat, the VMI Keydets were almost ominously by an abundance of "costly mistakes" on the part of the Seminoles. As coach Don Veller phrased it, "We can't win a single game on the remainder of our schedule if we make as many mistakes as we did against VMI."

THE "MISTAKES" that Mr. Veller is referring to included two long passes completed behind the Seminole tenders after both the Keydets went on to score. A short 17-yard punt and two fumbles were other bad breaks that immensely helped the visitors.

The first of the two completed passes mentioned above occurred in the second quarter with the Seminoles holding a 7-0 advantage. Quarterback Bill Brenaney did the throwing and end Wendell Sharp did the catching. The pass covered 49 yards and put the ball on the FSU 12 from where the Keydets scored in fave plays. Brenaney went the final two yards to score on a powder play around end. With the successful conversion, the lead that was held by the losers, almost a quarter, vanished for the evening.

Prior to the VMI touchdown, the game had been fought on even terms with the Seminole offense gaining a slight edge. They took the lead when Nelson Italiano slammed over from the two capping a 56-yard drive. The push was started when Ron King, of Boynton Beach, recovered a Keydee fumble. Roy Thompson's 20-yard run and a jump pass from Italiano to Curt Campbell put the ball on the VMI 29. Thompson, Italiano and Wodham combined talents to move the ball to the one from where Italiano scored. Stan Dobosz converted and FSU, for the first time this fall, held the lead.

AFTER THE WINNERS tied it up, it only took them 4 minutes to go in front and retain it, was a fumble by Italiano. The first bobble happened early in the third quarter when the Seminoles were backfielded. Feeding only a few inches for a first down, Italiano hit the center line made the necessary inches but he fumbled and VMI took over. With O'Neill and Rooley running and Brenaney passing they got to the FSU 12. George Chumbley, the victors' leading ground gainer, and a sergeant in the Corp, went the remaining yardage around end.

JUST BEFORE the third quarter ended, the Keydets pushed across the game's final TD . . . which came after an FSU fumble. Curt Campbell took a VMI punt and dropped it when hit by a jarring tackle on his own 35. A fifteen yard Brehany pass and three running plays followed before speedy Chuck Dininger went thru guard for 12 yards and the score. Royer Jones booted his fourth straight extra point and the scoring was over.

In the last stanza, Wodham passed to Campbell for 38 yards and Italiano and Wodham advanced the pigskin to the VMI 15 where the Keydets held on fourth down and took over. But minutes later the Seminoles again moved to the VMI after Jerry Griener intercepted a Brehany pass and ran it back 20 yards. But this drive fizzled out when Thompson was snowed under as he tried to throw a fourth down pass.

The Seminoles continue to show improvement with each game, with many of Veller's freshmen showing promise for the future. But their inexperience and inability to hold up under game pressure was blamed by Veller for many of the errors and mental lapses.

VMI'S CHUCK DININGER is brought down by end Curt Campbell after taking a pass from Bill Brehany. Moving up is Bob Crenshaw (59). The play netted 13 yards and helped the Keydets to their 26-7 victory. Photo by Alan Rubin.

Intramural Football Starts Second Week

Highlighted by scores of incompleted passes, wild - haired plays, and stumbling runs, the campus fraternity league careened through its second string of football contests last Thursday.

Lady luck bulged Phi Delta Theta to squeak by Pi Kappa Alpha 2-0. Sigma Phi Epsilon won its second game of the season 7-0 from the Sigma Nus, while Delta Tau Delta pummeled Sigma Alpha Epsilon by the same score—7-0. The South rose again when the Kappa Alphas drawled their way over a scrappy

Tomorrow's Dormitory touchfootball slate:

1. Newman Club—Cats
2. Magnolia—Confederates
3. A.F. Met.—Trojans
4. Panthers—Rebels
5. Senior Hall—Moccasins.

Kappa Sigma team 8-0, and Phi Kappa Tau outclassed Theta Chi by five points, winning 6-3.

Not having offered any very impressive showing of strength thus far, the Greek leaguers hope to run up higher scores and to display better quality of plays in the conflicts coming up for today.

Today's battles feature Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Pi Kappa Phi, Alpha Tau Omega vs. Kappa Sig, Phi Delt vs. SPE, SAE vs. Sigma Chi, and Pi KA vs. Sigma Nu.

Football standings as of last Thursday:

	W	L
Phi Delt	2	0
SPE	2	0
ATO	1	0
Sigma Chi	1	0
Phi K Tau	1	0
KA	2	1
Delta T Delta	1	1
Sigma Nu	0	1
Kappa Sig	0	2
SAE	0	2
Pi KA	0	2
Theta Chi	0	2
Pi K Phi	0	0
Lambda Chi	0	0

TEAM STATISTICS

	VMI	FSU
First downs	17	5
By passing	7	1
By running	10	4
By penalty	0	0
Net yds. gained rushing	246	109
Yds. lost	58	45
Yds. gained passing	128	75
Yds. gained total offense	374	234
Passes attempted	11	20
Passes completed	5	2
Punts, number	2	4
Average punt	32.5	31.3
Fumbles, number	7	3
Fumbles lost	3	2
Yds. penalized, kick-off ret.	10	115
Yds. penalized, kick-offs ret.	20	100
Yds. gained, punts ret.	35	14
Penalties, number	10	5
Yds. penalized	85	45
Touchdowns	4	1
Points after touchdown	4	1
Field goals	0	0
Safeties	0	0
Final score	26	7

Scores by periods:

VMI	7	13	14	0—26
FSU	0	7	0	0—7

Florida State scoring: Touchdowns Chumbley, Campbell. Point after touchdown Dobosz.

VMI scoring: Touchdowns—O'Neil, Brehany, Chumbley, Dininger. conversions—Jones 4.

Whitmer Gets Assistant Cage Coach Job

Bob Whitmer, captain of last year's cage team, was named student assistant basketball coach at FSU. Director of Athletics Howard Danford made the announcement Friday.

Whitmer, a native of South Bend, Indiana, played two years for the Seminoles under head cage coach Bud Kennedy. He was a member of the 1950-51 Seminole quintet which got as far as the quarterfinals of the NAIA national tourney in Kansas City.

He will have charge of the freshman squad and will also assist Kennedy with the varsity.

Besides basketball, Whitmer also played end on last year's football team and was a pitcher on the 1950 baseball nine. He transferred to FSU after winning football and basketball letters at Purdue of the Big Ten Conference.

Whitmer, who is 24, succeeds Bill Wiesel, who was assistant coach last year.

Dr. Werner A. Baum Presents Lecture For Sigma Xi Club

The first program of the Sigma Xi Club, which annually presents lectures by noted scientists, will be presented at 8 p. m. in the Science Auditorium, Room 124 Science Building.

Dr. Werner A. Baum, head of the meterology department and past president of the local Sigma Xi chapter, will open this year's lecture series with a speech of microclimatology. This topic has been chosen because of the growing interest in its relation to various sciences, both physical and biological and also because of its economic implications.

MICROCLIMATOLOGY is concerned with the special characteristics of the layer of air immediately adjacent to the surface of the earth, the lowest feet of the atmosphere.

President Sierra Xi Club officers are Dr. Winthrop Kellogg, professor of psychology, president; Dr. Guenter Schaper, associate professor of physics, vice-president, and Dr. Grace Madsen, associate professor of botany, secretary.

AMONG DISTINGUISHED speakers brought to FSU by the organization have been Dr. Wendell M. Standley, international authority on viruses and Nobel prize winner for chemical research; Dr. K. S. Lashley, Harvard University research professor and director of the Yerkes Laboratories of Primate Biology at Orange Park; Dr. Benny F. Garrett, bio-chemist and Five of Seven FSU Opponents Win Sat.

Stetson, N. C. State And Georgia Tech Among The Victors

The Stetson Hatters, who'll face the Seminoles Nov. 1, upset Furman of the Southern Conference, last Saturday at DeLand by a 25-14 score. Furman is also on the Florida State football schedule.

Trailing at halftime 8-0 and out played, the Hatters roared back in the second stanza, marching 73 yards after taking the kickoff. Quarterback Ron Delilla crawled over for the TD. A pass interception started the victors on their second scoring drive. After moving 50 yards, Delilla passed six yards for the score. After that the game was dominated by Stetson as they shoved over two more tallies. The lone 6 points scored by Furman came in the closing minutes of the game.

The victors record for the season is 2-1 and Furman's is 2-2.

Besides Stetson, four of the six future Seminole opponents were victorious in Saturday's action. Along with Furman only Wofford was beaten. They lost to Auburn, 54-7.

Tampa, the season's final opponent whipped Jacksonville State (of Alabama) 20-2 bringing their record this fall to 2-1. The Tampans will face Stetson next Saturday in a game expected to draw 14,000 fans at Tampa.

N. C. State, who FSU will play Oct. 25, won their first game of the year by beating Davidson. It was the first contest this year in which the state eleven has been able to score. The game was a Southern Conference affair.

The powerful Georgia Tech Bulldogs ran their string of consecutive games without a defeat to 18 as they shutout Tulane 14 chancellor of the University of Nebraska, and Dr. Ralph Overman and Dr. Russell Poor of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. Sierra Xi members represent all fields of science, the honorary society lectures will cover a wide range of scientific subjects. There will be emphasis on ready understanding for laymen.

FSU Democrats Meet

The FSU Young Democratic Club will hold an important meeting Thursday night in the Old Senate room at 7:00 p.m., according to Richard Jackson, president.

All members and all those interested in becoming members are urged to attend.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
Marilyn Maxwell and Richard Widmark in Don't Bother to Knock
WED. THRU SATURDAY
Arlene Dahl and John Payne in Carribbean
STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
Bing Crosby and Jane Wyman in
Just For You
STARTS TOMORROW
Shows One Week
Bob Hope—Jane Russell
Roy Rogers in
Son of Paleface
RITZ
TODAY & WEDNESDAY
Jane Wyman in Stage Fright
and the Marciano vs. Walcott Fight Pictures
THURSDAY - SAT.
Brian Donlevy in Slaughter Trail
John Ireland in
The Basketball Fix
DRIVE-IN
TONIGHT & WED.
William Holden and Jennifer Jones in Boots Malone
THURSDAY-SATURDAY
Michael Chapin
Wild Horse Ambush
Charles Laughton in
Hunchback of Notre Dame
Also: Returned by Popular Request Marciano vs. Walcott Fight Pictures
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car
In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO
SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

TUESDAY SPECIAL
Filet Mignon
$1.00
WEDS. SPECIAL
Fried Shrimp
.75
Seven Seas

Got A Match

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles
Chicken Dumplings Roast Beef Noodles Roast Pork Broiled Fish (special price on year with meal)

Fishman To Crown New Tobacco Queen

Miss Betty Willmon, Florida also the Title of Miss Deep South of Freedom, has been invited of 1952. She will ride in the parade to Quincy Thursday, ...rade that afternoon and also take ...e crown the 1952 To- part in the contest that night.

...bacco Festival Queen. Betty holds the 1951 title of Tobacco Festival Queen of Gadsden County and Join the clan!

Brighten up your wardrobe with
ARROW PLAID SPORTS SHIRTS
$5.95
FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES
Everybody's wearing them—ploids are the biggest thing on campus. And these are the smartest ploids of all. Many different fabrics . . . with the famous Arrow label that means they're tailored to perfection. Good-looking. Easy-fitting. And all washable. Our selection is terrific . . . you'll want several.
Mendelson's

Everything on campus has gone stark, raving PLAID
Arrow
Plaid Sports Shirts in a wide selection of colors and fabrics
ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS • SPORTS SHIRTS

Greek Theatre Plays In New York Opening

The National Theatre of Greece starring Katina Paxinou in "Electra" and Alexis Minotis in "Oedipus Tyrannos" will pay their first visit to New York opening Nov. 19 at the Mark Hellinger Theatre.

The New York engagement at the Hellinger is limited to two weeks. Guthrie McClintic will sponsor the appearance of the Athens company.

The National Theatre of Greece has been in existence since 1932, and played 138 plays, including 31 contemporary Greek plays and thirteen of the classics by the Greek masters.

Speech Instructors Attend Fall Meeting

Three members of the faculty of the department of speech attended the Florida Speech Association's annual fall meeting on October 10 and 11 at the Roosevelt Hotel in Jacksonville.

They are: Dr. C. W. Edney, head; Dr. Thomas R. Lewis, associate professor of speech and past president of the Florida Speech Association, and Dr. Greg Phifer, assistant professor of speech.

On Saturday morning Dr. Lewis served as chairman for the sectional meeting on "Teaching Speech in High School." Dr. Lewis is also a member of the special committee on constitutional revision.

Dr. Phifer, who is currently editor of the Florida Speech Bulletin, served as chairman of the sectional meeting in forensics and as moderator for a panel discussion question: "What are the weaknesses of the United Nations?" Students from Jacksonville Beach and all three Jacksonville high schools participated in this discussion.

Editorial Is In Error

Sue McClochlin, who began a petition protesting prices of university meals, has never been an employe of the University dining halls as was stated in the lead editorial of the Tuesday, Oct. 7, issue of the Florida Flambeau.

Noted Chemist Speaks

Dr. Herbert C. Brown, professor of chemistry at Purdue University, spoke last Friday on "From Back and Interval Storie Strains of Chemical Compounds" at a chemistry department seminar.

Homecoming Plans

(Continued From Page 1)

time show will be announced later by Jim Brandriet, director of the Marching Chiefs.

BEGINNING AT 6 P.M. fraternities, sororities and dormitories will hold open house while a faculty-alumni get-together is taking place in Longmire Building.

Climax of the events will be the Homecoming dance starting at 9 p.m. Saturday night to the music of Sammy Kaye and his famous band. Tickets will be the popular "Kay-dets" of recording fame. Overflow from the main dance in Suwannee Room will be able to dance at the "Little Homecoming Dance" in the Women's Gymnasium being held simultaneously with the main affair. The Regents, popular campus dance band, have been engaged to play for the overflow affair.

HEADS OF ALL committees expect this year's Homecoming to be the biggest and best in FSU's history, and have expressed their hopes that all students will help by contributing their talents, time or just by participating as spectators. This will really show how much spirit the students of FSU have.

Globe Trotting English Profs Reveal Summer Experiences

Students—and the general public—often wonder how professors live, what makes them tick. How, for instance, do they spend their vacations, is their time in their own instead of the property of desire, registrars, and classes? A recent sampling of FSU's English department sheds some light on the problem.

Samuel J. Frashman is wrong if he supposes English professors spend their free time sitting up more diabolic questions for tests in the Written Communication. If there's one thing English professors do not think about on vacation, it's the freshman course. They do almost everything else, bow-ever.

SARAH HERNDON and Mary Maggins, for example, spent the entire summer touring the British Isles by car, with a month in London and ten days in Ireland. Miss Maggins traveled in the passenger direction to Taos and Santa Fe, New Mexico, chiefly to see the art exhibits. Taos is the only town in America, she reports, which is supported entirely by art, as Florence, Italy, used to be in its heyday. With a population of about 6,000, Taos has over 200 professional exhibiting painters and a great many artists in ceramics, wrought iron, weaving, and leather-work. Founded in 1510 by Spanish priests, Taos has maintained its high level of culture for centuries.

KELLOGG HUNT also went west, for a Navy tour of duty at Long Beach, California. The chief result was an undoubted preference for the Tallahassee climate. Paul Sinclair is expecting similar opinion after 18 months in Washington working in the Civilian Defense Administration. Carmen Rogers visited art galleries in New York and Washington, and planned the program of the Spenser Discussion Group, of which she is leader, at the forthcoming Meade convention of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association.

George Yost thought up a novel way to spend the summer, or a part of it: after a brief tour of Navy duty at Norfolk he came down with virus pneumonia. But he recovered sufficiently to resume work on his perennial project, "The Mind of Jacobovia Epidemics," and to visit his parents in Pennsylvania. Hudson Rogers visited his old home in Amelia, Virginia. Marion Thompson explored coastal New England. Russell Reaver worked on folklore articles and toured the eastern United States by airplane, with stopovers in St. Louis and Toledo. William Randel described vacations as a waste of time and taught at Duke after the FSU summer term, but he did manage to see two plays in New York.

THE MOST NOVEL report came from Walter Blackstock, the department's poet and a recent Yale Ph.D. Here are his own uncensored words:

a. Taught freshman English and humanities in summer school.

b. Changed 5,000 diapers and concocted atomic formulas for a new son, Joel Krimmon, who appeared on the Blackstocking scene June 23.

c. Herded wife in and out of hospital.

d. Had dog operated on—the family pooch.

e. Set out two dozen azaleas and other bloomers.

f. Wrote poems—because life can be beautiful.

g. Judged poetry contest for the state of North Carolina—by invitation from the Poetry Council of North Carolina.

h. Spent two weeks, after the ending of summer school, writing and completing a new article on Dresser: "Dreiser's Dramatizations of American Success." To be published . . . somewhere.

Social Work Members Hear Speech By Fox

Dr. Vernon Fox of the Social Welfare department was guest speaker at the first meeting of the Social Work Club for this year last Thursday.

The professor chose as his topic penology.

New officers were also elected for the year. They will be Larry Cox, president; Betty Berbocker, vice-president; Mary Louise, secretary; Dot Zubrod, treasurer; Phyllis Dye, and Gerda Poddick, publicity; Bonnie Hawks, program chairman, and Sue McCormie, social chairman.

Foil And Mask Meets

An organizational meeting for the co-educational fencing club, Foil and Mask, will be tonight at 7:30 in the Women's Gymnasium. All interested students are invited to attend, Betty Holland, president of the University Recreation Association, said.

Speech Department Plans Open House

The Department of Speech will hold its annual Open House Thursday, October 16, at 7:30 p.m.

At the Open House, the physical plant of the theater will be open the the public, so that students can become acquainted with the various backstage activities. The scene shop, costume shop and lighting equipment will be part of the display. Other areas of the department will also have displays or special teaching equipment used.

One of the features of the Open House this year will be a description of the Oreon Shakespearean Festival at Ashland, Oregon by Douglas Russell, who is in charge of the department of speech's wardrobe. This discussion has been arranged through the cooperation of the honorary dramatic fraternity, Les Jongleurs, which is sponsoring a series of programs throughout the year on subjects dealing with drama.

Classified Ads

LABORATORY TECHNICIAN — Full time or afternoons. Contact Miss Betty Murphy. 2-8737.

FOR RENT: Furnished Apt. with utilities. Single and double rooms for regulars and transients. Opposite College Library. Phone 2-4024, 643 W. Jefferson.

FSU Research Team Gets Foundation Grant

A $16,800 National Science Foundation Grant has been awarded the research team of Dr. Guenter Schwartz, head of the Florida State University physics department, and Dr. George L. Rogosa, associate professor of physics.

The grant, which covers a span of two years, was made to the FSU scientists on the basis of their already important findings on the processes which take place when x-rays are transmitted through crystals.

Publication of thier findings appeared in the September issues of the Physical Review, published by the American Institute of Physics, and the Journal of Applied Physics.

APO Conference

(Continued From Page 1

consideration. The group was in favor of adding male alternates, and adopting a mascot, special insignia, such as pins, a tomahawk in front of the posing team's bench each Florida State makes a touchdown.

VARIOUS MEANS of getting more people into organization and yet at the same time keeping some students from getting overload were talked about, as well as a proposed investigation of "sleeping", or inactive organizations, which is now going on by the Organizations Committee.

The group was also favorably scheduling meetings throughout the master plan, by which all alternates and sororities would meet on one night, honoraries, the other, and so on.

Got A Match

Got A Match

HOMECOMING QUEENS

Make your appointments now at L'Avant Studios phone 3-1716. We are proud to have made the winning portrait for all four of F.S.U.'s Homecoming Queens. May we make yours?

Time is limited call 3-1716 Now

L'AVANT STUDIOS

"photographers to queens"

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Wherever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Toggery

"Everything for the Student"

- T-Shirts
- Raincoats
- Greek Initiated Stuffed Animals
- FSU Stuffed Animals

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"

MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE

107 South Copeland

Campus capers call for Coke

Win or lose, you'll get different opinions when the gang gathers to rehash the game. But on the question of refreshment, everyone agrees—you can't beat ice-cold Coca-Cola.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCO-COLA BOTTLING CO.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1952, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Be Sure You Get the Deal You Deserve!

☆ See us before you sign an order
☆ See the fine features that only Chevrolet offers
☆ Figure the savings that our prices provide

Naturally, you want to get the most you can for your money. Find out how much farther your money goes here. Check what you get in Chevrolet. Compare what you have to pay. Then you'll know why more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. So come in and see us now for the deal you deserve!

CHEVROLET

SEE WHAT YOU GAIN WITH THESE EXCLUSIVE CHEVROLET FEATURES

More Powerful Valve-in-Head Engine with Powerglide Automatic Transmission (optional at extra cost) • Body by Fisher • Centerpoise Power • Safety plate Glass all around, with E-Z-Eye plate glass (optional at extra cost) • Largest Brakes in its field • Unitized Knee-Action Ride.

SEE WHAT YOU SAVE WITH THE Lowest-Priced Line in its Field!

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!

Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

The big bad wolf he huffed and puffed
To blow the pigs' house down.
'Twas not a Lucky Strike he puffed,
Or he'd have lost that frown.

Charles LaDue
University of Michigan

With football week-ends here again
And cheering from the stand
I like a tasty Lucky Strike
'Cause Luckies beat the band!

F. Heyrard Hoff
University of Pennsylvania '52

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Take a Lucky from a newly opened pack and carefully remove the paper by tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure to start on the seam. In tearing don't crush or dig into the tobacco. Then, gently lift out the cylinder. See how free Luckies are from air spaces —"hot spots" that smoke hot, harsh and dry—from loose ends that spoil the taste. Note Luckies' long strands of fine, mild tobacco are packed firmly to draw smoothly and evenly—to give you a cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke. Yes, Luckies are made better—to taste better! So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today.

LUCKY STRIKE "IT'S TOASTED" CIGARETTES L.S./M.F.T.

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

When nothing season comes around
For our sorority,
The girl who always gets our bid
Knows L.S./M.F.T.

Leah Belle Korn
Pembroke College

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company

"AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Got A Match?
Light the Torch
Of Campus Chest

Florida Flambeau

Votes Miscounted
In Freshman Run-offs.
See Page One

VOL. XXXIX, No. 8 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | FRIDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1952

Instructions Issued For Sr. Investiture

Gowned Seniors Meet Tuesday Night At 7:30 Beside Education Building

Plans for the Senior Class Investiture ceremonies, relative to the entrance into the Music Amphitheater where it will be held Tuesday night at 8:15, have been announced by Class Marshalls Barbara Brewton and Kappy Skogstad.

Seniors, dressed in caps and gowns, will meet in front of the Education Building Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Sophomore brothers and sisters will come with them. Sophomore girls should be dressed in white, and the men, in white pants, ties and dark trousers.

SENIORS NOTICE last names begin with A to M should stay in front of the Education Building, facing the direction of the Suwannee Dining Hall with the A's first. Those whose names begin with N from Z will walk down behind the Suwannee Hall and will then face the other way. The Z's or end of that line will be nearest the Suwannee.

Sophomore brothers and sisters are to carry the mortar boards and place them on the heads of the Seniors at the proper time.

AS THE processional begins the Seniors and Sophomores will begin into the middle aisle and up into the Amphitheater. Two seniors will march and their Sophomore brothers and sisters will be to the outside. Thus, as the processional reaches the front of the center, there will be four people across, with the center middle aisle with a Sophomore on each side.

Seniors will go down toward the stage and when they reach the rows in front. Their Sophomore partners and they will all disperse behind them in the next row.

DR. SAM NEEL of the philosophy department, will give the declamation, and Dr. Hubert Rogers, dean of department head, will give the address. These two faculty members are Senior Class sponsors.

The class marshalls urge all Seniors and Sophomore participants in Investiture to be in front of the Education Building promptly at 7:30 Tuesday night.

Rainy Senior is uncertain as to a dress rehearsal, but they will check a master list posted on the Registrar's bulletin board.

"Hasty Heart" Plays Last Time Tonight

"The Hasty Heart" plays today for the last time at the Little Music Amphitheater.

A talented all male stage play, the drama deals with the war's effect on the lives of a group of British soldiers. Ronald Reagan, Patricia Neal and Richard Todd.

Starting Monday is "Call Northside 777" with James Stewart, Richard Conte and Lee J. Cobb.

It is an interesting treatment of the true life story of a man who framed by circumstantial evidence to did not commit and the part of a lone newspaperman to fight for justice.

The movies will be shown Monday through Thursday at 7:30 and Friday at 8 p.m. Tuesday and Monday, O Club. Tuesday, South Castleton Hall; Wednesday, Magnolia Hall; Thursday, Suwannee Hall; Friday, Music Amphitheater.

Foshion Show Plonned To Boost Chest Funds

Delta Delta Delta social sorority will sponsor a fashion show Monday, Oct. 20 from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Osceroan Music Hall, with proceeds going to the Campus Chest.

Each sorority on campus will have a representative in the show. Clothes modeled are being furnished by Mayerson's, with stage props by Shaw's Furniture Co.

Announce For WFSU To Aid Campus Chest

Monday through Friday of this coming week, Station WFSU is offering each student the opportunity to become a radio announcer as well as to make his contribution to the 1952 Campus Chest Drive.

On the Late Date Show between 9:45 and 10:45 p.m., any student may come to the station, choose a record, and announce his own selection and dedication for the price of a contribution to the Campus Chest.

President Says Tarpon Tryouts Will Begin Soon

Tarpon tryouts this year will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, October 21, 22 and 23 at 8:30 p.m., Betty Lou Wharton, president of the women's synchronized swimming club, announced.

Classes were held last week and this week for all those interested, but every one is eligible to try out regardless of whether or not they attended the practice sessions. Those with last names starting with A through L should report Tuesday night; those with last names in the M through Z group will try out Wednesday night. The finals will be held Thursday night.

Betty Lou especially stressed the fact that next week's tryouts will be the last ones held this year. She said that there is no limit on the number of girls that can be taken, but only those that will take as many girls as can satisfactorily pass the test will actually be voted in by the active members," she said.

Fall and winter plans are now being laid by the club for this year's show, the theme of which is scheduled for March 2-7.

Speakers Consider Varied Pros, Cons Of Honor System

Is the honor system at Florida State University really working?

This very pertinent and controversial question was the topic of a discussion presented Wednesday night on WFTL by UGA Forum's weekly program.

In one-half-an-hour-packed half hour, several prominent members of the FSU student body tossed the matter pro and con, with many interesting points brought up on both sides of the issue.

June Tate, Chief Justice of Honor Court opened the lively discussion by explaining the Honor Code. UGA Forums Chairman, with an explanation of the work-ings of the honor system and a clear concise view into what is expected of the students, pointed out that students under the honor system are expected to be honest with themselves and others. Among them, June briefly explained the meaning of the honor code in the University as a whole and the proceedings instituted on cases of infraction of the code.

James Chisham, chairman of Men's Judiciary, offered his view of the honor system by stating that the students, in order to make the system work effectively, must learn to cooperate and adhere to the ideals and principles set down by the code.

AL PIERCE, of Flambeau staff, issued a rather drastic statement that the honor system was not working on campus. He stated,

(Continued on Page 4)

Sr. Class Holds Meeting; Make Investiture Plans

The Senior Class, in a meeting Wednesday night, voted to retain the tradition of having Sophomore brothers and sisters at Investiture. The question of abolishing the custom this year had been raised due to lack of space in the Music Amphitheater.

Seniors will also wear caps and gowns to classes the day after Investiture, which is Tuesday.

THE VOTE had been preceded by a talk by Dr. Venita Shores, head of the history department, on the historical meaning of the academic regalia. Dr. Shores has been in charge of the annual event for several years.

After explaining the evolution of the cap and gown in old Europe she said that in the colonial America caps and gowns were used in some universities but were different. In 1883, she said a movement was started at Williams College to standardize the regalia. Later a code was drawn up, colors agreed upon and as a result there are standard styles used today.

THE GOWNS of various degrees are very similar, she said, with the different hours in the sleeves and facings. The hoods also show much variety.

She explained that the colors of the facing stood for the major study and the color of the university.

Dr. Shores showed the audience both sides of the different types of reralls and her cap and gown. She said a black tassel on the mortar board can be used for any degree, but when Florida State did away with the wearing of hoods colored tassels were adopted to designate the different departments of study. Tassels are worn on the right side until the degree

(Continued on Page 4)

Budding Politicians

FRESHMEN OFFICERS—These newly elected officers of the Freshman Class will be installed next Thursday, October 23, at 3:30 p.m. in the Music Auditorium. Left to right are: Mary Ruth Summers, president of the University Government Association, who is shown congratulating the winners; Dick Bittner, and Graham Carothers, Men's Senate; Jimmie Barnes, president; Tom Dickey, vice president; Barbara Santana, social chairman; Lucy Vincenti, parliamentarian; Joan Halford and Nancy Graham, Women's Senate, and Coyle E. Moore, Jr., Men's Senate. Not pictured are Joan Tavel, secretary, and Harriet Love, Women's Senate, who were elected after a recount of votes.

Vote Recount Shows Error; Recheck Uncovers 15 Votes

A recheck of the votes for the offices of Secretary and Women's Senate ended the Freshman elections yesterday. The correction of an error in the unofficial tally of the secretary's office gave the position to Joan Tavel instead of Bebee Bisbee.

Joan's 249 votes to her opponent's 328 resulted in her election in the recount. Fifteen votes were added to her total votes after a careful check of the ballots.

THE OTHER recheck, for Women's Senate, gave the office to Harriet Love over Sue Martin. Miss Love received 318 votes in the recount to her 317 in the runoff. Her opponent received 314 in the recheck and runoff.

Jimmy Joanos got the presidency with 438 votes to Charles Mixon's 259. Tom Dickey won the vice-presidency with 467 votes to Jimmy Hanks' 254.

TREASURER IS Nancy Vaughn. She got 396 votes to Donald Duncan's 272. Parliamentarian is Laurie Vincenti, Her votes totaled 368 to Jean Hodges' 262. Barbara Santana was elected social chairman over Margaret Ann Mcintosh with 391 to 269 votes respectively.

Men Seniors are Dick Bittner, 433; Graham Carothers, 363, and Coyle Moore, who was elected in the primary. Defeated candidates were Sonny Daye with 182 votes and Andy Beverly with 225.

Women Senators beside Harriet Love are Nancy Graham, 304, Joan Halford, 410 Sue Martin received 314, Orchid Alonso, 200, and Shirley Boulware, 260.

Sixteen Finalists Compete for Title Of Miss Gymkana

Sixteen contestants have been chosen, from over 30 coeds to enter the Miss Gymkana' finals. One of the finalists will be crowned by Pres. Doak S. Campbell at the last performance of the annual Gymkana production.

This year's production of Gymkana, starting Nov. 3 and continuing through Nov. 8 will be centered around a theme of "Out of This World." Contestants must design their costumes in keeping with the production title.

FINALISTS are Ardrenn Miller, Janet Sisco, Mary Belle Pesty, Susi Jones, Gladys Tinkler, Susie Ball, Ann Lee Hays, and Marilyn Goble.

Also Jennie Brinson, Vonnie Rocker, Laurie Vincenti, June Smith, Rita Carter, Mary Ellen Sellars, Barbara Ann Vickers, and Pat O'Brien.

Miss Gymkana, will be selected on the basis of poise, beauty and costume design. Judges include: Miss Mildred Parrish, Florida Alumni Association secretary; Roy Stewart, FSU publicity director; Floyd Olson Coach Price and Mrs. Price.

Committees Begin Homecoming Plans; Schedule Events

Last minute planning is taking place on the 21 Homecoming committees for various events.

Miss Mildred Parrish, secretary of the Alumni Association, is chairman of the alumni activities committee; back-up, Mr. R. E. Shaw, business manager; campus decorations, Don Waters, chairman, June Conner, assistant; Betty Holland and Phoebe Ryerson, co-chairmen.

The campus decoration judging committee is headed by Dr. Edmund Lewandowski, of the art department.

Finance is headed by R. K Shaw, and float committee, Bob Ducker, chairman, James Dye, Bobbie Evans, and Kappy Skostad, co-chairmen. Acting as chairman for the Ag exhibits judging committee will be Mrs.

Continued on Page 4

Ruge Hall Makes Smorgasbord Plans For Campus Chest

Ruge Hall, the Educopol Student Center for Florida State University, will be the site for the second annual "Authentic Swedish Smorgasbord" Sunday, October 19, at 6 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the Centerites Club, and the organization of students at the Center. The Smorgasbord will highlight a week of activity on behalf of the Student Service Fund, Florida State University's Campus Chest. A donation of 75 cents by those attending will cover the Canterbury Club's donation to the fund.

The Smorgasbord proved a highly successful and popular undertaking last year, it was announced by the weekim given it by FSU faculty, students, and Tallahassee civic leaders, Mavis Davis, head of the committee. Reservations may be made by contacting members of the club or the Rev. Walter K. Morley, chaplain at Ruge Hall by Friday at 5 p.m.

Qualifying Date Set In Queen Competition

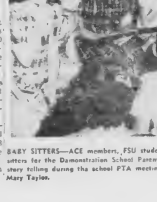
Friday, October 21, will be the deadline for candidates qualifying for the Homecoming Queen.

The voting will take place Tuesday, Nov. 4. A second slate will be drawn up from the finalists and the runoff will be held Thursday, Nov. 6. All primaries will be on display the Monday before the first primary.

Any campus organization who will sponsor a candidate in the annual contest should turn in the name, picture, black and white head and shoulders portrait of the candidate, and double height, typed paper to the Office of Dean of Student Welfare as soon as possible.

Junior Management Exams Announced

A Junior Management Assistant examination for fillins positions paying entrance salaries of $3,410 and $4,205 a year in Federal agencies has been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission.



To qualify, applicants must pass two written tests and have had appropriate education or experience. After passing the tests, candidates will be given interviews.

Further information may be obtained at the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott Building or Wayne Searcy, Civil Service secretary general delivery window, main post office in town.

Cops, Gowns Arrive

Seniors who ordered their caps and gowns from Jackie Dickerson may pick them up at the University Bookstore starting today. Seniors who have not yet ordered their caps and gown may do so at the Book store.

Part-Time Mothers

BABY SITTERS—ACE members, FSU students majoring in elementary and childhood education, are serving as baby sitters for the Demonstration School Parent-Teacher Association this year. Shown entertaining the children with story telling during the school PTA meeting Tuesday night are: left to right Mary Jo Hall, Fanny Whidden and Mary Taylor.

Campus Chest Rolls As Clubs Contribute

Jr. Class Plans Newest Project As Blood Drive

Captains List Donors; Schedules Are Planned For October 28th Start

Blood Drive captains have been issued instructions concerning organization of their teams, Roy Easton, President of Junior Class and coordinator of the Fall Blood Drive, has announced.

A main project of the Junior Class this year, the drive will be on Saturday, Oct. 25, on the West Campus track at 1 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Sophomore Class to promote school spirit.

If the Freshmen win the competitions, they will be allowed to throw their rat caps away and toss the Rat Court co-chairman into the Westcott fountain.

Both lettermen and men on scholarship will be allowed to participate. The Freshman team will consist of only first semester Freshmen since they are the only ones required to wear rat caps. All Sophomores may participate. Qualified Sophomores in the physical education department will officiate at the meets.

Events will be a 70 yard dash and softball throws for distance for the girls, and 100, 220, 880 relay, shot put, discus throw, high jump and broad jump for the men.

All students wishing to enter the meets should write their names, classifications and events they wish to enter on a card and address it to Sophomore-Freshman Day, Box 3022, Campus Mail.

Freshmen Women, Transfer Students Take Examination

Freshman women and transfer students took their Knowledge of College examination on University rules Tuesday, and then listened to 13 speeches on campus activities.

Penny Moore was in charge of giving the examination. Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant Dean of Women, assisted in the program. Joy Anne Young introduced the speakers who were Jo Nell Proctor telling of Garnet Key; Lois Arnold, Sophomore Council; Helen Hamrick, Alpha Lambda Delta; Elsie Hall, Mortar Board; Lynn Longbottom, music organizations; Frances Cawthon, student publications; Nell Stanfill, religious groups; Frankie Clark, Seadrift; Joan Gard, IRA; Becky Branch, WRA; Betty Lou Wharton, Tarpon; Polly Carter, Women's P Club and Margaret Parham, WFSU.

Interns to Be Honored By Koppo Delto Pi's

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, will honor the teacher interns for the Fall semester with a social and square dance at the O Club this coming Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Edgar Beaty, newly elected vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi, is in charge of arrangements. All members of the society, the faculty of the School of Education and wives and husbands will be hosts and hostesses.

Girls From Abroad Entertained at Tea

Miss Katherine Warren, Dean of Women, entertained the young women students from abroad yesterday with a tea at her home. Co-hostess was Miss Olivia Dorman. Miss Edith McCollum, Director of Residence, Mrs. Warner Broward Counselor and Miss Lynn, Assistant Dean of Women also assisted.

Each of the guests was presented with a flower and call at the door. Besides the name of the guest each card showed a map of the country which she was from with her home town marked. The cards were tied with garnet and gold ribbons

There were 14 countries represented at the tea. They were China, Japan, Canada Chile, Ireland, England, France, Turkey, Romania, Hungary, Germany, Peru, Netherlands and Norway.

Forum Officially Opens Drive; Campaign Goal Is $6,000

BY ORCHID ALONSO

"Got a match?"
"Don't smoke?"
"You can still light a torch in the futures of the less fortunate." This is the life and cry heard on all sides of Florida State this week as the Campus Chest Campaign starts the band wagon rolling for its goal of $6,000.

The University Government Association has announced that the organization contributing the most will be awarded a cup, in recognition of service to the school.

The object of the drive is to incorporate in one, all of the contributions for the year. Of the total collected 10 per cent would cover the March of Dimes program; 10 per cent, Cancer Fund; 10 per cent, Heart Fund; 5 per cent, Tuberculosis; 5 per cent, miscellaneous This will eliminate having drives all through the year.

The 60 per cent left is for the World Student Service Fund. "This fund to help university students over the world is larger because it is sponsored solely by American universities, and in order to be of practical use, it must receive large contributions," explains Margaret Krasemann, chairman of the Chest Drive.

The official drive opened last night with a formal meeting in the mire building Mr John Gleason flew from Atlanta to be present at the forum. Speaking at the discussion were Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant Dean of Women, Qualiffe Ruth Hunter, Margaret Krasemann, and chairman Jan Arnold.

The organization having the most representatives present at this meeting at a future meeting, is boss of 425. This bonus will be added to any amount they contribute.

Everything from pie throwing contests, sponsored by Sigma Nu, to a gala formal dance, sponsored by URA, will be offered to the students, proceeds going directly towards the Campus Chest.

Many organizations on campus are doing individual activities that will take up most of the entire week. The time and place of all events will appear in the schedule of events elsewhere in this paper.

The following are a list of events sponsored for the drive. And you have to eat at war" comments Chairman Krasemann.

The Alpha Delta Pi's are having a PIE party at the house on Sunday the 19th, from 3.00 p. m. to 5.00 p.m. The Center.

Continued on Page 3

Rat Court May Go for a Swim Soph-Frosh Day

The first annual Sophomore-Freshman Day will be Saturday, Oct. 25, on the West Campus track at 1 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Sophomore Class to promote school spirit.

If the Freshmen win the competitions, they will be allowed to throw their rat caps away and toss the Rat Court co-chairman into the Westcott fountain.

Both lettermen and men on scholarship will be allowed to participate. The Freshman team will consist of only first semester Freshmen since they are the only ones required to wear rat caps. All Sophomores may participate. Qualified Sophomores in the physical education department will officiate at the meets.

Events will be a 70 yard dash and softball throws for distance for the girls, and 100, 220, 880 relay, shot put, discus throw, high jump and broad jump for the men.

All students wishing to enter the meets should write their names, classifications and events they wish to enter on a card and address it to Sophomore-Freshman Day, Box 3022, Campus Mail.

Professor Carleton To Speak to IRC

All Florida State students are invited to attend meetings of the International Relations Club of Leon County to be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Layette Room of the Dural Hotel, according to Dr. Hirsch, secretary.

Prof. William G. Carleton, head of political science at the University of Florida, will speak on international relations, particularly concerning the Presidential campaign and the opening of the United Nations assembly. He has just returned from during the past two years and a the author of several articles on world affairs.

Tickets will be two dollars and may be obtained at the desk at the Dural Hotel.

Chi O's Wosh Autos To Aid Campus Chest

The Chi Omega social sorority will wash cars all day tomorrow in order to raise money for Campus Chest.

The gals will go around to the sorority and fraternity houses where they will wash cars for 50 cents. If any students in the dormitories wish their automobiles washed, they should contact the Chi Omega's for an e...

Boy Student's Organ Lessons Concession

...ticket for a lessons...
...ticket...
...charge of the project.

Chest Launches 3rd Try To Gain Student Support

Weeks of long range planning and preparation were climaxed last night at 7:30 p.m. when a student forum in the Longmire auditorium launched the Campus Chest drive of 1952. John Gleason, regional secretary of the World Student Service Fund, was the principal speaker in this discussion which also included Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant dean of women; Margaret Krasemann, chairman of the drive; and Mary Ruth Summers, University Government association president.

The material goal of the drive is one dollar per person, or 6000 dollars total for the university. The important objectives: to assist needy students and universities in other parts of the world, whose only sources of income are the donations of American and European universities through the WSSF; and to contribute to rehabilitation of the sick and disabled through the auspices of organizations such as the American Heart association, the American Cancer society, March of Dimes, and Tuberculosis association.

This year marks the third birthday of Campus Chest at FSU, but the past performances of our student bodies in support of so worthy and so necessary a cause hardly present much reason for celebration. For in its two initial appearances on this campus, the chest has failed to meet its set goal! And this, students, is a pathetic record for a university of our size, when we are called upon to donate to only one charity drive during the entire year.

Since, in past campaigns, all members connected with the drive have worked diligently and efficiently in ballyhooing and soliciting the cause only to be confronted with disappointment, it would seem that we, as students, are ducking our responsibilities, that we are suffering from a new variety of indifference—of the conscience and of the pocketbook. Are we such slaves to the soda fountain and the cigarette machine that we cannot forego a luxury or two for one week or, at least, one dollar? Should you be tempted to retaliate with a well placed gripe, remember back to the "drive a week" days, my friends, and then dig deep, and dig again!

Threats, pleas, and tears of resentment should not be necessary in an undertaking of this sort; and certainly, if each of us stop long enough to think about the critical needs of these organizations, one dollar is a small contribution indeed. As chairman Krasemann has said, "it is important to have a successful drive materially speaking, but to the people to whom our contributions are sent the spirit with which we give is far more important."

During the week of October 16-23, when you see and hear the slogan "Got a match? Light the torch of Campus Chest"—pause a minute, then lend a helping hand in making this the greatest drive ever held on the Florida State campus. We should climb up and over the goal!

● MEN NEEDED

After having hashed last Friday's football season spirit over and over on this page, we decided to bring it back for another season. In this time, we will concern ourselves only with a few things.

This man, a particular type and variety, we don't have on campus, not because there aren't any with that certain ability, either. This man we are talking about is a cheerleader.

A very hard student worker, Ted Steinmeyer, dropped his usual "UGA dignity" Friday night. In front of a stadium full of students and unwittingly proved the worth of what we have been asking for—a real, live male cheerleader.

Our female cheerleaders have been doing a great job, but there is something about a baritone booming out school yells that seems to draw the cheers from the depths of a crowd.

Steinmeyer wasn't dressed in a fancy garnet and gold uniform, but his sincere support of Florida State and the coopers-on he received from the spectators mean two things. First, a male cheerleader would do proverbial wonders for college spirit at football games, and second, if Steinmeyer can bring out all the patriotism of a crowd that's been dormant since the crowd's been here, there are bound to be a few more fellas who would be willing and able to accomplish the same thing.

If this rebirth—or maybe in FSU's case we should say birth—of school spirit is lasting and not just a one-day thing, and if a male cheering squad can be started, we have a good idea what the Class of '53 can leave the University. It will be a bronze statue of a yelling cheerleader, thrashing his arms wildly in the air and calling for all the Seminole loyalty a crowd can muster.

Ted, would you mind posing?

● ABSENTEE BALLOTING

Students and faculty who are registered for the national election in towns other than Tallahassee and who will not be in the town of their registration on Nov. 4 should write now to their home superintendent of registration requesting an application for an absentee ballot. They can then apply for their ballot which must be mailed back to their place of registration by 5 p.m. Nov. 2.

Certainly, no one who is eligible to vote will want to miss this chance to voice their choice in this all-important election.

OFF THE CUFF

GENERAL EDUCATION IS CLASSIC DEBATE TOPIC

By BRUCE GALPHIN

The value of a general education program in a college curriculum has become almost a classical topic for debates, including professional, scholastic and drug store varieties. These people generally go to such lengths to make points for or against the idea that they succeed principally in bogging down the basic purposes of the plan under a mass of trivialities.

It seems to me that all things considered, general education is excellent in theory and can be in practice, but that it is often its own worst enemy.

Rather than get involved in the ridiculous arguments which arise from minor points, it should like to state a few basic reasons for approving the idea and then get on with the body of this column. the harm that the program does to itself.

In as complex a world as today's, no one can be expert on too many subjects; the all too common reaction of people is, in fact, to resign themselves to general ignorance and follow a specialized rut. But these people are hardly those whom one could call a good citizens. Quite to the contrary, they are a danger to the country because they are not prepared to support and demand progressive changes when these changes are in the best interests of the country.

One need only listen to campaign oratory to know that ignorance of basic ideas in economics, history and human relations is widespread. Unless the people know a little about these various fields, they are likely to be swayed by demagogues and vote against the welfare of the nation.

Thus it is wise for people to know a little bit about a lot of things, to get a whole integrated picture of life—of science, government, of economics which are by specialization. College is a proper place to carry out general education, particularly since it is handled so poorly at the high school level.

The very nature of a program which must select some facts and cast others aside presents a grave danger, however. It is an impossible task to say just how much education can be selected for presentation at the level of the layman; at gram.

DUTCH STUDENT TELLS OF HOME

Are Wooden Shoes Obsolete?

By SUZANNE LINEBAUGH

Have you ever wondered if Holland was really under water, and if it's true that only dikes kept the water from flooding the land? Or if the Dutch people still wear wooden shoes?

Miss Anna Marie Erdman, working on an International Pilot's Club scholarship here at Florida State, is able to answer these questions better than anyone because she is from the Netherlands.

Miss Erdman will be studying here two semesters and at the end of that time will return to Deventer, Netherlands, where she will resume her positions a home economics teacher. She is now majoring in food and nutrition.

"YES, BEEN HERE nearly a month and it is really wonderful to be in this country," stated Miss Erdman who is also impressed with the gardens and parks of Tallahassee. She said that in her country tulips are the national flower and that of the famous windmills, many are still in use.

"Farmers still wear the wooden shoes, but only to work in the fields and never on Sundays to go to church."

THERE ARE 10 or 12 national costumes of the Dutch people, but according to Miss Erdman, many are being discarded for the more modern styles. The costumes are very ornate and in most cases very expensive. The Dutch student said that attempts are being made to re-design the old costumes so that they will be less bulky and less expensive.

The most interesting fact brought out by Miss Erdman is that the Netherlands has a tremendous reclaiming project underway to provide more land. She says that the Netherlands is so crowded that farmers are emigrating to Canada, New Zealand, and other places to live. The reclamation project has already resulted in drainage of practically all the Zuider Zee to provide farm land.

The first time I'd heard the story of the little boy who held his finger in the dike was from an American school teacher," remarked Miss Erdman. She said there is a Dutch saying that God created the world in seven days, but the Dutch people created their land from the sea.

Miss Erdman accredits the police unity of her country to the fact that everyone loves the Queen. The communist delegate's ratio in the Dutch parliament, she added, has decreased from 6 to 4 per cent.

Delta Sigma Omega Has Informal Dance For Day Students

Delta Sigma Omega, day student organization at Florida State University, will hold its annual social event of the year, the Day Students' Dance, at the Student Center, tomorrow evening from 8:30 to 11:30.

All day students, regular students, faculty and staff are cordially invited to attend this informal affair and dance to the music of the Regrets, local band on campus. Refreshments will be served through the evening.

Delores Fita of Tallahassee, president of the Day Students' organization, is acting chairman heading committees of both men and women day students. Miss Fita has expressed her gratification at seeing so many men students rally to the affair in working on committees for the dance. It is hoped that more men will become interested in working for the organization.

Other committee heads are Dot Cowles in charge of publicity, Alice Bush, invitations and Betty Davis in charge of refreshments.

P. O. Has Small Fire

A small fire in the electric motor in the Florida State Post Office caused excitement Tuesday night, but little damage or smoke, according to the Business Manager's office. Two fire trucks from downtown were called out.

Ford Sedan Stolen From Parking Lot

A black, four-door 1950 Ford sedan was reported stolen from the parking lot across from Senior Hall, by its owner, Don Van Nus.

The car had been parked there Monday night at 11, and was not there Tuesday at 7 a.m. The automobile was described by Van Nus as "shiny, with white sidewall tires, fender skirts and bad two spotlights." The Florida license was 10-13396.

Anyone knowing anything about the automobile is asked to call Van Nus at Senior Hall, phone 2-9147.

Children's Art Series To Begin October 23

The first program in a newly inaugurated Children's Artist Series, sponsored by the American Childhood Education group, will be Thursday, October 23, from 3:30 to 4 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall.

Walter James will sing and Mrs. Ramona C. Beard will play the piano. The audience will be composed of fourth grade nursery school, kindergarten and grades one through six.

F Club Sells Tickets

Members of the Women's F Club will wear their letter sweaters tomorrow, so that people may know from whom to buy tickets for the F Club Box Supper Tuesday on Landis Green

Dr. J. J. O'Connell Speaks to Group

"Psychiatry is yet too young to be called a science. It is an art." This was but one of the many thoughts brought out by Dr. J. J. O'Connell, head of the Florida State University Hospital, when he spoke to a group at the Newman House recently.

Dr. O'Connell, who is faculty sponsor for the Catholic group on the FSU campus, spoke on "Psychiatry and Religion." Over 60 people were present to hear him give his address at the regular business meeting of the Newman organization.

At the meeting, Bob Elliot was named chairman of decorations for homecoming, while Anne Leinbach was named candidate for Queen.

Other elections held named Orchid Alonso as publicity chairman and Anne Yeoman as social chairman.

Initiation Postponed

The Newman Club initiation program scheduled for Sunday at the Newman House, has been postponed until Sunday, Oct. 26.

All new Newman club members and those wishing to join must be present at initiation.

Campus Drive Launched

(Continued from Page 1)

bury Club is sponsoring a Smorgasbord supper that same evening at Rupe Hall at 6.

Tuesday, Oct. 21, will be the scene of the F Club box supper on Landis Green from 5 to 7 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any F Club member or floor chairmen of dorms.

On Wednesday the 22nd, it's spaghetti, courtesy of the Kappa Delias, at the Kappa Delta House.

Selling cookies will be the Gamma Phi Beta; peanuts, the Zeta Tau Alpha; pencils, Alpha Xi Delta; fudge, Alpha Chi Omega; pom-poms Garnet Key; apples, Lamda Chi Alpha and lollipops, day students.

Phi Mu is selling popcorn at the free movies regularly scheduled for the week. "The Hasty Heart."

"If your shoes are showing, show them to the Delta Zetas. They are the official shoe shine boys for the drive. Official car washers are the Phi Omegas. Bring the cars to the Chi Omega house from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday.

Anyone who wants to fulfill any urges to ride on a fire engine should contact the Delta Tau Delta. They are sponsoring an "engine ride."

Alpha Gamma Pi and Phi Delta Theta will "pass a hat" for contributions. A literal "passing of the hat" will take place at the dancing classes sponsored by the Cavaliers and Cotillions.

A dime slide-rule Hall will have a collection at their weekly tea next Wednesday October 24. They are offering varied talent for entertainment, besides the speaker from the Campus Chest.

"The Chest committee will have a PA system all around the campus on Monday, October 20, asking students to participate, while the theme of the drive will be carried out by the Sigma Phi Epsilon with the representation of a stadium filled with peddling pencils. The "pencils" are in reality "matches" and after the helping of unfortunates through contributions, or as the slogan puts it, "a match to light the torch."

"The mystery touch will be added by the Village Vamps. They will sell candles, but we can't say for what," explains Helen Hamilton, on publicity for the Chest.

Alpha Tau Omega will give a minstrel show in sorority houses for the purpose of raising funds for Campus Chest.

The Sophomore class will sell cokes and hot dogs during the Frosh-Soph game on Saturday, Oct. 25.

The last activity to date is a hayride by Pi Kappa Alpha for Monday, Oct. 23.

"Once more I would like to urge each student, faculty and staff member to participate in as much of the entertainment sponsored for the campus drive as it is possible," continues Chairman Krasemann, "being able to help others" is the concluding "should be a challenge to each and everyone of us, and, therefore, let us try our utmost to be less fortunate."

Several organizations have pledged individual contributions to the Chest Fund. They are Sigma Kappa, $25; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, $20; Alpha Gamma Delta, $35, Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta will stage their annual Powder Puff bowl game in the spring, the benefits going to Campus Chest.

The complete schedule of events follows:

If there is any error in the following schedule, please let us know so that we can correct it. Also, the organizations are requested to check with Margaret Krasemann, as that it might be changed.

October 17—(open).

October 18—Alpha Gamma Chi—Car wash; Chi Omega House—10:00 a. m.—3:00 p. m.

October 19—Alpha Delta Pi—Alpha Delta Pi party — Alpha Delta Pi House—7:00 p. m.

Campus Club—Smorgasbord supper—Rupe Hall—6:00 p. m.

October 20—Mass meeting—All around campus.

Delta Delta Delta — Fashion Show — Music Auditorium—3:00-6:00 p. m.

Kappa Alpha — Hayride-Supper—Zeta Tau Alpha—7:00 p. m.

Soliciting—Dorms—11:00 p. m.

Sigma Nu—Pie throwing contest—Time and place not yet set.

October 21—Phi Mu — Spaghetti supper—Kappa Delta House—4:00-7:30 p. m.

Sophomore Council—Auction — Music Auditorium—7:00-7:30 p. m.

Kappa Kappa Kappa — Variety show—Music Auditorium—8:00-10:00 p. m.

October 22—Kappa Delta Phi—Movie—Auditorium—8:00-10:00 p. m.

Women's Dorms — Cookie—Gym—9:00-11:30 p. m.

October 23—Pi Kappa Alpha—Hayride

Contribute Freely To Your

CAMPUS CHEST

- So that others may live and learn
- So that others may have the chance you have
- Let's Help Them to Recover

Give Generously To Your

CAMPUS CHEST

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS HENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CANTRON—News Editor

Associate Editors..... Marvin Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor..... Jim Couch, Jim Estes
Copy Editor..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor..... Jane Morgan
Assistant News Editor..... Ed Pierce
Rewrite Editor..... John Harrison

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-2600, Extension 6521

Second Floor Alumni Bldg.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Patronize Our Advertisers

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
Arlene Dahl & John Payne
in Caribbean
Sunday thru Tuesday
Loretta Young & Robert Smith in Paula

STATE
Today thru Tuesday
ROE HOPE
JANE RUSSELL
ROY ROGERS
in
Son of Paleface

RITZ
Today and Saturday
Stan Dentery in Slaughter Trail
John Ireland in
The Basketball Fix
Sunday - Monday
Jean Peters & Walter Brennan in Lure of the Wilderness

DRIVE-IN
Tonight and Saturday
Michael Rennie in Wild Horse Ambush
Charles Laughton in
Hunchback of Notre Dame
Also: Marciano vs. Walcott Fight Pictures
Sunday - Monday
John Payne & Rhonda Fleming in Crosswinds

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Seminole Scout

By JIM COUCH

Dedication to Haskin and DeCosmo

The Circus, what memories or thoughts are stirred by the magic of the name? Young and old alike are forever interested in its acts, whether it be the grand and magnificent Ringling Brothers, or our own equally beautiful and awesome circus troupe here at FSU.

Two years ago, I was guest columnist for a single issue of the Flambeau and dealt with our circus for all its greatness and wonder. Now in an attempt to reach many new students and remind the old, a few of a man, his assistant and their ever spectacular activity, I am dedicating this column to a man and his assistant Jim DeCosmo. for it is through their seemingly endless efforts and ever present enthusiasm and encouragement that several hundred students gain something worthwhile to carry with them throughout life, while participting in an activity which provides entertainment, on the hardest level, for tens of thousands of visitors each year.

Thanks Haskins and Jim DeCosmo. A rare combination that will never be beat, on the circus lot or in life. They are men of impeccable respectability and energy, but most important, they are men of contrast for they can see the lifelong values which the circus can provide for many students.

Not only do the performers gain muscular balance and control, but learn to find for themselves a place among throngs. They learn that they are but a small part of a vast human plan, even though they are momentarily cast into the limelight of performance.

It is their very performance, their learning, for they must give of themselves in giving on every occasion, thus awaking to the hard won taste of self-alertness and continual participation in the great pattern of life.

Through their long hours of practice they learn that "Rome was not built in a day." for here is the example of founding performance upon many practice sessions, to do good takes time and effort. Gentleness and cooperation and essential and spontaneous bypassers of this enjoyable "give and take" activity, where no act is more equal nor any too important. Where "featured" and "minor acts" are but members of a single troupe—a troupe known as the High, the circus a thrill for young and old. Soooo . . . hurrie . . . hurrie . . . hurrie . . . get your tickets while they last for the finest show on earth.

Before me, students who have yet to see Flying High in action, I wonder of Florida State University—a great tribute to Coaches Haskins and DeCosmo.

LCA Downs PKP

Lambda Chi Alpha aired a fine passing attack Tuesday to down Pi Kappa Phi 7-6 in a hard fought battle as the second week of intramurals got under way.

Although they had a wet ball and slippery straw to contend with, Nasolki, who fired most of their aerials, found receivers for almost half of his attempts. The first half was played mostly in Pi Kappa Phi territory.

Pi Kappa Phi started to roll roll soon after the half when a 40-yard pass by Almerico put them in scoring position on the LCA 8. Almerico scored on a rush around right end when he found his receivers were covered on his next pass. His receivers were also covered on the attempted pass for point and h was downed behind the line of scrimmage.

Penalties were light for both teams. Pi Kappa Phi drew two five-yarders for game delay and LCA drew one worth 15 yards to PKP on an illegal block thrown by Landry. The game's one fumble was made by LCA.

PKP made four first downs, while LCA made three, and failed to make their yardage when it counted.

Statistics Show State Is Rough

Even though the Florida State University Seminoles have been on the losing side of the fence in all of their three games to date they are not too far behind their opponents in the statistics.

The Seminoles have averaged 4.1 yards a play as compared to 4.2 for the opponents, and total 50-35 in this first down column.

FSU has completed 18 out of 47 passes for 259 yards, while the opposition has 24 completions in 43 attempts for 423 yards.

In rushing, FSU has gained 449 yards in 126 plays, as opposed to 77 tin 161 trys by the opposition. Each side has three pass interceptions.

Individual leaders include Tommy Brown's 17 punts for 621 yards and a 36.5 average. Brown trails Co-Capt. Curtis Campbell in the punt returns aspect. Campbell has returned five for a total of fifty yards and a ten-yard average. Brown has returned seven for 48 yards and a 6.8 average.

Roy Thompson leads in rushing and total offense, running for 146 and passing for 152. Nicholas Italiano is second in total offense with 93 rushing and 83 through the airlanes. They are followed by Stan Dobosz, Al Woodham with 97 and 78 respectively.

Italiano leads in the scoring column with four, a 24 points on two touchdowns, followed by Roy Thompson, Al Woodham, and Harold King with one touchdown apiece. Stan Dobosz has four conversions in the scoring with the remainder of FSU's score.

Curt Campbell leads in pass receiving with 6 passes good for 93 yards, with Jimmie Lee Taylor, King, and Woodham with 4, 3, and 3 good for 36, 68, and 46 yards in that order.

Thompson leads in kickoff returns, carrying eight for 240 yards and a 30 yard average. Woodham is second with 7 for 150 yards and a 21.4.

John Grine leads in pass interception with a 33-yard return, followed by Brown with a 14-yard interception.

Class Hears Talk On Public Relations

Some of the public relations problems of the Florida State Advertising Commission, which has brought much favorable publicity and increased touring to the state, was explained to a class meeting in Restaurant and Hotel Management at Florida State University Wednesday by Paul Severance, managing editor of the commision's state News Bureau.

In his discussion of "Public Relations and How to Attain Them," the veteran public relations expert urged the future hotel and restaurant operators to take a practical and beneficial approach to their dealings with the public.

Tennis Meeting Set Wednesday

A get-acquainted meetins of last year's varsity tennis team and other men who plan to try out for the 1953 squad will be held at the Varsity Courts near the west end of the Maintenance Shops), Wednesday afternoon October 22nd at 4:40 Election of the 1953 captain, the completion of plans for Informal Fall practice and a discussion of the District 1 qualifying tourney will be the primary topics brought before the group.

Florida State University has been selected as the site of the District 1 qualifying tourney for the Florida State Tennis Championship. This district tourney has been set for November 8th and 9th. Entrants must be members of FLTA Coach Don Loucks, director of the tourney, has cards for any player who wishes to join the FLTA. Membership is $1.00.

Changes Made in Practice

INTRAMURALS

The second week of 'intramural football was marked by close competition in the fraternity league and growing interest in the dormitory league.

The dormitories had some tight defensive battles as the Newman Club fought the Owls to a three-three tie in first downs. The Moccasins eked out a victory over Senior Hall, winning four first downs to three in another tight defensive duel.

The Trojans screesed past the Air Force students by a 6-0 score. Magnolia rolled over the Confederates 7-0 and the Panthers and Rebels were guilty of a double forfeit, as neither team showed. Double forfeits give each team a loss.

In the fraternity league, meanwhile, SC racked up the biggest Tuesday score when they downed SAE 13-0. The ATO's and PKA's recorded identical victories over KS and SN by 6-0 scores. LCA strolled the small crowd watching their contest, by nosing out KP 7-6, while PDT and SPE were deadlocked in a game that ended scoreless with each team registering five first downs apiece to tie all the way.

In the fraternity tennis tournament many matches were played as SC gained the finals of the winners bracket and will play the winner of the KA-SPE match.

In the losers bracket, KS, PKA, SN, DTD and PDT all advanced and will be vieing for top spot and another chance at the winner's bracket winner.

Dr. Price Aids In Clinic Site

Florida is becoming more and more prominent in the sport of gymnastics, not only because of FSU's many outstanding contributions to the national sport, but also because of Dr Hartley Price's efforts to have Florida as the annual spot for the National Gymnastics Clinic

Due to the ideal weather conditions. Florida has an attraction for getting people to move south during the winter, and Dr. Price has taken advantage of this fact to persuade Lyle Welker, president of the Clinic to arrange this year's meet at Sarasota from December 27 to 30.

Price is trying to persuade the organization to make Florida the permanent meeting place for the clinic. It was held in Daytona Beach in 1950, and was very well received there.

The FSU gym team will probably be a major contributor to the demonstrations and exhibitions which will highlight the three day meet.

The fact that Sarasota is also the winter headquarters for the Ringling Circus will also serve as a drawing card to interest the many teams and coaches who have received invitations to the Clinic.

Attendance On Steady Increase

Florida State University's football team is proving that it does not necessarily take a winning eleven to make the turnstiles click a merry tune.

Although the Tribe has suffered defeats in its three outings to date all of which have been played on the home hunting grounds, attendance is up—way up—and an all-time mark is in sight.

In the three games the Tribe has on a total of 24,708 fans, or an average of 8,235 per contest. In five home games last year the Seminoles drew only 31,085 or an average of 6,217. But the 31,085 constituted a record rate. With three home games remaining, including the big Homecoming game with Furman on November 15, a new attendance goal is virtually a certainty.

The Seminoles next home game is on November 8 with Mississippi Southern. The Tribe closes its season at home on December 6 with Tampa.

Experimenting Continuing On, Veller Hunts for Right Combo

"Let the fullback play center, put that tackle in the wingback slot, shift the guard out to play at the end position" may sound like a balmy football coach darting about his padded cubicle, but in reality it is only the vast experimenting efforts of Coach Don Veller and his staff as they hope to find means of plugging up gaps in the Seminole platoons.

Throughout the entire week, Veller and his assistants have been trying out new combinations of both offense and defense while trying out men that haven't even gotten into previous contests.

With three straight setbacks to their credit and an injury riddled squad to piece together for their next encounter with North Carolina State, FSU's footbeilers are going to see lots of changes.

Succesful sueesses have already paid off, as Frank Henico, a sixone, 175 pound freshman has been fulling the West Campus air with payoff pitches that have the coaching staff at least hopeful. Although he has yet to see action, Henico may find himself in the midst of battle next Saturday.

The tailback slot, where Henico has been running this week, is still wide open due to the injuries Roy Thompson and Bobby Fiveash received last week against VMI.

Thompson, the Seminoles' leading offensive threat, has a separated shoulder and may not be sufficiently recovered for the N. C. State game. Fiveash, who runs the same position as Thompson, has a bruised hip knee and will be available for limited duty only.

Another find in the offensive backfield is Jimmy Mesimeve who has been showing up well from the wingback position.

Dick Rosman, another freshman mystery man, may be seeing action at the fullback spot if Dick Turk, Stan Dobosz and Nelson Italiano fail to regain their health. They all suffer from leg injuries.

Meanwhile, the defensive platoon is getting some additional strength in the persons of Louis Lenhardt, 173 pound guard; Ronald Breger, 245 pound guard; Eddie Johnson, 180 pound end; and Bob Crenshaw, 161 pound linebacker.

Dossey Merritt, squad member from last year, has also been showing great improvement and may get the nod for either offensive or defensive tackle.

The defense was hard hit last week with John Karlowicz, Nat Polak, and Jimmy McDonald all being sidelined with injuries.

Athletic Frat States Purpose

Coaches Ken Miller and Bill Colcrease have announced that any student wishing to apply for membership in the national athletic fraternity, Sigma Delta Psi, contact one of them at their convenience.

The fraternity, founded at Indiana University in 1912 has 91 chapters throughout the United States. Its purpose is to promote all-around development of physical skills in the individual as a counter measure against the over emphasis on specialization so prevalent in present-day athletic programs.

In order to gain membership, men must meet certain standards of performance in a wide variety of specific skills. While the required tests do not call for outstanding performance in any one skill, the range of abilities needed to qualify in each of 13 events is unusual and denotes the real athlete in the truest sense of the word.

For admission, a candidate must attain the following marks: 100-yard dash, 11.8 seconds; 120-yard low hurdles, 16 seconds; broad jump, 17 feet; 16-pound shot put, 30 feet; 28-foot rope climb, 12 seconds; baseball throw, 250 feet; football punt, 120 feet; 100-yard swim, 1.45 minutes; mile run, six minutes; front hand spring, acceptable form; still hand stand, 10 seconds, and fence vault, chin high.

SURE IT'S CORN!

NY-CARA YARN

A NEWLY DEVELOPED TEXTILE FIBER FROM CORN-BLENDED WITH VIRGIN NYLON

LET SWEATERS

With the Softness of the Finest Cashmeres

ENHANCE AND SUPPLEMENT YOUR WARDROBE...THEY WASH LIKE A CHARM

SLIP-OVER

Size 34 - 40

Colors: red, navy, purple, green, blue white, maize, mint, beige, grey

$3.98

CARDIGAN

Size 34 - 40

White, maize, red, beige, navy, blue, pink, black, purple, mint, silver

$5.98

Be Sure to Attend the Style Show for the Campus Chest Drive. MONDAY, 5:00 P. M. TO 6:00 P. M. MUSIC AUDITORIUM

MAYERON'S

College Ave. at Adams

Dine with us . . . in the Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Fried Chicken
Roast Beef, Noodles
Roast Pork
Broiled Fish
(Special price on cups with meal)

We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pie Waffles

...But only Time will Tell . . . . . .

CAMEL leads all other brands by billions of cigarettes per year!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Test CAMELS for 30 days for Mildness and Flavor

CAMELS are America's most popular cigarette. To find out why, test them as your steady smoke. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. See how rich and flavorful they are — pack after pack! See how mild CAMELS are — week after week!

Juniors Plan Drive

(Continued from Page 1)

be drawn up and copies given to all captains. Any changes must be reported immediately to avoid confusion and clashes in the overall schedule can be made.

Blood captains have been asked to promote interest in their groups toward the blood drive in order to make it successful. If blood captains are unable to attend meetings, they are urged to appoint someone to fill in for them and report back to them what transpired at the meetings.

Work Party Planned

The Wesley Foundation is planning a Work Party for tomorrow. All interested persons should meet at the Student House to help in cleaning floors, washing windows and other such jobs.

Afterwards there will be a wiener roast for all participating.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Saturday Special
½ Fried Chicken
$1.00

Sunday Special
ROAST TURKEY
With Dressing,
Cranberry Sauce

Seven Seas

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Color
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP
"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"
121 EAST PARK AVENUE

Espadrilles
Men's and Women's Sizes
Rope Solid Mexican Sandals
• Red • Navy • Black • White
$2.25
The Gift Box
108 SOUTH ADAMS

Fremac's
SAVE A $5 BILL!
SPORT COAT SALE
Regular 19.75
4.75

SPORT COATS for YEAR-ROUND WEAR!

Every man needs a Sport Coat . . . so buy yours now and Save a $5 Bill! Special Purchase from a Famous Maker, plus regular stock. Handsome, crease-resistent for year-round wear. Solids, shacks, plaids, sharkskin weave, and others. Sizes 34 to 46. First Come — First Served! Come early for best selection.

USE LAY-AWAY PLAN

Fremac's
302 S. MONROE

Commission Plans Meteorology Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission plans to hold an examination for Meteorologist Aid positions paying from $2,850 to $3,410 a year.

Most of these positions are in the Weather Bureau in Washington, D. C., and other parts of the United States. Some positions outside this country will also be filled.

A written test will be given, but appropriate experience or education is also required.

Full information regarding the requirements, and instructions on applying may be secured at the main office of the Tallahassee Post Office, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications must be filed not later than Oct. 21.

Speakers Consider

(Continued From Page 1)

from the students' point of view, the reasons why such a system is practically unworkable in a large group without complete cooperation and honesty among every member of the group. Also made the point that there is a definite stigma attached to the matter of being honest, since people, from early childhood, are impressed with the idea that it is equally as bad to "tattle" on someone as it is to commit an offense themselves. Hence, the lack of cooperation by the students.

PEGGY MOORE, Chairman of Women's Judiciary and overall chairman of the Honor System, took an idealistic, but practical attitude toward the problems. She stated that she thought as long as one student is honest in the group, the system is working. All agreed that this is true to a certain extent, but it was the collective opinion of the speakers that, to have such a system work and work effectively, all members of the society must be of the same moral degree and must practice the ideals of the code.

Sr. Class Meets

(Continued from Page 1)

is granted, she said, when they are flipped to the left. The proper way to carry a cap so that it will be easily put on is to carry the narrow side to the front. The front and back of a cap can be told by holding it up and placing the end which comes lower in the back.

THE SENIORS voted to have Sophomore brothers and sisters, and if they could not all be accommodated in the Amphitheater, to use the stadium. Jackie Dickerson, who had been in charge of ordering caps and gowns, said she took orders for 491 Seniors. If bleachers, which Dr. Shores has been able to secure, are used in the Amphitheater, 1,700 people can be accommodated. The main objection to this, however, was crowded conditions and getting on and off the stands. There are in all 807 eligible candidates for degrees.

The Class voted down a motion to hold another meeting to explain the mechanics of the ceremony. The information will instead be published in the Flambeau. Senior Class Pres. Bob Ryals, who presided at the meeting, said that Dr. Sam Neel and Dr. W. H. Rogers have accepted as Senior Class sponsors.

PLANS WERE also discussed for the President's birthday party, and an announcement was made that the Talk-Ho offices would be open from 3 to 5 p.m.

A report was made on the booster section. The Warpath Club is ordering cards for a card section this week which will provide for 600 students.

Soltas Club Holds Organization Meet

The Soltas Club of the School of Library Training and Service held their organization meeting Monday, October 13, at Cockerill Twenty-three students and two faculty members attended.

Jo Ann Nelson, president, presided and introduced the following new officers: Evelyn Frederickson, vice-president; Martha Sanders, secretary, and Helen Black, treasurer. The following committees were appointed: Coffee committee, Dewey Glass, chairman, social committee, and publicity committee, Barbara Heudry.

Arrangements are being made for a social gathering at which Dean Louis Shores will discuss his year's stay in England on a Fulbright Fellowship.

Soltas, the mimeographed weekly newspaper of the Library School, will be published soon.

All members are requested to pay their dues to Helen Black At the next meeting plans to serve coffee in the Library Lounge will be discussed.

Committees Begin

(Continued from Page 1)

Frank D. Moor; game ceremonies, Prof. Bob Brumbaet, music department, chairman, Garnet and Gold banquet committee, Miss Katherine Warren, Dean of Women, chairman, and assisting Jo Nell Proctor, co-chairman.

On the general arrangement and transportation committee is R. K. Shaw; Homecoming queen committee chairman is Milton Carothers, Jr. Hospitality, June Conyers, chairman, who will be assisted by James Dye; housing, Edith McCollum, director of Residence Halls for Women; parade organization, Prof. Don Loucks, chairman, Mary Kate Miller, and Bob Canada, co-chairmen.

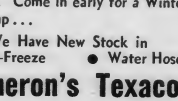
POW WOW chairman is Jack Hamlin. Publications chairman, Bob Leigh; publicity, Dr. Laurence Campbell, Dean of School of Journalism, chairman; prizes and awards, Dr. Otis McBride, Dean of Men; and Tallahassee decorations committee, Ed Clark, chairman, assisted by Mr. Howard Gilbert, acting co-chairman, who represents the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce.

Classified Ads

LABORATORY TECHNICIAN — Full time or afternoons. Contact Miss Betty Murphy. 2-8737.

FOR RENT: Furnished Apt. with utilities; Single and double rooms for regulars and transients. Opposite College Library. Phone 2-4024, 642 W. Jefferson.

FOR SALE: SAVE $500. Buy my equity in a beautiful '49 Packard Sedan. See Thomas Bruckner at West Campoods Bldg. 394 room 115 or Phone.

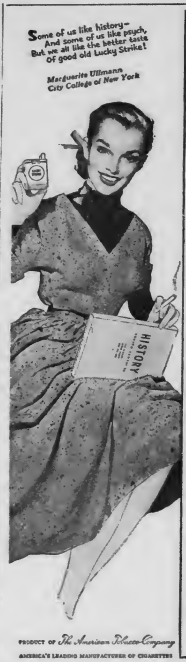


FOR RENT: 8-room, unfurnished apt.; pets, children OK; 6-minutes from FSU; college couple preferred; $40 mo. See Ce Olson FSU Public Relations Office.

NEED FORMAL WEAR?
RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion — wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50

Nic's Joggery

Weatherize Your Car Now

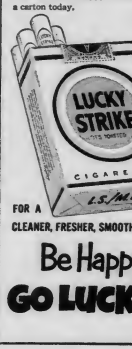


Cold Weather is near, be sure your car is ready. Come in early for a Winter Check-up . . .

We Have New Stock in
• Anti-Freeze • Water Hoses

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Some of us like history—
And some of us like psych,
But we all like the better taste
Of good old Lucky Strike!



Marguerite Ullmann
City College of New York

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Take a Lucky from a newly opened pack and carefully remove the paper by tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure to start on the seam. In tearing don't crush or dig into the tobacco. Then, gently lift out the cylinder. See how free Luckies are from air spaces —"hot spots" that smoke hot, harsh and dry—from loose ends that spoil the taste. Note Luckies' long strands of fine, mild tobacco are packed firmly to draw smoothly and evenly—to give you a cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke. Yes, Luckies are made better—to taste better! So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today.

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER SMOKE

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

When you've a date and stay out late
He, Father may appear
But after him a Lucky Strike
And you need have no fear

David L. Horton
Washington University '53

Brave Caesar had a thrilling life
Was cheered and feared alike—
But Caesar never had the thrill
Of tasting Lucky Strike!

Anthony R. Black
Notre Dame

WADDILL AA CLEANERS

STUDENTS.....FACULTY

Now Open for Your Convenience

a BRANCH OFFICE in The Amber House

- A and A Cleaners now offer you, the students and faculty a BRANCH OFFICE in the Amber House, designed especially for your convenience.
- A and A offers expert LUSTER-SHEEN Dry Cleaning. Just bring your cleaning to the Amber House when you come to eat, leave it at the candy counter.

Beautiful LUSTER - SHEEN Cleaning

WADDILL AA CLEANERS

Quick - Expert SERVICE For All

FSU and U of F Urged to Merge
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

Seniors To Be Capped Tonight At 7:30 In Music Amphitheater

VOL. XXXIX, No. 9 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1952

FSU, British Debaters Meet Thursday for Annual Clash

Teams Argue State Directed Radio, TV As Dibben, Evans Oppose Statesmen

The Fourth Annual International Debate will be Thursday night at 8:15 in the Conradi Theater, when Kenneth Dibben and Ronald Evans of the Cumberland Debating Union, and Arlene Amend and Ted Clevenger of Florida State meet on the question of whether or not radio and television should be a state monopoly.

The debate will be open to the public. Although there will be no admission, the audience will be asked to check a shift-of-opinion slip before and after the debate. A open forum period will follow.

DIBBEN SERVED as chairman of the Conservative Society, president of the Debating Society and president of the Economics Faculty Society at the University College of Southhampton. Enlisted after two years in the Royal Air Force. Evans was chairman of the Socialist Society and a delegate to the International Student Union in France in 1950.

Ted Clevenger, a PhD candidate in the department of speech here, attended Mississippi Southern College where he got his MA with honors rating. "Concepts of Limitation of Freedom of Speech in times of National Emergency." Since his undergraduate years he had considered debating his service and holds the current record for women in the Mississippi Southern Speech Association tournament.

ARLENE AMEND, a Senior speech major, has participated in many debate for four years. Last year she placed first in original oratory contest. She and her colleague, Katherine Mitchell, are the All-Southern Tournament Miss Scott, Ga., and also were the most effective speakers in the University of Miami tournament.

Membership Test For Los Picaros Set For Tuesday

Los Pícaros de Lope de Vega, Spanish honorary, will give its entrance examination this afternoon at 5 and tomorrow night in Room 121, Dodd Building to all students interested in joining the Spanish-speaking organization.

Those who pass within written examination will be given a copy of "El Lazo Dorado" translation to study for the oral part of the test.

THESE TESTS are not difficult for although a sound knowledge of Spanish helps, it is not a "must" requirement, Dr. Pedro Cabrera, sponsor, said. "An interest in Spanish and Latin-American culture is the essential quality for a prospective Picaro to have."

The purpose of the club is to foster Latin-American culture and a better understanding between the United States and Latin-American people and to take advantage of the opportunities offered from a familiarity with the Spanish language and its frequent use.

Los Pícaros has a dramatic effect in that direction by sponsoring a radio program over WFSU (91.7) every other Tuesday. Each time the program has consisted of Spanish music and of "How do You Pronounce It?" by Dr. Cabrera, a lecture on four contestants are given a list of words and one word or other Spanish word to pronounce. Their pronunciation is judged by a guest speaker.

Those taking part in last week's program include Jon Harris, Jean Dibben, and Nancy Parker, all in the School of Music, with Dr. Pedro Lazaga as guest speaker.

Any person who would like to take part in these programs are asked to contact Violet Mandeville Landis, who is in charge. The club also plans to bring Spanish lectures to the FSU campus.

OFFICERS for this year are Jimmy Enrlish, president; Jean Dibben, vice-president; Amelia Steele, recording secretary; Eddie Ann Murray, corresponding secretary; Betty Zoll, treasurer, and Ben Chatham, historian. Dr. Pedro Lazaga, modern languages department, is counselor.

Dance Clubs Aid Drive

The Cotillion-Cavalier Dancing Club will include a Campus Drive night this week, as students will be asked to make money donations for dancing lessons tonight and Thursday.

Tapper Pushes College Merger

Says Duplication Costs Florida Much Money

Florida State University and its Gainesville rival, University of Florida, would be combined into one University if George Tapper, state senator from Hillsborough, St. Joe, has anything to do with it.

Tapper made the proposal at a meeting of Gainesville Friday in Panama City. He proposed the two branches be administered by a single president, eliminating the termed costly duplication of many courses and certain graduate studies in the two institutions.

The Gulf county legislator said he has been his plan would cause "great moaning, groaning and gnashing of teeth by the alumni of both institutions." He admitted his stand, however, by saying "I offer these thoughts in all sincerity and as a business-like approach to the problem."

Tapper said educational costs were mounting although total enrollment in the state's two Florida A. & M. was down. He admitted the increased cost was partly due to increased inflationary trend.

"I am well aware," Tapper said, "that the various groups, representing both the University of Florida and Florida State and other interests, forget the overall picture of our higher education system . . ."

'777' Plays Nightly

"Northside 777," a movie of a newspaperman's crusade to free an innocent man, shows tonight, at 7:30, in the Civic Center Hall.

The movie will be shown tomorrow night in Monticello, Thursday, Senior Hall, and Friday at 8 p.m., in the Music Amphitheater.

Campus Chest Receives Help Through WFSU

Students who wish to contribute to Campus Chest can do so by announcing their own request, through the campus station WFSU, M. J. Parham says. The amateur announcers will take over on the Late Date show between the hours of 9:45 and 10:45 p.m.

WFSU will offer other special programs this week. Tonight at 7:30 Los Picaros, Spanish honorary, will present a program of Spanish music, using local talent.

Wednesday at 8 p.m. Jan Arbogast will direct the University Government Association forum. At 9:30 p.m. tomorrow, the University Religious Council will sponsor "Faith for Today." Terry Stein will be coordinator.

Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary, will feature one of its members in a musical program, this week. Violet Mendese. This week Jean Dibben, Ina Bennett Land, director of FSU sports publicity, will present football highlights of the week.

"Meet the Greeks" will be Thursday at 9:30 p.m. This week the fraternity will feature Alpha Alpha Delta Pi social sorority. "Meet the Greeks" will be each Thursday at the same time. This week's program will be the third in the Greek series.

Rat Caps Still Vogue As Frosh Face Court

Over 100 Freshmen have faced the members of Rat Court in the last two weeks. A new alignment of the garnet and gold caps has invalidated slips previously issued to those who were not able to buy them during the shortage.

President Ben Chatham made the announcement that rat caps until the Thank-giving holidays, but will get a chance to help them off if they beat the Sophomores on Freshman-Sophomore Day, Oct. 24.

Campus Chest Helps Refugees Through World Student Fund

By ORCHID ALONSO

"There is at present a constant flow of refugees into Germany at the rate of 3,000 a month. Among these are a high percentage of students, almost only hope of continuing their education lies in the aid of the students of Florida State University, give your Campus Chest dollars," declared Secretary of World Student Service Fund.

"Contributing to WSSF," he commented, "trains students for international service."

ASKED WHAT his impression of the efforts here at FSU in the Campus Chest Campaign was, he replied that it was a beautifully organized drive. I will always appreciate cooperation between groups and organizations on this campus than I have ever seen. Special Commendation should be extended The Flambeau and WFSU. The time and cooperation rendered by them in this cause is unequaled in any drive I have seen.

Gleason, who attended the University of Oslo before the war and did graduate work at the University of Wisconsin after the war, first came into contact with WSSF at the University of Wisconsin. Upon graduation, he took an opening in the regional office of the organization. "I have never regretted the step," pointed out Gleason, "it was the most genuine working with youth, not as a teacher, but in a medium by which I can reach and help more of them personally."

AS REGIONAL Secretary, he is in charge of ten southeastern states presenting appeals to students of American Universities for aid in his work. He has many schools in drives on the basis of his past experience

Gleason Handles most administrative details for collecting and distribution of funds. Only the students abroad. Besides presenting reports, he also receives the reports conditions seen during his many trips to students here so that he can speak with authority of the hardships endured for an education.

"HUNDREDS OF thousands of students in Southeast Asia and the Middle East depend on the generosity of students in American Universities for continuing their education without fear of disease, lack of housing, and the unbearable poverty of self-service," he explained.

Gleason's trip here to FSU was one of the many made by him during the school year. He spoke on several groups and organizations as well as being principal speaker at a forum last week. Two additional speeches, to have been delivered Sunday, were omitted because of an emergency call that necessitated his returning immediately to Atlanta.

THE ONLY statement I have to offer students about the proper distribution of funds is that there are local National committees heading this drive who represent the various countries that receive help" replied Gleason to a question concerning the guiding the campaign as to just who got the money.

"The answer to be an unusual enthusiasm raised here in connection with the drive. The campaign is more widespread than it was two years ago when I was here. At that time, it seemed to be lost among numerous other activities." Gleason pointed out the idea that the campaign was going to reach its goal and be made on a trip to Europe this Summer.

Float Entrants Receive Rules For Festivities

Information Procured In Longmire Building Concerning The Parade

Rules for the Homecoming float competition are being mailed to fraternities, sororities dormitories and religious organizations said Bob Ducker, chairman. Other organizations wishing to enter floats may secure information and blanks at the information desk in the Longmire building.

Entry blanks, which were mailed out with the rules, must be in at the Information Desk of the Longmire Building no later than 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 30. The parade will be held at noon of Nov. 14

AN EXPENDITURE limit for the float has been set at $35. This amount includes any gifts of materials or money, Ducker said. It will not include money used for repair of a truck or other vehicle upon which the float is constructed, or the payment of a hired driver.

Special emphasis should be placed on beauty and originality, Ducker pointed out. A truck only blank, each organization should include a theme related to the float. In case of duplication of ideas, the sketch received first will be given priority. Ben Bennett Land, director of FSU sports publicity, will present football highlights of the week.

"Meet the Greeks" will be Thursday at 9:30 p.m. This week the fraternity will feature Alpha Alpha Delta Pi social sorority. "Meet the Greeks" will be each Thursday at the same time. This week's program will be the third in the Greek series.

Ex-FSU Student Wins Bronze Star For Korean Service

Special to the Flambeau

CAMP IRWIN, CALIF. — A Camp Irwin soldier was awarded the Bronze Star recently by Sgt. Laurie E. Sweeting, a member of the G-2 (Operations) Section, The Armored Combat Training Center, received the award for activities in Korea.

The citation reads in part as follows: "Sergeant Laurie E. Sweeting, distinguished himself by meritorious service during the period 6 April 1951 to 5 October 1951 as Sergeant Sweeting served as the Assistant Operations Officer and performed his duties in a consistently superior manner. He was directly responsible for the timely distribution of important documents between the Division and its companies.

IN MANY instances, Sergeant Sweeting voluntarily worked with various members on the Message Center and greatly increased the efficiency of operations. By his second continuous hours to develop and introduce new ideas which resulted in assisted in overcoming the difficulties the Message Center encountered. By his outstanding extra-ordinary initiative to insure the proper maintenance required in the Operations Section he assisted operating department. The meritorious service rendered by Sergeant Sweeting reflects great credit on himself and the military service.

A graduate of Florida State University 1947-1948, prior to reenlisting in the Army, Sergeant Sweeting holds the rank of Sergeant when discharged soon.

HE SERVED in the European Theater during World War II, and holds the Combat Meral, European-Africa-Middle Eastern Campaign Service Medal, and the Republic of Korea Presidential Unit Citation.

His parents Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Sweeting, reside at Key West.

Frankenstein to Star At Baptist Halloween

A Halloween Night will be celebrated in the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church this Friday night at 8 by the Baptist students.

Students should come in costumes. A 40 minute Frankenstein movie, games and a house of horror are among the entertainment, as well as the traditional bobbing for apples.

Saturday night at 7:45 George and Ginger Hall, the photographers, will show slides they made on a trip to Europe this Summer.

Campus Chest Fund Drive Swings Into Final Stages

Meet That Goal

CAMPUS CHEST CHAIRMEN—A goal of $6,000 has been set by the committee chairmen of the Campus Chest Drive. Seated, left to right, Ray Champon, men's dormitory chairman; Sue Shack, faculty donations; Margaret Newman, general chairman; Helen Hawkins, activities chairman; Nina Grace Fox, faculty drive; and Jean Dewey, general secretary. Rear row, left to right, Sally Reed, student bosses chairman; Phoebe Jackson, publicity chairman; Jessica Hall, treasurer; Jean Dibben, sorority chairman; Kingman Brittain, fraternity chairman, and Marti Steley, treasurer.

Investiture Scheduled For Seniors Tonight

Senior Investiture of 1953, the annual ceremony which recognizes all seniors at Florida State University as candidates for graduation, will commence tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Seniors, dressed in caps and gowns and accompanied by their sophomore brothers or sisters, will meet at 7:30 in front of the Education Building facing Dr. Bowden Dining Hall, turn at a signal. Those seniors whose names begin with through Z will march toward the Dining Hall, turn and face the other group, with the Z's nearest the Suwannee Room.

Sophomore brothers and sisters, carrying the mortarboards, will place them on the heads of the seniors at the proper time.

Following this, the processional will begin with the Seniors and Sophomores coming directly into the path leading to the amphitheatre. Two seniors, one from each group, will meet with their sophomore on the outside and will thus proceed toward the amphitheatre. The seniors will leave the sophomores on the outside. The seniors will go down toward the stage and begin filling in the rows of seats. Their sophomore brothers and sisters will sit directly behind them in the next and alternate rows.

THE PROGRAM will begin with the devotional given this year by the Sam Neel of the Religious department. Immediately following, Dr. Hudson Rogers, head of the English department, will give the address. These two faculty members are the Senior Class sponsors.

Kappy Skoestad and Barbara Swenson, Class Marshals in charge of arrangements for investiture, have made a special announcement that girls are not required to wear the formal collars as at graduation, but will only need the plain collar that is supplied with the cap and gown. Girls should be dressed in white skirts and white shirts, dark ties and trousers.

THE MARSHALS urge all seniors participating in this year's investiture to be in front of the Education Building promptly at 7:30 tonight.

Funds From Drive Go To UGA Office

"All money collected for the Campus Chest must be turned into the office of Chairman Government Association on Second Floor Longmire, "announces Margaret Newman, Chairman of the drive.

The UGA office will be available at the following times: Wed., Oct. 22, 8 until 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. to 2 p.m.; Thurs., Oct. 23, 8 until 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. to 2 p.m.; Fri. Oct. 24, 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. to 6 p.m.; Sat. Oct. 25, 8 to 12 a.m.; Mon., Oct. 27, and Tues. Oct. 28 from 8 to 11 a.m. and then from 12 p.m. to 3.

All organizations should keep a list of these times and plan to be in Longmire Chapel "at these times," advises Margaret.

Tribble Addresses Students Tonight

Lewis H. Tribble, head of the Legal Department and general counsel for the State Comptroller's Office since 1941, will address the public administration class in Room 123, History Building, tonight at 7 p m.

He will discuss fiscal operations of the comptroller's office with the class. Under the supervision of Angus Laird, director of the State Merit System and part time instructor at Florida State University, the class is studying the administrative problems of Florida.

Tribble, a formy city attorney for Lake City, holds degrees from both and Yale Universities. He was a professor of law at Stetson for 17 years and dean of the Law School for 10 of the 17 years. He is also the author of several articles and other information published in various legal magazines and annuals.

State Dept. Announces 1953 Trainee Program

The Department of State has announced its 1953 Trainee Program to colleges and universities throughout the country.

The Foreign Affairs Management Trainee Program is designed to secure a limited number of carefully selected trainees who possess outstanding potentialities for eventual promotion to top level executive and managerial positions. Seniors and graduate students with good backgrounds in political science, economics, public administration, international relations and who are interested in a career in foreign affairs management may be considered for this program.

Traditional Auction Planned By Faculty

The annual Faculty Auction, sponsored by Sophomore Council, will be tomorrow night from 7 to 9 in the Opperman Music Hall.

The articles to go before the block are donated by faculty members and will range from baked goods to paintings. Proceeds will go to Campus Chest. Bey Arnold, the auctioneer, will begin the bidding at 7:30 and urges all students to support the auction.

Frosh Go to Senate

The regular meeting of University Senate will be held at 9:15 p.m. today in the U.G.A. room of the Longmire Building. This will be the first meeting attended by the newly elected freshman senators.

Sophomore brothers and sisters, carrying the mortarboards, will place them on the heads of the seniors at the proper time.

Following this, the processional will begin with the Seniors and Sophomores coming directly into the path leading to the amphitheatre. Two seniors, one from each group, will meet with their sophomore on the outside and will thus proceed toward the amphitheatre. The seniors will leave the sophomores on the outside. The seniors will go down toward the stage and begin filling in the rows of seats. Their sophomore brothers and sisters will sit directly behind them in the next and alternate rows.

THE PROGRAM will begin with the devotional given this year by the Sam Neel of the Religious department. Immediately following, Dr. Hudson Rogers, head of the English department, will give the address. These two faculty members are the Senior Class sponsors.

Kappy Skoestad and Barbara Swenson, Class Marshals in charge of arrangements for investiture, have made a special announcement that girls are not required to wear the formal collars as at graduation, but will only need the plain collar that is supplied with the cap and gown. Girls should be dressed in white skirts and white shirts, dark ties and trousers.

THE MARSHALS urge all seniors participating in this year's investiture to be in front of the Education Building promptly at 7:30 tonight.

Prof. Leduc Reveals Free European Study Open To All Seniors

Would you throw away the chance to win $1000?

Prof. Albert Leduc of the Modern Languages department announced that Florida State University Seniors and first year graduate students have the chance to study a thousand dollars worth in Europe next year. The best part of it is that you hardly have to lift a pinkie to accomplish it.

PROF. LEDUC, recently appointed representative of the Fulbright Act here, stated that this act provides a United States government grant of $1000.00 and more to send 200 U. S. students to Europe to study every year.

In order to qualify for selection, the student has only to fill out a complete application form which he can obtain from the modern languages department. These applications must be filled out and completed by Oct. 31 in order for qualification for next September's quota.

THE PROGRAM includes transportation to and from Europe and a subsistence allowance. Students may elect to go to any one of a number of countries including Austria, Belgium, Burma, Denmark, Egypt, France, Italy, Japan or the United Kingdom. One stipulation is that the student must be able to speak the language of the country of his choice.

Professor Leduc feels this is a great opportunity for American students to study abroad especially with such simple application requirements. Since the Fulbright Act has been in force, states Leduc, over 1000 American students have been sent to Europe to study in any phase of endeavor they wish.

Annual Frosh Tryouts Will Be Held Today

Tryouts will be held for the third annual Freshman Revue today and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 in Room 218 of the History Building.

The 1952-53 freshman play, "Starring Wesley Barry," sponsored by the department of speech will be produced in early December, Jim Bullington, director, announced.

Bullington is looking especially for the eighteen acting roles and the numerous stage crew positions.

Honor Group Meets

The Florida State University Honor Committee will meet on Wednesday, Oct. 22, at the Senate Room, in second floor Longmire announces June McMillan, chairman.

"Any student interested in attending is welcome," says June. The committee is presently working on the revision of the honor code.

Freshmen Installed

Installation of Freshman Class officers will be Thursday at 5:30 p. m. in the Opperman Music Hall, as part of the Orientation program for the entire class.

At that time, Garnet Key, women's honorary, will present the Three Torches Pageant, explaining the meaning of the flambeaus on the FSU seal.

Poor Showing Causes Forum To Be Moved

Campus Chest campaigning is featuring great pep-pulling of almost every product and service from selling candies to just passing the hat.

The University Government Association Forum, on Campus Chest, to be held at the Longmire Auditorium, is as aired over WFSU so that students could listen to the proceedings, said Margaret Kraseman, Chairman of the Campus Chest Committee.

THE FORUM, featuring Mr. John Gleason, regional secretary of World Student Service Fund, was scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. but because of poor participation was moved to the studios of WFSU.

Because of the little participation, Chairman Kraseman has asked that the question before the Campus Chest Committee is why there isn't more interest in the drive, and whether or not to award the $25 bonus to the organization having the most represented union, as had been previously announced.

BY TENDS, 25 Greek groups had the most representatives, and as such, would receive the $25 award. The second place were Jennie Murphree Hall and Sigma Chi. Sigma Nu and Sigma Nu representatives were Landis Hall, Pi Beta Phi, Bryan Hall, and Landis Club.

"This brought the total to thirteen," explains Kraseman. "you can see." she continues, "why there is a question as to whether or not it is worth awarding a bonus."

THE FINAL outcome of the question will be announced as soon as possible after the meeting tomorrow.

Today's schedule of Campus Chest events include a Sigma Nu pie-throwing contest, the P club has support on the Landis lawn and soliciting in the dormitories at 11 till 1.

Tomorrow night, Kappa Delta will sponsor a spaghetti supper from 5:30 to 7:30 and at 10 p.m. the Sophomore Council will present an auction in the Opperman auditorium

A VARIETY SHOW will be given by Sigma Kappa in the Music Auditorium from 8 to 10 on Thursday night. Theta Chi is responsible for selling "goodies" to the audience. Other events include T.K.A. dunking booth on Friday, the Pi Kappa Alpha hayride on Sunday and the dunking the money from the cokes and hot dogs to be sold at the Freshman-Sophomore competition will also go to the Campus Chest.

Contributions are from Kappa Sigma, $25, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, $20. Mortar Board, Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Gamma Delta have also pledged donations to go to the Chest in March.

THE FOLLOWING is a revised Calendar of Campus Chest Drive events in 1952.

Oct. 20—P Club supper, Landis Green, 6-7 p.m.
Soliciting, Dorms, 11 a.m.
Oct. 21—Sigma Nu pie throwing contest, Kappa Phi house.
Oct. 22—Kappa Sigma campbell supper, Kappa Sigma house, 5:30-7:30.
Sophomore Council auction Music Auditorium, 10 p.m.
Oct. 23—Sigma Kappa variety show, Music Auditorium, 8-10 p.m.
Theta Chi selling goodies, Music Auditorium, 8-10 p.m.
Oct. 24—K.A. dunking booth, Landis Green.
Oct. 25—Sophomore class Freshman-Sophomore day, selling coke, hot dogs, etc., money to go to Campus Chest.
Oct. 26—Pi Kappa Alpha hayride planned.

Athletic Scholarships To Be Debate Topic

The question of whether or not athletic scholarships is to be discontinued to intercollegiate sports will be debated tomorrow night at 8 over WFSU in the University Government Association Forum.

Speakers will be the members of the various subsidized sports and critics of the system. Jan Arbogast is the moderator.

Anyone interested in hearing a certain subject discussed in a radio forum should contact Jan Arbogast at the Alpha Xi Delta House.

Test Set for Today

The second Knowledge of College test will be given today at 10 p.m. in the Reynolds recreation Room, Peggy Moore, who is in charge announced. All Freshman women and transfer students who have not taken the test must do so.

Campus Chest Discussion Draws Under 15 Students

(Editor's note: The Campus Chest forum discussion held last Tuesday evening is being printed here almost in its entirety. It was originally planned as an open discussion forum in the Music auditorium, but when less than 15 students showed up, it was chansred to WFSU. It is hoped that the rest of the student body will take advantage of this second opportunity to receive first hand information about the Campus Chest and the World Service Fund.)

John Gleason, regional secretary of the World Student Service Fund, was guest speaker at the University Government association forum on the Campus Chest last Thursday night over WFSU.

Also taking part in the discussion were Lisa Elianos Lynn, assistant dean of women, Mary Ruth Ruth Summers, UGA president, and Margaret Krasemann, Campus Chest chairman. Janice Arbogast was chairman of the forum.

THE FIRST SPEAKER. Miss Lynn, landed out, "Although the Campus Chest campaign as such has only been in existence for three years, the students of Florida State have always been ready to help with any and all things to help others."

Next, Miss Summers spoke, "come from the Chinese dorcas the last war. In 1940, we participated in the United Nations Relief program. There were 300 students knitting goods to send to England We sent over 1,000 pounds of used clothes to help them. Our students also folded 13,700 surgical dressings."

"OUR STUDENTS always help out in the Red Cross drives. On one occasion, 150 of our students and faculty showed interest in many of the County Welfare programs here," Miss Lynn continued.

"Students contributed to the Religious Workers Conference scholarship fund. They helped raise $350 for a scholarship for a Lithuanian girl. Marie Tubello Later they also helped raise funds for a Greek girl. Helen Rizzo. At present, there is a Chinese girl Lien Tien Hsu, attending FSU on such a scholarship."

SHE ARRIVED "we have never yet reached a set goal. Let's make it this year — that the Flambeau can announce far and wide that FSU reached its goal for the fund."

Jan Arbogast then introduced Mary Ruth Summers.

Miss Ruth commented that students are doing things in return when their contribute to "great things and in the same manner, humbleness, in that we feel the good we are doing: usefulness, because we know we are helping others over the world."

SHE URGED students to give up movies "or something" in order to give to the Campus Chest.

"This summer, I was privileged to attend a national convention," said Mary Ruth, "and these words still ring in my ears: For 1 was hungry and you went to the movies; for I was lonely and you knew it not."

Next, Jan introduced Margaret Krasemann, who she commended, "is a foreign student herself and knows from personal experience how the students from all over the world suffer to get an education.

"WHERE DOES the greater part of our Campus Chest dollar go?" questioned Margaret. "First, I'd like to explain why the Tuberculosis Fund will only receive five per cent. When we contacted the TB chapter here, they explained that their people not accept a large or amounts from any students or student group. They had a set quota for a student stamp sales. Our Campus Chest five per cent goes there.

Margaret then introduced Mr. Gleason saying, "He is much better qualified to speak on the greater part of our dollar gone."

MR. GLEASON then went into his speech on the world of WSSF. "To date, WSSF has contributed $4,000,000 for needy students. We have given $157,000 worth of new text-books, and tons of used books, clothes and food.

"Over $700,000 has been given in the form of scholarships to American Universities. The job done by WSSF is very well done and they deserve to be proud."

"I WOULD LIKE to give you a picture of some of the situations that exist throughout the world," continued Mr. Gleason. "Madras in India is a typical university town with thousands of students there. In that country, where the average life expectancy is 27 years and diseases are so prevalent, especially with students who are forced into such a dire subsistence, there has been no health service rendered.

"In Karachi, Pakistan, there is no adequate housing. There are dorm and hospital facilities provided for 600 students. There are 10,000 students there.

"In Delhi, India, the students have set up their own college. Punjab Camp College. Classes are held at night and students live in ragged tents on an abandoned playing field of a school.

"IN INDONESIA, the expansion of their college offers grave problems. Before gaining their independence from Holland they had 400 students. Now there are 18,000. As you can imagine, this expansion left them in great need of equipment, faculty, etc.

"Another problem which WSSF strives to help is the refugee students. In Paris alone, there are 15,000 refugee students who have little or no means of support. It is vital that they continue to get an education.

"IF we attempted to meet all needs, we would need 40 times as much. But our help has not been futile Although only a drop in the bucket, don't forget that a drop in a bucket resounds and is felt all along the sides.

"LET'S TURN back to see what WSSF has done for the areas mentioned before.

"The India center has been established for students in Madras. A ward has also been established, all beds, mattress and pillows provided free on a volunteer basis.

"This work is noted and appreciated by the government. They feel that it not only helps the students, but the population as a whole.

"WE ARE sending $62,050 to Karachi this year for a new building. Also, perhaps inspired by money provided by you very students. The Karachi government has given materials and is also expected to double all cash extended to their university.

"IN BURMA we are setting up a mimeographing center for Indonesian students. Mimeographing text books and offset the mimeographed copies for 60 to 90 cents. These books would have cost students up to $10. Last year the mimeograph center made $350 profit. This money is being used to establish a night business school so that students can get government jobs.

"AT A NEW YORK meeting this summer I spoke to a refugee student who said that there was a great spirit among students for improving the government. It is our job to attack problems at the source. These students are tomorrow's leaders, or literally, the leaders of tomorrow.

"We are not trying to wage a campaign with communism, but problems make communism look good," concluded Mr. Gleason.

A QUESTION from the floor at the end of the forum brought out that 300 American universities take part in this program, and every major college in southeastern Asia receive benefits.

WSSF is the only such association in the world. It is sponsored by Newman Clubs, Hillel Foundation, United Student Christian Council, composed of 14 protestant sects, YMCA and YWCA.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

HOW MUCH WEIGHT DOES YOUR BALLOT CARRY?

By SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS
(Written exclusively for Florida's weekly press)

WASHINGTON — When you cast your ballot for president on November 4, it will have very much weight when the President actually is named by the Electors — if you live in Florida.

The answer is "no" if your choice does not "carry" Florida. It will carry much more weight if your candidate wins in the state. Only then will get all the states electoral votes.

This view of our present system is in sharp contrast to that upon the election officials in Florida by a provision of the antiquated, outmoded Electoral College.

This is not an institution of higher learning but a meeting of the individuals whom you select as Florida's members of the United States Constitution we have to vote for the votes of Electors as we have Senators and Congressmen. In other words, Florida has 10 votes.

These electors are chosen at the November general election and are pledged to vote for the political party which get the most votes in Florida for the electors for Florida. You can readily see that each of these individuals, since they are selected by the party, will cast his electoral vote for his party's candidate.

In other words, all the votes cast in the general election by individual citizens for the losing candidate have no effect. This occurred in 1948 in Florida when a majority of the voters cast their ballots for either Dewey or Thurmond and Florida had no representative voice in the Florida Electoral College. In many other states.

It really means that we will get all the states electoral votes.

I am convinced that democracy demands that proportionate representation in the Electoral College be given to the candidates. Florida has a total number of 10 ballots cast. If 40 per cent of the voters favor one candidate, he should be given 40 per cent of the states' electoral college votes.

I also expect on the opening of Congress to seek action which will place the Florida method of vote given every ballot cast in a national election. This would remove the present discriminatory provision, or substantially remove, the Electoral College system.

Such a change would have a profound effect on political campaign techniques. One major result would be to eliminate the big opposition to this proposal is that the base of democratic government will be broadened to cover all of the people and that comparatively small minorities, concentrated in a handful of "pivotal" states will no longer have the balance of power, and influence far be excess of their actual strength. It is my conviction that especially those states which are used as pawns in the great game of political chess, will benefit greatly.

. . . .

Florida Notes: I am grateful to the many individuals who have called at my office today to express about my stand in the present presidential race, even though most of them are supporting opposing candidates — as the late President Roosevelt used to say, "that is what makes a horse race."

I have been spending most of my time in Florida but have been in daily communication with my office at Washington where I returned to Washington to catch up on my work here. I did not have the opportunity to see in my former law office in Miami because of too many appointments and hope that anyone who tried to see me will write me up here.

Most of you, I am sure will have read in the local papers the death of Mrs. Georgia Carter, the grandmother of my secretary, Juanita Thomas.

PLAYBITS

TRYOUTS BEGIN TONIGHT FOR FRESHMAN PLAY

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Flash to the Freshmen' Spray four throats, tra! your voice, and put on your dancing shoes. Tryouts begin tonight in Conradi Hall at 7:30 for the freshman show "Stardust".

We've heard that some of these shy students who attended the general auditions have been feeling a bit secret as to the outcome of their tryouts. Therefore, we shall back for the first two readings for shows.

This is the reason—they're needed for this production. It is an All-Campus show which includes crews as well as cast. Director Roger Busfield is anxious to have as many of you as possible work on "Stardust" so that she'll get a variety of suggestions and come over.

Call Jane Hemphill, director of "Taming of the Shrew," had hoped to post the cast for that production by last Friday. But due to "conditions beyond his control," it didn't work that way. So readings for the show continue, and Mr. Zerbe will finish the casting and announce the outcome of tryouts this week. By the way, there have been some fine readings for all the parts. Very encouraging, both for this and future productions.

The big news last week was the Open House given by the Drama Department of Speech. There were displays, demonstrations, tours, and refreshments among other interesting features. The evening was climaxed by a Shakespearean Theatre by Mr. Doug Russell, the design students in the course on Design on Shakespearean Drama Festival held at Ashland.

Mr. Russell's talk was most interesting and he accompanied with slides of the color model sets of some of the Shakespearean productions. The audience saw the sets and costumes from Henry V, The Tempest, Julius Caesar and Much Ado About Nothing. The plays at Ashland are produced as nearly as possible in the authentic Elizabethan style, so those who attended got a touch of history as well as stage costuming.

To those of you who missed the Open House, Dr. C. W. Edney, head of the department, said that he'd like to have you know that you could see absolutely everything the ship-shape and in place in every nook and cranny. We must say it certainly was spic and span everywhere. Not so much as a pin out of place

Other features enjoyed recording their voices on tape and then hearing it played back. The most flourescent visitor to record was Miss Ann Minnuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minnuck.

"The Torchbearers" has gone into its second week of rehearsal and is stepping up its pace. The crews are all hard at work but the cast seems more relaxed now that opening night is over.

. . . .

Les Jonkleirs, dramatic honorary, has its first meeting of the year this Thursday night in room 208 History. You don't have to be a member to attend meetings, so if you're interested in becoming a part of it, be there Wednesday night, and find out more about it. The organization is open to any regularly enrolled student at F.S.U. who meets the requirements.

Before we leave you we'd like to add our voice to all those on campus who are saying "Thank You" out that change and play your part in contributing to the Campus Chest Drive!

MOVIE NEWS

Tally Gets Two Hot Numbers

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

Mario Lanza sings again as he did his "Great Caruso," and "Toast of New Orleans" in his latest flick bill, Because You're Mine, which plays at the Capitol Theatre Wednesday, October 2 through Tuesday, October 28.

This will be the first time in the Lanza fame history that he is not teamed with soprano Kathryn Grayson, featured as new Lanza personality, Doretta Morrow, makes her operatic in the third Mario Lanza film.

Because You're Mine is a happy blend of song, romance, comedy, and the usual Lanza technicolor, which offers the singer a handful of opportunities to show off his voice in a magnecent array of songs ranging from operatic arias to popular tunes.

When the story opens, Lanza again is seen as a widey-acclaimed young singer who is drafted into the army. Lanza, Uncle Sam knocks on his door and the $5,000-per-week singers troubles are multiplied infinitely. Bunching through basic training he finds a warm, lasting friendship of his tough sergeant, James Whitmore, and ends up singing love songs to the tune of a soldier, Doretta Morrow.

THEN THE FUN begins! proves he himself equally at ease in uniform as in more dashing costumes of former film days. Lanza sings "Quesia O Quella" an d"Addio, Addio," as well as "The Song the Angels Sing," "Granada," and "Love in the Army Now," "The Lord's Prayer," "All Day," and "Because You Are" and "Because You're Mine."

Doretta Morrow comes to the screen after her stage triumph in "The King and I". James Whitmore won fam efor his role as a more wise fame for his role as a rich time you'll hear not only his bartiting voice but his singing voice in a hilarious rendition of an aria from "Il Trovatore."

OTHERS IN THE cast include Paule Corday, Eduard Franz, and Jeff Donnell.

. . . .

During the filming of Twentieth Century-Fox's Way of the Gaucho there arose a need for scorpions, so the troupe had to traverse the Argentine pampas to find each of the unseen props. Rory Calhoun and Gene Tierney are the stars of the 20th Century-Fox film.

BASED ON ONE of Robert Child's adventure novels, the film concerns a world famous polo player Argentina in the days before the Revolution of 1810. It is also the story of the wealthy landowner and his sacrifices for aristocratic position to cast her lot with him.

Jean Peters, Jane, of "David and Bathsheba" fame, plimmed the Hermione story, which opens in all plains and mountains of that locale.

IN THE LEAD role Rory Calhoun comes to the adventure screen from roles in "The Red House" and "With a Song in My Heart." His leading lady, Gene Tierney, has her first film role in a little over a year with previous triumphs in "On the Riverviera," "The Razor's Edge," "Leave Lake," "The Mating Season" and "Close to My Heart."

Although Argentine actors make up the bulk of the supporting cast, Hugo Haas, Carlos Rivas, Richard Boone, Hugh Marlowe, and Everett. Sloane.

South Seas Collection Featured By Museum

By JUNE MORGAN
Feature Editor

White and red clay announce the title South Seas Exhibit which is the current collection adornin a portion of the Museum Galleries and representing curious classifies as sea, religious, household and war implements and props are used to create the atmosphere of the South Seas.

Illustrated cards explain the implements and include customs and legends of the people. For example, showing the carved head of a New Guinea canoe, the card explains that long before the Norman conquest of Britain, Polynesians made voyages across the Pacific in their outrigger canoes carved similarly to the specimen. The island of the South Seas who has a characteristic mode of carrying so artifacts are easily classified.

Of special importance to the Native Islands as the central human imeans of Gods and ancestors, according to the exhibit. Perhaps the most unusual piece in the Museum exhibits this month is a carved wooden bowl in the form of the South Sea crocodile. The bowl is used in the ceremonial drinking of kava. Kava, a native shrub, when chew the pepper plant root, an alkaloid is released with fiber is alive, collected in a bowl, strained through a bundle of fibers, and stored until needed.

Many who see the exhibit will be surprised that the crucial Australian boomerangs wouldn't return of their owns accord when tossed. The original boomerang was simply a throwing weapon. While the modern version is regarded as a toy.

THERE and many other interesting and knowledge and unusual implements are included in the Museum exhibits this month.

SEMINOLE SCENES . . .

FSU NEWSHOUNDS TRACK DOWN STORY

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Steve Wilson of the Illustrated Press uncovers criminals, and Brenda Starr has a mystery man. But they are mere copy boys when it comes to the lighting, hard-hitting, ever-slathering ubugle call here, please? Flambeau staff.

This courageous group of newsmen was drawn at the Democrat office the other day inviting the Flambeau to bed. (FOOTNOTE to bed meaning setting stories up in type, proofreading, make-up, slanging rounds of "Rah, rah, Carolina. . . fina!" and bumming nickles for the Coke machine). We were busy at work discussing Al Perry's supposed product of black-eyed pizza pie and trying to sit each other out of the hamper to go to the proof basket, when it all began with a startling ring.

"Ring." Ring. Ring. "Hello, telephone). We answer. "Tallahassee Democrat." We are really; we do not want anybody to know who it is, and besides, the Democrat pays the phone bill) the voice on the other end is saying he—because the voice was a male—has a tip on a story, and wants to talk to a Democrat reporter.

Proudly all our colleagues forget Al's black-eyed pizza pie, with or without beer, and stand at attention. We tell the voice that the rest of the "bugle call here, please? Flambeau, and WE would be glad to cover it.

The voice immediately recognizes talent when he hears it call prospective employers over and gives us the facts. They are burning a cross at the Governor's Mansion.

Simultaneously we go into action. The last peanut in the bag is hastily consumed. The sports editor slams his Varsa calendar shut, pencil and paper are picked up and we rush down the stairs and into the dark street. We rush back upstairs and pick the editor-in-chief up off the floor. We rush back downstairs.

We hop into Associate Editor Bruce Galphin's automobile, i.e. small English vehicle. After we are all comfortably seated on each other shoulders, A. E. Galphin starts the car. Sixty seconds and four coughs of the exhaust pipe send us flying to the Governor's Mansion which we circle while everybody is sniff sniffing to smell smoke. No smoke.

Since the call came from the voice who owns a guy who lives at the college, we think maybe the voice got excited and meant Campbell's house. We scoom down the street, noses in the air, on the trail of the Kiu Klux Klan and the burning cross.

We drive in front of Campbell's house. We drive in back. We smell, we sniff and we look, but still no burning crosses. We rush inside to the door and ask asking him if he's seen any, but it is late, so we go back to the Governor's abode. No burning cross; no hooded hoodlums.

Dejectedly we go back to the printers and the black-eyed pizza pie. We figure that the voice who owns the guy who lives at the college has found out that we put out the bugle here, please Flambeau in the Democrat and is playing a trick.

We give it one more chance and come putting into the fire station. We ask, "Oh, yes, the Governor's Mansion. Just a little trash."

We pile out of the car, rush up the steps and through the door. We rush downstairs to the car, pick up the editor-in-chief and go back upstairs. (He was still out on the bottom.)

An eventful night ended, but there was a story after all. The Associated Press carried a story the next afternoon about "a crude cross" burnt at the Governor's Mansion. We smile. We knew it long before they did. We put out the Florida Flambeau "bugles here, please . . .)

Florida Flambeau

Bill Dunn, Editor

JOAN ETHERIDGE—Business Manager

BABS BENRY—Managing Editor FRANCES CAWTHON—News Editor

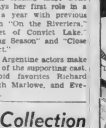
Associate Editors..... Marcia Morris, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor..... Jim Cowart, Jay Kelly
Copy Editor..... Judy Simkins
Feature Editor..... Margaret Krasemann
Assistant News Editor..... Al Perez
Rewrite Editor..... John Hardeman

The Florida Flambeau is printed semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York
Telephone 3-8000, Extension 681 Second Floor Almond Bldg



MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press—Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Beetle Bailey

Phonographs, Record Collection Draw Students to Music Room

By JAYLEEN ROBERTSON

Hidden in a foyer on the second floor of the Music Building is the listening and record room open to all music majors, or just bop friends who want to find out how the better half lives.

Mrs. Alice Ward, head librarian of the library here, has been in charge of the listening room with the department a year and a half. She received her B. A. degree at Columbia University and a piano here for several years. While in the library service, she has also became interested in library work and then studied it at Columbia. A staff of eight student assistants help Mrs. Ward in running the library efficiently.

The record room contains books of music by all the famous composers, books about them, and books for students who intend to study music education. A card catalogue makes it easy to find the book, music score, or the number of the record you wish to take out.

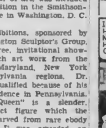
SPEAKING of the record collection; it was started in 1934 with a gift from the Florida State Music Foundation. The collection now includes long-playing records of all the best operatic, light opera, classical, and the latest musical comedy hits.

Students are permitted to check records out and take them to the sound-proof listening rooms in the back of the reading room. There you can enjoy your favorite composer. Also, record players are located on the tables in the reading room and are used solely for long-playing records. They listen through ear phones which can be obtained at the desk.

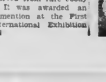
AT THE front entrance is a Music-Polkore Map It is a colorful, attractive layout showing the types of music characteristic of the different sections of the United States.

The reading room is open 9 a. m. to 12:30 m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Saturdays.

Holschuh Creation Included In Exhibit



"Conro Queen," an ebody figure by Dr. Frederick Holschuh, assistant professor of art, was included in an exhibition in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C. recently.



The exhibitions, sponsored by the Washington Sculptor's Group, are prize-free, invitational showings of artwork from the entire Virginia, Maryland, New York and Pennsylvania regions. Dr. Holschuh qualified because of his former residence in Pennsylvania.

"Conqo Queen" is a slender, semi-abstract figure which the professor carved from rare ebody last year. It was awarded honorable mention at the First Florida International Exhibition at Lakeland

The Sports Line

BY JIM EADY

THAT 6-6 TIE battle between Tampa and Stetson Saturday night was a little reminiscent of FSU's game with Tampa last year. Then, a sun-filled contest, Tampa won 13-7. It was one of the roughest ever engaged in.

In the Stetson-Tampa affair Saturday, the Hatters lost their halfback, Bobby Marks when he took a swing at a Tampan in the first quarter. They also lost Stan and one Dave Laude during the second quarter. Two other players were victims of the rough contest but they managed to leave the scene of the fight under their own power.

The battle was just typical of inter-state clashes . . . like the Alabama-Maryland brawl in which seven players were asked to leave the game for using their fists.

OTHER THAN THAT, Saturday's grid contests were highlighted by some of the finest passing seen in years. For instance, Washington and Jefferson Hegarich threw three TD passes to break a record in the books of the department. He's now thrown 21 over a three year period, breaking the record held by Bob Waterfield.

Then there's the Ohio State victory over Washington State, the winners' quarterback, John Borton, passed for all five touchdowns. Borton, a sophomore, fell one short of setting a Big Ten record.

Paul Cameron of UCLA flipped three touchdown passer to lead his team to 26 to 14 victory over Stanford. And in the same closest, the heart of Gator fans, Vanderbilt's fresh sensation Bill Kristopherson completed 14 out of 28 passes, one for a TD, while his team mate, Florida, Opponents Have Rough Time Sat.

Tampa and Stetson, both on the FSU football schedule, battled to a 6-6 tie, Saturday night in Deland.

The game like standa by Stetson, at the end of each half, saved the game for the visiting Hatters. Stetson smashed into a 6-0 lead early in the first minutes of the game. Bobby Marks skirting end for 35 yards to climax a 32-yard drive.

The visitors clung to that lead during the first seconds of the final quarter when Tampa scored on a short pass play. End H. L. Dyer made a spectacular catch to net over standing up.

Stetson, who will meet the Seminoles Nov. 1, now have 2-1-3 record while Tampa has a mark of 2-1-1. FSU ends the season with ha Dec. 6 game against Tampa.

THE N. C. STATE Wolfpack, were drubbed by a powerful Duke eleven, 57-0 at Raleigh. Duke Fuzzies, with a tremendous unleased an' avalanche of touchdowns in the first three periods. They were spurred by the expert quarterbacking of Worth Lutz and Jerry Barger.

The Blue Devils will be at N. C. State Saturday. The Wolfpack's record is 1-3, the lone win coming against Davidson.

MISSISSIPPI Southern, the next home opponent for the Seminoles won their third game of the year by trouncing Southwest La. The Southerners now have a 3-1 record.

FURMAN, who'll invade Tallahassee for the Seminole contest, slit fought to a 7-7 tie with Citadel. Furman, with a season's record of 2-2-1 came from behind in the last quarter to knot the score. Both Furman and the Southern Conference teams.

GUILFORD brought their season's mark to 3-2 win with a 19-13 victory over Newberry.

FSU Prepares for Next Tilt With Five on Injured List

All Will Probably See Action In North Carolina State Tilt

The win-hungry Florida State football squad, after a welcomed open date, will be back in action, Saturday, at Raleigh when they face the North Carolina Wolfpack. Looking for their first victory of the year, the Seminoles will be battling their second Southern Conference opponent. The game, the first afternoon affair for FSU, is Homecoming for the Wolfpack.

The Seminoles, are concentrating on defense this week in preparation for the tilt while head coach Don Veller is trying to find the time to match the big Wolfpack forward wall. To get more weight he has moved 243 pound tackle Dossey Merritt and Arthur Floyd 200-pounder, up front along with Ronald Brewer who tips the scales at 245 pounds. Breger, from Eau Chicago, Indiana and Floyd are both freshmen. Merritt is a Sophomore.

INJURIES HURT FSU

At the present time, the Seminole backfield is slightly hampered by injuries. Italiano, Dick Turk and Stan Dobosz are suffering leg ailments and Roy Thompson is suffering from a slight shoulder seperation. But it is expected that they will be sufficiently healed by Saturday to see action. Thompson, Dobosz and Italiano are the three leading Seminole ground gainers. Dobosz the stocky frosh fullback from Eau Chicago, Indiana, heads the leg injury lost two teeth in the VMI encounter. He's gained 96 yards in 23 attempts. Defensive halfback Billy Kelly, Tallahassee and end Ted Morrill are also suffering injuries.

Wolfpack using Split-T

In the Pine Carolina State the Seminoles must stop a split-T attack featuring All-Southern Conference back Alex Webster raied one of the finest runners in the South, Webster is also a gifted passer and is exceptionally dangerous with kickoff and punt returns. They also have a very capable passer in Joe Wild. On the line, the Wolfpack average a healthy 200 pounds.

The Carolinians were smothered by Duke Saturday, 57-0 but coach Bill Armstrong, who has scouted them, said they looked very good in beating Davidson, 26-6 the week before.

Veller plans heavy work through Wednesday. The squad leaves for Raleigh Thursday afternoon and will arrive there Friday in time for an afternoon workout. The Seminoles won't be here for a home game until Nov. 8, against Furman Mississippi Southern.

Dorm Schedule, Touch Football
Oct. 22

1 Magnolia - Panthers
2 Cats - Trojans
3 Newman Club - Senior Hall
4 Moccasins - Confederates
5 AAF Mcl. - Rebels.

FSU Statistics

IN THE THREE games so far, the Seminole eleven has scored on 35 points while their three conquerors have piled up a total of 101 points . . . an average of about 33⅓ per game. In the total offense department, running and passing, the Tribe have amassed 717 yards while allowing the three opponents 1,202 yards. This is an average gain, per play, of 4.3 yards for FSU and 6.2 for the opponents.

Statistics indicate that all three of FSU's opponents have been very accurate on the extra-point making. The three have been successful on 11 kicks out of a total of 15 points-after-touchdown.

THREE-GAME AGGREGATE TOTALS Florida State vs. North Louisiana Tech, U. of Louisville and V.M.I.

	FSU	Opp.
Total First Downs	59	56
By Rushing	34	33
By Passing	21	20
By Penalty	4	3
Total Rush-Pass Plays	172	194
Total Rush-Pass Yardage	717	1202
Net Yards Rushing	448	777
Total Rushing Plays	137	143
Passes Passes Attempted	67	83
Number Passes Completed	19	34
Pct. Completed	28	40
Net Yards Passes	269	425
Pass Interceptions By	2	1
Average Yardage Per Game Rushing	149	259
Average Yardage Passing	90	142
Average Gain Per Play	4.1	6.8
Average Gain Per Rush	3.3	5.4
Average Gain Per Pass	14.2	12.8
Average Gain Per Pass Comp.	14.3	17.7
Number Punts	11	7
Average Punt	36.3	37.7
Punts Returned	10	7
Yards Punts Returned	61	53
Average Punt Returned	7.0	7.6
Kick-offs Returned	7	8
Yards Kick-offs Returned	127	161
Average Kickoff Return	18.1	17.9
Number Penalties	10	8
Yards Penalties	110	104
Number Fumbles	4	5
Fumbles Lost	4	5
Total Touchdowns	5	15
By Rushing	4	12
By Passing	1	3
Extra Points Attempted	5	15
Made	5	11
Blocked	0	0
Total Points	34	101

Attention all dorms and fraternities.

Beginning Tuesday, October 21, touch football fields will be numbered as follows:

Field no.1. East Campus—eastern most field.

Field no.2. East Campus—center most field.

Field no. 3. East Campus—western most field.

Field no. 4. West Campus—east of main football field.

Field no. 5. West Campus—southwest of main football field.

All t shirt programs on these fields commencing with the fraternity games Tuesday.

Miss .Southern Boasts Potent Offensive Club

It takes high-octane backs to make a high-powered offense move and a glance at this week's NCAA football statistics would indicate that Southern Methodist, Florida State University's next home opponent, has the fuel. FSU meets the Southerners here on November 8.

The Southerns boast not one, but two of the top backs among the nation's small colleges, statistically speaking. Holding down the No. 3 spot nationally in rushing is the Southerners' talented jet, "Bucky McElroy. In four games, McElroy has carried 90 trips, gained 516 yards, to average 7.37 yards per carry.

But McElroy is not the whole show by any means. In the No. 8 spot in rushing is team mate Hugh Pepper. Although he played for games, has carried the mall 53 times and 464 yards, to average 8.75 per try.

And there' smore. As a team Missisippi Southern ranks 10th among the small colleges in total rushing offense with an average gain per game of 368.3 yards.

Contest Sponsored By Grain Company

A contest is being sponsored by teh Uhlmann Grain Company of Chicago for student theses on any aspect or aspects of grain marketing activity.

Richard F. Uhlmann, president of the company, has made available $1,250 for distribution to the contest winners. The contest is divided into two principal classes of participants, Group A, composed of graduate students, and Group B. of graduate students.

No restrictions or rules have been set except that it is stated that the papers must dest with grain marketing. Further information can be obtained by writing the Chicago Board of Trade, 141 West Jackson Blvd., Chicago 4, Ill.

FSU Graduate Club Plans First Meeting

A short program will follow the business meeting.

The Graduate Club will be in the Broward Hall Lounge Friday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 p. m., Dr. Ralph L. Witherspoon, sponsor, announced.

The program will consist of a social hour and business meeting the wives are invited to come for a study of the possibilities of an organized program for student wives.

INTRAMURAL S

FOUR FRATS and only one dorm team are still in the ranks of the undefeated after last week's action. Leading the fraternity league are SPE, and the Phi Delta. The Delts won a 5-2 decision over PDT. The game was decided on first downs since neither squad managed to score.

IN TENNIS, SINGLES, the KA's and Sigma Chi have fought their way to the semifinals of the winners bracket and will clash tonight to decide who'll meet the winner of the loser's bracket.

Frat Standings Touch Football

	W	L
PDT	3	0
SPE	2	0
LC	1	0
KA	1	0
PKT	1	—
DTD	1	1
PIKA	1	2
PSCP	0	1
SN	0	2
KS	0	2
TC	0	2
ATO	0	2
SAE	0	3

Dorm Standings

	W	L
Trojans	2	1
Mocs.	2	1
Mar. Hall	1	1
Senior Hall	1	1
Newman Cl.	1	2
Rebels	1	2
Confederate	0	3
Panthers	0	2

Classical Club Meets

An organizational meeting of the Classical Club will be tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Chimes of the Second floor Longmire Building.

University Buses Solve Many Woes Of Transportation

A large part of an FSU student's campus transportation problem is solved by the fleet of university buses.

"About ten minutes is the time required for a bus to get to West campus from Bryan Hall." reports Don Farquharson, assistant to the business manager of FSU. "This enables a student to get to a class on West campus in plenty of time after leaving the eastern sector of the college."

QUESTIONED AS TO whether town people could ride the buses, Mr. Farquharson gave a negative answer. "As you get on the bus you must present your ID card. This is done to meet the requirements of an insurance regulation which states only students and faculty may accept rides on the buses."

All 12 buses are kept in top shape by a crew of six mechanics. There is a special garage or campus that is large enough to repair all the buses at one time, should such be necessary.

THE DRIVERS of the buses are screened to see that they are known to be capable of accepting the responsibility of handling the vehicles. Their records and references are closely checked and frequently they take short courses in safety. The bus drivers' reward for diligence is a steady job and the respect of passengers, commended Mr. Farquarson.

The FSU bus drivers are Mr. W. C. Allen, Mr. J. P. Baland, Mr. Dudley Gill, Mr. Arthur Alday, Mr. S. H. Green, Mr. I. C. Heckar, Mr. P. D. George, Mr. Thomas Dugger and Mr. E. L. Garner.

"Everything for the Shoe"

- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Color
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP
"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"
121 EAST PARK AVENUE

FSU Individual Statistics

RUSHING

	Atts.	Gain	Loss	Net	Avg.	TD's
Thompson—LH	42	173	21	140	4.3	1
Italiano—LH	23	93	3	90	3.9	1
Dobosz—FB	23	98	2	96	4.2	1
Merritt—RT	10	66	40	62	6.2	1
Kyle—QB	8	32	6	26	3.2	0
Frank—LE	15	33	12	21	1.4	0
Lentz—LG	6	18	10	8	1.3	0
Orth—FB	6	18	0	18	3.0	0
Lewis—RE	1	1	0	1	1.0	0
Taylor—QB	1	0	0	0	0.0	0
	136	564	116	448	3.3	4

PASSING

	Atms.	Comps.	Int.	Yards	Pct.	TD's
Thompson	72	18	1	152	43.5	1
Italiano	1	0	0	0	71.6	0
Kaufman	0	1	1	20	25.0	0
Lewis	1	0	0	0	25.0	0
Kyle	1	0	0	0	00.0	0
Orth	0	0	0	0	00.0	0
	67	19	2	172	28.3	1

PASS INTERCEPTIONS

	No.	Yards	Average	TD's
Kaufman	2	12	24.0	0
T. Brown	1	14	14.0	0
Hendricks	1	7	7.0	0
Total	4	33	17.3	0

PUNT RETURNING

	Caught	Yards	Average	TD's
Hendricks	6	36	6.0	0
J. Floyd	4	53	13.3	0
Kelly	3	46	15.3	0
Kaufman	1	46	15.3	0
Gandy	1	0	00.0	0
Lentz	1	0	0.0	0
Totals	18	200	10.3	0

PUNTING

	TD's	EPA	EPM	TP
Thompson	5	5	5	35
Italiano	1	0	0	6
Kaufman	1	0	0	6
Hendricks	1	0	0	6
Dobosz	1	0	0	6
Totals	9	5	5	59

PUNTING

	No.	Yards	Average	Blocked
Thompson	17	621	36.5	0

KICKOFF RETURNS

	No.	Yards	Average	TD's
Thompson	9	240	26.6	0
Hendricks	7	130	17.1	0
Kaufman	1	36	18.0	0
Gandy	1	11	11.0	0
Totals	18	417	18.3	0

Gym Team Member Elected Hillel Presiden

A Florida State gymnastics team member has been elected president of the Tallahassee Hillel society.

Alan Marcus has been voted to member the group this year with Lee Sporting actins as vice-president. Recording Secretary: Mimi Greenberg, Corresponding secretary: Tillie Capeluto, Treasurer: Jerry Klonsky.

The group is planning a buffet supper for Nov. 2. Meetings will be held Sunday at 6 p. m.

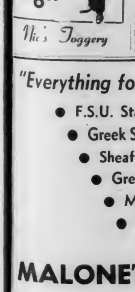
Winslow Gives Recital

Miss Mary Esther Winslow, associate professor of piano, presented a recital of classical music Friday. This was the second program in a series of faculty recitals

School of Business To Hold Reception

All majors in business and economics at FSU are invited to "come and get acquainted" at an informal School of Business reception to be held in the Longmire Lounge on Wednesday, between 8 and 10 p. m.

Refreshments will be served at this third annual reception, which will welcome freshmen and new students, faculty members and students the opportunity to become acquainted with other School of Business students, faculty members and student organs on these. Students who have not yet selected their major field of study are also invited to attend.



Dr. Glen Murphy is general Chairman of the "Come and Get Acquainted" function, which will be sponsored by student organizations of the School of Business. The sponsored organizations are: Alpha Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Pi, national professional business fraternities; Future Business Leaders of America, national organization of business students; the Insurance and Real Estate Club, open to students interested in these fields; Pi Omega Pi, national business education honorary fraternity; and The Seminoma, student organization of Restaurant and Hotel Management majors.

Davis Talks for FSU On American System

William G. Davis Jr. a Florida State Senior marjoring in political science, represented this University recently in a discussion of the American free enterprise system in Jacksonville recently.

He will also appear on a program with students from the University of Florida, University of Miami, University of Tampa, Rollins College, and Southern Methodist University in connection with the 36th annual meeting of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, Nov. 16-18, in Jacksonville.

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Wherever the formal occasion, your fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

"Everything for the Student"
- F.S.U. Stationery
- Greek Stationery
- Sheaffer, Esterbrook Pens
- Greeting Cards
- Magazines
- I Go Pogo

"WE HAVE USED BOOKS"
MALONE'S Co-op BOOKSTORE
107 South Copeland

FOR A LONG TIME we've suspected that today's college male would no longer "gladly die for dear old Siwash." Neither does he play ukeleles and sing Sweet Adeline at the drop of a beanie.

We believe, too, that when it comes to sportshirts the college man is no different from his elder brother in town. He doesn't go for fads and screwball styles. But he does go for smartness, good workmanship . . . and above all, value.

That is why we believe you'll like our new selection of sportshirts by Manhattan®. For they have all these qualities, plus a distinctive air that sets them above the ordinary shirt.

So ask for Manhattan . . . the college man's sportshirt.

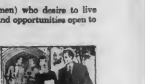
Manhattan
Shirts, neckwear, underwear, pajamas, sportshirts, beachwear and handkerchiefs

"Everything for the shoe"

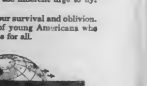
- Expert Shoe Repairing
- Dye Shoes All Color
- Shoe Shine Kits

PALACE SHOE SHOP
"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT"
121 EAST PARK AVENUE



THESE HANDS ARE PRICELESS!

They protect the American way of life . . . our homes, our freedoms, our future.



These Hands, sensitively trained to respond acutely to the commands of an alert mind and courageous heart, are the hands of a United States Air Force Pilot.

The skillful touch of these hands attunes the blasting speed of modern jet aircraft to effective missions in discouraging any enemy. These hands are supremely capable of flying and fighting those machines with devastating affect.

These Hands belong to young, spirited American men (not supermen) who desire to live unmolested in a free America . . . who want to enjoy the same rights and opportunities open to all real American people.

These Hands belong to our sons—yours and mine. Youths who must decide today how they can share in defense of our nation and also better themselves. To insure greater chances of their success, today's college men should be encouraged to complete their education and then serve their country best by enlisting as Aviation Cadets in the U. S. Air Force.

Theirs is the choice of becoming either a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After graduation as Second Lieutenants in the U. S. Air Force, they wear the silver wings of flying executives and begin earning nearly $5300 a year.

These Hands represent a man ready to qualify for this tremendous task because he is between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in excellent physical condition, especially eyes, ears, heart and teeth. He possesses at least two years of college and the inherent urge to fly.

These Hands shape the destiny of America . . . the difference between our survival and oblivion. The U. S. Air Force needs the hands, the minds and the hearts of young Americans who desire to make the American way a greater way of peace and happiness for all.

WHERE To Get More Details
Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force Washington 25, D. C.

U.S. AIR FORCE

International Bureau Solicits American Mail

All Florida State students, faculty and staff may correspond to English speaking Germans through the International Correspondence Bureau.

International reply coupons should be included to cover forwarding postage. Letters should be addressed to Anna-Maria Braun, International Correspondence Bureau, Amchen 15, Lindwurmstrabe 126 a., Germany.

The Orange Bowl seats 59,970 while the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Texas, has a capacity of 75,440.—Suntime.

Espadrilles

Men's and Women's Sizes
Rope Solid Mexican Sandals
• Red • Navy • Black • White
$2.25

The Gift Box
108 SOUTH ADAMS

Joanos Pledges Self To Service for Frosh

The fellow who will be taking over the duties of Freshman Class president today has two big aims in mind right now . . . keeping up with his studies and doing the class that elected him a bang-up job.

Jimmy Joanos, whose 438 votes brought him the presidency over his opponent Charles Mixon, says the only way he can thank his classmates is by service.

"I WOULD" like to call on all track and field athletes to be practicing for Freshman-Sophomore Day, so we can get rid of those darn hats." Jimmy, along with several other candidates, had to go to Rat Court Tuesday night after the final elections results were tallied.

Eighteen-year-old Joanos, a Sigma Chi pledge, didn't have to travel very far to go to college, as he claims the Tallahassee hills as home. He is undecided about a major, although he thinks it may be Public Administration, but knows he wants to go to law school after his four years of college here are over.

ONCE WHILE in high school, he says, he had ambitions to be a football coach. He was track captain in Ft. Myers High School, but doesn't plan to carry it to the collegiate category. "Im too slow," he grins.

Joanos is impressed by what he says was the "fine spirit of the campaign." "There didn't seem to be any hard feelings at all." He admits the elections did give him a few anxious moments, however, especially during the counting of votes after the primary. At the unofficial tally he was at first told he had won, another time that he had, and then finally that he would have to wait until the voters decided again in the run-off. "I was nearly a nervous wreck," he says.

JOANOS WAS very active in student organizations during his high school days. In fact, under a point system by which a student could hold a limited number of activities, he was elected president of Ki-Y, a club in which he had not been able to hold official membership for some time.

He was also vice-president of the student body and represented the student council as state vice-president last year. Despite his many activities, including also president of the Florida Youth Shop Association, state-wide organization of youth centers, and many others, he maintained a B average and was in the National Honor Society.

AT THE END of the year he was voted the "true gentleman" by the Leon High faculty and the "best all around boy" by his classmates.

Joanos realizes that he is coming to college primarily for an education, and says he's glad the election is over so that his studies can be given their proper attention.

The friendly guy who won Tuesday night has the makings of a great Florida State leader—one who can combine service to his own mind with service to his group and still come out on top.

Novo! Airmon Visits University October 28

Lt. R. E. Hanna, Naval Aviation Cadet Procurement Officer, from the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, will visit Florida State University on Oct. 28.

Lt. Robey will be on the FSU campus three days for the purpose of speaking with individuals interested in the Naval Aviation Cadet program. The Naval Aviation Cadet program offers an opportunity for officer trained men to join the ranks of its Naval airmen as commissioned officers.

Box Supper Tonight

The annual Box Supper, sponsored by the Women's F Club for the Campus Chest, will be this afternoon from 5 to 7 on Landis Green.

Joanne Thorpe is overall chairman of the supper.

The 67 county tax assessors of Florida say that the total assessed value of taxable property for this year is $3,184,600,000, an increase of $195,600,000 over last year.—Suntime.

German Student Chosen Chairman Of Foreign Club

Margaret Kraemann of Hamburg, Germany, a senior at Florida State University majoring in modern languages, was appointed temporary chairman of the FSU Foreign Students Club at the first meeting of the semester, recently.

Miss Hildegarde Wagner, also of Germany, was selected as temporary secretary. The 31 club members also present, representing 18 foreign countries, voted to hold regular election of officers at the next meeting at 7:30 p.m., October 29.

Dr. Albert Leduc, FSU faculty adviser to the group, spoke briefly. He assured the students that he will be glad to offer counsel to all who need help in adjusting themselves to campus life here.

An invitation to attend a tea at the home of Miss Katherine Warren, Dean of Women, was extended to the women foreign students.

Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant Dean of Women, also spoke briefly to the group, joining in welcoming the students to FSU.

Delta Sig Holds Smoke For Business Majors

Members of Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity will meet tonight in the student lounge on the ground floor of Longmire Building.

All male members of the School of Business are invited to attend this "get acquainted smoker" at 7:30 p.m. to meet members and guests of the fraternity.

Refreshments will be served and the group is expected to break up around 9 p.m.

"What To Do at FSU" To Be Forum Topic

"What to do at FSU" will be the theme of the intra-departmental forum, Thursday night at 7 at the regular meeting of the Students of Christian Association.

"The entire body is invited.

The meeting will be over in time to attend the dormitory open houses. It will be held in the recreation lounge, bottom floor of the Longmire Building. Refreshments will be served.

Tapper Pushes

(Continued from Page One)

made in the design, Ducker warned.

ONLY SELF-PROPELLED vehicles may be used. Trailers or similarly drawn vehicles are not acceptable.

Ducker asks that the floats be sturdily constructed for the safety of those riding on it. "Care should be given for adequate viability, good brakes and sufficient gas and oil," he said. "These will be among the items checked by the Official Inspection team."

Judging of floats will be during the Homecoming Parade, Friday, Nov. 14. Two trophies will be awarded, one for the most beautiful float and the other for the most original design. The Queen's float will be excluded from the competition.

The coldest spring in Florida is Morrison Springs located in Walton County. It ranges between 67-69 degrees. Silver Springs' water temperature ranges from 72 to 73 degrees.—Suntime.

Classified Ads

FOR RENT: Furnished Apt. with utilities; Single and double rooms for resident and transients. Opposite College Library. Phone 2-4024. 643 W. Jefferson.

FOR SALE: SAVE $100. Buy my equity in a beautiful '49 Packard Sedan. See Thomas Brucker at West Campus, Bldg 394, room 115 or phone

FOR RENT: 5-room, unfurnished Apt.; pets, children OK; 6-minutes from FSU; college couple preferred; $40 mo. See Ole Olson, FSU Public Relations Office.

Attention West Campus Wives: Two secretarial openings on West campus. Phone FSU extension 2811

Dr. Werner Baum Lectures Sigma Xi

Microclimatology was the main topic of discussion at the first talk of the Sigma Xi lecture series on Florida State University campus recently.

Dr. Werner A. Baum, head of the FSU Department of Meteorology, stated that microclimatology, a relatively young, but promising branch of science, has unlimited application in research.

Explaining that microclimatology is the special study of the layer of air that lies close to the surface of the earth, Dr. Baum stated that this five foot layer of air affects all forms of life close to the ground. Research into the special characteristics of this phenomenon should have important bearing on many things.

"Probably the greatest impact has been the Federal-State Frost Warning Service at Lakeland, representing a combination of weather forecasting and applied microclimatology which has saved the citrus industry in Florida millions of dollars."

"Also," states Dr. Baum, "it would not be possible for farmers to cope with weather conditions and problems without microclimatology. With the increasing population of the earth and utilization of the soil, we require an agriculture designed for maximum yield which must be based on an intelligent study of control of climatic elements."

THE SPEAKER classified microclimatology as a useful auxiliary to forestry since the development of young forest growth depends greatly on microclimatic conditions and the effect of weather damage and forest fires depends greatly on local weather conditions.

Microclimatology can influence the designing of houses, apartments, schools, clinics, factories and warehouses. It should result in construction more exactly meeting the needs of Florida's climate. City planning on a larger scale will also be more effective through data obtained from studies in microclimatology.

NAI to Meet Seniors

A representative of the Naval Air Intelligence, Jacksonville Air Intelligence, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, will be on campus Tuesday through Thursday, Oct. 28-30, to interview young men interested in the program.

Students graduating in either February or June who have "B" averages and are interested, are asked to contact the representative while he is on campus.

Interns Order Now

All interns who will graduate in Feburary should order their graduation announcements before they leave. Gordon Wheeler, University Bookstore, said.

BULLETIN

The A and A Cleaners has announced that all students urinating cleaning to the ALPHA SIGMA HOUSE Branch office should leave their clothes at the Special Laundry counter located in the left front corner of the Amber House. Students should NOT leave clothes at the candy counter.

LAST CALL FOR HOMECOMING QUEENS

Make your appointments now at L'Avant Studios phone 3-1716. We are proud to have made the winning portraits for all four of F.S.U.'s Homecoming Queens. May we make yours?

Time is limited call 3-1716 Now

L'AVANT STUDIOS
"photographers to queens"

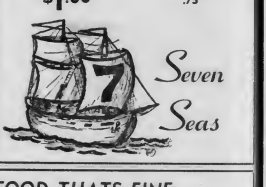
Weatherize Your Car Now

Cold Weather is near, be sure your car is ready. Come in early for a Winter Check-up . . .

We Have New Stock in
• Anti-Freeze • Water Hoses
• Check Your Oil

Cameron's Texaco Service Station
556 West Tennessee

Superb Service



Keeps Your Car In Tip-Top Shape

CALHOUN AMOCO SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

TUESDAY SPECIAL
Filet Mignon
$1.00

WEDS. SPECIAL
Fried Shrimp
.75

NOSE, THROAT, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Buy CHESTERFIELD—Much Milder

Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

FOR FOOD THATS FINE DINE AT THE

Amber House

"Air Conditioned For Your Comfort"

Dinner Prices
65c-75c-85c

Short Orders Served at All Hours of Day, along with refreshments from our Soda Fountain.

"Visit With Us For Food Thats Fine"

Amber House

105 S. Copeland St. Dial 2-3625

Dine with us . . . in the . . .

SPECIAL—SPECIAL—SPECIAL
1 Meat 2 Veg.
Choice of assorted Salad
Cake, Pudding
Ice Tea or Coffee

Country Fried Steak
Hamburger Steak
Shrimp
Chicken and Dumplings

Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Soph-Frosh Day Determines Caps' Fate
See Lead Story

Florida Flambeau

Unification Plan Will Bring Groans
See Editorial Page

VOL. XXXIX, No. 10 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1952

Allotment Altered By Campus Chest

Equipment Donated Instead of Cash Rules Prevent Acceptance of Money

The Campus Chest allotment going to the Tuberculosis Association and to the March of Dimes will have to be spent for gifts of equipment rather than actual cash, according to Margaret Kraesmann, Chairman of the Campus Chest.

The Chest committee contacted several authorities on this matter, because it was learned that some local organizations could not accept monetary gifts.

"SEVERAL OF THE CIVIL leaders contacted, suggested that we buy needed equipment for the hospitals in this area with the money assigned to them from proceeds of Campus Drive activities," explained Margaret. To date the committee has not decided on any other course.

"This in no way will change the amounts given to any organization, the committee stated.

At their weekly meeting last Wednesday, the committee decided to let the Alpha Xi Deltas decide on whether they thought the boost for attendance at the UGA game that had to be moved because of poor participation should be given to them. "We are not in a position to deny this body, declared Margaret, "since I do not see much chance of failure to a minimum." Only thirteen people attended this forum and their opinion was not on this basis, the award should not be given.

THE CHI OMEGA'S sent in a bid to retain their Campus Chest activity for the following drive this year. The bid was not accepted each.

The Kappa Alpha's, who were the size of a radio as they put planned, have pledged $30 to the Campus Chest.

Summers Urges Officers Conduct Gov. Open House

A Student Government Open House on conduct of Homecoming was suggested by Mary Bill Summers at a recent Cabinet Meeting. Miss Summers, who is in charge of conducting tours to obtain the various student offices in Longmire, said:

Mrs Florence Cole, faculty adviser to UGA suggested a faculty tea. Miss Summers said that this body do not know what to suggest for such an Open House. Other suggestions of the Flambeau Staff Sandy Tally-Ho and the Palms of Mrs. Cole were also made. "They are interested in seeing these things and meeting the student officers," she explained, "and to not have the time or opportunity.

BOB DICKER, Secretary of Economic, had a suggestion concerning the Homecoming clinic. "These students are often interested, and surely, UGA should have a list of names and their telephone numbers. He suggested a yearly interviewing of students by the various foreign language clubs.

Tom Simmons, Attorney General, reported on his visits with Dean Brown Barge and Jerry Bowden Welfare about selecting students for the "Who's Who in American Universities." There is a possibility he stated, that FSU will have a larger quota because of different requirements. The committee will work with Dean Barge in order to determine a policy for the selection of students for this honor.

A revised version of the Honor Code will be presented to the Faculty Senate committee at their next regular meeting on the first Tuesday of each month. If the Faculty and Senate approve these amendments, it will be put to student vote.

Delta Zeta Celebrates Founding Anniversary

All sororities, fraternities and honary members are cordially invited to attend a formal reception tonight at the Delta Zeta sorority house in honor of the founding of the sorority and its three living chapters.

Today will mark the golden anniversary of the founding of Delta Zeta. The first chapter was started on the campus of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1902, and since then there have been 75 more chapters opened over the nation.

Students Give Blood Tuesday

Juniors Sponsor Drive; Appointments Posted

